14 PAGES

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

14 PAGES

TWENTY-THIRD YEAR. LAST EDITION. MONDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1906. (ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS.) TWO CENTS.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

DANISH KING IS AT REST

Christian is Buried in the Tombs of His Ancestors.

Funeral is Attended by Kings and Queens of Europe.

Roskilde, Denmark, Feb. 19.—In the magnificent old gothic church here yesterday afternoon King Christian XI,a mid the thunder of guns, the sonorous tones of the organ and the blare of trumphets, was laid to rest with the long line of his predecessors on the Danish throne whose remains repose in the chapels of Rodskilde's red stone fane. The coffin lay in the chancel beneath a black and gold baldachin supported by high officers in full dress uniforms. The only decoration on the casket was a golden branch, a tribute from the children of Denmark. Leaning against the altar rails were floral offerings from foreign monarchs and members of the Danish royal family. The choir was filled with members of the clergy, whose black gowns and white ruffs formed a striking back ground to the blaze of gold laced uniforms of the diplomatic body occupying the corner of the choir. Mr. O'Brien, the American minister, wore simple evening dress. As Mr. O'Brien was personally representing President Roosevelt, the Danish government had given him an attache of honor, M. Scavenius, of the foreign office.

The left of the church was reserved for the ministers and court and state officials, while on the right were the members of the riksdag. The galleries and side aisles were filled with ladies. The only sign of mourning was the black floor cloth.

Members of the riksdag and of the folkething placed wreaths near the coffin, just before 2 o'clock. The Queen Alexandra, the dowager empress of Russia, the queen of Denmark, the duchess of Cumberland and the other royal ladies emerged from the apse and seated themselves in the front row of chairs to the left of the coffin. A stir at the door of the cathedral heralded the arrival of the king, and while the organists played Beethoven's majestic funeral march, the royal procession swept up the center aisle. King Frederick was attired as a Danish general; Emperor William in the uniform of a Danish admiral, walked at his left and the king of Greece at his right, both keeping a little behind him. King

(Continued on page 11, third column.)

UNUSUALLY PATHETIC

Is Case of Young French Girl Charged With Murder.

Shot Man Who Had Made Her His Slave for Years.

New York, Feb. 19.—The trial of Berthe Claiche, a 22-year-old French girl, on the charge of shooting and killing Emil Gerdron on the night of July 5th last, was scheduled to begin today in the court of general sessions. The case is an unusually pathetic one and an element of mystery is attached to it.

Berthe Claiche claims that Gerdron, who was a giant standing over 6 feet tall and weighing nearly 250 pounds, had made her his slave for six years, during which time she said he beat her and forced her upon the streets to earn a living for him. So impressive was her story that the money for her defense has been largely supplied by contributions from women of New York City. Although the girl admitted that she killed Gerdron, the circumstances surrounding the shooting were so unusual that they have given rise to charges that members of the police had secretly urged the girl on. Gerdron was shot while under arrest and walking along the street in the custody of three officers. It is now claimed that $800, which Gerdron is said to have had on his person at the time, was missing when the contents of his pockets were turned over to police headquarters.

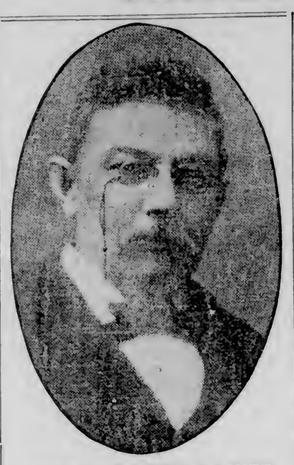

Berthe Claiche said that Gerdron brought her here from France when she was 16 years old and forcibly made her a woman of the streets. On the night of July 8 she ran from her room and complained to three officers whom she met, that Gerdron had beaten her and that she wanted him arrested. While she was making the request Gerdron himself came up and was placed in custody. It is alleged that he then turned upon the girl, exlaiming "I'll kill you. You have me arrested, will you? Well, you are as good as dead now."

A moment afterward, when his back was turned Berthe Claiche shot him three times and as she gave herself up to the officers, she cried: "I am glad I killed him and I would do it twenty times over. He made me his slave, but he will never raise his hand against another woman."

SAGINAW MAN FALLS OR JUMPS FROM WINDOW.

Louisville, Feb. 19.—Edward I. Peck, junior member of the firm of Arthur Hill & Co. of Saginaw, Mich., either fell or jumped from the sixth floor of the new Zelbach hotel today and was instantly killed. Mr. Peck was in Louisville settling up an estate recently left to his wife.

ILLINOIS WINS IN THE FAMOUS SEWAGE CASE BROUGHT BY MISSOURI

GOVERNOR PENNYPACKER.

Supreme Court Holds State Has Not Proved Contentions.

Sewage From Chicago May Continue to Enter Mississippi.

United States Loses in Suit Against the Daly Assignees.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The famous case of the State of Missouri vs. the State of Illinois, involving the right of the city of Chicago to divert its sewage into the Mississippi river, through the Chicago sanitary canal and the Illinois river, was decided today by the supreme court of the United States in favor of Illinois. Justice Holmes delivered the opinion of the court, which was that Missouri did not prove its case. There was no dissension.

The supreme court today decided the case of the United States vs. the Bitter Root Development company, and other assignees of the late Marcus Daly of Montana, involving the charge of unlawfully cutting $2,000,000 worth of timber on the public lands of that state, against the government, but it was stated by Justice Peckham, who delivered the opinion of the court, that as the government had secured new evidence, the decision is without prejudice.

GOVERNOR TAKES LEAD

In Agitation for Uniform Divorce Laws in All States.

Pennypacker is Elected President of New Divorce Congress.

Washington, Feb. 19. — Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania was chosen president of the congress on uniform divorce laws, which convened here today. The congress was called by Governor Pennypacker last summer, the Pennsylvania state legislature having appropriated $10,000 to defray the expenses of the gathering. The membership is national in scope, all but three of the states of the Union being represented. About 100 delegates are in attendance. Following an address of welcome by District Commissioner MacFarland, Governor Pennypacker outlined the objects of the congress.

Governor Pennypacker said the objec of the meeting was "the securing as nearly as possible uniform statutes upon the matter of divorce throughout the nation." The initiative had been taken in Pennsylvania, he said, when the governor had been authorized by the legislature to communicate with the governors of the several states, requesting them to co-operate in the assembling of a congress to discuss the subject of divorce. Forty-two states and the District of Columbia, he said, had sent delegates. Continuing, Governor Pennypacker said:

"Of the three states which are unrepresented, one of them, South Carolina, does not permit divorcement for any cause and, therefore, only two of the forty-five states have failed to indicate an appreciation of the significance of the movement upon which you have embarked. The dissolution of the marriage tie has become so common as to be regarded as an ordinary event, awakening no comment and meeting with little or no disapproval. There are more divorces granted annually in the United States of America than in any other country on earth, except Japan.

"A writer who has investigated the subject declares that at the time of the census of 1900, there were 196,914 divorced persons living in the United States; that there were nearly 70,000 divorces granted in 1900 and that the proportion of divorces to marriages is increasing with alarming rapidity. We may well regard such degeneracy in morals and such loss of that fibre which gives character to a nation with the greatest apprehension. If you can do something to limit and check a stream which promises ere long to be a flood, you may well be content. What is recommended in the way of legislation ought to be the outcome of careful deliberation and wise consideration in order that it may commend itself to the prudent and thoughtful in all of the states, and avoid criticism and opposition."

FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS

In Cash Was Paid to the United Copper Company.

Pittsburg, Feb. 19.—Pittsburg holders of United Copper have been at a loss to know just why the stock has not been advanced by reason of the Heinze settlement, but no information has came to them. Saturday, however, some of the details of the deal came out and a better feeling is the result. It is stated that the company had $5,000,000 in the treasury when the agreement was reached and $25,000,000 was the offer of the interests seeking a cessation of hostilities. This was offered in cash, but Heinze preferred to have $10,000,000 in the stock of the new company that is being formed. The proposition was accepted and the stock will be put in the United's treasury along with the $15,000,000 in cash. About $5,000,000 of preferred stock will be retired and a large amount in the bonds of an ore-purchasing company, now held by the United, will be converted into cash. The Lexington group of claims, which, it is said, Heinze considers the most valuable of the property, are to be developed and the producing capacity increased. These things will give the stock, so the information comes to Pittsburg, a book value of about $80. Many of the local stockholders who bought at 35 have sold their holdings, but the amount still held here is considerable.

JOHN A. McCALL.
Former President of the New York Life Insurance company, who is dead, the primary cause being the disgrace attendant on insurance exposure.

MAIL TRAIN IS WRECKED

A Broken Rail Causes Accident Just Outside St. Louis.

Twelve Men Are Injured, Some of Them Seriously.

St. Louis, Feb. 19.—The new fast mail train for the southwest, on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railroad, was wrecked, presumably by a broken rail, at Carondelet, a suburb of St. Louis, early today. Twelve men, including the conductor and engineer, are reported injured, several of them seriously.

The injured were removed to the Missouri Pacific hospital. It is believed all will recover.

The mail train was just getting into full speed, when the engine suddenly left the track, followed by two cars. The engine and first car telescoped, and together rolled down a 15-foot embankment. The second car, after turning over, lodged on the edge of the River Des Peres. It contained a number of mail clerks, and the loss of life would have been general had the car fallen into the river. The engine ploughed along the track for some distance before going down the embankment.

The train consisted of mail and express cars, no passengers being carried. The crash aroused Carondelet citizens, and they speedily turned out and assisted in caring for the injured, several of whom were so tightly pinioned in the wreckage that it required much work to release them.

A RECORD PRICE.

Menlo, Iowa, Feb. 19.—A record price for Iowa land was paid here, when Thomas Smith bought twenty acres west of here from Eli Messenger for $4,360, or $218 per acre.

MIZNER, IN HUFF, QUITS HIS BRIDE

"Soldier of Fortune" Seperated From Wife and Millions.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Another "soldier of fortune" has been separated from a fond wife and millions of dollars.

The world scarcely had recovered from the shock that accompanied the separation of the Count and Countess De Castellane when the news comes that Wilson Mizner and his bride of scarce three weeks, the former Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes, have had a quarrel and are separated.

Chicago will get a $1,000,000 hospital as one result of the disagreement, it is authoritatively stated.

The affectionate couple disagreed, it is stated, chiefly because Mrs. Mizner would not give her husband enough spending money. Also, because she wouldn't insist on her dower rights and make a will in his favor.

The gay Wilson, the athletic six-footer, left the Yerkes mansion, New York, last Wednesday, in a huff, with the declared intention of going to California.

He is said to have departed with the two suit cases and hat box that he carried when he moved from his hotel over to the Yerkes mansion, and to have spoken in an ill-natured way to the servants as he called for a cab. He was reported to be in Chicago Saturday, but kept himself sequestered.

HUNGARIAN EMPEROR DISSOLVES PARLIAMENT BY DISPLAY OF FORCE

Floors and Corridors of Building Are Cleared by Police.

Delegates End Session Without Looking at Official Rescript.

Say They Will Meet Again Wednesday If Not Prevented.

Budapest, Feb. 19.—The Hungarian parliament was dissolved this morning with the use of force. The floors and corridors of the building were cleared by the police. There was no resistance and no disorder. The members of the coalition party declared that the dissolution was unconstitutional and illegal, and that they will hold a meeting Wednesday, in the parliament building, unless prevented by troops, in which case the meeting will be held elsewhere.

The session opened at 10 o'clock sharp. The vice president read letters from Gen. Nyiri, the royal commissioner, and Herr Justh, president of the lower house, and declared that the royal rescript, dissolving parliament, forwarded by Gen. Nyiri, was unconstitutional and illegal, and enegetically protested against it. The vice president proposed that the house ignore the rescript and return it to the emperor-king. The house unanimously accepted the proposal with prolonged cheers. Thereafter the minutes of the meeting were adopted, the deputies were notified to reassemble on Wednesday, and then the house adjourned.

The royal rescript dissolving parliament was left lying unopened on the president's desk and the members left the house singing the Kossuth hymn.

The floor was almost cleared when a captain of Hungarian militia, at the head of five soldiers with fixed bayonets, and a large number of policemen, who had previously entered by a side door entered the house. The captain and the soldiers mounted the president's tribune and the policemen occupied the floor. The captain then opened and read the rescript amid constant interruptions from the galleries and some of the deputies who returned to the floor, and all present united singing the Kossuth hymn, with the result that not a word of the rescript could be heard. The police arrested several and then cleared the floor and the galleries and corridors. A large crowd of cheering deputies escorted Francis Kossuth, Count Albert Apponyi and other leaders from the house which was surrounded by five squadron of cavalry, one regiment of infantry, and a thousand policemen.

INSANE WIFE KILLS HUSBAND WITH AN AX.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 19.—John Longenbauch was found dead on the floor of his home in Walhonding, today with his head split open, while an ax, covered with blood, lay near by. His wife, who is crazy, was sleeping by his side and it is supposed that she committed the deed. The body was found by John Singer, ten years old.

COUNT APPONYI,
Member of Hungarian Parliament Who Opposes the Emperor.

KING OPENS PARLIAMENT

Death of King Christian Detracts Somewhat From Usual Brilliance.

London, Feb. 19.—King Edward opened the second parliament of his reign this afternoon, with the customary ceremonial. The absence of Queen Alexandra, the prince and princess of Wales and the duke and duchess of Connaught, and the mourning into which the court has been thrown by the death of King Christian detracted some what from the brilliance of the pageant. Otherwise the royal procession from Buckingham palace to the palace at Westminster and the proceedings in the house of lords followed the well known lines of those of previous years. The weather was cloudy but rain held off and all the points of vantage along the troop lined route followed by the ropal procession were well occupied byp cheering crowds. The rich military and naval uniforms, the quaint garb of the yeomen and watermen and the gilded state coach with its handsomely harnessed horses all combined to form an effective picture.

Within the "glided chamber" a brilliant scene met the king's gaze as he entered from the robing room, attended by all the high officers of state, bearing the various insignia of the monarchy. The hall was crowded to its capacity. The mourning dresses of the women were shown off to the fullest extent by magnificent displays of jewelry, and contrasted with the brightness of the peers robes and the uniforms of the distinguished diplomats, the soldiers and sailors, who participated in the ceremony. For the first time since early in the reign of the late Queen Victoria, only a single chair occupied the dais in consequence of the absence from England of Queen Alexandra. The king, arrayed in robes of crimson silk and velvet, edged with gold lace, and surmounted by a heavy cap of ermine, having seated himself on the throne, commanded the presence of the commons to hear his speech. As soon as the speaker and the commons had arrived, the king took the document containing the text of his speech from the kneeling lord chancellor and read it.

The speech contained no surprises. The usual reference to the continuance of friendly relations with foreign powers was followed by a paragraph rejoicing over the fact that the Russo-Japanese war has "been brought to an end by the satisfactory conclusion of the negotiations commenced in August and due to the initiation of the president of the United States, which had resulted in an honorable peace."

Referring to the Moroccan conference, the king remarked: "It is earnestly to be hoped that the result of these negotiations may be conducive to the maintenance of peace among all nations."

The speech closed with a mention of prospective legislation. An important paragraph devoted to Ireland was as follows:

"My ministers have under consideration a plan for improving and effecting economies in the system of government for Ireland and for introducing there means for associating the people with the conduct of Irish affairs. It is my desire that the government of the country in reliance upon the ordinary laws should be carried on so far as existing circumstances permit in a spirit regardful of the wishes and sentiments of the Irish people and I trust that this may conduce to the maintenance of tranquility and good feeling between the different classes of the country."

WORST EARTHQUAKE AT KINGSTOWN SINCE 1902.

Kingstown, St. Vincent, B. W. I., Friday, Feb. 16.—The most severe and protracted shock of earthquake that has been experienced in that island since 1902, was felt at 1:40 o'clock p. m. today. Buildings of every description were rocked violently and the people rushed from them to the streets. So far as has been ascertained no serious damage resulted beyond the cracking of walls of houses here, at Georgetown and elsewhere.

A small landslide occurred at the Cedars, in the Windward district.

The cable between St. Vincent and St. Lucia is broken and the transmission of messages to the United States and elsewhere is delayed.

OFF ON THEIR HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth Leave Washington for Havana.

Will Take a Boat From Tampa for Cuban City.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth started on their honeymoon from Alexandria, Va., this morning at 11:18 o'clock over the Southern railroad. They will go to Tampa, and from there take a boat for Havana, which point they expect to reach Thursday morning. They will make the trip to Tampa in the private car Elysian, which was awaiting them in the yards of the Southern at Alexandria, about half a mile from the station.

The bride and bridegroom made the trip from "Friendship" near Washington this morning, in an open automobile, accompanied by Mrs. Longworth's maid and a chauffeur. The machine went at an easy gait and they arrived at the little station at Spring Garden, which is the Southern station in the suburb of Alexandria, at 10:30 o'clock. Mr. Longworth got out of the machine, lit a cigar and spent sometime chatting with his wife, who remained in the automobile. Mrs. Longworth wore a tan colored broadcloth suit, with handsome sable furs, and a tan hat trimmed with pink plumes. After they had been there for about half an hour a little girl, the daughter of one of the railroad employe, asked the bride if she would give her her autograph.

"Certainly I will; where is your pencil," asked Mrs. Longworth.

Pencil and paper were quickly produced, and Mrs. Longworth wrote her autograph, "Alice Lee Longworth."

"Now get his," she said, pointing to her husband. Beneath the name of his wife Mr. Longworth wrote his signature and the date.

The little girl thanked them both and went away happy.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Thomas Stone, the chief usher of the White House, arrived from Washington, and received a cordial greeting from Mrs. Longworth. He brought a note from the president, which she quickly opened and read, and calling for a pencil wrote a reply as she sat in the automobile. The baggage had been taken from Washington, but several pieces were brought along in the automobile.

Five minutes before the train arrived, Mr. Longworth helped his wife out of the machine and they walked to the siding. Mrs. Longworth graciously acknowledged the respectful greeting of the employes about the station and as the train pulled in hurried down to the last car, which was a private one, into which she was assisted by Mr. Longworth and Mr. Stone.

As they got on the car a number of newspaper men alighted from the day coach of the train, but the bride and bridegroom were safely in their car before they could be overtaken.

DEFECT IN THE DRAINAGE LAW

An Amendment That Was Slipped in by Some Enemy.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—It has just been discovered by Judge Grindeland of Warren, who was in the city last evening, that the drainage law passed at the last session of the legislature contains an amendment which was slipped in by some enemy of drainage in committee, which will embarrass every attempt to secure a ditch of any proportion until the next session of the legislature.

In connection with the remuneration to be received by viewers the law reads that each viewer shall receive $3 per day and all necessary expenses "providing no viewer shall receive more than five days' pay for work upon any ditch." The quoted part of the above is the portion that no one ever heard of until the discovery was made by Judge Grindeland a short time ago in going over the bill.

How such an amendment could have ever crept in no one has the least idea, but that it is the work of some enemy of drainage is considered very certain. The ridiculousness of such a provision can be realized when it is known that on some ditches, such as the judicial ditch between Polk and Red Lake counties which is now being viewed at least thirty days of hard work on the part of the board of viewers and perhaps more to do a careful job of viewing will be required. Under the present law, however, the three viewers can draw but five days pay for the work. This provision applies to both viewers appointed by the district court in judicial ditches, and viewers appointed by the county commissioners for ditches under the county ditch law.

There is no question but that when the legislature reconvenes next winter efforts will be made at once to pass a law that will be retractive, providing for more extended work for viewers in the future, and providing also for pay for those who did work in the interim which the present law will not allow compensating them for.

The only way to get around the present law will be to appoint viewers who are not in special need of money and are willing to wait for their pay, or to appoint men who are interested in the cause of drainage to such an extent that they will serve for the five days' pay regardless of how long they serve.

"JUST A MOMENT OF YOUR VALUABLE TIME, PLEASE."

DEFECTIVE PAGE

GOOD EVENING!

DULUTH WEATHER REPORT—Cloudy, with probably light rain or snow tonight and Tuesday; warmer tonight, with temperature close to 30 degs.; colder Tuesday afternoon or night; fresh southwesterly winds.

New Things for Spring

The new shirts, neckwear and hats for spring are ready.

The showing of shirts at $1, $1.50 and $2 is marvelous.

The new neckwear at 50c is striking in the beauty and variety of the designs, while that at $1 is wonderfully rich.

The new blocks in Derbies and soft hats are graceful and comely.

The Knox hat is exclusive here and is the best of all the $5 hats.

We show more styles in $3.50 and $4 hats than are shown by any other Duluth store.

The Roswelle $3 hat maintains its position at the head of the $3 class and is shown in all the fashionable shapes.

HOME OF THE KNOX HAT.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE.

Oak Hall Clothing Co.

Corner 4th Ave. W. and Superior St.

NOTICE!

Business houses wishing to get the trade of the Finnish people will be wise to advertise in a humorous Finnish newspaper, "Velasuu." "Velasuu" is the only Finnish newspaper in Northern Minnesota published in a region where thousands of Finnish people are living. "Velasuu" has subscribers all over the United States. Address

"VELASUU,"
Box 559 Hibbing, Minn.

Famous Elsie Cheese
18c Per Pound.
Oppel's Grocery,
Sole Agency.

JUNCTION HAS AN ACTIVE DAY

Price Goes to $31, Following Important Strike of Ore.

Local interest in the copper stock market centered today in the Bisbee stocks which were strong. Junction being particularly so. Junction sold freely at $30, went to $31 and dropped to $29.50 just before the close, which was $28.75 bid and $29.50 asked. The activity in Junction follows an important ore strike at the mine. Dispatches from Bisbee are to the effect that the north drift on the 900 level has penetrated 41 feet into a body of ore averaging 20 per cent copper. The breast of the drift is still in the mineral.

The general tone of the other Bisbees was encouraging. Calumet & Arizona sold at $119 and closed at $117 bid and $118 asked. Calumet & Pittsburg sold at $38 and closed at $37.25 bid and $38 asked. Denn-Arizona sold at $26 and closed at $25 bid. Lake Superior & Pittsburg was inactive and closed at $44 bid and $45 asked, and Pittsburg & Duluth closed at $24.50 bid and $25 asked, after selling at $24.50.

North Butte opened at $86, dropped to $84.50 and was higher toward the close, selling at $86. The closing price was $85.50 bid and $86 asked. Other listed stocks developed a better tone toward the close. Amalgamated opened at $111, dropped to $109.75 and went as high as $111.50. The closing price was $111.50 bid and $111.75 asked. United Copper opened at $67 and went to $69.25, closing at $68.50 bid and $69.12½ asked. Anaconda opened at $275, dropped to $273 and rallied to $285, closing strong at $286 bid.

Black Mountain was active at $12.50. The price went as high as $12.75 and closed at $12.25 bid and $13 asked. Keweenaw was inactive and closed at $16 bid and $16.25 asked. Warren at $18 asked. Copper Queen of Idaho at $2 asked and Sullivan at $2 asked.

Pay Attention to Little Things
Special For Tomorrow

10c boxes Writing Paper—
5c
Pearl Buttons, worth 4c per doz,
1c
Pins, per package—
1c
10c Silk—in black only—spool
4c
25 dozen Huck Towels, fancy borders. Regular 15c quality; tomorrow—
10c
25c Table Oilcloth, per yard—
14c

Golden Rule
17-19 E. Superior St.

PURCHASES ENTIRE CUT

Hines Lumber Company Buys 30,000,000 Feet of Norway Pine.

Closes Big Deal With Tower Lumber Company for $600,000.

By the purchase of 30,000,000 feet of Norway pine, spruce and tamarack timber, from the Tower Lumber company, at Tower, Minn., the Edward Hines Lumber company has practically cleaned out the Head of the Lakes Norway pine market for the season of 1906.

The deal, which was closed today, is said to involve a consideration in the neighborhood of $600,000.

The lumber sold represents the total output of the Tower Lumber company's sawmill plant for the coming season. The lumber will be shipped to Chicago, partly by water from Two Harbors, and partly by rail from the mill.

The Norway pine supply of the local market for this year lay practically with two companies, the Tower Lumber company and the Virginia Lumber company. The Tower Lumber company has now disposed of its entire cut for the season, and the Virginia Lumber company is said to be pretty well sold up to next July.

Lumber prices are, on account of the scarcity in supplies and the prospect of a decreased log output this year, ruling very strong. At the present time prices are from $3 to $4 per thousand feet higher than they were a year ago, and there is said to be no prospect of a decrease, for this season at least.

Aside from Norway lumber, there is a scarcity of grades of white pine lumber in this market, and at nearly all the lumber manufacturing centers in the North. Stocks have been so well sold up to the saw, and some in advance of the saw, that there is little white pine lumber to be had at the present time, even at the advanced prices.

Lumbermen say there will be no change in the situation until the opening of navigation, or during the period of thirty days following the opening, when it is expected that there will be some stocks available for purchase.

The scarcity of lumber in the hands of the wholesalers, and advanced prices, has brought about a corresponding stiffening in the prices of retail lumber.

ASKS TO HAVE DEED VACATED

Action Involving Title to Hermantown Farm on Trial.

The action instituted by Charlotte Thompson and Thomas Thompson against the E. I. Dupont company, to have set aside and vacated a deed transferring a 40-acre tract of land in Hermantown to the powder company and give the Thompsons permission to redeem the property, was started for trial today, before Judge Cant.

The Thompsons were divorced something over a year ago, Thomas Thompson being ordered to pay Charlotte Thompson alimony in the amount of $600 within sixty days, the judgment to be a specific lien on a 40-acre farm on which the parties to the action had resided, in section 12-50-13, and which the court found to be worth about $1,400.

Thompson failed to pay the alimony, and the land was sold at sheriff's execution sale to C. E. Adams, attorney of record for Mrs. Thompson. Acting further for Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Adams assigned the sheriff's certificate of sale to the E. I. Dupont company for $697.59, Mrs. Thompson afterward executing a quit claim deed.

After the transfer it was claimed that the Thompsons discovered that Mrs. Thompson originally owned a half interest in the property, which she did not know she possessed at the time judgment was entered in the divorce proceedings. She claims that she transferred away by quit claim deed land that she did not then know she had any interest in.

Allegation is made in the complaint that the E. I. Dupont company knew about her half interest which had been overlooked in the former proceedings in court, but did not inform her and fraudulently took advantage of her ignorance in the matter.

The Thompsons claim that they have offered to pay back to the powder company the money it paid out for the deed, with interest, also the amount spent for redemption, to secure a reconveyance, but that the offer was refused.

SCATHING REPLY MADE TO JUDGE LITTLEFORD.

Cincinnati, Feb. 19.—A formal and sensational reply to the statements made by Judge Littleford in dismissing all election and registration fraud indictments, was submitted to the judge today by the Honest Election committee, whose methods had been criticised from the bench.

The committee expresses the belief that it should not be blamed for any lack of evidence which may have developed in the trial in the cases it brought to the attention of the prosecutor, and points to the fact that indictment were returned in more than fifty of the cases with the knowledge of the prosecutor as proof of the righteousness of the recommendations to that arm of the court. The reply concludes:

"Your statements which you deliberately wrote out and intended to be published and scattered broadcast are a libel upon this committee. Your apparent intention was to insult and degrade the committee and to destroy its power and influence in the community by leading the public to believe that its professions were a fraud and its work an outrage.

"Your conduct and language show that you are the most dangerous obstacle we have thus far encountered in our attempt to purify the elections in this community."

CITY BRIEFS

While skating on the lake Saturday afternoon, Andrus Rue, an orphan boy, about 13 years of age, who lives with his brother-in-law at 110 First avenue east, collided with a skater about his own age, and sustained painful injuries, being unconscious for several minutes.

Mrs. George S. Richards of the St. Elmo flats has issued cards for a reception for her sister, Mrs. H. F. Birch, of Minneapolis, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. McGonagle of Hunter's Park is entertaining for Mrs. Birch this afternoon.

"Conservation of Energy" will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered by J. R. Towne before the local Association of Stationary Engineers tomorrow evening. The losses in the transformation of coal into electricity and then into light and work will be discussed. This will be an open meeting. It will be held in Engineers' hall, 501 Lyceum building.

The Superior street railroad ticket offices will be closed all day Thursday, Washington's birthday.

Owing to the large number of people who are planning to attend the national ski tournament at Ishpeming Thursday, the low-rate tickets over the South Shore will be placed on sale tomorrow instead of Wednesday, as advertised.

Secretary H. V. Eva of the Commercial club today received a telegram from Fisher Harris, secretary of the "See America First" executive committee, saying that he did not know just what day he would be able to be in Duluth to deliver an address on the plans which are being laid to prevail upon Americans to see their own country before going abroad.

The current issue of the Municipal Journal and Engineer, an influential magazine published in New York, contains a three-page illustrated article on Duluth, giving some structural and administrative features of the city, and dealing with some object lessons in municipal ownership, the water and light department. Facts and photographs for the article were furnished by H. V. Eva, L. N. Case and City Engineer McGilvray.

The French club will meet this evening at the Flaaten conservatory hall. A lecture on Benjamin Franklin will be given at the Lester Park M. E. church Wednesday evening by H. C. Fulton.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed in United States court today by Richard Robinson of Deer River. Liabilities are scheduled at $978.51 and assets at $1,255, of which all but $100 is exempt.

Capt. T. H. Pressnell left this afternoon for St. Paul to attend the annual meeting of the grand lodge of the A. O. U. W., of which he is a past grand master workman.

PERSONALS

R. O. McClintock of Spokane, Wash., is in the city visiting his brother, John McClintock, for a few days. Mr. McClintock is a member of the firm of Hooth & McClintock, wholesale grocers of Spokane, and he is on his way East on a business trip.

R. G. Henderson of the Silberstein & Bondy Company cloak and suit department returned from the East yesterday.

A. J. Harker has returned from a trip to Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Christensen of 1612 East Third street have returned from a trip to Chicago and the East.

A Brostedt left for the Michigan Copper country today.

J. L. Corguff of Ladysmith, Wis., is registered at the St. Louis.

F. Stadden and E. M. Farnham of Princeton, Minn., are registered at the St. Louis.

Edward Ward left today for Holbrook, Ariz.

Mrs. Fitz-James Hill of 201 South Sixteenth avenue east left this afternoon for California and other Western and Southern points, to visit relatives and friends. She will be gone about five months.

NOMINATIONS BY PRESIDENT.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate:

Major William P. Duvall, to be brigadier-general. Postmaster: Michigan—M. H. Kern, Menominee. Minnesota—B. Bogert, Browerville; Olaus O. Sundo, New Richland; Minnie M. Holmes, Detroit; F. H. Jurgens, Jordan. Wisconsin—R. C. Pugh, Hayward; J. F. Cole, Marshfield; Arthur A. Porter, Portage; S. H. Alban, Rhinelander; Alfred W. Trevitt, Wasau; C. F. Henrizi, Menominee Falls; Arthur R. Loveland, Oregon.

Court Vacates Former Order.

Judge Dibell made an order this morning, vacating the $14,000 judgment previously rendered in the case of Stitt & Howe, against the Rat Portage Lumber company. He also made an order vacating the order removing the case from district court to United States court. The case will now come on for trial before district court, in regular term.

SAYS HE IS INNOCENT.

A. J. Whiteman, in Prison, Writes Letter to a Duluth Friend.

A letter was received in Duluth today from Alonzo J. Whiteman, now confined in prison at Auborn, N. Y., on a charge of forgery. Mr. Whiteman says that he is engaged at congenial employment, and that he is enjoying excellent health and spirits. He expresses himself as being absolutely certain of the reversal of judgment by the appellate court in New York next May, his case being set down for argument at that time.

Under the laws of the state of New York a man convicted of a crime cannot be released from prison during the pendency of his case in the appellate court, whether bonds for his release are furnished or not. It is claimed that Boothman, who was believed to be mixed up in the alleged forgery with Whiteman, left a statement at his death recently to the effect that the former Duluth man was not an accomplice in the forgery.

Manila is Still on Rocks.

Despite the rumors that the barge was on her way to Duluth and would hove in sight of the harbor entrance any time, the Manila was still on the rocks of Encampment Island yesterday but it is hoped to get her off today. It was expected to have her off early last week but a rough sea delayed the work considerably.

His Recovery is Rapid.

Although A. W. Owens had two ribs broken at the new Duluth, Missabe & Northern ore dock in West Duluth a week ago Saturday, he returned to work there this morning. Mr. Owens was inspecting the work on the new dock, No. 4, and was struck by a pile. His friends are somewhat surprised and much gratified at his rapid recovery.

MUTINEERS SENTENCED.

Sebastopol, Feb. 19.—A courtmartial here has sentenced forty-two of the mutineers of the Russian battleship Kniaz Potemkine to imprisonment, one of them to fifteen years. Twenty-five men were acquitted.

GAMBLING WITH DEATH.

What Many of Us Are Doing Three Times a Day.

For everything we get something is taken away. Every act pulls two ways. Some men in power dole out their souls for it. They can't have soul and power at the same time.

And so, in this quick-living age, most of us can't have energy and health at the same time. One or the other must be lost, and it is usually health.

We know we are doing wrong and would like to reform, but we have a morbid fear of being laughed at if we aim to live and eat according to conscience and good sense.

Some of us break away for awhile and enslave ourselves to a diet. We read abobut the hardy Scotsman being fed on porridge and oatcake, making soldiers of men and dash, and how Caesar's army was fed on corn. But the diet doesn't last long. We quickly swing back into the great line, eating and drinking to fulness like the rest, eating anything and everything, at any time, and any way we find it. We say "what is a stomach for if it isn't to obey the palate."

But there is really no one rule applicable to everyboody's stomach. What one man may eat another may not.

But the dyspeptic should remember that the death list has a dark shadow hovering over it with a long bony finger pointing to "dyed of heart disease." Physicians will tell us that there are few cases of heart disease that do not come from a stomach derangement.

At every meal we may be brewing for ourselves a terrible case of dyspepsia. It may come upon us after breakfast tomorrow morning, or after that oyster supper tomorrow night.

Acute indigestion means that you have even chances for death or life. That's the gamble you are taking. That precious gastric juice decides, as a rule, whether you continue to live or not.

Therefore, if you feel your food lies like a "lump of lead" on your stomach, beware! Your gastric juice is weak. It can't dispose of the food in time to prevent fermentation. Take something that will do it effectively, and at once. Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most powerful tablets in the world for the relief of all kinds of stomach trouble, nausea indigestion, the worst cases of dyspepsia, fermentation, bloaty feeling, sourness, heartburn and brash.

One grain of an ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. Your stomach needs a rest at once. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will relieve your stomach of more than two-thirds of the work it has to do, digesting perfectly whatever food there is in your stomach.

You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or have energy or vim or ambition, when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, clear your mind and make you enjoy life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Give your stomach a rest, so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. You can get these tablets anywhere for 50 cents a package.

Too Late to Classify

Hair Dressing, Shampooing, Scalp Treatments, Facial Massage, Manicuring and Children's Hair Cutting at Miss Horrigan's

WANTED—BOARD AND ROOM AT once by professional man and wife. State full particulars. G 31, Herald.

FOR SALE—HOUSE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

WANTED—YOUNG MEN TO TRAVEL. Good promotions to right parties. Call until 8 p. m. today and Tuesday. W. G. Corcoran, St. Louis hotel.

WANTED—GIRL TO WORK IN RETAIL store; light work, $3.00 per week, with chance for advancement. G 33, Herald.

WANTED—A COMPETENT NURSE-girl. Apply mornings. Mrs. C. H. Thornton, 1514 East Third street.

FOR RENT — MODERN FURNISHED room. 204 East Third street.

BIRTHS.

JUVAL—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. aBrney Juval of 1112 West Third street, Feb. 15.

JOHNSON—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Erick Johnson of 2111 Piedmont avenue, Feb. 13.

ANDERSON—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Anderson of 3022 Vernon street, Feb. 18.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Carl Anderson, frame building on Seventh street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues east, to cost	1,000
F. W. and Margaret Thatcher, frame store on Fourth street between Third and Fourth avenues west, to cost	3,000

THE STYLE STORE. | J. M. GIDDING & CO. | THE DIFFERENT STORE.

J. M. Gidding Now In New York

Sending Us Daily New Walking and Dress Suits, Coats, Wraps, and Skirts Every Day.

It will take but a few minutes of looking over the many stylish new arrivals to make you fully appreciate the advantage this store enjoys among the makers of fashionable clothes—they're sending us every new freak of Fashion and the choicest and most exclusive gowns, suits, coats and other apparel.

Not only does this give the Gidding store a decided advantage in securing styles, but it gives a price prestige that is indisputable. For the same amount others have to charge for commonplace garments, we give you masterpieces—exclusive creations—novelties that have no duplicates. Come in this week and have a peep at the beautiful new garments.

New Suits

The latest arrivals from the Fifth Avenue Tailors. None of the ordinary garments—but distinctly new and stylish effects.

Especially worthy of notice are the handsome suits of Panama cloth, beautiful silks, and the new shadow palid voiles. And then there's an endless variety of new broadcloths, batistes and other fabrics in every new and popular shade. You can't mention a style or name a reasonable price that we can't meet. Positively the swellest, the most exclusive suits ever shown in Duluth.

New Coats

A wealth of new wraps for street wear and calling—for the theater—and evening wear.

Many handsome new creations in covert coats for street wear—beautiful silk and fancy coats for dress occasions—altogether the handsomest array we have ever shown.

We are also showing many swell new lace capes, including the very latest in shoulder effects.

New Skirts

Beautiful walking skirts and dress skirts—handsome new grays, plaids, light effects and the plain shades. White woolen fabrics will be extremely popular for walking skirts this season and we are showing the best of the new styles.

There isn't a skirt in this store carried over from last season, so you're sure of getting none but the newest if you come here. We also have a large variety of circular skirts in all styles and colors.

New Waists

Such a host of new waists, we can give you but a meager idea of their beauty and variety.

Silk waists, lace waists, linen waists—all the latest models—all colors and white. We cordially invite your inspection. You'll find everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborately designed lace waists.

Everything Here for the Grand Opera Season--Are you ready?

Our Alteration Tailors are the Best Money can Hire.

J. M. Gidding & Co.
"THE STYLE STORE."

The Fit Shall be Perfect or you keep your money.

Spring Styles Ready

DUNLAP HATS {Derbies, Soft Hats, Crushers, Silk and Opera Hats.
STETSON HATS {Soft Hats and Crushers Exclusive Styles.

Young Men's Soft Hats $3.00
Exclusive Styles—Extra Quality.

Spring Neckwear, Gloves, Underwear, Pajamas, Shirts.

A. B. SIEWERT & CO.
HATTERS AND FURNISHERS
304 WEST SUPERIOR STREET

OPENING OF THE RACING SEASON

In the East is Now Barely Five Weeks Distant.

New York, Feb. 19.—It is barely five weeks before the men of the East who are interested in racing may be able to see horse racing without making the railroads rich. While dates have not yet been announced it is practicaly settled that the opening at Bennings will be March 26. Already the local sports are beginning to study the winter's dope with more than usual interest and to talk about the meet, which promises to eclipse anything at Bennings. It is certain now that the Washington Jockey club will not be able to furnish accommodations for all the horses which want to take part in the races. Already applications have been received from seventy-five owners with something like 350 horses.

The list of applicants includes the names of some of the most prominent stables that race on the jockey club tracks. August Belmont has asked for accommodations for twelve horses, which have been wintered at Garnet, S. C. Billy Garth, the Virginia trainer, apparently will have the biggest stable at Bennings. He has asked for forty stalls. Garth is wintering horses for various owners at his Virginia farm, and such horses are, of course, included in his application. John E. Madden wants thirty stalls, J. L. Hayman, G. R. Tompkins and H. T. Oxnard ask for the same number. Other owners want all the way from one to twenty-five.

The Old Empire track controversy is again to the fore. James Butler, owner of the track, has again made application for dates.

Regarding the track and the buildings, Mr. Butler says: "Money will do anything. I am ready to place the whole plant in acceptable condition. It would be foolish, however, to undertake expensive improvements without knowing where I stand. The track is in good condition, and for the short time it was used some very fast figures were hung up. There appears to me no good reason why the jockey club should not look favorably on my application for dates.

"The Empire City track is more accessible to New Yorkers than any of the Long Island courses. It can be reached more quickly than Sheepshead Bay or Gravesend from the city hall, and there are a dozen large towns near the track from which to draw attendance. There are thousands of persons in the Bronx and to the north who like the sport, but now that all the tracks are in Long Island, they do not attend for the reason that it is a two-hours' journey to and from the track.

"There is no good reason why the Yonkers track should not be alloted dates during the month of August when Saratoga is running. If racing is a good thing for New York from April to the end of July and during September, October and November, why should the sport cease during August, the most pleasant month of the year out doors? All of which looks good to me, though it is doubtful if the stewards and racing commissioners can be brought to see it in that light."

It is rumored that Clarence Mackey is seriously considering the purchase of the Lexington track from the heirs of Capt. S. S. Brown. Many turfmen believe that Mr. Mackey would be the best one to get the course, owing to his broadminded views in regard to racing. He is in the business for the sport, and the fact that he has established his breeding stud in Kentucky, purposing to make it the finest in the world, shows that he is a true sportsman. Great efforts will be made by many turfmen to get the owner of Meddler and other fine horses interested in the welfare of the sport in Kentucky.

Since the course became the property of the last Capt. Brown he had spent more than $10,000 in improving it, and this, added to the purchase price of about $40,000, makes the outlay close to $50,000. It was the intention of Capt. Brown to make the track one of the best racing plants in the world.

Not since Harry Payne Whitney and Herman B. Duryea were sweeping the Eastern turf of rich 2-year-old prizes with Irish Lad, their great son of Candlemas, a few years ago, has a "one-horse-string" given such promise of greatness as the Yankee-Royal Gun colt now stabled at Sheepshead Bay, the property of Oscar Lewishon, who will this year make his first bid for honors as an owner. On looks, coupled with his royal breeding and extensive engagements, this colt has impressed trainers about the bay as being a possibility for the very highest honors, and no juvenile of the year will be more closely watched when the time comes for him to sport silk.

Ishpeming and Return $7.50.

Account the National Ski Tournament at Ishpeming, Michigan, Feb. 22nd, 1906, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway will have tickets on sale, Feb. 21st, to Ishpeming and return, at rate of $7.50, good for return until train leaving Ishpeming evening of Feb. 23rd. Also tickets at rate of $11.35 for round trip, good for return until Feb. 28th.

For further information and sleeping car reservation, please apply to A. J. Perrin, General Agent, 430 Spalding Hotel Block, Duluth, Minn.

Low Rates to Coast Points.

February 15th to April 7th, Northern Pacific railway will have on sale daily, one way second class rates to all points in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, as follows:

Billings, Mont., and intermediate points	$15 00
Helena, Butte, Anaconda, Missoula	20 00
Spokane, Nelson, Rossland, Elensburg	22 50
Tacoma, Seattle, Portland, Vancouver, Ashland	25 00
San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Cal.	34 90

For tickets and sleeping car reservations, call at City Office, 334 Superior street.

Herald want advertising has just enough of the "spice of chance" to make it interesting—for the right person does, sometimes, fall to see the first insertion of the ad.

Always Remember the Full Name
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on every box. 25c

CUT-PRICE GROCERIES

We sell good groceries cheaper than anyone. What's the use of paying the high-price fellows a big profit when you can buy the same goods here for less?

Potatoes Buy while the weather is mild. Every potatoe perfect—special price—per bushel 65c

Eggs Guaranteed strictly fresh eggs. Don't buy storage eggs when you can buy fresh eggs at the ridiculous low price of—per doz 20c

Butter Best print butter—we always have sold it for more—now—per lb 28c

Famous Elsie Cheese You can buy of us the only pure butter melting cheese; buy a pound of the best cheese in the city at 18c

OPPEL GROCERY CO.,
Telephone 48. 115 E. Superior St. Telephone 48.

WORDS OF PRAISE WELL MERITED

BY A WELL KNOWN ARTICLE.

So much has been written by the standard medicial authorities, of all the several schools of practice, in praise of the native, or American, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, that in attempting to quote from the various works on Materia Medica one hardly knows where to commence, since they are so voluminous that only the briefest and most imperfect reference can be presented in a short article like this.

Briefly then let us say that the "Golden Medical Discovery" was named from the sturdy little plant Golden Seal, the root of which enters largely into its composition. Besides this most valuable ingredient, it contains glyceric extracts of Stone root, Queen's root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot and Mandrake root.

Finley Ellingwood, M. D., an eminent practitioner of Chicago and Professor of Materia Medica in the Bennett Medical College of that city, in his recently published work on Therapeutics, says of Golden Seal root: "It is the most natural of stimulants to the normal functions of digestion. Its influence upon the mucous surfaces renders it most important in catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of stomach) and gastric (stomach) ulceration."

Many other authorities as well as Dr. Ellingwood extol the Hydrastis (Golden Seal), as a remedy for catarrhal diseases of the nasal passages, stomach, bronchia, gall ducts, kidneys, intestines and bladder. Among these, we may mention Prof. John King, M. D., author of the American Dispensatory; Prof. J. M. Scudder, M. D., in his "Specific Medication"; Dr. Hale of the Hahnemann Med. College of Chicago; Grover Coe, M. D., of New York, in his "Organic Medicines," Dr. Bartholow of Jefferson Med. College and scores of other leading medical writers and teachers.

All the foregoing eminent authorities extol the curative virtues of Golden Seal in cases of stomach, liver and intestinal weakness, torpor and ulceration of bowels. Dr. Ellingwood recommends it most highly, "In those cases of atonic dyspepsia when the entire apparatus, including the liver, is stagnant and inoperative." He also extols it most highly in the many weaknesses and derangements peculiar to women and says, "It is a most important remedy in many disorders of the womb." Golden Seal root (Hydrastis), is an important ingredient of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, "rundown" women.

But to return to the "Golden Medical Discovery" it may be said that its curative properties are not wholly dependent upon Golden Seal, valuable as it is, as other equally potant ingredients add greatly to its value and in fact are not less important than the Hydrastis, or Golden Seal.

In all bronchial, throat, lung and kindred ailments, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root and Bloodroot, each plays as important a part in effecting the phenominal cures of "Golden Medical Discovery" as does Golden Seal. All these ingredients have the endorsement of prominent practitioners of all schools of medicine for the cure of diseases of the bronchia, throat and lungs.

Of Queen's root, Prof. King says: "An alterative (blood purifier) unsurpassed by few if any other of the known alteratives. Most successful in skin and scrofulous affections; beneficial in bronchial affections; permanently cures bronchitis; relieves irritations; an important cough remedy; coughs of years' standing being cured; aids in blood-making and nutrition and may be taken with out harm for long periods."

Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodroot, all articles extolled by leading practitioners of all the schools, as the very best of cough medicines, are made especially valuable when combined with chemically pure glycerine which greatly enhances the curative action of all these ingredients in all bronchial, throat and lung affections, severe coughs and kindred ailments.

Who can doubt the efficacy of such a compound, when scientifically made up, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery? Who can doubt that it is a most effective remedy for the several diseases for which its ingredients are so highly recommended by the formost writers on Materia Medica?

It is in the cure of the more chronic or lingering, persistent, and obstinate cases of bronchial, laryngial and lung affections, attended by hoarseness and severe cough, which if neglected or badly treated would generally have run into consumption, that "Golden Medical Discovery" has won the highest praise from all who have observed its marvelous control over these and kindred affections. It is no cheap compound made-up of trashy ingredients for free distribution, that curious people may experiment upon themselves as with the many fake nostrums so commonly sent out as "trial bottles." It has a forty year record, embracing many thousands of cures behind it, is sold at a reasonable price and may be found in all drug and medicine stores in this and many foreign countries.

It will be seen from the above brief extracts how well "Golden Medical Discovery" is adapted for the cure of all blood diseases, as, scrofulous and skin affections, eruptions, blotches, pimples and kindred ailments; also that it is equally good in all Catarrhal affections no matter where seated, and for all cases of indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and as a tonic and invigorator in all manner of weaknesses, and in nervous debility and prostration the above extracts amply show.

Much further information as to the properties and uses of "Golden Medical Discovery" and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women, will be found in a little booklet of extracts from standard medical books which will be mailed free to any address on request, by letter or postal card, sent to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

All the several ingredients of Dr. Pierce's medicines will be found, from the reading of this little booklet, to have the strongest possible professional endorsements and recommendations for the cure of all the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. No other medicines for like purposes have any such endorsement. They are non-alcoholic, non-secret, safe and reliable.

MITCHELL IS SCORED

Dolan Accuses President of Miners of Being a Coward.

Alleges He Squandered Union's Money in Attempt to Defeat Him.

Pittsburg, Feb. 19.—In a statement he made public last night, President Dolan of the local district United Mine Workers of America, scores the methods of John Mitchell, national president of the mine workers, and charges him with trying to shirk the responsibility for the position in which the mine workers are at present. Dolan also accused Mitchell of "playing to the galleries," by threatening the operators with a national strike, but that the operators "called the bluff."

It is further charged that Mitchell sent organizers into the local filed to defeat Dolan, and that money belonging to the organization was used by these men. The statemetn says:

"President Mitchell is trying to shirk the responsibility for the mess he has gotten the miners of this country into by saying that I am evidently trying to divide the miners' forces.

"I am only trying to save the miners from the dangers which threaten them because of Mitchell's lack of courage. Mitchell, and Mitchell alone, is responsible for the serious situation which confronts the miners. He got started wrong in the joint convention and did not have the courage and common sense to make a temporary retreat, when he saw he was worsted and should take up the fight along other lines.

"He led the argument for the miners by demanding an advance in wages, on the claim that prices of coal are higher than they were two years ago.

"The operators immediately took him at his word and offered to bring in the books of all the companies in the country, large and small, and have them examined, if the miners would agree to take a reduction if the price was shown to be lower; the operators to pay an advance if the prices were shown to be higher.

"F. L. Roberts asked Mitchell to accept that offer. Mitchell never let on he heard. Robbins repeated the question a half dozen times, and Mitchell sat staring into space. Robbins appealed to the chair, and the chair ruled that Mitchell ought to answer the question. Mitchell then arose and said:

"'I refuse to answer.'

"From that time on our cake was dough.

"When Mitchell saw what a mess he was in he tried to scare the operators from following up their advantage by making radical statements and playing to the galleries. He thought he would scare the operators by the threat of a national strike, but the operators called our bluff. After this bluff of Mitchell's we are in nice shape to ask the public to allow us to shut off their coal, shut down the railroads and stop the mills and factories and then have the newspapers make public sentiment for us by telling everybody how just our cause is.

"From the time Mitchell made that first blunder he went from bad to worse until the Ryan resolution made our situation hopeless and we came on without an agreement.

"Mitchell has always lacked courage. He is more careful of his own reputation as a successful leader than he is of his people. Never in his career has he fought against the popular tide, no matter whether it was right or wrong. Two years ago when the operators whipped him into line for a reduction, he disappeared from the convention with an attack of what he called 'nervous prostration,' and after he got out of the Turkish bath he made all the miners' leaders fight to have the delegates accept the resolution before he would do so.

Mitchell says I have always been unfriendly to his administration. I have not, although he has always fought me. I had the 'gall' to be a candidate for national vice president against him in 1898 and he never forgave me.

"I have letters in my desk to prove that he sent organizers into this field and issued orders to spare no expense to have me defeated for district president in my own field. And it was the union's money and not his own that he was willing to be so lavish with to vent a personal spite.

"It has been evident for years past to everybody connected with the labor movement that Mitchell is suffering from a common ordinary dose of 'big head.' He is working all the time towards one man power, and the truth of the matter is that he is not in touch with his own people on the mining situation. Circumstances have made him. The tide has always been in his favor until lately and now he does not measure up to his job. It takes something besides a Prince Albert coat and a carnation in the button hole to make a real labor leader. It takes common sense and courage and the man who lacks either ought to hire somebody to tell him his shortcomings and retire from his job.

(Signed.) "P. DOLAN."

MOROCCANS BOMBARD FRENCH FILIBUSTERS.

Malaga, Spain, Feb. 19.—Dispatches from Melilla, Morocco, dated yesterday, announced that the Moroccan warship Sidi El Turki bombarded the factories belonging to the French filibusters at March yesterday, destroying a portion of the works. The Morrocean rebel forces responded to the warships attack without result. This is a renewal of the recent incident between the French and Moroccan warships which, it is feared, may complicate the situation at Algeciras as the Germans assert that the rebels are co-operating with the French filibusters against the maintenance of Moroccan authority.

Famous Elsie Cheese
18c Per Pound.
Oppel's Grocery,
Sole Agency.

LOSSES BY COMPANIES

Details of Insurance Losses Sustained in Peavey Elevator Fire.

House Will be Rebuilt Quickly as Possible—Probably Fireproof.

A new working house and elevator will replace the burned Peavey Terminal structure as quickly as possible, and it is altogether probable that it will be a fireproof building. In the meantime steps will be taken at once to erect a temporary arrangement, by means of which grain stored in the concrete annex may be removed. It is believed that this can be done within thirty days, and that will allow ample time before delivery on present option contracts is necessary.

The amount of grain in store in the burned building is placed at approximately 970,000 bushels, as follows: Wheat, 600,000 bushels; oats, 200,000 bushels; rye, 60,000 bushels; flax, 100,000 bushels, and barley, 10,000 bushels. The value of this grain at Saturday's prices, which will be those on which the insurance companies will settle, is put at $689,600. The value of the building is put at $300,000.

The insurance on the grain aggregated $649,000, and on the building, $275,000. In the grain there will be more or less salvage. In some cases the salvage on grain burned in elevators has been considerable. Already the Peavey company has been approached in the matter of making bids for the burning grain, for it is still burning, and will be for a long time, until taken hold of in the proper manner. Water poured on it will cause greater damage than the smouldering fire.

The insurance was all placed by the Manley-McLennan Agency, and was distributed among all the agencies in town in various amounts. The insurance by companies is as follows:

BUILDING.

Aachen & Munich	$2,500
Aetna	5,000
Agricultural	1,500
Allemania	1,000
Alliance	1,000
American Central	1,500
Anchor	1,000
Assiourazioni Generali	2,500
Assurance Co.	1,000
Atlanta-Birmingham	1,000
Atlas	1,000
Austrian Elementar	2,500
British America	1,500
British American	1,000
Buffalo Commercial	1,500
Buffalo German	1,000
Caledonian	500
Calumet	1,000
Camden	1,000
Capital	1,000
Central of London	1,250
Citizens of St. Louis	2,500
City of New York	1,000
Commerce	1,000
Commercial Union Assurance	2,500
Concordia	1,000
Connecticut	1,000
Continental	2,500
County of Philadelphia	1,000
Delaware	1,000
Detroit Fire & Marine	1,000
Equitable Fire and Marine	1,000
European Underwriters	9,250
Excess	2,000
Farmers & Merchants	500
Farmers of York	1,000
Federal	1,500
Fire Association	1,500
Fireman's Fund	2,500
Firemen's of Newark	1,000
German Alliance	1,000
German American	1,000
German Fire of Peoria	1,000
German Fire of Pittsburg	1,000
German of Freeport	2,500
Girard Fire and Marine	1,000
Gladbach	2,500
Globe & Rutgers	2,500
Hamburg-Bremen	2,500
Hanover	2,500
Hanseatische	1,000
Hartford Fire	5,000
Helvetia	2,500
Home Fire and Marine	2,500
Home of New York	10,000
Indianapolis	2,500
Individual Fire, Und.	2,500
Lafayette of New Orleans	1,500
Law Union & Crown	2,500
Liverpool, London & Globe	5,000
London & Lancashire	5,000
Lloyd's English	41,000
Madison	1,500
Michigan Commercial	1,000
Michigan Fire & Marine	1,000
Millers National	2,500
Milwaukee Mechanics	1,000
National of Hartford	2,500
Netherlands	1,500
New York Fire	1,000
New York Underwriters	2,500
Niagara	1,000
North America	1,000
Northern Assurance	5,000
Northern of New York	1,000
North British & Mercantile	5,000
North German, New York	2,500
North River	2,500
Northwestern Fire & Marine	1,500
Norwich Union	1,000
Nye Danske	2,500
Orient	1,000
Palatine	1,500
Pelican Assurance	1,000
Pennsylvania Fire	2,500
Phoenix of Brooklyn	1,000
Philadelphia Underwriters	1,000
Phoenix of Hartford	1,500
Phoenix of London	1,000
Providence of Washington	2,500
Prussian National	2,500
Queen of America	1,000
Queen City	2,500
Rochester German	5,000
Royal	1,500
Royal Exchange	2,500
St. Paul Fire & Marine	2,500
Scottish Union & National	1,500
Skane	5,000
Springfield Fire & Marine	1,000
State Fire	1,000
State of Pennsylvania	1,500
Stuyvesant	5,000
Sun Insurance Office	1,500
Svea	1,000
Teutonia	1,500
Traders	5,000
Union Assurance	1,000
Union of Philadelphia	1,000
United Underwriters	2,500
Virginia Fire & Marine	1,000
Western of Pittsburg	1,500
Western Assurance	1,500
Williamsburgh City
Total	$275,000

ON GRAIN.

Aachen & Munich	$ 5,000
Aetna	25,000
Agricultural	4,000
Alliance	4,000
American, N. J.	10,000
Assurance Co.	4,000
Atlas	5,000
American	1,500
British America	18,500
Caledonian	4,000
Calumet	4,500
Commercial Union Assurance	12,500
Connecticut	17,500
Delaware	3,000
Detroit	4,000
Farmers of York	2,500
Federal	6,000
Fire Association	7,500
Firemen's of Newark	5,000
Franklin	10,000
German of Freeport	15,000
German Alliance	19,000
German American	4,000
German of Peoria	2,500
German of Pittsburg	10,000
Germania	4,000
Girard	7,500
Hamburg-Bremen	30,000
Hanover	20,000
Hartford	10,000
Home, New York	6,500
Home Fire & Marine	5,000
Indemnity	3,000
Indianapolis	11,500
Insurance Co. of North America	5,000
Insurance Co. State of Penn.	7,500
Law Union	17,500
Liverpool Londan & Globe	7,500
London & Lancashire	8,000
Metropolitan	33,000
National	10,000
New York Underwriters	3,000
Northern Assurance	2,000
Northern	5,000
North British & Mercantile	5,000
North German	9,000
North River	9,500
Norwich Union	5,000
Pelican	10,000
Pennsylvania	17,500
Phoenix of Brooklyn	9,000
Philadelphia Underwriters	13,000
Phoenix of London	2,500
Prussian National	10,000
Queen	7,500
Rochester German	5,000
Reliance	10,000
Royal	3,000
Security of Baltimore	17,500
Scottish	8,000
Springfield Fire & Marine	5,000
Springfield Garden	10,000
St. Paul Fire & Marine	5,000
Sun Insurance Office	3,500
Svea	18,500
Traders	1,000
Union of Philadelphia	16,500
Union of London	5,500
United States	3,000
Westchester	19,500
Western	3,500
Williamsburgh City	5,000
Winona
Total	$649,500

The grain in the concrete annex was insured to the extent of $325,000, and the table by companies is interesting as showing the great risks that companies were willing to take in the case of a building practically certain to be fireproof. The list is as follows:

Calumet	$5,000
German-American	25,000
Hamburg-Bremen	25,000
Law Union & Crown	5,000
Liverpool, London & Globe	20,000
National	50,000
New York Underwriters	7,500
North British & Mercantile	100,000
Northern	10,000
Pennsylvania	15,000
Queen of America	20,000
Sun Insurance Office	5,000
Union of London	12,500
Western Assurance	25,000
Total	$325,000

In addition to the amounts given above the Peavey people carried insurance on profits and elevator charges as follows:

PROFITS.

Citizens of St. Louis	$3,000
Northern of New York	2,000
Norwich Union	2,000
Union of London	3,400
Total	$10,400

ELEVATOR CHARGES.

Indianapolis	$2,500
Westchester	2,000
Total	$4,500

Some insurance other than that of the Peavey interests was carried on grain in the burned elevator. Albert Dickinson & Co. of Chicago had $11,800 in the Northern company and $1,180 in the United States, a total of $12,980, placed through the Manley-McLennan agency.

William Dalrymple carried $2,000, of which $1,000 was in the Home Fire & Marine, placed through the Manley-McLennan agency, and $1,000 in the Prussian National, placed through Pulford, How & Co.

The Concrete Elevator company carried $23,000, placed through John A. Stephenson & Co., as follows:

Northern	$10,000
Niagara	3,000
Phoenix of Hartford	6,500
Royal Exchange	3,500
Total	$23,000

FOUR MEN LOSE LIVES BY POWDER EXPLOSION.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 19.—A terrific explosion which caused the death of four men, occurred early yesterday in the Buttonwood mine, operated by the Parrish Coal company, about two miles from this city. The explosion occurred in a timberman's shanty, in which was stored a lot of giant powder. The supposition is that the heat from the steam pipes ignited the powder. The dead:

WILLIAM MENTZ, aged 25.
JOHN TAYLOR WILLIAMS, aged 30.
OWEN ANTHONY, aged 45.
ANTHONY SCHULRUN, aged 35.

Of the four men, three met instant death and their bodies were mutilated and dismembered in a ghastly manner. The fourth, Anthony Shulrun, died a few hours later at the City hospital.

Get My Free Book — Rheumatism
It tells about Rheumatism, about the causes, the way to live to avoid and free the system of rheumatic poisons—even in desperate cases—with
DR. SHOOP'S RHEUMATIC TABLETS
Dr. Shoop Racine Wis. Sold By Druggists

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

CLOSING OUT THE ENTIRE DRAPERY AND RUG DEPT.

Today commenced the greatest Lace Curtain, Rug and Drapery Clearance ever announced in Duluth

The Silberstein & Bondy Co., having decided to discontinue their entire line of lace curtains and portieres, oriental and domestic rugs and drapery materials, announce a thorough clearance of their splendid stock at great reductions.

Lace Curtains.
Fine qualities of Arabe, Cluny, Brussels, Irish Point, Renaissance, Scotch Net, Point de Paris, Point de Venise, Nottingham, Ruffled Net and Ruffled Swisses.

In the Rug Dept.
Wilton, Saxony and Axminster Rugs in small or full room sizes. Imported and domestic rugs, washable bath rugs, Crex matting, Axminster, Wilton, Velour and Japanese art squares.

Portieres.
Fancy designs in silk, tapestry and velour. Box coverings and drapery goods in Cretonne, Denims, Taffeta, Burlap and Crepe Cloth, Hungarian Cloth, Madras Cloth, Fish Nets, Bobbinets, Swisses and Drapery Silks.

Silberstein & Bondy Company THE STORE OF QUALITY Silberstein & Bondy Company THE STORE OF QUALITY Silberstein & Bondy Company

RAILROADS

RATE WAR IS EXPECTED

No Agreement Reached on the Differential Fare Controversy.

Rates Between Chicago and New York May Soon be Slashed.

Members of the Central Passenger association, at their meeting in Chicago last week, failed to reach an agreement concerning the differential fare controversy, and are now facing a disastrous rate war. It is said to be possible that the rates between Chicago and New York and Boston will go as low as $10 before a settlement is reached, unless the executive officials of the Eastern lines interfere.

The Erie railroad is understood to have prevented an agreement being reached, although officials of this line, according to the Chicago papers, are anxious to throw the blame on the Grand Trunk or the Michigan Central. While the Grand Trunk did not announce or even intimate that it would start a rate war, the other railroad officials are expecting to see such a war develop. The Grand Trunk took radical action after the Charlton award, and its whole position during the two days session last week was such as to lead the other railroad men to fear that it would take the same action again in the present instance.

The Grand Trunk never has recognized the Charlton award, giving the Michigan Central the right to use differential fares, and although the Michigan Central claims that this award was secured legitimately, the Grand Trunk still refuses to concede it. It is not believed, however, that this point would have stood in the way of an agreement to rearbitrate the entire differential question if the Erie's attitude had been different.

The Erie was willing that the differential question should be arbitrated, if it could secure a previous agreement that their position as a differential line should not be disturbed, and that the Michigan Central in connection with the New York Central should not be granted the differential privilege. It wasn't possible to have any arbitration along such lines.

CHINESE COMMISSION

Will Travel Via Great Northern From Seattle to St. Paul.

The local passenger department officials of the Great Northern road have been notified that the Imperial Chinese commission, appointed by the empress dowager to tour America, Germany, Austria, France and England, to study the governments of these countries, will arrive on the Great Northern steamship Dakota at Seattle about Feb. 26. The commission will also study the industrial, educational and social conditions of the countries they visit, and in America they will observe the status of the Chinese here, and the legislation affecting them.

The party consists of one duke, two princes and twenty-seven attaches. The party will remain in Seattle two or three days before journeying East via the Great Northern. A special compartment car has been provided for the use of the higher officials. Their route from St. Paul is via the Burlington line to Chicago, thence over the Michigan Central to Niagara Falls and then the Lehigh Valley to Philadelphia, Washington, etc.

TO SUCCEED CHAPPELLE.

Nomination of Bishop Blenk Will be Recommended to Pope.

Rome, Feb. 19.—The congregation of the propaganda met today to decide on the appointment of a new archbishop of New Orleans, to succeed the late Archbishop Chappelle, and after hearing a report presented by Cardinal Satolli, it was decided to propose to the pope the nomination of Bishop Blenk of Porto Rico.

The pope has suddenly decided to anticipate the consistory which will be held Feb. 21, instead of Feb. 26, and at which nineteen French bishops will be appointed. These bishops will be consecrated by the pope himself in St. Peter's, Feb. 25, in order to emphasize the importance of the event.

At the consistory of Feb. 21, the pope will deliver an allocation reaffirming and strengthening the views he expressed in his recent encyclical on the separation of church and state in France.

WOODSMAN IS CRUSHED BY TREE

John Varner is Killed in Woods Near Burnett Station.

While felling timber, about five miles from Burnett station, Saturday afternoon, John Varner, a woodsman, 40 years of age, was caught by a falling tree and crushed to death.

With B. T. Warren, his partner, Varner was at work chopping down a tree. As the tree fell, it struck against another, and, swinging around, struck Varner in the chest, knocking him to the ground and pinning him beneath it.

Warren immediately began sawing through the log to release his companion, who remained conscious for fully five minutes, while his partner was struggling to release him.

Joseph Gauthier and John Maxwell, two other woodsmen, were at work in the vicinity, and with their assistance Varner was taken to camp. He died just before reaching there, however, and the body was brought to Duluth yesterday, being taken to Flood & Horgan's morgue.

GATELY'S GOOD GOODS BEST ON EARTH

CREDIT FOR EVERYBODY

GATELY'S GOOD GOODS BEST ON EARTH

Depriving yourself and family of actual necessities can be avoided. In this age of American progress it is unnecessary. THE GATELY PLAN of selling family clothing and home furnishings on credit relieves all care and worry and puts you on the road to happiness. With our system there is no experimenting, no security, no failure to fulfil our obligation so long as your intentions are honest. Our plan of clothing the family and furnishing the home on EASY PAYMENTS is to help those who deserve and want credit. Why delay your opportunity? We can make you happy!

GATELY'S
8 East Superior Street.

Hood's
The standard blood-purifying medicine. In usual liquid or new tablet form.
Sarsaparilla

FENCE POST BUSINESS

Industry Has Reached Enormous Proportions in This Country.

Government is Experimenting With Suitable Varieties of Wood.

The last census report gave the output of fence posts from the various logging camps of the country, as 9,000,000, but the department of agriculture estimates that the annual consumption of posts cut in camps from wood lots is upward of 1,000,000,000.

The difficulty that has been had in obtaining fence posts at reasonable prices is claimed by the timber men to have given impetus to the forest planting movement in the middle West.

Newspapers, farmers' institutes, women's clubs and boards of trade, even, throughout the region are calling attention to the need of such material and the profit said to have been realized by men who planted trees years ago and whose plantations have turned out successfully.

Taking the government's estimate of 1,000,000,000 posts and setting these fifteen feet apart, they would girdle the globe or would make a solid pile fifty-five feet wide, forty feet high and a mile long. When the timber dealer give attention to the post business they look for strength and durability. Any timber that is not durable is expensive because it requires frequent renewal and repairing must be done often.

The forestry service recognizes the importance of the fence post in farm economy and is making a careful study of the growth and durability of various species of woods and determining the limit of the commercial planting range.

Among some of the species of woods that are now being experimented with in Northern Minnesota are the hardy catalpa, black locust and the Osage orange. Other species, however, are being tried on a smaller scale including the white willow, the European larch, Russian mulberry and the red cedar. Already some good results are said to have been shown.

The post business in this part of the country has been for years confined almost entirely to cedar timber, but as the cedar swamps are being stripped of their product farther and farther back from the lake and railroad facilities, it will not be many years until the experiments with other timber will have been put in practical use by the timber men.

Besides experimenting with the growth of different woods suited for posts, the government is also endeavoring to find some preservative that can be made at the minimum expense and which will preserve the usefulness of a post for the longest period, something the way a cedar block is now preserved by a preparation of creosote.

The progress made by the government experimental stations along other lines during the past few years is said to offer encouragement as to what they will accomplish in the way of providing the best means of keeping up the timber supply.

A GAURANTEED CURE FOR PILES
Etching, Blind, Bleeding, Protruding Piles. Druggists are authorized to refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, langour, heart palpitation, Drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regulets act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

ENGINEERS INTERESTED

Elevator Fire Gave Severe Heat Test to Concrete Construction.

Proves That It Will Withstand Heat as Well as Cold.

All civil engineers in the city, and especially those in the employ of the city and the United States government, are deeply interested in the manner in which the concrete in the Peavey elevator withstood the severe test of the fire Saturday afternoon.

Practically all of them have made trips to the ruins and examined the effect of the fire on the concrete wall which fronted the burned building. It is apparently in good condition, with little or no damage resulting from the fierce heat.

"Some engineers claim that concrete cannot stand any great heat," said a local engineer this morning, who, out of professional reasons, did not care to be quoted. "It has been maintained that if concrete were heated to any high temperature it would crumble and disintegrate.

"The concrete wall of the Peavey elevator was within about fifty feet of the flames, and I dare say it was subjected to a temperature of about 1,500 degrees Fahrenheit. That would be sufficient to soften iron so that it could be easily bent, and yet the concrete, so far as I have been able to find out, shows no bad effects from it. I have not made as thorough an examination as I want to, as yet, however.

"After the Baltimore fire, a typewriter, which had been melted by the heat, was found on a concrete floor. The heat had been so intense that the iron in the machine had become molten, but the concrete floor was uninjured.

"Another good instance of what concrete will stand, is the recent construction of a chimney which is to carry fumes of sulphuric and nitric acid heated to a temperature of about 1,500 degrees Fahrenheit. Iron could not withstand such a test for a month, but the concrete is working satisfactorily.

"There has been so much concrete work at the Head of the Lakes during the past few years, that the study of this line of engineering is of special interest here. The government piers at both entries to the harbor, the Peavey elevator, the dam at Thompson, and all the other smaller jobs, have required an enormous amount of concrete work, and a test such as was given the wall of the elevator Saturday evening is of more than ordinary interest to the engineers at the Head of the Lakes. The piers have proven what concrete can stand in the line of cold and the action of the ice, and this test shows what heat it will stand. Had that wall been of granite, it would have cracked into a thousand pieces when the water was turned on it."

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it.

NOTICE.

The Board of Fire Commissioners will hold a special meeting Friday evening, Feb. 23, at 8 o'clock, in their office in the City Hall for the purpose of considering such complaints as may be preferred against the present chief of the department. All persons having charges to make or complaints to prefer are requested to be present.

ALFRED McCALLUM,
Secretary of the Board.

SECRETARY RESIGNS

After a Violent Conference With Governor of Indiana.

Indianapolis, Feb. 19.—During a stormy conference at the state house today, Daniel E. Storms, secretary of state, tendered to the governor his resignation, which was accepted. Fred Simms of Frankfort was immediately appointed to succeed Mr. Storms. It is reported that the governor refused to promise Storms that he would not press the proceedings further.

ORGANIZE A SYNDICATE

Duluth and Superior May Enter the Lipton Yacht Races.

The Chicago Yacht Club is Behind the New Movement.

The Columbia Yacht club of Chicago, the leading organization of its kind on inland waters, is untiring in its efforts to prevail upon Duluth to enter the Lipton cup races this year, and in order to create greater local enthusiasm, is trying to have Commodore Horace Johnson, Vice Commodore F. N. Lyman nad Secretary H. A. Earnshaw organize a syndicate in Duluth to build a racing yacht, to be called "Duluth," and Henry L. De Forrest and C. A. Chase, leading yachting enthusiasts of Superior, to organize a syndicate in the city across the bay, to build a boat for the races, to be called "Superior."

If this plan is carried out, the two boats will race against each other in local waters, and will also enter in the Lipton cup races at Chicago in August. It is generally agreed that Duluth is now of sufficient size and importance to be represented at the big event on Lake Michigan, and it is hoped that enough interest can be aroused locally to make this possible. A boat for these races, it is believed, will do more good for the sport in this vicinity than anything else possible, and especially so if a little local rivalry can be ejected into the game by contests between Duluth and Superior.

So far the Lipton races, under the auspices of the Columbia Yacht club, have been well patronized, and have helped to increase the interest in yachting throughout the United States, and the interest in them is second to none, except those for the America cup. The races are limited to what is known as the 21-foot cabin class, which is inexpensive to build very practical, seaworthy and fast, and one that is not in any sense a useless racing machine. The principal reasons for the great popularity of this class of boats are the annual contests at Chicago for the Lipton cup, and at Detroit for the Country club cup, besides many other lesser events, and the slight cost to operate and transport them. The depreciation in value is less in this class than in any other, and the market is always better for these boats, when sold, bringing nearer their orginal cost than those of any other class.

The Lipton cup is on exhibition this week in the window of F. D. Day & Co., jewelers.

All old-time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. Sold by all druggists.

QUIET MEETING.

Little Business of Importance Due to Come Before the Council.

Little business of importance is due to come before the council meeting this evening, and in the absence of City Clerk Cheadle, who is attending his father's funeral, no new important business is likely to be introduced.

All action on the charges against Chief Black will be postponed until after the board of fire commissioners has acted, and this will not be until the end of the week.

CATTLEMAN KIDNAPPED.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 19.—A special from Deming, N. M., says that Robert Hannigan, a prominent cattleman of Southern New Mexico, has been taken by bandits from a stage near Silver City, N. M., and carried into the Mogollon mountains to be held presumably for a reward.

English Madras Only 20c Here.
One of Chicago's biggest State street stores advertised these English Madras Waistings at 25c a yard yesterday. We give you choice of sixty pieces at 20c yard. 20c

Freimuth's
Lake Ave., Michigan and Superior Sts.,
DULUTH, MINN.

25c Madras Gingham 15c Yard.
These are the wide 32-inch Madras Ginghams that usually sell at 25c. Choice of stripes, checks and plain Chambray effects—colors fast—here only 15c per yard. 15c

Get Your Share of the Art Goods on Sale on the Bargain Square.

Today's big selling proves conclusively that this sale is a most timely "hit"—rich in bargains in the very things you want for Lenten fancy work when society makes but slight demands on your time—and with pretty finished pieces of handwork of various sorts.

All the odds and ends and overstocks in our regular lines, in additi on to hundreds and hundreds of travelers' samples are offered at

ONE-THIRD TO ONE-HALF OR MORE OFF REGULAR PRICES.

LADY ABERDEEN EMBROIDERED DOILIES, CENTERS, CLOTHS, ETC.

Exquisite hand-embroidered linen pieces—the work of the peasants on the Irish estate of Lady Aberdeen—at the lowest prices ever named on these beautiful goods. Choose from the dainty Shamrock and other charming designs.

$6.00 Lunch Cloths, 36x36 in., only.....$3.00
$4.50 Lunch Cloths, 72x90 in., only.....$2.50
$7.00 Lunch Cloths, 72x90 in., only.....$4.50

LADY ABERDEEN SCARFS.

18x36 in., $2.00, worth $3.25.
18x54 in., $2.95, worth $4.25.
18x72 in. Scarfs $3.25, worth $5.00.

And many other sizes in Scarfs, Tray Cloths, Centers, Doilies, etc.—sizes from 18x18 inches up—all hand-embroidered—all at very low prices.

FINE LAWN SCARFS AND SHAMS AT BIG REDUCTIONS.

A beautiful lot of fine white lawn Scarfs and Pillow Shams—all variously ruffled and trimmed with embroidery or lace insertion—these hints as to how we have cut prices:

18x45 in., at 75c, worth $1.25.
18x54 in., at $2.00, worth $3.50.
30x30 in. Shams $2.50 pair, worth $4.00.

HAND-EMBROIDERED PILLOW COVERS FOR HALF.

Take your pick of our entire stock of hand-embroidered pillow covers for half price—less than cost to make—none reserved.

DAINTY FANS FOR HALF PRICE AND LESS.

A miscellaneous lot of fans—silk, lace and ostrich—ebony, pearl and tortoise shell sticks—on sale at prices that will not cover cost to import!

THESE BRIEF HINTS OF OTHER BARGAINS.

65c Center Pieces on brown Holland linen..39c
45c to 59c Spachtel Scarfs and Shams cut to 25c
Persian Embroidered Scarfs—samples—at Big Cuts.
$75 Persian Table Cover—a treasure for $45.00
Battenburg Patterns at greatly reduced prices.
$2.00 Austrian Emb'd Pillow Cases, only..$1.25

RARE CLUNY LACES VERY CHEAP.

No such assortment anywhere else west of Chicago—our regular prices range up to $100.00. Sale prices will be 25c to $50.00.

At $50.00, we offer an exquisite Cluny lace Bed Spread, worth $100.

$10.00 Austrian Emb'd Table Covers, at..$6.00
$5.50 Austrian Emb'd Library Table Covers $3
18 to 27 in. Stamped Center Pieces, cut to..15c
Stamped Pillow Covers, worth to 65c, cut to 10c
80c Rubber Stamp Outfits for marking linens—only 25c
65c Lithographed Pillow Tops.....45c

J. Freimuth J. Freimuth J. Freimuth J. Freimuth J. Freimuth J. Freimuth

LOCK CANAL IS FAVORED

By President in Letter Transmitting All Reports to Congress.

The Foreign Consulting Engineers a Unit for Sea Level.

Washington, Feb. 19.—President Roosevelt transmitted to congress the report of the board of consulting engineers on the Panama canal together with the letter of Secretary Taft, the report of the Isthmian canal commission and a letter by Chief Engineer Stevens. The letter of the president is as follows:

"To the senate and house of representatives: I submit herewith the letter of the secretary of war, transmitting the reports of the board of consulting engineers on the Panama canal, and the report of the Isthmian canal commission thereon, together with a letter written to the chairman of the Isthmian canal commission by Chief Engineer Stevens. Both the board of consulting engineers and the canal commission divide in the report. The majority of the board of consulting engineers, eight in number, including the five foreign engineers, favor a sea-level canal; and one member of the canal commission, Admiral Endicott takes the same view. Five of the eight American members of the board of consulting engineers and five of the Isthmian canal commission favor the lock canal, and so does Chief Engineer Stevens. The secretary of war recommends a lock canal, pursuance to the recommendation of the minority of the board of consulting engineers and of the majority of the canal commission. After careful study of the papers submitted, and a full and exhaustive consideration of the whole subject, I concur in this recommendation.

"It will be noticed that the American engineers on the consulting board and on the commission by a more than two to one majority, favor the lock canal, whereas the foreign engineers are a unit against it. I think this is partly to be explained by the fact that the great traffic canal of the old world is the Suez canal, a sea-level canal, whereas the great traffic canal of the new world is the Sault Ste. Marie canal, a lock canal. Although the latter—the Soo—is closed to navigation during the winter months, it carries annually three times the traffic of the Suez canal. In my judgment the very able argument of the majority of the board of consulting engineers is vitiated by their failure to pay proper heed to the lessons taught by the construction and operations of the Soo canal.

"It must be born in mind, as the commission points out, that there is no question of building what has been picturesquely termed "The Straits of Panama," that is, a waterway through which the largest vessels could go with safety at uninterrupted high speed. Both the sea level canal and the proposed lock canal would be too narrow and shallow to be called with any truthfulness a strait, or to have any of the properties of a wide deep water strip. Both of them would be canals pure and simple. Each type has certain disadvantages and certain advantages. But in my judgment, the disadvantages are fewer and the advantages very much greater in the case of a lock canal substantially as proposed in the papers forwarded herewith; and I call especial attention to the fact that the chief engineer, who will be mainly responsible for the success of this mighty engineering feat, and who has therefore a peculiar personal interest in judging aright, is emphatically and earnestly in favor of the lock canal project, and against the sea level project.

"A careful study of the reports seem to establish strong probability that the following are the facts:

"The sea level canal would be slightly less exposed to damage in the event of war; the running expenses, apart from the heavy cost of interest on the amount employed to build, would be less; and the smaller ships the time of transit would probably be less. On the other hand, the lock canal at a level of eighty feet or thereabouts, would not cost much more than half as much to build and could be built in about half the time, while there would be very much less risk connected with building it, and for large ships the transit would be quicker; while, taking into account the interest on the amount saved in building, the actual cost of maintenance would be less. After being built it would be easier to enlarge the lock canal than the sea level canal.

"The law now on our statute books seems to contemplate a lock canal. In my judgment a lock canal as herein recommended is advisable. If the congress directs that a sea-level canal be constructed, its direction will of course be carried out. Otherwise the canal will be built on substantially the plan for a lock canal outlined in the accompanying papers, such changes being made, of course, as may be found actually necessary; including, possibly, the change recommended by the secretary of war as to site of the dam on the Pacific side.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
"The White House, Feb. 19, 1906."

LATE DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Calumet Woman is Missing and So is Husband's Money.

Calumet—Mrs. John Ciocatto is missing and her husband says she took with her $3,800 belonging to him. He complained to the police today and said his wife played on his fears of the unsoundness of the banks, persuading him to withdrew his money and induced him to place it in her charge.

Gladstone—Under a decision of the circuit court for Delta county in the case of Hewitt vs. Valentine and Robertson, municipal officials, the Escanaba city council has no authority over the board of trustees of the Carnegie library of that place. It is held that the council must pay from the library fund, such bills and claims as the board certifies.

Marquette—Joseph Ayotte, a log loader employed by the Northern Lumber company, at Birch, met death by having his head crushed by a falling sawlog. He lived but a few minutes after the accident, and never regained consciousness. Ayotte was a single man, and lived at Ishpeming before going to Birch. The details of the accident were not obtainable, but from the meagre reports sent to the coroner it was learned that the accident occurred at the rollway near the Northern Lumber company's mill at Birch station. Ayotte's relatives at Ishpeming have been notified of the accident.

Sault Ste Marie—The reform wave has struck the Soo. Saturday night a meeting was held to form a civic federation to force the aldermen to do their duty. It is charged as one element of the graft situation that the aldermen refuse to order meters put in the water pipes and thus trap the corporations which, it is said, are stealing city water. The average consumption of water is 189 gallons per capita, where the normal would be 100 gallons.

If you have lost your boyhood spirits, courage and confidence of youth, we offer you new life, fresh courage and freedom from ill health in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

TORTURED BY ITCHING ECZEMA

Suffered Tremendous Itching Over Whole Body—Scratched Until Bled—Worse at Night, With Soreness and Excruciating Pains—A Western Lady's

WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Last year at this time I suffered with a tremendous itching on my back, which grew worse and worse, until it spread over the whole body, and only my face and hands were free. For four months or so I suffered the torments of the damned, and I had to scratch, scratch, scratch, until I bled. At night when I went to bed things got worse, and I had at times to get up and scratch my body all over, until I was as sore as could be, and until I suffered excruciating pains. I did not know what it was, and resorted to a number of blood purifiers, using at times also Cuticura Soap. They told me then that I was suffering from eczema. Then I made up my mind that I would also use Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent. I used them according to instructions, and very soon indeed I was greatly relieved. I continued until well, and now I am ready to recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any one who suffers as did your obedient servant. Mrs. Mary Metzger, Sweetwater, Okla., June 28, 1905."

TORTURING, DISFIGURING

Humors, Eczemas, and Itchings Cured by Cuticura

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scalled head—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c., Resolvent, 50c. (In form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures. Potter Drug and Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

Mailed Free, "How to Cure Baby Humors."

THE TENSION IS INCREASED

In American Missionary Circles Over the Situation in China.

New York, Feb. 19.—The situation in China is at present the topic of greatest interest at the headquarters here of the foreign missionary societies and boards, and while most of the officials of these organizations are hopeful, there is nevertheless marked anxiety, although it is not felt so much for the safety of the missionaries, who will be, it is believed, amply protected in case of trouble, as for the missionary cause itself. The preparations being openly made by the United States government for possible trouble in China, have increased the tension felt in missionary circles, and any information that can throw light on the situation is eagerly sought.

There was much interest therefore in a letter which has just reached the office of the Presbyterian foreign mission board from the Rev. Dr. H. V. Noyes, one of the veterans among the American missionaries in China. Dr. Noyes is located at Canton, and begins by saying that the boycott against things American had even extended appreciably to the hospital maintained in Canton by the Presbyterian board. This hospital treated, including outpatients, upward of 30,000 people last year. Dr. Noys says, in part:

"Not long since I heard Dr. Todd remark that owing to this movement the numbers in the hospital had fallen off. This was more noticeable in regard to the calls in homes. The well-to-do seemed to be calling in other physicians. Of course this falling off is in part due to the fact that there are more Chinese practitioners than there used to be. Besides this the French have established a large hospital in the city. In spite of these facts Dr. Todd believes the boycott most to blame. The boycott is getting to be more of a menace than some of us at first thought. There has been more interest aroused since that fanatic up in Shanghai committed suicide than there was before.

"We have been led to feel more recently that the Chinese are more in earnest than they were supposed to be, and that their staying power will be a surprise to the United States. We fear these Chinese, intoxicated by their power if they succeed in frightening America, will be led to extremes. Since Japan's success western prestige has dropped a great deal. The riot up in Shanghai that grew out of a dispute between the Chinese and British representatives in the mixed court there seems to show this. Now that it seems as though the Chinese have practically gained their point something else may arise.

"Personally I am glad to see the Chinese waking up and telling people to keep off their toes, but I fear they will carry things too far too rapidly and cause a lot of needless trouble, unless it is true that when a people change there must be a great deal of suffering before it is possible. To offset this there are a great many sensible men in China and we hope they can gain and keep the upper hand. The other day Mr. Boggs saw a large consignment of American oil on its way up into the interior. Probably the boycott will not be absolutely everywhere, but it will be bothersome.

"At present the Chinese in the interior are somewhat aroused by the high-handed action of the officials, who, in establishing schools of Western learning, have seized temples and burned idols. From our standpoint the objectionable feature of this is that we missionaries are blamed by the villagers, who think we compel the officials to do such things. This, of course, makes it necessary to watch things carefully."

There are about 1,200 American missionaries, men and women in China, and of this number the Presbyterian board, under which the Rev. Dr. Noyes has worked for forty years, has 244.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in fifty minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. Price 50c.

JAMES HART DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Old and Widely Known Resident of Duluth Passes Away.

James J. Hart, an old and very widely known resident of Duluth, died yesterday morning at the home of his son, James Hart, Jr., 25 West Fourth street, of pneumonia.

Mr. Hart, who was 75 years of age, had lived in Duluth for the last twenty-one years. He had formerly been engaged in the contracting business, but at the time of his death had retired from active business, and was living with his daughter, Mrs. L. K. Daugherty of 1129 East Third street.

His wife and eleven children survive him. The children are Mrs. Eli Jacques, Mrs. L. K. Daugherty, Mrs. A. A. Fider, Mrs. J. St. Germain, James J. Hart, Jr., and C. P. Hart of Duluth; Mrs. Bastien and Joseph Hart of Calumet; Mrs. W. P. Shilling of New York; Fred E. Hart of Bayfield; and E. Hart of Ashland.

The funeral arangements have not yet been completed, but the body is being held pending the arrival of the other children in the city.

A man who once had rough, horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by all druggists.

CAN'T MISS IT.

Letter Carriers' BALL

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 26, AT ARMORY

Tickets, 50c couple. Street cars to West Duluth at 2:00 a. m.

Music by Paul's Orchestra of ten pieces.

Famous Elsie Cheese 18c Per Pound.
Oppel's Grocery,
Sole Agency.

THE JOHNSON & MOE MAMMOTH SALE!

Ended tonight theoretically, but still continues practically, for the reason that we still leave on sale, at sale prices, all odds and ends and broken lots and sizes that have accumulated from the different departments during the sale, and must now be closed out at any sacrifice to clean up the stocks for the new purchases of spring goods which Mr. Moe is going East to buy the latter part of this week. This will give you another chance to take advantage of many bargains offered during the sale, also many new ones to be added.

Special Offering for Tuesday & Wed'day, Feb. 20-21

EMBROIDERIES AND INSERTIONS.

A big line 5c, 6c and 7c grades for yd 3c
A big line 10c and 12½c grades for 6½c
A fine line 15c, 18c, 20c and 22c grades for, yard.....10c
One lot new embroideries, an endless variety of patterns and widths up to 9 inches—were as high as 25c yard—all for, yard.....12½c

1000 yards baby flannels 10 to 20 yd remnants in white, cream, pink and blue—fine 10c value for yd...5¼c
18c pique white goods to close at, yd 5c
(For Children's Dresses and Boys' Suits.)
We offer another case each of Fruit of Loom, Lonsdale and Cambric, 12½c grade for per yard.....8¼c
One case 32-inch Percade in blue, black and red dots and figures, excellent 10c quality for per yd..6¼c

French & Bassett DULUTH, MINN.
First Street and Third Avenue West, Duluth, Minn.

During this sale all goods will be sold on our usual liberal terms, as follows:

$5.00 A MONTH ON A $25 PURCHASE
$6.00 A MONTH ON A $35 PURCHASE
$7.00 A MONTH ON A $50 PURCHASE
$8.00 A MONTH ON A $65 PURCHASE
$9.00 A MONTH ON A $75 PURCHASE
$10 A MONTH ON A $100 PURCHASE

French & Bassett DULUTH, MINN.
Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.

February Sale

Our February Clearance Sale Began Today, Feb. 19, at 8:30 a.m.

EVERY ARTICLE IN THIS GREAT FURNITURE AND HOUSEFURNISHING STOCK AT A DISCOUNT OF FROM 10 to 50%

This sale opened MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 19, at 8:30 o'clock, and continues until MARCH THE THIRD. . . Just two weeks it lasts, and these two weeks will be busy ones for us, and money-saving ones for you—for we are making this sale the greatest housefurnishing event ever held in Duluth or any other city.

The stocks throughout the store are particularly large and strong at this time and must be quickly adjusted to make the necessary room for Spring goods which are to arrive in March.

The discount tags have been distributed throughout the stock in such a manner as to accomplish the purpose quickly and it will richly repay you to anticipate your furniture and housefurnishing wants at this time.

Thousands of desirable articles are offered at HALF PRICE—some at 40, and more at 30 per cent discount, and so on throughout the list.

In this store at all times goods are marked in plain figures at their correct selling prices, which are, in most cases, considerably lower than prices in the ordinary store. During this sale a special tag is attached to the regular price tag, indicating the various discounts from 10 to 50 per cent, according to color.

We suggest an early attendance at this sale, for you know that goods go off quickly here during special sales, and a larger selection is always desirable. We also urge customers to take advantage of the morning hours, when we can give them better attention.

HUNDREDS OF CHOICE PIECES AT HALF PRICE

together rwith those at 40 per cent and 30 per cent discount, have been arranged in three groups on our first floor, so that customers can see them in a short time. This is, without doubt, the most sweeping discount sale ever made by us or any other house. The goods included are all desirable and many of them are half of prices already sharply reduced. Do not delay—come early, or you may regret it.

NOTICE!

No goods will be exchanged or sent on approval during this sale. Shopworn goods will be sold as they are at time of purchase.

NOTICE!

This sale is to make room for incoming goods and extensive alterations and enlargements and the price cuts are deep for this purpose. So we cannot hold goods purchased after April 1.

HENDRICKS DRY GOODS CO.

Continued Clearance Sale of Ladies' Hats Dress Skirts Suits and Silk Waists.

We shall clean out our Millinery stock this week with a special price for Ladies' Hats at, each—

50c and $1.50

Come and See!

WEST DULUTH

IS GROUND TO PIECES

Thomas Ladden Meets Horrible Death Near Fond du Lac.

Lay on Railroad Track in Drunken Stupor—Train Hits Him.

Thomas Ladden, 46 years of age, was killed at 1:20 yesterday afternoon by a Northern Pacific train, on bridge No. 3, between Fond du Lac and the Great Northern Power company's works near Thomson. Ladden's body was terribly mangled. The head and legs were cut off and the body and arms almost chopped into mince meat.

It is claimed that Ladden was intoxicated at the time. He had been seen about Fond du Lac in the morning drinking pretty freely and along about noon he started for the scene of the power company's operations where he was employed as a laborer. Evidently the liquor he had imbibed overcame him and he sat down on the track on bridge No. 3 where he seemed to be in a stupor.

Harry Bishop of Fond du Lac passed him shortly before the train arrived. Bishop says he tried to get the man to move from where he was, but he could not get him to do so. Ladden would mutter and sink back on the track. As he was too much of a dead weight to carry, Bishop had to leave him.

At 1:20 a Northern Pacific train backed up from Fond du Lac to Thomson and as it came around the curve just before the bridge is reached, the conductor saw Ladden on the track and as it was too late to stop the train, shouted to the man repeatedly. The conductor said afterwards that Ladden seemed to realize that a train was aproaching and made several efforts to get off the track, but evidently was helpless and could not make it. As he sank back the last time the rear of the train hit him and he was ground under the wheels and instantly killed. Nothing is known of the man's relatives and he will probably be buried at once as the body is in such condition that it cannot be kept. It is now at Filiatrault's morgue.

It has stood the test for 30 years.

White Loaf Baking Powder

Highest in quality.
Lowest in price.

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT.

REV. M. S. RICE TO PREACH.

Will Begin Series of Revival Services at West Duluth.

Beginning this evening Rev. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First Methodist church of Duluth, will preach every evening this week at the Westminster Presbyterian church of West Duluth. These meetings will be in the nature of revival services and it is expected that they will be largely attended. During last week, all of the English speaking evangelical churches of West Duluth held revival meetings to work up a preliminary sentiment for the union meetings to be held this week. The meetings last week were quite satisfactory and it is believed will have an important effect upon the meetings which will begin tonight. The union meetings really began last night being held in the Presbyterian church. Last night, Rev. Arthur J. Hoag, pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church preached the sermon and was listened to by an audience which filled the church.

The duration of the revival services will depend entirely upon the success attained in the way of audiences and converts. Mr. Rice will preach each evening. He recently concluded three weeks of revival services in the church of which he is pastor and in which the success was marked. The churches of West Duluth joining in these revivals are the Presbyterian, Asbury M. E., Merritt Memorial, Congregational, and Baptist.

A full chorus choir sang last night and will be in attendance every night during the services. Tonight the male quartet from the Third Swedish Baptist church will also sing.

Clarence Govett Surprised.

On Friday evening, Clarence Govett was given a surprise party at his home on Fifty-eighth avenue west by a number of friends. Cards were played and refreshments served. The following were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Silge, Mesdames Govett, W. B. Hartley, Misses Govett, E. Butters, Helen Hartley, Nellie Paradise, Julia Eden, Florence Clark and Myrtle Clark; and Messrs. Curtis Silger, Clarence Govett, James Maitland, William Little, Bert Onsgaard, Henry Onsgaard, Al Olin and John Olin.

West Duluth Briefs.

Frank H. Wade, the West Duluth hardware merchant and his son, Frank Wade, Jr., returned yesterday from Oshkosh where Mr. Wade secured the Head of the Lakes agency for the famous Dolman engine. One of these will be on exhibition in his store in about a week.

John Powell came home from Hibbing yesterday.

Albert Lauermann a 13-year-old boy of West Duluth fell through an air-hole in the ice near the Fifth avenue west dock Saturday night while returning from the elevator fire. He was pulled out by Roy Phillips and while thoroughly chilled seems to have suffered no damage.

WATCH REPAIRING—HURST, 301 CENTRAL.

Mrs. Nellie Yeager and son will leave tomorrow evening for an extended visit in the South.

For that cough use White Pine Lung Balsam—City Drug Store.

WILL MAKE NO ACTUAL DEMANDS

Miners Will Present Case to Operators in Form of Grievances.

New York, Feb. 19.—President Mitchell announced today that it would be several days before the committee now drafting the demands to be made of the anthracite mine operators would complete its work and meet the committee of the operators. He said that no information as to the nature of the demands would be divulged before they are presented to the operators. The miners' committee of seven went into session again today. The demand for complete recognition of the mine workers' union, in other words the employment of only union men will be embodied in the document, as it was not opened at the conference with the operators. It is now understood that the miners' committee will mae no actual demands; the document to be presented to the operators' committee will take the form of a "declaration of grievances for which adjustment is desired."

The miners' committee hope by this means to avoid an abrupt breach of negotiations with the operators and leave the differences discovered to exist between themselves and the operators open to arbitration. Both sides are apparently anxious to avoid a strike, though neither is willing to avoid such an issue at all costs.

The chief features of the document now being drafted by the miners' committee will undoubtedly be a question of an 8-hour day for all mine employes both inside and outside men, an increase of 10 per cent in wages and a change in the conciliation board.

These were the desires of the miners as set forth tentatively by Mitchell at the conference with the presidents of the coal carrying roads last Thursday.

The miners' committee will continue in session daily until their task is completed. The other members of the scale committee, twenty-nine in number, are still in New York.

One of Mr. Mitchell's callers today was Henry M. Taylor, a soft coal operator from Illinois.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT
IN 2-PIE 10c PACKAGES
MERRELL-SOULE CO. SYRACUSE, NEW YORK
MOST DELICIOUS PIES, FRUIT CAKES, PUDDINGS AND COOKIES.

THE EVENING HERALD

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.

Published at Herald Bldg., First St., Op. P. O. Square.
THE HERALD COMPANY.
'Phones: Counting Room, 324; Editorial Rooms, 1126.

TEN CENTS A WEEK.

EVERY EVENING—DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

Single copy, daily	$ .02
One month	.45
Three months (in advance)	1.30
Six months (in advance)	2.60
One year (in advance)	5.00

Entered at Duluth Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

DULUTH WEEKLY HERALD.

Per year	$1.00
Six months	.50
Three months	.25

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH

TO SUBSCRIBERS:

It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both old and new addresses.

THE WAGES OF SIN.

John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance company and a leading figure in the life insurance scandals of the past six months, is dead.

His death is due, at least in part, to the effects of the exposure that resulted in his resignation and retirement. While undoubtedly the seeds of the disease from which he died were planted before the life insurance hearings, it is equally certain that his collapse was due to the mental and physical strain involved in his participation in the investigaton.

While the pathetic fact of his death cannot change in the slightest degree any fact brought out by the investigating committee, nor can it remove from him the stain of guilt or the responsibility for conditions which he admitted himself responsible for, at the same time the fact that he has paid for his errors with his life cannot fail to soften public feeling toward him. Also, it must be remembered that he made every effort possible, when he had admitted that mistakes had been made, to restore to the company funds which had been improperly removed by his authority.

Yet what a significant lesson this sad ending of a busy life teaches! Had he appreciated at an earlier date the real nature of his duties as the responsible head of a great trust fund, he would certainly be living today, honored and respected. His opportunities were large and noble, and had he thought of it sooner he might have made himself, in his capacity of president, an invaluable servant of the people. Instead, since that was the manner of doing things then in vogue, he made himself a port of the corrupt and evil ring of "high finance," and the result was dishonor, disgrace, death. Had he found it the custom to serve the policyholders faithfully, instead of Wall street, his end would have been vastly different. In a measure, he was the victim of his environments, and his greatest fault was a lack of initiative in failing to resist this influence.

Since he has gone beyond the reach of human judgment, which had condemned him and hounded him without mercy, whether rightly or not, it is no longer fitting that he should be harshly and bitterly criticised. Yet, for the sake of those who may profit by his fate, and turn away from evil paths while the lamp holds out to burn, it is proper, too, that the pathos of his death should not be permitted to obscure the cause and the manner of it. He has paid the penalty, but if his example is potent enough to influence others still under the spell of the evil tendencies that were his undoing, and to bring to their understanding the eternal truth that there is no peace in sin, John A. McCall will not have lived—and died—in vain.

TOO MUCH NEGLIGENCE.

For a long time people have been relying on a life preserver filled with tule reeds. Because it was labelled "life preserver" everybody took it for granted that it would preserve lives.

Then came the recent loss of the steamer Valencia on the Pacific coast. The steamer was equipped with tule life preservers. Those who put them on found them a handicap rather than a help. Noting the reports of the survivors on this point, a Seattle man, according to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, went to a boating resort near the city and tested one of the tule life preservers in use there. Ripping the belt open, he found it full of reeds, as it should be. Then he threw it into the water, and it sank like a stone. The result was the discovery that thousands of pleasure seekers have been trusting to the saving virtues of belts that would have carried them down instead of holding them up in cases of emergency.

The Slocum disaster in New York was another case in point. The life preservers there were found to be filled with metal to give them proper weight, and utterly useless for the purposes for which they were sold.

It was negligence in both cases, with fraud added in the Slocum case. Both cases show the danger of taking things for granted. In both cases it was somebody's business to see that the public was protected, and in both cases that duty was neglected.

This is a species of carelessness altogether too common. It is not confined to life preservers, by any means. Citizens who take it for granted that the administration of public finances is going along properly are taking something for granted that they ought to know by investigation. Citizens who rely upon the pretty theories of their political parties, and take it for granted that their party managers and the servants they elect are guided solely by these theories and not by selfishness and greed, are trusting to "tule life preservers" of another sort.

People that partake of whatever is set upon their tables, assuming that the food is what it purports to be, when dishonest manufacturers are adulterating it with poisonous substances, are taking too much for granted.

What is needed is more conscientious performance of duty by public servants, and to bring that about a closer attention to its safety and well-being on the part of the public is essential. People have been taking things for granted too long.

DIET AND LONGEVITY.

Those who have attempted to follow prescribed diets as measures of health have usually discovered that they have entered upon a very busy and very puzzling life.

When they have been convinced by what seemed to be the most irreproachable logic that a certain form of diet was just what they needed, they have suddenly had all their theories exploded by another unassailable line of logic that showed the first plan to be mistaken, and that proved that they needed something very different.

They have become convinced that they ought to drink lots of water, and then somebody has convinced them that too much water drinking is a very bad thing.

They have determined that what they should adopt is a strictly vegetarian diet, and then somebody has come along and showed them that they ought not to eat too many vegetables.

The usual end of those who set out upon the bewildering path of scientific diet is that they ultimately give it up in despair, and return to their old methods of indiscrimnate eating of whatever the cook prepares for the table. Theoretically, diet means much. It means just as much to the human machine as the quality and kind of coal used means to a furnace. But while furnaces are much alike, human organisms are very different, and what is one man's meat is another man's poison. So generalities of this sort are usually misleading, and sometimes, if accepted too literally and with too little discrimination, even dangerous.

All established ideas of modes of living are upset by the case of a Rev. William Davies, an English vicar who died recently. For thirty-five years he took no more exercise than was involved in walking from one room to another. He was a hearty eater, with a weakness for hot buttered rolls, which he always had for breakfast, and roast pork, and he could comfortably manage a bottle of port wine after dinner. And yet, during all these years, he never had a day's illness, and was the picture of health, full of energy and animals spirits, and he lived to enjoy a hearty meal on his one hundred and fifth birthday.

His lack of exercise, his fondness for pork and hot breads, his hearty feeding and his faculty of taking a bottle of wine at a time, were all good and sufficient reasons why he should have been brought to an untimely end. Yet he lived long past the five score mark.

Perhaps if he had worried himself to death over diet he would have passed away long before. And perhaps, on the other hand, if he had paid more attention to proper methods of living he would have lived to be 200 instead of only 100.

MAGAZINE EXPOSES.

A certain class of newspapers is making light of the magazine and weekly newspaper writers who have descended upon Washington and are "writing up" the conditions they find there. These newspapers exhibit some manifestations of jealousy because the magazine writers profess to be finding things that the newspaper correspondents have not been treating upon, or have touched but lightly if at all. Inferences are being made that the quality of their investigation is something like that of Poultney Bigelow, who made an exhaustive investigation of Panama conditions in twenty-eight hours, and then went back and wrote scathing articles about the sewage backing up into Panama cellars, when it was shown later that there is not a cellar in Panama.

However, the mere fact that the magazine writers throw new light upon conditions in Washington, by no means favorable to some of the statesmen there, and illuminate situations the regular newspaper correspondents have overlooked, does not prove that the conditions do not exist. There is much in viewing things from a new angle, and a chance visitor will often see very obvious things that old residents never dreamed of, or, if they knew them, deemed of little importance.

The newspaper correspondents have mostly grown up in the Washington atmosphere. If they have not grown up in it at Washington, they have had their professional growth at state capitals where something very like it existed. The influence of corporations and "large interests" is something they have been accustomed to so long that they do not think of such a thing, as a rule, as putting anything about it into their daily grist of "copy." But a new man comes along, sees these conditions all at once and suddenly, and they strike him as the most important thing there. His view of them is fresher and his perspective better than those of the correspondent who has been there long enough to get hardened to such things.

It does no harm to have these fresh views of Washington life provided for us occasionally. For instance, the Washington correspondents have been telling the country that when reform measures got through the house and went into the senate they were quietly made away with, but they have not been telling us just why and how it was done, and we have been forced to draw our own conclusions. The Washington correspondent sends the daily news. He does not, as a rule, make sociological and economical analyses of the elements of character and motive that enter into the results he so faithfully tells us about. This is a function that the greater leisure, the fresher view and the broader powers of the magazine correspondent enable him to perform to good advantage.

It is a good thing, therefore, and no reflection upon the capacity of the regular correspondents, that the magazines are sending their skilled observers down to Washington.

THE FIELD SURVEY

"Pull together" is the Hibbing Tribune's good advice to the people of Northern Minnesota.

* * *

The Anoka Herald truly says that "real merit has very little need or time to blow about it."

* * *

The Greeks are bearing gifts in the shape of plausible amendments to the Hepburn rate regulation bill.

* * *

A Minneapolis judge has decided that dramatic acting is not common labor. It is very labored, however, sometimes.

* * *

Duluth will entertain the grocers of the state next year, and there will be no sand in the sugar of its hospitality.

* * *

The spectacle of the richest man in the world dodging about the face of the earth to escape a humble process server is not at all dignified.

* * *

A chair of citizenship has been endowed at Columbia university. Some of the stay-at-home and partisan-blind voters might go to school again.

* * *

Every effort should be made by newspapers, commercial clubs and citizens to boom the state land sales which will be held in Northern Minnesota this spring.

* * *

The Commercial club has offered a prize of $25 for the best song about Duluth. One of the many who are given to singing the praises of Duluth ought to be able to get up a good one out of the ample material there is at hand.

* * *

The county board over in Superior is discussing the construction of a county insane asylum. It should be built big enough to meet the demands that will be made upon it when the attempts to destroy the Duluth board of trade prove unsuccessful.

HOTEL GOSSIP

J. J. Rosenthal, the manager of "Piff, Paff, Pouf," who was registered at the Spalding last week, is the husband of Kathryn Osterman, the beautifully gowned widow of the production. It was Mr. Rosenthal who brought such plays as "What Happened to Jones" and "Why Smith Left Home" into prominence, in which Miss Osterman played important parts. It is Manager Rosenthal's intention to make a revival next season of Hoyt's "Contented Woman," with Miss Osterman as the star.

* * *

"Some of these bell hops and bootblacks a man sees around a hotel are persons of wide travel and experience," said the clerk at the Lenox. "They appear to be of a roving disposition, with fondness for travel. One of this sort I remember in particular, although he was never connected with the Lenox. He was a quiet, swarthy-skinned youth of 20, and though he was born in Cuba he had been almost around the globe, and had a number of accomplishments which the average bootblack lacks.

"He was an able seaman, a camp cook, errand boy, linguist, musician and a professional bootblack. His propensity for rambling he inherited from his parents, who packed up their goods and chattels and left for Liverpool when he was just beginning to get accumstomed to his native country. At Liverpool George learned the art of turning flipjacks, and one day he hired out on a ship and prepared for a life on the sea. But his joys were shattered when, on the third day out, the ship struck a rock, and George just saved his skin. His belongings were carried to the bottom. This proved discouraging to the young sailor's hopes, but again he started on another ship and landed in the natural course of events in South Wales.

"Here he served his apprenticeship as camp cook, at the end of which the old longing seized him to begin another voyage, so he shipped before the mast on a vessel bound for Buenos Ayres. After seeing a number of South American revolutions and some of the other sights common to that part of the country, he again left port, and this time he landed in the United States. Philadelphia was his first stop, and from there he meandered South. It was while serving a term as hotel bootblack in a Hagerstown hotel that he learned of the possibilities which lay before Baltimore bootblacks. He tried life there awhile, and then tried several other cities in different parts of the country. The last I heard of him he was back in Baltimore."

* * *

At the St. Louis: E. E. Stevens, Minneapolis; R. Hartman, St. Paul; F. A. Bill, W. H. Clark, Minneapolis; R. W. Leach, M. D. Crawford, Minneapolis; G. P. DeLong, Nickerson; A. H. Fuerst, Milwaukee; G. A. Naaman, Carrington, N. D.; D. C. Peacock, Hibbing; W. P. Masters, Chisholm, Minn.; C. A. Hanscom, Ironwood, Mich.; W. C. Jones, Dubuque, Iowa; J. M. Dempsey, Minneapolis; A. Schneider, St. Paul; R. Erickson, C. Gustafson, Two Harbors.

* * *

At the Spalding: W. J. Gisel, Buffalo; J. M. Root, Minneapolis; A. L. Graburn, St. Cloud, Minn.; W. H. Pratt, Chicago; O. Meyer, St. Louis; Mrs. Laura Walles, St. Louis; J. B. Steenback, W. Wilson, Chicago; J. K. Millegan, Cleveland; G. R. Sames, Grand Rapids; L. P. Stevens, Ironwood, Mich.; J. G. Kurtz, Beaver Falls; J. A. Trask, E. C. Norsworthy, Toronto; W. L. Smith, East Liverpool, Ohio; B. Bresden, Grover City.

* * *

At the Lenox: N. C. Frederickson, St. Paul; S. B. Christopher, Minneapolis; W. C. Sporintz, R. W. Barnard, Hibbing; R. E. Gifford, Hines; Mr. and Mrs. R. McDonald, Virginia; E. F. Carlton, Minneapolis; W. H. Spath, Deer River; A. A. Thomas, Marshfield, Wis.; F. Spooner, Washington, D. C.; C. Allis, Niagara Falls; Mrs. J. S. Gole, A. Levy, Grand Rapids; S. A. Brown, Deer River; S. Macdonald, Rugby, N. D.; Mrs. J. M. Martin, Virginia; Mrs. R. McDonald, Virginia; P. Persall, Columbus, Ohio; G. R. Brandt, Mankato, Minn.; L. Culver, Peoria, Ill.; C. P. Gilram, Davenport; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Sellwood, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sellwood, Anoka, Minn., L. F. Ross, Peoria; W. E. Jones, Waukegan, Ill.; B. F. Hanley, Waupun, Wis.

* * *

At the McKay: E. C. Hopkins, Milwaukee; A. Marshall, Ballamyne, Mich.; E. J. Swedback, Bemidji; J. J. Schnete, New York; Mrs. J. Wells, Sand Point, Idaho; E. G. Herbert, H. C. Herbert, Iron River, Wis.; E. T. Kauffman, Grand Rapids; F. Deegan, Ely; A. T. Cerick, Stillwater, Minn.

Liquid 'Rithmetic.

Gee! I'd be most dreffle glad
If my teacher 'd let me add
Like them Wall street fellers who
Get them money sums to do.

'Rithmetic they teach in schools
Worries you to death with rules;
Two is two—it ain't no more—
Also,

2 and
2 is
—
4

But them Wall street fellers—gee!
They writes 2 and calls it 3;
Their addition stunts is great—
3 and
3 is
—
28

Pa says, "In the finance mart
Folks know answers 'fore they start;
Little figgers add up low—
Water, son, 'll make 'em grow."

Say, I think that i-dee's fine—
Liquid 'rithmetic for mine!
When your sums don't come out right,
Leave 'em in the rain all night!
—New York World.

How a Mine Was Named.

San Francisco Chronicle: They were talking about queer names for mining properties and districts at the headquarters of the California promotion committee. "One of the famous mining regions of Colorado," said Kirby Thomas, Western manager of the Mining World, who is here on a short visit, "was named by myself, and when I tell you how it was done you will understand some of the queer names. A party of us was up in the mountains prospecting. One of the party was named Cuyler, and he had a dog which he called Una. I was writing an article for the papers on the region, and I took Cuyler's first syllable and hitched it to the dog. I called the mountains the Cuyuna, giving the mining district the same name. I wrote that the name was of obscure Indian origin. That district and that mountain range are on the maps under the name of Cuyuna yet."

"None Is" or "None Are."

Harper's Weekly: All the friends of liberty of speech owe gratitude to Prof. Lounsbury of Yale for his defense in Harper's Magazine of the use of "none" as the subject of a plural verb. What idiot precisionist it was that started the movement to schoolmaster that use of "none" out of existence we do not know, but his effort has had a deplorable degree of success. An example ought to be made of some of the grammarians who try to make language conform to rules instead of making rules conform to language. It will take years to untwist the tongues of worthy people who have compelled themselves to learn to say "none is" when their congenital impulse was to say "none are."

Pease Porridge Hot.

G. S. Pease in Anoka Union: Crack the Republican whip this year and crack it hard.

The political pot is slowly coming to a boil. Why this lukewarmness?

Actually the Democratic party is beginning to believe it has a show for its life.

If the primary election law only included state officers, then the people certainly could have their say as to governor.

If Resolution Bill Grimshaw attempts to introduce any in the state convention, the Union hopes he will be hissed off the stage.

Is Behind the Times.

Washington Post: That college professor who declares that women will be ruling the world fifty years from today is evidently not married.

THE WEATHER

Next to the marvelously balmy spring weather that has prevailed yesterday and today, the thing of greatest interest is the prospect of an ice crop on the lake. This is not the first time it has looked bad for an ice crop, and it has never yet failed to come. But that, perhaps, is no reason why it should not fail this year. Half a dozen times the lake has frozen over and a wind has broken up the field. The chances for severely cold weather are lessening every day, and it is very doubtful whether there will be very much more deep-below-zero weather. Still, that is not essential for ice-making, and there may be a crop yet. Yesterday it was like April overhead and like late March underfoot. Every avenue was a river, and every street a lake. Though the mild atmosphere tempted people out to sleighing excursions, it it also caused the sleighing to disappear rapidly.

The lowest temperature last night was 22 degrees above zero, and the highest yesterday was 34 degrees above. Tonight the temperature is expected to be about 30 above, and there will probably be light rain or snow, according to the weather man. Tuesday, however, it will be colder. Says Mr. Richardson of conditions:

"A storm of great strength has developed over Alberta, causing rain or snow in the Far West and mild weather in northern districts. As this disturbance moves eastward it will likely be attended in this locality by some rain or snow tonight and Tuesday and by mild temperature until Tuesday afternoon, when colder weather will follow. The barometer is high in southeastern states and California."

Following were the lowest temperatures recorded by the weather bureau in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning:

Abilene	52	Miles City	34
Atlanta	46	Milwaukee	28
Battleford	20	Minnedosa	16
Bismarck	16	Modena	24
Boston	32	Montgomery	56
Buffalo	28	Mooread	10
Calgary	24	New Orleans	48
Charleston	44	New York	32
Chicago	32	Norfolk	36
Cincinnati	32	North Head	50
Davenport	28	North Platte	30
Denver	32	Oklahoma	50
Detroit	32	Omaha	32
Devils Lake	20	Phoenix	54
Dodge	32	Pierre	30
Duluth	22	Pittsburg	32
Edmonton	26	Port Arthur	18
El Paso	44	Portland	46
Escanaba	26	Prince Albert	16
Galveston	56	QuAppelle	36
Green Bay	24	Rapid City	36
Havre	38	St. Louis	38
Helena	36	St. Paul	22
Houghton	18	San Francisco	50
Huron	16	Santa Fe	26
Jacksonville	46	Sault Ste. Marie	24
Kamloops	40	Shreveport	52
Kansas City	40	Spokane	36
Knoxville, Minn.	38	Swift Current	32
La Crosse	22	Washington	32
Lander	22	Williston	16
Little Rock	50	Winnemucca	30
Los Angeles	32	Winnipeg	20
Marquette	26

Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Duluth, Feb. 19.—Local forecast for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday: Duluth, Superior and vicinity—Cloudy, with probably light rain or snow tonight and Tuesday; warmer tonight, with temperature close to 30 deg.; colder Tuesday afternoon or night; fresh southwesterly winds.

H. W. RICHARDSON,
Local Forecaster.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Forecasts until 7 p. m. Tuesday: Wisconsin—Increasing cloudiness, with probably rain Tuesday and in west portion tonight; warmer tonight.

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday, except probably rain or snow flurries in east portion; warmer in east portion tonight; cooler in west portion Tuesday.

North Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; slightly cooler.

South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; cooler Tuesday and in west portion tonight.

Public Sentiment and Strikes.

Washington Post: Clarence Darrow, the prominent Chicago lawyer, attorney of the labor unions in much of the litigation in which they have been engaged for several years last past, made this reply when asked what effect public sentiment has upon the success or failure of a strike: "The greatest; and it is felt equally by employer and employe. The side that public sentiment favors is generally sure of winning."

That is absolutely true, and has always been true. The worst of the Roman emperors felt the sting of public contempt. Even the greatest hypocrite would rather be thought a candid man. Public sentiment is irresistible. It decides your lawsuit. It rules political parties. It elects presidents and tide-waiters alike. It cannot be suppressed, though sometimes it has been fooled, but not for long.

Public sentiment is never on the side of injustice, if it understands the issue—we mean inteligent and virtuous public sentiment; for the vicious and ignorant public sentiment is never a ruler except as a mob. The public sentiment that has influence on strikes, and of which Mr. Darrow was speaking, is the intelligent judgment of the law-abiding community. To that side it inclines, ultimate victory is sure to find the way. It will not approve the injustice of capital; it will give no sympathy to the violence of labor.

No great issue can be settled except on lines of justice. The employer should realize that the best-paid labor is the most efficient. The employe should recollect that his share of the income of a great manufacturing concern can be no more than a fair share. Let the two—capital and labor—meet on common ground and determine on lines of strict justice the fair labor cost of a piece of goods, according to the state of the markets, and a strike will be a remote contingency.

Both capital and labor have done some dishonorable and pernicious acts, due to the erroneous impression that they are natural enemies. The better they understand each other the better for both.

Acquiring Skill.

Philadelphia Ledger: Miss Bret Harte, with the aid of a number of her father's English friends, has opened a typewriting office in London. She is a proficient typewriter, and an American journalist calling to have some copying done, complimented her on her skill. "My skill, such as it is, is due to practice," said Miss Bret Harte. "It was acquired very painfully, like the marksmanship of one of my father's Western friends. My father used to tell of a man called Redwood James, a character of California. James in a bar one night drew a revolver and shot the ashes from the cigar of a friend on the other side of the room. The friend laughed and calmly drank off the remainder of his cocktail. My father said to Redwood James, 'That must have required considerable practice.' 'Practice,' Redwood James replied. 'I should say so, young man. I guess I spilled more'n three dozen Chinamen a-learnin' that there trick.'"

The River of Rest.

A beautiful stream is the River of Rest;
The still, wide waters sweep clear and cold,
A tall mast crosses a star in the west,
A white sail gleams in the west world's gold;
It leans to the shore of the River of Rest—
The lily-lined shores of the River of Rest.

The boatman rises, he reaches a hand,
He knows you well, he will steer you true,
And far, so far from all ills upon land,
From hates, from fates that pursue and pursue;
Far over the lily-lined River of Rest—
Dear mystical, magical River of Rest.

A storied, sweet stream is this River of Rest;
The souls of all time keep its ultimate shore;
And journey you east, or journey you west,
Unwilling, or willing, sure-footed, or sore,
You surely will come to this River of Rest—
This beautiful, beautiful River of Rest.
—JOAQUIN MILLER.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Taken from the Columns of The Herald of this date in 1886.

Capt. Aleck Griggs of Grand Forks was in town today looking over the city in company with Dr. Walbank. Capt. Griggs says that the Dakota farmers are doing well, and they have a high opinion of Duluth. He is an enterprising steamboat owner on the Red River of the North, and had large traffic with Canada.

There is a rumor current that a Pittsburg stove firm has purchased some acre property in the western portion of Duluth and will erect a foundry here, from which to supply the Northwest with stoves.

At the monthly meeting of the mechanical engineers in the Grand Army hall, T. W. Hugo read an interesting paper on the combustion of fuel, which was followed by a discussion in which Messrs. Clarke, McCray and H. N. Harrison took part.

David Buchanan, a prominent young business man of Crookston, arrived in the city yesterday and will at once enter into a copartnership with H. A. Blume, the Superior street grocer. The new firm will soon remove to new quarters and fix up a grocery store on an elaborate plan. Mr. Buchanan's family will follow him in a few days.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of St. Luke's hospital was attended by Mrs. W. R. Stone, Mrs. L. V. Coppernall, Rev. C. A. Poole, Walter Ayers and Thomas Cullyford.

The Duluth, Park Point & Southern railway will petition congress at once for right-of-way across the government channel.

Ex-Chief of Police Davis' order has been made out and calls for a round $1,400. Mr. Davis will visit his Michigan home for a couple of months.

Col. Lounsberry, who has come to Duluth to describe the city for the Northwest Magazine, is widely known as a leading citizen of Dakota. He took a prominent part in public affairs at Bismarck, where he was one of the chief owners of the Tribune in its palmy days.

Gus Butzerein left this afternoon for his old home in Wisconsin. He will stop in St. Paul a few days.

Capt. Savage and wife left this morning for Chicago, in response to the announcement of the death of Mrs. Savage's mother.

morning for ChoWo$R.IToWsta. 1F

A. J. Armstrong has gone East to purchase a new stock of woolens for the spring trade.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Anoka Herald: Moorhead citizens claim to have seen a flaming cross in the skies. This is probably a trick of the imagination conduced by a guilty conscience. Fargo people frequently see strange doings in Moorhead.

Fairmont Sentinel: The newspaper boys nearly all have pleasant words for Julius Schmahl and his candidacy for secretary of state. Julius is a top notcher as a newspaper man and it follows as the night the day that he would make a good official.

Long Prairie Argus: Some of our exchanges are troubling themselves unnecessarily about the Windom Reporter turning Democratic. Eb Huntington is as good a Republican as those who criticise him, but like a hundred thousand other good Republicans in the state, has grown tired of boss rule and feels like showing his independence. That party whip don't excite the terror it once did.

Stillwater Gazette: Heres a suggestion to a number of young men. It is alleged that a girl's idea of a coward is a young man who is afraid to propose. And in after years a good many of these same girls are very much pleased that certain young men proved cowards, as they haven't been anything else ever since.

Eveleth Star: The game of football is not in it for excitement with the newspaper business on the range.

Aitkin Age: Only the poor have to pay taxes on all they are worth.

Rochester Post and Record: The press of the state is now filled with that annual fascinating compilation which reads something like this—e½ of ne¼, sec. 29, $16.72.

Cannon Falls Beacon: Some of the newspapers of Minnesota are spending more time quarreling with each other than with the common enemy.

St. Peter Herald: The senate seems to have altered it to "a government of the trusts, by the trusts and for the trusts."

Sleepy Eye Dispatch: A member of the railroad and warehouse commission announces himself a candidate for reelection and declares that he will "stand on his record." He must be something of an equilibrist.

Hibbing Tribune: With Bede and Johnson leading the opposing forces, the approaching state campaign would be an educational campaign indeed; ending with everybody in good humor and no mud to clean away.

Ortonville Herald-Star: The harmony dinner in Minneapolis on Lincoln's birthday was a gastronomic success, but whether the hearts of politicians can be reached through their stomachs is a question that time alone can tell.

Two Harbors Iron Trade Journal: Governor Johnson is saying some real good things these days in his different orations. Recently he gave utterance to the following, which strikes us as being rather well put together and also about right: "In the scale of Truth, sound character makes all the wealth in the world fly up and kick the beam."

The Copy-Reader.

Who makes all news yarns read alike?
The Copy-Reader.
Who loves an humor's face to strike?
The Copy-Reader.
Who scratches "burglarize" and "bike,"
And writes a "Michael J." for "Mike?"
The Copy-Reader.

His temper's black, his pencil's blue,
The Copy-Reader.
Oh, how he'll slash a style that's new,
The Copy-Reader.
Editor his mercies never knew,
Or Thackeray, to nature true,
For neither had to knuckle to
The Copy-Reader.

At "pretty writing" hear him swear,
The Copy-Reader.
When sober, he's a perfect bear,
The Copy-Reader.
He'd chop the wit of Moliere,
The beauties of Thoreau he'd tear,
I'd like to thump him anywhere,
The Copy-Reader.

He thinks he knows it all, you see,
The Copy-Reader.
His pencil strokes appear to me
To show what difference there may be
'Twixt Tweedle-Dum and Tweedle-Dee,
The Copy-Reader.

To read the tales that suit his mood,
The Copy-Reader.
On sawdust dolls would make one brood,
The Copy-Reader.
And when, with great solicitude,
He's fixed your copy, blue and good,
You're sure all heads and hearts are wood!
The Copy-Reader.
—J. A. in Brooklyn Eagle.

A Great Chance.

He entered timidly, says an exchange. He stood before the editor, twisting the brim of his soft black hat with long, white, poetic fingers.

"I am sorry," said the editor. "I am very sorry. But we cannot use your poem. That is final."

Tears welled up in the young man's eyes. He swallowed.

"Why?" he asked.

"Well, to be candid," the editor replied, "neither in prosody nor in construction is this poem meritorious. The idea is old. The sentiment is maudlin. The expression is atrocious. The rhymes are vile."

But now a light, as of great joy, illumined the poet's face, and he cried eagerly:

"Give me back my manuscript. Give it back to me."

"Very well," said the editor, "but I don't see what you can do with it."

"Set it to music," cried the poet. "Make a popular song of it. With the qualifications you ascribe to it, undoubtedly it will be the hit of the season."

Pity the Poor Woman.

Philadelphia Press: "Gracious! John," exclaimed Mrs. Slangly. "you surely haven't brought any one home to dinner!"

"Sure," replied Slangly. "Haven't you any grub for them?"

"Why, no. You told me this morning you'd bring home a couple of lobsters for dinner and—"

"Well, that's them in the parlor."

POINTED PLEASANTRIES.

Chicago Tribune: Elderly Man (greeting former acquaintance)—I remember your face perfectly, miss, but your name has escaped me.

The Young Woman—I don't wonder. It escaped me three years ago. I am married now.

Philadelphia Catholic Standard: "You know," remarked Mr. Klumsey, "they say dancing is the poetry of motion."

"Huh!" snorted Miss Grace, just recovering from a waltz with him, "but when the feet get twisted it's mere doggerel."

Philadelphia Press: "Of course," said the sarcastic man, "you always do your wife's bidding."

"Gracious! No!" replied Mr. Henpeck, "she wouldn't let me. When she goes to an auction sale she never takes me with her."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Jimpson is a sluggish fellow, isn't he?"

"I saw him going at a dangerously rapid gait yesterday morning."

"Eh! Where was he going?"

"To the nearest hospital. He was too lazy to get out of the way of a street car."

Philadelphia Press: Maude—His auto bumped into the fence, you say? What then?

Tom—I can't tell you what followed.

Maude—Why, don't you remember what he did?

Tom—Oh, yes, I can tell you that; I thought you wanted to know what he said.

Chicago Tribune: "Mr. Aesop, I think you have never met Baron Munchausen. Gentlemen, allow me to present you to each other."

"Baron, I am delighted to meet you. I know you quite well by reputation."

"Sir!"

Cleveland Leader: "I'll give you this quarter," said the charitable old woman, "if you'll promise not to use it to get drunk with."

"Madam," answered the hobo in dignified tones, "you do me a deep and undeserved wrong."

"Are you a total abstainer, then?"

"No. But to insinuate that I could get drunk on a quarter—ah, that is too much!"

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: There is no use kissing a girl so that she isn't sure you did.

Most of us can make money go so far we never see it again.

A boy would have to be an angel to make his rich uncle think he was not trying to get money out of him.

A girl makes a man believe he loves her by making him believe he couldn't catch her, no matter how much he tried.

You can tell when a man is the father of his first by the way he wants to buy things for you, and of his seventh by the way he wants you to buy for him.

Mortgage Tax in Operation.

New York Sun: The mortgage tax law was to produce a great revenue. The state tax commissioners are already apologizing and trying to explain. They say that receipts for the six months of the operation of the law are not "normal" and that not until June 30 will collections be reported good. Receipts for the first six months were a little more than $500,000; expenses of collection about 8 per cent. The tax, speciously represented as falling upon the money lender, falls upon the tenant, the workingman, the farmer, the man trying to own his own home, the man forced, as most people in this town are forced, to live in other men's houses.

Dogberry on "Moral Obliquity."

New York World: William T. Dogberry, head constable of Messina, gave to his night watch invaluable advice, which is worth presenting from the stenographic notes of Mr. Shakespeare:

The guardians of Messina's peace and honor were to "comprehend all vagrom men," to call at the ale-houses and bid those that were drunk get them to bed, and as to graver duties—

"If you meet a thief, you may suspect him, by virtue of your office, to be no true man; and, for such kind of men, the less you meddle or make with them, why, the more for your honesty.

"Watch—If we know him to be a thief, shall we not lay hands on him?

"Dogberry—Truly, by your office, you may; but I think that those who touch pitch will be defiled: the most peaceable way for you, if you do take a thief, is to let him show himself what he is and steal out of your company."

It is reported that some of our most eminent insurance thieves, perjurers and forgers, "comprehended" indeed, but not apprehended or even apprehensive, are about to become "vagrom men" and steal out of the country. As for those that prefer to remain—

The watch ought to offend no man; and it is an offense to stay a man against his will.

AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM TONIGHT ONLY
MISS GRACE GEORGE in
"THE MARRIAGE OF WILLIAM ASHE"
Prices 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50
Wednesday and Thursday, Matinee Thursday, "KERRY COW." Prices 25c to $1.00.
Friday and Saturday, Saturday Matinee, LOUIS JAMES. Prices 25c to $1.50. Matinee 25c to $1.00.

METROPOLITAN
Tonight and All Week
Reilly & Woods Co.
Oldest and Best on the Circuit
Bargain Matinees Tuesday, Thursday (Ladies' Day) and Saturday. Matinee Prices, 20c and 30c. Nights, 15c, 30c and 50c. Amateur night Friday.
Next Week—"Miss New York, Jr."

F. S. KELLY FURNITURE CO.

All Cars Bring You Right to This Store—226-228 West Superior Street—Get off at Third Avenue West.

THE GREAT ALTERATION SALE

CONTINUES All this week. If you have not been to this sale yet we want you to come whether you want to buy furniture or not. We want you to see for yourself what this store is doing. If you are at all skeptical about "sales" we especially invite you to call and examine our offerings. We must have room for the carpenters and painters to work, and in order to move thousands of dollars worth of goods this week sure—

Aggressive Price Cutting Is The Rule.

Your Credit is Good

In order that everyone may have an opportunity to take advantage of this great sale, we make you this very liberal offer. Buy what you want at this sale, get the special prices, and we will make very easy and liberal terms with you on any amount of goods you may want, whether it is one piece or a house full of furniture.

Open a Charge Account.

CARPETS! CARPETS!

MADE, LAID AND LINED FREE.

If you are going to buy any Carpets this spring, don't fail to take advantage of this sale to get what you want. Over sixty different patterns in Brussels Carpets, with borders to match.

$1.00 Brussels Carpets for 59c

Fine Tapestry Brussels Carpets, with borders to match — one thousand yards at this price — worth $1.00 per yard— at only ---------- 59c

90c All-wool Ingrain Carpet 59c

A fine pattern of all-wool Ingrain Carpet---strictly all long wool and not shoddy---sells everywhere at 90c ---special for this sale--- per yard ---------- 59c

Our Liberal Offer

"Buy now for Spring" as hundreds of other people are doing, even if you do not want your goods delivered now. You may select anything or everything you want at this time, make a small deposit on same and we will store same absolutely free of charge until you want same delivered. You accommodate us by buying now.

Goods Stored Free.

Note These Prices==Then Don't Delay!

Parlor Furniture.

Prices cut here for rapid selling this week. Come early.

$27.50 Overstuffed Arm Devon $13.75
$10.00 Mahogany Arm Chair $20.00
$50.00 Tapestry Arm Chair $25.00
$32.00 Velour Turkish Chair $16.00
$40.00 Overstuffed Tapestry Chair $20.00
$30.00 Rocker Reversible cushions $15.00
$40.00 3-piece Parlor Set (Mahogany) $20.00
$50.00 3-piece Parlor Set) Mahogany) $25.00
$5.00 Upholstered Parlor Chair $2.50
50 other pieces at HALF PRICE.

Dining Room Furniture.

We are determined to start the spring season wirh an entire new line of Dining Furniture, so here goes the price.

$55.00 Handsome ChinaCloset $22.50
$50 Pedestral Table to match (sq) $25
$5.50 Leather Dining Chairs $2.75
$10.00 Leather Dining Chairs $5.00
$6.50 Leather Dining Chairs $3.25
$95.00 Massive Sideboard— Light Finish $47.50
$1.25 Golden Oak Plate Racks — large size 63c
$1.50 Weathered Oak Plate Racks 75c
$28.00 Golden Oak Buffei $14.00

Bed Room Furniture.

Hundreds of people have told us they were waiting for this announcement from the Bed Room section, so be here early.

$47.50 Bird's Eye Maple Chiffonier $23.75
$75.00 Bird's Eye Maple Chiffonier $37.50
$30.00 full size Brass Bed $15.00
$15.00 full size Iron Bed $7.50
$9.00 full size Iron Bed $4.50
$19.00 full size Iron Bed $9.50
$9.50 Steel Davenport Bed $4.75
$95.00 Quartered Oak Bed Room Suit $47.50

Library Furniture.

Many good, desirable pieces go this week at HALF.

$16.50 solid oak Library Couch $8.25
$18.50 solid oak Library Couch $9.25
$16.50 Rattan Library Chair $8.25
$45.00 Mahogany Davenport $22.50
$47.50 Mahogany Davenport $23.75
$50.00 Turkish Leather Chair $25.00
$4.00 Dictionary Stand and Back Shelf $2.00
$6.50 Revolving Book Case $3.25
$15.00 Golden Oak Library Table $7.50

WE WILL FURNISH YOUR HOME COMPLETE AT THIS SALE

J. A. McCALL IS NO MORE

Former President of New York Life Dies at Lakewood, N. J.

Exposure of Life Insurance Methods Cause of His Demise.

New York, Feb. 19.—John A. McCall, until recently president of the New York Life Insurance company, died at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Laurel house in Lakewood, N. J., where he had been taken three weeks ago in the hope that the change might benefit his health, which had suffered a breakdown two months ago.

Mr. McCall had been unconscious since about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, except possibly for one brief minute in the afternoon, when his eyes opened and looked into the face of his wife, who was bending over him. He smiled, and as he did so his eyes closed again and he remained in the coma until the end. The body will be brought to New York.

One of the last persons Mr. McCall talked to was his old friend and pastor, Rev. Father Matthew Taylor of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in West Seventy-first street, this city. The priest went to Lakewood Saturday to see Mr. McCall at the latter's request. Bishop James A. McFaul of the diocese of Trenton arrived in Lakewood Saturday evening, but did not see Mr. McCall, who had long been his friend.

Yesterday morning at 7 o'clock the bishop said mass in the Church of Our Lady of the Lake at Lakewood, offering prayers for the recovery of the stricken man.

The attending physicians notified the family at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon that the end was close at hand.

Mrs. McCall had been at the bedside constantly since Saturday evening. All of the seven children were summoned.

It was announced that Mr. McCall's death was due to enlargement of the liver and the end had been peaceful and without pain.

Mrs. McCall is now under medical care. She had become worn out by the long vigil at the bedside of her husband, and when he died she practically collapsed. It is thought her condition will not develop seriously. If Mrs. McCall is able, the entire family will accompany the corpse, otherwise some of the children will remain at Lakewood with their mother.

Mr. McCall's physical breakdown occurred about the close of the investigation of life insurance affairs in this city by the legislative committee in December last. The report of the commission is expected to be submitted to the legislature at Albany early this week. Mr. McCall's examination before the commission was severe, and the ordeal he underwent in rehearsing the details of the company and in divulging transactions about which the general public was ignorant, worried him greatly, it is said.

He was ill in bed at his home in this city when he affixed his signature to his letter of resignation from the presidency of the New York Life.

About three weeks ago his condition became such that his physicians and family deemed it advisable to remove him to Lakewood. During all this time he worried constantly about his business affairs. He was compelled first to mortgage and then sell his handsome country place at Long Branch, N. J., in order, it was stated, to repay the New York Life Insurance company $235,000 on the Andrew Hamilton account. Mr. Hamilton, the legislative agent of the company, having made no accounting for this sum.

Mr. McCall had promised, when the Hamilton disclosures first were made, to repay the money, if, by a certain date, a satisfactory statement was not forthcoming from Hamilton, who is now in Paris. The directors of the New York Life at the expiration of that time set, called upon Mr. McCall for the payment of the money. He acceded to the demands, paying $85,000 in cash and giving his notes for $150,000, the latter being secured by a mortgage, later. Mr. McCall realized in all sometihing over $200,000 for the property, which was said to have cost him just double that amount.

Ten days ago Mr. McCall suffered the first sinking spell of his illness and was very low for several days. Then he improved slightly. One week ago today, however, he suffered a second sinking spell and grew much worse. His condition became so low that his life was despaired of. A priest of the Roman Catholic church, of which faith Mr. McCall was an adherent, was summoned and the last sacraments of the church were administered to the stricken man.

When all hope had been lost, Mr. McCall suddenly rallied. It was an effort of the mind and will, however, and not a physical improvement. The attending physicians foresaw the approaching end and so warned his family, who remained with the sick man until death came.

Mr. McCall's mental effort to shake off his ailments was the result of the report of the Fowler investigating committee, composed of directors of the New York Life, who made public their findings ten days ago. They censured Mr. McCall severely for certain acts of his in connection with the legislative bureau established by him with Andrew Hamilton at its head.

An effort was made to keep the contents of the report from the sick man, but hearing the statement had been filed he worried so much over the matter that it was decided early last week to permit him to see it. The recommendation in the report demanding of him a fuller account of the legislative work than he had made, are said to have been a crushing blow to the company's former president. He declared to his family and to the intimate friends who saw him that he was determined to get well, that he wanted to live to see himself set right before the American people. The strain was too much, however, and from that time Mr. McCall's decline was rapid.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

FALLIERES PRESIDENT

The New Ruler of France Assumes the Reins of Office.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Clement Armand Fallieres yesterday assumed the duties of president of France, and Former President Loubet passed into private life. The ceremony of the transmission of office took place in the Elysee palace at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while the crowds were massed in the surrounding streets shouting "Long live the president" and "Long live Fallieres," and the cannon of every military garrison in France was thundering a salute of twenty-one guns.

President Loubet, surrounded by the members of his cabinet, the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies and the members of his military household, welcomed M. Fallieres and in a few appropriate words committed the executive functions to the new president. The reply of Mr. Fallieres was without formality. It was a simple acceptance of the new responsibilities and an assurance of using his best efforts in carrying them out.

Mme. Fallieres and Loubet both wore evening dress with the broad scarlet sash of the Legion of Honor across their breasts. The presence of their military staffs in full uniform, gave a touch of brilliancy to the scene within the palace, while the escorts of cuiraissers, which accompanied MM. Fallieres and Loubet to and from the palace gave fitting dignity to the occasion.

Following the ceremony the former president and his family withdrew to their private apartments in the Rue De Dantes. M. Fallieres did not remain long at the palace, returning to his former home, where his wife awaited him.

President and Mme. Fallieres will take up their residence at the Elysee palace today.

Last evening Premier Rouvier formally handed the resignation of the cabinet to President Fallieres. The new president, however, requested the ministry to continue in office. The cabinet will meet Tuesday morning for the first time in the administration of President Fallieres.

BOYS FIND BODY OF BABY BOY

Police and Coroner Investigating Circumstances of It's Death.

The frozen body of a baby boy was found Saturday afternoon under the high sidewalk which crosses a small ravine on Fourth street, near Ninth avenue east.

The find was made by David Carlson and Jetme Peterson, two boys who live on Nineteenth avenue east near Ninth street. On their way home Saturday they stopped at the ravine to play, and caught sight of a bundle wrapped in cheese cloth and an old flannel skirt.

On examination they were horrified to discover that it was the body of a baby boy, and immediately notified the police by telephone.

The body was removed to Durkan & Crawford's undertaking rooms, and the coroner and police are making an investigation to discover, if possible, the person or persons who abandoned it.

The up-to-date woman avoids caustics, drugs and powders. They are extremely harmful to the skin, while Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes it soft and beautiful. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

NEXT BIG CONTEST

In Cedar Island Lake Lands Scheduled for Feb. 26.

The next in the contest cases in the matter of Cedar Island lake lands will come on for a hearing in the United States land office here on Feb. 26. This will be the one known as the Cronin-Tanner case, and it involves the land described as lots 2 and 5, 3-57-17, and lot 3, 34-58-17. John Shea, who was also a contestant, has withdrawn, and this leaves Michael Cronin, Malinda Tanner, who is the widow of Aaron Tanner, deceased, and F. W. McReynolds of Washington as contestants.

The plat of this land was filed in the land office on Aug. 19, 1905. On June 6, 1896, Aaron Tanner filed on the land, then unsurveyed, and claimed settlement from April 1, 1894. After the platting of the land, Mrs. Tanner filed on it on Sept. 12, 1905. On Aug 19, 1905, John Shea filed on the land, claiming settlement from Dec. 4, 1894. Michael Cronin filed on the land on Aug. 19, 1905, also. MceRynolds made application to apply Valentine scrip on the land on June 2, 1903.

Thus the matter is all tangled, and that tangle must be unraveled by the land office authorities.

The contest case in which W. H. Shea, E. L. Rabb and F. W. McReynolds were involved, was heard in the land office recently, and the next in order is the one mentioned.

After that is finished, still another remains to be heard. These fights have lasted for years, and will probably not be finally decided for a long time yet.

LOTS OF LOGGING

Being Put Up, as Weather of Late is Ideal.

An immense amount of logs are being put up this winter, and many are already coming into Duluth. The weather since the first of the year has been what loggers claim to be ideal for logging. The bottoms have gradually frozen up, and the snow has not been too heavy for logging purposes. Of late the nights have been just about cool enough to keep the ice roads in shape, so that when they are sprinkled, after the day's work is over, they freeze and are in good shape for the work of the next day. The steadily cold weather in day time has been of great assistance in this regard also.

The Virginia Lumber company, which is operating the Lesure and St. Louis mills at West Duluth, and Mullery & O'Brien, all of which are practically identical in interest, are receiving a large number of logs. About six trains a day arrive. Many more logs are being laid up on the banks and along the railroads awaiting shipment.

Strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use De Witt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by all druggists.

LADIES Who Have Used Them Recommend as the BEST DR. KING'S Star Crown Brand PENNYROYAL PILLS.

Immediate relief, no danger, no pain. Used for years by leading specialists. Hundreds of testimonials. A trial will convince you of their intrinsic value in case of suppression.

Forwarded in securely sealed plain package upon receipt of $2.50. King Medicine Co., P. O. Box 937, Duluth, Minn.

LIQUOR HABIT Cured by Orrine, a safe, sure and harmless specific; a simple home treatment; no sanitarium treatment or publicity; can be given without patient's knowledge, if desired. Price, $1 per box; cure effected or money refunded.

F. W. KUGLER,
108 West Superior St., Duluth.

OUR LEADERS—
Straight Whiskies—Cedar Brook and Maryland Rye.
Blended Whiskies—Old Cabinet and Live Oak.
COOK'S BUFFET

Lincoln Park Roller Rink.

Open every afternoon and evening. Afternoons, from 2 to 5; evenings, 7:30 to 10:30. Music by Third Regiment band. Music every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon. Children's matinee from 12:30 till 2. Admission for children, 10c.

EVERYBODY SATISFIED.
MANY PRAISING HIM.

DR. REA
SPECIALIST.

Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Diseases of Men, Diseases of Women, Chronic Diseases.

Next regular professional visit to Duluth at Spalding Hotel,

Saturday, Feb. 24,

From 9 a. m. until 8 p. m.

One day only—returning every month.

Dr. Rea has no superior in diagnosing and treating diseases and deformities. He will give $50 for any case that he cannot tell the disease and where located in five minutes.

Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, Lung disease, Early Consumption, Bronchitis, Bronchial Catarrh, Constitutional Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Stomach and Bowel Troubles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Kidney, Liver, Bladder, Prostatic and Female diseases, Dizziness, Nervousness, Indigestion, Obesity, Interrupted Nutrition, Slow Growth in Children, and all wasting diseases in adults. Many cases of Deafness, Ringing in the Ears, Loss of Eyesight, Cataract, Cross Eyes, etc., that have been improperly treated or neglected, can be easily restored. Deformities, Club Feet, Curvature of the Spine, Disease of the Brain, Paralysis, Epilepsy, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Swelling of the Limbs, Stricture, Open Sores, Pain in the Bones, Granular Enlargement and all long-standing diseases properly treated. Lost manhood, nervous debility, spermatorrhoea, seminal losses, sexual decay, failing memory, weak eyes, stunted development, lack of energy, impoverished blood, pimples, impediments to marriage; also blood and skin diseases, Syphilis, Eruptions, Hair Falling, Bone Pains, Swellings, Sore Throat, Ulcers, Effects of Mercury, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Weak Back, Burning Urine, passing urine too often, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, receive searching treatment, prompt relief and cure for life.

Cancers, Tumors, Goiter, Fistula, Piles, Varicocele and enlarged glands, with the subcutaneous injection method, absolutely without pain and without the loss of a drop of blood, is one of his own discoveries, and is the most really scientific and certainly sure cure of the twentieth century. No incurable cases taken. Consultation to those interested, $1.00.

DR. REA, Minneapolis.

HUGH CALDERWOOD

In Charge of Toronto Office of Great Lakes Register.

Twenty-six of the forty-three large steel vessels now under course of construction in the shipyards of the lakes, are being built under supervision of the Great Lakes Register of Cleveland, and for class in register.

H. Calderwood, formerly draughtsman in the office of the Superior Shipbuilding company, on the other side of the bay, and well known to vesselmen at the Head of the Lakes, has charge of the new office opened in Toronto by the Great Lakes Register. Mr. Calderwood left Superior some years ago to take a position with the Collingwood Shipbuilding company of Collingwood, Ont., and shortly afterwards became manager of the company. About a year ago he retired from this service, and recently has been employed supervising the construction of one or two steamers in that yard. His friends here will be glad to learn of his engagement in charge of this new and important office.

The eighth annual issue of the Register is in the printer's hands now, and will be distributed about March 1.

BOSTON ACTOR KILLED.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Joseph T. Osburne, an actor of Boston, was killed today by being accidentally thrown from a train. Osburne was standing inside one of the baggage cars near the door, which was opened, when the car jumped the track. He was thrown to the ground, striking on his head.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.

Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

PHYTHIANS CELEBRATE

Will Hold Banquet in Honor of Forty-third Anniversary.

Local Knights Prepare An Inviting Program for the Occasion.

Duluth Knights of Pythias will celebrate the forty-third anniversary of the organization of the order in their castle hall at 118 West Superior street, Tuesday evening.

The third rank will be conferred upon a number of candidates by North Star lodge team, after which a banquet will be served. W. A. Hicken will be toastmaster and responses will be given by W. A. Cant, F. L. Young, C. O. Baldwin, J. A. Wharton, Rev. J. W. Powell, Jr., Alex Kennedy and L. A. Barnes.

A musical program will be given also and vocal solos will be contributed by Louis Dworschack, James Curkner, J. A. Wharton and William Coughlan. The instrumental numbers will be given under the direction of W. A. Anderson.

The Pythian order was founded in 1864 at Washington by Julius H. Rathbone. As everybody knows, the order gets its name from the historical incident concerning the brotherly love of Damon and Pythias. When Mr. Rathbone organized the lodge, there was just thirteen in it besides himself. Today the membership is more than 700,000 and is spread over every place where the American flag flies. Lodges have also been formed in Canada and Cuba.

The order was introduced in Minnesota by David Royal and Jacob Heisser in 1870. They instituted Minneapolis lodge, No. 1, which is still in existence and a banner lodge. The grand lodge of Minnesota was formed in 1871.

The uniform rank, Knights of Pythias, was organized in 1878. The present commander-in-chief is Gen. Arthur J. Stobbart of St. Paul, who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Maj. Gen. Carnahan of Indianapolis.

The uniform rank embraces 35,000 Pythians and is modeled after the organization of the United States regular army. Several of its brigadier generals were given appointments by President Roosevelt during the Spanish-American war.

GIRL ARRESTED FOR STEALING

Longing For Candy and the Theater Given as Cause.

Her desire for candy and to witness performances at the theater, was given as the cause of the theft of a $20 gold piece by Edith Markus, a 12-year-old girl, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Terry Burns, wife of the foreman at the Marshall-Wells barn, was preparing to take a sleigh ride Saturday afternoon. She stepped into the barn office on St. Croix avenue to speak to her husband for a moment, and left her purse in the cutter. The girl, who lives at 390 St. Croix avenue, saw her leave the sleigh, and is claimed to have stepped up and opening the purse, to have extracted the gold piece and fled.

She changed the money at the Olympia and after purchasing some candy, went to the Bijou theater.

Mrs. Burns immediately suspected the girl, when she missed the money, and Officer Tony Schulte was notified. He watched the doors of the theater and arrested the girl when she came out. She finally broke down and confessed, and will be arraigned in juvenile court today.

BROKE THROUGH ICE.

Three Spectators of Saturday's Fire Have Narrow Escape From Drowning.

While returning across the ice from the fire Saturday night, John C. Johnson of 514 Lake avenue north, Edward Mapp of 420 Second avenue east and a third man whose name is unknown, broke through the ice near the foot of Sixth avenue west.

A crowd of people were watching the fire from the dock, and hearing the cries of the three men, a rope was secured and they were pulled to safety.

Aside from the wetting none of the men suffered any bad effects from the accident, and they were taken to their homes in the patrol wagon.

HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET.

Employes of Water Department Have a Social Gathering.

The annual banquet of the water and light department of the city to the heads of the departments and clerks and employes, was held Saturday evening at the home of Horace Magle, 1515 London road.

Several persons among the guests congregated furnished numbers on the program. Among these Harry Baker and Arthur Meagher rendered a saxophone and cornet duet. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock.

Among those present were: J. S. Mattison, Dan Keefe, W. Wing, E. Anderson, H. Magle, W. Carlson, A. Johnson, Edward Mannheim, T. E. McKibben, Harry Baker, Don G. Gearhart, W. J. Murray, R. R. Harrington, J. S. Pierce, George Harkness, Wilson Palmer, R. A. Pattinson, Hugh Young, J. D. Young, William Beacher, C. E. Eberhart, William Harper, John Hoyer, George Chartier, Charles Chartier, Frank Conlon, E. G. Schneider.

PLEASING BAND CONCERT.

Hits by Third Regiment Band at Regular Weekly Concert.

The concert given last evening by the Third Regiment band at the Lyceum was well attended and very well received. The program had evidently been chosen with considerable care and it so happened that its numbers suited the spirit of the audience. Many encores were given, but "Happy Heine," which was played as an encore number, was the hit. This number had to be played twice. It is new and has a swing to it which is full of melody and zest. The audience was delighted and so, evidently, were the players. Each other number on the program was also well received and encores were the rule.

Miss Alice Shannon, who was the soloist of the evening, was pleasing and her number was encored. She has a pretty soprano voice and, while a new singer, has a pleasing manner.

THREE MINERS UNDER ARREST

Charged With Complicity in the Murder of Former Governor.

Denver, Feb. 19.—Charles H. Moyer and William D. Haywood, president and secretary, respectively, of the Western Federation of Miners, and C. A. Pettibone, a former member of the executive board of that organization, who were arrested in this city Saturday night on warrants charging them with complicity in the murder of Former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho, were taken from their cells in the county jail early yesterday morning by an armed guard of twelve deputy sheriffs and escorted to the union station, where all boarded a special train for Boise, Idaho.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 19.—The authorities here refuse to give out a particle of information respecting the evidence against Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, who are being brought here from Denver. There are only two men here who know the facts, the governor and J. H. Hawley, chief counsel for the prosecution. Both refuse to discuss a report that Harry Orchard, the man in custody for the murder of Former Governor Steunenberg, has made a confession. Mr. Hawley, however, states positively that they have evidence sufficient to convict all three men. There are indications that other arrests are pending. Mr. Pettibone was connected with the Coeur D'Alene riots of 1892 and was one of five men sentenced to prison in Detroit for violation of an injunction of a federal court.

Wallace, Idaho, Feb. 19.—Vincent St. John, president of the Miners union of Burke, Idaho, according to the statement of Sheriff Angus Sutherland of Shoshone county, is now in the county jail here. He was arrested yesterday afternoon on a telegraphic order from Boise. Sheriff Sutherland drove to Burke, which is seven miles from Wallace, found St. John in bed, arrested him and brought him to Wallace. St. John refuses to say anything about his arrest or the causes therefor, and the sheriff is equally close mouthed. St. John has been voting under the name of John W. Vincent and is also known by that name in his dealings with the Burke union. He came to the Coeur D'Alene directly after the union troubles in Telluride, Col. a year and a half ago. He has been employed in the Hercules mine at Burke as a common miner. He is married but has no children.

Meeting Date is Changed.

Annual meetings of the Shattuck-Arizona Copper company and the Denn-Arizona Development company were to have been held Saturday at Bisbee, Ariz., but were postponed to April 7. It is expected that the Shattuck mine, which has proved to be a most valuable property, will enter the shipping list by the first of July. Preparations are being made for extensive drifting in the Denn-Arizona Shaft, which is down 950 feet. The date of the annual meetings was changed to enable more stockholders to attend.

KILLED AT WHITE BEAR.

Telephone Lineman Hit With Pair of Brass Knuckles.

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—Archie McCabe, 35 years old, member of a telephone construction crew, was killed yesterday at White Bear lake by being hit with a pair of brass knuckles. McCabe and a number of other members of the construction gang were drinking in a saloon and a quarrel arose, which resulted in a general melee. McCabe's skull was fractured and he died within fifteen minutes. Four men are under arrest, but the police are uncertain as to which of them struck the fatal blow.

TWO KILLED IN A HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 19.—Conductor Hough and Brakeman Simpson were killed and Engineers Keevers and Feuche and two firemen seriously injured as the result of a collision on the Southern railway at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The second section of a passenger train, north-bound for Asheville and a light engine came together between Swannona and Black Mountain. A wrecking train was sent from here and the work of clearing the wreck pushed rapidly. None of the passengers was seriously injured, though a number of them were well shaken up.

THOUSANDS VIEW RUINS.

Balmy Sunday Brings People Out to See Burned Elevator.

The balmy spring-like weather of yesterday, brought the populace out on the streets in swarms. More walking than riding took place yesterday, where walking was fit, for in most places snow had melted at an amazing rate and water was ankle deep in many places on the streets, but the avenues did not suffer in this way.

The principal center of attraction yesterday afternoon was the burned Peavey elevator on Garfield avenue. It is estimated that between 5,000 and 10,000 people visited this scene yesterday. They went on foot and in cars. In fact every Duluth-Superior car, bound Superiorwards discharged three-quarters of its cargo opposite the fire, which was still smouldering. Many came from Superior also. The land, dock and ice in the vicinity of the fire were black with people viewing the remains of a million dollars.

All parts of the city also contained many pedestrians and as the warm weather continued into the evening, the strollers occupied the center of the stage all day.

SURPRISED DOCTOR

Illustrating the Effect of Food.

The remarbable adaptability of Grape-Nuts food to stomachs so disordered that they will reject everything else, is illustrated by the case of Mrs. H—— of Racine, Wis.

"Two years ago," she says, "I was attacked by a stomach trouble so serious that for a long time I could not take much of any sort of food. Even the various kinds prescribed by the doctor produced most acute pain.

"We then got some Grape-Nuts food, and you may imagine my surprise and delight when I found that I could eat it with a relish and without the slightest distress.

"When the doctor heard of it he told me to take several small portions each day, because he feared I would grow tired of it as I had of all other food.

"But, to his astonishment, (and that of everybody else) I did not tire of Grape-Nuts, and became better day by day, till, after some weeks, my stomach entirely recovered and I was able to eat anything my appetite craved.

"My nerves, which had become so weakened that I feared I would become insane, were also restored by the Grape-Nuts food in connection with Postum Coffee which has become our table beverage. I appreciate most gratefully and thankfully the good that your food preparations have done me, and shall be glad to answer any letters inquiring as to my experience." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

FIRE AT RUTLAND.

Vermont City Has a $750,000 Fire Loss on Sunday.

Rutland, Vt., Feb. 19.—Six brick structures in the business section of the city, occupied by nearly a score of firms and many smaller tenants, were destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is estimated at $750,000. The flames went beyond the control of the local fire department and help was summoned from Whitehall, N. Y., and other places. The Whitehall company reached the city in time to be of great assistance.

The fire broke out early yesterday morning in the Ripley block, on Merchants' row, and soon extended to the Meade block, directly south, and then to the Baker block on the corner of Center street. Then, swinging around the corner, it took in the Baker and Tutle blocks on Center street, the latter a six-story brick building, having on the farther side a heavy party wall, which stopped further progress in that direction. North of the Ripley block the flames destroyed the Cranston block, and in the rear a block on Willow street. The party wall on the farther side of the Cranston block stopped the fire's progress north.

The heaviest losses are: William Y. W. Ripley estate (buildings), $30,000; Dr. A. L. Meade (buildings), $50,000; A. B. Abraham, drugs and tobacco, $25,000; Wilson & Root, clothing, $35,000; J. L. Baker (buildings), $40,000; the Tutle company (buildings), $40,000; the Tutle company, printers, $130,000; Cranston & Combination Cash Store block, $60,000; Combination Cash Store company, stock, $125,000. The insurance amounts to about two-thirds.

DIVORCED WIFE

Becomes Sole Heir to Property of Her Former Husband.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Probate Judge Frankberg has prepared a final decree in the case of the estate of William Shappel. At the final acounting is was found that the estate was not sufficient to pay all the claims of the creditors, and that the creditors would only receive 86 per cent of their claims. The largest claim against the estate was that of Mr. Shappel's divorced wife, who was also sole heir to the property. When the divorce was granted Mrs. Shappel was allowed alimony. The payments were not made regularly, and the wife presented her claim with the others, receiving her percentage with other creditors. When Mr. Shappel died his daughter became sole heir to the estate, but since then she has died, and her mother, the divorced wife, being her sole heir, became heir to the estate, but there was no inheritance after the payment of the legal claims.

Some time ago Mrs. Converse of Detroit filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States court of this city. At the close of the hearing before Referee Parsons, Mr. Ewing, attorney for the trustee, who represents the creditors, applied to the court for an order to compel Mrs. Converse to turn over money or property to the amount of about $20,000. Mrs. Converse conducted a mercantile business at Detroit under the name of "The House of Converse," and when the petition was filed, placed the assets at $14,700, of which $7,000 was exempt. But the creditors claim that she received goods and money to the value of $40,000 since March, 1905, and that she has only accounted for $20,000 of that amount, and they ask the order to compel her to deliver the balance. Arguments will be heard on the application on Tuesday.

MAYOR OF NEWPORT, ARK., ENDS HIS EXISTENCE.

Newport, Ark., Feb. 19.—Charles H. Wilmans, mayor of this place, and prominent in state politics, died yesterday as a result of a pistol wound inflicted by himself yesterday. Mr. Wilmans was returning from a business trip to Little Rock and stopped at Oliphant, where he had extensive interests. He acted strangely and requested that a pistol be secured for him immediately. A physician was summoned, who stated that the man was suffering from extreme nervousness. The doctor and Wilman's nephew stepped from the room and the mayor seized a revolver lying on the dresser and shot himself in the breast.

Graves-Tallant Co

An Exceptional Money Saving Opportunity

The Spring Sale of Notions

Every dressmaker and home-sewer can save money by thinking out before hand what will be needed for spring dressmaking and taking full advantage of the notion sale now in progress. All the notions are standard and in nearly every case either the qualities are better or the prices lower than the common run of sales.

Plymouth Skirt Braid in 5 yard pieces; regular price 12½c a piece; notion sale price 9c

Milward's Needles—all sizes—regulation price 5c; notion sale price tomorrow 3c

Mutual Hooks and Eyes—black and white; 5c cards selling during the notion sale at 2 for 5c

Dutch Tape—all sizes; ordinarily sold for 5c a piece; the spring notion sale price—3 for 10c

De Long Hooks and Eyes—with the hump; black and white; in sizes 0, 1 and 2; 10c cards for..... 8c

Bone Hair Pins; sold regularly at 10c a dozen; during the spring notion sale 8c

Aluminum and German Silver Thimbles; buy 2 of the 5c quality during the notion sale for..... 5c

Marking Initials for linens; 3 dozen on a card; regular price 10c a card—notion sale price 5c

Elastic Corset Laces; the 5c kind; while the sale lasts two laces go for 5c

Corset Laces, 2½ yards long; round or flat—black, white and drab; 6 laces for 5c

Finishing Braid in 6 yard pieces—white and colors; the 10c quality for 8c

J. J. Clark's Machine Thread in white; sizes 30 and 36 only; 1 doz. spools for 20c

Family Pins in three sizes; regular price 5c a paper; spring notion sale price 3c

Brush Braid in black only; regularly 6c a yard; during the spring notion sale 4c

Tape in 4 yard pieces; white, red, blue and gray—5 sizes; 4 pieces—worth 10c—for 5c

Kleinert's Featherweight Dress Shields; size No. 4; everywhere 25c a pair; sale price 18c

Coats' silk finish Crochet Cotton; 100 yard spools; 3 regulation 5c spools for 10c

Curling Irons—the standard style; choice of two sizes; regularly 5c; sale price 3c

Fancy Buttons—metal or silk and crochet covered; odd lots up to 65c a dozen, for 10c

Dress Stays—all sizes and colors; regular price 10c a dozen; notion sale price 3c

Chiffon Collar Foundations—pointed and round shapes—black and white; 2 10c foundations 15c

Corduroy Skirt Binding—in colors only; regular price 6c; notion sale price 4c

Rick Rack Braid put up in 12 yard pieces; regularly 12½c a piece; sale price 8c

Pearl Buttons—sizes 14 to 24; 1 dozen on a card; ordinarily 5c a card; now 4c

Wire Hair Pins in cabinets; selling regularly at 5c a cabinet; notion sale price 3c

Ironing Wax with wood handles, regular price 2c each; sale price 4 pieces for 5c

Tolson's Skirt Belting—black, white and gray, usually 5c; notion sale price 4c

Helios Mercerized Embroidery Cotton; 1 dozen balls of the regular 2c quality for 15c

Saxonia Thread — odd shades; worth 40c a dozen—special notion sale price 30c

Pin Cubes containing 100 pins; black, white and assorted colors; 10c cubes for 7c

Shoe Laces in 3 sizes—4-4, 5-4 and 6-4; 4 pairs of the 2c quality—notion sale price 5c

Hat Pins — black and white; sold everywhere at 10c a dozen; notion sale price 5c

Premier Skirt Clasps—black and white; sizes 00 and 1; regularly 10c a dozen; now 7c

Belt Pin Books containing 60 black or white Belt Pins—usually 10c; notion sale price..... 6c

Pearl Headed Pins—a dozen white or colored pins on a card; 10c kind for 7c

Safety Pins—black and white; 3 sizes—1, 2 and 3; regularly 10c a paper; notion sale price 4c

Back Combs, plain or with pearl settings; assorted patterns; 35c quality—sale price 19c

Battenberg Thread—white and creme—1 dozen 35 yard spools—usually 50c—sale price 35c

Belt Buckles and Belt Pins—gold plated, oxydized and French gray; 25c sets for 10c

White Wash Belts for spring wear; embroidered in red and black; 25c and 35c values..... 10c

Warren's gros grain silk covered Featherbone—regular $1.80 a dozen yards—special..... $1.42

Silk Covered Collarbone—black and white; worth $1.08 a dozen yards; notion sale price 85c

Double Cord Skirt Bone—black and white; regular price 72c a dozen yards; sale price..... 65c

Silk Taffeta Seam Binding—extra wide — black and white; 9 yard pieces, worth 15c... 12½c

Machine Needles—all sizes and makes; 2 in a paper—regularly 5c—notion sale price 3c

A LARGE SUBURBAN HOME FOR $3,660.

CLYDE J. ADAMS ARCH'T

The above residence is of an elaborate type, and has been prepared for those who desire to obtain a large suburban residence. The feature of this house is particularly large rooms.

You will note that every room is of an exceptionally large size, and while the usual demand is for the smaller house, it is best to present a somewhat varied variety of the more expensive dwellings in order to suit all and fit all pocketbooks. This house will make an ideal suburban residence and cannot fail to please in every detail, as it has been developed after much thought and endeavor to obtain the best results possible, at the lowest cost. In elevation you have a facade of striking beauty, and suitable to any location, and with the proper landscape gardening may be made most attractive.

The interior is specially good, as you may readily see that the ideal conditions have been attained.

The following separate items are given to show cost of same:

Digging	$75	Painting and glazing	275
Stone work	175	Shingle roofing	150
Cement floor	40	Plastering	200
Carpentering	750	Brick work	100
Paper and nails	40	Plumbing	175
Millwork	650	Hot air heating	100
Hardware	90	Range	40
Lumber	800		$3,660

Open a Box for the Children

Leave it where they can reach it. Watch them gain in weight. Watch their cheeks grow ruddy with health and life.

Uneeda Biscuit

are the only Soda Crackers—the most nutritious food made from wheat, therefore the most wholesome food for children.

5¢ In a dust tight, moisture proof package.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

TRADE WITH THE BALKANS

The Largest Increase of Our Exports is With Roumania.

Large Part is Composed of Iron and Steel Manufactures.

Washington, Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Balkan states, under which common name are comprised both Turkey in Europe and its former dependencies—Roumania, Servia, Bulgaria and Greece—imported, during the calendar year 1904, merchandise of a value exceeding $200,000,000 and exported goods valued in excess of $175,000,000. Of the total imports for the entire group, Roumania's imports constituted about $60,000,000, Servia's $11,709,000, Bulgaria's $25,000,000, and Greece's $26,600,000. The import statistics of European Turkey for the same period are not known, so that combined figures of exports from the principal countries to Turkey for the same period were taken instead, which amount to $80,709,000.

Inasmuch as all these countries are still industrially undeveloped, a large part of their imports is made up of manufactures, which figure to an important and increasing extent among the exports of this country. To take only the more progressive countries of this world section, imports of cotton manufactures into Roumania amounted to $11,200,000 in 1904, or about 10 per cent of the total imports during the year, while manufactures of iron and steel were valued at $13,500,000, or 22.5 per cent of the total imports. For Bulgaria the respective figures: Cotton goods, $3,200,000, iron and manufactures of, $1,400,000.

Neither the import figures of the respective countries nor our own export figures disclose any considerable trade relations between these countries and the United States. While it is true that United States exports to those countries have increased considerably during the last decade, the total exports to none of those countries reach even the one-million mark. Thus, according to figures compiled by the department of commerce and labor, through its bureau of statistics, exports to Turkey during the fiscal year 1905 were valued at $427,886; to Greece, $181,970; to Roumania, $902,506, and to Servia, $1,600—a total of $1,613,564.

The largest increase of exports is shown in our trade with Roumania, the average exports for the five years ending June 30, 1905, being about four times the size of the average exports for the preceding five years. The exports to Turkey show almost as large an increase, from $41,733 in 1895 to $52,488 in 1905, while exports to Greece have shown but little change, the figures for 1905, $181,970, being somewhat below those for 1896 and slightly in excess of those for 1895. No figures of exports to Bulgaria are shown, the latter country still figuring in the United States trade reports as part of European Turkey. According to the Bulgarian trade figures, the imports from the United States were about $111,000 during the calendar year 1904.

A large part of American exports to these states is made up of iron and steel manufactures. Out of the total recorded exports to all the Balkan states during the fiscal year 1905 the value of iron and steel manufactures constituted $604,513, or 37 per cent, while the exports of agricultural implements not included in the above total were valued at about $124,000 during the same year. American mineral oil, notwithstanding the vicinity of oil-bearing territory in Roumania and the Caucasus, is shipped both to Turkey and Greece, the total value of these exports exceeding $82,000, of which $59,000 were shipped to Greece. Provisions, of which $101,000 worth were shipped to Turkey; leather, and manufactures of, of which over $69,000 went to Turkey and Greece, and cotton goods, of which $64,000 were shipped to the same countries, were some of the more important items of export from this country to the Balkan states, in addition to those stated above.

The imports into the United States from the Balkan countries are of greater importance, though constituting but a small percentage of the total exports from these countries, for the reason that, in the case of some of them at least, by far the larger part of the exports are agricultural products, mainly cereals, such as are abundantly produced in this country and which until recently constituted a large share of our own export trade. Thus, out of a total of $50,000,000 of exports from Roumania during 1904, $37,500,000, or about 75 per cent, were breadstuffs; of the total Bulgarian exports during that year, valued at $30,490,000, $23,390,000, or over 75 per cent were breadstuffs. In the case of Servia the exports of breadstuffs are of less importance, being less than $3,000,000 exported; but the value of animals, mainly cattle and swine, exported during 1904 was in excess of $5,000,000.

Among the exports from Turkey and Greece breadstuffs figure to a less extent, with the result that imports into the United States from the two latter countries are correspondingly larger. The imports into the United States from all these countries in 1905 were made up as follows: $8,224 from Roumania, $54,251 from Servia, $1,270,732 from Greece, and $5,173,252 from Turkey. Of the last-named figure practically all comes from Turkey proper. Bulgaria's exports to this country being almost exclusively rose oil, of which the value in 1904 was over $100,000. Chief among the imports from Greece were: Currants, valued at $757,679; other fruits and nuts, including raisins, $228,731; cheese, $77,383. Of these articles only the latter shows recent growth, the fruit and nut trade, especially that of currants, being a long-established one, and showing but slight change.

The imports from Turkey are more varied, and comprise both manufactures, such as carpets, which, because of their artistic value, may be classed as a monopoly product, and raw materials for use by the industries of this country. In the order of importance these various items run as follows: Carpets, $1,526,986; raw wool, $1,100,341; tobacco, $766,542; hides and skins, $655,649; opium, $214,894; oils, $111,052; sausage casings, $103,635; gums, $54,787; India rubber (old and scrap), seeds, fruits and nuts, manufactures of cotton, etc., the latter items being all of a value less than $50,000. The increase of imports from European Turkey into this country during the last decade is quite considerable, the figures for 1905 being about 150 per cent in excess of those for 1895, while average figures for the last quinquennial period, $4,611,000, are about 67 per cent in excess of similar figures for the preceding five years.

According to the Greek trade accounts, exports to the United States during the calendar year 1903 were $967,000, or less than 6 per cent of the value of the total exports for that year. The latest available Turkish trade figures, for the year 1900, credit this country with about 2.5 million dollars worth of exports, or less than 4 per cent of the total exports for that year.

PEAVY ELEVATOR ON RICE'S POINT BURNS

Great Structure With Million Bushels of Grain is Destroyed.

Concrete Annex Few Feet Away Successfully Resists the Heat.

Spectacular beyond all powers of description was the fire which destroyed the working house of the Peavey Terminal system in Duluth containing 1,000,000 bushels of grain, Saturday evening.

The huge grain storehouse was turned into a gigantic torch which lighted up the hills and the bay for miles around. In the center of the great circle of light was the huge fire with the flames leaping from 200 to 300 feet in the air.

Owing to the location of the elevator, on the low lying land on Rice's Point, there was scarcely a point in either Duluth or Superior from which the blaze could not be seen, and practically every inhabitant of the two cities witnessed the greatest conflagration in the history of the Head of the Lakes.

Thousands of spectators dotted the ice on the harbor surrounding the elevator, and every point of vantage, such as the aerial bridge, the Lake avenue viaduct and the Tenth avenue bridge, was crowded with spectators.

The fire was the most disastrous from the exent of the property loss in the history of the city. The elevator had a storage capacity of 1,050,000 bushels, and at the time the fire started, was practically filled with grain.

The house had been filled and the bins levelled off and closed down at 2 o'clock, at which time the elevator contained approximately 1,000,000 bushels of grain of all kinds.

The records of the two elevators are kept together, and at noon on Saturday the records of the board of trade showed that the two buildings contained 3,455,000 bushels of grain. The concrete building has a capacity of between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 bushels, and it was, therefore, not full.

The loss on the grain is not exactly known but it will be in the neighborhood of $700,000.

The loss on the building was approximately $300,000 on which there was insurance of $275,000.

Fortunately the huge concrete elevator which stood within fifty feet of the burned building, withstood the terrible heat, and with its 2,590,000 bushels of grain, escaped with but little damage.

* * *

The first alarm of fire was given at 7:15 p. m. The day fireman from his home, near Garfield avenue, saw flames issuing from the cupola of the elevator, and rushing into the engine room, gave the alarm.

The flames were discovered on the floors in the northwestern corner of the building.

The building contained a sprinkling system, which was immediately brought into play, but it was useless against the fury of the flames, which were spreading with terrible rapidity. A telephone call was also sent to headquarteres, and a general alarm turned in.

Leaving but a small part of the equipment to guard the central part of the city, Chief Black ordered all the remaining apparatus to the scene. It was a hard run down Garfield avenue and across the ice, and when the department reached the spot, the entire structure was wrapped in flames. The nearest hydrant was nearly half a mile away, and the firemen had to chop through about three feet of ice to get water. By the time a stream was finally turned on the blaze the building was a roaring furnace. Holes burned through the bottom of the building gave a perfect draft. The heat was so intense that the firemen could not get within 100 yards of the building at first, and the streams of water looked pitifully inadequate as they were directed against the huge blaze, leaping 300 feet in the air.

An hour passed, and the flames were seemingly as high and fierce as ever. The firemen were patiently and persistently working on the northwest corner of the building, trying to keep the huge concrete structure to the north of the fire as cool as possible. They were working with the west wind to drive the flames into the harbor.

The heat made the cotton hose smoke, but the men stuck to their task, pouring the icy water over themselves to keep their rubber coats from being ignited by the intense heat from the flames. For a distance of 200 yards around thet building the snow on the ice was melted, and for once the spectators kept beyond the danger line and out of the way of the firemen.

Another hour passed, and still the firemen continued their steady, persistent efforts to cool the northern half of the burning structure. The concrete was smoking and steaming with the intense heat, but there was no draft inside of it to allow the grain to become ignited. At 9 o'clock the west wall of the burning elevator fell inward, leaving only the east wall standing alone, a mass of blazing timber.

Gradually the efforts of the firemen began to tell. Little by little they crept up on the flames, as the heat grew less, and little by little black spots began to show in the burning heap. At 10 o'clock the blaze was seen to be under control, and all danger to the concrete structure was over. For two hours after this, however, the flames could be plainly seen from all parts of the city, and they did not die down until the early hours of the morning.

* * *

The cause of the fire appears to be a complete mystery. The building was just recently equipped with new electric light wires, and it is not likely that the flames were started by any defect in the system. The grain was clean, and the theory of spontaneous combustion is not regarded as a likely one. Robert J. Hamp, the night watchman, states that he made his usual rounds of the building between 6 and 7 p. m., pulling all of the roundsmen's clocks, and rang in the report of "all well" at the A. D. T. office, at 8:56 p. m. His next visit to the top of the building was not due until 9 o'clock, according to the rules of the company, and the following one at midnight. He was unable to account for the cause of the fire. The idea that the machinery was in any way responsible for the blaze, is also looked upon as out of the question, as it was stopped at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and five hours had elapsed before the fire started.

The cause is therefore simply a matter of guess work and it does not seem likely that it will ever be known.

* * *

Three men were in the elevator at the time the fire started. They were Robert Hamp and Noel Verdon, the night watchmen, and Edward Sayen, the fireman.

For two hours they were believed to have been cut off by the flames, and to have perished in the burning structure. Robert Hamp, Jr., the son of the night watchman, spent a most agonizing two hours in the search for his father. He arrived at the elevator after it was enveloped in flames, and knowing that his father had been due to make a tour of inspection to the upper floors, feared he had been cut off from escape. There was nothing to do but wander about among the thousands of people searching for him, and it was nearly two hours before he met a friend who had seen his father alive and safe among the spectators. The young man immediately ran to a telephone and notified the other members of the family who were nearly frantic with anxiety.

The other two men were also accounted for about the same time.

* * *

The elevator was owned by the Peavey-Duluth Terminal Elevator company, a part of the Globe system. The local manager of the company is E. L. Bradley, and A. L. Searle of Minneapolis is the general manager of the interests at the Head of the Lakes, for the Peavey company. He was notified by wire and arrived in the city yesterday.

It is the first fire which has occurred among the elevators at the Head of the Lakes in nineteen years, and considering the extensive nature of the grain interests here, the loss from fire has been very small. Nineteen years ago elevator A, its annex and a grain hospital were destroyed by fire. They were situated near the site of the present curling rink.

While the damage to the concrete elevator was very small, the grain is nevertheless beyond the reach of the company for some time to come, as the machinery for emptying and filling the bins was contained in the burned structure, and until this has been rebuilt, or new machinery installed temporarily, the grain will be beyond reach.

* * *

Not since the conflagration which destroyed the Omaha freight sheds has the necessity for a fire tug been so forcibly brought to the attention of citizens. Had the fire taken place during the summer months, the department could not have approached within a quarter of a mile of the flames, and they would have been forced to stand idle on the shore and watch the building burn. Only the thick ice allowed them to approach the building.

With an ice breaking fire tug, however, the fire could also have been fought from the bay side, and Chief Black stated, Saturday evenign, that in his opinion much of the property could have been saved.

An examination of the concrete annex, yesterday morning, by Manager Bradley and Foreman Edmunds, disclosed a very satisfactory condition of affairs, and the expensive building with its valuable contents, has apparently escaped with little or no damage. There are some small cracks in the outer surface of the concrete, but the 2,455,000 bushels of grain contained in it, are undamaged.

It is the first time that concrete in elevator construction has been thoroughly tested by intense heat, and it has apparently withstood the test well.

* * *

All day yesterday crowds of people visited the ruins, and the watchmen placed beside the burned structure had difficulty in keeping people away from the walls of the engine room, which were unsafe, and from the numerous holes which had been melted in the ice.

The ice to the east of the elevator is littered with pieces of iron and charred wooden timbers, which were carried up through the burning building by the heavy draft, and out over the harbor by the west wind that was blowing.

The pile of grain is still smouldering, and if left to itself would probably continue to do so for an indefinite period. It will be sold as it lies to the highest bidder.

* * *

The building will be rebuilt as soon as possible, and in the meanwhile a temporary structure will be erected to shelter the machinery for handling the grain in the annex, so that the company will be in a position to use it by the time navigation opens.

The new elevator will be built of some fireproof material, which will be selected later by the company.

That Craving for

DRINK

Don't stand idly by and allow some poor unfortunate victim of the drink habit to lose gradually every vestige of manhood.

Don't, when you can save him.

White Ribbon Remedy

will effect a lasting cure.

Anyone can administer it in a glass of water, tea, coffee or food without the patient's know ledge. No taste. No odor.

It gradually destroys the diseased appetite and in its place plants a dislike for all intoxicating drinks. The nerves become healthy. Vigor and energy take the place of dullness and inactivity.

Write to-day to White Ribbon Remedy Co., 218 Tremont St., Boston, Mass., for a trial package and letter of medical advice free in plain, sealed envelope. All letters confidential and destroyed when answered.

White Ribbon Remedy sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail in plain package, price $1.00.

Endorsed by members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, Physicians and Clergymen.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

SPECIAL AGENT—

MAX WIRTH, DULUTH, MINN.

SPORTS

NO DECISION IS REACHED

Baseball Managers Make Little Progress at Grand Forks Meeting.

Circuit Committee Asks For More Time to Consider Matters.

Grand Forks, Feb. 19.—Practically nothing was done at the meeting of the Northern league here yesterday afternoon, and the members adjourned to meet again on March 1, without being able to report any progress toward completing the circuit for 1906.

The circuit committee was not yet ready to report and asked for more time to consider the applications of several towns which are seeking entrance to the league. The names of these towns were not given out.

The committee's request was granted, and the meeting adjourned until March 1. The delegates present were: W. J. Price and Matt Camitsch of Fargo; L. Van Praagh, Duluth; J. M. Lamb, Winnipeg, and M. Stanchfield, Grand Forks.

* * *

With the snow beginning to leave the ground, it is about time that the league magnates began to settle down to business if there is to be a Northern league this year. Even if matters are satisfactorily arranged at the meeting on March 1, it will leave only two months in which to complete all the details of the new organization, draw up the schedule, and get together the six ball teams, before the spring practice is begun.

The Duluth team, however, will be ready before that. Capt. Artle O'Day is now at work signing players, and they will report to him about April 15 for a preliminary trip before the league season opens. O'Dea will take the White Sox through the Iowa towns and probably as far as Omaha.

The failure of the league managers to come to any decision yesterday, is a disappointment to the Duluth fans who are beginning to fear that the city will be left without a ball team next season. While this is not likely, matters are very unsettled, and it is hard to tell what league the team will be found playing with.

WIN AT BOVEY TOURNAMENT

Duluth Ski Jumpers Capture Third and Fourth Money.

Three out of the first eight prizes at the tournament of the Itasca Ski club at Bovey yesterday were captured by Duluth jumpers, while the Red Wing men carried off the first and second prizes.

The other three prize winners were from Ishpeming, Bovey and Ashland.

The following is the list of the prize-winners: Ole Mangseth, Red Wing, first prize of $100, with 256 1-6 points; Carl Ek, Red Wing, second prize of $75, with 255 1-3 points; Gustav Eye, Duluth, third prize of $50, with 252 points; Elling Diesen, Duluth, fourth prize of $25, with 246 2-3 points; A. Melgaard of Ashland, fifth prize, 246 1-3 points; J. Kulstad, Bovey, sixth prize, 228 1-3 points; O. Westgaard, Ishpeming, seventh prize, 225 1-6 points; Olaf Larson, Duluth, eighth prize, 222 1-3 points.

The tournament was witnessed by about 1,000 spectators. A ball following it there was a banquet at Plummer's camp at the Canisteo mine, when covers were laid for 150 guests.

The Duluth jumpers left Bovey late last evening, arriving in Duluth this morning.

They will leave tomorrow for Ishpeming to attend the national tournament there, which will be held Thursday.

BASEBALL IN COPPER COUNTRY

Expected League Will Be Made Up of Six Clubs.

Lake Linden, Mich., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The baseball situation in the Copper country still remains unsettled. The plans of the magnates, at least, have not all been given publicity. Dr. Percy Glass, secretary of the league, is authority for the statement that the organization will this year be made up of six clubs. Four of these will be located in the Copper country—at Calumet, Lake Linden, Hancock and Houghton, the latter taking the franchise formerly held by Sault Ste Marie, which has been dropped because the inclusion of that city, remote from the Copper country, resulted in too stiff transportation expenses—but the identity of the two others continues a mystery. There is still a suspicion that these will be Duluth and Superior, but they may also be two iron country towns, and the decision of the magnates is anxiously awaited. In the meantime it has been decided to raise the salary limit this season. The figures has been boosted to $1,000 a month. The figure was supposed to be $850, although several of the teams exceeded the amount.

Crystal Falls, a Menominee range town which had a strong independent team last summer, a team fast enough to win a majority of exhibition games with Copper country league teams, will have another semi-professional aggregation on the diamond this year. John H. Mackin, formerly captain of the Hancocks and Soos, will be in charge of the team, which will have the financial backing of Senator Moriarty; Mayor Corcoran, banker; C. H. Watson, prosecuting attorney; W. J. Richards, mining superintendent, and a number of other prominent citizens. Iron Mountain, the Menominee range metropolis, also will have a fast team of salaried men, and down at the Soo a team is talked of that it is proposed to make the strongest that has yet represented the city.

FOR Lumbago

Apply an Allcock's PLASTER

as shown in illustration. It not only relieves all pain but it strengthens the muscles and restores energy as nothing else can.

Also invaluable for Colds, Coughs, Aching Kidneys, Weak Chests, Weak Backs, Rheumatism, Sciatica.

INSIST UPON HAVING Allcock's

Allcock's

CORN PLASTERS | BUNION PLASTERS

For Relief and Cure of Corns and Bunions

Give Immediate Relief — Afford Absolute Comfort

G. R. CLARK IS FIRST.

Carried Off Highest Honors at Gun Club Shoot Yesterday.

At a practice shoot of the Duluth Central Gun club, held yesterday on the old Highland club's grounds, G. R. Clark of the Dupont Powder company scored 91 per cent, the highest score of the day. W. J. Webb came a close second with 90 2-3 per cent. New was third with 88 per cent, Nelson fourth with 85 2-3 and Coons 84. Seven 25-bird events were shot.

A good deal of interest is being shown in the match shoot which will be held on the grounds next Thursday, Washington's birthday, when picked sides will shoot to see which pays for a supper at the Commercial club in the evening.

BEULAH SMITH WINS ON ICE

Defeats Captain S and Ties for the Capewell Trophpy.

The unexpected happened Saturday afternoon on the ice track at the foot of Twentq-first avenue west when Beulah Smith defeated Capt. S. in the free-for-all race for the Capewell trophy.

The two horses are now tied having won two races apiece, and the final will probably be pulled off next Saturday afternoon.

The race was the most exciting that has been seen this winter.

Capt. S. captured the first heat by a nose, in 1:08¼. The second went to Beulah Smith by a scant two feet, and the mare also captured the third by about half a length. The time for the second heat was 1:10¾, and for the third, 1:08¾.

A series of misfortunes put Frederick E. out of the running in the limited class race, Lochinvar winning two straight heats.

In the first heat Frederick E. broke, and in the second, cast a shoe, while leading at the quarterway.

In the 2:30 class, no formal entries were made, and after one exhibition heat had been run, the race was declared off until next Saturday.

The interest in the races appears to be increasing each week, and about 1,000 spectators witnessed Saturday's program.

GIRL WRESTLERS SHOW SCIENCE

Put Up Very Creditable and Interesting Exhibition an Met.

Surprising science was shown by Miss Marie Jeanette and Miss Annie Donovan, the two girl wrestlers at the Met Saturday evening.

They were far more lithe and agile than a man, and had all the fine points of the game. On strength alone would they compare unfavorably with any of the wrestlers who have been seen in Duluth this winter, and the exhibition pleased a packed house.

The first fall went to Miss Donovan of Butte, in five minutes, and Miss Jeanette of Elgin, Ill., captured the second two in four minutes and fifty-two seconds, and three minutes and thirty seconds, respectively.

On the last fall, the Montana girl claimed that the referee had given her a bad deal, and many of the spectators appeared to think so, too, although to an unprejudiced eye it looked as if Miss Jeanette had taken the fall fairly.

Miss Jeanette, however, consented to meet her opponent in a fourth fall, which the Montana girl captured in three minutes and ten seconds, much to the satisfaction of the spectators, whose sympathies appeared to be with the Westerner.

The match therefore resulted in a tie, with two falls apiece.

Sporting Notes.

Efforts are being made to bring Frank Gotch to Duluth to meet Billy Maynerd in a handicap match, Gotch to throw Maynerd three times within the hour.

* * *

The Duluth hockey team will go to Two Harbors on Washington's birthday for two games with the team from that city. The team will be practically the same as that which will represent Duluth on the Copper country trip.

* * *

The two women wrestlers will be seen at the Metropolitan theater again Wednesday evening, when the tie which resulted Saturday evening, will be decided.

* * *

Maj. R. E. Resche of the Third regiment, Minnesota National uard, is making efforts to organize a local rifle league for practice with 22-calibre rifles, and a meeting will be called for the purpose in the near future.

WEDDING AT ELY.

M. A. Stuck and Miss Ida Cowling Married Saturday Evening.

Ely, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The marriage of M. A. Stuck and Miss Ida Cowling, both of this city, took place at the M. E. church on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. C. H. Blake performed the ceremony, after which a short reception was held, the guests then repairing to the home of the bride, where a wedding banquet was served. The bride was dressed in white mull, carrying a bouquet of white roses, and wearing a white silk vail and orange blossoms. The house was very prettily decorated, palms, ferns and carnations making a most pleasing effect.

The bride and groom are well-known young people of Ely, the bride being the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John Cowling, and the groom being employed here on the steam shovel for a number of years past. They received a large number of beautiful gifts.

Miss Fannie Trezona was maid of honor and James Williams was best man. Masters Clarence Williams and Ray Tonkin were the ushers, and Miss Jennie Smith was ring bearer. The young couple will make their home in this city for the present. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

KILLED BY LADRONES.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—Fred A. Klass of this place has received information concerning the tragic death of his brother, John N. Klass, a United States marine, who was murdered in the Philippine Islands Feb. 2 by ladrones in the hills back of Cavite. Klass was 24 years old.

WOODSMAN DEAD.

Cloquet, Minn., Feb. 19.—Thomas Desmond, a woodsman who has resided in Cloquet since 1889, has died in the Cloquet hospital. He was about 55 years old.

REDUCES HIS FORCE.

Wisconsin Game Warden Cuts Off a Deputy in Superior.

A protest is being made by the sportsmen in Douglas county against the action of Chief Game Warden Swenholt, of Wisconsin, in reducing the pay of the two game wardens and finally cutting one of them off the pay roll in that county. The sportsmen claim that it will be impossible for only one deputy game warden to give the game of the county the protection that is needed.

The hunting licenses issued in Douglas county last fall brought in a revenue of $2,000 to the state and the hunters intimate that some of this money should be used to protect the game in Douglas county instead of being used, as it is believed, to pay the salaries of game wardens in the interior counties of Wisconsin where there is little game to protect and where a warden is not needed at this season of the year. Northern Wisconsin, the sportsmen claim, has the game to be protected and they urge that a portion of the license money paid in that part of the state be used for protection purposes.

WINTER ECZEMA SKIN HARD AND DRY

Some skin diseases are active in Summer, while others wait until cold weather to manifest themselves. Winter Eczema sleeps in the system through the long hot months, and gives no sign of its presence; but at the coming of Winter the trouble asserts itself and it becomes one of the most painful and distressing of all skin diseases. The blood is filled with poisonous acids which seem to be excited by the cold; and as these are thrown off through the pores and glands, the skin cracks and bleeds, the flesh becomes hot and feverish and the itching intense. The natural oils which keep the skin soft and pliant are dried up by the cold, bleak winds, causing it to become hard and dry, giving it that shiny, leathery appearance, characteristic of the disease. The head, face, hands and feet are the usual points of attack, though other parts of the body may be affected. So painful and distressing is the trouble that the sufferer constantly "doctors" and treats it trying to get relief. Soothing washes, medicated ointments and salves are used, but aside from giving temporary relief they do no good. The cause is poisonous acids in the blood, and these must be removed before a cure can be effected. The only cure for Winter Eczema is S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers. It cleanses the entire blood supply of the acrid poisons and sends a fresh, healthy stream to the diseased skin, healing and softening it and curing the painful, itching eruptions. S. S. S. enters the blood and purifies it of all waste and foreign matter, and cures Winter Eczema—or Tetter as it is sometimes called—safely as well as surely; besides it does not contain any harmful mineral to derange or damage any part of the system. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice you need, free.

S.S.S.

PURELY VEGETABLE.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

CHARACTER—

That every ingredient must be of choicest selection, and the brewing, fermenting, aging—and so on—faultless, is told in the taste—

BLATZ WIENER BEER

—But there's something else: an indescribable element that gives to Wiener its striking individuality. In a word, it is Character. There's a most satisfying, grateful flavor that is always a distinct Blatz quality.

VAL BLATZ BREWING CO., MILWAUKEE

Duluth Branch

Lake Avenue and Railroad Street. Tel. 62

Always the Same Good Old "Blatz"

Social, Musical and Club Circles.

At the devotional meeting at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association, Miss Florence Simms, national extension secretary, was the speaker. Miss Simms has been in the city since Friday evening, and yesterday spoke in three churches of the extension work of the association, and also the meeting at the rooms in the afternoon. A large number of the members were present, and Miss Simms' talk was a very personal one, being a strong appeal for a more thoroughly active Christian life.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. W. C. Agnew entertained at a large reception in honor of Miss Simms. The guests were received from 4 to 6 o'clock, and during those hours a large number of women of the city, who are interested in the work, called. Miss Simms is delighted with the work as it is going on here, and was impressed at its growth. "The wonderful adaptability of the workers," she said, "and the uses they have made of the room at their disposal, has impressed me very much, and although there is no immediate opportunity of taking up the extension work, I hope that it may be begun soon. Although Duluth has not the large number of factory workers to reach, there is in this city a vast number of business women, and by getting them interested in the work, much can be accomplished."

Miss Simms left this afternoon, at 5:30 o'clock, for Chicago.

Y. W. C. A. Banquet.

The date of the annual February banquet of the Young Women's Christian association is unchanged. The affair will be given in the rooms, Wednesday evening of this week, Feb. 21. Some confusion has been caused by the different dates which have been announced, but the date given above was the one first decided upon, and it has remained unchanged.

Is Surprised.

A delightful surprise party was given last week in honor of Miss Gertrude Kehtel at her home. The affair was arranged by Misses Emma Meyer and Miss Nina Anderson and the time was passed pleasantly. Those present were:

Misses—
Autra Wold, Margaret Quigley, Helma Meyer, Beula Ferguson, Edna Anderson, Myrtle Quigley, Inga Hestrom, Edith Hager, Edith Hager, Theresa Hultinberg, Dorothy Young, Freda Braun, Mildred Olsen, Agnes Herstad, Esther Carlson, Edla Lorix.

Masters—
Erwin Kehtel, Ternow Holmberg, Raymond Anderson, John Meyer, Ernest Olson, Arvid Hage, Rolf Hestrom, Thomas Herstad, Herbert Holmberg, William Anderson, Ernest Johnson.

Family Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Kreager entertained at a family party yesterday in honor of the forty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, at their home, 927 East Sixth street. Mr. and Mrs. Kreager are well known in the city where they have resided for many years and the affair yesterday was a most enjoyable one, being participated in by their children with those of the family who had married into it and the grandchildren. Those present were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
A. McCormick, J. C. Kreager, George Kreager, H. Kreager, A. J. Harker, B. Kribsback, Frank Kreager, Mrs. A. Plutnisk, Florence Kreager, Mr. J. L. Harker, Bertine Plutnisk.

Misses—
Mable Harker, Jane E. Kreager,

Masters—
Richard Harker, Charles Kreager,

Surprise Party.

Mrs W. Franke was pleasantly surprised Saturday afternoon at her home, 212 East Fifth street. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Franke's birth aniversary and cards were the amusement of the afternoon. The head prizes were won by Mrs. G. Krause and Mrs. H. Schumann and the consolation prizes went to Mrs. Appleby and Mrs. A. Schade. Those present were:

Mesdames—
M. Brown, A. Zerby, N. Anderson, E. Oestreich, C. Bartholdi, G. Hubbert, O. Wolford, George Kreager, H. Schumann, F. Schumann, G. Krause, F. Bartholdi, J. Patshkowski, W. Beyer, Appleby, A. Schade.

Events of Interest.

The Travel class of the Twentieth Century club will hold its regular meeting tomorrow afternoon, at the club room of the library. The class will continue the study of Japan, and any interested in the subject are invited to attend the meetings.

* * *

Miss Lydia Woodbridge entertained at an informal afternoon Saturday at her home on East Third street.

* * *

The Westminster auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. G. H. Winchester of 1232 East First street.

* * *

Misses Lillian and Adela Oppel of 609 East Sixth street have as their guests Miss Edith Schepp of Ashland and Miss Maud Kimerer of Pelican Rapids.

* * *

The "Cinch" club will be entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. G. V. Burgess of Park Point.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph Kreager will entertain at cards Washington's birthday at her home, 914 East Seventh street.

WHAT RETAIL MARKETS OFFER.

Fresh ocean herring, 10 cents a lb.

Flounders, 15 cents a lb.

Cod steak, 18 cents a lb.

Porter house steak, 20 and 25 cents a lb.

Mushrooms, 60 cents a lb.

Peanut butter, ½ lb glass jar, 20 cents.

Some different fish were received fresh in the market, this morning which will no doubt be seized eagerly by the folks who like this sort of thing especially. Flounders which are an excellent boiling fish are flat and kind of round and look very good for that sort of thing and fresh ocean herring and cod steak are among the specials that are offered.

Steak and mushrooms are mentioned together for fear that the folk who are especially fond of that combination have forgotten that they are in the market. The mushrooms look fine and a porter house can always be found which couldn't be improved except by artistic cooking and for those people who can wax eloquent over the delights of this combination should not neglect the present opportunity.

Peanut butter is mentioned especially for the benefit of those housewives who have to put up school luncheons and who may have forgotten about peanut butter which the high school appetite always welcomes.

Quiet and Neatness Two Essentials to Successful Sick Nursing

The success of a sick nurse depends almost as much upon her personality, freshness and the kind of clothes she wears as on her experience in actually nursing patients.

It is absolutely essential that she be sympathetic, amiable, cheerful, though not to the extent of exciting or annoying her charge. She must know instinctively when to talk and the right thing to say, and never touch on any subject that displeases or makes the sufferer nervous. Her voice should be of a pleasant, low quality, or if it is inclined to be harsh she should keep the pitch down as much as possible. One thing an experienced nurse never does is to stand where the sick person can see her lips moving, yet cannot hear the spoken words, for invariably the patient, always supersensitive, will imagine that her sickness is being discussed and something is said that they do not wish her to hear.

In the same watchful way the nurse must regulate all conversation in the sick room, and stop any person who irritates the patient either in manner of speech or by the topic of discussion. She decides who shall enter the apartment, and how long they can stay, and no individual who has a depressing effect or unduly excites the sufferer should be allowed to enter, for the recovery of a person dangerously ill frequently depends entirely on keeping their courage, and this is what the nurse tries constantly to do.

The greatest care should be taken by nurses in arranging their hair. Only simple coiffures should be worn in the sick room, and never any jewelled ornaments or bright hair pins, that might catch the eye and annoy the patient. A different dressing of the hair will often bring a smile to the sick person's face, and occasionally a flower, if not too large or of too bright a color, will delight a patient. Short ends that give woman an untidy appearance should be tucked up and never allowed to stray around the face or neck.

Cleanliness goes without saying. The hands should be well washed and the nails carefully kept, so that in working around the patient there will never be a suggestion of soil to offend them. The gown worn should be immaculately clean and if possible a fresh one put on every day, or at least once in two days. These dresses should be well laundered and starched, just enough to keep crisp and free from creases if used two days, but never stiff enough to rustle or to make a noise when the nurse moves. They should be made of some soft material, a delicate color print, gingham or, if not too expensive, of all white goods. The neatest way to have them made is with a plain waist, no ruffles or frills to be in the way and affect a nervous person, and a plain gathered skirt that clears the floor by several inches, thus avoiding the possibility of knocking over things set on the floor when hurrying to the patient. The sleeves should be plain, large enough to give plenty of freedom to work, but without tucks, ruffles, etc.

If prints are selected, narrow cuffs and a collar of white sheer material make the costume more attractive, as does a big kerchief placed around the neck and crossed in front. A white cap, small, of course, may be worn on the head if desired, but as they are not becoming to many nurses few of them are used outside of institutions.

Shoes should be carefully selected, and should be soft and noiseless, yet not so big that they scuffle about when the nurse walks rapidly. Felt or list slippers are comfortable, but are not particularly good in a sick room. The most desirable ones are of soft kid, with a pliable sole and low, flat heel. Rubber heels are now generally worn in hospital nursing and are very serviceable.

Jewelry, scented soap, and any kind of perfume should be avoided by a thoughtful nurse unless she knows that they will not offend her patient. Rings should be left off, for if they have settings, the stones frequently catch in threads of towels, bandages, bedding, etc., when working with the patient and cause a jar that is not altogether pleasant, while perfume, even if of the most delicate scent, is disagreeable to some sick persons, and for that reason should not be used.

Two Smart Afternoon Frocks From Models Made In Paris

Figure 1 shows a gown of cerise cloth over which is worn a long jacket of heavy lace of the same shade trimmed with sable. The coat opens over a vest of pale blue embroidered in deep pink.

Figure 2 is a princesse gown of silver gray broadcloth trimmed with bands of deep gray chiffon velvet. Both costumes are models from L'Art et la Mode.

LOW COLONIST ONE-WAY RATES

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

Feb. 15th to April 7th, inclusive.

$25.00 — Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, Vancouver, Victoria and other North Pacific Coast points.

$22.50—Nelson, B. C., Rossland, B. C. Spokane, Wallawalla, Wenatchee, Wash., and intermediate points.

$20.00—Helena, Butte, Great Falls, Kalispell and intermediate points.

$18.00—Hinsdale, Mont., and intermediate points.

$34.00—San Francisco, Los Angeles and all main line points in California.

$22.50—Denver, Pueblo, and Salt Lake City.

Round trip homeseekers rates of one fare plus $2.00 to Montana, Idaho, Washington (Wenatchee and east), and Oregon (Biggs and east), Feb. 6 and 20.

Low round-trip homeseekers rates to Southeastern and Southwestern states, Feb. 5 and 20.

City Ticket Office, 422 West Superior Street.

VELVET TAM O' SHANTER.

Posed in by the Misses Dorothy Watson and Helen Lucas of Weber Music Hall, New York.

Placing Ostrich Plumes Under Hat Brims Is Fad of Season

Putting ostrich plumes under, in stead of over, hat brims is a fad of the season. The quills are sewed to t he hat so that the fluffy tendrils fall on the hair, and the softness against the side of the coiffure makes many a plain woman look pretty and almost an y shaped hat becoming. The feathers are placed so that they will touch th e hair in front and on the side, at the back and one side, or entirely at th e side.

In wearing a feather this way th e brim should slope upward, so that it will be plainly seen. This gives t he hat a coquettish tilt that will be exceedingly appropriate for young wom en, or for older ones if they like a jaunty looking head wear.

Pyschology of Clothes

Many women make clothes, but more often clothes make the women. Occasionally a woman recognizes this trite fact so positively that she dons certain kinds of gowns at certain times, knowing that their influence will be effectual.

One went into a milliner's the other day to buy on afternoon hat, and to the amazement of the saleswoman demanded the most conspicious one in the place.

"I want one that I must live up to," she said.

She is one who recognizes the efficacy of clothes. No woman with the soul of a woman could put on a big picture creation of delicate hue and not try to look her best. The influence is too strong to be disregarded, and the eternal feminine rouses itself, however fatigued, not to spoil the effect of something that of itself would look well. No thoroughly womanly woman could look downcast with a brand new smart hat on. It isn't as mere man so frequently thinks, that the hat really makes her happy. It is that her artistic sense, strongly appealed to, responds to the fitness of things by making her expression match the hat. Inwardly she may be weeping, and wearing an old and dowdy bit of millinery the "I-have-lost-my-last-friend" expression would prevail. But not with a new one. Never.

Therefore is there stimulation in a proper amount of vanity, and the woman who is thoroughly indifferent to her clothes, beyond knowning that they are clean, is lacking in a powerful assistance to cheer in life.

Vanity may be a thoroughly moral agent, stimulating a woman to look her best. The rest is thoroughly logical, though dealing with a woman. Looking her best, and aware of it, she begins to feel good. Feeling good is conductive to happiness, and that to peace of mind The total result is a pleasant companion, when the very same woman dowdily gowned, would cause people to go miles to avoid her.

Thackeray said once that any woman who hadn't a hump could marry any man she wanted to, given the opportunity. The modern woman isn't so keen about marrying, or pretends not to be, but whether she is or not, whether she is looking for a position or dining out, the becomingness of her gown is to be taken into consideration. There is no virtue in bad gowning, and to look her best is the duty of every woman. That doesn't mean spending every sou she can raise on clothes; it means neatness, trigness, becomingness of color and design. A three cent cotton may be prettier when done, and far more enhancing to the wearer's prettiness than a three dollar satin.

One of the best panaceas for a fit of the blues is to put on a pretty gown; the same prescription is many times more effectual than a physician's, when a woman is not well. A feeling of self-complacency is a tonic that rarely fails, and a pretty gown will go far toward bringing it about. In the face of a mirror when so arrayed imaginary symptoms of illness disappear, and one feels far more like going to the theater than going to bed and sending for a doctor.

Therefore is it the part of wisdom and philanthropy to have pretty clothes, and not to keep them hung up in the closet for special occasions either, but to wear them for the edification of home folks, ever more than for strangers.

Cotillon Favors For Club Evenings.

BY ROSANNA SCHUYLER.

Favors used in cotillons this season in New York have been extremely pretty, and so many are made of crepe or plain tissue paper that they are extremely inexpensive. This puts them within the reach of clubs that find cotillon giving a charming way of entertaining in the winter.

Recently at Mrs. Ogden Mills' dance there was the reproduction of the garden scene from "Faust," done in paper flowers, and it was remarkably pretty.

Realizing that those who now attend these dances want to be amused with the figures, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney planned an Indian figure, a red riding hood movement, and one in which rubber balloons and rubber pig were inflated during the dance.

In the Indian figure the women carried crepe paper bags of a leather-like color, and war sticks, or spears, with a gilt paper point at the top. The handles were of light wood, covered with red crepe paper and tied with ribbon and tulle to match. In their hair they wore crepe paper feathers, prettily done with tinsel, so that they sparkled as the young women danced. The men were more formidable in their chieftain's dress. They had big war belts of leather colored crepe paper, that were about eighteen inches wide, and to them were hung six imitation scalps with long black hair, also of paper. On their heads they wore the regulation headdress of feathers and the long tail that reached to their feet. In one hand they carried the Indian battleax.

The young women's costumes were more picturesque in the red riding hood figure. They wore long red crepe paper capes with hoods attached and rosettes of paper and long streamers of red satin ribbons. To match these the men wore big red Mexican hats, with high crowns, and bright gilt bells hung on the brim so that they jangled every time the wearer moved.

The guests were all delighted with the inflated rubber pig and balloon figures. The pigs were carried by the men and were so delicately hidden in the center of a bunch of lettuce, made of green crepe paper, and in the pumpkin flowers, that they were not seen until blown up and allowed to make a whistle as the air escaped. The balloons were fastened to the women's wrists by wide ribbons, made into rosettes, and long streamers, from which they soared into the air when filled.

Quite as picturesque as the Indian cotillon was the Japanese one given by Mrs. Charles F. Barney. In the prominent figure at this dance the women all wore kimonos of chrysanthemum crepe paper. These garments reached a trifle below the waist and were made exactly like the familiar house gowns, with wide, loose sleeves. They were all of the same pattern paper, but were edged with different colored satin ribbons, some with red, others with big yellow, green and blue. On their heads they wore an Oriental kind of headgear, with big yellow chrysanthemums on either side of their temples. These were held in place by two pieces of heavy paper wired to keep them in shape and fitted to the head. The men wore the regulation Japanese hat, of crepe paper, in yellow, blue, purple, etc., decorated with paper birds and animals of vivid colored paper. In another figure the women carried prettily decorated Japanese umbrellas. The figure in which they wore garlands of wistaria vines around their necks, while to match them the men had boutonnieres of the same vine, was decidedly effective. Later the women carried dainty baskets filled with loose cherry blossoms in pink, which they showered on their partners during the dance, and the men had cherry blossom branches that they held above the young women's heads whenever it was convenient.

THE STAGE

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Grace George in "The Marriage of William Ashe."

METROPOLITAN—Reilley & Wood's Big company.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Wednesday and Thursday and matinee Thursday, Allen Doone in "Kerry Gow."

LYCEUM—Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee, Louis James.

GRACE GEORGE.

Grace George, whom Manager William A. Brady will present to the patrons of the Lyceum this evening in a dramatization of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's famous story, "The Marriage of William Ashe," is said to have found in her new play a character that fits her charming personality better than any she has yet essayed. Miss Margaret Mayo, daughter of the late Frank Mayo, who made the stage version, is an intimate personal friend of Miss George's, and has made a close study of the famous actress' work. While reading Mrs. Ward's book, Miss Mayo became convinced that the role of Lady Kitty would suit Miss George, and immediately secured the dramatic rights to the book, with the result that Miss George has been given a role that will establish her as one of the most versatile of female stars.

REILLY & WOOD'S COMPANY.

Reilly & Wood's big company, which is one of the oldest burlesque organizations on the road, is at the Metropolitan this week. The company is headed by Pat Reilly, and includes such vaudeville stars as Orth and Fern, the famous comedy pianists, in their famous skit, "Sign That Book." A grand spectacular ballet is introduced during the olio, entitled "Hades Up to Date."

"KERRY GOW."

Wednesday and Thursday, with a matinee Thursday, that being Washington's birthday, Allen Doone will appear at the Lyceum in "Kerry Gow." Mr. Doone is a young Irish lad, admirably suited to the part of Dan O'Hara. He will sing his own original Irish ballads, lullabys etc., that he has written expressly for the play.

WILLARD MEMORIAL

Held in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Frazee.

Frazee, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Frances Willard memorial was held in the Methodist Episcopal church last evening under the auspices of the local W. C. T. U., Mrs. T. S. Jones, the president, presiding. Rev. Mr. Warner, Baptist, and Rev. J. T. B. Smith took part in the service. The church was filled with people. Mrs. Rudolph Geiser and Miss Mildred Phelps read papers on Miss Willard. Mrs. D. Graham sang a solo, and several choruses were rendered by the choir and members of the W. C. T. U. Cecil Jones recited and Mrs. Kenneman was organist. Mrs. Jones spoke of the work done by the national W. C. T. U. The program was ably given, and the proceeds were for W. C. T. U. work.

A very pretty birthday party was given Saturday evening at the farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Collins, in honor of Victor Carl Larson. About forty young persons were present from Frazee and some from Detroit. The evening was spent in a social manner and luncheon was served by the ladies. The gifts were numerous and choice. Among those present were Prof. and Mrs. Rudolph Geiser, Judge and Mrs. J. H. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Stillings, of Frazee, and Misses Watson and Nelson of Detroit. Short speeches were made by Rev. J. T. B. Smith and Mr. Larson.

Bradbury School of Music.

Piano, vocal and violin instruction.

The Yellow Fever Germ

Has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs, the most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria poison and constipation. 25c at all drug stores.

VESSEL IS HELPLESS

Repeatedly Driven Back Across the Atlantic for Months.

Remarkable Tale of Ednyfed That Reaches Gloucester Harbor.

Boston, Feb 19.—This is the story of the ship that found itself, only barely hinted at in telegraphic dispatches of a few days ago.

It is a story of the good bark Ednyfed, which, offending Neptune, become the plaything of the deep, and was driven about in a watrey wilderness of waves for 117 days before the fates were appeased.

For more than 2,000 miles gentle winds and beneficent sun blessed the voyage of the Ednyfed, and then, just as captain and crew, 150 miles off Nantucket light, were congratulating themselves that the voyage was over, doom descended upon them.

Clouds blotted out the kindly sun, and out of the Northwest came roaring King Boreas in fierce anger.

Beneath his lash the startled sea leaped afoam, and the welks became towering billows, gigantic and terrible.

As if a thousand sea deamons had seized her, the bark was dragged back—back over the course she had traversed, the storm sirens whistling their shrill derision.

For days the good bark, head-on, side-on, stern-on, was dragged seaward. Then all at once the sea deamons loosened their hold, and the joyous captain sent the nimble crew to square the yards, and once again away for the American shore.

Once more the gentle winds blew, once more the winter's sun bathed deck and shroud with ruddy light, and smiled upon the sailors smoking in the lee of the cook-house with more than winter's warmth.

But then a strange thing happened. Clouds veiled the glowing ball high overhead, and out of the northeast came the storm king, and the lash of his whip was heard afar as it fell upon the placid sea.

A thousand sea deamons clutched at the keel of the frightened ship and hurled her far back from the coveted shore.

The superstitious sailors waited the abatement of the rage of the elements. There was something weird in this second attack by the winds and waters. But the skipper calmed their fears.

It would presently calm, said he. It did, and for a third time the plucky Ednyfed went bowling along propelled by a pleasant wind from the south.

Nantucket was almost reached when the sailors fell on their faces. The men in the shrouds came tumbling down to huddle with their mates. Fear seized upon the ship, as out of the northwest whirled the black cyclonic cloud.

As a chip in a mill sluice, the bark went tearing seaward.

And all this was many, many days ago. How many times the gallant craft all but made Nantucket light only to be picked up by, and dropped in mid-Atlantic even the captain scarcely knows.

His log says that the bark left Trapani, in Sicily, with a cargo of salt for the port of Gloucester, Sept. 27, 1905. For 117 days she ran the most remarkable voyage ever a craft knew.

When she sailed at last into Gloucester harbor, the vengeance of the sea satisfied, it was as a vessel from the spirit land.

Lloyds had posted her as "missing," her owners had given her up for lost, and weeping wives and mothers were wearing black for the men thought long dead.

With her arrival, too, the ghost ship of the North Atlantic has been laid and the phantom which has disturbed the dreams of mariners is dissolved.

As plucky Capt. Robert Evans spins the yarn, the Ednyfed is considered the fastest craft in the West coast trade, and it was but a few days after leaving Sicily before the Straits of Gibraltar were passed and the yards squared away for the run across the Atlantic, the middle passage being chosen.

When almost in sight of land a gale was encountered, blowing the big ship before it like a feather on the water. During the intervals when the gales ceased down a little Capt. Evans tried to recover lost territory, but as they were met by each succeeding gale they were blown farther and farther off their course.

But pluck and perserevance won out, and when the gale died down they laid their course for Cape Cod.

They were gifted with clear weather for many days and were made happy as they neared the coast of Massachusetts after their long battle with the cold winds and waters.

A little over two months ago the bark reached a point about 100 miles off Nantucket, and the captain gave the word to hold a course for Boston light, which they expected to reach the next morning.

There was joy in the hearts of the men as they watched the sun set that night, with the fond hope budding in their breasts that the next day they could once more go ashore and stretch their sea legs.

But their hopes and wishes were short-lived, for scarcely had darkness settled over the waters before it began to blow, and before midnight the gallant Ednyfed was again in the throes of as severe a northeaster as struck this coast last fall.

She could not make headway against it, and any attempte to lie and ride it out was equally unsuccessful. Capt. Evans then issued orders to set the main and mizzen stay sails and, with these to steady her, she sailed, once again, before the gale.

The huge waves were mountain high, but the ship was riding buoyantly. When the morning came, the gale was as furious as ever and any attempt to lie to was found impossible.

For several days the Ednyfed raced before the gale, going several hundred miles off its course. The sun finally broke out, and although the sea was running high, the ship was once again headed for Boston light.

The gallant craft was about 600 miles off its course at this time. The next day the ship was again caught in the teeth of another gale and the sun was lost to view for several days.

Before the teeth of the terrific gale the bark was driven rapidly, at race-horse speed, through the water, and when the sun shone bright and fair again they found that they were only a few hundred miles from the African shore.

Again the start was made for the Massachusetts coast, but the unfortunate craft was greeted with gale after gale, driving it further off the regular line of shipping.

At one time Capt. Evans was considering heading for the Delaware breakwater and then working up the coast, but this idea was speedily thrown aside and, with bull dog tenacity, the English skipper decided to fight it out with the elements.

In the meantime, while the ship was being driven helter skelter about the Atlantic, the news had been sent broadcast that the Ednyfed was lost at sea. As the weeks lengthened into months and nothing was heard of the ship, the news of the loss was confirmed and, as is usual, the bark was forgotten. Her name had been scratched off the lists.

Occasionally the report would be heard from incoming vessels of a mysterious ship seen on the horizon, sailing like the wings of the wind. No one could make it out further than that it was a bark.

The sailors began to reason among themselves what the ship was and who it could be. Some were convinced that it was the bark that had been reported lost, while others were just as certain that this was impossible.

The less superstitious sailors could not reaon the phenomenon away, and the idea became established that what they had seen was a "phantom ship."

The superstitious sailors, ever ready to believe anything of supernatural nature, became positive that the ghost of the missing bark was stalking about the ocean as a warning to others.

How could it be otherwise they thought. The Ednyfed had been lost several months, no ship had spoken her, and this ship, which had crossed their vision with all sails set, speeding like the winds, must be its ghost.

These tales were told by many of the crews of arriving vessels. The fishermen on the Georges bank had also witnessed the phenomenon.

The bark would be seen one day on the horizon, and in a few hours was lost to view, only to reappear again in a few days. This was repeated twice at long intervals, until the hardy fishermen became scared at the vision.

The bark, whenever seen, seemed to be always under full sail, and going with terrible speed in the teeth of a gale. None of the fishermen could explain the sudden appearance and disapparance of the strange craft, and when they arrived at their home port the story of the strange craft was quickly related.

To those on board the bark everything was far too realistic for their convenience. To catch a glimpse of the land which they sought only to be blown away again was a succession of gales; to be tossed about by the angry waves, very far more than they had expected.

No ship had been near enough to them to speak, although many were sighted miles away, which tortured the minds of the crew.

But their determination finally won out, when last week, helped by favorable winds, they were able to reach Cape Ann, the first land they made since leaving Gibraltar.

A shout of delight went up from the crew as they approached the shore, while a tug came to their assistance and towed them into Gloucester harbor at dusk, ending the strange trip of the ship that was lost and had found herself.

French & Bassett
DULUTH. MINN.
Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.

All Instruments Sold on Easy Payments.

French & Bassett
DULUTH. MINN.
Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.

More than 20 Instruments 10 to 50% Discount.

Great Discount Sale of more than Twenty Instruments---10 to 50% Discount

15 Upright Pianos. 2 Piano Players. 1 Grand Piano. 2 Inside Player Pianos

These instruments are all worthy. Some absolutely new, but are discontinued styles, others are shopworn, some used. These are all priced under our One Price System which makes them much lower than others and when you apply discounts of from 10 Per Cent to 50 Per Cent, it makes an occasion never before equaled in this or any other place. If you want a fine piano at an unheard of low price, act quickly. Easy Terms—These will be sold on our usual easy terms.

MAIL TRAIN IS WRECKED

(Continued from page 1.)

Haakon and the other royal personages and the representatives of foreign sovereigns followed.

At the catafalque, Dr. Roerdan, primate of the Danish church, with Dr. Paulli, court chaplain, and Dr. Bondo, dean of the cathedral, awaited the king. The royal party took seats with the royal ladies. King Frederick sat nearest the altar, with Queen Louisa, next to whom sat Emperor William. Then were seated Queen Alexandra, King George of Greece, the dowager empress of Russia, Marie Feodorovna; King Haakon, the duchess of Cumberland and the duke and duchess of Mecklenberg-Schwerein. The duke of Cumberland sat in the second row, two places removed from Emperor William. The foreign representatives sat behind, the crown prince of Siam being conspicuous in a light gray uniform.

The service began with the singing of a hymn, and then Dr. Roerdan delivered a long panegyric, touching on the principal instances of the king's reign, dwelling on the great economical and political strides of the country under his rule, and addressing consoling words to the bereaved royal personages throughout Europe. The sermon was followed with another hymn, the royal mourners joining in the singing. The service was beautiful, but as simple as all the former ceremonies held since the king's death. Then, to the stralns of the funeral march, composed by Hartmann on the occasion of the death, in 1844, of Albert Bertel Thorvaldsen, Denmark's great sculptor, eight officers carried the coffin from the chancel across the church to the chapel of Frederick.

It was an impressive moment. As the organ pealed the windows of the cathedral were shaken by a salute of twenty-one guns from a battery outside. Simultaneously all flags in the town were hoisted from half mast to the mast heads, in honor of the new king.

A short wait ensued while the coffin was being deposited in the sarcophagus. Then King Frederick and Queen Louisa, followed by Emperor William and Queen Alexandra, whom the emperor assisted from her chair, and King Haakon and the dowager empress of Russia, the four walking abreast, proceeded to the chapel, where Dr. Paulli read the burial services, in the presence only of the royal personages, the foreign representatives and the ministers. Earth being thrice thrown on the coffin, the Lord's prayer was repeated, and the service concluded with a benediction.

A most impressive conclusion was given to the rites by the rendering of a special ode to the king, which a choir of students sang unaccompanied. The royal mourners lingered while the battery fired minute guns and a detachment of infantry, three volleys. Having knelt for some time, the royal personages kissed the catafalque, the ladies placed flowers on the coffin and all departed in the same order that they entered the church.

The mourners had luncheon at the little palace close to the cathedral and then drove to the station from which they left at 4:30 o'clock for Copenhagen The weather was good with some sunshine. The town and station were decorated and the usually quiet streets presented a strikingly multicolored spectacle after the service, the uniforms of practically every army in Europe being seen.

A notable figure in the church was an old officer in the uniform he wore in 1864 when, as a lieutenant, he distinguished himself in the defences of the trenches at Dupul, against the Prussians.

It is said that the value of the wreaths and flowers of gold and silver received since the king's death, is about $100,000.

DULUTH FORTY YEARS AGO.

In it's "Forty Years Ago Today" column, the St. Paul Dispatch on Saturday said:

"The city of Du Luth! A place of great possibilities and with an assuredly brilliant future, according to its present proprietors, who are anxiously waiting for the arrival of the railroad from St. Paul and the opening up of the rich mineral regions to the north. On paper, its promoters will show you splendid wharves, elevators, warehouses, factories, with unlimited peat beds, to be used for fuel, hotels, commercial houses—all this and more they freely predict for the near future.

"But the Du Luth of today, as viewed by the writer is a different picture. As we neared the place on our way across the bay from Superior the hills seemed to be about 500 feet high, and covered with balsam firs, spruce and similar trees. There were just five houses, two of them log. To attempt to build a great city on the steep and rocky cliff seems sheer nonsense. There is no harbor here. Vessels could not remain near the place in a storm, as they would almost certainly be blown on the rocks. By cutting a channel through Minnesota Point the waters of Lake Superior, the bay of Superior and the St. Louis bay and river would unite, and by this means vessels could enter Superior bay and safely ride at anchor."

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Pathetic Sequel to Young Man's Luck in Land Lottery.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Fargo—A pathetic sequal to a man's luck was called to the attention of the land officials at Devils Lake, when Mrs. Bruce G. Warren, with her 4-months old babe in her arms, made her appearance at the land office to make final proof on the claim her husband had selected more than a year ago. Warren drew the lucky number in the great department lottery conducted in 1904 for the land in the reservation. By this number he was entitled to make first choice of all the quarter sections in the vast land district, which hundreds of other less lucky persons were obliged to stand aside until he had selected the piece he wanted. At the time of the lottery Warren was cashier of the state bank at Forest River, N. D. He was then just past his majority. Shortly after his luck in the land lottery he married and life seemed very rosy to him. He resigned his position and with his bride took up his residence on his claim. Unaccustomed to outdoor life, Warren contracted a cold which last winter developed into pneumonia. He apparently recovered and again took up the work of providing a home for his wife and the little one whose coming was anticipated. Last June he was taken ill again and in less than a week died. Bravely Mrs. Warren took up the work begun by her husband. A child was born in September, but the work of improvement required by the government to perfect title to the homestead could not be neglected. Finally Mrs. Warren presented her final papers, which were found to be entirely satisfactory and a patent to the land was given her.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Aberdeen—Lyman Turner, a Columbia, S. D., farmer, has equipped his farm with a complete electric lighting and heating plant. The cost of installing the plant is but $200. The power is furnished by an artesian well on the farm. The lights are all 16-candle incandescent, and the plant does away entirely with the use of lamps or lanterns, as every part of the premises is equipped with electricity. Turner is now purchasing an electric heater and cook stove and soon will be enabled to do the cooking and heating by electricity.

When Turner first conceived the idea of equipping his farm with electricity he was made the butt of much good-natured fun by his neighbors. He now is having the laugh on them.

Nearly every farmer in this section of South Dakota has an artesian well on his farm, and since Mr. Turner has installed his electric plant and it has worked so satisfactorily, many farms of South Dakota likely will be lighted with electricity. Turner estimates the cost at less than 5 cents a day.

Sluox Falls—Because of a peculiar mixup in the dates for the annual meeting here of the South Dakota Swine Breeders' association, several breeders arrived here in the last day or two to attend the meeting, which will not be held until Feb. 27 and 28. Some of those who arrived under the belief that the meeting was being held this week, brought with them stock which they intended to exhibit, and thus were put to considerable expense. Early in January notices were sent to some of the breeders that the meeting would be held in Sioux Falls on Feb. 14, 15 and 16 and close with a sale of stock on Feb. 17. These dates afterward were changed to Feb. 27 and 28, and the stock sale to take place on March 1.

Ames Sent to Asylum.

Following an examination for sanity, before the probate court, Saturday afternoon, James C. Ames of Biwabik, formerly of Duluth, was committed to the state asylum. Mr. Ames is a civil engineer by profession, and has many friends in this city who regret his misfortune. His family recently moved to Minnesota Point.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT cures Rheumatism
Lumbago, Sciatica Pleurisy, Sore Throat & La Grippe
Price 25¢ 50¢ & $1.00
All Druggists
Dr. Earl S. Sloan
Boston Mass. U.S.A.

Hunyadi János
The Natural Laxative Water was awarded the Grand Prize at the St. Louis Exposition, 1904, for its Purity and Excellence. Easy to take—Easy in action—Ease for all stomach ailments.
FOR CONSTIPATION

The Finest Cafes at Head of the Lakes
Are in connection with
The Spalding and Hotel Superior
Special Monthly Rates for the Winter now in effect at both Hotels.
American or European Plans.

Half Price Sale
Closing Out our Entire Stock of
Oriental Rugs, Russian Brass and Bronzes.
H. ABALAN,
Hotel McKay—First St. and Fifth Avenue. Opposite Postoffice.

ORDER TO EXAMINE ACCOUNTS, ETC.—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

In Probate Court, General Term, February 5th, 1906.

In the Matter of the Estate of Robert F. Fitzgerald, Deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Francis W. Sullivan, executor of the estate of Robert F. Fitzgerald, deceased, representing, among other things, that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining, settling and allowing the final account of his administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It Is Ordered, That said account be examined, and petition heard by this Court, on Monday, the 26th day of February, A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock a. m., at the Probate Office, in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County.

And It Is Further Ordered, That notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth in said County.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., the 5th day of February, 1906.

By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.

(Seal Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)

Duluth Evening Herald—Feb. 5-12-19.

WHEAT HAS ADVANCE

Liverpool is Lower But American Markets Gain Nevertheless.

Flax Firm All Morning in Spite of Lower Cables.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 19.—Wheat was both up and down today and finally closed higher. Large world's shipments, the amount being considerably above the estimate, and a liberal increase in the amount on passage, caused foreign markets to be weaker, Liverpool opening ¼d to ½d lower. The opening of this side was firmer, but prices did not hold, and toward the middle of the morning were lower than Saturday's close. Later they had a good rally and at the close were practically at top prices. Berlin was ⅝c higher, Budapest unchanged and Antwerp unchanged to ⅝c lower.

The May option advanced ¼c in Duluth and Minneapolis, ⅜c in Chicago, ¼-⅜c in St. Louis and Kansas City was unchanged in New York, and ¼c lower in Winnipeg.

Corn was stronger, advancing ½-⅝c for the May option in Chicago and ⅜d to ½d in Liverpool. May oats in Chicago advanced ⅜-½c.

World's shipments of wheat and corn last week, the week previous and the corresponding week of last year, were as follows:

WHEAT.	Last week.	Previous week.	Last Year.
America	3,568,000	3,088,000	784,000
Russia	2,272,000	2,294,000	2,096,000
Danube	1,440,000	1,664,000	512,000
India	720,000	160,000	632,000
Argentina	3,608,000	2,392,000	3,344,000
Australia	1,536,000	1,592,000	2,040,000
Aust.-Hung.	.....	40,000	.....
Chili, N. Af.	1,000	32,000	904,000
Totals	12,512,000	11,220,000	10,312,000
CORN.
America	4,119,000	4,599,000	4,056,000
Russia	106,000	51,000	146,000
Danube	171,000	171,000	.....
Argentina	227,000	634,000	349,000
Total	4,623,000	5,411,000	4,551,000

Car receipts at Duluth were 33, against 33 last year, and at Minneapolis 557, against 587 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 590, against 620 last year. Chicago received 19, against 12 last year. Winnipeg received 120, against 65 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 514,000 bus; last year, 766,000 bus. Shipments, 223,000 bus; last year, 214,000 bus.

The visible supply of wheat last week decreased 531,000 bus, and is now 47,352,-000 bus, against 37,458,000 bus last year.

Primary receipts of corn were 938,000 bus; last year, 417,000 bus. Shipments, 280,000 bus; last year, 233,000 bus. The visible supply of corn last week decreased 140,000 bus, and is now 15,187,000 bus, against 8,846,000 bus last year.

Wheat was fairly active in the Duluth market today. May opened ⅛c higher at 81⅝c and advanced to 81¾c at 9:34. The price ranged between that and 81¼c during the remainder of the session, closing at 81¾c, a gain of ¼c over Saturday. July wheat was inactive at the opening, but sold as high as 82⅞c and as low as 82⅝, closing at 83⅛c, a gain of ¼c over Saturday.

Flax opened strong. There was a feeling among the traders that the owners of flax destroyed in the Peavey elevator fire Saturday night would cover their hedges and this led to stronger prices at the opening. There apparently was some buying from those sources, but it was not pressing and prices declined. After the noon hour, however, buying orders came in from many quarters. Laplatta sixed was ¼c lower in Antwerp and was 2¼c lower in London, while Calcutta was unchanged in London.

May flax opened ⅜c higher, at $1.14, and went to $1.14¾, later dropping to $1.13⅝, and rallying to $1.14¼ again. The closing price was $1.14⅛, a gain of ⅞c over Saturday. July flax opened ⅛c higher, at $1.15½, fell to $1.15⅛, and advanced to $1.15¾. The closing price was $1.15⅝, a gain of 1¼c over Saturday. September flax opened at ¼c lower, at $1.13½, and closed at $1.14, a gain of ¼c over Saturday.

There was considerable option trading in May oats, prices ranging from 29⅜c to 29⅝c, which was the closing price. Oats on track and to arrive were ½c higher and the other coarse grains were unchanged. An effort will be made to increase the option trading in oats. Chicago has advanced its commission to ¼c a bus, and it is believed that this will drive trade to other markets.

Following were the closing prices:

Wheat—To arrive, No. 1 northern, 80⅝c; No. 2 northern, 78⅜c. On track—No. 1 northern, 80⅝c; No. 2 northern, 78⅜c; May, 81¾c; July, 81⅜c. Durum—No. 1, 73½c; No. 2, 70½c. Flax—To arrive, $1.13⅝; on track, $1.13⅝; May, $1.14⅛; July, $1.15⅜; September, $1.14; October, $1.12⅝. Oats—To arrive, 29c; on track, 29c; May, 29⅝c. Rye, 60½c. Barley, 38½@45c.

Cars inspected—Wheat, 33, last year 33; oats, 4; rye, 1; barley, 6; flax, 16; last year, 10.

Receipts—Wheat, 28,472; oats, 17,001; barley, 3,526; flax, 16,361.

Shipments—Flax, 845.

Cash Sales Monday.

No. 1 hard wheat, 3 cars	$0.80⅝
No. 1 hard, 1 car	.80⅞
No. 1 northern wheat, 1 car	.80⅛
No. 1 northern, 1 car	.80¼
No. 1 northern, 5 cars	.80⅜
No. 2 northern wheat, 1 car	.79¼
No. 2 northern, 5 cars	.79½
Rejected wheat, 2 cars	.77⅛
No. 3 wheat, 2 cars	.77½
No. 3, 10 cars	.78
No. 3, 1 car	.79
Durum wheat, 2 cars No. 1	.73½
Durum, 3,000 bus. No. 2	.70½
Flax, 7 cars	1.11
Flax, 2 cars	1.11¼
Flax, 4 cars	1.11⅜
Flax, 2,000 bus	1.11½
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white	.28¾
Barley, 1 car	.30
Barley, 2 cars	.41½
Barley, 1 car	.42
Barley, 2,000 bus	.42½

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Various Reasons Cause Weakness in Wheat After Moderate Firmness.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—A liberal increase in the amount of breadstuff on ocean passage, easy cables and larger world's shipments for the week caused the wheat market here today to become quite weak, after moderate firmness at the immediate opening. The total world's movement was placed at $12,500,000 bus, against 11,-120,000 bus for last week. May opened unchanged to ¼c lower at 82⅛c to 82⅜c. Buying by commission houses caused an advance to 82⅝@83c, but later the price dropped to 82¾c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 600 cars, against a holiday last week and 632 cars one year ago.

The market became firmer the latter part of the session on covering by shorts. The high point in May was reached at 83¼c. The close was firm, with May up ⅜c at 83¼c.

Predictions of rain throughout the Central West and firm cables had a strengthening effect on the corn market. Free selling, however, by pit traders checked any advance in prices. May opened unchanged to a shade higher at 42⅝c to 42¾@⅞c, sold up to 43⅛@43, and then reacted to 42¾@⅞c. Local receipts were 523 cars, with 10 of contract grade.

The corn market increased in strength. May got up to 43⅜c. The close was strong, with May ⅛c to ¼c higher at 43¼@⅜c.

Despite liberal receipts there was a fairly active demand for oats by shorts and commission houses, and in consequence the market was firm. May opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 29½@⅝c to 29⅝c and sold at 29⅝@¾c. Local receipts were 184 cars.

Provisions were steady on covering by shorts, who were influenced by a firm market for live hogs. May pork was up 2½c at $15.82½. Lard and ribs were each up a shade at $7.85 and $8.27½@8.30 respectively.

Close: Wheat—May, 83¼c; July, 82⅛c. Corn—May, 43¼@⅜c; July, 43⅝@¾c. Oats—May, 29⅝@30c; July, 29¾c. Pork—May, $15.55; July, $13.50. Lard—May, $7.82½@7.85; July, $7.92½@7.95. Ribs—May, $8.25; July, $8.30@8.32½. Rye—Cash, 65½@67c; May, 66c. Flax—Cash northwestern, $1.11½; southwestern, $1.07; May, $1.13; Timothy—March, $3.40. Clover—Cash, $14. Barley—Cash, 37½@52c. Cash wheat—No. 2 red, 84¾@85¾c; 3 red, 83@84c; 2 hard, 80@82¾c; 3 hard, 78@81c; 1 northern, 82¾@84½c; 2 northern, 81@84c; 3 spring, 78@84c. Corn—No. 2, 39@½c; 3, 38½@39¼c. Oats—No. 2, 29½@¾c; 3, 29½c.

American Wheat Markets.

May—	Duluth.	Minneapolis.	Chicago.	New York.
Open	81½B	81¾	82⅝B	85⅞B
High	81¾	81⅞	83⅛	85⅞
Low	81¼-⅜	80¾-⅞	82¾	85¼
Close	81⅝B	81⅞	83¼B	85⅞B
Close, 17th	81½	81⅜	82¾	85⅞
July—
Open	82⅞B	83	81⅜-½	.....
High	83⅛	83¼	82⅝	87⅝
Low	82⅝	82⅝	81¼	87
Close	83¼B	83⅜B	81⅝B	87⅝B
Close, 17th	82⅞	83⅛	81½	87⅝

St. Louis—	Close 19th.	Close 17th.
May	80⅝	80¼-⅜
July	79½	79⅝
Kansas City—
May	75¾-¾	75⅝
July	74⅜-¾	73½-⅝
Winnipeg—
May	77¾	78
July	79¼	79¼

Chicago Oats, Corn and Pork.

	Oats. May.	Corn. May.	Pork. May.
Open	29⅝	42¾B	$16.80
High	30	43⅜	16.10
Low	29½-⅝	42¾	15.70
Close	29⅞-30	43¼-⅜B	15.85

Grain in Store.

At Duluth, Saturday, Feb. 17:

Wheat—	Bus.
No. 1 hard	2,542
No. 1 northern	203,262
No. 2 northern	5,553
No. 3 spring	15,388
No. 4 spring	1,307
Rejected	980
Special bin	6,825,515
No. 1 and No. 2 durum	83,211
Total	7,138,188
Increase during week	213,771
Stocks a year ago	4,397,111
Coarse Grain Stocks—
Oats	6,081,581
Increase	39,694
Rye	163,779
Decrease	743
Barley	1,070,194
Increase	18,788
Flax	3,554,877
Flax afloat	128,320
Increase	150,410

New York Grain.

New York, Feb. 19.—Close: Wheat—May, 88c; July, 87⅝c; September, 85¾c. Corn—May, 49¼c; July, 49⅜c; September 50c.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, Feb. 19.—Wheat, spot, nominal. Futures, steady; March, 6s 8⅝d; May, 6s 6¾d. Corn, spot, easy; American mixed new, 3s 11½d; American mixed old, 4s 7½d; futures, quiet; March, 3s 11¾d; May, 4s 1d.

Duluth Car Inspection.

Wheat—No. 1 hard, 4; No. 1 northern, 9; No. 2 northern, 9; No. 3 spring, 3; rejected, 1; No. 1 durum, 2; No. 2 durum, 2; rejected and no grade durum, 1; total of durum, 5; mixed, 2; total of wheat, 33; last year, 33.

Flax—No. 1, 16; total, 16; last year, 10.

Oats, 4; rye, 1; barley, 6.

Total of all cars, 60. Cars on track today, 139.

Minneapolis Wheat.

Minneapolis, Feb. 19.—Close: Wheat—May, 81⅝c; July, 83⅜c; No. 1 hard, 81⅝c; 1 northern, 81⅝c; 2 northern, 79⅜c.

Grain Gossip.

Grain gossip, Chicago: Wheat—The market closed tonight much improved in tone, and sentiment less pronouncedly bearish. A sudden quick dip shortly after the opening was the signal for extensive short covering, and for some time the market ruled nervous, but barring the dip made early, the advantage seemed to be all on the bull side. The fact that world's shipments were so much larger than a week ago added to the bearish feeling at the opening and undoubtedly caused heavy selling in an attempt to further uncover stop orders. The decrease in the visible was less than expected, but seemed to have no effect on price making. Bearish pressure has been in force for some time. It has resulted in much liquidation and an extension of the short interest. Today's market clearly gave evidence of an oversold condition, and while the net advance was not great, it nevertheless illustrates how easy this market can rally when pressure is exhausted. We are approaching the period when we must give heed to crop complaints. The weather so far has been favorable, but we must bear in mind the winter wheat crop is yet to be made. There is nothing in the statistical situation to warrant any extensive buying of wheat at the moment.

• • •

Edwards, Wood & Co.: Wheat—There was a broad and active market today. Prices averaged strong after the early offerings were absorbed. Statistics generally were bullish, except possibly for the liberal world's shipments, which is offset by the decrease of 2,220,000 bus in the visible supply in the United Kingdom. The weather forecast for the southwest was moderately bullish, indicating rains to be followed by lower temperatures. The market tonight has the appearance of having turned for a good reaction. Looking ahead, it is not difficult to detect many things that might develop to revise sentiment completely. The selling has spent its force, and the thing to do now is to pick out the weak spots. Support at these levels can be depended upon because wheat is cheap, and today sold at the lowest figure in two years for Chicago May. Keep your trades on the long side.

• • •

Chicago Tribune: "I notice that those who have the wheat here for sale on the cash tables, are entirely in line reasons," said a Minneapolis message. "The commission houses, which handle hardly anything but cash stuff, are not doing much. In most cases their tables are bare. The banks are loaning money now, all you want, at 5 per cent, against 6 per cent six weeks ago. From these facts you can see that the receipts are at the expense of country elevators."

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Cattle—Receipts, 29,-000; best, strong; others, steady; beeves, $3.90@6.35; cows and heifers, $1.50@4.60; stockers and feeders, $2.75@4.65; Texans, $3.60@4.40. Hogs—Receipts, 50,000; market strong to 5c higher; estimated tomorrow, 29,000; mixed and butchers, $5.00@5.27½; good heavy, $5.20@5.30; rough heavy, $5.00@5.10; light, $5.00@5.26; pigs, $4.50@5.10; bulk of sales, $5.15@5.25. Sheep—Receipts, 28,000; market steady; sheep, $3.60@5.75; lambs, $5.90@7.30.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul.—Barrett & Zimmerman report slight improvement in the market Saturday over the opening of the week; receipts lighter than for the last two weeks; few outside buyers in the market for farm chunks and farm mares; local demand for commercial classes slow. All classes closing at the following values

Drafters, extra	$160@185
Drafters, choice	140@160
Drafters, common to good	125@140
Farm mares, extra	135@160
aFrm mares, choice	120@135
aFrm mares, common to good	75@120
Delivery, choice	125@150
Delivery, common to good	75@125

St. Paul Live Stock.

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—Cattle—Receipts, 1,500; steady to strong; grain-fed steers, $4@$5.50; cows and heifers, $2.00@4.25; calves, $2@5; stock steers, $2.50@3.75. Hogs—Receipts, 2,500; steady; range, $5.80@6.05; bulk, $5.90@5.95. Sheep—Receipts 2,000; steady; $3.75@6.25; lambs, $4.50@6.75.

Treasury Balances.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,-000 gold reserve in the division of redemption shows: Available cash balance, $148,189,992; gold, $74,428,991; gold certificates, $44,447,660.

We are headquarters for

Bonanza Circle

AND

North Butte Copper Stocks

PAINE, WEBBER & CO

BANKERS AND BROKERS.

328 West Superior Street.

EDWARDS - WOOD CO.

(Incorporated)

Dealers in

Stocks, Grain, Provisions

Main Office

Fifth and Robert Sts., ST. PAUL, MINN

J. A. MINNEAR & CO.

Brokers

Copper Stocks

Curbs a Specialty

LAURIUM, MICH.

For special bargains in Panhandle Smelter, Minerva, Anglo-Saxon, Sassy Sal, or any other stocks, especially Bisbee Arizona, Cananea, Mexico, Tonopah, Manhattan, Bullfrog or Goldfield Nevada, write me as I have just inspected these mines personally and can give you the latest information.

R. B. HIGBEE,

410-411 Germania Life Bldg., St. Paul.

A Shipping Mine!

400 Tons Already Gone To the Smelter—$55.00 a Ton.

Sixteen mining claims—$150,000 expended already in tunneling, trams, buildings and other improvements. This is the record of the H. T. & F. Mining Co. A block of 50,000 shares is now offered to investors at very low rate. Call or write.

The Happy Thought and Fairview Mining Co.

Parlor G, St. Louis Hotel.

The SHASTA MAY BLOSSOM.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 17, 1906.

H. E. SMITH & CO., Duluth, Minn.:

Gentlemen: Having spent several days in an examination of the Shasta May Blossom Copper Mine property, I find the location beyond question to be on the same slate and porphyry contact as the "Bully Hill," "Anchor" and Winthrop" mines, the line of contact being remarkably well defined and easily followed over all the four properties. The outcropping of all these properties are exactly the same, where large and very rich ore bodies have been opened by development. On the "Shasta May Blossom" the surface showing is as great if not greater than on any of the others, and will by developing make another great mine of the camp, in fact, cannot see how it can be otherwise. Tunnel No. 3, now in more than 300 feet, will cut the west vein within the next 150 feet at 100 feet greater depth than the depth at which sulphide ore has always been found on other properties in the camp, and will go into good pay ore within the next 60 days. The management seems to be of a safe and conservative character and the development of the property carried on in a very business like manner.

Yours truly,

G. H. CLAYPOOL.

H. E. SMITH & CO.

Wm. Kaiser, Mgr.,

Palladio Bldg., Main Floor.

Phones: Zenith, 695; Duluth, 82-L.

STRENGTH EXHIBITED

By Stocks at Close With a Decidedly Improved Tone.

All Transcontinental Stock Freely Bought at Better Prices.

New York, Feb. 19.—Opening prices in the stock market today showed sharp recoveries from the depression of Saturday's closing. The recent speculative favorites led the rally. Smelting and Great Northern preferred bounded about 2, Denver & Rio Grande and Sugar, 1⅛, Union Pacific, Reading and Northern Pacific about a point and Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific and American Car large fractions. There were a few scattered losses including United States Steel preferred for a small fraction, Sloss-Sheffield a point and Rock Island preferred ¾.

Stocks that were weakly margined were sold at the high opening and these offerings, coupled with realizing and some bear pressure, forced the list down sharply. Initial advances reached a point or more, but were wiped out, and a number of stocks sold materially below last week's closing. Central of Jersey slumped 10 points. Cotton Oil, Long Island and Baltimore & Ohio gave way 2, and Northern Pacific, Copper, United States Steel, Colorado Fuel, Sloss-Sheffield, Locomotive and Brooklyn Transit, 1 to 1⅝. Pressure ceased about as abruptly as it commenced and there was a rapid recovery, which brought the level of prices back to where they began. Northern Pacific gained 3, and New York Central, Atchison, Smelting preferred, General Electric, Lead, Ice and Distillers Securities, 1. The market became quiet on the rise.

Prices were advanced further, but with the effect of diminishing the demand, and the tone became dull and heavy. Great Northern preferred was carried up 6 in all, Northern Pacific, 4; Northwestern, 3; Denver & Rio Grande, 2⅝; Anaconda, 4½; Smelting, 2⅜; the preferred, 1¾; Chicago Union stocks, 2; Reading, 1¾; Union Pacific, 1½, and Chesapeake & Ohio, Wabash preferred and Kansas City Southern preferred, 1. Bonds were heavy at noon.

Some stocks made slight additions to their advances of the morning, but the general list was quiet and practically unchanged. Copper and Erie improved a point each. All the transcontinental stocks were freely bought at higher prices when the announcement came out of Northwesterns stock subscription privilege. Very little interest was taken in the rest of the market outside of Reading and copper stocks. Southern Pacific, St. Paul and Ontario & Western moved up 1, Union Pacific, New York Central and American Woolen 2, Northwestern and Northern Pacific 6, Great Northern preferred 7, and Anaconda 11½.

The market got only slightly higher and then reacted, but became very dull. Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha rose 3½, Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred 1½, Tennessee Coal preferred 1¾, Anaconda, 12½ and Locomotive, 1⅜. There were declines of 1 to 1½ in the Iowa Central stocks, Soo preferred 2, Pump preferred and the Vulcan Detinning stock. Northwestern reacted 2½, Great Northern preferred 1¾, Northern Pacific 1⅝ and other strong favorites 1. There was a final rally and the close was quite active and firm.

Quotations furnished by Edwards, Wood & Co., Room A, Torrey building:

Stocks—	High	Low	Close
Atchison, com.	90⅛	89¼	90
Smelter, com.	163⅜	162½	163⅜
American Woolen	46	44	45¼
Amal. Copper	111⅝	109½	111½
B. & O. Ry.	110⅜	110	110⅜
B. R. T.	80½	78¾	80¼
Canadian Pacific Ry.	172⅜	171⅜	172½
C. & O.	57	55⅞	57
C. F. I.	64	61¼	64
C.-G. W. com.	21¼	20¾	21
Erie, 1st pfd.	77⅝	77⅜	77⅝
do com.	43⅞	42¾	43⅞
Illinois Central	173¼	173	173¼
Central Leather	42½	41½	42⅝
L. & N.	147¾	146½	147½
Mexican Central	24⅛	23	24
Met. Ry.	118⅜	117	117¾
Mo. Pacific	100⅛	99¼	100
Manhattan	158½	158½	158½
Norfolk & Western	87¾	87¼	87½
N. Y. Central	149¾	147¾	149
Ontario & Western	51⅛	50⅜	50⅜
People's Gas	99	98¼	98½
Pacific Mail	46¾	46	46
Penn. Ry.	139⅝	138¾	139½
Rock Island com.	25½	24⅞	25⅛
Rock Island pfd	64⅝	64	64⅝
Reading com	136⅞	134⅜	136
R. I. & S. pfd	105¼	105	105
R. I. & S. com	32⅜	31⅝	32¼
Rubber com	49⅞	49	49½
St. Paul	180	175½	175⅝
Sugar	141½	139¾	141
So. Railway com	38¾	37¾	38⅝
So. Pacific	65⅞	65	65¾
T. C. & I.	150½	152	150½
Texas Pacific	34½	33⅝	34
U. S. Steel pfd	106¾	105½	106⅞
U. S. Steel com	41¾	40¾	41⅜
Union Pacific com	152½	150¼	152⅛
Wisconsin Central com.	38	37⅝	38
Wisconsin Central pfd	90½	88	85⅝
Western Union	93⅝	93¼	93½
Wabash com	22⅝	22¼	22⅝
Wabash pfd	45⅞	45	45⅞
Northern Pacific	225	218	225
Twin City R. T.	116	116	116
Erie 2nd	70¾	70	70¾
Great Northern	334	328	333½
American Locomotive	73¼	70½	72⅞

Stock Gossip.

Logan & Bryan to Paine, Webber & Co.: The market closed strong and with a decidedly improved tone. Amalgamated at the opening acted badly and tended to unsettle the balance of the list, but the persistent strength in recent favorites offset the reactionary tendency in copper stocks and seems responsible for shorts covering and a better buying demand than we have witnessed for several days. The atmosphere seems to have cleared over the holiday. There has been a better class of buying, and as the session advanced confidence in the market seemed to increase. We look to see the better class of stocks do better.

New York Money.

New York, Feb. 19.—Money on call steady, 3 to 5 per cent; ruling rate, 4@4¼; closing bid 3; offered at 4; time loans, firm; 60 days and 90 days, 5⅛@5¼; six months 5¼ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5¼ per cent. Sterling exchange easy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86.20@4.86.25 for demand, and at 4.82.65@4.82.70 for 60 days; posted rates, $4.83¼@4.84 to $4.87@4.87½; commercial bills, $4.82⅜. Bar silver, 66¼c. Mexican dollars, 51½c. Government bonds, firm; railroad bonds irregular.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Feb. 19.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1@3 points, which was rather poorer than due on the cables, and sold off to a net decline of 6@7 points during the first few minutes, under pressure from room bears and March liquidation. Short people were buying March and selling May, however, and there seemed a fair demand of good character on a scale down which steadied the market toward the middle of the morning and caused a rally of 3 or 4 points from the lowest.

Spot closed quiet, 15 points lower; middling uplands, 11.10; ditto gulf, 11.35. No sales. Futures closed barely steady: February, 10.48; March, 10.55; April, 10.64; May, 10.74; June, 10.78; July, 10.87; August, 10.76; September, 10.43; October, 10.33; November, 10.35; December, 10.38.

Famous Elsie Cheese 18c Per Pound.

Oppel's Grocery,

Sole Agency.

THE COPPER STOCKS.

The following are the closing quotations of copper stocks at Boston today, reported by Paine, Webber & Co., 328 West Superior street:

	Bid.	Asked.
Amalgamated	111½	111¾
American Dev. Co.	.....	18½
Anaconda	286	.....
Atlantic	23½	23¾
Arcadian	3½	4
Adventure	6	6½
Allouez	39	39½
Bingham	44⅛	44½
Black Mountain	12¼	13
Copper Range	80	80¼
Calumet & Hecla	705	715
Calumet & Arizona	117	118
Calumet & Pittsburg	37¼	38
Centennial	26½	27
Denn-Arizona	.....	27
Daly West	15	15½
Franklin	18	18¼
Granby	9¾	10
Green Cons	27	.....
Isle Royale	22½	23
Junction	28¾	29½
L. S. & Pittsburg	44	45
Michigan	13	13½
Mayflower	1	1½
Mass	9¾	10
Mohawk	56¾	57½
Mercur Con.	64c	65c
North Butte	85½	86
National	1½	2
Old Dominion	45½	45¾
Old Colony	1¾	1¾
Osceola	96½	96½
Phoenix	1	1½
Parrott	39¾	40
P. & D.	24½	25
Quincy	93	95
Rhode Island	5¾	6
Santa Fe	2	2½
Shannon	6	6¼
Tecumseh	13⅜	13½
Tamarack	107	.....
Trinity	11⅞	11¾
U. S. Mining	56⅞	57¼
Utah	59½	59¾
United Copper	68½	69⅛
Union Land	2½	3½
Victoria	6¾	7
Wyandot	1¼	1½
Wolverine	132	133
Winona	6	6½
Warren	.....	18
Copper Queen	.....	.....
Keweenaw	16	16½
Boston Con.	27	27¼
Nevada Con.	13⅞	14⅛
Utah Con.	33	33½
East Butte	8	8½
Sullivan	.....	2

Copper Gossip.

Boston to Paine, Webber & Co.: The market continued dull today throughout the entire session. Margin calls over Sunday brought out more or less stock, which the bears were glad to get to cover shorts. There is nothing new in the situation, but sentiment is gradually changing towards the bullish side. Copper Range was quietly bought today and considerable stock was picked up around 80. Lawson brokers were active in bidding up Trinity. The buying of Old Dominion the past few days has been very good and the stock has acted remarkably well in the face of the lower market we have had the past few days.

Boston to B. E. Baker: We send the following Lawson letter, not because it co-incides with our opinion, but because our friends ask it. "To the street—Get big margins on coppers for this week. You will need them, for in the crash stocks will slump 6 and 10 points at each crack, in some cases 20 to 30 points. There is mischief to pay in three directions in United Copper. If the swindlers do not come to the front this morning on a block of 30,000 or more shares which has been unloaded onto innocents, it will do so in 20 in as many minutes. A Pittsburg lot of thousands must be taken care of, as the present holders cannot finance it below 65. If ever brokers needed to be right it is today and the balance of the week. Bear in mind that United Copper and North Butte, when pegs is withdrawn, will go like blank paper and State street will be treated to a second United States and Wall street to an international power.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

Following are the current quotations for goods which change hands in lots on the open market:

BUTTER.
Creamery, prints	27	@ 28
Creamery, in tubs	26	@ 27
Dairy, fancy	19	@ 20
Renovated	20	@ 21
Packing stock	16
EGGS.
Fresh	19	@ 20
Storage	14	@ 15
CHEESE.
Full cream twins	14¼
Block and wheel Swiss	14½	@ 15
Brick cheese, No. 1	14
Limburger, full cream cheese	13
Primost	7
HONEY.
New fancy white comb	15
MAPLE SUGAR.
Vermont, per lb.	15
Maple syrup, 10-lb. cans	1 35
NUTS.
Filberts, per lb.	13
Soft-shell walnuts, per lb.	16½
Cocoanuts, per doz.	60
Brazils, per lb.	12
Hickory nuts, per bus.	2 00
Pecans, per lb.	13
Almonds	16
Black Walnuts, per bus.	1 65
Mixed nuts	12½
Peanuts, roasted, per lb.	7½@	8
Chestnuts, per lb.	11
FRUITS.
Apples, Ben Davis, per bbl	5 50
Greenings	5 50
York State Spies	6 25
Baldwins	5 00
York State Russets	6 00
Tolman Sweets	5 00
Missouri Pippins, per box	2 25
Colorado Winsape, per box	2 00
Bananas, per bunch	2 00	@ 2 50
Cranberries	16 00
Dates, Fard, 12-lb. box	1 10
Dates, sugar walnut, 10-lb. box	1 00
Figs, Smyrna, 12-lb. box	1 35
Malaga grapes, per keg	7 00
Lemons, Cal., per box	3 25	@ 3 50
Oranges Floridas	1 50
California Navels	2 75	@ 3 00
California pears, per box	2 50
Strawberries, per qt.	55
VEGETABLES.
Beans, wax, per bus.	5 00
Navy beans	2 00
Green hothouse beans	5 00
Beets, per cwt.	1 75
Top beets, per doz.	1 00
Cucumbers, hothouse	2 00
Cabbage, per ton	35 00
Cauliflower, per box	4 00
Celery, Milwaukee, per doz	35
Carrots, per cwt.	75
Egg plant, per doz.	1 75
Horseradish, per lb.	12
Lettuce, leaf, per bus.	1 25
Onions, per cwt.	1 65
Onions, Spanish, per crate	2 00
Parsley, per doz.	35	@ 75
Sweet potatoes, per bbl.	4 50
Potatoes, per bus.	65	@ 60
Radishes, round, per doz.	75
Spinach, per box	1 00	@ 1 25
Florida tomatoes, basket	90
Rutabagas, per cwt.	75
POP CORN.
Choice, per lb.	3½
Rice corn, shelled	6
CIDER.
Clarified, 16-gal. keg	3 50
Orange, cherry or pear	3 50
Black raspberry juice	5 50
MEATS.
Beef	5½@	7½
Mutton	8½@	9½
Lard	8⅝
Pork loins	11
Veal	9
DRESSED POULTRY.
Springs, per lb.	14
Hens, per lb.	13
Spring ducks	14
Turkeys	19
Geese	13	@ 14
HAY.
Timothy, per ton	9 00
Upland, per ton	8 00
FEED.
Bran, per ton	17 00
Oats, per bus.	32
Shorts, per ton	18 00
FISH.
Trout, per lb.	10
Pike, per lb.	10
White, per lb.	10	@ 12½
Lake Superior herring	2½
Skinned perch	6
Smelts, No. 1	12
Smelts, No. 2	10
Fresh salmon, per lb.	15
Halibut, per lb.	12½
Oysters standard, per gal.	1 45
Oysters, select, per gal.	1 85

New York.

New York, Feb. 19.—Butter firm; receipts 2,556. Street prices, extra creamery, 28c; official prices, creamery, common to extra, 16@28c; state dairy, common to extra, 15@26c; renovated, common to extra, 15@20c; western factory, common to firsts, 14@17c; western imitation creamery, extras, 21c; ditto, firsts, 18c. Cheese firm; receipts 1,042. State, full cream, small and large, colored and white, September fancy, 14¼c; ditto, October best, 13¾@13¾c; ditto, late made, small coverage best, 12¾c; ditto, large, 12½c; ditto, fair, 11½@12c; skims, full to light, 3½@11¾c. Eggs weak; receipts 7,279. State, Pennsylvania and nearby fancy, selected white, 20@21c; ditto, choice, 18@19c; ditto, mixed extra, 17c; western, firsts, 15c; ditto, seconds, 14@14½c; southerns, 12@15c.

Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Butter, firm; creameries, 19@27½c; dairies, 17@24½c. Eggs, weak, at mark, cases included, 13½c. Cheese firm; daisies, 13c; twins, 11¾@12c; Young Americas, 13c.

BONANZA CIRCLE STOCKS

Telephones—Duluth, 1408. Zenith, 971. Headquarters 404-405 Palladio Bldg. Duluth, Minnesota.

FRED H. MERRITT

I devote my entire time to buying and selling on commission and guarantee best prices. I confine myself to the most active stocks and make a specialty of large orders.

My personal customers buy on the low and sell on the high. The following prices prevailed Monday, Feb. 19, 1906:

COMPANY.	Open.	High	Low	Close.
North Butte Mining Company	$ 86.00	$ 86.00	$ 84.00	$ 85.00 B
Calumet & Arizona	118.00	118.00	118.00	118.00 A
Calumet & Pittsburg	37.50	38.50	37.

A Card to the Public

2 p. m., Feb. 19, 1906.

Our sale opened this morning with such a rush and so many goods have been sold up to this time that our delivery is swamped already and we must ask your indulgence. We shall do our best to serve all, but things will be delayed, and must be delivered in order.

Yours truly,

French & Bassett
DULUTH, MINN.

Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.

OBJECT TO RATE BILL

Railroad Men of Wyoming Send Many Petitions to Senate.

Many Petitions Also Received Against Senator Reed Smoot.

Washington, Feb. 19.—When the senate convened today Mr. Warren presented 578 letters from railroad employes in Wyoming praying against the enactment of railroad rate legislation as proposed by the Esch-Townsend bill of the last session, on the ground that it would tend to a reduction of wages.

Mr. Perkins presented a petition against Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, retaining his seat, signed by several thousand women in California. The petitioners asked the California senator to accompany the petition with a few remarks defining his position. In carrying out this recommendation, Mr. Perkins said it was the duty of a senator to sit as a juror on the conduct of a colleague and that the chief qualifications to determine the member's eligibility was that he should be a good citizen and honest man of good character, possessing all the attributes that command the confidence and respect of his fellow men. Whatever his private belief, said Mr. Perkins, religious matters should have no weight in disqualifying a member from occupying the high position of senator of the United States. Mr. Perkins spoke against retracing steps to a period when religious war devastated the earth. He said that our government was built on freedom of conscience and unquestioned individuality of expression concerning religious degree abridge this freedom.

Mr. Patterson presented a petition against Mr. Smoot signed by several thousand Colorado women and said that great constitutional questions were involved and in casting his vote he intended to be governed by the constitutional rights of the person against whom the proceedings were pending.

At the conclusion of routine proceedings, the senate today began consideration of the pure food bill.

The senate continued the pure food bill discussion postponing the statehood bill until after the food bill is disposed of.

IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The house today passed a bill to prohibit gambling in the territories. Its consideration resulted in a sharp clash between Delegate Mark Smith of Arizona and Mr. Littlefield of Maine.

The house passed a bill making it the duty of the census office to compile reports of life, fire and marine insurance, fisheries, electrical industries, savings banks and judicial statistics of crime.

OTHER ARRANGEMENTS

Will Have to be Made for Property by Government.

L. M. Willcuts, collector of the port of Duluth, and his son, Walter Willcuts, have returned from a trip to Washington and other Eastern points. Mr. Willcuts did not know of the choice of site made by the courthouse commission until his return, but says that he thinks the commission chose very sensibly.

However, this choice compels him to write today to the secretary of the treasury, Senators Nelson and Clapp and Congressman Bede, advising them of the choice of the county for a new courthouse, and requesting them to withdraw the bill now before congress providing for the purchase of four of the lots taken by the county. The government, some time ago, decided to purchase or condemn the four lots at the corner of Fourth avenue west and First street, on which to erect an additional government building, as the present one is getting too small. A bill was presented to congress providing for this, and appropriating $90,000 for the purpose. Now, however, other arrangements will have to be made.

Just what arrangements will be made is, of course, purely problematical at this time. It may be that the property at the rear of the government building, now owned and resided on by Capt. Alexander McDougall, may have to be condemned, or it may be that the property across Fifth avenue west, from the present federal building, will have to be condemned. In the latter case a tunnel would have to be run under the avenue, connecting the two buildings for heat, postoffice and other accommodations. However, all that will be threshed over later.

Crowds Look at Mataafa.

Yesterday's warmth and pleasantness led many Duluthians down to the harbor entrance and the wreck of the steamer Mataafa, which met disaster in the furious storm which swept the lake the last of November. Pedestrians strolled down there, walked out on the ice to the wreck and clambored aboard her. They examined the boat fore and aft and recounted to their friends how the wreck occurred. In some places, however, the ice had cracked and one man fell in up to his knees, but got out unharmed.

Royal Leaguers to Dance.

This evening will be ladies night at the session of Zenith Council, No. 161, Royal League. These occasions have been made very pleasant ones this winter. There will be the usual program of dancing and cards. Refreshments will also be served. Another large class will be initiated to the order March 5, and the members have been invited to the hop this evening. The coming installation will be conducted by H. H. Stone, state organizer.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fullness, belching, gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by all druggists.

Special February Sale of Furniture

To make room for new goods. To move them quick we have cut our regular low prices to about manufactory prices. Below we quote a few bargains:

Parlor Davenports 5 feet long—oak panel—solid plush cover at $23.50, worth $30—others at $25.00, $28.00, $36.00, up to $68.00.

Iron Bed—heavy and well filled at $2.50, $3.00, $4.00, $5.40, $6.00, up to $21.00.

Brass Beds — 2-inch posts, heavy fillers, at $33.40, $36.00, $39.80, up to $46.40. A snap while they last.

Princess Dresser in maple, oak, and birds' eye maple, long oval glass, at $11.00 up to $43.00.

Pillar Extension Table, quarter sawed oak, top 42 inches, at $12.00; others at $14.75, $18.75, $22.50, up to $36.00.

Chiffoniers—Oak, five drawers, from $5.85, $9.75, $12.50, up to $25.00.

Birds' eye maple at $12.50, $16.00, $24.00, up to $38.00.

Weathered Oak Dining Table, 24 inches—$6.00 and up.

Library Table—24x36 top, at $9.00 up to $25.00.

Mission Roker and Chair, $3.25—worth $4.75 up to $20.00.

We can save you from 20 to 50 per cent over installment prices. All new goods. We have no goods taken back. Let us prove it by comparing prices. Look us over if in search of values.

BLOEDEL & EBELING,

Gray-Tallant Co. Third Floor.

117 AND 119 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.

OBJECTION BY FRIENDS

Opposition to A. P. Freeburg's Share of Nils Larson's Inheritance.

Committee Investigates and Reports What it Considers Right.

A hearing of more than ordinary interest was had before Probate Judge Middlecoff this morning in district court room No. 3. It was to take testimony relative to determining whether L. A. Barnes, guardian of Nils Larson, shall be directed to make a settlement of the claims of A. P. Freeburg against Larson's estate, along the line of the recommendations of a committee of citizens that was appointed early in the year to investigate the matter.

Larson will be remembered as the old gentleman that Mr. Freeburg has cared for at his home for some time past, and who about a year ago suddenly disappeared, being found near Carlton after several days' absence. He was formerly a resident of this county, near New Duluth, where he is said to have led the life of a hermit, becoming old and feeble and finally coming into actual want.

He went to Mr. Freeburg and represented that he had received word from relatives in Sweden of an inheritance awaiting him, but informing him that, according to the Swedish law he was legally dead and would have difficulty in establishing his claim.

Mr. Freeburg, it is said, was requested to take up the matter and investigate with a view of effecting a collection if possible. After a long correspondence, and a determined effort on the part of other heirs to exclude Larson from participation in his father's estate, he is said to have established his claim through the efforts of Freeburg and attorneys in the old country, and received $1,441.80 as a portion of the inheritance.

Some time after the inheritance was received, a committee composed of David Sang, Rev. C. A. Aldeen, Rev. John A. Anderson, Thomas Olafson, J. A. Lindvall, W. B. Getchell and S. J. Nygren, was appointed to investigate the conditions of a fair settlement of the latter's claim for services rendered.

The committee had a meeting with the interested parties Jan. 28 last, and found the facts as to Freeburg's care for Larson and efforts to secure for him the latter's inheritance about as stated. It was resolved by the committee that if Freeburg had not taken up the matter when he did Larson would undoubtedly have got nothing. It was also resolved that a fair settlement would be to divide the $1,441.80 equally between Larson and Freeburg, Larson to pay Freeburg $161 for his board and care and something like $8 for doctor's care and railroad fare. Freeburg was to pay all the expenses of getting the inheritance, which amounted to $214.72.

The committee report stated that in November, 1905, Larson purchased by a contract for deed, some Grassy Point lots from Freeburg on which he paid $1 down and at a later date paid about $400. He was to pay $900, but changed his mind and decided he would rather have the money. Freeburg, it is claimed, agreed to cancel the contract and return the money paid down.

The committee found that there is still pending another portion of the inheritance, and it recommends that it be divided equally between Larson and Freeburg, after all necessary legal expenses in the old country are paid.

After the inheritance was received by Larson, some of his friends petitioned for the appointment of a guardian and recommended a Lake avenue resident. The court appointed L. A. Barnes of West Duluth.

Opposition to the terms of the settlement between Freeburg and Larson on the recommendations of the committee has developed among the friends who wanted the other person appointed guardian, and the public hearing was held to enable the court to determine the merits of the settlement.

Among those examined this morning were Mr. Freeburg, David Sang and others of the committee that investigated the Larson case last January. It was intended to take additional evidence this afternoon.

H. W. Lanners represented the guardian and M. Douglas looked after the interests of the other people who appeared.

GRANT LODGE TO CELEBRATE

Colored Knights of Pythias Will Hold First Annual Banquet.

Members of Grant lodge, No. 3, Knights of Pythias, and their ladies will gather for their first annual banquet and musicale in their castle hall, 112 West First street, this evening.

This lodge is composed of colored Pythians and the occasion of their first anniversary is to be a merry one and an elaborate program has been arranged. It will be interspersed with dances, and the serving of refreshments will wind up the evening.

Following the opening ode by the lodge, D. H. Saunders will deliver an address on "The Progress of Pythianism" and J. Syms will give a bass solo. Other vocal solos will be given by Charles Harding, John Ashe, Mrs. A. Travers of Chicago and Mrs. G. Mosby.

Piano solos will be given by Mrs. Etta Syms, William S. Mosby and Leon P. Rooks of Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Ada Fogg of Superior will give a recitation, P. Pennilton and James Moody will give a mandolin and guitar duet and the Pythian quartet will sing the closing ode.

DETAILS OF HANGING

Of Williams in Newspapers May be Investigated by Grand Jury.

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The publication by the newspapers of the city of full details of the hanging of William Williams may be investigated by the grand jury. The jury met this morning pursuant to adjournment and was briefly charged by Judge Bunn.

Judge Bunn remarked that the publication of the details of the execution in the city press, was in violation of the state law, and that it was within the province of the jury to investigate the matter if it so desired.

Judge Bunn took his action at the request of the Law Enforcement league.

OLD CASES DISMISSED.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 19.—Judge Stuart, in superior court today, granted the motion of Prosecutor Ward to nolle prosse all the remaining cases against those men charged with being involved in the Lake Michigan water deal.

REPORTS TO THE STOCKHOLDERS

President's Statement at Black Mountain Mining Company's Meeting.

Copies of the report made by President W. Z. Stuart to the stockholders of the Black Mountain Mining company at the annual meeting held last week have reached Duluth. It was as follows:

"Our power plant is not excelled and our electric equipment and 120 stamp mill are not equalled in the world. Large production and correspondingly reduced cost are thus assured. Our mine showing as to values is considerably above, and our cost of mining (because of our superior equipment) considerably below the estimate presented in our prospectus.

"Our property has been re-surveyed and our titles re-examined. They are in strict conformity with Mexican Mining laws; are approved by the lower courts, whose decisions confirmed our boundaries, and the supreme court of Mexico confirms the decision of the lower courts; besides which, our titles are practically direct from the Mexican government. If such titles can be invalidated, it would preclude further investment of American capital in Mexico. The primary object of the litigation recently instituted undoubtedly was for the purpose of raiding the stock of the company. Of this our stockholders can easily convince themselves by corresponding with some of the leading Chicago brokers in the stock, to whom the proposals were made along that line and who rejected them.

Unprecedented rain during the last nine months has delayed our work very materially. The rainfall during the past forty days has been especially heavy, so heavy, in fact, as to almost stop progress, so that while today little remains to be done, comparatively little can be done until the rainfall ceases and the wagon roads are passable. We need two weeks of favorable weather to enable us to complete and start the plant. The starting of the stamp mill may be delayed for thirty days and the cyanide plant until sometime in May. Neighboring plants are much more delayed than ours for the same reason.

"We are pushing things to the utmost under these adverse conditions with a view to starting the stamp mill at the earliest possible moment."

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle, and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

COME TO CLOSE SATURDAY NIGHT

Y. M. C. A. Campaign for New Members is Nearing Finish.

The campaign for new members which has been conducted by the Y. M. C. A. during the last two weeks, will be brought to a close Saturday evening.

The present members of the association are divided into two parties known as the "Reds" and the "Blues." R. E. Dunlop is at the head of the latter and B. P. Neff of the former. Each leader has a cabinet of twenty of the more active members to assist him in the work, and the two sides are engaged in keen competition to secure the largest number of new members.

The Blues will hold a grand rally this evening at 7:30 o'clock, when progress will be discussed, and plans for adding new names to the list, talked over informally. A similar rally will be held by the Reds tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Up to the present time only about fifty new names have been handed in by the two leaders, but they are holding back for the finish Saturday night, each preparing to throw in a large number of new names at the last moment for the purpose of overwhelming the opposing side. It is impossible to tell how either side stands at the present time.

BOYS' OVERCOATS AND SUITS!

Your choice of any of our Boys' Overcoats, 16 to 20 years, that sold at $25.00, $22.50 and $20.00; now—

$13.50

Your choice of any of our Boys' Suits, 16 to 20 years, that sold up to $25.00; now—

$15.00

Your choice of any of our Children's Overcoats, 8 to 16 years, that sold up to $16.50; now—

$9.85

Your choice of any of our "Buster Brown" Overcoats that sold up to $12.00; now—

$6.95

The Big Duluth

WILLIAMSON & MENDENHALL

JOHN R. BLACKBURN

Of Duluth Dies at Home of Daughter in Minneapolis.

John R. Blackburn, aged 76 years, died Sunday afternoon at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Willard B. Pillsbury, at No. 706 University avenue southeast, Minneapolis, after an illness of six weeks, from complications arising from an attack of the grip.

Mr. Blackburn came to the United States and settled on a farm near Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1846, with his parents, bringing the first team of horses ever seen in that locality. He lived there for many years, holding the position of postmaster at Rosendale for about twenty years, at the same time conducting a general store. Seventeen years ago he removed to Duluth, and has since made his home with his daughter, Mrs. J. L. Thwing, at 2014 East First street. About three years ago he returned to Wisconsin to attend the funeral of his mother, who died at the advanced age of 100 years and 6 months.

He was prominent in Masonic and business circles during the early history of Wisconsin, and is survived by a widow and six children—Frank Blackburn of Beaumont, Tex.; Elmer, Charles, Burt and Mrs. W. B. Pillsbury of Minneapolis and Mrs. J. L. Thwing of this city.

Headaches and Neuralgia from Colds

Laxative Bromo Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy removes the cause. Call for the full name and look for signature of E. W. Grove. 25c.

NOT BELIEVED TO BE VOLCANO

Fire on Mount Sutton Thought to be From Coal.

Hot Sulphur Springs, Col., Feb. 19.—Little credence is given here to reports that Mount Sutton has become an active volcano and no alarm is felt over the fire on the mountainside. When the flames were first seen, Marshal McQuery, Sheriff Solomon Jones and J. E. Brown, editor of a local paper, made an investigation and reported that they had found fire issuing from a crevice in the rocks. The people of Hot Sulphur are inclined to the belief that it is a coal fire. For several months men have been prospecting for coal in that region, and it is believed they discovered a deposit and in an effort to test its quality set it on fire. This theory is supported by the fact that since the heavy snowfall last night, the fire is scarcely visible from here.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

Of Colombia Attempted—Eight Shots Fired Without Result.

Washington, Feb. 19.—News has reached Washington that on the morning of Feb. 10, an attempt was made to assassinate the president of the republic of Columbia. Eight shots were fired at him, five of which struck his carriage, but he escaped uninjured.

The information came to the state department in a cablegram from Minister Russell at Caracas, which said: "The United States minister at Bogota requests me to send the following: 'On the morning of the 10th, while the president of Columbia was riding in a carriage in the suburbs of Bogota, three mounted men attempted to assassinate him, firing eight shots, five of which struck the carriage. The president was uninjured. The assailants escaped. Much excitement and indignation at the cowardly attempt. The city is quiet.'"

FORMER SPEAKER NEAR UNTO DEATH.

Dubuque, Feb. 19.—Former Speaker David B. Henderson has suffered another paralytic stroke, which has deprived him of his sight. His wife is the only person he recognizes. His general condition is worse. It is believed the end is near.

Charge of Wife Beating.

Accused of committing an assault upon his wife, and beating and maltreating her, Barry W. Armstrong was arrested and arraigned in the municipal court this morning. He pleaded not guilty and asked for a jury trial, which was set for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. He was released on $20 bail.

Our FINAL CLEARANCE SALE

is meeting with the approval of the buying public. A few of the many bargains on winter goods to be had at greatly reduced prices during this sale:

$1.50 Dress Goods in Covert Coating at 93c

$1.00 Broadcloths in all colors at..... 69c

39c French Flannels at..... 22c

10c Fleeced Flannelette at 6½c

$1.75 Mercerized Petticoats at..... $1.39

$8.50 Fur Scarfs at..... $4.75

$25 Fur Coats at $13.50

$20 Women's Suits at $7.50

39c Infants' Kimonos at 24c

$2.00 Feather Pillows at $1.59

65c Double Blankets at 49c

$1.50 Wrappers at 95c

35c silk lined Gloves at 27c

75c Women's Hose at 57c

EXTRA SPECIAL TUESDAY----10 Yards for 44c.

28-inch Percales in fancies, stripes and dots—a good standard cloth, cheap at 7½c

Corner First Ave. West and Superior St. ALBENBERG'S Corner First Ave. West and Superior St.

EVENING STORY

WINIFRED

By Nellie Cravey Gillmore.

(Copyright, 1906, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

She had long yellow curls that looked like glistening columns of gold, bobbing in the sunlight when she walked, or lying in rich satin abundance all over her little fluffy shoulders when she was still. Her eyes were big and round and peculiarly blue—like twin cornflowers—and there were perpetual discs of pink in the small oval cheeks. When Winifred laughed there was a transitory glimpse of something snow-white and deliciously even about the firm, shining row of upper teeth, and an unexpected dimple dawned at either corner of her mouth.

The day was hot to sultriness, the sun beating upon the lake with fierce intensity and transforming it into a great sparkling pool of melted metal. The willows that grew quite down to the water's edge drooped and wilted, and the languid butterflies folded their wings in the shade of them.

Winifred hurried down the road as fast as her long, white-stockinged legs would carry her, the big sun hat—scarlet with poppies—flying back from her head by its muslin ribbons. She found a tempting tuft of grass in the shadow of a giant water oak, and sat down to eat her lunch. When she had finished she crossed her hands in her lap, and sat gazing out across the lake with suddenly tired, absent eyes. She heard the village clock strike two—then three—and all at once the water began to dance and shimmer and grow black before her eyes. A horrible dizziness settled over her, and she flung herself down on the cool, grateful grass and closed her eyes. There seemed to be a perfect babel of noises ringing in her ears, and a lot of people shouting in loud voices. But Winifred took no notice of them; her senses began to wander and she almost laughed out to think how nice and cool and sleepy she was. Then came oblivion.

When the little girl came back to earth again she was lying in her own bed with the pretty canopy of blue satin, and the cloudy white draperies all around. She felt numb and still and listless, and when she opened her lips to speak, her voice sounded so tiny and far away. Many days passed before she was allowed to sit up and hear all about herself and the grave, kind man who had rescued her.

"I should like so much to see him and to—to thank him," said Winifred one day—the first she spent out of bed.

"You may," replied her aunt, "for he is here right now. He was very ill himself that day. The heat played him an even more serious trick than it did you. He has been unconscious ever since he brought you home. But today he is some better, and a while ago expressed a wish to see you as soon as you were well."

Winifred flushed with pleasure and begged to be permitted to go to him at once. "My mother would not care, I am sure," she insisted, as her aunt demurred, "you will not refuse me?"

So the little girl was wheeled into the sick man's room, where he lay pale and prostrated against his pillow. He smiled as she came in and held out his hand. Winifred thought it looked very thin and tremulous, and that his face was even thinner. But it was a good face, she divined that at once, and undeniably good-looking.

"I can never thank you enough," she began, the pink in her cheeks deepening to a vivid scarlet. "What in the world would have become of me if you had not happened upon me?"

The invalid laughed and shook his head. "I'm glad, indeed, that I did," he answered quickly, "but—what on earth would have become of me if your kind aunt had not taken me in?"

"Then I suppose we must be 'quits'?" She laughed merrily, showing all her dimples at once.

The other nodded. "Do you know," he asked presently, "why it was I wanted so much to see you as soon as I could?"

"Won't you tell me?"

"It was because once I had a little girl, with long yellow curls just like yours, and big blue eyes. You—you reminded me a lot of her that day I found you unconscious by the lake. Do you mind my telling you this?"

"No—oh, no. And your little girl—where is she now? She is not—is she—"

"She is not dead. But—"

Winifred looked at him suddenly, with wide, bewildered eyes.

"I—I lost her," the man explained after a pause, and the little girl did not question him further.

"My mamma will be here tomorrow," she remarked, in a change of tone, "and I want you to meet her. She—oh, you don't know how grateful she will be to you. I—she hasn't anyone but me," she added quickly.

"Have you no father?" he questioned gently.

Winifred shook her pretty gold head slowly back and forth. "Not now," she said, her eyes filling with swift tears.

"Never mind. I oughtn't to have asked you. Won't you tell me something about that—mama?" His cheeks lost some of their pallor as he spoke, and a sudden eager look crept into his eyes.

"She is the dearest, best and most beautiful creature in the world!" Winifred broke out, an uplifted smile on her dainty, flushed face. Everybody loves mama. She is so good and kind and true. But her health is not good at all. She has to work so hard—to take care of herself and me, and—I am afraid she is not going to hold out—always. But mama is awfully proud; you'd see that right away. Wouldn't you like to see her picture?"

The sick man nodded, not trusting himself to speak. He watched her in silence as she unfastened the locket from a long gold chain and held it out to him.

"So this is—your mother?" he asked, after a long, long pause.

"Yes, that is she. Now—do you blame me for loving her so much?"

"No; I—I shouldn't blame—any one," he responded slowly.

There was another long silence, during which the door opened and closed on noiseless hinges and some one came softly into the room.

"Mama!"

"My little sweetheart!" The woman clasped her arms about the child and held her in a long, fervent embrace. When she looked up, a pair of dark, eager eyes were fixed upon her.

"This is the gentleman who saved my life, mama. Aren't you—" But the look on her mother's face interrupted her. She broke off, gazing from one to the other with big, wondering, almost comprehending eyes.

"Katharine! For God's sake don't turn away from me now. I—I am a different man. Heaven knows I will try to be worthy of you if you will come back to me and give me one more chance!"

The woman had buried her face in her hands, and her body shook with sobs. When she looked up her eyes were moist and she said: "I am a different woman, too, dear," was all she said. But it seemed to be enough—at least to Winifred—and to Winifred's father.

One Way Second Class "Colonist" Rates to California, Western and Northwestern Points.

Effective Feb. 15, and continuing until March 31, 1906, "The North-Western Line" will sell one way second-class "colonist" tickets to points in California, Arizona, British Columbia, Alberta, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Washington. Some of the rates are as follows:

California common points, $34.90; Seattle and Tacoma, $25; Portland and Ashland, $25; Ogden and Salt Lake, $25; Denver and Colorado Springs, $22.50; Spokane and Walla Walla, $22.50; Helena and Butte, $22.50; Billings, Mont., $15. Intermediate points at proportionate rates. For full particulars call on or address city ticket agent, 302 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn.

Mardi Gras, New Orleans, La., and Mobile, Ala.

February 21 to 25 "The North-Western Line" will sell excursion tickets to New Orleans, La., Mobile, Ala. and Pensacola, Fla., at one fare plus $2.00 for the round trip. Tickets will be good for return until March 17, 1906. City Ticket Office, 302 West Superior street.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF St. Louis.
District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.
In the matter of the petition of Philip Gordon Brown, widower, for a decree for the adoption of Murial Maud Hughes, an infant child.

Upon reading the petition of Philip Gordon Brown for the adoption of Murial Maud Hughes, an infant, it appearing from such petition that the parents of said infant are both dead, and that said infant has no guardian nor next of kin in this State,

It is therefore hereby ordered that the hearing of said petition be had in open Court at the Court House in the City of Duluth, said County and State, on Saturday, the 24th day of March, 1906, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, and

It is hereby further ordered that notice of such hearing be given by the publication of this order once each week for three successive weeks in the Duluth Evening Herald, a newspaper of general circulation published in said County.

Dated Feb. 19, 1906.

HOMER B. DIBELL,
Judge of said Court.

ALEXANDER MARSHALL AND WARREN E. GREENE,
Attorneys for Petitioner.
Suite 566, Prov. Bldg., Duluth, Minn.
Duluth Herald—Feb. 19-26, March 5, 1906.

Famous Elsie Cheese 18c Per Pound. Oppel's Grocery, Sole Agency.

SUFFEL & CO. 131 W. Sup. St.

ELK SKIN SNEAKERS

For Men, Women and Children—something new—the finest thing out for Gymnasium and House-wear—all sizes—at moderate prices.

ASK TO SEE THEM.

QUIT THE "CELLAR OR ATTIC HABIT"— ADVERTISE THE "OUTGROWN THINGS" IN THE HERALD

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SHOPPING BY TELEPHONE.

	Old Phone.	New Phone.
MEAT MARKETS—
B. J. Toben	22	22
Mork Bros.	677-M	189
LAUNDRIES—
Yale Laundry	479	479
Lutes' Laundry	447	447
DRUGGISTS—
Boyce	163	163
Smith & Smith	344-M	7
COAL AND FUEL—
Ohio Fuel Co.	76	76
Pinch Fuel Co.	1291	1291
Upham Coal Co.	256	485
FLORISTS—
Seekins & Le Borious	1356	1026
BAKERIES—
The Bon Ton		1166
ELECTRIC CONTRACTING—
Mutual Electric Co.	496	496
RUBBER STAMP WORKS—
Con. Stamp & Print Co..	702-K	755
PLUMBING AND HEATING—
McGurrin Plumbing & Heating Co.	815	983
STOVE REPAIR WORKS—
C. F. Wiggerts & Son	1154-K	554

PERSONAL.

SPANISH TAUGHT. 519 EAST FIFTH street.

FOR RENT — FINE PIANO, VERY reasonable terms to right party. 702 West Second street.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

FOR RENT—FROM MAY 1, THE rooms of the Windsor Hotel. Call at 502 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—MEAT MARKET WITH good business and good location. Inquire G 33, Herald.

WANTED—A BUSINESS PARTNER with from $2,500 to $5,000 to take active part in one of finest business propositions in city. Address G 51, Herald.

FOR SALE—RESTAURANT AND BAKery; town of 2,000. Address Box 323, Bayfield, Wis.

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—FRIDAY, A BLACK LEATHER music roll, mounted with silver letter R. Return to 306 Lonsdale building for reward.

UPHOLSTERING and REPAIRING

ED OTT, No. 6 W. First St. Both 'phones.

VIOLIN MAKER.

RARE AND OLD VIOLINS REPAIRED; modern violins regraduated so they will improve with age. I develop the fullest tone capacity of every violin submitted. Forty years' experience. Peter Lambert, 124 East Fourth street.

$2000 Will handle a property paying 22 per cent, new building in first-class location, with very good prospects for a rise in value

$5500 For an eight-room brick dwelling on lot 50x140 feet with barn for four horses. House has all modern conveniences, including hot water heat. This is the best bargain offered in the city. Call in and see us about the above.

C. P. CRAIG & CO.,
220 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

HAVE YOUR
Fire Insurance
WRITTEN BY
Mendenhall & Hoopes
208 First National Bank Building.

LITTLE & NOLTE UNDER AM. EX. BANK. ESTABLISHED NEW YORK

HOW IS THIS?

$4200 for double frame flat building, five rooms on each side, near Tenth avenue east, and one block from cars. Concrete foundation, cement floored cellars, hardwood floors, modern plumbing, woodwork grained, decorated throughout, gas, storm windows, etc. 4-16

SUMMONS IN APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION OF LAND.
State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.
District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.
In the matter of the application of Edwin Soli to register the title to the following described real estate situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, namely:
Lots eleven (11) and twelve (12) in block twenty-six (26), Walbank's Addition to Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof, Applicant.
vs.
Edward Hertuen and all other persons or parties unknown, claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the application herein, Defendants.
The State of Minnesota to the above named defendants:
You are hereby summoned and required to answer the application of the applicant in the above entitled proceeding and to file your answer to the said application in the office of the clerk of said court, in said county, within twenty (20) days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and, if you fail to answer the said application within the time aforesaid, the applicant in this proceeding will apply to the court for the relief demanded therein.
Witness, J. P. Johnson, clerk of said court, and the seal thereof, at Duluth, in said county, this sixteenth day of February, A. D. 1906.
J. P. JOHNSON, Clerk.
By J. S. MOODY, Deputy.
(Seal of District Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.
Duluth Herald—Feb. 19-26, March 5, 1906.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

REAL ESTATE, FIRE INSURANCE AND RENTAL AGENCIES.

Wm. Prindle Co., Lonsdale building.
John A. Stephenson, Wolvin building.
Chas. P. Craig & Co., 220 W. Sup. St.
L. A. Larson & Co., 102 Providence. 'Phones 253.

FOR RENT—ROOMS.

SMALL FURNISHED ROOM FOR rent. 208 West Third street.

FOR RENT — LARGE FRONT ROOM and alcove. 117 West Fourth street.

FURNISHED ROOMS, 716 EAST THIRD street.

FOR RENT — NICELY FURNISHED room. 221 Fifth avenue west.

FOR RENT—FRONT, COZY ROOM. 225 Lake avenue north.

FOR RENT—LARGE STEAM-HEATED room. Call at 315 Pioneer block, for ladies or gentlemen.

FOR RENT—PLEASANT FURNISHED room, electric light, bath, heat; $6 per month. 456 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT—SUITE STEAM HEATED rooms, furnished. 16 Second avenue west.

FOR RENT—DOUBLE FRONT ROOM and single front room, nicely furnished. 123 West First street. Upstairs.

FURNISHED ROOM, NO. 2 MASON flats.

FOR RENT — FIVE ROOMS AT 614 East Fifth street. Inquire John Gonska, 431 East Fourth street.

FOR RENT — FURNISHED ROOM. 232 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT — FURNISHED ROOM; light housekeeping allowed. 210 East Second street.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM. 528 West Second street.

FOR RENT—FLATS.

FOUR-ROOM BASEMENT FLAT; REpairs to suit tenant. 220 West Fourth street.

FOR RENT—FIVE-ROOM FLAT, BATH and all conveniences. 115 Seventh avenue west. $22. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT — THREE-ROOM FLAT, water, light and sewer; rent $15 per month. C. H. Graves & Co., first floor, Torrey building.

FOR RENT—STORE BUILDING, FLAT and barn; fine location for saloon; first-class repair. Thomas W. Wahl & Co., 201 Exchange building.

FURNISHED FLATS. ZEN. 787-Y.

FOR RENT—HOUSES.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE, water, bath, electric light. 518 East Sixth street; call 518½ East Sixth street.

NINE-ROOM HOUSE, 2605 WEST Third street. Steam heat. Barn on premises. Apply Dr. Davis, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street. Afternoons.

FOR RENT — HOUSE 505 WEST MICHigan street. Call at Fifth Avenue Clothing store.

FOR RENT — ONE SEVEN-ROOM house; city water and sewer; good repair. 2029 West Huron street.

FOR RENT—NINE-ROOM HOUSE, HOT water heat; all conveniences. 702 West Second street, $55. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM DWELLing, 102 South Sixteenth avenue east; possession March 1. Telephone 1123-R Rent, $32.50.

FOR RENT — NINE-ROOM HOUSE, Park Terrace, Eighth avenue west and First street; strictly modern; steam heat included. Apply 205 Lyceum building.

HORSES FOR SALE.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION. GREAT horse auction sales every Wednesday. Remember that every horse sold at auction must be just as represented or money cheerfully refunded. From 500 to 1,000 head of horses and mules offered at auction every Wednesday. Private sales daily.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN.

Great Midway Horse Market, St. Paul, Minn.

Take Interurban street cars from either city.

RECEIVED — TWO CARLOADS OF logging horses; prices lowest. L. Hammel company.

PRIVATE SALES DAILY.
A large assortment to select from, good horses at right prices.
BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN,
Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN
Have the largest assortment of horses in the entire Northwest. Auction every Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Private sales daily. Part time given.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

MUSIC and musical merchandise of every description. Edison phonographs, band and orchestra instruments, pianos and organs. INGVALD WHSTGAAKD, 7 and 9 First Avenue West.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

DR. BURNETT—Top floor Burrows Bldg.

UPHOLSTERING.

TELEPHONE YOUR UPHOLSTERING wants to Cameron. He will call at your residence with a complete assortment of coverings and estimate your work. Zenith 'phone 787. Bell, 325-L.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

FOR SALE—HOUSES.

NOTICE TO YOU WHO PAY RENT—Call on us, we will show you how to own your own home by paying for it with the money you are paying for rent? Let us show you the homes we have sold on this plan. S. S. Williamson, 615 Torrey building. New, 135. Old, 1351.

LOAN OFFICES.

WE LOAN MONEY ON WATCHES, diamonds and all articles of value. Established the longest. The most reliable up-to-date place in the city. All business strictly confidential. Fire and burglar-proof safes. Crescent Brokers, 413½ West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY LOANED ON FURNIture, pianos, cattle, horses, wagons and all kinds of personal property; also to salaried people on their own notes. Easy payments.
WESTERN LOAN COMPANY,
521 Manhattan Building.
New 'phone, 936. Old 'phone, 759-R.

NOTICE!
SALARY LOANS
AND
FURNITURE LOANS
ON EASY TERMS.
Everything confidential.
DULUTH FINANCE COMPANY,
301 Palladio.

MONEY TO LOAN ON WATCHES, diamonds, furs and all goods of value, from $1.00 to $1,000. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street. Look for electric sign. Established 1887.

MONEY TO LOAN ON RIFLES AND shotguns. We keep all guns until next season before they are sold. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN, ANY AMOUNT. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange building.

UNION LOAN CO. makes loans, buys notes and mortgages. 210 Palladio.

MONEY SUPPLIED TO SALARIED people and others upon their own notes, without security, easy payments. Offices in fifty-one cities. Tolman, 609 Palladio building.

WANTED—LOAN OF $500 FROM PRIvate party; good security. X. Y. Z., Herald.

FOR SALE—COWS.

S. M. KANER HAS JUST ARRIVED with a carload of fresh milch cows. 1219 East Seventh street. Zenith 'phone, 1387.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

A COMPLETELY FURNISHED 28-room boarding house for sale at a bargain; central location. C. G. H., Herald.

MUSICAL.

Piano lessons at your home by competent teacher. Latest and best methods. 35c a lesson. Address V 35, Herald.

WANTED—TO BUY.

WANTED TO BUY—A GOOD HORSE about 1,400 to 1,500 weight. Address H. I. S., Herald.

WANTED—TO BUY 800 CHICKENS FOR delivery March 1. Address, stating price, Riverside Park Poultry Co., 1194 West Fourth street.

STANDING TIMBER IN MINNESOTA. Address V 9, Herald.

OLD CLOTHES BOUGHT.

G. SHAPIRO, 721 W. SUP. ST., BUYS and sells old clothes. Zenith 1582-X.

BIRTHMARKS REMOVED.

MANICURING, FACE AND SCALP treatments. Miss Kelly, opp. Glass Blk.

STOVE REPAIRS.

DULUTH STOVE REPAIR WORKS, 217 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE—SIX-ROOM HOUSE, EAST end; water and gas; good stone basement; two blocks from car line. M 62, Herald.

FOR SALE—CORRECT MAPS OF CUYuna iron range. Morrison, 416 Torrey building.

PONY SLEIGH—AT A BARGAIN. ADdress M 92, Herald.

FOR SALE—ONE 2½-H. P., ONE 4-H. P., one 12-H. P., one 24-H. P., and one 28-H. P., second-hand marine gasoline engines, with complete equipment; also several stationary engines. Enterprise Machine company, Minneapolis, Minn.

"SHAKESPEARE" STOCK BOUGHT and sold. Morrison, 416 Torrey Bldg.

FOR SALE—CHEAP; YOUNG LADY'S fur coat; latest style. 826 East Second.

FOR SALE—INDIAN TOBACCO AND cigar sign; large. E. S., Box 496, Houghton, Mich.

DRY PINE WOOD FOR SALE ON MEsaba ore docks; 50c and 75c a load. P. H. Kiely, 5226 Colorado street, Lester Park.

A FINE LIBRARY OF CHOICEST books for sale. Books all new, 180 volumes. Cost $800. Will sell for $180. Address G 34, Herald.

UPRIGHT PIANO, $150; COST $325; USED four months. 11 First avenue west. Flat 2.

FOR SALE CHEAP— COOK STOVE. People's Moving Co. Inquire at office.

FOR SALE—SOUND HORSE, WEIGHT 1,425, 7 years old. 1536 West Michigan street. S. Vidas.

FOR SALE — KITCHEN CABINET, gas range and other household furniture. Address W. R. B., Herald.

FOR SALE—LEASE OF FOURTEEN-room rooming house, and furniture of seven bedrooms; must be cash. Parties leaving city. M 85, Herald.

FOR SALE—NEW AND SECOND-HAND hoisting engines, stationery engines, boilers and machinery. Clyde Iron Works.

FOR SALE—A FEW GOOD SECOND-hand ranges. City Stove Repair Works. 334 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

FOR SALE—SMALL-SIZE DRESS COAT and vest, in first-class condition; a bargain. Address N. T. C., Herald.

THE GOPHER SHOE REPAIR WORKS does it while you wait.

WATCH REPAIRING.

WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING done promptly and in a thorough manner. J. Gruesen, 129 West Superior St.

COMPOUND and VAPOR BATHS.

WE CURE COLDS, RHEUMATISM, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, gout and all blood poisons, give magnetic compound vapor baths. No. 16 E. Sup. St. Mr. and Mrs. A. Ecker, proprietors.

Watch Repairing and Engraving.

W. S. W. BLAKE, WATCHMAKER, Kugler's drug store, 108 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn. Formerly with F. D. Day & Co.

PATENT ATTORNEYS.

INVENTORS, ATTENTION!—PATENTS in all countries promptly obtained, sold, leased, manufactured; models made; twenty-five years established; unexcelled reputation; inventors' book free. Address Patent Market, St. Paul, Minn.

SATIN TOILET SPECIALTIES.

A "just right" article: Satin skin powder is made in 4 alluring tints. 25c.

TENTS AND AWNINGS.

POIRIER & CO., 106 East Superior street.

CLEANING AND REPAIRING.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE; BEST OF workmanship. Suits pressed, 50c; pants, 15c. 118 First avenue west. Old 'phone 1430-L.

PALMIST.

CONSULT GIRARD, MATTERS OF business and domestic affairs. Parlors next to Bijou.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—MEN TO LEARN BARBER trade. Now is the time to prepare for the "busy season." Write for "free" Ill. catalog. Moler Barber Col., Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED — CANTHOOK MEN, UNloading logs; steady work for good men. Apply at foot of L avenue, Superior, near Murray-McCann mill. Edw. Hines Lumber company.

WANTED—FOR THE UNITED STATES marine corps, unmarried men between the ages of 21 and 35, able-bodied, of good character and temperate habits, citizens of the United States, or who legally declare their intention to become such; must speak, read and write English; marines serve at sea, on men-of-war, in all parts of the world, on land in our island possessions and at navy yards in the United States. Recruits desiring service in the Philippine Islands may be enlisted accordingly. Apply at 5 South Fifth avenue west Duluth.

MEN WANTED TO COME TO US IF you are suffering from any disease peculiar to your sex. We cure Varicocele, Syphilis, Stricture, Gonorrhoea, Bladder and Kidney diseases, Lost Vitality and all pelvic troubles. Established in Duluth. We cure to stay cured, and you can take our opinion as final. If your case is curable, we will cure you. Progressive Medical association, No. 1 West Superior St., upstairs.

WANTED — FOR UNITED STATES army, able-bodied unmarried men, between ages of 21 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write English. For information apply to recruiting officer, Torrey building, Duluth, Minn.

WANTED—AN ELDERLY GENTLEman or lady to canvas for a novelty in hams and bacon. Gasser's grocery.

WANTED—MAN TO DELIVER GROceries. Call George H. Schulenburg, 1730 London road.

WANTED—MAN OVER 21 TO TRAVEL for wholesale house; staple line; $15 per week and expenses to start; experience unnecessary; advancement April 1. Address with stamped envelope, F. W. Potts, Sykes block, Minneapolis.

JOB COMPOSITORS—SIX. $18 PER week, 54 hours. Linotype operator, scale. Permanencies absolutely guaranteed competents. A. B. Farnham Printing Co., Minneapolis.

WANTED — APRIL 1, MARRIED MAN as farm tenant, twenty miles from Duluth. For particulars address Box 35, Wrenshall, Minn.

WANTED—COATMAKER. B. E. WELLbig, 2004 West Superior street.

WANTED — YOUNG MAN EXPERIenced in paint line as salesman and office man. Apply at once, giving references. Address S 9, Herald.

MEN WANTED—TO STOP USING OLDfashioned mixtures, such as Buls. Copaiba, Sandalwood Oil, etc. Get the new cure, "Mexican Oil Treatment," for $1.25. Sold only at "Guarantee Drug Store," 620 Tower avenue, Superior, Wis.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

BOY—AGE 15, WOULD LIKE WORK after school and Saturday. Call at 611½ West Superior street, rear.

COMPETENT YOUNG MAN STENOGrapher and assistant bookkeeper desires position with part outside work. G 49, Herald.

YOUNG MAN DESIRES POSITION AS assistant bookkeeper, can furnish best of references and is a good penman. M 87, Herald.

SITUATION WANTED BY THOROUGHly experienced office man. Railroad or commercial work. First-class references. Address M 71, Evening Herald.

ACCOUNTANTS.

BOOKS CORRECTLY WRITTEN UP and audited by thoroughly qualified expert accountant. Auditor, Herald.

BOOKS POSTED OR CORRECTED. Terms reasonable. X 82, Herald.

MILLINERY.

Miss Fitzpatrick, 604 E. 4. Old 'phone.

M. A. COX, 330 EAST FOURTH STREET.

PICTURE FRAMING.

DECKER'S, 16 SECOND AVENUE W.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—GIRL FOR KITCHEN AND one for chamber work. 2532 West Superior street.

WANTED—GOOD GIRL FOR GENeral housework. 322 West Third street.

WANTED—A COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. Apply Mrs. J. C. Adams, 1528 Ogden avenue, Superior, Wis.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED GIRL FOR general housework. 3 Lafayette flats.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Mrs. H. V. Eva, Hunter's Park.

WANTED — EVERY WOMAN TO TRY Dr. Le Gran's Female Regulator. Guaranteed. Kugler, Your Druggist, 108 West Superior street.

WANTED—GIRL. 316 WEST SECOND street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 18 West Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 909 East Fourth street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1001 East Second street.

WANTED — EXPERIENCED WAIST makers. MacKenzie Sisters, 301 Burrows building.

GIRL WANTED AT ONCE FOR GENeral housework, at 730 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

WANTED — DISHWASHER. CALL evenings. The Vienna bakery, 207 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1117 West Michigan street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework; family of two; snap. 504 Wieland flats.

GIRL—GENERAL HOUSEWORK; NO children; modern house. 611 Woodland avenue.

WANTED—COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework, two in family. Apply No. 1 Adams Flats.

WANTED — CHAMBERMAID. 239 ST. Croix avenue.

WANTED — AT ONCE, COMPETENT waist and sleeve drapers and waist finishers, also plain sewers. Miss Lambert, 220 West Superior street.

WANTED — KITCHEN GIRL AT 2004 West Superior street.

WANTED—GIRL, AT WEST HOTEL, 1915 West Superior street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

LADY WANTS WORK BY THE DAY. Call at 611½ West Superior street, rear. Upstairs.

WOMAN WANTS WORK AS CHAMbermaid or dishwasher. M 70, Herald.

POSITION WANTED BY AN EXPErienced lady stenographer, with good references; law work preferred. M 69, Herald.

WANTED—PLACES TO GO OUT cleaning by the day. 21 East Sixth street. Mrs. Hassler.

WANTED — POSITION AS HOUSEkeeper, by middle-aged woman G 29, Herald.

GIRL WOULD LIKE WASHING TO take home; will also go out by the day. 405 Eighth avenue east.

WANTED—SEWING BY YOUNG LADY, will either take sewing at home or go out by the day. 405 Eighth avenue east.

BOARD OFFERED.

LARGE, FRONT ROOM WITH BOARD for two gentlemen in private family. 130 West Third street.

BOARD AND NICELY FURNISHED rooms. 122 East First street.

BOARD AND ROOM, 117 E. THIRD ST.

FOR RENT—STORES.

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM, 121 SECond avenue west. Apply E. R. Jefferson.

DYE WORKS.

DULUTH DYE WORKS, 3 W. SUP. ST., 2023 W. Sup. St. Old, 1341-L; Zenith, 1334.

ZENITH CITY DYE WORKS, LARGEST and most reliable dye works in Duluth. First-class work guaranteed. Work called for and delivered. Both 'phones. 6 East Superior street.

CHEMIST AND ASSAYER.

C. F. JOYCE, 631 MANHATTAN BLDG. Old 'phone 1614.

COD LIVER OIL.

1905 IMPORT COD LIVER OIL. Alfred Swedberg, 2015 West Superior St.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. A. FERGUSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, 617 Fifth avenue east. Also private hospital. Old 'phone 454-L.

CIVIL ENGINEER.

DULUTH ENGINEERING CO.—W. B. Patton, Mgr., 613 Palladio Bldg. Specifications prepared and construction superintended for waterworks, sewers, etc.

FIRE INSURANCE

WRITTEN IN BEST COMPANIES. Cooley & Underhill. 207 Exchange Bldg.

IF YOU WILL BRING

Suit to 10 Fourth avenue west, we press it for 50c; pants, 15c. J. Oreckovsky.

MEDICAL.

FOR WOMEN ONLY—DR. RAYMOND'S Pills. Women's Monthly Regulator, has brought happiness to thousands of anxious women; no pain, no danger. We have never known of a single failure. Price $2 by mail. Raymond's Monthly Regulator in liquid, $3. Dr. R. G. Raymond Remedy company, Room 27, 84 Adams street, Chicago, Ill.

STENOGRAPHY.

GRACE BARNET, FIRST NAT. BLDG.

E. MAUNU, 330 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

ARCHITECTS.

FRANK L. YOUNG & CO., 202 Pal. Bldg.

CLOTHES WRINGERS REPAIR'D

RUBBER ROLLS REPLACED, AND extra parts of all makes of wringers; also we sell best high-grade wringers, washing machines, etc. Special agents for American Wringer company. Interstate Mercantile company, No. 231 East Superior street.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

MASONIC.

PALESTINE LODGE, NO. 79, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings, first and third Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 19, 1906. Work, Second degree, Charles A. Bronson, W. M.; H. Nesbitt, secretary.

IONIC LODGE, NO. 186, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings second and fourth Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 26, 1906. Work—Third degree. John Cox, W. M.; H. S. Newell, secretary.

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, NO. 29, R. A. M. —Stated convocations second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 28, 1906. Charles A. Payne, H. P.; Alfred Le Richeux, secretary.

DULUTH COMMANDERY, NO. 18, K. T. —Stated conclave, first Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m. Stated conclave 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 6th. General business, election of officers, Masonic Temple. C. W. Wilson, Em. Com.; Alfred LeRicheux, recorder.

SCOTTISH RITE.
Regular meetings every Thursday evening of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Thursday, Feb. 22, 1906. Work—Eighteenth degree. J. E. Cooley, secretary.

EUCLID LODGE, NO. 198, A. F. & A. M. —Regular meetings first and third Wednesday evenings of each month at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 21, Work—Second degree. W. J. Darby, W. M.; A. Dunleavy, secretary.

K. O. T. M.

DULUTH TENT, NO. 1, MEETS EVERY Wednesday, in K. O. T. M. hall, 224 West First street. Visiting Sir Knights always welcome. J. P. Peterson, commander; Charles J. Hector; finance keeper, 32 West First street. J. B. Gelineau, record keeper, office in hall. For rent of hall apply at record keeper's office. Hours, 10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and Saturday evenings.

MODERN SAMARITANS.

ALPHA COUNCIL, NO. 1, meets at Elks' hall every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 15. Benedicent Degree. T. J. McKeon, G. S.; Lucy Purdy, L. G. S.; Wallace P. Wellbanks, scribe; T. A. Gall, financial scribe.

A. O. U. W.

FIDELITY LODGE, NO. 105, meets at new Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. J. Patsnkowski, M. W.; W. W. Fenstermacher, recorder; O. J. Murvold, financier, 20 East Fifth street.

A. O. U. W.

DULUTH LODGE, NO. 10, meets in Odd Fellows' hall every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. William J. Stephens, W. M.; T. J. St. Germain, 110 First avenue west, financier; H. B. Ivens, recorder. Sick benefit meets at 7:30 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

NORTH STAR LODGE, K. of P., No. 35, meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Work—3rd rank, Feb. 20, at 118 West Superior street. J. A. Wharton, C. C.; T. L. Foss, K. R. S.

I. O. F.

COURT COMMERCE, NO. 8283, Independent Order of Foresters, meets first and third Friday evenings at 8 o'clock at Rowley's hall, No. 112 West First street. Next regular meeting March 2, 1906—Initiation. F. A. Tupper, C. R.; W. W. Hoopes, R. S.

FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES.

DULUTH AERIE, NO. 79, MEETS every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Eagle hall, Folz building, 116 West Superior street. J. W. Parker, W. P.; J. W. Schroeder, secretary, 11 First avenue east. Apply to W. E. Brown, 417 West Superior street, for rental of hall.

M. W. A.

IMPERIAL CAMP, NO. 2206, meets at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, second and fourth Tuesdays. Visiting members always welcome. S. F. Staples, V. C.; N. P. Turnbladh, banker; R. Rankin, clerk, 1322 Jefferson street.

CLAN STEWART, NO. 50, O. S. C., meets first and third Wednesday of each month at 8 p. m. in Folz hall, West Superior street. John G. Ross, chief; Malcolm MacDonald, secretary; John Burnett, financial secretary, 10 Mason flats. Next meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 21.

ROYAL LEAGUE.

ZENITH COUNCIL, NO. 161, Royal league, meets in Elks' hall, first and third Monday evenings, at 8 o'clock. George L. Hargreaves, archeon; L. P. Murray, scribe, 1815 East Fifth street.

KNIGHTS OF THE LOYAL GUARD—Suburban division, No. 132, meets first and third Wednesday evenings of each month, Hall A, Kalamazoo block. E. F. Heller, captain-general; H. V. Holmes, paymaster, 415 Fifteenth avenue east; Mrs. Mary P. Foster, recorder, 720 Third avenue east.

MODERN MACCABEES—ZENITH CITY Tent, No. 1044, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. Commander, Chas. E. Norman, record keeper and finance keeper, A. G. Case, care Union depot, after 1 p. m., residence, 412 West Fourth street.

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF STEAM Engineers—Local Union, No. 15, meets first and third Thursday evenings, third floor, Room 2, Axa building. President, John F. Gogins; vice president, O. C. Hanson; financial secretary, E. V. Robinson; recording secretary, L. W. Gilleland; treasurer, C. J. Wendt; conductor, Andrew Wold; guard, William Beatty.

U. O. F.

COURT EASTERN STAR, NO. 86, UNITed Order of Foresters, meets every first and third Tuesdays of every month at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street. Visiting brothers and sisters always welcome. Next meeting Feb. 20, Social dance. J. B. Gelineau, C. R., 224 Ninth avenue east; Harry Milnes, treasurer. Office at hall, avenue east; Harry Milnes, treasurer. Of-

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. HANSON, GRADUATE MIDWIFE, female complaints. 413 Seventh avenue east. Old 'phone, 1594; Zenith, 1225.

"HERALD WANTS" BRING QUICK RESULTS

DULUTH EVENING HERALD

TWENTY-THIRD YEAR. LAST EDITION. TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1906. (ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS.) TWO CENTS.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

DETECTIVE WHO BROKE UP MOLLY MAGUIRES SAYS HE HAS PLENTY OF EVIDENCE TO HANG MANY MINERS

McParland Tells Startling Story of Western Federation Crimes.

Denies Report That He Has Secured Confession From Orchard.

Has Worked Up Case Himself at Request of Idaho's Governor.

Denver, Feb. 20.—In an interview published here today, Detective James McPartland denies the report that he secured a confession from Harry Orchard, who is charged with the murder of Former Governor Frank Steunenberg at Caldwell, Idaho, Dec. 30, last, implicating the officers of the Western Federation of Miners and many others in the crime, though he claims to have evidence of their guilt.

"There have been statements made by various persons," said Officer McParland, "but I know of none made by Orchard.

"I understood the investigation of Governor Steunenberg's death at the request of his personal friend, Governor Gooding, and Governor Gooding has personally paid what expenses have been incidental on my investigation.

"I felt it my duty as a citizen of Colorado to uproot the gang and as such, I understand the work. These fellows thought that is was so long ago that I had broken up the Molly Maguires that I must now be in my dotage. They were not afraid of me. But there is a weak spot in every wall, especially such a one as that upon which the Western Federation was founded and that weak spot I found. It will cost Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, and as many more their lives."

McPartland claims to have positive evidence that members of the Western Federation planned and carried out the assassination of Detective Lyle Gregory, killed mysteriously in West Denver two years ago, of Martin Gleason, superintendent of the Wild Horse mine at Cripple Creek, who was thrown down a shaft; of Arthur Collins, superintendent of the Smuggler-Union mine at Telluride, who was shot from ambush; of the killing of fourteen men in the explosion at the Independence depot, near Cripple Creek, June 6, 1904; of the murder of Martin B. Walley, who was killed last summer by an explosion in this city and of other murders."

The killing of Walley is said to have been accidental, the nitro glycerine with which he was killed having been placed on a vacant lot, through which Chief Justice Gabbert of the supreme ocurt was accustomed to pass, with the intention of killing him.

McPartland denied the charge that he had kidnaped the Federation officers out of Denver.

"The papers were read," he said, "and were served regularly. I could not be expected to notify their lawyers that Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone were in jail and about to be taken to Idaho.

"They knew that if they were captured they would never be able to clear themselves and were about to leave the country when arrested. They had planned to blow up the train if any attempt was made to remove them to Idaho and for this reason I insisted on having a railroad train take them to Idaho."

COMMENTS ON ROOT'S SPEECH

Made by the Diplomatic Representatives of South America.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The diplomatic representatives of the South Amerocan republics in this city are discussing the speech made by Secretary Root at the dinner which the Brazilian ambassador gave in his honor and in honor of the countries which will send delegates to the Pan-American republics in this city are next summer. Mr. Root talked chiefly about the Monroe doctrine, and said in part: "That when President Monroe, coming to the aid of struggling Spanish-Americans, made the audacious and gallant declaration that no part of the American continents must be deemed subject to colonization by any European power, he affirmed the proposition that all the American republics are competent to maintain, throughout their territories, governments answering to the demands of civilization, preserving order, enforcing laws, doing justice and performing all international obligations.

"To that proposition all of us stand committed. Its truth we all maintain. Every evidence in its support is a source of satisfaction to us. Every forward step in the path of progress by any American republic is a cause of joy to all of us. Let me, then, Mr. Ambassador, pass along the toast which you were good enough to propose to my unworthy self. I ask you to drink to the sisterhood of American republics. May every one of them grow in prosperity and strength. May the independence, the freedom of the rights of the least and weakest be ever represented equally with the rights of the strongest, and may we all do our share towards the building up of a sound and enlightened public opinion of the Americans, which shall everywhere, upon both continents, mightily promote the reign of peace, of order and of justice, in every American republic."

THE McCURDY FAMILY SUED

Suits Brought Against Former Officials of Mutual Life.

Instituted on the Recommendations of Joseph Choate.

New York, Feb. 20.—Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, yesterday authorized the statement that civil suits have been begun in the supreme court against Richard A. McCurdy, former president of the Mutual Life; Robert McCurdy, former general manager, Col. Charles A. Raymond and Louis Thebaud, constituting the firm of Charles A. Raymond & Co., late general metropolitan agents of the Mutual.

Mr. Peabody acted upon the oral advice given about a week ago by Joseph H. Choate, of whom the board of trustees had requested an opinion on the recommendations made by the Truesdale investigation committee, that such suits be instituted.

On communicating with Messrs. McCurdy, Mr. Thebaud and Col. Raymond, it was learned that McCurdy and his son would raise no objection to personal service on the ground of their residence in New Jersey. All the prospective defendants authorized their counsel to accept service in their behalf, and on Thursday last summonses in the court were served upon Richard A. and Robert H. McCurdy, through their counsel, Delancy Nicoll, and upon Louis A. Thebaud and Col. Raymond through their counsel, John S. Wise, former governor of Virginia. Col. Raymond at present is absent from the city on a tour of the South.

No complaints have yet been served in any of the suits, service being by summonses only. Counsel for the several defendants entered an appearance and formally accepted service yesterday.

ENDS HIS LIFE AS A PROTEST

Japanese Occupancy of Korea Did Not Suit a Literary Man.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 20.—Another patriotic suicide in protest to Japanese occupancy in Korea, is reported. Mr. Chong, reputed the most prominent of Confucian literati in Korea, announced that he would commit suicide in protest to the convention with Japan, but the Japanese police prevented him doing so and returned him under guard to his native place. His wife refused to admit him, stating he would be eternally disgraced if he tamely abandoned his determination. He then went to a temple and swallowed opium, leaving a farewell document addressed to the Korean people and another to his fellow literati declaring that death was the only recourse at this juncture for a true Korean patriot.

Fire at Tokio destroyed 445 houses in the Asakusa district on Jan. 31. Several people were burned to death.

Telegrams from Vladivostok to Japanese papers report the destruction of a train loaded with soldiers, which was blown up and precipitated into a river. The loss of life is given as 3,000, but this is considered exaggerated. On Jan. 25, another collision occured between Cossacks and prisoners from Japan, these latter unarmed, and 1,500 were reported killed or wounded. About one third of the wounded were taken to hospitals, the others being left lying on the snow.

Heavy rains in Java have caused great floods, many natives being drowned. The destruction of growing crops and damage by floods will cause great distress.

Prince Poluta, a Mongol prince, chieftain of the Turguta Atili, has been given permission at Pekin to travel in the United States.

The Japanese government has declared March 10, as the date to be celebrated as the anniversary of the war.

MRS. FITZGERALD FAILS TO GET HER DIVORCE.

London, Feb. 20.—The application for the divorce of Mrs. Fitzgerald from Gerald Purcell Fitzgerald, formerly owner of a ranch near Los Angeles, Cal., and a large landowner in Ireland, has failed, the divorce court today ruling that Mr. Fitzgerald was domiciled in Ireland and that therefore the English court had no jurisdiction. Mrs. Fitzgerald, who is a daughter of John Nicholls of Uniontown, Pa., testified that she met her husband during a journey from Chicago to Los Angeles in 1888. Shortly afterwards she married Mr. Fitzgerald, who, she said always claimed to be an Englishman.

Mr. Fitzgerald is a descendant of Edward Fitzgerald, the translator of the "Quatrains" of Oma Khayyam. The couple have been separated for some time.

SIOUX CITY PHYSICIAN DIES.

Sioux City, Iowa, Feb. 20.—Dr. A. P. Dowman, president of the Iowa State Homeopathic society, died suddenly yesterday of heart disease. He was 50 years of age.

A BRAINERD INVENTOR.

Washington, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A patent for a grain door for cars, also for a grain door lock, has been issued to John Feucht of Brainerd, Minn.

PRINCE VON BULOW,
German imperial chancellor, who is confident that Germany will give the United States treaty rights for sixteen months.

WOULD PURCHASE THE PHILIPPINES

Jap Newspapers Say United States Has Made a Failure There.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 20.—Some Japanese newspapers are advocating the purchase of the Philippines from the United States, according to advices received from the steamer Athenian. The Yorodsu Hocho says the Philippines have cost the United States much money and no substantial advantages have been secured, and that Japan could meet with more success, as America has failed because of racial differences between ruler and ruled and the long distance which separates the government and the islands. Concluding, the Yorodshu Hocho illustrates Japanese success in Formosa.

The terrible distress prevailing in the three famine stricken districts of North Japan is exciting profound sympathy elsewhere in the empire. The former tendency to refuse foreign aid having vanished in view of the extreme need. Government aid has been organized and relief work begun. Later advices from the famine zone show that hundreds of persons, including women and children, are perishing from starvation, aggravated by bitter cold.

MASS FOR SAILORS.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The Brazilian ambassador has arranged that a mass for the repose of the souls of the victims of the explosion on the Brazilian battleship Aquidaban will be said at St. Matthew's church Feb. 21 at 10 a. m., at which the ambassador and the staff of the embassy will be present.

RUMORS OF A CONFLICT

Between France and Germany Are Again in Circulation.

Germany's Rejection of France's Proposals Cause of Apprehension.

Paris, Feb. 20.—Germany's rejection of France's proposal at Algeciras that the proposed Moroccan police system shall be French and Spanish, has given renewed gravity to the Franco-German situation. It is officially announced that Germany's action leaves France no course but to terminate the private negotiations and appeal to the judgment of the world before the open conference. This decision suspends the meetings between M. Revoil, head of the French mission at Algeciras, and Herr Von Radowitz, chief of the German delegation, at which they have been seeking to find an accord. The neutral powers, including the United States, strongly approved of these private exchanges as being the best means of avoiding an open discussion of the controversy. The failure to agree, and France's determination to end the private negotiations, bring the parties to a deadlock. This promises to result in a prolonged crisis, in which each side maintains the position which it took up before the open conference. The sentiment in official circles is that Germany's reply tends to destroy the usefulness of the conference by making an agreement impossible.

Reports are in circulation to the effect that France intends to withdraw from the conference, but they are not confirmed, and the determination of the French delegates to carry the case before the open conference shows that the withdrawal stage has not been reached. It is expected that the strained situation will have the effect of renewing the alarmist war reports and of arousing public apprehension.

MINER HIT BY FLYING BOARD

Chisholm Man Meets Death Through Fall of a Stone.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Hankanen, a Finn, was killed at 10 o'clock last night at the new shaft on the Clark location, near this place.

A stone weighing about 250 pounds was being hoisted and in some way, it fell and on the way down struck a plank. A piece of this hit Hankanen on the side of the head, killing him instantly. The shaft is about thirty feet deep.

Hankanen was single and about 28 years of age. His funeral will be held at Hibbing tomorrow.

GOULD TRAIN DITCHED.

Greenville, Tex., Feb. 20.—The second wreck to the Gould system fast mail train occurred early today at a point three and a half miles south of here. The train was ditched, but no one was hurt.

WOMAN THROWS HER THREE CHILDREN OVERBOARD FROM LONG ISLAND SOUND STEAMER AND THEN FOLLOWS THEM

The Shocking Deed of a Brooklyn Woman Mentally Unbalanced.

Leaves Note in Stateroom Telling of Her Awful Deed.

Also Leaves a Brief Will Disposing of Her Property.

Fall River, Mass., Feb. 20.—The officers of the steamer Plymouth of the Fall River line found a part of a woman's wearing apparel and a note saying that she had thrown her three children overboard and was about to follow them herself, n a state room just after the steamer left Newport on her trip from New York to this city today. The officers, upon the arrival of the boat here turned the case over to the local police.

Agent Bushey of the Fall River line, in this city, says that a woman and three children who were on the Plymouth when it left New York were missing when the steamer arrived here.

The woman who threw her three children overboard and committed suicide is believed to have been Mrs. John Waters, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a daughter of Capt. James Brady, collector of the port of Fall River. Mrs. Waters and her husband recently removed to Brooklyn from Chicago. She was said to be suffering from mental trouble for some time.

Among the letters left by the woman was one addressed to John W. Waters, 170 Broadway, New York.

The stateroom occupied by the woman was engaged in New York under the name of B. T. Allen. She is described as being about 35 years old and was well dressed. The three children included a girl about 8 years of age and two small children believed to be boys, one a nursing infant.

The letters found apparently were intended for the woman's husband, one asking forgiveness and saying that she had worried so much that she feared insanity and could not leave the children. The other was in the nature of a will, as it disposed of the personal property of the writer.

One of the missives was written on a part of an envelope the other on a piece of wrapping paper. The note on the envelope read: "Dear Husband: Forgive this trouble. I have nearly broken my heart. Dear John, forgive me for causing you this sorrow, but I could not live and I could not leave our children. I have worried so much. I fear insanity and I could not leave the children."

The letter which disposed of the woman's personal property, contained the name of John W. Waters, 170 Broadway, New York. Various trinkets and articles of wearing apparel were disposed of in the hurriedly written will.

After having searched the boat and found no trace of the woman or the children, the officers became convinced that the woman had thrown them overboard and then leaped after them. Persons occupying state rooms nearby heard one of the children crying at about midnight. From that time until about 3:30 a. m., when the fact was discovered that the state room was unoccupied, no other disturbance was heard.

Upon the arrival of the steamer here, the evidence was turned over to the local police for investigation with the result that her identity was established shortly before noon.

GEN. RAFAEL REYES,
President of the Republic of Colombia, who was fired at eight times by an assassin, but who escaped uninjured.

MYSTERY IN DEATH

Of Gussie Hart, a Black Face Comedienne, Aged 50.

Removed From Cab to Home With Her Skull Fractured.

New York, Feb. 20.—A murder mystery with some features not unlike that of the famous Patterson case of two years ago, is engaging the attention of the police today. As in the crime which cost Caesar Young his life and Nan Patterson, an actress, more than a year of her liberty, a cab and a woman of the stage are the principal features in the mystery of today. The woman, Gussie Hart, was the victim and the carriage, according to the theory of the police, was the scene of her death. Several persons who are thought to know something of the manner in which the woman was killed have disappeared. The first intimation that a crime had been committed came to the police when a physician notified them that he had been called to the house at 261 West Thirty-eighth street to attend a woman and found her dead. Her skull had been fractured. Miss Hart has been appearing in "The Child Wife" at a theater in this city, and had theatrical engagements here until May 6 next.

The police were unable to learn where she was from the time she left the theater last night until several hours later when a cab stopped before the house where she roomed in West Thirty-eighth street. Then, they say, two men took her from the cab and carried her into the house, and a few minutes later the physician was called. He was told that a woman was ill. When he reached the room he found two women and three men at the bedside. Miss Hart was dead. When a coroner, who was notified, reached the room, none of the watchers remained. The body of the woman, with the head terribly battered, was lying undisturbed on the bed, and the walls along the stairway up which it had been carried were smeared with blod. The police are now searching for the cab and for the two men who carried the woman's body to her room.

Miss Hart told the landlady of her boarding house, a few days ago, that her family resided in Washington, D. C.

Later the police arrested Edward Murphy, dancing master, who said that he was with Miss Hart last night, and that he called the doctor. Murphy said that he went with Miss Hart and another actress, about midnight last night, to the Little Savoy, a cafe and saloon, at 69 West Thirty-fifth street. They remained there drinking some time, he said, Miss Hart taking only soft drinks. She was the first one to propose leaving the place. As she was leaving, Murphy said she fell down a flight of twenty steps. She was unconscious when he reached her. Assisted by waiters he carried Miss Hart to a cab and took her to her home.

The police detained as witnesses a negro waiter at the Little Savoy and a boarder at the house in West Thirty-eighth street, where Miss Hart lived, who is said to have seen her brought home. The police are also looking for the other actress who, Murphy says, was in the party last night.

Miss Hart was about 50 years old. She was well known as a black face comedienne. She has a son living in Vermont.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

Some People Fear Danger From Chinese, Others Do Not.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 20.—A cable message has just been received by the secretary of the foreign mission board of the Southern Baptist convention here from Dr. R. J. Bryan, a missionary of that board in Shanghai, China. It reads as follows:

"Shanghai, Feb. 20, 1906.—Willingham, Richmond, Va.: No apparent danger. BRYAN."

The secretary of the board has also received a letter from the department of state in Washington in which the secretary says nothing is known there which would justify the immediate and general withdrawal of missionaries from the interior. It also adds:

"This government is disposed to offer every protection in its power to its citizens in China."

Letters received from missionaries state there is some unrest among the Chinese but no alarm is felt.

Pekin, Feb. 20.—Foreigners here are receiving telegrams from relatives indicating that there is a feeling of alarm abroad over the possibility of an outbreak of Chinese hostility. No disquiet whatever is felt at Pekin. All the foreign ministers agree that the Chinese here, both officials and people, were never more friendly towards foreigners, personally, although following an independent line politically. There is no anti-foreign movement in North Chia likely to lead to hostilities. The trouble at Canton and Shanghai are not felt here.

It is reported from Honan that members of the Big Knife society have killed a number of Chinese Catholics as the result of a local quarrel.

HOW OLD WINTER APPEARS ON SUPERIOR STREET.

FARMER HANGS HIMSELF

On Farm Near Mora After Brutally Assaulting His Wife.

Mora, Minn., Feb. 20—(Special to The Herald.)—M. A. Mason, of this county, residing nine miles southeast of here on a farm, brutally assaulted his wife yesterday morning about 9 o'clock, and leaving her for dead, went to the barn where he procured a rope and hung himself to one of the rafters. An adopted shild was present at the time and witnessed the tragedy. The neighbors were notified and the body cut down after life was extinct. M. A. Mason was a well-to-do farmer, but has been a hard drinker for years. Last summer he went home drunk and nearly killed his wife oy kicking and beating her for which assault he was under indictment and had given bonds for his appearance at the next term of the district court of this count.

ROBBER OF MAIL WAGON MADE A GOOD HAUL.

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—The thief that robbed a local mail carriers wagon, on Feb. 16, carrying away a sack of registered letters, made a larger haul than was at first suspected. Among the loot was a package of bonds, valued at $10,000, en route to the East. There were ten bonds in all, issued by the Philippine Telephone & Telegraph corporation, each valued at $1,000. The securities were the property of two women, one of whom resides at St. Louis, and the other at Kiowa, Kas.

GOLF TOURNEY APRIL 10-11.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The Colombia Golf club has set April 10 and 11 as the dates for the opening tournament which is to be held on its links this spring. The club expects an attendance of between 600 and 700 players, both amateur and professional, at the tournament.

WHISKEY MAY BE PURE OR IMPURE

Hepburn Pure Food Bill Will Not Help, Says Counsel.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Warwick G. Hough of St. Louis, general counsel of the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association, spoke before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce today, in opposition to the Hepburn pure food bill. He said the provisions relating to whisky did not insure purity, and were misleading. A straight whisky may be either pure or impure, he said, and a blended whisky also may either be pure or impure. All whisky is an artificial and not a natural product, and he said it is not satisfactory to compel distillers to make pure their formula for flavoring whisky, as this is a great trade secret that has nothing to do with its purity or impurity.

HUNGARIAN DEPUTIES

Warned That Their Proposed Meeting Will be Prevented.

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 20.—The Official Gazette today published a notification of the royal commissioner, Gen. Nyiri, upholding the legality of yesterday's dissolution of the Hungarian parliament, maintaining that the rescript was read in the presence of thirty or fourty deputies, and warning the deputies that any attempt to hold the sitting of the house convened for tomorrow will be prevented by armed forces.

COMMITS SUICIDE.

Hokah, Minn., Feb. 20.—John Wagner, a well-known young man of this place, was found hanging to a tree a mile from his home. An investigation showed that he had shot and killed himself while hanging.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

GOOD EVENING!

DULUTH WEATHER REPORT—Partly cloudy and rather mild weather tonight and Wednesday, lowest temperature tonight close to 25 deg. Fresh to brisk westerly winds.

SPRING STYLE HATS

NOW ON SALE.

KNOX

REGISTERED MOVEO SEMPER PROFICIO KNOX NEW YORK.

World-Renowned

HATS

One Quality, The Best

$5.00

HATS AT $1.50, $2.00, $2.50

THE DAYLIGHT STORE.

Oak Hall Clothing Co.

Corner 4th Ave. W. and Superior St.

CAN'T MISS IT.

Letter Carriers' BALL

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 26, AT ARMORY

Tickets, 50c couple. Street cars to West Duluth at 2:00 a. m.

Music by Paul's Orchestra of ten pieces.

THOUGHT SHE HAD BURIED HUSBAND

Woman Sees Her Spouse on Street Thirteen Years Afterward.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Mrs. Annie McGreevy caused consternation today in the court room of Justice Callahan, when she rushed in, screaming at the top of her voice, that she had just met on the street her husband whom she had buried thirteen years ago.

"I just met him," she shouted. "I thought he was dead. I buried a man thirteen years ago, and I thought it was him. I want him back. He has $300 of my money."

When the woman became quiet enough for the voice of the justice to be heard he suggested that she take out a writ of replevin for the $300 and this Mrs. McGreevy did.

"He told me that he has been living with another woman," she said, "and under the name of Thawles. The idea. Living with another woman and changing his name from Irish to Dutch. I'll fix him," and Mrs. McGreevy departed with her writ.

Columbus, O.

Use the Erie Railroad Short Line—the popular route—two through trains daily. Apply to E. R. Porch, traveling passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

UNLAWFUL ACTS

Of Mutual Reserve Are Being Investigated by Grand Jury.

New York, Feb. 20.—A grand jury investigation into alleged unlawful acts by officials of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company was begun today. The investigation is based upon evidence presented by the district attorney's office. One of the complaints submitted to the jury was a statement by James E. Wells, a former employe of the Mutual Reserve, alleging that certain officials were sued in court as individuals, and paid the judgments secured against them out of the life insurance company's funds. The specific charge against some of the officers of the company will be larceny in sanctioning the payment of $7,000,000 by the president in settlement of a civil suit against him personally, in October, 1901.

15¢ EACH 2 FOR 25 CENTS

ABCORT AN ARROW

CLUPECO SHRUNK—QUARTER SIZES

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO.

MAKERS OF CLUETT AND MONARCH SHIRTS

MAY WITHDRAW FROM THE NORTHERN LEAGUE

Duluth and Superior Throw in Lot With Michigan Towns.

Copper Country League to be Reorganized With Eight Clubs.

An eight-club league, to include Duluth, Superior, Calumet, Lake Linden, Menominee, Iron Mountain, Houghton and Hancock, will in all probability be the outcome of the present disorganized condition of affairs in baseball circles in this part of the country.

The Duluth ball club has practically severed connections with the Northern league, and together with Superior, will probably cast in its lot with the Copper country towns.

Nominally matters have been left open until March 1, but unless the other Northern league towns can show up something unexpectedly good, the Duluth club will not reconsider its plan.

The officers of the Duluth club have had the Copper country proposition before them for some time, but they have been holding off out of courtesy to the other Northern league clubs, in the hope that something better than the old circuit could be secured. But this failed to develop, and when it came to a choice between remaining in last year's circuit and going into the league with the Michigan teams, the latter alternative was chosen.

The only question now is whether or not it will be a six or eight-club circuit. The towns that would be left out in a six-club circuit would be Menominee and Iron Mountain, but these two cities will likely be included to make the eight clubs, with which a much better schedule can be secured.

Some Superior fans have been getting together and have plans for a down town ball park, which will be located not far from the business section. If the fans did not have to travel out into the country to see a ball game, the Superior club would probably be a paying proposition.

The other four towns which would be included in the six club circuit all supported better ball teams than Duluth last year, and they can do it again this season.

The great advantage which the new league has, is in the saving of transportation expences. The Michigan cities are practically within trolley distance of each other, and the railroad fares amount to but a nominal figure. The jump to Duluth and Superior is not a long one, and the South Shore road has offered a very reasonable rate for carrying the ball players.

The new league will start in with a $1,000 salary limit, which will be lived up to, and at this rate the clubs should be able to get together much faster teams than the one which represented Duluth last year, and yet not court the danger of bankruptcy.

The Michigan fans are enthusiastic over the new plans. The entrance of Duluth and Superior will give new life to the game there, and with an eight club circuit, the race should be much more interesting than the Northern league race last year.

Duluth has a good start on its team, Captain O'Dea having been busy for the last two weeks, signing men, but it will not have any advantage of the Michigan cities. Both Calumet Lake Linden have carried over a number of last year's players, and the managers have been busy for a month negotiating with new men.

WILL OPEN NEW TOWN

Last of Towns to be Opened in the Koochiching District.

Well Settled Already and Good for Farming Purposes.

The plat of town 68, range 23, west of the fourth meridian was today received at the Duluth land office from Washington. This is the last of the towns which will be opened up in the upper part of the northeastern section of the state and borders on Canada. It is in Itasca county in the Koochiching district and is watered by the Rat Root river.

This is an exceptionally good town it is said and is quite thickly settled. Out of it the state gets 5,000 acres of swamp land besides the two school sections which are 16 and 36. The opening of this land will take place some time in April. The date is not yet set. It is claimed that the town is exceptionally good in the way of farming land. The general description given by Deputy Surveyor N. Y. Taylor, which accompanies the plat, says, in part:

"This township is very heavily timbered, there being no place except along the river or on a clearing where a person can run over three or four chains on the level. The land is nearly all level with the exception of a few stony ledges which are scattered through the town. The soil ranges from second rate agricultural to rocks. The good soil is a thin sandy loam with vegetable deposit over clay subsoil. The good land extends along the Rat Root river and its tributaries, Sections 13, 14, 15, 23, 24, 34 and 35, also part of Sections 19 and 20 are exceptionally good for that part of the country. But in the swamps the soil is very sandy. The township is partly drained by the Rat Root river which runs through the town and by the many dry creeks. It is seen that the water runs off quickly; also there is a good fall between the swamps and the river so that the former could be easily drained."

FAVORABLE REPORT

Will be Made on Resolution to Investigate Railroads.

Washington, Feb. 20.—By unanimous vote the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce decided today to make a favorable report on the Tillman resolution, as amended by the sub-committee, consisting of Representatives Hepburn (Iowa), Townsend (Mich.) and Adamson (Ga.). In its amended form the resolution provides for the investigation by the interstate commerce commission of railroad discriminations and monopolies in coal and oil.

The compromise measure is a combination of the Tillman, Gillespie and Campbell resolutions. It retains the number and title of the Tillman resolution, but narrows it by striking out the proposed investigation of monopolies and discriminations in all products handled by railways. The measure is broader than the Gillespie resolution in that it includes all coal, while the Gillespie related to bituminous coal, and it practically includes the Campbell resolution by extending the investigation to oil.

ENGINEER KILLED

In Head-on Collision of Freights on Iowa Central.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 20—Engineer Willard of Mason City was killed, and two trainmen injured, in a head-on collision of two Iowa Central freights, near Eldora, today. The crew misunderstood the orders. Willard was caught under the cars, which were set afire. Brakeman Frank Sheehan of Oskaloosa, and Fireman Rogers were slightly hurt.

DECLARES EXTRA DIVIDEND.

New York, Feb. 20.—The Federal Mining & Smelting company today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock and 1½ on the common stock, and an extra dividend of 2½ on the common stock, payable March 15.

RAILROADS TO PAY $3,000,000

To the State of Minnesota in the Shape of Taxes.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The railroads of Minnesota will contribute $3,000,000 to the revenue of the state in the shape of taxes this year. It may exceed that amount.

With reports of several railroads missing, among them the Great Western, State Auditor Iverson figured that the amount now to the credit of the state from the railroads was $2,875,000. The others, when filed, will swell the amount to the $3,000,000 figure.

Last year the total amount received from railroads of the state in taxes was $1,971,194.43. This year's figures are the greatest in the history of the state.

The new 4 per cent gross earnings law is, in a measure, responsible for the big increase, but the main supply comes from the heavy swelling of the receipts of the several roads. All the big roads noted additions in the shape of millions to their receipts, which in the case of smaller roads some of them doubled the amount earned in 1904.

While the Great Northern tax is in dispute and the fight may extend to the Great Western, which claims to be operating under a special charter, State Auditor Iverson is figuring everything on a 4 per cent basis.

NOTICE.

The debate arranged by Clan Stewart for tomorrow night will be postponed until a later date, owing to some of the leaders being absent from the city. The regular meeting will be held as usual.

J. G. ROSS, Chief.

Wholesalers Are Happy.

Al Abraham of The Oak Hall Clothing store returned today after a month's absence in the Eastern markets, completing the spring and summer purchases for The Oak Hall. Mr. Abraham reports wholesalers as jubilant over the prospects for this year's trade, and of the many retailers he met there was not one who did not share in the hopeful feeling.

OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

New York—Arrived: Amerika, Hamburg.

San Francisco—Arrived: Dalameda, Dawdell, Honolulu.

Guayaquil—Sailed: Hather, from Hamburg, etc., San Francisco.

Glasgow—Sailed: Astoria, New York.

Gibraltar—Sailed: Prinzess Irene, New York.

Rotterdam—Arrived: Norden, New York, via Boulogne.

St. Vincent—Arrived: Epsom, Portland, Or., for Marseilles.

Bremen—Sailed: Chemnitz, New York.

Hamburg—Arrived: Patricia, New York, via D over.

Bremen—Arrived: Main, Baltimore.

Naples—Arrived: Prinz Adalbert, New York, 18; Republic, Alexandria, for New York.

Plymouth—Arrived: St. Louis, New York for Cherbourg and Southampton (not previously).

Genoa—Arrived: Meltke, New York, via Funchal and Algiers.

Boulogne—Sailed: Pennsylvania, New York.

Used by Millions

Calumet Baking Powder

Complies with the Pure Food Laws of every State.

WILL PUSH FRINK CASE

Attorneys Go After Depositions in the Conspiracy Case.

Action Against Retail Butchers May be Tried Soon.

Unless there is a hitch in the present plans, the notes of issue in the alleged conspiracy and damage case of H. C. Fink against the wholesale meat dealers and the Retail Butchers' association, will be filed in district court within the next few days. It is expected that the case will come on for trial during the March term.

This afternoon, John B. Arnold, who is associated with George Spangler in prosecuting the case for Mr. Frink, left for St. Paul, where it is his intention to take the deposition of James C. Flynn, formerly manager of the Omaha Packing company in this city, and of several other persons whose testimony is thought to be favorable to Frink.

In the complaint, which Mr. Frink filed some months ago, at the time M. M. Gasser & Company began suit against the Retail Grocers' association, it is alleged that the branch packing company houses and the retail butchers in Duluth have conspired to limit and control trade, and that they have intended to and did force all independent retail meat dealers out of the field, by reason of a boycott enforced on any packing house that furnished supplies to the independents.

Mr. Frink claimed that he operated an independent shop for a time, but that the members of the Retail Butchers' association threatened to and did, when any person sold him, enforce a boycott, until he was unable to purchase any meat supplies in the open market, and that the local branch house refused to sell him goods, or else discriminated against him by demanding prices much higher than they charged other retail dealers, who belonged to the association.

Mr. Frink claimed that by reason of his being driven out of business in Duluth he has been damaged in the amount of $57,000 and he asks that this sum be a judgment against each and every defendant. The packing concerns include Armour & Company, Swift Packing company, Hammond Packing company, Cudahy Packing company, Schwarzchild & Sulzberger, Nelson-Morris Packing company and Elliott Packing company. The defendants mentioned in the Retail Butchers' association include practically every retail meat dealer in the city from West Duluth to Lakeside and from the bay front to the boulevard.

The other attorneys who will appear at the taking of depositions are, H. B. Fryberger, for the Retail Butchers' association; Baldwin, Baldwin & Dancer, for Elliott & Company; M. Douglas, H. G. Grannis and Davis, Kellogg & Severance, representing various packing house companies.

Since the case of M. M. Gasser & Co. against the wholesale grocery concerns and the Retail Grocers' association was decided by Judge Cant, there has been a general impression that the other conspiracy cases, those of Gasser & Co. against the butchers and of H. C. Frink against the retail meat dealers, would be dropped, but such seems not to be the case. It is claimed by the attorneys for Mr. Frink that the evidence tending to show the alleged combination of the packing houses and butchers to freeze independents out of the local field and to maintain high meat prices, is much stronger than any presented in the case against the grocers.

In the case of the grocers the books of the association were introduced in evidence, but it is understood that in the case of the retail butchers' association, the books are not likely to be produced, and that they have been destroyed either wholly or in part.

Look Them Over.

The largest line of exclusive patterns ever brought to Duluth—Mellin & Company, 310 West First street.

In Bankruptcy Court.

In the United States court, Judge Page Morris has made an order adjudging George D. Davis of Aitkin a bankrupt and discharging him from all debts and claims, except such as are excepted by law.

A petition to be adjudged a bankrupt was filed in court today by Thomas Johnston, a laborer, of Duluth. His schedule shows his debts to be $457.50 and his asset, $1,225, of which none is claimed to be exempt.

Publicity will always help a legitimate business, just as sunshine will make plants grow.

Low Rates to Coast Points.

February 15th to April 7th, Northern Pacific railway will have on sale daily, one way second class rates to all points in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, as follows:

Billings, Mont., and intermediate points $15 00

Helena, Butte, Anaconda, Missoula 20 00

Spokane, Nelson, Rossland, Ellensburg.. .. .. 22 50

Tacoma, Seattle, Portland, Vancouver, Ashland 25 00

San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Cal. 34 90

For tickets and sleeping car reservations, call at City Office, 334 Superior street.

GIVING THEM FITS.

A few years ago George F. Haley of Biddeford, now one of the foremost lawyers of the York county bar, was trying his first criminal case before the supreme judicial court of Maine, with Chief Justice John A. Peters on the bench, says the Boston Herald. Mr. Haley was in the middle of his plea, when a man in the audience fell over in a convulsion. The young lawyer stopped, disconcerted.

"Go on, sir, go on," said the chief justice; "you're giving them fits!"

HARD TO TELL.

Some years ago W. L. Wilson, a native of Avon, Conn., was elected to represent his town in the state legislature, says the Boston Herald.

Avon, being at the head of the list of towns alphabetically, was always called first when a yea and nay vote was taken, and consequently Mr. Wilson, as its representative, was obliged to go on record first. Of this fact he used to complain bitterly, saying: "Avon is the hardest town in the state to represent, because you never can tell which way the majority is going to vote."

We Want Your Grocery Trade!

Oppel's grocery has been in existence for thirty-five years and will be for thirty-five years more. The policy of the store has been and always will be, HONEST GOODS AT RIGHT PRICES. We are at all times ready to correct and adjust our mistakes and you will nearly always find our prices just a little bit lower than others. Our goods are absolutely the best the market affords at all times, OUR PRICE BULLETIN FOR THIS WEEK:

GRANULATED SUGAR—We have a snap this week for you—100 lbs..... $4.55

You will notice that we lead and others follow. We divide our profits with the people.

STRICTLY FRESH EGGS—We always follow the markets—per dozen..... 18c

POTATOES—It pays to buy the Best. You can't buy potatoes like these elsewhere, bu 65c

BLUE LABEL COFFEE—A strictly high grade Mocha & Java Coffee—in air-tight cans—per can 85c

COFFEE—A regular 20c coffee—on this sale for, per lb..... 16c

ROLLED OATS—Something splendid—in bulk, Rolled Oats—8 lbs. for..... 25c

DRIED PEACHES.

An 18c Dried Peach, for—lb.....14c

A 15c large Peach, for—lb.....12½c

A 20c Extra Fancy Peach, for—lb.....16c

EXTRA SPECIAL—We have just received from Sprague, Warner & Co. of Chicago, what we consider two splendid Bargains and are going to offer them at these low prices—

SIFTED JUNE PEAS—A regular 20c quality—a dozen cans for $1.50—per can..... 14c

SLICED PINEAPPLES—A regular 25c quality—a dozen cans for $2.20—per can..... 19c

CUT PRICE ON LARD.

3-lb buckets Silver Leaf Lard for.....33c

5-lb buckets Silver Leaf Lard for.....58c

10-lb buckets Silver Leaf Lard for.....$1.10

20-lb buckets Silver Leaf Lard for.....$2.05

HIGH PATENT FLOUR—49 lbs. for.....$1.15

98 lbs. for.....$2.25

ALL FLAVORS JELLYCON—Our price ..... 3 for 25c

PULLED WASHED FIGS—Packed in glass jars and worth 35c each. Our price, each.. 14c

WAMPUM DRIPS—A Pure Food Label, and a 25 per cent cane syrup. A regular 40c syrup for a gallon can..... 34c

WORLD'S BEST CORN STARCH—3 packages for 18c

CANNED CORN—A regular 10c quality—for a dozen cans..... 65c

We will sell only one dozen to a customer.

A REGULAR 20c SALMON—for, can.....14c

A dozen cans for.....$1.50

CATSUP—Snider's or Monarch—25c bottles for 17c

RICE—A splendid Rice for this price ..... 4 lbs. 25c

OPPEL GROCERY CO.

Telephones 48 OPPOSITE CITY HALL We Solicit Monthly Accounts Telephones 48

TWENTY BIG FREIGHTERS

Large Number of Boats to be Built for Ore Trade.

Largest Craft Floated for Fresh Water Fleets Being Constructed.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—When navigation opens a fleet of twenty of he largest fresh water boats in the world will be launched to ply the great lakes, indicating the tremendous increase in lake freight traffic during the past few years and marking a revolution in the construction of fresh water vessels. The small, wooden craft are doomed to go, to be replaced by monster vessels of steel construction. The twenty new boats when launched will be worth $8,000,000, or from $400,000 to $550,000 each.

The two largest of this fleet are now in course of construction at the yards of the Chicago Shipbuilding company at South Chicago. When finished not only will they be the largest fresh water vessels in the world, but they will be a greater dimension and carry more tonnage than a vast majority of the freighters on the ocean. Only four freight boats are larger. These are the vessels operated by James J. Hill between Hawaii and Portland and Seattle with a carrying capacity of 20,000 tons.

D. E. H., Feb. 20, 1906.

WEAR THE COLUMBIA $3.50 SHOE.

Our best advertisement for The Columbia shoe store. Contains at least 25 per cent more intrinsic value than other three-fifty shoes.

Examination, observation and best of all a thorough trial will prove that our statement is not merely a well-worded ad-exaggeration printed on patient paper.

Today we received from the factory a beautiful patent-leather Columbia $3.50 shoe, which will please your eyes as much as your feet. Our shoeman says: "It's a peach."

Sold only at The Columbia stores in Duluth and Superior.

COLUMBIA CLOTHING CO.

1906 shapes now on exhibit.

Ordinarily the cargo in these boats will be 12,000 tons each. They can carry up to 14,000 tons.

The two big boats are being made for the United States Steel corporation, and will carry ore between Ashland, Superior and other northern iron ore shipping points and the steel mills at South Chicago and other places on the lakes. The steel corporation already has four largest boats on the lakes. Of these the Corey and the Gary were built and launched last year. These boats were patterned after the Wolvin, which was the first of the big iron carriers to be built. They are larger than the Wolvin, which was built three years ago. They carry an average load of 10,000 tons each and are worth $450,000 each.

The two new boats will be worth $550,000 each, and will measure in length 600 feet. They are constructed on the plan of continuous hatches, which allows loading from ore docks at several places in the hold simultaneously. There is little covering built over the top of the boat, and the iron ore is literally poured in as a stream of water. Wonderful mechanical improvement in loading scoops has made it possible to put 10,000 tons of ore into one of these boats in one and one half hours. This record was made at Superior, Wis., where 10,245 gross tons of ore were put into the Wolvin in exactly ninety minutes. This quantity of ore can be unloaded in about five hours.

Fifteen hundred men will be kept busy until spring working like beavers to get the big vessels completed by the time navigation opens. Altogether 18,000 men are at work at Chicago, Detroit, Wyandotte, Bay City, Buffalo, Cleveland and Loraine, Ohio, making the twenty big boats which will first touch water in the spring. The orders for vessels have taxed the capacity of the shipbuilding interests on the lakes, and orders which are given now can only be filled late next summer. Generally the shipbuilders are able to fill all demands before the ice floes break in the lakes and navigation is resumed.

Of the eighteen vessels other than those being constructed for the steel corporation, all are for transportation companies which already have considerable fleets which have been overtaxed during the past season.

The average tonnage will be 8,000 or 9,000 tons. All are being built of steel.

Some idea of the enormous loads the large boats carry can be formed when it is known that they hold about as much as five trains of fifty freight cars each. A large freight car will carry about 80,000 pounds, or forty tons. A train of fifty cars carries about 2,000 tons.

General prosperity of the country, rather than a gain over the railroads through rate competition, is attributed as the cause of the great increase in water traffic. In 1904 the boats carried between 27,000,000 and 28,000,000 tons of ore from the iron ranges of Michigan. In 1905 they carried between 34,000,000 and 35,000,000 tons. This year the increase is expected to be much greater. Shipments of coal have also been much larger. Industrial activities have been such as to make enormous demands for fuel by manufacturing and other industries.

Illustrative of the cheapness of water transportation are the rates for shipment of iron ore. The boats carry a thousand tons of ore for 75 cents per mile, or less than one mill per ton per mile. No railroad could afford to cart the ore for less than 3 mills per ton per mile.

"This is one of the busiest years we have had," said President W. L. Brown of the Chicago Shipbuilding company. "We have all we can do. Our plants in eight cities will be working to their fullest capacity for many months to come.

"There is a general increase in the business of the lake boats and transportation companies were overwhelmed last season. They are assured the increase is a permanent one and therefore are preparing for this year. There is no doubt in the mind of any man acquainted with conditions on the lakes that water transportation will grow steadily. This growth is not so much the result of competition with railroads as it is the result of tremendous strides that industries in the lake region have made. It is indicative of a general prosperity."

Treadwell Shoe Co.'s

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE CONTINUES ONE WEEK LONGER.

Men's $5 and $6 Shoes at $3.79

Men's $4 and $4.50 Shoes at $3.25

Men's $3 and $3.50 Shoes at $2.98

Men's $2.50 Shoes at $1.98

Men's Patent Corono Colt $4 Shoes at $2.98

Ladies' Fine Patent Kid $3.50 Shoes at $2.79

Ladies' Fine $4 and $4.50 Shoes at $3.25

Ladies' Fine Welt $3.50 Shoes at $2.89

Ladies' Fine Vici Kid $3.00 Shoes at $2.48

Ladies' Hand-Turned Kid Shoes at $1.78

Misses' Fine Dongola Kid Shoes at $1.25

Children's Fine Dongola Kid Shoes at 98c

Childs' Fine Kid Shoes at 75c

Children's Tan and Button Shoes in Vici Kid and Calf at 25c, 35c, 49c, 59c, 69c, 79c, 89c

All on Bargain Counters to Close Out Every Pair.

PEOPLES' BIG BARGAIN STORE.

TREADWELL SHOE CO.

DULUTH—SUPERIOR.

Radames Fine Orange Male Angora Cat M. S. R. No. 303

A grand cat. Sire Hamiole dam, Nou, deep copper eyes, solid even color.

OLD PHONE 1539. NEW PHONE 6118.

Ishpeming and Return $7.50.

Account the National Ski Tournament at Ishpeming, Michigan, Feb. 22nd, 1906, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway will have tickets on sale, Feb. 21st, to Ishpeming and return, at rate of $7.50, good for return until train leaving Ishpeming evening of Feb. 23rd. Also tickets at rate of $11.25 for round trip, good for return until Feb. 28th.

For further information and sleeping car reservation, please apply to A. J. Perrin, General Agent, 430 Spalding Hotel Block, Duluth, Minn.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE CO.

JOHN R. HEGEMAN, President.

Assets, Jan. 1st, 1906	$151,653,477.29
Number of Policies in force Jan. 1, '06	8,596,705
Income in 1905	$61,531,188.40
Gain over 1904	$5,545,531.58

NO ADULTERATIONS OR COLORING MATTER IMPURITIES OF ANY KIND IN

"SALADA"

CEYLON AND INDIA GREEN TEA.

Put up in Sealed Lead Packets to preserve its many excellent qualities.

60c and 70c per lb. At all Grocers.

HIGHEST AWARD ST. LOUIS, 1904.

Trade Supplied by Gowan-Peyton-Twohy Co.

THE SCHEME OF A SOUTHERNER

Plan Proposed to Relieve the Government of Paying Pensions.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The $139,000,000 named in the bill which passed the house the other day for pensions to veterans of the Civil war will not be needed if T. G. Skinner of Perquiman county, N. C., can put his novel scheme into operation. Mr. Skinner is a Confederate veteran. He has a proposition whereby, he declares, memorial building can be erected in every county of every state in the country at no expense to the veterans, and these buildings, through rental, will bring in sufficient revenue to pay every veteran of every war, no matter whether he wore the blue or the gray or the khaki of the Spanish war, a bigger pension than the Union veteran now gets from the government. Mr. Skinner is opposed to the pension system of the government, believing that only the indigent soldier should receive a reward from his country. He proposes that stock shall be issued in the denomination of $10, each share to represent a Confederate or a Union flag, according in the part of the country in which the building is to be erected, these to be secured upon the building and its rent, and the building insured for the benefit of all outstanding certificates, so that they will become a local currency, he says.

Mr. Skinner is not merely a theorist in this matter. He has already organized an association to be known as the Perquiman County Confederate Memorial association, which is to be incorporated under the laws of North Carolina when $5,000 of the capital stock is subscribed for. The building is to be erected in the town of Hertford, upon a site hereafter to be selected. It will be of brick and granite, fronting no less than forty feet and running back not less than eighty feet, the first story to be arranged for stores and offices, with plate glass fronts and sides, the second story with offices in front and one large assembly hall in the rear not less than forty by sixty feet, so arranged as to be useful for theatrical purposes. The building is to be rented for stores, offices and assembly purposes, and the proceeds, after keeping the building in repair, employing a Confederate soldier as janitor, and paying insurance, shall be paid out in yearly dividends to the several stockholders in proportion to their number of shares, until such dividends shall aggregate a sum sufficient to pay off in full the amount of stock subscribed, which is estimated to be within five years.

Then the building shall be conveyed to the trustees for use of the Perquiman's chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, who shall use the net proceeds of the rent for the maintenance of such Confederate soldiers residing in the county as may need the same, and when the last Confederate soldier is dead, then for the use of such indigent children of Confederate soldiers and their descendants.

"The building in my county," said Mr. Skinner, "is to be the prettiest structure in the county, and a building that will attract the best merchants. People will be falling over themselves to get space in the building. It will be put up on such an elaborate scale that it will easily be the best building in the county for many years to come. I maintain that every county in the South can do the same as I intend to do in my county, and that every Confederate veteran who is worthy will receive a pension. If my Yankee friends want to take advantage of this plan, we will let them have it. I intend to have my scheme copyrighted. I have already subscribed for fifty shares of the building in my county, and one-third of the building cost is already assured. Several other towns in the South are interested in my proposition. I intend to furnish Norfolk with a theater built on this plan, and every other town in the South that needs a theater can get one in this manner."

Worth Knowing

—that Allcock's are the original and genuine porous plasters, all others are imitations.

PARK POINTERS ORGANIZE CLUB

Object is to Get United Action on Civic Questions.

For the purpose of safeguarding the interests of the residents of Park Point, about thirty citizens living in that locality, met last evening at the residence of D. D. McInnis and organized the Civic club.

The officers of the new club are as follows: Frank Hicks, president; D. D. McInnis, treasurer; E. P. Hallock, secretary.

The club is organized along the same lines as the Lakeside club and the West Duluth Commercial club. It is for the purpose of getting united action on all questions affecting the welfare of Park Point.

ROYAL LEAGUE GIVES DANCE

Zenith Council is Host at Enjoyable Affair in Elks' Hall.

Members of Zenith Council, No. 161, Royal League, were the hosts at a brilliant dancing and card party in Elks' hall last evening. The occasion was ladies' night, which have now become regular monthly features of the council's work.

One hundred couples enjoyed the affair. Many of them have yet to join the Royal League, being members of the "century class" of 100 which will ride the goat March 5. H. H. Stone, state organizer for the league, will be in charge of this event and he it was who delivered the address of welcome last evening. It is expected that C. E. Piper of Chicago, supreme scribe of the order, will be present to assist in the initiation March 5.

The Royal League now has a membership of 28,000 and a substantial surplus of $1,044,172.75. It is strong in this part of the state, Mr. Stone having organized four councils just recently.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible, are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious, and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by all druggists.

THE BLAKE HAT

THE BLAKE HAT HAS NO EQUAL

Soft Hats of conservative shape—imperative for the middle aged, appropriate for the young man. All colors.

AT YOUR HATTER'S.

Examination FREE

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

DR. BEST,

Rooms 1 and 2, 26 W. Superior St.

Edison the Wizard!

We are headquarters for Edison Phonographs and the famous Gold Moulded records—the No-Scratch kind. Machines sold on the Easy Payment plan.

B. F. HATHAWAY,

200, 201, 202 Axworth Building.

Busy People Need NEURALINE

They cannot stop work for

Neuralgia, Headaches, La Grippe, or Pains.

When chilliness, sneezing and general aching of the body announce Colds or La Grippe, stop it by taking a few NEURALINE powders according to directions.

Price, 2 Powders 25 cents

Ask your druggist for Neuraline. Manufactured by EUREKA MEDICAL CO., South Bend, Ind.

WHITE OAK Timbers.

WOODRUFF LUMBER CO.

LADIES Who Have Used Them Recommend as the BEST DR. KING'S Star Crown Brand

PENNYROYAL PILLS.

Immediate relief, no danger, no pain. Used for years by leading specialists. Hundreds of testimonials. A trial will convince you of their intrinsic value in case of suppression.

Forwarded in securely sealed plain package upon receipt of $1.00. King-Medicine Co., P. O. Box 237, Duluth, Minn.

OUR LEADERS—

Straight Whiskies—Cedar Brook and Maryland Rye.

Blended Whiskies—Old Cabinet and Live Oak.

COOK'S BUFFET

LETTER IS INTERESTING

Hayden, Stone & Co. Have Readable Version of Settlement.

Boston Firm Thinks Montana Deal Involves Only $12,500,000.

Hayden, Stone & Company, one of the most prominent firms on the Boston exchange, has a version of the settlement of the Montana copper war in its weekly market letter that will be read with interest by Duluthians. It is, in part, as follows:

"For a number of million dollars Heinze has sold to Thomas F. Cole and associates practically all of the property of the United Copper company in Butte, with the exception of the Lexington mine, now being reopened for production, and some undeveloped claims. Although this price has been reported in the papers as $25,000,000, we believe these figures are very erroneous. We understand the new company taking over these claims has a capital of $12,500,000, and we believe this price much nearer than the former to the price paid.

"All of the properties that have been the subjects of controversy are included in the transfer. The Minnie Healy, the Michael Davitt, Nipper, Tramway, Snohomish and other mines the names of which have been prominent in the injunctions and suits brought during the past few years, have been taken over by the new interests. All pending litigations have been withdrawn from the courts.

"While these properties are taken over by the Cole interests, who will organize a new company to assume control, it is understood, that Amalgamated will have a large interest in the new company and that the deal has been brought about entirely in the interest of Amalgamated. It is understood that the new company will be included in a consolidation with Amalgamated at some future date, together with other Butte properties in which Mr. Cole has been prominent.

"Under the mining laws of Montana and with ore deposits irregular, broken and disconnected, it is almost impossible even for friendly companies to dwell together in peace and harmony. With the Amalgamated in control of practically all the mines in the Butte district, there will be no question of the apex rights or identity of the veins at depth, questions over which even honest experts might differ radically.

"These properties can be operated as a whole to great advantage. Ore can be hoisted from the most available shafts. All of the mines can be operated, greatly increasing the output. The costs of litigation will be abolished. These have caused a substantial increase in the cost of copper, both to Amalgamated and United Copper.

"The announcement of the settlement was met by heavy selling of Amalgamated, on the theory that the good news was out. This announcement is only a beginning of the good news. The settlement of the war in Butte is only a step in the larger plans for the formation of a company that will exercise practical control of the metal industry of the country."

If you have lost your boyhood spirits, courage and confidence of youth, we offer you new life, fresh courage and freedom from ill health in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

BUFFALO BILL IS NEAR BREAKDOWN

Famous Plainsman, Worn Out by Troubles, About to Retire.

Omaha, Feb. 20.—Pressed down by hard work, business perplexities, sickness and death in his family and domestic troubles and unhappiness, Buffalo Bill, the famous old plainsman and showman, is threatened with a complete breakdown. He now fully realizes that if he would live and enjoy a fair degree of health, physical and mental, he must make a radical change in his way of living.

Accordingly he has made up his mind to quit the show business at the end of the current year, return to his own country from Europe, settle down in Wyoming and take the world easier than he has been wont to take it.

The death of his eldest and favorite daughter two or three years ago nearly broke Col. Cody's heart. That was really the beginning of his troubles, physical and mental.

Some of his earnest friends have gone back on him because of his effort to get a divorce. Practically all the men whose respect and friendship he values have condemned him sharply for applying for a separation, and have expressed sympathy with Mrs. Cody, whom they regard as an eccentric woman but a faithful wife.

In addition to this Col. Cody has met with many unpleasant experiences with the Wild West show abroad. A man who has been in the show business with Col. Cody ever since he engaged in it, and who knows all its secrets, said just before the colonel sailed for France to rejoin the show a few days ago:

"Col. Cody has enough on his mind to drive a dozen ordinary men to insanity. To be frank with you, the Wild West show has had hard sledding since it went to Europe. Things have been going badly most of the time. In southern France we met with some very discouraging and distressing experiences. In Paris we did a good business and were well treated.

"But the day we set out on our tour of southern France, trouble began. Our crowds were small and ugly. Sentiment was against us. To add to our difficulties and troubles, a crowd of toughs followed us from town to town and tried to break up the performances. Almost every night we had pitched battles with them. Frequently shots were exchanged, and in many instances men were wounded. You can easily imagine that we cleared them out.

"The last year has been a very unhappy one to Col. Cody. It is time for him to settle down and take the world easier. He is going to do so."

CAPTAIN'S STORY

How He Got Out and Stays Out of Trouble.

Captain Abran Jones, of 174 E. 36th St., Los Angeles, Cal., tells an interesting coffee story, and says he can be publicly quoted:

"I drank coffee all my life," he says, "and took no harm, I thought, till about ten years ago when a variety of ailments attacked me one after the other.

"First came a disordered stomach, followed by palpitation of the heart which was very severe, some attacks lasting four or five hours at a time. Then my bowels got out of order, and I suffered from chronic constipation. This ran on for some years.

"Finally I quit the drugs and struggled along the best way I could, taking the advice of friends but never getting any better. At last I was taken so seriously sick that I had to go to bed and the doctor told my family I could not recover.

"While I lay in this condition a friend suggested that I quit drinking the old kind of coffee and try Postum Food Coffee—to see what it would do for me. He said Postum had pulled him through when he was similarly afflicted.

"I took his advice, quit coffee and drank Postum, and in two months' time was in good health. I was so elated at the result that I told my doctor about it. He wasn't very well posted on facts at that time and said that he did not believe that leaving off coffee and using Postum had anything to do with my improved health, but that it was due to good medicine and good advice from the family doctor; that my sickness had worked out of my system the diseased conditions that had been developing for several years, that I now could look forward to good health for some time to come, and that I had better resume coffee drinking, in moderation, and thus save my family the trouble of preparing an extra table beverage every day.

"I took the doctor's advice, stopped the Postum and began drinking coffee again. The result was that all my old troubles came trooping back, and I was soon once more seriously ill. Then I became alarmed, and swore off coffee for good and all, and resumed the use of Postum, and got well again.

"My health is now as good as it ever was. My dyspepsia is gone, I never have heart palpitation any more, my bowels are in good working order, and all the little ills that go with the big ones have disappeared.

"It is now five years since I quit coffee and began to use Postum, and in all that time I have not paid one cent for medicine."

There's a reason.

DELUSION AND SNARE

Is the Government Seed Distribution, Say State Granges.

Senate's Action on Hepburn Railway Rate Bill Doubtful.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The farmers of the country seem to be awakening at last to the fact that the government seed distribution is a delusion and a snare. Year after year congress appropriates about a quarter of a million dollars for the "purchase and distribution of valuable seeds," and each senator and member has assigned to him 12,500 packages, each containing five packets of seeds of the commonest possible varieties. There are usually packets of radishes, lettuce, cucumber, watermelons and carrots or some similar vegetable. The intrinsic value of the collection is from 2 to 3 cents in each case, and no possible good is served.

Yet every attempt to cut off the distribution is fought vigorously on the floor of the house. Not one member in ten really believes that the distribution should continue; but not one in twenty seems to have the courage to vote against the item.

Now, however, the state granges are beginning to take part in the fight, and already New York and Illinois have declared against the continuance of the practice.

The Illinois State Grange, at its annual session in December, adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, as practical and independent farmers, that we call upon congress to abolish its petty, annoying and needless practice of broadcasting free and common garden seeds all over the rural districts, and we ask that the control of seed distribution be plactd under the department of agriculture and limited to experimental work."

Thus far two members of the house committee on agriculture, Messrs. Wadsworth and Cocks of New York, are the only ones who have declared against the continuance of the annual squandering of money for seeds which do no good. As a rule, members use their packages for electioneering purposes, and of course a majority will vote against the proposition to cut off the supply. If, however, the state granges generally follow the lead of Illinois and New York, it will not be many years before the seed division of the department of agriculture is restored to its original purpose, the discovery and distribution of new and valuable seeds, instead of continuing the purchase of the cheapest varieties in order to secure for members of congress as many packets as possible without reference to utility or value.

• • •

Col. W. P. Hepburn, chairman of the commerce committee, in a speech the other day, told a story which forcibly illustrates the value of emphasis.

"There was in my state a few years ago," he said, "a family who decided to remove to Missouri. The small daughter of the household got down on her knees and devoutly said: 'Good-bye, God, we are going to Missouri.'

"Her small brother used exactly the same words, but with different emphasis. He said: 'Good! By God, we're going to Missouri!'"

• • •

The superintendent of the pension office tells an amusing story of a bad break made by an applicant for a messenger place in the bureau the other day. "The civil service commission certified the customary number of qualified applicants, and as usual I sent for them to look them over. The first on the list was a man of good appearance who wore a button showing him to have served in the war with Spain. I put the usual questions and then asked, 'You were wounded, were your not?'

"'Oh, yes,' was the reply. 'I had to undergo a very peculiar operation which left my leg in such shape that I can stoop down with difficulty and if I remain on my knees a few minutes I cannot get up without help.'

"'Well,' I said to him, 'when we want to see you again I will write.'

"The applicant left me and approached the watchman at the door. 'Who is that man in there?' he enquired.

"'Oh,' answered the watchman, 'that's the superintendent; he's examining applicants for jobs.'

"'Great Scott,' exclaimed the veteran, 'I've cooked my goose. I thought he was a pension examiner and that he was examining me for a pension.'"

• • •

Since the speech of Senator Lodge on the floor of the senate last week, everyone has been at sea as to the probable action of the senate in dealing with the Hepburn rate regulation bill. Until the end of last week it was considered practically certain that the Hepburn bill would receive the endorsement of the senate committee on interstate commerce with practically no amendments. But there are at least six measures of similar import pending in the senate, and no one seems to be able to say positively which of the six meets the approval of the president. Of course, there are many senators who are opposed to anything like the regulation of railroad rates by congress. There are others who insist that the sleeping car lines and the express companies should be made amenable to any law regulating rates, although the courts have held that sleeping cars are only hotels on wheels and that the express companies are not common carriers. But the absolute inequality of express rates and the utter lack of uniformity in sleeping car rates is so apparent to anyone who has given the subject any attention whatever, that while the railroad rate bill may not include these corporations within its provisions, there will doubtless be an attempt at legislation to regulate sleeping car charges and express rates before the end of the present session. The difficulty in enacting legislation of this character, however, is great, and it is by no means likely that a bill can be put through having this object in view for some time to come. It is far more likely that a parcels post system will be inaugurated which will give the people of this country equal rights with the citizens of Europe in the matter of transmitting small packages to various points in the United States. It is a fact not generally known that a pound package can be sent from London to San Francisco today for less than half the cost of sending a similar package from New York to Omaha.

• • •

Representative Littauer has introduced a bill to establish the metric system as the government standard. Last year, when a similar bill was under consideration some thirty or more business men from all parts of the country appeared in opposition and their arguments against the adoption of the change were so strong that the measure was not even brought to a vote. This year the hearings are confined so far to listening to those who favor the change, and it is worthy of note that most of them are men who favor the change from an academic standpoint. As a rule the great manufacturing interests of the country oppose the change. It is argued that to introduce the metric system in this country would mean a practical revolution in the manufacturing industries and that the cost would aggregate hundreds of millions of dollars.

Ten or fifteen years ago a bill of similar import was passed by the house "by unanimous consent" when no one was looking. But on the following day a motion to reconsider was adopted by practically a unanimous vote and then the measure was "laid on the table."

• • •

The committee on naval affairs of the house of representatives is now considering the naval appropriation bill. But it will be some days before the items providing for an increase in the vessels in the navy is reached. It sems to be a foregone conclusion, however, that unless the Chinese war scare changes the situation very materially within the next few weeks, that there will not be more than one new battleship authorized.

But, while battleships, which cost $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 each, are not attractive to the members of the committee, there is a growing disposition on the part of those gentlemen to increase the flotilla of submarine torpedo boats. The action of the president of the United States last summer in taking a short trip on one of these vessels attracted more attention to this new type of fighting vessels than was ever accorded to them before. Since that time reports have come from England to the effect that the British admiralty has decided to very materially increase the number of gunboats of this type, because their effectiveness has been demonstrated beyond question.

Then, too, France, after a series of experiments during which a number of different type of submarines have been tested, has decided to follow the English lad and to place in commission a series of units of five or six submarines each, all of the same type, though of different displacement. Since the first of these vessels was purchased for the United States navy, the builders of this style of torpedo boat have made ramarkable strides towards perfecting vessels of this type. Today the submarine can dive quicker and stay under the water longer, besides making greater speed, than ever before. What is far more important is that many of the officers of the navy department, who were first disposed to decry the building of submergeable vessels are today the most earnest advocates of this particular means for coast defense. One of the strongest cards in favor of the building of submarines, which is having its effect with the naval committee, is the fact that a dozen boats of this character can be constructed while one battleship is being designed, and it is now admitted that Commander Wainwright was right when he said three years ago that the submarine offers the most effective means of harbor defense that has yet been devised.

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

EXQUISITE SHOWING OF SPRING FASHIONS

The spring season opens early, but not too early for the demands of many of our patrons. The handsomest exclusive garments now being shown in our cloak and suit department are the choicest of new fashions—selections from the most noted designers.

Shirt Waist Dresses

Beautiful creations made of voile, suitings, panama and silk, made with the new lingerie collar and yoke, new elbow sleeve—the ideal apparel for early spring wear. Prices from $25 upward.

New White Waists

Dainty creations of fine sheer batiste, tucked back and front, collar and sleeves trimmed with fine lace. Price $2.75.

Newest Ideas in Ladies' Suits

Suits made of fine quality broadcloth, silk lined jacket—made in bolero effects—skirt cut in the new circular style with braid trimmings. This is an excellent value at $29.50.

New Walking Skirts

Newest models made of fine quality panama in grey or black—in the seven-goted circular style—this is the ideal garment for this weather and an exceptionally good value for $7.50.

THE STORE OF QUALITY Silberstein & Bondy Company THE STORE OF QUALITY

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

The Closing Out of the Rug and Drapery Dept.

is still in progress with increased vigor—hundrerds of people have visited this department since the opening of this sale, every one equally anxious to secure their share of the splendid opportunities presented for this occasion. All lovers of fine goods know that we carry the best—it is a saving of many dollars to take advantage of this event.

The Store of Quality Silberstein & Bondy Company The Store of Quality

DOUGLAS MEN IN OFFICE.

Brockton's Mayor, Three Aldermen and a Conncilmau Work for Firm.

Brockton, Mass., Feb. 20.—Never before in its history has Brockton had a city government more representative of the employes of a single manufacturing firm than it has today. Mayor Bradford, three of the seven aldermen and one member of the common council are all employes of ex-Governor W. L. Douglas.

On inauguration day the presence of ex-Governor William L. Douglas at the exercises was evidence of his great interest in the affairs of the city and his employes and particularly in Frederick O. Bradford, Brockton's new mayor, who is foreman of the treeing and dressing department at the No. 1 factory of W. L. Douglas. With Mayor Bradford, who is a Republican, there were inaugurated Alderman Charles F. Penney of Ward No. 3, Republican; Timothy J. Meade, of Ward No. 5, Democrat, and Andrew T. Clancy of Ward No. 6, Socialist, all employes of W. L. Douglas and all elected this year for the first time as aldermen, as was Mayor Bradford elected for the first time to the executive chair. In addition to Mayor Bradford and the three aldermen named, Councilman William G. Smith, Republican, is also a Douglas employe.

Mayor Bradford went into the city hall Jan. 1 with practical experience gained in the management of one of the big departments at the Douglas plant, which he has capably managed for years, during the development of the big industry. Douglas employes are, as a rule, known by their works. To serve at the Douglas plant a man must have ability and judgment such as has characterized the management of the business done there, from the head of the firm down.

ONE HUNDRED SUITS

Between Heinze and Amalgamated Companies to be Dismissed.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 20.—Within two weeks, steps will be taken to dismiss more than 100 actions pending in the district and federal courts between Heinze and the Amalgamated Copper companies, involving damage suits aggregating $30,000,000, besides removing orders restraining the operation of ore bodies variously estimated at more than $50,000,000.

This, in effect, is the statement made yesterday by Attorney L. O. Evans, who on Saturday, completed the transfer of the Heinze properties to the Cole syndicate, by the formal filing of twenty-nine deeds in this city.

According to the descriptions furnished in the deeds transferred, the negotiations, it is evident, were in progress between the Duluth syndicate and Heinze for the past two years. Seventeen of the deeds were from Heinze, his associates and companies as grantors to Cole as grantee. The remaining deeds, bearing date in many instances long prior to the sale, conveyed property interests to the Heinze concerns or associates and included the properties finally redeeded to Cole. All documents bear a consideration of $1 and were signed and executed in New York, Jan. 20.

The deed executed by the Montana Ore Purchasing company, the central concern of the Heinze subsidiary companies, is stated to be subject to a mortgage given to Stephen Edward Nash of New York, to secure bonds to the amount of $1,000,000. The Nipper company is also incumbered by a mortgage given to Max E. Schultze of New York, as trustee, to secure bonds to the amount of $2,500,000. All properties of the Montana Ore Purchasing company, Guardian, Hypocka, Minnie Healy, Nipper, Cora, Rock Island and Belmont Mining companies, are turned over, Heinze retaining nothing but his lease on the holdings of the Lexington company's mines and claims in the southern portion of the town, title to which is not clear.

The deeds are of a sweeping character and practically remove Heinze from the Butte fields, as far as any control is concerned.

MAY BE GIVEN LIBERTY.

Two Men Accused of Murder Claim Violation of Statute.

Davenport, Iowa, Feb. 20.—To define the word "liberty" and to decide whether two men accused of murder shall be set free without trial is the task before Judge William H. Gest of the circuit court of Rock Island county, Ill. The statutes of Illinois provide that unless a prisoner be tried within the second term of court after his arrest and imprisonment, he shall be set "at liberty."

William Nagel and Josephine Collet, living in a shanty boat near Muscatine, Iowa, last fall, are alleged to have murdered Carl Brady, a shanty boatman, on an island in the river, on the Illinois side. They were arrested, and are said to have confessed the murder, each blaming the other for the act.

Owing to unforeseen obstacles their trial has been delayed from time to time until it has been put over the two-term limit set by the statute. The defense has now made a motion to dismiss the prisoners because they have not been brought to trial within the prescribed time.

The Jar of Coughing

Hammer blows, steadily applied, break the hardest rock. Coughing, day after day, jars and tears the throat and lungs until the healthy tissues give way. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops the hard coughing, heals the torn membranes.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, many fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

53 Cottage St., Melrose, Mass.

Dear Sir:

"Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers, I am"

Very truly yours,
I. C. RICHARDSON.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but it promptly cures kidney, liver and bladder troubles, the symptoms of which are—obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brickdust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, poor digestion, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, wornout feeling, lack of ambition, may be loss of flesh, sallow complexion, or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is also evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in Duluth Daily Herald. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

WOODEN BRIDGES ARE IN VERY BAD CONDITION

Engineering Department Makes Report on Repairs Necessary.

Majority of Seventy-Nine Bridges in City Need Overhauling.

Practically every wooden bridge in the city is in need of repair, according to the report which has been prepared by the city engineer, at the request of the council.

The engineering department has just completed its inspection of the seventy-nine bridges within the city limits, and has submitted to the board of public works a report giving the present condition of each bridge and the repairs on it that are necessary.

According to the report, all of the wooden bridges in the city, with but three or four exceptions, are in need of repairs of some description. In some cases the repairs are but trifling, but in other instances the bridges are practically worn out, and, according to the report, should be either condemned at once or entirely rebuilt.

Fololwing are some extracts from the report showing the condition of the more important bridges in the city and also those which are most in need of repairs:

The London road bridge over Lester river is in a dangerous condition. The piling is decayed and some of the piles are gone. The metal portions are in good shape, but in need of scraping and painting.

The Grand avenue bridge is new, having but recently been completed, but the old tubular piers need scraping and painting to keep them from rusting.

The bridge at Grand and Sixty-third is in fair condition.

The Forty-third avenue east bridge is in fair condition.

The bridge on Superior street over Tischer's creek is in good condition, with the exception that the flooring is worn in some places and needs to be replaced.

The Woodland avenue bridge over the same creek is in poor condition.

The First street bridge over Tischer's creek is in good condition, with the exception that it is rusting in places, and needs scraping and painting.

The Lake avenue viaduct has been condemned, but the report on it has already been submitted.

The brackets supporting the sidewalk on the Sixth avenue viaduct need painting and scraping badly, and the sidewalks themselves are in bad shape, but otherwise the bridge is in good condition. Some of the piles in the approaches have rotted, however, and they need attention.

The Third street bridge over Miller's creek is in good shape.

The piles in the Polk street and Fifty-sixth avenue bridge are in bad shape, and the flooring is rotten.

The bridge at Polk street and Fifty-seventh avenue west is unsafe and should be condemned.

The bridge at Polk street and Fifty-eighth avenue west is in poor condition and needs repairs.

The Polk and Fifty-ninth avenue bridge is in fair shape.

The stringers in the McLeod and Lenroot avenue bridge are rotten, and the planking is in bad shape.

The bridge at McLeod and Victor avenues is also in need of repairs, the piling being decayed.

On the Sixty-third and Bristol street bridge, the fence and flooring are in very bad condition, and the bridge needs a general overhauling.

The bridge at Waseca street, between Sixty-first and Sixty-third avenues west is in very bad condition. The engineer reports that it is unsafe and should be condemned for travel.

The bridge at Grand avenue and Eighteth avenue west is in bad shape, and about twenty piles are rotten.

The report shows that the other, less important bridges are also in need of repairs.

"A wooden bridge never goes suddenly," said Mr. McGilvray this morning, "and there is not much likelihood of any sudden disaster with any of them. They generally do a lot of creaking and straining and heaving before they get really dangerous, but the time is not far off when some move will have to be taken to put them in shape."

NEW GOODS!

We must devote some space this week telling you of new goods just in, just set out on our floors.

BIG SQUARES

There is a beautiful showing on our second floor now, the sizes are 8¼x10½ feet—also a large number of the 9x12 feet sizes. These rugs are the new patterns and designs from Selkirk and Bigelow mills, in Tapestry, Axminsters, Velvets ad Wiltons—the prices are $15.00, $18.50, $20.00 to $35.00, $38.50 and $40.00.

We call especial atttention to the Selkirk and Bigelow Wiltons. (None Better)

DRESSERS

A big new line of Dressers, in golden oak finish; also in mahogany, are just placed on display—Big, roomy, well-made cases and generous sizes, beveled plate mirrors. The prices are $6.75, $8, $9.50, $11, $12 to $30. It is a display to interest every homemaker.

SIDEBOARDS

A new lot of golden oak sideboards—in styles entirely different from those of other years. We would call special attention to the large roomy drawers in these, and the finely varnished finish. Prices up to $49.00

SIDEBOARDS

CLEARANCE SALES ON HEATERS, SLEDS, BLANKETS, CARPET REMNANTS AND PARLOR PIECES MERIT YOUR ATTENTION

R. R. Forward & Co. HARDWARE AND FURNITURE — 21st Avenue West on Superior St. — R. R. Forward & Co. HARDWARE AND FURNITURE

THE STAGE

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTION.

METROPOITAN — Reilly & Wood's Big company.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Wednesday and Thursday and matinee Thursday, Allen Doone in "Kerry Gow."

LYCEUM—Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee, Louis James.

GRACE GEORGE.

Fine Production of "The Marriage of William Ashe."

CAST.

William Ashe .....H. Reeves-Smith
Geoffrey Cliffe ....Ben Webster
Lord Parham ..... W. J. Constantine
Lord Grosville ..... Fred W. Sidney
Eddie Helston ....Mortimer H. Weldon
The Little Dean ..... Donald MacLaren
Lady Parham .....Katherine Stewart
Lady Tranmore ..... May Whitty
Mary Lyster ..... Ruth Holt
Lady Grosville .....
..... Mrs. Reginald Carrington
Blanche ..... Justine Cutting
Lady Kitty Bristol .....Grace George

Those who have read Mrs. Humphrey Ward's book "The Marriage of William Ashe," doubtless went with some misgivings to the Lyceum to see a stage production of it. To compress into one short evening of stage play, that most weird, complex and selfish creature, Kitty Ashe, would be an utter impossibility and the fear that not even an adequate idea could be given was. And yet, Margaret Mayo's version of the novel is an excellent one, easily the best dramatization of a novel that we have had in a long time. The dramatized novel is generally a failure, but "The Marriage of William Ashe" is an exception. The strongest criticism that can be made of the play is that a fifth act has to be tacked on to give Lady Kitty a chance to die, but that can be forgiven, for the inevitable end was that Lady Kitty must die and a better means of providing for her exit, probably was not obtainable.

There is a difference of opinion as to whether the person who has read the book or the one who has not is in the better position to enjoy the play. It all depends upon one viewpoint, but the majority of opinion will probably be in favor of the one who has not. The person who knows the story has the full conception of Mrs. Ward's Kitty and cannot but realize the impossibility of presenting that most remarkable person adequately in a few acts. Than, too, his knowledge of the character has a tendency to make him rather too critical for full enjoyment. The person who has not read the book gets a conception of Kitty's character that is sufficient for his proper appreciation of the play, thanks to Miss Grace George's excellent playing, and he does not miss the wealth of incident that it is impossible to present.

The first act presents Kitty at the Grosvilles', where she shocks the staid English people with her waywardness and indifference to conventions. Here she meets Cliffe, and his fascinating spell is first woven about her. It is here that Ashe proposes, and Kitty's acceptance was one of the most charming of Miss George's bits of acting, sincere, lovable and honest. Two years later they are seen at their London home, and Lady Kitty insults Lady Patham, wife of the prime minister and Ashe's political chief, after overhearing a conversation which could not but arouse her indignation, but she does it in a decidedly strenuous way. Then comes the scene when she returns home after being out all night and tells her husband of Cliffe's baseness, and is finally taken to his arms like a repentant child. This was an especially pretty scene. The fourth act takes one to Venice and there comes the denouement of the issuance of the book which Kitty childishly thinks is to win back her husband, who has been slowly cooling under the continuance of her follies and aggravations, with no sign of any change for the better, but which threatens to wreck his career and drives him back to London posthaste to repair the wrong. He leaves Kitty, and then comes Cliffe at the perilous moment, and with an appeal to her romanticism, induces her to fly with him to the Balkans and there nurse the fighting people, weaving about this a glamour of nobility that appeals to her. Then comes the death scene in the Alps, where Ashe finds her and pours out his forgiveness and love as she dies. Some liberties have been taken with the story, but they are not important and serve to better the dramatic action.

This was Miss George's first appearance in Duluth, and every heart warmed to her from the moment of her entrance. Though perhaps not as intense at times as she might be, she acts with discretion and intelligence and gains by repression what she might at times lose by attempting strenuous emotion and tearing passion to tatters. The character is a most complex one, contradictory, exaggerated, aggravating and yet fascinating, lovable and pathetic in its frailty. Lady Kitty's mentality can hardly be called anything but a species of insanity. Miss George makes the part rather more human than that of the book and less selfish and wild, but then, could any person in the flesh really appear so little of things earthly as the creature of the book?

H. Reeves-Smith is a splendid actor and played the part of William Ashe in a most satisfying way. The patient, indulgent, forgiving husband is presented by him in a quiet and dignified way that makes the part strong and convincing. Geoffrey Cliffe as presented by Ben Webster is rather declamatory and not exactly in accord with the impression one has from the book, but on the whole was well done. Nor was the little dean as played by Donald McLaten quite what one expected. Katherine Stewart gave a Lady Parham, however, that was capital. Lady Tranmore, Ashe's mother, played by May Whitty, is a harder, less sympathetic woman than Mrs. Ward makes her. Ruth Holt as the "catty" Mary Lyster was very good, and in general the parts were all well taken.

The play is sumptuously mounted, Manager W. A. Brady having been lavish in his provision for the proper scenic equipment and stage accessories.

Is Baby Growing In Health and Strength?

Ozomulsion

The Cod Liver Oil Emulsion "Par Excellence."

Is the most important essential for all

Nursing Mothers

because it nourishes and provides the proper supply of food upon which the Baby must Depend for Growth and Strength.

For the Mother, Ozomulsion is an appetizer and a tonic, increasing the desire for Food, promoting the functions of the Digestive Organs, Highly Nutritious, Easily Digested, quickly converted into Blood, and rapidly Recruits the Wasted Energies of the System.

Beneficial Results are Obtained after the First Dose.

There are two sizes—8-oz. and 16-oz. Bottles; the Formula is printed in 7 languages on each.

OZOMULSION LABORATORIES
25 Pine St., New York.

REILLY & WOOD COMPANY.

New Entertainment at Metropolitan a Diversified One.

The Reilly & Wood company is at the Metropolitan this week with an entertainment that is sufficiently diversified to please almost anyone. It embraces extravaganza, burlesque, musical comedy and vaudeville.

There are two burlesques and "the golden ballet," which very appropriately takes place amid a lot of "Black Crook" scenery. "Simon Simon and Simple Simple," is the title of the opening burlesque, and the performance concludes with the merry frolic, "A Hot Time at Reilly's."

The musical numbers are good and well sung and the comedy seems to please. The chief fun makers are Pat Reilly, Harry Fern, Ted Evans and Tony Kennedy. Ira eKssner has the best voice in the company.

Mr. Kessner's turn is the first in the olio. His illustrated songs are much better than most such efforts. Kennedy and Evans are Irish comedians and their skit is entertaining. The Revere Sisters have a conventional turn and Daly and Reno make a hit with their barrel jumping and tumbling. Orth and Fern, in their famous skit, 'Sign That Book," were recalled again and again. Their act is just a little different from the others and better than any of them.

KERRY GOW.

Wednesday and Thursday at the Lyceum, Allen Doone will appear in "Kerry Gow." Joseph Murphy, after many years constantly before the public, has reluctantly surrendered his plays that were so dear to him, and will in the future lead a less strenuous life, confining himself principally to a limited season. Although Mr. Murphy has not been seen here in "The Kerry Gow," his young successor, Mr. Allen Doone, brings with him the reputation of having done wonders with Mr. Murphy's famous role. Though prejudice makes it hard to follow in the footsteps of so prominent a star, the young comedian has been most graciously accepted.

NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

Some of Those Recently Placed Upon Its Shelves.

New books added to the Duluth public library are as follows:

PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION.

Clarke, "Outline of Christian Theology. Fourteenth Edition."
"Francis, Saint, Little Flowers of Saint Francis."
Peabody, "The Liquor Problem: A Summary of Investigations Conducted by the Committee of Fifty."
Voragine, "The Golden Legend; or, Lives of the Saints."
Wood, "Life More Abundant."

EDUCATION AND PHILOSOPHY.

Commons, "Trade Unionism and Labor Problems."
Gummere, "The Quaker: A Study in Costume."
"Webster's New International Dictionary. 1904."

SCIENCE AND USEFUL ARTS.

"Blue Book of American Shipping. 1905."
Coman, "Industrial History of the United States."
Elwell, "Advanced Bridge."
Law, "Vlavi Hygiene."
Marchant, "Serving and Waiting: Modern Methods of Table Preparation."
Miller, "American Telephone Practice."

LITERATURE.

"Among the Flowers: Selections from the Standard Poets."
Campbell, Wilfred, "Collected Poems."
Courthope, "History of English Poetry."
Dawson, "Makers of English Fiction."
Upson, "The City: a Poet Drama."
Van Dyke, "The Van Dyke Book."
Wells, "A Satire Anthology."
La Fontaine, "Fables Choisies Pour Les Enfants."
Hall, "Account of a Voyage of Discovery to the West Coast of Corea and the Great Loo-choo Island, 1818."

HISTORY AND BIOGRAPHY.

Carl, "With the Empress Dowager."
Fitzgerald, "Lady Jean: the Romance of the Great Douglas Cause."
Flaubert, "Legend of Saint Julian, Hospitaller."
Higginson, "History of the United States from 968 to 1905."
Klein, "In the Land of the Strenuous Life."
Loyson, "To Jerusalem Through the Lands of Islam."
Oliphant, "Narrative of the Earl of Elgin's Mission to China and Japan in the Years 1857, 1858, 1859."
Purchas, "Hakluytus Posthumous." Vol. 9-10.
Rothwell, "Mineral Industry. Vol. 13, 1904."
Sanborn, "Memoirs of Pliny Earle."
Saint Nicholas, "Civil War Stories Retold from St. Nicholas."
Saint Nicholas, "Colonial Stories."
Saint Nicholas, "Indian Stories."
Saint Nicholas, "Our Holidays."
Saint Nicholas, "Revolutionary Stories."
Schillings, "Flashlights in the Jungle."
White, "Autobiography."
Crawford, "Tale of a Lonely Parish."
Ellis, "Barbara Winslow, Rebel."
Fox, "Kentuckians."
Gerson, "More Adventures of the Happy Heart Family."
Greene, "With Spurs of Gold."
Harben, "Westerfelt."
Hutten, "Pam."
Inman, "Ranch on the Oxhide."
Moore, "Love Alone Is Lord."
Nordau, "Dwarf's Spectacles."
Oxley, "Family on Wheels."
Stokes, "Children's Annual."
Wheeler, "Doubledarling and the Dream Spinner."

KING EDWARD HOLDS THE FIRST LEVEE OF SEASON.

London, Feb. 20.—King Edward held the first levee of the season at Buckingham palace at noon today, thus avoiding the state procession to St. James palace where the levees are usually held. The occasion, however, was not robbed of its picturesqueness, there being a large attendance of cabinet ministers, the leading members of the opposition and the foreign diplomats, among whom was Ambassador Reid and members of the American embassy, including Delancey Jay, Ambassador Reid's private secretary, and Lieut. Commander John B. Gibbons, naval attache to the embassy, who on this occasion attended his first levee.

Mr. Reid presented W. E. Carter of Philadelphia.

D. E. H., Feb. 20, 1906.

WEAR A COLUMBIA $3 HAT.

Made by the same skilled artisans who turn out our elegant Knapp Felt de Luxe $6 hats.

As with the "Columbia $3.50 Shoe," we give you more intrinsic value for your money in this $3 hat than other dealers do, just to advertise The Columbia Hat Department.

Sold only at The Columbia stores in Duluth and Superior.

COLUMBIA CLOTHING CO.

1906 styles now on exhibit.

WEST END

ADVOCATES CLUB IDEA

More Interest Urged in West End Commercial Organization.

Growing Indifference Desired to be Checked—Other News.

The West End Commercial club will meet next Friday night in Sloan's hall and an effort will be made to have a larger attendance than formerly. It is desired to have good attendances and that interest in the club be kept up. At the last meeting the attendance was small and at that time ways and means for making the members come out were discussed but nothing was done. At the meeting next Friday night it is quite likely that this matter will again come up, and some plans will be made to provide special attraction for the meetings and to arouse the interest of the business men in the club movement. At present, while the club was only recently successfully launched, there seems to be an air of indifference about it among the business men. Said one about the matter:

"I am told that some local jealousies are already endangering the disruption of the club. I hope that these will be dropped as it is too narrow-minded in a man to desert a chance to advance interests for the common good because he does not happen to like some other member of the crew. I suppose such men would not launch a boat from a sinking ship if a man whom they hated was likely to be saved thereby? Not that the West end is a sinking ship, nor its club—far from it—but if such jealousies were allowed to prevail and become epidemic as they will in a small community, the West end soon would be a sinking ship, for its business men would not be recognizing or working for their common interest. I hope the club spirit will be aroused and fostered as there is nothing better for a community such as the West end or West Duluth than to have its business men get together and talk over conditions, exchange ideas and take advantage of every opportunity to take a step in advance. We merchants down here must keep up with the procession or it will pass us and we will find that the up-town stores will have taken every shred of our trade away from us."

Others join this man in urging increased membership and regular attendance on the club meetings.

BIG SALE ENDS.

Johnson & Moe Clean Up and Now Alter Store's Interior.

The big sale at Johnson & Moe's store at Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street is over, nearly all of the stock which it was necessary to dispose of for the accommodation of spring goods, having disappeared. In a few days, Mr. Moe will go east to purchase his goods for the coming season and soon the spring display will be on.

Today the work of altering the interior of the store will be started. It is desired to change the interior in various ways for the reason that conditions are becoming too crowded. Architect Wangenstein has figured out several schemes for utilizing the available space to much better advantage and the work of accomplishing this began today.

For instance, the millinery department will be enlarged, the domestic department will be moved to the front where the shoe department now is, and the shoe department will be transferred to the rear and will be somewhat enlarged.

VINCENT CHARMED.

Departing Young Man Given Handsome Present at Grace Church.

Leslie E. Vincent, well known at the West end, has taken a position with the Stevenson Mining company near Bibbing and has already gone to that place to work. A few nights previous to his going, the young people, principally, and many of the older people of Grace M. E. church gathered to give Mr. Vincent a farewell. The gathering was in the church and the occasion was made one of pleasure and Mr. Vincent was given a hearty farewell, accompanyed by the best wishes and hopes of his friends.

They presented him with a handsome watch-charm, suitably engraved in recognition of his services to the church and to the different societies thereof which he belonged.

West End Shortrails.

Miss Agnes Philstrom left yesterday for a visit with friends at Port Wing, Wis.

Charles Miley left yesterday for Detroit, Mich., to visit with his parents.

John Moir, of the firm of Moir & Walker, has returned from a visit of several weeks to his old home in Kingston, Ont. His son was with him on the trip and they had a most enjoyable time.

You are sure to get what the doctor orders if you take your prescriptions to the "Lion Drug store."

John J. Moe, of the firm of Johnson & Moe will go East the latter part of the week on his regular buying tour.

The Ladies Aid society of the Grace M. E. church are holding a sewing bee in the parlors of the church this afternoon.

John Newman of Cokato, Minn., is visiting friends here this week.

John B. Egan, Richard Broderick and George Lowe, formerly of the West end and now of Proctor, were spending Sunday here.

Mrs. Rudolph Gouth has returned from a six weeks' visit to Minneapolis, where she attended the wedding of her sister.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson of 2816 Helm street.

Misses Katherine and Mabel Johnson have returned from a visit of two weeks in the Twin Cities.

The Foreign Missionary society of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church met last night at Mrs. S. Dailey's, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Tenth street.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church will meet Thursday at the residence of Mrs. August Tallakson of Twenty-sixth avenue west and Second street.

Gladys and Orien, the little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson of 322 Twenty-first avenue west, who have been very ill with measles, are recovering now and will soon be about again.

The young people of the Swedish M. E. church are arranging for a program to be given at the church on the evening of March 1. A first-class program is being prepared and refreshments will be served.

Pure drugs at the "Lion Drug store."

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

GREEK CONSUL

At Constanca is Ordered to Leave Roumania Immediately.

Bucharest, Roumania, Feb. 20.—The Graeco-Roumanian differences due to the alleged ill treatment of Greek in Roumania have been further complicated by a demand o fthe foreign office that M. Kapsambelis, the Greek consul at Constanca, leave Roumania immediately. It appears that while accompanying a compatriot, who was embarking on a steamer under order of expulsion, M. Kapsambelis publicly voiced his resentment in a manner so insulting to the Roumanian government that the latter had no choice but to demand his departure from the country.

The trouble between Greece and Roumania is due to the fact that the sultan of Turkey in May, 1905, issued an irade officially recognizing the Roumanian or Kutzo-Vlach element in Macedonia. This caused irritation among the Greeks who boycotted those employing the Roumanian language in church services. The excitement thus aroused in Macedonia led to reprisals against the Greeks in Roumania.

CALL AND SEE THE NEW

S. & H. Special Friezes

H. A. HALL & Co. 119 East Superior St.

MIMEOGRAPHS

The greatest labor saving device of the age. A complete line can be found at

Exclusive Agents for A. B. Dick & Co. CHAMBERLAIN & TAYLOR CO., 323 West Superior Street

PRINTING

To Suit Your Taste. Prompt Execution' Best Work. We Solicit Your Orders.

F. H. LOUNSBERRY & CO.
Successors to Peschey & Lounsberry.
Both Phones. Providence Building.
Fourth Ave. W. and Superior St.

PUBLICATIONS. PUBLICATIONS. PUBLICATIONS.

The Sweetmeats of Literature

To the greybeards of America, and to their gentle companions with silvery hair; to the people of middle age, and to those who have passed beyond early youth—to you all

First number came out on the 10th of February

THE SCRAP BOOK

500,000 copies, and all sold out. Second edition now on the press

will bring back to your mind and heart the delight that a piece of mother's pie would bring to your palate—a big, juicy piece that used to taste so good, so unspeakably good, in the hungry play days of youth.

The Sweetmeats of Literature—old familiar friends, coming back to you in THE SCRAP BOOK—poems, anecdotes, declamations, humorous stories and humorous bits; pathetic stories too, half-forgotten hymns, lost facts, quaint and curious things, absorbing incidents, jokes, satires, and stories that once set your youthful fancies ablaze and opened up the big world to your vision—all these and a thousand things more are in THE SCRAP BOOK.

It is such a treasure-house of new things, and of old things collected from the archives of the century, as has never before been gathered together or even dreamed of.

THE SCRAP BOOK is the hit of the century in magazine making.

On All News Stands or from the Publisher. 10 Cents a Copy—by the Year $1.00.

FRANK A. MUNSEY, 175 Fifth Avenue, New York

REJECT FRENCH PROPOSITION

Germans Refuse to Accept Plan for Policing of Morocco.

Algeciras, Feb. 20.—The German delegates to the Moroccan conference received from Berlin last night Germany's reply to the proposition regarding the policing of Morocco. The reply is a rejection of the French proposition that the officers of the proposed police system shall be French and Spanish. Germany declared that the French proposal is contrary to the principle of internationalization and equality of all the powers in Morocco.

The question of establishing a bank, which has been under discussion between Count Von Tattenbach, the junior German delegate, and M. Regnault, the junior French delegate, also is bristling with difficulties, and no agreement relative to the principal features of the proposal has been reached, nor does an agreement at present appear to be likely.

The delegates of the principal powers are kept fully acquainted with the progress of the pourparlers and will endeavor to bring about a settlement, but tangible results have not yet been attained.

The result of the German reply on the subject of the policing of Morocco has had a bad effect on the neutral delegates, who were disposed to regard the French proposal as a moderate one, and who expected some acknowledgment in that regard from Germany. They do not, however, consider the case as desperate as it has been hitherto. Their guarded interference now will be transformed into a strong pressure upon Germany, whose unyielding attitude is regarded as possibly threatening the world's peace.

THIRD ANNUAL MEETING

Of North Wisconsin Farmers' Association at Washington on March 6.

Iron River, Minn., Feb. 20.—The annual meeting of the North Wisconsin Farmers' association will be held in the city of Washburn on Tuesday, March 6, opening at 10:30 a. m. At this meeting, in accordance with a change in the constitution made at the last meeting, the officers and executive committee of the society will be elected for a period of one year, in place of for six months as heretofore. It is expected that the meeting will be addressed by Dean W. A. Henry of the Wisconsin School of Agriculture and others prominent in agricultural work.

The railroads have been requested to give the usual reduction of one and one-third fare for this meeting, and special trains will be run from points on the Omaha and the Northern Pacific, fuller particulars of which will be given later.

The city of Washburn has made preparations through its Commercial club for the reception of visitors on this occasion, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the members of the association and of all others who are interested in the development of Northern Wisconsin.

ITASCA COUNTY DIVISION.

Changes in Forest Petition Premitted by the State Commission.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—No action was taken yesterday by the commission composed of the governor, attorney general and secretary of state in reference to the division of Itasca county. Action was deferred until March 16, in order to allow changes in the petition asking that the county be called Forest and not Koochiching. It was discovered that the Forest petition failed to state definitely the boundaries of the proposed county, and time to correct this was given. In other respects both petitions were approved.

$22.50 —TO— SPOKANE

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

Correspondingly low rates to points in

MONTANA, IDAHO, OREGON AND BRITISH COLUMBIA

—VIA THE—

Great Northern Railway

"THE COMFORTABLE WAY"

Every Day Until April 7, Inclusive

Excellent opportunities to Make a Home of Your Own or to Engage in Any Line of Business.

Note Following Rates From Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Paul TO

Havre, Great Falls, Butte, Anaconda, Helena, Kalispell, Whitefish and intermediate points... $20.00
Jennings, Mont., Wenatchee, Wash., Fernie, B. C., Kootenai points, Spokane and intermediate points 22.50
Seattle, Portland, Vancouver, Everett and Puget Sound points 25.00

LIBERAL STOPOVER PRIVILEGES.

Inquire further:
A. BROSTEDT, N. P. A.,
432 W. Superior St., DULUTH, MINN.

S. S. Dakota sails from Seattle for the Orient March 12, 1906. S. S. Minnesota sails from Seattle for the Orient April 29, 1906.

BANK NOT LIABLE

For Double Liability, Says a Decision of the Supreme Court.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The supreme court of the United States reversed the decision of the circuit court of the United States in the northern district of Illinois in the case of the First National Bank of Ottawa vs. Theodore R. Converse, receiver of the Minnesota Thresher company, involving the construction of the Minnesota state law exempting stockholders in manufacturing enterprise from the double liability requirement of failing concerns of other character. This action involved the liability of the Ottawa bank as a shareholder in the thresher company, a bankrupt concern, and attacked as unconstitutional the Minnesota state law providing for such liability. The circuit court held the bank to be justly liable for its proportion of the debts of the thresher company, but that view was not sustained by yesterday's opinion. Justices Brewer and Brown dissented.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles, and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by all druggists.

HIBBING GETS $50,000

From State Investment Board to Erect New Schoolhouse.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—Hibbing will receive state aid to erect its new $50,000 schoolhouse. The board of investment yesterday passed favorably upon the application of district No. 27, St. Louis county, for a loan of $50,000. Only $15,000 more in loans were placed in other districts of the state. The township of Jevne, Aitkin county, gets $4,000; township of Graceville, Big Stone county, gets $5,000; Douglas county was granted a loan of $4,000 to be used for ditch purposes. The school districts to get loans were: Beltrami, $3,000; Becker, $400; Marshall, $1,000; Marshall, $600; Murray, $1,000; Roseau, $8,000; Murray, $1000; Roseau, $8,000; Roseau, $1,000; St. Louis, $750; St. Louis, $50,000.

STATE TIMBER BOARD

Collects Treble Damages and Costs From George Wolff.

St. Paul, Feb. 2.—The state timber board yesterday settled the case against George Wolff, who, it was claimed, had cut timber on a 160-acre tract near Motley. He had to pay treble damages and costs, amounting to $392.40. Assistant Attorney General Jelly was present at the meeting. He had just returned from Brainerd, where he had been arguing the case of the state against the Backus-Brooks Lumber company for trespass. The company entered a demurrer to the suit, charging that the law is unconstitutional. The settlement of the case will depend upon the decision in a similar case which is now before the supreme court.

PENTECOST MITCHELL

Presented at Hibbing With a Costly Silver Dinner Service.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 20.—Pentecost Mitchell, until recently superintendent of the Hibbing group of mines and now general manager of the Oliver Iron Mining company, was the guest of honor at a reception at the company's office here, when he was presented by the company's employes in this district with a costly silver dinner service.

M. H. Godfrey, assistant superintendent of the mines, made the presentation with a neat speech, which was feelingly responded to by Mr. Mitchell. There were about sixty present, including superintendents, captains and office men of the company's mines—men who have worked with Mr. Mitchell much of the time during the past twelve years.

After the presentation there were expressions of good will and best wishes for the late chief, followed by a number of vocal numbers, after which the party adjourned to the Hotel Hibbing, where dinner was in waiting.

Will Register Title.

Application to register title under the Torrens system of land registration, was made in district court yesterday by the Y. M. C. A. The property comprises lot 8, block 3, Central division, and is a part of the site where the new $150,000 building to be erected this year.

C. S. Jelly, as the attorney general, advised the commission that all they had to do was to approve the petitions and then the matter was up to the governor, who had the sole power of issuing a proclamation for an election.

INQUIRING FOR COPPER

Consumers Said to be Again Sounding the Market.

George L. Walker Thinks Bull Market in Shares Not Over.

George L. Walker says there are indications of a resumption of activity in the copper metal market. Consumers are inquiring for copper for April delivery and are not finding much of any at current prices. He is also of the opinion that the bull market in copper stocks has not yet had its full run. His letter is as follows:

"There are strong indications of an early resumption of activity in the market. Consumers are again making inquiries for copper for April delivery. Lake is 18¼ to 18½ cents per pound, the former price having been bid for round lots within a few days. Electrolytic copper is held at 18⅜ to 18½ cents by the producers. There has been absolutely no change in the situation except as noted. Producers are in a very strong position, and their confidence in statistical conditions is firmer than ever.

"Consumers who have recently gone the rounds of the producing interests and interviewed selling agents and brokers in an endeavor to pick up copper at 18 to 18¼ cents per pound, frankly admit that they find none for sale at those prices. Discussing this fact, a prominent copper interest says: 'If I were a consumer of copper and found myself unable, after such a long period of dullness as we have recently been having, to buy copper in quantity at 18¼ cents per pound, I think I should immediately buy enough to take care of my entire requirements for six months in advance, as such a condition as this must favor a higher, rather than a lower, range of prices.'

"It seems that there are no accumulations of copper in the hands of producers, notwithstanding that producers have made extremely few sales for five weeks past. No instance is known where there has been any falling off in consumption, all lines of industry in which copper is consumed being more active now than at any time previously in their history. A record breaking year is believed to be ahead, and the consumption of copper must necessarily be very heavy. Conditions existing in the trade are illustrated by the fact that street railroad people, who have recently negotiated the purchase of a considerable amount of wire, were unable to get a promise of anything earlier than August delivery.

COPPER SHARES.

"The liquidation which became conspicious on Tuesday and Wednesday this week is believed to represent simply another period of rearrangement, the bull market having carried some stocks too high while other more deserving ones have been neglected. It is now to be expected that a few of the higher priced stocks will recede considerably from this level and that other stocks, recently dull and neglected, will be taken up, advanced and made the center of speculative activity.

"Recent developments in the financial world should make it very plain that the bull market has not yet had its full run. The arrangement for several tremendously large issues of bonds, to the underwriting of which the leading financial interests of the country have subscribed, furnishes evidence of the soundness of general investment conditions. It will also be recalled that several important copper consolidations are pending and it therefore stands to reason that no serious decline in prices will be permitted unless unexpectedly unfavorable developments should occur in the political and industrial world.

"The copper situation is sound and healthy. The Cole-Amalgamated interests, in purchasing the Heinze properties at Butte for a company which is to be a close corporation, furnish evidence to prove this. The buyers of these properties are both confident as to their value and as to the future of the metal market. There are still a number of copper stocks which would be worth more than their present selling prices even should copper go back to 13 cents per pound, and such stocks are entitled to have, and undoubtedly will have, a substantial advance during the coming two or three months.

Common Colds Are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided, a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles are agravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug, and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by all druggists.

READY TO LAY THE NEW MAINS

Diver John Wanless Will Begin Canal Contract Wednesday.

John Wanless, who has the contract for laying the water and gas mains across the canal to Minnesota Point, expects to start work tomorrow. He has already placed sections of the mains under the north concrete pier, and will now lay the iron pipes across the bed of the canal and under the south concrete pier. The work may take about three weeks.

The mains across the canal will be laid in a trench from three to four feet deep, in the sand floor of the channel to the lake. It is claimed that by placing the pipes at a depth there will be less danger from injury if any passing vessel should drop and drag its anchors.

Ball and socket joints will form the connections of the joints of pipe, lead joints being impracticable under the circumstances.

The up-to-date woman avoids caustics, drugs and powders. They are extremely harmful to the skin, while Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes it soft and beautiful. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

J. H. Hill, president of the Eden Park Coal company, and one of the wealthy men of the Guyandotte valley, W. Va., was shot and killed Monday by Erwin Porter, 18 years old. Porter escaped to the mountains but later was captured. The shooting was the result of a quarrel over some matter about the miners.

James S. Keerl, a well-known civil engineer and highly connected socially throughout Montana, must serve ten years' sentence imposed by the district court of Cascade county for killing Thomas S. Cristal, a Helena bartender, three years ago. The supreme court Monday affirmed the decision of the lower court. Keerl was twice tried in Helena and again in Great Falls.

According to a preliminary summary issued by the census bureau, the state of Minnesota for the year ending Dec. 31, 1905, had 4,759 manufacturing establishments, an increase of 16 per cent over 1900. The increase in the value of products was 37 per cent, the amount in 1904 being $307,607,893.

Announcement was made today for the first time of the secret marriage of Mrs. Effie Lyle Whitney of New York to Robert William Lee Johnson of Louisville, Ky., the ceremony having been performed Jan. 20. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Mrs. James Warham Whitney, and is widely known in society in the East and South.

A rock slide on the Great Northern railroad near Kataka, Idaho, in Kootena canyon, has buried nearly 500 feet of track to a depth of thirty feet. A large force of men is clearing the slide.

More than 400 of the most prominent women in Omaha, at a meeting Monday, adopted a resolution protesting against the verdict for Patrick Crowe, who was last week acquitted of the charge of robbing E. A. Cudahy of $25,000 through the kidnaping of the latter's son five years ago. This is said to be the preliminary to a general mass meeting of citizens to take similar action.

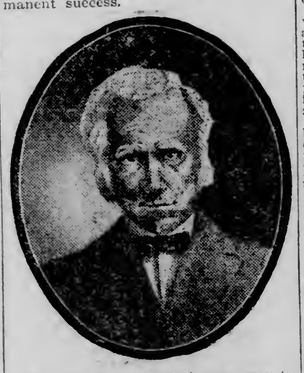

A new legal precedent was established by Judge Tayler in the United States district court at Cleveland, Monday afternoon, when, in the case of the Aultman Company of Canton, Ohio, he directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. The charge against the concern was of importing alien labor from Toronto, Ont., while a strike was in progress at the Canton works.

Piles Quickly Cured at Home

Instant Relief, Permanent Cure—Tria Package Mailed Free to All in Plain Wrapper.

Piles is a fearful disease, but easy to cure if you go at it right.

An operation with the knife is dangerous, humiliating and rarely a permanent success.

There is just one other sure way to be cured—painless, safe and in the privacy of your own home—it is Pyramid Pile Cure.

We mail a trial package free to all who write.

It will give you instant relief, show you the harmless, painless nature of this great remedy and start you well on the way toward a perfect cure.

Then you can get a full-sized box from any druggist for 50 cents, and often one box cures.

If the druggist tries to sell you something just as good, it is because he makes more money on the substitute.

Insist on having what you call for.

The cure begins at once and continues rapidly until it is complete and permanent.

You can go right ahead with your work and be easy and comfortable all the time.

It is well worth trying.

Just send your name and address to Pyramid Drug Co., 12662 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich., and receive free by return mail the trial package in a plain wrapper.

Thousands have been cured in this easy, painless and inexpensive way, in the privacy of the home.

All druggists, 50 cents. Write today for a free package.

Conveys Interest in Ore Land.

A deed conveying from E. B. Hawkins to O. D. Kinney a 39-96th interest in the fee of the west half of the northwest quarter of section 30-59-14, was filed with the register of deeds yesterday, the consideration being $160,000. This is said to one of the transactions in connection with the purchase of the property by the Pickands-Mather company of Cleveland and Joseph Sellwood. The property has been explored, and it is understood that development work is to begin this season.

SENSATION SPRUNG IN BUTTE MURDER TRIAL.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 20.—A sensation was sprung in the Antone Mezzano murder trial yesterday, when Mezzano, over the objections of his counsel, declared that he had been drugged with liquor while in the county jail and that his breast was slashed and cut with a pair of scissors by Paddy Rogers and Dan Warren, two fellow prisoners, who, he said, had been given $20 by an attorney who wished to establish a plea of self-defense for Mezzano.

Mezzano is on trial for the murder of Peter Quello. He was discovered bleeding from the wounds several days after the commission of the crime and the authorities could not understand how they had overlooked the man's wounds at the time of his arrest. Mezzano's strange story came out when his blood-stained clothing was exhibited in court.

SPORTS

PLAN TRIPS FOR HOLIDAY

Ski Runners, Curlers and Hockey Players Will be Busy.

Duluth Sport Lovers Will be Represented in Three Cities.

Washington's birthday will see Duluth represented in three different cities in three different lines of sport.

The national ski tournament at Ishpeming will be held on that date, and a team of five jumpers from the Duluth club will take part in the big event.

The holiday has also been selected as the date of the match for the Nushka cup between the St. Paul and Duluth curlers, and five rinks of curlers from the Duluth club will take the trip to the Saintly City.

The hockey team is also planning two games with the Two Harbors seven for the afternoon and evening of the holiday.

* * *

Odin Halden, the county auditor, who has been selected as the delegate to the meeting of the National Skiing association, left last evening for Ishpeming to attend the meeting which will be held tomorrow evening.

Mr. Halden was appointed a delegate to secure, if possible, the location of next year's tournament in Duluth. This city will have as its opponents Ashland and Red Wing, both of which cities are waging an active campaign. Ishpeming is out of the race this year, but will endeavor to land it again next year.

The five riders who will represent Duluth in the jumps will leave for Ishpeming tomorrow.

* * *

The twenty curlers, composing the five rinks which will meet St. Paul, will leave tomorrow evening, and the match will be played on the afternoon and evening of the holiday.

Five rinks of St. Paul curlers will oppose the local men, and the aggregate score of the five games will count. If Duluth wins the cup this year, the St. Paul curlers will come to this city to compete for it next year.

This is the first year that the cup has been played for, as the trophy was donated by the St. Paul Nushka club but a few weeks ago.

The Duluth rinks will be composed largely of the same players who were to have taken the trip last Saturday, the skips being R. J. MacLeod, A. H. Smith, Harry Hurdon, George MacKenzie and J. C. Myron.

* * *

The Duluth city hockey team will leave on the morning of the holiday for Two Harbors for two games with the Two Harbors city team, in the afternoon and evening.

On New Year's day the Duluth boys took two games from the Two Harbors team, and have won another since that time. They will take up the same seven that will represent the city on the trip to the Copper country, planned for next month, and it will give them a good opportunity for practice. They will endeavor to roll up as large a score as possible against their opponents. The Two Harbors team has been strengthened, however, and it may give the local boys a harder battle than is expected.

DISRUPTION OF RUSS CABINET

Coming to Pass Much More Speedily Than Was Expected.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—The disruption of the Russian cabinet is coming to pass more speedily than was expected. Though both Premier Witte and Minister of the Interior Durnovo remain, Minister of Communication Memechaieff and Controller of the Empire Filossosoff, it is said will follow M. M. Utiler and Timiriazeff into retirement in a few days. Finance Minister Shipoff is said also to be slated for retirement, though this is not certain. M. Memechaieff who has just returned from "swinging around the circle," inspecting railways, is said to have declared that it was impossible to maintain an efficient service while the police are jailing the best and most intelligent of the railway operators and that he quits his post in disgust. The vacancies in the cabinet probably will be filled temporarily until the meeting of the national assembly, and in all probability by the promotion of vice ministers.

In leaving the department of commerce, M. Timiriazeff has severed his connection with the bureaucracy and will come out as a full-fledged parliamentarian. He has been offered the leadership of the party of commerce and industry, one of the most important factions of the constitutional monarchist federation, and will be its candidate for the national assembly. In the event of his election, his assumption of a portfolio in the responsible ministry is altogether probable.

Freed from the bonds of cabinet secrecy, the retiring ministers purpose to train their artillery on Minister of the Interior Durnovo, whose public career is said to offer many salient points of attack. It will be the endeavor to lay the responsibility for reaction at his doors.

Interesting revelations are promised this week.

While dissonance prevails here, the note of alarm is sounded at Moscow. It is doubtful if the revolutionists can precipitate another outbreak there, but their brethren in St. Petersburg are plainly expectant of big doings.

LEE MADE SHERIFF

Of Carlton County With Mrs. McKinnon Matron of Jail.

Carlton, Minn., Feb. 20.—The county commissioners have appointed Deputy Sheriff A. H. Lee as sheriff to fill the unexpired part of the late William McKinnon's term. Sheriff Lee has appointed Mrs. William McKinnon to fill the place of janitress of the court house and matron of the county jail. By this action Mrs. McKinnon will retain the occupancy of the sheriff's residence, and will board the prisoners in the jail, besides receiving the regular remuneration for the janitor work.

100 Doses $1

True only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, in the usual (liquid) form; or in the new and equally effective tablet form.

100 Doses $1

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY

THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE — WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

One Article Each Day

—at these prices. Not going to tell you of the other hundreds of savings there are here for you—but you'll be here for one of these articles, and the visit will do more in your interest than if we tried to tell you.

Our Furniture Floor

Is full of only FIRST CLASS FURNITURE—no "riff-raff" nor cheap goods—and yet we sell that same good furniture for as little, and usually considerably less, than the average installment store charges you for—well, just furniture.

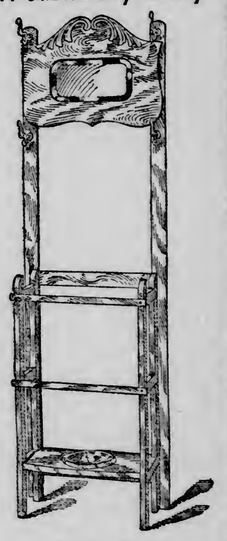

Get This!

We make and execute designs for furniture, according to your own ideas and wishes—and we don't charge a cent for that advantage, either.

We finish and refinish furniture in any desired color or wood, and in the finest possible manner—and we're the only furniture store in the Northwest that does.

We loan—not rent—card tables and chairs for parties—for the mere asking.

Wednesday Only

$2.25

HALL TREE, exactly like this picture, solid quartered oak, nicely carved and finely finished; umbrella stand combination, with brass drip pan; four large metal coat and hat hangers.

Friday Only.

75c

DINING CHAIRS—a rare bargain; golden oak finish, solid seat, very strong and substantially built, with side braces—a chair combining good looks and durability.

Saturday Only.

75c

ROCKER—Golden oak finished rocker, full spindle construction, an excellent design and a chair made for comfort, as well as wear. You'll be surprised when you see it.

THE EVENING HERALD
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.

Published at Herald Bldg., First St., Op. P. O. Square.
THE HERALD COMPANY.
'Phones: Counting Room, 324; Editorial Rooms, 1126.

TEN CENTS A WEEK.
EVERY EVENING—DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

Single copy, daily	$ .02
One month	.45
Three months (in advance)	1.30
Six months (in advance)	2.60
One year (in advance)	5.00

Entered at Duluth Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

DULUTH WEEKLY HERALD.

Per year	$1.00
Six months	.50
Three months	.25

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH

TO SUBSCRIBERS:

It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both old and new addresses.

ADVERTISING DULUTH.

A recent issue of a Pueblo, Colo., newspaper contains an item that is respectfully referred to the Duluth Commercial club.

It is to the effect that "plans are being considered by the Business Men's association to push the advertising of the city through the various railroad publications." Then it goes on to state that arrangements have been made for articles in several railroad magazines, to appear at an early date, and more are in prospect.

The Herald suggested early in the winter that it was the duty of the Commercial club to see that the attractions of Duluth and Lake Superior were given proper attention in the railroad folders and other advertising matter that was being prepared for the summer's business. Very likely many of these publications are already completed, and it will now be too late to get anything in about Duluth for this season. Others, however, may still be open, and there can be little doubt that the passenger department of any railroad or steamboat line touching Duluth, either directly or through other lines, would be glad to consider matter furnished by the Commercial club setting forth the reasons why tourists should visit this section.

The Duluth Commercial club has proven its worth long since, and it is earnestly working along many lines for the upbuilding and advancement of Duluth and Northern Minnesota. This is one method of "boosting Duluth," however, that it seems to have overlooked so far. It is not too late to remedy the oversight, even though the results in some cases may not be evident this year. Communications should be opened up with the passenger department of every steamboat or railroad line that reaches Duluth, either directly or through connections with other lines, with a view to having the multitude of advantages of this section properly set forth.

It will not be a difficult thing to do, since every passenger agent will welcome the assistance. It is his duty to get up folders and other advertising matter that will attract tourists to his line, and matter furnished by the Duluth Commercial club would be in the nature of valuable assistance to him in his work. He might not use all that was sent, but he would certainly be more likely to use something about Duluth, and if he was going to use a little he would be more likely to give us proper attention, if he had some help of this nature.

UNVENTILATED CARS.

If the local street railway has no rule requiring conductors to attend to the ventilation of the street cars it should create one at once; if it has such a rule, it should see that it is properly enforced.

Everybody who possesses the sense of smell and who patronizes street cars these days must have noticed that those with open ventilators are the exception, and in many cases those that are open for the admission of a bit of fresh air have been opened by passengers, and not by the conductors.

The practice of keeping the ventilators closed is not only an affront to the nostrils and a cause of unpleasantness, but it is a serious menace to health.

The interior of a crowded car with every opening closed to fresh air is noisome and suggestive of microbes and disease. Such an atmosphere cannot fail to be a fertile breeding place for the germs of disease. It is more than uncomfortable and nauseating; it is positively dangerous.

Even in the mild weather of the past few days closed cars have been much more common than open ones, and while the car interiors are not less dangerous, they certainly smell louder than in cold weather.

Some conductors are mindful of this condition, and appear to try to keep their cars ventilated. Most of them, however, do not seem to think of the discomfort and danger attendant upon traveling in a tightly closed car full of foul air, microbes and closely packed humanity.

If the street railway company cannot enforce a change in this respect, it is a proper thing for the health department to take up.

WHAT IS BACK OF IT?

It would be interesting indeed to know just what is at the bottom of the peculiar conditions of the forestry propaganda in Minnesota.

It is hard to believe that the only thing back of it is the beautiful theory of reforestration. That theory is held elsewhere, and sought to be put into practice elsewhere, but nowhere is it accompanied by such methods as it is in Minnesota.

There is no instance on record where a mere abstract theory like reforestration has been pushed with such persistence and by methods so deadly as the case has been in Minnesota. When people firmly believe in a theory like this, they are willing to sign petitions in favor of it, and even to contribute a little money toward it, but they do not do the things that have been done in the name of forestry in Minnesota.

For instance, when the Minnesota legislature was asked to petition congress for the Cass Lake forest reserve, there was a corps of lobbyists on hand who seemed to have no other source of livelihood, many of them, than what they were doing at that time—lobbying for forestry. When the legislature again memorialized congress last winter, this time to abolish the forest reserve, these lobbyists again made their appearance, and no agent of railroads or trusts showed the habits and persistency of the professional lobbyist more than they did.

Again, people do not commit forgery and perjury and utter slanders and falsehoods through mere admiration for an abstract theory, and these things the forestry people have done in Minnesota.

Again, admirers of a lovely theory do not seek to condemn to retrogression a great and growing empire, as the Minnesota forestry people have sought to do with Northern Minnesota.

References have been made in these columns to a "magazine supplement" furnished many country newspapers throughout the West, which incidentally sought to create public sentiment against railroad rate revision. It appears that forestry and irrigation are also the objects of the workers back of this supplement. It also appears that while the newspapers get these supplements free, they are costing somebody thousands of dollars every week.

In short, there is ample evidence that somewhere back of this forestry movement in Minnesota, which will not content itself with operating on lands suited for forestry but seeks to tie up valuable agricultural lands, to the injury of the state and its people, is a hidden motive possessed by people anxious enough about it to put up large sums of money.

It would be exceedingly interesting to know what this interest is, and how it seeks to profit itself under the guise of the "forestry" movement. Furthermore, there is going to be public interest enough in this question to make it pretty certain that before the fight is over this hidden interest that is supplying the money and hoodwinking those who honestly seek forestry experiments will stand unveiled.

THE SKI TOURNAMENT.

Duluth is seeking the honor of taking care of the next national ski-jumping contest, and her delegates go to Ishpeming this week armed with ample arguments why this action should be taken.

The central location of Duluth and the excellent field arrangements possible here are among the leading reasons offered why the tournament should be held here next year. Duluth is easily accessible from all the different points from which ski-jumpers come to compete in the great annual event. There are direct lines of railroad running from practically every one of these points to Duluth, and this cannot be said of any other place that has been mentioned in this connection.

As to the arrangements, Duluth is not a "jumping-off place," but local ski-runners say that the Hunters park hill is better adapted for ski-jumping than any place proposed in the entire area covered by the national association, and that it offers every facility for breaking the records.

Thousands of visitors would be brought to the city by this annual tournament, and to each and every one the city would extend a warm and hospitable welcome. There are ample arrangements for caring for such a crowd, and there can be little doubt that the tournament would be larger, if held in Duluth, than it would in any other place that has been mentioned.

The Herald joins with the local ski-runners in extending an invitation to the national tournament to hold its next contest here, and it is warranted in assuring the delegates that no pains will be spared to make the tournament a complete success if it is concluded to hold it in Duluth.

THE FIELD SURVEY

Twenty-three for the groundhog. The robin has proved himself the better prophet.

* * *

The great difference between John A. McCall and some other people was that he got found out.

* * *

Still, even if he is a very inconspicuous object, the bridegroom is yet an essential to the wedding.

* * *

Slanders travel fast, but you have to deliver a compliment personally to make sure it gets where it belongs.

* * *

The Pennsylvania legislature did its duty. That's what any legislature will do when the people insist upon it, and not before.

* * *

George Eliot said that "what makes life dreary is want of motive." Have an ambition, and pursue it diligently and honestly.

* * *

A story from Mexico says the miners there eat dynamite for its intoxicating effects. It might prove exciting to see a dynamite drunk get a hard fall.

* * *

The Gray Eagle Gazette, with helpful intent, does what it can in the search for John D. Rockefeller by announcing that he has not been seen in Gray Eagle.

* * *

The Warroal Plaindealer, having copied an editorial and omitted giving credit, makes a handsome apology in the next issue. A deed as creditable as it is rare.

* * *

Germany has shown a disposition to meet the United States half way on the tariff. Should we accept the overture, or take McCleary's advice and throw a brick at Germany?

* * *

The Hibbing Mesaba Ore says that the brand of "harmony" germinated at the St. Paul and Minneapolis love feasts would have done credit to a gathering of strange bulldogs.

* * *

A Milwaukee wife has sued for $750,000 because her husband was taken away from her. Some wives sometimes feel as if they would like to pay somebody about that much to take their husbands away.

* * *

If the investigating committee of the New York Life recovers the $148,702 contributed to campaign funds, it will prove rather discouraging to the practice of saving the country with other people's money.

* * *

The Red Lake Courier says: "If the United States senate were abolished there would be little inducement for ambitious men to become millionaires." And little chance for them to become billionaires.

* * *

Does it pay to trifle with honesty and good principle? Ask Depew, McCall, McCurdy, Alexander, Cassie Chadwick or Senator Burton, all of whom thought it did for a time and had reason to change their minds.

* * *

That scientist who has been giving people glass beads to eat to test their digestive powers, having started on something mild will doubtless next give them a meal of fried potatoes, fried beefsteak and fried doughnuts.

* * *

Standpatters have been boasting that our foreign trade has increased 45 per cent under the Dingley law. During the same period Canada's trade has increased 83 per cent, and the tariff is being revised to remove obstacles to still greater commercial expansion. Meanwhile the standpatters still favor increasing business by surrounding it with restrictive measures.

HOTEL GOSSIP

"It is surprising the number of young men there are in the country who are earning only $10 or $12 a week, and keeping up appearances to a certain extent," said R. S. Bodway of New York at the Lenox. "The young fellow who is having a hard time making both ends meet on $20 a week would learn some things that would be of benefit if, by some circumstance or other, he would have to work for $10 a week.

"At first sight he would throw up his hands in despair, and say that he could not do it, but when it came to a case of either doing that or starving he would find that he could get along quite comfortably. Of course he would have to get along without a lot of the old pleasures that he had been accustomed to enjoy, but it wouldn't be long before he would discover that what looked like pleasures when he had the money to afford them were really things that didn't give much enjoyment for the money they cost. The smaller salary would teach him to appreciate the larger one when he got back to the old $20 basis. The trouble with most fellows is that their expenses increase faster than theor salary, and they are always a little behind the game.

"In the larger cities of the East there are hundreds of young men earning less than $10 a week, and they pay not only for the soda water and ice cream, but for theater tickets as well. It is safe to say that their best girls don't get to the theater every week, to the better class of attractions, at least, nor are bon bons hers to waste, but she has her share of the pleasures of life, and when they walk together on Sunday afternoons you would not know from a casual glance whether the man in the case was earning $10 or $100, for with the proper care and attention a man can dress decently on a pretty small sum of money. I know young fellows who don't look as well on $25 per as others do on $15.

"When a small salary is concerned, being a man has some advantages. For instance, he doesn't buy a suit one winter and find it so hopelessly out of fashion the next that it is impossible to wear it, although it may not be in the height of fashion the second season. As a rule, however, the difference in styles from year to year are not pronounced enough to make a man ashamed to wear his old suit. True, the coat may be a trifle short and the vest cut too high, but these things are not noticeable to the average eye. Now a woman buys a coat, and the sleeves bag most beautifully at the wrist. Then fashion decrees that the sleeves are all wrong, and that the fullness must go to the shoulder. So, unless she is clever enough to turn the sleeves upside down, she must feel hopelessly out of fashion."

* * *

"Through Northern Wisconsin the snow in the woods is deeper this winter than I have seen it for several years past," said R. O. Paulson of Chippewa Falls, Wis., at the St. Louis. "In some places it lies three and four feet deep on the level, and it is impossible to travel through it without the aid of snowshoes or skis, and the latter are not very handy for use in the woods.

"The snow is so very deep, in fact, that it interferes to a certain extent with logging operations. It will be mean working in the woods from now on if the present warm spell keeps up, for a man will be unable to step from the road without getting wet to his waist in the wet snow, and what it is wet will interfere with his walking on snowshoes. All this will mean that the rivers and creeks will be filled to overflowing with water this spring, and flooded conditions may result in certain sections, for the ground was so wet last fall that the water this spring will have little chance to soak in, and about the only method for it to get away will be to run off on the surface of the earth.

"Speaking of snowshoes and skis reminds me of one time when I tried to hunt with skis on my feet. There were no snowshoes handy at the time, so I strapped a pair of the long boards to my feet and started out. It went all right in the open, but when I struck the brush there was trouble in plenty right away. The skis would get tangled up every little ways, and whenever I came to a thicket of balsams or cedar I would have to go around it altogether, because the skis were too long to go between the trees in good shape. And then I made so much noise and spent so much time looking to see where I was steering that I didn't even see a rabbit. Half an hour of this sort of work satisfied me that I wasn't good enough on skis to use them while hunting, and I returned to camp."

* * *

At the Spalding: J. Ashermann, New Haven, Conn.; W. H. Cushman, Boston; C. L. Massey, Dayton, Ohio; C. T. Fairbairn, Virginia; H. H. Kromen, Ashland; F. E. Pomeroy, P. F. McDonald, H. R. Ensign, W. C. Burleigh, Minneapolis; J. S. Farrington, Springfield, Ill.; C. M. Kennedy, Pittsburg; N. P. May, Sandusky, Ohio; H. L. Moore, Minneapolis; W. Heltkam, Indianapolis; M. H. Berrill, Ely; Mrs. E. Mussell, Hibbing; M. Toner, Holland; J. W. Martens, Wilmington, Del.; W. H. Cook, Saginaw, Mich.; R. Nelson, V. Armstrong, O. Tucedy, Chicago.

* * *

At the St. Louis: B. F. Alexander, Stoughton, Mass.; C. Jesmore, Eveleth; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Martin, Minneapolis; C. D. Johnson, Grand Rapids; G. H. Good, Winton, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Callahan, St. Paul; C. LaDu, J. J. Callander, M. A. Culon, Ottowa, Ill.; W. G. Phillips, Calumet, Mich.; H. W. Cable and family, Two Harbors; Mrs. N. B. Shank, Mrs. F. B. Myers, Biwabik; J. P. Zonne, Appleton, Wis.; J. Ryan, Negaunee, Mich.; O. Cookson, Cloquet, Minn.; R. L. Gould, St. Paul; G. Robinson, Ontonagon, Mich.; A. P. Kirsch, Crookston; A. L. Thwing, Grand Rapids; H. J. Hage, Deerwood, Minn.; A. J. Sitto, Eveleth; G. H. Thompson, E. M. Smith, G. A. Brown, Hibbing; W. G. Corcoran, Grand Rapids; M. J. Hayes, Iron Mountain; S. C. Holden, Two Harbors; J. L. Corguff, Ladysmith, Wis.; J. P. Poulson, Two Harbors; M. O. Aubolee, Two Harbors; F. Stadden, E. M. Farnham, Princeton, Minn.

* * *

At the Lenox: Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Munsing, Helena, Mont.; A. G. Perkins, Ironwood, Mich.; A. Gorton, Ashland, Wis.; W. C. Nolen, Virginia; F. C. Bostwick, A. Bostwick, Bovey, Minn.; J. F. O'Brien, C. H. Steffen, Minneapolis; A. H. Westall, New York; G. M. Hall, H. L. Jameson, H. Dumas, Chicago; H. O. Wilson, Milwaukee; E. E. Gray, Seattle; F. W. Sheehan, J. W. Darling, Minneapolis; G. W. Ray, Bemidji.

* * *

At the McKay: T. G. Taylor, St. Paul; P. Woods, Minneapolis; E. Lanson, Foxboro; J. G. Brownlow, Louisville, Ky.; L. R. Weaver, Minneapolis H. T. Michael, Brainerd, Minn.; S. J. Manly, Milwaukee; Mrs. H. A. Read, Two Harbors; W. L. Mackay, Minot, N. D.; S. A. McMahon, Helena, Mont.; R. McNaughton, Nebagamon, Wis.; R. Johnson, Sualt Ste. Marie; G. A. Higgins, E. C. Washburn, Chicago.

Two Cents a Pound.

We'll have a new tea kettle, wife,
When copper is
Two cents a pound.
We'll have a boiler, bet your life,
When copper is
Two cents a pound.
We'll have a trolley by the door,
The price of 'phones will tumble lower,
And tin and zinc will be no more,
When copper is
Two cents a pound.

We'll have more pennies for to "blow,"
When copper is
Two cents a pound.
We'll have more "coppers" on the row
When copper is
Two cents a pound.
Our strings will all be copper wire,
We'll have a "pull," or I'm a liar,
That all the world will quite admire,
When copper is
Two cents a pound.

We'll pave the streets with copper bricks
When copper is
Two cents a pound.
No more for houses stones or sticks
When copper is
Two cents a pound.
Take off your hat to this event,
This copperpated Boston gent—
We'll have Sir Tom for President
When copper is
Two cents a pound.
—JOE CONE in New York Sun.

Let the Fire Go Out.

Chicago News: It was 20 degs. below zero at Devils Lake Saturday. Evidently the proprietor was not in.

THE WEATHER

More spring weather. This morning it was clear and fresh and balmy, with a little of the languor of spring in the air. Underfoot yesterday's thawings had frozen, and sidewalks were a glare of ice. The lowest temperature last night was 26 degrees above zero, and the highest temperature was 46 degrees. The weather man says it will remain mild tonight and tomorrow, getting down to about 25 degrees above zero tonight. Says Mr. Richardson of conditions:

"The Alberta storm center has moved to Manitoba, while another disturbance has developed over British Columbia, causing still higher temperature from the Lake Region southward, and scattered areas of rain or snow in the extreme northwest and rain from Eastern Kansas southward. The California high pressure area has moved to the Middle Rockies and has been attended by cooler weather in the Rocky Mountains and Western Canada. The easterly movement of these pressure areas favors a continuance of mild weather and partly cloudy skies in this locality tonight and Wednesday."

Following were the lowest temperatures recorded by the weather bureau in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning:

Abilene	48	Medicine Hat	24
Atlanta	48	Miles City	32
Battleford	26	Milwaukee	28
Bismarck	28	Minnedosa	22
Boston	32	Modena	24
Buffalo	32	Montgomery	38
Calgary	20	Moorhead	24
Charleston	42	New Orleans	48
Chicago	32	New York	34
Cincinnati	32	Norfolk	38
Davenport	32	Northfield	8
Denver	22	North Platte	26
Detroit	32	Oklahoma	46
Devils Lake	36	Omaha	36
Dodge	32	Phoenix	48
Duluth	26	Pierre	36
Edmonton	24	Pittsburg	32
El Paso	40	Port Arthur	26
Escanaba	28	Portland	44
Galveston	56	Prince Albert	14
Green Bay	26	Qu'Appelle	20
Havre	32	Rapid City	34
Helena	30	St. Louis	40
Houghton	24	St. Paul	28
Huron	30	San Francisco	48
Jacksonville	46	Santa Fe	38
Kamloops	34	S. Ste. Marie	26
Kansas City	48	Shreveport	52
Knoxville	36	Spokane	36
La Crosse	24	Swift Current	36
Lander	14	Washington	30
Little Rock	52	Williston	28
Los Angeles	50	Winnemucca	30
Marquette	26	Winnipeg	20

Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Duluth, Feb. 20.—Local forecast for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Wednesday: Duluth, Superior and Vicinity: Partly cloudy and rather mild weather tonight and Wednesday. Lowest temperature tonight close to 25 deg. Fresh to brisk westerly winds.

H. W. RICHARDSON,
Local Forecaster.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Forecasts until 7 p. m. Wednesday: Wisconsin—Partly cloudy with rain in east and slightly cooler in west portion tonight. Wednesday fair.

Minnesota, North and South Dakota—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Moderate temperature.

Growth of the Missouri Spirit.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The day of politics seems to have passed when an officeholder can presume upon his party grip to ignore the wishes, and even demands, of his constituency. The voters have arrived at a crook in the road where they are demanding to see things substantial in return for the faith they have shown in placing a man in a fat office, and he must make good in something beyond being a good party man. In times of the recent past, "party" was all there was to it, and the "yellow dog" idea carried as much weight with the blind party followers as did merit, ability and equipment. Today is dawning the "Missouri" system, and it augurs good for the whole country; it is of the spirit that refuses to respond with alacrity to the crack of the party whip. Soon the man that is chosen as a representative of the people will have to do more than draw a salary for simply standing as a stool-pigeon for the use of those who disregard absolutely the wishes of the great masses, who look upon the laws of the land as mere jokes, and upon those chosen to administer the laws as simpering harlequins. The people are at last awakening and are coming to their own, and it is time. The party whip has long been a curse to the free institutions of the country, and the man who has the temerity to cast off the shackles and assert his independence is the coming man.

"Exhibit A."

I wrote the girl a letter;
Oh! most unlucky day!
Her lawyer has that letter;
It's marked "Exhibit A."
—Philadelphia Press.

Truly Rural.

Harper's Weekly: The 17-year-old daughter of a certain Wall street man recently visited for the first time the fine farm in Dutchess county for the past year owned by her father. The girl immediately became greatly interested in the prize cattle that are the especial pride of her parent, and she asked many questions relative to their breeding, etc.

One evening, just at dusk, as the girl was standing on the veranda of the farmhouse, talking to the manager, there came the low, mournful note of a cow.

"Just listen to that poor cow," said the girl to the manager, "mewing for her colt."

His Modest Request.

Cleveland Leader: The great pianist at the drawing room function arose from his instrument and held up his hand. When the hubbub of voices died down he cleared his throat and spoke:

"I do not ask," he said, "that you moderate your conversation to the point where you can hear me play. I don't care whether you hear me or not. But in order to do myself justice, I must request that you allow me to hear myself."

In the silence that ensued he broke three strings and a plate-glass window.

Yellow Journals Doomed.

Henry Watterson in Louisville Courier-Journal: The yellow journal cannot, in my opinion, last. In time people will become familiar and grow tired of its tricks and its manners. Sausages of dog-meat, though never so highly seasoned, will after a while sicken all but the coarsest stomachs—particularly when sausages are known to be made of dog-meat. The general public will be educated to understand the difference between sensational and fake matter and legitimate and reliable news. Sprawling headlines will no longer suffice to carry fabrications and exaggerations, and will cease to provoke curiosity, and therefore to make talk and attract attention. Readers will mark the false statement of today which must be corrected, or ignored, tomorrow, and will require of their newspaper, as of their butcher and their baker, straight food and fair dealing.

Dead Silence.

Puck: "That—e-h'm!—scandal of which you were speaking," said the washing-machine agent, "is being kept pretty quiet, isn't it?"

"You betcha!" replied the landlord of the Pruntytown tavern. "Why, nobody knows a word about it except the Embroidery club, the Missionary Sewing circle, the Daughters of Rebekah, the Art club, the Y. M. C. A., the Social Science Federation, the Shakespearean Coterie, the W. C. T. U., the Knights and Ladies of the Fireside, the Royal Neighbors, the Rannakaboo club, and the clam peddler. The Weekly Plaindealer don't dare to print it, and of course the injured hasn't caught on—so, as you might say, the secret is as inviolate, or whatever the word is, as the grave."

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: The only way most of us can get rich is to inherit it.

For some people there is comfort in not letting others have any.

It makes a man awful proud to feel he has no pride the way other people have.

No matter how many times you lose your temper, you always find it again for the next occasion.

A man who stays unmarried is a good deal smarter than he will ever know unles he gets married.

Does your baking powder contain alum? Look upon the label. Use only a powder whose label shows it to be made with cream of tartar.

NOTE.—Safety lies in buying only the Royal Baking Powder, which is the best cream of tartar baking powder that can be had.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Taken from the Columns of The Herald of this date in 1886.

The Duluth Toboggan club is considering how to celebrate Washington's birthday with due honor. It is expected that some plan will be devised, in which the club will promote the public entertainment.

The following agreement, which is being circulated among business men, explains itself: "We, the undersigned, agree to give the sum of $25 annually as a membership fee of a Duluth business men's association for the general purpose of circulating information in regard to Duluth and leading manufacturing and other interests in Duluth." The paper already contains the signatures of a large number of substantial citizens.

W. H. Lucas returned from St. Paul fully convinced that the Northwestern Baseball association is a settled thing. At the session to be held at Eau Claire, March 1, the constitution and bylaws of the league will be drafted and officers elected for the ensuing season.

A little incident related by a commercial tourist last evening, clearly demonstrates that E. Z. Williams is a typical hotel man. The drummer said the first time he came to Duluth he arrived on the early morning train and found Landlord Cullyford at the desk. He was assigned a back room that was not altogether to his liking. Upon coming downstairs to ask for a room in the front part of the house, Clerk Williams was presiding over the register. One glance was sufficient. "This is the proprietor," thought the knight of the grip, who said: "See here, Landlord, I don't like that room your clerk gave me; will you kindly change it for me?" Of course the request was quickly complied with, and on becoming better acquainted the cigars were charged to the drummer.

On last Thursday afternoon, John Job, a miner, met with a violent accident by an explosion in the North Lee mine at Tower. In making a blast, a premature explosion occurred, injuring him so badly that he died.

Miss Marie Jenkins will organize her class for ladies and gentlemen at the academy of dancing and deportment in the Vineyard rink, Monday evening.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded:

Virginia Adams to J. H. Delaney, lot 239, block 60, Second division, $1,200.

American Exchange bank to E. W. Fowler, lot 24, West First street, First division, $3,500.

H. H. Pearson to Charles Peterson, lot 158, block 44, Third division, $200.

John B. Morrison to S. Nelson part of lot 290, block 94, Second division, $100.

James J. Dull to George Rupley, lot 3, block 57, Endion division, $500.

James S. Forrester to Alois Ebmer, lots 50 and 52, block 93, Third division, $100.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Minneapolis Journal: Congressman Bede prefers the stork to the eagle as a national bird because while "the eagle can only scream the stork delivers the goods." In this connection the Eighth district member says he has race suicide beaten by six Bedes.

Hendrum Review: The profits of the Standard Oil company for 1905 were enough to buy the state of North Dakota at its assessed valuation.

Gray Eagle Gazette: We make a motion that somebody admit they are a candidate for governor.

Rochester Post and Record: Perhaps the jolts that the Minnesota senators received last week are reminders that it would be healthy to keep their ears to the ground, and attend carefully to what their constituents demand.

Albert Lea Tribune: The favorite son plan of campaign for the gubernatorial nomination should not be carried too far by the ambitious and aspiring statesmen, as they may awaken to find that they are not any too popular among their neighbors, as has been witnessed in the past more than once.

Moorhead Citizen: Representative Perkins of New York alludes to the Hepburn rate bill as a "scare-crow." Messrs. Elkins, Foraker and Dalzell and about two hundred others will do their best to make it look that way before they are through with it.

Moorhead Independent: The railroads are certainly getting all the publicity they want nowadays—and all of it is not to their liking, either.

Ely Miner: The noses of some of our "knockers" in the southern part of the state must be exceptionally short, as it is said they cannot see farther than the end of their nose. Mention iron mine or St. Louis county and they make a noise like a braying ass. Mention taxes on farms they make a noise like a clam. Narrow minded and short sighted, but exceedingly long winded when discussing the northern end of the state from which they derive the main sustenance of the state in so far as ready cash is concerned.

Roseau Region: The Ohio legislature is puzzled whether to classify the lobbyist as a criminal. It is safe to classify him as a person capable of becoming a criminal or of making you one.

Lancaster Herald: We were perusing a novel the other day and we stopped at the place where it told how "the hero strained the noble girl to his breast and wept." A man who will weep while straining a noble girl to his breast ought to be compelled to strain the girl with a stainer hereafter. He hasn't enough sense to pound sugar.

East Grand Forks Valley View: When an old political wolf wants to get popular these days, he puts on an elaborate suit of reform clothing.

LeSueur Sentinel: How few of our wealthy men will have it said of them when they pass away, "He was rich, but honest."

Red Lake Courier: If the United States senate were abolished there would be little inducement for ambitious men to become millionaires.

More Work for Secretary Wilson.

Chicago Record-Herald: A servant girl in the household of a Pottsville, Pa., family was slicing potatoes for dinner the other day, when she found one that was particularly watery. She was about to throw it away, when the knife struck something hard. She cut it out and showed it to her mistress. It proved to be a pearl, which jewelers value at $40. Now, then, here is an opportunity for Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. Let him take up immediately the investigation and propagation of the pearl-bearing potato. There is not a constituent of any congressman but would like to have sample and experimental packages of that vegetable. The seed of a potato that grows pearls would be much more highly appreciated than several packages of peas good only for a cheap porridge.

Hanging Out His Sign.

Washington Post: "I am almost afraid to go to the table," said Dr. Wiley. "The butter is painted, canned goods are kept for years and sold for the genuine article and the foods we eat are fraught with germ life of a harmful nature." The doctor's talk is a sure sign of the approaching spring. He needs sassafras.

SUNNY GEMS.

Chicago Tribune: "Yes, sir," said the man with the bulging waistcoat, "I was the only child of the family."

"That explains," said the other man, yawning, "why you do enough talking for six average men."

Cleveland Leader: Collector—Are you going to pay this bill within the next few days, or never?

Debtor—Well, it's mighty nice of you to give me my choice, old man. I'll make it never.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Who was the first financial operator mentioned in the earliest records?"

"Give it up."

"Noah. He and the boys spent a good deal of their time watering stock."

Chicago Tribune: The struggling author opened the letter the postman had just brought.

It was from his publisher and contained a check for a large amount.

"Well," he chuckled, "I seem to have found the secret of write living at last!"

Philadelphia Press: Weary Walker—W'ot yer lookin' so worried about, Ragsey?

Ragson Tatters—I just read a piece in de paper dis mornin' where a scientific gent said: "Doin' nothin' all de time is de hardest kind o' work." Gee! Suppose dat's true!

Washington Star: "Don't be too sure you was born to be a leader," said Uncle Eben. "A good deckhand kin look fob some rest an' comfort, but a bad pilot gits into all kinds o' trouble."

Detroit Free Press: "Here is a letter for you I've carried around in my pocket for two weeks," said the trembling husband.

"That's all right," said his wife with a smile, "it's only my dressmaker's bill."

Chicago Daily News: "Some people," remarked the thoughtful thinker, "are always borrowing trouble."

"Yes," rejoined the man with the new crutches, "and some others buy it outright in the guise of an automobile."

Baltimore American: "What I want," sighed the enthusiastic young star, "is one of the delicate, dainty roles which take the soul into Arcady."

"That's all very well, traveling the gentle path of diligence to Arcady," said the heavy villain, "but let me tell you it's lots more satisfactory in the long run to get fat parts that lead to the pork barrel."

Perils of a Governor.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Governor Pattison of Ohio is being treated by two physicians of different schools, who never consult with each other or call at the same hour. Instead of putting the governor in a glass case, as was done on inauguration day, it would seem to be more prudent to put him in a steel safe.

AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM Washington's Birthday Matinee

WED., THURS. MAT. AND NIGHT,
Ireland's Sweet Singer,
ALLEN DOONE
In
"KERRY GOW"
Sweet Irish Songs. Prices, 25c, $1.00.
Feb. 23-24—Louis James. Friday—"Richelieu"; Saturday Matinee, "Ingomar;" Night, "Virginius."

METROPOLITAN
Tonight and All Week
Reilly & Woods Co.
With Pat Reilly, Orth & Fern, Kennedy & Evans, Daly & Reno, the Revere Sisters, Ida Kessner and the Golden Ballet.
Bargain Matinees Thursday and Saturday. Thursday for ladies. Friday night for amateurs.
Next Week—"Miss New York, Jr."

Out Today

Everybody's Magazine

The Insurance Investigation

How much has been accomplished in safe-guarding policy holders from still more plunder and corruption.

In Everybody's for March, Lawson says:

"While McCall, McCurdy and Alexander have been deposed, the other organizations and their methods remain. These men have gone down before the storm as carcasses thrown to the wolves to distract attention from the real culprits. What is worse: all check has been removed from the giant grafters of the 'System' who have tightened their hold on policy holders' millions more surely than ever before, and are supreme in their power."

The remedy for this—see Lawson's "Black Flag on the Big Three" in Everybody's for March.

Everybody's Magazine

15 cents a copy $1.50 a year

LATE DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Smallpox Has Broken Out at a Resort Near Mass City.

Calumet—Smallpox has broken out in a resort near Mass City, and the place was quarantined. The logging camp employing 200 men, operated by the Sawyer Gooding company, of Marinette, was also quarantined.

Gladstone — A residence owned by Charles Mattson was burned to the ground yesterday. The fire department made a quick run, but the hydrant was frozen, which prevented getting a stream on the fire until the house was beyond control. Loss $1,000. Insurance, $700.

Menominee—Judge Henry Nason, a pioneer citizen of Menominee, has a unique record as a justice of the peace. He has held that position for thirty years, and during that time has disposed of upwards of 2,000 cases of all sorts of civil and criminal proceedings. In addition, he has performed about 200 marriage ceremonies and in all has officiated at 200 inquests. Mr. Nason was first elected justice in 1872, serving continuously until 1899, when he went out of office for four years, since which time there has been no break in his incumbency of the office.

Crystal Falls—The coming season promises to be the best in a business sense that Crystal Falls has ever seen, not excepting the boom days of 1900. Every mine is working full force. The Crystal Falls, Tobin, Great Western, Lumont and Bristol, lying within the city limits or just without them, are employing in the neighborhood of 900 men. In addition the Fairbanks is rapidly developing into a mine and may be employing 100 men, instead of twenty-five, before the summer is very far along. The Kimball will certainly employ between 50 and 100, probably the latter, before the middle of the summer. This makes a total of 1,000 men employed in the city alone. Adjacent to the city are the Dunn, Armenia and Mansfield. The Dunn is preparing to work a bigger force of men than ever. The Armenia will employ over 100 men and the Mansfield about 150. Altogether, these three mines will add 500 men to the number employed.

WEST DULUTH

BEGINS THE REVIVALS

Rev. M. S. Rice Speaks Ably on "Waiting for Jesus."

Will Speak Each Evening This Week in Presbyterian Church.

"I haven't come to West Duluth to show how I can preach. I don't care whether you people think I can preach at all, or not. I am not here to apologize for my faith. I am here to preach my faith, and not to vindicate it."

This was the opening thought of Rev. M. S. Rice's sermon last night, at the Westminster Presbyterian church, on "Waiting For Jesus"—a most impressive appeal to the Christian people of West Duluth to support and sustain the revivals now in progress.

"It is of utmost importance that we start right. There is a whole lot in a right start. It is not a matter of numbers. The best revival I have ever known started with five people.

"They were all waiting for Jesus" was the text. The scene was on the shore of the Sea of Galilee; a great crowd of people were there watching and waiting to welcome the coming to their shore of Jesus. He has a right to such a welcome from the Christian people here."

In a masterly way Mr. Rice, showed how, whenever the Christian people of any community were all expecting, and ready to welcome the coming of Jesus into their midst He never failed them.

The church was well filled and it is expected that the capacity of the building will be taxed at the rest of the services. Rev. W. J. Lowrie led the song service last night and the male quartet from the Swedish Baptist church sang two numbers. Tonight Mr. Rice will speak on the subject "The Broken Vow." The service will begin at 7:45 sharp.

Hears From I. Chabot.

Alderman L. A. Barnes this morning received a picture postal from I. Chabot, says he is enjoying life down there and is much interested in a study of the inhabitants of Key West. The postal gives a picture of the way milk is sold there and Mr. Chabot explains it. Instead of peddling the milk as they do here, the cows are driven from house to house and as one purchases milk, the fluid is taken from the animal on the spot.

To Have Smoker.

Division No. 4, A. O. H. will hold their regular meeting at Gilley's hall this evening. The members will hold a smoker and will make arrangements for the degree work. The degrees will be conferred on a number of candidates at the first meeting in March, which will be on Tuesday, March 6.

West Duluth Briefs.

At the Second Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, corner of Grand and Sixty-third avenues west, Rev. H. K. Madsen will preach this evening at 8 o'clock. There will be music and singing. Services will be held there every evening this week.

Mrs. Emil Holmes, mother of Mrs. D. R. McKinley, has gone to Emmetsburg, Iowa, for an extended visit.

O. J. Simons has gone to Scanlon and Cloquet on business.

Mr. Wyman, who installed the machinery in the Union Match factory, is now head draughtsman in the Dolman Engine works of Oshkosh, Wis. He was quite well-known here. F. H. Wade saw him when he was down there a few days ago.

Wallace Daoust was down from the range yesterday.

James Halden will move his family to St. Croix Falls, Wis., this week, having taken a position with the power company there.

Louis Bouvier was brought in from McDonnell's camp yesterday suffering from typhoid fever, and is now at his home on Sixty-eighth avenue west.

Mrs. J. H. Conklin has gone to Minneapolis to visit her sister, Mrs. Sherwood.

The Irving school alumni will meet tomorrow evening for a business session.

Jewelry repairing—Hurst, 301 Central.

The coming nuptials of Miss Lizzie Feehely, sister of Rev. Father Feehely and Lindon Lynch were called in St. James Catholic church on Sunday morning.

The married women of St. James Catholic church gave a card party last evening in St. James hall, which is said to be the largest card party ever given in the city. The hall was packed and forty tables were going. A fine program was also given.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Nickerson, John Foucault and J. C. Anderson of West Duluth went last night to St. Paul to attend the grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. From there, Mrs. Nickerson will go to her old home in Southern Wisconsin, where she will remain for some time.

The Twentieth Century Progress club of St. James Catholic church reorganized Sunday afternoon at a meeting at St. James hall and a large attendance was present. The following officers, who were elected will be installed next Sunday afternoon: President, Joseph Bellmuir; vice president, John Cashin; secretary, John Bethune; and treasurer, Peter McCormick.

New spring stock arriving daily at Lauermann's. Come in and inspect it.

The Modern Brotherhood of America will give their first annual ball on Thursday evening, Feb. 22, at Wade's hall. Don't miss it if you enjoy a good dance. Admission, 75 cents per couple.

The new price schedule of prescriptions adopted by the City Drug Store is 40 per cent below regular prices.

Look Them Over.

The largest line of exclusive patterns ever brought to Duluth—Mellin & Company, 310 West First street.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Madison Farmer Dies From the Result of an Accident.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Madison—Heinrich Imbrock, a tenant farmer living in the north part of the county, was found dead in his home. The indications are that he had fallen asleep on the floor and had accidentally kicked over a lighted lantern. The flame from the lantern burned a hole through the floor and, igniting some straw and an old carpet in the cellar, had suffocated the sleeper. He had relatives living near Hawarden, Iowa.

Sioux Falls—Captain Seth Bullock, the new United States marshal for South Dakota, has taken his first prisoner to jail since assuming the duties of marshal. The prisoner was James-Runs-Close-to-the-Village, a Sioux warrior, who is charged with assaulting his wife with intent to kill her. The Indian belongs to the Rosebud reservation.

The Indian, it is charged, first attacked his wife with a club, knocking her senseless and then kicking her in the side with heavy boots. He then threw his wife and baby out of doors. An Indian named Leading Cloud rescued them. The baby died.

As the result of the preliminary hearing he was held for appearance before a federal grand jury. In default of bonds he has been lodged in the Lawrence county jail.

Pierre—Business men of this city have been victimized to the extent of several hundred dollars through checks drawn on the Bank of Presho and signed by Ed O'Keefe. It has been learned that O'Keefe had no deposit in that bank. He was arrested and given a hearing at Fort Pierre. Failing to furnish a bond of $500, he has been locked up in jail in this city. He says the checks will be accepted.

On the recommendation of the board of pardons Governor Elrod has granted a pardon to Henry Billett, sentenced from Roberts county on a charge of manslaughter for ten years, the term expiring March 14, 1908. Billett was sentenced for the killing of Louis Halverson, known as "Big Lou," and the killing was the result of a fight in which Billett, a small man feared that he would get the worst of it if he allowed the big man to get hold of him.

It is reported that surface gas has been discovered on Bush creek in the southeastern part of Butte county. This stream is fed by springs, and a settler opened up one of these springs to secure a water supply for his cattle on account of the freezing of the stream. He lighted his pipe and was surprised to see the surface of the water burst into flame from the burning match. The gas on the surface of the pool he opened up burned for some time, starting with a flash which scorched his hands, gradually dying down until it went out for lack of material.

Deadwood—Word has been brought from Piola Creek of an unusual happening at a porphyry dike on the southern spur of Sheep mountain. At different times men working near the dike have observed a mist or vapor rising from it. This would last about an hour and then would pass away without leaving any trace. Various causes have been given for this phenomenon.

One observer has noted that the vapor rises just before an earthquake. In one case it was noted before the severe earthquake in Italy and again prior to an earthquake which did some damage on the Isthmus of Panama.

The explanation most generally accepted is that the mountain overlies a cave similar to the Wind cave near Hot Springs, and that when certain atmospheric conditions obtain the wind rushes up from the cave through cracks near the dike.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Bottineau—The district court is now in session with Judge Goss on the bench, with a very large calendar to be tried. The court is now trying Frank Guthrie for murdering his brother at Overly last fall. There are also some interesting libel cases to be tried. The term may last a month.

Lisbon—Friday afternoon "Dad" Rhodes met sudden death at the Northern Pacific pumping station in this city. For fifteen years Mr. Rhodes has been in the employ of the Northern Pacific, and was known as one of the most faithful and trustworthy engineers on the Fargo Southwestern branch. His eyesight became so poor that he was removed from the road and given charge of the pumping station here. He was found by a passerby lying on the floor of the pumphouse, where he had been thrown by the flywheel of the gasoline engine. His injuries were so serious that he died before he reached the hospital.

Bowdle—Rev. J. A. Krebs of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been appointed a resident pastor for the Bowdle Catholic church. A residence will soon be erected for the accommodation of the new pastor.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

S. F. Boyce, Max Wirth,
R. C. Sweeny, William A. Abbett.

BRIDGE AIDS FIRE FIGHTERS

Small Blaze on Park Point Presses Ferry Into Service.

The ferry bridge transported fire apparatus and the patrol wagon to Park Point this morning, for the first time.

Fire broke out in the home of Richard Pickard, on Minnesota avenue, about 9:30 o'clock. It came from an overheated stovepipe, which set fire to one of the partitions in the house, and the alarm was turned in. The chemical engine from the Third street hall was sent with the patrol wagon to the bridge, and taken across to the scene of the blaze. But the fire had been extinguished by buckets of water before they reached the scene.

The damage was but nominal.

DEPOSITORS WANT MONEY

Hundreds in Line at Jackson Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—A run was started today on the Jackson Trust & Savings bank, it being thought by many of the depositors that the institution is involved by the failure of the Bank of America, three days ago.

At the hour set for the opening of the bank 300 depositors were in waiting, and as soon as the doors were opened they began to withdraw their funds. It is known that the institution is a loser through loans to F. C. Creelman, whose loans from the Bank of America were the immediate cause of the closing of that concern. The amount of money loaned to Creelman by the Jackson Trust & Savings bank is said by its officers to be $25,000, but reports circulated, which alarmed depositors, put the amount at several times $25,000. W. H. Egan, president of the Jackson Trust & Savings bank, said today:

"We have loaned, on collateral security, $25,000 to F. C. Creelman, and we believe the loan is good. Even if it is not, we cannot be injured by any run. We have ample funds, and we can obtain all the outside assistance we wish, but it is not necessary for us to ask it."

The bank yesterday, in an effort to cover possible losses through the Creelman loans, took over the business of the Illinois Hardwood Lumber company, a corporation in which Creelman is interested, and an attempt will be made to sell some of the assets at a sacrifice. It was enjoined from proceeding in this work by the federal court.

The Jackson Trust & Savings bank, according to a recent report of its resources and liabilities, had saving deposits of $160,000, and commercial deposits amounting to $750,000. Its capital stock is $250,000, and a surplus fund of $50,000 was reported, with undivided profits of $32,000. Among its resources were $800,000, approximately in loans and discounts, and $284,000 in stocks and bonds. The officers are W. H. Egan, president; David Decker and B. F. De Muth, vice presidents, and Wm. M. Lawton, cashier. It has been clearing through the Continental National bank.

STABS HIMSELF IN NECK.

Moorhead Man Tries to Commit Suicide In Physician's Office.

Moorhead, Minn., Feb. 20.—Olaf Anderson, in a delirium preceding an attack of typhoid fever, attempted to commit suicide in this city by stabbing himself several times in the neck with a jackknife. None of the wounds will prove fatal.

Anderson called at the office of a local physician, saying he was very ill, and that someone was trying to do him up and get his money. The doctor noticed that he looked sick and asked him to take a seat while he attended another patient in the inner office. A few minutes later, returning to the waiting room, he found Anderson wildly attempting to end his life. He was taken to a hospital. Anderson has been attending the Aaker Business college at Fargo. His home is at Clifford, N. D.

FERGUS PRODUCE COMPANY

Files Articles of Incorporation--Illegal Liquors Confiscated.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Fergus Falls Produce company has filed articles of incorporation, the incorporators being Robert W. Potter, Maud A. Potter and Delos D. Darling, all of Fergus Falls. Mr. Potter was elected president, and D. D. Darling secretary and treasurer. The capital is $50,000, divided into shares of $20 each. The incorporators have been engaged in the creamery and produce business for some time, but now, with increased capital, hope to make the business more profitable to themselves and to the people of the surrounding country.

P. K. Onstad's business place at Underwood was raided Saturday, and a large amount of illegal liquors and other goods were confiscated. Mr. Onstad was brought into court and paid a fine of $50 and costs.

STEEL WAS LOST.

Consignor Wants Transportation Company to Pay for Losses.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—A singular suit, in which defendant transportation companies are asked to pay for an extra expenditure arising through a mistake in trans-shipment, is brought in the district court. It is the suit of C. A. P. Turner against the Great Northern Railway company and the Anchor Line Steamship company, and the demand is for judgment for $497.37.

The allegations of the complaint are that on May 10 last the plaintiff delivered to the Anchor line, at Youngstown, Ohio, 146 bundles of steel for Superior, Wis., to be there delivered to the railway company, and by it to the Prince Construction company, at Elbow Lake, Minn. That the merchandise was carelessly billed to the Crown Iron works at Minneapolis, and could not be found for fifty days. When the steel was at last found it was reshipped to the Prince company, at Elbow lake.

The charges paid and the fines to the Prince company amounted to the sum demanded.

New York and Return $37.80---Via "The North-Western Line."

On Feb. 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14, and March 6, 1906, "The North-Western Line" will sell excursion tickets, Duluth to New York and return, at $37.80. Tickets good for return within thirty days from date of sale. City Ticket Office, 302 West Superior street.

Oriental Rugs 20% Discount

This is a rare opportunity to pick up choice rugs at a bargain, when you consider the choice character of this stock and the very moderate prices at which they are usually marked here.

We demonstrate almost daily that our prices are about half those asked in most stores. Come and get acquainted with our rugs and prices.

French & Bassett
DULUTH, MINN.
Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.
Complete House Furnishers and Reliable Piano Dealers

THE GREAT SALE
IS NOW IN FULL SWING
10% TO 50% DISCOUNT!

RED TAG — 10% Discount
10 per cent discount is our smallest discount during this sale and applies to all staple furniture and furnishings and is a decided saving on the class of goods it is applied to.

GREEN TAG — 20% Discount
20 per cent discount applies to all staple high grade furniture and general house-furnishings. To Oriental and domestic rugs.
Such a discount from honest prices is a rare occasion.

BLUE TAG — 30% Discount
30 per cent discount is applied to almost all goods that have been on hand for one year and is thus applied to many of the choicest pieces in the store.

YELLOW TAG — 40% Discount
40 per cent discount. There are only about twenty pieces carrying this discount and they are exceedingly choice and are only discounted because they are parts of broken sets.

WHITE TAG — 50% Discount
50 per cent discount. This discount is so sweeping that it needs small comment. More than 300 choice pieces are here at Half Price—and many of the pieces were cut before this discount was applied. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

MEN'S NEW SPRING SUITS AND OVERCOATS ON $1.00 A WEEK PAYMENTS.
FRED W. EDWARDS
Up-stairs Over Gidding's, First Ave. W. and Sup. St.

VARICOCELE
A POSITIVE CURE.

The Progressive Medical Association offers every man afflicted with this destructive malady a sure and lasting cure. We have yet to fail in the successful treatment of this affliction so common among young and middle-aged men. A disease which causes so much mental and physical misery that it is simply remarkable men will put up with it a day, when relief and a positive cure is so easily and speedily obtained by the special and scientific treatment of the Progressive Medical Association. The one positive cure is our Electro-Medical treatment. If you are suffering with mental depression, lack of manly vigor, dragging pains along the spermatic cord, reflex and neuralgic pains in back and thighs. If the veins in the scrotum are dilated and tortuous, you should consult us without delay. We make the fair and generous agreement to cure you or refund your money. Consultation free. Office hours 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

The Most Reliable and Successful Specialist in Diseases of Men in the Northwest.

Progressive Medical Association,
No. 1 West Superior St. Cor. Lake Avenue, Duluth.

Duluth Medical Co.
125 West Superior St., Duluth, Minn. Over Big Duluth.

Speedily cures all Private, Nervous and Chronic Diseases without Mercury or hindrance to business.

CURES GUARANTEED.

All old lingering cases of Syphilis, Scrofula, Fever Sores, etc., where the Blood is Poisoned, causing Blotches, Pimples, Sore Throat and Mouth, Dry or Discharging Ulcers, Pains in the Head and Bones, also obstinate cases of Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture and all diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder are

CURED FOR LIFE.

Young, Middle Aged and Old Men

Who are suffering from the terrible effects of Seminal Weakness and Loss of Manhood as the result of Errors in Youth or other causes, and producing Nervousness, Constipation, Despondency, Wakefulness, Dizziness, Debility, etc., rendering Marriage improper or unhappy, are positively cured. The remedies

Act Quickly and Cure Permanently.

And when directions are complied with

THEY NEVER FAIL.

Patients are being treated by mail and express everywhere.

Advice free. Cases and correspondence sacredly confidential. Write for questions stating for what complaint. Hours, 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 6, and 7 to 8 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12.

Woman's Nature

Is to love children, and no home can be completely happy without them, yet the ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass usually is so full of suffering, danger and fear that she looks forward to the critical hour with apprehension and dread. Mother's Friend, by its penetrating and soothing properties, allays nausea, nervousness, and all unpleasant feelings, and so prepares the system for the ordeal that she passes through the event safely and with but little suffering, as numbers have testified and said, "it is worth its weight in gold." $1.00 per bottle of druggists. Book containing valuable information mailed free.

Mother's Friend

The BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

MOVING

We are experts in moving pianos and household furniture. Covered vans, if desired.

STORING

Let us store your furniture in our fine new warehouse at 510-512-513 East Superior Street. Special room for pianos. Private rooms if desired.

PACKING

All kinds of goods packed for shipment or otherwise. Packing material for sale. We make arrangement for your shipping without extra cost.

Duluth Van & Storage Co.

Both Phones 492. Office 210 W. Superior St.

HAVE YOU ORDERED THAT CASE OF

FITGER'S BEER

FITGER BREWING CO. DULUTH, MINN.

FITGER'S MEANS HEALTH

"BREVITY IS THE SOUL OF WIT."

GOOD WIFE! YOU NEED

SAPOLIO

REVIVO RESTORES VITALITY

Made a Well Man of Me.

THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY

produces the above result in 30 days. It acts powerfully and quickly. Cures when all others fail. Young men will regain their lost manhood, and old men will recover their youthful vigor by using REVIVO. It quickly and surely restores Nervousness, Lost Vitality, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Lost Power, Failing Memory, Wasting Diseases, and all effects of self-abuse or excess and indiscretion, which unfits one for study, business or marriage. It not only cures by starting at the seat of disease, but is a great nerve tonic and blood builder, bringing back the pink glow to pale cheeks and restoring the fire of youth. It wards off Insanity and Consumption. Insist on having REVIVO, no other. It can be carried in vest pocket. By mail, $1.00 per package, or six for $5.00, with a positive written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Book and advise free. Address ROYAL MEDICINE CO., Marine Building, CHICAGO, ILL.

For sale in Duluth by S. F. Boyce, Max Wirth

How do you feel?

Depressed?
Irritable?
Palmo Tablets soothe the nerves and dispel depression.
They make you look and feel younger.

50 cents. Guaranteed. Book free.

For sale by Max Wirth, Druggist.

FOR DRUNKARDS

WHITE DOVE CURE never fails to destroy craving for strong drink, the appetite for which cannot exist after using this remedy. Given in any liquid with or without knowledge of patient; tasteless; $1 at S. F. BOYCE, Druggist, 335 Superior St. Duluth, Minn.

HEEDLESS OF DANGER

Foolhardy Skaters Will Risk Lives on Thin Lake Ice.

One Young Man Has Close Approach to Death.

Every winter there has always been a period of thin ice formation on this end of Lake Superior which has shown what chances some people will take for the sake of getting a little skating on the lake.

This season has been no exception, although, perhaps, there have been fewer venturesome spirits than usual to tempt Providence.

Saturday a number of boys were skating on the field that extended from the shore in the East end, out about a half mile in the lake. Some of these were moving about with great velocity by reason of skate sails, and would venture very close to the open water beyond before veering about.

Sunday, with the ice in a still more treacherous condition, because of the warmer weather, several people, including one woman, were seen skating about, from a few hundred feet to nearly a half mile from shore.

One of these skaters, a young man, thought to be a resident of the East end, but whose name could not be learned, had a narrow and somewhat miraculous escape from death in the icy waters of the lake, about 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

This young man was skating by himself, some distance from the other people on the ice. When about opposite Fitger's brewery, and several hundred yards off shore, he suddenly broke through the ice, but in going through he luckily fell astraddle a log that was either imbedded in the ice, or which chanced to float underneath at that point. The fact that the log stopped his trip toward the bottom of the lake saved the young man from a wetting from the waist up. He did not even lose his eye glasses, or get water on his linen collar.

A number of people on the shore, who were watching the skaters, saw the young man in the water, but from the distance it appeared that he was sitting on the ice, and he was too far out for them to hear his calls for assistance.

After the young man had remained sitting straddle the log in the icy water for about five minutes, another young man chancing to skate near heard his cries, and calling others to his assistance, an attempt was made to reach the man in the water with pieces of boards. The ice was too treacherous, however, to permit of a near approach. Finally a man from the East end livery barn went out on the ice with a piece of rope, and by this means the young man was pulled out on firm ice.

He semed to think that his experience was enough for one day, for he hurried with all the speed he was capable of, in his chilled condition, to the car line and took a street car for his home. To the interested and inquiring spectators that gathered around the young man had nothing to say, and he semed very much relieved when he got on the car and left the crowd behind.

Later in the day a man and a woman who were skating in the vicinity of the hole where the young man was pulled out, and who were headed directly for it, were stopped by the shouts of people on the shore, who saw their danger in the nick of time.

JOHN McCALL CREATES STIR

Duluth Man Jumps From Second Story of St. Boniface Hospital.

John H. McCall of this city performed a sensational feat in St. Boniface hospital, Winnipeg, at an early hour yesterday morning, by jumping through a window in the second story of the hospital and running across the fields clad only in his night robes.

People who witnessed the incident gave chase and finally overtook McCall. He was overcome after a desperate struggle. As the weather was raw and cold and the crazed man was practically without clothing his captors took him to a nearby residence to hold him for the authorities. When inside the house, McCall is said to have made a dash for the breakfast table and siezed a knife with which he attempted to slash himself but was frustrated in his designs by the fanvily. The knife was taken from him after another struggle and he was held until the police came for him.

In the interval McCall is claimed to have called for a razor and begged for something with which to kill himself. He was badly cut up by the glass in breaking through the window at the hospital.

McCall is claimed to have been drinking heavily of late and was recently removed from a Winnipeg hotel to the hospital on account of his condition.

McCall is widely known in this city. Until a month ago he was in charge of the advertising department for Silberstein & Bondy, having been with that firm for several years. He came to Duluth from Chicago.

Mrs. McCall still makes her home in this city.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER OCCURS AT ROANOKE, VA.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 20.—Ex-Sheriff John B. Trainham of Roanoke City, was murdered in his bedroom, in this city, Sunday night, his slayer crushing his skull and almost severing the head with an ax, which he carried away after committing the deed. The body was found yesterday lying across the bed in a pool of blood. Trainham was not known to have had an enemy, and the tragedy is so far a mystery, the police having no clue.

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

Is a sure cure for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Mercurial Ulcers, Fever Sores, Gangrene, Blood Poisoning, White Swelling, Poisoned Wounds, all sores of long standing. Positively never fails. Cures also Cuts, Burns, Boils, Felons, Carbuncles, Abscesses. For sale by druggists. Mail 25c and 50c. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., ST. PAUL, MINN.

BIG G CURES in 1 to 5 days. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents Contagion. THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO. CINCINNATI, O. U. S. A.

MEN AND WOMEN.

Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous.

Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles $2.75. Circular sent on request.

Cubeb Remedy. New Form.

NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL.

Tarrant's Extract of Cubebs and Copaiba in

CAPSULES.

The tasteless, quick and thorough cure for gonorrhoea, gleet, whites, etc. Easy to take, convenient to carry. Fifty years successful use. Price $1, at druggists, or by mail from The Tarrant Co., 44 Hudson St., New York.

MUST TAKE MORE CARE

City Attorney Urges Council to Bring House Movers to Time.

Alderman Moore Protests Against Conduct of Metropolitan Theater.

"There have been complaints to me regarding the destruction of trees by house movers and the manner in which the house movers leave barns and houses in the streets for a considerable length of time," said City Attorney Fesler, last evening, in speaking to the council on a motion to grant a permit for moving a house.

"I wish to call the council's attention to this matter, and recommend the recovation of one or two licenses as an example when future complaints are heard. That is the only way to bring these men to time. When trees that have been growing several years have been broken off, the owner cannot be compensated for the loss. Some of the house movers have disregarded all warnings, and I believe it is time that they were brought to realize their position."

The city clerk was requested to notify all house movers that in future the council would expect them to carefully guard against any property damage, and refrain from blocking a street for longer than the time actually required to move the house. If further complaints are received, the first house mover to be caught will be used as an example to wrongdoers and his license revoked.

* * *

Alderman Moore entered a protest against the manner in which the Metropolitan theater is being conducted.

In a resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Barnes, Mr. Moore called the attention of the mayor to the posters which are used to advertise the shows, to the class of performances which are allowed there, and to the fact that a performance was given there last Sunday, in violation of the law.

In brief but very forcible language, Mr. Moore expressed his opinion of the appearance of the billboards and of the class of attractions which are presented at the theater.

Alderman Barnes, in supporting the motion, said that he was strongly in favor of a stricter observance of the Sabbath, and said that in his opinion six days' work was enough for any man. He also criticised the kind of performances given at the theater.

The motion was passed without opposition.

* * *

On a motion by Alderman Barnes, chairman of the finance committee, the board of water and light commissioners was requested to report what proportion of the $375,000 bond issue, they desired to be offered for sale at the present time, and if the board considers it advisable to offer the entire issue at once.

The resolution further requested the board to state what portion of the proceeds of the bonds will be required for immediate use.

* * *

Alderman Trevillion is getting anxious about the Lake avenue car service again, and in a motion introduced last evening called upon the street car company to put the car in service, as repairs to the Lake avenue viaduct are now in prospect.

The city engineer submitted specifications for the permanent repairs to the viaduct.

* * *

An explanation of the cause of the poor gas furnished West Duluth last week, was called for by Alderman Barnes. He stated that Manager Case had told him the reason privately, but that he wished it made a matter of record.

The reason is said to have been the fact that too much ammonia was forced into the pipes, and it acted to form artificial cold, which froze the water in some of the pipes. The ground around some of the pipes was found frozen below the depth of the natural frost.

On another motion, Alderman Barnes also requested information as to what steps, if any, were being taken to provide for the West end people in the new "upper hill" district extensions.

* * *

The council, in a formal resolution, expressed its sympathy with City Clerk Cheadle in the loss of his father, Rev. H. C. Cheadle.

* * *

John G. Ross, clerk of the municipal court, made a formal request for more vault room in his office, stating that the enlargement of the vault space had become an absolute necessity owing to the ever increasing number of records to be kept on file.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

PLANNED MANY ASSASSINATIONS

Confession of Orchard Clears Up Mysteries in Mining Camps.

Denver, Feb. 20.—Publication was made here yesterday of the complaints of Governor Gooding of Idaho, who asked requisitions for A. H. Moyer and William D. Haywood, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Western Federation of Miners, and A. Pettibone, a former member of the executive committee of that labor organization. From these it appears that the men, who were secretly arrested Saturday night and hurriedly removed to Idaho, were charged directly with the murder of Former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho, and not merely with being accessories to the crime. The complaints and requisitions in the three cases are identical, and charge the accused men with having discharged the bomb by means of which Steunenberg was killed at Caldwell, Idaho, Dec. 20, 1905. The specific charge of murder was made, it was explained, in order to forestall habeas corpus proceedings on the part of the accused men, but no attempt will be made to prove they were in Idaho at the time of the murder. It is claimed, however, that they conspired with others to murder Steunenberg and furnished funds to carry out the plot.

The atrocious murders committed during the labor troubles in the Cripple Creek and Telluride districts in this state, which have been shrouded in mystery, the earlied Couer d'Diene murders and the more recently Steunenberg assassination, form a chain of crimes with which efforts are being made to connect the officers of the Western Federation, through a confession said to have been made by Harry Orchard, who is charged with the Steunenberg murder.

This confession, it is asserted, disclosed a plot to kill Former Governor James Peabody of Colorado; William H. Gabbert, chief justice of the Colorado supreme court, and John Campbell, former chief justice. Orchard is said to have confessed that wholesale assassinations were planned at the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners in Denver, chiefly by refugees from the camps at Cripple Creek and Telluride. It is also said that Orchard's confession gives a history of the explosion at the Independence station near Cripple Creek on June 6, 1904, which killed fourteen men and injured many others.

Governor McDonald, who issued the necessary papers for the extradition of the federation officers to Idaho, said that he had read a copy of Orchard's confession, but was not at liberty to divulge its contents.

James McPhariand, head of a detective agency which was employed by the Idaho authorities in the Steunenberg case, declared yesterday that evidence against the men who have so far been arrested is very strong and that more arrests are yet to be made.

THE TRUE TEST.

Tried in Duluth, It Has Stood The Test.

The hardest test is the test of time, and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Duluth. Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

Capt. M. McLean, marine captain, living at 4324 Gilliat street, Duluth, Minn., says: "Lapse of time has only strengthened my appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills. I gave this remedy my hearty endorsement in the summer of 1898, because of the good results I had obtained from the use of it. It promptly and effectually rid me of a dull, heavy aching, just over the kidneys, banished the restlessness that broke my sleep at night, and brought about a healthy and natural action of the kidneys. Since that time there has been no return of the trouble, which fact convinces me that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

INSANE MAN FIRES BIG GUN AT PORT ROYAL.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 20.—The garrison of Port Royal was alarmed Sunday night by the report of a gun from the Apostles battery on the opposite side of the bay, followed by the hurling of a shell overhead. It was learned that the bombardier in charge of the magazine of the battery loaded a six inch gun and fired recklessly. The shell landed on one o fthe quays eastward of Port Royal. A slight alteration of the flight of the shell northerly would have dropped it near the French warship now lying in this harbor. The incident therefore caused a sensation. The bombardier who proved to be insane, was arrested.

YOUNG GIRL BRUTALLY MURDERED BY NEGRO.

Shreveport, La., Feb. 20.—While returning from school, Margaret Lear, aged 15 years, was attacked in the public road near her home, two miles west of this city by a negro, who attempted to criminally assault her. The young girl struggled with the man and screamed several times. The negro then drew his pistol and pressing its muzzle against the girl's neck, fired. The girl fell unconscious to the ground and her assailant fled to the woods.

Negroes who witnessed the act immediately gave the alarm. Miss Lear was dying when neighbors reached the scene and died within a few minutes after she was removed to her home. The negro was apprehended by a posse led by Sheriff Ward two hours after the murder in a cabin not far from the scene of the crime. He gave his name as Charles Coleman, and has been employed in the shops of the Kansas City Southern in this city, and was at once lodged in jail before the crime had become generally known. As soon as it became known that the black was in custody, a crowd began to gather around the jail, with the avowed intention of lynching the negro.

MINERS KILLED BY GAS EXPLOSION

Thirteen to Sixteen Lose Their Lives in Colorado Mines.

Walsenburg, Colo., Feb. 20.—An explosion in the Victor Fuel company's Maitland mine, caused the death of at least thirteen miners, and perhaps sixteen.

Following is a list of the dead so far as known:

ARCHIE MILLER.
BILLY MORAN.
JAMES W. TITTERS.
BATTISTA REOBERA.
CORONA COSTA.
JOE COSTA.
NICK YOCKIBETZ.

Shortly before 8 o'clock there was an explosion in that part of the Maitland, known as the Sunshine, which caused the earth to tremble for miles around. Soon after a man ran out and reported the mine was on fire. The explosion caused the fall of a mass of rock from the roof, and until this is cleared away it will not be known definitely just how many more are in the mine.

The explosion was caused by the gas and the deaths were caused by the gas and afterdamp. It is supposed the explosion occurred as the result of open lamps in use, as most of the men in that part of the mine used open lamps.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

WILL CLEAR ITS RIGHT OF WAY

Northern Pacific Company to Fence Tracks on Connor's Point.

The Northern Pacific Railway company has served notices on about fifty house owners on Connor's Point, Superior, to remove their buildings from the company's right of way within the next thirty days.

It is the intention of the railway company to construct a high board fence on either side of its right of way the entire length of the point and by this means keep children off and away from its tracks. This move is deemed necessary because of the recent narrow escape of children who have been playing along the tracks while trains are being moved thereon.

The company's right of way is 40 feet wide, 15 feet from the track on the bay side and 25 feet wide on the side toward Main street. The enforcement of the company's order will practically mean the depopulating of the point at some of its narrowest places.

There is no element of speculation in the quality of

Old Underoof Rye

It is good beyond compare.

CHAS. DENNEHY & COMPANY, Chicago.

ANNUAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF ST. LOUIS COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31st, 1905.

(Continued from page 22.)

39319	F. Mox, labor	12 00
39320	John Leadstrand, labor	6 60
39321	F. Walwaick, labor	10 00
39322	E. Bramavick, labor	11 40
39323	Chas. Guster, labor	11 40
39324	John Erickson, labor	12 00
39325	Chas. Gustafson, labor	12 60
39326	E. Petterson, labor	7 00
39327	Chas. Anderson, labor	7 90
39328	John Miller, labor	11 00
39329	Steve Lepok, labor	80
39330	John Frederick, labor	12 00
39331	Chas. Anderson, labor	93 90
39332	Thos. Stock, boarding men	38 15
39333	Wm. Tobola, labor	33 90
39334	Joe Kavlarick, labor	30 70
39335	Martin Steffen, labor	33 90
39336	John Jaskie, labor	10 05
39337	Geo. Swartz, labor	25 65
39338	Dan McDonald, labor	12 60
39339	A. Youtine, labor	30 80
39340	Thos. Stock, labor	20 00
39341	Arthur Stock, labor	2 25
39342	E. Fiebiger, tools	2 55
39343	Heimbach, Lbr. Co, lumber	60 00
39344	Frank Mox, labor	18 00
39345	Martin Kwesigroch, labor	16 00
39346	Paul Joskey, labor	8 00
39347	John Joskey, labor	45 00
39348	Peter Darrah, labor	7 00
39349	Louis Novlski, labor	13 00
39350	Jno. Fuster, labor	15 00
39351	Egnas Bronowicz, labor	16 00
39352	Wm. Tobola, labor	36 00
39353	Joe Kozlorcek, labor	38 25
39354	Chas. Guster, labor	15 00
39355	Adam Neckolai, labor	15 00
39356	Jno. Mitchell, labor	15 00
39357	Bruno Welczark, labor	4 00
39358	Jno. Wzesez, labor	3 00
39359	Jno. Erickson, labor	18 00
39360	Bruno Welzork, labor	15 00
39361	E. J. Bunker, lumber	28 00
39362	Chas. Gustafson, labor	17 00
39363	E. Flebiger, tools	35 48
39364	E. Peterson, labor	13 00
	Total	$ 1,042 73

VERMILION ROAD DISTRICT 4.

36783	W. H. Congdon & Son, tools	$ 9 35
37715	Wm. Hill, tools	1 50
37722	W. H. Congdon & Son, fuse	40
37943	Chas. Walstein, labor	18 00
37944	Edward Walstein, labor	12 60
37945	Fred Walstein, labor	7 20
37946	V. Bowman, labor	90
37945	And Olson, labor	8 00
37948	Thos. Osmunson, labor	12 60
37949	Daniel Osmunson, labor	10 80
37950	Alfred Johngon, labor	7 20
37951	Isaac Paka, labor	7 20
37952	John Mackey, labor	5 40
37953	John Harja, labor	13 50
37954	Fred Walstein, labor	13 50
37955	V. Boman, labor	13 50
37956	Chas. Walstein, labor	21 60
37957	Edward Walstein, labor	9 00
37958	Fred Walstein, labor	1 80
37959	V. Bowman, labor	4 50
37960	Arviel Olson, labor	23 85
37961	Thos. Osmunson, labor	19 80
37962	Alfred Johnson, labor	22 50
37963	Isaac Paka, labor	12 60
37964	John Mackey, labor	6 30
37965	John Harja, labor	18 00
37966	Chas Walstein, labor	14 40
37967	J. Johnson, labor	7 20
37968	Frank Hill, labor	9 00
37969	Nester Johnson, labor	10 80
37970	Sam Aha, labor	19 80
37971	Henry Hill, labor	29 15
37972	Fred Walstein, labor	47 25
37973	V. Bowman, labor	18 00
37974	John Mackey, labor	10 00
38836	Chas. Walstein, labor	8 10
38837	Edward Walstein, labor	90
38838	Chas. Walstein, labor	7 20
38839	Thos. Osmundson, labor	18 00
38840	Chas. Walstein, labor
	Total	$ 500 32

VIRGINIA AND INTERNATIONAL ROAD.

34229	E. I. Du Pont Co., dynamite, etc	$ 6 33
34230	A. Hawkinson, tools	9 32
34231	Virginia Lumber Co., lumber	14 04
34232	M. L. Matheson, blacksmithing	3 30
34244	Chas. Nygard, labor	120 00
34245	Silas Anderson, labor	26 72
34246	Mitt Kinnie, labor	25 87
34247	John Kinnie, labor	19 25
34248	John Havilla, labor	31 50
34249	David Hermanec, labor	31 50
34250	Grace Johnson, labor	19 25
34251	Sam Pint, labor	7 00
34252	Matt Hill, labor	7 00
34253	John Owens, labor	60 90
34254	A. Hawkinson, tools	24 80
34112	John Larson, labor	12 60
38113	Ben Hayd, labor	6 10
38114	James Johnson, labor	19 80
38115	Chas. Kling, labor	7 50
38116	Mike O'Brien, labor	7 50
38117	Peter Hauke, labor	7 50
38118	Joe Polka, labor	7 50
38119	Ed. Hill, labor	4 50
38120	Joe Egg, labor	4 50
38121	H. Johnson, labor	4 50
38122	James Mace, labor	1 05
38123	Arthur Miller, labor	1 05
38124	Chas. Nygaard, labor	32 40
38125	John Owens, labor	45 00
38126	John Swanson, labor	25 20
38127	John Owens, boarding men	50 45
38092	Chas. Nygaard, labor	45 05
38093	John Swanson, labor	49 15
38094	Chas. Kling, labor	1 25
38095	Wm. Carroll, labor	1 80
38096	John Mattson, labor	2 00
38097	Mike Hanson, labor	2 00
38098	Hermon Hanson, labor	12 00
38099	Leander Luota, labor	12 30
39000	Fablan Mattson, labor	12 60
39001	Morris Fleming, labor	25 45
39002	Emil Renno, labor	11 70
39003	Ed. Hill, labor	12 70
39004	Peter Peterson, labor	11 90
39005	Joe Egg, labor	12 55
39006	Elie Hill, labor	5 30
39007	Joe Quinn, labor	22 00
39008	Joe Truman, labor	9 95
39009	John Koska, labor	23 00
39010	Joe Truman, labor	7 05
39011	Henry Renning, labor	15 25
39012	Henry Nelson, labor	4 00
39013	John Albertson, labor	4 00
39014	William Johnson, labor	10 30
39015	Erick Johnson, labor	17 43
39016	John Bergstrom, labor	13 00
39017	Frank Tredilus, labor	2 50
39018	Wm. Finberg, labor	11 10
39019	John Murphy, labor	2 50
39020	Wm. Gearety, labor	2 50
39021	Geo. Gergin, labor	2 20
39022	John Lacy, labor	68 75
39023	John L. Owen, boarding men	235 45
40096	Joe Freeman, labor	11 50
40097	John Quinn, labor	12 04
40098	Fablan Matonlan, labor	12 40
40099	Gust Carlson, labor	9 50
40099	Olaf Johnson, labor	8 75
40101	Morris Flemming, labor	9 25
40102	Chas. Nygaard, labor	22 80
40103	John L. Owens, labor	27 50
40104	John L. Owens, labor	58 80
40105	John Swanson, labor	50 00
40106	Joe Freeman, labor	5 10
40107	Joe Freeman, labor	11 63
40108	John Quinn, labor	19 50
40109	Wm. Garrity, labor	5 20
40110	Wm. Garrity, labor	3 60
40111	Geo. Gergin, labor	10 10
40112	John Murphy, labor	10 50
40113	Abraham Balk, labor	14 60
40114	F. Matonian, labor	6 70
40115	Robt. Ills, labor	8 85
40116	James McCoy, labor	3 20
40117	Alex O'Brien, labor	4 60
40118	Nester Hanson, labor	11 25
40119	John Olson, labor	9 80
40120	Jas. Ketora, labor	13 00
40121	Olaf Johnson, labor	9 00
40122	Gust Carlson, labor	6 00
40123	Morris Fleming, labor	20 60
40124	Chas. Nygood, labor	26 10
40126	John L. Owens, labor	46 75
40127	John L. Owens, boarding men	119 10
40125	John Moke, labor	8 80
40085	E. I. Du Pont Co., dynamite	16 99
40085	E. I. Du Pont Co., dynamite	18 96
40085	E. I. Du Pont Co., dynamite	13 88
40978	Joe Freeman, labor	22 10
40979	Morris Fleming, labor	30 75
40980	Robt. Allis, labor	9 60
40981	Robt. Allis, labor	5 50
40982	Robt. Allis, labor	15 60
40083	A. Henry, labor	12 30
40084	Fablan Matonian, labor	12 30
40985	Fablan Matonion, labor	6 10
40986	Jas. McKay, labor	3 30
40987	Dan McDonald, labor	11 15
40988	Jno. Unin, labor	24 50
40989	Jas. Unin, labor	23 00
40090	Sam Caska, labor	16 00
40091	H. Peterkin, labor	26 80
40092	Jno. Swanson, labor	22 25
40093	Chas. Nygaard, labor	49 50
40094	John Luta, labor	11 00
40095	Henry Rumbeck, labor	15 00
40096	Dennis Madden, labor	1 90
40997	Ed Peterson, labor	11 20
40998	Martin Jackson, labor	4 20
40999	John Makl, labor	11 75
41000	Nick Runtala, labor	10 60
41001	John Korby, labor	10 20
41002	Martin Anderson, labor	10 50
41003	Erick Olson, labor	10 00
41004	John Johnson, labor	71 50
41005	John L. Owent, labor	12 00
41006	John L. Owens, boarding men	177 55
41007	Morris Flemming, labor	44 00
41008	Martin Jackson, labor	17 00
41009	Ed Peterson, labor	21 00
41010	Peter Frances, labor	10 00
41011	Axel Wall, labor	6 00
41012	Emil Carlson, labor	6 00
41013	Emil Mattson, labor	6 90
41014	Wm. Hill, labor	6 00
41015	Jno. Johnson, labor	7 00
41016	Oscar Takkala, labor	7 00
41017	Fablan Matonian, labor	9 00
41018	Herman Hukala, labor	5 00
41019	Andrew Mattson, labor	23 00
41020	Matt Kilnan, labor	19 00
41021	Abraham Kangos, labor	21 00
41022	Jno. Hager, labor	5 00
41023	Ole Johnson, labor	20 00
41024	Jno. Jacobson, labor	30 00
41025	Matt Boline, labor	32 00
41026	Asa Weeks, labor	22 00
41027	Jno. Mudt, labor	2 50
41028	Fred Aspergren, labor	2 00
41029	Chas. Nygaard, labor	28 00
41030	John Wilmon, labor	78 75
41031	J. L. Owens, boarding men	66 00
41032	J. L. Owens, labor	2 00
	Total	$ 3,173 99

VIRGINIA AND McKINLEY ROAD.

39769	Hobart Iron Co., fuse and caps	1 81
39774	A. Hagenson, use of wagon	8 55
39890	Wm. McPhay, labor	12 00
39891	Joe Maher, labor	12 00
39892	Chas. Elmquist, labor	10 50
39893	John Petermenski, labor	24 00
39894	Ben Hotchkiss, labor	10 00
39895	Gust Elmquist, labor	17 50
39896	A. Johnson, labor	58 50
39897	Fred Dabel, labor	32 00
39898	Ben Hotchliss, labor	25 50
39899	Martin Larson, labor	24 00
39900	Con Carey, labor	16 00
39901	A. Haugson, labor	79 50
39902	Mike Leslie, labor	6 50
39903	George Gural, labor	6 50
39904	W. G. Dundas, labor	145 00
39905	W. G. Dundas, labor	145 00
39906	Martin Olson, labor	12 50
39907	L. Crongey, labor	27 50
39908	John Crongey, labor	28 50
39909	Jonas Wold, labor	6 00
	Total	$ 705 36

WHITE IRON ROAD.

36787	E. Fiebiger, tools	$ 16 78
36790	E. I. Du Pont Co, dynamite	29 70
37290	Jno Isaacson, labor	30 23
37201	John Ruppakka, labor	19 95
37202	Ed Jervi, labor	19 95
37203	Axel Starkman, labor	19 95
37204	John Jasti, Jr., labor	19 95
37205	Oscar Makl, labor	19 95
37206	Pertie Santaja, labor	14 25
37207	Jacob Pyhala, labor	17 10
37208	John Rukhala, labor	14 72
37209	Matt Lnama, labor	16 15
37210	John Jasti, Sr., labor	17 10
37211	Aug Hendrickson, labor	17 10
37212	Isaac Jarvi, labor	14 25
37213	Henry Ogala, labor	13 30
37214	And Esterberg, labor	9 50
37215	Otto Saari, labor	9 50
37216	John Hiuva, labor	17 10
37217	John Makl, labor	7 60
37218	Fred Suaya, labor	7 60
37219	Jac Isaacson, labor	49 50
37220	E. I. Du Pont, dynamite	17 10
37221	Henry Saari, labor	7 60
38083	Jac Isaacson, labor	30 25
38084	John Rappaka, labor	16 15
38085	Ed. Jarve, labor	12 35
38086	Axel Starkman, labor	19 00
38087	John Jardi, labor	19 00
38088	Oscar Makl, labor	11 40
38089	Pertie Santaja, labor	9 50
38090	Joe Pyhala, labor	9 50
38091	John Jardi, labor	2 85
38092	Aug Hendrickson, labor	3 80
38093	Isaac Jarvi, labor	7 60
38094	Henry Ojala, labor	14 25
38095	And Esterberg, labor	11 40
38096	Fred Suaga, labor	11 40
38097	John Hillmaki, labor	11 40
38098	Henry Mattila, labor	9 50
38099	Kalle Suoni, labor	17 10
38100	Frank Makl, labor	13 30
38101	Pete Mattson, labor	1 90
38102	Joe Isaacson, labor	47 25
38854	Jac Isotala, labor	14 72
38855	Andrew Hutle, labor	14 72
38856	Aug. Huhta, labor	11 88
38857	Pertie Santaja, labor	12 35
38858	Jac Isaacson, labor	11 88
38859	John Jardi, labor	24 22
38860	Tom Mojida, labor	22 80
38861	Pete Mattson, labor	21 37
38862	John Rappaka, labor	16 62
38863	Hugo Saari, labor	14 72
38864	Ferdinand Suaya, labor	14 72
38865	John Maki, labor	14 72
38866	Oscar Maki, labor	9 02
38867	Herman Pete, labor	24 87
38868	John Rukkala, labor	46 12
39765	E. I. Du Pont Co., dynamite	13 60
39765	E. I. Du Pont Co., dynamite	7 98
38855	Joe Isaacson, labor	42 62
38856	John Rappakka, labor	27 55
38857	John Jardy, labor	22 86
38858	Axel Starkman, labor	25 65
38859	Armas, Brombick, labor	21 53
38860	Ed Jervi, labor	27 55
38861	Chas. Sunni, labor	25 65
38862	John Makl, labor	27 55
38863	Jac Pyhald, labor	20 43
38864	Henry Mattila, labor	17 57
38865	Chas. Neimi, labor	18 05
38866	Joe Untinen, labor	16 15
38867	Ferd Suage, labor	16 62
38868	Henry Ojala, labor	15 68
38869	Oscar Makl, labor	9 02
38870	Frank Anderson, labor	19 12
39871	Joe Isaacson, labor	66 37
39872	Herman Pete, labor	1 00
39873	Herman Pete, labor	2 00
	Total	$ 1,465 01

WEST KNIFE RIVER ROAD.

36787	E. Fiebiger, tools, etc	$ 51 38
37220	H. E. Olson, labor	17 43
37221	Albin Engstrand, labor	16 42
37222	Frank Mattila, tools	31 50
37223	M. Martinson, labor	38 50
37224	Fred Peterson, labor	15 14
37225	Sidney Childs, labor	20 00
37226	Alfred Swenson, labor	9 00
37227	M. Martinson, labor	24 00
38103	Sidney Childs, labor	19 00
38104	Hans E. Olson, labor	11 43
38105	Albin Engstrand, labor	10 43
38106	Fred Peterson, labor	11 40
38107	A. Swanson, labor	24 75
38108	M. Martinson, labor	33 75
38109	M. Martinson, labor	27 50
38111	M. Martinson, labor	26 71
38110	A. Swanson, labor	1 00
38773	Albin Engstrand, labor	5 00
38774	Hans Olson, labor	5 00
38775	Fred Peterson, labor	4 77
38776	M. Martinson, labor	20 25
38777	M. Martinson, labor	2 50
38779	Sidney Childs, labor	5 00
38780	A. Swenson, labor	11 25
38781	M. Martinson, labor	8 23
38778	M. Martinson, labor	13 75
	Total	$ 495 14

WILLOW RIVER ROAD, DIST. NO. 4.

39816	Geo. Beatty, labor	$ 26 25
39817	Edward Larson, labor	13 00
39818	Albert Peterson, labor	18 00
39819	R. Johnson, labor	14 00
39820	Gust Johnson, labor	19 00
39821	Joe Wendell, labor	19 00
39822	August Shaultz, labor	17 00
39823	John T. Joyce, labor	4 00
39824	N. H. Beatty, labor	38 25
39825	John T. Joyce, labor	18 00
	Total	$ 186 50

WIKELY ROAD.

39809	Geo. Wikely, labor	$ 15 62
39810	Geo Wikely, labor	15 62
39811	Duncan & Graham, labor	12 50
39812	Wm. Green, labor	2 00
39813	John Splaine, labor	2 00
39814	Chas. Osterlin, labor	9 50
39815	Herbert Larson, labor	10 50
	Total	$ 67 74

WILLOW RIVER ROAD.

32269	Chas. Olson, labor	35 45
32270	Gust Lundberg, labor	16 35
32271	Andrew Olson, labor	8 06
32272	Adolph Fiber, labor	16 70
32273	John Spensky, labor	26 25
32274	William Otala, labor	16 79
32275	Charley Elvenson, labor	16 79
32276	Peter Gessman, labor	13 81
32277	Isaac Nelmi, labor	16 75
32278	John Olson, labor	4 24
32279	Andrew Olson, labor	3 32
39280	Pat Greany, labor	4 50
32281	Herman Hoglund, labor	3 32
32282	John Spensky, labor	66 24
33865	Henry Hughes, tools	1 50
34227	Pat Greaney, tools	18 80
34254	Chas. Olson, labor	36 80
34255	Gust Lundberg, labor	18 15
34256	Adolph Fiber, labor	18 15
34257	John Spensky, labor	29 66
34258	William Otala, labor	17 86
34259	Charley Elvinen, labor	17 50
34260	Herman Hoglund, labor	14 00
34261	Charley Shipky, labor	18 55
34262	Andrew Fedetstick, labor	14 40
34263	Andrew Dolaski, labor	8 55
34263	Chas. C. Olson, boarding men	79 60
34266	Chas. C. Olson, labor	75 00
34267	Gust Lundberg, labor	20 05
34268	Adolph Fiber, labor	31 05
34269	John Spensky, labor	44 40
34270	William Otala, labor	37 75
34271	Charley Elvinsen, labor	39 45
34273	Andrew Fedetstick, labor	13 15
34273	Andrew Dolaski, labor	18 15
34274	Charley Shipki, labor	20 40
34275	Charley Yoe, labor	3 17
34276	Isaak Nelmi, labor	32 15
34277	E. L. Friend, labor	3 90
34278	Lars Hilstrom, labor	23 15
34279	Joe Podany, labor	13 55
34280	John Olson, labor	26 05
34281	Gheen Bros., labor	9 00
34282	Chas. C. Olson, labor	5 00
	Total	$ 1,124 00

RECAPITULATION OF COUNTY ROADS.

Anderson road	$ 100 87
Ashawa road	1,209 23
Banta road	297 84
Byrne road	979 62
Burnside road	155 31
Calvary road	28 00
Canosia road	463 39
Crane Lake road	487 20
Carey road	203 12
Edholm road	371 31
Eaton road	148 70
Eveleth and Iron Junction road	534 59
East Kelsey road	1,024 22
Embarrass and Pike River road	1,179 39
East Duluth and Lester River road	2,033 85
Fond du Lac road	1,000 74
Fish Lake road, Dist. 5	527 53
Fish Lake road, Dist. 2	146 63
Grant road	613 68
Grand Lake Station road	399 50
Hermantown Extension road	352 02
Hulden road	503 85
Hibbing and Mt. Iron road	4 50
Howard and Gnesen road	490 00
Johnson road	500 00
LaVaque road	399 49
Lindstrom road	427 77
Laurie road	272 24
Lakewood road	789 58
Lavell road	1,157 14
McArthur road	410 29
Morrison road	500 40
Morris Thomas road	19 93
McComber road	397 10
Miller Trunk road, Dist. 4	980 95
Miscellaneous roads	1,765 60
Mud Lake road	537 30
Miller Trunk road, Dist. 7	399 60
North Shore road	981 75
Normanna road	371 89
Old Vermillion and Mesaba road	927 90
Old Vermilion, north of Biwabik, road	350 85
Old Mesaba road	1,720 37
Pike River road, Dist. 6	753 80
Pike River bridge	400 04
Pike River road, Tp. 61-16	1,148 31
Prairie Lake road	591 66
Payne White Face road	1,393 40
Rice Lake road	279 20
Short Line Park bridge	218 98
Stoney Brook road	205 88
Seville road	664 04
Solway road	198 95
Savanna road	7 66
St. Louis River road	75 59
Swan Lake road	1,877 72
Sturgeon Lake road	4,139 66
Tischer road	630 75
Town Line road	994 95
Tower and Mesaba road	428 74
Tower and Ely road	1,109 94
Tower and Itasca road, Dist 4	1,998 85
Tower and Itasca road, Dist. 7	473 60
Virginia and Pike River road	764 46
Vermilion Road, Dist. 2	1,042 73
Vermilion Road, Dist. 4	500 32
Virginia and International road	3,173 99
Virginia and McKinley road	705 36
White Iron road	1,465 01
West Knife River road	495 14
Willow River road, Dist. 4	186 50
Wikely road	67 74
Willow River road, Dist. 7	1,124 00
	$ 52,906 85
Refunds	206 62
Transfer to sundry accounts	447 45
	$ 53,560 92
Outstanding unpaid road orders	$ 4,129 75

COUNTY BOND INTEREST.

38138	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	$ 50
	Total	$ 50
	Refunds	23
	Transfer to sundry Accts	42 33
	Total	$ 66 54

COUNTY BOND SINKING.

37216	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas.	$ 6 26
	Total	$ 6 26
	Refunds	10 47
	Transfer to sundry Accts.	18 14
	Total	$ 34 87

RAILROAD BOND INTEREST AND SINKING.

33138	W. H. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	$ 6 57
33149	W. H. Holgate, Co. Treas., coupons cancelled	2,739 09
36964	W. H. Holgate, Co. Treas., coupons cancelled	2,734 50
36372	W. H. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange coupons cancelled	31 25
40298	W. H. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange coupons cancelled	12,500 00
	Total	$ 18,011 33
	Refunds	64 95
	Transfers to sundry Accts	102 79
	Total	$ 18,179 06

COUNTY ROAD AND BRIDGE BOND INTEREST AND SINKING.

33139	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	$ 13 94
33150	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., coupons cancelled	5,872 50
33555	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	83
36363	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas coupons cancelled	5,740 00
37317	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	13 54
38139	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	21
38600	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	28
39682	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	17
41112	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas., exchange	10
	Total	$ 11,641 57
	Refunds	71 72
	Transfers to sundry Accts.	120 93
	Total	$ 11,834 22

ACCRUED INTEREST ON BONDS.

33135	W. A. Holgate	$ 2,028 09
33190	W. A. Holgate	5,075 00
33554	W. A. Holgate	339 00
34091	W. A. Holgate	1 50
34740	W. A. Holgate	30 00
35695	W. A. Holgate	20 00
36688	W. A. Holgate	7,918 50
38140	W. A. Holgate	283 50
38599	W. A. Holgate	112 50
41113	W. A. Holgate	50 00
41114	W. A. Holgate	40 00
39673	W. A. Holgate	12,450 00
39681	W. A. Holgate	67 50
	Total	$ 29,506 50

INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

32060	Dr. Fred J. Patton, H. O., salary	25 00
32001	Dr. Fred J. Patton, H. O., salary	25 00
34226	Dr. Fred J. Patton, H. O., salary	32 09
34872	Dr. Fred J. Patton, H. O., salary	51 73
34873	Dr. M. N. Triplett, services	15 00
35602	Dr. Fred J. Patton, salary	25 00
36192	Dr. Fred J. Patton, salary	25 00
36709	Dr. Fred J. Patton, salary, etc	26 00
37713	Dr. Fred J. Patton, salary	25 00
	Total	$ 249 82
	Refunds	35 95
	Totals	$ 285 75

SCHOOL FUND.

35997	W. A. Holgate, Co. Treas.	25 00
41140	J. H. Block, State Treas	25 00
	Total	$ 50 00

HUNTERS' LICENSE.

40678	R. D. Haven, clerk hlro	$ 75 00
40596	J. H. Block, State Treas., fees	2,052 00
41324	R. D. Haven, clerk hire	60 50
	Total	$ 2,187 50

STATE FUNDS.

31929	W. A. Holgate, treasurer, state lands	$ 113 89
31930	L. H. Whipple, treasurer, collection fees	57
31931	W. A. Holgate, treasurer, state taxes	32,755 16
31932	W. A. Holgate, treasurer, state school taxes	26,980 05
33841	W. A. Holgate, treasurer, state taxes	17,804 73
33842	W. A. Holgate, treasurer state school fund	8,395 77
33843	W. A. Holgate, treasurer, state school fund	6,218 43
33844	W. A. Holgate, treasurer, state lands	38 35
33845	W. A. Holgate, treasurer, collection fees	19
36572	J. H. Block, state treasurer, state taxes	74,917 01
36573	J. H. Block, state treasurer, state school land	61,427 48
36574	J. H. Block, state treasurer, state land	1,974 02
36575	W. A. Holgate, collection fees	9 92
37368	School District No. 14, state loans	206 34
39080	J. H. Block, state treasurer, state loans	18,243 39
39373	J. H. Block, state treasurer, state loans	20 00
41335	J. H. Block, state treasurer, state lands	97 89
41336	W. A. Holgate, county treasurer, collection fees	49
41337	J. H. Block, state treasurer, state taxes	43,027 04
41338	J. H. Block, state treasurer, state school taxes	35,273 13
Total		$327,503 91
Refunds		872 09
Transfer sundry accounts		1,559 73
Grand total		$330,026 73

ABOVE ACCOUNT INCLUDES

State revenue and schools	$309,276 06
State lands and interest	2,235 32
State loans	18,515 35
	$330,026 73

TOWNS, CITIES AND VILLAGES. TREASURERS.

32350	Lars. Olson, town of McDavitt	$ 81 54
32372	Frank G. Sandstedt, town of Rice Lake	518 64
32545	John L. Olson, town of Fall Lake	39 90
32577	John McKay, town of Kelsey	36 86
32649	J. P. Tonoll, town of Nicholls	4,903 82
32671	Timothy Shea, village of Eveleth	7,222 01
32673	Wm. Burke, town of Mesaba Mc	3,373 13
32687	L. J. Wallace, town of Meadowland	22 88
32755	John Wallace, town of Mesaba	53 68
32707	Geo. H. Dormer, town of Fayal	2,825 61
32740	Frederick Williams, town of Brietung	1,627 19
32918	Chas. Gustafson, village of Sparta	569 50
33137	W. A. Holgate, village of Duluth, bond interest	3,931 50
33138	W. A. Holgate, exchange, Duluth bond interest	9 83
33145	M. S. Hawkins, village of Mountain Iron	898 60
33154	Louis Hedin, town of Alborn	26 08
33198	John M. Wallin, town of Grand Lake	156 20
33286	Thomas McArthur, town of New Independence	50 16
33556	W. A. Holgate, village of Duluth, bond interest	123 00
33557	W. A. Holgate, exchange, bond interest	31
33829	F. J. Voss, city of Duluth	124,479 69
33854	Geo. H. Dormer, town of Fayal	297 49
33869	John F. Anderson, town of Midway	107 41
34051	C. O. Eklund, town of Culver	68 44
34052	John Samuelson, town of Canosia	182 74
34074	Chas. Grabowsky, city of Ely	2,493 52
34090	Andrew Hawkinson, city of Virginia	3,754 79
34092	W. A. Holgate, village of Duluth, bond interest	54 00
34108	W. A. Holgate, exchange, bond interest	13
34123	J. W. Boman, town of Kugler

The annual banquet of the Young Women's Christian association, which will be given tomorrow evening at the association rooms, is one of the most interesting affairs of the week, and a large number of people of the city interested in the work of the association are planning to attend. The committee in charge is working faithfully, and the most delightful affair in the history of the association is anticipated. An informal reception will precede the banquet, which will be served at 6:30 o'clock. The hostesses who will preside at the tables will be. Mesdames A. C. Taylor, Z. D. Scott, Charles Howell, I. S. Moore, H. W. Richardson, J. O. Milne, Brewer Mattocks, C. A. d'Autremont, G. H. Claypool, Oscar Mitchell, W. C. Agnew, J. A. Stevenson, R. S. Manley, W. A. McGonagle, Ward Ames, S. E. Matter, H. H. Phelps, Misses Jenny Moody, Olive Horne and Dora Eaton.

Rev. T. H. Cleland will preside as toastmaster, and the responses will be:

"The Young Woman's Christian association in the World's Work," Mrs. L. W. Kline.

"Our City's Progress," Principal C. A. Smith.

"Our Influence in the Industrial World," Watson S. Moore.

Fine Reception.

One of the most charming of recent social functions was the reception, this afternoon, at which Mrs. George S. Richards entertained in honor of her sister, Mrs. Harry S. Birch of Minneapolis. The living rooms were decorated in pink tulips, and in the dining room red tulips were the decorations. Receiving with Mrs. Richards and the guest of honor were Mrs. Richards' mother, Mrs. S. E. Stinchfield. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. H. C. Marshall, Mrs. August Fitger, Mrs. C. J. Lesure, Mrs. W. H. Bliss and Mrs. T. H. Cleland. At the punch bowl Mrs. Clarence B. Miller presided, and in the dining room Mrs. W. B. Phelps presided, and assisting were Miss Mildred Cleland, Miss May Sherwood and Miss Faye Richardson. During the receiving hours nearly 100 guests called.

Events of Interest.

The Cotillion club will entertain tomorrow at the February dancing party. The members will entertain at Steinway hall, and the cotillion will be led by Powell Grady and Miss Katherine Ensign.

• • •

Mrs. C. H. Thornton entertained at cards informally yesterday afternoon at her home, 1514 East Third street. Bridge was played, and the favors were won by Mrs. Sterling Smith.

• • •

Mrs. W. A. McGonagle entertained informally yesterday afternoon at her home at Hunter's Park, in honor of Mrs. H. S. Birch of Minneapolis and Miss Youmans of Fiske university of Nashville, Tenn.

• • •

The first division of the First Baptist church will hold an all day's meeting tomorrow at the home of Mrs. George Mandeville of 1420 East Fourth street. The second division of the society of the same church will meet tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Schiller of 1420 East Second street.

• • •

The Ladies' Aid society of St. John's English Lutheran church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at a Washington Tea by Mrs. Robert Smollett of 1030 East Fourth street.

• • •

The East End guild of the First Presbyterian curch will meet tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, with Mrs. H. G. Magie of 1515 London road.

• • •

The members of Temple Emanuel will entertain at a card party Friday afternoon in the Temple on East Second street.

• • •

The Bishop's club will hold its regular meeting this evening at Cathedral hall. The leader for the evening is Mrs. A. A. Fider.

• • •

The Art History class will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the club room of the library.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Douglas, Jr., who have been at Pasadena, Cal., are now at Coronada Beach.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. August Fitger have returned from a short trip to New York.

• • •

Miss Kathleen Waterworth has returned from a several weeks' trip to California.

WHAT RETAIL MARKETS OFFER.

Cod roe, 30 cents a set.
Fresh tripe, 10 cents a lb.
Veal tongues, 12½ cents a lb.
Endive, two bunches for 25 cents.
Leaf lettuce, 20 cents a bunch.
Strawberries, 50 cents a quart.

There isn't a thing in the market that interests any one but the green springy things and a crisp salad dressed lavishly in a smooth pale colored oil, the edges flaring in delightful puckery crinkles, and tucks and lace,—Oh, no that belongs with the fashion article. However, if you don't eat salads any other time of the year, do it now.

One market this morning had a window full of pork. There were fresh hams and pork tenderloins and sausages, and the place would have been the nicest looking window in town if the thermometer had been somewhere down between 20 and 30 below but as it was the florist's window was the place where every marketer stopped. The person who does the markets knows for the first time how the spring poet feels and what a necessity it is for him to relieve his system of the feeling that a perfect, simple, yellow tulip produces about February 20. The florist's window with its great azalias and yellow tulips and pink ones is the one where the person who to market would go, stops and feasts her eyes and, wishes the family would feed on flowers. But they won't.

The Best One Can

There are various ways of achieving self-satisfaction, but the most lasting is through the consciousness of having done the best one could. The result may have been flat failure as far as the outward and visible sign is concerned, and one is disappointed accordingly, but that does not affect the inner and spiritual grace of the consciousness of honest and sincere exertion to the utmost, and it helps enormously in trying over again.

It is always possible that the second effort may achieve success brought from experience in the first, but unless there has been sincerity of effort the failure is one not only in fact but in effect.

If there is one high road to success it is in always trying to do the very best that one can, no matter how great the temptation is to grow lax. Given the effort and persistency, there is practically, nothing that cannot be accomplished, but human nature, generally speaking, is sadly lacking in persistency, and discouragement robs the effort of its force.

New York and any other large city has countless hundreds of girls who are trying to find work. Many have left homes in the country under the belief that they had only to go to a city and ask in order to have opportunity "to carve out a career." The shock of disappointment, the sadness of refusal and rejection, so affects their spirits that as day by day goes by with no apparent progress, they lose heart as well as strength. There is nothing to show, they believe, for the strength and time that have been put out that day, their persistency begins to flag, and the effort to do their best goes by the board. What is the use of trying? they say.

But there is use then, if ever, for there is no other prop that will so sustain and stimulate as the inner knowledge that though success has not attended the effort that day, the failure is through no fault of one's own and that one has honestly and sincerely tried for all the possibilities of her spiritual as well as physical and mental strength. A girl who goes through her life, its hardships and disappointments, with this constant effort in her soul, reaps the result in force of character, strength of purpose and sweetness of expression. Her face carries honesty and conviction in it, and though there may be unhappiness in her heart there is no bitterness; there is no chance for it when she has done the best that she can.

Whether or not she has done this, only the girl herself can tell, and if she is to get moral strength she must be absolutely honest with herself. There is no use in trying to make excuses for oneself when one has lapsed for a time. There will always be some one who will try to convince her that she tried her very best, and one wishes very much to be convinced, but the girl who allows herself to be deceived in what is her best has fallen so far below its possibilities that unless she is careful she will lose the force to get back.

It is like living always on the heights, living up to what is best; there is nothing so demoralizing to the individual as to grow lazy in the spirit, to fall below one's own standard. A girl who does this finally loses entire self-respect, and so is without the strongest factor for happiness and success in life—success in its spiritual sense as well as material. Without self-respect she inevitably after a time will lose the respect of others, but with it, and the knowledge that she is doing daily the best that she can, she will attain a success that will aid others on the same road, and she will have happiness and peace of mind that nothing can destroy.

Hats for Southern Days

Posed by Miss Lillian Lee, of "Coming Through the Rye."

Hats that are being made for Southern winter resorts indicate quite necessary to record that little new is shown. Quills, feathers and flowers are positively forthcoming fashions for summer, but if one is truthful it is used for decoration, and the shapes are both flat and with high crowns. Hackabout morning hats are turned up at the left side, but trimming is also put directly in the middle as well as a trifle to the side of the front.

Outfit Complete Required by Baby for Year in Long and Short Clothes

BY ELIZABETH LEE.

That a year-old baby has, as a rule, outgrown its first short clothes, so that a new outfit then becomes a necessity, and, while the models will not materially differ from those worn during the past six months, there are certain changes which indicate that baby has passed the first year stage. A little more elaboration as to trimming is allowable for one thing, and material slightly heavier in texture will take the place of the sheer, fine nainsook which has been employed for the simple frocks and petticoats now to be discarded. Now a good investment will be a piece (twelve yards) of English longcloth. This comes thirty-six inches wide, and a good quality may be bought for $1.50, or even less, though at the first figure it will be found to be thoroughly reliable, and no other white goods at any price is quite so good for the little petticoats, drawers, nightgowns, or, indeed, every day frocks. It is soft to the needle, wears exceedingly well, being substantial, yet is sufficiently fine for all practical purposes.

In dressing a year-old baby three very fine vests, preferably silk and wool, should be provided; no more, as babies outgrow these so quickly, though if a wooden frame is purchased on which to dry them it will be found to pay for itself many times over. Next, drawers made of longcloth, after the model that buttons around the waist, and again buttons to form legs. Twelve pairs will be necessary, made perfectly plain, without trimming. In addition, two or three pairs of knickers made from fine lawn or cambric, opened at the sides and finished with little ruffles of fine Val. lace, may be provided and slipped over the plain drawers, when occasion requires a little more elaborate dressing. A knit corset waist will support a tiny flannel petticoat buttoned to it. This may be scalloped on the edge or hemmed, and the stitches covered with feather stitching in silk. Three or four of these little garments will be necessary, and perhaps half a dozen white petticoats, simple affairs of the longcloth, hemmed and tucked on lower edge, and gathered to a wide band bodice held by narrow shoulder straps. These may be edged with narrow lace, and the bodice will close in the back with linen buttons and button-holes.

The little frocks for every day will also be of the longcloth. The model showing the material hanging straight and full from a short yoke is good, being less babyfied than the conventional first short frock style, with its yoke formed in the material. A full body with a deep hemstitched hem on the bottom will be gathered to a yoke of fine tucking alone, or tucking alternating with embroidery insertion, outlined with a ruffle of embroidery, or one of the material hemstitched. A bit of narrow embroidery finishes the neck and also the band cuffs confining the bishop sleeves.

For better wear two or three dresses of finer quality will be necessary, as Persian lawn or batiste. These will be trimmed above the deep hem, with tucks and dainty insertion, and be attached to a plain yoke, in its turn to be overlaid by a deep round collar of finest lingerie. Pintucked lawn, outlined with round lace medallions, finished on outer edge with a ruffle of narrow lace, is effective, practical and not difficult of construction, while it will add immensely to the beauty of the frock.

Whether stockings or socks shall be worn is a matter for the mother to decide, but they should be of fine woollen; and forms on which to dry either, preventing shrinking, may be bought for quite a small sum. Four pairs at a time will be ample, as the washing is only a question of a few minutes. Shoes, of course, the mother will like to choose.

A little house sack and a bath robe must not be forgotten, French flannel, elderdown and any of the soft woolen goods in dainty colorings being appropriate, and, if baby is on the floor a good deal, a garment for slipping into at such times will be necessary. The best model for this is cut into two pieces, like a baby's slip, the same back and front, gored at the seams, then the slight fulness gathered into a band collar, and full bishop sleeves will be finished by similar bands. At the lower edge a half circle is cut away, the same back and front and the raw edges faced with a strip of the goods. Buttons will be sewed on inside the strip on the back and corresponding buttonholes will be worked in the front. It is slipped over the head, then buttoned and the result is a combination of drawers and frock. Gingham and chambray are alike good for this convenient little protection.

The outer garments will depend upon the time of year, though a thin woolen coat is really a necessity for summer wear when the wash cloaks of pique or lingerie are not found sufficiently warm, as is often the case.

For winter wear materials providing warmth without weight should be chosen. Bear skin is used quite a good deal, and so is corduroy, also the lighter weights of broadcloth. An interlining of light weight flannel and an inner lining of china or surah silk, rather than a quilted lining, will be the better choice. The interlining is generally sewn in with the outer material, the inner lining being made separate, so that a winter's coat may often be made to do duty for summer by ripping the inner lining, then cutting away the flannel interlining and sewing up the side seams of the lining, all that it has been necessary to open. This not only makes the coat cooler, but gives the feeling of being a little larger also. Bonnets of brugaline or velvet in Dutch or Brownie shape are desirable for winter wear, both for boy and girl babies, and may be all white, or, if the coat is a color, the bonnet may match it. For summer, the choice of dainty headwear is exceedingly large, so that any mother, reasonable or otherwise, where her darling is concerned, will surely find something to suit her.

Two Pretty Evening Frocks After Models Designed in Paris

The illustrations from L'Art et la Mode show two pretty models for spangled robe gowns. Both are of net laid over foundations of chiffon and silk.

Thin White Frocks for Parties and Summer

PHOTOS BY JOEL FEDER.

CHILDREN'S PARTY FROCKS

Posed in by Leona Powers of the Ethel Barrymore Co.

Some dainty little frocks for children to wear now at parties, and during the summer, are to be had now in the shops at most reasonable prices. They are made of thin white cottons and embroidered, in charming effects. In all the sleeves are short, and as a rule the necks are cut round. Frills fall over the shoulders.

Heavy embroidery on linen will be seen as much for the coming season as it was last, so that dresses bought now will be equally good style later.

Nice Complexion Depends Upon State of Skin

By Margaret Mixter

If women understood more about the actual structure of the skin they might find it easier to keep it in good condition.

In the first place, it is a breathing organ, like the lungs, and second a natural loom for the manufacture of the beautiful protecting blanket (for such it really is) called the cuticle, scarf, or other skin, which thinly covers the entire exterior of the body. The surface of the skin is covered with millions of tiny pores of glands, and the bulk of these pores remove, by means of the perspiration, the watery waste of the system, and the remainder secrete the natural oil, which imparts to the skin its well-known soft, smooth appearance and elasticity.

The scarf skin is woven or built up from beneath by millions of minute scales, which are welded firmly together by the glutinous fluids which ooze from the deeper parts of the skin, and are smoothed down on the surface by the oil thrown out upon it. The scales fit over and upon one another to make one uninterrupted layer. The scarf skin is continually growing, the outer scales being regularly thrown off as fresh ones are produced.

When anything affects the health of the scarf or outer skin some form of skin trouble results. Thus, if too much oil is secreted, the oil accumulates upon the surface and in the glands and produces a muddy complexion and gives rise to face spots. On the other hand, if the supply of oil is scanty, a delicate, irritable skin results, and is frequently the forerunner of chaps and eczema. If there is any undue pressure on any part of the skin the scarf skin becomes thickened to protect the part beneath, a corn or bunion being an example of this. Then again, the scarf skin may be temporarily destroyed by a burn, scald, or some other injury, or it may itself be unhealthy and the patient suffers from psoriasis, chronic eczema, or some other serious skin ailment. If the perspiration is acid or laden with an excess of irritant impurities, this will in time create inflammation and irritation. Rheumatic or gouty eczema is due to this cause. Lastly, impure blood frequently manifests itself by breaking out upon the skin, and in such cases not only should "antexema" be applied outwardly, but the blood itself needs purification and cleansing.

It is evident, therefore, that any difficulty comes either from external or internal causes, and indigestion is the more frequent one. Impurities that are not thrown off through their proper channels from the stomach make their way into the blood, and out through the skin, and one of the reasons that candy is so bad for the complexion is that it produces fermentation that is felt immediately by the blood. Sweets in moderation are a necessity, but they should be of the simplest and most wholesome kind, and eaten only in moderation. Acids produce precisely the same effect upon those with whom they disagree, and too much fat in food will also work out through the blood and complexion. Therefore one should have no doubts as to what properties suit the digestion and blood, and a diet should be regulated accordingly.

If the trouble is caused merely by external conditions it is apt to make itself known by blackheads, that are usually caused by clogged pores containing minute particles of dust that germinate a microbe. These are removed by opening the pores with heat and cleansing thoroughly with something like green soap or anything else pure. It is sometimes also necessary to open the spot with a fine needle to press out the accumulation of puss, after which the place should be wiped with alcohol to close the pores. They should never be opened until at first softened with warm applications.

TRADING STAMP EVIL AGAIN AFTER FOOTHOLD

Agent in Duluth Trying to Interest Merchants In It.

Preys on Merchants and People, Giving Benefit to Neither.

The court of appeals of the District of Columbia sustained an act of congress outlawing the trading stamp there, and said:

"One of the most shrewdly planned of the many devices to obtain something for nothing. * * * They have intervened in the legitimate business carried on between seller and buyer, not for the advantage of either, but to prey upon both. There is not a shadow of rational foundation for a stamp company's claim that it confers a benefit upon buyers by procuring for them an actual discount. Their business is the exploitation of nothing more nor less than a cunning device."

Once more are the trading stamp people trying to get a foothold in Duluth.

Their persistence in trying to fasten their scheme that means so much easy money for themselves is worthy of a better cause. Duluth has been the object of their efforts many times in the past but The Herald has so often explained the true inwardness of their game that they have always been given short shift by Duluth merchants.

They alway send a glib talker, however, one of those fellows who can make black seem like white, and sometimes he causes a merchant to waver in his determination and by ingenious arguments confuse his mind and crowd from it the real kernel of truth.

This time it is the Sperry & Hutchinson company, which is trying to fasten its clutches on the merchants and people of Duluth, for it is out of both that it extracts its profits and carries them off. This firm is one of the foremost in that line of business in the country.

An individual bearing the name of W. C. Brown is presenting letters to Duluth merchants and endeavoring to interest them in the scheme. Thus far he is not believed to have met with any success, for merchants know pretty well by this time that Duluth people have been well educated to the true meaning of this thing and that it would be a damage rather than a benefit to adopt it.

It is the same old plan. The merchant is to be furnished with books containing coupons and these coupons are to be given to customers according to the amount of their purchases. The coupons draw articles from the trading stamp concern, the value depending upon the number of coupons a person has accumulated. The merchant pays the trading stamp concern 5 per cent of his business to provide the prizes.

A better "get-rich-quick" scheme does not exist. This concern, owning not a dollar's worth of property in the city of Duluth, paying not a cent of taxes, contributing nothing to the city and with no interest except what it can get out of the people, proposes to tax the merchants of Duluth 5 per cent on the business they have worked up, and for it throw a few cheap lamps, clocks, dishes and articles of a varied nature, to the customers.

The most astonishing thing about the scheme is that anyone has the effrontery to present it to business men who are supposed to have an ordinary amount of sagacity.

And who pays this 5 per cent which the merchant is to pay this company? Does the merchant reduce his annual profits by that amount, or does he add the 5 per cent to the cost of the goods to the consumer? It does not take a very good guesser to figure that out. The consumer pays for it every time, and in return gets a few cheap knicknacks that he is persuaded into believing are worth about five times what they really cost.

Two or three years ago a vigorous investigation into the trading stamp evil was conducted in New York, and it resulted in the passage of an act that was designed to regulate it, but which the ingenious gentlemen conducting the business seem to have been able to pretty effectually circumvent. In discussing the value of premiums presented by the stamp concern, the following was reported as the result of an investigation:

"The first article examined was a china lamp, with a metal base, the premium for two books representing 1,980 stamps, the alleged discount on the purchase of $200 worth of merchandise. In the open market this lamp could be bought for $2.60 wholesale.

"A vase, the premium for one book, was appraised at 82 cents, while a wrought iron tea kettle (one book) was priced at $1.35. The value of a large beer stein and six smaller ones on a wooden tray, the premium for three books, was fixed at $2.90, and an individual blue Flemish stein (one book) at 85 cents.

"Owing to the enormous variety, it would be impossible to strike an average value on all the premiums. The expert appraiser, however, confidently declared that $1.50 was an excessive value for each book of 1,000 stamps.

MANY LIVES REPORTED LOST

As Result of Explosion in British Barracks at Khartoum.

London, Feb. 20.—The Evening News this afternoon publishes a dispatch from Cairo, Egypt, announcing that a great explosion has occurred at the British barracks in Khartoum. It is said much loss of life and damage is reported.

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

New York, Feb. 20.—Joseph Arthur, the playwright, author of "Blue Jeans," "The Still Alarm," "Lost River," and other successes, died today at the Hotel Normandie. His death resulted from a complication of diseases. He was 57 years old. Mr. Arthur's real name was Arthur Smith. He was a son of Rev. John C. Smith, and was born in Southern Indiana.

Northfield, Mass., Feb. 20.—Henry M. Moore, widely known through his connection with the national and international work of the Young Men's Christian association and other religious enterprises, and an associate of the late Dwight L. Moody, died here today. He was 75 years old.

Milwaukee, Feb. 20.—Fred Borchert, one of the pioneer brewers of the city and a member of the board of trade for forty years, dropped dead in one of the elevators of the Pabst building yesterday. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause.

Denver, Feb. 20.—Forest Flood, a well known actor, died at his home here last night of pneumonia, aged 34 years He had played with Olga Nethersole, Blanche Walsh and other leading actresses.

London, Feb. 20.—Vice Admiral Sir Harry Grenfell died here yesterday. He was born in 1845.

THE PACKERS' ATTORNEYS READ EARLIER EXHIBITS.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—At the opening of the packer case today Attorney Hynes, who represents the interests of Swift & Co., began to read exhibits identified earlier in the trial, such as typewritten copies of the conversations between Special Agent Durand and Edward F. Swift, at the time of the inquiry into the packing industry.

Attorney John S. Miller also read the letter of President Roosevelt to Attorney General Moody, which was authenticated some time ago by the attorney general. This is the letter which declared that the department of corporations and the department of justice were working together in the beef investigation. Attorney General Moody, when in Chicago some time ago, admitted that the letter had been written by the president, but asserted that the statement of collusion between the two departments was incorrect.

THE EASY OIL.

Scott's Emulsion is "the easy oil"—easy to take, easy in action. Its use insures deliverance from the griping and nauseating sensation peculiar to the raw oil. Nobody who has any regard for the stomach thinks of taking cod liver oil in the old way when Scott's Emulsion is to be had. It is equally certain that no one whose health is properly regarded will accept a cheap emulsion or alcoholic substitute for Scott's Emulsion. It fulfills every mission of cod liver oil and more.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York

CITY BRIEFS

Smoke none but home made Union Label cigars.

The case against Byron Armstrong, who was arrested on the charge of assaulting and maltreating his wife, was dismissed in municipal court this morning, on a motion by the prosecuting attorney.

The sum of 20 cents was secured by an unknown thief who entered Huot's store Sunday night and rifled the cash register. The thief gained entrance through the rear cellar door.

Charles R. Stal has started action in district court against Peter O. Holland to quiet title to some lots in township 50-14. Alvord & Hunt are the attorneys for Mr. Stal.

Judge Ensign has filed an order denying the motion of the German Insurance Company of Freeport, Ill., for a new trial of the action brought against it by Bryan O'Rourke of the range. Mr. O'Rourke sued the company on a policy for fire insurance and recovered judgment some months ago.

The thimble bee which was to be given for the Woman's Relief Corps and its friends at the residence of Mrs. William Murnian, 229 Fifty-fourth avenue west, Wednesday afternoon, has been postponed until Friday afternoon.

The bids for the supplies of the government building in Duluth were opened this afternoon in the office of the custodian of the building, L. M. Willcuts.

Brigadier and Mrs. Cousins of the Salvation Army at Minneapolis will be in the city Saturday and Sunday to hold special meetings. Mr. Cousins has charge of the army work for the Northwest, being the provincial officer of the district including the Dakotas, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

John Swenson and Minnie Westby, both of Yellow Medicine county, Minn., were united in marriage by Rev. H. K. Madsen of this city, Jan. 25 last. The certificate of marriage was placed on record with the clerk of district court this morning.

PERSONALS

J. Alfred Mellin has returned from New York.

John F. McCarthy has returned from a trip to California, having been away about six weeks. Mrs. McCarthy is still in California.

Charles d'Autremont left for Houghton, Mich., today.

Mart Adison left for the Michigan Copper country today.

Fred Gendron left over the South Shore for Montreal today.

Alger Platt left over the South Shore for Montreal today.

Dr. Walker left over the South Shore for New York today.

Miss Helen Marble and Miss Julia Marble left for Ishpeming, Mich., today.

W. H. Johnson left for the Michigan Copper country today.

O. C. Davidson left for the Michigan Copper country today.

A. J. ePrrin left for Marquette today.

M. S. Hawkins of Mountain Iron, Minn., is registered at the Spalding.

W. H. Johnston of Ishpeming, Mich., is at the Spalding.

PROHIBITION ASKED FOR

The Proposed State of Oklahoma by Thousands of Petitioners.

Baltimore & Ohio Road Replies to Statements Against It.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Senator Gallinger today presented four petitions from residents of Oklahoma, praying for prohibition in the proposed state of Oklahoma. The most voluminous contained the names of 8,000 voters, and Mr. Gallinger said it was 264 feet long. One of the others contained the names of 6,000 women, and another those of 6,000 children. The fourth was signed by Indians only.

The pure food bill was then taken up, and Mr. Heyburn and Mr. McCumber presented a number of letters and petitions endorsing the bill as worthy of the senate's support. A number of these endorsements were from medical societies.

The reply of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to the statements recently made in the senate on behalf of the Red Rock Fuel company of West Virginia, was presented in the senate at the beginning of today's session by Mr. Rainer. Mr. Rainer was very careful to say that he did so by request, adding that he assumed no responsibility in the matter. The document was signed by Hugh S. Bond, Jr., second vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Mr. Bond says that when the fuel company purchased its mines, which are in Upsur county, W. Va., it knew that the Baltimore & Ohio railroad had informed its predecessors that the company could not afford any facilities unless it could enlarge its equipment, but that the fuel company immediately notified the railroad company that the Red Rock company would at once locate a coal tipple 4,000 feet from the road and construct a single track to the road and demanded that the Baltimore & Ohio permit it to make a physical connection with the new track and furnish cars at the tipple for the shipment of coal. He went on to say that the Baltimore & Ohio road at that point, formerly the West Virginia & Pittsburg, is a single track road and that the proposed point of connection is approximately between two stations. He said further that no coal is hauled over the line between Weston and Buchanan, with which the Red Rock company seeks connection and no rates for coal in carloads have ever been made or published from or over that line.

Mr. Heyburn made reply to the newspaper charges that the effect of the passage of the bill would be to give control of much of the food products of the country to one man, the chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture. He said that the only authority granted to that official is to act as agent for the courts in gathering testimony to place any brand of disapproval on any article of food. A long discussion of amendments offered by various senators ensued and was participated in by Messrs. Lodge, Hemenway, Gallinger, Spencer, Heyburn, McCumber and others.

IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house today took an immediate adjournment out of respect to the memory of Representative George A. Castor of Pennsylvania, after the passage of appropriate resolutions and the appointment of a funeral committee.

RAILROAD RATES UNREASONABLE

Commerce Commission Decides Suit Against Milwaukee Road.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The interstate commerce commission today decided the case of E. J. Hoerr, against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road holding that the carriers rate on potatoes from Mankato and Good Thunder, Minn., to Washington, D. C., Scranton and other Eastern destinations are unreasonable and unjust.

The commission further decides that reasonable and just rates on potatoes in car loads from the points named to Washington and Scranton should be 39 cents to Scranton and 38 cents to Washington which rates would be 4 cents above the rates from St. Paul. The railroad company is recommended to adjust its tariff and the complainant is awarded the reparation he asked.

Engineer Will Take Soundings.

G. A. Taylor, junior United States engineer connected with Maj. Charles L. Potter's office, will start out in a day or two with a small party to take soundings at the lower end of the bay in the vicinity of the mouth of the Nemadji river and Superior entry. The ice is about ten inches thick at the lower end of the bay and about six inches thick in the entry. It was expected to take some lake soundings off the entrance to the Duluth canal this winter, but there has been no ice formation sufficient to warrant a sounding party working there with any degree of safety and the probabilities are that the opportunity will not be offered for that work this season.

THE STYLE STORE. | J. M. GIDDING & CO., | THE DIFFERENT STORE.

Fashionable New Models in Women's Suits

The new styles in women's wearing apparel are now coming to the front. New designs in greater variety than ever before—some adapted from the most exclusive foreign creations—some the handiwork of our own artists. Every new suit we are showing is a splendid illustration of the style trend for the Spring season.

The specifications in every instance have called for careful workmanship, and no detail is too small to receive close consideration.

WOMEN'S NEW SPRING SUITS, $29.50—This is one of the best values we ever offered early in the year at so low a price. A strictly new Spring model designed exclusively for us. Comes in Alice Blue, Coral, Reseda and Grey—handsomely tailored Eton Jacket and trimmed with braid and lace. A special value at $29.50.

Authoritative Styles in New Spring Skirts

We believe that better skirts were never sold for the money than those that make up the very considerable showing of new styles ready now. The models are largely exclusive. The fit hang and workmanship of the skirts are equal to custom tailoring.

The starting point, $7.50. New fancy grey mixtures and pin stripes—circular skirt—beautifully tailored.

One especially strong line at $10.75—of chiffon Panama in any of these shades—white, reseda, Alice blue, gray and black. Circular gored, with two folds of self cloth at bottom and tailored Vandyke points.

Another of "Shadow Plaids" at $10—Pastel shades so harmonized that the effect is charming.

"French Voiles" in cream and black are a feature—$22.50. Folds of voile, down and around in many effective ways.

These are examples of over forty new spring styles.

French Lingerie Waists.

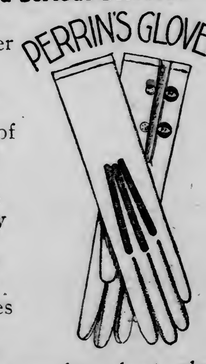

New Models Better Than Ever Before.

"Just a simple little white lawn waist," says a man—and wonders what all the fuss, and the price, is about. But every woman reads the story of intricate hand embroideries; of laces caught together with finest crocheted threads or whipped to the sheer fabrics so patiently and closely as to simulate a cord effect; of medallions filled in with cobwebby hand stitches; of pin tucks so fairy fine that they look like thickened threads in the fabric, and over them—tossed on, it seems—sprays of hand-wrought embroidery. Prices range from $7.75 to $25.00.

COPIES OF FRENCH BLOUSES—$2.75 to $6.50—Made here, after the Parisian models. The practical work is done by machine, but the dainty effects are put in by hand—the feather-stitching, French knots and fine tucking. Materials are like those of the imported sorts—French lawns, mulls and linens, with trimmings of fine Val. lace.

If It Weren't for Gidding's The Elbow Length Glove Fad Might Have a Serious Setback.

We have what other dealers long to possess—a source of perpetual supply. With the regularity of clockwork our stocks of the gloves required for wear with the popular short sleeve waists are replenished.

Just received another large assortment of long glace gloves, in black, red, brown, lavender, mode, white, green, pink and sky.

12-button length.....$2.75
16-button length.....$3.25

J. M. GIDDING & CO.,

Corner First Ave. West and Superior Street.

CHAS. W. ERICSON. | CHAS. W. ERICSON.

New Spring Top Coats and Cravenettes

The fabrics, workmanship, styles and prices are absolutely right. A splendid assortment here from

$10 to $20

New Spring Hats.
Fashion's latest creations in hard and soft styles.
$2, $2.50, $3 and up

The Ericson label on a Suit or Overcoat is a guarantee of quality. Let us show you the new things for spring arriving daily—prices right.

CHAS. W. ERICSON

CLOTHIER, HATTER, FURNISHER. 219 West Superior Street.

A BIG DISCOUNT ON ALL OUR REMAINING OVERCOATS

Made In Duluth.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

THE Northland MFG. CO.
No. Size

OVERALLS, WORK SHIRTS, PANTS and JACKETS.

WAS ALIVE WHEN BORN.

The Child Found on East Fourth Street Died After Birth.

The baby, found by boys Saturday afternoon on East Fourth street, was alive when born, according to the opinion of the physician who performed the autopsy on the body this afternoon.

The physician was unable to ascertain the cause of the death, or the manner in which it was brought about, but it was his belief that the child was alive when born.

The decision will be reported to the police, and an investigation will be instituted by the corner and the police officers to learn the identity of the persons who abandoned the child.

TO REPORT SNELLING BRIDGE FAVORABLY.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house committee on military affairs decided today to make a favorable report on the bill providing for the construction of a bridge between Fort Snelling reservation and St. Paul, Minn. The bill authorizes the secretary of war to select the site. The ownership of the bridge is to remain in the name of the United States under the direction of the secretary of war. St. Paul is to contribute $100,000 to the construction of the bridge and any railroad permitted to cross the line is to pay $25,000. The cost of the bridge is not to exceed $250,000.

Let's Get Together

You need it—we furnish it—cabinet with brush, comb, soap and clean towels for $1.00 per month. Phone 479 for us to call on you.

YALE LAUNDRY CO.,
Towel Supply Dep't.

TRADING STAMP EVIL AGAIN AFTER FOOTHOLD

Agent in Duluth Trying to Interest Merchants In It.

Preys on Merchants and People, Giving Benefit to Neither.

The court of appeals of the District of Columbia sustained an act of congress outlawing the trading stamp there, and said:

"One of the most shrewdly planned of the many devices to obtain something for nothing. * * * They have intervened in the legitimate business carried on between seller and buyer, not for the advantage of either, but to prey upon both. There is not a shadow of rational foundation for a stamp company's claim that it confers a benefit upon buyers by procuring for them an actual discount. Their business is the exploitation of nothing more nor less than a cunning device."

Once more are the trading stamp people trying to get a foothold in Duluth.

Their persistence in trying to fasten their scheme that means so much easy money for themselves is worthy of a better cause. Duluth has been the object of their efforts many times in the past but The Herald has so often explained the true inwardness of their game that they have always been given short shrift by Duluth merchants.

They alway send a glib talker, however one of those fellows who can make black seem like white, and sometimes he causes a merchant to waver in his determination and by ingenious arguments confuse his mind and crowd from it the real kernel of truth.

This time it is the Sperry & Hutchinson company, which is trying to fasten its clutches on the merchants and people of Duluth, for it is out of both that it extracts its profits and carries them off. This firm is one of the foremost in that line of business in the country.

An individual bearing the name of W. C. Brown is presenting letters to Duluth merchants and endeavoring to interest them in the scheme. Thus far he is not believed to have met with any success, for merchants know pretty well by this time that Duluth people have been well educated to the true meaning of this thing and that it would be a damage rather than a benefit to adopt it.

It is the same old plan. The merchant is to be furnished with books containing coupons and these coupons are to be given to customers according to the amount of their purchases. The coupons draw articles from the trading stamp concern, the value depending upon the number of coupons a person has accumulated. The merchant pays the trading stamp concern 5 per cent of his business to provide the prizes.

A better "get-rich-quick" scheme does not exist. This concern, owning not a dollar's worth of property in the city of Duluth, paying not a cent of taxes, contributing nothing to the city and with no interest except what it can get out of the people, proposes to tax the merchants of Duluth 5 per cent on the business they have worked up, and for it throw a few cheap lamps, clocks, dishes and articles of a varied nature, to the customers.

The most astonishing thing about the scheme is that anyone has the effrontery to present it to business men who are supposed to have an ordinary amount of sagacity.

And who pays this 5 per cent which the merchant is to pay this company? Does the merchant reduce his annual profits by that amount, or does he add the 5 per cent to the cost of the goods to the consumer? It does not take a very good guesser to figure that out. The consumer pays for it every time, and in return gets a few cheap knick-knacks that he is persuaded into believing are worth about five times what they really cost.

Two or three years ago a vigorous investigation into the trading stamp evil was conducted in New York, and it resulted in the passage of an act that was designed to regulate it, but which the ingenious gentlemen conducting the business seem to have been able to pretty effectually circumvent. In discussing the value of premiums presented by the stamp concern, the following was reported as the result of an investigation:

"The first article examined was a china lamp, with a metal base, the premium for two books representing 1,980 stamps, the alleged discount on the purchase of $200 worth of merchandise. In the open market this lamp could be bought for $2.60 wholesale.

"A vase, the premium for one book, was appraised at 82 cents, while a wrought iron tea kettle (one book) was priced at $1.35. The value of a large beer stein and six smaller ones on a wooden tray, the premium for three books, was fixed at $2.90, and an individual blue Flemish stein (one book) at 85 cents.

"Owing to the enormous variety, it would be impossible to strike an average value on all the premiums. The expert appraiser, however, confidently declared that $1.50 was an excessive value for each book of 1,000 stamps.

MANY LIVES REPORTED LOST

As Result of Explosion in British Barracks at Khartoum.

London, Feb. 20.—The Evening News this afternoon publishes a dispatch from Cairo, Egypt, announcing that a great explosion has occurred at the British barracks in Khartoum. It is said much loss of life and damage is reported.

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

New York, Feb. 20.—Joseph Arthur, the playwright, author of "Blue Jeans," "The Still Alarm," "Lost River," and other successes, died today at the Hotel Normandie. His death resulted from a complication of diseases. He was 57 years old. Mr. Arthur's real name was Arthur Smith. He was a son of Rev. John C. Smith, and was born in Southern Indiana.

Northfield, Mass., Feb. 20.—Henry M. Moore, widely known through his connection with the national and international work of the Young Men's Christian association and other religious enterprises, and an associate of the late Dwight L. Moody, died here today. He was 75 years old.

Milwaukee, Feb. 20.—Fred Borchert, one of the pioneer brewers of the city and a member of the board of trade for forty years, dropped dead in one of the elevators of the Pabst building yesterday. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause.

Denver, Feb. 20.—Forest Flood, a well known actor, died at his home here last night of pneumonia, aged 34 years. He had played with Olga Nethersole, Blanche Walsh and other leading actresses.

London, Feb. 20.—Vice Admiral Sir Harry Grenfell died here yesterday. He was born in 1845.

THE PACKERS' ATTORNEYS READ EARLIER EXHIBITS.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—At the opening of the packer case today Attorney Haynes, who represents the interests of Swift & Co., began to read exhibits identified earlier in the trial, such as typewritten copies of the conversations between Special Agent Durand and Edward F. Swift, at the time of the inquiry into the packing industry.

Attorney John S. Miller also read the letter of President Roosevelt to Attorney General Moody, which was authenticated some time ago by the attorney general. This is the letter which declared that the department of corporations and the department of justice were working together in the beef investigation. Attorney General Moody, when in Chicago some time ago, admitted that the letter had been written by the president, but asserted that the statement of collusion between the two departments was incorrect.

THE EASY OIL.

Scott's Emulsion is "the easy oil"—easy to take, easy in action. Its use insures deliverance from the griping and nauseating sensation peculiar to the raw oil. Nobody who has any regard for the stomach thinks of taking cod liver oil in the old way when Scott's Emulsion is to be had. It is equally certain that no one whose health is properly regarded will accept a cheap emulsion or alcoholic substitute for Scott's Emulsion. It fulfills every mission of cod liver oil and more.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York

CITY BRIEFS

Smoke none but home made Union Label cigars.

The case against Byron Armstrong, who was arrested on the charge of assaulting and maltreating his wife, was dismissed in municipal court this morning, on a motion by the prosecuting attorney.

The sum of 20 cents was secured by an unknown thief who entered Huot's store Sunday night and rifled the cash register. The thief gained entrance through the rear cellar door.

Charles R. Stai has started action in district court against Peter O. Holland to quiet title to some lots in township 50-14. Alvord & Hunt are the attorneys for Mr. Stai.

Judge Ensign has filed an order denying the motion of the German Insurance Company of Freeport, Ill., for a new trial of the action brought against it by Bryan O'Rourke of the range. Mr. O'Rourke sued the company on a policy for fire insurance and recovered judgment some months ago.

The thimble bee which was to be given for the Woman's Relief Corps and its friends at the residence of Mrs. William Murnian, 229 Fifty-fourth avenue west, Wednesday afternoon, has been postponed until Friday afternoon.

The bids for the supplies of the government building in Duluth were opened this afternoon in the office of the custodian of the building, L. M. Willcuts.

Brigadier and Mrs. Cousins of the Salvation Army at Minneapolis will be in the city Saturday and Sunday to hold special meetings. Mr. Cousins has charge of the army work for the Northwest, being the provincial officer of the district including the Dakotas, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

John Swenson and Minnie Westby, both of Yellow Medicine county, Minn., were united in marriage by Rev. H. K. Madsen of this city, Jan. 25 last. The certificate of marriage was placed on record with the clerk of district court this morning.

PERSONALS

J. Alfred Mellin has returned from New York.

John F. McCarthy has returned from a trip to California, having been away about six weeks. Mrs. McCarthy is still in California.

Charles d'Autremont left for Houghton, Mich., today.

Murt Adsonoff for the Michigan Copper country today.

Fred Gendron left over the South Shore for Montreal today.

Alger Platt left over the South Shore for Montreal today.

Dr. Walker left over the South Shore for New York today.

Miss Helen Marble and Miss Julia Marble left for Ishpeming, Mich., today.

W. H. Johnson left for the Michigan Copper country today.

O. C. Davidson left for the Michigan Copper country today.

A. J. eFrrin left for Marquette today.

M. S. Hawkins of Mountain Iron, Minn., is registered at the Spalding.

W. H. Johnston of Ishpeming, Mich., is at the Spalding.

PROHIBITION ASKED FOR

The Proposed State of Oklahoma by Thousands of Petitioners.

Baltimore & Ohio Road Replies to Statements Against It.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Senator Gallinger today presented four petitions from residents of Oklahoma, praying for prohibition in the proposed state of Oklahoma. The most voluminous contained the names of 8,000 voters, and Mr. Gallinger said it was 264 feet long. One of the others contained the names of 6,000 women, and another those of 6,000 children. The fourth was signed by Indians only.

The pure food bill was then taken up, and Mr. Heyburn and Mr. McCumber presented a number of letters and petitions endorsing the bill as worthy of the senate's support. A number of these endorsements were from medical societies.

The reply of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to the statements recently made in the senate on behalf of the Red Rock Fuel company of West Virginia, was presented in the senate at the beginning of today's session by Mr. Rainer. Mr. Rainer was very careful to say that he did so by request, adding that he assumed no responsibility in the matter. The document was signed by Hugh S. Bond, Jr., second vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Mr. Bond says that when the fuel company purchased its mines, which are in Upsur county, W. Va., it knew that the Baltimore & Ohio railroad had informed its predecessors that the company could not afford any facilities unless it could enlarge its equipment, but that the fuel company immediately notified the railroad company that the Red Rock company would at once locate a coal tipple 4,000 feet from the road and construct a single track to the road and demanded that the Baltimore & Ohio permit it to make a physical connection with the new track and furnish cars at the tipple for the shipment of coal. He went on to say that the Baltimore & Ohio road at that point, formerly the West Virginia & Pittsburg, is a single track road and that the proposed point of connection is approximately between two stations. He said further that no coal is hauled over the line between Weston and Buchanan, with which the Red Rock company seeks connection and no rates for coal in carloads have ever been made or published from or over that line.

Mr. Heyburn made reply to the newspapor charges that the effect of the passage of the bill would be to give control of much of the food products of the country to one man, the chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture. He said that the only authority granted to that official is to act as agent for the courts in gathering testimony to place any brand of disapproval on any article of food. A long discussion of amendments offered by various senators ensued and was participated in by Messrs. Lodge, Hemenway, Gallinger, Spencer, Heyburn, McCumber and others.

IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house today took an immediate adjournment out of respect to the memory of Representative George A. Castor of Pennsylvania, after the passage of appropriate resolutions and the appointment of a funeral committee.

RAILROAD RATES UNREASONABLE

Commerce Commission Decides Suit Against Milwaukee Road.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The interstate commerce commission today decided the case of E. J. Hoerr, against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road holding that the carriers rate on potatoes from Mankato and Good Thunder, Minn., to Washington, D. C., Scranton and other Eastern destinations are unreasonable and unjust.

The commission further decides that reasonable and just rates on potatoes in car loads from the points named to Washington and Scranton should be 39 cents to Scranton and 38 cents to Washington which rates would be 4 cents above the rates from St. Paul. The railroad company is recommended to adjust its tariff and the complainant is awarded the reparation he asked.

Engineer Will Take Soundings.

G. A. Taylor, junior United States engineer connected with Maj. Charles L. Potter's office, will start out in a day or two with a small party to take soundings at the lower end of the bay in the vicinity of the mouth of the Neimadji river and Superior entry. The ice is about ten inches thick at the lower end of the bay and about six inches thick in the entry. It was expected to take some lake soundings off the entrance to the Duluth canal this winter, but there has been no ice formation sufficient to warrant a sounding party working there with any degree of safety and the probabilities are that the opportunity will not be offered for that work this season.

CHAS. W. ERICSON. | CHAS. W. ERICSON.

New Spring Top Coats and Cravenettes

The fabrics, workmanship, styles and prices are absolutely right. A splendid assortment here from

$10 to $20

New Spring Hats. Fashion's latest creations in hard and soft styles. $2, $2.50, $3 and up

The Ericson label on a Suit or Overcoat is a guarantee of quality. Let us show you the new things for spring arriving daily—prices right.

CHAS. W. ERICSON

CLOTHIER, HATTER, FURNISHER. 219 West Superior Street.

A BIG DISCOUNT ON ALL OUR REMAINING OVERCOATS

Made In Duluth.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

OVERALLS, WORK SHIRTS, PANTS and JACKETS.

THE STYLE STORE. | J. M. GIDDING & CO. | THE DIFFERENT STORE.

Fashionable New Models in Women's Suits

The new styles in women's wearing apparel are now coming to the front. New designs in greater variety than ever before—some adapted from the most exclusive foreign creations—some the handiwork of our own artists. Every new suit we are showing is a splendid illustration of the style trend for the Spring season.

The specifications in every instance have called for careful workmanship, and no detail is too small to receive close consideration.

WOMEN'S NEW SPRING SUITS, $29.50—This is one of the best values we ever offered early in the year at so low a price. A strictly new Spring model designed exclusively for us. Comes in Alice Blue, Coral, Reseda and Grey—handsomely tailored Eton Jacket and trimmed with braid and lace. A special value at $29.50.

Authoritative Styles in New Spring Skirts

We believe that better skirts were never sold for the money than those that make up the very considerable showing of new styles ready now. The models are largely exclusive. The fit, hang and workmanship of the skirts are equal to custom tailoring.

The starting point, $7.50. New fancy grey mixtures and pin stripes—circular skirt—beautifully tailored.

One especially strong line at $10.75—of chiffon Panama in any of these shades—white, reseda, Alice blue, gray and black. Circular gored, with two folds of self cloth at bottom and tailored Vandyke points.

Another of "Shadow Plaids" at $10—Pastel shades so harmonized that the effect is charming.

"French Voiles" in cream and black are a feature—$22.50. Folds of voile, down and around in many effective ways.

These are examples of over forty new spring styles.

French Lingerie Waists.

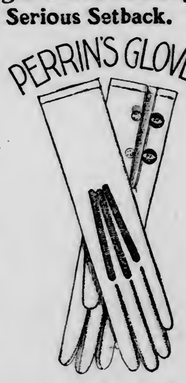

New Models Better Than Ever Before.

"Just a simple little white lawn waist," says a man—and wonders what all the fuss, and the price, is about. But every woman reads the story of intricate hand embroideries; of laces caught together with finest crocheted threads or whipped to the sheer fabrics so patiently and closely as to simulate a cord effect; of medallions filled in with cobwebby hand stitches; of pin tucks so fairy fine that they look like thickened threads in the fabric, and over them—tossed on, it seems—sprays of hand-wrought embroidery. Prices range from $7.75 to $25.00.

COPIES OF FRENCH BLOUSES—$2.75 to $6.50—Made here, after the Parisian models. The practical work is done by machine, but the dainty effects are put in by hand—the feather-stitching, French knots and fine tucking. Materials are like those of the imported sorts—French lawns, mulls and linens, with trimmings of fine Val. lace.

If It Weren't for Gidding's The Elbow Length Glove Fad Might Have a Serious Setback.

We have what other dealers long to possess—a source of perpetual supply. With the regularity of clockwork our stocks of the gloves required for wear with the popular short sleeve waists are replenished.

Just received another large assortment of long glace gloves, in black, red, brown, lavender, mode, white, green, pink and sky.

12-button length $2.75
16-button length $3.25

J. M. GIDDING & CO.,

Corner First Ave. West and Superior Street.

WAS ALIVE WHEN BORN.

The Child Found on East Fourth Street Died After Birth.

The baby, found by boys Saturday afternoon on East Fourth street, was alive when born, according to the opinion of the physician who performed the autopsy on the body this afternoon.

The physician was unable to ascertain the cause of the death, or the manner in which it was brought about, but it was his belief that the child was alive when born.

The decision will be reported to the police, and an investigation will be instituted by the corner and the police officers to learn the identity of the persons who abandoned the child.

TO REPORT SNELLING BRIDGE FAVORABLY.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house committee on military affairs decided today to make a favorable report on the bill providing for the construction of a bridge between Fort Snelling reservation and St. Paul, Minn. The bill authorizes the secretary of war to select the site. The ownership of the bridge is to remain in the name of the United States under the direction of the secretary of war. St. Paul is to contribute $100,000 to the construction of the bridge and any railroad permitted to cross the line is to pay $25,000. The cost of the bridge is not to exceed $250,000.

Let's Get Together

You need it—we furnish it—cabinet with brush, comb, soap and clean towels for $1.00 per month. Phone 479 for us to call on you.

YALE LAUNDRY CO., Towel Supply Dep't.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

WHEAT HAS WEAKNESS

Fine Weather and Increase in World's Visible Cause Lower Prices.

Foreign Prices Higher and Flax Recovers After a Break.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 20.—This was a day for bears in wheat. The spring-like weather in the United States, a fine crop report from France and a large increase in the world's visible supply caused free selling, and prices faded all morning. London was ½d lower, Paris ¼c to ½c lower, Berlin ¼c higher, Budapest ½c lower and Antwerp unchanged. Bradstreets reported an increase of 1,792,000 bus in the world's visible supply. East of the Rockies there was a decrease of 902,000 bus, and in Europe and afloat an increase of 2,700,000 bus. Corn decreased 143,000 bus.

The May option fell ½c in Duluth and Minneapolis, ⅝-¾c in Chicago, ⅝c in St. Louis, ¾-⅞c in Kansas City, ⅝c in New York and ¼c in Winnipeg.

Corn was weaker, the May option in Chicago falling ¼-⅜c and Liverpool being unchanged to ½d lower. May oats in Chicago fell ⅛-¼c.

Car receipts at Duluth were 62 against 19 last year, and at Minneapolis 264 against 160 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 326 against 179 last year. Chicago received 21 against 27 last year. Winnipeg received 261 against 93 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 458,000 bus, last year 369,000 bus. Shipments 383,000 bus, last year 313,000 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 216,000 bus.

Primary receipts of corn were 1,000,000 bus, last year 634,000 bus. Shipments 479,000 bus, last year 408,000 bus. Clearances of corn were 224,000 bus.

Wheat was fairly active in the Duluth market today. May opened ¼c lower, at 81½c, and dropped to 81⅜c at 9:40. At 9:50 the price rallied to 81⅝c, and at 12:05 had fallen to 80⅞c, rallying to 81⅜c at 12:25. The closing price was 81¼c, a loss of ½c from yesterday. July wheat was inactive at the opening and sold as high at 82⅝c. The low price was 82⅜c. It closed at 82⅝c, a loss of ½c from yesterday.

Flax was higher abroad and prices were quite firm in the local market, except for a short time. The volume of trade was not very great, but trading was quite steady. Prices were ¾d higher in London for Laplatta and Calcutta, and ⅝c higher in Antwerp.

May flax opened ⅛c lower at $1.14, and dropped to $1.13, rallying later to $1.14. The closing price was $1.13⅞, a loss of ¼c from yesterday. July flax opened ⅛c lower at $1.15½ and fell to $1.14½, rallying to $1.15¼. The closing price was $1.15¼, a loss of ⅜c from yesterday. September flax was inactive at the opening, but sold as high as $1.13¾ and dropped to $1.13. The closing price was $1.14, unchanged from yesterday.

May oats were ¼c lower. Oats on track and to arrive were ½c lower, rye was ½c lower and the other coarse grains were unchanged.

Following were the closing prices:

Wheat—To arrive: No. 1 Northern 80¾c; No. 2 Northern, 78¼c; on track: No. 1 Northern, 80¾c; No. 2 Northern, 78¼c; May, 81¼c; July, 82⅝c; Durum No. 1, 73c; No. 2, 70c. Flax—To arrive, $1.13⅝; on track, $1.13⅝; May, $1.13⅞; July, $1.15¼; September, $1.11; October, $1.12½. Oats—To arrive, 28½c; on track, 28½c; May, 29⅜c. Rye, 60c; barley, 38½-45c.

Cars inspected: Wheat, 62; last year, 19; oats, 11; barley, 17; flax, 48; last year, 14.

Receipts: Wheat, 26,266 bus; oats, 6,662 bus; barley, 6,826 bus; flax, 7,806 bus; last year, 8,074 bus.

Shipments: Wheat, 221,000 bus; barley, 5,948 bus.

Cash Sales Thursday.

No. 1 northern wheat, 2 cars $0.79⅜
No. 1 northern, 6 cars 80
No. 1 northern, 2 cars 80⅛
No. 2 northern wheat, 1 car 79
No. 2 northern, 1 car 79½
No. 3, 2 cars ..... 77½@
No. 3, 2 cars 78
No. 3, 1 car 78¾
Rejected wheat, 1 car 78
Rejected, 1 car 78⅝
Durum wheat, 7 cars No 1 ..... 73½
Durum, 1 car No. 2 ..... 70½
Durum, 2 cars No. 3 ..... 68½
Durum, 1 car No. 3 ..... 67½
Rye, 1 car No. 2 61
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white 28⅞
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white 29
Oats, 5,000 bus No. 3 29
Flax, 6 cars 1.10½
Flax, 2 cars 1.10⅝
Flax, 1 car 1.11
Flax, 1 car 1.11½
Barley, 1 car 37½
Barley, 1 car 38
Barley, 2 cars 39½
Barley, 1 car 40
Barley, 1 car 42

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Free Selling by Local Traders Causes Weakness in Wheat.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—The local wheat market was weak today on free selling by pit traders. The leading factors in causing the depression were the spring-like weather in the United States and an official report showing the wheat crop of France to be in excellent shape. May opened ¼c to ⅝c lower at 82⅞c to 82⅞c and sold off to 82⅝c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 347 cars against 895 cars last week and 209 cars a year ago.

The market became still weaker later in the day on reports of additional rain in India and larger primary receipts in the United States. The market closed weak with May down ⅝@¾ at 82⅜-½c.

The corn market was steady on a moderate demand by several prominent commission houses. The mild weather was a bullish influence. Selling was scattered and of small volume. May opened unchanged to a shade lower at 43¼c to 43¼@⅜c, and during the early part of the session held within these figures. Local receipts were 488 cars, with 19 of contract grade.

The market declined along with wheat. The high point was reached at 43⅜ and from there May slumped off to 42⅜c. The close was easy with May off ¼@⅜ at 43c.

There will be no session of the board Feb. 22.

The market in oats was inclined to be weak because of strong taking by local bulls. The volume of business, however, was small. May was off a shade to ⅛@¼c at 29¾c to 29⅞c. Local receipts were 199 cars.

Despite a steady market for live hogs, the price of provisions was weak because of profit-taking. May pork was off 10c to 15c at $15.70 to $15.75. Lard was down 2½c to 2½@5c at $7.80 to $7.80@7.82½. Ribs were 5c lower at $8.20.

Close: Wheat—May, 82⅝@¼c; July, 81¼c. Corn—May, 43c; July, 43½c. Oats—May, 29¾c; July, 29½c. Pork—May, $15.-67½. Rye—Cash, 65½c; May, 65c. Flax—Cash, northwestern, $1.12; southwestern, $1.07; May, $1.13. Timothy—March, $3.40. Clover—Cash, $14.00. Barley—Cash, 37½@52c. Cash wheat—2 red, 84@85c; 3 red, 82@84c; 2 hard, 79@82c; 3 hard, 77@81c; 1 northern, 82@83c; 2 northern, 80@83c; 3 spring, 78@83c. Corn—2, 39@40c; 3, 38@39c. Oats—2, 29½c; 3, 29@¾c.

American Wheat Markets.

	Duluth.	Minneapolis.	Chicago.	New York.
May—
Open	81½B	81⅜-½	82⅞-¾	88⅞
High	81½	81⅝-½	82⅞	88⅞
Low	80¾	80½	81⅞	87⅞
Close	81⅛B	81⅛B	82⅜-½	88⅛
Close 19th	81¾	81⅝	83⅛	88⅞
July—
Open	83⅛B	83¼		87⅜
High	83⅛B	83¾	81⅞	87⅞
Low	82⅝	82⅝	81⅛	86⅞
Close	82⅝	83A	81⅝B	87⅜A
Close 19th	83⅛	83⅜	82⅞	87⅝
St. Louis—		Close 20	Close 19
May		80¾	80¾
July		79¾-¼	79¾
Kansas City—
May		75⅝		75¾-⅞
July		73⅝-¾		74½-¼
Winnipeg—
May		77½		77¾
July		78⅞		79¼

Chicago Oats, Corn and Pork.

	Oats. May.	Corn. May.	Pork. May.
Open	29¾-⅞	43¼	$15.75B
High	30	43⅝	15.77
Low	29½-⅝	42¾	15.60
Close	29¾B	43A	15.67

Duluth Car Inspection.

Wheat—No. 1 hard, 7; No. 1 northern, 21; No. 2 northern, 7; No. 3 spring, 14; No. 4 spring, 1; rejected, 1; Western red, 1; No. 1 durum, 4; No. 2 durum, 4; total of durum, 9; mixed, 1; total of wheat, 62; last year, 19.

Flax—No. 1 northwestern, 3; No. 1, 45; total, 48; last year, 14.

Oats, 11; barley, 17.

Total of all cars, 138. Cars on track today, 137.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, Feb. 20.—Wheat—Spot nominal; futures steady; March, 6s 8¼d; July, 6s 6¼d. Corn—Spot quiet; American mixed new, 3s 11½d; American mixed old, 4s 7½d; futures quiet; March, 3s 11¼d; May, 4s 1d.

New York Grain.

New York, Feb. 20. — Close: Wheat—May, 88¼c; July, 87⅜c; September, 85⅞c. Corn—May, 44c; July, 49¼c; September, 50c.

Minneapolis Wheat.

Minneapolis, Feb. 20.—Close: Wheat—May, 81¼c; July, 83c; No. 1 hard, 81¼c; 1 northern, 80⅝c; 2 northern, 78⅝c.

Grain Gossip.

Slaughter's Argentine letter: Our Buenos Ayres friends, in a letter dated Jan. 12, give us a resume about the Argentine crops and the reasons for their reduced estimates on crop yields. The following is a synopsis of it: "We are sorry to state that the former estimates were by far too optimistic and that the November frosts did far greater damage than was generally anticipated.

"The Northern district, embracing the north of Santa Fe and Cordoba, suffered particularly by locusts, which destroyed the wheat crop to the extent of about 60 per cent. Heavy rains during harvest time caused additional damage. Though the seeded area exceeded that of last year by 10 per cent, the result will be considerable loss in the Northern district.

"In the central district, including southern parts of Santa Fe and Cordoba, the north and center of Buenos Ayres, which is the principal wheat belt of Argentine, the November frosts did more damage than had been anticipated. Threshing returns show yields of about 33 1-3 per cent below last year for wheat, as well as flax seed. As this section of the country raised the largest crop last year, its deficiency will make itself felt mostly.

"The Southern district to which belong the provinces of Buenos Ayres and the Pampa, had an enormous crop last year, and the eastern part of it was again blessed with a very good crop, but in the western part the frosts damaged crops in many places from 50 to 80 per cent. The western part being the principal wheat raising country in the south, we think it conservative to call the loss in the whole southern district from 30 to 40 per cent."

At the time this letter was mailed, our friends estimated their exportable wheat surplus at about 80 per cent less than last year, which of late they changed to 40 per cent. We have on various occasions claimed that it is too early to bull our wheat on the reduced Argentine estimates, because in the first place it does not reduce our surplus a single bushel, and, in the second place Argentina is still a new country and has not the storage facilities of the United States, and therefore her shipments will be as large as last year at the beginning of the season. However, it will be well to keep in mind and look for materially smaller shipments in the summer. Russia by that time will also have sweat clean her bins, and her shipments will drop off materially before it will harvest a new crop.

• • •

Chicago Record-Herald: King of Toledo sizes up the wheat situation in his usual breezy way: "Foreigners are dictating the price. We have a large surplus. If farmers put it upon the bargain counter, foreigners will take it off our hands. The beginning of our spring cleaning-out sales. Early in the season Valentine and those well-posted traders thought the Russian war would put that country out of business for this season, but their exports have been large. Valentine let his chips go and deserted the game. Wall street traders are the chief longs, basing their views upon general prosperity and the low price, compared with last season, when cotton was playing philanthropist. Broomhall says the continental demand will be good in the spring months. Consumption there is larger than during winter. The domestic demand is the big factor. Our domestic wants for bread and seed are estimated to be about 500,000,000 bus annually. Early in the season the big crop and receipts disappeared so rapidly that it was popular to talk about consumption being upon a prosperity basis. Dealers now think it was due more to the exhausted reserves of old wheat. Visible stocks of wheat and flour are now materially larger than a year ago. Domestic conditions have been exceptional. Eastern millers had good wheat crop at home and have been able to secure supplies at lower prices than Western millers. Southwestern millers have paid fancy prices for light offerings. Now all are seeking export demand."

• • •

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—At no time today did the market sell as high as yesterday's close. The opening was a shade easier, and as the session advanced liquidation, coupled with aggressive short selling, brought market to new low quotation on the crop. A smart rally followed the quick dip, with the closing ⅛c to ¾c net loss for the day. Market seems to have developed into a splendid trading affair. The rallies are sharp and decisive, following sudden quick breaks, indicating a desire on the part of the larger shorts to cover at least a portion of their short wheat. The near approach of the season of crop complaints undoubtedly tends to restrict aggressive bear pressure, especially after such a break as the market has gone through, hence the desire of the larger operators to cover short stuff on the sudden sharp dips. We see no change in the situation other than more cautious in putting out short lines. The buying power is not of the right sort to maintain an advancing market, and unless we receive news of a bullish nature from the growing crop or from abroad, see nothing in the situation to warrant a change of front by the big traders. On the quick dips, however, we feel would keep them company by buying wheat for the natural rally that always follows oversold pit conditions or sudden sharp breaks.

Corn and oats—These markets changed front in sympathy with wheat, but to a lesser extent, and as in wheat regained about half the early loss. Trade shows a broadening out. Market is a better scalping one, and in this direction seems to promise more than in some time. We still feel the bulls will find some difficulty in maintaining higher prices right away, but at the same time would avoid selling coarse grains at the weak points.

• • •

Edwards, Wood & Co.: Wheat—The market ruled nervous and fractionally lower, rallying at the close. Liquidation was quite prominent at times, but shorts and new buyers took offerings. Seaboard reports indicate that the market is near an export basis and good amount of wheat is expected to be worked before the market closes. Northwestern millers were fair buyers of No. 2 hard winter at Kansas City. Stocks in Chicago both private and public elevators show liberal decreases. The news today so far as it related to supply and demand was inclined to be bullish. Broomhall's summary of crop conditions said weather in Russia is unseasonable with conditions favorable to damage during later. St. Louis had some bad reports, but the trade did not consider them as a market factor so long as there is liquidation going on. But pressure is likely to come from the other side soon now and we feel that we have had more of a break than was warranted under any circumstances. This is a very low level to buy on and the shrinkage in values is materially reduced. The best prices are on the bottom.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul.—Barrett & Zimmerman's report: The market starts out with a little brighter prospect than a week ago, although the demand is feeble with farm horses in more of a demand; receipts run heavier than the same time a week ago. A number of large consignments are reported on the way for auction day. All classes moving slowly at the following values:

Drafters, extra	$160@185
Drafters, choice	140@160
Drafters, common to good	125@140
Farm mares, extra	135@160
Farm mares, choice	120@135
Farm mares, common to good	75@120
Delivery, choice	125@150
Delivery, common to good	75@120

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Cattle—Receipts, 5,000; slow; prices, steady, beeves, $3.90@6.35; cows and heifers, $1.50@4.90; stockers and feeders, $2.75@4.65; Texans, $3.60@4.40. Hogs—Receipts, 26,000; steady; estimated tomorrow, 33,000; mixed and butchers, $6.00@6.30; good heavy, $6.20@6.30; rough heavy, $6.05@6.15; light, $5.00@6.25; pigs, $5.70@6.10; bulk of sales, $6.15@6.25. Sheep—Receipts, 15,000; barket, steady; sheep, $3.60@5.70; lambs $5.60@7.25.

We are headquarters for
Bonanza Circle
AND
North Butte Copper Stocks
PAINE, WEBBER & CO
BANKERS AND BROKERS.
328 West Superior Street.

EDWARDS - WOOD CO.
(Incorporated)
Dealers in
Stocks, Grain, Provisions
Main Office
Fifth and Robert Sts., ST. PAUL, MINN

J. A. MINNEAR & CO.
Brokers
Copper Stocks
Curbs a Specialty
LAURIUM, MICH.

For special bargains in Panhandle Smelter, Minerva, Anglo-Saxon, Sassy Sal, or any other stocks, especially Bisbee Arizona, Cananea, Mexico, Tonopah, Manhattan, Bullfrog or Goldfield Nevada, write me as I have just inspected these mines personally and can give you the latest information.
R. B. HIGBEE,
410-411 Germania Life Bldg., St. Paul.

A Shipping Mine!
400 Tons Already Gone To the Smelter—$55.00 a Ton.
Sixteen mining claims—$150,000 expended already in tunneling, trams, buildings and other improvements. This is the record of the H. T. & F. Mining Co. A block of 50,000 shares is now offered to investors at very low rate. Call or write.
The Happy Thought and Fairview Minning Co.
Parlor G, St. Louis Hotel.

Bonanza Circle Coppers
AND OTHER UNLISTED SECURITIES.
Noon Quotations, Feb. 20, 1906.

Coppers.	Bid.	Ask	Miscellaneous.	Ask
N. Butte	85	86	Ala. Cent. pfd	$6.00
C. & A.	117	118	Ariz. & E.	.10
C. & P.	37	38	Black Rock	.15
L. S. & P.	43	45	Comanche	.60
P. & D.	24½	25½	Crooked River	.50
Junction	28	30	Eagle Mt.	5.00
Man.	7	9	LaLuz, Mexico	5.00
Blk. Mt.	12½	18	Little Cracker	.10
Denn	24½	26	Metropolitan	.20
Warren	16	18	Nev. Q. B.	.10
Chlr.	8	10	Ophir Tunnel	.35
Shattuck	40	45	Shasta	.15

We are here for business. Come in. We think very well of Ophir and Shasta.
H. E. SMITH & CO.
WILLIAM KAISER, Manager.
Main Floor, Palladio Building.
Phones—Zenith, 696, Duluth, 83.

LOST EARLY ADVANCES

Stocks Unsettled by a Sudden Sharp Flurry in Money.

Market Very Strong During Greater Part of the Day.

New York, Feb. 20.—Opening changes in the stock market today from last night's prices were generally small, with gains predominating. The hard and soft coal carriers were exceptions and were a small fraction lower on the decision of the supreme court regarding rights of coal carriers to deal in that commodity. Southern Pacific and Great Northern preferred rose 2 and Brooklyn Transit, Sugar and Pressed Steel Car preferred large fractions.

Prices fell off sharply in spots and then rose vigorously when supporting orders appeared. Reading and Smelting sold a point below last night and Great Northern preferred lost its rise before the recovery set in. Large fractional gains were shown in most of the important stocks, besides advances of 1 to 1¼ in St. Paul, Brooklyn Transit, Colorado Fuel and United States Rubber, 2 in Consolidated Gas and 3 in Northern Pacific.

Fitful buying caused a large number of gains, reaching a point or more, which were mostly in stocks not of first importance, including many industrials, Delaware & Hudson rose 4; Colorado Fuel, 2½; Reading, Brooklyn Transit and Virginia Iron, 2; Hide & Leather preferred, 1¾, and Missouri Pacific, 1¼. Among the one points gains were Canadian Pacific, Wabash, Texas Pacific, Amalgamated Copper, Locomotive, Pressed Steel Car, Lead and half a dozen others. Chicago & Northwestern and Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis fell 3, and the Chicago Terminal stocks, 1. Bonds were steady at noon.

The heavy buying of Reading, which increased its rise to 4 points, overshadowed the whole market. The jump in that stock caused a rally in other coal stocks which had been depressed on the court decision. Great Northern preferred improved 3¾, and Louisville & Nashville, Atlantic Coast Line, Union Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern preferred, United States Steel and American Ice 1 to 1¾. Chicago Terminal stocks yielded 2 points.

The market began to show some effect of the profit taking invited by the day's rise, but except in the cases of Reading, which yielded a point, Northern Pacific 1¾ and Great Northern preferred 1¼, the reaction was small. Delaware & Hudson rose 5 points and Lead 2. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Soo declined 4¾. Reading rebounded to about 140 before the hour expired.

Reading rose as high as 140¾. The rise in the call money rate to 8 per cent caused an abrupt decline all around. Reading reacted 2, and Northern Pacific and Great Northern preferred a fraction below last night. Colorado Southern, Mexican Central and General Electric rose 1 to 1¾. Tennessee Coal and St. Joseph & Grand Island preferred, lost 1½ and the second preferred 2. There was a momentary rally but prices gave way again below last night's level. Atchison lost a point. The close was weak and unsettled.

Quotations furnished by Edwards, Wood & Co., Room A, Torrey building:

Stocks—	High	Low	Close
Atchison pfd	108	103½	103½
Atchison com	90⅝	89⅜	89⅝
Smelter com	163⅞	162⅛	163
American Woolen	46½	45¼	45¼
Amalgamated Copper	112¾	110⅞	111¼
B. & O. Ry	110⅝	110	110⅛
B. R. T.	82⅝	80⅜	81
Canadian Pacific Ry	173⅜	172½	172¾
Chesapeake & Ohio	57¼	56½	56½
C. F. I.	66½	63⅝	64
C. G. W. com	21¼	20⅜	21
Chic. 1st pfd	78¼	78	78
Erie com	44⅝	43½	43⅝
Illinois Central	184	183⅞	184
Central Leather	43⅜	42¾	42¾
Louisville & Nashville	148⅞	147½	147½
Mexican Central	24⅞	24⅛	24⅝
Metropolitan Ry	118¼	117⅜	118⅛
Missouri Pacific	101¼	100¼	100¼
Norfolk & Western	88¼	87	87
New York Central	140½	138¾	138½
Ontario & Western	51½	50⅜	50⅝
Peoples Gas	99	98⅛	98½
Pacific Mail	46⅝	46½	46½
Pennsylvania Ry	140¼	138⅞	139½
Rock Island com	25⅝	24⅝	25⅝
Rock Island pfd	64⅝	64⅜	64⅝
Reading com	140¼	138	139¼
R. I. & S. pfd	105¼	105½	105½
R. I. & S. com	33	32½	32½
Rubber com	51	50	50½
St. Paul	181¼	179½	179½
Sugar	141¾	140⅝	140⅝
Southern Railway com	39⅛	38½	38½
Southern Pacific	66½	65⅝	65⅞
Soo com	152½	150¼	152½
Tenn. Coal & Iron	156½	155	155
Texas Pacific	34⅞	34⅛	34⅜
United States Steel pfd	107½	106⅜	106¾
United States Steel com	42¾	41⅞	41⅞
Union Pacific com	153¾	151⅞	151⅞
Wisconsin Central com	28⅜	28	28¼
Wisconsin Central pfd	56½	56¼	56½
Western Union	93⅜	93⅛	93⅛
Wabash com	23¾	22¾	23¾
Wabash pfd	46½	46	46½
Northern Pacific	228⅜	224¼	224½
Twin City R. T.	116½	116¼	116¼
American Locomotive	74⅜	72⅝	72⅝
Great Northern	337¼	332	333
Erie 2nd pfd	71	70	70½
Denver	46⅜	45¼	45½
D., S. S. & A.	18¾	18⅝	18⅝

Stock Gossip.

Logan & Bryan to Paine, Webber & Co.: A sudden sharp flurry in money, advancing the rate to 8 per cent on call, unsettled the market late in the day, with prices losing all their early advance, and in some cases a little more, too. This left the closing irregular, but general liquidation was seen in some quarters. But for the money flurry, we would undoubtedly have had a strong closing. The action of the market was quite uniform, but the Steels stood out prominently as being extensively well bought and showing more stubbornness than balance of list on the decline. Barring unfavorable news, think would buy good stocks on the set-backs.

• • •

Walker Bros. to Paine, Webber & Co.: The market was very strong during the greater part of the day. Reading being a special feature of strength. Northern Pacific was also largely and confidentially bought, in spite of the strength in the market, but there was no great activity, the operations being largely among the professional element. Towards 2:30 there was an unexpected rise in call money rates, and this started selling throughout the list. The market closed weak at or near the lowest of the day.

St. Paul Live Stock.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—Cattle—Receipts 1,200; steady, unchanged. Hogs—Receipts 4,900; 5c higher; range, $5.85@6.10; bulk, $6@6.05. Sheep—Receipts 200; steady, $3.75@6; lambs, $4.50@6.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Feb. 20.—The cotton market opened easy at a decline of 2@6 points and inside of the first fifteen minutes increased the loss to a matter of 14@15 points on the active months under heavy stop loss selling and local bear pressure. March touched 10.40 and May 10.60, or 38@39 points down from the high level of last week and 9@11 points below the previous low level of Feb. 6. At the decline there was a good deal of covering by local and European shorts and the market rallied 7@8 points during the middle of the morning, being assisted by trade demand.

Cotton spot closed 10 points lower. Middling uplands, 11.00; middling gulf, 11.25. Sales, 26 bales. Futures closed quiet and steady; February, 10.39; March 10.46; April, 10.55; May, 10.67; June, 10.73; July, 10.83; August, 10.72; September, 10.38; October, 10.28; November, 10.30; December, 10.33.

THE COPPER STOCKS.

The following are the closing quotations of copper stocks at Boston today, reported by Paine, Webber & Co., 328 West Superior street:

	Bid.	Asked.
Amalgamated	110⅞	111⅛
American Dev. Co.	....	18½
Anaconda	283	....
Atlantic	24½	25½
Arcadian	4	4½
Adventure	6¼	6¾
Allouez	40	40½
Bingham	45	45½
Black Mountain	12½	13
Copper Range	80⅞	81
Calumet & Hecla	710	715
Calumet & Arizona	....	118
Calumet & Pittsburg	36¾	37⅜
Centennial	27	27¼
Denn-Arizona	....	28
Daly West	15¾	16
Franklin	18	18½
Granby	9¾	10
Green Con.	27	27½
Isle Royale	23½	24
Junction	28½	29½
L. S. & P.	44	44½
Michigan	12¾	13
Mayflower	1	1½
Mass.	9¾	10
Mohawk	57	57¾
Mercur. Cons.	64c	....
North Butte	85¾	86
Old Dominion	46¼	46½
Old Colony	1¼	1½
Osceola	100	102
Phoenix	1½	1⅝
Parrott	40	40¼
P. & D.	23¾	24¼
Quincy	....	93
Rhode Island	6	6½
Santa Fe	2	2¼
Shannon	6	6¼
Tecumseh	14½	14⅝
Tamarack	109	110
Trinity	11⅝	12
U. S. Mining	58⅜	59
Utah	63⅜	....
United Copper	70¼	71
Union Land	2½	3¼
Victoria	7	7¼
Wyandot	1¼	1½
Wolverine	133	135
Winona	6¼	6½
Warren	17	18
Copper Queen	....	3
Keweenaw	16	16¼
Boston Con.	28	28½
Nevada Con.	14	14⅜
Utah Con.	....	33
East Butte	8	8½
Sullivan	....	2

Copper Gossip.

Boston to Paine, Webber & Co.: The market had a good rally this morning on short covering and pool manipulation, but we do not feel bullish on the general situation at present. Money rates are still high and do not show any signs of weakening at present. The active operators in New York are to a large extent taking vacations, and their absence must necessarily tend to make the market dull and lower. The copper companies are still maintaining and asking a price of 18c for copper, but there has been little demand from consumers for several weeks past. With the exception of a few specialties which may be affected by new developments or consolidations, we think stocks can be bought around present prices and bought back cheaper before the middle of March.

• • •

The Calumet & Hecla directors today declared a dividend of $15 per share.

New York Money.

New York, Feb. 20.—Money on call, strong and higher, 3½@8 per cent, ruling rate 4 to 4¼; closing bid 4 offered at 5. Time loans, steady; firm; 60 to 90 days and 6 months, 5½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5¼ per cent. Sterling exchange, steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86.25@4.86.30 for demand, and at $4.82.75@4.82.80 for 60 days; posted rates, $4.83½@4.84 and $4.87@4.87½; commercial bills, $4.82½. Bar silver, 60¼c. Mexican dollars, 51¼c. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, steady.

Treasury Balances.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $149,161,989; gold, $74,224,043; gold certificates, $44,751,660.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

Following are the current quotations for goods which change hands in lots on the open market:

BUTTER.
Creamery, prints	27	@ 28
Creamery, in tubs	26	@ 27
Dairies, fancy	19	@ 20
Renovated	20	@ 21
Packing stock	16
EGGS.
Fresh	19	@ 20
Storage	14	@ 15
CHEESE.
Full cream twins	14¼
Block and wheel Swiss	14½	@ 15
Brick cheese, No. 1	14
Limberger full cream cheese	13
Primost	7
HONEY.
New fancy white clover	15
MAPLE SUGAR.
Maple syrup, 10-lb. cans	1 35
NUTS.
Filberts, per lb.	13
Soft-shell walnuts, per lb.	16½
Cocoanuts, per doz.	60
Brazils, per lb.	12
Hickory nuts, per bus.	2 00
Pecans, per lb.	13
Almonds	18
Black Walnuts, per bus.	1 65
Mixed nuts	12½
Peanuts, roasted, per lb.	7½	@ 8
Chestnuts, per lb.	11
FRUITS.
Apples, Ben Davis, per bbl	5 50
Greenings	5 50
York State Spies	5 25
Baldwins	5 00
York State Russets	5 00
Tolman Sweets	5 00
Missouri Pippins, per box	2 25
Colorado Winsape, per box	2 00
Bananas, per bunch	2 00	@ 2 50
Cranberries	16 00
Dates, Fard, 12-lb. box	1 10
Dates, sugar walnut, 10-lb. box	1 00
Figs, Smyrna, 12-lb. box	1 35
Malaga grapes, per keg	7 00
Lemons, Cal., per box	3 25	@ 3 50
Oranges Floridas	1 50
California Navels	2 75	@ 3 00
California pears, per box	2 50
Strawberries, per qt.	55
VEGETABLES.
Beans, wax, per bus.	5 00
Navy beans	2 00
Green hothouse beans	5 00
Beets, per cwt.	1 75
Top beets, per doz.	1 00
Cucumbers, hothouse	2 00
Cabbage, per ton	35 00
Cauliflower, per box	4 00
Celery, Milwaukee, per doz	35
Carrots, per cwt.	75
Egg plant, per doz.	1 75
Horseradish, per lb.	12
Lettuce, leaf, per bus.	1 25
Onions, per cwt.	1 65
Onions, Spanish, per crate	2 00
Parsley, per doz.	35	@ 75
Sweet potatoes, per bbl.	4 50
Potatoes, per bus.	55	@ 60
Radishes, round, per doz.	75
Spinach, per box	1 00	@ 1 25
Florida tomatoes, basket	90
Rutabagas, per cwt.	75
POP CORN.
Choice, per lb.	3½
Rice corn, shelled	6
CIDER.
Clarified, 16-gal. keg	3 50
Orange, cherry or pear	3 50
Black raspberry juice	5 50
MEATS.
Beef	5½	@ 7½
Mutton	8½	@ 9½
Lard	8¾
Pork loins	11
Veal	9
DRESSED POULTRY.
Springs, per lb.	14
Hens, per lb.	13
Spring ducks	14
Turkeys	19
Geese	13	@ 14
HAY.
Timothy, per ton	9 00
Upland, per ton	8 00
FEED.
Bran, per ton	17 00
Oats, per bus.	32
Shorts, per ton	18 00
FISH.
Trout, per lb.	10
Pike, per lb.	10
White, per lb.	10	@ 12½
Lake Superior herring	2½
Skinned perch	6
Smelts, No. 1	12
Smelts, No. 2	10
Fresh salmon, per lb.	15
Halibut, per lb.	12½
Oysters, standard, per gal.	1 45
Oysters, select, per gal.	1 85

Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Butter, firm; creameries, 17@27½c. Eggs, weak, at mark, cases included, 12½c. Cheese, firm; daisies, 13c; twins, 11¾@12c; Young Americas, 13c.

New York.

New York, Feb. 20.—Butter, firm; unchanged; receipts, 10,074. Cheese, steady; unchanged; receipts, 2,645. Eggs, easy; receipts, 21,908; State, Pennsylvania and nearby fancy selected white, 20@21c; do choice, 18@19c; do mixed extra, 16½@17c; Western firsts, 14c; do seconds, 13@13½c; Southerns, 11@14c.

COPPER STOCKS ARE NOT ACTIVE

Day is Not Particularly Lively One—Bisbees Dull.

The copper stock market was devoid of sensations today. United Copper was stronger. It opened at $69 and advanced to $74, closing at $70.25 bid and $71 asked. North Butte opened at $86, went to $86.50, and declined to $85.87½. The closing price was $85.75 bid and $86 asked. Amalgamated opened at $112, dropped to $111.37½, and went as high as $112.62½. The price was weaker toward the close, however, which was $110.87½ bid and $111.12½ asked. Anaconda opened at $286, went as high as $288.50, and dropped to $283.

The Bisbee stocks were inactive. Calumet & Arizona closed at $118 asked, Calumet & Pittsburg at $36.75 bid and $37.37½ asked, Denn-Arizona at $28 asked, Junction sold at $29.50 and closed at $28.50 bid and $29.50 asked, Lake Superior & Pittsburg closed at $44 bid and $44.50 asked. Pittsburg & Duluth closed at $23.75 bid and $24.25 asked,

$15,000 TO LOAN.

In amounts of $500 up to $1,500 at 6 per cent.

On or before clause, with privilege of paying $50 or more at any time. Interest stopped on amount paid.

MONEY ON HAND. NO DELAY.

Ten new flats and three new store rooms for rent.

Julius D. Howard & Co

Real Estate—Loans—Fire Insurance.
216 West Superior St.

We Will Bond You

FIDELITY, COURT AND CONTRACT BONDS

PULFORD, HOW & CO.

309 Exchange Bldg.

LIABILITY, BURGLARY, FIRE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

We Will Insure You

WINTER RESORTS.

Winter Resort

KENILWORTH INN
Biltmore near Asheville, N. C.

There is no scenery in the world that will compare with the view from this palace. Located on the highest point in Asheville. Surrounded by one of the finest parks of 160 acres with springs and winding macadamized paths. Mt. Mitchell in full view. Dry, invigorating climate, adjoining Biltmore Estate. Magnificently furnished, cuisine unsurpassed. Orchestra, golf, livery hunting and fishing.

Open all the year. Write for booklet.
EDGAR B. MOORE, Proprietor.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES

NORTHWESTERN LINE.

Leave Duluth	*Daily. †Ex. Sunday	Arrive Duluth
*6:40 a.m	St. Paul, Minneapolis	†3:05 p.m
*4:00 p.m	Twilight Limited	*9:45 p.m
*6:30 p.m	Chicago, Milwaukee	*11:10 a.m
*5:30 p.m	Appleton	*11:10 a.m
*5:30 p.m	Oshkosh, Fond du Lac	*11:10 a.m
*5:30 p.m	FAST MAIL	*11:10 a.m

Pullman Sleepers. Free Chair Cars. Dining Car.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY

Leave		Arrive
* 4:00 p.m	Ashland and East	*11:15 a.m
† 8:00 a.m	Ashland and East	† 7:10 p.m
* 7:30 p.m	Minn. and Dakota Express	* 7:55 a.m
* 6:30 a.m	North Coast Limited	* 6:25 p.m
Leave	"Duluth Short Line."	Arrive
† 9:00 a.m	ST. PAUL	* 6:30 a.m
† 1:55 p.m	MINNEAPOLIS	† 2:10 p.m
*11:10 p.m		* 7:00 p.m

*Daily. †Daily Except Sunday.
Union Depot and 349 West Superior Street.

THE GREAT NORTHERN.

Leave		Arrive
† 6:20 a.m † 3:30 p.m	ST. PAUL AND MINNEAPOLIS	† 9:30 p.m * 2:00 p.m
*11:15 p.m * 9:30 a.m	Crookston, Grand Forks, Montana and Coast,	* 4:10 a.m * 6:30 p.m
* 6:15 p.m	Swan River, Hibbing, Virginia	* 7:10 a.m
† 2:20 p.m	St. Cloud, Wilmar and Sioux City	†12:20 p.m
† 6:20 a.m		† 9:50 p.m

*Daily. †Daily Except Sunday
Twin City sleepers ready at 9 p.m. Office Spalding Hotel

Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Ry.

City Ticket Office, 432 Spalding Hotel Block. Bell 'Phone 41
All trains arrive and depart from Union Depot.

*6:20 p.m. Lv. North Country Mail. Ar. *8:55 a.m
All Points East.
†7:45 a.m. Lv. LOCAL Ar. †6:45 p.m
Marquette and Copper Country.

*Daily. †Except Sunday.

Duluth & Iron Range RR

A.M.	P.M.	STATIONS		M.	P.M.
7:30	3:15	Lv. Duluth	Ar	12:00	7:25
11:25	7:05	Ar. Virginia	Lv	8:10	3:30
11:30	7:10	Ar. Eveleth	Lv	8:00	3:30
11:55	7:42	Ar. Ely	Lv	7:30	3:00
A.M.	P.M.	Daily, except Sunday		A.M.	P.M.

DULUTH, MISSABE & NORTHERN RY

P. M.	A. M.	STATIONS	A. M.	P. M.
3:50	7:40	Lv. Duluth Ar	10:30	3:30
4:05	7:55	Lv. 57th Av. W. Lv	10:15	3:15
4:20	8:15	Lv. Proctor Lv	10:00	3:00
6:15	10:12	Ar. Ir'n J'nct'n Lv	8:01	1:03
----	10:40	Ar. M't'n. Iron. Lv	----	12:20
7:10	10:37	Ar. Virginia Lv	7:00	12:40
6:33	10:29	Ar. Eveleth Lv	7:42	12:47
----	10:56	Ar. Sparta Lv	----	12:24
----	11:20	Ar. Biwabik Lv	----	12:02
6:50	10:56	Ar. Hibbing Lv	7:15	12:17

Daily except Sunday.
Morning train from Duluth makes direct connection at Rainy Junction with D. V. & R. L. Ry for Ashawa and points north of Virginia.

HOTEL LENOX

Most thoroughly equipped in the Northwest. Sanitation perfect. European, $1.00 and up. American, $2.00 and up.

THE ALVERADO

Formerly known as Cook's Hotel. Most reasonable rates in the city. Steam heat, baths. Best of service. John McLeod, Proprietor and manager, 210-212 West Superior Street.

Hotel Superior,

Superior, Wis.

Largest and finest Hotel of the City. Bus meets all trains.
American Plan, $2.00 and $3.50.
European Plan, $1.00 up.

New Building. New Equipment.
RATES—$2.00 AND $2.50.

HOTEL McKAY

Corner First street and Fifth avenue West, Opp. Postoffice, Duluth.

The Miller

222-224 W. Superior St.
American and European Plan
Fifty Homelike Rooms.
JOHN W. MILLER, Prop.

$7000 Improved corner (50x140), three houses; excellent investment, netting 10 per cent.
$4500 Two-story dwelling, lot 60x140, East Second street, very central.
$45000 Business block on West Superior street; good investment.
$1400 Corner on East Superior street, 100x140, fine building site.
$400 Lot on East Sixth street.
$1,600 to loan. Money on hand.

A. H. W. ECKSTEIN,

401 Exchange Bldg. Zen. 'phone, 338. Fire Insurance, Real Estate and Loans.

$7500 will buy almost new modern home in beautiful location. Has 9 rooms, oak floors and finish, laundry, gas, and all the modern accessories. See us about it.
$2700 buys a good home in Lakeside, 8 rooms, water, sewer, bath, furnace heat, electric light, full basement, stone foundation, corner lot near car line. This is a snap.
$2650 will buy another home of 8 rooms, all modern improvements except heat, upper corner near car line, fine view.
Houses and lots in all parts of the city. Acre property our specialty.

EATON & WHARTON

Both 'Phones. Lonsdale Building.

WEST DULUTH.

Choice lot 61st Ave.	$210.00
Double corned 60th Ave	235.00
One lot 60th Ave	100.00
One lot, close in, 57th Ave	310.00
One lot, Dodge Add	110.00
One lot, Clinton Place Add	100.00
Two lots in Kimberly & Strycker's Add, corner	100.00
Six scattered lots, all	75.00
Two lots on Oneota St.	650.00
One lot in Stewart's Add	15.00

INTERSTATE LAND AND INVESTMENT CO.,

102 Providence Building.

$2000 Will handle a property paying 22 per cent, new building in first-class location, with very good prospects for a rise in value
$5500 For an eight-room brick dwelling on lot 50x140 feet with barn for four horses. House has all modern conveniences, including hot water heat. This is the best bargain offered in the city.
Call in and see us about the above.

C. P. CRAIG & CO.,

220 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

4½% 5%
Money to Loan
With On or Before Clause.
John A. Stephenson
WOLVIN BUILDING.

LOANS
5% and 6%
All Privileges Given. No Delay.
G. G. DICKERMAN & CO.
NO. 5 ALWORTH BLDG.

R. B. Knox & Co.

FIRE INSURANCE
ACCIDENT INSURANCE
BURGLAR INSURANCE

Loans, Real Estate, Rentals
Room I, Exchange Bldg.

4½% Any Amount 5%
All Privileges NO DELAY!
MONEY TO LOAN
BY
W. M. PRINDLE & CO.
5½% First Floor, Lonsdale Building. 6%

We Lend Money!

Lowest rates, easy terms. We make all kinds of building loans, as you need the money. We issue BONDS and write FIRE INSURANCE.

Cooley & Underhill,

208 EXCHANGE BUILDING.

Cicero said that "it is a mark of great wisdom to take precautions against reverses of fortune"—such precautions, for instance, as buying a bit of real estate now and then, while able to do so. Do not let yourself overlook the real estate ads.

CONDITIONS EXPLAINED

Manager Case Tells Why Gas Service Was Unsatisfactory.

Conditions Due to a Stoppage in Gas Feeder Main.

In accordance with the resolution passed by the city council last evening, Manager L. N. Case of the water department has make public the conditions surrounding the several days of unsatisfactory gas service during the first part of the month. Mr. Case's explanation to the council follows:

"To properly understand the cause of the very unusual and unsatisfactory gas service of the three or four days commencing the 4th inst., particularly in West Duluth, one must understand the conditions under which we are operating.

"The gas is forced into the city through 20,000 feet of 10-inch feeder main, at a pressure considerably in excess of the pressure that is adopted for private consumption.

"Wherever branches are taken off from this feeder main, as is the case at the corner of Gosnold and Fifty-seventh avenue and on the corners of Grand and Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh avenues, governors are installed to reduce the pressure to that required.

"These governors are what are called balance governors, operated with water to maintain what is called in electricity the step-down.

"Sunday I was notified by the Zenith Furnace company that it was obliged to increase its forcing pressure very considerably in order to get the gas to the city, indicating a stoppage somewhere in the feeder main.

"We began taking pressures immediately along the line in order to locate the stoppage. When one considers that we have only four or five places where we can get at the pipe without digging, and that at all other points we were obliged to dig through frozen earth, it will be understood why is was that not until Wednesday were we able to locate the obstruction, which was found in Grand avenue, near Thirty-third avenue west.

"In the meantime the Zenith Furnace company was forcing the gas through, with a pressure two or three times as great as that ordinarily required. The result was that the water was blown out of the governors controlling the lateral lines, and the gas was carried into these mains at the same pressure as prevailed in the feeder main. The only thing left for the department to do was to close the valves controlling these laterals almost entirely, until the obstruction in the feeder main was located and removed, which would permit the return to the ordinary pressures and the operation of the governors.

"For the information of those who suffered from these conditions, and who probably feel annoyed thereby, I wish to explain that a dry governor is now being constructed that will do away with any chance of a recurrence of any trouble from this source, and that a sufficient number have been ordered to replace all the balance governors in West Duluth and West end.

"I have been promised that these governors will be here by the middle of March, and it is hoped that in the meantime no further trouble will occur.

"The board would like to have the consumers of gas realize that when accidents of this kind occur, or of any kind, that every means is taken to recover from them as rapidly as possible, and that they are as unforeseen and unsatisfactory in their happenings to the employes of this department as they are to the people generally.

"All night long, and every night after the occurrence of the above, and during the days as well, the department had men digging along the line of the feeder main and taking pressures, in order to discover the locality and character of the obstruction to the flow of gas."

TWO BADLY HURT IN TRAIN WRECK.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 20.—An extra freight train, north-bound, on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road was ditched at St. Croix Junction, Minn., early today and the fireman and engineer were fatally injured. The injured:

Willard H. Davis, engineer, La Crosse, both legs crushed.

A. J. Kitman, fireman, La Crosse, back broken.

NOMINATIONS BY THE PRESIDENT.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate: Examiner-in-chief in the state patent office—John M. Colt, South Carolina. Assistant secretary of the treasury—John H. Edwards, Ohio.

$1800

For fifty feet on East Second street, excellent location for home or flats. This is a snap; better look it up.

C. H. GRAVES & CO

Real Estate—Loans—Insurance
First Floor, Torrey Bldg.

EVERYTHING IN INSURANCE

Fire, Accident, Life } Burglary, Health, Plate Glass
Liability } Contractors, Employers, Elevator, General.

"Strongest Old Line Companies."

Hartman-O'Donnell Agency,

209-210-211 Exchange Bldg.

RAILROADS

SOON TO LET CONTRACTS

O'Brien-Cook Syndicate Will Call for Bids on Extension.

Contractors Can Do Railroad Work Cheaper Than Companies.

It is expected that within the next week or two subcontractors will be asked to bid for work on the 100-mile extension of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg line from Ashwa, Minn., the present northern terminus of the line, to Beaudette, on the border. While the contract for the extension has been let to the Minnesota Land & Construction Co., which is controlled by the O'Brien-Cook syndicate, it is understood that this company will not undertake to do the actual construction work, but will sublet all of it, unless the bids entered by the contractors are considered too high, in which case the company will do the work itself.

On this basis, however, there is small chance of the Minnesota Land & Construction people doing the work themselves, for it is a well known fact that the railroad contractor, with his experience and with his equipment and acquaintance with details, the labor market, etc., can do a piece of work cheaper than the railroad company itself could, and still make a neat little profit for himself. This has been demonstrated at different times in the past in the Northwest. When a company not regularly engaged in the work undertakes to build a piece of track of any considerable length there are things which continually crop up to annoy them and to delay the work and make it more expensive.

The story is told among local contractors, of how, last year, one company had an extension of about 100 miles to build in Dakota. The cost at which it could do the work was figured out and then bids were called for, the intention being not to let the contract unless the figure in the bids was under that of the company. Of twelve or fifteen bids received every one was considerably less than the company's estimate. Another story is told of how a contractor approached a company that was planning to build its own extension and offered to do the work for just half the cost estimated by the company. He got the contract and still made a profit.

INCREASE IN EARNINGS.

Northern Pacific Does Very Large Business in Minnesota.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—The annual report of the Northern Pacific was filed with the railroad and warehouse commission yesterday and shows an increase of almost $1,000,000 in the earnings of the road in Minnesota and an increase of over $100,000 in the taxes the road must pay to the state. The share of the company's business credited to Minnesota is $12,207,413.48. This is an increase of $955,356.29 over last year.

Look Them Over.

The largest line of exclusive patterns ever brought to Duluth—Mellin & Company, 319 West First street.

PROGRAM FOR THE HOLIDAY

Boys' Department Y. M. C. A. Has Big List of Sports Arranged.

Thursday being Washington's birthday, the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. arranged an all-day program for its members in the morning there will be a roller skating party at the Temple rink. The boys will meet at the building at 9:15. In the afternoon from 2 to 4, the gymnasium will be open for games and a good time and at 4 o'clock there will be the regular class work for the intermediate section, with a basket ball game from 5 to 6. The day will close with a masquerade social. All members have been invited to come and a prize will be given to the boy who conceals his identity the longest. A number of games will be played, among them being a whittling contest. Each boy is to supply himself with a knife and a stick and the boy who whittles the best article in fifteen minutes will get a prize. Refreshments will be served.

Saturday, the outing committee will conduct an outing to Superior to visit the ship yards and see the launching of the big ship that is billed to take place on that day. The explorers will meet at the boys' building at 2 o'clock.

FRED MASON COMING.

Grocers Will Give Reception for National Secretary Thursday Evening.

Fred Mason, national secretary of the Retail Grocers' association is coming to Duluth and will be warmly welcomed by not only the grocers of the city but by those with whom he has made friends outside of the grocery business—and they are many. Mr. Mason is now located in New York city.

He will be here next Thursday and the grocers will tender him a reception that evening at Flaaten's conservatory of music. To this affair, all grocers, merchants and travelling men are cordially invited by the grocers association. Mr. Mason will deliver his noted talk on "Confidence and Consistency." Music will be furnished and refreshments will be served.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON OFFERS A NEW CUP.

Boston, Feb. 20.—Sir Thomas Lipton has offered, and the Boston yacht club has accepted in trust, a $500 cup to be raced for in the 22 rating class of the Yacht Racing Association of Massachusetts. The cup will become absolutely the property of the owner first winning two championships.

Sir Thomas previously has given cups for yachts racing on the Pacific coast and on the Great Lakes.

Buy Your Watch of the

LARGEST WATCH HOUSE IN DULUTH

HARRIS & ESTERLY

SPALDING HOTEL.

Largest Selection. Best Guarantee.

TURN HOSE ON STREET

Time to Clean Away Filth, Say the Property Owners.

Would Flush Surface With Water and Let Sun Do Rest.

Water and the accumulated muck of the winter months are beginning to present a serious problem in the matter of street cleaning.

The sudden thaw of the last few days has turned Superior street, and all of the avenues in the business section of the city, into rivers of dirty water and stagnant pools of slime and filth.

The board of public works has had a gang of men at work during the last two days, opening up gutters and trying to drain the water off. The gutters have been filled up during the winter months, by the contractors at work on the buildings under construction. The rubbish from the buildings has been thrown into the gutters, and now that the thaw has come, they are useless for draining off the water.

Many property owners along the street have been heard to express the opinion that it is about time for the first flushing of the street. If the board would put the street gang at work with the fire hose, as was done last year, the street could be cleared of the filth and muck, which is so unsightly, to say nothing of the unsanitary conditions.

The crossings along Superior street are also in very bad shape, and are almost impassable. With the amount of dirty water that is lying on the surface of the street, it is impossible to keep the crossings clean for any length of time.

The board is loath to begin the regular spring clean-up so early in the year, as it is believed that the present thaw is but temporary and that more cold weather and perhaps a heavy snow storm may be expected at any time, in which event the cost of flushing the street and cleaning up the piles of rubbish would be a waste of money.

Under present conditions, however, the street is rapidly becoming a public nuisance, and the attempt to drain off the water through the gutters is proving a very ineffectual method of abating it.

"Let us have the street flushed if this thaw lasts for another twenty-four hours," say the property owners along the street, and the board will probably be induced to comply with the request.

SEEKS DEATH IN RIVER AT ANOKA

Miss Mary Hull Commits Suicide by Jumping From Bridge.

Anoka, Minn., Feb. 20.—Despondent and driven to desperation by the death of her aged father, Miss Mary Hull, 60 years of age, leaped from the Anoka bridge to her death in the river below yesterday morning.

The tragic suicide was witnessed by Howard Schwank, the assistant postmaster at Anoka, who was returning home after making up the morning mail. As he went to work shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday morning he saw a woman standing on the bridge, but paid little attention to her, thinking she was waiting to meet someone. A few minutes later he returned, and as he neared the bridge he noticed that she was still there.

Suddenly, as he gazed at her, she climbed to the railing, paused a moment and then disappeared into the darkness below. By this time Schwank was near enough to hear the splash as the woman struck the water, but he could see nothing on reaching the spot where she had stood, and he at once notified the police.

The officers knew that the woman had been despondent for some time and at once went to her house, suspecting that she had taken her life. There, pinned to a curtain, where all could read it, was the following note:

"Attribute my rash act to none but myself, no matter what may have been said. I cannot live longer.—Mary Hull."

TO QUARANTINE CUBA.

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 20.—"Quarantine—which in this instance means detention and inspection—goes into effect against Havana and all Cuban and other tropical ports on March 1," was the statement made this morning by Dr. Rhett Goode, health officer of the city of Mobile. It is quarantine in a modified form.

BLOOD POISON is the worst disease on earth, yet the easiest to cure when you know what to do. Many have pimples, sores on the skin, sores in the mouth, ulcers, falling hair, aches-pains-catarrh and don't know it is BLOOD POISON. Send to DR. BROWN, 919 Arch St., Philadelphia, Penn., for BROWN'S BLOOD CURE, $2.00 per bottle; lasts one month. Sold in Duluth only by Max Wirth, 13 W. Sup. St.

For BEAUTIFUL WALLS buy

ROMAN WALL PAINT

Finest thing for interiors of Homes, Schools, Hospitals, and all Public Buildings. Dries quickly without gloss, giving rich, velvety effect. Can be washed without injury. Greatly superior to all other wall finishes. Durable, Hygienic, Elegant and Inexpensive. Made by

THE CHICAGO WHITE LEAD AND OIL CO.

For Sample Card of 12 beautiful colors and general information, apply to

THE KELLEY HARDWARE CO.

TRAVELERS RISK LIVES

When They Visit the Native Cities of South China.

The Anti-Foreign Feeling Grows More Marked Every Day.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 20.—The steamer Athenian, from the Orient, brings advices of the increase of anti-foreign feeling in China, to which some officials are giving encouragement. Shanghai papers call attention to the anti-foreign action of Viceroy Chou Fu, following the recent riots regarding the mixed court at Shanghai, he having decided to build a jail for the custody of prisoners held at the mixed court, at a cost of $25,000. The North China Daily News says there is absolutely no need for such an establishment, the new municipal jail serving the purpose, and classes the action as simply due to ill feeling and ill temper, translating into action the anti-foreign feeling.

In South China the anti-foreign feeling is even more marked. Arrivals from Hongkong and Canton say visits to the native cities now involve risking the traveler's life. The situation in Canton and vicinity is intensified, because of popular discontent anent the new Chinese taxation law, which has resulted in the assassination, Jan. 21, of the governor general of Kwan Tung province.

That the anti-foreign feeling is widespread is evidenced by risings against the French priests in Yunan, far to the westward, and in Szu Chuan. The Kolao-Aue society is planning anti-foreign risings. The viceroy of Yunan, in reporting the attacks on the French missions, says the priests at Likiang Fu have shot and killed several Chinese.

WIDOW-BRIDE DENIES REPORT

Says All Talk of Separation From Mizner is Silly.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Mrs. Yerkes-Mizner has not separated from Wilson Mizner. Mrs. Mizner said so herself today in New York.

"The talk of our being separated is silly," said Mrs. Mizner. "Wilson has gone to San Francisco on business. He will return in three weeks.

"As to my intentions regarding the will, I will not attack it."

"Will you build a hospital in Chicago?" she was asked.

"That is my present plan," Mrs. Mizner answered. "I have money besides that left me by Mr. Yerkes."

"I do wish," Mrs. Mizner concluded, "the public would leave me and my husband alone. We are not separated and there is no danger of anything of the sort."

In regard to Mrs. Mizner's plan to erect a hospital in Chicago, Charles E. Yerkes said today:

"I have seen in the papers she intends building a $1,000,000 hospital in this city, but I do not understand how she can build a hospital here or anywhere else."

"I received a letter today from Mrs. Mizner, written in New York yesterday," said Louis Owsley, chief executor of the Yerkes will. "In it she asked me when I was coming to New York. I take this as conclusive evidence that she is not contemplating a trip to Chicago."

Attorney Clarence A. Knight declared that he had no information concerning Mrs. Mizner's trip to Chicago. Louis S. Owsley, executor of the will of Charles T. Yerkes, professed to have had no communication with Mr. and Mrs. Mizner.

According to Attorney Knight, Mrs. Mizner has elected to give Chicago a $1,000,000 hospital. The attorney said he could make no definite statement, as she might change her mind. He declared that unless her plans had changed within a short time, Mrs. Mizner will not attempt to break the will of her deceased husband.

New York dispatches denied rumors that Mrs. Mizner and her husband of a few weeks had quarreled and that young Mizner had left the Fifth avenue home and was on his way to San Francisco. These dispatches said that Mizner was accompanied by his wife when he started West.

DIED FROM APOPLEXY.

McKay's Death Not Due to Blow From Brass Knuckles.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Surgeons testifying at the coroner's inquest today on the body of Archie McKay, who died in a saloon in White Bear Sunday, while a row was in progress, said that death was due to apoplexy. The wounds on the head supposed to have been inflicted by brass knuckles, the surgeons said, were superficial scalp wounds, probably caused by falling to the floor.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS HELD IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—Municipal elections are in progress today throughout the state. In this city the electors are voting for magistrates, councilmen, school directors and election officers. The City party, consisting of the reform element, which defeated the local Republican organization at the November election has nominated candidates in nearly all of the wards in opposition to the Republican nominees. Some slight disturbances have occurred and a few arrests have been made. A feature of the electnon here is the candidacy of fifty women, mostly City party nominees for places on the sectional school boards.

Pittsburg, Feb. 20.—Municipal elections are being held today in Pittsburg and Allegheny. The women of Allegheny are making a remarkable fight for election of George B. Logan for mayor. Today they are conducting all day meetings in the churches, praying for Logan's victory. He is the candidate of the Good Government party.

DOCTOR INSANE.

Trouble Said to be Caused by Excessive Use of Cocaine.

Marshalltown, Iowa, Feb. 20.—Dr. H. E. Getz, former president of the International Association of Railway Physicians and Surgeons and former postmaster of Marshalltown, threatened in a sudden frenzy today to kill his family. His mental condition is believed to be the result of cocaine, which he had used recently in large doses to alleviate pain caused by diabetes. When arrested today, Dr. Getz attempted to shoot the sheriff. Shortly after his arrest the doctor was taken to the state hospital at Independence.

WOULD HAVE NEGROES WORK ON ISTHMIAN CANAL.

Washington, Feb. 20.—J. Milton Turner of St. Louis, formerly American minister to Liberia, is endeavoring to enlist the interest of isthmian canal officials in the employment of negro labor from the United States in building the canal. He has discussed the matter with Chairman Shonts, to whom he said there were a large number of negroes in the United States, particularly in the South, available for and capable physically of doing the class of work required on the isthmus and who should be given an opportunity to go there. Mr. Turner will make further representations on the subject.

THE RAISIN TRUST PROVES A FAILURE.

Fresno, Cal., Feb. 20.—At a meeting of the growers of the Southern California Raisin Growers' company yesterday the dealers voted to disband the company and to return to the growers the half cent a pound held out for the purchase of packing houses. This action breaks up the association of growers formed for the purpose of co-operation. This year the price of raisins was fixed at too high a rate and the dried fruit failed to sell. The Mercantile Company of San Francisco finally took over the whole crop at 3 cents a pound.

Don't Forget

The First Annual

Masquerade Ball

given by Degree Team, Court North Star, No. 29, U. O. F., Armory, Feb. 23. Cash prizes given. Admission, 25c and 50c. Chartered car for West Duluth, 2 o'clock. Paul orchestra.

QUIT THE "CELLAR OR ATTIC HABIT"— ADVERTISE THE "OUTGROWN THINGS" IN THE HERALD

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SHOPPING BY TELEPHONE.

	Old Phone.	New Phone.
MEAT MARKETS—
B. J. Toben	22	22
Mork Bros.	677-M	189
LAUNDRIES—
Yale Laundry	479	479
Lutes' Laundry	447	447
DRUGGISTS—
Boyce	163	163
Smith & Smith	344-M	7
COAL AND FUEL—
Ohio Fuel Co.	76	76
Finch Fuel Co.	1291	1291
Upham Coal Co.	256	485
FLORISTS—
Seekins & Le Borious	1356	1626
BAKERIES—
The Bon Ton		1166
ELECTRIC CONTRACTING—
Mutual Electric Co.	496	496
RUBBER STAMP WORKS—
Con. Stamp & Print Co.	702-K	755
PLUMBING AND HEATING—
McGurrin Plumbing & Heating Co.	815	983
STOVE REPAIR WORKS—
C. F. Wiggerts & Son	1154-K	554

PERSONAL.

PURE, SAFE AND SURE! Dr. Roger's Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills. A test of forty years in France has proved them to positively cure SUPPRESSION OF THE MENSES. Special Price reduced to $1.00 per box. Mailed in plain wrapper. Imported direct from Paris, France, by W. A. ABBETT, Druggist, Duluth, Minn., 301 West Superior street.

SPANISH TAUGHT. 519 EAST FIFTH street.

FOR RENT — FINE PIANO, VERY reasonable terms to right party. 702 West Second street.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

FOR RENT—FROM MAY 1, THE rooms of the Windsor Hotel. Call at 502 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—MEAT MARKET WITH good business and good location. Inquire G 33, Herald.

WANTED—A BUSINESS PARTNER with from $2,500 to $5,000 to take active part in one of finest business propositions in city. Address G 51, Herald.

FOR SALE—RESTAURANT AND BAKery; town of 2,000. Address Box 323, Bayfield, Wis.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

MARTIN L. McMINN,

Real Estate, Timber, Farm Lands.

314 Burrows Building.

A COMPLETELY FURNISHED 28-room boarding house for sale at a bargain; central location. C. G. H., Herald.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF St. Louis.—ss.
In Probate Court, Special Term, February 19th, 1906.
In the matter of the estate of William B. Comstock, Deceased.
On receiving and filing the petition of Myra Comstock, Marie B. Comstock, Harriette J. Comstock and William A. Comstock of the County of Alpena and State of Michigan, representing among other things, that William B. Comstock, late of the County of Alpena, in the State of Michigan, on the 7th day of February, A. D. 1906, at the City of Detroit, in the said State of Michigan, died intestate, and being an inhabitant of Alpena County, Michigan, at the time of his death, leaving goods, chattels and estate within St. Louis County, Minnesota, and that the Petitioner, Myra Comstock is the wife of said deceased and said Petitioners, Marie B. Comstock and Harriette J. Comstock, are the daughters of said deceased, and said Petitioner, William A. Comstock, is the son of said deceased, and praying that administration of said estate be to William A. Comstock granted;
It is ordered, that said petition be heard before said Court, on Monday, the 19th day of March, A. D. 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the probate office in the Court House in the City of Duluth, in said County.
Ordered further, that notice hereof be given to the heirs of said deceased and to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth, in said County of St. Louis, and that a copy of this order be served upon the County Treasurer of St. Louis County, not less than ten days prior to the said day of hearing.
Dated at Duluth, Minnesota, this 19th day of February, A. D. 1906.
By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.
(Seal Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)
RICHARDSON & DAY,
Attys. for Petitioners.
Duluth Herald—Feb. 20-27, March 6.

One Way Second Class "Colonist" Rates to California, Western and Northwestern Points.

Effective Feb. 15, and continuing until March 31, 1906, "The North-Western Line" will sell one way second-class "colonist" tickets to points in California, Arizona, British Columbia, Alberta, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Washington. Some of the rates are as follows:
California common points, $34.90; Seattle and Tacoma, $25; Portland and Ashland, $25; Ogden and Salt Lake, $25; Denver and Colorado Springs, $22.50; Spokane and Walla Walla, $22.50; Helena and Butte, $22.50; Billings, Mont., $15. Intermediate points at proportionate rates. For full particulars call on or address city ticket agent, 302 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn.

Mardi Gras, New Orleans, La., and Mobile, Ala.

February 21 to 25 "The North-Western Line" will sell excursion tickets to New Orleans, La., Mobile, Ala. and Pensacola, Fla., at one fare plus $2.00 for the round trip. Tickets will be good for return until March 17, 1906. City Ticket Office, 302 West Superior street.

New York and Return $37.80.

Account Merchants Associations Spring Meetings, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway will sell tickets to New York and return at $37.80 on Feb. 9th to 14th, inclusive, and March 6th. Return limit thirty days from date of issue. Sleeping car reservations at 430 Spalding Hotel Block, Duluth.

A. J. PERRIN,
General Agent.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

REAL ESTATE, FIRE INSURANCE AND RENTAL AGENCIES.

Wm. Prindle Co., Lonsdale building.
John A. Stephenson, Wolvin building.
Chas. P. Craig & Co., 220 W. Sup. St.
L. A. Larson & Co., 102 Providence.
'Phones 253.

FOR RENT—ROOMS.

SMALL FURNISHED ROOM FOR rent. 208 West Third street.

FURNISHED ROOMS, 716 EAST THIRD street.

FOR RENT — NICELY FURNISHED room. 221 Fifth avenue west.

FOR RENT—FRONT, COZY ROOM. 225 Lake avenue north.

FOR RENT—PLEASANT FURNISHED room, electric light, bath, heat; $6 per month. 466 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT—SUITE STEAM HEATED rooms, furnished. 16 Second avenue west.

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS FOR LIGHT housekeeping. 134 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT—THREE NICE ROOMS, heat and all conveniences. 15 Mason flats.

ONE ROOM WITH BATH FOR RENT, suitable for two, with board, at 475 Mesaba avenue; centrally located.

FOR RENT — MODERN FURNISHED room. 204 East Third street.

FOR RENT—TWO FURNISHED ROOMS for light housekeeping. 307 West Fifth street.

FOR RENT—NEATLY FURNISHED front room. 19 First avenue west.

FOR RENT—DOUBLE FRONT ROOM and single front room, nicely furnished. 123 West First street. Upstairs.

FURNISHED ROOM, NO. 2 MASON flats.

FOR RENT — FURNISHED ROOM. 232 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT — FURNISHED ROOM; light housekeeping allowed. 210 East Second street.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM. 528 West Second street.

FOR RENT—FLATS.

FOUR-ROOM BASEMENT FLAT; REpairs to suit tenant. 220 West Fourth street.

FOR RENT—FIVE-ROOM FLAT, BATH and all conveniences, 115 Seventh avenue west. $22. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT — THREE-ROOM FLAT, water, light and sewer; rent $15 per month. C. H. Graves & Co., first floor, Torrey building.

FOR RENT—STORE BUILDING, FLAT and barn; fine location for saloon; first-class repair. Thomas W. Wahl & Co., 201 Exchange building.

FURNISHED FLATS. ZEN. 797-Y.

FOR RENT—HOUSES.

FOR SALE—HOUSE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE, water, bath, electric light. 518 East Sixth street; call 518½ East Sixth street.

FOR RENT — ONE SEVEN-ROOM house; city water and sewer; good repair. 2629 West Huron street.

FOR RENT—NINE-ROOM HOUSE, HOT water heat; all conveniences. 702 West Second street, $35. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM DWELLing, 102 South Sixteenth avenue east; possession March 1. Telephone 1133-R Rent, $32.50.

FOR RENT — NINE-ROOM HOUSE, Park Terrace, Eighth avenue west and First street; strictly modern; steam heat included. Apply 205 Lyceum building.

HORSES FOR SALE.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION. GREAT horse auction sales every Wednesday. Remember that every horse sold at auction must be just as represented or money cheerfully refunded. From 500 to 1,000 head of horses and mules offered at auction every Wednesday. Private sales daily.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN.
Great Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul, Minn.

Take Interurban street cars from either city.

RECEIVED — TWO CARLOADS OF logging horses; prices lowest. L. Hammel company.

FOR SALE—YOUNG GREY MARE; 5 years old; weight 1,450; will work single or double; also good delivery horse, weight 1,300. 1219 East Seventh street.

PRIVATE SALES DAILY.
A large assortment to select from, good horses at right prices.
BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN,
Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN
Have the largest assortment of horses in the entire Northwest. Auction every Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Private sales daily. Part time given.

TO EXCHANGE.

TO EXCHANGE—FINE, NEW UPright piano, standard make, for horse and buggy. Merchant tailoring, groceries, meats, plumbing, carpeting, or anything I can use. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

DR. BURNETT—Top floor Burrows Bldg.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HERALD WANTS BRING QUICK RESULTS

Something Saved

on six purchases out of ten — that is possible to the Herald ad.-reading householder; enough saved, perhaps, to purchase the "something else" so much wanted.

LOAN OFFICES.

WE LOAN MONEY ON WATCHES, diamonds and all articles of value. Established the longest. The most reliable up-to-date place in the city. All business strictly confidential. Fire and burglar-proof safes. Crescent Brokers, 413½ West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY LOANED ON FURNIture, pianos, cattle, horses, wagons and all kinds of personal property; also to salaried people on their own notes. Easy payments. WESTERN LOAN COMPANY, 521 Manhattan Building, New 'phone, 936. Old 'phone, 759-R.

NOTICE!
SALARY LOANS
AND
FURNITURE LOANS
ON EASY TERMS.
Everything confidential.

DULUTH FINANCE COMPANY,
301 Palladio.

MONEY TO LOAN ON WATCHES, diamonds, furs and all goods of value, from $1.00 to $1,000. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street. Look for electric sign. Established 1887.

MONEY TO LOAN ON RIFLES AND shotguns. We keep all guns until next season before they are sold. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN, ANY AMOUNT. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange building.

UNION LOAN CO. makes loans, buys notes and mortgages. 210 Palladio.

MONEY SUPPLIED TO SALARIED people and others upon their own notes, without security, easy payments. Offices in fifty-one cities. Tolmon, 609 Palladio building.

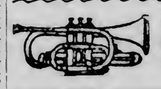

WANTED—LOAN OF $500 FROM PRIvate party; good security. X. Y. Z., Herald.

FOR SALE—COWS.

S. M. KANER HAS FRESH MILCH cows for sale. 1219 East Seventh street. Zenith 1387.

S. M. KANER HAS JUST ARRIVED with a carload of fresh milch cows. 1219 East Seventh street. Zenith 'phone, 1387.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

MUSIC and musical merchandise of every description. Edison phonographs, band and orchestra instruments, pianos and organs. INGVALD WESTGAARD, 7 and 9 First Avenue West.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE—CORRECT MAPS OF CUYuna Iron range. Morrison, 416 Torrey building.

PONY SLEIGH—AT A BARGAIN. Address M 92, Herald.

FOR SALE—ONE 2½-H. P., ONE 4-H. P., one 12-H. P., one 24-H. P., and one 28-H. P., second-hand marine gasoline engines, with complete equipment; also several stationary engines. Enterprise Machine company, Minneapolis, Minn.

"SHAKESPEARE" STOCK BOUGHT and sold. Morrison, 416 Torrey Bldg.

FOR SALE—CHEAP; YOUNG LADY'S fur coat; latest style. 826 East Second.

FOR SALE—INDIAN TOBACCO AND cigar sign; large. E. S., Box 496, Houghton, Mich.

A FINE LIBRARY OF CHOICEST books for sale. Books all new, 180 volumes. Cost $800. Will sell for $180. Address G 34, Herald.

FOR SALE—I HAVE SEVERAL ORgans for sale that cost from $100 to $300. Must be sold at once. Prices $15 to $60. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

UPRIGHT PIANO, $150; COST $325; USED four months. 14 First avenue west. Flat 2.

FOR SALE CHEAP— COOK STOVE. People's Moving Co. Inquire at office.

HOUSE FOR SALE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR SALE—GRAND 1,350 FAMILY horse; safe for ladies; 7 years old; 4 minute gait. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—MY RESIDENCE, 4302 Gilflatt street, Lakeside, and house and lot 2016 East Second street. Both great bargains. W. R. Elchman.

FOR SALE—SOUND HORSE, WEIGHT 1,425, 7 years old. 1536 West Michigan street. S. Vidas.

SWITCHES, FROGS, CROSSINGS AND track material, Rails cut to length for contractors. M. Mitshkun company, Detroit, Mich.

FOR SALE—SECOND-HAND 8¼ BY 10 double cylinder, double drum, Lidgerwood hoisting engine. Clyde Iron works.

FOR SALE—THE CELEBRATED ADAM Schaaf piano, awarded world's fair medal. Established 1873; 10-year guarantee. Best piano on earth for the money; only at Lundberg's, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE — KITCHEN CABINET, gas range and other household furniture. Address W. R. B., Herald.

FOR SALE—LEASE OF FOURTEEN-room rooming house, and furniture of seven bedrooms; must be cash. Parties leaving city. M 85, Herald.

FOR SALE—A FEW GOOD SECOND-hand ranges. City Stove Repair Works. 331 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

FOR SALE—SMALL-SIZE DRESS COAT and vest, in first-class condition; a bargain. Address N. T. C., Herald.

THE GOPHER SHOE REPAIR WORKS does it while you wait.

WATCH REPAIRING.

WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING done promptly and in a thorough manner. J. Gruesen, 129 West Superior St.

COMPOUND and VAPOR BATHS.

WE CURE COLDS, RHEUMATISM, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, gout and all blood poisons, give magnetic compound vapor baths. No. 16 E. Sup. St. Mr. and Mrs. A. Ecker, proprietors.

Watch Repairing and Engraving.

W. S. W. BLAKE, WATCHMAKER, Kugler's drug store, 108 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn. Formerly with F. D. Day & Co.

PATENT ATTORNEYS.

INVENTORS, ATTENTION!—PATENTS in all countries promptly obtained, sold, leased, manufactured; models made; twenty-five years established; unexcelled reputation; inventors' book free. Address Patent Market, St. Paul, Minn.

SATIN TOILET SPECIALTIES.

An invisible, instantaneous skin perfuming beautifier, describes Satin skin powder

TENTS AND AWNINGS.

POIRIER & CO., 106 East Superior street.

CLEANING AND REPAIRING.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE; BEST OF workmanship. Suits pressed, 50c; pants, 15c. 118 First avenue west. Old 'phone 1430-L.

PALMIST.

CONSULT GIRARD, MATTERS OF business and domestic affairs. Parlors next to Bijou.

CREMONEA VIOLIN MAKER.

RARE AND OLD VIOLINS REPAIRED; modern violins regraduated so they will improve with age. I develop the fullest tone capacity of every violin submitted. Forty years' experience. Satisfaction guaranteed. P. Lambert, 124 E. 4th St.

UPHOLSTERING and REPAIRING

ED OTT, No. 6 W. First St. Both 'phones.

MAYBE

Somebody's just wishing for some article you have and don't want—and perhaps you'd like an article "that very somebody" has and wants to get rid of. FIFTEEN CENTS buys an ad in The Herald's For Sale Miscellaneous column.

TELL IT TO PHONE 324.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—MEN TO LEARN BARBER trade. Now is the time to prepare for the "busy season." Write for "free" Ill. catalog. Moler Barber Col., Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED — CANTHOOK MEN, UNloading logs; steady work for good men. Apply at foot of Lavenue, Superior, near Murray-McCann mill. Edw. Hines Lumber company.

WANTED—FOR THE UNITED STATES marine corps, unmarried men between the ages of 21 and 35, able-bodied, of good character and temperate habits, citizens of the United States, or who legally declare their intention to become such; must speak, read and write English; marines serve at sea, on men-of-war, in all parts of the world, on land in our island possessions and at navy yards in the United States. Recruits desiring service in the Philippine Islands may be enlisted accordingly. Apply at 5 South Fifth avenue west Duluth.

WANTED—MAN OVER 21 TO TRAVEL for wholesale house; staple line; $15 per week and expenses to start; experience unnecessary; advancement April 1. Address with stamped envelope, F. W. Potts, Sykes block, Minneapolis.

WANTED—DAY PORTER. BOYLE'S restaurant.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN OF 18 OR 20 years to learn the jewelry business; one who resides at home. Address, own handwriting, R 201, Herald.

MEN WANTED—TO SMOKE NONE but home-made union label cigars, thereby assisting in the upbuilding of our city.

JOB COMPOSITORS—SIX. $18 PER week, 54 hours. Linotype operator, scale. Permanencies absolutely guaranteed competents. A. B. Farnham Printing Co., Minneapolis.

WANTED — APRIL 1, MARRIED MAN as farm tenant, twenty miles from Duluth. For particulars address Box 35, Wrenshall, Minn.

WANTED — YOUNG MAN EXPERIenced in paint line as salesman and office man. Apply at once, giving references. Address S 9, Herald.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

YOUNG MAN, THOROUGHLY EXperienced bookkeeper, desires position; can furnish the best of references as to ability and character. Address G 55, Herald.

YOUNG MAN DESIRES POSITION AS assistant bookkeeper, can furnish best of references and is a good penman. M 87, Herald.

BOY—AGE 15, WOULD LIKE WORK after school and Saturday. Call at 611½ West Superior street, rear.

COMPETENT YOUNG MAN STENOGrapher and assistant bookkeeper desires position with part outside work. G 49, Herald.

SITUATION WANTED BY THOROUGHly experienced office man. Railroad or commercial work. First-class references. Address M 71, Evening Herald.

DR. KASSMIR'S TURKISH BATHS

POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM at our sanitarium. We have every modern facility for curing rheumatism, colds, la grippe. Our terms are from $10 to $15 per week. One week's treatment convinces you that our system is right. Examination and consultation free.
DR. M. Z. KASSMIR,
26 West Superior Street.
Ladies' baths upstairs. Look for the big electric sign.

ACCOUNTANTS.

BOOKS CORRECTLY WRITTEN UP and audited by thoroughly qualified expert accountant. Auditor, Herald.

MILLINERY.

Miss Fitzpatrick, 504 E. 4. Old 'phone.

M. A. COX, 330 EAST FOURTH STREET.

PICTURE FRAMING.

DECKER'S, 16 SECOND AVENUE W.

MUSICAL.

Piano lessons at your home by competent teacher. Latest and best methods. 25c a lesson. Address V 35, Herald.

WANTED—TO BUY.

A LIGHT ONE-HORSE DELIVERY wagon. Must be in good condition. 32 East Second street.

WANTED TO BUY—A GOOD HORSE about 1,400 to 1,500 weight. Address H. I. S., Herald.

WANTED—TO BUY 800 CHICKENS FOR delivery March 1. Address, stating price, Riverside Park Poultry Co., 1191½ West Fourth street.

STANDING TIMBER IN MINNESOTA. Address V 9, Herald.

OLD CLOTHES BOUGHT.

G. SHAPIRO, 721 W. SUP. ST., BUYS and sells old clothes. Zenith 1552-X.

BIRTHMARKS REMOVED.

MANICURING, FACE AND SCALP treatments. Miss Kelly, opp. Glass Blk.

STOVE REPAIRS.

DULUTH STOVE REPAIR WORKS, 217 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

BOARD AND ROOM WANTED.

WANTED—BOARD AND ROOM AT once by professional man and wife. Private family preferred. State full particulars. G 31, Herald.

WANTED—BOARD AND ROOM AT once by professional man and wife. State full particulars, G 31, Herald.

STENOGRAPHY.

GRACE BARNET, FIRST NAT. BLDG.

E. MAUNU, 330 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

MEDICAL.

FOR WOMEN ONLY—DR. RAYMOND'S Pills. Women's Monthly Regulator, has brought happiness to thousands of anxious women; no pain, no danger. We have never known of a single failure. Price $2 by mail. Raymond's Monthly Regulator in liquid, $3. Dr. R. G. Raymond Remedy company, Room 27, 84 Adams street, Chicago, Ill.

UPHOLSTERING.

TELEPHONE YOUR UPHOLSTERING wants to Cameron. He will call at your residence with a complete assortment of coverings and estimate your work. Zenith 'phone 787. Bell, 325-L.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—GIRL FOR KITCHEN AND one for chamber work. 2532 West Superior street.

WANTED—A COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. Apply Mrs. J. C. Adams, 1528 Ogden avenue, Superior, Wis.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED GIRL FOR general housework. 3 Lafayette flats.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Mrs. H. V. Eva, Hunter's Park.

WANTED — EVERY WOMAN TO TRY Dr. Le Gran's Female Regulator. Guaranteed. Kugler, Your Druggist, 108 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 18 West Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1001 East Second street.

WANTED — EXPERIENCED WAIST makers. MacKenzie Sisters, 301 Burrows building.

WANTED—COOK AT WEST HOTEL, 1915 West Superior street.

GIRL WANTED AT ONCE FOR GENeral housework, at 730 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

WANTED—A COMPETENT NURSEgirl. Apply mornings. Mrs. C. H. Thornton, 1514 East Third street.

LADY DEMONSTRATORS FOR stores, experienced ones preferred; good situation for right parties. Address Room 6, Lenox hotel.

WANTED — GOOD GIRL FOR GENeral housework. J. H. Arden, 613 East First street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework in house of modern conveniences. 2721 West Second street.

YOUNG GIRL WANTED FOR VERY light housework. Mrs. A. Arsneau, 210 East Second street.

WANTED — DISHWASHER. CALL evenings. The Vienna bakery, 207 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 613 East First street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1117 West Michigan street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework; family of two; snap. 504 Wieland flats.

GIRL—GENERAL HOUSEWORK; NO children; modern house. 611 Woodland avenue.

WANTED—COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework, two in family. Apply No. 1 Adams Flats.

WANTED — AT ONCE, COMPETENT waist and sleeve drapers and waist finishers, also plain sewers. Miss Lambert, 220 West Superior street.

WANTED — KITCHEN GIRL AT 2604 West Superior street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

WOMAN WANTS A PLACE TO DO laundry work Mondays and Tuesdays; best of references. Address G 54, Herald.

LADY WANTS WORK BY THE DAY. Call at 611½ West Superior street, rear. Upstairs.

WOMAN WANTS WORK AS CHAMbermaid or dishwasher. M 70, Herald.

POSITION WANTED BY AN EXPErienced lady stenographer, with good references; law work preferred. M 69, Herald.

WANTED—PLACES TO GO OUT cleaning by the day. 21 East Sixth street. Mrs. Hassler.

WANTED — POSITION AS HOUSEkeeper, by middle-aged woman G 29, Herald.

GIRL WOULD LIKE WASHING TO take home; will also go out by the day. 405 Eighth avenue east.

WANTED—SEWING BY YOUNG LADY, will either take sewing at home or go out by the day. 405 Eighth avenue east.

BOARD OFFERED.

BOARD AND ROOM AT THE BAY View, 301 East Third street. 'Phone 1416-L.

LARGE, FRONT ROOM WITH BOARD for two gentlemen in private family. 130 West Third street.

BOARD AND NICELY FURNISHED rooms. 122 East First street.

BOARD AND ROOM, 117 E. THIRD ST.

FOR RENT—STORES.

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM, 121 SECond avenue west. Apply E. R. Jefferson.

DYE WORKS.

DULUTH DYE WORKS, 3 W. SUP. ST., 2023 W. Sup. St. Old, 1341-L; Zenith, 1334.

ZENITH CITY DYE WORKS, LARGEST and most reliable dye works in Duluth. First-class work guaranteed. Work called for and delivered. Both 'phones. 6 East Superior street.

CHEMIST AND ASSAYER.

C. F. JOYCE, 631 MANHATTAN BLDG. Old 'phone 1614.

COD LIVER OIL.

1905 IMPORT COD LIVER OIL. Alfred Swedberg, 2015 West Superior St.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. A. FERGUSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, 617 Fifth avenue east. Also private hospital. Old 'phone 494-L.

CIVIL ENGINEER.

DULUTH ENGINEERING CO.—W. B. Patton, Mgr., 613 Palladio Bldg. Specifications prepared and construction superintended for waterworks, sewers, etc.

FIRE INSURANCE

WRITTEN IN BEST COMPANIES. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange Bldg.

IF YOU WILL BRING

Suit to 10 Fourth avenue west, we press it for 50c; pants, 15c. J. Oreckovsky.

ARCHITECTS.

FRANK L. YOUNG & CO., 202 Pal. Bldg.

CLOTHES WRINGERS REPAIR'D

RUBBER ROLLS REPLACED, AND extra parts of all makes of wringers; also we sell best high-grade wringers, washing machines, etc. Special agents for American Wringer company. Interstate Mercantile company, No. 231 East Superior street.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

MASONIC.

PALESTINE LODGE, NO. 79, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings, first and third Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting March 5th, 1906. Work, First degree, Charles A. Bronson, W. M.; H. Nesbitt, secretary.

IONIC LODGE, NO. 186, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings second and fourth Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 26, 1906. Work—Third degree. John Cox, W. M.; H. S. Newell, secretary.

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, NO. 20, R. A. M.—Stated convocations second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 28, 1906. Charles A. Payne, H. P.; Alfred Le Richeux, secretary.

DULUTH COMMANDERY, NO. 18, K. T.—Stated conclave, first Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m. Stated conclave 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 6th. General business, election of officers, Masonic Temple. C. W. Wilson, Em. Com.; Alfred LeRicheux, recorder.

SCOTTISH RITE.
Regular meetings every Thursday evening of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Thursday, Feb. 22, 1906. Work—Eighteenth degree. J. E. Cooley, secretary.

EUCLID LODGE, NO. 198, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings first and third Wednesday evenings of each month at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 21. Work—Second degree. W. J. Darby, W. M.; A. Dunleavy, secretary.

K. O. T. M.

DULUTH TENT, NO. 1, MEETS EVERY Wednesday, in K. O. T. M. hall, 224 West First street. Visiting Sir Knights always welcome. J. P. Peterson, commander; Charles J. Hector; finance keeper, 22 West First street. J. B. Gellneau, record keeper, office in hall. For rent of hall apply at record keeper's office. Hours, 10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and Saturday evenings.

MODERN SAMARITANS.
ALPHA COUNCIL, NO. 1 meets at Elks' hall every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 15. Benefit Degree. T. J. McKeon, G. S.; Lucy Purdy, L. G. S.; Wallace F. Wellbanks, scribe; T. A. Gall, financial scribe.

A. O. U. W.
FIDELITY LODGE, NO. 105, meets at new Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. J. Patshkowski, M. W.; W. W. Fenstermacher, recorder; O. J. Murvold, financier, 21 East Fifth street.

A. O. U. W.
DULUTH LODGE, NO. 10, meets in Odd Fellows' hall every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. William J. Stephens, W. M.; T. J. St. Germain, 110 First avenue west, financier; H. B. Ivens, recorder. Sick benefit meets at 7:30 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.
NORTH STAR LODGE, K. of P., No. 25, meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Work—3rd rank, Feb. 20, at 118 West Superior street. J. A. Wharton, C. C.; T. L. Foss, K. R. S.

I. O. F.
COURT COMMERCE, NO. 3283, Independent Order of Foresters, meets first and third Friday evenings at 8 o'clock at Rowley's hall, No. 112 West First street. Next regular meeting March 2, 1906—initiation. F. A. Tupper, C. R.; W. W. Hoopes, R. S.

FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES.
DULUTH AERIE, NO. 79, MEETS every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Eagle hall, Folz building, 116 West Superior street. J. W. Parker, W. P.; J. W. Schroeder, secretary, 11 First avenue east. Apply to W. E. Brown, 417 West Superior street, for rental of hall.

M. W. A.
IMPERIAL CAMP, NO. 2206, meets at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, second and fourth Tuesdays. Visiting members always welcome. S. F. Staples, V. C.; N. P. Turnbladh, banker; R. Rankin, clerk, 1322 Jefferson street.

CLAN STEWART, NO. 50, O. S. C., meets first and third Wednesday of each month at 8 p. m. in Folz hall, West Superior street. John G. Ross, chief; Malcolm MacDonald, secretary; John Burnett, financial secretary, 10 Mason flats. Next meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 21.

ROYAL LEAGUE.
ZENITH COUNCIL, NO. 161, Royal league, meets in Elks' hall, first and third Monday evenings, at 8 o'clock. George L. Hargreaves, archeon; L. P. Murray, scribe, 1815 East Fifth street.

KNIGHTS OF THE LOYAL GUARD—Suburban division, No. 132, meets first and third Wednesday evenings of each month, Hall A, Kalamazoo block. E. F. Heller, captain-general; H. V. Holmes, paymaster, 415 Fifteenth avenue east; Mrs. Mary P. Foster, recorder, 720 Third avenue east.

MODERN MACCABEES—ZENITH CITY Tent, No. 1044, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. Commander, Chas. E. Norman, record keeper and finance keeper, A. G. Case, care Union depot, after 1 p. m., residence, 412 West Fourth street.

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF STEAM Engineers—Local Union, No. 15, meets first and third Thursday evenings, third floor, Room 2, Axa building. President, John F. Gogins; vice president, O. C. Hanson; financial secretary, E. V. Robinson; recording secretary, I. W. Gilleland; treasurer, C. J. Wendt; conductor, Andrew Wold; guard, William Beatty.

U. O. F.
COURT EASTERN STAR, NO. 86, UNITed Order of Foresters, meets every first and third Tuesdays of every month at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street. Visiting brothers and sisters always welcome. Next meeting Feb. 20, Social dance. J. B. Gellneau, C. R., 224 Ninth avenue east; Harry Milnes, treasurer. Office at hall, avenue east; Harry Milnes, treasurer. Of-

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. HANSON, GRADUATE MIDWIFE, female complaints, 413 Seventh avenue east. Old 'phone, 1594; Zenith, 1225.

14 PAGES

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

14 PAGES

TWENTY-THIRD YEAR. LAST EDITION. WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1906. (ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS.) TWO CENTS.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

PRESIDENT MITCHELL SAYS THERE WILL BE A STRIKE OF THE MINERS

He Makes This Statement to Associated Press at Pittsburg.

Positively Refuses to Say Anything More on the Subject.

Mitchell is at Pittsburg to Straighten Out District Tangle.

Pittsburg, Feb. 21.—"As far as I know now, there will be a strike."

President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, who arrived here today from New York, made the foregoing statement to the Associated Press today at the Hotel Henry.

"I am not here to have any conference with the bituminous operators. My visit to Pittsburg is to investigate the trouble existing among the officers and delegates of the Pittsburg district organization. I will announce myself later in the day regarding the Pittsburg situation."

"Will it be necessary to reconvene the national convention before a settlement can be made between the miners and operators, under the Ryan resolution, adopted at the national convention at Indianapolis?"

"The national president interprets the laws of the miners' union," replied Mitchell.

"You mean by that, then, that you can effect a settlement in any district?"

"Ask Secretary Wilson," said Mitchell.

"And the secretary is not discussing the Ryan resolution at this time," Secretary Wilson immediately replied.

"Will there be a strike on April 1?" President Mitchell was asked.

"As far as I know now," answered President Mitchell, with considerable hesitancy, "there will be a strike."

"In both the bituminous and anthracite fields?" he was asked.

"I will positively say nothing more."

"Notwithstanding the denials from you and F. L. Robbins, leaders of the bituminous operators, reports are still persistent that you will hold a conference with Robbins?" Mr. Mitchell was told.

"There is nothing in the report," replied Mitchell.

"Being in Pittsburg, of course, I will see Mr. Robbins, probably today."

Mr. Mitchell had a conference with the special committee, representing the delegates of the Pittsburg district miners' convention, this morning. He announced, at the noon adjournment, that he would confer with the attorneys of the delegates, after which he would likely be in a position to make a statement.

CARTER ALLEGES SLANDER.

Tenstrike Attorney Sues Register of Deeds of Beltrami County.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles S. Carter, an attorney and cedar contractor of Tenstrike, has filed papers in a damage suit against James O. Harris, register of deeds of Beltrami county. Carter alleges slander and defamation of character. The case will probably be called at the March term of district court.

W. D. Stoner, county treasurer, C. W. Jewett of Blackduck and W. G. Schroeder of Bemidji have been making estimates during the past week as to the probable cost of putting in a dam at the rapids on the Mississippi river seven miles east of Bemidji, where Mr. Schroeder owns several hundred acres of land. The proposition to utilize the power caused by the erection of the dam is the cause for the action now being taken.

REPUBLICAN PARTY

Again in Minority as the Result of Philadelphia Election.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—As a result of yesterday's election in this city, the Republican party is again in the minority. The contest hinged on the election of two police magistrates, and Borle, the Reform or City party, candidate, with Democratic endorsement, led Rooney, his Republican opponent, by 10,145 votes. Last fall the Reform element carried the city by 48,000 votes. Yesterday's voting was comparatively light, as there was not much interest in the contest, aside from councilmanic fights in a few wards.

HORSEMAN IS CHARGED WITH DOPING HUGUENOT.

Los Angeles, Feb. 21.—Judge A. W. Hamilton has granted Jeff McCafferty until today in which to file his answer to the charge made by C. E. Durnell that he doped the Huguenot, which won the fifth race at Ascot Monday. Durnell bid up the Huguenot after the race and had him examined by veterinarians, who, it is said, stated that in their opinion the horse was doped.

Director William Dunne of the Los Angeles Jockey club went to Ascot park yesterday afternoon to arrange a meeting of the directors and horsemen at his office in this city to investigate the charges made against Manager Brooks.

BIGAMY CHARGED.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 21.—J. W. Dickie has been arrested at Missoula on the charge of bigamy, at the request of the Tacoma, Wash., authorities. Dickie admitted having married two women, stating, however, that his first wife had deserted him in Seattle more than a year ago. Consequently he believed his marriage to Miss Hall was justified by the circumstances.

HAS FAITH IN FRANCE

Pope Pius Comments on the Law Abrogating the Concordat.

Vatican Will Show Its Hand When Proper Time Comes.

London, Feb. 21.—The Daily Express this morning prints an interview with Pope Pius by its Rome correspondent on the policy of the Vatican on the church question in France. After remarking that the abrogation of the concordat had not yet been officially notified to him and that it is permissable for him to wonder to whom France would entrust the notification, now that she no longer has a representative at the Vatican, the pope commented reproachfully on the impatience displayed by the French Catholics.

"Oh, those Frenchmen," he said, "always in a hurry, always restless, always excitable."

The single word, "wait," his holiness remarked, would suffice to indicate his policy.

"Certainly I shall speak in my own good time—and that time is not yet," he added. "It is a treacherous law, full of snares and pitfalls. Its passing is not everything. It has yet to be applied. When we are able to ascertain the exact position of our adversaries we will in turn disclose ours. We are ready."

In a further conversation the pope, according to the correspondent, said he was willing to be called "inert," but inert in the hand of God, who upheld him and for whom he would be strongly active when the day came for action.

"Catholics are about to suffer persecution for their faith," he continued, "but let them not fear. France willl never finally separate itself from the church to which she has always remained faithful, in spite of so many attempts to estrange her."

The pope then briefly mentioned what may be expected in the future. He alluded to the coming convocation of the council of bishops in France and to the creation, if necessary, of a sort of state council of the church which will be joined by the most distinguished of former judges and presidents and notabilities of judicial orders, often repeating gently the expression.

"I promise you it will all be done little by little."

Rome, Feb. 21.—The pope held a secret consistory today, chiefly to create nineteen bishops in the dioceses vacant through the France-Vatican struggle. He also preconized the Right Rev. W. H. O'Connel, coadjutor to the archbishop of Boston as archbishop of Constance, and the Right Rev. A. S. Bernard as bishop of St. Hyacinth, Can. The whole ceremony was in line with the Vatican's attitude toward France. The pontiff delivered an address summarizing the ideas set forth in his recent encyclical, showing that necessity hastened its appearance "as certain publications may have deceived the faithful regarding the real intentions and feelings of the holy see," evidently alluding to the pastoral letter of Mgr. Bonomelli, archbishop of Verona who advocated the separation of church and state.

Much interest was displayed in the sudden presence in Rome of Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh and primate of all Ireland, who arrived here on purpose to be present at the consistory, and of Cardinal Mathieu, archbishop of Toulouse, who went to France to attend the funeral of Cardinal Perraud, bishop of Autun, and who returned here to take part in the consistory.

BAD WEATHER

Encountered by Dock Dewey and Consorts---Towing Machine Broken.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Official news regarding the dry dock Dewey reached the navy department today in the following cablegram from Commander Pooley, commanding the Glacier:

"U. S. S. Glacier at sea, per U. S. S. Potomac, Las Palmas, Canaries:

"Bureau of Navigation, Washington: "Latitude 29 degs., 50 minutes north, Longitude 22 degs., 40 minutes west on Feb. 17th. Will coal at Grand Canary, Canary islands. Encountered very bad weather latter part of voyage. Dock adrift twice. Have been preceeding cautiously. The Brutus towing machine damaged. There is great necessity for extra part of engine."

The protected cruiser Tacoma will be ordered from Naples to the Canaries to carry commander Hosley the additional parts of the engine of the Brutus of which he says in his dispatch there is great need.

Gibraltar, Feb. 21.—A dispatch was received here this morning from Commander Hosley, commanding the Dewey drydock, requesting the American consul here to forward the mail to Las Palmas, and to hold all letters which are received later.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The navy department today received a cablegram from Las Palmas, Canary islands, saying that the Potomac has arrived there, and reports all well. The Potomac is one of the tugs towing the drydock Dewey.

MAY GO TO THE HAGUE

International Arbitration of Moroccan Controversy Suggested.

Inability of the Delegates to Agree is Now Apparent.

Madrid, Feb. 21.—An important Spanish statesman is authority for the statement that the question is now mooted of charging The Hague arbitration tribunal with the settlement of the Moroccan controversy, owing to the apparent inability of the delegates at Algeciras to secure an accord.

The newspapers say that while war is not likely the Franco-German controversy keeps Europe in a state of constant uneasiness.

Paris, Feb. 21.—The foreign office considers that the Franco-German situation is stationary and does not expect notable developments until the proposed Moroccan reforms are discussed in open conference. The steadiness of prices on the bourse, it is claimed, indicates that operators are able to resist the war scare. Public sentiment continues calm and apparently the people are tiring of the prolonged controversy.

Unconfirmed reports are circulated that Washington, Vienna, St. Petersburg and Rome are co-operating towards securing an accord on Morocco.

ORGANIZATION IS NO "FAKE"

Secretary of Food Association Replies to McCumber.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The charges recently made in the senate by Senator McCumber that the National Food Manufacturers association "is a fake" organization, were discussed at length today before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which is conducting hearings on pure food bills. Thomas Lannon of Chicago, secretary of the association attacked in the senate, said the organization has among its members representatives of leading grocery firms, manufacturers of preservatives and canners, and represents millions of dollars of capital. He denied charges that the organization is one which is not well known and established for the legitimate protection of wholesalers and retailers of goods, which would be affected by the proposed Hepburn bill. Mr. Lannon said that at the request of members of the association he drew a pure food bill, which would be satisfactory to the members of the organization. This bill was introduced in the house by Mr. Rodenborg and in the senate by Senator Money. Mr. Lannon analyzed this bill section by section and pointed out the details in which he believed it superior to the Hepburn bill known in the senate as the Heyburn bill.

BIG FIRE LOSS AT MAZEPPA.

Mazeppa, Minn., Feb. 81.—Fire completely destroyed the general merchandise store of Z. B. Page & Co. here. The building, which was erected in 1859, by the late Prosper Robinson, one of the earliest merchants in this section, was a landmark. The loss was $10,000, of which $6,000 was covered by insurance.

A MURDER OR SUICIDE?

Body of Well Dressed Man Found in Gutter in Chicago.

Only Clew to Identity Are Initials Stamped in His Hat.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The body of a man, apparently about 45 years old, was found today in the gutter at Twenty-first street and Calumet avenue, a fashionable residence district. There was a bullet hole above the right ear, and a cheap revolver lay near the corpse, but the police are unable to state whether it is a case of murder or of suicide. The man was well dressed and had every appearance of being a prosperous business man. The only clews to his identity are the initials "A. F." stamped in the sweat band of a hat found near him. The hat bears the name of the sellers, "B. K. & Co., Milwaukee." There was a bullet hole in the hat, but the police were unable to fit the hat upon the head so as to bring the perforation directly over the bullet wound. The hat was also very small for the man. The police believe the man may have been slain by robbers and his body brought from a distance.

Milwaukee, Feb. 21.—The Milwaukee police department has no record of any one missing answering to the description contained in the Chicago dispatch of a corpse found in the gutter at Twenty-first street and Calumet avenue. Neither was any light thrown upon the mystery at the Milwaukee store, where the hat found near the body was purchased.

REPUDIATE ORCHARD.

The Mine Owners Say That He Never Worked for Them.

Denver, Feb. 21.—Representatives of the Cripple Creek Mine Owners' association positively deny that Harry Orchard, who is said to have confessed the assassination of Former Governor Frank Steunenberg of Idaho and to have represented that he was hired by the "inner circle" of the Western Federation of Miners to commit the crime, was ever employed by the association or any of its agents as a detective or spy. They say that Orchard offered to sell information to the mine owners' agents concerning a plot to wreck a train on the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad, but that he was regarded with suspicion and his proffer was rejected. After the Independence depot disaster, it is asserted, detectives in the employ of the Mine Owners' association had been constantly searching for Orchard, who was believed to have caused the explosion which killed fourteen non-union miners, up to the time that he was arrested at Caldwell and charged with the murder of Steunenberg.

ATTACKS MASQUERADERS.

New Ulm, Minn., Feb. 21.—During high mass in the Catholic church, the resident priest, Rev. H. B. Taudmeyer, openly denounced the public masquerade balls which are continually being held in this city. He said that they had an immoral tendency and that if people wanted to make fools of themselves they could do so without attending these exhibitions of vulgarity. He gave strict orders to all members of the parish to desist in the future from attending these balls, and especially warned the young men and women to forego these questionable entertainments.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT REFUSES TO APOLOGIZE FOR THE TREATMENT OF MRS. MORRIS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

CHARLES H. MOYER. W. D. HAYWOOD.

President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, Who Are Under Arrest for the Murder of Former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho.

Says That the Arrest of the Woman Was Justified.

Has the Chief of Police Investigate the Matter Personally.

Loeb Replies to Demand of Woman's Husband for Apology.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Dr. Minor Morris, whose wife, some weeks ago, was ejected from the White House, where she had gone to present alleged grievances to the president, today gave out for publication the correspondence which recently passed between himself and the president regarding the case. Dr. Morris demanded a public apology of the president "for this outrage on womanhood and common decency." Secretary Loeb replied to the letter, stating that an inshowed that the arrest was justified, and that the kindest act to Mrs. Morris and her kinsfolk was to refrain from giving the case additional publicity. The letter follows:

"To the President of the United States.

"Sir—Having waited patiently a number of weeks that you might have time to ascertain all the circumstances connected with the insult recently offered my wife at the White House, and that you might make some expression of deprecation which would naturally be expected, it is now incumbent upon me as husband and citizen to demand a public apology for this outrage on womanhood and common decency.

"It is unthinkable that such brutality would be tolerated anywhere in this country, but above all in the White House.

"That my wife has been confined to her bed six weeks from the shock and injuries of this damnable treatment is bad enough, but I can say to you in all calmness that had the original orders from the White House been carried out as to her longer incarceration, her life would have been sacrificed.

"It is, therefore, incumbent upon me to repeat my urgent request, that you take action at once suitable to the circumstances which have shocked the entire nation. Respectfully,

"MINOR MORRIS."

"The White House, Washington, Feb. 19, 1906.—Sir: In reply to your letter of the 16th instant, the president directs me to state to you that he had the superintendent of police of the District of Columbia, Maj. Sylvester, make a careful investigation of the circumstances connected with the arrest of Mrs. Morris for disorderly conduct at the executive office, and the superintendent submitted to the president, all the affidavits of the persons whom he had examined. The president carefully went over Maj. Sylvester's report and the affidavits, and also personally saw Maj. Sylvester and some of the persons making the affidavits. He came to the conclusion that the arrest was justified and that the force used in making the arrest was caused by the resistance offered by Mrs. Morris to the officers in the discharge of their duty, and was no greater than was necessary to make the arrest effective.

"Under these circumstances the president does not consider that the officers are properly subject to blame. He was also satisfied that the kindest thing that could be done to Mrs. Morris and her kinsfolk was to refrain from giving any additional publicity to the circumstances surrounding the case. Yours truly, WILLIAM LOEB, JR.,

"Secretary to the president.

"Dr. Minor Morris, Washington, D. C."

WALTER WEBB FOUND GUILTY

Of Killing Elijah Holmes in a Minneapolis Saloon.

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter Webb, accused of killing Elijah Holmes, was convicted in Judge Brown's court yesterday. Two eye-witnesses to the killing, James Bentley and Frank Pool, told about the shooting of Holmes. They said that outside of Blackwell's saloon Webb asked Holmes to have a drink, and that he refused. Webb then pulled a revolver, when Holmes tried to get away from him. Then Webb commenced shooting. Witnesses ran away in order to escape the bullets.

Joseph Blackwell, proprietor of the saloon, went on the witness stand and told how the trouble between the negroes started in his place. Holmes objected to Webb's playing, he said, and got up and slapped him in the face.

"Don't do that, Lige," pleaded Webb. The two men then left the place.

Webb had not been drinking much, but Holmes was very drunk.

TO PROHIBIT SUNDAY THEATERS

Des Moines, Feb. 21.—Senator Warren Garst today introduced a bill in the upper house prohibiting the Sunday theaters in Iowa. The measure carries with it the fine of $50 and applies to all places of amusement open on Sunday.

PHYSICIAN BECOMES INSANE.

Marshalltown, Iowa, Feb. 21.—Dr. H. L. Getz, one of the best known physicians in Central Iowa, became violently insane yesterday and attempted to shoot Sheriff Hutson, who was summoned to place him in custody. He was taken to the hospital. Dr. Getz has been suffering with diabetes for some time and his condition has been hopeless.

GRAND LODGE TO MEET ANNUALLY

Motion to Change Sessions of the A. O. U. W. is Lost.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. has decided to continue its annual sessions.

A motion to change the sessions to biennial was lost at the meeting late Tuesday.

Another motion which failed provided to cut down the representation of subordinate lodges to two delegates each. The grand lodge now has an attendance of 550, and it is a serious matter to find proper accommodations for the annual session of the body.

Tonight the visitors to the A. O. U. W. convention will be entertained at Minnehaha hall, Ninth street, where the seventeenth annual conclave of Astoria Hut, Oriental degree of humility, will be held.

TRIED TWICE AND FAILED.

Montana Woman Granted Second Divorce From Same Husband.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 21.—Twice married to the same man and twice divorced from him is the matrimonial record of Mrs. Minnie E. Rodgers, who was plaintiff in divorce proceedings against Lyman E. Rodgers in Judge McClernan's court yesterday. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant, and the woman was granted the relief asked for on the ground of cruelty and non-support.

The first marriage of the couple took place in Seattle in 1900. It was of short duration and ended in a divorce. The differences were patched up and in 1902 they were again married. For two years they lived together, at the end of which time Mrs. Rodgers says she became convinced that marriage was a failure. She informed the court that after twice trying to live amicably with her husband she had found it an impossible task.

OBJECT TO ANNEXATION OF LATONIA TO THE CITY.

Cincinnati, Feb. 21.—The city council of Latonia, Ky., last night passed an ordinance for the annexation of the Latonia race track to the city.

In addition to the increase of the city's tax duplicate by the annexation, a large income for the city is expected in the shape of licenses for bookmaking and bars operating on the track, while comparatively small extra expenditures will be the result. It is said, however, that the race track owners will not consent to be annexed and contribute to Latonia city's taxes with little or no benefit in return and a vigorous fight in the courts is expected.

LA FOLLETTE BLOCKS INDIAN LAND FRAUD.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, scored another victory in the committee on Indian affairs yesterday in the fight he is making to protect the interests of the Indians of the five civilized tribes, and prevent frauds in the sales of the lands of the Choctaws and Chickasaws. The provision in the bill which excited the senator's apprehension was materially changed by the committee today so that the commission to appraise the lands shall be appointed by the secretary of the interior instead of permitting the lessees to participate and by providing that this commission in appraising the value of the land shall take into consideration all development work. The surface and mineral rights will be sold separately.

JURY SECURED TO TRY GREEN.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A jury was secured today to try the case of Former State Senator George E. Green of New York, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the furnishing of supplies to the postoffice department. After the jury had been sworn an adjournment was taken until Monday.

FORMER PITCHER KILLED.

Beloit, Wis., Feb. 21.—Herbert Farr, aged 40, at one time a famous Beloit college pitcher, met death in a mine accident at Angel Point, Cal., yesterday. Deceased had been a mining engineer for many years.

FERGUS FALLS MAYOR

Announces That He Will be Candidate For Re-Election.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Townley has announced that he is a candidate for re-election to the office he now holds at the election six weeks hence. He states that if chosen again by the people, he will continue to administer the affairs of the city on the same lines as they have been managed in the year nearly closed, and that all laws will be enforced rigidly. He states that he is in favor of license for revenue purposes, but that if the people of the city conclude to vote "no license" at the coming election, the will of the people will be obeyed, and no liquor till be sold if he can prevent it.

After about ten months of Mayor Townley's administration, the city is a quiet, orderly, well-behaved place. No disorderly houses, no slot machines or other prohibited forms of vice, and, naturally, a scarcity of the "tough" element.

SELLING OF POOLS

Forbidden by Ordinance in Louisville Race Track Suburb.

Louisville, Feb. 21.—The town of Highland Park, a suburb, last night, passed an ordinance forbidding the selling of pools within the limits of its boundaries. If the ordinance is enforced the Western Jockey club will be without a race track in Louisville, for the Douglas track recently acquired by the Western Jockey club, is within the limits of Highland Park.

ANOTHER SUIT STARTED.

New Richmond, Wis., Feb. 21.—Following close onto the heels of a $5,000 libel suit brought by ex-Senator O. W. Mosher against the New Richmond News, the News proprietors have begun a $3,000 damage suit against Mosher for malicious interference with their business, alleging that Mosher went to business men in this city and requested them to stop doing business with the News.

THE PLUTOCRAT'S GOAL.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

14 PAGES

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

14 PAGES

TWENTY-THIRD YEAR. LAST EDITION. WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1906. (ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS.) TWO CENTS.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

PRESIDENT MITCHELL SAYS THERE WILL BE A STRIKE OF THE MINERS

He Makes This Statement to Associated Press at Pittsburg.

Positively Refuses to Say Anything More on the Subject.

Mitchell is at Pittsburg to Straighten Out District Tangle.

Pittsburg, Feb. 21.—"As far as I know now, there will be a strike."

President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, who arrived here today from New York, made the foregoing statement to the Associated Press today at the Hotel Henry.

"I am not here to have any conference with the bituminous operators. My visit to Pittsburg is to investigate the trouble existing among the officers and delegates of the Pittsburg district organization. I will announce myself later in the day regarding the Pittsburg situation."

"Will it be necessary to reconvene the national convention before a settlement can be made between the miners and operators, under the Ryan resolution, adopted at the national convention at Indianapolis?"

"The national president interprets the laws of the miners' union," replied Mitchell.

"You mean by that, then, that you can effect a settlement in any district?"

"Ask Secretary Wilson," said Mitchell.

"And the secretary is not discussing the Ryan resolution at this time," Secretary Wilson immediately replied.

"Will there be a strike on April 1?" President Mitchell was asked.

"As far as I know now," answered President Mitchell, with considerable hesitancy, "there will be a strike."

"In both the bituminous and anthracite fields?" he was asked.

"I will positively say nothing more."

Notwithstanding the denials from you and F. L. Robbins, leaders of the bituminous operators, reports are still persistent that you will hold a conference with Robbins?" Mr. Mitchell was told.

"There is nothing in the report," replied Mitchell.

"Being in Pittsburg, of course, I will see Mr. Robbins, probably today."

Mr. Mitchell had a conference with the special committee, representing the delegates of the Pittsburg district miners' convention, this morning. He announced, at the noon adjournment, that he would confer with the attorneys of the delegates, after which he would likely be in a position to make a statement.

CARTER ALLEGES SLANDER.

Tenstrike Attorney Sues Register of Deeds of Beltrami County.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles S. Carter, an attorney and cedar contractor of Tenstrike, has filed papers in a damage suit against James O. Harris, register of deeds of Beltrami county. Carter alleges slander and defamation of character. The case will probably be called at the March term of district court.

W. D. Stoner, county treasurer, C. W. Jewett of Blackduck and W. G. Schroeder of Bemidji have been making estimates during the past week as to the probable cost of putting in a dam at the rapids on the Mississippi river seven miles east of Bemidji, where Mr. Schroeder owns several hundred acres of land. The proposition to utilize the power caused by the erection of the dam is the cause for the action now being taken.

REPUBLICAN PARTY

Again in Minority as the Result of Philadelphia Election.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—As a result of yesterday's election in this city, the Republican party is again in the minority. The contest hinged on the election of two police magistrates, and Berle, the Reform or City party, candidate, with Democratic endorsement, led Rooney, his Republican opponent, by 10,145 votes. Last fall the Reform element carried the city by 48,000 votes. Yesterday's voting was comparatively light, as there was not much interest in the contest, aside from councilmanic fights in a few wards.

HORSEMAN IS CHARGED WITH DOPING HUGUENOT.

Los Angeles, Feb. 21.—Judge A. W. Hamilton has granted Jeff McCafferty until today in which to file his answer to the charge made by C. E. Durnell that he doped the Huguenot, which won the fifth race at Ascot Monday. Durnell bid up the Huguenot after the race and had him examined by veterinarians, who, it is said, stated that in their opinion the horse was doped.

Director William Dunne of the Los Angeles Jockey club went to Ascot park yesterday afternoon to arrange a meeting of the directors and horsemen at his office in this city to investigate the charges made against Manager Brooks.

BIGAMY CHARGED.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 21.—J. W. Dickie has been arrested at Missoula on the charge of bigamy, at the request of the Tacoma, Wash., authorities. Dickie admitted having married two women, stating, however, that his first wife had deserted him in Seattle more than a year ago. Consequently he believed his marriage to Miss Hall was justified by the circumstances.

HAS FAITH IN FRANCE

Pope Pius Comments on the Law Abrogating the Concordat.

Vatican Will Show Its Hand When Proper Time Comes.

London, Feb. 21.—The Daily Express this morning prints an interview with Pope Pius by its Rome correspondent on the policy of the Vatican on the church question in France. After remarking that the abrogation of the concordat had not yet been officially notified to him and that it is permissable for him to wonder to whom France would entrust the notification, now that she no longer has a representative at the Vatican, the pope commented reproachfully on the impatience displayed by the French Catholics.

"Oh, those Frenchmen," he said, "always in a hurry, always restless, always excitable."

The single word, "wait," his holiness remarked, would suffice to indicate his policy.

"Certainly I shall speak in my own good time—and that time is not yet," he added. "It is a treacherous law, full of snares and pitfalls. Its passing is not everything. It has yet to be applied. When we are able to ascertain the exact position of our adversaries we will in turn disclose ours. We are ready."

In a further conversation the pope, according to the correspondent, said he was willing to be called "inert," but inert in the hand of God, who upheld him and for whom he would be strongly active when the day came for action.

"Catholics are about to suffer persecution for their faith," he continued, "but let them not fear. France will never finally separate itself from the church to which she has always remained faithful, in spite of so many attempts to estrange her."

The pope then briefly mentioned what may be expected in the future. He alluded to the coming convocation of the council of bishops in France and to the creation, it necessary, of a sort of state council of the church which will be joined by the most distinguished of former judges and presidents and notabilities of judicial orders, often repeating gently the expression.

"I promise you it will all be done little by little."

Rome, Feb. 21.—The pope held a secret consistory today, chiefly to create nineteen bishops in the dioceses vacant through the Franco-Vatican struggle. He also preconized the Right Rev. W. H. O'Connel, coadjutor to the archbishop of Boston as archbishop of Constance, and the Right Rev. A. S. Bernard as bishop of St. Hyacinth, Can. The whole ceremony was in line with the Vatican's attitude toward France. The pontiff delivered an address summarizing the ideas set forth in his recent encyclical, showing that necessity hastened his appearance "as certain publications may have deceived the faithful regarding the real intentions and feelings of the holy see," evidently alluding to the pastoral letter of Mgr. Bonomelli, archbishop of Verona who advocated the separation of church and state.

Much interest was displayed in the sudden presence in Rome of Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh and primate of all Ireland, who arrived here on purpose to be present at the consistory, and of Cardinal Mathieu, archbishop of Toulouse, who went to France to attend the funeral of Cardinal Perraud, bishop of Autun, and who returned here to take part in the consistory.

BAD WEATHER

Encountered by Dock Dewey and Consorts---Towing Machine Broken.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Official news regarding the dry dock Dewey reached the navy department today in the following cablegram from Commander Pooley, commanding the Glacier:

"U. S. S. Glacier at sea, per U. S. S. Potomac, Las Palmas, Canaries:

"Bureau of Navigation, Washington:

"Latitude 29 degs., 50 minutes north, Longitude 22 degs., 40 minutes west on Feb. 17th. Will coal at Grand Canary, Canary islands. Encountered very bad weather latter part of voyage. Dock adrift twice. Have been preceeding cautiously. The Brutus towing machine damaged. There is great necessity for extra part of engine."

The protected cruiser Tacoma will be ordered from Naples to the Canaries to carry commander Hosley the additional parts of the engine of the Brutus of which he says in his dispatch there is great need.

Gibraltar, Feb. 21.—A dispatch was received here this morning from Commander Hosley, commanding the Dewey drydock, requesting the American consul here to forward the mail to Las Palmas, and to hold all letters which are received later.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The navy department today received a cablegram from Las Palmas, Canary islands, saying that the Potomac has arrived there, and reports all well. The Potomac is one of the tugs towing the drydock Dewey.

MAY GO TO THE HAGUE

International Arbitration of Moroccan Controversy Suggested.

Inability of the Delegates to Agree is Now Apparent.

Madrid, Feb. 21.—An important Spanish statesman is authority for the statement that the question is now mooted of charging The Hague arbitration tribunal with the settlement of the Moroccan controversy, owing to the apparent inability of the delegates at Algeciras to secure an accord.

The newspapers say that while war is not likely the Franco-German controversy keeps Europe in a state of constant uneasiness.

Paris, Feb. 21.—The foreign office considers that the Franco-German situation is stationary and does not expect notable developments until the proposed Moroccan reforms are discussed in open conference. The steadiness of prices on the bourse, it is claimed, indicates that operators are able to resist the war scare. Public sentiment continues calm and apparently the people are tiring of the prolonged controversy.

Unconfirmed reports are circulated that Washington, Vienna, St. Petersburg and Rome are co-operating towards securing an accord on Morocco.

ORGANIZATION IS NO "FAKE"

Secretary of Food Association Replies to McCumber.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The charges recently made in the senate by Senator McCumber that the National Food Manufacturers association "is a fake" organization, were discussed at length today before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which is conducting hearings on pure food bills. Thomas Lannon of Chicago, secretary of the association attacked in the senate, said the organization has among its members representatives of leading grocery firms, manufacturers of preservatives and canners, and represents millions of dollars of capital. He denied charges that the organization is one which is not well known and established for the legitimate protection of wholesalers and retailers of goods, which would be affected by the proposed Hepburn bill. Mr. Lannon said that at the request of members of the association he drew a pure food bill, which would be satisfactory to the members of the organization. This bill was introduced in the house by Mr. Rodenborg and in the senate by Senator Money. Mr. Lannon analyzed this bill section by section and pointed out the details in which he believed it superior to the Hepburn bill known in the senate as the Heyburn bill.

BIG FIRE LOSS AT MAZEPPA.

Mazeppa, Minn., Feb. 21.—Fire completely destroyed the general merchandise store of Z. B. Page & Co. here. The building, which was erected in 1859, by the late Prosper Robinson, one of the earliest merchants in this section, was a landmark. The loss was $10,000, of which $6,000 was covered by insurance.

A MURDER OR SUICIDE?

Body of Well Dressed Man Found in Gutter in Chicago.

Only Clew to Identity Are Initials Stamped in His Hat.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The body of a man, apparently about 45 years old, was found today in the gutter at Twenty-first street and Calumet avenue, a fashionable residence district. There was a bullet hole above the right ear, and a cheap revolver lay near the corpse, but the police are unable to state whether it is a case of murder or of suicide. The man was well dressed and had every appearance of being a prosperous business man. The only clews to his identity are the initials "A. F." stamped in the sweat band of a hat found near him. The hat bears the name of the sellers, "B. K. & Co., Milwaukee." There was a bullet hole in the hat, but the police were unable to fit the hat upon the head so as to bring the perforation directly over the bullet wound. The hat was also very small for the man. The police believe the man may have been slain by robbers and his body brought from a distance.

Milwaukee, Feb. 21.—The Milwaukee police department has no record of any one missing answering to the description contained in the Chicago dispatch of a corpse found in the gutter at Twenty-first street and Calumet avenue. Neither was any light thrown upon the mystery at the Milwaukee store, where the hat found near the body was purchased.

REPUDIATE ORCHARD.

The Mine Owners Say That He Never Worked for Them.

Denver, Feb. 21.—Representatives of the Cripple Creek Mine Owners' association positively deny that Harry Orchard, who is said to have confessed the assassination of Former Governor Frank Steunenberg of Idaho and to have represented that he was hired by the "inner circle" of the Western Federation of Miners to commit the crime, was ever employed by the association or any of its agents as a detective or spy. They say that Orchard offered to sell information to the mine owners' agents concerning a plot to wreck a train on the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad, but that he was regarded with suspicion and his proffer was rejected. After the Independence depot disaster, it is asserted, detectives in the employ of the Mine Owners' association had been constantly searching for Orchard, who was believed to have caused the explosion which killed fourteen non-union miners, up to the time that he was arrested at Caldwell and charged with the murder of Steunenberg.

ATTACKS MASQUERADERS.

New Ulm, Minn., Feb. 21.—During high mass in the Catholic church, the resident priest, Rev. H. B. Taudmeyer, openly denounced the public masquerade balls which are continually being held in this city. He said that they had an immoral tendency and that if people wanted to make fools of themselves they could do so without attending these exhibitions of vulgarity. He gave strict orders to all members of the parish to desist in the future from attending these balls, and especially warned the young men and women to forego these questionable entertainments.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT REFUSES TO APOLOGIZE FOR THE TREATMENT OF MRS. MORRIS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

CHARLES H. MOYER. W. D. HAYWOOD.

President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, Who Are Under Arrest for the Murder of Former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho.

Says That the Arrest of the Woman Was Justified.

Has the Chief of Police Investigate the Matter Personally.

Loeb Replies to Demand of Woman's Husband for Apology.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Dr. Minor Morris, whose wife, some weeks ago, was ejected from the White House, where she had gone to present alleged grievances to the president, today gave out for publication the correspondence which recently passed between himself and the president regarding the case. Dr. Morris demanded a public apology of the president "for this outrage on womanhood and common decency." Secretary Loeb replied to the letter, stating that an inshowed that the arrest was justified, and that the kindest act to Mrs. Morris and her kinsfolk was to refrain from giving the case additional publicity. The letter follows:

"To the President of the United States.

"Sir—Having waited patiently a number of weeks that you might have time to ascertain all the circumstances connected with the insult recently offered my wife at the White House, and that you might make some expression of depreciation which would naturally be expected, it is now incumbent upon me as husband and citizen to demand a public apology for this outrage on womanhood and common decency.

"It is unthinkable that such brutality would be tolerated anywhere in this country, but above all in the White House.

"That my wife has been confined to her bed six weeks from the shock and injuries of this damnable treatment is bad enough, but I can say to you in all calmness that had the original orders from the White House been carried out as to her longer incarceration, her life would have been sacrificed.

"It is, therefore, incumbent upon me to repeat my urgent request, that you take action at once suitable to the circumstances which have shocked the entire nation. Respectfully,

"MINOR MORRIS."

"The White House, Washington, Feb. 19, 1906.—Sir: In reply to your letter of the 16th instant, the president directs me to state to you that he had the superintendent of police of the District of Columbia, Maj. Sylvester, make a careful investigation of the circumstances connected with the arrest of Mrs. Morris for disorderly conduct at the executive office, and the superintendent submitted to the president, all the affidavits of the persons whom he had examined. The president carefully went over Maj. Sylvester's report and the affidavits, and also personally saw Maj. Sylvester and some of the persons making the affidavits. He came to the conclusion that the arrest was justified and that the force used in making the arrest was caused by the resistance offered by Mrs. Morris to the officers in the discharge of their duty, and was no greater than was necessary to make the arrest effective.

"Under these circumstances the president does not consider that the officers are properly subject to blame. He was also satisfied that the kindest thing that could be done to Mrs. Morris and her kinsfolk was to refrain from giving any additional publicity to the circumstances surrounding the case.

Yours truly, WILLIAM LOEB, JR.,

"Secretary to the president.

"Dr. Minor Morris, Washington, D. C."

WALTER WEBB FOUND GUILTY

Of Killing Elijah Holmes in a Minneapolis Saloon.

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter Webb, accused of killing Elijah Holmes, was convicted in Judge Brown's court yesterday. Two eye-witnesses to the killing, James Bentley and Frank Pool, told about the shooting of Holmes. They said that outside of Blackwell's saloon Webb asked Holmes to have a drink, and that he refused. Webb then pulled a revolver, when Holmes tried to get away from him. Then Webb commenced shooting. Witnesses ran away in order to escape the bullets.

Joseph Blackwell, proprietor of the saloon, went on the witness stand and told how the trouble between the negroes started in his place. Holmes objected to Webb's playing, he said, and got up and slapped him in the face.

"Don't do that, Lige," pleaded Webb. The two men then left the place.

Webb had not been drinking much, but Holmes was very drunk.

TO PROHIBIT SUNDAY THEATERS

Des Moines, Feb. 21.—Senator Warren Garst today introduced a bill in the upper house prohibiting the Sunday theaters in Iowa. The measure carries with it the fine of $50 and applies to all places of amusement open on Sunday.

PHYSICIAN BECOMES INSANE.

Marshalltown, Iowa, Feb. 21.—Dr. H. L. Getz, one of the best known physicians in Central Iowa, became violently insane yesterday and attempted to shoot Sheriff Hutson, who was summoned to place him in custody. He was taken to the hospital. Dr. Getz has been suffering with diabetes for some time and his condition has been hopeless.

GRAND LODGE TO MEET ANNUALLY

Motion to Change Sessions of the A. O. U. W. is Lost.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. has decided to continue its annual sessions.

A motion to change the sessions to biennial was lost at the meeting late Tuesday.

Another motion which failed provided to cut down the representation of subordinate lodges to two delegates each. The grand lodge now has an attendance of 550, and it is a serious matter to find proper accommodations for the annual session of the body.

Tonight the visitors to the A. O. U. W. convention will be entertained at Minnehaha hall, Ninth street, where the seventeenth annual conclave of Astoria Hut, Oriental degree of humility, will be held.

TRIED TWICE AND FAILED.

Montana Woman Granted Second Divorce From Same Husband.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 21.—Twice married to the same man and twice divorced from him is the matrimonial record of Mrs. Minnie E. Rodgers, who was plaintiff in divorce proceedings against Lyman E. Rodgers in Judge McClernan's court yesterday. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant, and the woman was granted the relief asked for on the ground of cruelty and non-support.

The first marriage of the couple took place in Seattle in 1900. It was of short duration and ended in a divorce. The differences were patched up and in 1902 they were again married. For two years they lived together, at the end of which time Mrs. Rodgers says she became convinced that marriage was a failure. She informed the court that after twice trying to live amicably with her husband she had found it an impossible task.

OBJECT TO ANNEXATION OF LATONIA TO THE CITY.

Cincinnati, Feb. 21.—The city council of Latonia, Ky., last night passed an ordinance for the annexation of the Latonia race track to the city.

In addition to the increase of the city's tax duplicate by the annexation, a large income for the city is expected in the shape of licenses for bookmaking and bars operating on the track, while comparatively small extra expenditures will be the result. It is said, however, that the race track owners will not consent to be annexed and contribute to Latonia city's taxes with little or no benefit in return and a vigorous fight in the courts is expected.

LA FOLLETTE BLOCKS INDIAN LAND FRAUD.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, scored another victory in the committee on Indian affairs yesterday in the fight he is making to protect the interests of the Indians of the five civilized tribes, and prevent frauds in the sales of the lands of the Choctaws and Chickasaws. The provision in the bill which excited the senator's apprehension was materially changed by the committee today so that the commission to appraise the lands shall be appointed by the secretary of the interior instead of permitting the lessees to participate and by providing that this commission in appraising the value of the land shall take into consideration all development work. The surface and mineral rights will be sold separately.

JURY SECURED TO TRY GREEN.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A jury was secured today to try the case of Former State Senator George E. Green of New York, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the furnishing of supplies to the postoffice department. After the jury had been sworn an adjournment was taken until Monday.

FORMER PITCHER KILLED.

Beloit, Wis., Feb. 21.—Herbert Farr, aged 40, at one time a famous Beloit college pitcher, met death in a mine accident at Angel Point, Cal., yesterday. Deceased had been a mining engineer for many years.

FERGUS FALLS MAYOR

Announces That He Will be Candidate For Re-Election.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Townley has announced that he is a candidate for re-election to the office he now holds at the election six weeks hence. He states that if chosen again by the people, he will continue to administer the affairs of the city on the same lines as they have been managed in the year nearly closed, and that all laws will be enforced rigidly. He states that he is in favor of license for revenue purposes, but that if the people of the city conclude to vote "no license" at the coming election, the will of the people will be obeyed, and no liquor fill be sold if he can prevent it.

After about ten months of Mayor Townley's administration, the city is a quiet, orderly, well-behaved place. No disorderly houses, no slot machines or other prohibited forms of vice, and, naturally, a scarcity of the "tough" element.

SELLING OF POOLS

Forbidden by Ordinance in Louisville Race Track Suburb.

Louisville, Feb. 21.—The town of Highland Park, a suburb, last night, passed an ordinance forbidding the selling of pools within the limits of its boundaries. If the ordinance is enforced the Western Jockey club will be without a race track in Louisville, for the Douglas track recently acquired by the Western Jockey club, is within the limits of Highland Park.

ANOTHER SUIT STARTED.

New Richmond, Wis., Feb. 21.—Following close onto the heels of a $5,000 libel suit brought by ex-Senator O. W. Mosher against the New Richmond News, the News proprietors have begun a $5,000 damage suit against Mosher for malicious interference with their business, alleging that Mosher went to business men in this city and requested them to stop doing business with the News.

THE PLUTOCRAT'S GOAL.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

DEFECTIVE PAGE

GOOD EVENING.

DULUTH WEATHER REPORT: Cloudy, with snow or rain and rising temperature tonight and Thursday. Winds shifting to fresh easterly and southerly.

We are sole agents for the famous

Ralston Health Shoes

For Men.

$4

The foot-form shoe. Comfort in every walk.

A Guaranteed Shoe For Men

$3

You will find no better shoe in America—in all styles and in all kinds of leather.

Boys' and Children's Shoes—the kind that wear and give service—$1.25, $1.50, $1.75.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE.

Oak Hall Clothing Co.

331-333-335 Superior Street, Cor. Fourth Ave. W.

"SAGE OF ATHENS" IS DEFEATED

Gen. Charles Grosvenor Fails of Renomination to Congress.

Lancaster, Ohio, Feb. 21.—After a service of more than twenty years in congress, Gen Charles H. Grosvenor, the "Sage of Athens," was defeated for renomination today, on the first ballot, by Albert Douglass of Chillicothe, the vote being 78 to 20.

Early today the friends of Gen. Grosvenor were claiming his nomination, on the promise of John F. White of Hocking county that he would throw the vote of that county to Grosvenor.

The man who defeated Gen. Grosvenor is 53 years old, and a lawyer of Chillicothe. He was a presidential elector-at-large and president of the Ohio college in 1896, and was defeated for the Republican nomination for governor in 1899. He is a fine orator, and has dominated politics of Ross county for years.

1-30th of the entire Quinine production of the World is consumed every year by the makers of

Laxative Bromo Quinine

"Cures a Cold in One Day"

E. W. GROVE'S signature on box. 25c

NEED ROADS VERY MUCH

Clerk Jenkins Tells of Development in Town of Cotton.

Many Settlers Have Gone Into That Part of Country.

"The only thing that handicaps the agricultural development of the town of Cotton at the present time is the fact that we have so few roads to get in and between our farms and the railroad," was the declaration made this morning by Thomas Jenkins, town clerk of Cotton, who was a business caller at the courthouse.

"Of course we have what is comparatively a new country up there, and the roads will probably all come in time, but we are hoping that the time is near by, for we believe that with an outlet from the farms to the stations we will develop one of the most prosperous agricultural communities to be found in Northern Minnesota. We know we have the finest kind of soil, and that it will raise splendid crops. All we want now is a way to get the crops to market.

"We regard the town as one of the growing towns of the country. A few years ago there was hardly a settler there, nothing but the lumber camps. Now there are 245 settlers in the town. We have three good school houses, with an attendance of 33, 22 and 17 pupils respectively. We have, also, a post-office, with Abraham Wickstrom as postmaster, on the Miller trunk road, in section 10-54-17, and get mail from Kelsey twice a week. This is a great convenience, for there have been times when some of the settlers did not get their mail for about six months, unless they made a special trip out for it.

"The nearest station for the settlers along the Miller trunk road is Kelsey. They are working on the Payne and Whiteface river road, east of Payne station, toward the Miller trunk road, and when it is finished there will be another outlet to a station. Payne station will be about six and one-half miles from the Miller trunk road. Kelsey is about seven miles distant. It is expected that the Payne road will be completed this season.

"There is a great deal of snow in the woods now and present conditions are very unfavorable to the loggers. Yesterday I saw two teams belonging to the Brooks-Scanlon company hauling a sleigh with two logs on it. Hauling under those conditions is pretty expensive. The trouble is that we had a rain before the snow fell. That softened up the swamps and when the snow covered them they did not freeze. At the present time the sleighs simply drop down through the snow into the mud and it is impossible to haul anything but light loads, and then with several horses. The roads coming into Duluth are in pretty good condition after getting a few miles back of the brow of the hill.

"Did we have much game up our way this year? Well, we used to see an occasional moose alongside the road, but you see the county officials have been hunting up that way so much they have killed off most of the game. Commissioner Kauppi was up there last year. Did you ever hear about his duck hunt? He got one duck after shooting at it nine times."

With Mr. Jenkins was Charles Anderson, another settler in Cotton, who formerly lived in Duluth. Mr. Anderson says that he has a winter road to his farm, about two miles off the Miller Trunk road, but that in summer he has to pack everything in and out, that a horse could not make the trip. He says that there is a large area of swamp land in Cotton and adjoining towns that has excellent soil and will make valuable farm land some day if the ground is ever drained.

MURDERED IN EUROPE

Nephew of Former Senator Bard a Victim of Foul Play.

New York, Feb. 21.—That Alfred Bard, nephew of Former Senator Bard of California, was probably murdered in Europe, was the statement made by Detective Sergeant John J. Fogarty, who returned to New York today on the steamer Zeeland, from Brussels. Fogarty went to Europe six weeks ago to look for the young man, who had been missing for nearly two months. He brought back part of Bard's effects, including two valuable violins, one said to be worth $100. Young Bard went to Brussels in August, last year, to study the violin. He intended to return to New York on the steamer leaving Antwerp on Oct. 20 last. His uncle, Senator Bard, was at the pier to meet him when the ship arrived, but he did not appear among the passengers, and the search for the young man has been steadily pressed since that time.

Fogarty said that when he reached Brussels he learned that young Bard had made all arrangements to leave the Belgian city in October, according to his original plans. He withdrew $1,000, which he had on deposit in a bank there, but at the last moment decided to postpone his departure for one week. A French girl, with whom the young man had become acquainted in Brussels, was responsible for the postponement, the detective said.

At this point Fogarty declined to talk further about the case, except to say that young Bard was dead, and probably was murdered.

COMMUTATION OF HIS SENTENCE DENIED HOCH.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—Governor Deneen, acting on the recommendation of the state board of pardons, has denied Johann Hochs' petition for commutation of sentence to imprisonment. Hoch is now under sentence to hang Friday.

TO MEET AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—The business committee of the National Municipal league has decided to hold the next annual meeting of the league in Atlantic City April 24 to 27. The annual address of the president, Charles J. Bonaparte, will be delivered Thursday evening, April 26.

The Finest Cafes at Head of the Lakes Are in connection with

The Spalding and Hotel Superior

Special Monthly Rates for the Winter now in effect at both Hotels.

American or European Plans.

Colds Cause Sore Throat.

Laxative Bromo Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy, removes the cause. Call for the full name and look for signature of E. W. Grove. 25c

Matinee and Night Tomorrow.

One of America's foremost Irish comedians.

NOTICE!

Eagles' Mask Ball Feb. 22

POSTPONED

on account of death of Bro. Geo. Probeck.

H. B. GOUTH, Ch. Com.

GAPON MOVEMENT WAS SUBSIDIZED

By the Government Which Supplied It With Funds.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—Through the disappearance of a journalist, Matushensky, the press agent and real brains of the Father Gapon movement, the disclosure has been made that the Moderate Labor organization, which Gapon established in St. Petersburg after the publication of the imperial manifesto of Oct. 30, 1904, was subsidized by the government, which supplied the funds for the rent of its club house and literature. Radical circles are elated over the revelation which was made in an open letter by the president of the Putiloff section of the organization, complaining that $12,000 of the funds furnished through M. Timoriazeff, until recently minister of commerce, had not reached the treasury. The Socialists claim that this spells the downfall of the Conservative opposition to the full revolutionary program among workmen. It is now shown that Gapon really played a minor role in the formidable movement of January, 1905, and that Matushensky was the director of the campaign which mystified both the police and the old time revolutionists and that Matushensky was the author of the great petition with which the workingmen were marching to the winter palace Sunday, Jan. 22, 1905, to present to the emperor when the troops fired on them.

A curious commentary on the conditions prevailing is the cabinet's action in opening club houses, for which the government furnished the money, when, up to the present, Interior Minister Durnovo has not permitted assemblies of Conservative workmen which are disposed as rigorously as those of the Socialists.

Lyceum Matinee, Night, Thursday.

"Kerry Gow," jovial, sunny-hearted, Irish wit.

DEGREE OF HONOR NOTICE.

All members of Duluth Lodge, D. of H., No. 110, are requested to attend the funeral of our late sister, Mrs. Vora Schuler, at the late residence, 827 East Fifth street, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

LIBBIE GULLINGSRUD, C. of H.
MERTTIE E. JEFFERY, Rec.

FOOTBALL COACH

Has Greater Influence Over University Students Than Professors.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—Before the committee investigating the Wisconsin state university, Ernest B. Smith, a graduate student, testified today that the influence of the football coach over the students was greater than that of a professor. Young women students declared that the university needs a ladies' gymnasium.

RUSSIAN OFFICERS

Who Surrendered to Enemy May be Dismissed in Disgrace.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—Unprecedented regulations to purge the army of officers accused of cowardice and surrendering during the war for no reasonable cause was announced today by the military organ, the Russky Invalide.

Captive officers returning from Japan will, unless they were wounded when captured, be tried before courts of honor and unless reinstated will be dismissed in disgrace. "Contusions," a frequent excuse for surrendering, will not be accepted. The higher officers who were responsible for the surrender of their organizations must secure a vindication from a court of honor and the minister of war. Such cases will be submitted to the emperor individually. The troops which composed the garrison at Port Arthur are exempt from these provisions, the responsibility for the surrender of that fortress falling upon Gen. Stoessel.

Black Bear No Novelty.

Some of the people residing on the ranges seem to have overlooked the fact that Duluth is practically the center of trade when it comes to black bears in this part of the Northwest. One of the range residents has written to the county auditor to the effect that he has a bear sleeping in the ground in his front dooryard that will come out this spring and will be a year old. He asks if the auditor knows of any person who would be interested in having the animal for a pet. It is understood that the county auditor, in his reply will notify the man on the range that black bears are so numerous about Duluth that people have long ago got over the notion of keeping them for pets, the novelty having worn off.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

D. E. H., Feb. 21, 1906.

WEAR THE COLUMBIA $3.50 SHOE.

Our best advertisement for The Columbia shoe store. Contains at least 25 per cent more intrinsic value than other three-fifty shoes.

Examination, observation and best of all a thorough trial will prove that our statement is not merely a well-worded ad-exaggeration printed on patient paper.

Today we received from the factory a beautiful patent-leather Columbia $3.50 shoe, which will please your eyes as much as your feet. Our shoeman says: "It's a peach."

Sold only at The Columbia stores in Duluth and Superior.

COLUMBIA CLOTHING CO.

1906 shapes now on exhibit.

PERSISTS IN HIS DENIAL

Commissioner Garfield Refutes the Testimony of the Packers.

Declares He Never Made Statements Attributed to Him.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—James R. Garfield, commissioner of corporations, resumed the stand in the packers' cases today. The opening of the examination was on the books examined by Mr. Garfield when he visited Chicago Feb. 28, 1905. The books showed the assembling of profits and losses accounts of the differen packers. He said that he examined the totals only and that no figures were taken from the books. District Attorney Morrison then took up the subject of the conversations between representatives of Swift & Co. and Mr. Garfield. He asked the commissioner: "Did Edward Swift say in the presence of Charles H. Swift that you had said in previous conversations that all the information taken would be regarded as confidential?"

"He did not."

"Did he say that none of the information would be used to harm Swift & Co.?"

"He did not."

The witness then described the interview between Jesse P. Lyman, president of the National Packing company and himself.

"Did you say anything to Mr. Lyman about your power to compel the production of books and papers?"

"I did not."

"Did you say to Mr. Lyman that all information would be confidential and would not be used to injure the packers?"

"I did not."

During the introduction of evidence by the packers, affirmation was made by different witnesses to nearly all of the questions to which Commissioner Garfield entered a direct denial.

Conversations between Mr. Garfield and T. J. Connors, general manager of Armour & Co., held during a visit of Mr. Conners to Washington, were taken up. The matters discussed, the witness declared, included information which Armour & Co. objected giving to the government.

"Did you ever issue or cause to be issued in this case any subpoenas for any person?" asked the district attorney.

The attorneys for the packers objected to the question, but the court allowed the witness to answer, and he said that he had not.

When Commissioner Garfield attempted to tell what instructions he had given to his agents prior to the commencement of the investigation, the attorneys for the packers objected strongly, but after a long argument between the lawyers, the witness was allowed to state what the instructions were. He declared that he told the agents of the department that if access was given to the books of the packers they were to go to the books; that no detective methods should be used; that there would be no use of compulsory powers, or a suggestion of such a position on the part of the government. If disputes arose they were to be referred to the commissioner for adjustment.

District Attorney Morrison asked what information had been secured by the commissioner outside of the books of the packers. Commissioner Garfield said that much of it had been secured from the bureau of animal industry, as well as from cattle raisers, feeders and commission men. Butchers were questioned regarding the prices of retail meat.

NINE PIANOS

10% to 50% Discount

These are all worthy and reliable instruments. Some are discontinued styles, others are slightly shopworn or used. The discounts apply to our already low prices under our ONE-PRICE SYSTEM, making it a rare opportunity for you to secure the Piano of your choice at an unheard of low price.

Elegant Large Mahogany Upright—$375 and 20 per cent discount...$300.00
Elegant Large Walnut Upright—$300 and 30 per cent discount.....$210.00
Good Arion Square Piano—$25 and 50 per cent discount..... $12.50
Large Fine Mahogany Upright—$275 and 20 per cent discount.....$220.00
Elegant Large Mahogany Upright—$390 and 10 per cent discount....$351.50
Elegant Small Mahogany Upright—$365 and 20 per cent discount....$292.00
Elegant Medium Mahogany Upright—$290 and 20 per cent discount $232.00
Elegant Large Mahogany Upright—$300 and 20 per cent discount...$240.00
Elegant Carved Mahogany Upright—$350 and 20 per cent discount..$280.00

Very Easy Terms of Payment.

French & Bassett DULUTH, MINN.

Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.

BLACK CABINET.

How European Spies Open Letters Without Tearing Them.

In former years the "black cabinet," as an institution, flourished in every European country, says the London Mail. The black cabinet is a room set apart in a central, or general, postoffice, where the correspondence of certam people in whom for some reason or other the powers that be are taking a close interest is opened and read without their knowledge.

Though few Governments acknowledge the existence of a black cabinet connected with their postal service, it is nevertheless a fact that these spying institutions exist and are supported out of secret service funds. Their organization and work are in the hands of trusted members of the secret service, specially detached for the purpose.

After letters are opened and read, and sometimes photographed, they are put back into their envelopes, resealed and delivered to the addressee without his being any the wiser, the delay in delivery seldom exceeding a single post.

The means used to open letters vary but little in the various countries above mentioned and an official of ordinary intelligence soon acquires dexterity in opening and manipulating letters.

When it is desired to open an ordinary envelope the flaps of which have been sealed down with gum the operation is a very simple one. The envelope is placed, with the address downward, on a table. The narrow end of a tapering perholder, or even the sharpened end of a thin pencil, is inserted under the flap in the top left-hand corner.

A gentle pressure is then exercised, and the pencil or penholder is turned slowly downward with a screw-like action. As it moves it separates the gummed edge from the paper below, and with each turn this gummed edge is raised, without tearing the paper, until the middle of the envelope is reached. The pen or pencil is then maneuvered on the lower side of the flap, which in nearly every envelope is only lightly gummed, and, therefore, is more easily separated than the upper or gummed side of the flap. Once the flap is undone it is pulled out, and it becomes an easy matter to handle the contents of the letter.

If, however, as occasionally happens, the envelope is so strongly sealed that there is danger of tearing the paper, recourse is had to steaming the envelope over a kettle. The kettle used is, as often as not an ordinary kettle, over the spout of which the envelope is held by means of a spring, so as to receive the full force of the steam. Sometimes a bronchitis kettle with a long spout is used.

In dealig with a letter sealed down with sealing wax a long, very thin and flexible steel blade is used. This is heated sufficiently for the purpose, and is then deftly passed under the seal until it is lifted whole from the envelope. It then becomes a comparatively easy matter to open the envelope by proceeding as before. When the letter has been closed again the seals are gummed back in their place with strong gums.

A good deal of practice is required in opening these letters, and the manipulater practices for a long time on dummy envelopes before he becomes perfect and is allowed to operate upon a letter sealed down with sealing wax.

The most difficult envelope which the black cabinet operator has to deal with is that sealed with a small lead seal armed with teeth which are bent on the inside of the envelope so that it is impossible to open the envelope without cutting or tearing the paper.

In such cases as this the manipulator takes the bold course of slitting the letter open by passing a razor or an exceedingly sharp knife, close along the edge of the flap. This has to be done very delicately, otherwise the contents of the letter may be damaged. In reclosing the flap of an envelope opened in this way a narrow strip of gummed paper is fastened to the inner side of the flap that has been cut open.

The gummed paper is wetted and the flap is put back and pressed down very carefully, so that unless the envelope is closely examined the fact that it has been cut open would escape notice. Of course, if the receiver of the letter were to scrutinize the inside of the envelope he would perceive the strip of gummed paper.

In many cases where the envelope is sealed down with sealing wax or a special kind of seal without being gummed, and it is possible to pass an instrument inside the flap, a long thin pair of pliers are passed through the aperture of the flap to grip the contents, which are then rolled round the pliers and withdrawn. After being read the letter is replaced in the same manner by being unforded in the envelope.

Ishpeming and Return $7.50.

Account the National Ski Tournament at Ishpeming, Michigan, Feb. 22nd, 1906, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway will have tickets on sale, Feb. 21st, to Ishpeming and return, at rate of $7.50, good for return until train leaving Ishpeming evening of Feb. 23rd. Also tickets at rate of $11.35 for round trip, good for return until Feb. 28th.

For further information and sleeping car reservation, please apply to A. J. Perrin, General Agent, 430 Spalding Hotel Block, Duluth, Minn.

GATELY'S GOOD GOODS BEST ON EARTH

Are You Willing To Accept This Offer?

GATELY'S GOOD GOODS BEST ON EARTH

FREE CREDIT FREE

We Will Make You Happy

Remember You Can Use It Freely

We advertise what we do and we do as we advertise.

If you or the family are want ing anything in Clothing, Hats or Shoes, come to us, and without a penny's charge we'll fit you out complete for $1.00 PER WEEK.

Think What This Means to You and Don't Deprive Yourself and Your Family of Necessary Clothing.

Your Credit is Good

It's a sane, safe proposition without speculation, endorsed by thousands who have tested its merits and have benefited by it.

ACT AT ONCE!

GATELY'S

8 East Superior Street.

"WHERE VALUES REIGN SUPREME."

Stack & Co

Informal Opening
Thursday, February 22nd.

Tomorrow we will open for business in our spacious new quarters—Nos. 21 and 23 West Superior Street. The increased facilities that we gain by the removal to our new and larger quarters will enable us to serve our steadily increasing trade much better than heretofore, as well as also enable us to display so much a larger and more varied and better assortment in every line we carry.

Although far from being prepared as completely as we should like to, and as we hope to be in the near future, the kind indulgence of our patrons and friends is most respectfully requested. Meantime we will put forward in every department specially selected values for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

For the first time this season we will display many new Dress fabrics in new weaves, new wash goods, in a very beautiful assortment. New Suits, New Coats, New Skirts, and a magnificent new line in Ladies' New Lawn and Linon Shirt Waists.

We call particular attention to our elegant display of Ladies' Muslin Underwear and especially to the low prices named for the bargains offered in this line.

21-23 West Superior Street.

SCHOOLBOYS AS SOLDIERS

Rifle Practice Among Them is Encouraged in New York.

Ten Krag Guns Loaned by Government for This Purpose.

Washington, Feb. 21.—No movement in the direction of rifle practice has been more heartily approved by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice than that of the Public Schools Athletic League of the city of New York. At the suggestion of Gen. George W. Wingate, president of the league, and also a member of the national board, the league has installed in each of ten New York high schools a sub-target machine for rifle practice, and has employed Capt. Corwin, inspector of rifle practice of the Seventy-first regiment, as a special instructor. As a result, about 6,000 young men of from 15 to 20 years of age are now being carefully instructed in rifle shooting. Reports received by the national board indicate that surprisingly successful results are being obtained. The government has loaned them ten Krag rifles, which are the standard military arm, for use in shooting on the sub-targets. Harry Payne Whitney, a member of the league, has presented a $500 trophy, which will be contested for in the spring, and each school will enter a team for the competition. Work of this character for the public schools has the hearty endorsement of the national board, as well as of Gen. Crozier, chief of the ordnance department. It is hoped by the national board that organizations in other cities will take up the question of instructing the boys in the public schools in target practice with the national weapon. In this connection it is interesting to note that England makes a specialty of the encouragement of rifle practice in the public schools. Information has been received by the national board in regard to a bequest of £1,000 left by Alfred Capper Pass, who recently died, several times a millionaire. The bequest goes to the famous Harrow school to provide prizes for the encouragement of rifle practice among the school boys. The practice of making donations for rifle practice is quite common in England.

The house committee on militia has ordered a favorable report on the Morrell bill, which gives $2,000,000 per annum to the National Guard instead of $1,000,000, as at present. The bill is indorsed by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, the National Rifle association and the Association of Officers of the National Guard. Should the bill become a law it is believed that for the present, at least, $500,000 annually would be set aside for the construction of ranges and shooting galleries and the equipment of the same, and the payment of expenses of rifle matches.

The increase in the effectiveness of the Indiana National Guard in rifle shooting is the subject of favorable comment among those interested in the subject. Maj. D. I. McCormack, who is in charge of the rifle practice of the Indiana guardsmen and who captained their team at Sea Girt last year, reports that where in 1904 the highest figure of merit of an Indiana company was 7 per cent, during the last year, Company D of the Second regiment, Indianapolis, reached a grade of 27 per cent and Company B, First regiment, Terre Haute, 26.84 per cent. Fifty per cent of the 2,000 guardsmen engaged in rifle practice last year.

Much interest attaches to the proposition for a new state rifle range for Ohio. The Ohio State Rifle association is in favor of a state range on the lake shore, probably in the vicinity of Sandusky. Such a location would reduce to a minimum the danger of persons in the vicinity being struck by bullets. The parties behind the project believe that, because of its central location, if a range were constructed there with suitable facilities it would attract the national meets which have heretofore been held at Sea Girt, N. J., and Fort Riley, Kan.

New Hampshire is not behind in interest in rifle practice. Much credit is due in this state to Maj. Arthur F. Cummings of Nashua, who is brigade inspector of rifle practice and who has worked very hard to stimulate interest in range work among the guardsmen. According to Maj. Cummings there has never been a time when conditions appeared more favorable for a successful season in New Hampshire. He suggests that from 50 to 100 of the best marksmen in the state national guard be ordered to a special encampment a short time previous to the rifle tournaments at Wakefield, Mass., and Sea Girt and an expert be engaged to assist in coaching. There are as good riflemen on the 800-yard ranges in New Hampshire as can be found, he says, but they are lacking in practice on the longer ranges.

The National Rifle association has selected a number of state secretaries, who are to have charge of the competitions of the National association in their individual districts and to work with the general secretary in promoting interest in rifle shooting. The representative for Massachusetts is Lieut. John M. Portal.

The ordnance bureau of the war department is conducting tests of a new bullet to take the place of the .38-calibre bullet now in use in the army revolvers. The new bullet will be of a larger calibre and of a somewhat different type, as the department is desirous of securing a weapon possessing greater stopping power than the revolver now in use.

The latest instructions for infantry, issued for the use of the Austrian army, have paid special attention to the avoidance of everything that makes rifle practice laborious. It is desired to excite a love for shooting among the soldiers so that their stay in musketry camps may be interesting and agreeable. Under the new Austrian regulations the men are divided into but two classes of marksmen. Field firing is left to the initiative of commanding officers, and will always be carried out on broken ground, while firing under service conditions and the solution of practical firing problems on the ground under conditions of war will be the object of special attention, and in the questions which will be put to the commanders of troops great importance will be attached to the aptitude they show in taking up promptly a position in a given action.

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO

Women's Long Coat Suits for $10.75

Qualities worth $35 to $50

This means a positive clean-up of the remaining stock of these ever serviceable garments—every one made in good styles of all wool material, in lavender, blue, brown, green, gray and black—the advance of the season compels us to dispose of these garments at once—hence this remarkable low price.

New Tourist Coats $10.75 and $16.50

New models, appropriate outer garments for this weather — made of fancy mixed material in gray or tan, with a touch of color of red or green—cut in the new London top-coat style, trimmed with buttons or braid.

Women's White Shirt Waists $1.50

A new arrival of fine Lawn Waists, fancy embroidered and tucked fronts, full top, new style sleeve, qualities worth up to $2.50.

Silberstein & Bondy Company — The Store of Quality — Silberstein & Bondy Company

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

Final Clean-Up on Small Fur Throws and Ties

$10.75 to $19.50 values go at $5.00

Genuine Mink, Jap Mink, Persian Lamb, River Mink, Natural or Sable Squirrel.

Specials in Gloves and Neckwear

Ladies' silk lined Mocha Gloves—$1.50 values—$1.00.

Silk Gloves, cashmere lining in brown, navy and black—75c.

White Cashmere Gloves, silk lined—$1.00 value—at 59c.

Woolen Woven Gloves, silk lined, in red, black and white—75c values—59c.

Tailored stocks—all descriptions—$1.25 and $1.50 values—75c.

Windsor Ties—all colors—worth 50c—29c.

The Store of Quality — Silberstein & Bondy Company — The Store of Quality

Now Is a Good Time to Buy Metal Ceilings and Side Walls!

We are making them cheaper than ever and they can be put in now for less money than later on. We have a large stock of new designs and are always pleased to give estimates. Sheet metal goods of every description.

Duluth Corrugating & Roofing Company
Manufacturers and Wholesalers.
Office and factory—126-132 East Michigan St., Duluth.

Great Clearance Sale This Week Only. All Goods at Half Price.

My entire stock of Oriental Rugs, Russian Brass and Japanese Bronzes MUST BE CLOSED OUT AT ONCE, as I am positively going out of business, and will leave Duluth, March 5.

Special—60 small rugs, regular price $30.00; now $15.00.

H. ABALAN,
Hotel McKay, First Street and Fifth Avenue West. Opposite Postoffice.

SNAP PRICES ON TOOLS

FOR THIS WEEK.

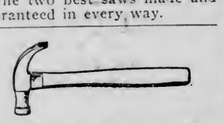

No. 4, Stanley pattern iron, smooth Planes—9-inch length—2-inch cutter, at—each $1.30

Genuine Russell Jennings Auger Bitts—in wood cases—set $4.85

No. 53, 26-inch Atkins' Hand Saws—each $1.65

No. 26, 26-inch Peace Hand Saws—each $1.20

The two best saws made and guaranteed in every way.

No. 11, size 1, Madole bell face Hammers..... 60c

No. 11½, size 1½, Madole bell face Hammers.. 55c

No. 12, size 2, Madole bell face Hammers..... 50c

10-inch Trimo Pipe Wrench—takes ⅛ to 1-inch pipe $1.05

14-inch Trimo Pipe Wrench—takes ¼ to 1½-inch pipe $1.25

Indian Oil Stoves—8x2 inches—medium grit..... 85c

No 1 Wentworth pattern Saw Clamps—with 11-inch rubber jaws 60c

5-inch Arcade slim taper Files—in dozen lots..... 68c

No. 39 Marsh Langdon Mitre Boxes, with 28x5 in. Disston saw..... $10.50

No. 41 Automatic Drills $1.20

Knueled handles, full nickel plated, magazine for drills is opened by loosening nut at lower end, causing interior of handle to move up and expose all drill points for selection.

If we are out of any of these goods when you call to purchase we will take your order and deliver the goods to your address.

Watch our weekly bargain sales and Saturday night special sales.

KELLEY-HARDWARE CO. DULUTH-MINN.

ADDING MANY NEW MEMBERS

Y. M. C. A. is Bringing an Active Campaign to a Close.

Between 150 and 200 new members will probably be added to the Y. M. C. A. as the result of the campaign now in progress.

The campaign will close Saturday evening, and by that time it is hoped that the active membership of the main association will have increased to the 900 mark. The boys' department recently closed a similar campaign which put its total membership past the 500-mark, so that the combined membership of the entire association will probably be close to 1,500 by Saturday night.

The membership fee is likely to be raised when the association moves into its new building, owing to the greatly increased accommodations that will be offered, and by joining now members will save money on their dues, if the new building is completed with the year.

The present members of the association have been divided into two parties called the "Reds" and the "Blues," in the canvass for new members, and there is a good deal of friendly rivalry between the two sides to see which can add the greatest number of names to the list.

The "Blues" held a final rally last evening at the association building, about forty members being present. The gathering was an enthusiastic one, and plans for pushing the canvass were discussed.

This evening the "Reds" will hold a similar rally.

Lyceum Matinee and Night Thursday.

A sweet tenor singer, natural Irish accent.

Strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use De Witt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by all druggists.

Special Washington's Birthday Matinee

Allen Doone's "Kerry Gow," natural and beneficial.

NOTICE!

E. W. Savage is no longer connected, in any way, with me or my office.
A. T. PARK,
Attorney at Law.

SHOOT FOR BANQUET.

Members of Central Gun Club Will Celebrate on Washington's Birthday.

The annual competitive shoot among the members of the Duluth Central Gun club will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock on the Highland grounds.

Sides will be chosen among the members, and the losing side will provide a banquet for the winners at the Commercial club in the evening.

The members of the West Duluth Rod and Gun club are also invited to participate in the shoot if they desire to do so.

WITH BAYHA & CO.

Henry K. Brearly Accepts Position of Advertising Manager.

Henry K. Brearly, who for the past eight years has held the position of advertising manager for French & Bassett, has accepted a similar position with Bayha & Co., and will also act as head salesman for the firm.

Mr. Brearly has established for himself an enviable reputation as an advertisement writer, his work having been frequently reproduced in the leading journals devoted to publicity. His advertisements are direct, clean cut and artistic.

Mr. Brearly entered on his new duties today.

Low Rates to Coast Points.

February 15th to April 7th, Northern Pacific railway will have on sale daily, one way second class rates to all points in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, as follows:

Billings, Mont., and intermediate points	$15 00
Helena, Butte, Anaconda, Missoula	20 00
Spokane, Nelson, Rossland, Ellensburg	22 50
Tacoma, Seattle, Portland, Vancouver, Ashland	25 00
San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Cal.	34 90

For tickets and sleeping car reservations, call at City Office, 334 Superior street.

WEST DULUTH

Another splendid audience greeted Rev. M. S. Rice at the revival meetings last night, at the Westminster Presbyterian church. His subject was "Broken Vows."

"If the vows the christian people have made to God, had been faithfully performed, the world would long ago have been won to Christ. The blame for present conditions must rest upon the shattered promises of the people of God," said Mr. Rice. Continuing he said:

"There are men who pride themselves on their faithfulness in the fulfillment of their vows to their fellow men—their word is as good as their bond. I would as soon have it; but they are utterly and absolutely faithless in the performance of the vows they have made with their God.

"A vow is a free will offering to God, an expression of our highest nature, and to break the covenant we have made with our God, is to crucify the best that is in us."

Mr. Rice's sermons have thus far been to christians and last night's appeal was to the christians to "pay their vows now in the presence of all the people." That it was successful, was evidenced by the crowded altar—where many of the christian people came forward and knelt as an expression of their desire to assist in making the meetings a success.

Tonight, Mr. Rice will preach on "Examine Yourselves." The male quartet from the Swedish Baptist church will sing. The service will begin at 7:45.

New Business Block.

Architect J. J. Wangenstein is preparing plans for a fine little business block for West Duluth. It will be put up by Charles Kort, at the corner of Gosnold street and Fifty-first avenue west. It will be a two-story brick structure, 30 by 70 feet in dimensions and will be finished in hardwood. It will have a concrete basement. The ground floor will be used as a saloon and the upper floor will be divided into flats. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Oakland Preacher Here.

Rev. C. J. Larson of Oakland, Cal., is in West Duluth, the guest of his old friend, Rev. K. E. Forsell of the Swedish Mission church. Mr. Larson preached last night at the Swedish Mission church and will be again heard there tonight. He is said to be exceptionally eloquent. He will also preach on Sunday.

Makes Correction.

The Duluth Gun club wishes to correct a wrong impression which exists among the members of the West Duluth Rod and Gun club. The latter considered that they were not invited to take part in the banquet shoot at the grounds of the former tomorrow afternoon. The officers of the Duluth Gun club say that the West Duluth men are invited and will be as welcome as the flowers in May.

Was Great Success.

The restoration festival of the Swedish Mission church at Fifty-ninth avenue west and Green street, which took place Saturday night at the church proved to be one of the most successful affairs of the kind known in this part of the city. The church is in fine shape now and has been fully renewed in appearance inside, having a new steel ceiling and excellent decorations.

West Duluth Briefs.

Andrew Martin of Scanlon is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ensign, 409 Sixty-first avenue west.

A son was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Clement Henry of Patomic Magnela, Mont. They formerly lived in West Duluth.

A very important meeting of the Irving school alumni will be held at the school this evening at 8 o'clock.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. X. D. Hamilton of 6311 Sixty-third avenue west.

WATCH REPAIRING—HURST, 301 CEN-

The Young Women's Sewing society of the Swedish Mission church will hold a patriotic meeting tomorrow night at the home of P. Gullinson, 120 Fifty-sixth avenue west.

Charles Roos, aged 23 years, died yesterday at 425 North Fifty-first avenue west. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at the Finnish church, on Fifty-fourth avenue west, and interment will be in Oneota cemetery.

George Harding is down from Deer River.

Mr. Fisher, the well-known West Duluth millwright, is down from the Canadian Northwest, where he has been operating a mill.

Capt. McLeod of the Pittsburg Steamship company's fleet is back from the East and has been in West Duluth visiting his old friends.

SMASHING OF SKI RECORDS

Expected at Tournament on Brasswire Hill at Ishpeming.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A smashing of records is looked for as a feature marking the annual tournament of the National Ski association to be held here tomorrow. Not only is the Brasswire hill, where the jumping will take place, faster than it has ever been, but the contestants will far exceed in number the small army of expert jumpers who have competed in past events of the kind. It is equally assured that the attendance of spectators will be greater than it has ever been. Leading cities in distant states will be represented, and from upper peninsula points many hundreds of visitors will come by special trains.

Brasswire hill, with its trestle work at the apex, is truly formidable this year. The course is long and steep, and it will keep the best performers busy to negotiate the grade. When the first man starts down toward the "bump" from which he will make the jump, the thousands of spectators will hold their breaths, fearing that he may be killed. After he lands and slides away safely, they will feel easier. Last year, jumps of upwards of ninety feet were made; this time, if the riders are courageous and let themselves out they can make 110 feet and better, breaking the American record of 106 feet made at Red Wing a few years ago, and it is the expectation that this will be done. The jumpers will represent clubs in numerous states, numbering from 75 to 100 men all told, and included among the contestants will be three experts who have just arrived from Norway and are expected to make an exceptionally good showing. These men are Hugo Hammerstadt, Ole Staranger and Carl Bergstadt, each of whom has achieved fame in his native land, and it has been planned to spring them as a surprise, it not being generally known the trio are on hand.

Cash prizes aggregating $375 are offered the winners, and in addition there are a number of cups and medals. Clubs at the following cities have entered their best jumpers: Mellen, Iron River, Superior, Ashland, Eau Claire, Hayward, Drummond and Cameron, Wis., Duluth, Hibbing, Bovey, Red Wing and St. Paul, Minn., Grand Rapids, Ishpeming, Munising, Ironwood and Escanaba, Mich., Utica, N. Y. and Chicago, Ill.

The ski jumping will occur in the afternoon. Features of the morning will be dog races on Main street, and a long distance ski race on Lake Bancroft. Aspirants for next year's tournament are Duluth, Red Wing and Munising, with the prospects favoring the selection of the former city.

Lyceum Matinee---Night Thursday.

Mr. Doone sings his own beautiful songs.

Alderman Haven Did It.

Through a mistake, the motion submitted at the council meeting last Monday evening calling upon the water board to report what steps had been taken to provide for the West end, in the extensions to the "hillside" district, was credited to Alderman Barnes in The Herald's report of the proceedings. The motion was introduced by President Haven, and Alderman Barnes moved its adoption, as Mr. Haven was occupying the chair at the time. Mr. Barnes asked that the correction be made.

D. E. H., Feb. 21, 1906.

WEAR A COLUMBIA $3 HAT.

Made by the same skilled artisans who turn out our elegant Knapp Felt de Luxe $6 hats.

As with the "Columbia $3.50 Shoe," we give you more intrinsic value for your money in this $3 hat than other dealers do, just to advertise The Columbia Hat Department.

Sold only at The Columbia stores in Duluth and Superior.

COLUMBIA CLOTHING CO.

1906 styles now on exhibit.

SUFFEL & CO.
131 W. Sup. St.

ELK SKIN SNEAKERS
For Men, Women and Children—something new—the finest thing out for Gymnasium and House-wear—all sizes—at moderate prices.
ASK TO SEE THEM.

Pure Blood

Is certain if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great medicine cures those eruptions, pimples and boils that appear at all seasons; cures scrofula sores, salt rheum or eczema; adapts itself equally well to, and also cures, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles; cures rheumatism and catarrh; cures nervous troubles, debility and that tired feeling.

SPECIAL.—To meet the wishes of those who prefer medicine in tablet form, we are now putting up Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate-coated tablets as well as in the usual liquid form. By reducing Hood's Sarsaparilla to a solid extract, we have retained in the tablets the curative properties of every medicinal ingredient. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. 100 doses one dollar. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Mrs. Helen L. Thompson of Lewiston, Me., reports great benefit to her little girl from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly purified her blood after an attack of that blood-poisoning disease, scarlet fever. It gave her strength and renewed health. Thousands of others tell of similar cures, also cures of scrofula, salt rheum, eczema, etc.

RECOVERS THE MONEY

But Trick Lands Tony Pill in Jail on Larceny Charge.

Peculiar Trial Will Result From Desire to Break Bargain.

An attempt to recover the earnest money which he had paid to bind the purchase of a store building caused the arrest of Tony Pill on the charge of grand larceny.

According to the story told by the police and the complaining witness, Tony had made a bargain with Peter Bell to purchase his store and stock-in-trade, and to bind the bargain had paid a deposit of $100, in five $20 bills.

Later Tony repented of the bargain and bethought himself of means of securing his earnest money back again. He feared that Bell would not willingly return it to him, if it were asked for, so he planned to secure it by a trick.

Entering the store yesterday, he began talking over the proposed bargain, meanwhile jingling some gold pieces in his pocket. He finally pulled out some gold and asked Bell if he wouldn't return him the bills which had been deposited and take gold instead, as the gold pieces were not so convenient to carry around.

Bell agreed without demur, and promptly handed over the five $20 bills, which Pill is claimed to have pocketed and walked out, declaring that the bargain was off.

Bell went to the county attorney and swore out a warrant for Tony's arrest on the charge of grand larceny in the second degree, and Tony was arraigned in the municipal court before Judge Cutting this morning. He asked for a preliminary hearing, through his attorney, and was released after furnishing bonds to the amount of $250.

The case is a peculiar one, and it is doubtful if anything of a similar nature has been up in Duluth courts before. Technically and legally the money belonged to Bell as much as if he had earned it himself, and if the facts are as stated and Pill took the money and walked out of the store, he is guilty of larceny. But just how a jury will view the case is doubtful, and they may not be inclined to look upon Tony's offense in such a serious light.

Dies in Buffalo.

S. V. Parsons of Buffalo, N. Y., father of Charles and Fred W. Parsons of Duluth, died yesterday at Buffalo at the age of 86 years. He had visited in Duluth and was known to many people here. F. W. Parsons left last evening for Buffalo, but C. S. Parsons will be unable to go. Four other children survive the deceased, three sons and one daughter, all living in Buffalo.

GOAT HURT HIM.

Candidate Had Realistic Ride, and Sues Lodge for Damages.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 21.—Because of a mechanical goat, upon which he was riding while being initiated in the Modern Woodmen lodge room at Arrowsmith, bucked and injured him, Charles McAtee brought suit against the lodge for $2,000. McAtee said that, after being blindfolded, he was lifted on top of the goat. He immediately commenced hopping about the lodge room, threw him on the floor and wound up by stepping on him a few times and then falling on him. He was unconscious from the injuries and still feels the effects. The lodge denies he was seriously hurt.

DOUGLAS GETS NOMINATION.

Lancaster, Ohio, Feb. 21.—Albert Douglas was today nominated for congress over Governor Grosvenor on the first ballot by 78 to 20.

DISFIGURING SKIN HUMOR

Impossible to Get Employment, as Face and Body Were Covered With Itching Sores—Scratched Till Flesh Was Raw—Spent Hundreds of Dollars on Doctors and Hospitals and Grew Worse

CURED BY CUTICURA IN FIVE WEEKS

"Since the year 1894 I have been troubled with a very bad case of eczema which I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to cure, and I went to the hospital, but they failed to cure me and it was getting worse all the time. Five weeks ago my wife bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap, and I am pleased to say that I am now completely cured and well.

"It was impossible for me to get employment, as my face, head, and body were covered with it. The eczema first appeared on the top of my head, and it had worked all the way around down the back of my neck and around to my throat, down my body and around the hips. It itched so I would be obliged to scratch it, and the flesh was raw.

"I would first wash the affected parts with warm water and Cuticura Soap, and then apply Cuticura Ointment and let it remain on all night, and in the morning I would use Cuticura Soap. I am now all well, which all my friends can testify to, and I will be pleased to recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any and all persons who wish a speedy and permanent cure of skin diseases." Thomas M. Rossiter, 290 Prospect Street, East Orange, N. J.

Mar. 30, 1905.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c., Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures the most distressing cases when all else fails. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

Mailed Free, "All About the Skin, Scalp, and Hair."

MEN WATCH FOR OUR Saturday Neckwear Sale

It's going to be a startler—one that you haven't seen matched before—just keep your eyes on our windows and our ads. and find out what the price will be.

Freimuth's

Lake Avenue, Michigan and Superior Sts., Duluth, Minn

NEW ORGANDIES 25c. The Real French Goods

We can invite you to come in and see the finest stock of organdies in this region. Another lot of those fine French organdies, tomorrow, yd 25c

Lovely Laces and Elegant Embroideries

First Duluth Showing of Latest Novelties.

A magnificent collection of the very newest ideas in pretty laces and a superb assortment of those very rare embroideries of which there is but a limited output and which are not generally shown—these are attractions which should command your attention tomorrow!

The Embroideries Include

New Bands, Appliques, All Overs, Insertions and Flouncings—in exquisitely "different" designs.

The Baby Irish and French Convent hand-made effects surpass any heretofore shown.

The Embroidered Batistes in All-Overs, with bands to match, will win the admiration of all who see them.

Among the New Laces are

All Overs, Bands, Appliques and Edges in Mechlins, German Vals, Nets, Baby Irish laces in cream, white and black.

The most eminently correct effects for the dominant lace waists are here.

For the new Bolero effects, we show beautiful Batiste and Baby Irish effects not to be had elsewhere.

NEW TRIMMINGS—DISTINGUISHED STYLES.

Everything that Fashion demands is here—today we have just opened up another lot of Persian bands for vestings—they're quite "different" from the common run.

But the newest—the very newest things in trimmings are the new Chiffon Festoons in Alice Blue, Old Rose, Pale Green and all the pretty pastel shades to be used this spring on the net and lace waists. We show them in lavish assortments.

Women's $3.00 and $3.50 Shoes $2.48

THURSDAY, just to make a quick clean-up of several broken lines of fine vici kid and $2.48 patent colt shoes.—hand welt and hand turned shoes—all widths in the lot—but not all sizes in every line—regular prices were $3 and $3.50 the pair—tomorrow choice only $2.48.

Women's 45c head-to-foot aprons 25c

THE gingham by the yard will cost you more than we'll charge you for these big full 25c aprons tomorrow—choice of large or small checks—in a No. 1 quality standard apron gingham Thursday only 25c.

$7.50 TO $15 SAMPLE SKIRTS ON SALE AT $5 TO $8.50.

THE brightest, newest styles in skirts for the coming season—the balance of a maker's sample line $5.00 —bought at a discount —only one of a kind— prices are now a third $8.50 to a half less than what the same garments would cost in regular stock.

NEW SPRING SUITS and COATS

Every day brings new arrivals in women's fashionable suits and coats.

The latest models—the most approved styles in Pony Coats, Pony Coat Suits and Eton and Bolero effects.

Our windows are showing a few of our styles—people tell us they're the most charming to be seen on Superior street. What do you say?

And tomorrow we'll show another entirely new lot in the Garment Department on the second floor. We'd take great pleasure in showing them.

J. Freimuth J. Freimuth J. Freimuth

Women's 50c Union Suits 39c.

TOMORROW you can buy our women's very best 50c gray ribbed combination suits at 39c a suit. These garments are well fleeced—and are 39c the banner bargain of the season—for they are certainly the best half-dollar garments in Duluth. Thursday only 39c suit.

10c Embroidered Handkerchiefs 5c

ONE hundred dozen women's sheer white lawn hemstitched handkerchiefs—choice of several prettily embroidered styles, such as you never 5c had a chance to buy for less than 10c and 12½c, tomorrow on sale at 5c each.

RAILROADS

COLONIST RATE WAR

Western Passenger Association Will Consider Reduction in Tariff.

Burlington Road Now Has the Best of the Situation.

It is hardly expected that harmony will prevail at the meeting of the Western Passenger association at Chicago tomorrow. The meeting is called to consider the through tourist car service proposition from Chicago to Pacific coast points via St. Paul.

It is proposed by rival lines of the Burlington to reduce the colonist rate from Chicago to the coast from $33 to $32, thus offsetting the difference of $1 which the Burlington has by the operation of the tourist cars between St. Paul and Chicago. According to the present rate the other roads charge $41 from Chicago to the coast, including Pullman sleeper service of $2 from Chicago to St. Paul, and $6 tourist sleeping service from St. Paul to the coast. The Burlington, by having the through tourist car service charge only $9. The officials of the other roads say they are not objecting to the through tourist cars, but they kick energetically against the difference of $1.

Unless some other way should be found to solve the problem it is expected that the other line will cut the rate $1. Should the Burlington meet the rate it is said to be probable that the other roads will cut it still more, beginning a rate war which will be of more benefit to the traveling public than to the railroads.

Another means which has been suggested of surmounting the difficulty is to ask the Pullman company to raise the price of berths on the tourist cars between St. Paul and Chicago to $2. It is said by the railroad officials that this would be the most happy solution of the problem. The Wisconsin Central has asked the Pullman company for tourist cars between St. Paul and Chicago, but they probably will not be put on until the outcome of the meeting at Chicago is learned.

NORTHERN RAILWAY CLUB.

Papers on Handling of Shipments the Feature of Friday's Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Northern Railway club will be held Friday evening, Feb. 23, at the Commercial club. The great interest that has been taken in the affairs of the club since its organization seems to assure a large attendance.

A paper of special interest and importance will be read by C. P. Rowe, traffic manager for Marshall-Wells Hardware Co., who will take as a subject "The Importance of Prompt Handling of Shipments by Transportation Companies." This is a timely topic, especially in Duluth, which has developed into an important shipping center.

Another good paper will be that of W. G. Wallace, superintendent of motive power for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway, who will take "Lubrication of Locomotives and Cars" as a subject.

The plan inaugurated at the January meeting of the club of varying the business of the evening with a musical program will be continued at this week's meeting.

RATE LEGISLATION.

Many States Are Now Taking the Matter Up Seriously.

Since the 2-cent fare bill has become a law in Ohio, attention has been directed toward the railroad legislation proposed by other states. Agitation along the same lines has thus received added impetus in Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Virginia and Maryland.

A favorable report has been made by a house committee in Virginia on a 2-cent mileage bill. But an unfavorable report has been admitted by the same committee on the Caton rolling stock bill, which proposed to apportion taxes paid on their rolling stock by the railroad corporations among the counties through which the railroads pass.

Higher assessment for railroad property is being urged both in Indiana and Nebraska. Governor Pennypacker of Pennsylvania has declined to act on a recommendation to allow the legislature to continue its special session so that a bill can be passed permitting trolley lines to carry freight. In Massachusetts the legislature has received petitions to provide for the election of railroad commissioners by the people. Other railroad measures are also before the Massachusetts legislature.

Railroad Notes.

All the Superior street railroad offices, with the exception of the South Shore, will be open until noon tomorrow, Washington's birthday. The South Shore will be closed all day.

A. W. Martin of Union Grove, Wis., arrived in the city this morning to take up the duties of assistant city passenger agent of the South Shore, taking the place of James Daly, who has resigned to go with the Duluth, Missabe & Northern.

Railroad Personals.

R. C. Haas of St. Paul, traveling passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio road, is in the city today.

J. G. Hamilton of Minneapolis, Northwestern agent of the New York Central, is in the city today.

G. A. Lovell of St. Paul, Northwestern passenger agent for the Wabash, is in the city.

W. R. Crow of St. Paul, Northwestern agent of the Erie line, is in the city.

JAPS STARVING AND NEED AID

American Residents Appeal to Red Cross for Assistance.

Through the California branch, the American National Red Cross has received from the American residents in Japan an appeal for the famine-stricken people in three northern provinces of that country. In one province the rice crop has yielded only 12 per cent of the average, and the sentence of death hangs over a quarter of a million people if forgotten and unaided. In the eastern portion of another province the yield is only 15 per cent and 300,000 people are in great distress and on the verge of absolute starvation; and in the third province it is certain that over 100,000 persons cannot live without speedy and prolonged aid.

Already thousands in these provinces are reduced to shrub roots and the bark of trees by which mere life may for a time be sustained, but at the least calculation 680,000 people are now facing extreme conditions. What this means for their poor women and children, we who live in the center of this oncoming misery find no words to describe.

Hundreds of thousands of persons are on the verge of starvation and winter is adding its rigors to the distress. Snow having hidden away its roots and herbs of the forest from the hands of the stricken people, speedy death or physical anguish, worse than death, confronts them.

During the late war, the great European Red Cross societies did much to aid the Japanese Red Cross in its work of caring for its sick and wounded, but our American Red Cross, just beginning its reorganization, could be of no assistance. Now the opportunity arises for us to send to those brave famine-stricken people some assistance from our abundance. The American National Red Cross will gladly receive and forward to the Japanese Red Cross, to be used for the relief of these famine-stricken provinces, such contributions as the public at large or any of its own members desire to make.

All contributions from Minnesota, if sent to Daniel R. Noyes, St. Paul, local treasurer, will be forwarded to Hon. Charles Hallam Keep, National Red Cross society treasurer, Washington.

Anyone willing to aid in the formation of a Minnesota Red Cross association will please so advise Daniel R. Noyes, St. Paul, who represents the national society in Minnesota.

WILL SELL ITS GROUNDS.

Wadena Agricultural Society Seeks Money to Pay Its Debts.

Wadena, Minn., Feb. 21.—The Wadena Agricultural society has authorized the sale of its grounds and buildings on the north edge of town in order to pay its debts. G. A. Whitney, A. R. Wiswell and E. J. Austen have been appointed a committee to negotiate the sale. While the property may pass into other hands, it will first be the endeavor of the committee to sell it to Wadena village. It is not known how the members of the council will look on the proposition.

DISEASED KIDNEYS

If Any of Your Family in This or Past Generations Have Been Troubled with Kidney Disease, Make a Test of Your Urine and Satisfy Yourself.

CURED FREE.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

Is the Best Cure for All Forms of Kidney Disease. A Trial Bottle Will Be Sent ABSOLUTELY FREE to Any Reader of The Duluth Herald.

TEST YOUR KIDNEYS: Put some morning urine in a glass or bottle, let it stand for twenty-four hours. If then it is milky or cloudy or contains a reddish brick-dust sediment, or if particles or germs float about in it, your kidneys are diseased. If, after you have made this test, you have any doubt in your mind as to the development of the disease in your system, send us a sample of your urine, and our doctors will analyze it and send you a report with advice free.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is used for all forms of kidney, liver, bladder and blood diseases: uric acid poison, rheumatic gout, diabetes, pain in the back, scalding and painful passage of urine, frequent desire to urinate, painful periods, bearing down and so-called female weakness.

SUFFERED MISERY FROM KIDNEYS

Mrs. Wm. Eckerson, 840 Liberty street, Schenectady, N. Y., adds her testimony to the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers who have been cured by WARNER'S SAFE CURE and WARNER'S PILLS. She says: "My health began to fail. I grew steadily worse with kidney trouble. I became discouraged and was about to give up the struggle when I commenced to take WARNER'S SAFE CURE. I am today a well woman, and my recovery is solely due to WARNER'S."

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is purely vegetable and contains no harmful drugs; it does not constipate; it is now put up in two regular sizes and is sold by all druggists, or direct., at 50 CENTS and $1.00 A BOTTLE.

Refuse substitutes. They contain harmful drugs, and do the patient more harm than good.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE. To convince every sufferer from diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood of the value of Warner's Safe Cure, a trial bottle will be sent absolutely free to anyone who will write Warner Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in The Duluth Herald. Our doctors will also send medical booklet, containing symptoms and treatment of each disease and many convincing testimonials, free.

THE STAGE

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Allen Doone in "Kerry Gow," also tomorrow afternoon and evening.

METROPOLITAN—Reilly & Wood's Big company.

COMING ATTRACTION.

LYCEUM—Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee, Louis James.

"KERRY GOW."

This evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening, Allen Doone will appear at the Lyceum in "Kerry Gow," Joseph Murphy's famous play. Mr. Doone has been selected by Mr. Murphy to appear in the play, and is said to be a clever actor and fine tenor singer.

REILLY & WOOD'S COMPANY.

The Reilly & Wood company will give two performances for ladies at the Metropolitan tomorrow. Thursday is always ladies' day at the "Met," and the management will present a handsome souvenir to every woman attending either the afternoon or evening performance tomorrow. No smoking will be permitted. Friday night will be for amateurs, and all the budding thespians and vaudevillians in the city can show what they can do on a real stage.

LOUIS JAMES.

Friday evening Louis James will appear at the Lyceum in Bulwer-Lytton's great play, "Richelieu." The public never seems to tire of this great drama, and Mr. James, in the great French cardinal, is said to find one of his most congenial roles. Saturday afternoon "Ingomar" will be the bill, and Saturday evening he will appear in his great revival of "Virginius," the great tragedy by James Sheridan Knowles.

"KING O'KEEFE."

The three-act comedy that Mr. Getz has prepared for the Elks' production this year bids fair to outclass all previous efforts, and the music is of such a light and catchy order that it will soon be whistled on the streets. The strange history of O'Keefe, who, being shipwrecked on the Isle of Yap, convinces the queen, by his blarney, that he is a great and noted American, and by his scheming and political intrigues, soon gets to be the ruler of the island, is so full of material for a musical comedy, that Mr. Getz has evolved a play as funny as it is interesting. The final annexation of the island to the United States is a touch of jingoism that readily appeals to one's patriotism, and the three acts are full of fun and music. The "Yankee Doodle Girls," in which Lolito Lamb gives an imitation of Geo. M. Cohen, is a fine number, in which the Misses Agnes Skelton, Margaret Nordahl, Flora McDonald, Agnes Morrison, Petronilla Gilman, Alice Lund, Mabel Lund, Clara Collier, Effie Brotherton, Edna Jones, Hildegarde Wohlin, Elsie Flett, Hattie Plaunt, Hazel Roberts, Lillian Morey and Bessie Collier take part. Will Aronson will be seen in "The Ambassador's Qurtet," and also takes part in "Wander in the Bright Moonlight."

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fullness, belching, gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by all druggists.

HEIRESS IS WEDDED.

Edna Dickenson and Chicago Lawyer Quietly Married in Michigan.

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—Edna Dickenson, niece of the late Albert Johnson, the eccentric Minneapolis millionaire, was married yesterday to Simon Kruse, a Chicago attorney by whom she had sometimes been employed. The ceremony took place at Hudson, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Kruse are now en route to New York.

Since she inherited the fortune of her Minneapolis uncle, the bride had been known in Chicago as the "million dollar stenographer." She continued to operate her public stenographic and typewriting office after she came into her fortune, and took her sudden acquisition of wealth in such a matter-of-fact way that nobody suspected a romance in her life.

Mr. Kruse is a member of the law firm of Kruse & Penden, and resides at 6249 Monroe avenue, Chicago.

WORKED UNTIL MIDNIGHT.

Delegates to Augustana Swedish Lutheran Conference Complete Business.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—By prolonging their session until midnight the delegates to the Minnesota conference of the Augustana Swedish Lutheran church were able to dispose of all their business.

The following were elected members of the executive board of the conference: John Bodin, St. Paul; A. Larson, Brainerd; Gustaf Hultquist, Center City; the Rev. D. Nelsonius, Two Harbors, and the Rev. Peter Peterson, St. Paul.

The president, vice-president and treasurer of the conference are members ex officio.

The conference decided to celebrate the golden jubilee of its organization in 1908. A resolution giving thanks for the spiritual blessings enjoyed in the last half century were adopted.

WOMEN RULERS.

Women of India Who Have Headed Native States.

Among the interesting personages whom the Prince and Princess of Wales will meet in the course of their tour through India none presents a more engrossing study than the woman ruler of the state of Bhopal, Nawab Sultan Jehan, Begum, says the London Daily Express. The Begum is a daughter and a granddaughter of a Begum, and between them these three women have ruled the destinies of a state comprising nearly 7,000 square miles of territory and a population of a million people for the past sixty years.

The mother of the present ruler descended from the famous Dost Muhammad Khan, the founder of the Bhopal Dynasty. She succeeded in 1868, in which year she sent to Queen Victoria a quaint letter acknowledging her Majesty's kindness in accepting the dedication of a book written by the Begum's mother, the enlightened Sikandar, describing her pilgrimage to Mecca.

The book in question is a most quaint record of a journey to Mecca, containing an appreciation of the characteristics of that place as seen and understood by an Indian lady. The Begum seems to have been particularly struck by the enormous quantities of food which the inhabitants of Mecca were able to consume. She records that they were in the habit of disposing of five or six pounds weight per head per day.

They appeared to thrive on it, however, for the Begum vouches for the fact that the average man was so abnormally strong that he thought nothing of carrying a weight of 360 pounds from the street to the top of a house. The Begum apparently took a great interest in building operations in Mecca, for she includes in her book a list of building materials, with their cost.

The loyalty to the British government, which the present Begum's mother referred to in her letter to Queen Victoria, was strikingly exhibited by the famous Sikandar who ruled during the mutiny.

At the height of the insurrection a deputation from her army gathered outside the palace and expressed a wish that the Begum would put herself at the head of her men and lead them on to Delhi to exterminate the infidel British. The Begum promised to do so, but during the night she, with a few faithful adherents, caused the whole army, consisting of about 3,000 men all told, to be disarmed and all their weapons hidden. The following day she offered to lead them unarmed to Delhi, but the army thought better of it. This plucky act probably had a great influence on the trend of events, and it undoubtedly saved the British residents at a neighboring town from massacre.

Bhopal has always been one of the most friendly of the Indian states. So far back as 1778, when Gen. Goddard marched across India, Bhopal was the only Indian power which showed itself friendly. In 1818 the British government formed an alliance with Bhopal, guaranteeing to the Nawab the possession of the state.

The Shah Gehan Begum, the daughter of Sikandar, succeeded in 1868, and proved a most worthy follower of her mother. She threw aside the restrictions of the "purdah," which imposed the strictest seclusion upon Indian women, and was always accessible, conducting business on her own initiative with the greatest vigor. M. Louis Reusselet, a French explorer, thus describes a meeting he had with her many years ago:

"I had an appointment with her highness," he wrote, "and so I called at the palace, which is full of European treasures and luxuries. In the room into which I was ushered sat a little girl, whom I took to be the daughter of one of the court nobles, and was on the point of addressing her, when she rose and, with a very stately inclination of her head, said: 'I am the Shah Jehan,' at the same time extending a tiny hand covered with jewels. When I had somewhat recovered from my confusion I noticed that, although of diminutive stature, she had a handsome, intellectual face. She wore close fitting pantaloons of gold brocade, embroidered jacket and a muslin toque."

The present Begum still keeps up the restriction of the "purdah." When she was presented to the prince of Wales at Indore she was crowned with gold, her face veiled behind a burka of light blue and her figure draped in blue of a deeper shade.

The reign of women in Bhopal is likely to cease with the death of the present Begum, for she has two sons and a daughter, and the heir-apparent is the eldest son.

Railroad Robberies

"Nothing in this world is so sure as the revenge of the slum upon the race that tolerates it.

"But our children must pay the bill, not we."

In Everybody's for March, Russell tells how Italy, revolting at her wretched railways, has taken over the entire railroad system. How poor old Ireland, looking with unaccustomed eyes upon a faint chance of prosperity, sees the way barred by railroads.

Germany owns her railroads; France controls hers. In neither of these countries can a community be throttled by the greed of a railroad.

Read Russell's "Soldiers of The Common Good."

Everybody's Magazine

15 cents a copy $1.50 a year

New York and Return $37.80.

Account Merchants Associations Spring Meetings, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway will sell tickets to New York and return at $37.80 on Feb. 9th to 14th, inclusive, and March 6th. Return limit thirty days from date of issue. Sleeping car reservations at 430 Spalding Hotel Block, Duluth.

A. J. PERRIN, General Agent.

MEN'S SHOE SALE

$5.00 Shoes Now $3.65

$3.50 Shoes Now $2.85

FLOAN, LEVEROOS & CO.

225-227 W. Superior St.

GAMBLING WITH DEATH.

What Many of Us Are Doing Three Times a Day.

For everything we get something is taken away. Every act pulls two ways. Some men in power dole out their souls for it. They can't have soul and power at the same time.

And so, in this quick-living age, most of us can't have energy and health at the same time. One or the other must be lost, and it is usually health.

We know we are doing wrong and would like to reform, but we have a morbid fear of being laughed at if we aim to live and eat according to conscience and good sense.

Some of us break away for awhile and enslave ourselves to a diet. We read abobut the hardy Scotsman being fed on porridge and oatcake, making soldiers of muscle and dash, and how Caesar's army was fed on corn. But the diet doesn't last long. We quickly swing back into the great line, eating and drinking to fulness like the rest, eating anything and everything, at any time, and any way we find it. We say "what is a stomach for if it isn't to obey the palate."

But there is really no one rule applicable to everyboody's stomach. What one man may eat another may not.

But the dyspeptic should remember that the death list has a dark shadow hovering over it with a long bony finger pointing to "died of heart disease." Physicians will tell us that there are few cases of heart disease that do not come from a stomach derangement.

At every meal we may be brewing for ourselves a terrible case of dyspepsia. It may come upon us after breakfast tomorrow morning, or after that oyster supper tomorrow night.

Acute indigestion means that you have even chances for death or life. That's the gamble you are taking. That precious gastric juice decides, as a rule, whether you continue to live or not.

Therefore, if you feel your food lies like a "lump of lead" on your stomach, beware! Your gastric juice is weak. It can't dispose of the food in time to prevent fermentation. Take something that will do it effectively, and at once. Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most powerful tablets in the world for the relief of all kinds of stomach trouble, nausea indigestion, the worst cases of dyspepsia, fermentation, bloaty feeling, sourness, heartburn and brash.

One grain of an ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. Your stomach needs a rest at once. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will relieve your stomach of more than two-thirds of the work it has to do, digesting perfectly whatever food there is in your stomach.

You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or have energy or vim or ambition, when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, clear your mind and make you enjoy life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Give your stomach a rest, so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. You can get these tablets anywhere for 50 cents a package.

PYTHIANS HOLD CELEBRATION

Knights Observe Forty-Third Anniversary of Founding of Order.

Local Knights of Pythias made merry in a bunch at 118 West Superior street last evening, in honor of the forty-third anniversary of the founding of the order. The gathering was comprised of members of North Star lodge, Kitchi Gammi lodge of West Duluth, Diamond lodge of the West end and Riverside lodge of New Duluth. Knights from the ranges were also present.

Several candidates were initiated to the mysteries of the third rank before the assembled knights and the entire assemblage sat down to an eleborate banquet. W. A. Hicken was toastmaster and responses were made by W. A. Cant, F. L. Young, C. O. Baldwin, J. N. Powell, Jr., Alex Kennedy and L. A. Barnes.

Vocal selections were given by a quartet comprising Louis Dworshak, Frank Maxwell, J. A. Wharton and A. Anderson. William Coughlan gave some recitations and H. H. Stone made music out of glasses.

The Pythian order founded in Washington in 1864, by Julius H. Rathbone. It originally had fourteen members and now has 700,000.

TALKING WAS HER BUSINESS

Nellie Miller Tells Why She Broke Rules at Bethel Home.

Nellie Miller, a penniless and friendless woman who has been cared for at the Bethel home was examined for insanity before probate court yesterday afternoon, but the examining physicians decided that she was sane although somewhat erratic. She was returned to the Bethel under promise that she will endeavor in the future to live up to the rules and regulations.

When the woman came to this city about a month ago she was sick and would probably have starved had not charity been extended to her. The management of the Bethel home was willing to take care of her, but it was claimed that she kept the rest of the inmates awake.

The Miller woman told the examining board that she came from Indiana, but she refused to tell the name of the town because she did not want to be sent back there. She claimed she left home because of a disagreement with her father and has made her living wandering from town to town by selling fancy work from door to door. During the canvassing it is said that she even entered saloons to sell her work.

Her explanation relative to her talking so much was that her business required her to do much talking and since she has been kept at the home she could not help it.

WOMAN DRINKS CARBOLIC ACID.

Ortonville, Minn., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Emma Schultz, housekeeper for a farmer named Fred Block, residing twelve miles east of here, committed suicide Monday by drinking carbolic acid.

Get My Free Book — Rheumatism

It tells about Rheumatism, about the causes, the way to live to avoid and free the system of rheumatic poisons—even in desperate cases—with

DR. SHOOP'S RHEUMATIC TABLETS

Dr. Shoop Racine Wis. Sold By Druggists.

TWO MEN IN THE FIELD

J. H. Norton and C. E. Adams Are After County Attorneyship.

Adams Files for Nomination and Norton Announces Intention.

Two candidates are already in the field for the Republican nomination for county attorney. Two or three days ago John H. Norton announced that he would be a candidate, although he has not yet filed. Charles E. Adams filed for the nomination yesterday. It has been announced positively by County Attorney J. M. McClintock that he will not be a candidate this year. It is still pretty early in the game, and there is plenty of time for others to enter the race, but there hasn't been much talk as yet of any other candidates.

"Although I have not filed for the nomination yet, I will be a candidate for county attorney on the Republican ticket this year," said Mr. Norton yesterday. "I will file when the proper time arrives. I have many assurances of success and am confident that I will be nominated and elected. Further than this I have no particular statement to make just now. It has been pretty well understood all along that I would be in the field again this year."

Mr. Norton tried for the position last election and was defeated by a narrow margin by Mr. McClintock.

Mr. Adams has been in close touch with the county attorney's office for the past three years, frequently assisting Mr. McClintock in his work. He is filing early and says that his object at this time is merely to apprise his friends of the fact that he is a candidate.

MINER SUFFERS SEVERE INJURY

By Being Struck by Tram Rail at Monroe-Tener Mine.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 21.—Mike Kakalo, a Finn miner, suffered terrible injury while at work at the Monroe-Tener mine, five miles north of here. His nose was almost severed from his face, one eye laid bare on his cheek, and it is feared there is a fracture of the skull, or at least concussion of the brain. Kakalo and his partner were working at the bottom of a shaft, where a bucket is used in hoisting. They filled the bucket and upon signal it was hoisted, but when about fifty feet up the chain connection with the wire cable broke and the bucket with its load of ore fell to the bottom. It struck the tram rails with force sufficient to break them, and one end of a rail was thrown up, striking Kakalo in the face.

Gideon Aho, wife and three children and eight boarders came near to death at an early hour yesterday morning by asphyxiation from coal gas from a heater, at No. 417 Washington street. The presence of gas was discovered by a boarder occupying a room on the third floor, and upon investigation he discovered that all of those occupying apartments on the floor below were unconscious. They will all rescued and will recover.

Eric Hanson, Louis Olson, William Mattson and John Harson were arrested yesterday by Chief of Police Wring in a room over a Pine street saloon, and are charged with assault in the second degree. It is alleged they nearly killed John Adam.

H. Koska, a Finn, 22 years old, was picked up in a maudlin condition, and with a bad knife wound in his right hand, the blade of a large weapon having been driven clear through the member. He was shipped here from Duluth to work in a logging camp and remembers nothing after landing in Hibbing. It is thought he became involved in a saloon row.

Matt Jacobson, a Finn, 38 years old, was brought in from the Stevenson mine Monday night and is thought to be insane. He is a blacksmith, and is unmarried.

A man who once had rough, horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by all druggists.

CITY FATHERS RAISE WAGES

Council at Superior Hit by a Salary Raising Epidemic.

A salary raising epidemic struck the council at Superior last evening and by the time the session was over the pay of five city officials had been increased over the schedule fixed by an ordinance introduced at a meeting held a week ago.

The city engineer, who formerly drew a salary of $100 per month and who was scheduled by the new ordinance to receive $115, was raised to $125 per month. Patrolmen whose salary was fixed in the ordinance at $65 and $67.50 per month according to length of service, had they pay raised to $67.50 and $70 per month. The city comptroller wso was to receive $115 under the new ordinance was raised to $125. The salary of the deputy city treasurer, formerly $900 a year, was increased to $1,000. The city hall engineer came in for an increase of $5 per month in his salary, making it $55.

The increases in salaries were not made, however, without strong opposition and the session was a stormy one throughout. Alderman Crumpton objected to the raises on the ground of illegality, lack of funds, and claimed that if some of the city employes had their salaries raised, all should come in for an increase of pay.

The council authorized the board of public works to advertise for bids for paving Twenty-first street from Tower avenue to New York avenue with plain macadam. A portion of the street is occupied by the street railway tracks to Billings park.

$1.25 to $1.95 Black Silks Going Lively at 89c and 98c

Plenty of wise women reaching after these silk bargains. But it isn't often they get 36-inch taffetas worth $1.25 for 89c—nor Peau de Soie, heavy lining satins, and extra fine taffetas, 36 inches wide, for 98c, worth to $1.95. Couldn't get it here, either, at such prices if it hadn't been for Mr. Panton's lucky purchase in Chicago a few days ago. But it's here and these are the prices—little though they are.

(Silk Section—West Aisle.)

Much Attraction in New Ladies' SUITS FOR SPRING.

They appeal from so many standpoints to every woman—there's so many things about them that are new—unusual. The novel gracefulness of the general style is first apparent.

Their adaptability to so many various occasions—the dainty, dressy effects found in the little Etons, empire bolero, bolero-Eton, rendering them so practically effective for nearly every kind of wearing.

Materials and shades in coloring seem more truly effective than ever before—the chiffon Panamas and voiles, in soft, rich reseda, pearl, choral, Alice and the other shades; the shadow plaids and the plain colors; the rich Henrietta and beautiful broadcloth; the "London Fog" and the pretty, fancy English mixtures in such wide variety of weaves and color.

More interesting and varied still are the details of the various styles. Some have the pleated jackets, some with full sleeve, others with three-quarter length; self-colored and contrasting pipings and braid trimmings, and fancy button trimmed effects; paneled and scalloped reefers and inlaid collars; linings of beautiful white silk and satin; every one with something to make it entirely different from all the others.

All sorts of prices could be charged—and in some stores are charged—for the really swell spring styles. It's different here, for the Glass Block's standard of honestly low prices and volume of business makes possible a saving of dollars on every suit or costume.

The New Separate SKIRTS Show the Beautiful Effects.

And realizing that many women are most careful in this particular, our spring line of fancy separate skirts will be extensive and varied enough to meet every demand. Just now there are the circular and circular gored effects in panamas, voiles, and serges—black, blues, grays in many beautiful shades and the endless variety of fancy light mixtures.

Trimmings of self bands and various ideas in button effects—$5.98, $7.50, $10.00 to $22.50.

Pointed Advice on the Subject of New "VAL." LACES.

"Nothing scarcer on the market than Val. laces" is the foreword thus early in the season, with no indication but that the condition will continue.

To be a particularly strong white season, and the demand for light weight laces is enormous. We're fortunate in supplying early—and you're fortunate in that we did.

Hundreds of complete sets, 2 and 3 widths of edge with insertions to match, round mesh and the best wash Vals. made, in the new patterns, at—8c, 10c, 12½c up to 23c a yard.

Warmer Weather Now Makes Wet Feet —Unless

You're well provided with good rubbers—and if you're not, your chance for a sensible saving is offered right here.

They're storm rubbers for women, misses or children—clean, fresh goods in all sizes and good widths and made to fit.

Children's sizes 34c pair.
Misses' sizes 43c pair.
Ladies' sizes 49c pair.

Invitation From Men's Department.

Men, looking for a good investment will find these few items worth while—for the reason that there's a saving — a good-sized one—in these practical articles.

First, there's a fair-sized lot of men's outing flannel nightgowns, made of pink, blue and light striped flannels—a splendid weight at this time of the year—extra long and full width —at 48c, instead of 59c as formerly.

At 39c instead of 50c as formerly.

Then, a lot of less than a dozen all-wool jersey sweaters, in fancy stripes—several patterns. Come in pretty handily for many uses when you stop to think—and you'll think better when you know that you will have to pay—Only 75c for them, instead of $1.50.

Special Items in House Wear.

If little prices will cut any figure these two lots of ladies' wear will hardly last the day out. The prices are made little for just the reason that we want them to go quickly.

69c for $1.25 fleece-lined and percale wrappers — in blue, black, gray and red figured stuffs; ruffled or plain shoulders, extra full skirts, with full flounce; been selling them at $1.25.

55c for those 89c outing flannel nightgowns—blue and pink striped, look so comfortable and warm; collars and cuffs are braid-trimmed; cut full length and extra width.

(Underwear—Second Floor.)

Cheap Enough Ginghams 3½c.

On the Bargain Counter Thursday — a bargain in blue, black, brown and green apron checks—in all size checks. Splendid weight—ought to be a crowd after them.

Brush Prices Brushed Down.

29c—A lot of assorted hair brushes, hat brushes and cloth brushes — some are ebonoid and others are imitation rosewood—all sizes—and all finished in good quality bristling.

(Jewelry—East Front Aisle.)

15c Children's Bags Worth 35c.

Here's a splendid assortment of leather bags for children, with strap and braided leather handles and nickel-plated mountings. Priced up to 50c in many stores—our former prices were up to 35c.

5c for Fancy Black Ribbons.

The best item we can pick as a special to represent the ribbon counter Thursday. 200 pieces of all black fancy ribbons, marked to sell at 10c—one day only—5c a yard.

Embroideries—Important Note.

Because of the great demand for embroideries early in the season, a great many are being disappointed in being unable to secure the quality or variety they want.

Again our early buying proves a big advantage, and we are now better able to supply the wants of all purchasers, than we or any other house will be later in the season.

Nainsook sets are particularly strong—ranging in price from 10c to 45c a yard.

Embroidery Specials.

Nainsook and Swiss edges and insertions in somewhat broken lots—hence the splendid reductions in price, for quick selling—fine values at—

5c yard for the 10c kind.
7c yard for the 12½c kind.
10c yard for the 18c kind.
15c yard for the 25c kind.
25c yard for the 40c kind.
35c yard for the 60c kind.
48c yard for the $1.00 kind.

Free Classes in Art Needlework.

Our Mrs. Drake resumed class instruction in embroidery and art needlework this morning. These classes are held every Wednesday and Friday, from 9 to 11 a. m., until further notice is given. Only a limited number of pupils taken.

(Art Dept—West Center Aisle.)

Hand Drawn Turnovers—Sets.

New Japanese hand-drawn turnover collars—fresh from the makers.

Our buyer in the East, sends on these prices on a special purchase of turnovers and collar and cuff sets.

50 dozen worth 25c, for 19c.
50 dozen worth 35c, for 25c.
Collar and cuff sets, 59c.

New Gauntlet Gloves Are In.

Many have been asking for them, and we've been saying "haven't come yet." Now we have them in all sizes in buckskin—tan, gray, brown — silk and braid trimmed and fancy-stitched—50c, 75c, $1.00 pair.

Grand Opera

Season next month — are you ready? Let us help you. A complete line at sensible prices.

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY
THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE
WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

Where a Dollar Buys $2 Worth and More Suits.

All the winter weights and styles in those smart coat suit suits and jacket suits and coats for women; girls' and misses' coats and dresses, and all the other winter lines. We say "and more" because some of the prices are far under half—because we want to rid the department for the spring lines now beginning to arrive.

(Suits and Coats—Second Floor.)

NEW GLOVES a Bit Late But Finer Than Ever.

You may have noticed that we've been pretty quiet for some time regarding gloves. Had to be—not much to talk about, and we don't invite our customers to a scant table. But we're ready now, and the "feast" is here for you.

The first arrival was such a splendid big assortment of swell new gloves for spring—that "wanted" sort, with double-tipped fingers and two clasps, in price divisions like—

50c—Never before have we shown such variety of distinctly popular and beautiful colorings—reseda, red, Alice, champagne, mode, navy, slate, brown, white and black.

$1.00—Dainty Paris stitched backs and extra quality fine silks—all the above colors except the red. Just a little the finest we've ever shown, but these "littles" each successive season have given us first place in the glove circle.

50c—Those beautiful twelve-button length silk gloves in white and black.

75c—Double tipped whites and blacks—sixteen-button lengths—soft shimmering silk.

$1.00—Both twelve and sixteen-button lengths in champagne, pearl, new grays and black and white silks.

Never So Many Imported KID GLOVES As Now.

Most important in this importation are the sixteen-button length glace kid—enough for any demand you may make—in not only black and white, but also plum, lavendar, reseda, bluett and pink.

At $1.00—Our own exclusive "Debutante," made to our order—two clasps with colored or self-colored embroidery stitching on the back—all shades for either street or evening wear.

At $1.50—Our "Belleclaire"—2-clasp pique kid with the Paris stitched backs—in green, blue, brown, gray, dregs-of-wine, and black and white.

At $2.00—Our "Curzon"—with Paris knot stitchings and with two pearl fasteners—in champagne, pearl, plum, beige, blue, dregs-of-wine, and black and white.

(Glove Department—Main Aisle.)

ORGANDIES—Most Popular For SUMMER DRESSES

The daintiness of design and beauty of colorings in the new showing proclaims a phenomenal season for them—popular as they've always been.

25c—Plain, sheer ground silk organdies—such a splendid assortment of flowered designs.

29c—With the little shadowed stripe in the background—a mark of additional beauty.

50c—Silk and linen, so richly blended that it has an almost unbelievable richness; tiny silk dots in the groundweave add a charm; a few on soft-colored grounds; exquisite designs in orchids, violets, roses, apple blossoms and so many others.

12½c—Caledon Batistes—dots, tiny figures, stripes, flowered organdy patterns—see them—for dresses, waists, shirt waist dresses, afternoon gowns, etc.

19c—Cotton Organdies—all the new and dainty little flowered patterns—in dozens of pretty little combinations of delicate colorings—they're 25c in some stores.

(Wash Goods—West Aisle.)

ELECTIONS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Consolidation Candidate Elected Mayor of Pittsburg by Big Majority.

Pittsburg, Feb. 21.—After a bitterly fought municipal election, in which the greatest vote ever cast in this city was recorded, George W. Guthrie, mayoralty candidate of the Citizens' party, the Democratic party and the Civic league, defeated his opponent, Alexander M. Jenkinson, by a majority of 6,000. In 1903 Mayor Hays, the present Republican incumbent, received a majority of 7,371. Since that time three wards have been added to the city.

The campaign throughout has been one of vituperation and recrimination and charges of crookedness emanated from both sides almost hourly. Wholesale arrests were made during the last days of the campaign for repeating and colonizing, lodging houses were raided, and men carrying illegal tax receipts were hustled to the police stations. There were many fights at polling places, and in two districts the election boards were hauled into court, charged with refusing to allow negroes to vote.

George B. Logan, the candidate for mayor of the Good Government party in Allegheny, was defeated by the present incumbent, Charles F. Kirschler, Republican. Kirschler's majority is estimated at 4,000. The feature of the campaign was the part taken in it by women. Throughout the entire day they held meetings and prayer for the election of Logan, and carried sandwiches and coffee to the workers at the polls.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—The spring municipal elections were held yesterday throughout Pennsylvania. Ideal weather prevailed and a heavy vote was cast in many localities.

Philadelphia elected two magistrates, seventen select and fourteen common councilmen, twelve school directors in each of the forty-three wards, constables and division election officers. Outside of several small disturbances in wards where there were close contests, there was little disorder. There were, however, a number of arrests made for illegal voting. Little interest was displayed in the contest for magistrates, as the majority and minority party were each entitled to one magistrate, and each party named only one candidate, Chas. P. Rooney being the Republican nominee and Edwin K. Borle that of the Democratic, City and Lincoln parties. In the election of councilmen, party lines were wiped out in many instances. In some wards the City party and Lincoln party organizations, which swept the city last November, were split and were fighting each other with the help of factions from the old Republican organization or the Democrats. In the Second ward Harry Cransley, president of the select council, and who opposed Mayor Weaver in the gas lease fight, was elected by a small majority. In the Fifteenth ward Alexander Crowe, who was one of the mayor's strongest supporters in the recent political war, went down to defeat for re-election before W. S. McInnes, who was the candidate of the Democratic, Lincoln and Liberty parties. Mr. Crowe was backed by factions of the city and Republican parties.

A feature of the election was the candidacy of fifty women in various wards for the position of district school director. Nearly all the women were on the reform tickets, and a large percentage were elected.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Give effective relief in bronchial and lung troubles. Contain nothing injurious.

MAN STABS HIS WIFE AND MOTHER AT PRESTON, MINN.

Preston, Minn., Feb. 21.—John Stourdale of Lanesboro is in jail here, charged with stabbing his wife and mother. The younger woman is reported to be in a critical condition and may not survive. She is cut just above the heart. The mother is not seriously injured.

LADIES Who Have Used Them Recommend as the BEST DR. KING'S Star Crown Brand PENNYROYAL PILLS.

Immediate relief, no danger, no pain. Used for years by leading specialists. Hundreds of testimonials. A trial will convince you of their intrinsic value in case of suppression.

Forwarded in securely sealed plain package upon receipt of $1.00. King Medicine Co., P. O. Box 237, Duluth, Minn.

INDIAN FOUND DEAD

On the Railroad Track and Foul Play Is Suspected.

Pine River, Minn., Feb. 21.—Word has reached here last evening from Longville, a village on the Cross Lake logging road thirty miles from Pine River that John Bungo, an Indian of the reservation, was found dead on the track late Sunday night with one foot cut off lying inside the rail.

The man was seen not over an hour before the body was found and the fact that no blood was found where the foot was cut off has lead to a suspicion of foul play. Bungo was about 30 years old.

MEMBERSHIP GROWING.

Twenty-Three Members Added to Presbyterian Church at Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—On Sunday last twenty-three people were added to the membership of the Presbyterian church here. Fourteen of these became members on confession of faith, eight of that number being young men; and nine became members on presentation of letters from sister churches. Mrs. George Lerch deserves great credit for the number of young men that were added to this church. Rev. Charles P. Bates, the pastor, has been in this town for about a year. The Presbyterians, under his leadership, have built a $5,000 church, which at its dedication, on Feb. 11, was entirely free from debt. In connection with this church is an organization of young men, the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, with a membership of about fifty. They are doing good work, and are rapidly growing. This organization has opened and is supporting a free reading room in Hibbing.

If you have lost your boyhood spirits, courage and confidence of youth, we offer you new life, fresh courage and freedom from ill health in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

OAK PARK SITE NOW FAVORED FOR PRISON.

Stillwater, Feb. 21.—It is now thought probable that the state board of control will postpone further action on a selection of the site of the proposed new prison until the next legislature meets, on account of the appropriation being too small to meet the prices asked by owners of the sites offered.

The fight has now narrowed down to the Atwood and Brown sites, the latter at Oak Park. The property owners, however, are demanding too high a price for the right of way to connect the railroad tracks, and the board finds it useless to consider that site unless better terms are offered.

Citizens of Stillwater will make an effort to induce the Oak Park property owners to make their demands more moderate, with the hope that the site there will be accepted.

Cures Lame Back Sloan's Liniment Price 25¢ 50¢ & $1.00

THE EVENING HERALD

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.

Published at Herald Bldg., First St., Op. P. O. Square.
THE HERALD COMPANY.
'Phones: Counting Room, 324; Editorial Rooms, 1126.

TEN CENTS A WEEK.

EVERY EVENING—DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

Single copy, daily	$ .02
One month	.45
Three months (in advance)	1.30
Six months (in advance)	2.60
One year (in advance)	5.00

Entered at Duluth Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

DULUTH WEEKLY HERALD.

Per year	$1.00
Six months	.50
Three months	.25

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH

TO SUBSCRIBERS:

It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both old and new addresses.

A BUSINESS PARASITE.

And now comes again that parasitical business plant, the trading stamp scheme, and seeks to fasten itself upon the prosperous retail trade of Duluth!

Had the trading stamp schemers taken pains to investigate first, they would have discovered that Duluth merchants are fully educated upon the merits and demerits of this system, and that they are not to be deceived by the plausible but specious arguments of the trading stamp drummer.

It is something like this: A community is doing business in its usual way, getting along very nicely. The merchants and their customers are harmonizing as well as could be expected, considering the fact that most consumers think the profits are too high and most retailers think they do not get a large enough margin of profits, considering everything. But they are getting along, and the merchants are doing a comfortable business, while the consumers are being fed and clothed and housed and warmed according to their means. Whether the customer who thinks he pays too much is right, or the retailer who thinks he gets too little, one certain thing is that neither side can afford any more taxes in addition to those imposed by the trusts, the tariff and the local governments.

If there is another tax, it must either come out of the retailer's profits, or the consumer must put it up through increased prices.

Then along comes the trading stamp man, and wants to make some money for himself out of this retail business. He does not live here, and if he makes any money he will take it away with him, leaving in its place only some cheap lamps, rocking chairs and sofas that could have been bought at the local stores for about 1 per cent of what the community pays the trading stamp man for them.

He wants a slice out of Duluth's retail trade. Somebody must pay it, since the community gives up, if he is successful, a large sum to him in excess of the value of what he returns. If the retailer does not take this contribution to the trading stamp schemer out of his own profits, the people have to pay it through advanced prices. At any rate, everybody but the schemer stands to lose.

Duluth merchants are able to see through a hole in a ladder, and this ladder is all hole. They are not to be deceived by the trading stamp artist's cunning arguments.

CHECK OR BLOCK?

A correspondent of the New York World having expressed his dissatisfaction with the attitude of the United States senate, and inquired how to bring about the election of United States senators by popular vote, the World proceeds to read him a lecture, as follows:

> Our correspondent takes it for granted that it is the habit of the senate to disregard "the expressed wishes of the people." What foundation in fact is there for such an assumption?
>
> The senate of the United States is doing and has done for 116 years precisely what it was created to do. It was intended to be a check on the impulsiveness and passion of the people themselves until public opinion had crystallized into its sober second thought.

And then, when "public opinion has crystallized into its sober second thought," and returns to the senate with a demand for the same reform measure, how about it?

Does public opinion find that senate any readier to respond to a second thought than it was to respond to a first thought, if both thoughts took the form of a wish for the passage of a reform measure?

No, indeed, it does not. Nor will it respond to a third thought, or a fourth thought, so long as the senate feels secure in its position, buttressed against the attacks of an outraged public opinion by the bulwark of the state legislatures, and charmed into complacent self-satisfaction by the praise of the "big interests," if not by a share of the illegal profits of these interests.

Yes, the senate was intended to be a "check on the impulsiveness and passion of the people," but it was not intended to be a block to progress or a slave-keeper for the trusts. And that is what it has come to be, and that it why the people are talking of direct election of United States senators, believing that in that way the senators can be made more responsive to the will of the people.

The issue is clear between the great interests that are absorbing the country's wealth and the people who are being drained of their wealth and comfort. Every prominent political issue is framed upon that single contest. In that fight the senate is proving itself invaluable to the interests and an enemy and betrayer of the people. It is not a check, but a block, and the only way to bring it to time is to put it so close to its master, the people, that it will have to obey.

THE FORESTRY ATTACKS.

When The Herald recently replied to a paragraph in the Faribault Journal based on a misapprehension of conditions in Northern Minnesota, it did so thinking the Journal would be glad to be set right, and that far from wittingly being a party to a slanderous attack on a large area of its own state, it would resent that position when it was shown the facts, and would, as a Minnesota newspaper should, rally to the defense of its home state.

It seems, however, that the Journal has acquired somewhere the idea that Northern Minnesota is a foreign state, to be damaged as much as possible by Southern Minnesota, and it responds to The Herald's attempt to set it right with a renewed attack.

The issue was the question whether the 400,000 acres that have been tied up to make the Cass Lake forest reserve are or are not agricultural lands. The Herald said they are. The Journal says they are not, and it bases its information on the slanders that have been spread by the forestry propaganda. In a case of this sort there does not appear to be much use in argument. The fact is that 90 per cent of the area proposed to be made into a forest reserve is fit for agriculture, and that like some other parts of Northern Minnesota the only areas unfit for farming are rocky. Northern Minnesota is a wide area, and it contains many different kinds of land. Some of it is prairie land, like Southern Minnesota, and some of this used to be timber land, as some of Southern Minnesota used to be. The cut-over timber lands contain some of the most fertile soils in the state, the accumulations of vegetable mold for ages having formed a rich loam peculiarly productive.

It is true that in a great territory like Northern Minnesota, a little matter of a few hundred thousand acres does not seem much, but when first one area of that sort is segregated, and then another, and then another, until there appears to be no end to it and no limit to the demands of the forestry bureau, it is small wonder that Northern Minnesota begins to object, and to resent the slanders that are spread abroad by those interested in the forestry movement. The very fact public officials have been hoodwinked into giving falsehoods the stamp of official approval only makes the blow harder.

It should be a simple matter to make a survey of Northern Minnesota, in the interests of the state and not of the hidden interests which are supplying the forestry movement with large sums of money, to decide just what part is fit for agriculture and what is fit for forestry only. While the people of this end of the state would be glad to see forestry work done on land not good for agriculture, it needs settlers and homebuilders and taxpayers and producers too much to willingly consent to sacrifice large areas of agricultural lands to the cause of forestry.

"STRONG MEN NEEDED."

Once again The Herald would commend to the people of Northern Minnesota the importance of greater care in selecting their representatives in the two houses of the next legislature.

Since The Herald first took this matter up, early in the winter, there have been ample evidences, if any were needed, that in the past the people have made a great error in underestimating the importance to them of state legislatures, and in sending to the state capitals to make their laws men about whom they knew little. A most conspicuous instance is the United States senate, which notoriously scorns the people and labors for the "interests." The senators are elected by the legislatures, and if the legislatures properly represented the people a different class of senators would be selected.

But Northern Minnesota has peculiar need of strong representation at St. Paul. She is grossly discriminated gaainst in the number of senators and representatives allowed her, because of the great growth of her population since the last re-apportionment. She wants the state re-apportioned according to population, and to accomplish this result she must send men strong enough to make up for their numerical weakness.

Northern Minnesota, also, wants drainage by the state of its swamp lands, given it by the government on a promise that it would drain them. It wants more liberal provisions for advertising the attractions of Northern Minnesota for prospective settlers. It wants more liberal arrangements for the sale and disposal of state lands. It wants, in common with the rest of the state, liberal and intelligent appropriations for good roads.

To get these things, it wants men who can go down to St. Paul and win them by force of character and personal influence. It wants a class of men that has been conspicuously lacking in previous legislatures, not only in Northern Minnesota, but in the entire state and in all other states. It wants men who will serve the people, relegating partisanship and corporation demands to their proper proportions.

Northern Minnesota has sent some such men in the past, but not enough of them. If the people will give this matter its proper share of attention, they can be depended upon to select the right men. The importance of the situation is great enough to call into the field a much higher class of men than usually seek such positions, on the average throughout the country.

THE FIELD SURVEY

How do you like this weather?

* * *

Now is the time to begin working for a sane Fourth of July.

* * *

The Duluth and copper country baseball league looks like a winner.

* * *

Jerome and Hapgood want to look out or Col. Mann will get even by borrowing some money from them.

* * *

Life insurance officials would hardly know what to do with their time if confined to a purely life insurance business.

* * *

The Crookston Times champions Northern Minnesota as intelligently, forcefully and convincingly as any paper in the state.

* * *

Jerome K. Jerome sizes up the atrocious comic supplement as "an effort to reduce humor to the terms of the meanest intelligence."

* * *

The Red Wing Republican advises people against mistaking laziness for patience. It is true that sloth is often mistaken for content.

* * *

The senate having passed the ship subsidy bill, the house now has a chance to get even for some of the house measures killed by the senate.

* * *

A good roads convention will be held in Duluth next May, and everybody should take hold and help make it pave the way for a strong good roads movement.

* * *

When the bull market on copper gets a little sick these days, all they have to do to revive it, apparently, is to poke up Lawson and have him issue a bear statement.

* * *

A British publication tells the story of a candidate in the parliamentary elections who was struck in the face by a rotten egg. With great presence of mind he said: "That is the kind of argument used by my opponent, and even that is unsound." His presence of mind, however, largely consisted in picking that joke out of an American comic weekly several years back, and storing it up against such an occasion.

HOTEL GOSSIP

"The Mardi Gras celebration in New Orleans has been observed in one form or another for nearly three-quarters of a century," said W. E. Gray of New Orleans, at the McKay. "It will be observed this year on Feb. 25 and 27. Before the Civil war it was held at irregular intervals, but since the close of the war it has been a regular occurence each year.

"It is supposed to have had its origin in the custom of olden times of Louisiana's planters and merchants looking to France, their mother country, for their fashions, amusements and literature, one of the results of which was the introduction in 1827 of the first grand street procession of masqueraders in New Orleans by a number of young men, some of them just returned from finishing a Parisian education. This was followed ten years later by one on a much larger and grander scale, and from these the carnival method of festivity may be said to have been fully launched.

"Notwithstanding its French origin, as far as the present population of New Orleans is concerned, it has become thoroughly cosmopolitan, and from its small beginnings of parades of masqueraders, it has developed into a world-famous event. Through the celebration there runs a system of organization that is generally commented on by the tourist. This is brought about by secret societies formed for the sole purpose of celebrating the Mardi Gras carnival week. These societies are keen rivals, although co-operating to a single end, and so secret are their proceedings that even their members are unknown outside the inner circle. But they work the whole year through, and spend large sums of money, the final result of such effort and expenditure being the Mardi Gras. The subjects of the pageants are changed every year, and are kept a profound secret until their appearance on the streets."

* * *

"There are few, if any, pegged boots made in the factories of the United States, while fifty years ago the sewing machine was yet uninvented, and nearly all shoes except the hand-sewed were hob-nailed or pegged," said F. G. Beach of Brockton, Mass., at the Spalding. "In Canada there are a few scattered factories producing pegged boots for men and boys.

"There is one such factory at St. John, New Brunswick. The machinery in use there is long out of date, as compared with the present standard in the United States. There are no up-to-date methods. The pegged boots are high cut, such as men wore generally before the war, and they find a ready sale in Newfoundland and Canada. Lasts and patterns are said to be seldom changed in the St. John factory."

* * *

"I am going to try and be up in the Big Fork country, at Ripple, when the sturgeon run begins," said F. S. Halstead of St. Paul, at the St. Louis. "I was up there once and had great sport with the fish. The run begins soon after the river opens up i nthe spring, and the sturgeon make their way up the river as far as they can to spawn. The best place to spear them is at Big Falls, where rapids and falls combine to make it easy for one to get a good shot at whatever goes over them in the water.

"There are very few streams in Minnesota where this annual sturgeon run occurs, and the Big Fork is one of the best of them. The Sturgeon, a branch of the Big Fork, is also quite a highway for the fish in the spring, and there are enough rapids there so that one gets a good chance to spear them. Some pretty tall fish stories are told by the people up in that district, some of whom even tell of having the progress of their boats retarded because of the abundance of fish bumping against the sides and keel.

"Once in a very great while there is no run, because of low water, but this occurs only once in every ten or twelve years. No market fishermen have as yet taken advantage of the opportunities offered by the falls, although on the other side of the border there are large fisheries which handle little besides sturgeon. These are located in the Lake of the Woods country for the most part, and, I fancy, must offer an interesting field for observation."

* * *

"New railroad extensions through different parts of the West, but particularly in the Dakotas, are causing as much talk as would the discovery of a new mine in a mining country," said N. C. Ray of Grand Forks, at the St. Louis. "There is such close rivalry in certain parts of the Dakotas between competing lines of railway as to make the situation very interesting. The Milwaukee, the Soo, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific are all building extensions and branches, until it looks as if the two states, particularly North Dakota, were going to be pretty well covered with lines of railroad.

"This construction work means that thousands of laborers will be given employment on the roads during the coming spring and summer, and this fact pleases the farmers out our way, for they figure that, with so many men working on railroad construction, they will not have much trouble getting enough men to harvest their crops next fall, for they offer better wages than do the railroads, and are of the opinion that as soon as the harvest begins the workmen will quit their other places in favor of the fields. I wouldn't wonder if the same belief is worrying the railroad contractors, who do not expect to have an over-abundance of laborers to begin with."

* * *

At the Spalding: W. H. Johnson, Ishpeming, Mich.; M. S. Hawkins, Mount Iron, Minn.; J. D. Gilchrist, Pueblo, Colo.; H. C. Dudley, Hovey, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ellis, Milwaukee; G. H. Abel, Ironwood, Mich.; J. G. Hamilton, C. W. Cartwright, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. C. Kelly, Two Harbors; A. C. Ebert, Chicago; Mrs. D. W. Gardner, St. Paul; D. E. Mitchell, Hibbing; B. M. Culver, St. Paul; E. R. Baxter, Portland, Me.; G. H. Harris, Minneapolis; W. A. Macan, Philadelphia; G. W. Griggs, St. Paul; H. W. Brown, H. H. Milen, C. W. Turner, St. Paul; H. P. Morriel, R. L. Bruen, Minneapolis.

* * *

At the St. Louis: E. S. Pattee J. Whiteford, D. J. Sarenson, Minneapolis; R. E. Torinus, Winton, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Tobin, Mellen, Wis.; R. A. Hunt, W. H. Rice, Virginia; W. C. Pemerl, Cleveland; W. J. Julius, New Ulm, Minn.; F. B. Rossom, Virginia; W. W. Sharp, St. Paul; H. Lamb, Green Bay, Wis.; G. H. Downer, Eveleth; C. Trezona, Ely; W. J. West, Hibbing; D. McLeod, Deer River, Minn.; M. P. Hunt, S. F. Fullerton, St. Paul; W. W. Smith, Cleveland; C. L. Nelson, Binghampton; J. Beatty, Tower; F. Walters, Ashland; S. A. Paulsen, Minneapolis; Scott Macdonald, St. Paul; W. E. Crossette, Minneapolis; F. M. Curran, E. L. Kesbield, St. Paul; J. D. Gallary, Kansas City; T. H. McFarr, Fargo.

* * *

At the Lenox: F. R. McManus, Spooner, Wis.; R. Rellen, Atlanta, Ga.; B. Miller, Ashland, Wis.; J. J. Murphy, Woodstock, Ill.; E. J. Kahn, Detroit; L. L. Lane, Eau Claire, Wis.; G. E. Parmelee, Minneapolis; C. Watson, Two Harbors; C. B. Poynter, Richland Center; O. N. Hepen, St. Paul; S. B. Christopher, Minneapolis; C. L. Goodell, Barnum, Minn.; W. R. Crow, St. Paul; W. H. Tripp, Minneapolis; R. Bishop, St. Paul; C. Simpson, Two Harbors; W. J. Jalley, Tower; C. L. Lindemeer, Oswego, Ill.; O. T. Johnson, Oshkosh, Wis.; J. P. Gleason, Jamestown; W. J. Reid, R. E. Lawrence, A. J. Brechtel, Minneapolis.

* * *

At the McKay: C. E. Reiss, Fairbanks; R. Smith, Cloquet; O. D. Barnhart, Hines; J. E. Adamson, N.; Dueholm, Chicago; W. G. Barstan, Minneapolis; H. L. Hagerman, Stillwater; W. P. Chinn, McKinley, Minn.; Miss Margaret Engstrom, Miss Hilda Swanstrom, Two Harbors; C. R. Johnson, Eveleth; P. Walter, Minneapolis; T. P. Sheldon, Grand Rapids; P. Stinnks, Kentucky; T. E. Boude, St. Paul.

Love Their Chains.

Voltaire: It is difficult to free fools from the chains they revere.

Good Citizenship the Basis.

Fargo Call: Governor Johnson's speech at Duluth was full of good, sound, practical common sense—with good citizenship as a basis.

THE WEATHER

It is still spring, and the lake is still open. It was cloudy this morning, but mild and affable. The night grew chilly enough to freeze the pools in the streets, and on the walks, but even though the sun was missing, it was warm enough to thaw them out again during the day. It was a little colder last night than it was the night before, the thermometer getting down to 18 degs. above zero. Yesterday's highest was 44 degs. Rising temperature is predicted by the weather man for tonight and tomorrow, with snow or rain. Says Mr. Richardson of conditions:

"The Manitoba storm has moved its center to the eastern lake region, causing higher temperature in Atlantic states and snow or rain from the lake region to the Gulf of Mexico. A high pressure area attended by colder weather overspreads all districts southward from Manitoba and Western Ontario to Texas, with zero temperature at Winnipeg. The North Pacific disturbance has advanced to Alberta causing rains west of the Rockies and warmer weather from Colorado northward. These conditions favor snow or rain in this locality tonight and Thursday with temperature rising to about the freezing point or slightly above."

Following were the lowest temperatures recorded by the weather bureau in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning:

Abilene	36	Medicine Hat	24
Atlanta	48	Miles City	32
Battleford	18	Milwaukee	32
Bismarck	24	Minnedosa	0
Boston	34	Modena	28
Buffalo	36	Montgomery	44
Calgary	28	Moorhead	12
Charleston	56	New Orleans	52
Chicago	36	New York	34
Cincinnati	40	Norfolk	40
Davenport	32	Northfield	14
Denver	20	North Platte	28
Detroit	38	Oklahoma	34
Devils Lake	20	Omaha	34
Dodge	30	Phoenix	48
Duluth	18	Pierre	28
Edmonton	26	Pittsburg	50
El Paso	38	Por Arthur	20
Escanaba	28	Portland	40
Galveston	54	Prince Albert	14
Green Bay	34	QuAppelle	22
Havre	28	Rapid City	24
Helena	28	St. Louis	32
Houghton	28	St. Paul	26
Huron	22	San Francisco	48
Jacksonville	54	Santa Fe	28
Kamloops	34	Sault Ste. Marie	32
Kansas City	36	Shreveport	42
Knoxville	38	Spokane	34
La Crosse	30	Swift Current	28
Lander	14	Washington	30
Little Rock	44	Williston	24
Los Angeles	52	Winnemucca	42
Marquette	28	Winnipeg	—2

Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Duluth, Feb. 21.—Local forecast for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday: Duluth, Superior and Vicinity: Cloudy with snow or rain and rising temperature tonight and Thursday. Winds shifting to fresh easterly and southerly.

H. W. RICHARDSON,
Local Forecaster.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Forecasts until 7 p. m. Thursday, Wisconsin—Fair tonight. Thursday probably increasing cloudiness.

Minnesota—Fair and warmer tonight. Thursday partly cloudy with possibly rain in north portion.

North Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and warmer in east portion. Thursday rain or snow and colder.

South Dakota—Fair and warmer tonight. Thursday probably rain or snow and colder.

DULUTH AND THE HERALD.

Stillwater Gazette: The Duluth Herald says: "Put dairymen upon the lands near Duluth, and you open the way to prosperity for them, and strengthen the foundation of Greater Duluth." And add a few cows, etc., to make it sure.

Anoka Herald: There is going about a story of a funny American who, hearing that Kipling gets $1 a word for his literary output, enclosed a dollar bill in a letter and asked the author for a sample. Kipling kept the money and sent back the word: "Thanks."—Duluth Herald.

The Anoka Herald will go Kipling one better. We will not only send you the "thanks," but also the Herald for a year. Try it. It works finely.

Eveleth Star: Duluth boosters of Northern Minnesota will have the scope of their efforts vastly increased by the construction of the Duluth, Rainy River & Winnipeg railroad the coming summer. Judging from the past, the Zenith City business men will be equal to the emergency. Virginia, if equal to the opportunity, will share the benefits with Duluth.

Albert Lea Standard: Mayor Cullum was re-elected chief executive of Duluth last week by nearly a thousand majority. He is an independent Democrat, a man of high character, the best mayor that town ever had, and a majority of its citizens have the good sense to appreciate it.

Crookston Times: A Duluth woman was nearly run down by a hearse. This is better than being run away with by one.

Moose Lake Star: Problem—If it is 40 below zero in Moose Lake, what is the temperature in the political circles of Duluth?

Hendrum Review: The Republicans should hold their state convention in Duluth, so that when the different factions go to scrapping there will be plenty of water handy to cool them off. The Mississippi would simply evaporate if another convention like that two years ago is pulled off on its banks; but we are confident of Lake Superior being equal to the occasion.

International Falls Press: Duluth is much exercised over the suit brought by Attorney General Young to investigate the business methods of its board of trade. The outside public will reserve its decision until both sides are heard.

Lancaster Herald: The Duluth Herald leads the list of Northern Minnesota papers that are everlastingly keeping this advantageous and promising territory before the eyes of the reading public. In its issue of Feb. 12 an editorial comment on "Forestry and Farming" puts forth the most able and concinnous talk yet seen on the forest reserve problem now before the Northern Minnesota people.

Red Lake Falls Courier: The re-election of Mayor Cullum at Duluth last week proves that the voters of Minnesota's cities are trying to get the best government available. Mayor Cullum has given an honest, efficient and business like administration, and notwithstanding the fact that the normal Republican majority of Duluth is nearly 2,000, the Democratic mayor had a majority of practically 1,000.

Minneapolis Telegram: The Minneapolis Telegram insists that the Republican state convention should be held in Duluth this year, a proposition to which Duluth will agree most heartily.—Duluth Evening Herald.

We do not "insist," we suggest. That ought to be enough, don't you think?

Windom Reporter: The man who said there are no good politicians but dead ones uttered an unwarranted untruth. All politicians are good just before election.—Duluth Herald.

How, then, would it do to say the best ones are dead?

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Maybe if women had talking circles they would do more sewing.

Lots more people would be honest if there was any money to be made by it.

There is hardly anything that troubles one more than looking for it and not finding it.

When you ask a man to drink he knows you are mean because you expect him to ask you to have another.

The more men a girl thinks she has been in love with, the harder it is going to hit her when it really happens.

A Good Idea.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: It is a good idea to measure yourself by your ideal of citizenship once in a while, and see how far you fall short of it.

Fifty Years the Standard

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

A Cream of Tartar Powder
Made From Grapes
No Alum

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Taken from the Columns of The Herald of this date in 1886.

Great was the enjoyment afforded last evening at the entertainment given by the Knights of Pythias in their fine hall. The attendance was large, and included many ladies. Judge Hale, who was called upon hurriedly to speak for the new Gate City lodge, made an eloquent address, and was followed by Josiah Bond, Jr., the popular orator of the order in Duluth. Prof. Glab's orchestra then provided excellent music, and dancing was kept up for a long time.

The Odd Fellows of Duluth entertained their friends at the Turners hall last evening, and the place was filled to its capacity. T. W. Hugo presided, and Brooke's orchestra furnished music, Mr. Barker gave two recitations. Miss Florence Silberstein recited "The Fashionable School Girl" and a poetic legend. Mr. Winterfield played a banjo selection, and the Swedish quintette sang. Then the floor was cleared for the crowning event of the evening, the burlesque initiation of a member. The cast was: Hugh Todd, candidate; T. A. Hugo, shanitycoon and pyramid; B. Silberstein, senior humanitarian; Archy Holly, grand junior humanitarian; D. Richards, grand left humanitarian; John Williams, grand senior watch dog of the treasury; J. Ackley, grand junior watch dog of the treasury; William B. Sharp, chief bulldog and captain of the pretorian guards; J. S. Walsh, J. Hanson, L. Meining, J. Christensen, C. Wagner, John Obeling, L. Nelson and W. Stevens, guards.

Chief of Police Doran has ordered the knights of the green cloth to quit the town.

The pioneers held a meeting this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. hall, to form the Old Settlers' association of the Head of the Lakes. On motion of Sheriff McQuade, George R. Stuntz was chosen chairman. Judge Carey was chosen secretary. Both the chairman and secretary made addresses and a constitution was adopted. Among the veterans present were Messrs. Saxton, G. M. Smith, J. D. Ray, Wheeler, Hayes, Shaw, Brown, Gates, Morrison, Wheeler, Hall and La Vaque.

A grand street parade will be one of the prominent features of the Toboggan club's celebration of Washington's birthday.

Frank McGinley returned this morning from a successful business trip to Fargo, Brainerd, and St. Paul.

John McCue of Eau Claire has been visiting his friend, E. E. Sherwin, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Downing will go to St. Paul tomorrow for a week's visit.

E. Z. Williams left today for Chicago, having received a telegram that his brother-in-law was not expected to live.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Rochester Post and Record: If President Roosevelt's reform measures were up to the lower house of congress alone, 'twould be easy; but, alas! the house of representatives proposes; the United States senate disposes.

Moorhead Independent: The tariff that protects those commodities controlled completely by the trusts is not the kind of tariff protection that is popular with the American people today. It is this kind of tariff that they want revised, and they will make a strenuous effort to get it.

Mankato Free Press: The Crookston Journal declares that "Southern Minnesota newspapers are evidently trying to draw a straight line for political purposes between the northern and southern parts of the state. Their efforts to give this section of the state the worst of it cannot result otherwise than in their own confusion." The Journal should not base its opinion on what a few newspapers in Southern Minnesota are saying anent the distribution of the officers. The Free Press believes in a "square deal," and the northern part of the state should be given all that is coming to it—nothing more or less.

Crookston Times: The Wykoff Messenger says that Jacobson and Eddy are the only men in Minnesota fit to be governor and the St. Cloud Journal Press quotes this startling opinion with apparent approval. Is Minnesota then so poverty stricken for men?

Grand Rapids Independent: Old Pease of Anoka is inconsistent. Not so very long ago he deplored the fact that politics were discussed so early in the season, and now he is getting impatient and says: "The political pot is slow in coming to a boil. Why this lukewarmness?"

Chisholm Herald: The Ohio legislature has passed a bill for a 2-cent a mile rate on railways in the state and the same thing is threatened in Wisconsin. What's the matter with trying the same thing in Minnesota?

Stillwater Gazette: A correspondent of the Transcript at Little Falls alleges that Hans Wagonbox has gone to that place to secure a set of wheels. If he only had Johnnie Whiffletree and Peter Tongue to complete the purchase he would have about all that is absolutely necessary providing he has a pair of horses.

Northfield News: The Duluth election may have a salutary effect upon warring Republican politicians. Who'd be a politician, anyway?

St. Cloud Times: Both Poultney Bigelow and Mrs. Morris have decided that as an advertising medium, this administration is a rank failure.

Virginia Enterprise: When a man loses his pocketbook he rushes into the printery forthwith to advertise it. But when he loses his reputation he sidles up to the editor and in a tone of anguish whispers, "For God's sake, don't say anything about it." We won't—not for God's sake, but for the sake of the family so damnably cursed as to be compelled to recognize him as husband and father.

Crookston Times: Maybe the drainage lobby at Washington is not a drainage lobby after all. It is hinted that President Bernard of the league is spending a good deal of his time and the drainage lobby funds plugging against the forest reserve. If this is true the Twin Cities must enjoy the spectacle of seeing their money spent in opposition to a plan to which they are devoted.

Spring Is Coming.

Mister Winter sling de snow,
But soon he'll leave de lan';
Then will come Miss Springtime
With a red rose in her han'!

She comin' 'crost de meadows,
She breshin' by de dew,
Her ribbons made er rainbows—
Her dress er violets blue!

—Atlanta Constitution.

LAUGHING GAS.

Cleveland Leader: "I don't see," said the pretty daughter of the pretty widow, "where I stand much chance of getting married. If mamma doesn't like the man I chose she won't let me have him. If she does like him, she's just as likely as not to marry him herself!"

Chicago Tribune: Uncle Josiah—First time you ever milked a cow, is it? Well, you do a thunderin' sight better than most city fellers do.

Visiting Nephew—It seems to come natural, somehow. I've had a good deal of practice with a fountain pen.

Philadelphia Press: "Boss," began the beggar, "can't you help me? I ain't ate nothin' for three days."

"Oh, I see," exclaimed Crabbe, "trying to make a record for fasting, eh? Well, I'll help you all I can. Don't let me tempt you to eat. Good-day."

Milwaukee Sentinel: "Say, paw."

"Well, son?"

"What's a critic?"

"A critic, son, is an artistic knocker."

Baltimore American: "Say, old boy, I scorched a bit in my new auto, and now I find myself in hot water."

"What can I do for you?"

"Why, bail me out."

Washington Star: "Do you think that spiritualistic medium was really controlled by the eminent financier you wished to consult?"

"Yes. I recognized his methods. She insisted on getting the money first and making me take all the chances."

Chicago Tribune: "They say he gambles."

"Yes, but he does it in a perfectly honorable and gentlemanly way. He invariably loses."

Cleveland Leader: "Talking about nitrate kings, I know one."

"Who is he?"

"The cabman."

How Could He?

Kansas City Star: Senator Clapp is said to have left the room of the senate interstate commerce committee in anger because he suspected Senator Aldrich of trying surreptitiously to defeat the rate regulation bill. Now, how could he have suspected Aldrich of anything like that?

AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM — Washington's Birthday Matinee

TONIGHT, TOMORROW MATINEE AND NIGHT,
Ireland's Sweet Singer,
ALLEN DOONE
In
"KERRY GOW"
Sweet Irish Songs. Prices, 25c, $1.00.
Feb. 23-24—Louis James. Friday—"Richelieu"; Saturday Matinee, "Ingomar;" Night, "Virginius." Seats now.

METROPOLITAN
All This Week, Saturday Included
Reilly & Woods Co.
Oldest and best on the circuit.
LADY WRESTLERS TONIGHT.
Bargain Matinees Thursday and Saturday.
Prices, 20c and 30c. Nights, 15c, 30c and 50c. Thursday for ladies. Free souvenirs. Friday for amateurs.

Gray-Tallant Co

New Veilings

Guard yourself against skin torturing winds by buying one of our pretty face veils — new ones are now in.

Valenciennes Laces

Crisp new French Val. laces and insertions in matched set—daintiest of patterns suited for underwear, dress trimmings and handkerchiefs, etc. You are going to do some early sewing. Take advantage of the sale tomorrow and secure what you will need at one-third under their real value. 7 and 8c values at a yard..... 5c

New Ruchings

Pretty neck and sleeve trimmings—light blue, pink, gray, tan, lavender, Nile, brown, black and white.

Pattern Table Cloth Specials

100 Pattern cloths in three different sizes—2 yds. x 2 yds.— 2 yds. x 2½ yds.—and 2 yds. x 3 yds.—clean, bright linen—in many new and pretty designs—they have the border all around—the linen is of an extra good quality and sure to stand plenty of hard wear—in figuring them at so much a yard they would run in price from $1.50 to $1.75 a yard—for the balance of the week we mark them by the yard instead of by the whole pattern and cut the price down so that whichever lengths you buy they will only cost you at the rate of a yard..... $1.17½

Wrapper Flannelettes

Floral designs, stripes, polka dots and broken figures—they are printed so clearly and the cloth is of such a soft texture that they are almost as effective as the all-wool cloths—blues, browns, reds, grays and blacks in the lot—regular 10c values—tomorrow at, a yard 7c

Embroidery Remnants

8c.

Short lengths of embroideries in qualities that sell regularly from 12½c to 15c a yard—fine for underwear, waists and dresses—different widths—save almost half tomorrow when you pay 8c a yard.

Misses' Gloves

89c

Mannish style gloves that will prove excellent wearers for street or school wear—in medium shade of brown only—unlined and have one clasp—nobby-looking and very comfortable—a $1.00 value at, a pair, 89c.

Fleece Lined Gloves

Black only—well made gloves and the kind that do not loose their appearance after you have worn them for a while—we sell them at 35c regular and are worth it—all sizes in the lot—why not save one-third on a pair tomorrow—instead of 35c pay only... 23c

New Waistings and Suitings

NEW MOHAIRS in a great variety of colorings and styles—plain weaves—checks and small patterns and two-tone effects—all Bradford cloths that are sure to give the very best satisfaction—plenty of grays among them—at, a yard..... 50c

PLAID WAISTINGS, pretty styles in a worsted cloth that will make up into the prettiest and most serviceable of waists—the effects are rather light in color—three different styles— you will like them—yd.. 50c

NEW SCHOOL SUITINGS—in Shepherd checks—fine stripes—plain weaves similar to mohair—fancy worsteds and many other patterns and weaves that will make neat and good wearing school dresses—white and all staple colors, at, a yard 25c

Pretty Aprons at Small Prices

You would never in the world spend your time making aprons when you see how pretty and dainty these are made and how low-priced they are, considering the work on them and the material used—aprons for sewing, for housewives, for maids, waitresses and nurses—all dainty and very neat—see them.

WHITE LAWN APRONS—37-inches long, 40-inches wide, with a 4-inch hem and plain strap and bib—well made and sure to be a good seller at 25c

MAIDS' APRONS of Lawn with bib of Swiss embroidery or embroidered insertion and with strap over shoulders—very pretty and only 35c

MAIDS' APRONS—Splendid length and width with a 6-inch hem, bib and bretelle trimmed with pin tucks and narrow Swiss insertion—at 50c

VERY FINE LAWN APRONS with bib and bretelles hemstitched and tucked—cut very full and made of extra fine quality of lawn—extra value at 75c

DISCIPLINES A MEMBER

Painters' Union Removes C. M. Brandt From Assembly Delegation.

Result of His Charges Against President Shartel at Last Meeting.

The Painters', Decorators' and Paperhangers, union met last night to pass judgment upon C. M. Brandt, delegate of the union to the Trades' assembly, for his recent outburst in the assembly meeting because of the turn the city election had taken.

The result of last night's meeting was that Brandt was removed from the assembly delegation of the union and J. H. Powers was substituted in his place. The meeting was secret and the members of the union will not talk about it, but it is claimed that very little more than that was done. However, it is generally believed among union men that the union in its own way said things to Brandt. The members of the painters' union claim that the only thing done by the committee appointed at the last meeting to look into the charges made by Brandt was to recommend that Mr. Brandt be removed from the delegation to the assembly, which report was adopted.

It will be remembered that Brandt, at the last meeting of the Trades' assembly, charged that certain officers of the assembly had worked for candidates in the recent municipal election who had not signed the union labor platform, in preference to those who had. The particular charges made were in the cases of Mayor Cullum and Charles Mork, the latter the Democratic candidate for alderman from the Sixth ward, and both of whom, it was claimed by Brandt, had not signed the union labor platform, while their opponents had. At the Trades' assembly meeting Brandt became almost abusive, and brought upon himself at the assembly a shower of replies. His particular charge was made against President Joseph Shartel of the assembly, and as President Shartel happens to be very popular, Brandt's charges were not well received.

Then Brandt's own union took the matter up, with the result already mentioned. It is said that last night Brandt put up a vigorous kick, but it availed him nothing.

OLD SOLDIERS HOLD CAMPFIRE

Willis A. Gorman Post Entertains Many Members and Friends.

The campfire entertainment given at Kalamazoo hall last evening by Willis A. Gorman post, G. A. R., to members and friends was largely attended, the room being filled to its utmost capacity. Capt. John Randall presided, and a pleasing program of songs, recitations and addresses was rendered, followed by refreshments, served by the ladies of the G. A. R. Among the features of the entertainment were several selections by the post's drum corps, comprised of old soldiers and sons of veterans, some of the latter being small boys.

Rev. Egberth L. Barber, a newcomer in the city and formerly a member of a New York artillery regiment during the Civil war, gave a talk along patriotic lines. Mrs. B. Webster, past department president of the ladies of the G. A. R. in Minnesota, responded for Garfield circle, and told about some of the work that the ladies are accomplishing for the old soldiers and their wives and widows in this state.

Recitations by Miss Eva Sawyer and Miss Effie Brotherton were pleasingly rendered, and were received with marks of appreciation. Several patriotic songs were rendered by a quartet.

The entertainment was one of a series that the post is giving once a month.

DR. G. C. GILBERT

May be Next President of Village of Cass Lake.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 21.—The political pot has commenced to simmer somewhat, and it is expected that before village election day (March 13) the boiling point will have been reached. Last year there were two tickets in the field, and the winners were elected by but a few votes. The following ticket has now been announced: For president, Dr. G. C. Gilbert; trustees, F. L. Gorenflo, Dr. D. L. Stanton, W. F. Koeneman; recorder, George Stein; treasurer, C. E. Battles; assessor, A. Swanberg; justice of the peace, E. R. Sundberg. It is very probable that there will be opposition to some of the aspirants on this ticket, with endorsement for the head of the ticket, Dr. Gilbert. Dr. Gilbert came here from Grand Rapids, Minn., about a year ago, and has made a host of friends here.

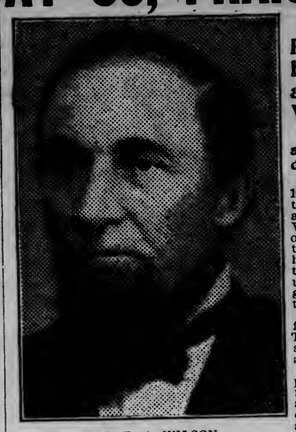

REVIEW OF DECISION.

Claimants to Part of Virginia Sliver Ask Another Chance.

Three applications for review of the decision of the secretary of the interior were filed in the Duluth land office yesterday afternoon in connection with the contests which have been waged over rights to lots 1 and 2, section 5, and lot 2, section 6, in 55½-17. Prior rights were claimed by Rebecca Gibson, Joseph W. Fouts and William Ingraham and these the secretary denied. The applications for review were filed by George F. Smith, assignee of the three named. The land in question is part of the famous "Virginia Sliver" and is claimed to be valuable for deposits of iron.

The secretary made his decision on the ground that the scrip of F. A. Hyde & Co. had a prior right over the claimants. Now Assignee Smith shows that the Hyde scrip is charged by the United States with being fraudulently held and suits are pending in United States court over the same. Therefore a review of the decision is asked.

AT 80, PRAISES DUFFY'S

MR. D. A. WILSON

D. A. Wilson, of Glens Falls, N. Y., attributes his splendid health in old age to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I have used Duffy's for 15 years, and have called in a doctor but once during that time." He writes:

"I will be eighty years old October 4, 1905, and am a younger man for my age than you have ever seen, and am very active. I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for years and have had no other medicine in my house, except tincture of rhubarb, in fifteen years, and have called in a doctor but once during that time. It is a great medicine if used moderately, and it is sure to bring good results. I have recommended it to hundreds."

Physicians everywhere prescribe Duffy's for the aged, weak and run down. Thousands of old people commend it and say their long life and healthy old age is due to its regular use.

It is the best cure for consumption, pneumonia, grip, bronchitis and all affections of the throat and lungs, for all weakening and wasting diseases, dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulence and all forms of stomach troubles, nervousness and low fevers.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is a promoter of health and long life. It makes the old young and the young strong. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey contains no fusel oil, and it is the only whiskey recognized by the government as a medicine. This is a guarantee.

CAUTION—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Dishonest dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and substitutes, which are positively injurious to the health. Demand Duffy's and be sure you get it. Sold by every reliable druggist and grocer, or direct, in sealed bottles only—never in bulk—$1.00 a bottle. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label and be certain the seal over the cork is unbroken. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF

In a Moral Sense, Would Benefit Duluth Industries.

The question of patronizing home industries is still an issue, at least with the members of the Cigarmakers' union.

Are you with us on this most important question? If not, why not?

The consistency of men who profess to be staunch advocates of a protective tariff, claiming that by the enactment of high tariff laws the industries and the working class of this country would be protected is indeed ridiculous. The idea of a high tariff is to prevent foreign goods to come in competition with our home products. Good idea. But, does it not appear to you to be very inconsistent for advocates of a protective tariff, who are residents of Duluth to send to Eastern markets for their luxuries and necessities?

We fully realize that we cannot prevent the Eastern manufacturer (by law) from placing his goods on sale in our city, but we, as citizens of Duluth, can refuse to buy none but home-made goods, whenever possible, thereby aiding in the upbuilding of our own industries. And if the people of Duluth would adopt such a policy it would not be necessary to build a wall around our city, even if it were lawfully possible.

If it is just to enact tariff laws for the protection of industries of the United States, it is likewise just for the people of Duluth to enact moral principles of the same nature for the protection of our home industries.

In short, use a little protective tariff principles when making your purchases.

In conclusion we request that whenever you purchase a cigar see that it is a product of a Duluth factory.

There are just as good cigars made in this city as there are in any part of the United States.

Last, but not least, see that the union label is conspicuous upon the box from which you are served, for it means that the cigars contained therein have been made by a member of the Cigarmakers' union, an organization that stands for the advancement of the working class in the form of shorter hours of labor, greater wages and better factory conditions.

Boom the products of home industries.

Boom the union label. Respectfully,
CIGARMAKERS' UNION.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in fifty minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. Price 50c.

THE KNOWLEDGE OF O TAYA SAN

By Dora Aydelotte.

(Copyright, 1906, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

Because of rouge skilfully applied, the little geisha's cheeks were rosy, and because of paint her lips were very, very red, like threads of crimson.

She wore a kimona of cool, shimmering gray, with storks in erratic flight all up and down it, her blue obi—like an overgrown pillow—was adjusted with care, and atop of all was her face, lily-fair under the high, satiny black coiffure, her slanting eyebrows—ah, art helped nature there—her eyes at once luring and childlike, and the scarlet line that was her mouth.

When Raeburn, lately arrived in Tokio, came to the teahouse under the wistarias, his beauty-loving nature rejoiced, and he told her that she was "like roses and gray mist."

O Taya San looked pleased, though all she understood was the young Mericans smiling eyes; but she poured his tea ,clapped her shell-pink palms together for more cakes, and, when another girl shuffled in, they danced, in movements as graceful as roses swaying in the wind.

It was late before Raeburn remembered that he hadn't stopped in Tokio merely to visit teahouses, and that he must get back to Dunn's rooms as fast as a 'rickshaw and a long-legged coolie would take him.

He was comforted to find that Dunn had turned in; it saved the bother of explanations; only a sleepy servant remained in the hall, to be gently prodded and kicked into wakefulness.

There was a late and hurried breakfast the next morning, after which Dunn, as a good servant of governmental red tape, went to his office, leaving his friend to spend the day as he liked. He was pleased to loaf throughout the morning, to write a few letters, to scribble some of the inevitable post-cards, and, late in the afternoon, clad in creaseless white, to travel via 'rickshaw to a teahouse—a travel via 'rickshaw to a teahouse—a certain teahouse with purple curtains of wistaria flowing all around it.

O Taya San was there and tinkled away at an instrument that seemed a cross between a banjo and guitar; Raeburn sat himself down, with easy grace, in the cross-legged manner of his vis-a-vis; they laughed together over her quaint efforts to talk 'Merican, and the task of teaching was so pleasant that when O Taya San lifted her thick lashes and said, "You come 'gain—some more?" he answered, "Sure," quite as if he were in Tokio only for the pleasure of talking to pretty teahouse girls. "She's beautiful," he confided to Dunn a few days later, after that leanjawed, cynical person had been jeering at him for "going daffy over a mere teahouse girl, kept there for such chumps as you." "My dear boy," replied Dunn, languidly interested, "they're all beautiful—in Tokio—but you're bound for aManila on serious business matters, and then home, and, let me tell you, if you've a sweetheart back in the States, better let this little what's-her-name—"

"O Taya San."

"That's it? Well, let her and all her kind alone; even a geisha may have a heart, you know."

Raeburn towered above him, handsome, flushing with anger: "That's the limit, Dunn; I never broke a heart yet, and I'll not begin with this little beauty."

His companion laughed, a laugh of unbelief—but he told his irate friend to calm down, and wheedled him into going for a ride.

Now, Dunn knew his Tokio well, likewise his Yokohoma; perhaps that is why he made it a point of trotting Raeburn around to the nicest people he knew, and giving him a chance to meet a lot of friendly English girls.

But the boy was blind to whatever charm they possessed—blind to the memory of a girl back home, who saw no other face than his; his eyes were only for a little figure in a gray kimona, for a face with welcoming eyes, with red lips pouting childishly for his kisses.

So he forgot, and continued not to remember, in spite of Dunn's occasional protests, and the smiling faces of those nice English girls.

The teahouse under the wistarias knew him for a frequent guest; O Taya San blossomed like some wondrous flower in a new kimona of blue, with glints of silver woven through it; she danced, she sang to him the songs of Nippon, and he taught her—for she was a willing pupil—much of his speech.

Perhaps, too, there were other things he taught her; for what should a pretty geisha girl learn, but love.

There had been other Mericans, but none like him; when he came, straight and tall, fair as a young god, blue-eyed, with bright hair curling from his forehead, with six feet of immaculate white drill, his gleaming smile, who could resist him?

Certainly O Taya San could not.

* * *

Raeburn's luggage was piled in the hall; his steamer was due to leave the next day for Manila, and he was solacing himself with cigarettes.

"You can't take her along, you know," was Dunn's silence-breaking remark.

"Who?"

"Your pagan friend, O Taya San; who else?"

"Dont' you know," continued the informing one, "that the girl is a slave, owned, body and soul, by the grinning old devil who owns that teahouse and others like it; don't you know that you would have to buy her, just as you would buy horses at home?"

"Don't; I can't stand it;" Raeburn jumped up, pushing his chair away noisily; "pagan or not, slave or not, she's a dear little girl, and I'm all broke up at leaving."

"What about her?" came the pitiless query.

For answer, Raeburn said things which would have to be represented on this page by dashes, and flung himself out; Dunn heard him in the street, whistling for his 'rickshaw.

"The boy's a fool," he mused, "but he's got a lifetime to learn it in."

* * *

A curtain of purple blooms lifting to the breeze; in a teahouse, two that clasped, and said good-bye, and clasped again—clinging arms and pleading eyes, tears and kisses—kisses and tears. One to stay, weeping—say not that to be a geisha is to be heartless—and one to go whirling back to the city.

The ship was gone, and day after day, all cruelly alike, followed it; other coolies dashed up to the teahouse steps, and other 'Mericans in white suits sat at the little tables, but life was not the same.

Because of rouge, skilfully applied, the little geisha's cheeks were rosy, and because of paint her lips were very, very red, like threads of crimson silk; her gray kimona shimmered like a silken mist, and storks in crazy flight trailed all across it; but the eyes of O Taya San were closed, and she did not answer when they called her name.

As for Raeburn—but Raeburn would never know.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Maj. Gen. A. W. Greeley recently promoted, has been assigned to temporary command of the Pacific division with headquarters at San Francisco pending the return to the United States of Maj. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, the regular commandant, now in India.

The president has confirmed the sentence of dismissal in the case of First Lieut. C. P. Shandle, First Infantry, who was recently tried by court-martial in the Philippines and convicted of disobeying orders and being absent without leave.

Edward Drogmund, leader of the orchestra of a Kansas City, Kas., theater, was shot and killed Tuesday by his wife, who fired two shots at him. The couple had been separated.

Robert Hannigan, kidnaped at Silver City, N. M., was released Tuesday night after the ransom had been paid twice.

A report from Can Creek, Breathitt county, Ky., states that Henry Turner shot and killed his father-in-law, Elisha Howard, Tuesday. The men quarreled over the division of corn owned jointly by them. Turner has not been captured.

Pat Crowe was released Tuesday on a bond of $1,500 given by his brother, John Crowe and the latter's wife, and Joseph Nansel, a wealthy farmer of this county. Crowe's trial on a charge of holding up street cars at Council Bluffs, Iowa, has been put over until March.

At a meeting of the steamship agents at Boston, Tuesday, it was voted to increase the wages of longshoremen employed by the various companies. There has been no strike.

Through an accidental explosion of dynamite Tuesday, at the plant of the Deckers Creek Stone & Sand company at Sturgissin, W. Va., one man was killed, another fatally injured and five seriously hurt.

In a premature explosion of dynamite at Coal Wood, W. Va., Tuesday, John Willis and Tom Nash were killed instantly and Frank Collier, son of the superintendent in charge, was seriously injured. The men were putting off heavy blasting in a tunnel connecting the railway with one of the Coal Wood operations.

The river steamer Swan, bound for Augusta, Ga., sank seventeen miles above Savannah Tuesday. There was great confusion on board, a number of the negro passengers and crew jumping overboard. One negro is known to have been drowned and three others are missing.

A membership on the St. Louis stock exchange was sold Tuesday to William M. Louderman for $8,500, making the record price for a seat on the exchange. The price is an advance of $1,000 over the preceding sale.

TO REOPEN METCALF CASE.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Yielding to representations that a careful investigation will disclose the fact that he was innocent of wrong-doing, Postmaster General Cortelyou has ordered the reopening of the case of James T. Metcalf, the chief of the money order division, who was dismissed from the service and later indicted by the grand jury of the District of Columbia. The case was finally nolle prossed.

The Simple Life

is best. To live naturally; work during the day, keep your temper, eat three meals and take a Beecham's Pill regularly, as required. There is no medicine for the simple life, or the strenuous, like

Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25.

SPORTS

MILLERS WIN AT INDOOR BALL

Company I Team Defeated at Lincoln Park in Close Game.

The Universal Millers won a close game of indoor baseball from the Company I team of Superior last evening at the Lincoln Park roller skating rink, by the score of 12 to 11.

Harris, the Superior pitcher, was slaughtered in the last three innings, after holding the Millers safe for six rounds, and the Millers piled up twelve runs in the three innings.

Company I narrowly missed tying the score in the last innintg, scoring three runs, but their score fell one short of the required figure.

Next Tuesday evening the Millers will meet the Big Duluths and the following week will play a return game with Company I. The line-up and score by innings:

Millers—	Position.	Co. I—
Simpson	p	P. Harris
Beckman	c	Moran
Calvoy	1b	A. Harris
Larson	2b	Hoover
Coughlan	3b	Connelly
Olson	ls	Wedge
Robinson	rs	August
Combs	lf	Berg
Buske	rf	Buchanan

The score:

Millers ..... 0 0 0 0 0 7 2 3 x—12
Co. I..... 2 0 0 0 2 0 4 0 3—11

Tomorrow is the date set for the national ski tournament at Ishpeming, and the Duluth jumpers accompanied by from thirty to fifty spectators will leave over the South Shore road this evening for Ishpeming.

* * *

Carl Mattson, the Minneapolis wrestler is in the city trying to complete negotiations for his match with Martin Johnson, the Duluth fireman. The match had to be postponed owing to Johnson's illness.

* * *

The two girl wrestlers at the Metropolitan theater, will meet again this evening for two falls out of three. The last meeting resulted in a draw.

* * *

Five rinks of Duluth curlers will leave this evening for St. Paul to meet an equal number of rinks from the Nushka club for the new trophy which has been put up.

* * *

The Duluth city hockey team will meet the Two Harbors team in two games tomorrow afternoon and evening at Two Harbors.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

WILL TRY NEW PLAN.

Feast for Body and Soul at Bethel on Wednesdays.

A feast for the body as well as for the soul will be given those homeless wanderers who attend the special gospel meeting which will be held at the Lake avenue Bethel this evening.

After the stomachs of the men are full the gospel will be preached to them and an effort made to save their souls. These suppers and meetings are to be held at the Bethel every Wednesday evening hereafter.

Rev. J. T. Moody, superintendent of the Duluth Bethel, has returned from a trip through Eastern Canada and New York and says these suppers have proved great successes in some of the large cities there and that he wants to try the plan in Duluth.

Known to Duluth Men.

While he had never worked in the Duluth house, W. G. McFarlane, manager of the Canadian branch of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company's business, who died in Winnipeg Monday, was well known to many connected with the company in Duluth. Mr. McFarlane was about 35 years old and had been ill about a year. Death was due to consumption. Mr. McFarlane had been connected with the Marshall-Wells company for ten or twelve years.

EVERYBODY SATISFIED. MANY PRAISING HIM.

DR. REA

SPECIALIST.

Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Diseases of Men, Diseases of Women, Chronic Diseases.

Next regular professional visit to Duluth at Spalding Hotel,

Saturday, Feb. 24,

From 9 a. m. until 8 p. m.

One day only—returning every month.

Dr. Rea has no superior in diagnosing and treating diseases and deformities. He will give $50 for any case that he cannot tell the disease and where located in five minutes.

Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, Lung disease, Early Consumption, Bronchitis, Bronchial Catarrh, Constitutional Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Stomach and Bowel Troubles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Kidney, Liver, Bladder, Prostatic and Feneale diseases, Dizziness, Nervousness, Indigestion, Obesity, Interrupted Nutrition, Slow Growth in Children, and all wasting diseases in adults. Many cases of Deafness, Ringing in the Ears, Loss of Eyesight, Cataract, Cross Eyes, etc., that have been improperly treated or neglected, can be easily restored. Deformities, Club Feet, Curvature of the Spine, Disease of the Brain, Paralysis, Epilepsy, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Swelling of the Limbs, Stricture, Open Sores, Pain in the Bones, Granular Enlargement and all long-standing diseases properly treated. Lost manhood, nervous debility, spermatorrhoea, seminal losses, sexual decay, failing memory, weak eyes, stunted development, lack of energy, impoverished blood, pimples, impediments to marriage; also blood and skin diseases, Syphilis, Eruptions, Hair Falling, Bone Pains, Swellings, Sore Throat, Ulcers, Effects of Mercury, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Weak Back, Burning Urine, passing urine too often, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, receive searching treatment, prompt relief and cure for life.

Cancers, Tumors, Goiter, Fistula, Piles, Varicocele and enlarged glands, with the subcutaneous injection method, absolutely without pain and without the loss of a drop of blood, is one of his own discoveries, and is the most really scientific and certainly sure cure of the twentieth century. No incurable cases taken. Consultation to those interested, $1.00.

DR. REA, Minneapolis.

GEORGE PROBECK PASSES AWAY

Well Known Resident of Duluth Dies Suddenly of Pneumonia.

George Probeck, more commonly known as George Donohue, died yesterday afternoon at his home First avenue east and Fourth street, of pneumonia.

The illness was of very brief duration, and as late as Saturday Mr. Probeck was seen about the streets, apparently in the best of health. Sunday afternoon the cold from which he had been suffering for several days, became much worse, and he was forced to take to his bed. He grew rapidly worse, and passed away yesterday afternoon.

For twenty-five years Mr. Probeck has been a prominent figure in Duluth. He came here when 17 years of age, from Buffalo. He had a wonderful physique, and was known as one of the most powerful men at the Head of the Lakes. He became a member of the police force, and after serving several years, went into business as a contracting stevedore. About two years ago he retired from active business and gave his attention to the real estate which he owned in the different parts of the city.

He is survived by his wife, a son and a daughter, aged 7 and 9 years respectively. A brother lives at Youngstown, O., and three sisters at Buffalo.

Mr. Probeck was a charter member of the Order of Eagles, and the funeral arrangements will be in their charge.

BOOM TAFT FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Reference as Successor to Roosevelt Received With Great Applause.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 21.—Secretary of War Taft received a great ovation in Bay City yesterday. He came here to address the second annual banquet of the Bay City McKinley Republican club, which was held last night. Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota was also a speaker.

William A. Horton of St. John's, Mich., referring to Secretary Taft as President Roosevelt's successor, set the banquet hall aflame with enthusiastic acclamation. The banqueters climbed on tables and chairs, waved napkins and cheered for several minutes. In his address Secretary Taft contrasted desirable and undesirable political organizations, and also discussed the political destiny of the Philippines. He said:

"There's a very wide difference between an organization that energetically works for good ends and an organization that depends on patronage to gain its own ends. Because the gang, the machine, the boss, use the power of organization, those who want good government should not eschew organization.

"The only permanent remedy for the evils is for the younger men to take an interest in good government. I hope we are waking up in Ohio. I'm not entirely sure that we are waking up permanently. We will see."

Of the Philippines Secretary Taft said:

"Every obligation of honor forced us by chance into taking over the Philippines. It's easy enough to start right in war. It's not so easy to tell where you're coming out. But there is something about those people that assures us that the work we are doing will be successful."

GARFIELD DENIES ALL STATEMENTS

Which Packers Say He Made to Them to Secure Books.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Commissioner of Corporations Garfield took the stand yesterday in the packers case and denied many of the statements made by the witness for the packers. Edward Morris, Edward Swift and Arthur Meeker, representatives respectively of the packing firms of Nelson Morris & Co., Swift & Co., and Armour & Co., all testified that Commissioner Garfield had told them that his department had the power to compel information if they refused to give it willingly. Mr. Garfield yesterday asserted that he had made no such statement. He also denied that he had promised immunity to the packers, saying that the only protection that had been promised, was protection for the individual figures of their confidential accounts. This, he said, had been given them, and although the average of these confidential figures had been given in the report of the commissioner on the beef industry, individuals had been respected, and their names had not been given. He also denied positively that he promised that all information would be regarded as confidential. He also denied that he had at any time said anything regarding an oath in connection with the investigation. Mr. Garfield was the first witness for the government, the packers having rested their case shortly before the noon recess of court yesterday.

MELLIN'S For the Baby FOOD

Vitality is a good indication of a baby's condition. A listless baby is not in a good condition of health. Mellin's Food babies have a great deal of vitality because Mellin's Food gives strength and vigor. Our book, "The Care & Feeding of Infants" Free.

The ONLY Infants' Food receiving the GRAND PRIZE at St. Louis, 1904. Gold Medal, Highest Award, Portland, Ore. 1905.

MELLIN'S FOOD CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Well-fed Feeling of Strength comes from

Grape-Nuts

Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkg.

This evening several delightful social functions will take place, and any number of people have been at some considerable worry to decide between the affairs which they might attend. The young society people will dance at the February cotillion, which will be given at Steinway hall. The Young Women's Christian association's annual February banquet will be given at the association rooms, and for the first time in its history Palestine lodge will entertain women at its anniversary banquet. Any woman who has had an invitation to that would not think of placing anything before it, for in truly illogical feminine way, she feels that she must be getting nearly at the heart of Masonry if she is to be admitted to a function at which women were never before welcomed. The evening will be a busy one in a social way.

MILITARY BALL.

Company A Entertains Its Friends at the Armory.

A military costume, a military man, or a military effect appeals to woman, and the dancing party last evening, at which Company A entertained at the Armory, was especially delightful to the large number of women guests. The decorations were military, and many military uniforms were worn, and the music by the Third Regiment band was inspiring and delightful, so that the annual ball of the company passed off in a blaze of glory. The Armory, which is large enough, can stand an unlimited amount of bunting, and flags and banners of other nations, was adorned lavishly with these emblems. From the balcony the bunting was festooned, and tri-colored tassels appeared in many points in the decorations. The platform was decorated in palms and flags, and flanked on either side by festive looking cannon, and the Third Regiment band was stationed there. Cozy corners about the room added to the attractive plan of decoration, and punch was served by Corporal Robert Lee.

Preceding every second dance the trumpeter of the band played a military call, which added a touch of interest. The reception committee was composed of Corporal Conrad G. Fredin, Corporal S. Elliott Finch, Corporal William C. Wiesinger, Sergeant Henry Bentson and Sergeant Frederick D. Ash.

A large number of the friends of the members enjoyed the most successful dance in the history of the company.

OPERATIC STARS.

Savage's Singers Being Deluged With Social Attentions.

Mr. Savage's English grand opera artists are being deluged with social attention on their cross-continent tour, and local society and music circles are looking forward to an opportunity to meet the favorite singers. Miss Gertrude Rennyson, the superb dramatic soprano, whose sweet voice is well known by reputation, together with Miss Rita Newman, the dramatic contralto, are still with the company, sharing honors with a number of new vocalists who are being heard in America for the first time. There is the Miss Claude Albright, the handsome daughter of an Albuquerque editor, who won her way to the Opera Comique stage in Paris while she was studying abroad, and Miss Florence Easton, the coloratura soprano, who recently arrived from Covent Garden. Miss Margaret Crawford of the New York Crawfords, who has been singing in Germany the past three years. Mme. Martha Miner and a host of others.

Mr. Savage gives Duluth our first and only real grand opera season, and it is only natural that local society circles and clubdom should make a delightful fuss over the native artists during their all too brief visit.

Farewell Party.

A farewell party was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Cashin of West Duluth in honor of Mrs. J. J. Mix and family, who left today for Denver to make their home. Cards were the amusement of the evening and the favors were won by Mr. Bouchard and Mr. Kelly.

The guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
A. Robert Armstrong,
Eugene M. Bouchard,
Patrick R. Haley,
Gustav A. Rakowsky,
Mrs. Kelley and Miss Kelley.
Mr. George Kelley.

Events of Interest.

There will be no meeting of the Morning Browning class of the Twentieth Century club tomorrow at the library as Washington's birthday is a legal holiday and the library will be closed for the day, except the reading room which will be open in the afternoon. The Browning class will meet Friday morning at the library, and "The Death in the Desert," will be studied.

The Union Missionary society of the city will have charge of the day of prayer, which will be conducted tomorrow at the First Methodist church. The hours that the different denominations will be in charge are as follows:

10 to 11 a. m., Congregational; 11 a. m., Baptist; 12 m. to 1 p. m., Christian; 1 to 2 p. m., Methodist; 2 to 3 p. m., Episcopal; 3 to 4 p. m., Presbyterian; 4 to 4:30, "Duluth Missions," Mrs. A. W. Bradley.

D. A. R. Meeting.

Mrs. Thomas H. Martin entertained at a delightful card reception yesterday afternoon at her home, 320 Mesaba avenue. The rooms were prettily decorated in palms and tulips, and five hundred was played at ten tables. The favors were won by Mrs. David Hood and Mrs. E. L. Bradley. The hostess was assisted by Miss Alice Martin and Evelyn Cash and Madge Miller.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Martin entertained again at cards. The same game was played at ten tables, and the favors were won by Miss Helen Coburn and Mrs. V. L. Bean. The men's prizes went to L. R. Martin and W. S. Taylor of Appleton, Wis. Assisting were Miss Virginia Bean and Miss Louise Burthwick.

One of the delightful features of the affairs were some readings in the afternoon by Miss Adele McClaran, and in the evening David Evans sang a number of Irish melodies.

Skating Party.

A pleasant roller skating party was given last evening at the Temple rink by the members of the young people. After enjoying the pastime the early part of the evening, the guests were entertained at the home of Miss Mayme Welsh of 216 Fifth avenue west. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. V. Lamont. The guests were:

Misses—
Eva Sawyer,
Pauline Lilian,
Vida Thorpe,
Liretta Kelly,
Alicia Lamont,
Georgiana Messieur,
Liretta Edwards,
Dulcie Frink,
Mabel Kunze,
Lillian Peterson,
Ida Reilly,
Fern Reilly.

Messrs.—
Clinton Thorpe,
Mitchell Norski,
Fred Owens,
Patrick Welsh,
Daniel Frink,
Lawrence Pefter,
Henry Evans,
William Blake,
Pat Lee,
Clifford Gullingsrud.
Clarence McClellan.
Hugh Wright,
George King,
Thomas Doyle,
Roy Murnlid,
Lawrence Carey.

Children's Party.

John Robinson entertained at a delightful children's party yesterday afternoon in honor of Geneva and Kenneth Knight. In the game of the afternoon the prices were won by Edna Carrol, Sadie Montgomery, Lucy Montgomery and Leona Landault. The guests were:

Misses—
Anna McEwen,
Bessie Montgomery,
Lucy Montgomery,
Violet Robinson,
Alice Webb,
Mabel Montgomery,
Alice Reamer,
Cecelia Dolson,
Lizzie Hart,
Marion Robinson,
Celia Pennell,
Doris Pennell,
Edna Carroll,
Leona Landault,
Agnes Watts,
Ethel Purcell,
Maceola Williams,
Esther Peterson,
Gladys Winckler,
Amelia Watts,
Gertrude Brooks,
Mary Johnston.

Master Ralph Webb.

Card Reception.

The Greysolon du Lhut chapter of the D. A. R. will meet tomorrow afternoon with the regent, Mrs. George M. Smith, of 226 Fifth avenue east. A special program has been arranged for Washington's birthday, and the members of the chapter will have an exhibit of old articles of family or historic interest. Each member will have a guest, and a more than usually attractive afternoon is planned.

Personal Mention.

Miss Helen Marble and Miss Antoinette d'Autremont left yesterday afternoon for Ishpeming to attend the ski tournament and a short visit.

* * *

Mrs. LeRoy Salsich of Bovey is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Frazer of East Superior street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jeffery of Twenty-first avenue east have gone to California to remain during the spring months.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Wold have gone to Ishpeming to attend the ski tournament.

Rose-Colored Visiting Gown and Wrap From Paris

1. The calling gown here illustrated is of old rose ladies' cloth, cut princess, with the panel effect in front. In figure 2 is an exquisite evening wrap of lilac satin, trimmed with ruchings of the satin and with Alencon lace. The models are taken from L'Art et la Mode.

Simplicity Keynote of Frocks for Young Girls to Wear Evenings

When a girl is once a debutante she is supposed to have out-grown her schoolboy and college friends, so that from the beginning of Lent she can rest from the strenuous life of her first winter, and all attention must then be given to the younger sister who will attend the Easter theater parties and dances in which a younger set will participate. There are always college "proms" and school dances from the spring right on to commencement, and these dances are essentially for the girls not yet "out." Of late a young girl has been allowed to wear a decollete gown one and even two years before her introduction to society, although there are still a few conservative mothers left who insist upon the neck being filled in with a fine lace yoke while the daughter is still a schoolgirl There is, however, no objection to the rounded, square or V shaped Dutch necks, which are at once becoming and comfortable to wear. The summer before the debutante's formal introduction there can be no possible objection to her wearing a simple low neck frock.

It is a mistake to dress a girl too elaborately while she is still at school, but when once a debutante, while the colors are youthful, the gowns are bound to be handsome and expensive. For the year before then, such materials as net, point d'esprit and even lawn attractively trimmed with lace and hand tucking, all are pretty. A taffeta or satin finish silk dress will be very serviceable, and if there are dances on hand some such gown is necessary. White, pale blue and pink, according to which is the most becoming, seem the accepted shades, and indeed no colors are ever so pretty. Lavender, green, red, yellow, etc., can be worn in years to come, when the delicate tones are no longer suitable and becoming.

If an evening gown is to be made up now for some "prom" to take place before Lent, it would be wise to choose a material that can be worn during the summer, for the outfit next year will need to be made up quite regardless of any left-over gowns, so that this year's dress had best be worn out during the spring and summer. Short dancing dresses are not so popular this year as last, and in all probability will not be worn at all in a few months, so that there had better be a slight train. Exaggeregatedly long trains are as much out of favor as the short skirts just now, a great saving, for it is impossible to hold up successfully a long train of net or chiffon. The ribbon loops, fastened to the skirt in black in just the right position that when the other end is slipped over the hand it will hold up the train without mussing the delicate material, are a great help. This loop may be of ribbon, the shade of the gown, or of the material itself.

Princess gowns are of course, very fashionable, but wide ribbon girdles are also in vogue, and the princess and empire gowns are not so apt to be becoming to young girls as the more youthful style of dress. There are, however, in the empire styles some charmingly pretty models of net falling loose from the shoulders over a perfectly fitting satin lining. In silk and crystalline accordion and side plaited dresses are still in fashion, and this style of gown needs very little lace or trimming of any kind. A handsome lace bertha with a little lace in the sleeves is really all that is necessary.

Skeleton Petticoat to Give Flare About Feet to Dress Skirt

To make skirts flare about the feet, as fashion decrees that they shall, all sorts of devices are being tried which will be effectual with thin frocks for summer.

Among the newest is a skeleton skirt, as it were, consisting of a wide graduated ruffle, that hangs from the belt by a series of straps. The ruffle is made of silk in all colors, and is headed by a light hoop of stiffening that gives with each movement, and yet sustains the outer skirt. There is another hoop at the bottom. The material is made to cover the knees to take wear from the regular silk petticoat, and is light in weight.

WHAT RETAIL MARKETS OFFER.

Crabs, 30 cents each.
Lobsters, 50 cents a lb.
Sea bass, 18 cents a lb.
Spanish mackerel, 20 cents a lb.
Snow apples, 80 cents a peck.
Perfectly fresh eggs, 25 cents a dozen.
Pineapples, 50 cents each.

The fish market is really getting very interesting. Flat flounders came in early in the week and now sea bass, the first seen here this year are shown and also some Spanish mackerel. The bass are ugly, ugly, ugly, but they may taste good to the person who is an connoisseur in fish. The crabs are especially fine and the lobsters, which are getting more expensive, are very good to look at and the better still to taste.

Snow apples this time of year are a decided novelty, and at one of the markets this morning a barrel was opened. Eighty cents a peck is a price that not very many people will pay for apples out of the barrel, but to those who are especially fond of this sort of apple, even at that price the luscious fruit will not be resisted.

"Fresh laid eggs," are quoted most places at 20 cents a dozen; the real country eggs positively fresh are 25 cents a dozen, which is not in the least a big price this time of year, but one that the consumer delights in.

A Sense of Humor

If in these terribly modern days fairy godmothers still visited cradles and made gifts to new born babies that of a sense of humor ought frequently to be in demand. It can turn tragedy to comedy and serious matters become as farce to the woman who has a sense of the ridiculous, and does not forget to use it in time of need. The most dire things may happen within the domestic fold, the cook be incapacitated by drink as dinner guests arrive, or the last new gown be ruined in the making; if one can find the least vestige of humor in the situation it ceases to become nerve racking and loses its element of woe. As for the effect of a sense of humor upon a person who is trying to quarrel, it is fatal, at least it is fatal to ugliness in the mind of the possessor. For, instead of continuing to be disagreeable, the person who sees the humor aspect of the situation is bound to laugh, and no human being can quarrel as they laugh.

Oddly enough this happy sense of mirth, when exercised by a woman during a difference of opinion with a man, seems sometimes to have quite the opposite effect upon him. Far from cooling his wrath it appears but to add fuel to his indignation, making him, incidentally, more humorous than he was in the beginning, a fact of which he is quite unconscious. It may be the tradition that women, generally speaking, have no sense of humor has so imbedded itself in the masculine mind that evidence to the contrary is merely trying as being upsetting. In any event, a woman whose sense of humor is exercised at the sight of seeing a man becoming again as a little child in his wrath would do well to curb any inclination to laughter. It is the psychological time for the "soft answer" that will soothe, not a contradiction or laughter to irritate.

But except at such times a sense of humor is a good thing to have always at hand. Like everything else, its use can be carried to excess, sadly to hurt the feelings of others, and this is brutal. But the normal, proper sense of humor is that which grasps at the brighter side of whatever is happening, that is always on the look out for a chance to laugh when one may kindly, and that dwells on the amusing and not the disagreeable side of life. As there was never anything but that had two sides, so it is that there is no situation that has not its elements of humor, however grim the outer aspect may be.

It is always better to laugh than to cry. The woman who will search out the funny part and relieve the tragedy sombre is a boon not only to herself, but to all about her, and her sense of humor becomes further cultivated by use.

Mrs. Telford's Special Recipes

By EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD.

Butter Cakes.

My Dear Mrs. Telford:

Will you please let me know how to make butter cakes? MRS. G. J. L.

Butter cakes, according to the superintendent of one of the largest downtown restaurants, are almost impossible to make in the home kitchen. Here, however, are the directions, and if you are naturally a clever cook, you may be able to achieve cakes quite as good as those you mention.

Sift together three cups of flour, four and a half level teaspoonfuls baking powder and a rounded half teaspoonful of salt.

Into this rub two tablespoonfuls of butter until the flour feels mealy. Add a cup and a quarter of milk and beat to a smooth dough. Turn out onto a well floured moulding cloth and toss into a ball, using a knife. Slip a woven cover over the rolling pin, rub it full of flour, and then with quick light pats, roll out the dough, which should be very moist. Do not touch with hands.

Roll quickly into a sheet about three-fourths of an inch thick, cut out with a biscuit cutter and bake on a well greased griddle. Do not let them touch as they expand in the baking. The fire must not be too hot. When puffed to about double their original size and firm on the bottom, turn and bake the other side. Serve immediately.

Frankfort Sausages.

My Dear Mrs. Telford:

Will you kindly inform me through your paper how to make Frankfort sausages? Also how to make yeast for brewing hop beer? L. P.

In making Frankfort sausages part of the pork may be used, provided there is an equal quantity of fat and lean. Mince fine (a meat chopper is best) and season with ground coriander seed, pepper, salt and a small quantity of meat, though a good proportion is a quarter pound of salt to every ten pounds of meat, with an ounce of pepper and a half ounce of the coriander seeds. Mix well and fill the skins, which should have been well cleaned and soaked in cold salted water for several hours. Secure the ends and hang in a cool, dry place until needed.

Regarding the yeast for brewing hop beer, all authorities are agreed that brewers' yeast should be used for a starter. This is a frothy substance that rises to the surface during the fermentation of malt liquors. It is superior to any other yeast and may generally be procured direct from the brewer. It is about eight times the strength of the ordinary yeast.

To make the beer, boil six ounces of hops in five quarts of water for four hours. Strain the liquid and mix with it four ounces bruised sugar and five parts more water. Boil again for an hour, strain and mix in four pounds of sugar. Let this cool to lukewarm, then stir in one pint of yeast. Let it remain two days in a temperate situation, then draw off carefully and bottle.

Using Cooked Rice.

My Dear Mrs. Telford:

Will you please tell me how to make rice cakes from left-over rice? I believe eggs and milk are used. H. C.

Rice Cakes.

Put two cups boiled rice through a sieve or leave whole, as preferred; sift together two cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of sugar and a teaspoonful and a half of baking powder; repeat the sifting twice; add the rice, the beaten yolks of two eggs and milk enough to make a smooth batter that will drop from a spoon; lastly, fold in the whites of the eggs whipped to a stiff froth; do not stir, as that would break the air bubbles upon which the lightness of the cakes depends; have the griddle hot; make the cakes brown on one side, then turn and brown the other, and serve hot with maple syrup or butter, cover with preserve or jelly, then roll and serve.

Rice Muffins.

These are also delicious, made from left-over rice. Allow to one cupful of boiled rice two eggs, one cupful of milk, a cupful and a half of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt and a generous teaspoonful of baking powder; separate the yolks and whites of the eggs and beat each, yolks until lemon colored and thick, the whites until stiff; add to the yolks the milk and flour; beat thoroughly, add the salt, baking powder and rice, and beat again until light and smooth; fold in the well beaten whites and pour at once into hot greased muffin pans; bake in a hot oven twenty minutes.

EPISTOLIC ECHOES OF EDEN

By Lawrence D. Fogg.

(Copyright, 1906, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

I.—The New Ring and the Old Love.

Dear Richard: In the old days I would have written "dearest," but today another man acquired first mortgage on that title by virtue of placing a diamond ring on a certain finger of what you once called "the fairest hand in the world." Why I should choose you—a man and a former lover—as my confidant, and honor you with the first news of my engagement, I know not. Perhaps it is because of memories which will not down, even though the flashing eye of his ring seems to reproach me for not letting the dead past bury its old love.

Is this letter treason to him? I do not think he would so consider it, for he has told me: "I do not ask that you love your former admirers less, if you will love me more." That speech won for him my hand if not my heart. Leonard is not jealous and in that he is unlike you. Jealousy may be flattering to a woman's vanity, but it is destructive to her peace of mind. Yet a woman loves with her heart, not with her mind, and where the heart is concerned a woman does not think, she feels. So I sometimes wish that Leonard were less phlegmatic, that he had more blood in his veins and less of ice; that he were more—like you!

That is treason, and yet—my bonds are still too young to teach me discretion. Do you know what a temptation a diamond ring is to a woman? But for that I might have waited—waited for you. Would you have cared? Rachel waiting for her Jacob gave evidence of no greater patience than mine. Are all New Englanders like John Alden: too bashful to speak for themselves? But I will not compare you to John Alden. You have a higher sense of honor than that unjustly-lauded Puritan, for you would not betray your friend. Perhaps if you were that kind of a man, I would not be writing this letter. Yet in penning this epistolic echo of Eden, I prove that I am but an erring daughter of Eve. Are you a son of Adam? Tomorrow may tell. Ah, me, I wish the morrow were today, and yet I dread the morning's dawn. Would I love you more on a pedestal towering to the clouds—and unattained, or kneeling at my feet—all mine own, but with the dirt of desire on the hands you reach forth to clasp mine?

Who can read a woman's heart and be sure? Even she herself cannot do that. Can I, then, dare to hope you will understand these heart-throbs trickling through my pen in inky indiscretions? If you do not understand—should one reproach the text book because he does not read its meaning aright? Spare me in your reproaches for in love the end sanctifies the means. In what on earth have you faith, if not in me? If doubts distress you now, what mean the protestations of the past? I can say no more; my selfishness and my hope grow dumb; my heart brims over with silence. The Deity can invent no greater purgatory than will be mine if you cannot forgive your LILIA.

II.—The Letter Which Reached Him.

My Dearest Dick: May I not call you by that sweet old pet name once more, even though a few days must elapse before the law will confer upon me the right to own you before the world? "My dearest"—that first word claims you mine, the second tells you that you are still the dearest of all men to me.

I am hysterical, silly, delirious with joy to know that I may soon give myself to you. The fact that I am married and its accompanying man I had quite forgotten. May God forgive me; you already have, for if I err, it is because of you, of my love for you. Whether Leonard forgives me does not matter; nothing matters now, so long as we two love and may begin to live. I am dating this letter—the first time in three years, for since we parted there have been no dates in my life; nothing but a blank, a blank only you can help the future to fill and make pregnant with promise.

In a few days my bonds will be broken. Leonard preferred a separation, but has consented not to oppose my application for a divorce, which already has been made. There is to be no scandal; the utmost secrecy is to be observed. The judge has even rashly promised to keep the case out of the newspapers. When the law severs the old bonds, it will tie another nuptial knot as soon as you wish. With you as my lord and master, bondage would be sweet.

I have been a wife in no more than name. Since Leonard found me crying over your letter on our wedding night, we have lived our separate lives, meeting only at dinner and in society. Oh, Dick, why did Fate and Uncle Sam fail to deliver my former message to you? Doubtless it is now in the dead letter office, that cemetery of buried hopes. I have come to be thankful that, like the writer, my letter went astray. I would not have you say in the coming years, as did the first occupant of Eden, "The woman tempted me." Your fall but arouses the mother instinct. I long to kiss away your hurt as did my own parent in the days before you came to be the embodiment of my ideal. My demigod, yet son of Adam, you shall no longer sue at my feet. Let me look levelly into your eyes; together we will rise to sunlit heights and forget the shadows lurking in the valleys of our past.

Edith tells me you will return home Sunday. I hunger for a sight of you. For two years you have kept away—your absence was hard to bear, but perhaps it was as well; I could not have remained true to the man the world called my husband had you been nearby. True? Have I been true to him? Alas! my thoughts have been traitor, for none belonged to him. I wronged him in that I had no love to give him. In aught else God is my judge. Be you merciful, and together we will atone for the past, not in sorrowing penance, but in joyous living.

Dare I come to see you at your home and so defy conventions and your mother? For you I dare all things, even to laying my heart bare, even to tearing away a woman's most sacred attribute, her modesty, and showing myself to you with soul naked but unashamed. You need not forbid me. I shall come. Your sister loves me, as you know, only less than she loves her brother. Yet I do not need even her as an advocate. Let your own heart plead for me and I do not fear its judgment. I never needed you so much as now. I am weary; fold me away from the world in your arms. Let us forget, in the dawning of a better day, the hideous dream of those missing years.

I am overwrought, nervous; the sudden drip of salty tears has blinded my eyes and the page is a blur before me. I know not whether my pen is loyal to my heart. But you—you understand when I only hint at what I dare not give a voice. There are some things so sacred that to reduce them to words would be desecration. I await you. Once before I said "come," and you heeded not. This time I know you will obey, for this message will reach you. Heaven and all its angels will see it safely to its journey's end. My love, from your love, LILIA.

If you are too poor to be a want advertiser, then, indeed, you are in "hard luck;" otherwise, you still have an "even chance" with the best of them.

Kitchen Dresser

A most convenient kitchen dresser that might be made by an amateur carpenter and would be a great saving of space in a small kitchen. Soft pine is used in its manufacture, and a clever arrangement of drawers and cupboards makes it hold not only dishes, but cooking utensils as well, if one wished, which might be hung underneath.

The top serves as a table on which mixing may be done, and in the shallow drawers towels and napkins might be kept.

Such a piece of furniture can be moved easily, and by having so many small things required at a time in one place is saves many steps.

BUSINESS SOLIDITY

Seen in Activity of the Iron and Steel Industries.

United States Steel Corporation Output Placed Ten Months Ahead.

New York, Feb. 21.—Announcement was made a few days ago that the United States Steel corporation had found it necessary to refuse orders for many thousands of tons of material, owing to the fact that it was impossible to deliver the product in the time specified. This virtually closes its books for the time being upon certain classes of material.

No stronger showing can be made of the innate solidity and sound basis of business than the present condition of the iron and steel trades. This gigantic corporation, with an annual capacity of 10,000,000 tons of product, has orders upon its books for over 8,000,000 tons, or, to put it in other words, its entire product for the next ten months is already placed. There is no lack of future orders, either, and with every week of the next few months the demand for iron and steel will be added to by the hundreds of enterprises as yet in process of promotion or of preliminary work preparatory to the placing of orders for construction materials.

With such universal activity, with building construction, railway construction, electric developments, steamship and naval building, with public and private expenditure for development at record-breaking proportions, one must realize that the present and near future cannot but witness such progress as the world has never seen before. No class of labor but is in steady demand, with good rates of pay; no acreage open to transportation facilities but will yield a profit if intelligently and industriously tilled.

The lumber of the forests, the grasses of the plains, the minerals of the mines, the products of nature in every form, and the products of the handiwork, or the ingenuity, of the industry of man in their multifarious classes, drawn from earth, ocean and air, were never so much sought after, so profitably utilized by the sons and daughters of Adam as at the present time. Nature in all its lavishness was never so serviceable to mankind. Providence never conferred greater blessings, nor so widespread, as at the present day.

Mankind physically and mentally were never so well cared for and never before were so well equipped with creature comforts, with scientific accurate knowledge of themselves and their surroundings, never realized so fully the opportunities of the world to dwell inhabit for advancement and progress of those living and their posterity. Nor only is this true as to material status, but for mental attainments the way was never so clear, and the heights of intellecuality, of religious and scientific truth never so close at hand, never less difficult to gain.

If in our rapid strides forward money has become tainted the great soul of humanity will recognize that its expenditure through the funds of the orphan asylums, clothing and feeding the helpless children; in the wards of the hospitals, healing the sick and alleviating the pains of the suffering ones, the wounded, the crippled, the unfortunates of the earth; in the homes for the aged, where peace and comfort soothe the last hours of those unable to help themselves; through any or all of the agencies which heal the soul or the body, that taint will disappear and the disinfection will be thorough. If modern methods of trade have tainted the money, modern methods of caring for humanity will purify it.

A telegram from Canada announces the formation of a new railway company to be in close alliance with the Grand Trunk-Pacific company of the Dominion. This new company is formed for the purpose of building branch railways all over the Dominion, feeders for the Grand Trunk-Pacific, but these branches are to be of such number and of such length that really the movement is of greater importance than the building of another transcontinental line. The branch roads to be built are to number more than twenty-three, and in Eastern Canada are to run to such important points as Halifax, St. John, Montreal and Ottawa. The greater number of these branches, however, will be built in the West, and at least one of them will run to Hudson's Bay. This is systematizing the development of the Dominion in a masterful manner, and is a proof of what can be done by enterprising men when capital is attainable.

If money was scarce or high in London such a project would never have been taken up or even formulated. The gold miners of the world have provided the funds to make such enterprises possible, and it was their success in giving the people plenty of metal to make dollars out of that placed the great orders upon the books of the United States Steel company. One can go still farther and say if it was not for Cripple Creek, South Africa, Alaska and Australia the United States Steel company would never have existed and the Pittsburg mill owners would still be as they were in 1894, 1895, 1896 and 1897, with good mills closed, fine ores unused, plenty of skilled workmen idle and no business in sight to amount to anything.

When people have not the money to pay for steel and iron products tariffs are about as useful as the flying spray of an ocean storm. Now the population of the world is getting more money every day and business will steadily and safely progress. A novel method of increasing the freight tonnage is being inaugurated by the Northern Pacific Railway company. Taught by the experience of the Iowa farmers in securing greater yields of grain by the selection of the very finest seed, which methods were made general throughout Iowa by special agents of the state giving instructions and demonstrations in each county, the Northern Pacific is about to send a "seed grain special" train over its lines through Minnesota and North Dakota.

This train will carry grain experts and a number of men thoroughly up in advanced agricultural methods and these gentlemen will lecture at local points along the railway to farmers and to others interested in production of better grain and an increase in profits from grain raising. The railway furnishes free the special train and special crew, but takes no direct part in the lectures, these being arranged by the officers of the farmers' institutes and the state officers in touch with agricultural affairs. It will without doubt be of profit to the farmers and ultimately add to the receipts of the railway company. It is a specially commendable procedure, and one that can be beneficialily adopted by all the great systems of the country.

James J. Hill is recognized as one of the most progressive of railway managers, and the territory he is secure in is being brought rapidly forward in all matters that will conduce to the increase of receipts in the treasuries of his companies. He on this side of our northern boundary and the Canadian lines on the other side are doing magnificent work, not only for their lines and their territories, but for the entire United States and the whole of the Dominion. If it were possible to select the scenes of the greatest activity for the next five years in development of natural resources, the Northwest and the Southwest would take high places. In each of them millions of new settlers will add their energies to the efforts of those already upon the ground, and with the skill and the ability to use the natural resources of the regions and the capital available to them, Hill in the Northwest and Harriman in the Southwest will work wonders in their respective spheres of action. Both of them realize the importance and magnitude of the Asiatic trade, and are preparing terminals that will accommodate fleets of commerce. Both of them appreciate the local business of their systems, and nothing will be left undone to build that up broadly, securely, certainly. Their terminals secure on the Pacific and in the East, both points alive with through business, the local trade will be promoted to a point equal in volume to that of systems in the populous Eastern states. Each of them has coal fields, oil territory, mines and minerals galore, agricultural lands in millions of acres, all of which can be made to contribute to the coffers of their roads. Millionaires are being rapidly created Northwest and Southwest, and will grow more numerous as the years go by.

MENTAL VIGOR restored by POSTUM
when coffee has done its work.
"There's a Reason."

Goes to Eastern Markets.

George Gray of the Gray Tallant Company has gone to New York, where he will join Mr. Tallant on an extended buying trip in the Eastern markets. Mr. Gray said before leaving that on account of the very satisfactory increase in the firm's business during the past year, the buying would be considerably heavier. "We are trying to give our customers the very best merchandise that can be bought in the world, and with wise and careful selections, to give them the finest assortment in our lines at the Head of the Lakes," said he.

Miss Cooper of the millinery department will leave tonight for the East on a buying trip and to get in touch with the latest ideas in millinery for the coming season. She will be gone about two weeks.

423 W. Superior St. | BARGAINS here by the thousands—we must make a clean sweep of everything, as we must vacate by February 28th, 1906.

Never before was such a sale seen in Duluth! Such marvelous bargains were never heard of before. Don't fail to attend this Great Sacrificing Sale. The opportunity may never occur again—fall in line and follow the crowds. | 423 W. Superior St.

FIRE, SMOKE AND WATER SALE

On the night of Jan. 27, fire broke out in the Lyceum Clothing and Shoe House, and, notwithstanding the heroic efforts of the firemen to save our beautiful store, the greedy flames damaged over $25,000.00 worth of the finest Clothing, Shoes and Furnishings in the Northwest. Our stock has always been acknowledged to be one of the very finest and best kept in Duluth, and includes such well-known brands as David Adler & Sons' Hand-tailored Suits and Overcoats, Cluett and Monarch Shirts, Arrow and Lion Brand Collars, B. & W. Gloves, Gordon, Stetson and Blake Hats, Weber Bros.' and the famous C. K. & S. Shoes. Also a large line of Ladies' Hand-tailored Suits, Skirts and Jackets and Children's Clothing and Shoes.

The Entire Stock Must Be Closed Out By Feb. 28 at a Discount of From 75 to 90 Per Cent.

SALE STARTS TOMORROW, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, AT 9 A. M.

Men's Clothing.

No. 1—250 Men's Fine Suits, formerly sold at $8.00 and $10.00—slightly damaged—at $2.98

No. 2—175 Suits—all-wool and fancy patterns, worth $12.50 and $14.00—go at $4.98

No. 3—275 Suits—extra fine, in fancy worsteds and tweeds, sold for $15.00 and $18.00—go at $6.98

No. 4—Your choice of 475 hand-tailored suits, such as David Adler & Sons and H. L. Herschfield and the famous S. & S. Clothing—worth $20 and $25—your choice at $8.98

500 Single Coats—pants and vests are burned—your choice $1.69

Boys' Clothing.

1 lot worth $2.00 and $3.00 per suit—now 99c

1 lot worth $3.50 and $4.00 per suit—now $1.69

1 lot Boys' Suits, ages from 4 to 16, in Norfolk, sailor and Etons, formerly sold for $4.50 and $5.00—now $1.98

Men's Overcoats.

The finest line of Overcoats in the city. Every coat a bargain at 30 cents on the dollar.

Men's Furnishings.

Cluett, Monarch, Wilson Bros. and Lion Brand Shirts—worth from $1.00 to $2.00—any size—your choice 59c

Men's fast black Sox, damaged by water, go at 8c

Men's 35c and 50c Sox—take your choice here for 19c

Men's 15c Linen Collars, not damaged, take your choice for 7c

Men's best grade 25c Suspenders—Fire Sale Price 11c

Men's very best Suspenders—Fire Sale Price 19c

Neckties worth 25c and 35c go on sale at 12½c

Neckties worth 50c and 75c go on sale at 29c

Men's Pants.

One lot—damaged—worth $4.00 and $5.00—your choice 59c

All-Wool Men's Pants—$2.00 and $2.50 quality—damaged—at 39c

Ladies' Skirts.

Ladies' Skirts that sold for $4.00 and $5.00—now $1.98

Ladies' Furnishings.

Ladies' fine Tailored Suits, sold for $18 to $20—will go at $2.98

Ladies' fine full length Coats—military fronts—sold regularly for $20.00 and $22.00—will be sold at $3.98

Ladies' Coats—blacks, blues and grays, with bear-skin collar—sold for $35.00—will go at $5.88

Ladies' Vests—heavy fleece-lined Undervests—were 50c—now 7c

Men's and Boys' Sweaters at your own price.

Men's Shoes.

One lot of Damaged Shoes—will go at 59c

Men's Shoes—good as new—sold for $2.50—will go at $1.19

Men's fine Shoes—in good condition—sold for $3.00 and $3.50—will go at $1.69

Men's Celebrated Sharod and Weber Bros.' $4.00 and $5.00 Shoes—will go at $2.48

Underwear.

One lot of Men's Shirts and Drawers—slightly damaged by water, sold for 50c—will go at 19c

1,000 Men's Shirts and Drawers, extra heavy, fleece lined—regular price 75c—will go at 29c

850 Shirts and Drawers, all wool—slightly soiled—regular price $1.25 and $1.50 per garment—will go at 59c

One lot of Shirts and Drawers, consisting of the Eagle and Swiss Conde Brands—the best woolen underwear manufactured—sold for $1.75 and $2.00 per garment—will go at 69c

REMEMBER THE DATE AND PLACE—Tomorrow, Thursday, Feb. 22, at 9 o'Clock, the Greatest Sensational Fire, Smoke and Water Sale Starts. To Miss This Sale Is to Lose Money. We Will Have 50 Salespeople to Wait on You. Come One and All.

LYCEUM CLOTHING AND SHOE HOUSE

Open Evenings Until 10 o'Clock. 423 WEST SUPERIOR STREET. (In Lyceum Building.) Open Evenings Until 10 o'Clock.

LAUNCHING POSTPONED

At Superior Shipyard From Next Saturday Until Next Wednesday.

The Superior Shipbuilding company of the other side of the bay had a launching scheduled for next Saturday, but owing to the inability to get the boat ready in time, the launching has been put off until the 28th, which is a week from today. At that time there will be dropped into the slip a steel hull, for the Hawgood interests of Cleveland. This will be a steamer, 545 feet long over all. Later on, another ship of the same dimensions, now under construction, will be launched.

As soon as the launching of next Wednesday is over, the keel will be laid for the 602-footer, which the yard will build for the Cambria Steel company. This will be one of the six giants which the Great Lakes will see late during the coming season. None of these boats will be out before August, and this one will be among the first. The keel cannot be laid until the first of the present boats on the stocks is out of the way.

MORE UNIFORM SYSTEM

Of Switch and Frog Blocking Wanted by Labor Department.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—The state labor department had a conference yesterday with representatives of the construction departments of most of the roads doing business in the state, for the purpose of considering the installation of a more uniform system of switch and frog blocking. The roads represented were the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Duluth, Missabe & Northern, Duluth & Iron Range, Omaha, Wisconsin Central, Minneapolis & St. Louis, Rock Island, Soo Line, Milwaukee, Burlington and the Chicago & Northwestern.

The state laws at present require the roads to place a block inside the "y" at frogs and switches to prevent switchmen getting their feet caught in between the rails when making flying switches. The inspectors find that the methods of blocking vary greatly on different roads. The department and the railroad men could not come to any agreement as to any uniform system for blocking. Some now use a flat block, some an angle block and some a metal block, and they stated they had no right to bind their companies to use any other. They agreed that the size of the blocks ought to be uniformly three by five inches and promised to use that size for all blocks they use hereafter.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

LOW COLONIST ONE-WAY RATES

Feb. 15th to April 7th, inclusive.

$25.00 — Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, Vancouver, Victoria and other North Pacific Coast points.

$22.50—Nelson, B. C., Rossland, B. C., Spokane, Walla-Walla, Wenatchee, Wash., and intermediate points.

$20.00—Helena, Butte, Great Falls, Kalispell and intermediate points.

$18.00—Hinsdale, Mont., and intermediate points.

$34.90—San Francisco, Los Angeles and all main line points in California.

$22.50—Denver, Pueblo, and Salt Lake City.

Round trip homeseekers rates of one fare plus $2.00 to Montana, Idaho, Washington (Wenatchee and east), and Oregon (Biggs and east), Feb. 6 and 20.

Low round-trip homeseekers rates to Southeastern and Southwestern states, Feb. 6 and 20.

City Ticket Office, 432 West Superior Street.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Jamestown Man Brought Back From California for Trial.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Jamestown—Charges of fraud and of altering school warrants whereby many thousand dollars have been illegally secured are made against Car Lewis, who has just had a preliminary hearing before Judge Burke at Carrington. Lewis, who had charge of the issuing of school warrants in Forester county, is alleged to have made alterations in the warrants whereby much money was secured. The changes in amounts are said to have been small, but as the operations are alleged to have continued over a period of five or six years, the aggregate sum will be large. Lewis was brought back to Carrington from California and was released on $1,000 bail. Sensational developments are expected when the case comes to trial.

Fargo—Marcus M. Bird of Walder, Minn., has contracted to sell a valuable farm of half a section of land in this county for thirty shares of Zion City bank stock, thirty-five shares of Zion City Manufacturing company stock and $80 in cash.

A wholesale stationery house will be opened here soon by Carl Greenwood and Rev. E. A. Orr, both of Mankato.

The commissioner of the general land office has rejected the application of C. A. Roberts to make final proof on a quarter section of land in the heart of the residence district of Fargo.

Wahpeton—The county superintendent of schools of North Dakota will hold their spring convention here on Feb. 24. The program consists of a series of papers and discussions as to the ways and means of increasing the efficiency of the public schools. Plans also will be made for the summer training school for teachers. The meeting this year is held at somewhat earlier date than formerly in order to allow the superintendents to attend the national department of superintendents, which meets at Louisville, Ky., the last of this month. The party will have a special car from Wahpeton to Louisville.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Lead—This city is all excitement over the attempted destruction last night of the home of Con Green, assistant foreman of the Homestake Mining company.

About 2 o'clock Tuesday morning people were awakened by the sound of a loud explosion. It could be heard all over town, and every part of the city felt its force. Someone had put dynamite under the porch of the Green residence and the porch and the front of the house were shattered. Only the fact that the destructive element was put so near the fork of the house prevented the wrecking of the entire house and killing all of its occupants.

Green's son, Edward, was reading in bed when the explosion occurred and received a severe shock, but no one else was injured. Windows in the high school building, just across the road, were shattered. Green is not known to have any enemies. He is one of the most trusted men in the employ of the company and has a wide circle of friends.

It is thought that the attempt must have been made by some laborer who was discharged and wished to be avenged. An investigation is being made.

Deadwood—The United States government has begun action in another land fraud case, and it is said that several other similar warrants have been issued and will be served shortly. Elmer Hawks, postmaster at Pedro, eighty miles east of Rapid City, was brought before the United States commissioner and, waiving examination, was bound over to the next term of United States court to be held at Sioux Falls in April. He is charged with subornation, and is said to have persuaded an old soldier to file on some land next to his, and to turn it over to him when the proof was completed. Final proof on this land in question was made at Rapid City last summer. From this and other irregularities the case was worked up by Special Agent P. B. Wadsworth of the department of agriculture.

Sioux Falls—Sheriff Webber of Sanborn county, who was one of those who planned the recent extensive wolf roundups in that county, was not discouraged by the failure of the recent hunt, during which the scores of sportsmen participating failed to see a single wolf, and is arranging for another grand round up, to be held tomorrow (Thursday).

Instead of striving to cover four entire townships, as was the case in the last roundup, only two full townships will be covered in the hunt this week—all of Jackson township, the north half of Silver Creek township and the east half of Warren township.

Sheriff Webber has appointed ten deputies, who will be in charge of the ten separate parties, which will start from different points and meet at a central point that has been decided upon.

A heavy snowstorm interfered with the last roundup, but those who intend participating in the event this week expect to return from the hunt with a large number of the wolf scalps.

Miller—One of the temperance organizations of the state is putting forth strong efforts to vote out the saloons at the spring elections. Besides holding prohibition meetings, a house to house canvass is being made by paid workers. This town is not an exception, the same energetic methods of work being outlined for all towns where a vote is to be had on the license question.

Believing that a land boom of tremendous proportions is about to strike this section, storekeepers have sold out and opened land offices, and cobblers have quit their lasts and branched out as real estate dealers. In fact, there are but few business men who do not carry a lot of land in addition to their regular line of trade or profession.

Nature's Laxative the Best

Many Are So-Called "Natural"

There are many laxatives on the market that are often styled "Natural" because of the well-known fact that the Laxative which Nature gives us is the best. Such ones are constantly coming up, but soon disappear because in reality they are manufactured, and can never attain the inimitable merits of the product of Nature. HUNYADI JANOS, the genuine NATURAL Laxative Water, has stood at the head for nearly half a century as the ONLY Laxative whose established reputation is its best recommendation. It remains always the standard because it is NATURE'S remedy in its original form, pure and simple, in no way dependent, as the others are, on artificial composition. At all Druggists. Try it.

A GAURANTEED CURE FOR PILES
Etching, Blind, Bleeding, Protruding Piles. Druggists are authorized to refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

VIRGINIA ASKED TO GIVE RIGHT

To the Northern Traction Company to Build Street Railway.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the council meeting last evening, R. F. Berdie of Hibbing, representing the Northern Traction company, made an address urging that body to grant to his company the right to use the streets of Virginia for the purpose of building a street railway to connect the range towns. He claims that notwithstanding the fact that the county commissioners have granted the Mesaba Range Traction company the privilege of using the county roads between the range towns, that is of very little advantage, as in the townships of Great Scott and Stuntz the roads really belong to the owners of the property over which they run, there being an agreement between the townships and the property owners that whenever the latter may desire to use the property, the roads will have to be moved. He further said that the road between Virginia and Eveleth could not be used because it is impractical to build a line over such grades.

Mr. Berdie gave assurances that his company would be ready to begin building as soon as the frost is out of the ground; that it would start first at the Hibbing end, but that it would give a surety bond guaranteeing to build into Virginia within a reasonable time. He named as members of the Northern Traction company, A. M. Chisholm, John F. Killorin, Gust Carlson, Max Rogalsky and P. H. Nelson, and said that about twenty other prominent business men were interested. He claimed that the company would not bond the road, but would build and equip it with their own money.

The council decided to lay the matter over until the Commercial club and citizens have had time to thoroughly discuss the question.

An effort is being made by the Virginia Commercial club to get representatives from the different municipal and commercial bodies together in a conference so that the best possible franchise may be secured. Replies have been received from the Hibbing and Sparta councils. The former is agreeable and says that if the conference is held in Hibbing the business men there will pay the expenses of the delegates. The Sparta council replies that whereas, no application for a franchise has been made to that body it would be unseemly for that organization to participate in a conference. It is further stated that every member of the Sparta council is in favor of municipal ownership.

The question of properly protecting the railroad crossings inside the city limits came up before the Virginia council last evening and the matter was referred to the ordinance committee.

George McEwen, whose grocery store on Duluth Heights was recently destroyed by fire, is in the city looking for an opening to go into business and has a deal under consideration.

All old-time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. Sold by all druggists.

LATE DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Two Trappers Have Exciting Experience While Lost in Woods.

Calumet—Two trappers, Will Lafournier and Henry Wise of Laird township, have just succeeded in reaching home, after having been lost in the woods around Silver mountain for several days. The men were almost starved, and were only able to reach home by a fifteen-mile trip down the Sturgeon river on a hastily-constructed raft. When they found their provisions running low they went on snowshoes to a lumber camp, where they succeeded in getting a little flour. On their way back to their camp they became lost and for three days wandered around with nothing to eat but pancakes which they made from the flour. Finally they struck the Sturgeon river and decided to try and make a lumber camp fifteen miles down this stream. They hauled two good-sized logs to the bank and succeeded in lashing them together with strings taken from their snowshoes. On this crude raft they started down the river and after many narrow escapes from drowning, finally reached the lumber camp in an exhausted condition.

Munising—M. D. Viou, cigar manufacturer at Munising, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. He places his liabilities at $1,800 and assets about $1,300. He has gone to the Soo, where he expects to secure employment at his trade.

Gladstone—The smallpox at Gladstone has not spread for two weeks; it is still confined to the families where it originally appeared, and a watchman is maintained to keep quarantine. Only three or four pupils are absent from school for lack of vaccination. The reports sent to the daily press convey a feeling of alarm which is entirely unwarranted.

Manistique—Bert Gilman, brother of Mrs. William Winsor of Munising, was killed in the caboose of a Manistique railway train at Germfask, Schoolcraft county, a few days ago. The accident happened in a very peculiar manner. Gilman was sitting in the caboose when in some unaccountable manner a log from the car ahead came through the door and struck him. He lived only five hours after the accident.

The up-to-date woman avoids caustics, drugs and powders. They are extremely harmful to the skin, while Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes it soft and beautiful. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

Persian Nerve Essence

RESTORES VITALITY—Have cured thousands of cases of Nervous Debility, Insomnia. They clear the brain, strengthen the circulation, make digestion perfect and impart a magnetic vigor to the whole being. All drains and losses stopped permanently, $1.00 per box; 6 boxes guaranteed to cure or refund money, $5. Mailed sealed. Book free. Persian Med. Co., 935 Arch street, Philadelphia. Sold in Duluth only by Max Wirth, 13 West Superior street.

In the Name of Sense, that good common sense of which all of us have a share, how can you continue to buy ordinary soda crackers, stale and dusty as they must be, when for 5¢ you can get fresh from the oven, protected from dirt by a package the very beauty of which makes you hungry.

Uneeda Biscuit

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

TO FIND NEW CONTINENT

Four Explorers to Start On Hunt in Uncharted Arctic.

Great Stretch of the Icy Sea to be Their Goal.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 21.—Four intrepid men are soon to make a dash into the frozen North to uncover the secrets that have until now defied all exploration. Two are Danes, one an American, and the fourth will probably be a young Englishman.

None of the other explorers who set out to discover the North Pole deemed it wise to make the experiment without a large crew and the most elaborate equipment. But at the beginning of April these four men will start out—Ejnar Kikkelsen of Copenhagen, captain, explorer, naturalist and hydrographist; Ejnar Ditlevsen, also of Copenhagen, zoologist and artist; Ernest de Koven Leffingwell of Chicago, and an Englishman, not yet decided upon.

Mikkelsen will shortly arrive in the United States to prepare for the start. Leffingwell is in this country. He is a research assistant in the department of geology in the University of Chicago. His studies have especially directed to glaciation and paleontology, with a view to equipping himself for his investigations in the Arctic. He has already been up there, having been a member of the Baldwin-Ziegler polar expedition.

It was on this trip that Mr. Leffingwell made the acquaintance of Mr. Mikkelsen.

Before Leffingwell and Mikkelsen came together, the Dane had already gone through the first experience as a Northern explorer. He was with Andrup in the Greenland East coast investigations of 1900 and 1901-1902. In each instance he made an excellent record. He bears a captain's certificate in the Danish merchant service, which is proof that he is a good seaman. Mr. Ditlevsen was also a member of the Greenland expeditions.

These three men are enthusiasts, but not visionaries, for they know exactly the situation that confronts them, and have practical plans to cope with whatever conditions may arise. So sanguine is Mr. Leffingwell of the success of the trip that he has put all his own money into it, even borrowing on interest from his father a portion of the Leffingwell estate. Mikkelsen and Leffingwell are equal partners. The Dane is not a man of means, but his reputation enabled him to get the assistance of wealthy persons in England, who subscribed his share.

The average explorer goes North with only the one idea in mind—his is after the pole, or at least the honor of making the farther-north mark. If he does not succeed in this, his voyage is a complete failure, devoid of practical result for all the outlay of cash and capital. The Dane and American have laid their plans differently. Finding the North Pole is but an incident of their trip. Primarily their trip is one of exploration and scientific investigation. They want to find land, they seek to investigate the natural conditions of some portions of the Arctic zone whose existence is already known. In the words of Mr. Mikkelsen, the object of the expedition is to find out the existence or non-existence of land to the north of Alaska and the west of Banks Land.

Since 1853 the existence of this land has been believed in by such men as Clements Markham and Admiral Osborn. Mikkelsen believes that north of Alaska and Wrangel Isle, there may even be a chain of islands, that being in the heart of the seal region may prove of commercial importance.

The four men will attempt a sledge journey across the Polar ocean from Cape Prince Alfred, which is the northwest corner of Banks Land. If the ice is favorable they may even attempt to reach a more westerly position, perhaps Wrangel Isle, before striking down for the coast of the continent. In order to tell whether they have crossed the edge of the continental shelf, they will carry sounding apparatus, which will permit of soundings as deep as 200 fathoms.

Capt. Mikkelsen will either buy a small sloop in San Francisco or take passage on a whaler for Siberia, where he will buy two ponies and about thirty-five dogs. In the meantime, the other three members of the party, headed by Mr. Leffingwell, will go north by the great American rivers. In August the junction of the parties will be made at the mouth of the Mackenzie river. From here the four men will go north on a whaler to Bathurst, or, if the weather permits, to Banks Land. Cape Keller is fixed upon as winter headquarters. A house will be erected there by one man and two Eskimos. Leaving one member of the party to take charge of the house, three others will push on along the coast in a boat, built for the purpose, and place sledging material and provisions at Cape Prince Alfred. In February, 1907, the explorers will say good-bye to the known map of the world, and set out for the ice that lies to the north. Provisions will be carried for 135 days. In that time it is hoped to have covered all the territory necessary.

Some members of the expedition are certain not to return, for Mikkelsen plans to kill the dogs for food, as the weight on the sledges is lessened by the consumption of the provisions. The country traversed may supply some fish or game, if not, the Siberian ponies may have to be sacrificed for food.

If land is discovered beyond Banks Land, the explorers will not content themselves with planting a flag. They have with them all the instruments needed for a complete survey, and Mr. Leffingwell will study geology. The unprecedented mild weather predicted for the next two years may permit them to accomplish more than has been possible to their predecessors.

The party will come back by way of Bathurst and the Mackenzie river. Here all the collections, pictures and instruments will be left in charge of the garrison at Fort Macpherson.

The Yellow Fever Germ

Has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs, the most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria poison and constipation. 25c at all drug stores.

You Cannot Buy Purer Whiskey

than HAYNER, no matter how much you pay or where you get it. We have been distilling whiskey for 39 years. We have one of the most modern and best equipped distilleries in the world. We know of nothing that would improve our product. Perfection in the distiller's art has been reached in HAYNER WHISKEY, which goes direct from our distillery to YOU, with all of its original purity, strength, richness and flavor. It doesn't pass through the hands of any dealer or middleman to adulterate. You thus save the dealers' big profits. You buy at the distiller's price, at first cost. Don't you see the economy in buying HAYNER WHISKEY, as well as the certainty of getting absolutely pure whiskey?

United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

"I have used HAYNER WHISKEY for medicinal purposes in my family and have found it very satisfactory. I believe it to be a number-one medicinal whiskey."
Thomas S. Martin, U. S. Senator from Virginia.

HAYNER WHISKEY

4 FULL QUARTS $3.20 EXPRESS PREPAID

OUR OFFER We will send you in a plain sealed case, with no marks to show contents, FOUR FULL QUART BOTTLES of HAYNER PRIVATE STOCK RYE or BOURBON for $3.20, and we will pay the express charges. Take it home and sample it, have your doctor test it—every bottle if you wish. Then if you don't find it just as we say and perfectly satisfactory, ship it back to us AT OUR EXPENSE and your $3.20 will be promptly refunded. How could any offer be fairer. You don't risk a cent.

Orders for Ariz., Cal., Col., Idaho, Mont., Nev., N. Mex., Ore., Utah, Wash., or Wyo., must be on the basis of 4 Quarts for $4.00 by Express Prepaid or 20 Quarts for $15.20 by Freight Prepaid.

Write our nearest office and do it NOW.

THE HAYNER DISTILLING COMPANY

St. Paul, Minn. Atlanta, Ga. Dayton, O. St. Louis, Mo.

1402 DISTILLERY, TROY, O. ESTABLISHED 1866.

WILL START WORK SOON

Soundings to Be Made for Channel to Ore Docks.

Dredging Operations Will Involve Removal of 1,000,000 Cubic Yards.

One of the most important dredging operations in the Duluth-Superior harbor this season will be started just as soon as the ice is out of the upper bay.

This work will be the dredging of a channel about 2,500 feet long, 250 feet wide and 20 feet deep, from the north channel at the Missabe ore docks, directly across the bay, and connecting with the south channel on the Superior side of the water.

The contract for this work has been let by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company to the Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company of Chicago, the contract being one of assets of the Lake Superior Contracting & Dredging company, when that concern sold out to the Chicago company, some time ago.

It is expected that a sounding party will be started out this week to take soundings and mark out the proposed channel across the bay, and the dredges will be put in operation just as soon as the ice gets out, so that it will not interfere with the work, and the tugs can handle the scows to be used in conveying the sand out to the dumping grounds in the lake.

The contract is said to involve an expenditure in the neighborhood of $850,000. There will be about 500,000 cubic yards of material to be removed in digging the channel, and about 500,000 cubic yards to be removed from around the new ore dock now under construction for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company.

The average depth of water between the channels, at low water datum, is now seven feet. The new connecting channel will have to be dredged out to an additional depth of thirteen feet all the way across the bay.

Whether the new channel will be completed for use this season will depend, it is said, on the number of dredges that will be put in operation on the contract. With 1,000,000 cubic yards of material to remove it would take one dredge, with a capacity of 160,000 yards per month, about ten months to do the work. Two dredges would complete the work in five months, and additional dredges in a corresponding shorter period of time. It is not understood that very many dredges will be used, however, for the reason that the tugs could not handle the sand scows fast enough.

The chanel across the bay from the ore docks will be a great advantage to the ore shipping interests as well as the railway company owning the docks.

During the past several years there have been frequent collisions of boats with the ends of the ore docks in the attempt to turn the vessels from the channel into the slips at the docks, and the damage thus incurred has been no small item of expense.

The channel across the bay will permit of the ore boats coming from the south channel directly across, and into the slips, without making a turn, thus obviating the chances of collisions with the ends of the docks.

The convenience of the new channel will be even more noticeable to the vesselmen. As the present time the ore boats in going from the Duluth canal to the Missabe ore docks have to make practically five turns, some of them very short corners, and the handling of the larger class of ore boats around these turns is attended with no little amount of worry to the vesselmen. With the connecting channel between the north and south channels of the harbor at the ore docks practically three of these turns will be done away, the boats to take the south channel instead of the north, ofter leaving the interstate draw. Only one turn will then be required after leaving the interstate bridge, and that from the south channel into the channel leading to the ore docks.

As soon as the ore boats begin to follow the new route there will be less occasion for the opening of the Northern Pacific draw bridge on the Duluth side of the bay, while the Superior draw will have to open for the largest percentage of boats passing through the interstate draw. While there will be lumber boats from time to time going by the north channel to the West end docks all the ore boats and the boats bound to the coal docks, flour docks and elevators in Superior, will make use of the draw on the south side of the bay.

HE IS THE KAISER'S MAN.

Emperor William Named His Closest Friend as Foreign Secretary.

Berlin, Feb. 21.—Another "kaiser's man," as men in Germany who typify the ideals and characteristics of Emperor William are called, has been summoned to a high post in the imperial government's service—Herr von Tchirschky-Boegendorff, who has been appointed imperial secretary for foreign affairs. Herr von Tchirschky, as he is known, the final appendage of his name being dropped in ordinary usage, is a Saxon like Baron Speck von Sternberg, Germany's popular ambassador in Washington. He is just the kaiser's age, 47, and his appointment to the responsible position of foreign minister is another of those "personal choices" of which the strenuous Hohenzollern monarch is so fond. Although he is advanced to the highest position in the foreign affairs department of the imperial government from a comparatively minor birth, that of Prussian minister-resident in the "republic of Hamburg," it develops that he has long been one of Emperor William's intimate advisers on matters of exterior policy, and has come to enjoy William's confidence in a high degree. He has been a traveling companion on board the Hohenzollern on numerous occasions and has shot stags and wild boars with the kaiser for many seasons.

Something bordering on real human comradeship is said to exist between the emperor and his new foreign secretary. It is to this fact that public opinion ascribes Von Tchirschky's elevation, rather than to demonstrated ability, which he may possess, but of which the great public knows practically nothing. The new secretary, however, is believed to be a "kaiser's man" through and through—that is, a genuine sharer of William's political views and a conscientious interpreter thereof. Such a man as Count Helmuth von Moltke, the new chief of the German general staff.

Von Tchirschky brings to his new post great talents as a linguist. He speaks fluently German, English, French, Italian, Russian and Turkish, and can make himself understood in Swedish, Danish and Norwegian. In exterior appearance he is keen-eyed and sharp-visaged and is said to be a diplomat of remarkably few words. The German foreign secretaryship is, however, very much subordinated to the imperior chancellor who, with the kaiser, pretty much monopolizes the conduct of the Fatherland's foreign affairs, but it is freely predicted that Von Tchirschky's strength of character and personal ability will do much to raise the foreign secretaryship to a level of real influence, instead of the semi-private secretaryship of the chancellor which it has hitherto constituted.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

CAPTAINS OF THREE FLEETS

Appointed for Coming Season by Managing Owner Wolvin.

A. B. Wolvin, managing owner of the Peavey Steamship company's fleet, the Provident Steamship company's fleet and the Acme Steamship company's fleet, has given out the appointment of masters for the coming season. Only one change from last year's list is made. That is on the steamer Frederick B. Wells of the Peavey fleet. Capt. Alexander Craigie, last year master of the steamer John Crerar of the Great Lakes & St. Lawrence fleet, is appointed master of the Wells in place of Capt. Alva Shaver. The appointments of the Great Lakes & Lawrence fleet are not yet ready for publication. The appointments for the other fleets follow:

PEAVEY STEAMSHIP COMPANY.
Steamers. Masters.
Frank H. Peavey...A. G. Tappan.
George W. Peavey..L. E. Boyce.
Frank T. Heffelfin-John Tower.
ger .....Alex. Craigie.
Frederick B. Wells.
PROVIDENT STEAMSHIP COMPANY.
James H. Reed.....F. P. Houghton.
D. G. Kerr.....E. D. Ballentine.
D. M. Clemson.....S. R. Chamberlain.
James H. Hoyt.....W. A. McLeod.
ACME STEAMSHIP COMPANY.
Augustus B. Wolvin (big).....J. W. Norcross.
F. C. Rae.
James C. Wallace..

CRIMINALS IN PARIS.

Life and Property Are Endangered by Gangs of Toughs.

Paris, Feb. 21.—Unless something is done to increase the Paris police, this city will soon be as unsafe as a Western American mining camp. While the old city and the Faubourg St. Germain are comparatively free from criminals, the boulleues are becoming places where it is hardly safe to venture out after nightfall unless one is armed to the teeth. The "Apaches"—those gangs of depraved youths—are bolder than ever, and, though dozens of them are caught and sentenced every week, they seem to be like the hydra in the Greek mythology, new recruits taking the places of those captured. The Socialists in the municipal council are largely responsible for this, as they are opposing every plan to render the police more efficient, and it appears in many places as if the citizens themselves will have to organize vigilance committees to protect their lives and property.

One of the most dangerous gangs of toughs, the "Band of the Wooden Leg," composed of mere boys, none of whom was over 19, was recently captured. Their chief, Paulain, and his aides, including Laudrin, "of the beautiful eye;" Portier, "the artist;" Cadreit, "the paleface," and Spec, "the monkey," are all behind bars, and will remain there for years. Paulain, "the wooden leg," was quite a genius as an organizer. He recruited his followers from boys who had previously been in conflict with the law, and for whom he lay in wait outside the gate of the prison of "Petite Roquette." His gang was divided into squadrons, one of which did nothing but shoplifting, another did pocket picking, a third committed burglaries and a fourth second story work and highway robbery.

Drunkenness

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system. No "will power" can heal the stomach membranes which have been burned and seared by alcohol.

ORRINE

Cures Whiskey and Beer Habit

ORRINE removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the effected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal condition, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment or publicity.

To cure without patient's knowledge, buy ORRINE No. 1; for voluntary treatment, buy ORRINE No. 2. Price $1 per box.

Cure Effected or Money Refunded

A registered guarantee in each box. Book on "Drunkenness" (sealed) mailed free on request. All correspondence confidential. ORRINE mailed (sealed) on receipt of price by the ORRINE CO., Inc., Washington, D. C., or sold by

F. W. KUGLER, 108 W. Superior St., Duluth.

GROUPING OF BUILDINGS

Several Cities Spending Vast Sums to Assemble Government Structures

Duluth Already Has Good Start on Such a Plan.

The location of the new courthouse at the corner of Fourth avenue west and First street makes possible the ultimate grouping of all the public buildings of the city in one locality, such as is being done in several of the larger American cities.

Elaborate plans for the grouping of public buildings around some central court are being considered by several cities. Such an arrangement would add distinction to the central part of the city and introduce some of the element of beauty usually found only in the best residence districts.

In Washington, where a commission has been at work for three years, an ambitious scheme has been sanctioned for the arrangement of the public buildings on or near a great avenue 900 feet wide.

Cleveland is actually completing a plan which was once declared to be ideal but impracticable, modeled on the plan of the Court of Honor at the Chicago World's fair. A mall in the heart of the city will be surrounded by the government buildings, local and federal, all to be designed with the idea of conformity in architecture.

St. Louis is planning to follow Cleveland's lead and establish a great municipal court on which to build its public structures.

In St. Paul it is proposed to make the magnificent new capitol the center of a group of public buildings, and in Buffalo a triangular area has been marked off for the same use. Philadelphia also has something of the same nature in view.

In Duluth, when the new courthouse has been completed, there will be two beautiful and stately structures occupying the entire block from Fourth to Fifth avenues west on First street. If in time a handsome new city hall could be erected in the immediate vicinity, it would give Duluth the grouping of public buildings for which so many other cities are now planning to spend vast sums of money.

It is doubtful if any of the cities mentioned could provide such a prominent site, commanding a view of the city, and attracting the immediate attention of the visitor or tourist.

The idea has its practical side as well as appealing to the sense of the beautiful. The location of all the government buildings together, facilitates the transaction of business greatly, and would effect a very considerable saving in the cost of keeping the records of all kinds.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle, and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SECRET POLICE VERY COSTLY

Millions of Dollars Expended on Them Annually in Russia.

Moscow, Feb. 21.—Two and a half million dollars is what the secret police cost Russia last year. This year it is expected that that sum will be greatly exceeded. In order to justify this lavish expenditure of money the secret police have been filling the prisons with suspects on the slightest provocation. This force is the right arm of the reactionaries and strikes like a terror in the dark. Agents of the secret police invade every sphere of Russian life and a man's intimate friend and neighbor may be one of its feared members.

During the coming year immense sums are to be added to the secret police fund, which has tremendously increased during the last forty years. In the sixties it did not exceed the equivalent of $75,000. During the seventies, when the Nihilists movement aroused the anxieties of the government, it jumped to $175,000; in the year of Alexander's assassination to $220,000, and in 1893 it rose to $650,000. It has been increasing ever since, and what the summit will reach during the coming year no one dares to guess.

In spite of the deplorable state of the treasury $11,500,000 will be added to the budget for police purposes. Of this sum $500,000 is to be set aside for the families of the members of the police force killed or disabled during disturbances.

QUEEN ATTENDED A SEANCE

Strange Things She Saw and Heard Greatly Impressed Alexandra.

London, Feb. 21.—It has just leaked out that a few weeks ago Queen Alexandra was actually present at a Spiritualistic seance. There is in London a very exclusive Spiritualistic set, known as "The Inner Circle." Its members meet usually in an artist's studio in Regent park. Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir William Crookes, the famous scientists, who take an interest in Spiritualism, have often been to these seances, where spirits are "materialized" and phenomena have occured which, it is declared, no one can explain away on ordinary grounds. A great friend of the queen went to one of the seances about two months ago. The medium generally employed is a delicate little man about 30 years old, but he is extremely independent, and will often refuse to take any interest in the proceedings, so that the seances are often cancelled. The one at which the queen was present so impressed her that she told the king about it, and a "command" was given to the medium to appear in Buckingham palace. So many instructions, however, were given to the medium to insure secrecy and so elaborate were the directions as to the particular door he should enter the palace by that the medium flatly refused the "command."

How Good Food may Turn to Poison

DECAY is not digestion, you know, even when it takes place in the stomach.

Food decayed in the body after being eaten is as dangerous to health as food decayed before being eaten.

Food nourishes or poisons, just according to how long it remains in the Bowels undigested.

Cascarets are the simplest and surest safeguard against Delayed Digestion yet discovered.

* * *

Sold in a thin Enamel Box, half as thick as your watch, which fits into the vest pocket or lady's purse as if it grew there.

In this round-edged Enamel Box are found six small Candy Tablets.

One of these toothsome tablets works wonders for digestion.

Soon as placed in the mouth it starts the Saliva flowing, which at once gets to work dissolving it.

The Saliva becomes blended with the Candy Cascaret tablet, and from the moment they start going down your throat together they start working together.

Now, what do they work at? Bowel-work, of course—Digestion.

* * *

Most of the Digestion occurs in the thirty feet of intestines that connect with the Stomach.

They are lined with a set of little mouths, that squeeze Digestive Juices into the Food eaten.

The Digestive Juices thus mix with the food, just as Saliva mixes with Cascaret tablets, dissolving and changing that food into nourishment, as it passes along the channel.

The Intestines are also lined with millions of little suction pumps, that draw the Nutriment from Food, as it passes them in going through.

* * *

This Nutriment is then carried into the Blood, and spread over the Body as Brain, Bone and Brawn.

But, when the Bowel-Muscles are weak, the Food moves too slowly to stimulate the little Gastric Mouths and there is no flow, or too little flow of Digestive Juice, to change the food into nourishment.

Then, the food decays in the Bowels, and in the thirty feet of Intestines.

When this Decay begins the little suction pumps draw Poison from the decayed Food, into the blood, instead of the Nutrition it should have drawn.

Now, Cascarets contain the only combination of drugs that Stimulates these Muscles of the Bowels and Intestines just as a Cold Bath, or open-air Exercise, stimulates a Lazy Man.

Cascarets therefore act like Exercise.

They produce the same sort of Natural result that a Six Mile walk in the country would produce, without any injurious Chemical effect.

The Vest Pocket Cascaret Box is sold by all Druggists, at Ten Cents.

Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

* * *

☞ FREE TO OUR FRIENDS!

We want to send to our friends a beautiful French-designed, GOLD-PLATED BONBON BOX, hard-enameled in colors. It is a beauty for the dressing table. Ten cents in stamps is asked as a measure of good faith and to cover cost of Cascarets, with which this dainty trinket is loaded. 725

Send to-day, mentioning this paper. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

YOUNG MEN AS CARDINALS.

Pope Pius Has Indicated a Change in Church Policy.

Rome, Feb. 21.—Pope Pius X feels so keenly the recent deaths of his cardinals, especially those elevated by himself, that he entertains a strong reluctance to creating new princes of the church. When word was brought to him that his great personal friend, Cardinal Caligari, was likely to die, he exclaimed:

"After this I shall choose my cardinals according to their age and health, not according to merit. I cannot bear to hear of their being even ill."

The new idea of creating young prelates cardinals would open up the way to two candidates to the purple who have thus far been neglected, principally because of their immature age from the church point of view—namely, Archbishop Bourne of Westminster and Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Minn. England has long been without a cardinal, but Pius X, when approached on the subject, has invariably replied: "But the archbishop is too young."

The consistory, which must be held soon, probably will be full of surprises. The attitude of the present pope toward his cardinals is strangely in contrast with the late pontiff. Pope Leo, during his long reign, acquired a certain stoicism in seeing his cardinals pass away, and in the end took a curious pride in being the last of his generation.

YACHT NEEDS REPAIRS.

Kaiser's Mediterranean Trip to be Made in Borrowed Vessel.

Berlin, Feb. 21.—The kaiser will not be able to undertake his intended Mediterranean cruise on board his yacht, the Hohenzollern. When the yacht was drydocked some time ago a thorough examination revealed the fact that it was badly in need of repairs, which it will take several months to complete, even if the many interior changes in the arrangement of the cabins which the kaiser desires could be rushed through in time. Every time the kaiser undertakes a cruise in his yacht he finds many changes absolutely necessary, no matter what the cost, a fact which the Socialists repeatedly have commented upon because the state and not the kaiser bears the expense. The cost of these changes made during the last ten years now amount to more than 500,000 marks. This year the kaiser will undertake his Mediterranean cruise on board the new luxurious turbine steamer Kaiser, which has been placed at his disposal by her owners. The Vorwaerts contends that it would be much better for all parties if the kaiser did not have a yacht of his own, as there would always be steamship companies willing to supply him with a vessel, both because of the decorations with which he rewards such service, and because of the free advertising.

PARIS IS SPEED MAD.

The Season Has Come for Automobile, Balloon and Boat Races.

Paris, Feb. 21.—The one subject of conversation in Paris has again become that of racing, and already plans are being made for mad competitions of speed in automobiles, balloons and motor boats. Every year at this season Paris gets an attack of racing fever, and the entire population is haunted with the idea of the glorification of extravagant motion, whether it be on the sea or land or in the skies. So Paris will again be treated to the spectacle of the handsome Mme. du Gast clinging to the wreck of a racing motor boat and being rescued at great peril from a briny grave. Of course, everybody who goes in for these sports knows, or ought to take into account, that they are bound sooner or later to meet with a violent death. But much they care, indeed! So long as they can establish a record, they don't mind sacrificing their lives—or anybody else's. Just now Mme. du Gast is off the coast of Morocco training for the forthcoming Mediterranean motor boat races, while the natives stand on the shore and stare in amazement.

Paris knows a good deal about the plans for the race and the people who will be numbered among the contestants, but what Paris don't know is whether the French government is going once more to put its Mediterranean squadron at the disposal of the race committee for the purpose of fishing luckless contestants from the waves. It is hardly likely.

AMERICAN WOMAN A HUNTER

Mrs. Frank Mackay Said to be Most Reckless Rider.

London, Feb. 21.—When an American gets bitten with the hunting fever she is far keener even than the English sportswoman. Mrs. Frank Mackay, who has her home in Warwickshire, not content with following the Warwickshire hounds and getting only four days' hunting a week, has now taken to driving in a motor car all the way to Melton Mowbray, in Leicestershire, where she is now hunting the two odd days, thus filling up the entire week. She is becoming more and more of a hard rider, and is at times a little dangerous to others in the field. Last week she thought a cottage in Melton would be a saving of petrol, so she has taken a tiny house in the High street from Lady Augusta Fane. There is just room for six in the dining room. Mrs. Mackay is now trying very hard to get her husband to make his permanent home in England. In a center of malicious gossip such as Leicestershire, the secret of Mrs. Mackay's great popularity is that she has never been heard to say disagreeable or unkind things of another woman.

MERCURY MAKES WRECKS NOT CURES

Thousands who have had their health ruined by Mercury testify that it makes wrecks instead of cures in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison. While it may mask the disease in the system for awhile, when the treatment is left off the trouble returns with renewed violence, combined with the disastrous effects of this powerful mineral. Mercury, and Potash, which is also a common treatment for Contagious Blood Poison, eat out the lining of the stomach and bowels, produce chronic dyspepsia, cause the teeth to decay, make spongy, tender gums, affect the bones and muscles, and leave its victims complete physical wrecks. Another effect of this treatment is mercurial Rheumatism, the worst and most hopeless form of this disease. There is but one certain, reliable antidote for this destructive poison, and that is S. S. S. It is the only medicine that is able to go into the blood and cure the disease permanently. S. S. S. does not hide or cover up anything, but so completely drives out the poison that no signs of it are ever seen again. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and while curing Contagious Blood Poison, will drive out the effects of any mineral treatment. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral of any kind. Book with instructions for self-treatment and any medical advice wished furnished without charge.

S.S.S.
PURELY VEGETABLE.

I suffered greatly from Contagious Blood Poison. I consulted physicians who prescribed Mercury. Nothing did me any good—in fact the treatment proved more harmful than beneficial. A friend told me that S. S. S. had certainly cured him, and I immediately commenced its use, and in a short while I could find no trace of the disease. This was two years ago, and I can truthfully say I am entirely cured.
Bowling Green, Ky. D. M. SANDERS.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

WE SHOW THE NEW THINGS FIRST.

New Neckwear. New Hosiery.

KENNEY & ANKER

New Hats. New Shirts.

409-411 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.

Only Three Days More of Our Clearance Sale

Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Ely Meyer $35.00, $30.00 and $25.00 high character suits at, choice---- --------- $14.75

Kenney-Anker "Special" $20.00, $18.00 and $16.00 Tailor-Made Suits in all sizes — your choice at---------- $9.75

MEN'S HAND-TAILORED OVERCOATS HALF PRICE

BOYS' SUITS HALF PRICE | BOYS' OVERCOATS HALF PRICE

The Oriental Turkish and Vapor Bath Parlors.

Seventh avenue west, opp. the Incline, have the most modern and completo equipment in the Northwest. The up-to-date treatment for rheumatism and kindred diseases.

Prices 25c and 50c.

APPROPRIATIONS SLIGHTLY LESS

For Indians and Indian Schools in State of Minnesota.

Washington, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house committee on Indian affairs today concluded its labors on the Indian appropriation bill, and reported it. The bill carries a total appropriation for various Indians and Indian schools in Minnesota of $336,130, as against $349,655 appropriated in last year's bill. The appropriations this year for Indian schools at Morris and Pipestone were reduced. The Steenerson amendment, carrying an appropriation of $150,000 to be expended in draining Indian lands, was placed in the bill, and will carry.

MINERS APPROPRIATE

Fifty Thousand Dollars to Aid in Defense of Accused.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—The Illinois district convention of the United Mine Workers of America appropriated $50,000 today in aid of President Moyer and Secretary Hayward of the Western Miners' Federation.

A MINNEAPOLIS MAN IS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—B. L. Rice, 22 West Grant street, was probably fatally injured today in an automobile accident at Franklin avenue and Lake boulevard. He was trying out a new machine, which skidded and plunged over an embankment, the full weight of the car being thrown upon Mr. Rice's head. His skull was fractured and his recovery is doubtful. Mr. Rice is 70 years old and is father-in-law of Judge H. D. Dickinson of the district court.

RIGHT PRICED GROCERS.

O'Leary & Campbell

The Old Reliable Store
15 East Superior Street

The Grocery of Big Values!

We submit a few For Tomorrow:

Potatoes, per bu	60c
Fresh Eggs, per doz.	19c
Dairy Butter, per lb.	20c
Creamery Butter, per lb	25c
Sour Pickles, per gal	20c
Breakfast Mackerel	2 for 25c
Small Mackerel	4 for 25c
4 lbs. Good Rice	25c
Pure Baking Powder, per lb.	25c
5-lb Cans Good Baking Powder	50c
10c Sack Salt	5c
10c Package Starch	5c

Telephone Your Order 199

CITY BRIEFS

Barbara Hibbing and Barbara Lutz have started suit in district court against William Burnett and others to clear title to lot 14, block 63, Oneota.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Johnson returned from Hibbing this morning with Matt Jacobson, of the Stevenson mine location, who was to be examined this afternoon for insanity. Jacobson has resided in this state and county for the past seven or eight years.

J. R. Zweifel has returned from a trip to California. During his absence his studio in the Phoenix block has been redecorated and renovated and is now again in readiness for work.

The Duluth Ski club will hold its weekly tramp this evening. Members will meet at the corner of Fourth avenue west and Sixth street at 7:45 o'clock.

The Women's Mission Society of the Hope church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. C. Hassinger, 409 South Nineteenth avenue east.

Free illustrated lecture on Canadian Northwest Thursday night at 8 o'clock, at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. Everyone invited to come and learn of the wonderful resources of the country.

The suit of Charlotte Thompson and Thomas Thompson against the E. I. Du Pont company to obtain possession of a 40-acre tract of land in Hermantown, has been concluded before Judge Cant and has been submitted to the court on briefs.

Duluth's "White City" committee will hold a meeting before the end of the week, when plans for establishing an outdoor place of amusement in Duluth will be presented and discussed.

The meeting of the Browning class will have to be postponed from tomorrow to Friday morning at 10:15 because of the closing of the library, it being a legal holiday.

Duluth Observatory No. 39 of North Star Benefit association will meet tomorrow evening at 202 Twentieth avenue west to consider the time for monthly meetings, as the Observatory could not get Sloan's hall for the date decided upon at the annual meeting in December.

PERSONALS

A personal yesterday announcing that "Dr. Walker left for New York" did not refer to Dr. A. E. Walker, who is in the city, but to Dr. Horatio Walker, who has recently come to Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turle and children of East Superior street will leave this evening for a four months' visit in England.

Dr. J. D. Park left today for St. Paul, to be away until Saturday.

A. C. Ribenack has returned from the Twin Cities.

H. A. Starkey left over the South Shore road for New York today.

W. B. Shaver left for Ishpeming, Mich., today.

F. D. Orr left for Ishpeming, Mich., today.

C. H. Giddings left over the Omaha today for Boston.

J. C. Greenway left for Ishpeming, Mich., today.

C. H. Lutes left for Chicago today.

O. W. Brodine left for Ishpeming today.

Miss Maud Cooper left over the Omaha for Chicago today.

Mrs. H. E. Lincoln returned to Fargo, N. D., this morning, after visiting in the city for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Finn of Hancock, Mich., were in the city today on their way to Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kugler of Red Wing, Minn., are guests at the Lenox.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Baker of Ashland, Wis., are at the Lenox.

W. Brening of Fargo is at the McKay.

Bradbury School of Music.

Piano, vocal and violin instruction.

MAY BE MINISTER.

Milwaukee, Feb. 21.—With every feature of clothing and bodily appearance tallying with that of Andreas Frederickson, a lay reader in the Methodist church, it is thought that the man found dead in Chicago, a bullet wound in his head and a revolver lying within a few inches of his hand, is the minister, who is well known in Milwaukee among Lutheran ministers.

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it.

LEAD MERGER A GO.

New York, Feb. 21.—Although official announcement of terms will not be made for several days, it is understood that the merger of the United Lead company with the National Lead company practically has become authoritative. The earnings of the United Lead company from Dec. 1 last, it is learned, will go to the National Lead company, the deal being considered effective as of that date. It is believed that the two concerns will conduct the business under separate organizations for some time to come.

Washington's Birthday Matinee.

Lyceum. Don't miss it.

ARGUMENT.

Is the sense of smelling more pleasing than the sense of tasting?" was the subject before a debating club in Skowhegan recently, says the Boston Herald. James Keys, a man of few words, was the last to speak in the negative, and all were anxious to hear what he had to say. When the time aproached for him to speak, he rose slowly, walked to the other side of the room and rang the bell. He ordered a glass of hot whisky punch and drank it off with great gusto. Then, turning to his opponents, he handed the empty glass to the leading disputant, and thundered: "Now, sir, smell it." It is almost needless to add that Keys carried the decision for the negative.

ELOPEMENTS.

How French Young People Elude Their Vigilant Parents.

On the other side of the Channel "mariages de raison," as they call them, are much more numerous than here, where love is the chief factor in arranging unions, says M. Tessier in the London Daily Mail. When Cupid plays his pranks in French families he often disturbs a carefully built up scheme, and the long cherished project of marrying Marguerite to Monsieur Paul (because M. Paul has a good position and Marguerite a respectable dowry) falls down like a house of cards. The skilfully darted arrow has pierced Marguerite's heart, and Paul may try everything in order to please her—his case is hopeless, because Lucien, who is younger, smarter and less commonplace, haunts the dreams of the girl.

Here is a deadlock. How is this to be overcome? In one way alone—run away! Elopement is the only means to compel papa and mama to give their consent. It would be much simpler to give it at once. But if men always took the simplest course life would be too easy. Two hundred years ago such an elopement would be carried out with horses, cavaliers and swords; nowadays motor cars, chauffeurs and pints of petroleum adequately supply their places. Modern invention invades every branch of our existence—even elopements.

A few months ago in Paris a young man who passionately loved a certain young lady called at her father's house with a friend in a motor car. He was disguised as a chauffeur in a bearskin overcoat and big blue goggles, rendering him completely unrecognizable. The young lady entered the car, ostensibly for a short run. Crossing Versailles the friend asked them to stop, as he wanted to buy some postcards. When he came out of the shop the motorcar had vanished. The best of the story is that he, himself, did not know of the intended escape.

Later on father and son-in-law became such good friends that a few days after the marriage the old gentleman got a bill from his daughter's husband, who was a humorist, which ran as follows:

Motor car hired for four days	£20
Damages for two dogs injured	50
The same for an old woman	10
Picture postcards to friends and acquaintances	2
Eau-de-Cologne, violette, heliotrope for Suzanne (who could not bear the smell of the engine)	5
	£87

Ten per cent discount since I married Suzanne.

Many French girls are educated in convents, a custom which, happily, is disappearing, not only because M. Combes turned them out, but also on account of the narrow-minded and one-sided education received there; in fact, up-to-date parents don't wish to see their girls reach the age of 18 without having the slightest idea of real life. But, as you can imagine, convents, more than any other places, are very often the scene of romantic elopements.

I remember a few years ago an extraordinary elopement happened in the South of France, somewhere on the Riviera, a young girl of 19—the daughter of a Russian nobleman—invented a fine plot to escape from her convent-prison. One day her lover, a French artist, former pupil at the Ecole des Beaux Arts, got a letter, in which she urged him to call at the convent and to introduce himself as the doctor of the Prefecture on a tour of inspection.

The scheme was rather a daring one, as the young artist did not know much about medicine; anyhow, he did it. A farcical scene was acted during which the lover felt the pulses of a couple of dozen of young girls, prescribing harmless embrocations for some sweet syrups or mustard plasters for others. The worst of it all is that he had to examine carefully the old cook of the convent. Ah, if it had not been for his girl's sake!

He was just leaving the house, when cries were overheard, and two nuns rushed on him and led him quickly to one of the pupils' rooms. She had just fainted. He at once uttered a grave diagnostic, and said he would call again after dinner. So he did, and she was not doing better, he said to the mother superior, who was in tears:

"This young girl is very ill; my carriage is at the door, and I'll take her immediately to the hospital; my responsibility is at stake, madame!"

Ten minutes later the young painter and the little Russian gentlewoman drove along the road to Cannes arm in arm, overjoyed and mad with love!

As a matter of fact, young people who elope nowadays are almost heroes; they fight against social prejudices and vulgar arrangements where money plays the main part, and they generally deserve all our sympathy. The light hearted and easily moved French public is always keenly interested in adventures of this kind, and is always ready to look with indulgence at young couples whose only sin is to love each other.

It has stood the test for 30 years.

White Loaf Baking Powder

Highest in quality.
Lowest in price.

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT.

INFORMED OF TERMS

American Development Stockholders Notified of Saginaw Merger.

Calumet & Arizona Dividend is Regular—Copper Stock Market.

The mining property at Bisbee belonging to the Saginaw Development company has been acquired by the American Development company, the latter a company controlled by Thomas F. Cole and his associates. The Saginaw Development company has been owned and worked by Saginaw, Mich., people. They have sunk a shaft 912 feet deep, have several levels established, a pumping plant capable of pumping 500 gallons a minute and a larger pump now being built. The promoters concluded, however, to merge their property with those of the Cole interests and that is what has been done.

A circular has been sent to stockholders of the American company explaining the deal. The present capitalization of the company is 50,000 shares of $10 par, upon which $2 has been paid. A call of another $1 is made which brings the amount paid in to $3. Another 50,000 shares is to be issued and given to the Saginaw people in payment for their property. This stock is to be $3 paid as is the other, and therefore, like the other, subject to assessment of $7 more. The Saginaw people have spent $280,000 on their property which means that their stock really costs them $5.60 a share.

The deal is believed to be a very good one for the American company. The property adjoins its holdings and this will give it a shaft down 900 feet, whereas is now has none, and from this drifting can go forward. The Saginaw has already proved that it has ore and that the body extends across the American property.

A meeting of the company is to be held at Bisbee, March 7, and action will then be taken on the matter by the American stockholders.

The directors of the Calumet & Arizona company met today at Calumet, Mich., and declared the regular quarterly dividend of $2.50 a share. It is payable March 20 to stockholders of record March 3.

* * *

Copper stocks had another dull time of it today. Amalgamated opened at $111.12½, went to $111.87½ and fell to $109.50, while United Copper fell to $70.50 after opening at $71. United Copper closed at $70.50 bid and $71.50 asked. North Butte opened at $86 and dropped to $85.25, closing at $85.25 bid and $86 asked.

The Bisbee stocks were quiet. Calumet & Arizona was inactive and closed at $117 bid and $118 asked; Calumet & Pittsburg sold at $36.50 and closed at $36.50 bid and $37 asked; Junction at $28 bid and $29 asked; Lake Superior & Pittsburg sold at $44 and closed at $44 asked, and Pittsburg & Duluth closed at $23 bid and $25 asked.

Black Mountain was inactive and closed at $12.25 bid and $12.75 asked; Keweenaw at $16 bid and $16.50 asked; Warren at $17.50 asked; Copper Queen of Idaho at $2 asked and Sullivan at $2 asked.

COMMERCIAL CLUB SMOKER

Public Affairs Committee Will Hold One in Club Rooms.

The public affairs committee of the Commercial club will hold a smoker in the club rooms during the latter part of next week, probably on Friday evening, at which members of the club will be present. A feature of the evening will be an address by Prof. J. A. Merrill of the Superior state normal school on business and professional men.

He talked on the same subject recently in Duluth before a meeting of club women, comparing the relative value and importance of the business and professional man in a way that attracted quite a lot of comment. There will also be a musical program and other features of interest.

Allen Doone,

"Kerry Gow," matinee, tomorrow and night.

THE DELPHIAN CLUB

Will Debate Comparative Merits of Business and Professional Careers.

"Resolved, that professional life offers greater opportunities than business life" is the subject for debate at the Delphian club, in the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening. F. T. Downing and H. B. Steventon will have the affirmative and E. P. Smith and R. P. Roberts the negative.

Following the debate there will be a short discussion on "What Lawson has really accomplished" and an inprompu address on "What are proposed solution of the railroad rate problem," by Edward Mapp.

THE FUNERAL OF JOHN A. M'CALL HELD IN NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 21.—The funeral of John A. McCall, late president of the New York Life Insurance company was held today at the Roman Catholic church of the Blessed Sacrament in Seventy-first street. The church was crowded and the street in front of the church was filled for half a block with hundreds of persons, who could not get into the edifice. The body was taken from the church to Woodlawn cemetery for interment, which was private.

OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

New York—Arrived: Heeland, from Antwerp.

San Francisco—Arrived: Manchuria, Hongkong and Yokohama, via Honolulu.

WORKMEN ELECT NEW OFFICERS

M. C. Tifft of Long Prairie Chosen Grand Master Workman.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officers were elected this morning at the thirtieth annual meeting of the Minnesota grand lodge of the A. O. U. W., at the old capitol, as follows:

Grand master workman—M. C. Tifft, Long Prairie.

Grand foreman—J. T. Sanborn, Brainerd.

Grand recorder—Charles E. Larson, St. Paul, re-elected.

Grand receiver—J. F. McGuire, St. Paul, re-elected.

Grand guide—Peter A. Nelson, Red Wing.

Grand inside watchman—August G. Floerkey, Minneapolis.

The retiring grand master workman, W. B. Anderson of Winona, receives the title of past grand master workman.

The election was presided over by Past Supreme Grand Master W. Warne Wilson, of Detroit, Mich.

An amendment of the constitution was adopted this morning providing that the subordinate lodges in Minnesota, shall in the future, instead of electing their trustees annually, elect each trustee for a term of three years, thus having the majority of the trustees hold over after each annual election.

DIVORCES IN THE DAKOTAS

Held to be Valid in England by Decision of Court.

London, Feb. 21.—The validity of a Dakota divorce in England was today affirmed by Sir John Correll Barnes, judge of the divorce court division of the high court of justice. The questions were raised in the case of Mrs. Armytage, who petitioned the court to declare her marriage to Edward Armytage valid. She formerly was the wife of Charles Gillig, an American, living in London and North and South Dakota, where she obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion and subsequently married Mr. Armytage. Mr. Gillig also remarried, but last year began proceedings to nullify his marriage on the ground that the divorce which his first wife obtained in South Dakota was not binding upon him and that consequently his second marriage was invalid. Justice Barnes has now decided against Mr. Gillig's contention.

LANDSLIDE

Wrecks Train, Causing Death of Four---Two Passengers Missing.

Redding, Cal., Feb. 21.—The wreck of the southbound Oregon express train on the Southern Pacific railroad by a landslide near Delta, last night, resulted in the death of four persons and the injury of several others. The dead:

DENNIS FREEL, engineer, and three tramps.

Two passengers are missing.

Matinee Tomorrow---Night.

The sweet Irish singer, Allen Doone.

Temple Roller Rink

Washington's Birthday Matinee—Thursday Afternoon, Feb. 22.

GOOD MUSIC.

CONFESSES MURDER.

Woman Admits She Killed Husband and Then Takes Poison.

Des Moines, Feb. 21.—Just before swallowing the fatal dose of poison, an act of self-destruction, committed after all hope of securing a pardon from the Iowa legislature had vanished, pretty Sarah Kuhn wrote with her own hands a confession, in which she admitted putting to death her aged husband, Jacob Kuhn. The confession is now in the hands of the police, and was made public today for the first time. It details the plot which resulted in the death of her aged husband, and gave to her a supposed freedom to wed a younger lover, a hope never realized. Two years ago the legislature was split over the question of a pardon, and would undoubtedly have granted it this year had she lived.

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 21.—Samuel Thomas, the largest manufacturer of pig iron in the United States, died today at his home in Catasaqua, Pa., aged 79 years. Mr. Thomas was a son of David Thomas, who first successfully introduced the anthracite blast for the manufacture of pig iron.

Southington, Conn., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Sylvia Langdon Dunham, the second oldest person in this state, died today aged 105 years. The oldest person in the state, Mrs. Debora Stillman of Easton, who is 106 years old today, is seriously ill as the result of shock caused by the death of her son, which occurred yesterday during the fire at his home.

Honolulu, Feb. 21.—James Arthur Laing died yesterday at Queens hospital. Laing was a Scotchman, 62 years old, and had been employed here several years as a searcher of records. He is said to have been a fellow of the Royal Geographical society and to have conveyed the remains of Explorer Livingston from Zanzibar to London, and is also said to have been a member of Henry Stanley's Niger expedition.

LIBRARIANS MEET.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—The sixteenth annual meeting of the Wisconsin Library association opened today with 200 delegates present. The meeting was in the nature of a dedication of the $75,000 Carnegie library, which was opened today.

F. D. DAY & CO

DIAMOND AND GEM MERCHANTS

Gifts for the baby's christening or birthday are not always easy to find, but our stock contains many suitable things at a wide range of price.

J. M. GIDDING & CO. J. M. GIDDING & CO.

Tomorrow Special Sale of Silk Shirt Waist Suits

We are closing out our silk shirt waist suits left from the season's business. About twenty-five in all—Come early while the selection is good.

$10.00

Silk Shirt Waist Suits—in taffeta and Aeolian silk, checks, stripes and plain colors—formerly sold from $22.50 to $35.00—at $10.

Dress Skirts $5.75

A clearance of Dress Skirts in black and colors—Panama, cheviots and twines — some are silk trimmed, formerly sold up to $21.50 —at $5.75.

J. M. Gidding & Company

The Style Store. The Different Store.

Too Late to Classify

Hair Dressing, Shampooing, Scalp Treatments, Facial Massage, Manicuring and Children's Hair Cutting at Miss Horrigan's

FOR RENT — DETACHED HOUSE, eight rooms, furnace heat, bath, gas. Apply on premises, 925 East Second street.

FURNISHED ROOMS—HEATED. $1.25 per week. 231 East Superior street.

WANTED—DININGROOM GIRL AT Ohio Cafe. 617 West Superior street.

WANTED—500 BUSINESS MEN TO EAT at the Chicago Lunch, 311 West Superior street.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

John R. Osquist and Marie C. Nordlund.

Charles Sullivan and Lena Don Hanson, both of Bayfield, Wis.

Emil Donielson and Hilda Korum.

Samuel A. McMation of Lewis and Clark county, Mont., and Anna M. Mackie.

BIRTHS.

MARSHALL—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Marshall at St. Mary's hospital, Feb. 20.

DILLON—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Dillon at 25½ West Fifth street, Feb. 12.

SCHNEIDER—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider of Fourteenth street and Second avenue west, Feb. 17.

POLSKI—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James J. Polski of 726 East Third street, Feb. 12.

SCHAF—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schaf of 631½ East Third street, Feb. 19.

ANDERSON—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of 321 Devonshire street, Feb. 16.

HORGAN—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horgan of 206 Thirty-second avenue east, Feb. 20.

DEATHS.

SCADIN—Mrs. Josephine Scadin, aged 21 years, of 1019 West Second street, died last evening at St. Mary's hospital.

BUILDING PERMITS.

L. C. Harris, frame dwelling on Minnesota avenue, between New York and Randolph streets, to cost 1,800

Andrew Olson, stone foundation under building on Fifty-sixth avenue west, between Nicollet and Gosnold streets, to cost..... 500

SUMMONS IN APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION OF LAND.—State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.

In the matter of the application of Reuben S. Goodfellow to register the title to the following described real estate situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, namely:

North half of northeast quarter, south half of southeast quarter of section numbered 28, northwest quarter of southwest quarter of section numbered 25, all in township numbered 58 north, range numbered 15 west,

Applicant,

vs.

C. D. Shepard, and all other persons or parties unknown, claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the application herein.

Defendants.

The State of Minnesota to the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the application of the applicant in the above entitled proceeding and to file your answer to the said application in the office of the clerk of said court, in said county, within twenty (20) days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and, if you fail to answer the said application within the time aforesaid, the applicant in this proceeding will apply to the court for the relief demanded therein.

Witness, J. P. Johnson, clerk of said court, and the seal thereof, at Duluth, in said county, this twenty-first day of February, A. D. 1906.

J. P. JOHNSON, Clerk.
By V. A. DASH, Deputy.

(Seal of Clerk of District Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)

ALFORD & HUNT,
Attorneys for Applicant.

Duluth Evening Herald, Feb. 21, 28, March 7.

SUMMONS IN APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION OF LAND.—State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.

In the matter of the application of Reuben S. Goodfellow to register the title to the following described real estate situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, namely:

Northwest quarter of southwest quarter and south half of southwest quarter of northwest quarter of section numbered 23, township numbered 58 north, range 15 west,

Applicant,

vs.

Walter C. McCall, and all other persons or parties unknown, claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the application herein.

Defendants.

The State of Minnesota to the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the application of the applicant in the above entitled proceeding and to file your answer to the said application in the office of the clerk of said court, in said county, within twenty (20) days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and, if you fail to answer the said application within the time aforesaid, the applicant in this proceeding will apply to the court for the relief demanded therein.

Witness, J. P. Johnson, clerk of said court, and the seal thereof, at Duluth, in said county, this twenty-first day of February, A. D. 1906.

J. P. JOHNSON, Clerk.
By V. A. DASH, Deputy.

(Seal of Clerk of District Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)

ALFORD & HUNT,
Attorneys for Applicant.

Duluth Evening Herald, Feb. 21, 28, March 7.

SMALL GAIN LOST LATER

Wheat Firmer Early But Fails to Hold Its Advance.

Higher Foreign Markets Bring Sharp Bulge in Flax.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 21.—Liverpool was ¼d higher today, and the political outlook was given as being responsible for the strength. This gave a stronger tone to American markets at the opening, but it was not maintained. The fine weather in America is largely responsible for the weak tone. The export situation is poor and the flour milling business is not good. Paris was ½c to 1¼c higher, Berlin and Antwerp unchanged and Budapest ¼c higher.

The May option closed unchanged in Duluth, New York, Kansas City and Winnipeg, ⅛c higher in Chicago, ⅛c lower in Minneapolis and ⅛-¼c higher in St. Louis.

Corn was lower, the May option in Chicago falling ¼-⅜c and Liverpool being unchanged to ¼d higher. May oats in Chicago advanced ⅛c.

Car receipts at Duluth were 72, against 8 last year, and at Minneapolis 422, against 0 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 499, against 8 last year, which was a holiday. Chicago received 19, against 0 last year, Winnipeg received 131, against 63 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 604,000 bus; last year, holiday. Shipments, 187,000 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 196,000 bus.

Primary receipts of corn were 782,000 bus. Shipments, 420,000 bus. Clearances of corn were 674,000 bus.

Wheat was quiet in the local market today. May wheat opened ⅜c higher at 81⅝c and at 11:15 had declined to 81⅜c. At 12:27, the price had rallied to 81⅝c and at 12:41 had fallen to 81¼-⅜c. The closing price was 81¼c, no change from yesterday. July wheat was inactive and closed unchanged at 82⅝c.

Flax was strong and active in the local market. The foreign markets were also strong, the price of flax being 3¾c higher in Antwerp and 1¾c higher in London. There was considerable buying here. The market was much stronger at the opening and during the first hour of trading the price of May flax rose 2¼ points. Much of the strength of flax abroad was due to the discouraging official report of crop conditions in India.

May flax opened ⅝c higher at $1.14½, advanced to $1.15¾, dropped to $1.15¼ and advanced to $1.16¾ and declined to $1.16. The price then advanced to $1.16⅞, fell to $1.15¼ and advanced to $1.15¾. The closing price was $1.15⅝, a gain of 1¾c over yesterday. July flax opened 1¾c higher at $1.17 and advanced to $1.17⅝, fell to $1.17¼ and advanced to $1.18. The price then fell to $1.17 and rallied to $1.17⅜. The closing price was $1.17, a gain of 1½c over yesterday. September flax opened 1c higher at $1.15, advanced to $1.16⅜ and fell to $1.16¼. The closing price was $1.15½, a gain of 1½c over yesterday.

May oats were ⅛c higher. Oats to arrive and on track were 1½c higher and the other coarse grains were unchanged.

Following were the closing prices:

Wheat, to arrive, No. 1 northern, 80¼c; No. 2 northern, 78¼c; on track, No. 1 northern, 80¼c; No. 2 northern, 78¼c; May, 81¼c; July, 82⅝c. Durum, No. 1, 73c; No. 2, 70c. Flax, to arrive, $1.15⅜; on track, $1.13½; May, $1.15⅝; July, $1.17; September, $1.15⅝; October, $1.14⅝. Oats, to arrive, 29c; on track, 29c; oats, 29½c. Rye, 60c. Barley, 38½-45c.

Cars inspected: Wheat, 72; last year, 8; oats, 16; rye, 1; barley, 18; flax, 47; last year, 8.

Receipts: Wheat, 36,823; corn, 7,689; barley, 2,375; flax, 37,683; last year, 2,349.

Shipments: Wheat, 3,731.

Cash Sales Wednesday.

No. 1 northern wheat, 4 cars $0.80
No. 1 northern, 1 car ..... .80¼
No. 1 northern, 1 car ..... .80¾
No. 1 northern, 1,500 bushels ..... .80
No. 1 northern, 3,000 bushels ..... .80¼
No. 2 northern wheat, 3 cars ..... .79½
No. 2 northern, 1 car ..... .79⅝
No. 2 northern, 2 cars ..... .79
No. 3 wheat, 3 cars ..... .77⅝
No. 3, 2 cars ..... .78⅛
Rejected wheat, 1 car ..... .77
Durum wheat, 1 car No. 1 ..... .73
Durum 1 car No. 2 ..... .70
Flax, 1 car 1.12¼
Flax, 1 car 1.12⅜
Flax, 1 car 1.12¾
Flax, 5 cars 1.13
Flax, 1 car 1.14
Barley, 1 car ..... .30
Oats, 1 car No. 2 white ..... .29½
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white ..... .28¾
Oats, 1 car No. 4 white ..... .28½

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Influenced by Higher Prices at Liverpool Wheat Opens Strong.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Influenced by higher prices at Liverpool the wheat market here today opened strong on active buying by shorts. The May option was up ¼@⅝c to ⅞@1⅛c at 82¼@82⅝c. The market, however, failed to retain its initial firmness prices yielding materially on free selling by pit traders. The May delivery lost all of its early gain, the price dropping to 82⅜@⅝c. The selling was due largely to continued mild weather in the United States. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 513 cars against 286 cars last week and a holiday a year ago.

The low point for May was touched at 82c. The market became firmer during the last hour on covering by shorts. The close was steady, with May ⅛c higher at 82⅛@⅜c.

Liberal local receipts induced active selling of corn by provision interests and resulted in a weak market. At the opening a fairly steady tone prevailed, but it soon gave away under the selling pressure. May opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 43@43⅛c and declined to 42¾c. Local receipts were 344 cars with 3 of contract grade.

The corn market became weaker during the day because of the lower prices for cash corn, reported from several grain centers. The low price of the day was 42¼@⅜c. A slight rally took place late in the day, but the close was easy, with May off ¼@⅜c at 42⅝@⅜c.

Oats opened steady, but eased off in sympathy with other grain. Trading was quiet and chiefly of a local character. May opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 29⅜@⅝c to 29⅜c and sold off to 29⅛c. Local receipts were 153 cars.

A 10c decline in the price of live hogs caused an easier tone in provisions. Trading, however, was quiet. May pork was off 7½c at $15.60. Lard was down 5c at $7.70. Ribs were 2½@5c lower at $8.10.

Close: Wheat—May, 82⅜@⅝c; July, 81½@⅝c. Corn—May, 42⅝@⅜c; July, 43⅜@½c. Oats—May, 29⅛c; July, 29¼. Pork—May, $15.60; July, $15.27½. Lard—May, $7.72½@7.75; July, $7.82½@7.85. Ribs—May, $8.17½@8.20; July, $8.22½@8.25. Rye—Cash, 66c; May, 65c. Flax—Cash northwestern, $1.13½; southwestern, $1.08½; May, $1.15.

GIVE US ORDERS TO SELL TO ARRIVE ON BULGES

C. C. WYMAN & CO.

DULUTH. GRAIN COMMISSION. MINNEAPOLIS.

We are headquarters for

Bonanza Circle

AND

North Butte Copper Stocks

PAINE, WEBBER & CO

BANKERS AND BROKERS.

328 West Superior Street.

EDWARDS - WOOD CO.

(Incorporated)

Dealers in

Stocks, Grain, Provisions

Main Office

Fifth and Robert Sts., ST. PAUL, MINN

J. A. MINNEAR & CO.

Brokers

Copper Stocks

Curbs a Specialty

LAURIUM, MICH.

For special bargains in Panhandle Smelter, Minerva, Anglo-Saxon, Sassy Sal, or any other stocks, especially Bisbee Arizona, Cananea, Mexico, Tonopah, Manhattan, Bullfrog or Goldfield Nevada, write me as I have just inspected these mines personally and can give you the latest information.

R. B. HIGBEE,

410-411 Germania Life Bldg., St. Paul.

Timothy—March, $3.35. Clover—Cash, $14. Barley—Cash, 37@32c. Cash wheat—No. 2 red, 84@85c; 2 hard, 82@83c; 2 durum, 80¾@82¼c; 3 hard, 77@81c; 1 northern, 82@84c; 2 northern, 81@81c; 3 spring, 78@83. Cash corn—No. 2, 38¼@¾c; 3, 37@38¼c. Oats—No. 2, 29½c; 3, 29¼c.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, Feb. 21.—Wheat—Spot, nominal; futures, steady. March 6s 8¼d; May, 6s 6¾d; July, 6s 6¾d. Corn—Spot, American mixed, easy, 3s 11d; American mixed, old, quiet, 4s 7½d; futures, quiet, March 4s 11½d; May, 4s 1d.

American Wheat Markets.

	Duluth.	Minneapolis.	Chicago.	New York.
May—
Open	...81⅝B	81¾-½	82¾-⅞	88¼B
High	...81⅝	81½	82⅞	88½-⅝
Low	...81⅜	80¾-¾	82	87⅞-88
Close	...81¼B	81B	82¼-⅝B	88⅛-⅜
Close 20	....81¼	81⅛	82⅜-½	88¼
July—
Open	...82⅝B	83¼	81⅝-82⅛	87¾A
High	...83	83¾-¾	82⅝	87⅞
Low	...82	82½-⅝	81⅞	87
Close	...82⅝B	82⅞	81½-⅝	87¼B
Close 20	...82⅝	83	81⅝	87⅜

St. Louis—	Close 21.	Close 20.
May	80⅜-½	80¼
July	79⅝	79⅜-¼

Kansas City—
May	75⅝	75⅝
July	73¼	73⅜-¾

Winnipeg—
May	77½	77½
July	79	78⅞

Chicago Oats, Corn and Pork.

	Oats.	Corn.	Pork.
	May.	May.	May.
Open	....29⅝B	43⅛	$15.60
High	....29⅝-30	43⅜	15.02
Low	....29⅜	42¾	15.49
Close	....29⅝B	42⅝-¾	15.60

Duluth Car Inspection.

Wheat—No. 1 hard, 11; No. 1 northern, 22; No. 2 northern, 15; No. 3 spring, 7; No. 4 spring, 3; rejected, 2; No. 1 durum, 2; No. 2 durum, 4; No. 3 durum, 6; total of durum, 12; total of wheat, 72; last year, 8.

Flax—No. 1 northwestern, 7; No. 1, 46; total, 47; last year, 1. Oats, 16; rye, 1; barley, 18.

Total of all cars, 154. Cars on track today, 53

Minneapolis Wheat.

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—Close: Wheat—May, 81c; July, 82⅝c. No. 1 hard, 80¾c; 1 northern, 80¼c; 2 northern, 78¼c.

New York Grain.

New York, Feb. 21.—Close: Wheat—May, 88¼c; July, 87¼c; September, 88⅛c. Corn—May, 48⅝c; July, 49c; September, 49⅞c.

Grain Gossip.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—The sharply higher cables this morning gave our market a firm start, but the opening proved to be high point for the day. The strength at the opening was attributed to the strength in the foreign markets, Liverpool finally closing ¼d decline. The splendid outlook for the winter wheat crop, as viewed from the present weather standpoint, offset largely whatever bullish feeling was created by the cables, with market dipping to the 82c mark again for the May, from which point a smart rally developed. Financial circles abroad were disturbed early by the continued holding out of Germany and France in settling up the Morrocan question. At one time it was reported that France would make no further concessions, but it was not given out, from what we could get, as an ultimatum. This undoubtedly was a factor contributing to short covering, as did also a spread of the feeling that we have had a good break in wheat from 88c and at or around the 82c mark, market seemed to show stubborn resistance. Market is in position to do better if cables on Friday morning and over the holiday should give us any encouragement.

Corn and Oats—These markets continue to grow in favor to a better range of prices. As in wheat, the early decline was followed by the rally which carried oats to a closing of ½c better than yesterday with corn losing ⅛ to ¾c for the day. There seems nothing new to touch upon other than that trade is broadening out and there seems more disposition on part of the shorts in both markets to cover on the moderate recessions.

* * *

Edwards, Wood & Co.: Wheat—On the whole the market was influenced more by bullish reports than these of the other kind. Pressure has been continuous now for a couple of weeks. A natural recaction is due and on recessions wheat can be bought with confidence.

* * *

Chicago Tribune: Indications are for a heavy accumulation if corn in Chicago unless current low prices check farmers' sales. Every grades show large gains. A large proportion of the current arrivals that driers have begun operations on a large scale. Discounts of low grade corn from contract delivery prices are so wide that driers can operate at a big profit. A good share of yesterday's corn, however, was too low grade even for the driers, the wet and mild weather deteriorating its previous condition materially. This proved unfortunate, as the usually active industrial buyers were temporarily blocked and could not take care of any corn. Late in the day, however, the Gluecose company came into the market and secured eighty cars at 35c per bu., thus undoubtedly preventing a further decline. This was the lowest price of the crop and showed a decline of ½c to 2c from the prices ruling Monday.

New York Money.

New York, Feb. 21.—Money on call easier, 3@5 per cent; ruling rate 5, closing bid and offered at 3; time loans easier; sixty and ninety days and six months 5¼ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5½ per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86.25@30 for demand and at $4.82.50@80 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.83½@4.84 and $4.87@½; commercial bills, $4.82½. Bar silver, 69½c; Mexican dollars, 51½c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds heavy.

St. Paul Live Stock.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.Cattle—Receipts, 700. Steady, grain fed steers, $4@5.50; cows and heifers, $2.60@4.25; stock steers, $2.50@3.75; calves, $2@5. Hogs—Receipts, 6,500, 10c lower. Range, $5.80@6; bulk, $5.90@5.95. Sheep—Receipts, 200; steady; $3.75@6; lambs, $4.50@6.50.

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Cattle—Receipts, 20,000; best steady; others 10c lower; beeves $3.80@6.25; cows and heifers, $1.50@4.80; stockers and feeders, $2.75@4.70; Texans, $3.50@4.40. Hogs—Receipts, 40,000; 5 to 10c lower; estimated tomorrow, 25,000; mixed and butchers, $5.55@6.22½; good, heavy, $6.15@6.25; rough, heavy, $5.95@6.10; light, $5.55@6.17½; pigs, $5.70@6.05; bulk of sales, $6.10@6.20. Sheep receipts, 22,000; weak; sheep, $3.50@5.75; lambs, $4.75@7.10.

SMOKING OF TRAINS.

Accommodations for smokers in railway trains, which is now being discussed, says the London Chronicle, dates back only to 1868, and on October 1 it will be thirty-seven years since travelers were first entitled to smoke by rail. The question was raised as an amendment to a board of trade bill regulating the railway system and providing, among other things, for means of communication between the passengers and the guard, and also imposing a penalty of $2,000 on any company conveying principals, seconds or spectators to a prize fight. A clause enjoining smoking carriages was proposed by Mr. Sheridan, M. P. for Dudley, and carried by a majority of sixteen, after a debate in which John Stuart Mill made his last speech in the house, earnestly supporting the reform and recommending with remorseless logic that the last carriage in the train should be reserved for smokers.

CURIOUS QUESTION.

Kansas City Journal: A curious question of law has come before the Maine courts. A bishop and the rector of a parish are being sued for libel by a man excommunicated by them. The supreme court has just held that there is a cause for action. The dismissal from the church is undoubtedly prejudicial to a man's character, but it is a nice question to what extent the courts should interfere with church discipline.

A Shipping Mine!

400 Tons Already Gone To the Smelter—$55.00 a Ton.

Sixteen mining claims—$150,000 expended already in tunneling, trams, buildings and other improvements. This is the record of the H. T. & F. Mining Co. A block of 50,000 shares is now offered to investors at very low rate. Call or write.

The Happy Thought and Fairview Minning Co.

Parlor G, St. Louis Hotel.

MINING STOCK BARGAINS

I have from one thousand to ten thousand shares of the following stocks listed with me for sale:

Anglo Saxon	7c
Empire Tunnel	27c
Bonanza Queen	20c
Seyler Humphrey	35c
Manhattan Combination	15c
Panhandle Smelter	9c
Mount Vernon Consolidated	19c
Buena Ventura	3c
Overland	6c
Blizzard	11c
Bullfrog Extension	27c
Parry Sound Copper	4c
Johnson Nickel	50c
North American	9c
Golden Opportunity	10c
Olympia	7c
Salmon River	12c
Standard Mining & Milling	30c
Elmendorf	4c
Alaska Central Pfd	$6.00
Minerva	4c
Sassy Sal	19c
Arizona Copper Mt	4c
Red Top	$2.00
Red Top Extension	7c

R. B. HIGBEE,
Mining and Investment Broker,
410-411 Germania Life Bldg.,
St. Paul, Minnesota.
Established In 1899.

WALTER W. CARR
BROKER,
PRIVATE WIRES.
MANHATTAN BUILDING.
Phones 1805.
Reference—City National bank.

Unlisted Copper Letter.

	Feb. 21.	1906.
C. & A.	116	118
C. C. & C.	36¾	36¾
L. S. & P.	43	44
Junction	28	28¾
P. & D.	23	23¾
Black Mountain	.....	12¾
Keweenaw	15½	15¾
American	.....	15½
Manhattan	6	8
Warren	17	18
Wolv. & Ariz.	6¼	6¾

Market opened at about yesterday's figures, and closing tonight shows little change. Trading was rather light, accordingly tomorrow, but all Calumet & Pittsburg and Junction offered around 36¾ and 28¾ quickly taken. Some inquiry Lake Superior & Pittsburg and Pittsburg & Duluth. Meeting Calumet & Arizona directors at Calumet this afternoon. We are in receipt of information from good authority confirming strike of ore in Briggs shaft. We received following from Bisbee today: "Hoatson shaft cut some fine looking ore this morning."

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Market Was Weaker With Small Rallies Near the Last.

The Closing Was Slightly Irregular But Generally Easier.

New York, Feb. 21.—Prices declined a fraction at the opening of the stock market today, with the exception of a few specialties. The market was affected by the depression abroad caused by the Moroccan complication. Great Northern preferred dropped 4 points, Northern Pacific 1 and Wabash and Canadian Pacific large fractions. The volume of business was moderate.

After successfully restoring the opening losses and obtaining some margin besides, the market weakened again and some stocks fell to a lower level than at the beginning. Momentary advances of 1 to 1½ in Reading, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Soo, Colorado Fuel, Locomotive and Brooklyn Transit were yielded and losses established of 2¼ in Northern Pacific and 1 to 1⅜ in Missouri Pacific, Northwestern, Colorado & Southern, Smelting and Lead. The market was still heavy at 11 o'clock and showed but little improvement.

After lying idle and almost motionless prices run off sharply. The drop in Great Northern preferred reached 6¼, Northern Pacific 3½, Delaware & Hudson and Tennessee Coal 3, Smelting 2½, Northwestern 2¼, Lead 2 and Reading, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, New York Central, Louisville & Nashville, Denver & Rio Grande, Amalgamated Copper and others a point or more. The declines were made on small sales. The market came to a standstill again without a rally. Bonds were heavy at noon.

The market was apparantly bare of supporting orders, but the decline ceased at intervals without any rally. Among the largest net losses were Federal Mining 6¾, Lead 4, General Electric 2¼ and St. Paul, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Wabash, Locomotive, Brooklyn Transit, Colorado Fuel and People's Gas 1 to 1¾.

An extension of the decline brought practically all prominent stocks within the range of 1 point losses. Except for the continuous pressure which was considered of significance because of the inability of the market to shake it off, very little in the way of news or gossip was in circulation. Amalgamated Copper fell 1¾ and Pressed Steel Car 2½. Smelting 3¼ and Federal Mining 5¾.

Prices touched the lowest average of the day after 2 o'clock. There was a small rally on short covering by room traders in the bear crowd, but the downward drift was resumed. Delaware & Hudson fell 4, Illinois Central 2¼, Reading 2½ and United States Steel and Pennsylvania a point. There were some small rallies at the last, making the closing slightly irregular but generally easier.

Quotations furnished by Edwards, Wood & Co., Room A, Torrey building:

Stocks—	High	Low	Close
Atchison, pfd	103	102½	102¾
do com	90	89	89¼
Smelter, com	163	155¾	160¼
American Woolen	45½	44¾	44¾
Aml. Copper	111⅞	109½	110
B. & O. Ry.	110¼	109⅞	110⅜
C. R. I. T.	82⅛	79⅝	80⅛
Can. Pac. R.	173	171¾	172⅝
C. & O.	56¼	55½	55½
C. F. I.	63⅝	62½	62⅞
C. G. W., com	21¼	20¾	20¾
Erie 1st, pfd	77⅞	77⅜	77⅞
Erie, com	44	42¾	42¾
Ills. Cen.	173	171¾	172⅜
Central Leather	42⅞	42¼	42½
L. & N.	147½	146	146
Mex. Cen.	25	24⅜	24⅜
Met. Ry.	117	116¾	116¾
Mo. Pac.	100¼	99	99⅜
Manhattan	159	159	159
Norf. & West.	87⅜	87	87
N. Y. C.	149¾	147⅜	148
O. & W.	50¼	50⅛	50¼
People's Gas	98⅜	97½	97⅞
Pacific Mail	46½	45⅝	45⅜
Penn. Ry.	139⅝	138⅜	139
Rock Island, com	24½	25⅜	25⅜
Rock Island, pfd.	64⅞	64½	64½
Reading, com.	140⅜	136⅝	136⅝
R. I. & S., pfd.	106½	104½	104½
R. I. & S., com.	32¼	31½	31½
Rubber, com.	50	49¾	50
St. Paul	180	178¼	178⅞
Sugar	141¼	139¾	140¼
Southern Railway, com.	38¾	37⅝	37⅝
Southern Pacific	65⅞	64⅞	65⅜
Soo, com.	154	153	153
T. C. & I.	154	152	154
Texas Pacific	34½	33¾	34
U. S. Steel, pfd.	107¼	106⅛	107¼
U. S. Steel, com.	42⅛	41	41¼
Union Pacific, com.	152¾	150⅜	151⅜
Wisconsin Central, com.	28⅜	27	27
Wisconsin Central, pfd.	23¼	22¾	22¾
Western Union	93⅜	93¼	93¼
Wabash, com.	23¼	22¾	22¾
Wabash, pfd.	46	45⅜	45⅜
Northern Pacific	225½	220½	220⅞
Twin City Rap. Transit	116¾	116	116
American Locomotive	73⅜	71¾	72¼
Great Northern	331	326	327
Erie, 2nd.	69⅝	68⅞	69
Denver	45¼	44	44¼

The total sales were 1,076,500 shares.

Stock Gossip.

Logan & Bryan to Paine, Webber & Co.: This has been a regular holiday market. The closing is soft, but still not far reaching in the way of market weakness. It has assumed the appearance of a trading affair with no special tendency. This can be accounted for in part by the fact that the market makers are away for their mid-winter vacations and are taking but little interest in market happenings. Money was not disturbing and proved to be, as we intimated yesterday, a little passing squall, leaving no ill effects behind. We rather look for a reasonably active trading market.

* * *

Paine, Webber & Co.: A sagging market all day with little feature. The fear that stiff money rates may prevail for some little time induced some liquidation and there was but little support given at the decline. At the same time there appeared to be but little urgent selling, the bulk of the trading being locally There is very considerable trading by the large professionals who buy and sell in big blocks, generally at the market, and this is the main reason for the rapid fluctuations during the day. The market closed a trifle above the lowest figures of the day, upon covering by the shorts.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul.—Barrett & Zimmerman's report: Market more steady which shows a noted improvement over the corresponding time of last week. Receipts are more steady and of fine quality; a number of consignments being for the auction tomorrow. Local demand for delivery horses shows an improvement over any day of the present year. The day's closing of the market is as follows:

Drafters, extra	$160@180
Drafters, choice	140@160
Drafters, common to good	125@140
Farm mares, extra	135@160
Farm mares, choice	120@135
Farm mares, common to good	75@120
Delivery, choice	125@150
Delivery, common to good	75@120

The Cotton Market.

New York, Feb. 21.—The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of 1 to 4 points on the active months under local bear pressure; March liquidation and stop loss orders. Prices went to another low level for the movement, but a better demand developed around 10.36 for March and 10.57 for May, owing to reports of a big spot demand in the South, and prices rallied during the middle of the morning to within 3 or 4 points of last night's finals on covering and trade demand. Private wires from New Orleans reported spot sales of 4,000 bales early in the morning and more wanted.

Spot closed quiet, 20 points lower; middling uplands, 10.80; ditto gulf, 11.05. Sales 1,589 bales. Futures closed weak. February, 10.20; March, 10.25; April, 10.37; May, 10.48; June, 10.58; July, 10.65; August, 10.56; September, 10.27; October, 10.18, November, 10.20; December, 10.22.

THE COPPER STOCKS.

The following are the closing quotations of copper stocks at Boston today, reported by Paine, Webber & Co., 328 West Superior street:

	Bid.	Asked.
Amalgamated	110	.....
American Dev. Co.	.....	18½
Anaconda	279	.....
Atlantic	23	24
Arcadian	3¾	4¼
Adventure	6¼	6½
Allouez	40	40½
Bingham	43¾	44
Black Mountain	12¾	12¾
Copper Range	80¼	80½
Calumet & Hecla	705	715
Calumet & Arizona	117	118
Calumet & Pittsburg	36½	37
Centennial	26½	26¾
Denn-Arizona	.....	27
Daly West	15	15½
Franklin	13	13¾
Granby	9¼	10
Green Cons	.....	27
Isle Royale	23	24
Junction	28	29
Lake Superior & Pitts.	.....	44
Michigan	13¼	13¾
Mayflower	1	1½
Mass	9½	9¾
Mohawk	57	58
Mercur Cons.	65c	66c
North Butte	85¼	86
Old Dominion	46½	47
Old Colony	1¼	1½
Osceola	99	100
Phoenix	1¼	1½
Parrott	39½	40½
Pittsburg & Duluth	23	25
Quincy	95	96
Rhode Island	5¾	6
Santa Fe	2	2¼
Shannon	6	6⅛
Tecumseh	13¾	14¼
Tamarack	108	110
Trinity	10⅞	11
U. S. Mining	57	57¼
Utah	63¼	63½
United Copper	70½	71½
Union Land	2½	3½
Victoria	6¾	7⅜
Wyandotte	1¼	1⅝
Wolverine	133	134
Winona	6⅜	6½
Warren	.....	17½
Copper Queen	.....	2
Keweenaw	16	16¼
Boston Con	27½	27¾
Nevada Con	14	14⅜
Utah Con	.....	32
East Butte	.....	8¾
Sullivan	.....	2

Copper Gossip.

Boston to Paine, Webber & Co.: Coppers continued dull and weak all day, without feature. Old Dominion was well bought in face of reports of fire underground, and seems to be going into strong hands. See nothing but traders' market in sight for next few weeks, when rallies should be taken advantage of with a view of replacing at lower prices.

* * *

New York to Pringle, Fitch & Rankin: Although there is much talk there has been no specific development in conection with the proposed holding company to take over Amalgamated Copper and other companies and possibly include also the American Smelting interests. It is said the plan for this company is being worked out, and that it will be some little time before any announcement can be made. Interests that were familiar with the estimated Copper prior to the upward movement are again advising the purchase of this stock and predicting higher prices for it, and they are talking fully as bullish on United Copper.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

Following are the current quotations for goods which change hands in lots on the open market:

BUTTER.
Creamery, prints	27	@	28
Creamery, in tubs	26	@	27
Dairies, fancy	19	@	20
Renovated	20	@	21
Packing stock	16
EGGS.
Fresh	19	@	20
Storage	14	@	15
CHEESE.
Full cream twins	14¼
Block and wheel Swiss	14½	@	15
Brick cheese, No. 1	14
Limberger full cream	13
cheese
Primost	7
HONEY.
New fancy white clover	15
MAPLE SUGAR.
Vermont, per lb.	15
Maple syrup, 10-lb. cans	1 35
NUTS.
Filberts, per lb.	13
Soft-saell walnuts, per lb.	10½
Cocoanuts, per doz.	60
Brazils, per lb.	12
Hickory nuts, per bus.	2 00
Pecans, per lb.	13
Almonds	16
Black Walnuts, per bus.	1 65
Mixed nuts	12½
Peanuts, roasted, per lb.	7½	@	8
Chestnuts, per lb.	11
FRUITS.
Apples, Ben Davis, per bbl	5 50
Greenings	6 50
York State Spies	6 25
Baldwins	5 00
York State Russets	5 00
Tolman Sweets	5 00
Missouri Pippins, per box	2 25
Colorado Winsape, per box	2 00
Bananas, per bunch	2 00	@	2 50
Cranberries	16 00
Dates, Fard, 12-lb. box	1 10
Dates, sugar walnut, 10-lb. box	1 00
Figs, Smyrna, 12-lb. box	1 35
Malaga grapes, per keg	7 00
Lemons, Cal., per box	3 25	@	3 50
Oranges Floridas	1 50
California Navels	2 75	@	3 00
California pears, per box	2 50
Strawberries, per qt.	55
VEGETABLES.
Beans, wax, per bus.	5 00
Navy beans	2 00
Green hothouse beans	5 00
Beets, per cwt.	1 75
Top beets, per doz.	1 00
Cucumbers, hothouse	2 00
Cabbage, per ton	35 00
Cauliflower, per box	4 00
Celery, Milwaukee, per doz	35
Carrots, per cwt.	75
Egg plant, per doz.	1 75
Horseradish, per lb.	12
Lettuce, leaf, per bus.	1 25
Onions, per cwt.	1 65
Onions, Spanish, per crate	2 00
Parsley, per doz.	35	@	75
Sweet potatoes, per bbl.	4 50
Potatoes, per bus.	55	@	60
Radishes, round, per doz.	75
Spinach, per box	1 00	@	1 25
Florida tomatoes, basket	90
Rutabagas, per cwt.	75
POP CORN.
Choice, per lb.	3½
Rice corn, shelled	6
CIDER.
Clarified, 16-gal. kg	3 50
Orange, cherry or pear	3 50
Black raspberry juice	5 50
MEATS.
Beef	5½	@	7½
Mutton	8½	@	9½
Lard	8¾
Pork loins	11
Veal	9
DRESSED POULTRY.
Springs, per lb.	14
Hens, per lb.	13
Spring ducks	14
Turkeys	19
Geese	13	@	14
HAY.
Timothy, per ton	9 00
Upland, per ton	8 00
FEED.
Bran, per ton	17 00
Oats, per bus.	32
Shorts, per ton	18 00
FISH.
Trout, per lb.	10
Pike, per lb.	10
White, per lb.	10	@	12½
Lake Superior herring	2¼
Skinned perch	6
Smelts, No. 1	12
Smelts, No. 2	10
Fresh salmon, per lb.	15
Halibut, per lb.	12½
Oysters, standard, per gal.	1 45
Oysters, select, per gal.	1 85

New York.

New York, Feb. 21.—Butter, firm; receipts, 3,778; street prices, extra creamery, 28@29c; official prices, unchanged. Cheese, firm, unchanged; receipts, 2,975. Eggs, steady, unchanged; receipts, 13,397.

Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Butter steady; creameries, 17@21½c; dairies, 17@24½c. Eggs weak at mark, cases included, 11½c. Cheese firm; daisies, 13c; twins, 11¾@12c; Young Americas, 13c.

EFFECTS OF ODORS.

It has long been known that certain odoriferous exhalations can exert a powerful influence on particularly susceptible individuals, even producing marked nervous disturbances, says a writer in the Medical Record. It has been shown that perfumes or odors produce nervous and respiratory reflexes, as well as urticaria and vertigo. These manifestations are rarely single, but combined or alternate. Odors will also produce a decided impression at times upon the digestive apparatus. Among the symptoms arising in the latter condition are nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea and excessive salivation. Nausea is more common, this symptom being excited by stenches, as well as odors from certain flowers or plants.

Odors, whether agreeable or disagreeable, are not causes of disease in the sense generally taken. They may disorder certain healthy functions by impairing nervous energy, by diminishing wholesome respiration, and thus creating a predisposition to attack by disease. And yet, strange as it may seem, scavangers, collectors of night soil or garbage, and laborers in slaughter houses or tanneries do not seem to be particularly affected in consequence of inhaling the odors so prevalent in the vicinity of their labors.

We are familiar with the assertion that emanations arising from manure act as a specific in rheumatism. Severe faintness is sometimes observed to overcome persons upon their entrance into a room in which tuberoses are kept. Headache is often produced by the odors emanating from the honeysuckle, lily, rose of Sharon or carnation. The odor of betony, in flower, is

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN.

From the view point of the average man housework is very easy. The wife 's right at home. She is her own mis-tress. She can sit down and rest any time. She can even go to bed for a nap if she feels like it. She can order her household affairs just to suit her own convenience. If she doesn't feel equal to doing work to-day, she can do it to-morrow. That's the beautiful theory of the average man.

Just suppose the Egyptian task-masters, when they made the required daily tale of bricks tax the uttermost of human strength, had said to the toiling slaves, "Don't hurry, take a rest every now and then—only don't forget that your tale of bricks must be all right at night or else there'll be trouble."

There's the fact. There are the day's duties to be got through, and the women who can rest may not. The woman, who, when she married, said, 'Now, I'll be my own mistress," finds herself a slave to household cares and duties.

And oh! how much that woman needs rest sometimes. She brushes and scrubs, and rolls pastry, her temples throbbing, her back aching, her nerves quivering under the stress of pain. What she would give if she could just creep upstairs and throw herself on the bed in a darkened room and rest.

Rest would temporarily relieve the strain, doubtless, but it would be the same story over again to-morrow. The real need of weak, nervous women is strength, and that need is fully met and satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. It removes the causes of women's weakness, tranquilizes and invigorates the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions and irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness of the ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

"I am pleased to add my testimony in behalf of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss Earline Agard, Chaplin, Patriotic Daughters of America, of 413½ Michigan Avenue, Lansing, Mich. "I cannot find language to express my gratitude and joy over the fact that I am well once more. Wearing my corsets too tight seemed to have brought on an extra abdominal pressure, weakening the ligaments and pushing the internal organs down. What to do I knew not, as no medicines I took seemed to help me.

"I had heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and determined to try it, as a last resort. Before the first bottle was used I began to feel better, but could hardly believe that this was permanent, but my improvement went steadily on, and within four months I was like a new woman. Now I have no more pains, am well and strong, and am extremely grateful to you."

There is nothing to conceal about the make-up of "Favorite Prescription." It is an absolutely pure medicine—made of native roots—Nature's own restoratives, compounded after a formula concerning which there can be no question, by skilled chemists and by thoroughly scientific processes. Doctor Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know that his "Favorite Prescription" contains Blue Cohosh root, Lady's Slipper root, Unicorn root, Black Cohosh root and Golden Seal root. Every doctor knows that such a prescription is beneficial in the diseases of women and when properly compounded is certain to effect a cure in nearly all cases when given a fair trial. Every bottle of the "Favorite Prescription" which leaves Dr. Pierce's immense laboratories in Buffalo, N. Y., has plainly printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients of which it is composed. Thus Dr. Pierce proves to the world his own confidence in the remedy which for forty years has borne his name and which is known all through the United States and Canada, England, Australia, and in parts of South America, Africa and Asia, as a sovereign cure for those diseases which, unchecked, make our women old before their time.

It will be noticed that there is no alcohol in the "Favorite Prescription." Dr. Pierce never believed in using alcohol in the preparation of his famous household remedies. For it, he substitutes chemically pure glycerine, which has wonderful properties for extracting the medicinal principles of roots and preserving them at their full strength, without any deleterious effect whatever.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's medicines is the frank, confiding, open, honest statement of their full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of the afflicted will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of these medicines.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended.

Your druggists sells the "Favorite Prescription" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "Golden Medical Discovery." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing and get a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, over 1000 pages. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

C. L. TWOHY HAS WITHDRAWN

Sells His Interest in the Gowan-Peyton-Twohy Company.

C. L. Twohy, vice president and general manager of the Gowan-Peyton-Twohy company, has sold his stock in the company to Andrew Gowan, president of the company, and today retired from all connection with it. Mr. Twohy organized the company and has been its vice president and general manager from the first. It has been very successful, its growth being nothing less than immense.

Mr. Twohy has been in the grocery business for twenty years without interruption and will now take a rest. He has lumbering interests in this region and will devote himself to them. He will continue to make Duluth his home.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Given at La Belle Mine Location by Miss Lorene Driscoll.

McKinley, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last Friday afternoon, Lorene Driscoll, residing at the La-Belle mine location near McKinley, entertained many of her friends on her fifth birthday. An elaborate supper was served and the evening was spent in playing games. She received many pretty gifts. Those present from outside include: Misses Viola Kleren, Violet, Florence, Esther, Dorthy and Ruth Martin, and Messers. James Foster, George, Russel and Winfield Martin, from Virginia. Those from the La-Belle were Misses Geneva Shimmins, Esther Swanson, Gladys Nichols, Hilda and Esther Hagland, Mary and Anna Sladish, Messrs. Howard, Steve and Elmer Nichols, George Hagland, Rueben Swanson, Frank and John Sladish. Those from Elba were Misses Anna, Faith, Glaudle, Northey and Ceclda Beunle, Messers Harry and Willie Thomas,and Stanley Twingrove.

Dirty Street Cars.

To the Editor of The Herald: Your editorial plea for better ventilation of street cars is good, but you did not go far enough. The windows of the cars have not been washed this winter, and the floors are filthy, dirty. "Do not spit on the floor" is good, but how about the floor? Does it not need cleaning? I have noticed the Duluth-Superior line especially; the cars are so dirty that they are not fit for a lady to ride in. Respectfully,

EDWARD ELWELL.

Duluth, Feb. 21.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, langour, heart palpitation. Drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regulets act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Matinee, Night, Tomorrow, Kerry Gow.

A perfect impersonation of true Irish life.

WIELAND'S

123 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.

Annual Shoe Sale

CONTINUES

Below are just a few Samples of the Bargains.

MEN'S $5.00 and $6.00 Shoes, including Stacy Adams' double-sole patent kid colt and velour calf, leather lined, all sizes, all widths, at $4.25

Men's $3.50 to $5.00 Shoes—good winter and spring styles.... $2.95

Men's $3 and $3.50 values.... $2.45

Odd lot Ladies' and Men's Shoes—per pair—$1.98 and..... 98c

SCHOOL SHOES.

Get fitted out tomorrow—some grand bargains in girls' shoes—$1.75 to $2.25 values—sizes 11 to 2—per pair..... $1.19

Children's sizes—8½ to 11—$1.25 to $1.50 values—per pair..... 98c

This is your chance to obtain Bargains in good shoes for the slushy weather or for dress wear.

HATCHET DAY HERE

Washington's Birthday to be Celebrated Quietly in Duluth.

Several Kinds of Sports Will be Indulged in Locally.

Tomorrow will be an anniversary of the birth of Washington, "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," as a famous orator put it. Of late years the day is set aside, not only in honor of the memory of the father of his country, but as a special day for knockers, which class is supposed to be a product of the modern life, although authorities believe they have existed in all times, being merely canonized, as it were, in late years. The hatchet is the emblem of Washington's birthday, and that, together with the hammer, has become the emblem of the anvil chorus. Tomorrow everybody may knock his or her neighbor with impunity.

As to the serious part of the day, honor will be done the memory of the nation's first great citizen. School children have been especially reminded of the great general, and statesmen, who, with a handful of ragged troops, out-generalled and out-fought the tried troops of Britain and Hesse. The birthday anniversaries of Washington are not attended, as are some others, by wild hilarity, but by solemn and undemonstrative observation, in which frivolity has no part.

All of the public offices in the city hall, the courthouse and the federal building will be closed all day. The schools will also be closed, and at numerous places in the evening patriotic concerts and addresses will be heard in commemoration of the occasion. The banks of the city will suspend business for the day, and business in general will be lulled.

At the postoffice, business men should take note, the general delivery window will be open until 10 o'clock in the morning, but the register and money order departments will be closed all day. There will be one delivery by carrier to all parts of the city.

The boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will celebrate all day. The boys will enjoy roller skating at the Temple rink in the forenoon, and from 2 to 4 in the afternoon will exercise in the gymnasium. At 5 a basket ball game will take place, and in the evening a masquerade social will come off.

Several curling events will be pulled off; doubtless if there is enough snow on the slide, skiing will take place; and a Duluth team will play hockey with a Two Harbors team, at the latter place, to which quite a number from Duluth will go.

Matinee Lyceum Thursday and Night.

Hear Doone sing sweet Irish songs.

BOAT RIDE ON THE LAKE

Enjoyed by Party of Cascade People on Sunday Last.

A party of people at Tomsonite, more commonly known as Cascade on the north shore, are indebted to Wesley McCauley for the pleasure of a boat ride on Lake Superior on Sunday, Feb 18. This is an event never before heard of on the north shore. Mrs. E. A. Humes, Miss Fradenburg, Messrs. Olaf and Wesley and Dolly McCauley were in the party.

One Way Second Class "Colonist" Rates to California, Western and Northwestern Points.

Effective Feb. 15, and continuing until March 31, 1906, "The North-Western Line" will sell one way second-class "colonist" tickets to points in California, Arizona, British Columbia, Alberta, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Washington. Some of the rates are as follows:

California common points, $34.90; Seattle and Tacoma, $25; Portland and Ashland, $25; Ogden and Salt Lake, $25; Denver and Colorado Springs, $22.50; Spokane and Walla Walla, $22.50; Helena and Butte, $22.50; Billings, Mont., $15. Intermediate points at proportionate rates. For full particulars call on or address city ticket agent, 302 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn.

Mardi Gras, New Orleans, La., and Mobile, Ala.

February 21 to 25 "The North-Western Line" will sell excursion tickets to New Orleans, La., Mobile, Ala. and Pensacola, Fla., at one fare plus $2.00 for the round trip. Tickets will be good for return until March 17, 1906. City Ticket Office, 302 West Superior street.

New York and Return $37.80---Via "The North-Western Line."

On Feb. 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14, and March 6, 1906, "The North-Western Line" will sell excursion tickets, Duluth to New York and return, at $37.80. Tickets good for return within thirty days from date of sale. City Ticket Office, 302 West Superior street.

BUTCHER SPORTSMAN.

Kansas City Journal: Although 53 years old Earl de Gray still ranks as the greatest game butcher in England, perhaps in the world. He has killed more game than any other living sportsman—amounting, when computed, to 316,699 head. Comprised in this list were 11,900 pheasants, 84,400 partridges, 45,500 grouse, 26,500 hares and as many rabbits. In Yorkshire he once shot 500 grouse in a single day and on another occasion brought down 750 pheasants. In Wales, between sunrise and sunset, he once disposed of 950 rabbits.

DISPISED LITERATURE.

Kansas City Journal: Guy de Maupassant despised literature as a profession and give to almost any other topic of conversation the preference over books. "There are so many other things of so much greater interest to talk about," the novelist would say. Of yachts and the sea he could talk delightfully and he was rather proud of the fact that some time previously he had rescued from the waves at Etreat the English poet Swinburne, who, Bryonlike, a magnificent swimmer, had for once outswum his strength.

INJUDICIOUS UTTERANCES

By Minister Rockhill to the Chinese Condemned by Hull.

Smoot Gets Another Flattering Endorsement in the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Discussing the army appropriation bill, Chairman Hull said that the situation in China made it necessary to keep the army and navy in efficient condition to meet emergencies. It was necessary, he said, for us to be ready to fight for our rights.

Mr. Hull characterized as injudicious the utterances of Minister Rockhill that the United States intended to return 20,000,000 pounds sterling, its share of the Boxer indemnity.

The minister, he said, did not have a proper conception of the character of the Chinese people when he offered them a bribe of 20,000,000 pounds to be good.

They would take such an offer as an indication of our being afraid of them. Mr. Rockhill should have let whatever information was necessary come from the government of the United States direct. Mr. Hull read a letter rebutting the idea that Japan was the author of the trouble. He said the Boxer indemnity should be used to build battleships rather than returned to China. He said it was in the interest of Japan to retain order in China. Every government that has business relations with China must be ready to protect them or pull down their flag and leave the Pacific coast and destroy their trade.

IN THE SENATE.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senator Smoot received another endorsement in the senate today. It came from Mr. Warren, who, upon the convening for the day's session, presented a voluminous petition from women in Wyoming, praying for the expulsion of Mr. Smoot from the senate. He said that he had been requested to accompany the presentation of the petition with some remarks of his own. He added:

"The subject of the petition is before the proper committee, and I hope to be guided by the report of the committee when made. If I should express my opinion before the report is made I should be inclined to endorse what was said on the subject a few days ago by the senator from California (Mr. Perkins)."

Upon conclusion of the routine business, at 12:20 p. m., the senate went into executive session, on motion of Mr. Morgan.

Homeseekers and Settlers!

To points in Nebraska, Eastern Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana, etc., the Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. has placed on sale for February 20, March 6 and 20, round trip and one way tickets at extremely low rates for benefit of homeseekers and settlers. One way tickets at $2 higher than half fare. Round trip tickets at three-fourths of the regular one way rate, limit twenty-one days.

Twenty-one day tickets are on sale first and third Tuesdays to points in other states in the Southeast, West and Northwest, at one fare plus $2 for round trip.

Don't fail to call on M. & St. L. agents for full particulars as to rates, etc., or address A. B. Cutts, G. P. & T. A., Minneapolis, Minn.

Week-End Excursions---Minneapolis St. Louis Railroad.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad will place in effect until March 31 the following excursion arrangements:

Half rates—After 12 o'clock noon of Saturdays to all points within 150 miles, good for return until Monday morning; minimum rate 75 cents.

Fare and one-third—On sale Fridays to points not less than 75 miles nor more than 150 miles distant, limit the following Monday.

One fare plus $2—To points more than 150 miles away, limit five days.

These rates apply to the cities where theatrical attractions and other amusements are best at this season of the year, and they also apply to all local stations on the line.

For further particulars call on Minneapolis & St. Louis agents.

To make difficulties of trifles is the common tendency. Herald want advertising enables one to make trifles of difficulties.

Money's Worth or Money Back.

THE GOLDEN RULE

EXTRAORDINARY

Bargains Thursday

Fancy Dress Ginghams—all in beautiful patterns—sold elsewhere for 12½c per yard; Thursday, per yard 9c

32-inch Percale—regular price 8c; Thursday 6c

12½c bleached Turkish Towels, Thursday 10c

10-4 Cotton Blankets—regularly 65c; Thursday.. 50c

WRAPPERS

$1.50 Wrappers, Thursday 89c

17-19 East Superior St.

THURSDAY IS SALE DAY

Insurance Adjusters Set the Date But Not the Place.

Hard at Work as Result of the Elevator Fire.

A sale of the salvage from the fire which destroyed the Peavey elevator Saturday night will be held some time tomorrow under the auspices of the insurance adjusters, who are in Duluth to determine the losses.

H. R. Ensign of Chicago, representing the Aetna Insurance company, W. C. Burleigh, representing the Western Adjustment bureau of Chicago, and Otto E. Greeley of Minneapolis, representing the Phoenix company of Brooklyn, have been in the city since Tuesday but has not got far enough along in their work to have any idea of when they will be through or just what the salvage will be.

However, they have determined to place on sale tomorrow the grain which the flames did not destroy but were unable to say at a late hour this afternoon where the sale would be held or how it would be conducted.

"The time since the fire has been so short that we hardly know just how we stand, yet," said Mr. Burleigh this afternoon. "The grain will be sold tomorrow if possible, but I cannot say now where the sale will be conducted or give you any other information concerning it. I do not know yet, nor do any of the other two adjusters who are working upon it.

"It is impossible to say now what the salvage will be. It will certainly amount to something and we expect to have Duluth parties bid upon it. By tomorrow we will be able to tell better just how we stand and how long our work will take us."

The ruins of the elevator were still smoldering today, just as they have been since the fire.

Messrs. Ensign, Burleigh and Greeley represent the majority of the companies which were concerned in the big fire. A few more adjusters may come, however. The claims of a number of companies are being looked after by Mr. Burleigh, who represents the Western bureau.

The grain in the concrete annex was examined yesterday and found to be undamaged. The grain did not even smell of smoke.

The adjusters have been working hard ever since they reached the city, but, as they have said, it is impossible to say how soon they will complete their labors.

GHOST AT THROTTLE.

Spook Stopped Train in Time to Prevent Wreck.

"No, I never saw a ghost in my life, less it be a human one, and I wouldn't believe in them at all if it wasn's for a friend of mine, who is a locomotive engineer over the Indiana line."

The speaker was a new member of the Hyde Park Ghost club, who had just been put through a weird initiation ceremony, says the Chicago Inter-Ocean. One of the obligations on new members of this strange organization is that they shall tell a real, true ghost story the night of their entry into the order.

"This Indiana friend of mine is known all over Northern Indiana for his veracity," continued the new member. "I refer to Mike Fassett of the Lake Erie road. He has run an engine for forty-five years, and has never had but one accident, and that's where the ghost story comes in.

"It happened twelve years ago, near Michigan City. Jim Crawford, who owns a big farm some miles south of Michigan City, had been into town with a load of corn. He had imbibed pretty freely of the juice during the day, and on his way home mistook the railroad for the turnpike.

"He drove up the track to the first cattle trap, and there his horses came to a stop, while it is presumed Jim went to sleep. Anyway, he never woke up again.

"Fassett was coming around the bend at a furious rate, and when he saw the team it was too late to stop. The engine crashed right between the horses, killing them both and knocking the wagon into splinters.

"Crawford was hurled into the air and fell dead in a cornfield. Fassett brought the engine to a stop, and went back to survey the results. The strangest part of it all was that a jug of whisky which Crawford held in his hand never broke, and the fingers of the dead man still clinched the handle when found. This much of the story is well known.

"Now for the ghost part of it. Fassett told it to me himself, and, as I said before, his veracity can't be questioned. Here is the way he tells it:

"'I was coming round the Michigan City curve late one night soon after Jim Crawford was killed and all of a sudden I seen a team of horses standing on the track just where Crawford stood. I crossed myself, pulled the throttle, put on the air brake, as before, but it was no use. The engine played clean through them before it came to a standstill. There was a crash and a shriek, but when I came to look for the dead man and horses there wasn't none.

"'I never believed in ghosts, but right there I knew that I was up against a real one.

"'I just looked queer at the train hands as we stood looking foolish like. They all seemed to know what I meant. There was no more talk on the subject, and we all promised to say nothing about the circumstances—at least for the present.

"'I did a heap o' thinkin' for the next month on the ghost question, and every time I passed the point where Crawford was killed I used to feel kind o' nervous. But the climax came one night when I was nearing the fatal curve, I was kind o' sittin' sidewise with my hand near the throttle ready for somethin' I didn't know what, when up jumps a man between the engine and tender. I stood there dazed and unable to utter a word, as we were going fifty miles an hour. I just waited and stared to see what was going to happen. Right into the pilot he comes and looks at the water gauge, then at the steam gauge, but never a word says he. Then he grabbed the throttle an' pulled it tight and jumped off like he got on.

"'It all happened just like in a second and in a few more we came to a standstill. My fireman asked what it was all about. He never seen the ghost at all.

"'We had just rounded the bend when the train came to a standstill. And right ahead was that ghost team, the same as before, only this time one horse was white. The train hands and passengers who got out seen 'em, too, and then we walked down the track to investigate.

"'But it wasn't no ghost this time. Right in the seat of the wagon sat Jack Rounds, one of Jim Crawford's former neighbors. Jack and Jim had been old partners, and many a spree they had at Michigan City. We waked Jack up, but he hadn't quite slept off the effects of John Barleycorn, but when he saw the headlight of the engine as it pulled up closer to the scene he soon came to. We got him off the track onto the main road and he drove off happy as a lark and singing. He had had a narrow escape from the same fate as Crawford.

"'But the thing that sticks in my mind most is how that ghost got onto the engine and saved his life. I am sure it was Crawford's ghost—sure as that I am Mike Fassett.'"

BUYING A PAPER.

Boston Watchman: The American custom of glancing over the morning paper as you sip your coffee at breakfast goes with you abroad, but it is no simple thing always to get a morning paper, writes Prof. George E. Horr.

On coming down to breakfast the first morning in Edenburgh, I found there was no paper to be had, but thinking that it was a simple matter to buy a Scotsman on the street, I went out on Princess street and walked three blocks without the sight of a newsboy. "Where can I get the morning's Scotsman?" I said to a policeman. He thought a moment. "Weel," said he, "there's a great news shop about three blocks up, and we might find one there." I followed the direction and found myself in a large news distributing depot. There were stacks and stacks of newspapers and magazines all about. "I would like the morning's Scotsman," I said. The man in charge looked bewildered. "I'll see," he said, "if we have one." He fumbled around a little while and then went back into the rear of the store for fully three minutes; at last he came back, saying, "We haven't one." "Well," I said, "this is about the strangest thing I have seen. Can't get the mornig paper here in Edinburgh?

"No," he said, "you'll find it diffeecult." "What do they publish papers here for, anyway?" I rejoined. He bridled up at once. "I want ye to understand," he said, "that the Scotchman is not published for the general publeek, it's published for the subscribers."

The Scotchman, you know, probably ranks next to the London Times. "Well," I said, "this is all new to me; in my country publishers want to have their newspapers read; they want to sell all they can; they don't try to keep them out of the nanos of the 'general publeek.' Can you tell me where I can get one, for I want to see the morning paper though perhaps I shall have to get a letter of introduction to buy one." "Weel," he answered, "there's a woman about 100 yards from here that takes the Scotchman; she might sell you hers." I took the direction carefully, found the woman who took the Scotchman—bought her copy, and reached the hotel a half hour late for breakfast, which I had ordered before going out on the difficult quest of buying a morning paper in the great city of Edinburgh.

Don't Forget

The First Annual Masquerade Ball

given by Degree Team, Court North Star, No. 29, U. O. F., Armory, Feb. 23. Cash prizes given. Admission, 25c and 50c. Chartered car for West Duluth, 2 o'clock. Paul orchestra.

Special Values for Thursday:

$1.48 Fine nainsook gowns, hemstitched and tucked yoke and ruffle at neck and new elbow sleeve with flounce.

48c Women's cambric muslin drawers, wide India linon ruffle, five hemstitched tucks.

$1.75 Fine cambric muslin Petticoats, 24-inch India linon flounce, eight clusters of tucks, 6-inch embroidery trimmed.

98c Extra fine nainsook Corset Covers, three rows fine Val lace side and front trimmed, tucked back, beaded lace edge and ribbon trimmed.

$1.98 Fine nainsook Night Dresses, hand-embroidered yoke, embroidery beading and ribbon-trimmed, tucked long full sleeve.

$2.25 French lawn Corset Covers—entredeux and wide point lace trimmed, tucked back and wash ribbon.

EXTRA SPECIAL.

Women's fine India linon Waists, lace and embroidery trimmed up to the minute in style — regular price $1.50 and $1.75—choice at.... $1.19

See them displayed in our show window.

ALBENBERG'S

Superior Street and First Avenue West.

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT

TWELVE MILLION PACKAGES LAST YEAR; SOME ONE WAS SATISFIED.—

MERRELL-SOULE COMPANY SYRACUSE, NEW YORK

IN 2-PIE 10c PACKAGES.

WE TEST EYES as well as, if not better, than any one else in Duluth. Our prices are lower than the other good specialists.

C. D. TROTT No. 3 West Superior St

OUR LEADERS—

Straight Whiskies—Cedar Brook and Maryland Rye.

Blended Whiskies—Old Cabinet and Live Oak.

COOK'S BUFFET

Grand Masquerade!

Wednesday evening, Feb. 21, at Lincoln Park Roller Rink. Three prizes—the best dressed couple, the most comical dressed couple and the most horribly dressed couple. Admission 10c. Skates 25c. Music by the Third Regiment Band.

L. D. HINKLEY. M. J. REGAN.

The MILWAUKEE and MINERAL POINT MINING EXCHANGE

HINKLEY, REGAN & CO.

357 Broadway, Milwaukee, Wis.

Brokers and DEALERS in Southwestern Wisconsin Lead and ZINC Mines. Shares in Mines and Drilling Propositions.

PATRONAGE OF INVESTORS SOLICITED

DEPOSITARY FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF MILWAUKEE.

—THE—

DULUTH SAVINGS BANK

Under State Supervision.

Offers to depositors the most liberal terms consistent with the conservative management of a sound savings institution

3% Interest On Deposits

Start Your Savings Account With This Bank.

220 W. SUP. ST.

For Rent--Rooms--Houses--

The most representative lists are in The Herald
If you desire a change of residence, watch 'em

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SHOPPING BY TELEPHONE.

	Old Phone.	New Phone.
MEAT MARKETS—
E. J. Toben	22	22
Mork Bros.	677-M	189
LAUNDRIES—
Yale Laundry	479	479
Lutes' Laundry	447	447
DRUGGISTS—
Boyce	163	163
Smith & Smith	344-M	7
COAL AND FUEL—
Ohio Fuel Co.	76	76
Finch Fuel Co.	1291	1291
Upham Coal Co.	256	485
FLORISTS—
Seekins & Le Borlous	1356	1626
BAKERIES—
The Bon Ton		1166
ELECTRIC CONTRACTING—
Mutual Electric Co.	496	496
RUBBER STAMP WORKS—
Con. Stamp & Print Co.,	702-K	755
PLUMBING AND HEATING—
McGurrin Plumbing & Heating Co.	815	983
STOVE REPAIR WORKS—
C. F. Wiggerts & Son	1151-K	554

TO EXCHANGE.

TO EXCHANGE—FINE, NEW UPright piano, standard make, for horse and buggy. Merchant tailoring, groceries, meats, plumbing, carpeting, or anything I can use. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

—CHOICE—

RESIDENCE SITES!

BUY ONE AND BUILD A HOME.

50 feet upper side Second street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues east... $2000
50 feet upper side Third street, near Nineteenth avenue east ... $1350
50 feet upper side Fourth street, near Eighteenth avenue east ... $1200
50 feet upper side Fourth street, near Twenty-first avenue east ... $1000
100 feet double corner Fifth street and Twenty-first avenue east ... $2000
Double corner Jefferson street ... $1850
50 feet lower side Second street, near Twenty-fourth avenue east ... $1100
50 feet lower side Fifth street, near Nineteenth avenue east ... $700
The handsomest 150-foot corner in the East end ... $8000
Double corner Fourth street and Twelfth avenue east ... $3600

We will build houses to suit at Hunter's Park and the East End and sell on monthly payments.

We'll build brick store to suit on corner First street and Sixth avenue west.

Money to loan at 4½ and 5 per cent.

STRYKER, MANLEY & BUCK

LITTLE & NOLTE — INSURANCE LOANS REAL ESTATE — UNDER AM. EX. BANK — ESTABLISHED 1885

HOW IS THIS?

$4200 for double frame flat building, five rooms on each side, near Tenth avenue east, and one block from cars. Concrete foundation, cement floored cellars, hardwood floors, modern plumbing, woodwork grained, decorated throughout, gas, storm windows, etc. 4-16

HAVE YOUR

Fire Insurance

WRITTEN BY

Mendenhall & Hoopes

208 First National Bank Building.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given, that on the 5th day of March, 1906, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of H. H. Phelps, 403 Palladio Building, Duluth, Minnesota, I will sell to the highest bidder for cash the following pieces of real property belonging to the bankrupt estate of The Merchants Bank.

Lots One (1) and Two (2), Block Three (3), West End Addition to Duluth.

Lot Ten (10), Block Forty-seven (47), Oneota.

Lot Twelve (12), Block Forty-three (43), West Duluth, First Division.

Lot Eight (8), Block Two Hundred Eighty-six (286), West Duluth, Fourth Division.

Lots Six (6) and Seven (7), Block Thirty (30), West Duluth, Sixth Division.

Said sale will be made subject to confirmation by the Referee in Bankruptcy.

Abstracts of titles will be furnished purchasers.

Dated at Duluth, Minnesota, February 20th, 1906.

L. A. BARNES,
Trustee in Bankruptcy of Estate of Merchants Bank.
Duluth Herald—Feb. 21-28.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF St. Louis.—ss.
In District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.
Maggie Delaske, Plaintiff,
vs.
John Delaske, Defendant.

The State of Minnesota to the above named Defendant:

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the Plaintiff in the above entitled action, which has been filed with the Clerk of the District Court of the Eleventh Judicial District, in and for said county, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers at their office, 412-413 First National Bank Building, Duluth, Minnesota, within thirty (30) days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the Plaintiff in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint therein.

Dated Jan. 22, 1906.

ROSS & McKNIGHT,
Attorneys for the Plaintiff,
412-413 First National Bank Bldg., Duluth, Minn.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

FOR RENT—ROOMS.

SMALL FURNISHED ROOM FOR rent. 208 West Third street.

FOR RENT — NICELY FURNISHED room. 221 Fifth avenue west.

FOR RENT—FRONT, COZY ROOM. 228 Lake avenue north.

FOR RENT—PLEASANT FURNISHED room, electric light, bath, heat; $6 per month. 456 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT—SUITE STEAM HEATED rooms, furnished. 16 Second avenue west.

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS FOR LIGHT housekeeping. 134 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT—THREE UNFURNISHED rooms, newly papered; water and sewer. 428 Seventh avenue east.

ONE ROOM WITH BATH FOR RENT, suitable for two, with board, at 475 Mesaba avenue; centrally located.

FOR RENT—SIX ROOMS AT 108 EAST Second street.

FURNISHED ROOM, SUITABLE FOR two young ladies, at 631 West First street.

FOR RENT — MODERN FURNISHED room. 204 East Third street.

FOR RENT — LARGE, PLEASANT, warm room; lake view. Also small inside room. Central, modern conveniences; reasonable to gentlemen. M 68, Herald.

FOR RENT—TWO FURNISHED ROOMS for light housekeeping. 307 West Fifth street.

FOR RENT—NEATLY FURNISHED front room. 19 First avenue west.

FOR RENT—DOUBLE FRONT ROOM and single front room, nicely furnished. 123 West First street. Upstairs.

FURNISHED ROOM, NO. 2 MASON flats.

FOR RENT — FURNISHED ROOM. 232 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM. 528 West Second street.

FOR RENT—FLATS.

FOUR-ROOM BASEMENT FLAT; REpairs to suit tenant. 220 West Fourth street.

FOR RENT—FIVE-ROOM FLAT, BATH and all conveniences. 115 Seventh avenue west. $22. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT — THREE-ROOM FLAT, water, light and sewer; rent $15 per month. C. H. Graves & Co., first floor, Torrey building.

FOR RENT—STORE BUILDING, FLAT and barn; fine location for saloon; first-class repair. Thomas W. Wahl & Co., 201 Exchange building.

FOR RENT—HOUSES.

FOR SALE—HOUSE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE, water, bath, electric light. 515 East Sixth street; call 518½ East Sixth street.

FOR RENT—NINE-ROOM HOUSE, HOT water heat; all conveniences. 702 West Second street, $35. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM DWELLing, 102 South Sixteenth avenue east; possession March 1. Telephone 1133-R Rent, $32.50.

FOR RENT — NINE-ROOM HOUSE, Park Terrace, Eighth avenue west and First street; strictly modern; steam heat included. Apply 205 Lyceum building.

HORSES FOR SALE.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION. GREAT horse auction sales every Wednesday. Remember that every horse sold at auction must be just as represented or money cheerfully refunded. From 500 to 1,000 head of horses and mules offered at auction every Wednesday. Private sales daily.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN.

Great Midway Horse Market, St. Paul, Minn.

Take Interurban street cars from either city.

FOR SALE—SHETLAND PONY, CART and harness. $150 for the outfit. C. J. Eller, Proctor.

RECEIVED — TWO CARLOADS OF logging horses; prices lowest. L. Hammel company.

FOR SALE—YOUNG GREY MARE; 5 years old; weight 1,450; will work single or double; also good delivery horse, weight 1,300. 1219 East Seventh street.

PRIVATE SALES DAILY.
A large assortment to select from, good horses at right prices.
BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN,
Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN
Have the largest assortment of horses in the entire Northwest. Auction every Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Private sales daily. Part time given.

OUR NEW HOUSES AT LAKESIDE

ARE READY FOR INSPECTION.

They are strictly modern. Six, seven and eight rooms; large attics, stone basement with cement floors. Hot water heat, laundry tubs, piped for gas, wired for electricity. Hardwood floors and trim. Lots 50x140 feet; streets improved. These houses can be purchased with a cash payment of $500 to $900 and easy monthly payments of $30 to $40.

LAKESIDE LAND CO

303 Lonsdale Bldg.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HERALD WANTS BRING QUICK RESULTS

REAL ESTATE, FIRE INSURANCE AND RENTAL AGENCIES.

Wm. Prindle Co., Lonsdale building.
John A. Stephenson, Wolvin building.
Chas. P. Craig & Co., 220 W. Sup. St.
L. A. Larson & Co., 102 Providence.
'Phones 253.

LOAN OFFICES.

WE LOAN MONEY ON WATCHES, diamonds and all articles of value. Established the longest. The most reliable up-to-date place in the city. All business strictly confidential. Fire and burglar-proof safes. Crescent Brokers, 413½ West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY LOANED ON FURNIture, pianos, cattle, horses, wagons and all kinds of personal property; also to salaried people on their own notes. Easy payments.
WESTERN LOAN COMPANY,
521 Manhattan Building.
New 'phone, 936. Old 'phone, 759-R.

NOTICE!
SALARY LOANS
AND
FURNITURE LOANS
ON EASY TERMS.
Everything confidential.
DULUTH FINANCE COMPANY,
301 Palladio.

MONEY TO LOAN ON WATCHES, diamonds, furs and all goods of value, from $1.00 to $1,000. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street. Look for electric sign. Established 1887.

MONEY TO LOAN ON RIFLES AND shotguns. We keep all guns until next season before they are sold. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN, ANY AMOUNT. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange building.

UNION LOAN CO. makes loans, buys notes and mortgages. 210 Palladio.

MONEY SUPPLIED TO SALARIED people and others upon their own notes, without security, easy payments. Offices in fifty-one cities. Tolman, 609 Palladio building.

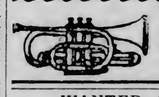

WANTED—LOAN OF $500 FROM PRIvate party; good security. X. Y. Z., Herald.

TO LOAN—$300.00 ON IMPROVED property. Address M 72, Herald.

FOR SALE—COWS.

S. M. KANER HAS FRESH MILCH cows for sale. 1219 East Seventh street. Zenith 1387.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

MUSIC and musical merchandise of every description. Edison phonographs, band and orchestra instruments, pianos and organs. INGVALD WESTGAARD, 7 and 9 First Avenue West.

WANTED—TO RENT.

WANTED TO RENT — LARGE UNfurnished room with all conveniences, East end preferred. Address G 71, Herald.

PERSONAL.

SPANISH TAUGHT. 519 EAST FIFTH street.

FOR RENT — FINE PIANO, VERY reasonable terms to right party. 702 West Second street.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

CASH FOR YOUR REAL ESTATE OR business, no matter where located. If you desire a quick sale, send us description and price. Northwestern Business Agency, 313 X Bank of Commerce building, Minneapolis, Minn.

FOR RENT—FROM MAY 1, THE rooms of the Windsor Hotel. Call at 502 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—MEAT MARKET WITH good business and good location. Inquire G 33, Herald.

FOR SALE—HOUSES.

NOTICE TO YOU WHO PAY RENT—Call on us, we will show you how to own your own home by paying for it with the money you are paying for rent? Let us show you the homes we have sold on this plan. S. S. Williamson, 615 Torrey building. New, 135. Old, 1351.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE—CORRECT MAPS OF CUYuna iron range. Morrison, 416 Torrey building.

PONY SLEIGH—AT A BARGAIN. ADdress M 92, Herald.

CHICKERING PIANOS.
FISCHER PIANOS.

HOWARD, FARWELL & CO.,
17 West Superior Street.
W. J. Allen, Local Manager.
EXPERT PIANO TUNING.

FOR SALE—ONE 2½-H. P., ONE 4-H. P., one 12-H. P., one 24-H. P., and one 28-H. P., second-hand marine gasoline engines, with complete equipment; also several stationary engines. Enterprise Machine company, Minneapolis, Minn.

"SHAKESPEARE" STOCK BOUGHT and sold. Morrison, 416 Torrey Bldg.

FOR SALE—I HAVE SEVERAL ORgans for sale that cost from $100 to $200. Must be sold at once. Prices $15 to $60. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

UPRIGHT PIANO, $150; COST $325; USED four months. 14 First avenue west. Flat 2.

FOR SALE CHEAP— COOK STOVE. People's Moving Co. Inquire at office.

HOUSE FOR SALE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR SALE—GRAND 1,350 FAMILY horse; safe for ladies; 7 years old; 4 minute gait. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—SECOND-HAND 8¼ BY 10 double cylinder, double drum, Lidgerwood hoisting engine. Clyde Iron works.

FOR SALE—THE CELEBRATED ADAM Schaaf piano, awarded world's fair medal. Established 1873; 10-year guarantee. Best piano on earth for the money; only at Lundberg's, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE — KITCHEN CABINET, gas range and other household furniture. Address W. R. B., Herald.

FOR SALE—LEASE OF FOURTEEN-room rooming house, and furniture of seven bedrooms; must be cash. Parties leaving city. M 85, Herald.

FOR SALE—A FEW GOOD SECOND-hand ranges. City Stove Repair Works. 531 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

FOR SALE—SMALL-SIZE DRESS COAT and vest, in first-class condition; a bargain. Address N. T. C., Herald.

THE GOPHER SHOE REPAIR WORKS does it while you wait.

WATCH REPAIRING.

WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING done promptly and in a thorough manner. J. Gruesen, 129 West Superior St.

COMPOUND and VAPOR BATHS.

WE CURE COLDS, RHEUMATISM, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, gout and all blood poisons, give magnetic compound vapor baths. No. 16 E. Sup. St. Mr. and Mrs. A. Ecker, proprietors.

Watch Repairing and Engraving.

W. S. W. BLAKE, WATCHMAKER, Kugler's drug store, 108 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn. Formerly with F. D. Day & Co.

PATENT ATTORNEYS.

INVENTORS, ATTENTION!—PATENTS in all countries promptly obtained, sold, leased, manufactured; models made; twenty-five years established; unexcelled reputation; inventors' book free. Address Patent Market, St. Paul, Minn.

SATIN TOILET SPECIALTIES.

Don't deny yourself delights conferred by Satin skin cream and Satin skin powder.

TENTS AND AWNINGS.

POIRIER & CO., 106 East Superior street.

CLEANING AND REPAIRING.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE; BEST OF workmanship. Suits pressed, 50c; pants, 15c. 118 First avenue west. Old 'phone 1430-L.

PALMIST.

CONSULT GIRARD, MATTERS OF business and domestic affairs. Parlors next to Bijou.

CREMONEA VIOLIN MAKER.

RARE AND OLD VIOLINS REPAIRED; modern violins regraduated so they will improve with age. I develop the fullest tone capacity of every violin submitted. Forty years' experience. Satisfaction guaranteed. P. Lambert, 124 E. 4th St.

UPHOLSTERING and REPAIRING

ED OTT, No. 6 W. First St. Both 'phones.

UPHOLSTERING.

TELEPHONE YOUR UPHOLSTERING wants to Cameron. He will call at your residence with a complete assortment of coverings and estimate your work. Zenith 'phone 787. Bell, 325-L.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. HANSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, female complaints. 413 Seventh avenue east. Old 'phone, 1594; Zenith, 1225.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

DR. BURNETT—Top floor Burrows Bldg.

A Herald Want Ad is good for WRINKLES, where the Problem of Household Help is worrying you. Tell your servant sorrows to 'Phone 324 and you'll see.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—MEN TO LEARN BARBER trade. Now is the time to prepare for the "busy season." Write for "free" ill. catalog. Moler Barber Col., Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED — CANTHOOK MEN, UNloading logs; steady work for good men. Apply at foot of Lavenue, Superior, near Murray-McCann mill. Edw. Hines Lumber company.

WANTED—FOR THE UNITED STATES marine corps, unmarried men between the ages of 21 and 35, able-bodied, of good character and temperate habits, citizens of the United States, or who legally declare their intention to become such; must speak, read and write English; marines serve at sea, on men-of-war, in all parts of the world, on land in our island possessions and at navy yards in the United States. Recruits desiring service in the Philippine Islands may be enlisted accordingly. Apply at 5 South Fifth avenue west Duluth.

WANTED — FOR UNITED STATES army, able-bodied unmarried men, between ages of 21 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write English. For information apply to recruiting officer, Torrey building, Duluth, Minn.

WANTED—BAR PORTER AT THE Spalding hotel.

JOB COMPOSITORS—SIX. $18 PER week, 54 hours. Linotype operator, scale. Permanencies absolutely guaranteed competents. A. B. Farnham Printing Co., Minneapolis.

WANTED — MAN TO MILK, AT Eighteenth avenue and Fifteenth street east. Le Hrutford.

WANTED—MAN OVER 21 TO TRAVEL for wholesale house; staple line; $15 per week and expenses to start; experience unnecessary; advancement April 1. Address with stamped envelope, F. W. Potts, Sykes block, Minneapolis.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN OF 18 OR 20 years to learn the jewelry business; one who resides at home. Address, own handwriting, R 201, Herald.

RELIABLE MAN OR WOMAN TO TRAvel, distribute samples, and employ agent. Local managers also. $18 a week and expenses. Ziegler Co., 225 Locust street, Philadelphia.

WANTED — APRIL 1, MARRIED MAN as farm tenant, twenty miles from Duluth. For particulars address Box 35, Wrenshall, Minn.

WANTED — YOUNG MAN EXPERIenced in paint line as salesman and office man. Apply at once, giving references. Address S 9, Herald.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—POSITION AS SALESMAN by young man, well educated, five years' experience in business; speaks Finnish. G 74, Herald.

YOUNG MAN, THOROUGHLY EXperienced bookkeeper, desires position; can furnish the best of references as to ability and character. Address G 55, Herald.

YOUNG MAN DESIRES POSITION AS assistant bookkeeper, can furnish best of references and is a good penman. M 87, Herald.

BOY—AGE 15, WOULD LIKE WORK after school and Saturday. Call at 611½ West Superior street, rear.

COMPETENT YOUNG MAN STENOGrapher and assistant bookkeeper desires position with part outside work. G 49, Herald.

SITUATION WANTED BY THOROUGHly experienced office man. Railroad or commercial work. First-class references. Address M 71, Evening Herald.

DR. KASSMIR'S TURKISH BATHS

POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM at our sanitarium. We have every modern facility for curing rheumatism, colds, la grippe. Our terms are from $10 to $15 per week. One week's treatment convinces you that our system is right. Examination and consultation free.
DR. M. Z. KASSMIR,
26 West Superior Street.
Ladies' baths upstairs. Look for the big electric sign.

ACCOUNTANTS.

BOOKS CORRECTLY WRITTEN UP and audited by thoroughly qualified expert accountant. Auditor, Herald.

MILLINERY.

Miss Fitzpatrick, 504 E. 4. Old 'phone.

M. A. COX, 330 EAST FOURTH STREET.

PICTURE FRAMING.

DECKER'S, 16 SECOND AVENUE W.

MUSICAL.

Piano lessons at your home by competent teacher. Latest and best methods. 35c a lesson. Address V 35, Herald.

WANTED—TO BUY.

WANTED TO BUY—RESIDENCE LOT at West end about $400 to $600. Address M 75, Herald.

WANTED TO BUY — BICYCLE IN good order, cheap. G 48, Herald.

A LIGHT ONE-HORSE DELIVERY wagon. Must be in good condition. 32 East Second street.

WANTED TO BUY—A GOOD HORSE about 1,400 to 1,500 weight. Address H. I. S., Herald.

WANTED—TO BUY 500 CHICKENS FOR delivery March 1. Address, stating price, Riverside Park Poultry Co., 119½ West Fourth street.

STANDING TIMBER IN MINNESOTA. Address V 8, Herald.

OLD CLOTHES BOUGHT.

G. SHAPIRO, 721 W. SUP. ST., BUYS and sells old clothes. Zenith 1552-X.

BIRTHMARKS REMOVED.

MANICURING, FACE AND SCALP treatments. Miss Kelly, opp. Glass Blk.

STOVE REPAIRS.

DULUTH STOVE REPAIR WORKS, 217 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

BOARD AND ROOM WANTED.

WANTED—BOARD AND ROOM AT once by professional man and wife. Private family preferred. State full particulars. G 31, Herald.

STENOGRAPHY.

GRACE BARNET, FIRST NAT. BLDG.

E. MAUNU, 330 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—GIRL FOR KITCHEN AND one for chamber work. 2532 West Superior street.

WANTED—A COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. Apply Mrs. J. C. Adams, 1528 Ogden avenue, Superior, Wis.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED GIRL FOR general housework. 3 Lafayette flats.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Mrs. H. V. Eva, Hunter's Park.

WANTED — EVERY WOMAN TO TRY Dr. Le Gran's Female Regulator. Guaranteed. Kugler, Your Druggist, 108 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 18 West Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1001 East Second street.

WANTED — EXPERIENCED WAIST makers. MacKenzie Sisters, 201 Burrows building.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework in house of modern conveniences. 2721 West Second street.

WANTED—NURSE. ADDRESS O. P., Herald.

GIRL WANTED AT ONCE FOR GENeral housework, at 730 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

WANTED—COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. 826 East Second street.

WANTED — EXPERIENCED GIRLS for tailoring; steady work and good pay. 605 Manhattan building.

WANTED — DISHWASHER AND scrub woman. Metropole hotel.

WANTED — KITCHEN GIRL. 2532 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1505 East Second street.

WANTED—A COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. 1009 East Second street.

WANTED — A GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 316 Fifth avenue east.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL. APply 2715 West Fourth street.

WANTED—YOUNG GIRL FOR LIGHT housekeeping. 206 West Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 613 East First street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1117 West Michigan street.

WANTED—COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework, two in family. Apply No. 1 Adams Flats.

WANTED — AT ONCE, COMPETENT waist and sleeve drapers and waist finishers, also plain sewers. Miss Lambert, 220 West Superior street.

WANTED — KITCHEN GIRL AT 2004 West Superior street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

WASHING TO TAKE HOME OR CURtains to do up. 421 East Fourth street.

LADY WANTS POSITION AS HOUSEkeeper; one capable of taking care of furnished rooms. G 63, Herald.

WOMAN WANTS A PLACE TO DO laundry work Mondays and Tuesdays; best of references. Address G 54, Herald.

LADY WANTS WORK BY THE DAY. Call at 611½ West Superior street, rear. Upstairs.

WANTED — POSITION AS HOUSEkeeper, by middle-aged woman G 29, Herald.

BOARD OFFERED.

BOARD AND ROOM AT THE BAY View, 301 East Third street. 'Phone 1416-L.

LARGE, FRONT ROOM WITH BOARD for two gentlemen in private family. 130 West Third street.

BOARD AND NICELY FURNISHED rooms. 122 East First street.

BOARD AND ROOM, 117 E. THIRD ST.

FOR RENT—STORES.

FOR RENT—STORE, 411 EAST FOURTH street. Metter Cigar company.

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM, 121 SECond avenue west. Apply E. R. Jefferson.

DYE WORKS.

DULUTH DYE WORKS, 3 W. SUP. ST., 2023 W. Sup. St. Old, 1341-L; Zenith, 1334.

ZENITH CITY DYE WORKS, LARGEST and most reliable dye works in Duluth. First-class work guaranteed. Work called for and delivered. Both 'phones. 6 East Superior street.

CHEMIST AND ASSAYER.

C. F. JOYCE, 631 MANHATTAN BLDG. Old 'phone 1614.

COD LIVER OIL.

1905 IMPORT COD LIVER OIL. Alfred Swedberg, 2015 West Superior St.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. A. FERGUSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, 617 Fifth avenue east. Also private hospital. Old 'phone 434-L.

CIVIL ENGINEER.

DULUTH ENGINEERING CO.—W. B. Patton, Mgr., 613 Palladio Bldg. Specifications prepared and construction superintended for waterworks, sewers, etc.

FIRE INSURANCE

WRITTEN IN BEST COMPANIES. Cooley & Underhill. 207 Exchange Bldg.

IF YOU WILL BRING

Suit to 10 Fourth avenue west, we press it for 50c; pants, 15c. J. Oreckovsky.

CLOTHES WRINGERS REPAIR'D

RUBBER ROLLS REPLACED, AND extra parts of all makes of wringers; also we sell best high-grade wringers, washing machines, etc. Special agents for American Wringer company. Interstate Mercantile company, No. 231 East Superior street.

MEDICAL.

FOR WOMEN ONLY—DR. RAYMOND'S Pills. Women's Monthly Regulator, has brought happiness to thousands of anxious women; no pain, no danger. We have never known of a single failure. Price $2 by mail. Raymond's Monthly Regulator in liquid, $3. Dr. R. G. Raymond Remedy company, Room 27, 84 Adams street, Chicago, Ill.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SECRET SOCIETIES.

MASONIC.

PALESTINE LODGE, NO. 79, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings, first and third Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting March 5th, 1906. Work, First degree, Charles A. Bronson, W. M.; H. Nesbitt, secretary.

IONIC LODGE, NO. 186, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings second and fourth Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 26, 1906. Work—Third degree. John Cox, W. M.; H. S. Newell, secretary.

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, NO. 20, R. A. M. Stated convocations second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 28, 1906. Charles A. Payne, H. P.; Alfred Le Richeux, secretary.

DULUTH COMMANDERY, NO. 18, K. T. —Stated conclave, first Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m. Stated conclave 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 6th. General business, election of officers, Masonic Temple. C. W. Wilson, Em. Com.; Alfred LeRicheaux, recorder.

SCOTTISH RITE.
Regular meetings every Thursday evening of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Thursday, Feb. 22, 1906. Work—Eighteenth degree. J. E. Cooley, secretary.

SUCLID LODGE, NO. 198, A. F. & A. M. —Regular meetings first and third Wednesday evenings of each month at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 21. Work—Second degree. W. J. Darby, W. M.; A. Dunleavy, secretary.

K. O. T. M.

DULUTH TENT, NO. 1, MEETS EVERY Wednesday in K. O. T. M. hall, 224 West First street. Visiting Sir Knights always welcome. J. P. Peterson, commander; Charles J. Hector, finance keeper, 22 West First street. J. B. Gelineau, record keeper, office in hall. For rent of hall apply at record keeper's office. Hours, 10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and Saturday evenings.

MODERN SAMARITANS.

ALPHA COUNCIL, NO. 1, meets at Elks' hall every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 22. Samaritan Degree. T. J. McKeon, G. S.; Lucy Furdy, L. G. S.; Wallace P. Wellbanks, scribe; T. A. Gall, financial scribe.

A. O. U. W.

FIDELITY LODGE, NO. 105, meets at new Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. J. Patshkowski, M. W.; W. W. Fenstermacher, recorder; O. J. Murvold, financier, 217 East Fifth street.

A. O. U. W.

DULUTH LODGE, NO. 10, eets in Odd Fellows' hall every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. William J. Stephens, W. M.; T. J. St. Germain, 110 First avenue west, financier; H. B. Ivens, recorder. Sick benefit meets at 7:30 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

NORTH STAR LODGE, K. of P., No. 35, meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Work—3rd rank, Feb. 20, at 118 West Superior street. J. A. Wharton, C. C.; T. L. Foss, K. R. S.

I. O. F.

COURT COMMERCE, NO. 3283, Independent Order of Foresters, meets first and Third Friday evenings at 8 o'clock at Rowley's hall, No. 112 West First street. Next regular meeting March 2, 1906—Initiation. F. A. Tupper, C. R.; W. W. Hoopes, R. S.

FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES.

DULUTH AERIE, NO. 79, MEETS every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Eagle hall, Folz building, 116 West Superior street. J. W. Parker, W. P.; J. W. Schroeder, secretary, 11 First avenue east. Apply to W. E. Brown, 417 West Superior street, for rental of hall.

M. W. A.

IMPERIAL CAMP, NO. 2206, meets at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, second and fourth Tuesdays. Visiting members always welcome. S. F. Staples, V. C.; N. P. Turnbladh, banker; R. Rankin, clerk, 1322 Jefferson street.

CLAN SRTEWART, NO. 50, O. S. C., meets first and third Wednesdays of each month at 8 p. m. in Folz hall, West Superior street. John G. Ross, chief; Malcolm MacDonald, secretary; John Burnett, financial secretary. 10 Mason flats. Next meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 21.

ROYAL LEAGUE.

ZENITH COUNCIL, NO. 161, Royal league, meets in Elks' hall first and third Monday evenings at 8 o'clock. George L. Hargreaves, archeon; L. P. Murray, scribe, 1815 East Fifth street.

KNIGHTS OF THE LOYAL GUARD—Suburban division, No. 132, meets first and third Wednesday evenings of each month, Hall A, Kalamazoo block. E. F. Heller, captain general; H. V. Holmes, paymaster, 415 Fifteenth avenue east; Mrs. Mary P. Foster, recorder, 720 Third avenue, east.

MODERN MACCABEES—ZENITH CITY Tent, No. 1044, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. Commander, Charles E. Norman; record keeper and finance keeper, A. G. Case, care Union depot, after 1 p. m., residence, 412 West Fourth street.

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF STEAM Engineers—Local union, No. 15, meets first and third Thursday evenings, third floor, Room 2, Axa building. President, John F. Gogins; vice president, O. C. Hanson; financial secretary, E. V. Robinson; recording secretary, I. W. Gilleland; treasurer, C. J. Wendt; conductor, Andrew Wold; guard, William Beatty.

U. O. F.

COURT EASTERN STAR, NO. 86, UNITed Order of Foresters, meets the first and third Tuesday of every month at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street. Visiting brothers and sisters always welcome. Next meeting Feb. 20, social dance. J. B. Gelineau, C. R., 224 Ninth avenue east; Harry Milnes, treasurer. Office at hall.

ARCHITECTS.

FRANK L. YOUNG & CO., 202 Pal. Bldg.

14 PAGES

DULUTH EVENING HERALD

14 PAGES

TWENTY-THIRD YEAR. LAST EDITION. THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1906. (ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS.) TWO CENTS.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

ARMSTRONG COMMITTEE FINDS LIFE INSURANCE BUSINESS HAS BEEN CONDUCTED DISGRACEFULLY AND RECOMMENDS NEW LAWS

GREAT NAVY IS NEEDED FOR SAFETY AND CREDIT OF THE UNITED STATES

Secretary of Navy Bonaparte Delivers Address at Baltimore.

Must Be Strong Enough to Meet Any Enemy.

Believes People Should Sustain Government in Its Efforts.

Baltimore, Feb. 22.—At the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the John Hopkins university here today Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte spoke on "Our Navy: Why We Need It and What It Needs." He said in part:

On the 22nd of February one can hardly doubt that, however forgetful it may be of his words in moments of distraction, the American nation would mould its traditional policy in accordance with the counsels of Washington. I answer therefore the first of the two questions I have prefixed to this little paper by saying that we need our navy to make and keep ourselves such a nation as Washington hoped and believed we should become to assure what he called the "rank due to these United States among nations," not as a matter of vanity, but as needful to our safety and our credit, as at once the measure and the sanction of our national duty to mankind.

To understand its true utility and full mission, however, we must constantly bear in mind that the navy is essentially a branch of the country's military strength: It exists that it may fight if need be, and, to be really useful, it must be sufficiently strong and sufficiently prepared for its work, to meet at any moment any enemy it might be called upon to encounter. We need such a navy, because, again in the words of Washington, "to secure peace it must be known that we are at all times ready for war."

The same thought gives us the answer to my second question: The navy needs what it ought to have and, indeed, must have to do its work and to do this well. In the first place, it needs a great deal of money, for modern warfare is already very expensive and grows more expensive daily. I may note here a few features of which a civilian can hardly appreciate the significance until he has been brought into personal contact with naval interests and naval problems. Our present smokeless powder requires some six months after it is made to be really fit for use: A war must be well nigh fought out now therefore with the stock of powder on hand when it is declared. The tremendous energy of this same powder so affects the guns in which it is used that these soon cease to be trustworthy and must go into a sort of gun-hospital for treatment. This fact is the more serious because in all navies target practice has been developed on a scale but lately unheard of, so that we use up our guns while teaching our men how to use them.

Moreover, a modern ship of war, and especially a battleship, has become an immense repository of the most varied, powerful, complicated and delicate machinery. Not only does this need constant attention and frequent repairs, under the most favorable circumstances, but the progress of mechanical science is continually superseding parts of it with new devices which must be installed in our ships, if these are not to fall behind their possible adversaries.

For all these reasons, and many more besides, an enlightened and patriotic public opinion will, I feel confident, sustain the legislative branch of our national government in a policy of discriminating and judicious liberality towards the navy. To give it a hundred millions when it will be crippled if it have not a hundred and ten, would be rather a waste of the hundred than a saving of the ten.

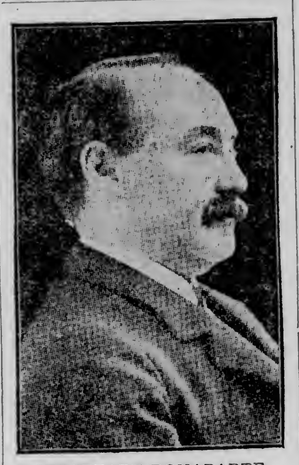

The second great need of the navy is, to my mind, a thorough and unsparing but fair and intelligent criticism. Every person in the service, and especially the secretary, as its head, is a legitimate object of perfectly free comment for all the organs of public opinion; if this hurts his feelings, he must get used to having them hurt. But the duty of fair criticism forbids unfair criticism based on wilful misrepresentation or voluntary ignorance of material facts.

Finally, the navy needs, perhaps more imperatively than aught else, an assurance that the public sympathizes with its work; that the public knows and feels its value to the nation.

To recruit our service we have never had recourse to conscription. We trust with a confidence, which the event has hitherto justified, to the patriotism and military spirit of our seafaring folk for the additional men we need in war. The men we seek, and of late have, in large measure, secured, will not subject themselves to the restraints of naval discipline unless they feel that as sailors they can retain their self-respect and earn the esteem of their fellow-Americans. To treat these men as outcasts when they come ashore is to cripple our ships more surely than if their guns were disabled or their engines put out of gear; the men behind the guns, the men to handle and feed the engines, are the most truly vital factors in their efficiency. Such men must be trained, not for days or weeks, but for months and years in time of peace, if they are to be of more use than hindrance in time of war.

FATALLY INJURED.

Bruce, Wis., Feb. 22.—W. H. Lee, whose home is in Minneapolis, an employe of the Beldenville Lumber company over a year, was seriously if not fatally injured while working at Camp 5 of the company. He stepped between two cars to couple them, and was caught between projecting logs, and his head was badly crushed. He was taken on an engine to town for care.

SECRETARY BONAPARTE.

TAFT HAS BUSY DAY

Scheduled for Three Speeches Within Ten Hours in Chicago.

Talks to the Children on the Life of Washington.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Secretary of War William H. Taft, who spent today in this city as the guest of the Union League club, was scheduled for three addresses upon patriotic themes within ten hours. His first speech was made at the Auditorium in the morning, where he addressed 5,000 children from the public schools on the life of Washington. Judge Benjamin J. Lindsey of Denver also addressed the children, taking, as did Secretary Taft, his inspiration from the life of Washington. In the afternoon the secretary delivered a more formal address to the members of the Union League club and their guests, choosing for his subject "The Army and the Republic." President F. A. Delano of the Union League presided and introduced the secretary to his audience in a felicitous speech.

Tonight the regular banquet of the Union League club will be held, and here Secretary Taft is expected to respond to the toast of "The Orator of the day."

Today's celebration of the anniversary of the birth of Washington was more general than ever before. The public schools were closed, and in addition to the celebration in the Auditorium at which Secretary Taft and Judge Lindsey spoke, appropriate exercises were held in different parts of the city under the auspices of patriotic clubs.

BRITONS WILL ACCEPT AMERICA'S CHALLENGE.

London, Feb. 22.—America's challenge for the Dwight F. Davis international tennis cup will be accepted by the British Lawn Tennis association by cable today. The only other entry thus far is Australia, but continental competitors are expected before the entries close at the beginning of March. H. L. Doherty will again be available for the singles and will defend the trophy in behalf of Great Britain. There is a possibility, however, that the health of R. F. Doherty will preclude his playing in which case the younger brother is likely to be left out of the doubles and the defence may be entrusted to a new pair.

GIRL FLOORS MASHER; KICKS HIM TO SLEEP.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—"You ought not to be out at night alone. You have brought this on yourself."

That is what a masher said to Miss Bertha Plath in South Chicago, as he seized her while she was on her way home Tuesday night.

Miss Plath let her right fist fly out straight from the shoulder for reply and her foot gave a muscular kick.

Down went the moralizing masher with a crash and a look of pained amazement on his face. Then his punishment continued. Miss Plath kicked him until he was insensible and then, fearing that she had killed him, ran home. The girl today reported the affair to the police, timidly asking if they had found the man's body.

Friends of Miss Plath say she is an expert at the punching bag.

THE WEST IS IN THE LEAD

In Percentage of Increase in Number of Industries.

Oklahoma at Head, With Indian Territory a Close Second.

Washington, Feb. 22.—A report prepared by the census bureau for the use of the congressional committee on manufactories discloses that in the percentage of increase in number of industries and value of products manufactured, five of the far Western states lead the list.

In Oklahoma in the last five years capital invested in manufacturing increased 331 per cent, value of the production 200 per cent; number of establishments 107 per cent and number of employes 147 per cent.

Indian Territory ranks on a par with Oklahoma with an increase of 200 per cent in the value of manufactured materials, 215 per cent increase in capital invested, and an increase of 160 per cent in the number of establishments.

Nevada, Idaho and Utah ranked next. There was a decrease in number of manufacturing establishments, despite an increase in output and capital invested in a majority of the states, due, it is stated, to the consolidation of small enterprises.

The increase of production and capital invested in all the states runs from 20 to 200 per cent in the five years. In Delaware alone there is a slight decrease of productions, but increase in capital invested.

GENERAL ORDERS FOR ENCAMPMENT

Issued by Commander-in-Chief Tanner of the G. A. R.

Washington, Feb. 22.—In general orders Commander-in-Chief Tanner of the G. A. R. outlines the program for the national encampment which convenes at Minneapolis on August 13. He says:

"On the evening of Tuesday, Aug. 14, there will be a semi-official meeting to receive addresses from state and city officials, from the committee on arrangements, and greeting from our auxiliary societies. Responses will be made by comrades designated by the commander-in-chief.

"The annual parade, in connection with national encampment, will be on Wednesday, Aug. 15, commencing to move at 10 a. m. sharp, and will be composed exclusively of grand army comrades, as posts or individuals, and their accompanying organizations, the usual military bands, and a marching flag. The parade will not be more than two miles in length.

"The department of Illinois, by right of seniority, will have the right of the line; other departments will follow in order of seniority of date of charters. The entertaining department will take position on the left of the line. The commander-in-chief has accepted the proffer of Columbia post No. 706, department of Illinois, as his personal escort.

"The business sessions of the encampment will begin on Thursday, Aug. 16, at 9 a. m. sharp."

REVOLUTION IS IMMINENT

Chinese Antipathy to Rulers is Spreading Very Rapidly.

Anti-Foreign Demonstration is Merely a Side Issue.

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—Dr. T. W. Ayers, who has been engaged in hospital work in North China for five years past, in connection with the Southern Baptist mission, arrived from the Orient yesterday. In discussing the situation in China, a subject on which he is well informed, he said:

"All of the trouble now brewing in China is directly attributable to a deep-seated and unconquerable antipathy towards the government. The feeling of dissatisfaction is spreading, and to my mind a revolution is imminent. The anti-foreign feeling is merely one of the expressions of the movement, which has for its purpose the unseating of the Manchu dynasty and the establishment of a republican form of government in its stead. The boycott on American goods, similarly, is an expression of the same revolutionary purpose. These things are merely the means to an end. The student class has become a numerous and influential body. It is a matter of interest that a month or so ago 12,000 students, who returned to China in a body from the schools they had been attending in Tokio, had a great many unkind things to say of the rulers of their own country.

"These students, who are members of the better classes in China, are responsible for the growth and agitation of the anti-foreign sentiment and for the boycott.

"The anti-foreign feeling is not directed particularly toward the missionaries. The doctrine that is being spread abroad in the empire is that the foreigners are there to grab territory, and the Chinese can see that the missionaries are not in China to make money or grab territory."

TENNIS TOURNEY OPENS IN BOSTON.

Boston, Feb. 22.—Nineteen of the strongest racquet players in the country were on the entry list for the national amateur championship, which began on the court of the Boston Athletic association, today. The list included the present champion, Lawrence Waterbury of the New York Racquet and Tennis club, as well as Clarence H. Mackay, who defeated Waterbury at the recent tournament at Tuxedo.

Three matches in the first round were scheduled for this play this morning, F. D. Hamlin of Chicago meeting Austin Potter of the Tennis and Racquet club of this city, H. D. Scott of the local club against A. J. Colby of New York, and J. P. Gregg of Philadelphia against C. G. Winslow of the local club.

The winner of the Hamlin-Potter match is drawn against Champion Waterbury, in the second round. It is expected that the final round will be reached on Saturday.

PREPARE TO HANG HOCH

For Fourth Time Arrangements Are Made for His Execution.

Hoch Has Given Up Hope and Expects to Die Friday.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—For the fourth time since the conviction of Johann Hoch, preparations were today commenced for his execution. Hoch appeared in good spirits, but announced that he had lost hope and expected to die.

"I feel fine," he said, "but I guess that I will have to die tomorrow. This is the fourth time I have been near death, and I guess this is the last time. I have not any hope, but still, I feel pretty good."

Hoch was told that there existed in many quarters an opinion that he intended to cheat the gallows by committing suicide. He laughed heartily at the suggestion.

"Me take my own life?" he asked. "Why, do you know what that would mean? It would be an absolute confession of guilt on my part. I am a soldier, and why should I not be brave and drop from the scaffold if I am innocent?"

Late in the day Hoch was removed from his cell to the death chamber in the jail and a death watch set over him.

AMBASSADOR REID OPENS ART EXHIBITION.

London, Feb. 22.—Ambassador Reid today formally opened the second section of the sixth annual exhibition of the International Society of Sculptors, Painters and Gravers, at the new gallery. The president of the society, August Rodin, presided. The gallery was crowded with artists and contributors to art. Mr. Reid, in a short and pleasing speech, referred to the fact that both the founder and the first president of the society were Americans, and expressed the hope that the foundation principles may yet penetrate America.

Speaking of Whistler, Mr. Reid said that he was one of the foremost, if not the foremost, etcher of his century.

CHOP LEG PIECEMEAL.

Surgeons Perform Thirty-Second Operation on Unfortunate Jersey Man.

New York, Feb. 22.—Charles Roralin submitted, in the German hospital at Newark, N. J., yesterday, to the thirty-second operation that has been performed on one of his legs within fourteen years. The thirty-one preceding operations had taken away almost all of his leg, and the surgeons found only a stump. Besides losing his leg, the operations have cost Roralin four years of time in the hospitals. Most of the operations have been due to Roralin's eagerness to leave the hospitals in which they were performed, affording no time for them to heal properly.

Roralin hurt his foot in an elevator fourteen years ago. The first operation cost him only a part of his foot.

The surgeons say he will be fully cured in a month.

POLICYHOLDERS ARE TO ELECT NEW DIRECTORS

As Soon as Provisions of Proposed Statute Can be Made Applicable.

New Law Will Nullify Proxies Already Obtained by Lawson and Others.

Committee Says Officials Should Account for Money Wrongfully Spent.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 22.—The report of the Armstrong special insurance investigating committee was presented in both houses today. It was accompanied by eight bills designed to carry into effect in detail the recommendations of the committee. Senator Armstrong made a statement in which he said that counsel for the committee, Mr. Hughes, Mr. McKeen and himself, had worked on the bills until 4 o'clock this morning and had not then finished their labors. He asked leave for the committee to submit a supplemental report which will contain the proposed forms of the standard life insurance policies to be prescribed by law. He promised this report next week. There will be a public hearing on the bills before the investigating committee itself on Friday, March 3, in the assembly chamber.

In a statement made to newspaper men before the presentation of the report, Senator Armstrong said he hoped to have passed before April 15, the bill which will defer the annual elections in the mutual companies from April 15 to Nov. 15. This, it is believed, probably would nullify all proxies obtained up to this time by Thomas F. Lawson and the policyholders' committee of state, governors and others, as well as those which the management of the companies themselves have been gathering through their agents.

New York, Feb. 22.—One of the most important of the laws regulating mutual companies and recommended by the insurance investigating committee, looks to the giving to policyholders of an opportunity to elect entirely new boards of directors as soon as the provisions of such law can be made applicable. To that end the committee recommends a special act providing for the expiration of the terms of office of existing directors of such companies, on the 15th day of November next, and that the annual meetings, which would otherwise be held at an earlier date, should be postponed to that time. In this way it will be possible for lists of policyholders to be filed, under the statute, for nominations to be made and for the policyholders to cast their votes in person, by proxy, or by mail, as they may desire. All existing proxies should be declared void, so that no proxies should be voted at such election other than those which are given under the statute, within two months prior thereto. The first election should be under the supervision of the superintendent of insurance, who should be directed to appoint inspectors of election, and see that it is conducted according to law. The new boards of directors should divide themselves into two classes, so that hereafter one half of the board may be elected annually, and errors in management promptly corrected. As the annual election in one of these companies would otherwise take place in April, it is important that this special act should be passed immediately.

New York, Feb. 22.—The report of the joint committee of the senate and assembly of the state of New York appointed to investigate the affairs of the life insurance companies, covers a printed pamphlet of 319 pages.

After reciting the resolution authorizing the work and the plan adopted for the investigation by the committee each individual company is passed in review. There are fifteen companies organized under the laws of New York issuing level premium policies and in a single instance only the committee departed from the policy of limiting its investigation to companies organized under the laws of New York. The company was the Prudential Life Insurance company of New Jersey.

The matters demanding the consideration of the legislature for the purpose of remedying existing evils and of establishing more securely the business of life insurance in this state are grouped under the following heads:

(1)—Organization of life insurance corporations.
(2)—Control, or the rights of policyholders in the election of directors.
(3)—Retirement of stock.
(4)—Investment including syndicate participations.
(5)—Limitation of new business.
(6)—Political contributions.
(7)—Lobbying.
(8)—Limitation of expenses.
(9)—Valuation of policies.
(10)—Rebates.
(11)—Surrending values.
(12)—Ascertainment and distribution of surplus.
(13)—Remedies of policyholders, or right to resort to the courts.
(14)—Forms of policies.
(15)—Publicity and state supervision.
(16)—Penalties.

The committee recommends that Article II of the insurance law be so amended as to permit the formation thereunder of mutual corporations without capital stock to transact the business of life insurance and for such other purposes as are authorized to be connected therewith in the case of stock corporations; provided at least that the hundred persons have subscribed to become members therein in the aggregate amount of at least $1,000,000 to be insured upon their lives, and shall have each paid in one full premium in cash upon the insurance subscribed for, and provided further that it shall make the same deposits with the superintendent of insurance that are required of stock corporations formed for similar purposes.

Section 200, permitting the incorporation of companies upon the co-operative or assessment plan, should be amended so as not to permit such companies to be incorporated in the future, and foreign companies of this sort not already transacting business in this state should not be permitted to enter the state.

Concerning the so-called mutual companies, the committee says:

"Notwithstanding their theoretical rights, policyholders have had little or no voice in the management. Entrenched behind proxies easily collected by subservient agents and running for long periods, unless expressly revoked, the officers of these companies have occupied unassailable positions and have been able to exercise despotic power. Ownership of the entire stock of an unmixed stock corporation scarcely could give a tenure more secure. The most fertile source of evils in administration has been irresponsibility of official power. However much this may be expected in the case of absolute stock control, in that of a mutual company, it proceeds from a flagrant disregard of the law of its being. While it would be plainly unwise that the maangement of a life insurance company should be rendered unstable or that its personnel should be frequently changed, it is of the first importance that officers should realize their direct responsibility to those whom they represent and should rely for their continuance in office upon proved efficiency and not upon a practical inability of the policyholders to depose them.

"With these objects in view, the following plan is recommended: At least five months prior to each election, lists of policyholders having at least $10,000 of insurance in force, properly classified by states and countries, giving names and addresses, but not the amount of insurance, should be filed with the superintendent of insurance, and similar lists should be open to inspection of policyholders within each state and foreign country should be filed at the general agencies of the company in such jurisdictions. Voting should be limited to those who have been insured at least one year before the election, and whose policies are still in force when the election is held. The board of trustees or directors should annually nominate candidates to be voted for at the next election, and should file its nominations with the superintendent of insurance at least four months before the election, together with a designation of persons to receive proxies to vote for such candidates. It should also be provided that any group of 100 members should be privileged to make and file with the superintendent independent nominations, together with names of persons who will receive proxies to vote for the candidates, at least three months before the election. The corporation should be required at least two months prior to the election to mail to each policyholder notice of the election, together with a suitable ballot containing the names of all candidates whose nominations have been duly filed, with properly addressed envelope enclosed for the return of the ballot. The periods above mentioned have been fixed in order to give opportunity to reach distant policyholders. Votes should be limited to the nominated candidates and suitable provisions should be made for new nominations, and the casting of votes under proxies, in case of the death or incapacity of any person nominated. Provision should also be made for the proper custody of ballots received by mail and disinterested persons should be appointed to act as inspectors of election."

As to stock companies, the committee recommend mutualization.

On the subject of the investments of life insurance companies, the committee, after declaring against "syndicates," recommends that the law be amended so as to provide:

(1)—That no investment in the stock of any corporation shall be permitted, except in public stocks of municipal corporations.

(2)—That investments in bonds secured to the extent of more than one-third of the value of the entire security therefor by the hypothecation of corporate stocks shall be prohibited.

(3)—That no loans shall be made upon stocks and bonds which are not the subject of purchase under the above provisions.

(4)—That every company now owning stocks or bonds of the prohibited classes shall be required to dispose of the same within five years from Dec. 31, 1906, and each year prior thereto shall make a reduction of the amount of such investments to an extent approved by the superintendent of insurance.

(5)—The statute should also forbid all syndicate participations or purchase and also on joint account, and the making

(Continued on page 5, second column.)

TRACTION AND LIGHTING INTERESTS CONSOLIDATE.

Green Bay, Wis., Feb. 22.—Negotiations which have been pending for months were closed today, and will result in the consolidation of the local traction and lighting interests, after March 1. Men identified with the Green Bay Traction company purchased the entire stock, $600,000 of the Green Bay Gas & Electric company, the buyers being Albert M. Murphy, Mitchell Joaness and W. P. Wagner, Green Bay, and George W. Knox and Roland M. Heskett, Chicago. The purchase price is withheld. Most of the lighting stocks was held by Sinclair Mainland of Green Bay and William Mainland of Oshkosh.

THE IMPURE FOOD MERCHANT AGAINST WHOM THE LEGITIMATE DEALER IS FORCED TO COMPETE.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

GOOD EVENING.

DULUTH WEATHER REPORT: Rain or snow this afternoon or tonight: Friday fair and slightly colder; winds shifting to fresh and brisk westerly by Friday morning.

SNAPPY HOSE

At a little price.

50c and 75c

Lisle thread and finest maco fancy Hose—in broken lines—

35c

3 pairs for $1.00.

Agents for the KNOX HATS.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE.

Oak Hall Clothing Co.

331-333-335 Superior Street, Cor. Fourth Ave. W.

Examination FREE

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

DR. BEST,

Rooms 1 and 2, 26 W. Superior St.

Made In Duluth.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

The Northland M'f'g. Co.

No. Size

OVERALLS, WORK SHIRTS, PANTS and JACKETS.

The Calumet & Arizona Mining Company

Have declared a dividend of Two and Fifty one-hundredths ($2.50) dollars a share, being the tenth quarterly dividend on the outstanding stock of said Company, payable March 20th to stockholders of record at the close of the books March 3rd, 1906. Transfer books will close at 3 o'clock p. m. March 3rd, 1906, and reopen at 10 o'clock a. m. March 20th, 1906.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 21st, 1906.
GORDON R. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

TOO STRONG FOR WORK

Husky Vagrant Expresses His Dislike for Labor on Streets.

Claimed He Robbed 17-Year-Old Boy of Earnings.

"I ain't going to work on no —— —— streets," said Frank Ferguson, a husky young man about 38 years of age, who was accused of vagrancy in the municipal court this morning.

The police claim that Ferguson is too strong to work, and appears to have a liking for the companionship of woodsmen with money.

His arrest was brought about as the result of the complaint of Ole Sieverson, a young boy not more than 17 years of age, who claimed that Ferguson had robbed him of about $8. The two were out together last evening, drinking, and when the time came to go to bed, the boy paid for the room for both, and they slept together. About 12 o'clock the boy woke up and found Ferguson and about $8 of his money gone.

He told his story to the proprietor and the latter informed Officer Roberg who promptly located Ferguson and threw him in on a vagrancy charge.

Officer Roberg, Sergeant Wilcox and the boy all appeared against him this morning.

"His plan is to get men drinking in saloons," said Sergeant Wilcox. "He hangs around one or two places which are run by men no better than he is, and if he can get the crowd of loungers started drinking, he begins fooling with them, and wrestling or pushing them about. While he is doing that he goes through their pockets. Or sometimes he will grab money out of their hand, pretending to be in fun, and not give it back.

"He's about the hardest man of that kind to deal with, that I know. He had been arrested and sentenced for vagrancy several times, and he daren't show his face inside of Superior. If he does the officers make him take the first car out again."

Ferguson's record was hunted up and it showed that he had already served two terms for vagrancy here.

"Are you pretty good at working on the streets?" asked Judge Windom.

"I ain't going to work on no —— —— streets," said Ferguson, shrugging his brawny shoulders, and assuming an aggressive air.

"Oh, yes, you are," said Judge Windom. "You're going up for sixty days at hard labor, and I'll instruct the people up at the jail to give you the worst of it, and put you at the hardest kind of work they have."

SCOTT'S EMULSION is more than a fat food. There is no animal fat that compares with it in nourishing and building up the wasted, emaciated body. That is why children and anæmic girls thrive and grow fat upon it. That is why persons with consumptive tendencies gain flesh and strength enough to check the progress of the disease.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

LONGWORTHS IN CUBA.

Congressman and His Bride Reach the City of Havana.

Havana, Feb. 22.—The steamer Mascotte, having on board Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and Edwin V. Morgan, the new American minister to Cuba, arrived here today from Florida, after a smooth trip, and was boarded by the attaches of the American legation and Frank Steinhardt, the American consul at Havana, the reception committee of the Cuban congress, and President Palma's military aide-de-camp, who were received by the travelers on the after deck. Congressman Govin, as spokesman of the committee, welcomed the visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Longworth went ashore in a launch in charge of the Cuban president's aide-de-camp, a gaily decorated tug chartered by the American club, accompanying them. The Longworths plan to remain here a week.

Annual

Senior Plays

At High School

FEBRUARY 23, 1906.

Admission 25c.

Management of A.F.M.Custance

GIRL IS GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE

Domestic Accused of Petty Larceny Released Under Suspended Sentence.

Another chance was given Mary Saari, a domestic charged with stealing from her employers, by Judge Windom this morning.

The girl, who is only 20 years of age, was charged with have stolen some clothing from her former employer, Mrs. Carlson of West Duluth. She pleaded guilty to petty larceny. The girl is of Finnish descent, and could not speak English.

"I don't like to send her up to the county jail with those disreputable characters," said Judge Windom, to the interpretor, Secretary Lahti of the police department. "Explain to her the serious nature of the position she has placed herself in, and tell her that it is only owing to the leniency of the court that she is not locked up in jail. Tell her that she can't do that kind of thing in this country without getting punished for it."

With this warning the girl was given a suspended sentence.

The up-to-date woman avoids caustics, drugs and powders. They are extremely harmful to the skin, while Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes it soft and beautiful. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

AURORA'S NEW SCHOOLHOUSE

Nearly Finished and Will be Dedicated on March 10.

Aurora, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The handsome new school building recently erected here is just receiving its finishing touches. The carpenters have gone and the painters will finish next week. The structure complete will cost fully $8,500, which is $2,000 more than the contract price. The building is two stories high of frame, with 9-foot stone basement, which can be utilized for kindergarten and primary department when the need arises. The building contains four large recitation rooms with clothes closets and other accessories. It is heated by steam. It is proposed to formally dedicate the building on Saturday, March 10, with appropriate exercises and addresses. Among the speakers will be County Superintendent Gilpin, Architect O. P. Young of Duluth, and a clergyman from Two Harbors. Principal Graham has arranged for the appearance here today and tomorrow of the Horace K. Turner art exhibit from Boston, the object being to raise funds for the purchase of pictures to adorn the school rooms.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will hold a box social next Tuesday evening. Mrs. W. H. Guinn entertained the society yesterday afternoon.

Frank Abrahamson of Floodwood is moving his clothing store to Aurora and will occupy the store adjoining the saloon of his brother, A. Abrahamson.

The first select dancing party ever held in Aurora will be given tomorrow evening. It is being arranged by the young men of the village. A party of young people from Biwabik will be in attendance.

Jacob Mantanan, a young Finlander, who has been in this country but six months, was arrested on complaint of Weiner Bros., charged with raising the figures on a check issued by the Pitt Iron Mining company from $25 to $28. He had a hearing before Justice McRae and was bound over to the grand jury in $250 bail, which his friends furnished. The writing on the check was not altered, simply the figures, yet it passed through the hands of Weiner Bros. the Bank of Aurora and a Duluth bank, all paying $28 for it, and the forgery was not detected until it reached the Pittsburg office of the mining company. Matanen claims he did not alter the figures and received only $25 for it from Weiner Bros.

Capts. Vickers and Karket of the Mohawk mine departed Tuesday to attend the ski tournament at Ishpeming.

Laying of steel was commenced this week on the second track being built between Summit and Colby, on the D. & I. R. Joseph G. Miller, who has charge of the work for Contractor Runquist, says that the track will be ready for trains about May 1, but that it will not be surfaced and fully completed before Aug. 1. An engineering force of the road is here laying out a route for a spur track to be built to the Meadow mine. Sinking of the shaft on this property will be commenced about March 1 and it is expected to have it in the shipping list this year.

The Iron Range Brewing company of Tower has let a contract for the erection of a cooler and ice house at this point and has engaged M. Cronin of Sparta to fill the ice house.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

UNION MUST PAY

For Assaults on Non-Union Men, Says Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The supreme court today handed down an opinion affirming a decision of the Cook county court in fining members of Franklin union, No. 4, for unlawful assaults upon nonunion men and fining the union for being guilty of illegal conspiracy. The supreme court holds the strikers had no right to picket plants and that the union can be held liable as a corporation.

TAXES ARE COMING IN

Personal Property Assessment for 1905 Well Paid Up.

Ten Per Cent Penalty Attaches by First of March.

With only a week more in which to pay the personal property taxes for 1905, without the 10 per cent penalty attaching, the assessments are being paid at a great rate at the county treasurer's office. The tendency of taxpayers to pay by check rather than personally is shown more than ever this year by the receipts at County Treasurer Holgate's office.

In the case of those who appear personally to pay their taxes, the treasurer's receipt is issued at once. Where the taxes are paid by check there will be some delay before the receipts are mailed back to the taxpayers, as the check payments are attended to last.

It is figured that considerably over one-half the personal property taxes for 1905 have been paid, particularly where the assessments were for small amounts. Some of the largest taxpayers have not yet contributed their assessment into the county treasury, usually waiting until nearly the last day before doing so.

It is understood that there has been an unusually large number of protests and complaints made by Duluth property owners relative to their 1905 assessment. Particularly is this true of taxpayers who have hitherto been paying comparatively small amounts. In many instances the city assessor is said to have practically doubled the assessments, and such procedure is causing much complaint.

If the 1905 personal property taxes are not paid by March 1 next a 10 per cent penalty on the total amount becomes due with the assessment. If the tax and penalty are not paid by about the middle of April, the matter is turned over to the sheriff to collect on judgment, in which case costs also attach, and seizures may be made of personal property to sell to satisfy the judgment.

INDUSTRIES ARE CRIPPLED

By Burning of Electric Power Plant at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—A fire early this morning, in the central station of the San Francisco Gas and Electric company, caused a loss estimated at three quarters of a million dollars, besides crippling many commercial establishments. All of the evening papers are without power to run their machinery, even the liotypes being rendered useless. Nearly all of the telegraph wires leading out of this city are idle, the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies having obtained their power from the station which was burned. News to nearby cities is being sent by circuitous routes, involving much delay. Every effort is being made to install temporary power plants, but it is uncertain when normal conditions will be restored.

BOY GENIUS IN TELEGRAPHY

Sixteen-Year-Old School Boy Invents a Wireless Apparatus.

Washington, Feb. 22.—With homemade apparatus, Lloyd Manual, a Newport school boy, is able to interfere with the operation of the naval wireless station at that point. Commander Albert Gleaves thinks the matter so important that he has sent to the bureau of equipment of the navy a detailed account of the plant which the boy has built. The meagerness of it may be gathered from the statement of the commander that the young operator receives messages through the medium of an ordinary incandescent electric lamp, the glass on which he had broken, and which he uses for a receiver.

His induction coil is one taken from an old automobile, and throws a half-inch spark, while his key is the ordinary Morse instrument. The coil with which he controls the wave length is made of No. 14 copper wire, bare, wound around a wooden cylinder in grooves. His spark gap is made with two common steel nails driven into a pine board, one-eighth of an inch apart, and his ground current is accomplished through action with water pipes in the house in which he lives. Two common wooden poles, fifteen feet high, attached to the ridge pole of the house, support the antennae. These are three bare copper wires, stretched between the poles, kept apart by spreaders, and joined only by a single wire running down to the instruments.

According to the reports made to the navy department, the youth, who is not more than 16 years old, has given a decided shock to the wireless operators, and it is believed that in his crude apparatus they may find several valuable ideas.

SAINTS ARE HONEST.

Show Girl Leaves Purse in Depot and Finds it Later.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Ruth Holt, a member of the company which recently played at a local theater, is puzzling between a high opinion of the honesty of the ordinary traveler and a correspondingly low opinion of his good eyesight.

While on the way from Duluth to Mankato, Wednesday, the company stopped at the Union depot to wait for the Sioux City train. Miss Holt had placed her watch and jewelry and money to the value of $1,200 in her purse. She boarded the train with the company, but just as the train reached Mendota she thought to look at her watch, and discovered that her pocketbook was missing. Then she remembered that she had placed it beside her on the bench in the waiting room of the St. Paul Union depot and forgotten to pick it up again.

She found the conductor and told him the trouble. He stopped the train and directed her how to get back to St. Paul. She walked across the Milwaukee bridge and made her way to the Fort Snelling car line. When she reached the depot and found the bench on which she had been sitting, there was the pocketbook lying where she had placed it. It had not been touched.

"UNIVERSITY DAY" IS OBSERVED AT MADISON.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—Observance of "University day" was inaugurated at the University of Wisconsin today. All the students and the faculty met at the gymnasium and listened to an address by Archbishop S. G. Mesmer of Milwaukee, on "The Pursuit of Truth." Tonight the faculty will give a university dinner.

GARFIELD INDISPOSED.

Hearing in the Packers' Case is Adjourned Until Friday.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Because of the illness of Commissioner of Corporations Garfield, who was to have gone on the witness stand in the packers' case today, an adjournment was taken until tomorrow. It was the intention of Judge Humphrey to hold court as usual, but Mr. Garfield sent word that he would be unable to attend, and the hearing was postponed.

The illness of Mr. Garfield is not serious and he will be able to appear in court tomorrow morning.

J. M. GIDDING & CO. | J. M. GIDDING & CO.

Women's New Spring Apparel Comes Marching In.

The Very Newest Spring Models of Ladies' and Misses' Outergarments

Made in the Most Fashionable and Exclusive Fabrics

Tailor-Made Suits For Early Spring

The short Jaunty Tight-fitting and Pony Coats—the extremely short Eton Coat over the Princess bodice skirt—the loosely pleated Eton elaborately trimmed with Val. and other laces, with high or low bodice belt.

The materials represented:—Light weight Chiffon Broadcloths, white and colored Serges, Mannish Suitings, Chiffon Panamas, Voiles and a great variety of foreign fabrics in the daintiest checks and stripes.

Coats for All Occasions

Broadcloth Coats, tailored, embroidered or lace-trimmed, in great variety, for evening wear.

Traveling and Steamer Coats in new English Mixtures.

Covert Top Coats in new Spring styles.

The New Waists

Plain and Embroidered Nets.

All-over Embroidered Batistes trimmed with Real Cluny and German Val.

Plain Batiste and Persian Lawn Waists, trimmed with Real Laces and handsome Laces and Embroidered Motifs.

J. M. GIDDING & Co.

Radames Fine Orange Male Angora Cat M. S. R. No. 303

A grand cat. Sire Hamiole dam, Nou, deep copper eyes, solid even color.

OLD PHONE 1539. NEW PHONE 6118.

French & Bassett DULUTH, MINN.

Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.

Complete Housefurnishers and Reliable Piano Dealers.

Very Easy Payments.

THE GREAT FEBRUARY SALE

Is the most sweeping thing of its kind ever held in Duluth or any other city, as thousands of purchasers can tell you. Many customers have said that our prices seemed ridiculously low and we admit it, but it is our purpose to immediately rid this stock of all surplus goods regardless of cost or opinion.

On March 3, this sale will end, and on March 5, the contractors will begin the improvements and enlargements in the store, and our spring stocks will be arriving, so we must have the room.

Each day sees new recruits added to the ranks of the greater discounts.

10% to 50% Discount

On all Furniture, Carpets Rugs, Curtains, Drapery, Crockery, Stoves and House Furnishings. Everything is included in the sale and it will pay you to anticipate your wants for the next year. Come in the morning if you can for we are very much rushed in the afternoons.

Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, Drapery, &c.

A WORD

We must again ask your kind indulgence for delays in delivering goods during this sale. If you are not in a special hurry for your goods, please be patient, and if you are in a hurry let us know and we will do the best we can. Our teams and men are rushed to the utmost.

During the past four days we have sold more goods than during any like period in the history of this store, hence the delay.

D. E. H.—Feb. 22, 06.

SHIRTS

We show many fine new shirts now, especially at $1 and 50c, but it's a trifle early for the higher-priced shirts, although we expect their arrival any day now.

The coat shirt is now a settled favorite.

Time to change from outing flannel night shirts to the agreeable Pajamas—here it is where you find the ones good to sleep in.

Black and white cravats for fancy waist coats.

Our windows and the vestibule case show you today a few of the new Columbia beauties at 50c. New Neckwear of all sorts. Four-in-hands one to three inches wide.

Purples, wine-reds, deep greens and bold patterns for white vests.

Tan gloves for business; gray Suede for afternoons.

Great new line of $1.50 street gloves. The boys say it's the best $1.50 glove in the country. Regular sizes and cadet sizes for short fingers and broad hands.

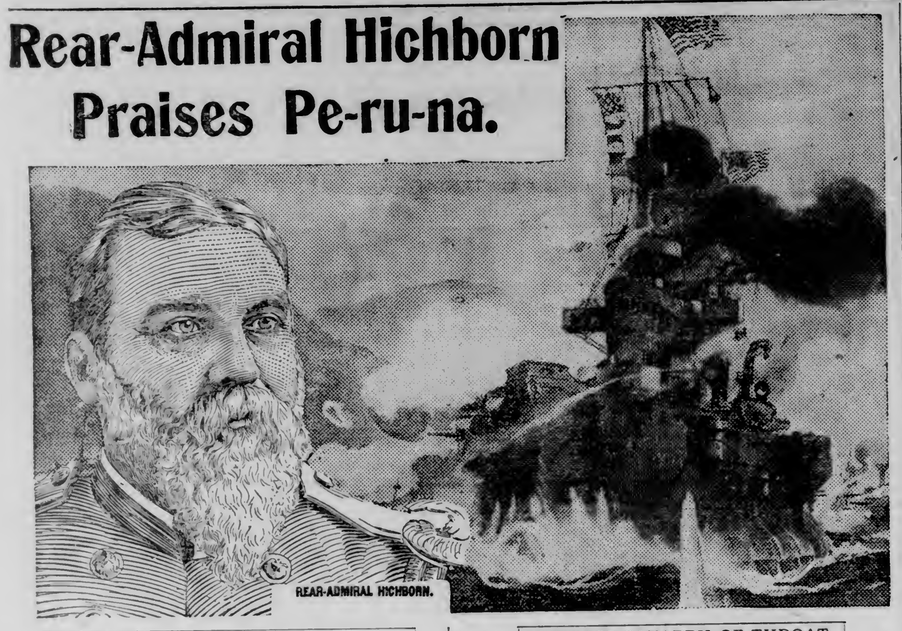

Black hose with shepherd plaid designs; solid colors in gray and lavenders and maroons; stripes in rich colors.

Every new idea that "catches on" we catch onto.

COLUMBIA CLOTHING CO.

New hats and shoes for young and old.

Rear-Admiral Hichborn Praises Pe-ru-na.

REAR-ADMIRAL HICHBORN.

ADMIRAL'S WORDS CARRY WEIGHT

REAR-ADMIRAL HICHBORN is one of the best known admirals of our navy.

His statement concerning Peruna will have much weight as it goes out into the world.

What he says is echoed by many other naval officers of high standing.

WHAT THE ADMIRAL SAYS.

Philip Hichborn, Rear-Admiral United States Navy, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:

"After the use of Peruna for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic."—Philip Hichborn.

AN EVERPRESENT FOE.

The soldier and the sailor are especially subject to catarrh in some form or phase.

Exposed as they are to constant changes, subject as they are to various vicissitudes, and all kinds of climate, wet and dry, night and day, they find catarrh to be their most insidious and everpresent foe.

In the barracks and on the field, Peruna is equally efficacious.

Taken at once after exposure, it should prevent catching cold.

PE-RU-NA A RELIABLE REMEDY.

After a cold has become established, Peruna will break it up as quickly as any other remedy known.

Even after a cold has become settled in some organ of the body, Peruna can be relied upon to promptly dispel it.

Peruna will relieve catarrh, whether acute or chronic, but a few doses taken in the first stages of the disease will be more effective than when the disease has become chronic.

If you suffer from catarrh in any form, do not neglect it. Take Peruna at once. Delays in such matters are dangerous.

CHRONIC CATARRH OF THROAT.

"I was troubled with catarrh of the throat particularly, and suffered considerably as a result thereof for a period of about five years, and my general health was affected.

SOUGHT CHANGE OF CLIMATE.

"Three years ago I was forced to give up business, and took up my residence in the Western country, looking for relief in change of climate as well as a change in the method of treatment for my ailment.

RELIEF IN PE-RU-NA.

"After much expense, both here and in the West, I was induced by a friend to try Peruna. I continued the use of it for about five weeks, at the end of which time I returned to New York, both well and happy."—Wm. H. Switzer, 325 E. 33rd street, New York City.

USED PE-RU-NA IN HIS FAMILY.

"I have used Peruna in my family with very satisfactory results for the last two years. Besides I have recommended it to all whom I think are in need of it.

"I urge all who are afflicted to buy a bottle and begin its use at once. I have never heard of any who have used it to be dissatisfied with the results."—Frank W. Harris, box 23, Basic City, Va., member A. F. & A. M.

A TYPICAL TESTIMONIAL.

Mr. J. H. Galbraith, 390 West Second Ave., Columbus, Ohio, writes:

"I have been a sufferer of catarrh of the stomach and kidneys for seven years. Doctors did me no good, and after taking Peruna for six months, at intervals, I believe I am cured. My appetite returned, I sleep well and work every day. I always have it in the house."

No remedy ever yet devised has received such unstinted eulogy from so many thousand statesmen and military men as Peruna.

We have on file thousands of testimonials like those given above. We can give our readers only a glimpse of the vast array of endorsements Dr. Hartman is receiving.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Bennett Acquitted of Charge of Manslaughter by Jury.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Grafton—George F. Bennett was acquitted by a jury on the charge of manslaughter, growing out of the death of Henry G. Patterson at Hoople on Nov. 27 of last year.

eGorge F. Bennett was charged with manslaughter in the first degree for the killing of Henry G. Patterson. Bennett and Patterson lived at Hoople, where Patterson ran a livery stable and Bennett was proprietor of a hotel with a livery barn in connection. Trouble had existed between the two men over the livery stable business, and they became involved in a fist fight on account of Pattersen's action in putting up a barb wire fence to keep Bennett from hauling wood over a lot. After the fight was over both men went about their business and neither showed any signs of injury. At 12 o'clock Patterson died, and a postmortem examination showed that the death was due to a tracture of the skull.

Fargo—Mrs. Annie Odderkirk has been granted a divorce from Stephen Odderkirk. They were married twenty years ago, but were divorced last year. Odderkirk was at that time given the custody of a little daughter.

West with him and, when he returned in a few months, he informed Mrs. Odderkirk that the little one would not come back unless her mother remarried her father. The plea of the daughter was not in vain, and they were married again last December. The troubles were soon renewed and divorce proceedings were again begun by Mrs. Odderkirk, who has just been granted a decree.

Fargo musicians will take a hand in the forthcoming municipal campaign. For years plans to give Sunday band concerts have gone astray for the want of funds, and now the musicians want the city council to provide the means. They say the candidates for office who will pledge themselves to vote for an appropriation for Sunday concerts will receive the support of musicians and music lovers.

Valley City—Valley City and Hope, N. D., thirty miles apart, are likely to be connected by either a steam or electric system which will handle passengers and freight. This will traverse parts of Barnes and Steele counties. W. H. Beeman, the young capitalist who started the telephone system, is offering to build the line if the farmers will bond it at $2,000 a mile. The line is expected to pay as it connects two populous cities and will bring Hope into better connection with the through railroad lines. Beeman is said to have raised $800 to start the telephone system on a note about eight years ago. He sold the plant recently for $43,000.

Jamestown—Morris Beck has returned from a trip to the Twin Cities and Chicago, where he concluded negotiations by which the Jamestown Elks lodge becomes the owner of what is known as the Barnes block on North Fifth avenue. The lot is a corner with a west front and a fifty-foot frontage, and is opposite the opera house. The building, which is a frame structure, is now occupied by families and roomers, and it is understood it will be removed and a new modern building erected on the lot for the use of the lodge. The purchase price of the property was $3,500.

Mandan—While enjoying a dish of raw oysters in a local restaurant, J. E. Allen, the piledriver foreman on the government irrigation works, found a pearl. He took it to a jeweler, who found that it weighed twenty-nine grains and purchased it for $300.

Grand Forks—Prof. B. A. Dunbar, superintendent of the East Grand Forks public schools, has been elected superintendent of the Park River schools, to succeed Superintendent W. E. Hoover, who has accepted the superintendency of the Fargo schools.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Manchester—While attempting to ride a bucking broncho, Joseph Maney, a young man living near here, was thrown and killed. He had been to De Smet with a companion and when within a few miles from home the broncho began to "buck" and threw him. He fell on his head, fracturing his skull. He lived but a short time after the accident. Maney was 25 years of age.

Glenham—Rivals for the hand and heart of an Indian maiden, two half-breeds from the Standing Rock agency brought the maiden to Glenham recently in an endeavor to submit their fate to her arbitrament. Before the decision was irrevocably made, however, a quarrel arose between the two rival suitors and a duel was decided upon. One took one side of the main street, his rival the other, and weapons were drawn. They were about to open fire when citizens interfered, and one of the halfbreeds was taken to Fort Yates and locked up in the guardhouse. The girl was returned to the reservation. The affair may yet result in a tragedy, as each threatens to shoot the other on sight.

Sioux Falls—The county commissioners of Marshall county will be called upon to act regarding the calling of a special election for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the county the proposition of a new and modern courthouse building. Petitions have been circulated in the county advocating that a vote upon the question be deferred until the regular election next November.

Milbank—At a special election, school bonds to the amount of $16,600 were voted by a large majority for the purpose of building a new school building large enough to accommodate Milbank's increasing school population. The bonds will draw 5 per cent interest and will be in denominations of $1,000 each. They will be payable after ten years.

It is proposed by the school board to erect a building costing from $20,000 to $40,000. A portion of the cost will be raised by warrants.

Work will be begun as soon as the spring term is ended and it is proposed to have the building complete by Sept. 1.

Complies with the pure food laws of every state

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

HEALTH Calumet is made of the finest materials possible to select, and makes light, easily digested Bread, Biscuits or Pastry; therefore, it is recommended by leading physicians and chemists.

ECONOMY In using Calumet you are always assured of a good baking; therefore, there is no waste of material or time. Calumet is put up in air-tight cans; it will keep longer than any other Baking Powder on the market and has more raising power.

CALUMET is so carefully and scientifically prepared that the neutralization of the ingredients is absolutely perfect. Therefore, food prepared with Calumet is free from Rochelle Salts, Alum, or any injurious substance.

$1,000.00 given for any substance injurious to health found in Calumet

Some Results of "Publicity."

To the Editor of The Herald:

During the past year we have seen a display of unwonted activity on the part of a large number of men in their efforts to enlighten the public and arouse it to a comprehension of the duty it owes to itself as a whole and to every individual composing it—that of exercising an intelligent supervision over all public enterprises. This activity has resulted in disclosing many illigitimate methods of transacting public business, and in the more frequent application of basic principles by which all delegated authority should be exercised. It has also made prominent an effective method of punishment for official misdeeds more potent than the sentences of courts and more protective than the prison walls, for it has caused dishonored officials to look within themselves and review their acts in the light of truth and justice, and has compelled them to pass sentence upon themselves and to endure the agony which the reproach of their conscience, and that of their fellow men, necessarily produces. Most of the crimes and irregularities of officials which late investigations disclose, have doubtless resulted from a desire for power and social eminence—a desire to raise themselves above others without losing their good will or support—and while their position could be attained without disclosing their irregular methods of proceedure a certain glamour hung over them which induced respect and admiration, but when publicity—the light of accurate and positive knowledge of the source of this glamour—was shed upon their illegal transactions it vanished as the will-o'-the-wisp disappears before the penetrating rays of the noonday sun, and the reverence given to the unknown is turned into contumely in the presence of the known. To the mind eager for public approval, applause and admiration what greater punishment than to have all these dispelled by disclosures which reveal to the public the baseness of their acts? What the public endures at the sight of such iniquity as these exposures have disclosed is slight compared with the anquish of the perpetraters when their acts are revealed to those whose good will and respect they depend upon for their own happiness. The greatest benefit of publicity, however, will be found in its preventive, rather than punitive effects—in taking away the opportunity and inducement to crime, and fixing the stamp of public approval only on those whose acts need no concealment.

N. H. W.

Duluth, Feb. 21.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles, and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by all druggists.

CHARGE IS SERIOUS ONE

Saloonkeeper Accused of Assaulting and Robbing Woodsman of $30.

Victim Entered Prisoner's Saloon to Buy Glass of Beer.

Grand larceny in the first degree is the charge against James Shetry, a saloonkeeper, who recently came to this city from Virginia.

Shetry's place of business is located at 702 West Superior street.

The complaint against Shetry is made by Frank Stesni, a Bohemian laborer, about 38 years of age, who claims that Shetry brutally assaulted and robbed him of $30 in his saloon. In suport of his story Stesni displays a badly battered countenance, one eye being swollen and blackened and nis lip cut.

Stesni, according to the story ne told the police, came to Duluth Tuesday from Erie, Minn., and expected to go out to the woods today. While walking about the city last night, he says that he stepped into Shetry's place to buy a drink, and in payment he handed the proprietor a $20 gold piece.

He claims that when Shetry saw the size of the coin he asked him to take another drink, but that he told Shetry he had had enough and walked out. He claims Shetry followed him out, and accompanied him to one or two other places on the Bowery, later inducing him to return to his saloon. Here the robbery is claimed to have been committed. Stesni says that Shetry first tried to pick his pockets, but that when he caught his hand, Shetry struck him in the face, and after knocking him down robbed him of the money.

"When I asked him to give back my money, he said he would do so, but did not," said Stesni in telling his story to the police.

The police immediately began a search for Shetry and had little difficulty in locating him in a Bowery restaurant. He was arrested and locked up on a charge of drunkenness, as he is claimed to have been intoxicated when found. This morning, further evidence in support of Stesni's story was found, and a charge of grand larceny in the first degree was sworn out against the prisoner. The amount of money was over $25 and the theft is claimed to have been committed at night, and the money taken from Stesni's person by force, which facts combine to make the charge a serious one.

When arraigned before Judge Windom, Shetry asked for a preliminary examination, which was set for tomorrow afternoon. Owing to the serious nature of the charge, the municipal court judge has no power to fix bonds.

WHITE CITY ON TOP OF THE HILL

Suggestion to White City Committee of Commercial Club.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Being an old resident of the city and feeling very much interested in its welfare and the ultimate success of the proposed White City, allow me, Mr. Editor, to make the following suggestions to the White City committee.

If there are any possibilities in the line of transportation the most ideal location for a White City is the very top of our hill, meaning that part encircled by the boulevard, between Eleventh and Eighteenth avenues west. It might sound quite radical to a good many, but with your kind permission I will point to some of the advantages this site has.

When our Commercial club has taken action in this matter and the committee appointed is inviting the citizens at large to aid some by taking stock, we take it for granted that the more advertising that can be derived by the city the better it will fill its mission and will consequently be an assured success financially.

West Park, East end and Park Point have been proposed as possible sites. If either is selected, we will literally not know we have a White City until we get inside of the gate, and at the very best we will not have anything original or different from any other city's White City. If not mistaken, the location proposed here, the top of the hill, belongs to the park system, awaiting improvement. The grounds are large enough to satisfy the ambition of the White City committee and the park board combined.

Now, picture to yourself a White City on the top of the hill. It will be an ornament and a pleasure to the eye in the daytime, when it stands forth in its bright colors and beautiful architecture, in plain sight of practically everybody in Duluth and vicinity; but it will take a better imagination than mine to picture it in the evening, all ablaze with lights shining like diamonds in a crown. Picture to yourself a tower like the one at Wonderland in Minneapolis, or an observation tower 400 to 500 feet high like the one at the World's fair at St. Louis, all covered with electric lights, and with the other buildings, if properly placed, it will make a sight never to be forgotten by anybody who has been fortunate enough to visit our city. It will be original and something all our own.

How far do you suppose it could be seen, and how far do you suppose you could see if you ventured to the highest pinnacle of such an observation tower? You would certainly be about 1,200 feet above Superior street. I am sure we could see Two Harbors and Cloquet and possibly Ashland and the range towns.

How do you suppose it would look from the lake? We have had quite a bit of free advertising for our city by the aerial bridge, but I venture to say that it would be surpassed a good many times by a White City in this location.

If you cannot build for $50,000, wait until you can command sufficient capital to put it where it will do the most good, but I really don't see any reason why it should cost any more to build up there. Seemingly it ought to be cheaper because you could get the grounds for perhaps nothing.

Conditions being equal, I think everybody will admit that this location is far ahead of any other. Now allow me to discuss the only obstacle, which is the transportation question, and that is only a seemingly one. You could not undertake anything of this nature in any part of the city without the very best of transportation facilities, and in this particular location would have to provide for an outlet both east and west. On the east side you can gain access to the boulevard by going around by Fourth, Fifth or Sixth avenues east or thereabouts, and from west you can go up Piedmont avenue. I wait for the street car company to build this line would hardly be practical, but it seems to me that if given a chance the property owners benefited by such a line will be only too glad to subscribe for all the stock necessary to build it, and when the line is built and a demand created for their service it ought to be possible to make satisfactory arrangements with the street car company.

C. SUNDBY.

Duluth, Feb. 22.

PILES CURED QUICKLY AT HOME

Why Suffer Agony Any Longer When You Can Get a Quick, Sure Cure For Your Piles by Simply Sending Your Name and Address?

Trial Package is Sent Absolutely Free, in Plain Wrapper, to Everyone Who Writes.

Surgeons themselves consider a permanent cure of piles by a surgical operation as very doubtful, and resort to it only when the patient has become desperate from long continued pain and agony. But the operation itself is every bit as excruciating and nerve-racking as the disease. Besides, it is humiliating and expensive, and rarely a success.

The wonderful Pyramid Pile Cure makes an operation unnecessary. You cure yourself with perfect ease, in your own home, and for little expense.

Pyramid Pile Cure gives you instant relief. It immediately heals all sores and ulcers, reduces congestion and inflammation, and takes away all pain, itching and irritation. Just a little of the treatment is usually sufficient to give a permanent cure.

Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared in the form of suppositories, so they can be applied directly to the parts without inconvenience, or interrupting your work in any way.

We are sending a trial treatment free of charge to every one who sends name and address. We do this to prove what we say about this wonderful remedy is true.

After you have tried the sample treatment, and you are satisfied, you can get a full regular-sized treatment of Pyramid Pile Cure at your druggist's for 50 cents. If he hasn't it, send us the money and we will send you the treatment at once, by mail, in plain sealed package.

Send your name and address at once for a trial of this marvelous quick, sure cure. Address Pyramid Drug Co., 1263 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich.

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Confers Honorary Degrees on Men of National Prominence.

Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday was observed by the University of Pennsylvania with the customary university day exercises at the academy of music, the conferring of honorary degrees upon public men being part of the celebration. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, professor of English literature at Princeton university was the orator of the day. His topic was "Washington and the Men Who Stood With Him."

More than 3,000 students marched from the university campus to the academy of music to participate in the exercises. The candidates for honorary degrees were presented by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell as public orator, the degrees being conferred by C. C. Harrison as follows:

Doctor of laws—Dr. Henry Van Dyke Princeton university; Edwin Ames Jaggard, judge of the supreme court, Minnesota; Lloyd C. Griscom, United States ambassador to Brazil; George Washburn, president of Robert college, Constantinople.

Doctor of science—Baron Kanehirotakaki, who is now visiting this country in the interests of the mikado; J. Vaughan Merrick of Philadelphia, an engineering expert and scientist.

Doctor of letters—Joseph Jacobs of Sydney, N. S. W., historian and writer.

Doctor of sacred theology—William Clarence Richardson of Philadelphia, a widely known Episcopal clergyman, and James Addison Henry, trustee of Princeton university and director of the theological seminary.

RICHEST WOMAN TO LIVE OVER A STORE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—In line with her ideas of unostentatiousness and frugality, Mrs. Anne Weightman Walker, the richest woman in America, will live over a store. She intends to convert the old Weightman mansion, at 1336 and 1338 Walnut street, into a paying proposition, and from rentals to add to the $50,000,000 left her by her father, the chemist. The fact that Mrs. Walker will make this use of the homestead property has disposed of the story that she wishes to become a social leader.

CARNEGIE TO PENSION HIS OLD ASSOCIATE.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Andrew Carnegie has promised to stand by J. H. Larcomb, a veteran clerk in the pension bureau, who, by reason of advancing years, was reduced in rank and salary.

Years ago Mr. Larcomb and Mr. Carnegie worked together in a telegraph office in Pittsburg, Larcomb being the "boss." The old-time friendship between the two men was brought out recently, when Mr. Larcomb, who is 80 years old, was telling his troubles to friends. His salary had been cut down to $900 a year, and in talking of his prospects for the future, which appeared gloomy, he incidentally told of the past.

Professor J. Fraise Richards learned of the case and determined to communicate with Mr. Carnegie. He received a reply, in which Mr. Carnegie suggested that Mr. Larcomb quit the government service, and said that he would provide for him for the rest of his days.

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. | SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. | SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

The New Wash Goods

Daintier, prettier and more beautiful things were never shown before.

Every day adds to this already superb collection of fine fabrics for spring and summer wear, and now we are able to show the largest and most exclusive line hereabouts. These choice sheer fabrics in new, neat patterns are priced very reasonable. (See Window Display).

Radium Taffetas
A new fabric in light and medium shades—
Per Yard 15c.

Electric Suitings
Pretty soft effects of medium weight, light and dark colors—
Per Yard 18c.

Imp'rt'd Silk Mulls
Will launder well—new scroll effect pattern—
Per Yard 75c.

Imported Swisses
In black and white dots or floral designs—
35c to 59c a Yard.

Printed Batistes
In all the latest colors, small or large designs—
Per Yard 18c.

Voile de Paris
Beautiful French novelties in black and white checks and plaids—
59c a Yard.

Shirt Waist Patterns
A beautiful lot of imported Irish Linen Waist Patterns—hand embroidered. Of sheer and medium handkerchief linen—very handsome effects—
$4 to $12 Per Pattern.

Silk Organdies
New plaid effect, in all the latest combination of colors—
45c a Yard.

Imported French Batiste Mulls
Dainty eyelet effects—a very soft and pretty fabric—
$1.00 a Yard.

Imported Irish Dimities
Large or small patterns in dainty effects—
25c and 35c a Yard.
Mouseline de Lux, plain color, all popular shades, especially adapted for dresses—
35c and 45c a Yard.

Silberstein & Bondy Company — The Store of Quality — Silberstein & Bondy Company

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. | SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

The Closing Out of the Drapery and Lace Curtain Dept.

Will continue until every article pertaining to these lines are sold, it affords undisputable bargain opportunities for every home furnisher who wishes to replenish the home at a nominal outlay.

The Store of Quality — Silberstein & Bondy Company — The Store of Quality

Art Dept.

A full line of Royal Society Floss—3c a skein; 30c a dozen.

New things in Shadow Embroidery—Corset Covers and Centers, Collar and Cuff sets and Shirt Waist patterns.

Eight finished Pillows left for a final clearance, at Half Price.

Stamped White linens, all sizes, in floral designs; to close out at—Half Price.

Mrs. Thompson gives Free Lessons in Embroidery Tuesday and Friday mornings, from 9 to 11. Hedebo, Hardanger and all the newest stitches taught.

OUR LEADERS—
Straight Whiskies—Cedar Brook and Maryland Rye.
Blended Whiskies—Old Cabinet and Live Oak.
COOK'S BUFFET

Edison the Wizard!
We are headquarters for Edison Phonographs and the famous Gold Moulded records—the No-Scratch kind. Machines sold on the Easy Payment plan.
B. F. HATHAWAY,
200, 201, 202 Alworth Building.

WHITE OAK Timbers.
WOODRUFF LUMBER CO.

DON'T THROW AWAY YOUR OLD UMBRELLA

Bring it to A. Gingold, at 125 East Superior street, and he will repair or re-cover it very reasonably, making it equal to new—he understands his business. Goods called for and delivered. Extra special values in new umbrellas and umbrella handles.

A. Gingold's Umbrella Store,
125 E. Superior St., Opp. City Hall. Zenith Phone 1821-A.

TOP-NOTCH QUALITY

The Flavor is Delicious
The Purity is Absolute

Gold Medal St. Louis.

"SALADA"

CEYLON AND INDIA TEA.
Sold only in Sealed Lead Packets, at 60c and 70c per lb. By all Grocers.
Trade Supplied by Gowan-Peyton-Twohy Co.

FROST IS NOT INTERRUPTING

William J. West Says Stripping is Going on Merrily.

William J. West, superintendent of the Hibbing district for the Oliver Mining company, was in Duluth yesterday, and is authority for the statement that this is the first winter in the history of mining in Minnesota which has seen stripping go on uninterrupted.

He says hat stripping has been going on all winter on the Hull, Burke, Morris, Pillsbury and other mines, and that the frost has interfered with the work hardly any. He says that the chances are that stripping will continue during the rest of the winter in the Hibbing district.

It seems that the stripping work was behind when the season of navigation closed, and this mild winter has given every one a chance to catch up, one that has not been afforded them during the cold months in former years.

Stripping has been begun by Harry Roberts at the Crosby mine in 56-23.

DEATH AT TWO HARBORS.

Mrs. M. A. Van Auken Passes Away at Her Daughter's Home.

Two Harbors, Feb. 22.—The death of Mrs. M. A. Van Auken occurred yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. E. Evans, Second avenue. She had been ill for some time past. At 3 o'clock when the nurse in attendance went to her bedside she found that death had come to her quietly in her sleep.

Mrs. Van Auken was 76 years old, having been born in New York state on Dec. 3, 1829. She is survived by one son and three daughters as follows: A. M. Van Auken, employed as assistant engineer of the Missouri Paclic railroad, located at Pine Bluff, Ark.; Mrs. A. E. Robbins, Iron Mountain, Mich.; Mrs. Richmond Smith, Manila, P. I., and Mrs. F. E. Evans, of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Evans left here last evening to accompany the remains to Menominee, Mich, where the interment will take place.

J. F. Lyon, a brother, resides at Menominee, and a sister, Mrs. Susan A. Douglas, at Marquette. Funeral arrangements will be made by relatives in Menominee.

TO INCREASE CUBAN GUARD.

Havana, Feb. 22.—President Palma said yesterday that he intends to recommend to congress an increase of the present force of 5,000 rural guards to 6,000.

BIG SAWMILL AT BEMIDJI TO START

Season's Sawing About March 6—Another Mill May be Built.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The announcement is made that the big sawmill of the Crookston Lumber company, located on the southeast bank of Lake Bemidji, will start the season's sawing about March 6. This date is much earlier than in former years,. The demand for lumber has been very brisk since the mill closed last fall and prices have been very gratifying. Many large shipments have been made, and the orders being received daily necessitate early sawing operations. Huge piles of logs have been hauled to the sawmill from the company's many camps adjacent to Bemidji and dumped on the ice. The planing mill is operated during the entire twelve months of the year. During the winter shutdown extensive repairs have been made to the sawmill plant, all of which are now completed. The Crookston company employs about 400 men when all of its plant is in operation and the mill is the principal industry of Bemidji.

The rumor as to the intentions of C. A. Smith, the Minneapolis lumberman, and his associates to erect a sawmill on Lake Irvine has apparently been answered in the affirmative by the recent action of Mr. Smith and a number of others in organizing the Lake Irvine & Pokegama Boom company. This corporation is organized to Lake Irvine and the Mississippi river for the booming and driving of logs down the "Father of Waters" to Minneapolis. It is said that the C. A. Smith interests have already in prospect the driving of 40,000,000 of logs by this route, all of which will be sawed in Minneapolis, obviating the necessity of a mill at this point. However, it is likely that the Backus-Brooks company will erect a mill on Lake Irvine in the not distant future.

FIVE TRY FOR JOBS.

Civil Service Examinations at Postoffice and More Coming.

Civil service examinations were held yesterday at the postoffice for positions as inspector of grazing and nautical expert. Four took the first mentioned examination and one the other. The first pays $2,500 a year while the nautical expert draws $1,000. More examinations will be held as follows:

March 7, copper and brass worker in the state, war and navy departments building at Washington, and laboratory assistant in the bureau of standards; March 14, marine fireman on the steamer General Batcheider at Fort Morgan, Ala., and March 21 and 22, male medical clerk in the bureau of pensions.

GREATEST ON RECORD

Is Foreign Commerce of United States This Fiscal Year.

Increase in Both Imports and Exports, Especially in Exports.

Washington, Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The foreign commerce of the United States during the first seven months of the current fiscal year amounted to $1,752,421,330, or an average of $250,000,000 per month during that period. Should it continue at this rate during the remainder of the year, the total foreign commerce for the fiscal year 1906 would exceed $3,000,000,000, a figure which has not been reached in any previous year in the history of our foreign trade.

This increase, which is shown by figures just issued by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics, occurs in both imports and exports, but more especially in exports. In the seven months ending with January, imports have increased $70,000,000 over the corresponding months of the preceding fiscal year, and exports have increased $135,000,000. Imports during the seven months ending with January, 1906, were $805,764,566, against $625,944,512 in the corresponding months of last year, and exports were valued at $1,006,655,764, against $901,190,026 in the same months of last year. This gives a larger total of imports and a much larger total of exports than in the same months of any preceding year. Imports, which had never touched $100,000,000 in a single month prior to 1905, except on one or two occasions as a result of prospective tariff changes, exceeded that sum in six of the twelve months ending with January; while exports exceeded $100,000,000 in each of the twelve months, and in December lacked but a few thousand dollars of touching the $200,000,000 line.

The increase in importations occurs chiefly in manufacturers' materials and finished manufactures, while the increase in exportations occurs chiefly in agricultural products and manufactures. A feature of especial interest in the export record is the marked increase which has developed during the past few months in the exportation of breadstuffs and provisions. The value of breadstuffs exported in January amounted to over $26,000,000, and in December to a like sum, which is a larger value of breadstuffs exported than in any month since August, 1901. This marked increase in the importation of breadstuffs occurs in corn, wheat, and wheat flour, wheat exports in the month of January being over 4,000,000 bushels, against a quarter of a million bushels in January of the preceding year, flour 1,250,000 barrels, against 500,000 in January, 1905, while corn exports increased from 10,000,000 bushels in January, 1905, to 27,000,000 in January of the present year. January also shows a marked increase in the exportation of provisions, under which term are included meats and dairy products, the total for that month being $24,000,000, against $17,000,000 in January of last year. For the seven months ending with January provisions showed a total exportation of $134,000,000, against $108,000,000 for the corresponding period of the preceding year. Cotton for the month of January shows a marked decline as compared with January, 1905, the quantity being 225,000,000 pounds, against 419,000,000 in January of last year, though the value for January, 1906, is practically $39,000,000, against $30,500,000 in January, 1905, the export price of cotton in January of the present year having been 11.6 cents, as compared with 7.3 cents in January of the preceding year. The total exports of breadstuffs in December, 1905, and January, 1906, are practically two and one half times as great as in the corresponding months of the preceding fiscal year. Provisions also show a marked increase in exports during December, 1905, and January, 1906, the total for those two months being over $40,000,000, against $27,000,000 in the corresponding months of the preceding fiscal year.

The increase in exports of breadstuffs and provisions is widely distributed, but seems to be especially marked in the exports to the United Kingdom. Details of the January exports by articles have not yet been announced by the bureau of statistics, but for the month of December there was an increase of a little over $2,000,000 in the exports of corn to the United Kingdom, of a little over $1,500,000 to Germany, about $500,000 to Netherlands and nearly $1,000,000 to other countries of Europe, as compared with December of the preceding year. In wheat the increase to the United Kingdom in December, 1905, compared with December, 1904, was over $2,000,000; to France, over $1,000,000, and to Germany a little over $500,000. In wheat flour the increase to the United Kingdom was $2,000,000, to Germany about $100,000, and to other European countries less than $500,000. In meats the increase was also more strongly marked in the case of the United Kingdom than in that of any other country. Canned beef shows an increase to the United Kingdom of about $225,000, and to Germany about $1,000; salted and pickled beef to the United Kingdom an increase of about $20,000, and to Germany about $223,000; bacon to the United Kingdom an increase of about $628,000, and to Germany $170,000; pork to the United Kingdom, an increase of about $325,000, and to Germany $37,000. In lard the increase to Germany is larger than to any other country, being in December, 1905, $1,000,000 in excess of December, 1904, while the increase to all other parts of the world combined during that period was a little more than $1,000,000.

The increase in exports to the United Kingdom in December, 1905, as compared with December of the preceding year, was $24,000,000; to Germany, $6,000,000; to Netherlands, $3,000,000; to Italy, $2,000,000; to Belgium, $2,500,000, and to France, $4,500,000.

FATAL DUEL IN CHICAGO

Brothers-in-Law Fight With Pistols---One Dead, Other Dying.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Two druggists, who are brothers-in-law, engaged in a duel yesterday at Twenty-sixth and Wallace streets and one is dead and the other may die. The principals in the affair were Herman O. Luckritz, 30 years old, and John Farmer, 22 years old.

Farmer is the brother of Mrs. Luckritz, who has recently commenced divorce proceedings. In company with his sister, Farmer called at the Luckritz home yesterday to obtain the clothing and other property of Mrs. Luckritz. When the couple were seen by Luckritz he opened fire with a revolver, shooting Farmer through the mouth. While lying on the floor Farmer drew a revolver and fired three times at Luckritz, one bullet taking effect in the right hand and two in the abdomen. Both men were taken to the People's hospital. Luckritz died last night and Farmer's condition is serious.

NEW EVIDENCE IN PATRICK CASE

Witness Says Murdered Man's Nephew Was Very Friendly With Valet.

New York, Feb. 22.—Mayor Rice of Houston, Tex., and a nephew of William Marsh Rice, for whose murder Albert T. Patrick is under sentence of death, was brought into the case yesterday by the testimony of Miss Minnie Gaillard before Recorder Goff, who is hearing Patrick's application for a new trial. Miss Gaillard recited meetings and conversations which she had with Jones, the former valet of the dead millionaire, in the Texas city.

Miss Gaillard said that the last time she saw Jones he was in a street car at Houston and with him was Mayor Rice. They were on the seat in front of her, she testified.

"Did you know that Mayor Rice was a nephew of Millionaire Rice, who was killed?"

"Yes, I knew that."

"What did they say?"

"Mayor Rice slapped Jones on the back and said to him: 'You certainly studied those instructions well.' Jones said: 'You bet I did.' Mayor Rice said: 'How are your coffers fixed?' Jones said: 'Not very well,' and then Rice said to him: 'They will be supplied.'"

Recorder Goff announced that an adjournment would be taken until Monday.

STEAMER W. W. BROWN CARRIED OUT BY ICE.

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 22.—The steel steamer W. W. Brown of Cleveland was yesterday torn from her winter dock by the six-mile ice field that unexpectedly broke loose and began to move down the St. Clair river. The ceaseless motion of the ice cake worked the steamer into the very center of the ice field and she was soon beyond the aid of tugs and drifting down upon the middle ground which separates the two channels of the river. Last night the ice had jammed again with the steamer wedged in tightly about midstream.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Clutching a revolver and with a bullet wound in his head, the dead body of a well-dressed unidentified man was found Wednesday afternoon in a room at the Colorado hotel, St. Louis. Apparently he had been dead for several hours. It was stated at the hotel that the man arrived Tuesday morning but did not register or give his name.

John Tyrell, a handwriting expert of Milwaukee, was the only witness Wednesday in the hearing of Col. W. D. Mann, editor of Town Topics, who is accused of perjury. He was still on the stand when the hearing was adjourned until next Monday.

Another very severe earthquake shock was felt at noon Wednesday on the British Indian island of St. Lucia. Slight shocks have been felt there at frequent intervals since Feb. 16.

The Kansas Republican state convention will be held in Topeka May 2, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., according to a decision of the state central committee Wednesday.

It was announced Wednesday that William G. Choate, Former Supreme Court Justice D. Cady Herrick, Bainbridge Colby and James B. Dill, constituting the board of special counsel to the Truesdale investigating committee of the Mutual Life Insurance company, have tendered their resignations.

NO EXTRA SESSION

Of Minnesota Legislature as Revised Code Will be Ready.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—It is practically assured that there will be no extra session of the state legislature to extend the date upon which the new code or rather the revised code should go into effect. From present indications, and as far as Governor Johnson knows at the present moment, the code will be ready for distribution by March 1, the appointed time for it to go into effect.

Governor Johnson is opposed to an extra session and will take every precaution to preclude such an action on his part. The lawyers in the Twin Cities are positive that if the code is not out on the appointed date there will be chaos in the legal status of the state. They declare that there will be a hiatus which nothing but an extra session of the legislature can bridge.

An official very near to Governor Johnson stated yesterday that there would be no extra session and that the governor had practically received assurance that the code would be published on the date set by the last legislature.

MEN, READ TOMORROW'S HERALD!

For news of that Neckwear sale. It will surprise you. Don't miss it.

Freimuth's

Lake Ave., Michigan and Superior Sts., DULUTH, MINN.

NEW BUTTERICK PATTERNS READY!

The March Butterick Patterns, Fashion Sheets and Delineators are ready—better than ever.

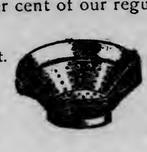

CARLOAD OF ROYAL GRAY GRANITE WARE ON SALE AT 1/4 OFF REGULAR PRICES!

A SOLID CARLOAD of the famous Royal Gray Granite Ware has just been unpacked—it's that good kind that gives such good service—the kind it pays to buy.

Hundreds of Duluth women use this ware right along—they will have no other kind—they know they can depend on it—and they buy it here because we always sell it for less than the prices asked elsewhere. This spring we have contracted to use more of these goods than ever—and to get new trade started to using it, we place on sale tomorrow a whole carload of genuine Royal Gray Granite Ware at exactly one-fourth off our regular low prices.

Every piece is marked in plain figures at our regular selling price—figure the discount yourself—save just 25 per cent of our regular prices on goods you need every day in the year.

MILK PANS.
11c for 15c, 1, 2 or 3-qt. sizes.
18c for 23c, 4-qt. size.
19c for 25c, 5-qt. size.
22c for 29c, 6-qt. size.

PIE PLATES.
7½c for 10c, 8-in. size.
11c for 15c, 9-in. size.

COLANDERS.
25c for 33c family size.

TEA POTS.
19c for 25c, 1½-qt. size
29c for 39c, 2-qt. size.
32c for 43c, 3-qt. size.
38c for 50c, 4-qt. size.

TEA KETTLES.
52c for 69c, No. 7 size.
64c for 85c, No. 8 size.
74c for 98c, No. 9 size.
83c for $1.10, No. 9x size.

RINSING PANS.
36c for 48c, 10-qt. size.
43c for 58c, 14-qt. size.

CORN-CAKE PANS.
19c for 6-ring, 25c pans

COVERED BUCKETS.
15c for 20c, 1-qt. size.
19c for 25c, 2-qt. size.
25c for 33c, 3-qt. size.

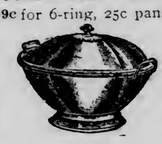

PAILS.
52c for 69c, 10-qt. size.
74c for 98c, 12-qt. size.

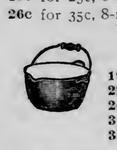

MUFFIN PANS.
19c for 25c, 6-ring size.
26c for 35c, 8-ring size.

DISH PANS.
55c for 73c, 14-qt. size.
62c for 83c, 17-qt. size.

BREAD RAISERS.
89c for $1.19, 10-qt. size
$1.12 for $1.49, 17-qt. size.

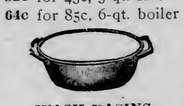

COFFEE POTS.
22c for 29c, 1-qt. size.
25c for 33c, 1½-qt. size
29c for 39c, 2-qt. size.
32c for 43c, 3-qt. size.
64c for 85c, 6-qt. boiler

PRESERVING KETTLES.
19c for 25c, No. 18 size
22c for 29c, No. 22 size
26c for 35c, No. 24 size
32c for 43c, No. 26 size
38c for 50c, No. 28 size

STEW PANS.
14c for 18c, No. 14 size
15c for 20c, No. 16 size
19c for 25c, No. 20 size
26c for 35c, No. 24 size

WASH BASINS.
17c for 23c size.

COVERED BERLIN KETTLES.
32c for 43c, No. 4 size.
36c for 48c, No. 5 size.
44c for 59c, No. 6 size.
52c for 69c, No. 8 size.

BREAD PANS.
15c for 20c size.
22c for 29c size.

CAKE PANS.
11c for 15c Jelly Pans.
14c for 18c Mountain Pans

PUDDING PANS.
7c for 10c, ½-qt. size.
14c for 18c, 2-qt size.

RICE BOILERS.
59c for 65c, 1½-qt. size
74c for 98c, 3-qt size.

Have you seen those real French Organdies we have just put on sale at 25c a yard? Are n't they genuine 35c goods in splendid styles? Why not pay 25c for them here tomorrow?

J. Freimuth J. Freimuth J. Freimuth J. Freimuth

CONGRESSMAN IS INDICTED

Blackburn Charged With Practicing Before the Various Departments.

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 22.—Two indictments were returned by the federal grand jury against E. Spencer Blackburn, Republican representative in congress from the Eighth North Carolina district, charging him with practicing before the departments of the government and with accepting fees for the services after his election to the house of representatives. The indictments allege that Blackburn appeared before the treasury department and the commissioner of internal revenue, as attorney, and secured a compromise of the case against A. Dinkins and P. A. Davis, charged with violating the laws governing the making of whisky. It is alleged that during February and March, 1905, Blackburn was paid $100 by Davis and $500 by Dinkins for his services.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Representative Blackburn authorized a denial "in toto" of the charges contained in the indictments returned against him at Asheville, N. C. Mr. Blackburn declares that he has not committed any offense. He declined to answer specifically the charges, but will make a statement later.

SURVEY OF SWAMP LANDS

From Deer River to Little Fork Country Being Made.

Deer River, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Ralph of Crookston, chief engineer of the state drainage commission, is here with a corps of five engineers and assistants, making a preliminary topographical survey of the swamp lands from Deer River north to the Big Fork country. The party will be engaged in this section for about three weeks, and will then move to the Little Fork country.

MINNESOTA BUTTERMAKERS

Carry Off All the Honors at the Chicago Exhibition.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—The highest average, the highest score and the second highest score is what the Minnesota buttermakers have captured at the National Creamery Buttermakers' association, which has been meeting in Chicago this week. This means that the exhibits from the bread and butter state have made practically a clean sweep of everything offered in the way of prizes for good butter. It means that the reputation of the state as a butter state has been sustained. It means that this state now has twice as many butter banners as all other states together. The national association has only awarded six banners since it was organized and four of these have gone to Minnesota. The banner is awarded to the state securing the highest average for all the butter entered. Minnesota has always been handicapped in this contest, because other states would select only a few of the high scoring buttermakers to send butter to the contest and Minnesota would have them all send samples. In spite of this handicap, Minnesota wins.

BAD FAITH IS CHARGED

In Soliciting of Proxies by Trustees of New York Life.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 22.—State superintendent of insurance Vandiver has made public a letter he sent yesterday to the general solicitor of the New York Life Insurance company, in which he charges the action of the company in allowing its agents to solicit on a wholesale scale, proxies for use in the election of board of trustees, as an act of bad faith. The letter in part follows:

"The printed form of proxy, which policyholders are asked to sign, is in the name of John Claflin, O. S. Straus and C. H. MacKay—all three members of the board of trustees, under whose management, or lack of management, the gross extragavance, graft and other forms of illegal disbursements grew to scandalous proportions. Now, they ask policyholders to give them proxies to re-elect themselves.

"Perhaps your army of agents may collect proxies enough to do this, but in my judgment, it is an act of bad faith on the part of the company and renders it difficult, if not impossible, for any except those in control of the machinery of the company to exert any appreciable influence in its management.

"It may not be in my power to prevent the consummation of this scheme, but I feel it may duty to protest against it and let the policyholders of Missouri know that the theory of mutual control of the New York is a farce so long as the present methods are in vogue."

LEAVES CASS LAKE.

E. L. Warren Will Take Up Residence on White Earth Reservation.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. L. Warren and wife have departed for White Earth reservation and will hereafter make their home there. Mr. Warren has a valuable allotment there, which he selected at the reallotting to the White Earth band, under the provisions of the Steenerson additional allotment provisions, a year ago, and other valuable interests, which will occupy his entire time for several months to come, and in order to properly care for these matters he deemed it necessary to be at the scene of operations. Mr. Warren is a member of the White Earth band, and has taken advantage of all the land privileges given to the White Earth folks. He and his family have lived in Cass Lake during the past four years, and their departure is regretted.

Word comes from Seattle, Wash., to the effect that E. I. Hurley, a brother of Mrs. F. L. Gorenflo of Cass Lake, was severely injured in a street car collision at Seattle on Feb. 7. Mr. Hurley was conductor on one of the cars in the collision, and his head and body were badly cut and bruised, but the injured man will recover. When Mr. Hurley was a resident of Cass Lake, he and his brother-in-law, F. L. Gorenflo, were engaged in the hotel business.

JUDGE VIVIAN PRINCE

Of Eveleth Announces He is Candidate for the Legislature.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 22.—Vivian Prince, municipal judge of Eveleth, has announced himself a candidate for the lower house of the legislature from the Forty-ninth district. Judge Prince has been confined to his home with illness for over a week and his intention to run for office has been entirely unknown. He says there is nothing in the law to prevent a municipal judge from holding such an office.

CHOCOLATE CANDY

That Was Eaten by Bemidji Woman Nearly Proved Fatal.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—The state dairy and food department has received some candy and turned it over to its chemist for analysis, alleged to be responsible for the poisoning of Mrs. A. N. Pierce of Bemidji. Mrs. Pierce ate some chocolate candy last Friday, and shortly afterward was taken violently ill. The illness proved fatal, and it was supposed that it came from poisonous effects in the candy.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT

The great efficiency and reliability of Danderine as a hair grower and scalp regenerator have won the confidence and patronage of millions and millions of people throughout the United States. It has attained a larger sale and is more generally used than any other article—toilet or medicinal—that has ever been sold or handled by the Drug trade in this country. DANDERINE makes the scalp healthy and fertile and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp fertilizer and therefore the greatest hair-producing remedy the world has ever known. It is a natural food and a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a 25c bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

NOW at all druggists in THREE SIZES, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this advertisement to the Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and ten cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

All Humors

Pimples, boils, eruptions, eczema or salt rheum, scrofula, are radically and permanently cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Liquid or tablets, 100 Doses One Dollar.

Destroys the Craving for

DRINK

Helps those who can't help themselves.

Destroys all desire for intoxicants of any sort.

Destroys the desire forever.

White Ribbon Remedy

will do this—and more.

It will gradually rebuild the broken-down system and create a healthy appetite.

No harmful after-effects.

Can be administered without the patient's knowledge in tea, coffee, water or food. Has no odor or taste.

Write to-day to White Ribbon Remedy Co., 218 Tremont St., Boston, Mass., for trial package, and letter of medical advice free in plain, sealed envelope. All letters confidential and destroyed when answered.

White Ribbon Remedy sold by druggists everywhere or sent by mail in plain package, price $1.00.

Mrs. Anna Moore, Ex-Press Superintendent of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, Los Angeles, Cal., states: "I have tested White Ribbon Remedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the cures have been many. I cheerfully recommend and endorse White Ribbon Remedy, and advise any woman to give it to any relative suffering from drunkenness.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

SPECIAL AGENT—

MAX WIRTH, DULUTH, MINN.

WEAR
The BLAKE HAT

THE BLAKE HAT HAS NO EQUAL

THE

THE BLAKE HAT HAS NO EQUAL

BLAKE

THE BLAKE HAT HAS NO EQUAL

IF THIS DIE IS IN YOUR HAT, IT'S RIGHT

AT YOUR HATTER'S
SOLD EVERYWHERE

HAS

THE BLAKE HAT HAS NO EQUAL

NO

THE BLAKE HAT HAS NO EQUAL

EQUAL

THE BLAKE HAT HAS NO EQUAL

SHAPES THE LATEST
COLORS THE NEWEST
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED
SPRING STYLES NOW READY

LIFE INSURANCE REPORT

(Continued from page 1.)

of any agreement providing that the company shall withhold from sale for any time, or subject to the discretion of others, any securities which it may own or acquire.

(6)—It also should be provided that no officer or director should be pecuniarily interested either as principal, co-principal, agent or beneficiary in any purchase sale or loan made by the corporation, except in case of a loan upon his policy.

The committee recommends limiting the amount of new business which each of the larger companies may take to $150,000,000 a year and that no company doing business in the state, except the industrial companies, shall issue policies in excess of certain prescribed limits.

Contributions by insurance corporations for political purposes should be strictly forbidden. Neither executive officers nor directors should be allowed to use the moneys paid for purposes of insurance in support of political candidates or platforms. The devious methods taken to conceal the payments of this sort are confessions of their illicit character. They illustrate the manner in which executive officers have treated the funds of the company virtually as their own, abusing their power to disburse them without proper accounting. Whether made for the purpose of supporting political views or with the desire to obtain protection for the corporation, these contributions have been wholly unjustifiable. In the one case executive officers have sought to impose their political views upon a constituency of divergent convictions, and in the other they have been guilty of a serious offense against public morals. The frank admission that moneys have been obtained for use in state campaigns, upon the expectation that candidates thus aided in their election would support the interests of the companies, has exposed both those who solicited the contributions and those who made them, to severe and just condemnation. The committee recommends the passage of an unequivocal and drastic measure to remedy this evil, so that not only should it be expressly prohibited and treated as a waste of corporate moneys, but any officer, director ar agent making, authorizing or consenting to any such contribution would be guilty of a misdemeanor and the prohibition should be extended to all corporate contributions of this character.

LOBBYING.

Nothing disclosed by the investigation deserves more serious attention than the systematic effort of the large insurance companies to control a large part of the legislation of the state. They have been organized into an offensive and defensive alliance to procure or to prevent the passage of laws affecting not only insurance, but a great variety of important interests to which, through subsidiary companies or through the connections of their officers, they have become related. Their operations have extended beyond the state, and the country has been divided into districts, so that each company might perform conveniently its share of the work. Enormous sums have been expended in a surreptitious manner. Irregular accounts have been kept to conceal the payments for which proper vouchers have not been required. This course of conduct has created a widespread conviction that large portions of this money have been dishonestly used. Andrew Fields, who represented both the Mutual and the Equitable in legislative matters and was in control of the supply department of the former company, remained beyond the jurisdiction during the sessions of the committee.

The general solicitor of the Mutual, to whom the chairman of the committee on expenditures entrusted large sums, died just before the beginning of the investigation and apparently left no account as to how the money had been spent. Andrew Hamilton, who, within ten years, received upwards of $1,000,000 from the New York Life on the warrant of its president, in connection with its bureau of legislation and taxation, has remained abroad and has failed to render any proper account showing the disposition of the money. The officers of the company say that they have no knowledge of the uses to which it was put. The officers of the Equitable from whom light might have been expected in the disbursements of their company, either have remained out of the jurisdiction or have been disabled by illness.

On account of the absence of the necessary witnesses and the lack of proper vouchers, the committee has been unable to trace the moneys said to have been disbursed in connection with legislation. But while it is sufficiently evident that large sums have been disbursed for improper purposes, it is also clear that payments for confidential outlays exempt from audit have furnished abundant opportunities for misappropriation. They suggest the necessity of requiring a strict accounting from those who are responsible for the payments as well as from the agents who received the moneys.

It has been insisted that the insurance companies have been continuously menaced by the introduction of improper and ill-advised legislative measures in many states that they have been compelled to maintain a constant watchfulness and to resort to secret means to defeat them. An insurance corporation, however, holds a position of peculiar advantage in opposing any measure which really antagonizes the interests of policyholders. A very large proportion of the voters of the state hold policies of life insurance. It is easy for the company to apprise them of hostile legislative measures, and in addition a department of the state government exists for their protection, whose recommendations have rarely failed to receive proper consideration in the legislature. It is not a difficult matter to direct public attention to an objectionable bill affecting life insurance corporations, or to have opposing argument and criticism effectively presented. Again, if, in spite of argument fairly and publicly presented, the legislature insists upon passing a law inimical to the true interests of the companies, it is not the officers, but the policyholders who must bear the loss, and the consequences which can readily be pointed out are almost certain to bring about an early repeal of the obnoxious legislation. The employment of agents to disburse large sums and of clandestine methods to defeat legislation is wholly inexcusable.

The pernicious activities of corporate agents in matters of legislation demand that the present freedom of lobbying should be restricted. They have brought suspicion upon important proceedings of the legislature and have exposed its members to consequent assault. The legislature owes it to itself, so far as possible, to stop the practice of the lavish expenditure of moneys ostensibly for services in connection with the support of or opposition to bills, and generally believed to be used for corrupt purposes. The legislature should free itself from the stigma which now attaches to the progress of measures affecting important interests. The laws against bribery and corruption, offenses which are difficult of proof, are sufficiently stringent, but an effort should be made to strike at the root of this evil by requiring, under proper penalties, full publicity with regard to moneys expended in connection with matters before the legislature. Corporations should be required to keep accounts and vouchers in which all such payments should be fully detailed and receipted for, and an adequate statement regarding them should form part of such reports as may be required.

In the case of insurance corporations the remedy lies, first, generally within the requirement of a proper authorization of all expenditures and vouchers, stating in detail the purposes for which moneys paid for legal expenses or in connection with legislative matters have been expended; and, further, the company should be compelled to set forth in its annual statement to the superintendent of insurance all sums so disbursed, giving the names of the payees' the amounts paid and the specific purpose of the payment.

Professional services in promoting legislation may be entirely honorable and are frequently necessary. In England members of the so-called parliamentary bar have been held in deserved esteem. The drafting of bills and the presentation of arguments for and against their enactment before legislative committees, call for a high order of professional ability. In Massachusetts and in Wisconsin statutes have been passed requiring that persons who professionally advocate or oppose legislation affecting corporate interests, should enter regular appearances and disclose for what clients they are acting. In Wisconsin it is made a misdemeanor for any person to accept a fee contingent upon the passage or defeat of a pending measure, and by statute passed there in 1905 it is made unlawful for any person employed for a pecuniary consideration to attempt personally to direct or influence a member of the legislature to vote for or against any pending measure otherwise than by appearing before regular committees, by publications or public addresses or by statements, arguments, or briefs delivered to all members of the legislature and filed in the office of the secretary of state. We are not inclined to recommend legislation on this subject, which will interfere with the presentation to a legislator of the views to his constituents or of citizens generally, but we believe that where legislation is opposed or promoted by paid professional advocates the matter should be the subject of suitable regulation.

The committee therefore recommends that the legislative law be so amended that every person retained or employed for compensation as counsel or agent to promote or oppose the passage of bills or resolutions by either house or executive approval of such measures shall before entering upon the service, file in the office of the secretary of state a writing stating the name or names of his employers, together with a brief description of the legislative matter with reference to which the service is to be rendered. The secretary of state should be required to provide a docket to be known as the "Docket of legislative appearances" with appropriate blanks and indexes in which the names of counsel and agent may be properly entered. Fees contingent upon legislative action should be prohibited.

It should also be made the duty of every corporation and association doing business in the state, within two months after the adjournment of the legislature to file with the secretary of state an itemized statement, duly verified, showing in detail all expenses paid or incurred in connection with the legislation pending at the last session, including all disbursements or compensation paid or payable to counsel or agents. Exception may be made of the duly accredited counsel of municipalities, public boards and public institutions, and also of the ordinary professional services in drafting bills or advising clients as to the construction and effect of proposed or pending legislation, where the professional service is not otherwise connected with legislative action. Violation of the law should be made a misdemeanor, and the failure to file the statements required should subject the offender to appropriate penalties.

EXPENSES.

The committee deems it inadvisable to recommend that the legislature attempt to prescribe the expenditures of insurance corporations. The legislature cannot undertake the management of the business. In seeking to secure economical administration it should not overstep the line which divides suitable state supervision from an utterly impracticable effort to prescribe details. The legislature should aim to permit freedom of management subject to general regulations and complete publicity.

For example, it is deemed unwise to limit salaries by statute, but it should be provided that all salaries of officers and the compensation of any other person receiving over a certain amount, say $5,000 in any year, should be fixed by the board of directors and not by any committee thereof, or by any executive officer, and should be reported in the annual statement to the superintendent of insurance.

The evidence, however, makes it clear that the most wasteful expense lies in the amount paid for new business. Every company professed to deplore this, pleading that competition rendered it unavoidable.

By the limitation of their new business the three great companies will be able very largely to diminish their agency expenses. This will also relieve the smaller companies to a marked degree of competition to which they have hitherto been subject. Some limitation of the expenses in getting business is imperatively required; otherwise there is little reason to doubt that there will be a continuance of the present extravagant methods.

The committee does not recommend that the rate of commissions be prescribed by law. It is recommended that commissions should be uniform—that is to say, that while the rate may vary according to the plan of insurance, the compensation should not be greater in amount for any $1,000 of insurance at the same age and should be determined by the amount paid in the case of an ordinary whole life policy. Bonuses, prizes and rewards and other special inducements based upon the size of particular policies or upon the aggregate of insurance written should be prohibited. All commissions should be definitely agreed upon in advance and should be a fixed percentage of the premium for each $1,000 of insurance. It is also recommended that renewal commissions should be limited to four years and to a certain percentage, say 10 per cent of the first year's commissions, so that the general restrictions placed on the first year's expenses should not be evaded. Loans and advances to agents should be prohibited.

VALUATION OF POLICIES.

The committee recommends that the law be amended so that a minimum standard for valuation of policies other than industrial should be established, and so that preliminary terms in the valuation of policies issued after 1906 should not be permitted. The superintendent of insurance should be required to fix a legal minimum standard. Assessment and co-operative companies should be compelled to maintain a reserve not only equal to the proceeds of one death or disability assessment, but also at least equal to the cost of insurance for two policies in accordance with the experience table of mortality until the next call. Any reserve provided for by the articles of association, or by-laws, or by the contracts with the members of any life insurance company should be charged as a liability in accordance therewith.

REBATES.

The law as to rebates is sufficiently stringent, but as a further precaution it is recommended that the penal code should be amended so as to provide that a person receiving a rebate should be equally guilty with the one who gives it.

SURRENDER VALUES.

With regard to new policies, the provisions of the statutes should be liberalized and the insurance, in the absence of notice from policyholder, should be automatically continued for its full amount as long as the reserve upon his policy will justify.

SURPLUS.

The committee recommends an annual accounting and an annual distribution; the companies protecting themselves against fluctuations in values by the accumulation and the retention of a reasonable contingent fund. The maximum of this fund to be based upon a percentage of the net values of outstanding policies.

NON-PARTICIPATING POLICIES.

The committee believes that mutual companies and stock companies chartered to transact business on the mutual basis, or holding themselves out as transacting business upon this basis, should be forbidden from writing non-participating policies.

REMEDIES OF POLICYHOLDERS.

Assuming that the funds belonging to policyholders through the opportunities afforded by deferred dividend contracts have been wasted through lax and corrupt administration, and that not only have the shares of profits for policyholders been determined by secret and arbitrary methods of computation, but that policyholders have been denied an opportunity to seek relief in the courts, the committee recommends a repeal of the existing law, which provides that action by the attorney general should be a condition precedent to an order, judgment or decree for an accounting and that the matter should be left subject to the general provisions of the articles of the code relating to actions against corporations.

FORMS OF POLICY.

The committee recommends the adoption of standard forms of policies, simple in form and in clear and concise language to be approved by the superintendents of insurance and that the issue of other policies than those thus provided for, should be prohibited. The recommendation as to the compulsory issue of standard forms does not extend to policies issued by assessment or corporative associations, or fraternal societies.

PUBLICITY.

The companies should be required to set forth in their annual statement apart from these matters which the superintendent may otherwise require:

(1)—The real estate held by the companies, the dates of acquisition, the names of vendors, the actual cost, the value at which it is carried on by the companies' books, the market value, the amounts expended during the year, for repairs and improvements, the gross and net income from each parcel and if any portion of the same be occupied by the company, the rental value thereof, a statement of any certificate issued by the superintendent extending time for the disposition thereof, and any and all transactions in real estate since the last annual statement.

(2)—The amount of its existing loans upon the security of real property, stating the amount loaned upon property in each state and country.

(3)—The moneys loaned by the company to any person (except loans upon the security of real property above mentioned) the actual borrowers, maturity and rate of interest, the securities held therefor and the same particulars with reference to any loans made or discharged since the last annual statement.

(4)—All other property owned by the company (including all securities) whether or not recognized by the law as proper investments, the dates of acquisition, from whom acquired, the actual cost, the value at which the same are carried upon the books, the market value, the interest or dividends received thereon and also the movements of securities and property other than real estate acquired and disposed of during the year, setting forth all such property purchased or sold during the year, with the names of purchasers and sellers, the price paid, the income received and outlays made in connection therewith.

(5)—A statement of all commissions paid to any persons in connection with loans or purchasers or sales of any property, giving the dates of payment and the names of the payees.

(6)—A statement of all payments for legal expenses giving dates and names and addresses of the payees.

(7)—A statement of all moneys expended in connection with matters of legislation, giving the dates, the legislative measure or proceeding in connection with which the payment was made, the interest of the company therein, the amounts of the payments and the names and addresses of the payees.

(8)—A statement of the officers and directors of the company, the proceedings at the last annual election, giving the names of candidates and the number of votes cast for each and whether in person, by proxy, or by mail.

(9)—A statement of all the compensation and emoluments received by any officer or director of the company or by any person whose compensation is more than $5,000 a year, with a statement of time when and the authority by which the same was fixed.

(10)—A statement of the largest balance carried in each bank or trust company during each month of the year.

(11)—All death claims resisted of compromised during the year, with particulars as to the sums insured, sums paid and reasons assigned for resisting or compromising the same in each case.

(12)—A complete statement of the profits and losses upon the business transacted during the year, and the sources of such gains or losses, and a statement showing separately the marginal gains upon premiums for the first year of insurance.

(13)—A statement showing the amount of the gains of the company for the year attributable to policies written after Dec. 31, 1906.

(14)—A statement showing the rates of annual dividends declared during the year for all plans of insurance and all durations, and for ages at entry 25, 35, 45 and 55 and the precise method by which such dividends have been calculated.

(15)—A statement showing the rates of dividends declared upon deferred dividend policies completing their dividend periods for all plans of insurance and the precise method by which such dividends have been calculated.

(16)—A statement showing any and all amounts set apart or provisionally ascertained or calculated or held awaiting apportionment upon policies with dividend periods longer than one year, for all plans of insurance and all durations and for ages of entry as aforesaid, together with a precise statement of the methods of calculation by which the same have been provisionally or otherwise determined.

(17)—A statement of any and all reserve or surplus funds held by the company and for what purpose they are claimed respectively to be held.

PENALTIES.

The violation of any of the provisions of the law should be made a misdemeanor. The provisions of the penal code as to perjury should be amended so as to provide that in any prosecution the falsity of the testimony or statement set forth in the indictment should be presumed and established by proof that the defendant has made oath to the contrary. The provisions of the penal code as to misconduct of officers and employes of companies should be amended to make clearer provision for cases of false entries in books and accounts and the omission from the reports of any matter required by law to be stated.

Apart from what has already been suggested, the committee is not prepared to make recommendations with reference to industrial insurance further than to say that the subject is one deserving of special investigation. The most serious evils which have been disclosed by this inquiry, to-wit, the excessive premiums, the enormous lapsed rate and the hardships of agents, seem to be inherent to the system. It is insisted that the present method is the most economical that has yet been proved to be adequate to the exigencies of the business. The alternative seems to be presented either of prohibiting altogether industrial insurance by private corporations or of permitting its continuance substantially on the present basis subject to those regulations designed to secure economical administration, applicable to all companies alike.

The committee takes up the state insurance department and holds that the state superintendent of insurance has had ample power and has been charged with the correlative duty to inquire into and to ascertain the transactions of insurance companies to the end that abuses may be exposed and correct administration assured. The supervision of the department, however, the report sets forth has not proved a sufficient protection against extravagance and mal-administration. Annual statements have been received and filed in many instances without sufficient detail to exhibit the real efficiency or honesty of the management. Nor has there been suitable effort to detect and expose evasions of departmental regulations and the resort to artifice and double dealing in order to avoid a true disclosure of the companies affairs. Referring to the office of the insurance department in New York city, in charge of Robert H. Hunter, the report declares it is apparent that no suitable steps have been taken to safeguard the interest of policyholders by an exposure of wasteful expenditure or corrupt practices. "The real responsibility for this neglect," says the committee, "must rest with the superintendent of insurance."

The committee recommends that a further power be conferred upon the insurance department and then says:

"Most of the evils which have been disclosed by the investigation would have been impossible had there been a vigorous performance of duties already laid upon the department a vigilant watchfulness in the interest of policyholders and a courageous exercise of the powers which the statute confers."

SOZODONT TOOTH POWDER

It will not tarnish gold work nor scratch the enamel. A perfect dentifrice—the one for you. Ask your dentist.

Dosed Stomach With No Results

THEN CURED OF

Eczema by 3 Bottles of D. D. D. Prescription

IS GRATEFUL TO D. D. D.

Mr. Samuel Lewis, well known in St. Paul, was cured after awful suffering.

November 30th, 1904.

What the wonderful D. D. D. Prescription did for Mr. J. Samuel Lewis of St. Paul is an object lesson that may save hundreds of other sufferers who live lives of torture from skin diseases. Mr. Lewis is one of the best known young busines men in the Twin Cities. This is the story he told the representative of the Journal:

"For a number of years I suffered periodically the tortures of the condemned, with a skin eruption that none of the doctors was able to cope with. Only those who are victims of such a malady can appreciate the suffering I went through. I dosed myself with blood medicine until my stomach went back on me time after time, but with no relief. One day Mr. Polson told me to try D. D. D., and I bought a bottle from Parker's. The first application gave me a relief that one could not believe unless it was experienced. I used three bottles of D. D. D. this spring, and now the skin, once a mass of fire and irritation, is as smooth and soft as any part of my body. You may use my testimonial any way you desire. I only hope my story will induce other sufferers to try D. D. D.

(Signed) J. SAMUEL LEWIS.

If you are suffering the tortures of the damned, don't hesitate, but go today, now, to your druggist and invest $1. It will not be an expenditure, but an investment in happiness. Or if you have some minor skin affection, don't delay till it develops into horrible, loathsome skin trouble, but act now. Buy D. D. D. today. It's worth its weight in gold as a preventative of serious skin diseases.

WE PROVE IT.

To convince you we have arranged with the D. D. D. Co., so that any sufferer from any skin disease can get direct from the D. D. D. Co.'s laboratory a large free sample of D. D. D. prescription together with 32-page new pamphlet on skin disease and free advice on your particular case from the world's greatest skin specialists.

LYCEUM PHARMACY.
DULUTH, MINN.

FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE. (MAIL THIS PROMPTLY.)

D. D. D. Co. Medical Department. 116-120 Michigan St., Suite 245, Chicago.

Please send me free prepaid a large size sample bottle of D. D. D., pamphlet and consultation blank. For.....years I have been afflicted with a skin disease called.....

.....and have never used D. D. D.

Name .....

Address .....

Complete Furnishing of Kitchens for Restaurant or Hotel. Prices right.

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY
THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE
WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

Glassware and Crockery in any Quantity at the Right prices.

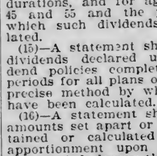

BARGAIN DAY IN THE BASEMENT—

One Item Overlooked May Be An Opportunity Lost.

Last Friday a number of persons were disappointed because the phenomenal "run" on some of the advertised articles, had cleaned up the lots long before the day closed. We appreciate the recognition of the splendid offerings we make in these "Housekeepers' Friday Sales," and endeavor to provide quantities large enough for any demand. There may be something here you want—and it's safer to be early.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

Drip Coffee Pots, 35c—

Large size, nickeled, with Japanned wood and metal handles—made with filter, which insures purity and increases the flavor—we have been selling them at 98c. These last few to go quick. Are 35c.

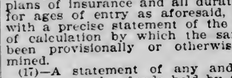

Toilet Paper—3 for 25c—

The finest roll paper we sell—fine white rice tissue—large 15c rolls—extra quality—for only one day, "Astoria" toilet paper 3 for 25c.

Bath Brushes, 17c—

A fine bathroom accessory—long handled brush, with solid wood back, 3 rows of good bristles, wire mounted—a big value at 25c—special Friday 17c each.

Scrubbing Brushes, 11c—

Large solid wood brushes for scrub or kitchen use, heavy long white fibre bristles—a regular 15c value, for 11c.

Sewing Trays, 10c—

A handy article any time—round Japanned trays, decorated in several nicely colored designs—sold regularly at 15c.

Towel Bars, 7c—

Choice of two styles, solid brass and nickel-plated bars—either 3-arm swinging bar, or bent end straight bar.

Ironing Wax, 1c—

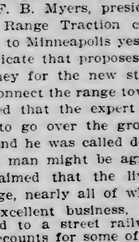

Put up in muslin cases, with little wood handle—the ideal iron waxer—½ doz for 5c.

LAMPS—Half Price.

Choice of fine decorated Lamps—large size, with round burners. A big variety for selection—a little price. If you're early you get the best for half the former price.

CHINA and GLASSWARE

"Clearlight," 49c—

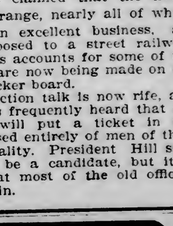

A complete gas lamp, fitted with Wellsbach mantle, burner, opal or colored shade, and a light that is unequalled for brilliancy—like those often sold for $1.00 to $1.50—at 49c for only one day.

Sherbet Glasses, 69c doz—

Those dainty little glass sherbets, in Colonial pattern, handled. We sell them regularly for 95c—Friday's price brings them down to 69c a dozen.

Sugar and Creams, $2.95 a set—

Cut glass—and a beautiful heavy glass, too—such a deep rich, sparkling design—a new pattern or shape—sells regularly at $4.50—this $2.95 price for one day only.

Cuspidors, 25c—

A practical asset to good housekeeping in many a home—and a practical saving by buying them at this sale; China, full size, pretty decoration—regularly 39c.

Gas Mantles, 10c—

A 15c mantle at one-third off—"Clover Cap" mantles, the best 15c ones you can buy for only one day, and no more than 6 to one customer, at this price—10c each.

⅓ Off on Two Lines.

Must clean up the stock of Chamber Sets and Jardinieres—so out they go for two-thirds the former price; beginning tomorrow put the third you save into another bargain.

CAN FILE TWICE.

Sara Anderson Allowed Privilege Under Stone and Timber Act.

The land office in Duluth has received a letter from the general land office in Washington allowing the second filing of Sara Anderson on a stone and timber claim. The woman filed some time ago and on the day set for proving up did not appear and her entry was cancelled.

Later, however, she came to the land office and filed on another piece of land, the first one in the meantime having been filed upon by another party. She gave as her reason for not proving up on the first piece of land that her witnesses were woodsmen and she could not get word to them in time to have them appear at the land office.

The genral land office rules that in such a case as this where the reason given is substantiated, a second filing is allowable. The land on which she filed the second time is the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter and the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of 20-56-13.

ON TRACTION MATTERS.

F. B. Myers of Biwabik Has Been Called to Minneapolis.

Biwabik, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. B. Myers, president of the Mesaba Range Traction company, was called to Minneapolis yesterday by the syndicate that proposes to furnish the money for the new street railway line to connect the range towns. He was informed that the expert engineer selected to go over the ground was ill in bed, and he was called down that some other man might be agreed upon. It is claimed that the livery men of the range, nearly all of whom are doing an excellent business, are strongly opposed to a street railway, and that this accounts for some of the moves that are now being made on the traction checker board.

Village election talk is now rife, and the report is frequently heard that the Finlanders will put a ticket in the field, composed entirely of men of their own nationality. President Hill says he will not be a candidate, but it is probable that most of the old officers will run again.

FOR Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, FOR Weak Lungs

And for painful and sensitive parts of the abdomen, Allcock's Plasters should be applied as shown in illustration.

Insist Upon Having Allcock's

REMEMBER—Allcock's Plasters have been in use over 58 years. They are the original and genuine porous plasters and have never been equalled as a pain-curer. Guaranteed not to contain belladonna, opium or any poison whatever.

Brandreth's Pills

The Great Blood Purifier and Tonic. For Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, etc.

Established 1752

B. Brandreth

THE EVENING HERALD

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.

Published at Herald Bldg., First St., Op. P. O. Square.
THE HERALD COMPANY.
Phones: Counting Room, 324; Editorial Rooms, 1126.

TEN CENTS A WEEK.

EVERY EVENING—DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

Single copy, daily	$ .02
One month	.45
Three months (in advance)	1.30
Six months (in advance)	2.60
One year (in advance)	5.00

Entered at Duluth Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

DULUTH WEEKLY HERALD.

Per year	$1.00
Six months	.50
Three months	.25

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH

TO SUBSCRIBERS:

It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both old and new addresses.

THE PURE FOOD BILL.

The United States senate has passed a reform measure. Make a note of it, a large, conspicuous note of it. It is true that the measure that received its sanction, the Heyburn pure food bill, has been ignored by the senate for years, and that only after a most decided public opinion had been worked up about it was it possible to induce the senate to act upon it, but it has passed the bill at last, and it should have credit for doing so.

The bill appears to cover the ground amply, but that is not so important. The thing is to have a pure food law. It will hardly be possible for the congress to repeal it, and if it lacks in any particular it will be much easier to procure proper amendments than it has been to get it through the senate. The house has heretofore looked upon the bill with favor, and there is no reason to believe that it will not approve it at this session.

Briefly, the bill makes it a misdemeanor to make or sell adulterated or misbranded drugs, foods, medicines or liquors in the District of Columbia, the territories or the insular possessions, and prohibits the shipment of such goods from one state to another or to foreign countries. This covers all the ground possible for the federal government, and is wide enough for all practical purposes, since it protects states with good pure food laws from having impure or misbranded goods shipped in from other states.

Investigations into violations of the law are placed in the hands of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, presided over by Dr. H. W. Wiley, who has already made himself famous by his investigations into food adulterations. Heretofore his investigations have been more or less useless because there was no way of punishing the guilty persons. If the Heyburn bill becomes a law he will report his findings to the secretary of agriculture, who will report the facts to the United States district attorney, who is required to prosecute.

This bill is by no means the least important of the several measures pending before congress this winter. No man can reckon the harm that has been worked to the people of the country by adulterated foods. The opinion of scientists is that a large proportion of the prevalent ills of humanity, consisting of disorders of the stomach and nervous system, with all their trains of evils, is due to adulterated foods. To sap the health of a people is to undermine its character, its morals, its vitality and its usefulness. A blow at the sources from which have come poisons of this nature is a blow in the interests of humanity.

USERS OF PROFANITY.

In the municipal court yesterday afternoon Judge Cutting fined a man $10 and costs for using profane language on the streets, and incidentally said that "a line must be drawn somewhere on the use of profanity and obscene language on the streets."

The judge is correct. A line must be drawn somewhere, and the way to draw it is to instruct the officers to be more diligent in apprehending men guilty of this offense, and then to have the judges make examples of every man that comes before them under this charge.

The defendant in yesterday's case used his indecent language to a couple of policemen, hence his arrest. It would be pleasant if one could think that such language is used only to policemen, but anybody who frequents Superior street must know better. Duluth is no worse than other cities in this respect, yet it happens too often that the ears of women who are passing along the street on shopping expeditions are assailed by language too vile to have originated in the minds of any but beasts.

There should be scant courtesy for the foul-tongued loafers who are caught uttering such language within the hearing of others, whether these hearers are men or women. They should be jerked to the police station, thence to the court room, and there properly punished. A few high fines or a term or two in the county jail would have a most wholesome effect upon the men caught at it and upon others who are careless about where they do their swearing because it has not been the practice to be severe upon such offenses.

There is no excuse for profanity. It is neither forceful, as it is intended to be, nor picturesque, as some of its users seem to fancy. It argues either mental poverty or mental depravity. Its use anywhere is bad, but its use upon the public thoroughfares is very properly regarded by the ordinances as a crime. The way to curtail it is to enforce these ordinances, and to punish a few of those given to making the streets unpleasant for women by its use.

THE USES OF HUMOR.

Ian Maclaren, who wrote "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush" and made himself famous thereby, says that a sense of humor is a hindrance to practical success, and advises young men to carefully conceal any such tendency if they find themselves possessed of it.

But just because Ian Maclaren said it, young man, you need not believe it and act upon it. A sense of humor is a most valuable possession, and relieves many a difficult situation that would be fatal to those that lacked it.

Still, many a man has been burdened by a sense of humor too acute to let him take anything seriously, and many a man in public life can trace his failure to make a permanent impression to the fact that he was too fond of his joke.

Thomas Corwin, a statesman of ante-bellum note, said one time that men should "be solemn," and added, "All the monuments were raised to solemn asses." Neither is this to be taken literally. It is true that men of set purpose have often been lacking in a sense of humor. They were in too deadly earnest to have time for trifling, and they considered humor as trifling. Yet that is no reason they might not have been greater and broader and mellower men if they had had a saving sense of humor, or why their monuments might not have been twice as large if they could have added a bit of kindly humor to their beings.

Humor must be kindly, however, or it is no longer humor, but bitterness. Somebody has said that "next to the butt of the company the wit of the company is the meanest person in it," and this is partly true, also. We laugh at the cruel barbs the wit speeds at the butt of the party, but we hate ourselves for it afterwards, when we see the wounds they make, and we despise the jester whose shafts are tinged with bitterness.

No nature is complete without its touch of humor, any more than it is without its seasoning of seriousness. A man all jokes and trifling is no full, rounded man, and people will laugh at him and call him a clown, but will trust him with no important enterprises requiring serious purpose for accomplishment. At the same time, a man with no humor in him, a man all sourness and severity and gall, is still less complete, and his lack of humor is a heavy handicap.

The fact is that all these statements are half-truths, not to be taken literally. As a general thing, the world pays better and more gladly those who amuse it than those who instruct it, but it remembers longer and holds more tenderly those who serve it seriously than those who cause it to laugh and are forgotten when the next mirth-maker comes along. So while there is something in this old quatrain, it, like the others quoted here, is not to be taken too seriously:

> Tickle the public and make it grin;
> The more you tickle the more you'll win.
> But teach the public, you'll never grow rich,
> You'll live like a beggar and die in the ditch.

TAXATION PUZZLES.

Down in Missouri Governor Folk has broached an interesting proposition on taxation, and while it has naturally aroused much opposition from obvious sources, it has points about it that have commended themselves to many.

He has proposed, so far as the raising of state taxes is concerned, to abolish the personal property tax and raise revenues only from real estate and from corporations.

The personal property tax system needs no indictment. It has been indicted and condemned in the court of experience, but though its inquities have richly earned it banishment, it still prevails in all the states. It is grossly unjust, since it reaches harshly the necessities of life and industry, tangible property like household furniture, stocks of merchandise and working tools, while it barely touches the rich fruits of other people's labor like cash, stocks, bonds and securities. It places a premium upon perjury and fraud, since most taxpayers are given to swearing to falsehood when they list their personal property. The revenues it yields are grossly inadequate, when the injustice, fraud and moral injury it works are considered.

Governor Folk does not propose to eliminate the personal property tax altogether, however. He merely proposes that the state shall get no revenues from it, though the counties may tax personal property if they wish to do so. His aim, and it is the aim of tax reformers in many states, is to supply the state's revenues from different sources than those from which the local subdivisions receive support. This aim is nearer realization in Minnesota than in many states, and ultimately, if present tendencies continue, the state will need to levy no direct tax upon the people, but will get its revenues entirely from corporation and other taxes.

The difficulty with this is that the cities contribute most of this revenue, as the corporation property from which state funds are raised is mostly in the cities. For instance, Minnesota raises a large proportion of her revenues from a gross earnings tax on railroads. Two-thirds of the railroad property in the state, according to valuation, is in the three large cities. While it involves heavy expenses to the municipalities, it pays no local taxes, but becomes a means whereby the city residents assumes a large share of the farmer's burden of taxation.

The proposal to completely abolish the personal property tax has many things to commend it. It will lessen the temptation to perjury, it will lessen the burden upon the poor man, and it will tend, in a measure at least, to make the rich man bear more of his proper share. But a tax upon real estate alone, based upon valuation of improvements, will bear heavily upon many small property-owners, particularly upon those who own their own homes and little besides.

THE FIELD SURVEY

Many a dyspeptic envies the appetite the furnace displays these days.

* * *

Are you not glad you didn't bet a hat that Lake Superior would freeze over this winter?

* * *

Wouldn't it be a joke, after young Mr. Rockefeller comes into his inheritance, if he should practice what he preaches?

* * *

The Indianapolis News notes that somehow nowadays it always takes a few Democrats to make a Republican majority in the senate.

* * *

Noting that public opinion seemed to agree that advertising pays, a Vermont convict is advertising in the newspapers for a pardon.

* * *

The Fergus Falls Journal, after examining the pictures of the White House bridegroom, decides that he is harmless looking, anyway.

* * *

Among the subjects not touched upon by Secretary Cortelyou in his recent speech was the source of Republican campaign funds last year.

* * *

The house has passed a bill prohibiting gambling in the territories. Wall street, however, is under state laws and not amenable to congressional regulations in the matter of gambling.

* * *

L. D. Lammon, who has had considerable experience in running live weekly papers in Northern Minnesota, has purchased the Bovey Iron News from A. L. LaFreniere of Grand Rapids.

* * *

The Northfield News gives its consent to the plan of holding the Republican state convention in Duluth. It might prove useful to the G. O. P. to try the Duluth brand of harmony for a change.

* * *

The fact that the Virginia Enterprise has just celebrated its fourteenth birthday shows that much history has slipped into the past since the Mesaba range was opened, though it seems but yesterday.

HOTEL GOSSIP

"The American-made automobile is rapidly coming to the front," said Arthur E. McGill of Chicago, at the Lenox. "This was demonstrated in no uncertain manner at the recent automobile show in Chicago, and in the other big show of the year held at New York a few weeks ago. Prospective buyers attend these exhibitions from all parts of the country, and it frequently happens that the entire output of a single factory will be ordered as the result of a display at the show. These events are very interesting, and well worth a visit. If a modern Rip Van Winkle could happen in on one of them after a twenty years' sleep he would have even more cause to wonder than did the only original.

"Away back in the days of the bicycle, nearly twenty years ago, an American rider considered that he had gained the acme of perfection when he purchased a bicycle made in Europe. The makers of Europe, realizing all this, started shipping to this country bicycles that were far from the samples submitted when they received their orders. In consequence foreign bicycles received a black eye, several black eyes, in fact, and they were finally knocked down and out, as the American makers improved their output day by day. There came a sudden end to bicycles of the European variety.

"In the automobile business, which followed closely the lines of the automobile business, there is not the same danger to be met with, as the European makers realize that the Americans are discriminating, and therefore only the best is sent to the American market. Anything but the best would receive very scant attention. The American manufacturers are improving their cars from year to year, and now turn out just as good a machine as is made in Europe. Inroads are being made upon the ranks of the users of European cars by some of the American makers. There are a number of foreign cars in use in the United States, but I believe it will be only a matter of time before they will be wiped out altogether."

* * *

"It is remarkable how easy photography is these days," said O. L. Martin of Negaunee, Mich., at the St. Louis. "It was not very many years ago that a New York girl sat for her portrait under the daguerreotype process, the first woman to have her picture taken in this country. She had her face painted whith with a metallic substance, and then set on a roof for six minutes in the glaring sun before the operation was complete. Now, with the camera that actually snaps in one-thousandth of a second, we can catch the flight of a humming bird, and the wings, which the eye can scarcely see, are made so plain that the feathers are distinctly outlined. Photography is now for the masses, as well as for the expert."

* * *

"As an instance of the manner in which a man may be walking the streets of a big city and disappear completely from the face of the earth without the knowledge ever reaching his friends, or, at least, without the knowledge reaching them for weeks, an accident which lately occurred in New York may be taken," said a New York traveling man at the St. Louis. "A young man crossing the street was struck by an automobile. He was almost crushed, and was quickly carried to a hospital, where the card of a friend was found in his pocket. It so happened that the friend resided in a distant city, the name of which was not given.

"Entered under this name as his own, he came to his senses three days later, bandaged from head to foot, unable to walk or talk. The bandages wrapped around his head were an effectual bar to all speaking. Had his death occurred, this son of wealthy parents must have gone to the potter's field. After weeks he made his identity known, and was sent to his home in Buffalo. His folks were nearly distracted, and imagined that he was dead."

* * *

"There is almost as much to study in the hotel register as there is in the average school book," said the clerk at the Spalding. "Look at these signatures. Isn't that a page to study from? There is the signature of a prominent actor under that of a well-known man of the church. Here are the names of two politicians, and there the signature of a prominent brewer. Side by side you see the different names, and one cannot help thinking what contrasts they make at times.

"Then, when one comes in in the morning after the night clerk has gone home and looks over the names, do you know it is surprising how you can judge what some people are like from their signatures? Then look at this. Sunday, with the exception of a few traveling men and stage people, there is hardly a man registered. Monday the day is rather busy; Tuesday, you notice, usually shows an increase over the day before. Wednesday is always a good day, and from Thursday they begin to show a falling off, and Saturday every man who is near enough to his home to get there from the hotel in half a day's travel generally makes the jump rather than be away from home over Sunday. You can learn a hundred interesting things if you study a hotel register, and some of them are invaluable to a man in the business."

* * *

At the McKay: C. Brower, Tower, Minn.; G. H. Drake, Minneapolis; J. B. Clarkson, St. Paul; Miss Ida Ramsey, Minneapolis; H. P. Parker, Tower; E. Erayen, Hibbing; R. Bishop, St. Paul; R. M. Kohrt, Ely; C. F. Kolri, Hibbing; B. F. Clifford, Boston; Louise A. Mimert, Two Harbors; C. G. Johnson, J. J. Regan, Bemidji; L. R. Sims, Magdalena, Mex.; T. E. Bond, St. Paul; H. C. Sermen, Mellen, Wis.; A. P. Bergeson, Willmar, Minn.

* * *

At the St. Louis: J. Lefevre, Grand Rapids; E. S. Oakley, Cass Lake; L. B. Sanford, F. R. McQueen, Minneapolis; T. Johnson, Ogema; M. Steffes, R. P. Baker, Minneapolis; F. N. Simvinch, Rochester, N. Y.; G. H. Good, Winton, Minn.; E. A. Heyman, Jackson, Mich.; J. Huderle, Hutchinson, Minn.; J. Ryan, Negaunee, Mich.; D. B. McDonald, Virginia; P. Tredennial, Marshfield; G. D. Robinson, Ontonagon, Mich.; Marietta Jesmore, Eveleth; G. Bronan, Grand View; J. P. Tonolli, Mountain Iron; F. T. Darvell, Chippewa Falls, Wis.; J. B. Connors, Hibbing; W. W. Potter, Chippewa Falls, Wis.; L. W. Osborn, Philadelphia; A. L. Thwing, Grand Rapids.

* * *

At the Spalding: G. B. Welsen, Milwaukee; H. G. Wheelock, Cleveland; H. G. Day, Minneapolis; W. H. Lord, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sherman, N. W. Stone, Chicago; F. H. Doerr, E. Peterson, Two Harbors; Mrs. J. D. Young, La Crosse, Wis.; G. A. Edgan, Pittsburg; H. R. Liebman, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Keith, Princeton, Minn.; F. A. Thompson, H. L. Burns, Sparta, Minn.; G. C. Main, Minneapolis; M. A. Meyers, Buffalo; B. Bresden, Groove City; L. E. Larson, Dassel, Minn.; Mrs. M. E. Hulling, Minneapolis; B. E. Sparr, Batavia, Ill.; R. Banuch, J. Belish, Cleveland; T. M. Ring, Saginaw, Mich.; W. J. Richards, Crystal Falls; W. H. Haskell, H. R. Kiamer, Toledo.

* * *

At the Lenox: J. S. Van Cleve, Cleveland, Ohio; C. M. Bradley, Cloquet, Minn.; J. F. Kemerth, Sioux Falls, S. D.; F. K. Sunday, E. R. Smith, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Evans and two children, Two Harbors; C. W. Lahea, Pine River, Minn.; M. A. Culver, Ortonville, Minn.; J. J. Callander, Houston, Texas; H. L. Seeley, Biwabik, Minn.; P. W. Stun, Ely; J. M. Kaige, Aurora, Minn.; H. Reiff, Russell, Kas.; E. Linck, Iron River, Wis.; O. Johnson, Cloquet, Minn.; M. T. Ohieson, Minneapolis; O. G. Meag, Sidney, Neb.; G. E. McLain, Two Harbors; A. Somers, J. Somers, Bovey, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gugler, Red Wing, Minn.; R. A. Stuart, Menominee, Wis.; Mrs. Huddelson, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Baker, Ashland.

Pure Air.

Communication in New York World: The most noticeable effect of impure air in winter is to make a person feel chilly. All persons who sleep and work in unventilated rooms begin to suffer when the temperature drops below 45 degs. The poison in bad air destroys the vitality of the blood. The body is inflamed and the heart weakened so it can not properly do its own work, while another burden is laid upon it by the lungs, which are unable to eliminate the waste matter. Parents should give children pure air by opening windows wide after bedtime and closing them half an hour before they awaken.

THE WEATHER

It grew slowly warmer all last night, and at 7 o'clock this morning, when the official reading of the thermometer was 31 degrees, it stood at the highest point in the twenty-four hours preceding, the lowest being 22 degs. It was cloudy, moist, mild and threatening, so it was no surprise to hear from the weather man that conditions favor rain or snow this afternoo or tonight. Tomorrow he expects it to be colder and fair, with brisk westerly winds. Following is the official report of conditions with the local forecast deducted from them by H. W. Richardson, the local forecaster:

"The barometer is low throughout the greater portion of the Northwest, causing quite general cloudiness in that portion of the country as well as warmer weather in the Eastern Dakotas, Montana and Northern Minnesota. Pressures are rising in the far Northwest, attended by falling temperatures from Western Montana northward. Snow flurries occurred in the Yellowstone Park region, British Columbia and Northern Saskatchewan.

"Conditions favor rain or snow in this locality this afternoon or night, followed Friday by mostly fair and slightly colder weather, with winds shifting to fresh and brisk westerly by Friday morning."

Following were the lowest temperatures recorded by the weather bureau in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning:

Battleford	20	Madison	28
Bismarck	30	Marquette	22
Calgary	20	Moorhead	30
Devils Lake	26	Miles City	38
Duluth	22	Medicine Hat	22
Escanaba	22	Minnedosa	23
Edmonton	20	Pierre	33
Green Bay	28	Prince Albert	22
Havre	28	Port Arthur	18
Houghton	30	Qu'Appelle	20
Huron	36	St. Paul	30
Helena	28	Swift Current	26
Kamloops	36	Winnipeg	22
La Crosse	30	Williston	28
Milwaukee	30	Yellowstone Park	20

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Forecast until 7 p. m. Friday: Upper Michigan—Threatening with rain tonight and near Lake Superior Friday; warmer tonight; high southwest winds.

Wisconsin—Probably showers tonight with warmer in east portion, Friday generally fair; high southwest to west winds.

Minnesota—Rain or snow flurries tonight with cooler in west portion, Friday generally fair; brisk southwest to west winds.

BOOSTING NORTHERN MINNESOTA.

Moorhead Independent: The drainage idea seems to be gaining in popularity as the spring approaches.

Brainerd Tribune: Did you ever stop to think, you who own farm lands in Crow Wing county, how fast you are getting rich? Your land is advancing in value every year and soon will be worth just double what it is now. The safest place for your money in the world is right in a good Northern Minnesota farm.

Bemidji Sentinel: There is one thing that pleases the Growler, and that is the intense loyalty of the editorial writers in this part of the state to the Northwest. There is not a knocker in the bunch, and do you know they are doing work for the Northwest that never will be appreciated by you money. If every reader of their paper would do the same amount of work according to their opportunity, the country would soon be well settled and bloom like a rose. All honor to the boys, and let every community help hold up their hands.

Eveleth Star: There never existed anywhere better opportunities in the agricultural lines than exist today in Northern Minnesota. With a market ready to hand and prices much above the usual the returns are sure to be commensurate with the efforts. And it will not long be possible to secure land for a nominal price.

Brainerd Tribune: The man with a well stocked and equipped farm in Northern Minnesota has a snap ticklers of the soil in other states don't enjoy.

Bemidji Enterprise: The change in the railroad map of northern Minnesota is rapidly being made. In some districts which a few years ago it was thought never would have a railroad, there will soon be a net work of lines.

Little Falls Transcript: Railroads are extending throughout Northern Minnesota as though they expected a permanent local traffic in that territory.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: Dr. C. K. Leith, professor of geology of the University of Wisconsin, says that one hundred years hence there will be no iron ore left in the Mesaba. We are not worrying much about it, however, but will venture the prediction that the land 'round about here will then show the finest farms on earth, and the land out where now is Little Falls will be filled with old tin cans.

Crookston Times: If some of the influential people in Minnesota were half as much interested in drainage as they are in the irrigation of the arid lands of the West and Southwest, the prosperity of this state would double and triple in a very short time.

Crookston Times: The evolution of Northern Minnesota is well under way. Crookston, realizing this fact, can help it on in every way. Appreciating the wider responsibilities and possibilities Crookston can be an important factor in the making of a great state within a state. At the eastern extremity of this wide territory lies Duluth, destined within a few years to be one of the nation's greatest cities, while at the western extremity lies Crookston, whose future greatness is entirely within its own making. As thrives Northern Minnesota, so thrives Crookston.

LAUGHING LINES.

Washington Star: "What makes you think our friend believes in reincarnation?"

"He says he expects to see the Panama canal completed."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: He—They say, you know, that two can live as cheap as one.

She—Yes, but I'm too old to try experiments.

Brooklyn Life: Three Germans were sitting at luncheon recently and were overheard discussing the second marriage of a mutual friend, when one of them remarked: "I'll tell you vhat. A man vhat marries de second time don't deserve to have lost his vife."

Chicago Tribune: "Senator," asked the inquisitive constituent, "why are appropriations for internal improvements, such as erecting public buildings, making rivers navigable, and the like, called pork?"

"Because," said the statesman, "you fellows squeal till you get it, and Uncle Sam grunts when he gives it out."

Cleveland Leader: "Farmers," announced the fair visitor from the city, "are just as dishonest as city milkmen."

"How d'ye make that out?" asked her host.

"Why, I saw your hired man this morning water every one of the cows before he milked them."

Philadelphia Ledger: "When I saw him yesterday he said he was looking for trouble."

"Well, I guess he saw it."

"How do you know?"

"Because he can't see anything today."

Philadelphia Press: "In my business," said the stock broker, "it is impossible to succeed without pluck."

"Huh!" snorted the man who had been up against it, "you mean 'plucking,' don't you?"

Judge: Young Doctor—He seems to have every confidence in my ability to save him.

Old Doctor—Is he delirious on other subjects, also?

Hail for Help.

Chicago News: Any unusual noises from Washington probably will be the rate bill calling for help, as it is now in the hands of the senate.

ROYAL Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness, and flavor noticed in the finest cake, short cake, biscuit, rolls, crusts, etc., which expert pastry cooks declare is unobtainable by the use of any other leavening agent.

A pure grape cream of tartar powder. No alum.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Taken from the Columns of The Herald of this date in 1886.

Mrs. J. C. Oswald has gone to Red Wing to attend the funeral of Mrs. Moritz Jacking, with whom she has been acquainted for many years.

Paul Roy has returned from a protracted sojourn in Chicago, where he was once a newspaper reporter.

Mrs. E. E. Sherwin left this morning for a short visit to her parents at Eau Claire.

H. C. Johnson has gone on a business trip to Chicago.

Rev. C. S. H. Dunn of Stillwater occupied the Methodist pulpit Sunday evening. Rev. G. D. Penepacker will probably leave for Pennsylvania this week. It is believed that a month will elapse before his permanent successor is appointed.

H. G. Stephens of Northern Pacific Junction has returned from a trip to St. Paul and St. Cloud.

The Old Settlers' association elected the following officers: President, George R. Stuntz; vice president, Judge Gates, Superior; secretary, Judge Carey; corresponding secretary, James Bardon, Superior; treasurer, H. W. Wheeler; executive committee, Hiram Hayes and A. Zachau of Superior and E. H. Hall, S. C. McQuade and J. J. Hibbard of Duluth. The membership was limited to those who came here prior to 1858, and the following veterans signed the roll: George R. Stuntz, Hiram Saxton, H. W. Wheeler, H. W. Shaw, Freeman Keene, John Smith, L. T. Slayton, John D. Howard, Cassius Merritt, Henry Wieland, J. R. Cary, Vose Palmer, Hiram Hayes, August Zachau, Ernest Wieland, E. H. Hall, R. J. Moore, Alfred Merritt, J. G. Rakowsky, S. C. McQuade, J. J. Hibbard, Charles Lord, J. F. Bishoff, Sr., J. F. Bishoff, Jr., Charles Saxton, J. C. Sagie, George E. Wheeler, W. C. Howenstine, Waterman Green, James Bardon, Fred Le Margie, Louis Droz, A. C. Brown, M. Wheeler, George M. Smith, Judge Dumphy, Leonida Merritt, John G. Howard, B. F. Howard, Richard Barden, H. A. Klichli, R. E. Cary, Judge Gates, D. G. Morrison, J. D. Ray, Thomas Saxton, Peter E. Bradshaw.

There is considerable commotion on Park Point relative to the railroad projects. Some time ago a Park Point railroad company was formed with Jefferson, Dailey, Stuntz and others as directors. Since then another company has been formed at St. Paul, and the Jefferson party are now circulating a petition calling on the village council to order an election to decide whether the village shall bond itself for $8,000 in the interest of their scheme.

On the evening of Feb. 20, the popular young explorer, Byron Segog, was united in marriage to Miss Martha Olson. The happy couple have known one another from infancy, having been raised in the same town in Michigan. They have already begun housekeeping in one of the Evans cottages.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: If the Republican state central committee is going to get the party in a big row over the calling of a Republican state convention, it might save trouble by calling the whole thing off—especially the committee.

Northfield News: A pass is a bribe. No railroad will issue a pass unless its equivalent is returned in influence or otherwise, except where the recipient is a personal friend of a railroad official.

Red Wing Republican: Senator Elkins says that he is for the president's railroad rate regulation policy. But when people smile, Senator Elkins should remember that it doesn't matter very much what a man says. It's what a man does that count.

Rochester Post and Record: The fact that an American citizen may be hanged in the Panama canal zone without trial by jury shows that the constitution does not follow the canal.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: Please cut out the "harmony meetings" until after election.

St. Peter Free Press: Aren't the state senators and members of the legislature biting off a good deal more than they can chew when they attempt, in their almost exclusive occasional meetings, to dictate the policy of the party?

Cass Lake Times: Brother Pease of the Anoka Union says, "Crack the Republican whip and crack it hard." 'Twill do no good, brother; the voter won't hear it, besides the "snapper" is gone, broken off in the last campaign, and there are no boys in the party who can braid another.

Brookston Herald: One dollar invested in scientific, systematic drainage means a profit of seven dollars. How could the state make greater interest?

Madison Independent Press: Over in Wisconsin the farmers are demanding reciprocity treaties. Reciprocity, in so far as it relates to any relief it may bring to the farmers of this country, is a humbug, plain and simple. Tariff revision and reduction is what is wanted for the farmer as well as all other classes in the middle West. Anything else would be a mere makeshift.

Red Wing News: Startling news comes from Washington to the effect that the senate is on the trail of the coal trust. When it catches up the crowd will have some extra dry.

Crookston Times: It is not to the principle of the forest reserve but to this campaign of slander that Northern Minnesota objects.

Minneapolis Telegram: There is scarcely anything in all the category of human ills that is one-half as painful as that from which one happens to be suffering at the moment.—Anoka Herald.

Well, tell us! What was it? Mince pie or a corn?

Monticello Times: The Ohio legislature has passed a 2-cent-a-mile railroad fare for all railroads in that state. The people can get some things they want when they really want to.

Walker Pilot: Mr. Brower, he of congressional aspirations, has either gone to sleep or is working nights with the lights turned low. As "Rip" has never been classed with the quitters we take it for granted that his oil bill is becoming quite an item of expense.

Can't Be Too Many of Them.

Louisville Courier-Journal: There appears to be entirely too much disposition among the Republicans at Washington and among the Democrats at Frankfort blindly to stand by what they call "the party," whether right or wrong. A party is not worth standing by when it is wrong, and the number of intelligent and patriotic people in this country who hold that view and act upon it is already very large, and is daily increasing.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: A man is very useful around the house to pay the bills.

It is easy to put money in good things; the trick is to get it out.

When a woman thinks she has a good figure it is a sign she is sure you admire it.

Some men think they have great will power to be able to stop smoking and drinking when they are asleep.

When a school teacher tells a mother how beautiful her children are you can never make her believe she isn't a good teacher.

Didn't Like Its Spirit.

New York Sun: Mark Twain, talking to some of his friends at a New York club the other day, said that he had received recently some verses which the writer had sent him because he thought the verses "applied" pretty well to the humorist. Here was the "poem:"

> The lightning bug is brilliant,
> But it hasn't any mind.
> It scrambles through existence
> With its headlight on behind.

"Good poetry," said the humorist, "but I don't like the spirit of it."

AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM

Last Time Tonight.
"Last evening's audience enthusiastic."
ALLEN DOONE
In
"KERRY GOW"
Sweet Singing. Refined Irish Dances.
Feb. 23-24—Louis James. Seats now. Friday, "Richelieu." Saturday, "Ingomar." Night, "Virginius."

METROPOLITAN

TONIGHT AND ALL WEEK,
Reilly & Woods Co.
Oldest and best on the circuit.
Free Souvenirs. No advance in prices today.
Last Matinee Saturday. Friday night for amateurs.
Next Week—"Miss New York, Jr."

Star Lecture Course

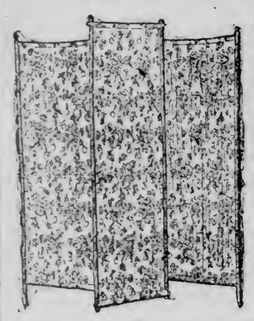

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 26.
Dr. Frank Gunsaulus
Of Chicago. Lecture on
"GLADSTONE"
Admission 50 cents. Tickets at Chamberlain & Taylor's

F. S. KELLY FURNITURE CO.

All Cars Bring You Right to This Store—226-228 West Superior St.—Get off at 3rd Ave. West.

THE GREAT ALTERATION SALE

—CONTINUES—

50 SCREENS GO ON SALE AT HALF PRICE

Tomorrow morning we want to make a complete clearance of all screens. We put fifty fine screens in this sale at exactly HALF PRICE.

YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD.

In order that everyone may have an opportunity to take advantage of this great sale, we make you this liberal offer: Buy what you want at this sale, get the special prices, and we will make very easy and liberal terms with you on any amount of goods you may want, whether it is one piece or a house full of furniture.

OPEN A CHARGE ACCOUNT.

CARPETS! CARPETS!

If you are going to buy any Carpets this spring, don't fail to take advantage of this sale to get what you want. Over sixty different patterns in Brussels Carpets, with borders to match.

$1.00 Brussels Carpets for 59c.

Fine Tapestry Brussels Carpets, with borders to match—one thousand yards at this price—worth $1.00 per yard—at only..... 59c

90c All Wool Ingrain Carpet 59c.

A fine pattern of all-wool Ingrain Carpet—strictly all long wool and no shoddy—sells everywhere at 90c—special this sale..... 59c

STORE OPEN UNTIL TEN O'CLOCK SATURDAY NIGHT.

RAILROADS

WORK IS IN FULL SWING

Bridges Are Now Being Built Along the Southeastern Road.

Breaking Up of Logging Camps Will Help Railroad Situation.

Bridge work is now in progress at different points along the survey of the Lake Superior & Southeastern road. Most of the bridges are contracted for separately from the regular railroad construction work, and it is planned to have them completed by the time it is desired to lay the rails across them. All of them will be in readiness for use before the remainder of the line, is is believed.

Two of the longest structures on the line will be at the north end of the road, a few miles south of Superior, one of them across the Nemadji river, and the other spanning Crawford creek. Pile drivers are now at work on the Crawford creek site. Various shorter bridges will be built between here and Ladysmith. Forty or fifty miles from Superior there are some big sand cuts to be made, and at the lower end more serious obstacles have to be overcome in the shape of rock cuts. There are a few of these near the north end, also, but none of them will be deep enough to offer a very serious obstruction.

The sub-contractors are now getting in readiness to rush construction work on the Lake Superior & Southeastern as soon as weather conditions will permit in the spring. Crews are now engaged at such work as can be done in the winter time, but there is some of it that has to be left until summer. It is hoped to have trains running into Duluth by Nov. 1 over the new line.

The question that is bothering the contractors now more than anything else is the labor situation. As has been frequently explained in the past, there is so much railroad work to be done this year that there is very apt to be a scarcity of men. One thing that will help out the situation greatly is the fact that a little while before the greatest demand for railroad laborers opens up the men will be coming out of the woods in large numbers. Logging camps through Northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan will be breaking up in the next month or six weeks, and most of the men employed in them will then be in readiness to go with the railroads, although not until they have spent in riotous living what they earned during the winter by hard work in the woods.

Passenger Business Good.

"The railroads, both east and west, will have a good passenger business this year," said A. G. Shearman of Minneapolis, Northwestern passenger agent of the Nickle Plate road, who is in the city today. "Preparations are being made on all lines for a heavy travel."

TACKLED BY CUPID.

Rogers, Famons Minnesota Indian Football Player, to Wed.

Minneapolis, Feb. 22.—Edward L. Rogers, captain of the Minnesota football team in 1903, and one of the best ends the West has ever seen, was a hard man to tackle on the gridiron, but Dan Cupid experienced little difficulty in making Ed yell "Down."

Miss Mayme Constance Balton, 1051 Sixteenth avenue southeast, is the name of the young lady who aided Ed in his dash for the matrimonial goal. Mr. Rogers and Miss Balton will be married at the home of Miss Balton, Monday evening, Feb. 26, at 8 o'clock.

Rogers is one of the most famous Indian football players the gridiron has ever known.

Mr. Rogers graduated from the law department of the Minnesota university in June, 1903. Last year he was connected with the firm of the Yale, Morley Realty Co., in the New York Life building.

Since last August, Rogers has been practicing law in his own office in the New York Life building. He has been very successful in his profession.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will be at home after April 1 at Walker, Minn., where Ed will open a law office.

CANNY LAIRD MADE THE CHURCH GIVE ALL.

New York, Feb. 22.—A church of New Rochelle, which asked Andrew Carnegie for money to buy a new organ, has $500 raised for that purpose. Mr. Carnegie did not give it, though. When a committee from the church asked the steel king for a contribution he recommended that $500 be raised and then he "would see what he could do."

Greatly elated, the committee quickly succeeded in raising the money. Reporting their success to Mr. Carnegie the members were astounded when he told them that if they had $500 that was a great plenty and that, therefore, he would give nothing.

WEST DULUTH

A week from tomorrow night, on March 2, Euclid lodge, No. 198, A. F. & A. M., will hold an annual celebration in the way of an entertainment and dance. The affair will take place in Wade's hall and the program, which will take up about an hour, will be given by the faculty of Flaaten's conservatory of music. The numbers will be announced later. After the program, dancing will be indulged in until midnight, the music to be furnished by Flaaten's orchestra.

The affair will be for members of the lodge and their families, for uptown Masons and all visiting brethren and their ladies. It is expected that the affair will be one of the best of the season.

REVIVAL SERVICE.

Rev. M. S. Rice Preaches on Subject "Examine Yourselves."

"One reason I like to have people examine themselves, is because it is so easy on other folks. You try it and see," said Rev. M. S. Rice in his sermon on the text, "Examine Yourselves" at the Presbyterian church, last night. "I like this kind of a text—it is so personal, and the business of religion is to be personal. Our merchants, most of them, have just finished their inventory. They find it worth while to take stock, once a year, at least. It is good business policy You try it. Take stock. Examine yourselves.

"When one examines himself, he is sure of a verdict, there will be no disagreement. It will be a true verdict—he can't deceive himself. He may be able to conceal the verdict from his closest friend, but after all, the pretense wounds nobody but himself.

"The most precious treasure this life has for you is the knowledge, which may be yours even after the most searching self examination, that God has pardoned you, and accepted you."

The church was crowded to the doors. The male quartet sang very pretty selections. Tonight there will be a "Testimony service," and Mrs. J. H. Jern will sing. The service will begin at 7:45 sharp.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. P. G. Pastoret of Two Harbors visited yesterday with Mrs. F. H. Wade.

Mrs. Michael Willette was operated on today in the Duluth hospital.

A man named Nels Anderson, who has been working for Axel Swanson on the latter's stripping contract at the New Duluth gravel pit, was brought to the Duluth hospital today with a broken leg. A large lump of gravel fell on him and crushed him.

Miss Elizabeth Fechely, sister of Rev. Father Fechely of the St. James Catholic church, will be wedded to G. L. Lynch next Monday morning at the church by Father Fechely. They will go East for their honeymoon.

Peter Ennett went to Saginaw last night to attend the funeral of an aunt. Before his return he will visit his parents in Quebec.

Jewelry repairing—Hurst, 301 Central.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Rosenberg, 316 North Fifty-third avenue west died yesterday. The funeral was held this afternoon and interment was in Oneota cemetery.

ZION CITY PAYS UP INTEREST ON MORTGAGE.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. Joseph Durkin that Zion had paid all interest due on the extensive mortgage she owns on the Zion City site. The amount was $3,800. Hiram Ferry, the second largest mortgagee, also received his final payment of interest. His amount was nearly as large as Mrs. Durkin's.

The interest paid covers the mortgages up to April 1 next in both cases. The interest to both was due a year ago and failure of payment is what threatened recently to precipitate foreclosure proceedings on Zion.

A Card.

We, the undersigned do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

S. F. Boyce, Max Wirth,
R. C. Sweeny, William A. Abbett.

GRIEF KILLS WOMAN.

Aged Indian Cries Herself to Death Over Son's Demise.

Iowa City, Iowa, Feb. 22.—"She cry all time since Parketo die" was the way Pyepahal, a Masquawki Indian, accounted for the death of his mother, Mawiso, which occured at the Indian camp on the Iowa river north of here. Parketo was the eldest son of the dead woman, and he died last summer. Mawiso is believed to have grieved herself to death. She was about 80 years of age, and was one of the original settlers on the Tama purchase. Her husband, Kwiyama, who is still living, is one of the oldest of the tribesmen. The Indians recently appeared before the meeting of the anthropological society here, and Pyepahal, or Jim Peters, delivered an address on the habits and beliefs of the Masquawkis. The remains of Mawiso were taken to Tama and will be buried in the tribal cemetery.

ST. PATRICK A SCOT? IRISHMEN FALL OUT.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 22.—The committee from the Allied Irish societies in this city has decided not to hold the street procession, which has been a feature of the annual celebration of St. Patrick's day. The only reason assigned for this action, according to the committee, is that an argument arose during the session over the nationality of St. Patrick. One member, a man from Tipperary, said that the patron saint of Ireland was a Scotchman and thereat a warm discussion developed. The man who had made the statement read an article in a magazine in which his remarks about St. Patrick's birth were verified. The other members took issue and a warm verbal contest ensued.

After the discussion of St. Patrick's place of nativity was brought to a conclusion, it was found that the debaters could not agree on any subject. The meeting finally adjourned after a vote had been taken which decided that no parade would be held.

COFFEE VS. COLLEGE.

Student Had to Give Up Coffee.

Some people are apparently immuna to coffee poisoning—if you are not, Nature will tell you so in the ailments she sends as warnings. And when you get a warning, heed it or you get hurt, sure. A young college student writes from New York:

"I had been told frequently that coffee was injurious to me, and if I had not been told, the almost constant headaches with which I began to suffer after using it for several years, the state of lethargic mentality which gradually came upon me to hinder me in my studies, the general lassitude and indisposition to any sort of effort which possessed me, ought to have been sufficient warning. But I disregarded them till my physician told me a few months ago that I must give up coffee or quit college. I could hesitate no longer, and at once abandoned coffee.

"On the advice of a friend I began to drink Postum Food Coffee, and rejoice to tell you that with the drug of coffee removed and the healthful properties of Postum in its place I was soon relieved of all my ailments. The headaches and nervousness disappeared entirely, strength came back to me, and my complexion which had been very, very bad, cleared up beautifully. Better than all, my mental faculties were toned up, and became more vigorous than ever, and I now feel that no course of study would be too difficult for me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

NO DEMAND FOR HAY NOW

Shippers Told to Withhold Stuff Until a Little Later.

Mild Weather is Reason for Present Conditions, Say Dealers.

The bottom, the sides and, in fact, every part of the hay market have fallen out. Just now, the man with the load of hay is carrying almost as unwelcome a burden as the king who had the elephant on his hands, of which DeWolf Hopper used to sing in "Wang."

Mild winter; no demand for hay. That tells the situation in a nutshell. That explains why local hay dealers are advising shippers to withhold all shipments of hay to Duluth for the present, as storage room is all filled up and there is no demand.

"There is almost no demand for hay at present," said H. J. Atwood of the Board of Trade firm of Alwood & Larson, this morning. "The market is usually very dull once or twice during every winter, but a dull period is not always expected at this time. One usually comes in December and another in March.

"The fact that this has been an unusually mild winter is the principal reason for the present condition of the hay market. Had the weather been colder, the demand for hay would have been greater. Horses seem to eat more hay in cold weather than they do when it is mild. Besides, the hay market is entirely different from some others. When things are quiet, they are very quiet indeed."

Very little hay is being shipped to Duluth just now, as a result of the warnings the local dealers have sent out to the effect that there was no demand. It is hard to say when the demand will be increased, except that there is little possibility of a betterment of conditions until colder weather comes.

There is no sale whatever in the local market for off grades.

LATE DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Stephenson Girl Loses Her Eye in a Peculiar Manner.

Menominee—Agnes Rasmussen, 9-year-old daughter of Nels Rasmussen, of Koss, Stephenson township, was operated upon recently at the Menominee hospital for the removal of her right eye, the sight of which had been destroyed in a peculiar manner. The girl was engaged in putting on her smaller sister's shoes, when suddenly the metal end of one of the strings flew off and struck her in the eye, the blow paralyzing the optic nerve and causing a cataract to form on the eyeball, completely destroying the sight. The girl will remain at the hospital for a month, and after her recovery an artificial eye will be put in.

Nweberry—The 2-year-old daughter of Frank Alto of Newberry was horribly scalded by pulling a pail of boiling water onto herself. The child, unnoticed by her parents, slipped into a room where a pail of boiling water had just been placed upon the floor, and managed to tip the pail over herself. She was terribly scalded about the back, the skin pealing from the flesh. With proper care, however, it is expected that she will recover from her injuries.

While looking for timber, a few miles from Newberry, M. E. Beurmann and Ottis Marsh stumbled upon an old bear in its den, and were successful in killing the mother and capturing the cubs. Beurmann, as soon as he saw Mrs. Bruin, made up his mind that her hide would make a first rate rug, and after deliberating a few minutes, decided that a shot through the neck would injure the skin the least, and blazed away. The bullet inflicted only a flesh wound, and the bear took to her heels. Both men gave chase, and after plunging through the woods for some distance, Marsh succeeded in heading the animal off. Mrs. Bruin rose to her hind legs prepared to give him a warm and affectionate embrace, but two or three sharp blows across the nose with a small blazing ax, laid her out, so that she was easily dispatched. Two small cubs, not over 2-weeks-old, were found in the den. These Beurmann placed in his pockets and brought them home, and is now tenderly nursing the twins, feeding them from a nursing bottle.

Gladstone—The saloon of Joseph Ouilette, at Kipling, near Gladstone, was robbed the other night. The burglars forced open the back door, ransacked the drawer and slot machines, and took away some liquor and cigars. The loss is estimated at $50. Two evenings later Ouilette, after displaying considerable money, put it in the till and locked up. He returned stealthily to the saloon and waited. The door was forced open, and two men entered. He attacked them fiercely with the poker, and captured one. The other escaped, but was captured later by Constable Paul White. The prisoners were examined before Justice Huber, and were bound over to the circuit court.

RICH MAN GASPED AND LOST NERVE

When He Was Surrounded by Bunch of Giggling Women.

New York, Feb. 22.—John Halloran of Jersey City, who says he has $30,000 worth of property and is hankering to get married, went to Union Hill to pay a visit to the Star of Union lodge No. 42, Shepherds of Bethlehem, at Masonic temple. Special invitations were sent to the members to meet Mr. Halloran, the "man who is advertising for a wife."

There was a big turnout of mothers of families, misses and confirmed old maids, all dressed in their best.

Halloran is a gray-haired man, who confided to his friends that he would like to marry a nice woman.

He declares he has looked for his ideal many years, but has not found her.

He belongs to the Jersey City lodge of Shepherds of Bethlehem, and agreed to put himself on exhibition in the lodge room, when he heard a friend speak eloquently of the charms of the Star of Union's women members.

Halloran almost gasped as he was led into the presence of 200 women. He wore some kind of fuzzy peajacket and a boiled shirt.

He immediately was surrounded by a bunch of giggling women, who begged the honor of making his acquaintance.

He shook hands for a few minutes, then slunk into a corner, where he remained until the close of the meeting.

He said he never saw such a lot of pretty women together, and added that he wasn't equal to the task of picking out one for a wife.

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS.

NOTICE TO INVESTORS.

To strain at a gnat and swallow a camel seems to be the policy of a good many otherwise level-headed investors, who form their conclusions by prejudice, preconceived notions of information obtained from wholly or partially unreliable sources.

Their methods of handling their own hard-earned dollars, if adopted by bank officials, would produce mob violence, and yet these investors are not wholly to blame. The doubting Thomases, the skeptics, the I-never-believe-anything-unless-I-see-it-with-my-own-eyes sort of persons have usually had some unfortunate experience in money matters, and realizing the limitations of time and money at their disposal, to say nothing of the usual lack of knowing how, it is no wonder so many quit in disgust and let their money mildew at the rate of 3 per cent per annum or until the bank quits business.

Criminal prosecutions would speedily follow if a bank official did not do better with such funds—then why is the power of the funds more exempt than the bank official?

For authentic information that will at least permit the investor to distinguish between speculation where the element of chance predominates or investment where chance is largely eliminated, he can always with safety consult or refer to

LESLIE'S WEEKLY

Don't fail to read this week's issue. The White House Wedding Number—out today.

Don't miss Jasper's Hints to Money Makers.

Don't fail to read Henry Shedd Beardsley's article, "Tunneling Under Gold-Ribbed Mountains," which tells the truth about the great Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co., and other much-advertised enterprises of that district.

If you prefer to acquire the information that distinguishes the shrewd investor from he who is indifferent or careless, you will accept my advice.

Mr. Beardsley's article is a graphic description of the most profitable and most fascinating of all money-making industries—mining as a business. What Mr. Beardsley tells you in this week's issue of Leslie's Weekly, I have been trying to tell you for weeks past at the expense of valuable space in this newspaper, and what I have told you I can repeat here, that the stock in the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co. is a safe investment.

PIERCE UNDERWOOD,

Specialist in Profitable Investments.

140 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

STATE ENTOMOLOGIST.

Work Done Against Insect Pests During the Past Year.

The annual report of the entomologist of the Minnesota experiment station for 1905 is just out, delayed by the printers' strike. It is a volume of about 170 pages, fully illustrated with photographs and line cuts, and also with two beautiful colored plates of Minnesota flies. In his letter of transmittal to the governor, Mr. Washburn outlines the work of the past year in the field and office. The cabbage maggot has been very bad, and has called for much attention in devising remedies for his attacks. The Hessian fly and chinch bug have not been so injurious as in the past, but the entomologist predicts trouble later on from these two pests, which we are destined to have with us always. It has been a bad year, or rather a good year for gall-making insects on various trees, notably on the plum. Grasshoppers have destroyed alfalfa in some sections. From Jan. 1, 1905, to Nov. 1, 1905, 1,326 letters were written by the entimologist, answering inquiries regarding injurious insects. From January to September 930 circulars regarding injurious insects were mailed.

Incidentally the entomologist speaks of his teaching in the agricultural division of the university—the graduating class of the agricultural school receiving lectures in his department each day from October to Christmas, and a class in forest entomology and economic entomology also taking his attention until February. In addition to these courses he lectures to the students in the farmers' short course. Various other lectures have been given in different parts of the state, and numerous communications regarding certain especially injurious insects have been sent to the papers. His inspection of nurseries shows them to be in good condition generally.

The bulk of the report is taken up with a general discussion of the two-winged flies of the state, and remedies are given for such of them as are markedly harmful, notably the Hessian fly, the horn fly, horse bot fly, horse fly, mosquitoes, ox bot fly, sheep bot, sheep tick, black fly, etc.

The entomological department of the experiment station has received many compliments from within and without the state on the excellent appearance and practical nature of its publications, and certainly this one, with its beautiful plates of two-winged pests of Minnesota, colored from life by Miss Edith Reed, artist, and the many fine drawings and photographs, showing our farmers and others just what the "critters" look like, is finer than any preceding report. A copy of this publication will be sent to any citizen of this state free of charge in reply to a request mailed to the entomologist of the experiment station. Parties already on the regular mailing list of the experiment station will receive this report in due time.

SANITAS

THE IDEAL WALL COVERING Has No Equal.

H. A. HALL & CO.

PHONE 534. 119 EAST SUPERIOR STREET.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

What an artistic effect you can obtain in your store or office by letting us install for you one of our new designs in metal walls and ceilings. Practically indestructible, fire, water and vermin proof, and require no repairs.

Attractive interiors, as you know, draw trade, and why not join the procession of progressive and up-to-date business men and let us figure with you.

Duluth Corrugating and Roofing Company,

Offiice and factory—126-130 East Michigan St., Duluth.

BRONCHITIS

Cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

This dangerous throat disease has often led to more serious and fatal diseases through neglect to cure it in its first stages with

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

"I have just gotten over a severe case of bronchitis, which I contracted from riding on the surface cars which were so crowded, compelling me to stand on the platform. I was unable to speak for several days, and I owe my complete recovery solely to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

Jessie Schulze, 207 Lexington Ave., New York.

SAMPLE SENT FREE

to all readers. We want you to have absolute confidence in Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and, to that end, will send you a sample free, if you will write for it and mention this paper. Address A. C. MEYER & CO., Baltimore, Md.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

The substitute which a dealer may try to sell you on the merits of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is simply a very cheaply put up cough mixture that pays him a better profit. Consider your health. Get only the old reliable Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price, 25c., 50c. & $1.00.

ASBESTOS GOODS.

ASBESTOS
Pipe and Boiler Covering—Roofing—Packing—Cement—Paper.
A. H. KRIEGER,
DULUTH and HOUGHTON

ART GLASS AND MIRRORS.

St. Germain Bros.
ESTABLISHED 1891.
Manufacturers of art, leaded and metal glass for churches, residences and public buildings. All kinds of plain and beveled French mirrors. Designs and estimates on application.
OLD MIRRORS RE-SILVERED.

BARBERS' SUPPLIES.

F. L. STODDARD,
Barber Supplies and Furniture.
Cutlery Grinding.
212 West First Street. Both 'Phones.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

PHILLIPS-BELL SHOE CO.
Manufacturers and Jobbers of BOOTS AND SHOES.
Wales Goodyear Rubbers.

BOX FACTORY.

Duluth Box Manufact'g Co.
(Incorporated.)
54th Ave. W. & Polk St., West Duluth, Minn.
Nearly all firms on this page use our Boxes.
Packing Boxes, Box Shooks, Beer Cases, Pop Cases, Cratings, Chicken Coops, Etc.
Offices—118 W. Mich. St., and at Factory.

BRASS WORKS.

DULUTH BRASS WORKS
Manufacturers of.... BRASS GOODS, BRASS CASTINGS, BABBITTS.

BUILDERS' MATERIALS.

Thomson & Dunlop,
JOBBERS OF
Builders' and Painters' Supplies.
Samuel Cabot's, Shingle Stains.
Mantels, Fireplace Fixtures.
226-228 WEST MICHIGAN ST.

CANDIES.

DULUTH CANDY CO.
Candy Manufacturers.
No. 20 East First Street.

CANDIES.

John Wahl Factory.
National Candy Co.
Manufacturers and Jobbers of
CONFECTIONERY
John Wahl, Mngr. 7-13 19th Avenue W.

CIGARS.

RON-FERNANDEZ CIGAR CO.
"LaLINDA" a domestic cigar.
"LaVERDAD" clear Havana
102-104 W. Mich. St.

COLD STORAGE & COMMISSION

C. E. PEASLEE, Pres. and Mngr.
GEO. MACAULAY, Sec. and Treas.
THE VICTOR COMPANY,
Cold Storage and General Commission.
Wholesale dealers in Butter, Eggs, Cheese and Country Produce.
202-204 West Michigan Street.

DOVE-TAIL BOX FACTORY.

C. J. PETRUSCHKE,
Manufacturer of and dealer in
BOX SHOOKS, CRATES AND LUMBER
For buildings of all descriptions. Get our prices before building.
BEER CASES A SPECIALTY.
Factory: Cor. of 50th Avenue and Main Street, West Duluth, Minn.
Old 'phone 3090-L and 3091-M.

DRUGS.

LEITHHEAD DRUG CO.
Drugs and Druggist Sundries
223-227 South 5th Ave. W.

DRY GOODS.

F. A. Patrick & Co.,
WHOLESALE DRY GOODS.
ALSO MANUFACTURERS.
"Best Located."

ELECTRICAL SUPPLIES.

BURGESS ELECTRIC CO.,
312 West First Street.
Electrical Supplies of all Kinds
Manufacturers of Gas, Electric and Combination Chandeliers.

ENG'RS, F'NDERS, MACHINISTS.

PAINE & NIXON CO.,
Dealers in
Building Materials of every description.
PLATE AND WINDOW GLASS, Mirrors, and brick of all kinds.
106 WEST MICHIGAN ST.

ENG'RS, F'NDERS, MACHINISTS.

National Iron Co.,
Manufacturers
HOISTING ENGINES, STRUCTURAL AND ORNAMENTAL IRON WORK.

FRUITS AND PRODUCE.

Fitzsimmons-Palmer Co.
Commission Merchants.
Importers and Wholesale Dealers. Foreign and Domestic Fruits.
122-124 West Michigan Street.

FRUITS AND PRODUCE.

The Thos. Thompson Co.
Wholesale Fruits and Produce and General Commission Merchants.
126-128 West Michigan Street.

FOUNDERS AND MACHINISTS.

CLYDE IRON WORKS
of Logging Tools and Steam Log Loaders.

GROCERS.

Knudsen-Ferguson Fruit Co
General Commission Merchants.
Wholesale Dealers and Jobbers in Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Vegetables, Butter, Eggs, Cheese, Etc.
218-220 WEST MICHIGAN ST.

GROCERS.

Stone-Ordean-Wells Co.
"A GREAT HOUSE IN A GREAT LOCATION."
Importers, Manufacturers, and Wholesale Grocers.
Horse Dealers.

FISH, OYSTERS AND POULTRY.

Tucker-Overman Co.
(Incorporated.)
General Commission Merchants, FISH, OYSTERS AND POULTRY.
212 West Michigan Street., Duluth, Minn.

GROCERS.

Wright-Clarkson Mercantile Company
IMPORTERS—
Wholesale Grocers, Manufacturers.

FLOUR AND FEED.

C. S. PROSSER & CO.
Members Duluth Board of Trade.
WHITE ROSE FLOUR
FLOUR, FEED, HAY, GRAIN AND SEEDS.
Both Telephones 461.
114-116 EAST MICHIGAN ST.

FLOUR AND FEED.

Gowan-Peyton-Twohy Co.
WHOLESALE GROCERS.
"THE YOUNG GIANT."

HARDWARE.

MARSHALL-WELLS HARDWARE CO.
HARDWARE, IRON AND STEEL MERCHANTS.

HARDWARE.

GLASKIN-COMSTOCK CO
MILL, MINING AND RAILROAD SUPPLIES.
RUBBER GOODS OF ALL KINDS
LEATHER BELTING.
CORDAGE AND WIRE ROPE.

HARDWARE.

KELLEY-HOW-THOMSON CO
HARDWARE.
LUMBERMEN'S AND MILL SUPPLIES.

HARDWOOD FLOORING.

Hardwood Flooring
Interior Finish, Doors, Sash, Frames.
Woodruff Lumber Co.
LUMBER.
817 Garfield Ave. Warehouse 22nd Ave. East

HATS AND CAPS.

BLAKE & WAITE COMPANY
WHOLESALE
HATS, CAPS, GLOVES AND FURS.
LUMBERMEN'S SPECIALTIES!

KNITTING MILLS.

NELSON BROS.' KNITTING MILLS
Manufacturers of Knitted Goods.
2101-2103 W. Superior St.

LEATHER AND SADDLERY.

Wholesale manufacturers HARNESS, COLLARS, ETC.
SCHULZE BROS. CO.
Jobbers SADDLERY HARDWARE, Leather and Shoe Findings.

LIQUORS.

Zenith Phone 287. Old Phone 1435-M
J. J. WALL,
Wholesale Liquor Dealer
Our Leaders— Old Crow, Hermitage Rye and Bourbon. Bond & Lillard Bourbons.
310 W. Superior St., Duluth, Minn.

LUMBER and INTERIOR FINISH.

Scott-Graff Lumber Co
Manufacturers of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Mouldings.
OFFICE AND STAIR WORK.

MACHINERY AND IRON.

Duluth Iron & Metal Co
Dealers in
Relaying Rails. Bar Iron and Steel. Iron and Steel Scrap. Spikes and Bolts.
200 to 800 East Michigan Street. Telephones 91.

MATCH FACTORY.

Union Match Co.
Manufacturers of
Doll House Matches,
West Duluth.

MATTRESS MANUFACTURERS.

Duluth Bedding Co.
ALL KINDS OF MATTRESSES MADE TO ORDER.
EXPERT REPAIRING.
733 W. Mich. St. Zenith Phone 1732

MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS.

Christensen-Mendenhall-Graham Co.,
Manufacturers and Jobbers of
Men's Furnishing Goods.
Lumbermen's and Miners' Wear a Specialty.
514-516 West First Street.

NOTIONS, OFFICE SUPPLIES.

Tupper-Quigley Co.
George L. Tupper. Robert A. Quigley.
Wholesale Notions and Office Supplies.
325 W. Michigan Street. Zenith Phone 1835. DULUTH, MINN Old Phone 1500.

PAPER.

Zenith Paper Co
Manufacturers Wholesale
Paper and Stationery.
Building and Roofing Paper.
222-224 West Michigan Street.

PLUMBING & HEATING GOODS.

Crane-Ordway Co.,
12 West Michigan Street.
Manufacturers of Pipe, Fittings, Valves and Steam Goods.
Jobbers of Plumbers', Steam and Gas-fitters' Supplies.

PROVISIONS.

THE BRIDGEMAN & RUSSELL CO. COLD STORAGE
Butter, Eggs, Milk, Cheese, Cream.
16 WEST FIRST STREET

RUBBER AND STEEL STAMPS.

Consolidated Stamp & Printing Co
Badges, Banners, Buttons
Stencils, Notary and Corporate Seals
Steel Die Embossing and Card Engraving.
14 North Fourth Ave. W. Both Phones.

RUG FACTORY.

Interstate Rug Co.,
L. SINOTTE, Prop.
The only rug manufacturers and carpet cleaning establishment in Duluth.
1701-03 West Michigan St.
Both Phones.

SHOWCASE FACTORY.

DULUTH SHOWCASE FACTORY,
Showcases, Bar, Barber, Office and Store Fixtures.
1610 West Michigan St.
Zenith Phone 1260. Peter M. Carlson, Prop.

STEEL CEILINGS.

DEETZ & CO.,
Manufacturers of
Galvanized Iron Cornice,
Fire-Proof Doors and Shutters, Galvanized Iron Skylights, Etc.
Ventilating Pipes, Steel Ceilings, Smokestacks
ROOFING.
Phone 793. 406-416 East Superior St., Duluth, Minn

STEEL CEILINGS.

DULUTH CORRUGATING & ROOFING CO.
Manufacturers of
Metal Ceilings, Corrugated Iron, Cornices, Skylights, Etc. Fire-proof Doors and Shutters.
126-130-132 East Michigan Street.

STATIONERY AND NOTIONS.

DULUTH PAPER AND STATIONERY CO.
—WHOLESALE—
Stationery, Notions and Paper.
18-20 W. Michigan Street.

WALL PAPER.

H. A. HALL & CO
WALL PAPER.
119 EAST SUPERIOR STREET.

DULUTH

THE COMMERCIAL GATEWAY TO THE GREAT NORTHWEST—AN EMPIRE IN EXTENT.

The location of the city, at the head of navigation, in the center of a continent, 1,400 miles from the sea, gives it unequaled facilities (through 8,000 miles of railways centering here) as a natural distributing point, for a great and prosperous section.

Nature has provided a magnificent harbor with forty miles of frontage, and its floating commerce is exceeded by only three ports in the entire world.

The manufacture of pig iron here, on a large scale, is now an assured success, with an increasing demand for the product.

The development of 200,000 hydraulic electric horse power, 30,000 being now under contract, will attract large manufacturers of many different lines, for which the West will be a growing market.

We have cheap power, cheap coal, cheap gas, cheap iron, cheap raw material of woods, in vast quantities, with unequaled transportation facilities in every direction.

Duluth is an attractive and progressive city, unique in many ways, and a delightful and healthful place of residence.

Duluth invites correspondence with manufacturers who would consider a Western location, where all conditions are most favorable for success.

Address A. H. COMSTOCK,
Chairman Industrial Committee, Duluth Commercial Club.

TOWN OFFICERS ARE SUSPENDED

Charges of Malfeasance Made Against Treasurer and Supervisors.

Pending an investigation on charges of neglect of duty and malfeasance in office, Treasurer J. E. Erickson and Supervisors Martin Kornstad, Frank Desmond and Charles Peterson, of the town of Superior, Douglas county, Wis., have been suspended. The officers are ordered to appear before Judge Vinje, in circuit court of Douglas county, March 24, and show cause why they shall be retained in office.

The complaint or affidavit on which the order is based is signed by Charles Cole and Clyde Russell, both residents of the town of Superior. It is supplemented by J. F. Baars, who claims that he was denied access to the books and accounts of the treasurer.

At the examination Treasurer Erickson testified that he did not pay much attention to the detail work of his office, but left it to others. The complaint alleges that he has not fulfilled the duties of his office, and that he failed to keep an account of the receipts and disbursements of the town's money in 1905. It is claimed that in the spring of 1905 Erickson, or his subordinates, made out to divers persons a number of tax receipts, aggregating $3,000, without receiving any money therefor, and with the understanding or agreement that they should be paid for with bills that the persons possessing the receipts held against the town. It is also alleged that the treasurer even paid some orders against the town, on which the court had issued an injunction, restraining payment.

The auditors are charged with improperly auditing a large number of bills against the town. Among these were bills for road work and for constable fees. The amounts paid are said to be exorbitant, and that the bills do not state when or where the services paid for were performed.

Treasurer Erickson claims that the whole matter is nothing more than a revival of the political war that has been waged in the town of Superior for some years past. He claims the charges have been trumped up to defeat him for re-election, and says that the books of his office have been open for inspection at all times.

LADIES Who Have Used Them Recommend as the BEST DR. KING'S Star Crown Brand
PENNYROYAL PILLS.

Immediate relief, no danger, no pain. Used for years by leading specialists. Hundreds of testimonials. A trial will convince you of their intrinsic value in case of suppression.
Forwarded in securely sealed plain package upon receipt of $1.00. King Medicine Co., P. O. Box 297, Duluth, Minn.

SENIORS IN CLASS PLAY

To Appear Friday Evening in Double Bill at Assembly Hall.

After two weeks of strenuous work the seniors believe that, in spite of the short time which they have had for rehearsals, they will be thoroughly prepared to give their annual plays tomorrow evening. They have rehearsed, under the direction of Prof. Custance, every day, including Saturdays and holidays, since the arrival of the plays.

The two plays which will be presented are unusually good. "The Flying Wedge" is a one-act farce, dealing with life at Yale, and as the name implies is largely permeated with the football atmosphere. The other production, entitled "The Elopement of Ellen," is a more complicated piece than any that high school seniors have heretofore presented, and contains three acts. Scenery for a garden scene, in the second act, has been loaned by the Y. M. C. A., and the properties for the other two scenes will be furnished by the class. The cast for "The Flying Wedge" is as follows:

Tom Hurlbut, captain of Yale football team .. ..Frank Crassweller
Percy Suydam, his chum, a member of the team....Benjamin Frink
Alfred Chester, their friend .. ..

In the World of Sports

LOOKS LIKE A WINNER

Chances Bright for New League Being a Financial Success.

O'Dea Will Take White Sox on Ante-Season Trip.

It finally looks as if Duluth Baseball club would be able to finish a season with a balance on the right side of the ledger.

Winning pennants becomes tiresome if the owners of the club are compelled to go down into their pockets for the money to run the team, and the championship of the Northern league, which has twice been won by the Duluth club, does not aid the directors in wiping off the debts. Last year the club cleared expenses and finished with a small balance to the good, but far from being sufficient to make up for the big deficit of the previous year. The long railroad jumps and the one sided pennant race played havoc with the gate receipts, and added to this there was the necessity of carrying the Superior and Crookston clubs during the fag end of the season.

But this year the prospects are bright for financial returns as well as honors in the line of pennants.

The new circuit is about as compact an organization as could be imagined, and if the clubs all have good financial backing there seems no reason why they should not finish the season with a balance to the good.

The item of railroad fares will be a very small one this year. The six towns in the Copper country are all within hailing distance of each other, and the jumps involve but a nominal outlay. The trip to Duluth and Superior is a short one compared with the long jump to Grand Forks and Winnipeg.

The salary limit seems to be at about the right figure. It is large enough to allow faster ball than was seen in the Northern league last year, and yet low enough so that any town that pretends to be in the professional league class should be able to hold the pace and pay expenses.

The Calumet, Lake Linden and Hancock teams are backed by men who appreciate good baseball, and who have moreover plenty of capital to see the teams through if they didn't take in a dollar.

On the whole the new circuit looks attractive, and the only city that will be really missed is Winnipeg.

* * *

Capt. Attie O'Dea in a letter to the sporting editor of The Herald from Minneapolis, writes that he is planning a trip for the team before the season opens. The players will report in Minneapolis about a month before the season begins, and will take a trip through the Iowa cities and probably as far west as Omaha. They will come to Duluth for an exhibition game and then open the season in whatever city the schedule calls for.

The trip should put the men in condition to get a good start with the other teams, and they should be in the running from the opening game.

If you have lost your boyhood spirits, courage and confidence of youth, we offer you new life, fresh courage and freedom from ill health in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD.

Five Men From Triumph, Minn., Arraigned at Mankato.

Mankato, Minn., Feb. 22.—James Meehan, Abraham Catlin, John D. Hildengrof, P. R. Stiles and Henry Croth of Triumph, Martin county, were brought to the city yesterday afternoon and arraigned before United States Court Commissioner Eberhart, on the charge of having on June 10, 1904, made false affidavits to the final proofs in homestead entries made by them in the Chamberlain, S. D., land district. They were indicted by the federal grand jury at Sioux Falls, S. D. The men were arrested at Triumph yesterday morning. Each defendant gave a bond for $1,000 for his appearance at the term of the federal court which convenes April 3 at Sioux Falls.

CURLERS GO TO ST. PAUL

Merry Party of Nineteen Leaves to Play for Nushka Trophy.

Members Left Home Will Play Superior for Anderson Medal.

Today is a busy day for the curlers, or it will be if the weather remains cold enough to provide ice.

Matches are being played with outside clubs in both Duluth and St. Paul, and nine rinks are engaged in the two competitions.

Five rinks of curlers left on the train last evening for the Saintly City, to compete with a corresponding number of rinks from the Nushka club for the new Nushka trophy, which has just been put up for competition by the St. Paul curlers.

It was a great bunch of curlers that the Duluth club sent down, and they should be able to bring back the trophy with them, necessitating a visit of the St. Paul curlers to Duluth next year. All evening they waited about the curling rink waiting to hear from St. Paul regarding the weather conditions, and finally decided to take the trip, knowing they could at least get in a game this morning before the sun got in its work.

It was about the most representative crowd of curlers that ever represented Duluth at any bonspiel, and they are assured of one of the most pleasant trips in the history of the club.

The party included the following members: Harry Hurdon, R. J. McLeod, S. H. Jones, Ron Smith, Joseph Catlin, Phil Heimick, William Craig, George MacKenzie, T. F. McGilvray, Phil Seymour, J. C. Myron, D. W. Stocking, J. M. Oldham, J. H. Upham, C. A. Payne, Sam Cleveland, W. C. Sherwood, A. H. Smith and S. F. Fullerton.

They will play two games with the St. Paul curlers, weather permitting, and will return to the city tonight, after being guests of the St. Paul club throughout the day.

* * *

The curlers that are left at home have arranged to play off the annual match with the Superior club for the Anderson medal. The games will be played this afternoon, if the ice holds during the warm part of the day. Four rinks of Duluth curlers will meet four Superior rinks, and the aggregate score counts. W. B. Dunlop and Rev. Alexander Milne will skip two of the Duluth rinks, and P. S. Anneke and T. F. McGilvray were slated to skip the others, but Mr. McGilvray went to St. Paul, and Mr. Anneke is unable to play this afternoon, so that two others will have to be chosen.

The makeup of the rinks has not yet been announced.

LONGEST SKI SLIDE

In the Country Constructed by the People of Munising.

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The citizens of Munising, aided by President Mather of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, have constructed one of the longest ski slides in the country, and following the Ishpeming national tournament, it is planned to give a tournament that will draw many of the best riders in America in competition. Thorlief Holter and Ole Westgaard, two Ishpeming cracks, tried the slide at Munising Thursday afternoon, and from the 175-foot station Holter made the descent over the "bump," for a jump of 109 feet. He also made two other attempts to lower the mark, scoring 95 and 96 feet respectively. Westgaard's trials were 90 and 98 feet in two attempts. Both men made the jumps standing.

The following figures show the relative characteristics of the Ishpeming and Munising hills, the measurements being in feet with the exception of the average angle, which is in degrees:

	Munising Slide.	Ishpeming Slide.
Total length of hill, measured on slide....	773	476
From top of slide to "jump"	310	266
From "jump" to bottom	468	210
Total elevation	280	135
Elevation above "jump"	156	75
Elevation at "jump" ...	124	60
Average angle of hill..	26	16

ASHLAND IS LUCKY CITY

Duluth Fails to Land National Ski Tournament for 1907.

Ski Riders Go on Strike for Increase in Cash Prizes.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 22.—Duluth failed to land the national ski tournament at the meeting of the National Skiing association, held last evening. Ashland carried the plum in spite of the efforts of Odin Haldin to get the delegates into line for Duluth, and the final vote on the proposition stood 12 to 7 in favor of Ashland.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: President, Carl Tellefsen, Ishpeming; vice president, J. Boxrud, Red Wing; secretary, Axel Holter, Ashland; treasurer, Odin Haldin, Duluth.

Last evening the ski riders entered in the tournament went on strike and sixty-six of them submitted a petition to the officers asking that the cash prizes be increased to $500 from $250, and threatening to withdraw from the events if their request were denied. Eighty-two riders are entered, and had the signers of the petition carried out their threat it would have turned the tournament into a fiasco. While the officers were very indignant at the holdup methods pursued by the riders, they consented, and George W. Newett, president of the local club, agreed to pay the difference out of his own pocket.

It was decided, however, that in future no more cash prizes would be offered at the national tournament, and a repetition of the affair will be impossible as there will then be no incentive to enter the tournament for profit.

The city is crowded with visitors. More than 2,000 outside guests were in the city last night, and from 8,000 to 10,000 more were expected in this morning. A dozen special trains will be run in today in addition to the regular trains, and it is now believed that the attendance at the tournament will be at least twice that of last year.

* * *

The Duluth contingent left last evening over the South Shore road, and the party will return tonight, arriving in the city tomorow morning.

New Blood for Blues.

St. Louis, Feb. 22.—George Tebeau, owner of the Kansas City American Association Baseball club, last night secured the release of Jimmy Burke, formerly manager and third baseman of the St. Louis National league team. Burke was signed to manage the Kansas City team this year. Tebeau also gets Catcher Leahy.

Sporting Notes.

Warm weather prevented the hockey games scheduled for today at Two Harbors, being played. The Duluth team received word last evening that there was no ice in the north shore village, and the trip was indefinitely postponed.

* * *

The wrestling match between Marie Jeanette and Annie Donovan at the Metropolitan theater last evening, was declared a draw, each girl securing two falls.

* * *

The annual shoot of the Duluth Central Gun club is being held today on the Highland grounds. Sides have been chosen and the losing marksmen will give the winners a banquet at the Commercial club this evening.

* * *

John S. Johnson, formerly the champion speed skater of the world, will be in Duluth Saturday, and will probably meet Charles Rankin, the Duluth skater in an exhibition race Wednesday night at the Central rink.

* * *

The Portage Lake hockey team defeated the American Soo team in a game played last evening at Houghton, by the score of 7 to 2. It was one of the regular contests in the International league.

* * *

Gene Cole of Minneapolis will wrestle Meritz Harris of Superior at the Metropolitan Saturday night for a purse of $50. Cole has the advantage of greater experience, but Harris is the heavier.

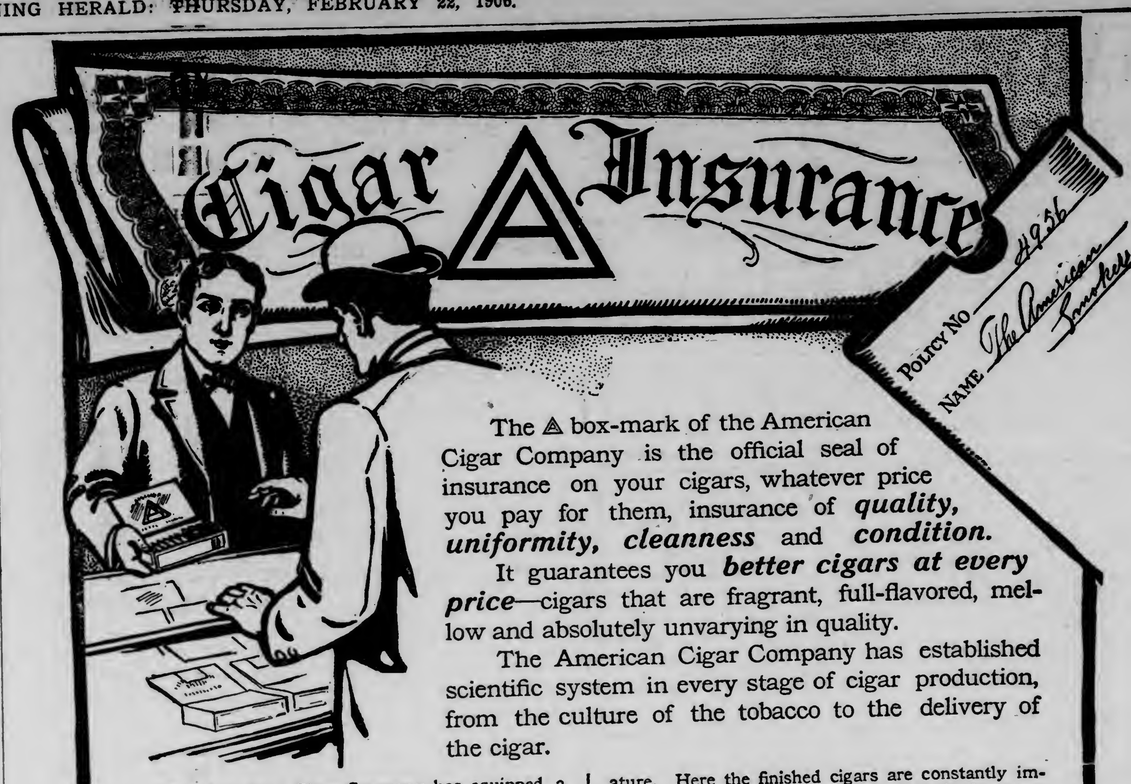

MINERS REFUSE TO ENTER PLEA

Officers of Federation Arraigned and Case Continued Until Tuesday.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 22.—Charles A. Moyer, William D. Haywood and G. A. Pettibone, leaders of the Western Federation of Miners, yesterday were taken to Caldwell, where they were arraigned before the probate judge on information charging them with the murder of Former Governor E. Steunenberg. Each of the prisoners stood mute, refusing to plead. The court overruled an objection to the information, and a motion for the dismissal of the prisoners. They were committed without bail.

The three prisoners were brought back to Boise and were again taken to the state penitentiary, where they will be kept in close confinement.

T. F. Richardson, representing the prisoners, demanded an immediate preliminary hearing, but it finally was agreed that the case should go over until Tuesday, when a further continuance may be ordered. Attorney Richardson maintained that the information against the prisoners is not sufficient, as the affidavit charged the commission of a crime in Caldwell, whereas Moyer had not been in the state of Idaho since October last, and the other two prisoners had not been in Idaho for years. There was in the information no word of conspiracy, he said.

The ▲ box-mark of the American Cigar Company is the official seal of insurance on your cigars, whatever price you pay for them, insurance of quality, uniformity, cleanness and condition.

It guarantees you better cigars at every price—cigars that are fragrant, full-flavored, mellow and absolutely unvarying in quality.

The American Cigar Company has established scientific system in every stage of cigar production, from the culture of the tobacco to the delivery of the cigar.

The American Cigar Company has equipped a great system of "Stemmeries" to provide for new and heretofore unknown tobacco-improving processes, which no other manufacturer even attempts.

The selected leaf is thoroughly fermented by a two-year process and the ripening tobacco is perfectly blended—all the qualities of the selected varieties of leaf that have been stored in contact being smoothly mingled. The ordinary factory operation called "blending" is not blending at all but merely mixing.

The finished cigars are stored in great "Humidors" where the climatic conditions of Cuba are constantly maintained—a moist warm air and an even temperature. Here the finished cigars are constantly improving, like rare old wine—with all their characteristic aroma intact until they are ready to go to the dealer. After this seasoning and maturing and before being shipped, the cigar boxes are sealed and double-sealed in a tough parchment paper wrapper which does much to preserve their condition.

The only way to get the highest cigar quality at any price is to see you get an American Cigar Company brand. The cigar that suits thousands of other smokers may not please your taste at all; yet the way to test the results of the new tobacco-improving process is to begin with such a remarkable "hit" as the

"ANNA HELD" CIGAR

5 Cents

The "Anna Held" is a perfectly blended smoke—a typical example of the results of the new system of cigar production. It is a seasoned cigar, with no slightest trace of rawness; rich and full-flavored, yet with no tinge of bitterness; well-rolled, even-burning, fragrant and satisfying.

Sold by all dealers in good cigars

Trade supplied by GEO. R. NEWELL & CO., Minneapolis, Minn.

WOMEN ARE ADMITTED

Get Peek Behind Masonic Veil at Palestine Banquet.

Thirty-Sixth Anniversary Celebrated—Excellent Speeches Made.

Masonic affairs in Duluth seemed to be fated to enjoy nothing but success and felicity, and such has been the record of Palestine lodge, No. 79, A. F. & A. M., throughout its thirty-six years of life; but its innovation of having the fair sex at its banquets, started last night, begins an epoch in its existence which bids fair to make the past successes forgotten. The members of Palestine lodge were invited to come accompanied by ladies. As a result, the big dining room of the Masonic Temple was filled. More than 600 people sat down to the tables at 6:30 o'clock last night. Previous to this a reception had been held by the officers of the lodge in the auditorium. From there the guests and members went to the banquet hall.

The decorations of the latter place were beautiful. The walls and ceilings were prettily hung and the tables were loaded with flowers and ferns. At each plate was a small American flag to commemorate Washington's memory, the father of his country being revered by Masons not only for the services which he performed for the country, but for the services which he performed for Masonry, he having been one of the leading members of the order at the time.

Following the banquet, C. W. Bronson, worshipful master of the lodge, made the formal address of welcome. He referred gracefully to the unwonted presence of the ladies at the feast, and declared that he expected that the success of the affair would make the attendance of the ladies frequent and permanent. In the name of the lodge he welcomed his guests heartily, and then introduced the toastmaster, T. W. Hugo, who complimented Worshipful Master Bronson on being the first master to bring the ladies within the fold of Masonry by having them at a banquet. Mr. Hugo also referred to the founding of a home for aged members of the fraternity and to the establishment of a Masonic library in the temple.

He first introduced the chaplain of the lodge, Rev. E. C. Clemans, who spoke on "The Religious Aspect of Masonry." Mr. Clemans said that it is remarkable how closely the tenets of Masonry comply with the teachings of the Scriptures, and he asserted that the world's history shows that the order has for ages been on the side of justice and right.

W. B. Patton was the next speaker, and his subject was the "Moral Aspects of Masonry." This concerned Masonry as a builder, provider and protector of the home, and Mr. Patton dealt with it at length, also pointing out the everyday influence the order has upon its members in business and political life.

"Politico-Historical Aspect of Masonry" was the subject upon which Hugh J. McClearn spoke. He mentioned the famous men who have belonged to the order and were its leading lights and declared that only one president of the United States has not been a Mason. He made special reference to Washington and Roosevelt as Masons, and these names were received with great enthusiasm.

Past Grand Master W. A. McGonagle spoke on "The Practical Aspect of Masonry" and declared that its noblest work is that of saving the falling man, keeping weak brothers out of the pitfalls of life, backing them up in their efforts to reform and generally acting as a buffer between the temptations of the world and man. Said he:

"It has made of me a better man and better railroad officer and taught me as it has taught hundreds of other men that justice can be reasonably and beneficially tempered with mercy. The greatest course that railways have to contend against is that of the rum habit, but I am happy to say that to my personal knowledge there have been many instances of men rescued by this order who otherwise were in a fair way to fall victims to the monster alcohol. Beyond this its influence has been exercised for good in the maintenance of honest government in the city, the state and the nation. Particularly does this apply to Duluth where there has never existed a single act of embezzlement that could be proved or if proved was not summarily punished while a member of the order held the chair of chief executive. The knockers are to be found only among those whose gains have been curtailed by the abolishment of corruption from municipal affairs. It is to be hoped that the influence of the 25,000 members of the order in this state may always be found on the side of purity in public office."

All of the speeches were good, but the particular hit of the evening was George Rupley's address on "Masonic Women." His word picture of the ideal woman won tremendous applause and a storm of congratulation afterwards.

During the evening, Miss Jane Everington sang "The Serenade," and Charles O. Applehagen gave "Bunker Hill." Both were heartily encored.

PURE FOOD BILL PASSES SENATE

Put Through the Upper Body by Vote of 63 to 4.

Washington, Feb. 22.—After fifteen days of more or less serious consideration of the subject, the senate yesterday passed a pure food bill by the decisive vote of 63 to 4. The vote was taken after a day devoted almost exclusively to debate of a desultory character on the measure. Several efforts were made to amend the bill and the committee accepted a number of suggestions, but only those accepted were incorporated in the bill as passed.

The bill makes it a misdemeanor to manufacture or sell adulterated or misbranded foods, drugs, medicines or liquors in the District of Columbia, the territories and the insular possessions of the United States and prohibits the shipment of such goods from one state to another or to a foreign country. It also prohibits the receipt of such goods. Punishment by a fine of $500 or by imprisonment for one year or both is prescribed. In the case of corporations, officers in charge are made responsible. The treasury department and the departments of agriculture and commerce and labor are required to agree upon regulations for the collection and examination of the articles covered by the bill, but no specific provision is made for investigation except by the department of agriculture. The investigations by that department are placed in the hands of the chief of the bureau of chemistry and if he finds the law has been violated the secretary of agriculture is required to report the facts to the United States district attorney, who, in turn, is required to institute proceedings in the federal court. The bill also defines foods, drugs, medicines and liquors, and also defines the standards of them. There is an exemption for dealers who furnish guarantees against adulteration and misbranding.

IRON MARKET HOLDS STRONG

Although the Demand is Not So Active as of Late.

Cleveland, Feb. 22.—The Iron Trade Review says: While the demand for pig iron and some finished products is not as active as it was a few weeks ago, evidence of much strength in the market is not lacking. In estimating the real strength of the situation, consideration of the heavy specifications which have been received is important, for it is understood in the trade that mere orders are often misleading on account of the well-known disposition of buyers not to specify on contracts when there is a slackening of demand. The specifications for steel products in Western mills for the past several weeks have been 18 per cent above the average weekly specifications for 1905, and orders at these mills now amount to about 35,000 tons for rolling at the earliest possible date.

While the general report from structural mills is that they are not catching up on their orders, one important independent interest which has refused to take orders during the winter, is able to give prompt shipment and is again soliciting business.

The United States Steel corporation, having decided not to exercise its option on 50,000 tons of Bessemer pig iron for first-quarter delivery, the tonnage will be available for other buyers, who will no doubt promptly avail themselves of the opportunity. Basic pig iron shows increased strength. The complete report of shipments of ore from the Lake Superior ranges by mines shows that 34,535,456 tons were shipped, an increase of 21 per cent over the record year of 1902.

TO ELECT STAFF OFFICERS

Of Third Regiment, Michigan National Guard on Friday.

Ironwood, Mich., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is a prospect that at the election of the staff officers of the organization, to be held Friday at Sault Ste. Marie, a new commander will be chosen for the Third regiment, Michigan National Guard. There is reason to believe that officers of Lower Michigan companies have hatchets up their sleeves for Col. Robert Bates, formerly of Ironwood, now of the Soo, and that unless he has a good counter for their attacks, the peppery little military man will lose his eagles. The colonel is not personally popular with some of the officers, and it is suspicioned that they will take this opportunity to check the progress of his military career, which has been rapid so far, he having filled every office in the regiment. The man mentioned as the only formidable opponent of the present commander is George B. McCaughna of Owosso, one of the majors of the Third. McCaughna's candidacy was first mentioned at the annual encampment at Ludington last year, and it is hinted that in consequence of a little quiet work done in his behalf since that time there will be a surprise sprung at the Soo meeting. It is certain that should the Southern Michigan companies decide to swing away from Bates, they have it in their power to do so. There are only five companies in the upper peninsula against seven in the lower. Col. Bates has been commander of the Third for so long a period that one term more will bring him in line for promotion to the office of brigadier general. For this reason, together with the fact that his work has been satisfactory the friends of the colonel are unwilling to believe that a serious attempt will be made to depose him. However, the jockeying for the advantage promises to be active, and by the time the election is held there will probably be in progress as fine a game of politics as was ever played in the peninsula.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price, 75c per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A CIRCUS TENT FOR BERNHARDT

For Use in South When She is Barred From Theaters.

Kansas City, Feb. 22.—W. E. Gorman, representing the management of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, yesterday purchased a new, fully equipped circus tent which will be used in those cities of Texas and probably of California, in which first-class theaters cannot be obtained for Mme. Bernhardt. The tent is 220 feet long and 120 feet wide, and will seat 4,750 people.

The seats are canvass chairs, arranged in sections as in a theater, numbered and reserved, and with 3-foot aisles. An ample stage is provided and a space 60 by 50 feet, with 20 feet ceiling, is set apart for dressing rooms. The canvas theater will be lighted by electricity furnished by the local companies. The Texas cities in which Mme. Bernhardt will play are Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, Waco, San Antonio, Galveston and Houston, and she will use the tent only where the theaters are closed to her. Trained circus men will handle the tent. The twenty-five weeks' engagement of Mme. Bernhardt has been extended in order to give more time to the Pacific coast.

I AM 89 YEARS OLD, and never used any remedy equal to Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It gives quick and permanent relief in grip as well as coughs and colds. It makes weak lungs strong.
MRS. M. A. METCALF, Paducah, Ky.

"Ring out the old Ring in the new Ring out the false Ring in the true"

We bring to you the new and true from the piney forests of Norway

DR. BELL'S Pine-Tar-Honey

Nature's most natural remedy, improved by science to a Pleasant, Permanent, Positive Cure for coughs, colds and all inflamed surfaces of the Lungs and Bronchial Tubes.

The sore, weary, cough-worn Lungs are exhilarated; the micro-bearing mucus is cut out; the cause of that tickling is removed, and the inflamed membranes are healed and soothed so that there is no inclination to cough.

SOLD BY ALL GOOD DRUGGISTS
Bottles Only 25c, 50c. and $1.00 Sizes
BE SURE YOU GET
Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey
Look for the Bell on the Bottle

OLD SORES CURED
ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE.
Cures Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Mercurial Ulcers, Fever Sores, Gangrene, Blood Poisoning, White Swelling, Milk Leg, Poisoned Wounds, All Sores of long standing. Positively never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. For sale by druggists. Mail 25c and 50c. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., ST. PAUL, MINN.

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be getting rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, g-o-n-e!" Stop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It checks falling hair, and always restores color to gray hair. A splendid dressing also. Sold for over sixty years.
J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain. Sold at $1.00 per bottle by druggists. Our book of priceless value to all women sent free. Address

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

FOR THE INVALID Fitger's Beer

Is a Sure Restorative.

The barley & malt of Fitger's Beer aid the digestion, the hops act as a tonic, building up the tissues & quieting the nerves. Physicians recommend Fitger's Beer universally.

ADDRESS OR PHONE
FITGER BREWING CO. DULUTH, MINN.

WILL RAISE A QUESTION

Sale of State School Lands Next April Attracts Many.

New Law Governing Sale Said to Affect Homestead Rights.

Will the sale of state school lands in Minnesota under the provisions of the act passed by the last legislature, affect the question of homestead rights to the land after a period of five years from the time of purchase?

This is a question that has been raised by several prospective purchasers of state lands in this part of the state who expect to attend the public sale to be held by the state auditor in Duluth, April 9, 1906.

The school lands that the state will offer for sale are lands which have reverted to it by reason of the non-payment of interest on account of a former sale.

Under the law it required that the purchaser pay down 15 per cent of the purchase price and the interest on the unpaid balance from the date of sale until June 1, 1907. The balance can then be paid at any time, either wholly or in part during the next forty years. In other words, under the old law, the purchaser practically pays the interest and has forty years to pay the principal on the lands he buys. The state reserves all mineral rights.

It is further provided that holders of certificates on which interest payments are in default can have their certificate reinstated on payment before sale of the interest in full to date, with the penalties attaching.

The notices of the sale to be held in Duluth, as sent out by the state auditor, state that the sales will be subject to the provisions of Chapter 299, of the general laws of 1905. It will be the fulfillment of the provisions in this act that will bring the homestead rights question into prominence.

Chapter 299 says that in all sales by the state of lands granted to it by the United States, the purchaser shall be given a certificate of sale or a contract which contains three provisions one of which the purchaser must perform. The requirements are as follows:

"Fence at least twenty-five per cent of the said tract for pasture and convert such portion into pasture land.

"Cultivate at least five per cent of the said tract, or,

"Build a house and actually reside upon the said tract for a period of twelve months.

The law says that within a period of five years after the date of such contract or sale the purchaser, or his heirs or assigns, shall furnish the state auditor with proper proof that at least one of the provisions has been complied with, the proof to be attested by the school board of the district where the land is located. On the fulfillment of all the conditions of the contract a deed shall issue to the purchaser or his heirs or assigns.

If, within five years after the land is purchased on contract, a deed can be had by fulfilling one of the three requirements of homesteading, by the new law, the point has been raised why the purchaser could not hold the land even though he did not make another payment to the state, that he would have lived up to the homestead requirements of the state and would not be entitled to pay any of the balance due within forty years from the date of purchase.

Whether any purchasers of state lands in this county to be sold in April next make a test of the question remains to be seen, but it is known that several are strongly of the opinion that the state would have difficulty in collecting the balance due on the contract for purchase after any one of the three requirements have been carried out to the letter by the purchaser.

At the April sale the land limit is 320 acres to a person and, under the law the price cannot be less than $5 per acre.

ICE CHOPPERS ARE BUSY NOW

Street Cleaners Are Giving Pedestrians Shower Baths of Ice.

The merry ice choppers have been plying their trade along Superior street. Have you happened to notice them? You probably could not help it for every blow that they have struck in the good cause of bettering the condition of the street, has sent up a shower of ice—and very dirty ice at that.

The many snows and the many thaws had given the pavement a coating that was considerably higher than the sidewalk, effectually stopping up little ditches along the curb. And it was to chop ditches in the snow and ice that men armed with pick axes were sent out by the street cleaning department.

How well they are doing their work, almost any good citizen can testify. They have chopped early and late and it has been the wise man who has elected to walk on First street instead of Superior.

The choppers put lots of strength into each blow and the ice flies in every direction. It flies in your face when you forget about it and reminds you sharply and coldly that the street cleaning department is doing the very best it can to make passable thoroughfares in the city.

But it is great fun to watch the choppers at work, if you take up a position which is sheltered from the downpours of ice, which the improvements involve. Get a nice fresh cigar and stand half a mile off and watch the work. You will be safe and can enjoy it.

In selecting a whiskey three qualifications should be considered—the age, the purity and the flavor.

Old Underoof Rye

Possesses these qualifications in a greater degree than any other whiskey.

CHAS. DENNEHY & COMPANY,
Chicago.

4

TEXANS ARE MYSTIFIED

By Disappearance of Jones, Whose Story Convicted Patrick.

His Career in Lone Star State Since His Release.

Houston, Tex., Feb. 22.—Where is Charles Jones, the valet of William Marsh Rice, a Texas millionaire, for whose murder in New York Albert T. Patrick, a lawyer, has been convicted and sentenced to death in the electric chair?

For several months he has been missing, and the lawyers for Patrick, whose 60-day stay of execution granted last month will soon will expire, want to get hold of him in behalf of their client.

Friends of Jones declare he has said to them that he did not testify to the truth when he told the jury that Patrick had killed Rice, and the lawyers thinks he might make some startling revelations if he could be found.

After his release from prison in New York at the conclusion of the Patrick trial, Jones returned in 1902, and after that until his latest disappearance he was apparently highly prosperous.

There has been a marked increase in the financial capabilities of certain relatives and friends with whom he resided and was in close communication in and about Houstan, Galveston, Morgan's Point, Bay Ridge and Cedar Bayou.

A representative of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch learned through talks with persons who have known Jones for years in all of these vicinities, the outline of Jones' life since his return to Texas after release from the New York prison.

He was amply supplied with funds, which he used in a manner dictated by the natural cunning he possesses, to re-establish himself as far as possible in the community and to place a large sum of money in such a way that it would be preserved for his benefit and protection at the time he required it.

In Galveston he was known mostly after his return from New York through his association with his brother-in-law, W. B. Tabb, who up to 1904, owned and directed the movements of a small schooner in the sand, oyster and coast trade between this city, the San Jacinto River and other nearby coast points.

It was not until after Jones joined his brother-in-law on this little schooner, called the Rappallo, late in 1902, that evidences of an increase in the financial welfare of the pair became apparent.

Clark & Sons, contractors on the Galveston grade, bought the Rappallo from Tabb, dismantled it and the little vessel now serves for the draw span in a foot bridge over the temporary canal east of Avenue O at Tremont street. The sum paid for the Rappallo to Tabb was $300.

The members of the Clark firm who negotiated the purchase from Tabb learned from the men who had been employed on the boat that the little after cabin between decks, which had been occupied by Jones during his stay on the vessel, had been sumptuously fitted up and that the best of foods and liquors were kept on the craft during Jones' stay there.

The manifestations of Tabb's good fortune have been numerous since Jones made Tabb's home his refuge in Galveston and sailed with Tabb in the little coasting vessel. Means which none of Tabb's business associates knew that he possessed or even suspected him of having were mysteriously supplied about July or August of 1904, at which time Tabb purchased the auxiliary schooner Mary Alma, a gasoline-propelled vessel of more than tripple the tonnage of the Rappello, for $6,000. This vessel he still owns and is operating in the sand trade from the San Jacinto River and points on the bay to Galveston.

Tabb will not discuss Jones or his affairs at any length, but declares his belief that Jones left the United States five months ago, going from a point called Cove, on the Old River, not a great distance from Jones' birthplace, opposite Morgan's Point, on Galveston bay.

Tabb also intimates that Jones may have killed himself, and it was from hints dropped in this quarter that the rumor of Jones' death came into circulation some months ago.

Contractors on the Galveston grade for whom Tabb does considerable work with his new craft are unequivocal in their declarations that Tabb alone had not sufficient means at the time of the sale of the Rappello to purchase the Mary Alma.

It is also of record that, six months ago, Tabb purchased for investment purposes two pieces of property upon which there are excellent modern residences on Avenue O, near Tremont street, in this city, paying therefor the sum total of $8,000.

The value of the fee of his own residence property opposite Morgan's Point at $100 per acre, indicate to those who knew him when his position was not one of affluence that he has had a backer in his financial transactions. This backer they believe to be Jones.

It is a matter of current report in Galveston and one of persistent denial by Tabb that Jones has been at Tabb's home or in this city within the past five months.

Walter G. Tabb is Jones' brother-in-law and about the only relative to whom the former valet renders his chief confidences. Tabb is well known among members of the sailing craft along the Galveston wharves. He said to the Post-Dispatch representative:

"It is true I have made some money and invested it, but I did not get it from Jones. It was the other way—I have always paid Jones for his work for me."

Prominent men in the contracting and shipping circles, as well as saloon keepers and workmen on the Galveston wharves, said almost without variation:

"Tabb had nothing until Jones came here in 1902, or soon after. For a while they used the old Rapallo for amusement mostly, and Jones had the after cabin fitted up fine and entertained sumptuously many women friends of his from Galveston.

"Then the Rapallo was sold for a song and Tabb purchased the Mary Alma.

"The vessel is still executing some of the carrying contracts made by Jones and Tabb for the Rapallo, and one of these, a contract for shell for road-making on the bayou above Morgan's Point, is in Jones' name.

"The Mary Alma is also working on sand hauling and is making money, Tabb is Jones' best friend in these ports.

"Jones has not been about here publicly with Tabb for several months, but it is said he goes to Tabb's home now when he comes to Galveston."

Tabb admitted to the Post-Dispatch that it was true Jones had been at his (Tabb's) home in Galveston frequently, but not within five months.

Jones did not enter into the vicinity of the home of his childhood at Bay Ridge, near Cedar Bayou, until the excesses of the fast life he was leading in and about Galveston palled upon him and until it was generally known in his home neighborhood that he was in the immediate vicinity and likely to return to his own rooftree at any time.

Between the time Jones returned to Galveston and June of 1903, Tabb, whose home at the time was in Cedar Point, not far from the Jones domicile, was frequently on the point and visited Jones' parents and the old resident families of the neighborhood.

In this manner, Jones was advised of the probable way in which he would be received. It was not, therefore, until the early summer months of 1903 that Jones was seen in person about the home place and elsewhere on the point.

At this time, the little schooner Rappallo, operated by Tabb and Jones, was carrying sand, stone and shell from the San Jacinto river up Cedar Bayou beyond Morgan's Point on a contract secured by Jones.

When the vessel would pass Morgan's Point, Jones would put off in a small ship's yawl and land either at Wright's farm in high tide or the Bay Ridge wharf, half a mile below the farm, and walk to the home of his parents, two miles inland of the point.

These visits continued for several months. Jones meanwhile establishing friendly relations wiin the daughter of one of his parents' neighbors. It was reported they were engaged, but before the marriage he suddenly disappeared from the scene, since which time his visits have been very infrequent. From the parental home he returned to Galveston, in which city all trace of him was lost by the authorities several months ago.

Jones' name is seldom uttered now about his birthplace and his former haunts, save by strangers. More than a year has passed since the present Jones farm has had occupants other than the father and mother of the son.

The house in which Millionaire Rice's former valet was born was unpretentious in proportion, appearance and furnishings. The present home of the Jones family is a modern frame structure of two stories. The Jones farm is composed of 160 acres of ground.

The windows of the upper floor of the house command a view of nearly the whole of the tract which is cultivated mostly in truck farming.

L. W. Jones, father of the young man, is an industrious farmer, well liked in the community and averse to discussing his son's affairs.

"Charles has not been anywhere around here within the past six months," he said to the Post-Dispatch representative. "I made no effort to keep track of him and know nothing of him further than what comes to me through the newspapers or those of my friends who read more than I do.

"He did not discuss the Rice case with me when at home after the trial. I did not ask about it and he said nothing."

Just where Jones went immediately after his disappearance after his courtship is not definitely known.

It is believed he went at once to Galveston, thence into Mexico and from there to Colorado, remaining only a short time at each place.

On leaving Colorado he went south through the Humble (Tex.) oil field and cashed a draft there that was traced from a bank at Galveston. This draft was said to have been drawn on a relative of Jones, who carried an account in one of the banking institutions there.

It is known that soon after Jones' disappearance from the vicinity or his own home, probably after his visits to Mexico, Colorado and Humble, he appeared at Old River, a small town about thirty miles from his own home, where he remained until late in the year 1905, working as a carpenter. It is said he left there as suddenly as he departed from his home neighborhood. Concerning this incident, Tabb said to the Post-Dispatch:

"I heard from Jones after he went to Old River and several times while he was there. I also heard of his leaving there suddenly, taking his grip and all belongings, but further than that he got into some difficulty there I know nothing. This must have been five, or say six—yes, six months ago."

Of Jones' sojourn in Colorado, little is known, as he remained there only a short time and made no friends who were cognizant at his true identity. While in and around Houston, where he has both relatives and acquaintances, Jones is accredited with having made statements to various persons to the effect that Millionaihre Rice was not murdered at all—that he died a natural death and that no responsibility attached to either him or Patrick.

These alleged statements of Jones have been taken in the form of affidavits by Patricks's attorneys for use in the application for a new trial tending to show that Jones, having escaped conviction in New York for either murder or perjury, and believing himself free from further trouble from that source, made admissions of the truth.

Common Colds Are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided, a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles are agravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug, and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by all druggists.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of the City of Duluth, up to March 2nd, 1906, at 7 o'clock p. m., for the construction of the new school building to be erected upon Lots 18, 20, 22 and 24, East Sixth street, Duluth Proper, First Division, according to plans, specifications and details on file in the office of German & Lignell, Architects, 201-202 Torrey Building, Duluth, Minn.

All bids must be submitted on a form supplied by the Architect, and must be accompanied by a certified check for $500.00, payable to the order of J. J. Le Tourneau, Treasurer, said check to be forfeited by the successful bidder in case he fails to enter into contract and furnish a satisfactory bond in an amount equal to the contract price agreed upon, within five days after award.

The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Mark envelope "Bid for Sixth Street Bldg.." and address to the undersigned.

CHAS. A. BRONSON,
Clerk Board of Education of the City of Duluth.

Duluth Evening Herald—Feb. 17-19-21, 1906.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c. per bottle. One size only.

Genuine—Syrup of Figs

Look Better

Palmo Tablets take tangle out of tortured nerves. Make you brighter.

50 cents. Guaranteed. Book free.

For sale by Max Wirth, Druggist.

MEN NERVE BEANS quickly cure Nervousness, all results of abuse, failing manhood, drains, losses. Married men and men intending to marry should take a box; astonishing results; small weak parts and lost power restored. $1.00 at S. F. BOYCE, Druggist, 338 Superior St. Duluth, Minn

ORDER FOR HEARING ON CLAIMS.—State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis. —ss.

In Probate Court, Special Term, February 7, 1906.

In the Matter of the Estate of Walter A. Scott, Deceased:

Letters of administration on the estate of Walter A. Scott, deceased, late of the County of Cook, State of Illinois, being granted to George W. Buck.

It Is Ordered, That three months be and the same is hereby allowed from and after the date of this order, in which all persons having claims or demands against the said deceased are required to file the same in the Probate Court of said County, for examination and allowance, or be forever barred.

It Is Further Ordered, That Monday, the 14th day of May, 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m., at a special term of said Probate Court to be held at the Probate Office in the Court House in the City of Duluth, in said County, be and the same hereby is appointed as the time and place when and where the said Probate Court will examine and adjust said claims and demands,

And It Is Further Ordered, That notice of such hearing be given to all creditors and persons interested in said estate by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth, in said County.

Dated at Duluth, Minnesota, this 7th day of February, A. D. 1906.

By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.

(Seal Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)
Duluth Evening Herald, Feb. 8-15-22, 1906.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF St. Louis.—ss.

In Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Charles H. Jones, Deceased:

On reading and filing the Petition of Benjamin E. Cook, executor of Charles H. Jones, deceased, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into his hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said estate, as far as the same can be ascertained; the legacies unpaid and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof; the persons interested in said estate with their residences; and praying that license be to him granted to sell all the real estate in said County belonging to the deceased, at private sale; and it appearing by said petition that it would be for the best interests of the estate of said Charles H. Jones, deceased, and of all persons interested therein, that the same should be sold.

It Is Therefore Ordered, That all persons interested in said estate, appear before this Court on Monday, the 12th day of March, A. D. 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Court House in the City of Duluth, in said County, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said Benjamin E. Cook, Executor, aforesaid, to sell all of the real estate of said deceased at private sale.

And It Is Further Ordered, That this Order shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper, printed and published at Duluth in said County.

Dated at Duluth, Minnesota, this 13th day of February, A. D. 1906.

By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.

(Seal Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)
RICHARDSON & DAY,
Attorneys for Executor.
Duluth Evening Herald—Feb-15-22-Mar-1—1906.

MOVING

We are experts in moving pianos and household furniture. Covered vans, if desired.

STORING

Let us store your furniture in our fine new warehouse at 510-512-513 East Superior Street. Special room for pianos. Private rooms if desired.

PACKING

All kinds of goods packed for shipment or otherwise. Packing material for sale. We make arrangement for your shipping without extra cost.

Duluth Van & Storage Co.

Both Phones 492. Office 210 W. Superior St.

"BREVITY IS THE SOUL OF WIT."
GOOD WIFE! YOU NEED
SAPOLIO

Duluth Medical Co.

125 West Superior St., Duluth, Minn. Over Big Duluth.

Speedily cures all Private, Nervous and Chronic Diseases without Mercury or hindrance to business.

CURES GUARANTEED.

All old lingering cases of Syphilis, Scrofula, Fever Sores, etc., where the Blood is Poisoned, causing Blotches, Pimples, Sore Throat and Mouth, Dry or Discharging Ulcers, Pains in the Head and Bones, also obstinate cases of Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture and all diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder are

CURED FOR LIFE.

Young, Middle Aged and Old Men

Who are suffering from the terrible effects of Seminal Weakness and Loss of Manhood as the result of Errors in Youth or other causes, and producing Nervousness, Constipation, Despondency, Wakefulness, Dizziness, Debility, etc., rendering Marriage improper or unhappy, are positively cured. The remedies

Act Quickly and Cure Permanently.

And when directions are complied with

THEY NEVER FAIL.

Patients are being treated by mail and express everywhere.

Advice free. Cases and correspondence sacredly confidential. Write for questions stating for what complaint.

Hours, 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 6, and 7 to 8 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12.

Photographed from Life. REVIVO RESTORES VITALITY — Made a Well Man of Me.

THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY

produces the above results in 30 days. It acts powerfully and quickly. Cures when all others fail. Young men will regain their lost manhood, and old men will recover their youthful vigor by using REVIVO. It quickly and surely restores Nervousness, Lost Vitality, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Lost Power, Failing Memory, Wasting Diseases, and all effects of self-abuse or excess and indiscretion, which unfits one for study, business or marriage. It not only cures by starting at the seat of disease, but is a great nerve tonic and blood builder, bringing back the pink glow to pale cheeks and restoring the fire of youth. It wards off Insanity and Consumption. Insist on having REVIVO, no other. It can be carried in vest pocket. By mail, $1.00 per package, or six for $5.00, with a positive written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Book and advice free. Address ROYAL MEDICINE CO., Marine Building, CHICAGO, ILL.

For sale in Duluth by S. F. Boyce, Max Wirth

BIG G CURES in 1 to 5 days. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents Contagion. THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO. CINCINNATI, O. U. S. A.

MEN AND WOMEN.

Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous.

Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles $2.75. Circular sent on request.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine.

SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Square, PHILA., PA.

Mention this paper.

Old Remedy. New Form.

NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL.

Tarrant's Extract of Cubebs and Copaiba in

CAPSULES.

The tasteless, quick and thorough cure for gonorrhoea, gleet, whites, etc. Easy to take, convenient to carry. Fifty years successful use. Price $1, at druggists, or by mail from The Tarrant Co., 44 Hudson St., New York.

"There's no place like home" might become the watchword and phrase of the Young Women's Christian association of Duluth for upon their yearly reports, in their monthly records, in the announcements of classes which may be made at a chance gathering, at the most brilliant social function of their year, "Home, Home, Home Sweet Home" is the sentiment that is insistently ground into the auditors. Every member of the association is thoroughly imbued with the idea of a new building and home, and several men of the city have also seen the need and are but waiting the time for active effort.

The annual banquet of the local association was given last evening at the rooms on West Superior street and the affair was thoroughly up to the standard that the previous banquets have led the friends of the association to expect. The rooms were decorated in flags and bunting. The lights were shaded in red and from each chandelier depended glistening Florida moss. Upon the round table at which were seated the speakers and the officers of the association, the decorations were small silk flags standing in clusters of three, and a large brass candelabrum was the centerpiece. Thirteen single brass candlesticks, many of them real colonial family heirlooms finished the decorations for an exceptionally lovely decoration. Colonial goblets also added to the touch of simple, but elegant, style of the early days of the country. Pictures of Washington in the old colonial oval gilt frames were hung about the rooms and at the other tables silver candelabra and candlesticks with red candles were the decorations.

At the guest of honor table were seated, Mrs. Wesley Peetham, secretary of the association, Dr. T. H. Cleland, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smith, Mrs. Garvin, Miss Garvin, Mrs. J. C. Watterworth, Watson S. Moore, Mrs. W. C. Agnew, Mrs. Thurman, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Kline, Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Faries and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Merritt.

The banquet itself was delicious and the program of toasts was an interesting and delightful one. Dr. T. H. Cleland presided as toastmaster and in his first remarks showed that he had been thinking of the home so much needed and longed for. He said:

"It is due the generosity of woman that the Y. M. C. A. was first permitted to ask the city for funds for the new building and the answer was so complete that $30,000 more than was asked was contributed. Now as Adam in the original subtraction of his rib, while he slept, suffered no harm, I suggest that the Y. M. C. A. Adam be put to sleep and this wart or wen or what you will, $30,000, be removed by the Y. W. C. A."

It is needless to say that the suggestion was met with applause. The speakers were introduced in a happy manner.

Mrs. Linus W. Kline, a member of the board of the local association was the first speaker and her subject "The Young Women's Christian Association in the World's Work" was presented in an interesting way, and facts were what Mrs. Kline adhered to. The work that the association does and is going to do in the world's work was presented in a way that any who heard of it for the first time will not forget and those who know of the work were deeply interested. She said in part:

"Today is a day of force in world organizations. We hardly appreciate the advantages we have over our forefathers. There is scarcely a part of the inhabited globe that is not accessible to us, all parts of the world are bound together by electric wires until it seems one small continent and we are welded together by the bonds of humanity. All great movements are spread to represent, this evening, one that is not the least of these."

Mrs. Kline continued telling of the countries all over the globe where the work of the association is found, and after a short resume of this work she spoke of the local association endeavors.

"The Duluth association has placed a depot matron at the Union station under the supervision of the Traveler's Aid committee and the women of Duluth may be sure that the hundreds of women and young girls who come to the city may receive and do receive aid at the outset of their life in a strange city.

"We are conducting a lunch room where substantial luncheons may be served at the lowest cost, and in these rooms the business women find a rest and visiting rooms which they enjoy because of the sense of ownership which they feel in them. But the rooms are not large enough. In our devotional work we are instilling the golden ideals of Christianity and the work of the educational classes is meeting a very obvious want. The work is interdenominational and broadening. It is a conservative factor in the world's work. We stand for the old-fashioned ideals broadened by culture, for the pure and peaceable characters not at variance nor tolerating strife, but aiming for the peace which is like that from above."

Watson S. Moore was the next speaker and his subject was "Our Influence in the Industrial World." Mr. Moore gave woman credit for even more in the world's work than she claims herself and some of the things for which she is responsible according to Mr. Moore surprised even the most enthusiastic of admirers of woman's achievements. He said in part:

"Woman is today in the midst of things, she is in the fight and on the firing line and learning to shoot straight. It was one time doubted if she had brains; that she has, has been proved and the question now is, what is her limit. She is great everywhere and in every way and whatever she does or will do will be great. It is undisputed that the great men of the country had great mothers and the great men of today must have had fine mothers. A boy can be raised without a father, but a mother is a necessity. It was a woman who fired the Northern heart to the necessity of action and brought on the Cival war. Many consider that the chief event to precipitate the war was Harriet Beecher Stowe's 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.' In the railroad rate legislation it is not Tom Lawson whose word we take without question. At every step of his argument we are like the man from Missouri, he has to show us, but in the quiet, unsensational statements of a woman on this same subject, Miss Ida M. Tarbell, we relie almost explicitely. It is woman who has abolished the canteen, who has kept Roberts out of the house of representatives, and if Smoot is kept out of the United States senate it will have to be the women that will do it. It was a local woman who was responsible for the establishment of a garbage incinerator in this city, a woman who saw a wrong that should be removed and logic to show that there was few feasible ways of removing it had no impression on her. Her unmoved insistence roused thought and the crematory, which the city council is getting credit for, is really due a woman of this city."

The last speaker of the evening was Charles Alden Smith who spoke of "Our City's Progress." Mr. Smith said, in part: "I might trace the progress of the city from the early time when Greysolon duLuth received in answer to his own voice only the echos from the hills, or I might by comparing facts and figures of the past years in population, personal valuations, schools, churches, saloons and phenominal growth in wholesale trade and all other industries, show great commercial progress. But the commercial growth of a country or a city is not the true mark of its progress. The ideals of a nation or a town is the real index of its growth. Take away these ideals of a people and the commercial interests cannot stand. Business men realize the value of ideals in those who will in the next few years guide the city and they also believe in the ideals of womanhood and of promoting those ideals. The great claim that this association has on the public of Duluth is not that it is 91 per cent self supporting but the work it is accomplishing. It is giving to the young women of the city higher ideals of life and a better idea of service, greater self respect and a more strict conscience."

PRETTY COTILLION.

Charming Affair Given by Young People at Steinway Hall

The cotillion last evening at Steinway hall was one of the most charming affairs that this little club has enjoyed this season. The fact that lent is so near is adding zest to these last few functions. Powdered hair was the concession given to colonial dressing and the combination of snowy white hair, a star and crescent of black patches adorning the dazzling complexion. The figures of the cotillion which was led by Powell Grady assisted by Miss Katharine Ensign were typical of the time. Favors of hatchets that turned into fans, George Washington hats, cherry trees and liberty bells, all added to the gaiety of the evening. An especially pretty figure was one in which the favors were candles and the lights were turned out and the wrought iron candle sticks bearing the gleaming tapers, were carried by the dancers. Those present were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
C. E. DeWitt,
W. E. Richardson,
Herbert Dancer,
E. W. Markell,
Victor Stearns,

Mesdames—
C. B. Miller.
G. G. Hartley,
Sterling Smith,
John Upham,
J. D. Ensign,
John Killorin.

Misses—
Ensign,
Katherine Ensign,
Effie Smith,
Mae Wylie,
Ruth Markell,
Katherine Boyce,
Frances Woodbridge,
Faye Richardson,
Irma Richardson,
Marion Sherwood,
Maud White,
Pauline Smith,
Jessie Hartley,
Patterson of St. Paul.

Messrs.—
Andreisen,
Grady,
Graff,
McBride,
Nichols,
M. F. Jamar, Jr.,
Eldridge,
Clapp,
Cose,
Greene,
Gridley,
Charles Brewer,
Marshall.

Washington Party.

Mrs. Warren Cundy entertained at a most delightful Washington party this afternoon at her home, 2815 West Third street. The rooms were decorated in flags and numerous hatchets, and the dining room was especially attractive. A liberty bell hung from the chandelier above the table and the centerpiece was a miniature cherry tree with a suggestive hatchet beside it. White ribbons were drawn from the chandelier to the edge of the table and terminated in large bows. The score cards were hatchets, and the refreshments also carried out the idea of the day. The hostess was gowned as Martha Washington and the entire affair was a most charming one. Pedro was played by the following guests:

Mesdames—
Frank Cross.
Fife,
C. H. Holden,
C. A. Gregory.
Thomas Walker,
Barbara Hoffman,
Arthur Robbins.

Miss Agnes Johnson.

Of General Interest.

The members of Circle No. 3 of St. Paul's church will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Hibbard of 418 Second avenue east.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dann and daughter Ruth, of 207 South Seventeenth avenue east, have returned from a visit at Minneapolis.

* * *

Mrs. F. H. Barnard left yesterday for Minneapolis to be with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph L. Barnard, who is critically ill at St. Barnaba's hospital with appendicitis. Little hope is held for her recovery.

WHAT RETAIL MARKETS OFFER.

Norwegian skim cheese, 35 cents a jar.

Smoked pork loins, 35 cents a lb.

Malaga grapes, 25 cents a lb.

Picnic baskets.

The picnic hamper spoken of is an attractive basket reposing on the down town markets. It is there to draw attention to itself and advertise for the next few months the ease and pleasure of picnics without two days of previous preparation. It is filled with canned stuffs, or as everybody who attempts to write an English story says, tinned things. Beef and veal loaf, and pickled sausage and all the other things that one can think of are packed in with much nicety and when you have chosen your spot of ground after repeatedly lugging the basket from one place to another, and get half settled some one member of the party begins, "This is all right now, but when the sun gets around a little further," then you pack up again and take your departure. But eventually you must settle some place and then you take the tin things out and all you've got to do is open the cans, which will be accomplished with much hacking, for of course you have left the can opener at home, and have bread and butter and your picnic is complete.

Some cheese that is shown in called skim cheese, and on the label is printed "Gammel Ost," or something like that and those mystic words are the things that make the Norwegian and Swedish people dig up their 35 cents quick, for the cheese is a delicacy of their own native country.

First and Second Sleep

When debating the question, How much sleep is needed? one must keep in mind that the best sleep, indeed the only healthy kind, is that which one cannot avoid without a struggle. It is the sleep that always follows on weariness; it is not that which is obtained by difficulty. If a person slept for three hours right away and then awoke refreshed—that is, with no further inclination for sleep, he would not then be in need of it. His proper course would be to arise and engage in work. But he must be prepared to sleep at any time in the day when the longing occurs. To the latter rule there is one exception. Let us suppose that one has acquired the habit of sleeping half the night and lying half awake during the remaining half. Such a habit can be best broken by rising after the first sleep and refraining from a nap in the day. When the bed hour again arrives the chances are that the victim of insomnia will be so sleep hungry that he will not wake until the proper hour for rising.

In any case, it is a great mistake to turn over on the other side and remain in a half-conscious state. Indeed, it is a more serious mistake than many would believe, says Home Notes. The brain is now in a peculiar state, more closely resembling the hypnotic than would be possible under any other normal conditions. Quite a lot might be written about the peculiar dangers and powers of this half-waking state.

Imitation Furs Hard To Tell From the Real

Women who intend to buy furs at the marked down sales because they can get them cheap should know how to tell real from imitation, so that they will not select an inferior article from among the many garments offered at small prices.

"Furs, nowadays, are so cleverly dyed and duplicated, that to distinguish the imitation from the real takes knowledge of skins," says an expert furrier.

"The best duplicates are in seal, Russian sable, ermine and silver fox, and women should examine all not guaranteed, carefully. To begin with, the pelt of a skin that has not been dyed is a light color, often almost white, while those that are blended are of a brownish shade that can readily be seen by parting the fur and inspecting it closely.

"Imitations of seal should not be difficult for even a child to distinguish, for the golden brown shade of the real fur beneath the surface is visible the moment the skin is taken in one's hands, or rubbed the wrong way, while the other is without the brown color and is the same shade from the surface down to the roots. There is another way of telling the natural from the dyed fur. The latter is put together in pieces that are 'V' shaped at the ends. These are matched in even rows and while they are carefully done can be readily seen by holding the fur up to the light and stroking it slowly the wrong way. The test of the light colored pelt applied to imitation seal proves that it has been dyed at once, only it is difficult to see the skin even in the real.

"There are some excellent imitations of ermine made from 'coney' or white rabbit, trimmed with real tails, because as yet no imitation ones with the delicate yellow tint have been found to use as duplicates.

"Rabbit skin is much heavier, the fur is coarser, thicker and longer, but it could easily be passed for ermine unless a real pelt was placed beside it, then the difference would be noticed at once, for the ermine is so much finer that the moment the skin is touched the difference in the quality is apparent. The real fur has a silkiness that the rabbit lacks and is much closer to the pelt.

"To make baum marten look like the expensive pieces of Russian sable the manufacturers cleverly glue white hairs to the fur and this is so well done that unless a person searched diligently it would not be discovered that the white hairs did not go clear down to the pelt. The marten is, of course, much heavier, coarser and thicker than the real sable. Women who have worn these imitation sets declare that the dye rubs off on their necks, leaving a blue color after a little usage. Unfortunately the color does not come off by rubbing the hand over the fur or there would be fewer imitations sold.

"Imitations of the valuable silver fox are made from the red fox in almost the same way. After the fur is blended white hairs are glued to the others in large enough numbers to give a really natural silvery tint to the skins.

"Other imitations of chinchilla, mink, beaver, etc., are readily distinguished even if a woman has had little experience with furs, and by the time she selects a collar, muff or a coat she would have seen enough good skins to know the difference between the real and blended pieces unless they are specially well done."

Smart Handles for Linen Parasols

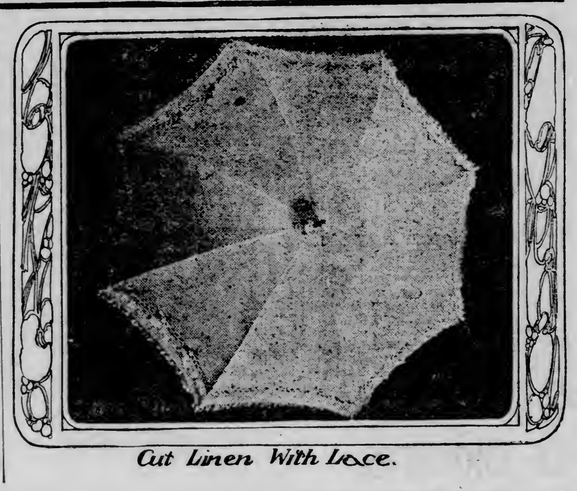

Photo By Joel Feder

Parasol Handles.

Heavy Metal and Wood Handles in Strong Designs for Early Spring Parasols.

Artistic handles in big bold designs will be used with linen and lace parasols for spring this year. They will be larger than have been seen before with sheer lace and silk sunshades, but not heavy enough to be bad form, for they taper gradually from the large top down to the material. One of the most effective designs is in the shape of an eagle with the wings raised above its head so that it makes a circle and incidentally a handle. Another one has a decided crook like the graceful "shepherdess crook." Most of them have round or square tops with handles heavily carved in floral or geometric designs. These are in metal—silver, copper, etc.—ivory or in wood.

Cut Linen With Lace.

Young College Women Are Finished Metal Workers

Some of Them Earn Good Salaries by Making Stickpins, Belt Buckles and Brooches to Order.

Women make jewelry in Teacher's college now, says a New York writer. Not crude, amateurish work, but finished pieces. They turn out artistic stick pins, belt buckles, rings, brooches, etc., in fact everything in gold, silver or copper jewelry that either women or men wear. Their unique work is attracting much attention, and some of the young women have all the orders for hand made pieces they can fill. In this way they are making a good income each week at the same time, and perfecting the art. Practical gold and silver smithing is learned, as well as stone cutting, so that they can make decorations for furniture as easily as they can cut a stone for a ring or pin.

It is exceedingly interesting to see them in the class room in the building in West One Hundred and Twentieth street, between Amsterdam avenue and Broadway. The young women wear huge aprons with sleeves that entirely cover their dresses, and some who want to keep their hands in condition work in kid gloves. The latter are not the most successful workers, for it takes keenness of touch to know just when the point is the right degree of sharpness. Enthusiastic ones labor with sleeves rolled up to their elbows, with hands that are black with the dirt, and seem to enjoy it.

There is no theory about their work, everything is practical, for they are really working out an apprenticeship, and on their degree of proficiency in hand made jewelry, many of them hope to secure positions. They use heavy steel hammers and solder of both soft and hard kinds. The latter is difficult, because a bellows and fire are necessary, but most of the students go at it as if they had been heating metal to a molten mass all their lives. Having melted into solder, they dip the piece of jewelry into a bath of acid, with a big pair of pincers, then through water, and hurry over to an anvil where they hammer or else cut it into the desired shape. Occasionally one of them forgets to put the metal through the water bath, and as a result the acid burns her hands or clothing, for it is powerful, as scarred hands and aprons with holes show.

All designs are original. They are given a model for a stickpin, a brooch, etc., and requested to work out their own ideas in shape and decoration. This scheme makes each lesson interesting, for there is a mild kind of rivalry among them that stimulates each girl to do her best and, if possible, turn out a more artistic bit of work than her neighbor.

They began by making copper buttons for coats, the simplest kind of work, that requires only two tools. Instead of using them as buttons, most of the girls fashioned theirs into hat pins by soldering on a long metal point as soon as they learned how to run the bellows and regulate the flame.

Then they tried a stickpin. These were made from silver. One piece was given to each girl, and out of it she hammered and cut the point and a decorative top. Most of these were chased delicately, some with a flower like tracery, others with geometric designs. They are still working on stickpins, for setting stones is difficult, and they require much practice before the setting is neat enough to either exhibit or sell. Some of the girls have beautiful stones which they take from pieces of expensive jewelry and put in their own hand made pieces. The cheap stones, smoky quartz, and what are known as the "craft pebbles," are furnished by the college for the students to practice on, in cutting as well as in the first settings.

Belt buckles of copper or silver have been a favorite with the class, and almost every girl wears one, while many have given them to friends, so that half the girl students in Teachers' college are wearing hand made metal belt buckles. Brooches with stones setting and the pin and clasp on the back, are difficult to turn out well, and many a student has been in tears over a failure that she had promised for a friend, or had hoped to have ready to wear at a reception.

"The beauty of being able to make these things," as one young woman said, "is that we can run into the workshop and make a pin or a buckle in a few hours and have it ready to wear in the evening, instead of shopping for hours to try to get something that is wanted."

Gold rings with settings, and gold link chains and necklaces, are pieces of work that the young women find unusually hard, for the gold is expensive, and their work must, therefore, be particularly accurate, or is worth little and looks decidedly crude.

Some of the most successful work has been in copper, match boxes, trimmings for stationery sets, handles for drawers and ends for bedroom sets, and the latter have brought in good profits to the young women who have made a specialty of original hand made designs.

This class of sixteen young women was started last September, as an experiment, but the work has been so practical and such a success that it will undoubtedly be added as another branch to the manual training department.

Few Changes in Costumes For Early Spring Wear

Even Sleeves Are the Same Style in Elbow and Three-Quarter Lengths—Princess and Empire Gowns Still Smart—Short Jackets to be Worn Extensively.

By A. T. ASHMORE.

Among the gowns designed for late winter wear are always to be found many hints for the fashions of early spring. There are not many marked changes this year; in fact, the styles have changed singularly little in the last six months. Even the sleeves, to which one looks first for some variety, have not altered materially, and now it would be difficult to tell by the sleeves alone just when a gown was made. Elbow and three-quarter sleeves are still in favor for all but the simplest of morning dresses, and few wraps even are now made up with the long sleeves.

Princess gowns are still very popular for both afternoon and evening costumes, and for the street a princess gown of cloth or silk, worn with a little elaborately made bolero jacket, is a style of dress very much in vogue just now.

Empire gowns are also fashionable, but a much modified empire is thought prettier than when the lines are so very loose. For a wrap of any kind and for a teagown the empire style is singularly attractive, but for the street or for evening wear a more plain dress, which shows to advantage the good lines of the figure, seems infintely more appropriate and more becoming.

For the early spring light weight cloth suits rather simply made will be most in evidence, but later on quite elaborate silk costumes will be seen. Until well into the summer all the street costumes will have short coats over the silk or lingerie waists, for the shirt waist dress is no longer thought as suitable for the street or for a short railroad journey as a coat and skirt costume of cloth, silk or linen.

For the morning rough materials as serge and cheviot will be worn, but smooth cloths always make a dressier style of gown. Checks, plaids and striped materials it is already known will be as popular as the plain colors. For a severe morning dress a light weight black or dark gray cloth with a tiny white stripe makes a very serviceable gown.

Short coats, bolero, eton and blouse jackets are now being made up for more than the long jackets. These little coats are some of them quite plain, but the majority are braided or trimmed with straps of the cloth or of velvet the exact shade of the material. The taffeta suits are being trimmed a great deal with braids of cloth always the shade of the silk. On the coat cloth is used instead of braiding, but the skirt need only have a wide border of cloth at the feet. Cloth trimming is to be used also on the veiling and canvas gowns, and even some light silk dresses are being finished with medallions and straps of cloth.

A silk or cloth dress that is made neither on the empire nor the princess model must have a fitted belt of medium width only. Girdles are now all round more than pointed down in the center. The blouse is seen once more, but is not yet at all full, and the flat back is still preferred. In every dress there must be a touch of white lace at the throat, and there are few pretty sleeve models that are not finished off with some lace at the elbow or wrist.

THE STAGE

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Allen Doone in "Kerry Gow."
METROPOLITAN Reilly & Woods company.

COMING ATTRACTION.

LYCEUM—Friday and Saturday, Louis James.

"KERRY GOW."

Allen Doone Appears in Joseph Murphy's Famous Play.

CAST.

Dan O'Hara.. ....Allen Doone
Raymond Drew.. .....E. H. English
Capt. Basil Sidney....Calvin Kavanaugh
Maj. Cruff.... ....Mark Harrison
Patrick Drew..... .....Seth Smith
Valentine Hey..... .....J. J. Hyland
Mr. O'Drive.. .....William T. Sheeham
Sergt. Bull.... .. ..Frank Cotter
Dennis Doyle.. .....James Ryan
Nora Drew.. .. ..Miss Mary Fermier
Alice Doyle.....Miss Josie Claflin
Little Jack the Jockey...Grace Campbell

"Kerry Gow," which seems to have been before the American theatergoers every since anybody can remember, pleased a large audience at the Lyceum last evening.

Joseph Murphy as Kerry Gow or the Kerry blacksmith, used to rank close behind Joseph Jefferson as Rip Van Winkle in popularity. Mr. Murphy's shoes were filled last evening by Allen Doone, a young man with very black hair, a classic profile and a rich, baritone voice, which he tried to send beyond its normal range. The low and medium notes in his Irish ballads were very mellow and tuneful, but the higher notes developed a harsh and unpleasing quality. His interpretation of the open-hearted young Irishman was excellent, and the audience was very generous with its approval.

Miss Mary Fermier as Nora Drew divided the honors with him. In spite of her name, Miss Fermier looks very much like a native of the Emerald Isle, and she made a very attractive and pleasing Nora Drew. Seth Smith did a good piece of character work in his interpretation of Patrick Drew.

The play will be repeated this evening, with a special holiday matinee this afternoon.

AT METROPOLITAN.

This is ladies' day at the Metropolitan. There was a matinee there for ladies this afternoon and this evening smoking will be under a ban and other efforts will be made by the management to look after the comforts of the members of the fair sex who attend. Souvenirs will be given away.

Tomorrow night is for amateurs. Amateur performers will do stunts for prizes and the complete Reilly & Wood show will be given.

LOUIS JAMES.

Tomorrow evening Louis James will open his Duluth engagement at the Lyceum presenting "Richelieu." Saturday afternoon he will play "Ingomar" and Saturday evening "Virginus."

Louis James as "Richelieu" presents a "Richelieu" such as Voltaire portrays him, a vigilant, cool, sagacious, crafty and fearless politician, whose greatest aim in life was to exalt France above all other nations, and in conjunction therewith to impress upon the world the greatness of "Richelieu." This he does with dramatic force and tenacity of purpose. Mr. James will be supported by that clever young actor, Norman Hackett, who has been so conspicuously in his support for several years. Other players of prominence are Charles A. Stedman, Arthur Young, Harry C. Barton, Milton Nobles, Jr., Aphie James, Terese Deagle and Anna Marie Schaefer.

Ill-Ventilated Street Cars.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I am pleased to note that we have one paper at the Head of the Lakes that has the everlasting narve to say one word against the Duluth Street railway. Unless one is unfortunate enough to take the first cars in the morning, one cannot possibly understand what a rank smell one is compelled to bump up against, and if you complain to the conductor he will smile and say "Tell your troubles to a policeman," etc.

I feel I have a right to complain, when I pay the Duluth & Superior Street railway $72 per year—straight fare from Superior to Duluth—besides the extra amounts given them for rides from and to my home while going down town.

One can almost see the disease germs in every car that you go into, and I am, as well as others I have talked with, in hearty sympathy with The Herald in complaining and bringing this matter before the city board of health. The cars should be properly aired as well as disinfected each day.

There is no question but that a great deal of sickness is caused by the overcrowding of these cars as well as by the unsanitary conditions prevailing. Not very long ago there was a lady in one of the cars I happened to be on, that was made deathly sick, owing to the dirty, foul smell of the car. She complained to the conductor, but that is all the good it did. Keep after these sardine-packers and you can get all the backing needed to carry on this work.

Yours for good street car service,
W. G. BROWN.

Duluth, Feb. 22.

German and French Taught

In class or private. Address Prof. Jacob A. Werull, P. O. box 156.

KNOX HAS RATE BILL

Broadens House Bill and Provides for Review by Courts.

Which Author Deems Essential for Constitutionality of Measure.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The first hour of the time of the senate today was devoted to George Washington. In his opening prayer Chaplain Hale dwelt upon the importance of "Commemorating every memory of him who was first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen," and in accordance with the custom established a few years ago at the instance of Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, the prayer was followed by the reading of Washington's farewell address. The reading today was entrusted to Mr. McCreary of Kentucky. The attendance of senators was not large, but the galleries were well filled.

When the reading of Washington's address was concluded Mr. Tillman presented a petition for relief from alleged discrimination forwarded to him by the Independent Oil Refiners' association of Titusville, and Oil City, Pa. In the petition a group of independent oil refiners cited cases, which have been pending for over seventeen years, as "showing what a travesty on protection is represented in the present method of legal procedure in dealings with the subject."

Mr. Knox presented his railroad rate bill, and made a brief statement, in which he said that he had been asked to give his views on rate regulation, and he had done so. He pointed out that in the bill he presented, Section five, which provided for a court review, he deemed essential for the constitutionality of the measure.

The bill provides that all acts of congress and the provisions of this bill relating to interstate commerce "shall extend to all common carriers engaged in commerce, to which the regulative power of congress extends, under the constitution of the United States, by the transportation of persons or property, wholly by railroad or by the transportation of persons or property by railroad and partly by water, when both are used for a continuous carriage or split. Said provisions shall also extend to all the facilities and instrumentalities therewith to which the regulative power of congress extends, whether owned or provided by the carrier or not."

It provides that all charges of whatever nature shall be just and reasonable. When a rate is unreasonable, the commission shall order it reduced, and when reduced, "such reduced rate shall be the maximum to be observed by the carrier, and when the commission shall order a practice to be changed, its order shall be observed by the carrier."

The review provision is as follows:

"Section 5—That the orders of the commission except orders for the payment of money, shall take effect within such reasonable time as shall be prescribed by the commission and shall continue for such period of time, not exceeding two years, as shall be prescribed in the order of the commission unless sooner set aside by the commission or suspended or set aside by order of a court in a suit to test the lawfulness of said order, but any carrier, person or corporation party to the proceedings affected by the decision of the combination as to the rate or practice covered by the complaint or by its order prescribing a different rate or practice, and alleging either or both to be a violation of its or his rights may institute proceedings against the complainant and the interstate commerce commission in the circuit court of the United States for the district in which any portion the carrier or carriers which were parties to the complaint may be located, sitting as a court of equity, to provide such questions determined, but in no other way shall the lawfulness of such order be questioned, and in all such proceedings the court shall have power to make orders to secure the appearance of parties from any part of the United States and the existing laws relative to evidence and to proceedings under the acts to regulate commerce shall be applicable.

"Provided, however, that no order of the commission reducing a rate shall be set aside or suspended by an interlocutory decree of the court without requiring a deposit of excess charge or sufficient to secure the parties entitled thereto the repayment, if the commissions order is sustained, of all moneys received by the carrier in excess of the rate fixed by the commission, and the court shall determine in such interlocutory decree what practices shall be pursued by the parties pending the litigation in order to make this right of repayment certain and effective."

Another section relating to appeals follows.

"Section 9—That in all proceedings arising under this act in which the United States or the interstate commerce commission is a party, an appeal from the final decree of the circuit court shall lie only to the supreme court and must be taken within thirty days from the entry thereof. No appeal shall operate as a stay or superseceas of the decree appealed from."

IN THE HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 22.—The name of George Washington was extolled by the blind chaplain of the house in his invocation at the opening of the session today. Immediately Mr. Williams, the minority leader endeavored to get an adjournment in honor of the holiday, but the house refused by a vote of 89 to 136.

A bill was passed reserving from disposal by the government of Battle mountain, S. D. The mountain is made a part of the Battle mountain sanitarium reserve. The mountain takes its name from being the ancient battle ground between the Crow and Sioux Indians.

The conference report on the urgent deficiency bill was agreed to.

A joint resolution was agreed to authorizing Alaskan teachers and employes of the bureau of education there to assign their salaries.

The army appropriation bill was taken up at 1 o'clock.

Severe criticism was indulged in the house regarding the effort of the retirement system of the war department. Mr. Prince (Ill.) opened the question and was asked many questions bringing out the fact that in three years sixty-two bridadier generals had been made who held that rank for a day and then retired.

"These officers have one hand on the flag and the other in the treasurery getting money they have not earned," declared Mr. Prince.

When asked who was responsible, he said the president was the only one having authority to make the promotions, and the senate confirmed his action.

We are headquarters for
Bonanza Circle
AND
North Butte Copper Stocks
PAINE, WEBBER & CO
BANKERS AND BROKERS.
328 West Superior Street.

EDWARDS - WOOD CO.
(Incorporated)
Dealers in
Stocks, Grain, Provisions
Main Office
Fifth and Robert Sts., ST. PAUL, MINN.

J. A. MINNEAR & CO.
Brokers
Copper Stocks
Curbs a Specialty
LAURIUM, MICH.

ARE YOU
BUYING MINING STOCKS?
Before doing so, write me. I offer for sale limited blocks of—
Seyler Humphrey.. ....35c
Red Top..... .....$2
Fair Rock Manhattan..... .....1c
Sassy Sal..... .....19c
Bullfrog Extension.. .....27c
And all other desirable mining stocks at prices that will save you money. Address
R. B. HIGBEE,
Broker, Germania Life Bldg., St. Paul, Minn. Established in 1899.

A Shipping Mine!
400 Tons Already Gone To the Smelter—$55.00 a Ton.
Sixteen mining claims—$150,000 expended already in tunneling, trams, buildings and other improvements. This is the record of the H. T. & F. Mining Co. A block of 50,000 shares is now offered to investors at very low rate. Call or write.
The Happy Thought and Fairview Minning Co.
Parlor G, St. Louis Hotel.

Walter W. Carr
Broker
Manhattan Bldg. 'Phones 1805
References: City National Bank

Bisbee Stocks a Specialty

Bonanza Circle Coppers

AND OTHER UNLISTED SECURITIES.
Noon Quotations, Feb. 22, 1906.

Coppers.	Bid.	Ask	Miscellaneous.	Ask
N. Butte ..	86	87	Ala. Cent. pfd	$6.00
C. & A. ...	117	118	Ariz. & E.	.10
C. & P. ...	36	37	Black Rock ..	.15
L. S. & P.	43	45	Comanche	.92
P. & D. ...	22	23	Crooked River	.50
Junction ..	28	29	Eagle Mt.	5.00
Man.	9	10	LaLuz, Mexico	5.00
Blk. Mt. ..	12½	13	Little Cracker	.10
Denn.	24	25	Metropolitan ..	.20
Warren	16	18	Nev. Q. B.	.10
Chir.	9	11	Ophir Tunnel ..	.35
Shattuck ..	40	45	Shasta	.15

GEORGE couldn't; MARK wouldn't; WE needn't. Ophir and Shasta are buys now. See!

H. E. SMITH & CO.
WILLIAM KAISER, Manager.
Main Floor, Palladio Building.
Phones—Zenith, 606, Duluth, 83.

St. Paul Live Stock.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—Cattle—Receipts, 500; unchanged. Hogs—Receipts, 2,600 steady to strong. Range, $5.85@6. Bulk, $5.90@5.95. Sheep—Receipts, 400; quiet, $3.75@6; lambs, $4.50@6.50.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul—Barrett & Zimmerman report: Good movement of horses; receipts still run large and of good quality. More horses were sold at auction today than any previous auction. Many buyers on the market. All classes closing as follows:

Drafters, extra..	$160 to 185
Drafters, choice....	140 to 160
Drafters, common to good....	125 to 140
Farm mares, extra.....	135 to 160
Farm mares, choice.....	120 to 135
Farm mares, common to good.	75 to 120
Delivery, choice....	125 to 150
Delivery, common to good.....	75 to 125

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, Feb. 22.—Wheat: Spot nominal; futures quiet; March, 6s 8d; May, 6s 6¾d; July, 6s 6d. Corn: Spot easy; American mixed new, 3s 11d; American mixed old, 4c 7½d; futures quiet; March, 3s 11½d; May, 4s ¾d.

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Cattle receipts, 2,200; steady; beeves, $3.50@6.65; stockers and feeders, $2.75@4.70; cows and heifers, $1.50@5, Texans, $4@4.20. Hogs receipts, 30,000; market strong to shade higher; estimated receipts tomorrow, 27,000; mixed and butchers', $5.56@6.22½; heavy, $5.56@6.22½; rough, $5.56@6; light, $5.50@6.15; pigs, $5.65@6.05; bulk of sales, $6.10@6.20. Sheep receipts, 15,000; steady; sheep, $3.25@5.75; lambs, $5.25@7.10.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

Following are the current quotations for goods which change hands in lots on the open market:

BUTTER.
Creamery, prints	27 @ 28
Creamery, in tubs	26 @ 27
Dairies, fancy	19 @ 20
Renovated	20 @ 21
Packing stock	16
EGGS.
Fresh	19 @ 20
Storage	14 @ 15
CHEESE.
Full cream twins	14¼
Block and wheel Swiss	14½@ 15
Brick cheese, No. 1.	14
Limberger full cream cheese	13
Primost	7
HONEY.
New fancy white clover ..	15
MAPLE SUGAR.
Vermont, per lb.	15
Maple syrup, 10-lb. cans ...	1 35
NUTS.
Filberts, per lb.	13
Soft-shell walnuts, per lb.	16½
Cocoanuts, per doz.	60
Brazils, per lb.	12
Hickory nuts, per bus.	2 00
Pecans, per lb.	13
Almonds	16
Black Walnuts, per bus. ..	1 65
Mixed nuts	12½
Peanuts, roasted, per lb. ..	7½@ 8
Chestnuts, per lb.	11
FRUITS.
Apples, Ben Davis, per bbl	5 50
Greenings	5 50
York State Spies	5 25
Baldwins	5 00
York State Russets	6 00
Tolman Sweets...	5 00
Missouri Pippins, per box.	2 25
Colorado Winsape, per box.	2 00
Bananas, per bunch.....	2 00 @ 2 50
Cranberries	16 00
Dates, Fard, 12-lb. box	1 10
Dates, sugar walnut, 10-lb. box	1 00
Figs, Smyrna, 12-lb. box ..	1 35
Malaga grapes, per keg....	7 00
Lemons, Cal., per box	3 25 @ 3 50
Oranges Floridas	1 50
California Navels	2 75 @ 3 00
California pears, per box ..	2 50
Strawberries, per qt.	55
VEGETABLES.
Beans, wax, per bus.	5 00
Navy beans	2 00
Green hothouse beans	5 00
Beets, per doz.	1 75
Top beets, per doz.	1 00
Cucumbers, hothouse	2 00
Cabbage, per ton	35 00
Cauliflower, per box	60
Celery, Milwaukee, per doz	35
Carrots, per cwt.	75
Egg plant, per doz.	1 75
Horseradish, per lb.	12
Lettuce, leaf, per bus.....	1 65
Onions, per cwt.	2 00
Onions, Spanish, per crate	2 00
Parsley, per doz.	35 @ 75
Sweet potatoes, per bbl. ..	4 50
Potatoes, per bus.	55 @ 60
Radishes, round, per doz..	75
Spinach, per box	1 00 @ 1 25
Florida tomatoes, basket..	90
Rutabagas, per cwt.	75
POP CORN.
Choice, per lb.	3½
Rice corn, shelled	6
CIDER.
Clarified, 16-gal. kg	3 50
Orange, cherry or pear	3 50
Black raspberry juice.....	5 50
MEATS.
Beef	5½@ 7½
Mutton	6½@ 9½
Lard.....	8¾
Pork loins	11
Veal.....	9
DRESSED POULTRY.
Springs, per lb.	14
Hens, per lb.	13
Spring ducks	14
Turkeys..	19
Geese....	13 @ 14
HAY.
Timothy, per ton	9 00
Upland, per ton	8 00
FEED.
Bran, per ton	17 00
Oats, per bus.	32
Shorts, per ton	18 00
FISH.
Trout, per lb.	10
Pike, per lb.	10
White, per lb.	10 @ 12½
Lake Superior herring	2½
Skinned perch	6
Smelts, No. 1	12
Smelts, No. 2	10
Fresh salmon, per lb.....	15
Halibut per lb.....	12½
Oysters, standard, per gal.	1 45
Oysters, select, per gal. ...	1 85

Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Butter, steady; creameries, 17@27½c; dairies, 17@24½c. Eggs steady at mark, cases included, 11¼c. Cheese, firm; daisies, 13c; twins, 11¾@12c; Young Americas, 13c.

WAS A SUCCESS.

Boston Herald: The Rev. Samuel H. Winkley, pastor emeritus, called by many the "bishop" of Bulfinch Place chapel, who for fifty years, in his connection with the work of the Benevolent Fraternity of Churches, as minister-at-large, came in contact with human nature in more ways than generally falls to the lot of man, tells the following story:

To his study in Louisburg square came one day a man and woman to be married. Following the ceremony, the man paid the fee and departed, after receiving the kindly advice and sympathy which always accompanied such a call.

A year later the groom again appeared, and soon brought to the "bishop's" mind the circumstance of the marriage. "But what is the trouble?" asked Mr. Winkley; "didn't it turn out fortunately?"

"That's just it," replied the caller; "it was such a grand success that I have come back to give you another $5."

NOTICE OF CHANGE OF PARTNERSHIP—

Notice is hereby given that Andrew Gowan has withdrawn from the copartnership of Twohy-Kileen company, and that the firm business will be continued by the remaining partners, C. L. Twohy and Thomas Kileen, under the same firm name and that the remaining partners will be responsible for the debts and entitled to all the rights and claims of the copartnership.

Dated, Duluth, Minn., February 21st, 1906.

ANDREW GOWAN,
C. L. TWOHY,
THOMAS KILEEN.

GIVE US ORDERS TO SELL TO ARRIVE ON BULGES
C. C. WYMAN & CO.
DULUTH. GRAIN COMMISSION. MINNEAPOLIS.

QUITTING BUSINESS
EVERYTHING FOR SALE!
Mr. Forward is entering wholesale trade in Chicago. Watch for further Announcement! Merchandise, fixtures, team—everything of the business for sale. An opportunity for any one to buy a profitable, well advertised, clean, up-to-date business. Will reduce our stock to suit purchaser.
WATCH FOR OUR REDUCTION SALE!
R. R. Forward & Co. HARDWARE AND FURNITURE
21st Avenue West on Superior St. Duluth, Minn.
R. R. Forward & Co. HARDWARE AND FURNITURE

WILL TRY ALFALFA

On North Dakota Farms During Coming Season as Experiment.

Manager Holstrom of Grandin Farms Will Test Guarantees.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Holstrom of Fargo, N. D., are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jay M. Smith. Mr. Holstrom is manager of the Grandin farms near Fargo and is probably one of the most successful farmers in the state of North Dakota. He pays a visit to Mr. Smith every winter and has made quite a number of friends in Duluth on his too brief visits. He will return to the farms on Sunday.

Speaking of farming of last year, Mr. Holstrom said that the wet weather knocked them out. The heavy moisture caused the farms to produce only about 12½ bushel to the acre, when they shold have produced 25 to 30. As to next year, Mr. Holstrom said he cannot give any idea of what the prospects are. Said he:

"We have had about six feet of snow on the level in our country and this together with the noisture which was on the ground when the last season ended, assures us of plenty of moisture—too much I'm afraid. In the valley we can stand a drought much better than we can stand the other extreme. Our land holds moisture and too much rain ruins it for growing purposes. There are thousands of acres where the wheat still lies and this cannot be cleared off in any very quick time unless the snow goes off much faster than we expect it to. I have hopes for the coming year though, as we should have dryer weather and we have already plenty of moisture."

It was Mr. Holstrom's intention last year to try a new scheme of inoculating seed with nitrogen for rejuvenating the ground where land needed a rest; but as the new article was hard to get, he did not do this. However, this year a seed house is handling inoculated alfalfa seed, and Mr. Holstrom is going to try it on five acres. This is to guarantees the success of the plan, and as alfalfa has never been a success in North Dakota, the experiment will be watched with interest. Alfalfa is also a great fertilizer, and is probably the best thing for renewing the nitrogen in the ground. Mr. Holstrom expects to succeed with it. He says that the last two years red clover has thrived fine in North Dakota, and that is another thing which some thought impossible to grow in that part of the country. The same house which is putting out the inoculated seed is also selling apple trees, which it guarantees will grow a bushel of apples in North Dakota. Mr. Holstrom is going to experiment with these, too.

BROKE THE BANK.

Hero of Monte Carlo Accused as a Swindler.

William Davenport, the hero of that most popular of all music hall songs, "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," has just come once again before the public in a far different role, says a London correspondent of the New York Sun. He is charged with swindling gullible investors, and if the accusations against him are substantiated he is pretty sure to be sent to jail for a long term of imprisonment.

It was something like twenty years ago that Davenport achieved the memorable feat which all England and America sang about. He was known then as Charles Wells. Prior to his appearance in London as the author of an infallible gambling system he had been an engineer and inventor in Paris and Marseilles. So much money had been lost through them in recent years that people are now rather chary about backing folk who profess to be able to beat the Monte Carlo game, but Davenport had little difficulty in persuading a sporting American to finance him. He "made good," too. In five days he won $200,000 and did literally break the bank on one occasion. Altogether his sojourn at Monte Carlo netted him and his backer $317,500, of which he pocketed $115,000 as his share.

The fact, however, that when he again found himself hard up he tried to replenish his exchequer by methods which have brought him before the bar of justice seems to make it pretty clear that it was no infallible system, after all, by which he won so heavily at Monte Carlo, but simply a prodigious run of good luck. If he really possessed an infallible system he would have had recourse to it again to make money in his old age—he is now 68—instead of getting it out of other people's pockets by specious promises that he could never carry out. Associated with him in his get-rich-quick enterprise was a bald-headed old clergyman, Rev. V. Henry Moyle, whose plausible tongue and aspect of venerable piety made him a valuable ally at the shrine of Mammon. He is charged with swindling, too.

Between them they organized the South and Southwest Coast Steam Trawling and Fishing Syndicate. Their fishing fleet consisted of a couple of unseaworthy old steamers, which were purchased for a few hundred dollars apiece, and a few fishing nets. They never caught any fish, it is alleged, but they did catch a lot of credulous investors. As an easy way of making money, infallible systems for breaking the bank at Monte Carlo or schemes for getting gold out of sea water did not compare with their fishing business. Annual profits of between $1,000 and $1,500 were promised on every $250 invested in the "syndicate." They had obtained $25,000 only when the police swooped down on them.

Haven't you seen a "To Let" placard in some particular window so long that you come to wonder what was wrong with the property? Placarding is primitive—very primitive—advertising. It's just a little better than nothing—while Herald want advertising is a little better than anything else.

NOTICE.

All members of F. O. E. are requested to meet at Eagle hall to attend the funeral of our late brother, George Probeck. Meeting called at 1 p. m., Friday, Feb. 23.

J. W. PARKER,
Worthy Pres.

CONFIDENTIAL.

Boston Herald: Congressman Currier of New Hampshire tells the following experience with Speaker Cannon of the house of representatives: The speaker had written Mr. Currier relative to several bills he had before the house. The speaker, not unlike many great men, is a poor writer, and when Mr. Currier received the letter he was able to read but one word. He disliked to bother Mr. Cannon, so he went to several friends among the members, and finally the letter, except for one word, was made out.

This word seemed very important, as it was underlined, but as neither he nor his friends could make it out he thought he would consult Mr. Cannon himself. He told the speaker of his trouble in reading the letter, and explained that with help from several other members of the house he had made out all but the word in question.

Cannon looked at his letter, and then at the congressman, and then again at the letter, his face meanwhile taking on a peculiar expression. Finally he looked at Mr. Currier, and with mingled anger and laughter said: "Why, you darn fool, that word is 'confidential.'"

The Day You Begin Taking Ozomulsion That Day Your Cure Begins.
Ozomulsion
The Cod Liver Oil Emulsion "Par Excellence."
Is the Cure.
During Winter and Early Spring
PNEUMONIA lurks in the highways, COLDS AND COUGHS pounce upon you from the open doors or windows, and CONSUMPTION Camps on the doorstep.
Only the Thoughtful—the Cautious—Escape the Many Ills that Winter Brings in its Train.
Many Thousands Die Each Year who might have lived to be Happy and Useful. The Ozomulsion Cure
The Greatest Known Remedy for COLDS, COUGHS, PNEUMONIA and CONSUMPTION
Brings to bear on these Diseases the most Powerful Curative Agents—tried with the most Successful Results during the past Thirty Years.
Ozomulsion is a Scientific Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil, Guaiacol, Glycerine and the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda.
All these great Curative Properties—each in itself a great remedy—are combined in One Superb Preparation for the Human Ills above Enumerated.
Beneficial Results are Obtained after the First Dose.
There are two sizes—8-oz. and 16-oz. Bottles; the Formula is printed in 7 languages on each.
OZOMULSION LABORATORIES
98 Pine St., New York.

HIS LIFE'S WORK

By J. A. Tiffany.

(Copyright, 1906, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

The man was old and broken in spirit. His life had been a failure, as all lives are, measured by the degree in which they fulfill the dreams of youth.

At two-and-twenty he had mistaken the flush of enthusiasm for the fire of genius. After a quarter of a century's devotion to small parts in third-rate theatrical companies, he had been forced to the conclusion that a man gets no more, no less, than his labor is worth; and that his own labor was worth very little.

At first he might have gained some adventitious reputation by flaunting on the bills his family name and heralding his heirship to a title. But pride forbade—pride, perhaps, in his imagined genius; or it may have been the greater pride of blood that made him shrink from blazoning his nobility before the world of third-rate theater-goers.

He had accepted disinheritance as the price of marrying the woman of his choice instead of the one whom his father had chosen for him. His wife had been beautiful. Now she was a poor, faded, common-place creature. Her illusions, too, were all gone, like her beauty; and, worse than that, the man's illusions in regard to her were dead also.

She had no more talent for acting than had he; and they both knew it now. There had been a time when her personal attractions were sufficiently commanding to assure for her good pay and desirable parts. But now, like the man, she had to be content with anything in the shape of "lines" and pay that fell to her lot.

Of gentle birth, she still retained some traces of refinement, in spite of her long sojourn in Bohemia. But the novelty, the charm, the mystery of the life were gone. Its shams and make-believes no longer lent themselves to gay deception. Only the vulgar, squalid, bare reality remained. Man and wife had ceased to cajole each other with the belief that some day their ability would command recognition by an intelligent and enterprising manager who would have a play written especially for them—designed to bring out their strong points and, incidentally, to make them rich and famous. That illusion, long cherished, had gone the way of many others.

Every illusion had been destroyed save one; and to that they clung with desperate tenacity. At an early period in their married life the man had conceived a great literary project.

"I've been thinking, Evelyn," he had said one day, "of writing a historical account of the drama from its first inception down to the present day. Imagine the possibilities of such a work!—tracing the evolution of dramatic art from the crude mummery of the earliest ages to the stately Greek chorus, on through the splendors of the Roman era and the golden age of the Troubadours, up to its grand Renaissance in the glorious genius of Shakespeare, and thence to its magnificent culmination in the literary excellence and marvelous mechanical accessories of the stage in the nineteenth century! What do you think of it, Evelyn?"

"Splendid!" the woman had exclaimed. "Why don't you begin at once?"

And he had begun that very day. He knew then that it was no mean task, this that he had set himself. It meant much reading, research, condensing, writing, rewriting and writing again. Not a book that a man could rattle off in six months or a year.

"It will be a life's work, Evelyn," he had said to his wife one day.

And with a smile and a kiss she had answered:

"What of that? Haven't we dedicated our lives to Art? What higher expression of our devotion to the drama could we offer than the erection of such a monument?—for it will be a monumental work, dear Reginald. Let it be a life's work, and it will! You could not spend your life better."

And as she had said, so had it been. The one illusion that the hard realities of life had failed to dissipate was this: that though both were failures at acting, yet one day the man was to achieve fame for himself and a competence for them both by the publication of his great history of the drama—the dedication to a grateful world of his life's work.

For twenty years and more he had stuck stolcally to his task. Through poverty, hunger and sickness; in bare, cramped rooms, with the baby crying for warmth and nourishment; in foetid attics, with the mercury in the nineties; by the light of the moon, when he was too poor to afford even a rush light; by the flickering firelight, when they were "flush" and had coal in the locker—for twenty years the man wrote on and on, wrote and rewrote and wrote again.

Often the last nickel went for paper, while the children were crying for bread. Present necessities were forgotten, or ignored, in the anticipation of comforts to be bought through the sale of Reginald's life work.

"I have finished it at last, Evelyn," the man announced one day—one day while they were in Baltimore. "I have finished my life's work."

Afraid to trust the precious manuscript to an express company, he set out for New York, with his wife, his children and his book. He called in person upon a reputable firm of publishers and submitted his work for their consideration. And then he sat down to wait; for in his present frame of mind—the tremendous nerve tension attending the fate of his life's work—acting was out of the question.

For three months he awaited the publishers' decision, calling upon them at intervals, only to be told that his manuscript would receive the earliest attention possible. Three long, weary anxious months; and then the man took to his bed in a high fever. He was delirious, and raved about his book.

"Finished, finished!" he would shout exultingly. "I have finished my life's work!"—and another time he would repeat the same words, with a wail of anguish and despair.

Then the woman passed her cooling hand across his brow, and sought to comfort him by saying his life's work was only just begun.

"Not finished, Reginald," she would say, soothingly; "not finished, husband, dear. The bright days are all to come. It has been dark these many days; but soon you'll be well and strong again, and then we will take up the old life and the duties we deserted long ago. Don't you want to do it, Reginald?"

And the man would answer feebly: "Yes, yes; I am ready."

One evening as he lay helpless on his pillow, the crimson rays of the setting sun shone suddenly into the room and lighted up his pallid face, handsome even in emaciation. He started up to his elbow, with wide, staring eyes, exclaiming:

"Finished—finished! I have finished my life's work. I am going home."

And the tears that welled to Evelyn's eyes had fallen from them to her cheeks, she looked once more upon his face and saw his words were true.

The man was dead. He had finished his life's work. He had gone home.

And while the woman sat in silent grief, gazing on the dead face of him whom she had loved so well, there came a gentle tap upon the door.

It was Mr. Hayes, an elderly gentleman from the publishers' office, who had called once or twice before to inquire after the health of the author of the bulky manuscript.

"At last, my dear lady," he said, "I am able to report that our house has accepted your husband's life work."

"Your house?" the woman echoed, failing at first to recognize her visitor or comprehend his meaning—the one, cruel sense of widowhood overwhelming all things else.

Then, as the recollections of the fatal book that had sapped her husband's life away came back to her with bitter memories, she said:

"Your house? Too late—too late! He has gone to another house. There his life's work can be judged the best. His life work will be accepted or rejected in his Father's house."

Low Rates to Coast Points.
February 15th to April 7th, Northern Pacific railway will have on sale daily, one way second class rates to all points in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, as follows:
Billings, Mont., and intermediate points .. .. ..

$15,000 TO LOAN.

In amounts of $500 up to $1,500 at 6 per cent.

On or before clause, with privilege of paying $50 or more at any time. Interest stopped on amount paid.

MONEY ON HAND. NO DELAY.

Ten new flats and three new store rooms for rent.

Julius D. Howard & Co

Real Estate—Loans—Fire Insurance.
216 West Superior St.

We Will Bond You

FIDELITY, COURT AND CONTRACT BONDS

PULFORD, HOW & CO.

309 Exchange Bldg.

LIABILITY, BURGLARY, FIRE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

WeWill Insure You

WINTER RESORTS.

Winter Resort

KENILWORTH INN

Biltmore near Asheville, N. C.

There is no scenery in the world that will compare with the view from this palace. Located on the highest point in Asheville. Surrounded by one of the finest parks of 160 acres with springs and winding macadamized paths. Mt. Mitchell in full view. Dry, invigorating climate, adjoining Biltmore Estate. Magnificently furnished, cuisine unsurpassed. Orchestra, golf, livery hunting and fishing.

Open all the year. Write for booklet.

EDGAR B. MOORE, Proprietor.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES

NORTHWESTERN LINE.

Leave Duluth		Arrive Duluth
*8:40 a.m	St. Paul. Minneapolis	*3:05 p.m
*4:00 p.m	Twilight Limited	*9:45 p.m
*5:30 p.m	Chicago, Milwaukee	*11:10 a.m
*5:30 p.m	Appleton	*11:10 a.m
*5:30 p.m	Oshkosh, Fond du Lac	*11:10 a.m
*5:30 p.m	FAST MAIL	*11:10 a.m

Pullman Sleepers. Free Chair Cars. Dining Car

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY

Leave		Arrive
* 4:00 p.m	Ashland and East	*11:15 a.m
† 8:00 a.m	Ashland and East	† 7:10 p.m
* 7:30 p.m	Minn. and Dakota Express	* 7:55 a.m
* 8:30 a.m	North Coast Limited	* 6:25 p.m
Leave	"Duluth Short Line."	Arrive
† 9:00 a.m	ST. PAUL	* 6:30 a.m
† 1:55 p.m	MINNEAPOLIS	† 2:10 p.m
*11:10 p.m		† 7:00 p.m

*Daily, †Daily Except Sunday.
Union Depot and 339 West Superior Street

THE GREAT NORTHERN.

Leave		Arrive
† 6:20 a.m	ST. PAUL AND MINNEAPOLIS	† 9:50 p.m
† 3:50 p.m		* 2:00 p.m
*11:15 p.m		* 6:10 a.m
* 9:30 a.m	Crookston, Grand Forks	* 6:30 p.m
* 8:15 p.m	Montana and Coast,	* 7:10 a.m
† 2:20 p.m	Swan River, Hibbing, Virginia	†12:20 p.m
† 6:20 a.m	St. Cloud, Wilmar and Soo City	† 9:50 p.m

*Daily, †Daily Except Sunday
Twin City sleepers ready at 9 p.m. Office Spalding Hotel

Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Ry.

City Ticket Office, 432 Spalding Hotel Block. Bell 'Phone 11
All trains arrive and depart from Union Depot.

*6:20 p.m. Lv. North Country Mail. Ar. *8:55 a.m
All Points East.
†7:45 a.m. Lv. LOCAL Ar. †6:45 p.m
Marquette and Copper Country.

*Daily. †Except Sunday.

Duluth & Iron Range R R

A.M	P.M.	STATIONS		A.M.	P.M.
7:30	3:15	Lv.	Duluth	Ar	12:00	7:25
11:25	7:05	Ar.	Virginia	Lv	8:10	3:30
11:30	7:10	Ar.	Eveleth	Lv	8:00	3:30
11:55	7:40	Ar.	Ely	Lv	7:30	3:00
A.M.	P.M.	Daily, except Sundays			A.M.	P.M.

DULUTH, MISSABE & NORTHERN RY

P.M.	A.M.	STATIONS		A.M.	P.M.
3:50	7:40	Lv.	Duluth	Ar	10:30	3:30
4:05	7:55	Lv.	57th Av. W.	Lv	10:15	3:15
4:20	8:15	Lv.	Proctor	Lv	10:00	3:00
6:15	10:12	Ar.	Ir'n J'nct'n	Lv	8:01	1:03
----	10:40	Ar.	M't'n Iron.	Lv	----	12:20
7:10	10:37	Ar.	Virginia	Lv	7:00	12:40
6:33	10:29	Ar.	Eveleth	Lv	7:42	12:47
----	10:56	Ar.	Sparta	Lv	----	12:24
----	11:20	Ar.	Biwabik	Lv	----	12:02
6:50	10:56	Ar.	Hibbing	Lv	7:15	12:17

Daily except Sunday.

Morning train from Duluth makes direct connection at Rainy Junction with D. V. & R. L. Ry for Ashawa and points north of Virginia.

HOTEL LENOX

Most thoroughly equipped in the Northwest. Sanitation perfect. European, $1.00 and up. American, $2.00 and up.

THE ALVERADO

Formerly known as Cook's Hotel. Most reasonable rates in the city. Steam heat, baths. Best of service. John McLeod, Proprietor and manager. 210-212 West Superior Street.

Hotel Superior,

Superior, Wis.

Largest and finest Hotel of the City. Bus meets all trains.

American Plan, $2.00 and $3.50.
European Plan, $1.00 up.

New Building. New Equipment.
RATES—$2.00 AND $2.50.

HOTEL McKAY

Corner First street and Fifth avenue West, Opp. Postoffice, Duluth.

The Miller

222-224 W. Superior St.

American and European Plan

Fifty Homelike Rooms.

JOHN W. MILLER, Prop.

$2000 Will handle a property paying 22 per cent, new building in first-class location, with very good prospects for a rise in value

$5500 For an eight-room brick dwelling on lot 50x140 feet with barn for four horses. House has all modern conveniences, including hot water heat. This is the best bargain offered in the city.

Call in and see us about the above.

C. P. CRAIG & CO.,

220 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

We Lend Money!

Lowest rates, easy terms. We make all kinds of building loans, as you need the money. We issue BONDS and write FIRE INSURANCE.

Cooley & Underhill,

208 EXCHANGE BUILDING.

4½% Any Amount All Privileges NO DELAY! 5%

MONEY TO LOAN

BY

W. M. PRINDLE & CO.

5½% First Floor, Lonsdale Building. 6%

R. B. Knox & Co.

FIRE INSURANCE
ACCIDENT INSURANCE
BURGLAR INSURANCE

Loans, Real Estate, Rentals

Room I, Exchange Bldg.

LOANS

5% and 6%

All Privileges Given.

No Delay.

G. G. DICKERMAN & CO.

NO. 5 ALWORTH BLDG.

4½% 5%

Money to Loan

With On or Before Clause.

John A. Stephenson

WOLVIN BUILDING.

WEST DULUTH.

Choice lot 61st Ave.	$210.00
Double corned 60th Ave	325.00
One lot 60th Ave	160.00
One lot, close in, 57th Ave	310.00
One lot, Dodge Add	110.00
One lot, Clinton Place Add	100.00
Two lots in Kimberly & Stryker's Add., corner	100.00
Six scattered lots, all	75.00
Two lots on Oneota St.	650.00
One lot in Stewart's Add	15.00

INTERSTATE LAND AND INVESTMENT CO.,

102 Providence Building.

$7500 will buy almost new modern home in beautiful location. Has 8 rooms, oak floors and finish, laundry, gas, and all the modern accessories. See us about it.

$2700 buys a good home in Lakeside, 8 rooms, water, sewer, bath, furnace heat, electric light, full basement, stone foundation, corner lot near car line. This is a snap.

$2650 will buy another home of 8 rooms, all modern improvements except heat, upper corner near car line, fine view.

Houses and lots in all parts of the city. Acre property our specialty.

EATON & WHARTON

Both 'Phones. Lonsdale Building.

$7000 Improved corner (50x140), three houses; excellent investment, netting 10 per cent.

$4500 Two-story dwelling, lot 50x140, East Second street, very central.

$45000 Business block on West Superior street; good investment.

$1400 Corner on East Superior street, 100x140, fine building site.

$400 Lot on East Sixth street.

$1,500 to loan. Money on hand.

A. H. W. ECKSTEIN,

401 Exchange Bldg. Zen. 'phone, 338.
Fire Insurance, Real Estate and Loans.

Cicero said that "it is a mark of great wisdom to take precautions against reverses of fortune"—such precautions, for instance, as buying a bit of real estate now and then, while able to do so. Do not let yourself overlook the real estate ads.

MEETING ON WHITE CITY

Postponed Until Next Monday So Outsiders May be Present.

Capital for Starting Enterprise Will be Easily Raised.

The joint committee appointed by different commercial organizations of the city to look into the matter of having a place of outdoor amusement established in Duluth, along the lines of the "White City" in Chicago and "Wonderland" in Minneapolis, will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Commercial club, instead of this week, as was announced last night in The Herald.

The reason for the postponement is the fact that men from outside the city who are to be present will be unable to reach Duluth before Monday. Men who are interested in "Luna Park," New York, and "Wonderland" at Minneapolis, and who had a hand in the building of these places of amusement, are to be on hand to submit plans and figures showing the probable cost of such an attraction as is wanted for the Zenith City. Probably W. W. Price and J. Ivey, head men with the Minneapolis resort, will both be in attendance at the meeting. It is not known for certain yet who will be here from New York. Some of the Chicago men may also be on hand.

It is now getting along toward the time of the year when active steps must be taken if it is intended to have Duluth's White City in running shape by the time the summer season opens. Once the plans are laid it is said that no very great while is needed to put such a place in readiness for the amusement of the public. From now on arrangements will be pushed, and the indications are that this city will have a place of amusement before the warm weather is far advanced that will in many respects equal similar places in Chicago and Minneapolis.

Local business men, particularly the merchants, have taken an active interest in the project, and there will be no difficulty, it is understood, in disposing of all the stock in the company. The only question will be how much outside capital to admit. Parks of this nature have been paying propositions wherever started, and capitalists from different parts of the country stand ready to invest their money in them whenever opportunity offers. Members of the committee who are looking after the enterprise appear to favor keeping all the stock in the city, making it a purely local company, but having some competent man of experience in charge to see things are kept running properly, and along business lines.

Park Point is one of the sites that seems to be a favorite just now.

RIGHTS OF A COLORED MAN

In Public Restaurant to be Tested in Courts of St. Paul.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A suit has been brought in the district court by Eugene T. Marshall of Madison, Wis., a negro, against George R. Kibbe, as lessee of the Union depot restaurant, for $500 damages for violation of his civil rights.

Marshall attained fame as the winner of the Wisconsin university oratorical contest. He was invited to deliver the oration at the recent celebration of Lincoln's birthday by the negro citizens of St. Paul.

Marshall was met at the depot by a delegation headed by G. S. Thompson and taken for breakfast to the depot cafe. The party took seats at the table, but the members were soon informed, it is alleged, that negroes could not eat at the tables, but must go to the lunch counter. They demurred, and Marshall, the complaint states, was hauled out of his chair by his coat tails, because he refused to comply with the order. Marshall enlisted a colored attorney to prosecute an action under the state governing civil rights. The maximum for which a suit can be brought under the statute is $500.

"The object of the suit," said the attorney, "is to determine whether a negro can be excluded from eating in a restaurant at the tables where a table cloth is spread."

CATHOLIC COLLEGE BURNS.

Kankakee, Ill., Feb. 22.—St. Viateur's college at Bourbonnais, Ill., two miles north of Kankakee was totally destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $175,000. Insurance, $100,000. It is a Catholic institution and was founded in [illegible]. It has 200 students. The cause of the fire was crossed electric wires. No person was injured.

EVERYTHING IN INSURANCE

Fire, Accident, Life — Burglary, Health, Plate Glass

Liability — Contractors, Employers, Elevator, General.

"Strongest Old Line Companies."

Hartman-O'Donnell Agency,

209-210-211 Exchange Bldg.

ORDER TO EXAMINE ACCOUNTS, ETC.

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis. —ss.

In Probate Court, Special Term, February 7th, 1906.

In the Matter of the Estate of Carl Erik Bergman, Deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Johanna Bergman, executrix, of the estate of Carl Erik Bergman, deceased, representing, among other things, that she has fully administered said estate and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining, settling and allowing the final account of her administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It Is Ordered, That said account be examined, and petition heard by this Court, on Monday, the 5th day of March, A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock a. m., at the Probate Office, in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County.

And It Is Further Ordered, That notice thereof be given to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this Order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth, in said County.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., the 7th day of February, 1906.

By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.

(Seal Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)
Duluth Eevening Herald, Feb. 8-15-22.

THE SURPLUS IS ACTUALLY THERE

But Commissioners Criticise Management of New York Life.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following report of the investigation of the insurance commissioners of five states into the affairs of the New York Life Insurance company, which will be made public in Louisville tomorrow, was given out by the Minnesota insurance department today. In the main the commissioners of Minnesota, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Tennessee will report that the figures in the last annual report of the company have been verified to the extent that the $62,000,000 surplus claimed actually exists.

The report will contain four principal criticisms against the way the company is doing business at present.

The deferred dividend plan will be condemned; the investment of too great a proportion of assets in bonds will be deprecated; greater publicity in certain features of the business will be recommended, and a more representative form of government will be advocated.

As to the deferred dividends, the objections are the same as have been ventilated in other recent investigations. With regard to the bond investments the report will point out that the company has $317,000,000 invested in securities of this nature as against only $25,000,000 on mortgage loans. The bond investments have been mostly through syndicates which have consulted their own interests before those of the company. This form of investment, the report will say, is too great a temptation to the officers of the company to make speculative loans on their own account with funds belonging to the policyholders.

As to publicity, the report will recommend that the time of the acquisition and sale of bonds be published in the annual reports and also other information of definite nature regarding the investments made by the officers of the funds of policyholders. The recommendations as to the form of government go into considerable details, with suggestions as to how it can best be accomplished.

This investigation into the affairs of the company has been jointly conducted by the five commissioners and has been in progress since Sept. 22, 1905. Nearly thirty men have been participating in it continually and twenty men have been engaged in appraising the property of the company which is found to correspond closely with the valuation placed upon it in the last annual report.

The report is a voluminous document comprising eighty printed pages and contains tables and statistical matter relating to the affairs of the company for the last ten years.

SKATING TONIGHT.

Washington's Birthday. Central Ice rink. Good ice and good music.

THE DEADLOCK IS UNBROKEN

Although Delegates at Algeciras Are in Most Hopeful Mood.

Algeciras, Feb. 22.—Although the Franco-German deadlock remains unbroken the opinion of the delegates to the Moroccan conference fluctuates as to the result, the view today being rather more hopeful that some solution is possible. This is due largely to the German attitude that an adjustment eventually will be reached. American delegates also continue confident despite the French and British pessimism. The German delegates maintain that the French concessions have not been important, as France continues to assert her special position in Morocco, whereas Germany contends for internationalization and the equality of all the powers.

Extraordinary activity prevails here. The delegates are exchanging constant visits. Some of the delegates express the view that some conciliating move will be made directly from Berlin.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED.

Man Who Ended Life at St. Louis, is E. W. Beers, Jr.

St. Louis, Feb. 22.—An investigation by the police has just disclosed that the man who yesterday committed suicide at the Colorado hotel by shooting was Charles W. Beers, Jr., of Philadelphia, an expert maker of cutting glass. Instructions were received today by telegram from his father, Charles W. Beers, living at Manitowoc, Wis., to ship the body there.

It is believed Beers took his life while suffering from chronic dyspepsia.

ROMANCE OF SOLDIER.

Story of Courtship of Lieut. Williams Who Recently Eloped.

Sparta, Wis., Feb. 22.—The elopement of Miss Vera Cheney with Lieut. T. J. Williams of Fort Snelling, Minn., at Biloxi, Miss., is a romance of army maneuvers.

Last August the artillery forces at Fort Snelling came to Sparta for several weeks in order to use the excellent artillery ranges on the McCoy property.

Lieut. Williams accompanied the troops and while here met Miss Vera.

The acquaintance progressed so favorably that he obtained leave from the fort and visited her once or twice between that time and November, when the Cheney family went to Biloxi for the winter.

Spartans heard no more of the courtship until the announcement of the wedding.

TO GIVE UP ATHLETICS.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—Track Coach A. C. Kraenzlein, holder of several world's records in hurdling, says he will give up athletics and will devote his attention to a poultry farm near New York city.

SECRECY IS OBSERVED

Insurance Men Hold Grain Sale Behind Closed Doors.

The Salvage From Peavey Elevator Fire is Disposed of.

The salvage sale of the grain which was saved from the furious fire which destroyed the giant Peavey elevator on the bay Saturday night was conducted on the floor of the board of trade this afternoon. It began at about 3 o'clock and the bidding was lively from the outset.

The action was conducted under the auspices of the several insurance adjusters who are in Duluth settling up the losses which the fire brought upon the companies. They observed the strictest secrecy and persons not directly interested in the sale were excluded from the room.

It is understood that the insurance people hoped to get as much as $100,000 for the grain but local men were very doubtful, before the sale, as to their getting so large an amount.

Nevertheless, the sale attracted many bidders, some coming from as far East as Connecticut and Massachusetts. The crowd which gathered on the floor where the business of the board of trade is usually conducted, was a large one.

Those who get the grain will get to work at once to have it removed. Men will probably be set at work to shovel the good from the badly damaged grain, and it will be placed in cars as fast as possible. Much of it will be shipped East. Some of it will be sent to distilleries, some to starch factories, and some to Western sheep ranches. Most of the flax can probably be crushed and the oil extracted.

The sale held this afternoon was merely of the grain which was saved. Practically the only other things which were not totally destroyed by the fire were the boiler room and engine house. These were damaged by the fire, but not so badly as to render them utterly worthless. This machinery, it is understood, will not be sold by the insurance men now.

Besides Messrs. H. R. Ensign, W. C. Burleigh and Otto E. Greeley, who represented the heaviest insurance interests involved, there were present at the sale today: H. C. Crandall, general adjuster; George Main of the Insurance Company of North America, Philadelphia; John F. Stafford of the London & Lancaster company, and J. Q. Haas of St. Paul.

CITY BRIEFS

Free illustrated lecture on Canadian Northwest Thursday night at 8 o'clock, at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. Everyone invited to come and learn of the wonderful resources of the country.

Smoke none but home made Union Label cigars.

Mary Saari, a domestic 22 years of age, was arrested last evening by Detectives Terry and Irvine on the charge of stealing wearing apparel from her former employer, Charles Carlson, of 5616 Columbia avenue, West Duluth.

Louis Foubar, a boilermaker, 33 years of age, was fined $10 and costs by Judge Cutting yesterday afternoon for using obscene language toward Officers Toewe and Hunter in the presence of a number of witnesses and attracting attention by this disorderly conduct.

Matt Jacobson of the Stevenson mine location, who was examined for insanity yesterday, was found to be sane and was discharged by Probate Judge Middlecoff.

The damage suit of James C. Clark against the Northern Pacific railway in United States court has been dismissed by the plaintiff. The amount sued for was $15,000 for the loss of a right arm and a part of a right foot at Garretson, Mont.

The town known as 68-22, the plat of which was received at the land office on Tuesday last, will be opened to settlement on March 27. A good many of the filings will be made at International Falls. A good many settlers are on the land now.

R. Lahann of Chicago, government tobacco inspector, was here yesterday inspecting 120 bales of tobacco, which arrived for Ron, Fernandez & Co.

The steamer which will be launched at the Superior shipyards next Wednesday will be named the Abraham Stearn. She belongs to W. A. and Arthur H. Hawgood of Cleveland.

A dance will be given by Zenith lodge No. 99, D. of H., at Maccabee hall tonight. Tickets, 25 cents.

E. G. Hamilton, who has the contract for the new brick flat building to be erected for T. Strand, at the corner of Third street and Eighth avenue west, started on the excavation work today. The flats will be modern in every respect, and were planned by Architect C. E. Nystrom of Bray & Nystrom.

All the county offices were closed today, so far as any business was concerned, on account of a legal holiday. Quite a number of persons who had apparently forgotten the date appeared at the treasurer's office to pay their personal property taxes.

Jordan Thomas, Johnson Chambers and Mary Chambers, three colored people, were arrested last evening on the charge of creating a disturbance on Superior street. They pleaded not guilty in municipal court this morning, and the cases were set over until tomorrow afternoon.

All offices in the city hall are closed today in honor of the anniversary of Washington's birthday.

Maud Robbins, a girl about 16 years of age, was arrested this afternoon on the charge of incorrigibility. It is claimed by the probation officer that she refuses to remain home at night, and that her parents have no control over her. She will be taken before the juvenile court tomorrow.

PERSONALS

Miss A. Cargill leaves today for New York to select the spring millinery for Freimuth's millinery department.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Salvus of St. Paul are in the city today. Mr. Salvus is cashier of the Fairbanks-Morse company in St. Paul.

Frank Powers of Valley City, N. D., is registered at the Lenox.

W. E. Tubbs of River Falls, is at the Lenox.

J. H. Nordby of Two Harbors is a guest at the Spalding.

Mrs. D. M. Maxey of Washburn, Wis., is a guest at the Spalding.

J. K. Barnes of Des Moines, Iowa, is a guest at the St. Louis.

George Jones of Regina, Can., is at the St. Louis.

F. P. Mason of Biwabik, Minn., is registered at the Lenox.

POSTMASTERS NAMED.

R. J. Rowden for Bessemer, Mich., and C. Scheers for Akley, Minn.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate: Postmaster: Michigan —R. J. Rawden, Bessemer; D. B. Menery, Coleman; H. B. Laing, Gladstone. Minnesota—C. Scheers, Akeley; L. O'Brien, Preston. Wisconsin—E. Cleary, Antigo; C. Kinsport, Jefferson; Nels Nelson, Washburn.

The Use of Malt Extract in Food

Cooked Wheat Treated With It and Then Baked Crisp and Brown Is Nutritious and Delicious.

Remarkable results are secured by treating whole wheat with malt extract, as is illustrated by that widely known food product, Malta-Vita, sometimes called "The Perfect Food."

In the preparation of Malta-Vita we have these two factors—(a) the whole wheat, steamed and cooked in absolute cleanliness and containing every food element necessary to the sustenance of the human body, (b) pure malt extract containing all the nutrition of best selected barley in a readily digestible form, so nutritious and strengthening that doctors everywhere recommend it.

The malt extract, mixed with the cooked wheat, converts the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar, an active digestive agent. The result is a perfect food, rich in all the nutrition that builds up bone and blood, brain and muscle, healthy tissue and nerve force.

And Malta-Vita is good to eat. There's nothing like it, nothing that can take its place. After being mixed with the malt, the wheat is rolled into wafer-like flakes,—every grain a little flake—and then baked in great, clean ovens under most intense heat. From the ovens Malta-Vita comes crisp and brown, "done to a turn," the most delicious, the most healthful food in the world. All grocers. 10 cents.

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—Maj. A. G. Hammond of the Third United States cavalry, died at the general hospital at Presidio Tuesday evening, after an illness of more than four months. The remains will be sent to Quincy, Ill., for interment. Maj. Hammond was born in Hartford, Conn., May 26, 1857. He graduated from the military academy in 1881.

Chapman, Kan., Feb. 22.—Rev. Father J. F. Leary, chaplain-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, died here last night after a long illness, aged 61 years. He was born at Ogdensburg, N. Y.

J. M. GIDDING & CO. J. M. GIDDING & CO.

Tomorrow Special Sale of Long Coat Suits!

FINAL CLEARANCE ON LONG COAT SUITS

We have about twenty Suits left from our season's business—including Cheviot, Broadcloths, Velour and mannish mixtures—which we will place on sale tomorrow at—

Long Coat Suits

$14.85 Best of models and finest tailoring—in black, blue, wine and gray—formerly sold from $32.50 to $59.50—at $14.85.

Eton Suits

$5.95 We will also place on sale one lot of odd suits—short jacket and Eton effects—in coverts, cheviots, sicilian and mixtures —formerly sold up to $29.50—at $5.95.

Evening Coats

$19.50 One lot of Evening coats —of fine Broadcloths— tan, gray, black and red —formerly sold up to $69.50—to close out—$19.50.

J. M. GIDDING & CO.,

Superior Street and First Avenue West.

Men's Neckwear

for spring. Neat pin dots, checks, stripes, and plain colors are more popular than ever. Once in awhile, there appears a striking novelty in diagonal stripes, but toned down considerably by the soft shades in the background. One marvels at the changes effected in the designs, which seem at first to be slight, but on examination prove entirey different. The color schemes are much elaborated, all the delicate tints being employed to good advantage. Four-in-hands and Club Ties at 50 cents are unusually fine in quality.

A. B. Siewert & Co.

Fine Hats and Men's Furnishings. 304 W. Superior St.

ARRESTED HERE.

Woodsman Claimed to Have Robbed Companion in Lumber Camp.

On information furnished from lumber camp No. 3 of the Twohy-Kileen Lumber company, on the Cloquet river, Kasimir Dirlders, an Austrian, was arrested this afternoon on a charge of grand larceny.

It is claimed that Dirlders stole about $80 from one of his fellow-workmen in the camp. The police have no details of the affair, but are awaiting the arrival of witnesses from the camp.

AMERICAN SAILORS VISIT THE POPE.

Rome, Feb. 22.—A detachment of fifty sailors from the American cruiser squadron now at Naples, arrived here today accompanied by Captain Theodore H. Lowe, of the Brooklyn; Chaplain George L. Bayard, Dr. James L. Belknap, Lieutenant-Commander Frederic C. Bowers and Ensigns Lewis S. Cox, Jr., and John J. Fitzpatrick. The Americans, who spent the morning in sightseeing, will all be received by the pope this afternoon.

FIRE IS RAGING AT DAWSON, MINN.

Dawson, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire raging destroys thirteen buildings and not yet under control. Estimated loss (2 p. m.) $75,000.

OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

New York—Arrived: Furnessia, Glasgow.

Columbus, O.

Use the Erie Railroad Short Line—the popular route—two through trains daily. Apply to E. R. Porch, traveling passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Publicity will always help a legitimate business, just as sunshine will make plants grow.

Too Late to Classify

Hair Dressing, Shampooing, Scalp Treatments, Facial Massage, Manicuring and Children's Hair Cutting at Miss Horrigan's

WANTED—SPECIAL BOY TO RUN errands after school and Saturdays. Apply to J. M. Gidding & Co.

DEATHS.

OLSON—Swan Olson, aged 25 years, died Feb. 21, at 1907 West First street. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from C. O. Nelson's undertaking rooms.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

QUIT "TRUSTING IN LOCATION," HERALD PUBLICITY WILL SELL GOODS IN A BARN!

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SHOPPING BY TELEPHONE.

	Old Phone.	New Phone.
MEAT MARKETS—
B. J. Toben	22	22
Mork Bros.	677-M	189
LAUNDRIES—
Yale Laundry	479	479
Lutes' Laundry	447	447
DRUGGISTS—
Boyce	163	163
Smith & Smith	344-M	7
COAL AND FUEL—
Ohio Fuel Co.	76	76
Finch Fuel Co.	1291	1291
Upham Coal Co.	256	488
FLORISTS—
Seekins & Le Borlous	1256	1626
BAKERIES—
The Bon Ton		1166
ELECTRIC CONTRACTING—
Mutual Electric Co.	496	496
RUBBER STAMP WORKS—
Con. Stamp & Print Co.	702-K	755
PLUMBING AND HEATING—
McGurrin Plumbing & Heating Co.	815	983
STOVE REPAIR WORKS—
C. F. Wiggerts & Son	1154-K	554

$1800

For fifty feet on East Second street, excellent location for home or flats. This is a snap; better look it up.

C. H. GRAVES & CO
Real Estate—Loans—Insurance
First Floor, Torrey Bldg.

TO EXCHANGE.

TO EXCHANGE—FINE, NEW UPright piano, standard make, for horse and buggy. Merchant tailoring, groceries, meats, plumbing, carpeting, or anything I can use. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

MARTIN L. McMINN,
Real Estate, Timber, Farm Lands.
314 Burrows Building.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE; ASsessments paid; $2,000. 1123 East Fifth street.

PERSONAL.

PURE, SAFE AND SURE!
Dr. Roger's Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills. A test of forty years in France has proved them to positively cure SUPPRESSION OF THE MENSES. Special Price reduced to $1.00 per box. Mailed in plain wrapper. Imported direct from Paris, France, by W. A. ABBETT, Druggist, Duluth, Minn., 201 West Superior street.

SPANISH TAUGHT. 519 EAST FIFTH street.

FOR RENT — FINE PIANO, VERY reasonable terms to right party. 702 West Second street.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

FOR SALE—MEAT MARKET WITH good business and good location. Inquire G 33, Herald.

UPHOLSTERING.

TELEPHONE YOUR UPHOLSTERING wants to Cameron. He will call at your residence with a complete assortment of coverings and estimate your work. Zenith 'phone 787. Bell, 325-L.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. HANSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, female complaints. 413 Seventh avenue east. Old 'phone, 1594; Zenith, 1225.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage which was duly executed and delivered by John McLean, a widower, mortgagor, to The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, a body politic and corporate by the laws of the State of New Jersey, located at Newark, New Jersey, mortgagee, dated January first (1st), 1891, and which was duly recorded in the the register of deeds' office for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on January twenty-seventh (27th), 1891, at eight (8) o'clock A. M., in Book fifty (50) of mortgages, on page five hundred eighty-five (585); such default consisting in the nonpayment of the principal sum thereby secured, with interest thereon, at six per cent per annum from July 1st, 1905, and exchange, all of which became due on January 1st, 1906, and no part of which has ever been paid;

And whereas, there is therefore claimed to be due, and there is actually due, upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of eighteen thousand six hundred forty-two and 52-100 ($18,642.52) dollars, principal, interest and exchange;

And whereas, said mortgage contains a power of sale in due form which has become operative by reason of the defaults above mentioned, and no action or proceeding, at law or otherwise, has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of said power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described therein, situate in St. Louis County, Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: The Northerly one hundred twenty (120) feet of lots numbered fourteen (14) and sixteen (16), West Second Street (W. 2nd St.), Duluth Proper, First (1st) Division, according to the recorded plat thereof on file of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said St. Louis County; which premises will be sold by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the twenty-fourth (24th) day of March, A. D. 1906, at ten (10) o'clock A. M., at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and two hundred dollars attorneys' fee, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated, February 2nd, 1906.
THE MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Newark, New Jersey, Mortgagee.
SULLIVAN & GRANT,
Attorneys for Mortgagee.
D. E. H.—Feb. 8-15-22; March 1-8-15.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

REAL ESTATE, FIRE INSURANCE AND RENTAL AGENCIES.

Wm. Prindle Co., Lonsdale building.
John A. Stephenson, Wolvin building.
Chas. P. Craig & Co., 220 W. Sup. St.
L. A. Larson & Co., 102 Providence. 'Phones 253.

FOR RENT—ROOMS.

SMALL FURNISHED ROOM FOR rent. 208 West Third street.

FOR RENT — NICELY FURNISHED room. 221 Fifth avenue west.

FOR RENT—FRONT, COZY ROOM. 225 Lake avenue north.

FOR RENT—PLEASANT FURNISHED room, electric light, bath, heat; $6 per month. 456 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT—SUITE STEAM HEATED rooms, furnished. 16 Second avenue west.

FOR RENT—SIX ROOMS AT 108 EAST Second street.

FURNISHED ROOMS—HEATED. $1.25 per week. 231 East Superior street.

FURNISHED ROOM, SUITABLE FOR two young ladies, at 631 West First street.

FOR RENT — MODERN FURNISHED room. 204 East Third street.

FOR RENT—TWO FURNISHED ROOMS for light housekeeping. 307 West Fifth street.

FOR RENT—NEATLY FURNISHED front room. 19 First avenue west.

FURNISHED ROOM, NO. 2 MASON flats.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM. 528 West Second street.

FOR RENT—FLATS.

FOR RENT — FOUR-ROOM FURnished flat; water and electric light. 3 West Fourth street.

FOUR-ROOM BASEMENT FLAT; REpairs to suit tenant. 220 West Fourth street.

FOR RENT—FIVE-ROOM FLAT, BATH and all conveniences. 115 Seventh avenue west. $22. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT — THREE-ROOM FLAT, water, light and sewer; rent $15 per month. C. H. Graves & Co., first floor, Torrey building.

FOR RENT—STORE BUILDING, FLAT and barn; fine location for saloon; first-class repair. Thomas W. Wahl & Co., 201 Exchange building.

FOR RENT—HOUSES.

FOR RENT—6-ROOM HOUSE, $18 PER month. Call 329 East Sixth street.

FOR RENT — DETACHED HOUSE, eight rooms, furnace heat, bath, gas. Apply on premises, 920 East Second street.

FOR SALE—HOUSE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE, water, bath, electric light. 515 East Sixth street; call 615½ East Sixth street.

FOR RENT—NINE-ROOM HOUSE, HOT water heat; all conveniences. 702 West Second street, $35. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM DWELLing, 102 South Sixteenth avenue east; possession March 1. Telephone 1135-R rtent, $32.50.

FOR RENT — NINE-ROOM HOUSE, Park Terrace, Eighth avenue west and First street; strictly modern; steam heat included. Apply 205 Lyceum building.

HORSES FOR SALE.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION. GREAT horse auction sales every Wednesday. Remember that every horse sold at auction must be just as represented or money cheerfully refunded. From 500 to 1,000 head of horses and mules offered at auction every Wednesday. Private sales daily.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN.
Great Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul, Minn.
Take Interurban street cars from either city.

FOR SALE—SHETLAND PONY, CART and harness. $150 for the outfit. C. J. Eller, Proctor.

FOR SALE—GOOD TEAM OF HORSES, weight 1,300, with sleighs and harness, $175. Address M 88, Herald.

RECEIVED — TWO CARLOADS OF logging horses; prices lowest. L. Hammel company.

FOR SALE—YOUNG GREY MARE; 5 years old; weight 1,450; will work single or double; also good delivery horse, weight 1,300. 1219 East Seventh street.

PRIVATE SALES DAILY.
A large assortment to select from, good horses at right prices.
BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN,
Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN
Have the largest assortment of horses in the entire Northwest. Auction every Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Private sales daily. Part time given.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

DR. BURNETT—Top floor Burrows Bldg.

MORRISON'S TAILORING.

YOU CAN HAVE A GOOD SUBSTANtial, stylish suit made at Morrison's for less than you can get the same quality for anywhere. Come and see. D. M. Morrison, 8 Lake avenue south.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HERALD WANTS BRING QUICK RESULTS

Don't Delay— Send your Want Ad in Early for the Saturday Herald—

If pressed for time just go to the phone and tell it to 324— Bell or Zenith.

LOAN OFFICES.

WE LOAN MONEY ON WATCHES, diamonds and all articles of value. Established the longest. The most reliable up-to-date place in the city. All business strictly confidential. Fire and burglar-proof safes. Crescent Brokers, 413½ West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY LOANED ON FURNIture, pianos, cattle, horses, wagons and all kinds of personal property; also to salaried people on their own notes. Easy payments.
WESTERN LOAN COMPANY,
531 Manhattan Building.
New 'phone, 995. Old phone, 759-R.

NOTICE!
SALARY LOANS
AND
FURNITURE LOANS
ON EASY TERMS.
Everything confidential.
DULUTH FINANCE COMPANY,
301 Palladio.

MONEY TO LOAN ON WATCHES, diamonds, furs and all goods of value, from $1.00 to $1,000. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street. Look for electric sign. Established 1887.

MONEY TO LOAN ON RIFLES AND shotguns. We keep all guns until next season before they are sold. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN, ANY AMOUNT. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange building.

UNION LOAN CO. makes loans, buys notes and mortgages. 210 Palladio.

MONEY SUPPLIED TO SALARIED people and others upon their own notes, without security, easy payments. Offices in fifty-one cities. Tolman, 609 Palladio building.

TO LOAN—$300.00 ON IMPROVED property. Address M 72, Herald.

TO LOAN $3,000 ON IMPROVED PROperty. Address M. 72, Herald.

FOR SALE—COWS.

S. M. KANER HAS FRESH MILCH cows for sale. 1219 East Seventh street. Zenith 1387.

BOARD AND ROOM WANTED.

WANTED—BOARD AND ROOM AT once by professional man and wife. Private family preferred. State full particulars. G 31, Herald.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE—CORRECT MAPS OF CUYuna iron range. Morrison, 416 Torrey building.

PONY SLEIGH—AT A BARGAIN. ADdress M 92, Herald.

FOR SALE—ONE 2½-H. P., ONE 4-H. P., one 12-H. P., one 24-H. P., and one 28-H. P., second-hand marine gasoline engines, with complete equipment; also several stationary engines. Enterprise Machine company, Minneapolis, Minn.

"SHAKESPEARE" STOCK BOUGHT and sold. Morrison, 416 Torrey Bldg.

FOR SALE—I HAVE SEVERAL ORgans for sale that cost from $100 to $200. Must be sold at once. Prices $15 to $60. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

UPRIGHT PIANO, $150; COST $325; USED four months. 14 First avenue west. Flat 2.

HOUSE FOR SALE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR SALE—GRAND 1,350 FAMILY horse; safe for ladies; 7 years old; 4 minute gait. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—SECOND-HAND 8¾ BY 10 double cylinder, double drum, Lidgerwood hoisting engine. Clyde iron works.

FOR SALE—BOX COUCH, UPHOLstered chair and draperies. Mrs. Reed, room 1, 4 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—THE CELEBRATED ADAM Schaaf piano, awarded world's fair medal. Established 1853; 10-year guarantee. Best piano on earth for the money; only at Lundberg's, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—A FEW BARRED PLYmouth Rock pullets; vigorous, hardy stock; splendid layers; prices $1.25 to $2 each. Address Frank Chigston, 501 Ninth street west. Zenith 'phone.

GOOD, SECOND-HAND SAFE. Address 1425 West Michigan street. Zenith 'phone 1040X.

FOR SALE—MY RESIDENCE, 4302 GILbatt street, Lakeside, and house and lot 2016 East Second street. Both great bargains. W. R. Eichman.

FOR SALE — KITCHEN CABINET, gas range and other household furniture. Address W. R. B., Herald.

FOR SALE—LEASE OF FOURTEEN-room rooming house, and furniture of seven bedrooms; must be cash. Parties leaving city. M 85, Herald.

FOR SALE—A FEW GOOD SECOND-hand ranges. City Stove Repair Works. 331 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

FOR SALE—SMALL-SIZE DRESS COAT and vest, in first-class condition; a bargain. Address N. T. C., Herald.

THE GOPHER SHOE REPAIR WORKS does it while you wait.

WATCH REPAIRING.

WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING done promptly and in a thorough manner. J. Gruesen, 129 West Superior St.

COMPOUND and VAPOR BATHS.

WE CURE COLDS, RHEUMATISM, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, gout and all blood poisons, give magnetic compound vapor baths. No. 16 E. Sup. St. Mr. and Mrs. A. Ecker, proprietors.

Watch Repairing and Engraving.

W. S. W. BLAKE, WATCHMAKER, Kugler's drug store, 108 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn. Formerly with F. D. Day & Co.

PATENT ATTORNEYS.

INVENTORS, ATTENTION!—PATENTS in all countries promptly obtained, sold, leased, manufactured; models made; twenty-five years established; unexcelled reputation; inventors' book free. Address Patent Market, St. Paul, Minn.

SATIN TOILET SPECIALTIES.

Satin skin powder being best made, it's best for you. Flesh, white, pink, brunet.

TENTS AND AWNINGS.

POIRIER & CO., 106 East Superior street.

CLEANING AND REPAIRING.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE; BEST OF workmanship. Suits pressed, 50c; pants, 15c. 118 First avenue west. Old 'phone 1430-L.

PALMIST.

CONSULT GIRARD, MATTERS OF business and domestic affairs. Parlors next to Bijou.

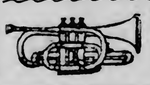

CREMONEA VIOLIN MAKER.

RARE AND OLD VIOLINS REPAIRED; modern violins regraduated so they will improve with age. I develop the fullest tone capacity of every violin submitted. Forty years' experience. Satisfaction guaranteed. P. Lambert, 124 E. 4th St.

UPHOLSTERING and REPAIRING

ED OTT. No. 6 W. First St. Both 'phones.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

MUSIC and musical merchandise of every description. Edison phonographs, band and orchestra instruments, pianos and organs. INGVALD WESTGAARD, 7 and 9 First Avenue West.

Looking for a Warm and Well Furnished Room? They're surely not ALL occupied! A Herald Want Ad promptly puts you in touch with plenty of desirable "one-room homes."

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—MEN TO LEARN BARBER trade. Now is the time to prepare for the "busy season." Write for "free" Ill. catalog. Moler Barber Col., Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED — CANTHOOK MEN, UNloading logs; steady work for good men. Apply at foot of L avenue, Superior, near Murray-McCann mill. Edw. Hines Lumber company.

WANTED—FOR THE UNITED STATES marine corps, unmarried men between the ages of 21 and 35, able-bodied, of good character and temperate habits, citizens of the United States, or who legally declare their intention to become such; must speak, read and write English; marines serve at sea, on men-of-war, in all parts of the world, on land in our island possessions and at navy yards in the United States. Recruits desiring service in the Philippine Islands may be enlisted accordingly. Apply at 5 South Fifth avenue west Duluth.

WANTED—BAR PORTER AT THE Spalding hotel.

JOB COMPOSITORS—SIX. $18 PER week, 54 hours. Linotype operator, scale. Permanencies absolutely guaranteed competents. A. B. Farnham Printing Co., Minneapolis.

WANTED—500 BUSINESS MEN TO EAT at the Chicago Lunch. 311 West Superior street.

WANTED — MAN TO MILK, AT Eighteenth avenue and Fifteenth street east. Le Hrutfiord.

WANTED—MAN TO DELIVER MILK and do general work on dairy farm. R. Hodgson, Fifty-fourth avenue east.

MEN WANTED—TO SMOKE NONE but home-made union label cigars, thereby assisting in the upbuilding of our city.

MEN WANTED TO COME TO US IF you are suffering from any disease peculiar to your sex. We cure Varicocele, Syphilis, Stricture, Gonorrhoea, Bladder and Kidney diseases, Lost Vitality and all pelvic troubles. Established in Duluth. We cure to stay cured, and you can take our opinion as final. If your case is curable, we will cure you. Progressive Medical association, No. 1 West Superior St., upstairs.

WANTED — MAN HOLDING SECOND engineer's papers; steady job for steady sober man; work easy; good pay. E. W. Dibbell, Supt., Bay View power house.

WANTED—MAN OVER 21 TO TRAVEL for wholesale house; staple line; $15 per week and expenses to start; experience unnecessary; advancement. Address with stamped envelope, F. W. Potts, Sykes block, Minneapolis.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN OF 18 OR 20 years to learn the jewelry business; one who resides at home. Address, own handwriting, R 201, Herald.

WANTED — APRIL 1, MARRIED MAN as farm tenant, twenty miles from Duluth. For particulars address Box 35, Wrenshall, Minn.

WANTED — YOUNG MAN EXPERIenced in paint line as salesman and office man. Apply at once, giving references. Address S 9, Herald.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

WANTED — POSITION AS CLERK, have had fifteen years' experience in general store. Can furnish A1 references. G 90, Herald.

EXPERT BOOKKEEPER WILL INstall specially economical system of accounting and do the work evenings or Sunday at low rate. Address M 78, Herald.

WANTED—POSITION AS SALESMAN by young man, well educated, five years' experience in business; speaks Finnish. G 74, Herald.

YOUNG MAN DESIRES POSITION AS assistant bookkeeper, can furnish best of references and is a good penman. M 87, Herald.

DR. KASSMIR'S TURKISH BATHS

POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM at our sanitarium. We have every modern facility for curing rheumatism, colds, la grippe. Our terms are from $10 to $15 per week. One week's treatment convinces you that our system is right. Examination and consultation free.
DR. M. Z. KASSMIR,
26 West Superior Street.
Ladies' baths upstairs. Look for the big electric sign.

ACCOUNTANTS.

BOOKS CORRECTLY WRITTEN UP and audited by thoroughly qualified expert accountant. Auditor, Herald.

MILLINERY.

Miss Fitzpatrick, 504 E. 4. Old 'phone.

M. A. COX, 330 EAST FOURTH STREET.

PICTURE FRAMING.

DECKER'S, 16 SECOND AVENUE W.

MUSICAL.

Piano lessons at your home by competent teacher. Latest and best methods. 25c a lesson. Address V 35, Herald.

WANTED—TO BUY.

DELIVERY HORSE, ABOUT 1,100 pounds. 1504 East Superior street.

WANTED — SECOND-HAND CHURN drill and full outfit; state condition and price. Address room 6, Dodge block.

WANTED TO BUY—RESIDENCE LOT at West end about $400 to $600. Address M 75, Herald.

A LIGHT ONE-HORSE DELIVERY wagon. Must be in good condition. 32 East Second street.

WANTED TO BUY—A GOOD HORSE about 1,400 to 1,500 weight. Address H. I. S., Herald.

STANDING TIMBER IN MINNESOTA. Address V 9, Herald.

OLD CLOTHES BOUGHT.

G. SHAPIRO, 721 W. SUP. ST., BUYS and sells old clothes. Zenith 1582-X.

BIRTHMARKS REMOVED.

MANICURING, FACE AND SCALP treatments. Miss Kelly, opp. Glass Blk.

STOVE REPAIRS.

DULUTH STOVE REPAIR WORKS, 217 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

STENOGRAPHY.

GRACE BARNET, FIRST NAT. BLDG.

E. MAUNU, 330 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—A COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. Apply Mrs. J. C. Adams, 1528 Ogden avenue, Superior, Wis.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Mrs. H. V. Eva, Hunter's Park.

WANTED — EVERY WOMAN TO TRY Dr. Le Gran's Female Regulator. Guaranteed. Kugler, Your Druggist, 108 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1001 East Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework in house of modern conveniences. 2721 West Second street.

WANTED—NURSE. ADDRESS O. P., Herald.

WANTED—COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. 826 East Second street.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework; family of two. 1203 East Second street.

WANTED—NURSE GIRL, AT 414 EAST Third street.

WANTED — DISHWASHER AND scrub woman. Metropole hotel.

WANTED — GOOD GIRL FOR GENeral housework. Call 2306 West Third street.

WANTED — EXPERIENCED SHIRT machine girl. 16 South Fifty-seventh avenue west.

WANTED — KITCHEN GIRL. 2532 West Superior street.

WANTED—DININGROOM GIRL AT Ohio Cafe. 617 West Superior street.

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK. 2319 East First street.

WANTED — KITCHEN GIRL. 2004 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1509 Jefferson street.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. 1201 East Third St.

WANTED — A GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 316 Fifth avenue east.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL. APply 2415 West Fourth street.

WANTED—YOUNG GIRL FOR LIGHT housekeeping. 206 West Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 613 East First street.

WANTED—COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework, two in family. Apply No. 1 Adams Flats.

WANTED — AT ONCE, COMPETENT waist and sleeve drapers and waist finishers, also plain sewers. Miss Lambert, 220 West Superior street.

WANTED — KITCHEN GIRL AT 2004 West Superior street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

WASHING TO TAKE HOME OR CURtains to do up. 421 East Fourth street.

LADY WANTS POSITION AS HOUSEkeeper; one capable of taking care of furnished rooms. G 63, Herald.

WOMAN WANTS A PLACE TO DO laundry work Mondays and Tuesdays; best of references. Address G 64, Herald.

WANTED — POSITION AS HOUSEkeeper, by middle-aged woman G 29, Herald.

BOARD OFFERED.

BOARD AND ROOM AT THE BAY View, 801 East Third street. 'Phone 1416-L.

LARGE, FRONT ROOM WITH BOARD for two gentlemen in private family. 130 West Third street.

BOARD AND NICELY FURNISHED rooms. 122 East First street.

BOARD AND ROOM, 117 E. THIRD ST.

FOR RENT—STORES.

FOR RENT—STORE, 411 EAST FOURTH street. Metter Cigar company.

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM, 121 SECond avenue west. Apply E. R. Jefferson.

DYE WORKS.

DULUTH DYE WORKS, 3 W. SUP. ST., 2023 W. Sup. St. Old, 1341-L; Zenith, 1334.

ZENITH CITY DYE WORKS, LARGEST and most reliable dye works in Duluth. First-class work guaranteed. Work called for and delivered. Both 'phones. 6 East Superior street.

CHEMIST AND ASSAYER.

C. F. JOYCE, 631 MANHATTAN BLDG. Old 'phone 1614.

COD LIVER OIL.

1905 IMPORT COD LIVER OIL. Alfred Swedberg, 2015 West Superior St.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. A. FERGUSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, 617 Fifth avenue east. Also private hospital. Old 'phone 434-L.

CIVIL ENGINEER.

DULUTH ENGINEERING CO.—W. B. Patton, Mgr., 613 Palladio Bldg. Specifications prepared and construction superintended for waterworks, sewers, etc.

FIRE INSURANCE

WRITTEN IN BEST COMPANIES. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange Bldg.

IF YOU WILL BRING

Suit to 10 Fourth avenue west, we press it for 50c; pants, 15c. J. Oreckovsky.

CLOTHES WRINGERS REPAIR'D

RUBBER ROLLS REPLACED, AND extra parts of all makes of wringers; also we sell best high-grade wringers, washing machines, etc. Special agents for American Wringer company. Interstate Mercantile company, No. 231 East Superior street.

MEDICAL.

FOR WOMEN ONLY—DR. RAYMOND'S Pills. Women's Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to thousands of anxious women; no pain, no danger. We have never known of a single failure. Price $2 by mail. Raymond's Monthly Regulator in liquid, $3. Dr. R. G. Raymond Remedy company, Room 27, 84 Adams street, Chicago, Ill.

CARPET SWEEPERS REPAIRED

CARPET SWEEPERS REPAIRED. Duluth Carpet Sweeper Repair Co., 123 W. 1st st. New 'phone 1578-D.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SECRET SOCIETIES.

MASONIC.

PALESTINE LODGE, NO. 79, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings, first and third Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting March 5th, 1906. Work, First degree, Charles A. Bronson, W. M.; H. Nesbitt, secretary.

IONIC LODGE, NO. 186, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings second and fourth Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 26, 1906. Work—Third degree. John Cox, W. M.; H. S. Newell, secretary.

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, NO. 20, R. A. M. Stated convocations second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 28, 1906. Charles A. Payne, H. P.; Alfred Le Richeux, secretary.

DULUTH COMMANDERY, NO. 18, K. T. —Stated conclave, first Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m. Stated conclave 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 6th. General business, election of officers, Masonic Temple. C. W. Wilson, Em. Com.; Alfred LeRicheaux, recorder.

SCOTTISH RITE.
Regular meetings every Thursday evening of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Thursday, Feb. 22, 1906. Work—Eighteenth degree. J. E. Cooley, secretary.

SUCLID LODGE, NO. 198, A. F. & A. M. —Regular meetings first and third Wednesday evenings of each month at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 21. Work—Second degree. W. J. Darby, W. M.; A. Dunleavy, secretary.

K. O. T. M.
DULUTH TENT, NO. 1, MEETS EVERY Wednesday, in K. O. T. M. hall, 224 West First street. Visiting Sir Knights always welcome. J. P. Peterson, commander; Charles J. Hector, finance keeper, 32 West First street. J. B. Gelineau, record keeper, office in hall. For rent of hall apply at record keeper's office. Hours, 10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and Saturday evenings.

MODERN SAMARITANS.
ALPHA COUNCIL, NO. 1, meets at Elks' hall every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 22. Samaritan Degree. T. J. McKeon, G. S.; Lucy Purdy, L. G. S.; Wallace P. Wellbanks, scribe; T. A. Gall, financial scribe.

A. O. U. W.
FIDELITY LODGE, NO. 105, meets at new Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. J. Patshkowski, M. W.; W. W. Fenstermacher, recorder; O. J. Murvold, financier, 217 East Fifth street.

A. O. U. W.
DULUTH LODGE, NO. 10, eets in Odd Fellows' hall every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. William J. Stephens, W. M.; T. J. St. Germain, 110 First avenue west, financier; H. B. Ivens, recorder. Sick benefit meets at 7:30 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.
NORTH STAR LODGE, K. of P., No. 35, meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Work—3rd rank, Feb. 20, at 118 West Superior street. J. A. Wharton, C. C.; T. L. Foss, K. R. S.

I. O. F.
COURT COMMERCE, NO. 3283, Independent Order of Foresters, meets first and Third Friday evenings at 8 o'clock at Rowley's hall, No. 112 West First street. Next regular meeting March 2, 1906—Initiation. F. A. Tupper, C. R.; W. W. Hoopes, R. S.

FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES.
DULUTH AERIE, NO. 79, MEETS every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Eagle hall, Folz building, 116 West Superior street. J. W. Parker, W. P.; J. W. Schroeder, secretary, 11 First avenue east. Apply to W. E. Brown, 417 West Superior street, for rental of hall.

M. W. A.
IMPERIAL CAMP, NO. 2206, meets at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, second and fourth Tuesdays. Visiting members always welcome. S. F. Staples, V. C.; N. P. Turnbladh, banker; R. Rankin, clerk, 1322 Jefferson street.

CLAN SRTEWART, NO. 50, O. S. C., meets first and third Wednesdays of each month at 8 p. m. in Folz hall, West Superior street. John G. Ross, chief; Malcolm MacDonald, secretary; John Burnett, financial secretary, 10 Mason flats. Next meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 21.

ROYAL LEAGUE.
ZENITH COUNCIL, NO. 161, Royal league, meets in Elks' hall first and third Monday evenings at 8 o'clock. George L. Hargreaves, archeon; L. P. Murray, scribe, 1815 East Fifth street.

KNIGHTS OF THE LOYAL GUARD—Suburban division, No. 132, meets first and third Wednesday evenings of each month, Hall A, Kalamazoo block. E. F. Heller, captain general; H. V. Holmes, paymaster, 415 Fifteenth avenue east; Mrs. Mary P. Foster, recorder, 729 Third avenue east.

MODERN MACCABEES—ZENITH CITY Tent, No. 1044, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. Commander, Charles E. Norman; record keeper and finance keeper, A. G. Case, care Union depot, after 1 p. m., residence, 412 West Fourth street.

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF STEAM Engineers—Local union, No. 15, meets first and third Thursday evenings, third floor, Room 2, Axa building. President, John E. Gogins; vice president, O. C. Hanson; financial secretary, E. V. Robinson; recording secretary, I. W. Gilleland; treasurer, C. J. Wendt; conductor, Andrew Wold; guard, William Beatty.

U. O. F.
COURT EASTERN STAR, NO. 86, United Order of Foresters, meets the first and third Tuesday of every month at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street. Visiting brothers and sisters always welcome. Next meeting Feb. 20, social dance. J. B. Gelineau, C. R.; 224 Ninth avenue east; Harry Milnes, treasurer. Office at hall.

ARCHITECTS.

FRANK L. YOUNG & CO., 202 Pal. Bldg.

18 PAGES

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

18 PAGES

TWENTY-THIRD YEAR. LAST EDITION. FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1906. (ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS.) TWO CENTS.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

THE BOYCOTT AGAINST THE UNITED STATES IS JUSTIFIED BY WU TING

Eminent Statesman Says the Measure is Purely Retaliatory.

Chinese Have Been Sorely Discriminated Against in America.

Rumors of Anti-Foreign Feeling Are Greatly Exaggerated.

Pekin, Feb. 23.—Wu Ting Fang, former minister to the United States, when interviewed for the first time today on the existing situation in China, spoke in support of the boycott.

Wu Ting Fang is now living quietly in Pekin, devoting his time to codifying the laws of China, one of the numerous reforms under way. He suffered for a long time from deafness, from the effects of the explosion of the bomb near him at the railway station, last September, but has now recovered. Speaking of present conditions, Wu Ting Fang said:

"China is at a crisis, and is passing through a transition stage. Her statesmen and people feel that China needs reform, but there are great differences of opinion regarding the means. There are several classes of reformers. There are those who speak foreign languages, and who have ben abroad and who have had experience on both sides of the question.

"They favor sensible and useful reforms, but not too radical, so as to make China first able to stand upon her own feet. The number of these sensible reformers is few. I am one of them.

"The ruling classes also know that something should be done, but they are at their wits ends to know what to do.

"The third class is composed of young students, who are too rash. They need training and experience.

"Financial reforms should be carried out in the first place, but without foreign advice and capital it would be impossible to do so under present conditions.

"I was working out a scheme which had to be abandoned because it was necessary to call on foreign advice. The new coinage is a stop gap.

"One thing upon which the majority of Chinese are agreed is that China has been deprived of many rights by concessions and territorial grants and by the way her people have been treated by foreigners in China and foreign countries.

"Many Chinese who have gone abroad to America, Australia and the Philippines write home complaining of arbitrary discriminations made against the Chinese which dare not be attempted against other foreigners. Therefore, everyone is angry and hence the boycott of American goods, illustrating the feeling against the unjust exclusion laws. It has spread over all China and is solely in retaliation against unjust discrimination and is not anti-foreign. The Chinese people and officials are on good terms with all foreigners and have no hostile feelings towards them. The Chinese merchants have the best feeling towards foreign merchants.

"The majority of the people in the interior are indifferent to all foreigners traveling in the interior who write that they are well treated with no signs of hostility against them.

"These rumors of anti-foreign feeling are not well founded. Sensible men advise boycotters and agitators to be reasonable and only to boycott goods and not to treat persons unkindly but to continue their friendship as before.

"Unfortunately disturbances in several places are now arising from the boycott, but this is no sign of an outbreak against foreigners."

APPLICATION WAS PROPERLY FILED

Whitehouse Claim Against Egyptian Government is Authenticated.

Washington, Feb. 23.—In connection with the inquiry now being made by the senate committee on foreign relations into the merits of the Cove Whitehouse claim against the Egyptian government to a vast tract of land in the desert region of that country, the department of state recently addressed an inquiry to the Egyptian government to determine the accuracy of the claimant's contention that he had made application under the forms of Egyptian law for the lands in question. A reply has just been received through American Consul General Iddings, at Cairo, enclosing a letter from the Egyptian minister of foreign affairs, Boutros Pasha, establishing the fact that the Whitehouse application was made in due form. Mr. Iddings has been instructed further by cable to forward to the state department complete copies of the papers relative to the case on file in Egypt.

MORE MONEY FOR DEFENSE.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 23.—Five thousand dollars have been appropriated by the Millmen's union for the defense of Charles F. Moyer, Haywood, Pettibone and Orchard, who are suspected of the murder of Governor Steunenberg of Idaho.

MURDERER IS LOCATED

Detectives on Track of Alleged Slayer of John Stinson.

Known to Have Bonds Formerly Owned by the Victim.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—The Call says today that local detectives believe they have located the murderer of John Stinson, a wealthy mining man who disappeared from this city in 1898. At that time the body of an unknown man was found floating in Stowe lake, and was buried as a pauper. A few months ago it was discovered that the body found was that of Stinson, and also that his deposit box with a bank was empty, although it was known to have contained a large sum of money and other valuables at the time of its owner's disappearance. Since then detectives have been at work ferreting out the mystery in connection with Stinson's death. Now the news has been received here that yesterday, Mrs. Frank W. Sawyer of Boston, a neice of Stinson, arrived at her mother's, Mrs. Sarah Connor of Portland, Me., with the news that detectives hired by her to investigate the death of her uncle had located $75,000 worth of bonds belonging to Stinson in San Francisco, and are now closely watching the man who has them in his possession.

This man, says Mrs. Sawyer, was an old companion of Stinson's in the mine and worked with him for forty years. "He became suddenly wealthy after uncle's death," she said in an interview last night, "and when we began the investigation last month this fact gave us a clew. Soon we found startling evidence. This man had in his possession $75,000 of bonds which uncle owned. Our detectives are now watching every move of that man and his arrest will be accomplished shortly."

Portland, Me., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Sarah Connor, who claims to have evidence that her brother, John Stinson, a wealthy miner of San Francisco, was murdered in 1898, says that Mr. Stinson at the time of his death was believed to have had property valued at between $800,000 and $1,000,000. The case has been followed closely by Mrs. Connor during the last eight years, but it was not until a few months ago, after the lapse of the seven years required by the laws of California for a missing individual to be considered legally dead, that a more rapid and systematic accumulation of evidence was undertaken.

Stinson went to California to hunt gold in '49 and made a fortune. Afterwards he became a mining operator and promoter.

AMERICAN HEIRS OF DRAKE ESTATE

To Get About $350,000 Each—Crookston Woman's Windfall.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorneys in New York, who have been retained by Charles Q. Roemer of this city, have notified him that the estate of Sir Francis Drake, the famous English admiral of the Sixteenth century, is about to be distributed, and that the share of each American heir will be about $350,000, the total estate amounting to over $20,000,000.

Mr. Roemer, who travels for the Kelly-Howe-Thomson Hardware Company of Duluth, is not a descendant of the admiral, but Mrs. Roemer is, her mother's maiden name having been Nettie Corey. Other relatives of the same name who will participate in this country are located at Sioux Falls, S. D., and Colorado.

Attorneys for the American heirs have been working for years on this estate in order to protect the interests of their clients, and the New York firm retained by Mr. Roemer announced in a letter received here yesterday that every link of the chain of relationship had been completed, and that the estate would be distributed in a very short time. All the documents have been duly signed, sealed and delivered, and the fact that the attorneys are certain of their ground is given color because during all their labors they have not asked for any contributions to prosecute the work, spending their own money and evidencing a willingness to collect their fees from the money secured.

As soon as the portion due Mrs. Roemer is received, a portion of it will be used in the erection of a commodious clubhouse in Crookston for traveling men, with an endowment sufficient to maintain it. The balance of the money will be invested in a wholesale hardware house which will be established in Crookston by Mr. Roemer.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED AT HAWAII.

Honolulu, Feb. 23.—Washington's birthday was celebrated here by the biggest floral parade in the history of the islands. Thirty flower decorated automobiles and as many more carriages were followed by a long line of Hawaiian women on horseback, wearing a long flowing costume of brilliant colors, reviving the ancient style known as siau riders. Prizes for the best decorations were awarded by former Queen Liliuokalani.

HOPREND WINS DOG DERBY.

Liverpool, Feb. 23.—The Waterloo cup, for coursing, otherwise the annual "Dog Derby," was concluded today at Altcar, near here, with a victory for H. Hardy's Hoprend. There were sixty-four entries and the heats occupied three days. The betting which at the start was 10 to 1 against Hoprend this morning was 11 to 10 on Mr. Hardy's entry.

JOHANN HOCH HANGED IN CHICAGO JAIL AFTER HIS ATTORNEYS MAKE DESPERATE EFFORTS TO SAVE HIM

Noted Prisoner Meets His Fate With Remarkable Composure.

Insisted That He Be Allowed to Live as Long as Possible.

Steps on Trap at 1:32; Executed Two Minutes Later.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Johann Hoch, convicted of the murder of his wife, Marie Welcker-Hoch, was hanged in the county jail today at 1:34 o'clock. Three times respited, Hoch insisted to the last that he be granted all the delay that the law conceded him. Under the wording of his sentence the criminal was to hang between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. When the last resource of his attorneys—an appeal to federal court of a violation of the Fourteenth amendment to the constitution which says that a man shall not be deprived of his life without due process of law, had been denied—Hoch abandoned all hope of saving his life, but still insisted that he be allowed to live as nearly to 2 o'clock as possible. When Jailor Whitman, who has long been a friend of Hoch, appeared in his cell and remarked:

"It's all off, Johann, nothing more can be done for you," Hoch replied:

"That is all right. It's all right, but I want to have all that is coming to me in point of time. I'll go when 1:30 o'clock comes, but if you try to take me before that time, I'll fight."

"It would not do you any good to fight," replied Jailor Whitman.

"I know that," replied Hoch, "but I want all that is coming to me. I'll go all right at 1:30."

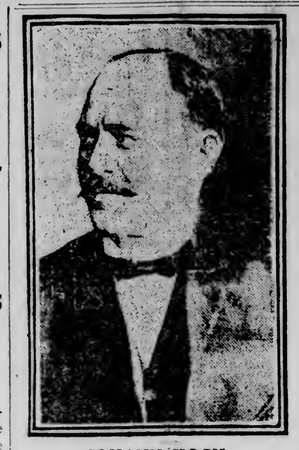

The jailor, after consulting with Sheriff Peters, agreed to the delay. Hoch then asked that his dinner be sent for. His wish was granted, and he ate with an evident relish and apparently without thought that he would never enjoy another meal.

It was exactly 1:32 o'clock when Hoch, preceded by Deputy Sheriff Peters, and attended by Jailor John L. Whitman, Rev. Aschleter and Rev. J. R. Burkland, stepped upon the scaffold, and two minutes later he was a corpse. He walked upon the scaffold quietly, and stood directly under the noose, with heels together and head erect like a soldier on parade. He was pale, but composed, and full of courage.

Rev. Burkland was steadily reciting the prayers for the dying, when Deputy Sheriff Peters asked Hoch to step back upon the trap. He took two steps quickly, glanced down to see if he was in the proper place, and then turned his face to the deputy sheriff.

"Do you want to say something?" asked Deputy Sheriff Peters.

"Yes," said Hoch. Mr. Burkland was still reciting the prayer, and Jailor Whitman held out his hand to silence him. The clergyman, not noticing, kept on with the prayer, and one of the guards spoke to him. He ceased immediately, and Hoch, as soon as he could speak without interruption, said in a strong German accent:

JOHANN HOCH.

"Father, forgive them, they know not what they do. I must die an innocent man. Goodbye."

He chopped off the last words in a short, incisive manner, and before his voice was silenced the drop fell.

Dr. McNamara, the county physician, was at Hoch's side the instant he fell and declared that death had been instantaneous, the neck being broken. The body late in the afternoon was delivered to a local undertaker who had engaged to inter it at his own expense.

Rev. J. R. Burkland, one of Hoch's spiritual advisers, had a talk with the prisoner shortly before he was led to the scaffold and said later that Hoch had "confessed."

"Did he confess to the murder?" he was asked. The clergyman hesitated, and then answered: "Well, he said that he had been a bigamist and a very wicked man."

He declined to say a word as to whether or not Hoch had confessed the crime.

Hoch slept well all night, and when he awoke this morning was apparently in a jovial mood. He turned to Guard James Cummings, who was in the room with him, and wished him "Good morning." Cummings immediately summoned Night Jailor O'Neil, who came at once to the room, and said:

"Good morning, John, how are you this morning?"

"I feel fine," said Hoch. "I had a good night, and was not disturbed. I'm feeling fine."

Hoch then gave his order for breakfast, and while awaiting its arrival was given several papers to read.

"Look here, O'Neil," he called out. "See what one of the papers says about me."

He then read to O'Neil the article, which said that he had given up all hope and was in a state of collapse.

"That thing says that I have lost hope," remarked Hoch. "But I haven't. I will keep my nerve to the last."

The attorneys for Hock were out early today seeking to prevent the execution by legal means. A short time before the hour set for execution, a petition was filed in the United States circuit court by Hoch's attorneys, asking federal intervention to save Hoch. The petition said that the state authorities were endeavoring to execute Hoch in violation of the fourteenth amendment of the constitution, and without due process of law.

After filing the petition the attorneys left the federal building, intending, it was said to go to the criminal court building to try to get a stay of execution pending action by the federal court.

As the morning passed on, and the time set for the hanging approached, Hoch abated nothing of his good nature. As one of the guards passed before his cell, he called him to the door and, holding out a 5-cent piece, said: "Here, Tony, go and get a glass of beer."

"It's getting close to the time, isn't it?" continued Hoch.

"Well, I'm ready. You people won't have any trouble with me. When the minute comes I'll go like a brave man. What's more, I'll go like an innocent man. I never committed the crime, and I'm not afraid to go."

Despite his brave words it was evident that Hoch was under a severe strain. He appeared nervous, but his strong will stood him in good stead, and he held himself under marvelous control.

After a consultation with state's attorney the jail officials decided to delay the execution if necessary until 2 p. m., the last hour named in the court sentence providing for the hanging.

The section of the Fourteenth amendment on which Hoch's latest petition was based is as follows:

"No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privilege or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life or liberty without due process of law, nor deny any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Briefly the points raised in Hoch's petition to the federal court were:

That the judgment of the state court was void because given by a court not of competent jurisdiction.

That the sentence was in violation of the Fourteenth amendment in that Emilie Fisher Hoch, wife of the defendant, testified.

That Hoch was compelled to and did give evidence against himself.

That he was arrested in New York and extradited on a charge of bigamy and was forthwith charged with murder.

Before Federal Judge Kenesaw Landis, Hoch's attorneys contended that a writ of habeas corpus should issue forthwith if the court found that the petition was presented in proper form. Judge Landis suggested that it was also requisite that probable cause for the writ be shown. After brief consideration Judge Landis said:

"The petition is denied. The proper

(Continued on page 9, first column.)

Demand for Writ of Habeas Corpus Refused by Judge.

Last Appeal Made After Death March to Gallows Began.

Hoch Claimed He Was Innocent to the Very Last.

SECRETARY TAFT DECLARES HIS PRESIDENTIAL BOOM IS A BIG JOKE.

HEPBURN BILL IS TO BE REPORTED TO SENATE WITHOUT AMENDMENT

Every Change Proposed in the Measure Voted Down.

Democratic Members Ask for Recess to Consider Bill.

They Agree to Report the Measure Without Change.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The Hepburn rate bill has been ordered reported favorably by the senate committee on interstate commerce.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The senate committee on interstate commerce convened at 11:15 o'clock today for the purpose of voting on the Hepburn rate bill. The time of convening was delayed by a conference of the Democratic members to determine their attitude on the question of court review feature. The conference decided that the minority members should stand as a unit to transfer the bill from the committee to the floor of the senate, and that this action should not commit any of the members to support or oppose an amendment for judicial review of orders of the commission.

At 12:15 the senate committee on interstate commerce took a recess until 2 o'clock. It was understood that the recess was in order to give the Democratic members a further chance for consultation. All minor amendments offered to the Hepburn bill were voted down during the forenoon session It was the opinion of both sides that the Hepburn bill would be reported. Senator Dolliver expressed the opinion that the report would be authorized by 3 o'clock this afternoon. Chairman Elkins said: "They have got the votes to report the Hepburn bill."

The precipitant recess was brought about by a motion of Senator Dolliver to report the Hepburn bill without amendment. He had produced a telegram from Senator Cullom, giving instructions to cast his vote against any amendment that was not adopted unanimously by the committee. Members favoring amendments to the Hepburn bill declared that Senator Cullom's instructions did not justify casting his vote except on specific motions.

"Well, then," said Senator Dolliver, "I move that the Hepburn bill be reported favorably without amendement. That is a specific motion, and I shall ask to have Senator Cullom's vote cast in the affirmative."

The Democratic members desired time for conference, and the recess was taken. Senators Tillman, McLaurin, Foster and Newlands then withdrew for a consultation.

After the Democratic members of the interstate commerce committee had conferred, it was developed that they would vote to report the Hepburn bill without amendment but different members would reserve the right to support amendments when the bill was considered in the senate.

Another point that is to be settled in committee is the personality of the man who shall report the bill. Naturally it is suposed that Senator Dolliver would be selected, but there is opposition to according him that honor and it may be that some other member will be selected. It is quite possible that Chairman Elkins may be authorized to report the bill on the ground that, as members of the committee make reservations as to amendments, it does not represent the majority view of any faction or leader in the committee. The main point, however, is that the Hepburn bill is to be reported.

TO REMAIN IN DULUTH

T. F. Cole Will Continue With United States Steel Corporation.

No New Flotation of Stock in Any of His Companies.

New York, Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is understood here in copper circles that John D. Ryan of Butte is to succeed H. H. Rogers as president of the Amalgamated and the recently acquired Heinze interests. Thomas F. Cole of Duluth, who closed the deal in New York for the Heinze property, is working on the preliminaries to that end. Mr. Cole, who is now considered the man of the hour in the copper world, has stated emphatically that under no circumstances does he contemplate leaving Duluth or severing his connections with the United States Steel corporation, but on the contrary has in contemplation matters of the immediate future that leave no doubt as to the positiveness of this declaration. There will be no new flotation of stock in any company in which Mr. Cole is interested, all rumors to the contrary notwithstanding.

DEATH OF J. STANTON

Well Known Mining Expert Dies at New York Home.

Was President of Several Copper Companies in Michigan.

New York, Feb. 23.—John Stanton, a mining expert and director in several large copper mining companies, died at his home in this city today of pneumonia.

John Stanton was well-known in Duluth and the Michigan Copper country. He was president of the Wolverine & Arizona, Michigan, Mohawk, Phoenix and Winona mines and secretary-treasurer of the Atlantic. As a mining authority he had no superior and was exceedingly well versed in all that pertained to mines and mining.

Mr. Stanton was born in Bristol, England, in 1830, and with his parents come to Pennsylvania in 1835. He studied engineering and took active charge of his father's iron mines at Dover, N. J. He engaged in copper mining in 1852-61 in Maryland, Virginia, and Tennessee. His mines in the latter state were confiscated by the confederate government. Later he developed copper mines in the Lake Superior region and in Arizona, and was actively engaged in their management at the time of his death. Mr. Stanton was married in 1857 to Elizabeth R. McMillan of New York.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE

Provided for in Five Bills Introduced in Austrian Parliament.

Vienna, Feb. 23.—Five bills embodying a scheme for universal suffrage and other electoral reforms were introduced in the lower house of the Austrian parliament today by the premier, Baron Gautch Von Frankenthurn. The premier was subjected to noisy interruption on the part of pan-Germans while explaining the details of the plan but the majority of the deputies heartily applauded his speech.

The bills provide for the election of 455 deputies to the lower house. Every Austrian 24 years old and domiciled in a constituency for at least a year will be entitled to vote, and every one possessed of Austrian citizenship for at least three years will be eligible to election to the lower house. Plural voting is prohibited and a division of electoral districts is designed so as to give the Germans 205 representatives, the Slavs 230, the Italians 16 and the Roumanians 4.

A bill amending the standing orders of the house provides for the suspension of disorderly members for a period not exceeding one week.

STEAM SHOVEL BLOWN TO ATOMS

Plows Its Way Into Over 200 Pounds of Dynamite.

Pittsburg, Feb. 23.—Thirty persons were hurt, three of whom will die, by the explosion yesterday of a 200-pound charge of dynamite, which was struck by a steam shovel at the Carnegie Steel company's plant at Duquesne. The steam shovel was removing a slag pile that had been previously broken up with the explosive. During the breaking up process one of the charges of dynamite was lost, and it is this one that exploded. The big steam shovel was plowing its way into the slag, when there was a mighty roar, and the shovel structure was lifted into the air, parting and breaking up, to fall to the ground a mass of twisted metal and splintered timber. Sharp, flinty pieces of the slag were scattered in every direction, and added to these were splintered timber from the shattered shovel, which were hurled among 100 Hungarian laborers by the bursting of the boiler.

Harry O'Brien, 30 years old, a craneman, was scalded so badly that he cannot live, while two of the Hungarians are in a like condition. Six others were found to be in a serious condition, and were taken to a McKeesport hospital.

Twenty others, who were less seriously injured, were taken to their homes.

A passing street car was bombarded, causing a panic among the passengers, but no one was injured.

DULUTH WEATHER REPORT—Partly cloudy and colder weather tonight and Saturday, attended possibly by snow flurries, while the lowest temperature may be about 20 degs.

New Spring Styles of HATS

Knox Soft Hat

The largest and most complete line of stiff and soft hats ever shown in the city—we guarantee every hat that sells at $3.00 or over and will replace free any hat that does not give good wear—sole agents for the world renowned Knox Hat, in stiff and soft hats.

The Oak Hall $3.50 guaranteed stiff hat has no equal.

The Rosewelle Stiff Hats — Self conforming in the new flat set and curled brims are the swellest of this season's styles — exclusively here..... $3

The Rosewelle Soft Hats — Are renowned for their style and wearing qualities—none better and everyone guaranteed to give perfect wear..... $3

Others at $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 in the new shapes.

The Great Sale of Boys' and Children's Clothing ends with February—Mothers have you taken advantage of this money saving sale—the best and most dependable children's clothing is here for you at the lowest prices—everything is new and up-to-date.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

331-3-5 West Superior St. Oak Hall Clothing Co. Duluth's Largest Clothiers.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Homesteader Changes His Mind About Suicide and Goes to Sleep.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Minot—After making final proof to his homestead, located near Berthold, at the Minot land office, John Olson began to think that life was a burden and the more he thought about the matter, the more convinced he became that his theory was correct. Two hours spent in meditation convinced him that he had better terminate his earthly existence, and he purchased a revolver. Then he met two friends and confided to them his intention to commit suicide. The friends went in search of a policeman and the trio started to find Olson. At 2 o'clock in the morning the officer discovered Olson fast asleep on one of the benches at the railroad station. When awakened, Olson informed the policeman that he had changed his mind and "guessed he would stick it out for a while longer."

The jury in the case of the state against Frank Guthrie, charged with murdering his brother, Edward Guthrie, at Overly, last November, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the defendant was discharged by Judge E. B. Goss of the district court. The case, which was started last Wednesday, was tried in Bottineau county. The defendant made the plea of self-defense and the evidence seemed to bear out this theory.

The murder of Edward Guthrie occurred last November. The men lived together in a claim shack. The testimony showed that one Sunday afternoon, Edward Guthrie was under the influence of liquor and his brother, Frank, argued with him, asking him to leave the liquor alone. A quarrel followed, then a fist fight. It is said that Edward Guthrie went to sleep in a stack of hay. His brother, Frank, is then said to have hit him with a pitchfork which caused his death.

Lisbon—The body of Burt Baguhn, a young man of Shenford township, frozen and pierced through the chest by a bullet wounds, was found yesterday about fifteen miles northeast of Lisbon and two miles from the home of Joseph Legge, where he lived.

A jury empaneled by Coroner T. C. Patterson, after hearing the facts, found that the unfortunate young man came to his death from exposure, after having accidentally shot himself. An examination of the ground showed that Baguhn, after the accident, had walked and crawled about sixty rods and then, because of weakness, was compelled to stop, and had then frozen to death. The young man leaves a mother, four sisters and four brothers.

Fargo—The North Dakota Agricultural college in this city will soon receive 100 Krag Jorgensen rifles to replace the old Springfield rifles which have been used by the cadets for some time. It is expected that interest in the weekly rifle practice at the school will increase after the receipt of the new rifles.

The validity of the action of the council in creating the seventh ward has been questioned. Assistant Attorney General Stevens has rendered an opinion in which he holds that the law under which the new ward was created does not become effective until after the census enumeration of 1905 has been officially reported to the legislature, which will not be until next year. City Attorney Newman holds a contrary view of the matter.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Sioux Falls—Telling his wife that he must offer himself as a sacrifice to atone for the sins of the world, Carl Moser, a farmer, living twelve miles northwest of Java, committed suicide by hanging himself in the kitchen of his home. Java is situated on the Ewarts line of the Milwaukee railroad in Walworth county.

Particulars received here show that the tragedy was surrounded with decidedly unusual features. Moser belonged to what is known as the Merkel band of religious fanatics, which is said to have caused the authorities and people of that part of the state a great deal of annoyance. It is also reported that other fanatics, by making threats, caused Moser to take his life. Last spring the man created a sensation by setting fire to the dwelling house of John Kerner, a neighbor. For this crime he was arrested, and at the time of his tragic death was under bonds for his appearance at the May term of the state circuit court in Walworth county for trial on the charge of arson.

Moser adopted a novel method in carrying out his plan. He took a strong cord from a flynet, fastened one end to the door of the kitchen, made a loop running through an iron ring, passed the loop over his head, tied a bag of potatoes to the other end of the rope, opened the cellar door, and after kneeling on the floor, pushed the sack of potatoes into the cellar. The weight of the potatoes on the end of the cord drew the loop tightly about his neck and strangled him to death.

A short time prior to the finding of his body and before the other members of the household were out of bed, he informed his wife that during the night God had told him to sacrifice himself and that he would follow the instructions of his creator. He then went into the kitchen and started a fire in the cookstove, after which he committed suicide.

Deadwood—The body of James Hartgering, Jr., son of a well-known mining man of the Black Hills, was found in a shed today. Young Hartgering was missed this morning. The body when found was rigid and the young man evidently had been dead many hours. He had been a sufferer for some time with heart trouble, and it is supposed that it was the immediate cause of his death. He was 20 years of age, and had been a student at the school of mines at Rapid City.

If Traveling in Japan

or any civilized country, you can procur Laxative Bromo Quinine from any druggist. All nations use it. E. W. GROVE'S signature on box

FROM SENATORSHIP TO WANT IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Washington, Feb. 23.—An illustration of the ups and downs of human life came to light yesterday in a bill introduced by Senator Kittridge to pension Henry R. Pease of Watertown, S. D., at $50 a month. Pease served in the Connecticut regiment in the Civil war and during reconstruction days was United States senator from Mississippi. Later he went to Dakota and was receiver of the land office at Watertown. Now, according to the testimony of his physician, he is physically and mentally incapacitated and in need of assistance.

WIELAND'S

123 W. Superior St.

ANNUAL SHOE SALE

Will soon draw to a close, but on account of the repairing and decorating of our store—which will begin in a few days—we offer some more

RARE BARGAINS

For tomorrow's large trade. We put on sale:

Men's and Ladies' $3.50, $4.00 and $5.00 values—good shoes for the wet and nice Spring shoes added to this lot—at..... $2.95

Men's and Ladies' $5.00 and $6.00 Shoes—heavy sole or light dress shoes—big bargains added to this lot—at..... $3.95

MEN'S $5.00 to $6.00 Shoes, including Stacy Adams' double sole, patent kid, colt and velour calf; leather lined; all sizes and all widths; only a few days longer—at $4.25

Men's and Ladies' odd lots—$3.00 to $5.00—some left in each lot—at— 98c, $1.45, $1.95

Boys' Shoes — bargains left in lots— $1.19, $1.45, $1.95

Formerly sold at $2 to $3.

Have your shoes repaired. We do it promptly, cheaply and the best material—in our Quick Repair Department.

SCHOOL SHOES—Misses' $1.75 to $2.25 Shoes — good widths; sizes 11 to 2—extra good bargains at $1.19

Children's and Misses' $1.25 to $1.50 Shoes—at..... 98c

Children's Rubbers 35c and 39c

Boys' Rubbers..... 50c

RUBBER BOOTS for boys and girls — at right prices.

SOROSIS SHOES — A large shipment just in, including some new Spring styles—price $3.50 and $4.00.

RAILROADS

MAY EXTEND TOWARD ELY

Canadian Northern May Connect Duluth With Port Arthur.

Proposed Extension Reported From Gun Flint Lake to Ely.

To travel from Duluth to Port Arthur directly by rail will be possible in the not far distant future, according to reports reaching Duluth from what seems to be an unquestionably reliable source It is understood that the Canadian Northern may build a line from Gun Flint lake in Cook county, across Lake and St. Louis counties to Ely, to tap the Vermilion iron range.

The purpose in tapping the Vermilion range, it is understood, would not be to divert any of the ore traffic to Port Arthur, but to enable the Atikokan Iron company to get some of the Vermilion ores for use in its blast furnace in order to make a better flux, the Atikokan ores having properties that would be bettered by the mixture. The Canadian & Northern interests are interested in the Atikokan company.

The Canadian Northern already has a line from Port Arthur to Gun Flint lake, but it has been allowed to lapse into almost entire disuse in recent years. Now, however, it is said there will be an extension run to the St. Louis county town, and that all classes of trains will be run over it regularly. The project is said to be a very feasible one, with a prospect that the road will be a paying one, for, in addition to the ore hauled, the extension will tap a country rich in agricultural resources, which has as yet been made little use of, owing to the fact that there has been no way of reaching the markets of the country. There has been no rail communication out of a very large portion of Lake and Cook counties.

While the line would be essentially for the transportation of ore to begin with, the business that would naturally develop as a result of its construction would in the course of a few years be sufficient to keep things going, is believed, even if the ore shipments should cease, for certain parts of Lake and Cook counties have long been looked upon as being among the most promising agricultural districts of the state, and these counties are still very rich in their supply of timber.

LOW RATE ANNOUNCED.

Cheap Trips From Duluth to the North Coast This Summer.

Local offices of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads today were notified that the cheap round-trip excursion rates to North Pacific coast points would be on sale June 1 to Sept. 15. Tickets will bear a final return limit of Oct. 31, and liberal stop-over privileges will be allowed.

The rate from Duluth to North coast points and return will be $69. The regular rate is $90. From Chicago the round-trip rate will be $75, and from the Twin Cities it will be the same as from Duluth, except that the rate to Spokane from Duluth will be $55, instead of $50, as from St. Paul, while from Chicago it will be $70. From Duluth to Helena, Butte and Anaconda, it will be $50. These rates are exceptionally low, being approximately on a basis of 1½ cents a mile.

Although the Portland fair was responsible for such a great movement to the coast last year, the absence of any such attraction will probably not have any great effect on this summer's travel. People from all over the country who are desirous of learning more about the West, with a view of possibly locating there permanently, as well as thousands of tourists, will be induced by the low rates this year to visit this land of opportunity, and many of those from the East will come up the lakes and pass through Duluth.

Not a small factor in inducing the people to move out West is the crop records for the last five years, as well as the intention of the government to reclaim more land by irrigation, and the development in the timber and mineral industries. The knowledge, also, that the North Pacific coast is destined to become the gateway to the Orient is also believed to have a strong bearing on the movement of settlers to the West.

RUN SPECIAL TRAINS.

Men From Two Harbors and Proctor Will Attend Club Meetings.

The meetings of the Northern Railway club have come to be regarded as of such importance that special trains will be run from Two Harbors and Proctor this evening, so that railroad men of these places may be in Duluth to attend the meeting of the organization tonight. The club members will get together in the Commercial club rooms.

C. E. Rowe, traffic manager of Marshall-Wells Hardware company, will present a paper on "The Importance of Prompt Handling of Shipments by Transportation Companies," and another paper will be read by W. G. Wallace, who will take as his subject "Lubrication of Locomotives and Cars." The meeting will probably be largely attended, and it is expected that some interesting discussions will develop. A musical program will be rendered in connection.

LATE DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Escanaba Students Suspended for Failing to Attend Entertainment.

Escanaba—Twenty-one students of the Escanaba high school have been suspended for two weeks by Supt. F. G. Davis for failing to attend a school entertainment in which they were scheduled to take part. Because of their absence several numbers of the program were omitted. The action of the students was prompted by open war between the student body and the instructor in music, which has been going on for several weeks.

Ralph Fuller has been elected captain of the Escanaba football team.

On Monday, March 5, a special election of the taxpayers of the city of Escanaba will be held to determine whether bonds to the amount of $25,000 shall be issued to provide funds for constructing a new high school building. While the sum is insufficient to pay for but a portion of the building, it is considered enough to make a beginning of the work until such time as other action can be taken to cause the issue of additional bonds. According to the state law anw improvement exceeding $25,000 in cost must be included in the annual appropriation bill prepared in July of each year.

Nahma—Mox Graff, a young men employed until Dec. 31 with the Bay de Noc company at Nahma, Delta county, is missing and relatives are anxiously trying to find clues as to his whereabouts. The young man left Nahma Dec. 31 for his home in Sturgeon Bay, but never arrived there. After settling with the Bay de Noc company in Dec. 31, he had over $200 in his pockets, and this fact gives rise to the suspicion that he may have been robbed and murdered for his money. He left Nahma in company with two men to walk to the station at Nahma Junction, a few miles distant. Nothing further is known, but an investigation is being made. The missing man is a brother of Mrs. George Toug and of Miss Lena Graff of Escanaba.

Ironwood—Laurence P. Stevens has resigned his position as chief clerk and severed his connection with the Ironwood office of the Oliver Mining company. Mr. Stevens has been seventeen years with the two companies which operated the Norrie mines during that time. He has rendered faithful service under both managements, and his decision to leave the Oliver company is much regretted by the officers of that company, both in Ironwood and Duluth.

Menominee—The Menominee county board has passed a resolution authorizing the chairman to appoint a committee of three to confer with representatives of other county boards, together with Judge Stone, relative to the establishment of a workhouse for the Upper Peninsula, the institution to be supported jointly by the different counties, or at least the counties in this judicial circuit. The institution is designed to abate the tramp nuisance and to dispose of small criminal cases in a manner that would tend to diminish the number of this class of public charges, to furnish employment for them while in confinement and to cause them, to a certain extent at least, to pay their own expenses while they are public charges. As yet there are no definite plans regarding the proposed workhouse, and no location for it has been determined upon.

OHIO GOVERNOR'S MIND DISTRACTED

Pattison is Incapable of Sustained Attention, Says Physician.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 23.—In common pleas court here, Dr. E. J. Wilson testified yesterday that Governor Pattison, because of his bodily illness, is incapable of sustained attention to any subject.

In answer to a question put a moment later, he said that the governor was sane, but that he was so weakened in brain and body that he could not give to any subject continuous thought.

The testimony was brought out in habeas corpus proceedings instituted for the release of Charles C. Carrano, for whom requisition papers had been honored by the governor.

The proceedings were based on the proposition that the governor did not in person sign the papers honoring the requisition, and that, therefore, they were not legal.

Dr. Wilson, the governor's physician, and Louis B. Houck, the governor's secretary, were both subpoenaed to appear in court. The former was expected to testify as to the governor's mental and physical ability to sign such papers, while the secretary was to state under oath whether or not the governor had, in person, signed the papers.

Secretary Houck said the governor had read the papers and signed them. Regarding a pencil-mark on them, he said he placed there for his own convenience and denied that it was there to call the governor's attention to the place where he was supposed to sign the document.

It is said on the best authority that the family of the governor is anxious that he resign and devote himself to seeking recovery. It is not believed, however, that any such action will be taken at this time.

FROM POVERTY TO WEALTH.

Geman Family at Marshfield, Wis., Receives News of Fortune.

Marshfield, Wis., Feb. 23.—Rudolph Heilburg, a German residing ten miles north of here, has fallen heir to a fortune which consists of estates in Germany valued at 5,000,000 marks. This makes him a rich man according to the German standard of wealth.

Heilburg came here about two years ago and settled on a piece of woodland. He had very little capital and there were nine hungry little mouths to feed. Heilburg is making preparations to return to the fatherland, and will take his departure as soon as funds arrive from the attorneys in charge of the estate.

FORTY-STORY BUILDING FOR NEW YORK CITY.

New York, Feb. 23.—Lower Broadway will have a skyscraper nearly thirty-nine feet taller than the Washington monument.

The Singer building on Liberty street will be enlarged and from its center will rise a forty-story tower to a height of 592.10 2-3 feet. It will be sixty-five feet square for thirty-six stories. The four succeeding stories will form a dome crowned with cupola and flagstaff. The tower will contain a floor area of 150,000 square feet. It will have four elevators. The new Singer building will be owned by the Singer Manufacturing company.

Always Remember the Full Name Laxative Bromo Quinine

Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove on every box. 25c

"ERICSON'S FOR QUALITY."

SPRING TOP COATS and CRAVENETTES

UNION MADE

Our showing of Top Coats this season embraces the smartest styles in all the materials most approved by fashion. The values are exceptional at—

$10 to $20

In Cravenettes we handle only the best and most reliable makes, guaranteed absolutely rain proof. Our prices are the lowest in Duluth—quality considered—and quality is a prime factor in the goods sold at Ericson's.

NEW HATS
NEW GLOVES
NEW SHIRTS
NEW SHOES
NEW NECKWEAR.

CHAS. W. ERICSON,

HATTER—CLOTHIER—FURNISHER. 219 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.

25c for 12, 15 and 18 inches wide Corset Cover Embroidery.

A HOST OF GOOD VALUES OFFERED AT LOW PRICES FOR SATURDAY'S SELLING—

5c per yd. Big lot of Laces and Embroideries, well worth up to 10c.

$2.25 Fine mercerized satine Petticoats, hemstitched ruffle and wide flounce, in black and colors.

25c yard—new line of Neck Ruffling just received in all the latest creations and colorings.

12c Fancy colored border Huck Towels, sizes 19x36; an excellent value for 15c.

59c New spring all-wool Serge, in all the new shades of the season.

Extra Special 8c Per Yard. Or 95c for 12-yard pieces. Extra fine and soft finish Long Cloth for underwear, etc. Well worth 12½c per yard. (Now displayed in show window.)

25c Big assortment of Pillow Tops, in all the newest designs. Most stores get 35c for this quality.

98c For lace and embroidery trimmed White Lawn Waists that are considered cheap at $1.25.

⅓ off On Fascinators and Opera Shawls.

First Ave. W. and Sup. St.

ALBENBERG'S

First Ave. W. and Sup. St.

⅓ off On entire stock Outing Flannel Underwear.

WE DO AS WE ADVERTISE.

BOYS' OVERCOATS HALF PRICE.

KENNEY & ANKER

409-411 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.

BOYS' SUITS HALF PRICE.

The End of Our Clearance Sale

Tomorrow the Last Day

The fame of this sale has traveled far. Its wondrous values has called forth plaudits of praise from all the people and compelled the respect and admiration of our competitors.

Tomorrow your last chance to secure choice of all our $35, $30 and $25 Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Ely Meyer custom made suits at one price $14.75 ALL SIZES

Tomorrow your last chance to secure choice of all our tailor-made $20.00, $16.00 and $18.00 Suits in scores of materials at one price..... $9.75 ALL SIZES

Hart, Schaffner & Marx Overcoats Exactly Half Price.

THEY ARE READY..... Wilson Bros.' Shirts—Nobby Spring Neckwear—Stetson Hats—Anker $3.50 Shoes—Fancy Hosiery, Top Coats—Raincoats—Medium Weight Underwear.

ROBBINS THINKS MEN WILL STRIKE

Chairman of Coal Operators Sees No Possibility of Averting One.

Pittsburg, Feb. 23.—Francis L. Robbins, chairman of the Pittsburg Coal company and leader of the bituminous coal operators, declared upon his arrival from New York today, that he could see no possibility of a strike in the bituminous regions. Mr. Robbins said he had met President Mitchell, of the miners union, in New York, but not for the purpose of considering a settlement of the differences between the bituminous operators and miners.

"I have no authority to settle for the operators and Mr. Mitchell cannot settle for the miners," said Mr. Robbins. "I do not think there is any possibility of averting a bituminous coal strike on April 1.

All old-time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. Sold by all druggists.

Dr. Frank Gunsaulus.

The lecture Monday evening by Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus of Chicago at the Star Lecture course in the First Methodist church on "Gladstone" will be to many the most interesting number of the course. Dr. Gunsaulus has lectured here a number of times, and probably no man has pleased a greater number of people. He is a deep thinker, a powerful and direct speaker and has a magnetic personality that makes him doubly effective. His lecture on England's grand old man is said to be a remarkably strong one and has everywhere made a tremendous impression.

SURVIVES BAD FALL.

Montana Man Has Remarkable Escape From Death.

Livingston, Mont., Feb. 23.—That he bears a charmed life is the opinion of George Middleton, an employe of the Livingston Water Power company, who has just had an almost miraculous escape from death. Middleton, while engaged with others in hoisting a heavy piece of machinery into position, fell from a beam to the concrete floor 26 feet below. He landed squarely on his head and almost immediately the heavy piece of machinery fell striking him across the legs. Fellow workmen picked up what they supposed was the lifeless form, but examination proved that Middleton had not even broken a bone. Beyond a shaking up he was none the worse for his experience.

GERMANS ARE OPPOSED TO BILL

Say Federal Prohibition Measure Would Abridge Their Rights.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Representatives of the National German-American alliance, one of the great German organizations of this country, called on the president today to protest against the Hepburn-Dolliver bill now pending before congress. The measure is practically a federal recognition of prohibition.

The delegation was headed by Former Sheriff Edward J. Tamsen and A. Arons of New York. Members of the party heretofore have appeared before the judiciary committee of the house in opposition to the bill.

Mr. Tamsen explained that the national German-American alliance regarded the provisions of the bill as an infringement of the rights of American citizens. "We feel," said he, "that the constitution gives a man the right to order whatever he may want in one state and have it delivered to another state without interference. Any law which abridges this right will be fought bitterly by German-Americans and we will carry the question into future political campaigns. The whole question is one for state legislation. The national government has nothing to do with it."

PLEADING OF NO AVAIL.

Judge Cray Sentences Pickpocket to Two Years in Prison.

Mankato, Minn., Feb. 23.—Edward Pierce, the well-known cook that shortchanged Frank Herrick of Sac City, Ia., out of 90 cents on an evening Omaha passenger train as it was pulling uot of Mankato about two months ago, at his preliminary hearing in the district court before Judge Lorin Cray, pleaded not guilty. A few days later he thought if he would plead guilty he would get off with a fine, so he was again brought before the judge and plead guilty and the judge delayed the sentence until yesterday, when he gave him two years and one month in the state's prison at Stillwater. His attorney made a strong effort to get him off with a fine of $275. Mrs. Pierce, the prisoner's wife, has traveled all over the West in search of $500 to pay his fine if he was so fined, but she only succeeded in raising $275. After Pierce was sentenced he resorted to the sympathy racket, and shed copious tears, but the court remembered that he was no "spring chicken," and that he had served a term in an Ontario prison for a similar offense, and Judge Cray meted out a sentence proportionate to the circumstances although not half as long as his first sentence. Mrs. Pierce was present and created a scene after sentence was pronounced.

Bradbury School of Music.

Piano, vocal and violin instruction.

ATTACK IS ANSWERED

Manager Case Says Gas Conditions Have Been Misrepresented.

Points Out Some Untrue Statements—Gas Bills Not Increasing.

"The operation of the water and gas plants of Duluth by the city has been accompanied from the start by a series of misrepresentations," said Manager L. N. Case of the department this morning. "No sooner is one met and exposed as false, than another rears its head to receive in turn the same treatment. Statements are made as being facts without regard, evidently, as to their truth of falsity.

"Here is the contract with the builder of the generator to which the article in the News Tribune referred Thursday morning. I wish you to read it over carefully and state exactly what the terms of that contract or guaranty were."

The contract, which was made between the Economical Gas Apparatus Construction company and the city of Duluth was signed in 1902. The guaranty follows:

"The Economical Gas Apparatus Construction company, Limited, guarantees that the machine will make 350,000 cubic feet of gas per day of twenty-four hours, of a 22-candle power, on three and four-fifths gallons of Ohio or Pennsylvania crude oil, and thirty-six pounds of good anthracite coal; or, in other words, will guarantee to make 16,000 cubic feet of 22-candle power gas per hour for a period of ten hours consecutively, or three and four-fifths gallons of Ohio or Pennsylvania crude oil and thirty pounds of good anthracite coal, the run to commence and record to be made after the apparatus is thoroughly heated and in running order.

"That a representative of the above company will remain at the gas works two weeks after the final completion of the work to instruct the men designated by your board, in the economical operation and care of the apparatus.

"That the workmanship will be first class in every respect and the entire work will be to the satisfaction of your board."

"Anybody can see," said Mr. Case, "that there is not a single word in that guaranty about the cost of the gas. The people furnishing the generator apparatus simply guaranteed to furnish a machine that would make a required amount of coal gas in a given time from a given amount of crude oil and hard coal. They did not take into consideration in any way, shape or manner the cost of repairs to the machinery or apparatus, the labor, the purifying of the gas, the keeping up of steam, the preventing of the holder from freezing, or the cost of any other thing. All those things must be considered in the cost of putting gas into a holder and how anybody can make the statement that the contract called for 22-candle power gas delivered in the holder at 30 cents is more than I can understand. As a matter of fact, the generator did all that it was guaranteed to do, and even better, yet it did not put gas into the holder at 30 cents per thousand feet, but for 48.63 cents per thousand.

"Just to compare the cost, with the new generator put in in 1902, with the cost in other years I will show you the following tabulated statement taken from the records of this office, which gives the year and the cost per thousand feet of the gas put in the holder:

Year—	Cents.
1899	49.08
1900	46.76
1901	48.64
1902	48.69
1903	50.55
1905 (5 months)	46.59
1905 (to October)	45.73
1906 (since October)	40.09

"It must be remembered that the cost of fuel regulates to a large extent the cost in the figures above given. When there was a coal famine in 1903, the cost per thousand feet went up to over 50 cents.

"The records of the department also show for those same years the aggregate cost per thousand feet, including cost in the holder, of gas service and for interest and the earnings per thousand feet. Here are the figures:

Year—	Aggregate cost per 1,000 feet.	Earnings per 1,000 feet.
1899	$1.53	$1.30 54-100
1900	1.26 22-100	1.24 28-100
1901	1.19 67-100	1.15 88-100
1902	1.07 52-100	1.11 15-100
1903	.95 79-100	1.02
1904	.88 59-100	.90 46-100
1905	.87 7-100	87.19

"For a long time after the city took over the gase plant it operated it at a loss, but the figures given show how the cost of production has been steadily reduced, while the earnings have proportionately increased.

"The statement made in the News Tribune that I pointed out the gas pressure on the gauge in the department office to be twenty-five tenths is incorrect. We never have a pressure as low as that. It would be impossible to operate at that pressure. I probably did say that the pressure was at that time thirty-five tenths. By figuring that it takes 28 inches to make a pressure of one pound anybody can readily compute the pressure in three and a half inches. It would not be sufficient to blow up anything. It would be ridiculous to consider a pressure one-half of twenty-five tenths, as I am quoted as saying.

"Before the contract was made with the Zenith Furnace company to furnish coal gas, the water gas pressure maintained by the city was thirty-tenths. Anybody acquainted with the gas business knows that it requires more pressure for coal gas, so that since the furnace company has been manufacturing it from coal the pressure has, except in a few instances, been maintained at thirty-five tenths.

"Another thing, the pressure does not increase gas consumption, as has been stated. It might have done so when the old style burners were used, but with the Welsbach burners, and gas stoves properly regulated, it is impossible for the consumption to increase. If the burner is not properly regulated the mantle or stove will blaze up.

"Something has also been said about the difference in candle power of the gas received in the past as compared with that at the present time. Those acquainted with the business know that 17-candle power coal gas is equivalent to 19 or 20-candle power water gas. The contract which the city made with the furnace company called for 17-candle power gas, but there was no provision made for any certain degree of pressure. The company was required to furnish gas at such a pressure as the department shall deem sufficient for good service. The company installed machinery that will give all and more than the necessary pressure required.

"The statement that the gas bills throughout the city have been increasing at an alarming rate is not true. The records of this office are open to inspection and they will show that the cost of gas to individuals has been running along at a pretty uniform rate. If they have been higher for one month than another it has been because the patron consumed more gas, it was not because of an increase in gas pressure.

"Another thing that is absurd to consider is that there is 'lean' gas under a high pressure. If one only stops to think he can see that if two feet of gas are compressed into one foot that one foot when it is burned will have just double the richness. The idea is to regulate the burners so that this compressed gas may have the proper opportunity of expanding again when it leaves the burner and mixes with the air."

W. E. Lawrence, the East end druggist who was quoted in this morning's paper as throwing out the gas lights because of considerable expense on account of broken mantles, chimneys and globes, says that he was not quoted correctly on some points and did not at the time suppose he was giving out an interview for a newspaper, the conversation being carried on by telephone. Mr. Lawrence said that he formerly had electric lights, but as he did not get as much light as he wanted he experimented with the gas arc lamp. This he did not find as satisfactory as he expected. He says that the electric light company offered to put in all the lights he required without increasing the cost of lighting over the amount he had been paying, so that he accepted the proposition and substituted electric for gas lights.

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. | SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO. | SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

CORRECT MODELS FOR SPRING WEAR

The new arrivals include artistic successes in spring wearables. Imported French models together with the best productions of America's foremost artists are now on display in our cloak and suit department, second floor—styles that appeal to every woman who appreciates the fine tailors' art.

Walking Skirts

Made of fine quality Panama or fancy mixed materials, cut in seven gored circular style—an excellent value for $7.50.

New Walking Skirts

Late Arrivals and Correct to the Minutest Details

Skirts made of black broadcloth, in the plain or circular-gored effects—trimmed with buttons and broadcloth bands; extra full sweep—a proper garment for street wear—$10.75 to $25.00.

The New London Top Coat

—An ever serviceable wrap for street wear—made of imported English and Scotch fabrics in gray or tan shadow plaid, relieved by a touch of color (red or green)—price $32.50. Others made of fine mixed material, in gray or tan, cut in the latest style and selling at the popular price of $10.75 to $16.50.

Black Broadcloth Coats

—An ideal garment for spring wear. A fortunate purchase enables us to offer these latest ideas in spring wraps at prices considerably less than ordinary.

These coats are made of extra quality broadcloth, 50 inches long, lined throughout with white peau de cygne, fancy embroidered collar and cuffs. A variety of styles to select from—prices ranging from $25.00 to $35.00.

Last Call on Infants' Coats

—Sizes 2 to 4 years—the last of the infants' coats on sale tomorrow at Exactly Half Price. Pretty little effects in bearskin, chinchilla, broadcloth, cheviot and velvet—all colors and styles to select from at—Half Price.

Neck Ruchings

The largest and prettiest line in the city. Any color and many pretty patterns—25c per yard.

New Elbow Gloves

—The appropriate thing for the short sleeve waists and dresses now in vogue. A full assortment of sizes in black or white—enough to supply all demands.

Silberstein & Bondy Company — The Store of Quality — Silberstein & Bondy Company

Worth Knowing

—that Allcock's are the original and genuine porous plasters, all others are imitations.

Annual

Senior Plays

At High School

FEBRUARY 23, 1906.

Admission 25c.

Management of A.F.M.Custance

DEEDS FARM TO WIFE

And Flees---Deserted Woman Believes Husband Is Insane.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 23.—After deeding to his wife a farm of 160 acres in Guthrie county, Albert Smith of Jamaica came to Des Moines and wrote to his wife that he, after days of deliberation, had decided to desert her. John Haglan, a merchant of Jamaica, has come to Des Moines and applied to Chief of Police J. W. Jones for assistance in finding Smith.

"Smith and his wife lived alone on a farm a few miles from Jamaica," Mr. Haglan told Chief Jones. "He was about 60 years of age. A week ago he left for Des Moines and a few days ago his wife received a letter from him containing a deed to the farm. In the letter Smith stated that he had left nome for good. His wife bought that his mind had become affected and wanted me to come to Des Moines in hopes of finding him."

CUTS THREE.

Negro Seriously Slashes White Persons at Topeka, Kas.

Topeka, Feb. 23.—After cutting and slashing three white persons, two of whom will die, Cyrus Haygood of Kansas City, a negro believed to be insane, surrendered to the police here today and begged for their protection. He had been chased by friends of his victims.

During the night Haygood was surprised while attempting to rob the boardinghouse kept by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Coons. In his effort to escape the negro slashed Coons about the face, neck and arms with a knife and cut several gashes in Mrs. Coons' face. After escaping from the Coons house, Haygood attacked David Brewer, a newspaper carrier, whom he evidently mistook for a policeman. Brewer's throat was so badly cut that he cannot talk. Coons and Brewer may die.

Peculiar to Itself

In effectiveness, usefulness and economy, curing the widest range of diseases, and doing the most good for the money, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Liquid or tablets, 100 Doses One Dollar.

MORE TROUBLE FOR THE SULTAN

Widespread Revolt Breaks Out in Yemen, Turkish Arabia.

Constantinople, Feb. 23.—An extraordinary meetin of the council of ministers has been summoned to confer with the sultan at the Yildiz palace and deal with the situation in Yemen, Turkish Arabia.

The hitherto localized revolt in Yemen against Turkish rule has been fanned into a more widespread rebellion by a warlike proclamation of Sheik Mahmud Yohia. A number of tribes have joined the rebel sheik and the encounters with Turkish troops which have taken place at various points indicate that the situation is critical. Turkey is embarrassed by the objection of the troops to go to Yemen. Further reinforcements which were on their way there mutinied on board a transport in the Red sea early this week, and refused to do any duty until they received their arrears of pay.

More About the White City.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Mr. Sundby's article in last night's Herald concerning "The White City," is very timely, and the location proposed an ideal one. There we would have a central location with a good view of the city and harbor and a chance for cooling lake breezes.

The problem of accessibility is the chief one, and is liable to prejudice people in favor of some location near the lake level. But as Mr. Sundby says, it is only a seeming one. There are various ways of reaching this location—by the Boulevard from the east, Piedmont avenue, or the Incline.

There is also a fourth way, and that is by building an elevator such as they have successfully and without any accident operated in Stockholm, Sweden, for the last twenty-five or thirty years. As they have it there passengers are carried up by means of elevators to a bridge which runs to a point considerably higher up the hill. This system of transportation has been operated with profit at the nominal charge of less than 1 cent a head.

Such a bridge could be built at Fourteenth avenue west at the "Point of Rocks," with the elevator on Superior street and running up to the top of the bluff, or higher as may be desired.

The street car company, no doubt with an eye to business, could be induced to see the advantage of such a novel means of transportation, and so make it unnecessary to call in outside aid.

That a "White City" would be a success from a financial standpoint can not be doubted, as the one in Minneapolis was a money maker from the start. So much so that the "Twin City Rapid Transit Co." is building a new and larger one on an island in Lake Minnetonka fifteen miles from the city.

JOHN BRANDT.

Duluth, Feb. 23.

ORANGE ORDERS MAY GET TOGETHER AGAIN.

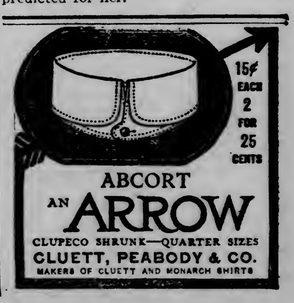

Belfast, Feb. 23.—A dramatic change has come over the political situation in Ulster, and the three-year-old feud between the two Orange orders seems in a fair way to be settled. The breach opened in 1902 was widened when Thomas Sloan opposed the nominee of the Belfast Conservative association at the South Belfast by-election, and won. Later came the Magheramorne manifesto, which was issued on behalf of the Independent Orange order, and was signed by, amongst others, Mr. Sloan. This document, the issue of which created a sensation in Orange circles, protested against Mr. Balfour's redistribution scheme, and went on to say that Dublin castle government stood self-condemned, and that all parties were agreed as to the necessity of sweeping reforms in the government and administration of Ireland. The principle of local government, having been conceded by the Unionists under the local government act, must proceed to its logical conclusion. The issue of this manifesto was deemed to have destroyed any chance of unity between the two Orange orders, and it was anticipated that the dispute would add two, if not three, to the number of contests in Ulster, and jeopardize the chances of success of the official Unionist in several other constituencies.

GIRL OF THIRTEEN

Gives Piano Recitals and Lectures on Music in Missouri.

Carthage, Mo., Feb. 23.—Miss Edith Cramer of this city, aged 13, is probably the youngest public lecturer in this country. She is a piano prodigy and has given recitals throughout Missouri.

On such occasions she lectures on the beauty of music. She not only displays an amazing knowledge of the art, but imparts this knowledge in chaste and pleasing language to her auditors. A brilliant future in the musical world is predicted for her.

ABCORT AN ARROW

CLUPECO SHRUNK—QUARTER SIZES

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO.

MAKERS OF CLUETT AND MONARCH SHIRTS

GATELY'S GOOD GOODS BEST ON EARTH

PAY DAY

What does it mean to you.....?

If you are in a discouraged kind of mood after paying out your bills, because you haven't enough left to buy necessary articles, should it be anything we sell, it's time you appeal to the GATELY HELP-OUT PLAN. We will make the way so plain and easy for you that your only wonder will be that every workingman in Duluth and Superior is not following the thousands who have already reaped success by this plan.

Clothing the family and furnishing the home on easy payments, we can do to perfection.

GATELY'S

8 East Superior Street.

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS.

REPUBLIC OF WASHINGTON

The Providential Nation of Present World's History, Says Ireland.

Catholic Prelate Addresses Audience of 15,000 at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Feb. 23.—Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul addressed an audience of 15,000 people in Convention hall in this city last night upon the subject, "The Republic of Washington." United States Senator Warner acted as chairman and introduced the distinguished prelate.

More than 20,000 tickets had been sold and thousands of people came from Kansas and Missouri cities and towns to hear the lecture.

The subject of the address of Archbishop Ireland was "The Republic of Washington." He said in part:

"Democracy has won in America; and through America it has won the whole world. America is truly the providential nation in this new era of the world's history. I believe in providential nations. Even as I believe that God rules over men and nations, so do I believe that a divine mission has been assigned to the republic of the United States. The mission is to prepare the world, by example and moral influence, for the universal reign of human liberty and human rights. America does not live for herself alone; she holds in her keeping the destinies of humanity. No Monroe doctrine confines her democracy within Atlantic and Pacific shores. Even in Washington's day, the spirit of America, borne to their home by the soldiers of La-Fayette and Rochambeau had hastened the revolution in France. There indeed liberty was defeated at first by the wild excesses of her own champions; but she never afterwards ceased her struggles; and today France is a well established republic. Meanwhile other countries of Europe were being influenced by the example of America; democracy was gradually but surely leavening their institutions. Spain and Italy have reached the very confines of the republican regime. Germany elects her parliament, which a Hohenzollern fears and obeys; in Great Britain and Ireland the suffrage is almost universal; in Belgium it is entirely so, and now Russia is yielding to popular clamor and adopting a constitution to take the place of irresponsible autocracy.

And far beyond Europe does democracy speak. In Japan a representative parliament divides this supreme power with the once deified mikado, while China and Persia are hastening to adopt a similar form of government. And wherever democracy reigns, America reigns; for America was democracy's first home, and it is from the fullness of its life in America that it has spread its charm across seas and oceans to the furthermost ends of the earth.

It behooves us, fellow Americans, to consider well our responsibilities. Never did responsibilities such as ours rest upon a people; never was there given to a people a country such as is given to us, and never did the welfare of a country depend so absolutely upon the patriotism of a people as the welfare of America depends upon the patriotism of its people.

Let us understand and realize the momentous fact that the life of the republic, its growth and welfare, its aspirations and hopes are in the hands of the people, dependent to a supreme degree upon their will and their actions. This is the result of popular suffrage, the result of the vital principal of the republic that all its citizens, are, one and all, monarchs entitled to speak imperatively before the electoral urn and there to decide who shall enact laws, who shall execute them, to determine in effect what the laws shall be under which the republic is to prosper or to decay.

Patriotism? If ever there was meaning to the word, let there be meaning to it today in America; if ever it voiced the deepest throbbings of hearts, let it voice them today in America.

I believe in the perpetuity of the republic of Washington; I believe in its ever increasing grandeur with its ever increasing years; because I believe in the enduring patriotism of the people of America. I do not close my eyes to the perils that confront us—perils that confront all social organizations, perils that confront in a special manner those begotten of democracy and ruled by democracy. But the perils we shall overcome, Providence guiding our destinies, and ourselves doing to the utmost our share in love and labor to maintain our glorious institutions.

America is the issue; democracy is the issue. How much there is to live our patriotism. The eyes of the world are upon us, wondering what the verdict of history shall be.

Let the country always elect as its guardians its best and worthiest sons; let voters seek them out and give them honor. Incapable men should not be chosen; still less, dishonest and immoral men. The party that places on its ticket dishonest names should be overwhelmed in inglorious defeat, and taught the stern lesson that insult is never offered with impunity to the sacredness and purity of the republic.

Care should be taken that foreigners choosing America as their home be pervaded with the spirit of our institutions and made Americans in mind and heart. Efforts to concentrate, immigrants in social groups and to retard their Americanization, should be steadily frowned down. There are in American self-constituted leaders of foreign-born citizens who speak of Americanization as a term of reproach; with such men public opinion should deal severely. Nor should immigrants be prematurely authorized to vote. Due respect for American citizenship ought to guard against a reckless extension of it to men coming to us from other lands. No one should be invested with the franchise until a sufficient residence in the country has given him full opportunity to understand its institutions and laws. No encouragement must be given to social or political organizations or methods which perpetuate in this country foreign ideas and customs.

While we seek to Americanize immigrants, may it not be well to guard some Americans against being foreignized. They are not Americans, except inasmuch as they draw their gold from America, who colonize the so-called American quarters in the capitals of Europe. Nor are they Americans who glory in importing foreign fashions of language and dress, and who are willing to pay treble prices for the ornaments of home or person, merely because these ornaments are of foreign fabrication. They are surely not Americans who covet, above all that is not American, foreign titles for their fortunes and their daughters. There is room among Americans for the work of Americanization.

Personal freedom, personal initiative, untrammelled personal action—limited only by the rights of others and the security of the public weal—these are the vital elements of American democracy and of American prosperity. Let them ever be held sacred, and America lives and reigns.

CHAINED TO A CORPSE.

Doleful Punishment of the Ancients Duplicated in Our Modern Life.

The Romans used to punish a murderer by chaining to his body the corpse of his victim. Wherever he went he dragged behind him the debris of his crime, the sleazy cadaver, revolting thing that was once a man.

Every day you see people dragging around with them the corpse of their sins. They can't get away from them. And many of them have become so intimate with these corpses that they become corpses themselves. The misery of these poor unfortunates has become constitutional with them. It fits them like an old shoe. They have become accustomed to it.

And there are thousands of humans who are walking the earth today with corpses attached to them,—dyspepsic stomachs they can't get rid of. They have to get along the best they can with the stomachs they have. And the owners of said dyspeptic stomachs are to be found in every walk in life, suffering from some form of indigestion, first cousin of dyspepsia.

They wear that forlorn appearance, their energy is at zero, nothing interests them, and they interest no one, their faces are shrunk, their nerves are wilted and their shoulders sag. Are you one of the myriads who dandle and gratify their palates, at the sacrifice of their stomachs? Are you one of those who allow their senses to run riot, eating too much, drinking too much, eating at the wrong time, eating the half-cooked, the queer and the impossible?

Are you bloated after eating, and imagine that it is food that fills you? Do you have nausea when you look upon this or that, rebel at one thing and be hungry for it, too, at the same time? And have you got a whole lot of other things the matter with your stomach that you know about but nobody else does, and can't explain? If so, you have dyspepsia, real dyspepsia. And the chances are you have had it a long time.

You stomach is overworked, abused, fagged out. The gastric and digestive juices are weak, the muscles of the stomach are jaded, and the whole ousiness needs new life. It needs something which will take hold of the food as it comes in and do the digesting, and let your stomach take a rest.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do that very thing. They contain a most powerful ingredient which helps the stomach in the process of digestion, cures dyspepsia, sour stomach, indigestion, heart-burn, eructations, acidity or fermentation. They invigorate the stomach, increase the flow of gastric juice, and do two-thirds of what the stomach would have to do without them. That gives the stomach some rest, and a chance to get right again.

You will feel the change first in your mind and heart and then over your whole body. You'll feel rosy and sweet. That's the object. You can get these effective little tablets almost anywhere on earth for 50c a package.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the name.

35c STOCKS SELLING AT 15c.

TWO FOR 25c.

15c Tomorrow we place on sale a choice assortment of women's lace and embroidery stocks—selling regularly at 25c and 35c. Special at 15c each or two for 25c.

Freimuth's

Lake Avenue, Michigan and Superior Sts., Duluth, Minn.

$1.50 to $2.00 HAND BAGS—SPECIAL AT 98c.

A lucky purchase of our Mr. Loewus—now in New York—enables us to offer you the latest styles and shapes in splendid $1.50 and $2.00 bags tomorrow at---------- 98c

Men's 75c Neckwear == Special 35c or 3 for $1.00==Tomorrow!

NOW YOU HAVE IT! That's the news we've been telling you to watch for! See that you get in for your share.

35c A hundred dozen Men's Fine Neckwear in the richest colorings, tints and shades—Neckwear of the dressy sort—particular Neckwear for people with discriminating taste—Four-in-Hands and French Folds, that would never sell at the exclusive men's stores at less than 50c and 75c—all in one lot—tomorrow at 35c each, or 3 for $1.00. 35c

Wives, Sisters and Mothers! Tell your husbands, brothers and sons to buy 50c and 75c Neckwear at 35c each, or three for a dollar, in our Annex tomorrow!

NEW NEGLIGEE SHIRTS $1.00.

WHILE attending the neckwear sale tomorrow, ask the clerk to show you our new spring and summer negligee shirts.

There are Oxfords, fine madras and French percales in plain white, black and white and pretty patterns galore — none such elsewhere at our price of $1.00.

15c FOR MEN'S 20c HOSE

They're fast black cotton — double heels and toes—ought to sell at 20c—we saved enough in buying to sell them at 15c a pair or

2 pair for 25c

NEW PAJAMAS, $1

SOME men ridicule pajamas—but they don't know them as they should—and they'd better investigate this offer of $1.25 pajamas, marked $1.00.

A splendid shipment of fine white muslin pajamas—neatly trimmed—and splendid $1.25 values will sell freely to men who appreciate good things at $1.00 the suit tomorrow.

Tomorrow==New and Stunning Styles in Spring Suits at $25.00.

THIS lot of suits we'll sell at $25.00 tomorrow is just being unboxed. Our salesladies tell us that they'd be great values at $32.50 and $35.00—but our buyer sent them along with these instructions.

$25 "From your reports, sales are almost doubling last year's—I won't be satisfied with less than doubled February business. To do this I am sending you this lot of suits—from the bills you will see that they ought to sell for about $35.00 — put them on sale at $25.00 — and the people can't get away from them." $25

We also show many other clever models in Pony and Eton Coat Suits in blacks, grays, blues, Alice blues, fancy checks and novelties at prices ranging $21.50, $27.50, and $32.50.

NEW COATS.

Another shipment of nobby new coats came today—only one or two of a kind—new models in Pony Coats, coverts, cheviots, serges in tans, blues & whites.

$10.50 to $30.00

This price range includes the exclusive styles for which you always look to Freimuth's.

NEW SKIRTS.

You have another chance tomorrow at samples of the latest styles in spring and summer skirts—including whites and novelties.

$5.00 to $8.50

For Skirts worth $7.00 to $15.00.

A FEW AT $3.98

That are worth $5.50.

New $60 Fur-lined Coats A remarkable offer—our recent purchase of fine fur-lined coats—advance styles—sure to be correct next fall—worth to $60—on sale at $29.50 and $35.00. Come tomorrow if you want to get in on this bargain. $29.50 AND $35.00

6 PRICES THAT WILL SURELY DRAW SMART SHOE BUYERS!

Shoes for the whole family—you can buy the children's shoes with what you save on your own here tomorrow! These are reductions that deserve the attention of every thrifty and economical purchaser. Don't miss them tomorrow.

WOMEN'S $2.00 SHOES, $1.39. Choose from women's heavy or light soled, Dongola kid shoes, with patent tips—shoes that sell freely at our regular price of $2.00—Saturday only $1.39 a pair. $1.39

MISSES' $1.75 SHOES, $1.25. These are those dressy vici kid, patent tipped shoes for misses—they're made with heavy extension soles and city heels—sell reg. at $1.75—Saturday $1.25 pair. $1.25

YOUTHS' $1.75 SHOES $1.25. Youths' extra good $1.75 box calf shoes, with extension soles—Saturday, per pair— $1.25

BOYS' $2.00 SHOES, $1.50. Boys' strong wearing $2.00 shoes of stout box calf—extension soles—Saturday, per pair— $1.50

CHILDREN'S $1.50 SHOES, $1.00. Children's patent tip vici kid $1.50 shoes—heavy extension soles—city heels—per pair— $1.00

Men's Crossett Shoes $3.50 a Pair—Worth $1.00 More

SALE ROYAL GRAY GRANITE WARE AT 1/4 OFF CONTINUES TOMORROW!

SEE the goods in the window—it's first-class—that good kind that always gives good service—the kind it pays to buy.

Big assortments of all sorts of wanted ware at 1/4 off our regular low prices tomorrow!

11c for 15c ware.	22c for 29c ware.	29c for 39c ware.
15c for 20c ware.	26c for 35c ware.	52c for 69c ware.
19c for 25c ware.	32c for 43c ware.	74c for 98c ware.

BROKEN LINES OF $1.50 TO $3.50 CORSETS ON SALE AT $1.00.

Several broken lines of high-grade corsets—corsets that you know and like—corsets that sell regularly at $1.50 to $3.50 $1.00 —mostly sizes 23 to 26—styles include long or short hips—medium high bust $1.00 —black, white and drab—for a swift clean-up, tomorrow, $1.00.

SATURDAY SPECIALS—TOILET GOODS.

10c for 25c cake Kirk's famous Juvenile Toilet Soap—a fine milled, scented soap.

Superior quality Bay Rum regular 50c bottle—on sale Saturday only for..... 25c

15c for 25c bottle Milk of Cucumber Lotions for chapped hands and complexion

25c size Violet toilet water—a delightful toilet necessity, on sale Saturday, at.. 15c

FOR SUNDAY'S READING AND WRITING.

25c for a 35c box of fine "Old Time" linen writing paper and envelopes to match.

All the new magazines for March—The Ladies' Home Journal included—at Stationery Department.

23c for one pound fine linen note paper—a hundred sheets—elsewhere 35c lb.

The Butterick Patterns, Fashion Sheets and Delineator for March are ready. Buy them here.

65c NIGHT GOWNS 50c. Women's night gowns of good muslin and cambric—V or high neck with deep yoke and hemstitched tucks — regular 65c gowns—Saturday, only 50c. 50c

CHILDREN'S DRAWERS, 10c. Children's neat muslin drawers, trimmed with clusters of tucks—sizes 1 to 12 years. Saturday special 10c pair. 10c

35c Cambric Drawers 21c Four different styles women's cambric drawers with deep lawn ruffles — trimmed with lace or embroidery— regular price 35c— Saturday only 21c a pair. 21c

CHILDREN'S DRAWERS, 15c. Pretty little muslin drawers trimmed with embroidery edging—sizes 1 to 12 years—worth 20c—Saturday, pair 15c

THE STAGE

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Louis James in "Richelieu."
METROPOLITAN—Reilly & Wood's company.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Saturday afternoon, Louis James in "Ingomar;" evening, "Virginius."
METROPOLITAN—"Miss New York."

LOUIS JAMES.

Tonight Louis James will appear at the Lyceum in "Richelieu," the great classical drama by Bulwer-Lytton. Tomorrow afternoon he will present "Ingomar" and in the evening "Virginius." Mr. James has been a welcome visitor here upon many occasions, for aside from his individual artistic effort, he is the only American star presenting the classic drama who was born in America, is supported by an absolutely all-American company, and is exploited by American management.

It is asserted that not since the days of John McCullough has there been such a complete organization perfected, such a sumptuous revival made, or such a faultless delineation portrayed as this revival of "Virginius" by Mr. James.

AT THE METROPOLITAN.

The Reilly & Wood company will conclude its engagement at the Metropolitan with a performance this evening and tomorrow, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. Then it is good-bye to "Simple Simon and Simon Simple," "A Hot Time at Reilly's," Pat Reilly, Kennedy and Evans, Daly and Reno, the great pianists and "funsters," Orth and Fern, and all the rest.

"KING O'KEEFE."

Rehearsals for the Elks' big show, "King O'Keefe," or "The Isle of Yao," are rapidly assuming shape. "The Rag Bag Man" being an especially catchy number, in which Don Clark, the "Royal Poet," is assisted by the Misses Margaret Nordahl, Flora McDonald, Agnes Skelton, Agnes Morrison, Petronella Gillman, Alice Sund, Clara Collier, Effie Brotherton, Edna Jones, Hildegarde Wohlin, Elsie Flett, Hattie Plannt, Hazel Roberts, Bessie Collier and Lillian Morey. Charles Dorrance as Queen Lil" will appear in a magnificent evening gown and will, in the ballroom scene, wear $30,000 worth of stage diamonds. Paul Clarkson has been cast for the high chancellor, and, with Cliff Allen, Don Clark and Stanley and Lotta Lamb, will sing and dance a new Eastern hit, "Indians on Broadway." E. M. Spencer as Roderick of the Hunchback, has a great part, and his solo, "The Queen She Comes," is a great number. The Misses Shaw, Foss, Dingwall, Lawrenz and Irwin make their appearance with Messrs. O'Gorman, Aronson, Dignus and Maine in "We'll Wander in the Bright Moonlight." All the musical numbers are catchy, and little Jessie Beatty appears as the right little girl.

DON'T FORGET

The First Annual Masquerade Ball, given by Degree Team, Court North Star No. 29, U. O. F., ARMORY,

TONIGHT

Cash prizes given. Admission 25 and 50 cents. Chartered car for West Duluth 2 o'clock. Paul Orchestra.

NEW SOLOIST.

Fresh Duluth Talent to be Heard at Band Concert.

The Third Regiment band will give the regular Sunday evening band concert beginning at 8 p. m. As hitherto, every effort will be made to warrant a large attendance and the band will present a program which it believes to be the best one to date. That is the object of the organization—to make the last program a little bit better than the previous one.

Miss Alga Prytz, a 14-year-old girl of the West end, who is said to possess a wonderful soprano voice, will be the soloist. This will be the first time she will have appeared before an audience such as attends the band concerts, and her friends expect her to succeed. Those who have heard her are enthusiastic about her.

MIGRATORY DIVORCES

Could be Curtailed If States Would Adopt Uniform Laws.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Before finally adjourning last night the congress of uniform divorce laws for the several states adopted the following resolution, which seeks to make even more stringent the laws pertaining to the "migratory" character of divorces:

"Each state should adopt a statute embodying the principle contained in the Massachusetts act, which is as follows:

"'If an inhabitant of this commonwealth goes into another state or country to obtain a divorce for a cause which occurred here while the parties resided here or for a cause which would not authorize a divorce by the laws of this commonwealth, a divorce so obtained shall be of no force or effect in this commonwealth.'"

In reporting this resolution, Chairman Smith of the resolutions committee explained that its purpose was to guard against migratory divorce, which would still obtain, providing some state or states declined to adopt the uniform divorce code to be prepared.

A resolution was also adopted providing that "fraud or collusion in obtaining or attempting to obtain divorces should be made stautory crimes by the criminal code."

The report of the committee on resolutions on marriage license and marriages was covered by a resolution which declared:

"That while the congress does not regard the consideration of the marriage laws as within the purview within the call under which it assembles, it desires to express its earnest hope that some suitable effort will be made by some other body to secure uniform marriage laws and especially a uniform marriage license law; and it would respectfully recommend the matter to the consideration of the commissioners on uniform on state laws."

It was further recommended that the necessity for annual collection and publication of statistics on divorce would greatly assist in combatting the divorce evil. At present but eleven states compile such statistics.

MONUMENT FINALLY PLACED.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 23.—After three trials with intervals of months, the Iowa monument in Rossville Gap, was placed in its position yesterday afternoon. The monument is massive and beautiful. The date for its dedication will be fixed by the commissioners appointed to locate the site and erect the shaft.

SKINNED BY TORTURERS

Mexican Describes Raid When Companions Lost Their Lives.

Survivor Was Found Unconscious From Horror by a Priest.

Durango, Mex., Feb. 23.—One of the most frightful crimes in the history of the state has just come to light. Three sheep herders named Felipe Ramos, Zavia Guitterez and Juan Obedez, after being robbed of their flocks, were literally skinned alive; then their quivering bodies were thrown on an immense brush heap and incinerated by a band of desperadoes which has been operating in the neighborhood of Corrales, northwest of here, in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada mountains.

The details are related by Dominico de Leon, who was one of the four herders attacked in the vicinity of Corrales the morning of Sunday. He says:

"Myself, Ramos, Gutterez and Obedez had performed our morning devotions within the sound of the church bells of Corrales Sunday morning. The other three lay down at the slope of a mound to take a siesta, while I went into the hills in search of a stray lamb. When I returned within a quarter of a mile of the place where I had left my three companions, blood-curdling cries reached my ears, and I recognized the voices of my dearest friends shrieking in frightful agony. Dropping the lamb I had been carrying, I hurried forward, keeping well within the shadow, until I reached a point where I could see all that was going on and still not be seen.

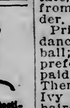

"The scene I witnessed was horrible. A score of brigands, armed with guns and long knives, wild, fierce-looking fellows, were dancing around as though intoxicated. About a score more were gathered around the prostrate, naked bodies of my former companions, who had been striped of every stitch of clothing. The second gang of brigands were engaged in skinning Ramoz, Guitterez and Obedez alive, with huge knives.

"The cries of the unfortunate men made me heartsick and I thought two or three times I must faint. But the frightful sight fascinated me and I crept nearer and nearer, until I could hear the brigands demanding the hiding place of their victims' money. The latter declared before God they had none. Each denial brought forth more torture for them. Finally collecting a heap of brush, the brigands having bound the three herders' hands and feet, threw them on the heap and set fire to it, watching the flames scorch and burn the quivering flesh and laughing at the shrieks of anguish wrung from the tortured souls of my companions.

"The brigands remained until all was still, when, corralling the sheep, my own among them, they drove them in a northwesterly direction toward the mountains. For myself, when the devils departed, I tried to rise; but fell back, fainting dead away.

"At nightfall I was discovered by the parish priest of Corrales, who was on his way to a sick call to a herder named Fernandez Gonsalvos."

LADIES Who Have Used Them Recommend as the BEST DR. KING'S Star Crown Brand PENNYROYAL PILLS.

Immediate relief, no danger, no pain. Used for years by leading specialists. Hundreds of testimonials. A trial will convince you of their intrinsic value in case of suppression.

Forwarded in securely sealed plain package upon receipt of $1.50. King Medicine Co., P. O. Box 237, Duluth, Minn.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle, and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

LOVE OF KING'S NIECE SPURNED

Princess Patricia Ready to Renounce Title for Happiness.

New York, Feb. 23.—A London cable to the World says: A royal princess, King Edward's niece, has fallen so desperately in love with an immensely wealthy young nobleman that she is ready to renounce rank, title and precedence to make him her lord.

But were she a village girl she would be no nearer her heart's desire, for the man of her heart loves another. And, the worse for him, the princess' father has informed him that he would welcome him as a son-in-law.

Princess Victoria Patricia of Connaught, so the story runs, became infatuated with the young Marquis of Anglesey, whom she met at Princess Ena of Battenberg's coming-out ball last year. Princess Patricia, who will be 20 years old next St. Patrick's Day, is the youngest daughter of King Edward's only living brother.

The Marquis of Anglesey, who will come of age next April, will have an income of $750,000 a year when his estate, which he inherited with the title from his dissolute uncle, is put in order.

Princess Patricia and the Marquis danced several dances at Princess Ena's ball; Anglesey seemed delighted by the preference shown him, and for a while paid the princess marked attention. Then he fell deeply in love with Lady Ivy Gordon-Lennox, a lovely, fair-haired girl, only daughter of Lord Algernon Gordon-Lennox, the Duke of Richmond's brother.

Princess Patricia's affection for the marquis being unmistakable, her family made most discreet overtures to him.

Anglesey tried to extricate himself by intimating that he did not wish to occupy the nondescript position of husband of a royal princess. It was then that Patricia declared that as a princess she is miserable and can be happy only as the Marchioness of Anglesey. And now Anglesey's friends say the Connaughts have let him know that his engagement to the princess would be announced becomingly on his twenty-first birthday, April 14.

The Connaughts have not contradicted the gossip that Princess Patricia refused King Alfonso because she preferred Anglesey. But even royal princesses must sometimes pine and be consumed by unrequited love. In Queen Victoria's time, the Marquis of Hartington, now the Duke of Devonshire, was marked down to marry Princess Louise, now Duchess of Argyll. Hartington promptly took a two-years' tour of the world.

"THE SUN DO MOVE."

"Lady Blount and Albert Smith" Prove It in Thirteenth Pamphlet.

London, Feb. 23.—"Lady Blount and Albert Smith" have begun a new campaign to prove that Newton's law of gravitation is useless, and that above all, the earth is flat and not round.

The thirteenth pamphlet has just been turned out by "Lady Blount and Albert Smith," in support of these theories. Believers in the cult of the flat earth style themselves Zetetics.

"There is strong evidence," says this latest pamphlet, "to prove that the sun when directly overhead is only about 100 miles away instead of 93,000,000 miles; and that it is about thirty miles in diameter, instead of being large enough to hold the earth and all of the planets.

In his daily circuit above the flat and stationary earth it travels about 25,000 miles at the equator, and at the tropics less than one-half of the distance that the earth travels in one hour."

Foolish people who point to the curved shadow of the earth on the moon as proof of the earth's globular shape are taken to task by Lady Blount, who ridicules modern astronomy in the pamphlet.

The Calumet & Arizona Mining Company

Have declared a dividend of Two and Fifty one-hundredths ($2.50) dollars a share, being the tenth quarterly dividend on the outstanding stock of said Company, payable March 20th to stockholders of record at the close of the books March 3rd, 1906. Transfer books will close at 3 o'clock p. m. March 3rd, 1906, and reopen at 10 o'clock a. m. March 20th, 1906.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 21st, 1906.
GORDON R. CAMPBELL,
Secretary.

Persian Nerve Essence

RESTORES VITALITY—Have cured thousands of cases of Nervous Debility, Insomnia. They clear the brain, strengthen the circulation, make digestion perfect and impart a magnetic vigor to the whole being. All drains and losses stopped permanently. $1.00 per box; 6 boxes guaranteed to cure or refund money, $5. Mailed sealed. Book free. Persian Med. Co., 93; Arch street, Philadelphia. Sold in Duluth only by Max Wirth, 13 West Superior street.

ENTERTAIN FOR MASON

Grocers Banquet Former Secretary of Their State Association.

Guest of Honor Talks About Confidence and Consistency.

Over 200 grocers attended the banquet at Flaaten's auditorium last evening, in honor of Fred Mason, formerly secretary of the Minnesota Retail Grocers' association, and now connected with the Diamond Match company, with headquarters at New York.

This is the first time that Mr. Mason has had occasion to visit Duluth since his change of work and his numerous friends among the grocery trade determined to give him cause to remember the visit with pleasure.

George H. Schulenberg, vice president of the local grocers' association, acted in the capacity of presiding officer and speeches and toasts were made by a number of Duluth's prominent citizens.

Andrew T. Rock, of Superior, secretary of the Wisconsin Grocers' association, gave an interesting talk on the subject of "Organization." Mr. Rock told of conditions that existed before the grocers were brought together for their own interests and urged an even closer union. He commented on the present strength and excellent organization of the grocers' association in both cities and said that the present conditions should be incentives toward a growth of each association.

Mr. Mason's part in preparing and presenting to the last legislature of the pure food law and other bills pertaining to general welfare of the people of Minnesota, along the same line, was treated on by Senator George R. Laybourn. He complimented Mr. Mason highly for the work he did as a servant of the association and for the valuable assistance that he had rendered the state and people at large. Senator Laybourn said that Mr. Mason's removal to New York would be regarded as a loss to Minnesota.

E. M. Ferguson, of the Knudsen-Ferguson Fruit company, and president of the Duluth Commercial club, talked briefly of Mr. Mason's work during the time he was connected with the state grocers' association. Mr. Ferguson's remarks were very complimentary in nature, particularly with reference to the executive ability displayed by Mr. Mason while an officer of the state organization.

Mr. Mason talked to the grocers on the subject "Confidence and Consistency." Referring to the old adage that "Competition is the life of trade," Mr. Mason said that while that might be true to a great extent he believed that a fair competition should be practiced, that it should be the object of the retail merchants to compete with each other to give the best service, the quickest delivery, the best goods. He claimed that the merchants should do everything to gain the confidence of customers and then be consistent to that confidence.

The retail merchants, Mr. Mason held, should endeavor to educate the public to the degree that the railroads have educated the merchants. He predicted that the day is approaching when the merchant who attempts to do all the business in a town, who does not hesitate at unfair methods, who does not belong to the association to better conditions in his town or city, will not be known in Minnesota. He believes that the people are getting better acquainted with the retail trade and are being educated to see the good that the retail associations are accomplishing.

Fair profits, Mr. Mason claimed, are to be obtained by organization, and common sense worked together, by consistency on the part of the retailers. He said he believed the merchants should take an interest in politics, and called attention to the fact that some of the prominent members of the legislature are merchants. He could see no reason why the lawyer or member who belonged to some other profession should regard himself as competent to be on a committee to regulate the selling of goods any more than a grocer in legislature would expect to be put on a committee to revise the state constitution.

Mr. Mason enlivened his remarks from time to time with anecdotes and stories to illustrate his points.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

The danger point of the Old Dominion mine fire at Globe, Ariz., has been passed and rehabitation of the mine will now begin. The tenth level was reached at 10 o'clock Wednesday night by lining the pump compartment with canvass. There is a great deal of timber in old stations of the burned shaft, which will smoulder for some time.

The funeral of Margaret Lear, for whose assault and murder Charles Coleman, a negro, is under arrest, was held Thursday afternoon at Shreveport, La., and feeling has been increased to fever heat. Sheriff Ward has asked for more troops and the company at Leesville is now enroute to this city on a special train to protect the prisoner.

Mrs. Charles A. Wilder died Thursday from the effects of the wound which she inflicted by shooting herself on the stage of a Denver theater in the presence of an audience last Monday. Shortly before her death Mrs. Wilder said that she had intended to shoot the press agent of the theater because the man had threatened to kill her unless she consented to marry him.

COMPULSORY LABOR FOR GERMANY'S WARDS

Berlin, Feb. 23.—Dr. Karl Peters, the well-known South African traveler, lectured before the National Liberal association on German colonial policy. As Dr. Peters is regarded largely as the best authority in Germany on this subject his remarks are not without interest.

A country like Germany, said the lecturer, which annually adds 1,000,000 to its population, must have colonies if for no other purpose than to provide additional markets for its industrial products. Before all else German South Africa must be provided with roads and railways. It must then be drained, irrigated, and afforested. Germany must follow England's example by encouraging private speculation in her colonies. It is no use applying to colonies the complicated administrative methods of the mother country. With regard to the natives, there must be no nonsensical humanitarianism. Germany must show themselves masters if they are to remain masters. The blacks are lazy, and avoid work, and compulsory labor is an absolutely necessary institution. Why object to compulsory labor? We have compulsory education, compulsory vaccination, compulsory military service, and why not apply this principle to labor, especially when it cannot be done without?

Dr. Peters asked his audience: Was Germany in South Africa for humanitarian or for economic reasons? Another danger ahead for Germany was the influx of Hindoos, who threaten gradually to draw all the trade into their own hands.

Get My Free Book — Rheumatism

It tells about Rheumatism, about the causes, the way to live to avoid and free the system of rheumatic poisons—even in desperate cases—with

DR. SHOOP'S RHEUMATIC TABLETS

Dr. Shoop Racine Wis. Sold By Druggists

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY

THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE — WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED.

MEN WHO DRESS WELL and Are Economically Inclined—SEE THESE.

98c is the signal of an extra special item in men's very fine shirts; they're imported percales, with pleated bosoms, in both the light and dark patterns—stripes or figures; a discontinued line of regular $3.00 shirts—but there are only sizes 15½, 16 and 16½. Now you men who wear those sizes, buy a fine shirt for the cost of an ordinary one.

Still a goodly selection of those fine colored and figured negligee shirts for men; madras, percale, cheviots, etc., in mostly light effects; some are those fine stripes, others are little figures and some are the darker plaids and check effects; shirts that have been not less than $1.00—some of them $1.50—Saturday 69c.

25c—They're 50c and 75c French fold silk four-in-hands—splendid variety of colors and the finest of silk used in neckwear. This price to make room for spring neckwear.

(Men's Department—East Aisle.)

Trimmed Hats Saturday For Only 39c.

39c—Not a great many left of those hats we've been selling at 48c—values of which we're originally up to $3.50. Most of them are trimmed street hats, showing wings, ornaments, etc., and others are neat bent shapes in French felts. Choose from them all Saturday and pay only 39c.

$1.25 for choice of four trimmed pattern hats — all there are left—all neat, attractive and stylish patterns—worth up to $5.50.

(Millinery Parlor—Second Floor.)

New Dainty NECKWEAR for Women

Women who admire the beauty of neatness and simplicity, will like these new turnover collars and sets; fine, sheer hemstitched and daintily embroidered.

Quite an attraction, too, in such unassuming prices as these—you'll say as much, once you've seen them.

Collars 5c to 65c each. Sets from 35c to 95c.

(Neckwear—West Center Aisle)

New Embroidery ALLOVERS Just In.

Twenty-five pieces of net embroideries—some beautiful ideas in allover designs—imagine their beauty for waists, sleeves and yokes; sufficiently varied for every taste and at varied prices—50c to $2.50 a yard.

Pay only half or two-thirds the ordinary price for these embroideries in nainsook and Swiss edges and insertions; so little because they are broken lots—worth less to us, but just as much to you as any others; 10c was the smallest price, and $1.00 the biggest—now it's 5c and 48c.

(Embroideries—West Center Aisle.)

36-inch BLACK SILKS 89c, 98c.

Taffeta worth $1.25 for 89c—peau de soie, taffeta and heavy satin worth up to $1.95 for 98c; silk counter.

$24.50 For a Neat SPRING SUIT—Eton or Eton-Blouse Models.

Perhaps you didn't know you could get a new suit so smart and chic as this for so little a price!

New spring Suits in Eton and Eton blouse styles, in those little fancy English mixtures and checks of gray—to be so popularly worn—so thoroughly admired.

And how swell they are—how many the handsome effects worked out in them! Jackets, with either three-quarter or full sleeve, are trimmed in so many different ideas in pretty strapped or pleated effects, with possibly a little braid finishing touch, a self-colored or contrasted piping, or a dainty arrangement of buttons; jackets all lined with white or light silks.

Just the same individuality in the skirt styles, too (though all are full circular skirts)—with different effects in pleatings, button trimmings and pipings. Probably a dozen and a half models, and that peculiarly stylish "something" in each that commands your admiration—and for which some stores ask an additional $5.00 or $10.00.

$24.50 will buy any one in this splendid lot of new spring styles. If you're one of those who want a new suit, you'll look at these tomorrow.

Skirts for Spring—This One $5.98.

Skirts heavy enough to finish out the winter, light enough to usher in the spring, and stylish as any skirts bought at a much bigger price.

Choice of black, brown, blue or gray colors, in soft finish Panama cloths and beautiful wool serges; circular gored effects, trimmed in a number of novel ideas with button effects and bands of self-materials.

There are all lengths, and all sizes—skirts that sell regularly in any other store for not less than $7.50, and possibly much more. Pay only $5.98.

Plenty of other styles and materials at prices from $7.50 to $22.50—and a saving in every item.

An Early Start In White Waists.

Certain indications of a particularly strong "white season" make white shirt waists a point of some interest to the woman who is beginning to be ready.

Waists, these, that ought to sell for more, for they're beautiful sheer materials, with lace and embroidered fronts, pretty effects in little cluster tuckings, full length sleeves with that new deep cuff and tucked stock collar—they're really a big help in that "getting ready" idea.

All sizes from 32 to 42; a big purchase makes the price correspondingly little—98c.

New white Waists for spring in the smartest new effects—$1.25, $1.98, $2.98 and up to $22.50 for the fine ones.

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY

THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE — WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

STORE OPEN SATURDAY TILL 10 P. M.

Something Out of the Ordinary From the Drapery Department—SPECIAL.

There's no mistaking but that here are a pair of good drawing values for Saturday. Good practical items at much less than the usual price.

7½c—Fancy silkolines in many pretty designs for either comforters or light curtainings—light or dark colors—good range for selection, as there are a dozen different patterns; full yard wide and such as usually sell for 10c to 12½c; we want to close them out.

25c—Samples of Nottingham and cable net curtains, from 1½ to 2 yards in each—long enough for many a bedroom, hall or door window—ends from curtains worth up to $2.00 a pair; our last lot didn't last long—and these can't at the price.

(Draperies—Third Floor.)

New Wash Laces at 3c and 5c a Yard.

Not often have we seen—and never before have we shown—such a splendid lot of new wash laces, in beautiful patterns and light weights—when qualities and prices are put side by side.

People who have bought lately are talking of it—and hurrying back for more. Don't know hardly what we'll do for more when these are gone—they're so hard to get; meanwhile, these little prices continue to clear them out.

3c and 5c—German and French edges and insertions to match—look and wear like former 10c values.

(Lace Counter—West Center Aisle.)

DRESDEN RIBBONS at Special Prices

So many asking for Dresden ribbons, and we're going to make a special offer for Saturday. In the lot will be widths of 4 and 5 inches, and values up to 65c a yard.

Making it a "lot" for the sake of variety in widths and patterns, only—for they're new and some beautiful patterns and colorings there are—25c and 35c a yard.

(Ribbon Counter—West Center Aisle.)

"HEATHERBLOOM" Scores a Hit.

"I want one of those Heatherbloom petticoats Mrs. ——— told me about," is a commonly heard expression in our Skirt Dept. Every woman who has bought and worn one tells of the qualities of the taffeta skirt—the hang, the quiet rustle, the appearance and the lightness of it—and later they'll say "and how it does wear."

Silk Petticoats cost from $5 to $10 for even the cheaper ones—"Heatherbloom" Petticoats cost $2.25—about 4 to 1.

"Heatherbloom" by the yard—for linings and all similar purposes—(lining counter)—a yard 35c.

APRON CHECK GINGHAMS 3½c.

On the bargain counter Saturday—brown, green, blue and black checks in all sizes of checks—3½c.

SHOT FOUR OF MARAUDERS

St. Louis County Settler Kills Large Timber Wolves.

After losing several cattle through the depredations of hungry wolves, Henry Nyfeld, a settler in one of the outlying districts in an unorganized town north of Hibbing, was successful in laying four of the marauders low by means of his rifle. He brought the pelts yesterday to collect the bounty, forgetting that it was a legal holiday, and was unable to get the $60 revenue that he expected. He returned to his home with the intention of expressing the skins back to the auditor's office within a few days.

Mr. Nyfeld says that while the bounty will hardly recompense him for the loss he has sustained, it is some satisfaction to know that he has laid low four out of the marauding pack and has scared the rest to such an extent that they are now giving his place a wide berth.

He says that the wolves have been heard in the vicinity of his homestead nearly every night since winter set in, but until a few weeks ago he was unable to find any trace of them close to his buildings. One night the animals, seemingly emboldened by their hunger, ventured into the barnyard and killed and partially devoured a heifer before Mr. Nyfeld realized what they were about. He kept close watch several nights for their return, but they were too wary. The first time that he relaxed his vigilance, however, the whole pack came back and killed two more young animals. This time, during the uproar, he got a chance to shoot and laid out two of the wolves. The next night they were back and he killed two more, driving the pack away. The shooting occurred over a week ago and Mr. Nyfeld says he has not seen a wolf since within range, although he has heard them at a distance.

While in the city he purchased several traps with the intention of trapping some more of the pack, if such a thing is possible. He says that other settlers living a few miles from his place have lived in fear of the wolves all winter, but have not been disturbed other than by the barks and howls of the animals as they circled about the farms.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in fifty minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. Price 50c.

HE WINS HIS DIPLOMA AFTER FOURTEEN YEARS.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Abraham Bowers, who will receive his bachelor's degree from the University of Chicago at the fifty-eighth convocation, next month, probably holds the record among students of the great school for persistency in gaining a college education.

He was the first to apply for admission to the university at its opening, fourteen years ago, going from a teachership at Tolona, Ill. Since that time he has worked under difficulties to complete the course, usually completed in four years. He attended the first class in the university, was a member of the student choir at the first chapel exercise, took a prominent part in the first student mass meeting, and belonged to the maroon baseball and football squads in the first three years of athletics. He has been in residence at the university a total of nine years. For the last three years he has studied in the school of education.

He has paid his way by working on the campus as a day laborer and lighting street lamps. He was married in 1897, and lives with his wife and three children at 5527 Kambark avenue. He is now 37 years old.

Marshall Field's Career

The born commander, the mercantile genius—how did he rise, in one short lifetime, from obscure boyhood to greater riches and honor than any other merchant in the world?

Everybody's for March has an interesting article on this wonderful, far-seeing man—written just before his last illness.

Everybody's Magazine

15 cents a copy $1.50 a year

HASTY MARRIAGE; POISON CHARGE

Sudden Death of Mississippi Man's First Wife Investigated.

Meridian, Miss., Feb. 23.—D. J. Boles of Hurricane Creek, an interior postoffice in Clark county, near the Choctaw county, Ala., line, is in the Clark county jail at Quitman on the charge of having murdered his wife, who died rather suddenly Dec. 22. The story came to light in this city upon the arrival of Justice of the Peace Miles Shirley of the Hurricane Creek, who brought with him the stomach of Mrs. Boles, whose body was exhumed in order that an analysis might determine if her death was caused by poison, as is the general opinion in the neighborhood, because of the unusual actions of the husband in marrying the wife of A. M. Thornbill about five weeks following the death of his own wife.

The marriage was a violation of the law, Mrs. Thornbill not having been divorced. Boles, the man now being called upon to answer to two charges, an illegal marriage and murder, is only about 24 years of age.

Boles' friends say that his indiscretion in marrying so early after his first wife's death is to be regretted, and while they admit that he violated the law, at the same time they attribute it entirely to ignorance, he being unable to write his name.

The laws of Mississippi make two years of absolute and obstinate desertion sufficient grounds for divorce, and, it is claimed, Boles misconstrued the law and acted under the assumption that Mrs. Thornbill, his last wife, was by virtue of her husband's absence, a divorced woman.

After Boles learned of the illegality of the marriage, he employed a local attorney to secure a divorce for his bride, saying they would be married again when legally permitted.

BRIDEGROOM TIMID

And the Girl Went for the Marriage License.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 23.—"Can I get a marriage license with only one witness?"

Deputy Clerk Hal Hicks looked up to face a pretty bride-to-be, who blushed rosy red and looked askance at her companion, a comely woman of rather more uncertain age.

"Certainly, one witness is enough," replied Mr. Hicks.

"Well, I wanted a marriage license and George is—well I wanted to know if it would be necessary to have him here, too," said the confused girl as she toyed with her pretty solitaire.

Thereupon she said that she wanted to marry George M. C. Ebrecht of Le Mars.

"I'm from Vermillion, S. D.," said the girl in explanation.

"Rather a long ways to come just to get married, wasn't it?" asked the genial clerk.

Oh, yes, but then we were both willing."

Meanwhile Ebrecht was seeking a pastor. The couple met at Sioux City and come to Des Moines together. They are friends of Helen Hanson, who lives at 1077 Fifth avenue.

ART DISCOVERIES IN THE VATICAN.

Rome, Feb. 23.—An important discovery of ancient mural paintings has just been made in the Vatican palace. While workmen were renovating the rooms comprising the apartment formerly occupied by the late Mgr. Marcello Massarenti, it was found that under the coat of paint which gave the apartment a uniform color, were hidden frescoes of the fourteenth century, which are considered by experts of great value.

When the workmen started to tear up the brick pavement of one of the rooms they found that under it was hidden a magnificent mosaic flooring of the time of Pope Julius. Piux X was promptly informed of these unexpected discoveries, and he promptly issued orders that the work of restoration should be stopped and the rooms turned over to experts for the purpose of proceeding to the total uncovering of the mural paintings.

If these should prove to be works of art it is the intention of the pope to throw the rooms open to the public, just as the Raphael Galleries and the Borgia apartments are at present.

Don't Knock

the weather, but "weather" the hard knocks that time makes on your clothing. By buying one of our $7.77 Suits you can weather the coldest days. They wear well, look well and last long. Only the best material goes into them. They are put together by tailors who have made a study of making up-to-date garments for men. We also offer Winter Overcoats at—

$7.77

Eagle CLOTHING AND SHOE HOUSE

D. C. CASMIR. 321 W. Superior Street.

THE GOVERNMENT HIRES MAGICIAN

With a Witch Hazel Wand to Find Its Heroic Dead.

Paris, Feb. 23.—That the body of Paul Jones has been found and is to be honored in his native land by succeeding generations of his countrymen so impressed the French government that it employed magic art in a similar search.

The solemn, intensely practical government engaged one Eggy, who calls himself "the treasure wizard," to find the body of Rene Duguary-Trouin that it may be transplanted to the Pantheon, the hugh mausoleum for France's distinguished dead.

After terrorizing the seas as a privateer, Duguay-Trouin entered his country's navy and in 1711, captured and sacked Rio Janeiro. He proved his valor on land, too, and rose to be a lieutenant-general in the French army. During 1736, the old hero was buried in the famous church of St. Roch, but the records do not exactly fix the place of his interment.

Eggy pretends to find buried treasure, to locate hidden water, gold or coal by a light witch-hazel wand which he poises on his finger. When the wand trembles, he stands over the object of his search.

Eggy declared he could find Duguay-Trouin's sepulchre, because, as he put it, his "wand would surely indicate the dust of a hero, dust more precious to France than all the gold." So the government linking itself with diabolism, engaged Eggy to pursue the search.

Balancing his wand, the wizard walked around the church. The wand switched and trembled in a score of places.

But it was not sufficiently specific. The church is a necropolis and the government naturally does not wish to dig up all its foundations. So Eggy departed without earning the glory of unearthing the famous privateer.

SEVEN-MILE EXTENSION

Is to be Built to the Mallard Logging Road.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. L. Preble of Bemidji, construction foreman for the Red River Lumber company of Akeley, announces that his company will build a seven-mile extension to its Mallard logging road, which runs from a point west of Solway to the village of Mallard, in Clearwater county. The Red River company has about 15,000,000 feet of logs that are tributary to Mallard, and the building of the extension is for the purpose of transporting these logs from Mallard to Solway and from that place via Bemidji to Akeley, where the company owns a large mill. Work on the extension was commenced Wednesday.

As the result of a visit of Game Warden Rutledge to Blackduck, the Grand Forks Lumber company will put four fishways into the dams on the Blackduck river, which they will operate during the coming spring. These dams are so constructed that it has been impossible for fish to pass back and forth for everal years, and the putting in of the fishways will go a long way toward replenishing the lake at Blackduck by allowing the fish to go to that body of water for the purpose of spawning.

John B. Anderson, who lives in Shotley township, Beltrami county, has been taken to Walker by Deputy United States Marshal Frank Tufts, and will today answer to the charge of having sold liquor to Indians.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

Wedding Gifts

The latest approved productions are constantly being added to our stock, thus enabling customers at all times to obtain whatever is new and desirable in Gems, Jewelry and Sterling Silverware.

When quality is considered, our prices are always THE LOWEST.

F. D. DAY & CO.

Duluth's Fashionable Jewelers.

IS ONE-HALF CHILD LESS

Falling Off in Size of the Average Scottish Family.

Shepherds and Game Keepers Seem to Live Longest.

Edinburgh, Feb. 23.—According to the reports to the registrar general of Scotland, the average Scottish family nowadays includes only four children, as against four and one-half a generation ago. And what is perhaps even more remarkable is the fact that this loss is observed among the countryman's family, not among the dwellers in the towns. Two generations back the average family was still larger. The statistics also show that the shepherd and the gamekeeper are among the healthiest and the longest lived of men. Compared with them the residents of the towns die young. The reason for this is believed to be the open air life of the shepherds.

The decrease in the birth rate is even more remarkable when taken in connection with the statistics upon the subject of marriage. It appears that 298,664 marriages have been registered during the last decade, and of this number 39,276 is in excess of the marriages of the decade previous. All of these things are regarded as evidences of a higher standard of comfort demanded by the younger generation, the proportion of males marrying between the ages of 20 and 25 was relatively greater than in the previous decades, while the proportion of those married under 20 and over 40 was relatively less. From all of this the registrar general concludes that the average number of births per marriage is so markedly decreasing that it may be assumed that there is a true falling off in the fertility of marriage.

Edinburgh physicians who have always been in the van in matters of importance in medicine are certainly holding their own. In a single week they have made giant strides in their researches into cancer, insanity and paralysis.

First of all it should be stated that the efficacy of the treatment of cancer by inoculation of trypsin has just received striking confirmation from a series of experiments conducted in the research laboratory of Edinburgh university under a grant from the Carnegie trust. Among seven or eight cancerous mice, two were, for the purpose of experiment, injected with a trypsin solution. After twenty-two days from the date of the experiment the control (i. e., uninoculated mouse) died of cancer. The tumer was found to be about as large as the last joint of a man's thumb. One of the mice inoculated with trypsin had died apparently from some injury caused by an accident in its cage after ten days under observation when the tumor was already found to be in an advanced stage of degeneration. On the twenty-second day, when the control mouse died of disease, the tumor of cancerous growth of the other "trypsin mouse" was found to be only "as big as a lentil—"an apology for a tumor." The growth was "in an advanced stage of degeneration, shrinking away to nothingness, and quite harmless."

The distinguished scientist's report concludes that "its 'cure' for cancer was not far distant, and the microscopical examination confirmed this opinion. Even without further treatment the tumor would in all probability have been absorbed shortly or its remains cast out."

Regarding the "Bacillus of Insanity," Dr. Forbes Robertson in the first of the Morison lectures at Edinburgh put forward recently a theory as to the cause of general paralysis in the insane which the medical faculty are discussing, though they in no wise accept it as conclusive. However, the lecture of Dr. Robertson was unusually interesting, because it dwelt with many facts not even known to the medical world. Dr. Robertson declared that there is evidence available to show that generally paralysis and the allied disease are as specific in their causation as tuberculosis, typhoid fever or diphtheria.

In this connection, in medical circles it is stated that Dr. McRae has made researches into the subject of general paralysis of the insane, and that he has made discoveries which give promise of startling the medical world. Dr. McRae, however, declines to be interviewed upon this subject.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

TRAGEDY IN KENTUCKY

Recalled by Pardon in the Famous Jack Ballard Case.

Brothers Killed in Effort to Save Him From Prison.

Owingsville, Ky., Feb. 23.—Five years ago Jack Ballard of this county, was released from the Frankfort Penitentiary after serving fifteen years of a life sentence for the killing of Peter Spencer in this county during a pistol duel.

A strange story is connected with the parole of Ballard and the killing with subsequent events, which were told by Ballard to a citizen of this town, who now makes it public.

The killings connected with the trials of Ballard will be remembered as attracting more attention than any similar tragedy in this part of Kentucky. Ballard's story is in substance as follows, and he vouches for it, and many parts are borne out:

About twenty years ago Ballard, then living near Olympia, this county, owed taxes amounting to about $64. Sheriff Dick Crouch sent one of his deputies to collect the money, which Ballard paid. The deputy on his return related to Sheriff Crouch a thrilling tale of how Jack Ballard and his two brothers, Moses and James, had stopped him with pistols in a lonely spot and robbed him of the money.

The fiery sheriff at once went to Olympia, where he accused Ballard of the robbery. Ballard knocked Crouch down and Peter Spencer came to the aid of the sheriff. Next day Ballard went to a lonely field where Spencer was at work, and after a quarrel, the men engaged in a pistol duel, Ballard killing Spencer. Ballard was brought here for trial, and kept under a heavy guard. It was known that an attempt would be made to release him.

When the day of the trial came, the town was filled with friends of both sides, and all day friends worked among them to prevent an armed outbreak. When Ballard was taken to the courthouse, armed guards surrounded him. Ballard's two brothers were there, and before leaving home that morning they had promised their mother that Jack should not be taken to the penitentiary. In the courtroom friends of the Ballards were watched closely. When the jury returned a verdict of life imprisonment, the outbreak came. The guards cocked their rifles, drew their revolvers, closed in around Ballard and started him to jail.

Once on the street, Mose and Jim Ballard drew their revolvers and attacked the guards, who returned the fire. Seeing there was no chance to rescue Jack, Mose and Jim Ballard tried to escape, fleeing down Slate avenue. One of the guards from the postoffice corner fired at Mose with his pistol and killed him. Another guard from behind a small building shot Jim dead. Both men fell within 100 yards of the courthouse.

The guard who killed Mose told the physicians who undressed Mose to look on a certain place on Mose's body and they would find the bullet hole that he put there. The physicians looked, and there was the hole. After the battle Jack Ballard was hurried to Frankfort. A few years passed and several petitions were sent to the governor, pleading for clemency. Each time a petition for pardon went to Frankfort there also went a petition, signed by Dick Crouch, former sheriff, and his friends, protesting against the pardon.

Several times this was done, until at last a letter came to Dick Crouch from some point in the West, the postmark on the envelope being obliterated. With the letter was $64, and the writer stated that he was the former deputy sheriff who had accused Ballard of robbing him the story that gave rise to the fatal quarrel.

The deputy disappeared just after the killing. In the letter he said this was because he could not stand the remorse which constantly haunted him here, and that he had just succeeded in securing enough money to pay the debt, and praying Crouch to use his efforts to release Ballard. Crouch was immediately at work with a petition, it is said, and Ballard was paroled.

"THIRD DEGREE" IN FRANCE.

"Reconstituting the Crime" So Realistic a Detective Fainted.

Paris, Feb. 23.—In connection with what Americans call "working the third degree," the Paris police often proceed with what they denominate "reconstituting the crime." The scene at Lyons railway station the other day when the case of M. Durel, the owner of the Geneva Kursall, who was murdered in a train a short time ago, was re-enacted, was so grim and suggestive and lifelike that one of the detectives on duty, supposed to be hardened by experience, was overcome by the realism and fainted.

A railway carriage was brought alongside the platform, where a magistrate and Georges and Marzo, the two accused men, and a plain-clothes constable, acting as a detective and representing the murdered man, stood.

"Now, then," said the magistrate to the accused men, "go ahead."

Georges, who entered the railway carriage at the time of the murder first, was the first to open the door, stepping in, followed by Marzo.

The murder had really been committed with a heavily loaded cane, but Georges was given a light stick to represent the loaded instrument of death. With this he took his seat alongside the constable posing as M. Durel, and first pressing him with his elbow to make sure he slept, raised the light cane and brought it down on the constable's head with a considerable thwack.

The policeman jumped up, smarting with the blow. Even the stern representatives of the law could hardly restrain their smiles, when Georges exclaimed: "No, no! Durel didn't jump up that way. He fell down, so."

Georges then indicated precisely how the murdered man tumbled when struck. The magistrate inquired whether he was dead when he fell.

"Not quite," interrupted Marzo, the second man. "It's my turn now," and kneeling down, he went through the action of stabbing the fallen man half a dozen times. Then the two men went through the pockets of the man who posed as the murdered Kursall proprietor, dividing the plunder, and proceeded to pick up the body to show how they had thrown it from the window in the tunnel. It was at this point that the detective, without any shamming, really fainted, and the two murderers were among the most active and eager in helping to bring water for the purpose of restoring him to consciousness.

FINAL WINTER CLEARING SALE

HALF PRICE and LESS

on all of our Negligee and Stiff Bosom Shirts—about 200 shirts—odds and ends from different lots—range well, in sizes from 14½ to 17½—taken from lots that sold for $1.00, 75c and 50c. Every shirt in this lot must go and go quick. We haven't the room for odds and ends; your choice—each 29c

GREAT HALF PRICE REMNANT SALE

of all broken lots of Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Caps and Furnishing Goods for Men and Boys—broken lots and odds and ends that have accumulated in the different departments throughout the store will be placed on sale at prices you cannot afford to pass. Thousands of articles at half price and less.

BOYS' KNEE PANTS

Broken lots, odds and ends—range in size from 3 to 12 years—in woolens, worsteds and corduroys; worth $1, 75c and 50c; about 50 pairs go at..... 19c

Mothers come early, as they won't last long.

THE SALE WILL START SATURDAY, FEB. 24,

AND CONTINUES TILL EVERY ARTICLE IS SOLD.

LOOK!

All Less Than Half Price!

Wilson Bros.' Shirts, $1.50 and $2 grades; Wanjusets, $1.50 and $2.00 Shirts; Flower City brand of $1.50 Shirts—these 3 lots thrown into one—ranging well in size from 14½ to 17½. Your choice and last chance to buy them at 69c

Men's Hats.

Blake and Waite's and Pioneer Hats; worth up to $3; soft and stiff; all go at $1.49

At Half Price.

Boys' 75c Mufflerettes 39c
Men's 25c Cashmere Hose...12½c
Silk Mufflers at.....Half Price
Sealskin Caps, at.....Half Price

100 Fur-lined Caps

In all the latest styles To close them out they all go in this sale at 39c

Men's Pants at Half

$2.00 Pants 99c
$3.00 Pants $1.49
$4.00 Pants $1.99
$5.00 Pants $2.49
$6.00 Pants $2.99

These prices will close out all our odds and ends in Men's Pants. Come early, as there are only about 100 pairs in the lot.

A Big Lot of Underwear for Men

In ribbed; colors pink and blue; just the weight for the spring of the year; regular selling price, per suit, $1. At this sale less than half—per GARMENT. 19c

Men's Spring Needle Underwear

Worth $2.00 per suit; all wool and worsted garments will go at, garment 64c

All-wool Underwear.

All-wool Underwear, worth $3.00 per suit; will go at, per garment 89c

Men's Sweaters.

Men's all-wool Sweaters; only 1 or 2 left of a kind; worth $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00; close them out at 99c

Trunks and Valises at a reduction.

Come at once, as the goods will not last long at these prices.

We must make room for the New Spring Stock!

Men's Suits

Men's heavy and medium-weight Suits, in fancy tweeds, worsteds, cashmeres and cheviots--about 300 of the Suits which are taking the room that we should have for the new spring stock. Rather than to pile them away till next fall, we will assume a loss and dispose of them at once—thus:

$8.50 Suits, just half, only $4.25
$10.00 Suits, just half, only $5.00
$12.50 Suits, just half, only $6.25
$15.00 Suits, just half, only $7.50
$18.00 Suits, just half, only $9.00
$20.00 Suits, just half, at $10.00
$22.00 Suits go at just half price . . . $11.00
$25.00 Suits go at just half price . . . $12.50

New Spring Stock must take the place of the odds and ends now occupying room.

MEN'S WINTER OVERCOATS.

Over 100 coat odds and ends—rather than to carry them over, we offer them at exactly half price. These Overcoats are long and medium, with detachable belts, velvet collar and good materials—black and grey cheviots, Oxfords, plaids and mixtures and we have all sizes. Prices are:

$8.50 Overcoats only $4.25 | $18.00 Overcoats only $9.00
$10.00 Overcoats only $5.00 | $20.00 Overcoats for $10.00
$12.50 Overcoats only $6.25 | $22.00 Overcoats for $11.00
$15.00 Overcoats only $7.50 | $25.00 Overcoats for $12.50

Boys' School Suits.

Persian, Eton, Norfolk, Sailor and Two-Piece Suits, double breasted styles, sizes 3 to 16 years. Special Remnant Sale Price—

$2.00 Suits . . 98c
$3.00 Suits $1.49
$4.00 Suits $1.99
Less Than Half Price

$2.00 Reefers for Boys 95c

Mothers, Bring Your Boys!

ALL ODDS AND ENDS MUST GO REGARDLESS OF COST OR VALUE.

LOOK!

Wool Work Shirts.

Buffalo Flannels, they are worth $1.25 regularly; for this sale they go at..... 59c

Miscellaneous.

Men's $2.50 Wool Shirts—fine California flannels—go at $1.29
$2.00 Flannel Shirts, less than ½, at 99c
75c Storm Rubbers for men, at 39c
Knit Gloves—the 50c kind— at 39c
Adler's $1.50 Dress Gloves, for 89c
25c Wool Sox—for this sale at 19c
50c Wool Sox—buy them here for 37c
Men's 50c Cashmere Hose, per pair 29c
Men's Mackinaws, $3.50 grade at $1.98
$5.00 Mackinaws on sale at $3.48

Men's and Boys' Shoes.

Men's $3.50 Red School House Shoe—patent colt, vici kid, kangaroo and box calf, go at odds and ends sale..... $2.24

Watson Plumber $5.00 Shoes—65 pairs—range well in size—up-to-date styles—only 1 or 2 pairs of a kind—go at... $3.49

Men's $2.00 Work and Dress Shoes—during this sale, per pair 99c

Boys' $1.50 and $1.75 Shoes—box calf and velour—extra heavy—just the thing for spring wear, with cork extension soles — this sale for 99c

Girls' and Misses' Shoes—at half price
Cruisers' and Drivers' Shoes, at a reduction.

Boys' Clothing.

Boys' Sweaters—$1 and $1.50 value; to clean up the whole lot, at 50c
Boys' Soft Shirts—38c kind....33c
Boys' 15c Stockings—per pair 7c
Boys' 25c Stockings—per pair 12½c

Boys' Overcoats.

Ages 2 to 10 years—in up-to-date styles and makes, worth $3, $3.50 and $4; go at..... $1.99

Boys' long Belt Coats—ages 11 to 20 years—at just half price.

New goods are piling in. We must have room.

UNION CLOTHING & SHOE HOUSE

Watch for the new Electric Sign at..... 407 W. Sup. St. JOHN PAULSON, Prop. Watch for the new Electric Sign at..... 407 W. Sup. St.

Weighty Professional Endorsements.

That the several American medicinal roots, the concentrated glyceric extracts of which make up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, have the strongest kind of endorsement by scores of leading medical writers of all the several schools of practice, a brief glance at the standard works on Materia Medica will show. Of Golden Seal root, which is one of the prominent ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery," Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says: "Very useful as a stomachic (stomach) tonic and in atonic dyspepsia. Cures gastric (stomach) catarrh and headaches accompanying same." He also mentions catarrh of the gall duct, jaundice and constipation as diseases which the use of Golden Seal root overcomes; also catarrh of the intestines, even when it has proceeded to ulceration, is remarkably benefited by Hydrastis (Golden Seal root).

Dr. Grover Coe, of New York, says: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogue (liver invigorator) it has few equals." Dr. Coe also advises it for affections of the spleen and other abdominal viscera generally, and for scrofulous and glandular diseases, cutaneous eruptions, indigestion, debility, chronic diarrhœa, constipation, also in several affections peculiar to women, and in all chronic derangements of the liver; also for chronic inflammation of bladder, for which Dr. Coe says "it is one of the most reliable agents of cure."

Prof. Hobart A. Hare, M. D., of the University of Pa., says of Golden Seal root that it is "of service in chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels, following abuse of alcohol, and as a tonic after malarial fever." He further says, it "has a distinct anti-malarial influence." Also "good in all catarrhal conditions, as uterine catarrh, leucorrhœa, etc., and as "a curative agent in chronic dyspepsia."

Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., of the Medical Department, University City of N. Y., is equally loud in his praise of Golden Seal root, especially for its tonic effects in convalescence from acute diseases and its special tonic influence upon mucous surfaces and upon the gall bladder.

Doctors Barton and Tully recommended Golden Seal root as a pure tonic and as an alterative in diseased conditions of the mucous membranes.

Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, author of the AMERICAN DISPENSATORY, gives it a prominent place among medicinal agents, reiterates all the foregoing writers have said about it, as does also Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati. Dr. Scudder says: "It stimulates the digestive processes and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched, * * * * the consequent improvement on the glandular and nervous systems are natural results." Dr. Scudder further says, "in relation to its general effect upon the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic, useful in all debilitated states * * *."

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of Golden Seal root: "It is a most superior remedy in catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of the stomach), chronic constipation, general debility, in convalescence from protracted fevers, in prostrating night-sweats. It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb." (This agent, Golden Seal root, is an important ingredient of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription for woman's weaknesses, as well as of the "Golden Medical Discovery.") Dr. Ellingwood continues, "in all catarrhal conditions it is useful."

Much more, did space permit, could be quoted from prominent authorities as to the wonderful curative properties possessed by Golden Seal root.

We want to assure the reader that "Golden Medical Discovery" can be relied upon to do all that is claimed for Golden Seal root in the cure of all the various diseases as set forth in the above brief extracts, for its most prominent and important ingredient is Golden Seal root. This agent is, however, strongly reinforced, and its curative action greatly enhanced by the addition, in just the right proportion of Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure glycerine. All of these are happily and harmoniously blended into a most perfect pharmaceutical compound, now favorably known throughout most of the civilized countries of the world. Bear in mind that each and every ingredient entering in the "Discovery" has received the endorsement of the leading medical men of our land, who extol each article named above in the highest terms. What other medicine put up for sale through druggists can show any such professional endorsement? For dyspepsia, liver troubles, all chronic catarrhal affections of whatever name or nature, lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, the "Discovery" can be relied upon as a sovereign remedy.

By reading the little book noted below any one will readily see the applicability of the "Golden Medical Discovery" to the cure of all the foregoing list of diseases as well as many other chronic affections, especially those of the heart, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood.

A little book of extracts treating of all the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines, being extracts from standard medical works, of the different schools of practice will be mailed free to any one asking (by postal card or letter), for the same, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and giving the writer's full post-office address plainly written.

In cases of chronic ailments, attended by marked, or persistent, constipation, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken conjointly with the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery," to regulate the bowels. They act in harmony with the "Discovery," and will be found to be a most valuable laxative, or, in fuller doses a cleansing cathartic.

Podophyllin, the active medicinal principle of Mandrake root, enters largely into the composition of the little sugar-coated "Pellets," in fact is one of their chief ingredients. They regulate the liver, stomach and bowels.

IS MARRIED TO HIS STEPMOTHER

New Relationship in Texas After Cupid Entangles Hearts.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 23.—Guests at the Orndorff hotel are holding a continual reception for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penn, a newly married couple, and congratulations are being showered upon the pair daily by friends of both bride and bridegroom, who marvel at the strange romance and the tricks that Cupid played which were brought to light by the marriage of the couple—Mrs. Ella Penn and Albert Penn. For the bride, Mrs. Penn, called the bridegroom-to-be "Son," and was his stepmother, while Penn was in truth her stepson. Both are just a year or so beyond 30, the bridegroom being a few months the elder.

A number of years ago when the present Mrs. Penn was very young, she met and married a man named Penn, a widower with several children. As a young wife she tried as best she could to be a mother to the children, and gained their respect, gratitude and even love.

Eight years ago her husband died in East Texas. They had lived happily together. But with the husband's death came a separation of the family. Mrs. Penn went back to her old home and after spending several years there came to El Paso. This was five years ago. For five years she has been housekeper at the Orndorff hotel. She made many friends in El Paso.

She worked cheerfully with a song on her lips, and, maybe, a love in her heart.

Several weeks ago Alebrt Penn, a railroad man whose home is in Mexico City, came to El Paso and visited Mrs. Penn at the Orndorff.

To her friends she introduced him as her stepson, and she frequently told the story of her marriage, when a mere girl, to his father.

Penn was a frequent caller at the hotel. He could not forget the time when at his father's home he addressed her as "mother," and often in his conversation he would call her by that name. The influence of the old home was equally as strong upon her, and she responded by calling him "son."

After three weeks of constant attention, which was looked upon as being an evidence of mere interest in one another, the guests at the hotel were surprised to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Penn were to be married. The announcement was made to only a friend or two, but the news quickly spread over the hotel, creating a buzz and stir of excitement.

Quietly the couple went to the office of County Judge Sweeney, and in the presence of two friends, the ceremony which made them man and wife was performed. Then, to escape the shower of congratulations they knew was coming, they went to La Cruces for a couple of days to visit friends. But their absence did not lessen the warmth of their reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Penn have not as yet completed their plans for the future.

Strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use De Witt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by all druggists.

VALET JONES HAS BEEN LOCATED

Writes That He Will Testify in the Patrick Case.

Galveston, Texas, Feb. 23.—Charles F. Jones, valet to late Millionaire W. M. Rice, for whose death Albert T. Patrick is under sentence of death in New York, has been heard from. He disappeared from his home near Galveston five months ago, and for the past sixty days he has been sought as a witness in the new trial sought by Patrick.

Detectives have been scouring this section for several weeks for Jones. He has written to an uncle and in his letter he says that he will appear in New York when needed to testify. The uncle will not say where Jones is, but from another source it is learned that he is, and has been for some time, in Louisiana.

Jones has kept posted on events in the Patrick case, and denies that he has made any statements as to the death of Rice except to say that he did not kill Rice. He also refers to the report that he is wealthy and declares that he has never received a cent for his connection with the case, either before or after Patrick's conviction. It is believed that Jones owns a plantation in Cuba and has other interests in Louisiana.

When Jones returned from New York three years ago he accepted employment at $40 a month.

A GAURANTEED CURE FOR PILES
Itching, Blind, Bleeding, Protruding Piles. Druggists are authorized to refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

BY THE CLOCK.

Boston Herald: A Massachusetts veteran of the Civil war, a quaint character of Irish birth, bore a local reputation for heroic service. He was often besought by the younger generation to tell his story of his part in the bloody struggle. One day, finding himself besieged by a number of persistent questioners, the modest warrior consented to speak. "W'd get up in the mornin' at 5 o'clock," he began, "an' have breakfast. Begin fightin' at 6, knock off at 12. Begin' shootin' agin at 1, knock off at 6 an' ate supper, an' turn in to sleep. Every day the same old thing: that's all."

Great Clearance Sale This Week Only. All Goods at Half Price.

My entire stock of Oriental Rugs, Russian Brass and Japanese Bronzes MUST BE CLOSED OUT AT ONCE, as I am positively going out of business, and will leave Duluth, March 5.

Special—60 small rugs, regular price $30.00; now $15.00.

H. ABALAN,

Hotel McKay, First Street and Fifth Avenue West. Opposite Postoffice.

CHEERED BY ALL YUKON

Jack O'Brien Braves Intense Cold to Save Woman's Life.

His All Night Ride at Seventy Degrees Below Zero.

Seattle, Feb. 23.—A Dawson City letter, dated Feb. 1, says: Jack O'Brien, the Dawson-Granville stage man, is the hero of the hour. Leaving Dawson at 9 o'clock Monday night, in a temperature 70 degs. below zero, the fearless stage driver raced all night to save the life of Mrs. John Korbo, wife of a big mining operator at Granville.

Mrs. Korbo had been near death's door for days, and a physician has been constantly at her side. It was decided Monday that she must have cows' milk immediately in order to save her life.

The telephone to Dawson was touched, and arrangements made for the milk at Dawson, but there was another problem to be faced. The intense cold had driven every sleigh and stage route out of business and not a rig was moving.

Nothing daunted in his purpose to save his wife's life, Mr. Korbo called up O'Brien, the sage man, and asked him to O'Brien, the stage man, and asked him to that he asked. It meant the man must take his life and that of his horses in his hands for several hours. Korbo knew this, and he offered O'Brien $100 cold, virgin gold. O'Brien was not the man to refuse. The big fellow, with few words, snorted his approval over the 'phone and began preparations at once.

He secured a cutter from a livery stable, took two of his stage horses, hitched them to the rig, crowded in all the fur robes possible, got the milk, set it in the middle of the robes and got in himself. The horses were blanketed over the tender spots along the back and over their heads were tied feed bags and about their noses liter cloth. This was to keep the animals from burning their lungs from the awful pumping of liquid air into their lungs.

O'Brien had himself wrapped in a fur coat, a fur cap and tipped off with felt shoes, and covered with a fur robe. As he gave the word and cracked the whip the nags started at a lively clip.

It was 9 p. m., a fearful night for anyone to go a short distance. But O'Brien knew his road like a book, and the horses knew it none the less. It was a grim spectacle, that vision of O'Brien and his sleigh and his half-swathed horses and the muffled man gliding through the shadows and the endless blanket of frost-laden fog. The frost cut the face like needles, and the swift motion of the rig over the trail did not mellow the sensation.

For hours the horses trotted on through the dark and the shadow, no kindly gleam of moon, no starlight. Only now and then a faint glimmer of light from a roadhouse or a miner's snow-choked cabin broke the monotony, and then the fog hid it with quick, remorseless sweep.

No man unacquainted with the trail ever would have found the way through that darkness. Oftentimes the driver could see only as far as the horses' heads, but the trusty animals knew the course and instinctively and faithfully followed on at the word of their master.

Puffing and throwing warm air from their lungs like a steam engine in exhaust, the horses pulled into Gold Bottom, twenty-two miles from Dawson. It was crowding midnight, but there was little time to lose. Another team had been telephoned for and was awaiting O'Brien. A few moments, and the change was made, and O'Brien pushed on up Hunker, up the three miles of killing hill on the steady climb to the summit.

A short stop at the Summit roadhouse, an extra tucking of the robes and a look at the horses, and a dash over the grim ridge that overlooks all the Yukon—and then driver and horses plunged down the long grade to Caribou.

Six miles more and another team was secured. O'Brien pushed on, making one or two stops for a bite to eat and a fresh team. It was fierce facing that last stretch down Dominion, over the wide, flat and sparsely settled district with not a soul for miles, not the glimmer of a light, nor a sign of life. There all was the stillness of death, perplexing and intensified by the very loneliness.

The hours wore away, and as morning came a team went clattering up the street of the village of Granville, covered with frost like spirit creatures and driven by a man about whom had gathered the same hoary covering. It was 7 a. m., and the whistles of many mines at Granville were blowing for the hundreds of miners to go to work, but the temperature was too fierce and only a few responded.

But O'Brien had not failed. He had come, and though stiff and hoarse, he climbed from his rig, and there was a flash of triumph in his care-worn face. And on the face of John Korbo was ineffable joy. O'Brien was the hero, and was gladly given his reward.

The milk was delivered in good condition, and is the costliest gallon of fresh milk ever sold in the Klondike, perhaps anywhere in America. The nourishment proved what Mrs. Korbo needed and she is recovering.

Eight and a half hours' actual traveling time was all that was required in making the trip. It is a good fifty miles from Granville to Dawson, and a full day's journey by stage in good weather.

WON HIS BRIDE BY WIRELESS

Through Ether Dr. Lee De Forest Asked the Important Question.

New York, Feb. 23.—Courting by wireless telegraphy proved a successful experiment to the inventor of a wireless system, Dr. Lee De Forest, who is vice president of the Wireless Telegraph company which bears his name. He has been married to Miss Lucille Sheardown.

The wooing of only a few weeks, as Dr. De Forest said himself, advanced with almost wireless rapidity. Dr. De Forest met his bride a few months ago and immediately fell in love with her. The courtship, however, didn't proceed as satisfactorily as Dr. De Forest would have liked until a wireless apparatus was established in the young woman's home.

One week's wooing by the wireless system accomplished what two months' time, accompanied by all the delicate little attentions of flowers, confections and theater parties, had failed to do for the bashful suitor.

Mrs. De Forest is a practical young woman and was intensely interested in her own work of translating for a big publishing house. She was educated in Europe and speaks five languages. Being a student, she took a deep interest in Dr. De Forest's scientific inventions.

Dr. De Forest said he would be glad to instruct her in its practical uses, and he had placed a wireless apparatus in her apartments. Then the courtship progressed with leaps and bounds. There was daily communication by the wireless system between the young couple from the apartments of Dr. De Forest and the young woman's home.

This method proved so successful that Dr. De Forest at length trusted his most important message to it, and won. Finding he would have to leave for a two months' trip to Europe, Dr. De Forest called up the young woman and informed her of his plans.

"Won't you marry me at once and go to Europe with me?" he asked.

The young woman gasped. The message was so surprising in its abruptness that at first she wondered if the apparatus was in perfect working order. Then she replied that she would send her answer later in the day. The answer proved favorable, and the young couple were married the next day in the St. Regis hotel. They sailed for Europe at noon.

MARRIED TEACHER,

Who Posed as a Gay Bachelor, Gets Into Trouble.

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 23.—After representing himself to the board of education of Urbana as an unmarried man, securing employment from that body, and telling several young women, upon whom he called, that he was not married, Hayes Lewis faces a suit in court.

Lewis is a married man, as he now admits having a wife and child in Kentucky. The revelation came as a distinct shock to the young man's friends, whom he counted by the score. The young women are indignant, as he has paid ardent attention to several of them.

Lewis came to Urbana from Kentucky several months ago and readily secured employment as teacher. Nothing was known of his history and nothing was asked aside from inquiries from the board of commissioners in regard to his matrimonial state.

A short time ago a medicine company brought suit against Lewis in Justice Armstrong's court for a bill for medicines amounting to $22, purchased while Lewis was running a general store in Kentucky. A judgment for the amount was returned, but Lewis refused to settle. Then a garnishee was laid upon his salary and he entered the plea he was married and supporting his wife.

WERE WEDDED BETWEEN DANCES

Couple Leave Ballroom and Escorts for Prearranged Ceremony.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 23.—Society circles here were thrown into a fever of excitement when it became known that Wilbur P. Allen, a lawyer here, had eloped with Miss Josephine Houghton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Houghton of this city. Miss Houghton is quite prominent in society.

Miss Houghton went to a German with another escort and met Mr. Allen, presumably by previous arrangement. Miss Houghton, in ball costume, left suddenly, and with Mr. Allen went to the residence of Dr. S. H. Werlein, where they were quickly married.

The ceremony over, they returned to the ball and resumed dancing. After the ball the bride went to her home with the escort who had taken her to the ball, changed her dress and soon met Mr. Allen, and they took an early train for San Antonio to spend the honeymoon. The bride's father is wealthy.

GIRL OF SIXTEEN

In Indiana Attempts to Elope the Second Time.

Shelbyville, Ind., Feb. 23.—Irene McCabe, 16 years old, and Charles Innes have made a second attempt to elope. Two miles east of here the girl climbed into a buggy and was being driven east at breakneck speed, when her guardian, Silas Stafford, caught sight of her. Believing the couple would go to Waldron and take a Big Four train, word was telephoned to people within a radius of fifty miles. Sheriff Newton and Chief of Police Marsh started in pursuit.

Two weeks ago the couple were prevented from obtaining a license by the girl's father, who galloped his horse five miles and arrived at the county clerk's office in the nick of time.

Innes is under indictment on the charge of being implicated in a robbery. Irene was placed in the county jail a few days for safe keeping. Innes was arrested on a peace proceedings warrant, but was released on a $2,000 bond.

HAS MANIA FOR WRECKING TRAINS

Prominent Woman of Tiffin, O., is Placed Under Arrest.

Tiffin, Ohio, Feb. 23.—Mrs. Cora Carpenter was arrested here yesterday, accused of wrecking a Pennsylvania freight train a week ago Wednesday night and attempting to wreck a fast passenger train on that night and the night following.

Mrs. Carpenter is a member of a prominent family of this county, and is highly educated and apparently refined. She is supposed to have a mania for causing and witnessing wrecks. The authorities declare it was a miracle that a fast train, crowded with passengers, was not wrecked on the first and second attempts to ditch it.

Grover Bachman, 20 years old, who was arrested Wednesday, confessed that he and Mrs. Carpenter wrecked a freight train last week, but that its unexpected arrival prevented the loss of as many lives as they expected.

The plot, as outlined by Bachman, was that together they would wreck the train, and that when the horror of the catastrophe had caused a large reward to be offered, Mrs. Carpenter would tell on him. He was willing to serve a year or so in the penitentiary, he says, and after that the two had planned a life of ease.

Mrs. Carpetner was questioned at length, but did not admit the crime.

FOOD AND STUDY.

A College Man's Experience.

"All through my high school course and first year in college," writes an ambitious young man, "I struggled with my studies on a diet of greasy, pasty foods, being especially fond of cakes and fried things. My system got into a state of general disorder, and it was difficult for me to apply myself to school work with any degree of satisfaction. I tried different medicines and food preparations, but did not seem able to correct the difficulty.

"Then my attention was called to Grape-Nuts food, and I sampled it. I had to do something, so I just buckled down to a rigid observance of the directions on the package, and in less than no time began to feel better. In a few weeks my strength was restored, my weight had increased, I had a clearer head, and felt better in every particular. My work was simply sport to what it was formerly.

"My sister's health was badly run down and she had become so nervous that she could not attend to her music. She went on Grape-Nuts, and had the same remarkable experience that I had. Then my brother, Frank, who is in the postoffice department at Washington city, and had been trying to do brain work on greasy foods, cakes and all that, joined the Grape-Nuts army. I shewed him what it was and could do, and from a broken-down condition, he has developed into a hearty and efficient man.

"Besides these, I could give account of numbers of my fellow-students who have made visible improvement mentally and physically by the use of this food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

JAMAICA LIKES LIBERALS.

Pleased That New Colonial Secretary Will Maintain White Garrison.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 23.—The greatest satisfaction is being expressed both in the newspapers and out of the newspapers because of the reports from London that Lord Elgin, at a meeting of the executive committee of the West India committee stated that the government had decided to maintain a force of white artillerymen and engineers in Jamaica. The announcement a few months ago that the late government had decided to withdraw the white troops from the West Indias aroused a storm of protests from the white inhabitants of the island. Deputations were sent to Mr. Balfour and Mr. Lyttleton, but in spite of all that could be done the decision to withdraw the troops was adhered to. Now, however, that it has been reversed by the new government, there is general rejoicing here. Though Jamaica has been more Conservative than the most Tory districts of rural England, as a result of this decision it is safe to state that if this island were participating in the general elections it would be carried by a Liberal candidate on a ten to one basis. To the universal satisfaction over the fact that the Liberal colonial secretary has revised the position taken by the Conservative colonial secretary, there is rejoicing over the fact that a fast cruiser is to be permanently stationed in the West Indies, and that the West Indian islands will be annually visited by a British squadron.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

FIRE SALE IS NOW ON

Never before was such a sale seen in Duluth—Such marvelous bargains were never heard of before. Don't fail to attend the Great Fire, Smoke and Water Sale. Bargains by the thousands—we must make a clean sweep of everything.

Remember this Sale lasts but four days more. Fall in line and follow the crowds.

WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE OUR DOORS FEB. 28

A BARGAIN FEAST TOMORROW, SATURDAY!

Men's Clothing

No. 1—250 Men's Fine Suits, formerly sold at $8 and $10—slightly damaged—at.. $2.98

No. 2—175 Suits—all-wool and fancy patterns, worth $12 and $14—go at..... $4.98

No. 3—275 Suits—extra fine, in fancy worsteds and tweeds, sold for $15.00 and $18.00—go at $6.98

No. 4—Your choice of 475 hand-tailored suits, such as David Adler & Sons and H. L. Herschfield and the famous S. & S. Clothing—worth $20 and $25—your choice at..... $8.98

500 Single Coats—pants and vests are burned—your choice at $1.69

Boy's Clothing

1 lot worth $2.00 and $3.00 per suit—now 99c

1 lot worth $3.50 and $4 per suit—now $1.69

1 lot Boys' Suits, ages from 4 to 16, in Norfolk, sailor and Etons—formerly sold for $4.50 and $5.00—now $1.98

Men's Overcoats

The finest line of Overcoats in the city. Every coat a bargain at 30 cents on the dollar.

Men's Furnishings

Cluet, Monarch, Wilson Bros. and Lion Brand Shirts—worth from $1 to $2—any size—your choice 59c

Men's fast black Sox, damaged by water, go at..... 8c

Men's 35c and 50c Sox—your choice here for..... 19c

Men's 15c linen Collars, not damaged, your choice for..... 7c

Men's best grade 25c Suspenders—Fire Sale Price..... 11c

Men's very best Suspenders—Fire Sale Price..... 19c

Neckties worth 25c and 35c go on sale at..... 12½c

Neckties worth 50c and 75c go on sale at..... 29c

Men's Pants

One lot—damaged—worth $4 and $5—your choice..... 59c

All-Wool Men's Pants—$2.00 and $2.50 quality—damaged—at 39c

Ladies' Skirts

Ladies' Skirts that sold for $4.00 and $5.00—now $1.98

Ladies' Furnishings

Ladies' fine Tailored Suits, sold for $18.00 to $20.00—will go at $2.98

Ladies' fine full length Coats—military fronts—sold regularly for $20.00 and $22.00—will be sold at $3.98

Ladies' Coats—blacks, blues and grays, with bearskin collar—sold for $35.00—will go at $5.88

Ladies' Vests—heavy fleece-lined Undervests—were 50c—now 7c

Men's and Boys' Sweaters at your own price.

Men's Shoes

One lot of Damaged Shoes—will go at 59c

Men's Shoes—good as new—sold for $2.50—will go at $1.19

Men's fine Shoes—in good condition—sold for $3.00 and $3.50—will go at..... $1.69

Men's Celebrated Sharod and Weber Bros.' $4.00 and $5.00 Shoes—go at..... $2.48

Underwear

One lot of Men's Shirts and Drawers—slightly damaged by water, sold for 50c—go at.... 19c

1,000 Men's Shirts and Drawers, extra heavy, fleece lined—regular price 75c—will go at 29c

850 Shirts and Drawers, all wool—slightly soiled—regular price $1.25 and $1.50 per garment—will go at 59c

One lot of Shirts and Drawers, consisting of the Eagle and Swiss Conde Brands—the best woolen underwear manufactured—sold for $1.75 and $2.00 per garment; will go at..... 69c

Remember the Place—423 West Superior Street.

To Miss This Opportunity is to Lose Money. Come Tomorrow.

LYCEUM CLOTHING AND SHOE HOUSE

Open Evenings Until 10 o'Clock 423 WEST SUPERIOR ST. (Lyceum Building.) Open Evenings Until 10 o'Clock

CITY GUN & CURIO —STORE—

is now open for business in its new location—

107 WEST SUPERIOR STREET

In our new and larger quarters we have better facilities to serve our customers as well as display our large and complete lines of up-to-date goods.

We are prepared at all times to show seasonable goods, such as Skates, Skis, Snow Shoes, Toboggans, Athletic Goods, etc., Fishing Tackle, Baseball and Lawn Tennis Supplies, Guns, Ammunition, Hunting Equipments, etc. Also Jewelry, Silverware, Agate Goods, Indian Goods, Burnt Leather Novelties, Curios, etc. We should be pleased to have you visit the store and see our large display.

Quick service and courteous treatment is our motto. Our low prices will be maintained as heretofore.

Our old location at 402 West Superior street will be known as the City Gun Store Branch.

R. C. KRUSCHKE,

107 W. SUPERIOR ST.

QUITTING BUSINESS

EVERYTHING FOR SALE.

MR. FORWARD IS ENTERING WHOLESALE STOVE TRADE IN CHICAGO.

If we cannot sell entire business now, in a few days we will commence our "Quitting Business Sale" to reduce stock to suit the wish of intending purchasers of smaller capital.

We reserve the right to discontinue sale at any time when stock reaches the limit set by purchaser. A business of over $45,000 is for sale—a clean, up-to-date stock, a well advertised and profitable business, and well established in the best City in U. S.—Duluth.

Get your pocketbooks ready—get your savings handy—our "Quitting Business Sale" will make Northern Minnesota set up and take notice.

R. R. Forward & Co. HARDWARE AND FURNITURE

Watch 21st Avenue West, That Means Watch Us.

BETWEEN FIRST AND SECOND AVENUES EAST.

NEW YORK STORE

109 EAST SUPERIOR STREET.

BETWEEN FIRST AND SECOND AVENUES EAST.

$4.44

EXTRA SPECIAL OF SPRING SKIRTS.

$4.44 To induce your special interest in our unexcelled line of LADIES' SKIRTS we place on sale for Saturday our complete arrivals of the very newest creations in ladies' skirts for spring and summer wear. This sale includes our regular $4.44 values and as special inducements skirts which will be sold after tomorrow at $6.83 and $8.48. $4.44

These are the latest and most stylish conceits in the circular gored skirts with encircling panels, the new panel box plait, the shirred flounce effects and all the other "hits" of the season.

The materials are of the season's wide range in panamas, mohairs, chiffon effects and include the dark and light shades. We shall also place in this sale your choice of all our winter skirts.

Last Clearance Call!

All Our COATS and SUITS.... $7.83

This is your choice of any winter suit or coat we have left for $7.83. There is still half the winter for their wear and the styles are bound to be good for next season. Suits in Eton and three-quarter coats of the best all-wool materials. Coats in Empire, fitting and yoked styles, in all-wool materials only. There is no coat or suit that has not sold for $12, $15 and up.

Special Purchase Sale Ladies' Underskirts

In black India Cloth, Sateen, Moreen and Moire, at

$1.39 and $1.73

These are values ranging from $2.50 to $4 and $5; and include all styles of ruffling, flouncing, tucking and plaiting, with underlays and dust ruffles. There are lengths and styles to suit all. The values are such that you seldom get and it is with the greatest assurance of our success in pleasing you that we place these Underskirts on sale at $1.39 and $1.73.

CHILDREN'S WEAR.

SPECIAL SALE OFFERS FOR SATURDAY.

Infants' Coats

Sample purchase sale of Cashmere and Bedford cord Coats—$2 to $10 long and short Infants' coats of Bedford cords and Cashmere, neatly trimmed with ribbon, capes, embroidery and lace. Some slightly soiled.

At 99c

Girl's Dresses

Ages 6 to 14, in wash fabrics, special purchase sale Children's Duck Chambray, grass linen and other wash fabrics, in figured dots and plain patterns, in the Buster Brown, Peter Thompson and Suspender styles. $3 and $4 dresses at 99c.

63c

Child's Eiderdown Coats

The final clearance of these coats in sizes 3 years to 5 years, in plain whites and pinks and pink and blue checks. Formerly sold at $1.39.

$1.63

Girl's Wool Dresses

Special purchase sale of children's fine cashmere dresses in blouse styles, ages 6 to 14. These are exceptional $3, $4 and $5 values on sale for Saturday.

SATURDAY PRICES.

CURTAINS.

50c and 75c Nottingham lace and fancy striped Swiss curtains, with broad ruffles—a pair.. 39c

$1.50 Swiss curtains, full width, 2½ yard lengths, broad ruffles and Battenberg insertions—a pair 79c

$3.00 Nottingham curtains, deep ecru colors, extra fancy designs, in full 3½ yard lengths—a pair $1.69

TABLE DAMASK.

50c Table Damask, full width, bleached, half bleached, turkey red—a yard 25c

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

50c corset covers, in fancy V and square lace trimmed necks, at 25c

50c drawers, full umbrella widths, fine lace trimmed— at 25c

$1.00 Underskirts of fine muslin and cambric, fancy lace trimmed flounces 79c

$1.00 LADIES' GOWNS.

Square or V necks, in fine cambric, lace trimmed, at... 79c

SPECIAL CLEARANCE.

Ladies' extra heavy fleece-lined shirts and drawers, 75c value, each 39c

50c LADIES' BELTS.

In patent leathers—all styles 19c

75c LADIES' BELTS.

In fine silks, all styles and makes 49c

75c AND $1.00 LADIES' WAISTS

in plain and figured Chambrays and white lawns—embroidered and tucked fronts..... 49c

10c SAXONY YARNS

In all colors—a skein, only 4c

10c TOWELING

In gloss, linen and Russian crash—a yard 7c

WEST END

TO GO OUT OF BUSINESS

West End Likely to Lose Two Business Houses Soon.

R. R. Forward & Co. Preparing to Sell Out--- Other News.

The West end is about to lose one, and probably two leading business houses, although the possibility remains that somebody will buy them out and continue the business. The one which it is determined will sell out is the furniture and hardware store of R. R. Forward & Co., which does business on West Superior street near the corner of Twenty-first avenue. This store is closed up this morning in order to rearrange the interior and put new "marked-down sale" tags on the various articles. The store will be closed for several days while this work is going on, when it opens up, that will be the beginning of the end. The firm prefers to sell out in a lump to somebody who will continue the business, but so far has not been able to make satisfactory arrangements.

The reason of this dissolution of partnership is that R. R. Forward, the senior member of the firm, has received a very advantageous offer from a large stove house in Chicago to take hold of their sales department; and has determined that the offer is too good to throw up. Said Mr. Forward today:

"I do not wish my friends to think that it is a case of losing faith in Duluth or the West end; nothing of that has entered my mind. In fact, I feel more confident about the fine future of the city and particularly this end of it than ever before, but I believe I have a good thing and one that will be much more pleasant than retail business, so I have determined to take it."

B. A. Martin, the junior member of the firm has made no plans for the future as yet; and it is quite possible that he may remain in the West end in business.

The firm of R. R. Forward & Co. has been in business in the West end since ten years ago Feb. 10; and is a sample of what industry can do in building up business. At the start the business was a small affair, but grew steadily until at present in the store building, built for them a few years ago, the stock occupies three floors and the business has increased proportionately.

It is also rumored that another house will go out of business.

NORDLUND-OSQUIST.

Wedding Attended by Four Hundred Guests---Well Known Couple.

The wedding of Miss Maria C. Nordlund and John H. Osquist, both of Duluth, was celebrated before about 400 guests at the First Swedish Baptist church at the West end on Wednesday evening. Rev. A. Edstam performed the ceremony. Miss Christina Nelson was maid of honor and Miss Freda Olson and Hannah Johnson were bridesmaids. The groom was supported by John Erickson, and Charles Pearson and Joseph Peterson acted as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church and telegrams of congratulation were there delivered to the young couple from friends in Portland, Or., Spokane, Wash., Youngstown, Ohio, and other points throughout the country. A short program was then given and addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Elston of Minneapolis, Rev. C. A. Aldeen of West Duluth, Rev. Mr. Loughridge of the Central Baptist church of the West end, and Rev. A. Edstam.

Mr. and Mrs. Osquist have gone to housekeeping at 1806 Piedmont avenue. Mr. Osquist has been in the employ of J. W. Lent, grocer, on Piedmont avenue, for years, and is well known.

SINGS AT BAND CONCERT.

Fourteen-Year-Old West End Girl is Soloist Sunday.

Miss Olga Prytz, the 14-year-old neice of Roy Prytz, the well known baritone, will be the soloist at the concert of the Third Regiment band next Sunday evening at the Lyceum. The young lady has a soprano voice of singular sweetness and those who have heard her sing claim that she is a wonder. She has been studying only two years under the direction of her uncle, but has developed rapidly, and recently sung before a company of musicians who grew very enthusiastic over her.

The selection which she will sing at the concert will be Patti's Waltz Song by Pettee, a selection well fitted to her voice. As Miss Prytz is a resident of the West end—which, by the way, is producing some of Duluth's best talent in music—it is expected that her friends will turn out largely to hear her first public success.

GOING TO FLORIDA.

Two West End Families to Spend Rest of Winter There.

Mr. and Mrs. James Preston of the West end, accompanied by their daughter, Jessie, left last evening for Tampa, Fla., for the benefit of the health of Mrs. and Miss Preston. They will spend the remainder of the winter there, and Mr. Preston expects to hunt alligators.

Capt. D. E. Stevens and Mrs. D. E. Stevens will leave for Milwaukee, Sunday, where Mrs. Stevens will undergo an operation for her eyes. If the operation proves satisfactory, Capt. and Mrs. Stevens will go from Milwaukee to Florida to spend the rest of the winter. The captain has shipped his motor car to Tampa in expectation of his visit there.

NO MORE REFUSALS.

Bethany Church Council Careful in Calls on Pastors Now.

The council of Bethany Lutheran church met last night to talk over the matter of issuing another call to the pastorate of the church. However, as the charge has been going begging to some extent, the council is rather chary of sending out any more invitations to preachers to take the flock.

It is understood the council has somebody in mind, but will not give out any names until the candidate will have been sounded to find out what he would do should the honor be thrust upon him. The council does not want to have another fall down and is determined to know where it stands with a clergyman before anything of a public nature is done. This seems to be the case about last night's meeting.

Will Start Building.

The contractors will begin next week the work of erecting the building for the Anchor laundry which is to be put up by H. J. Gujer on Twentieth avenue west, near Superior street. This will be a one-story brick building and will give the laundry more room than it has in its present location and will also afford it modern facilities.

Mr. Gujer and the Duluth camp of Modern Woodmen failed to come to an agreement on the matter of adding a story to the building which was to serve as a hall for the camp.

Commercial Club Meets.

The West End Commercial club will meet this evening at Sloun's hall, and it is expected that the attendance will be better than it has been in the past several meetings. The club has a number of matters of interest to discuss this evening, and will also take steps to provide some entertainment with which to attract members to meetings.

Goes East to Buy.

John J. Moe will leave tomorrow evening for the East on a spring buying tour. He expects to purchase a large stock, and with that idea in view is having the interior of his store remodelled. The carpenters are at work in the store at present, and when they are through the place will look much roomier.

Noted Salvationist.

A. Tuppin, a noted officer of the Salvation Army, will be heard in the West end on Sunday. In the morning at 10:30 he will preach in the Swedish M. E. church at Third street and Twentieth avenue west, and that afternoon and evening will be heard at Salvation Army hall, at Seventeenth avenue west and Superior street. Mr. Tuppin came recently from Sweden, where he was engaged for years in Salvation Army work.

West End Shortrails.

Conductor P. J. McHugh is out after being confined to his home with tonsilitis for the past two weeks.

Conductor Tanner slipped and fell on the sidewalk in front of his house in the West end a few days ago and is laid up as a result.

F. C. Bahr, conductor on the Northern Pacific, is expected back from the Brainerd hospital next Tuesday, after three weeks of sickness.

The eWst end branch of the O. R. C. initiated three new candidates at their last meeting.

The Duluth showcase factory on West Michigan street, which has been closed for some time, has resumed again and has a full force at work.

J. A. Bradley, conductor on the Northern Pacific, who has been in the Brainerd hospital for the past two months, is said to be in a very critical condition.

Ernest Petterson, who went to Sweden about three months ago to visit his parents, will leave on his return trip to Duluth on March 1. He will bring one of his sisters back with him.

It is rumored around that another department store is to be started on a large scale in the West end in the near future.

C. R. Lind, the West end strong man, was one of the principal attractions at the Bijou last week.

James Weldon, a conductor on the Northern Pacific, who has been sick for the past two weeks, is able to be about again.

John Vivian of 2819 Twenty-eighth avenue west, has purchased the Brewster farm, three miles up the Lester river road, and intends going into the poultry and bee business on a large scale.

You are sure to get what the doctor orders if you take your prescriptions to the "Lion Drug store."

M. H. Johnson of 1922 West Michigan street, who has lived in the West end for the past twenty-five years, will move into the city proper shortly.

Mrs. John Wahl has gone to the Mayo hospital at Rochester to submit to a serious operation.

James Baxter of the firm of Oulette & Baxter is building a handsome residence at Twenty-seventh avenue west and Fourth street.

Dr. John McKay has gone to Chicago to attend a horse sale.

Several horse races are scheduled for tomorrow afternoon on the ice at the foot of Twenty-first avenue west.

The Unity Club of the West end gave its pre-Lenten ball at Folz hall last evening and it was very well attended. The crowd was select, being confined to members and friends.

Peter Miley has gone to Detroit.

O. H. Bjorback is back from Ashland.

John Wahl went to St. Paul Wednesday to attend a pure food meeting.

A daughter was born a few days ago to Mr. and Mrs. James Walsh of 2817 Helm street; and a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lightbody of 1923 West Michigan street.

Mrs. P. W. Brewer, who has been quite ill in St. Luke's hospital for some weeks, is recovering.

Rev. Axel Wall will hold special services next week, beginning Wednesday evening, in the First Swedish Baptist church, Nineteenth avenue west and First street. Mr. Wall is from Minneapolis and recently from Sweden. He is said to be a very able speaker.

Pure drugs at the "Lion Drug store."

WOMEN ARE AMBITIOUS

To Be "First Lady" and Are Aiding Their Husbands.

Houses Unknown to Society Become Center of Social Gaiety.

Washington, Feb. 23.—When the social prophets made the trite remark that the season of 1905-6 would be one of the most brilliant recorded since the capital was moved from the City of Brotherly Love to the banks of the Potomac, people were inclined to scoff the idea. But this season has been the most remarkable chronicled in polite annals. Miss Roosevelt's wedding has given impetus to the White House amenities. But the activity in other high families is the source of wonderment. Never before has such a political campaign been waged in Washington drawing rooms, never before have so many diverging interests pooled results in pink teas, high-class musicales, and costly banquets.

Five of the most prominent public men in Washington are credited with harboring a presidential bee, and five tactful, experienced women are aiding these aspirations through social campaigns. These men are the vice president, Charles Warren Fairbanks, the secretary of state, Elihu Root, the secretary of the treasury, Leslie Mortimer Shaw, the secretary of war, William H. Taft, and the senior senator from Ohio, Joseph Benson Foraker.

Beside these war horses of the Grand Old Party, the Democratic statesmen are not resting idle. Perry Belmont, who is spending the winter for the avowed purpose of obtaining legislation anent campaign funds, is backed by all the power in his party. The result is that Washington never saw such feting and cordiality, and there is an embarrassment of riches, as well as a threat of ruined digestion.

At the beginning of the winter, the Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks moved from their rather modest domicile of Massachusetts avenue to the handsome mansion of Farragut square, which had been the Washington home of Col. and Mrs. Edward V. Morrell of Philadelphia. Their career in the new residence has broken all vice presidential records, even that of the hospitality of Levi P. Morton and the Garret Hobarts. Those who read guest lists with a knowing eye observe the the frequency with which the Fairbanks entertain the Southern society. The official season is just in its zenith, and has still about half its allotted course to run, but the proportion of Southerners and Middle Western people who appear at the Fairbanks board greatly exceeds that of Northerners or Easterners. The Fairbanks have recently taken to big evening receptions.

At Elihu Root's residence on Sixteenth street, the New York and New England powers in the Republican party may be frequently noted. The Roots, in their former residence at Washington, avoided all social exertion, and it was currently reported that the secretary had resigned the portfolio of war, because of Mrs. Root's well-known aversion to public life. Now all this is changed. Dinners, luncheons and receptions are of almost daily occurrence. About the first of December the secretary and Mrs. Root began a series of dinner parties, presumably complimentary, to the members of the diplomatic corps, but to these banquets various statesmen and leaders have been invited as regularly as have the foreigners.

Mr. Root has recently been entertaining the governor of New York, Joseph A. Choate, and the Whitelaw Reids were all entertained at the Root home. Miss Edith is playing an important part. She is the ranking woman in the cabinet set, and now that Miss Roosevelt is married, she is the first young lady in official society.

The Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Shaw making a passive rather than an active campaign. They are playing their part, figuring as guests at dinners and at homes where politicians congregate. The Misses Shaw are studying in Paris, and their mother will join them after Easter. It is then understood that the secretary will branch out more openly in his effort to win the highest honors of his party.

But the Tafts are making a most successful campaign. The secretary of war is one of the most popular men in Washington. Mrs. Taft is the youngest of the cabinet hostesses and one of the most affable. She possesses a gracious manner and is a clever conversationalist. She is fond of music and art and has always been a patron of both, and this has broadened her circle of acquaintances far outside the political sphere.

The Secretary and Mrs. Taft give delightful little dinners frequently.

The Forakers, like the Shaws, are not carrying transparencies into their social campaign, but the effect of their work is felt in the senate and the house and among the residents here, who look at the progress of events. Senator and Mrs. Foraker give several big evening receptions during the season. They are constant hosts at dinner in their own home.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME.

Woman Has Narrow Escape From Her Burning House.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 23.—Fire destroyed a dwelling house and contents on the homestead of William Cable, five miles north of this village. Its origin is not known, but is thought to have started from a defective chimney.

Mrs. Cable was at home alone, her husband having gone to Two Harbors to buy some supplies. She had a narrow escape from the burning building. She was upstairs when she discovered the house was in flames.

The house was of two stories, with an addition built of hewn logs. It was valued at $2,000, and was insured for $500.

FLAMES KILL WOMAN AT MERSTRAND, MINN.

Farmington, Minn., Feb. 23.—Mrs. John Johnson of Merstrand, Goodhue county, was burned to death in her kitchen as a result of attempting to start a fire in a stove with kerosene. The body was taken to Hampden, and the funeral was held yesterday.

Mrs. Johnson went into the kitchen to prepare breakfast, and used kerosene oil to start the fire. There was an explosion, and her dress caught fire. Her husband heard the explosion, and afterward heard his wife's screams, and rushed to the kitchen to help her. The door was stuck fast, and he smashed a window in order to get air into the room. The flames and smoke, however, suffocated Mrs. Johnson, and she died almost immediately.

Mrs. Johnson's name before marriage was Jennie Weber. She was well known throughout this part of the state. She was 34 years of age.

KICKED BY HIS HORSE.

Montana Man Fatally Injured Through Horse Falling on Snow.

Red Lodge, Mont., Feb. 23.—Harvey Wilson was probably fatally injured by being dragged and kicked by his horse, which slipped on the snow and fell just after Wilson had mounted it. Wilson's spur caught in the cinch, and he could not release his foot. The animal dragged him some distance and kicked and stamped him severely. His face was almost beaten to a jelly.

FIREMAN DIES IN MONTANA TUNNEL

Gas Fumes Render Engineer Unconscious But He Will Recover.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 23.—Percy Hanner, a fireman on the Great Northern, was killed and L. A. Drukey, engineer, narrowly escaped death Wednesday in one of the most peculiar accidents in the annals of railroading in this state.

Both men were overcome by gas in the Woodville tunnel, a short distance from this city, the wheels of their engine slipping on the frosty rails and moving so slowly that the men were overcome by the heavy fumes. Drukey, when he realized his senses were fast leaving him had enough presence of mind to bring the train to a stop. Hanner, becoming crazed, stuck his head into the tank and hastened his end by drowning.

Drukey was found unconscious with his head stuck in the coalpit and was saved only after many hours of hard work by the physicians. Engineer Charles Crane of the rear helper engine was found in an unconscious condition, but was soon revived.

A VIRGINIA FIRM

Buys Mountain Iron Business Block From Gowan-Peyton-Twohy Co.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Shanedling Bros., the well-known merchandise firm of this city, has purchased from the Gowan-Peyton-Twohy company of Duluth the business block in Mountain Iron occupied by Henry Hughes & Co., general store. Shandeling Bros. will open a store therein and a deal is now on for purchase of the Hughes stock. If it goes through Hughes & Co. will retire from Mountain Iron. If not, they will continue in business in another building.

W. H. Ward recently resigned his position as assistant master mechanic of the Mountain Iron mine to accept a position as foreman of the machine shops of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railway and has moved his family to this city.

The board of education has issued a call to the voters for a school meeting to be held at the Roosevelt high school Tuesday evening, March 6, for the following purposes: Voting on a proposition to erect a new school building or build an addition to one of the present buildings; to designate a site if a new building is to be erected, determine amount to be expended for such purpose and authorize the board to secure a loan from the state to pay for construction of such building or addition. All available room in the present schools is occupied and still there is not sufficient room for the pupils. It appears to be the general sentiment that a new building should be erected to contain eight rooms. An addition to any of the buildings now in existence would encroach upon the playgrounds of the children and the prospective growth of the city will make a new building necessary in a short time. There is also strong sentiment in favor of a solid brick structure.

BITES TONGUE IN TWO.

Boy Strikes a Fence Trying to Avoid Collision.

Chippewa Falls, Feb. 23.—John Stevens, the 8-year-old son of Fred Stevens, a contractor, met with an unusual and serious accident while skiing on the Stanley hill. In coming down the grade the lad saw a man crossing the street ahead of him, and in an endeavor to avoid hitting him turned out of his course and ran into a fence, striking it with terrific force. The boy almost severed his tongue, biting off about a third of it so that it hung only by a few threads. He was hurried to a hospital, where surgeons sewed the several parts. The doctors are hopeful that the two parts wily grow together. Stevens also received severe cuts and bruises by the collision.

FORTUNE FOR LABORER.

Elk River, Minn., Feb. 23.—By the death of an aged uncle in Toronto, Ont., Perry Clute, a workingman of this place, has become heir to $10,000. The money is in a bank in Toronto. Mr. Clute knows little about his deceased relative, and the inheritance came as a great surprise.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, langour, heart palpitation. Drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regulets act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Snappy Patterns

in new spring Hosiery from

15c to 50c

Our Line of $1.00 Shirts Are Just Right.

The Kingsbury and Blake Hats in the Latest Blocks and Styles.

Moir & Walker,

Clothiers, Furnishers, Shoers and Grocers.

2017-19 West Superior St.

SPECIAL PANTS SALE!!

All $2.50 Pants cut to $1.85

All $4 and $3.50 Pants $2.75

All $5.00 Pants cut to $3.75

All $6.50 and $6 Pants $4.75

All $8 and $7.50 Pants $6.75

FLOAN LEVEROOS & CO.

225-227 W. SUPERIOR ST. DULUTH

MEN'S FINE CLOTHING

D. E. H., Feb. 23, 1906.

COLUMBIA HATS AND SHOES

We think they are the best in Duluth, and every man who sees, buys and wears them, seems to think the same way.

But the real test is "wear," and that's where we will win the race for supremacy and make these Columbia articles the favorites in our section of the country.

By giving you a better article for your money than the same amount of it buys in any other store of Duluth, or of any other city, we expect to build up the great success, which is now freely predicted for The Columbia store by all who have watched us since we bought out Burrows.

COLUMBIA $3.00 HATS are made by the same skilled hatters who turn out the ultra-fashionable Knapp—Felt de Luxe $6 hats, the finest ever produced in America. We also have a "Columbia Special" at $4 which is a five-dollar hat minus the extra charge for a well-advertised name.

COLUMBIA $3.50 SHOES cost our factory 20 or 25 per cent more in material and labor than most any other shoe retailed at the same price. There is more than one way of advertising—to give you more for the price than the ordinary stores is one of our favorite tricks and it's bound to find favor with the wearers of good apparel.

COLUMBIA CLOTHING CO.

February bargains still numerous in all our departments.

JOHANN HOCH HANGED

(Continued from page 1.)

remedy for counsel was a writ of error from the decision of the state supreme court to the United States supreme court. The counsel failed to take advantage of the move. The writ is fatally defective and cannot be made good."

Hoch's attorneys asked an appeal from Judge Landis decision. Judge Landis replied: "Later in the day I will enter such an order as will enable you to have this case reviewed by the supreme court in the absence of your client. I will not now complicate matters by further delay. It would be much easier for me to grant this man ten days in which to have this case reviewed by the United States supreme court, but respect for orderly proceedure compels me to do what I have done. That is my order," and the court threw the petition to one side.

Preparations for the hanging were immediately begun following Judge Landis' refusal of a writ of habeas corpus, but Hoch's attorneys strenuously continued efforts to secure further delay. While the death march was starting in the jail, the attorneys were just leaving the federal building to get Hoch's signature to an appeal bond. After Judge Landis had apparently closed the case, Hoch's attorneys hastily prepared an appeal bond and again advanced to the court and renewed the demand for an appeal.

"Under the circumstances I don't think you have any right to appeal," said the court.

"Any citizen has the right to appeal," said Attorney Edward Maher.

"In view of the fact that this matter was delayed until within an hour of the execution, I don't think so," replied the court. Thereupon three attorneys representing Hoch began all to talk at once.

"Well," said the court, "prepare your record and bring it in. I will be here all day."

The attorneys hurried in a cab to the criminal court building to get Hoch's signature to the bond just as word came that the death march had begun.

Attorneys arrived at the jail with the appeal bond just in time to again temporarily stop the preparations for the hanging.

There was a hasty conference of jail officials and then Assistant Sheriff Peters consulted by telephone with Federal Judge Landis. Judge Landis said:

"I have refused to do anything in the Hoch matter. You need not delay the execution on my account."

Hoch is believed to have come originally from Horrweiler, a small town in Germany, not far from Hingen-on-the-Rhine. His father Jacob Schmitt is said to still reside there. A wife, supposed to be the first wife of Hoch, is also living in the same place.

Hoch has always been reticent regarding his career in this country, and his first wife married in the United States is believed to have been Mrs. Martha Steinbrecher, to whom he was married in 1895. After living with Hoch for four months, she died, the cause of death being given as nephritis. In November, 1895, he married Mary Rankin in this city, and left her the day after the wedding because she refused to give him money. In April, 1896, Hoch married Martha Hertzfeld, and left her in four months after obtaining her $600. His next wife is said to have been Mary Hoch of Wheeling, W. Va. She died of nephritis after three months. Hoch has always denied this marriage, and declared that he merely assumed the woman's name.

In the fall of 1896 Hoch married Clara Bartell of Cincinnati, and she died within three months of the marriage. In January, 1897, he was married to Julia Dose in Hamilton, Ohio, and abandoned her after obtaining $700. In April, 1898, Hoch was arrested in this city for selling mortgaged furniture, and served two years in the house of correction. In November, 1901, he was married to Mrs. Anna Goehrke of Chicago, but abandoned her after failing to obtain any money from her. April 8, 1902, he married in St. Louis, Mrs. Mary Decker, who died early in 1903. Her relatives have claimed that she was poisoned. Dec. 10, 1904, Hoch was married to Mrs. Marie Welcker, a widow of this city, the woman for whose murder he was condemned. Dec. 20 the woman became ill, and Jan. 12 she died, the cause of death being stated in the physician's certificate as nephritis. Five days later Hoch married Mrs. Emillie Fisher, a sister of Mrs. Welcker-Hoch. He obtained $750 from her and disappeared. Jan. 20, the last Mrs. Hoch reported to the police the disappearance of her husband. Suspicion was aroused by her story, and the body of Mrs. Welcker-Hoch was exhumed, and 7.6 grains of arsenic were found in the stomach. Search was made for Hoch and he was finally discovered in New York, where his landlady, Mrs. Kimberly reported that she believed her boarder to be Hoch, because he had proposed marriage to her on the day of his arrival in her house. He was arrested and later brought to Chicago.

Hoch, after being placed in jail here, admitted that he had been married thirteen times, but always denied that he had caused the death of any of his wives. He was placed on trial April 19, and on May 20, the jury returned a verdict finding him guilty of murder, and fixing the punishment at death. On June 3, sentence was passed on him, the date of the execution being set for June 23. Governor Deneen granted him a reprieve until July 28. Within one hour of the time set for his execution Hoch was given a second respite until Aug. 25. Before this date arrived, however, the supreme court of the state granted a supersedeas to permit of the consideration of his case by the court. On Dec. 15, the court handed down a decision affirming the verdict in the lower court, and fixing the date of execution for Feb. 23.

The last effort made by Hoch to secure a new trial ended on Feb. 21, when Governor Deneen and the board of pardons refused to interfere in his behalf. It was alleged before the board, by Mrs. Emelie Fischer-Hoch, that she had been so hounded by the police that she had committed perjury during the trial, and that much of the evidence which she had given against Hoch was not true. A physician also declared that the death of Mrs. Welcker-Hoch had been caused by kidney disease, and not by arsenical poisoning. On cross-examination before the board, however, he admitted that he had not made a post-mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Welcker-Hoch, while three physicians who had conducted such an examination declared that death was caused by arsenic.

LUCK STICKS TO HIM.

Plunger Booked as Passenger on Wrecked Valencia is Alive.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 23.—The proverbial luck of "Little Harry" Woolrich, formerly well-known as a plunger and sporting celebrity in Helena and Butte, apparently sticks to him. It was reported that Woolrich was one of those who perished on the wreck of the Valencia off Vancouver island and his name appears among the official list of those lost.

Woolrich, however, did not drown. Word has been received from Seattle that "Little Harry" is there. He had been in San Francisco and had bought a ticket for Seattle, intending to take the Valencia on what proved to be her last and fatal trip. The night before she sailed, however, Woolrich determined to have one more wrestle with the 'Frisco "tiger," and as a result of a long-drawn-out battle Woolrich found himself "broke."

Not wishing to reach Seattle in his depleted financial condition, Woolrich disposed of his passage ticket to a broker. The latter must have disposed of it to some one of unknown name, for it appears certain that a passenger on board the ill-fated vessel was traveling as H. Woolrich.

GERICKE RESIGNS

As the Leader of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Boston, Feb. 23.—Wilhelm Gericke has resigned as conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra, his resignation to take effect at the end of the present season. Mr. Gericke was offered the position for the season of 1906-7 and informed Maj. H. L. Higginson, the head of the organization, that he would accept under certain conditions. Maj. Higginson did not approve them and Mr. Gericke declined the offer. He says he will return to Europe. Mr. Gericke was conductor of the Symphony orchestra from 1884 to 1889, and from 1898 until the present time.

It takes a lot of preaching to convert some men to the value of advertising, but they always stay put.

WEST DULUTH

FEEL IT IS A BENEFIT

Revival Services Greatly Encouraging Pastors of Churches.

Rev. M. S. Rice Will Hold Last Meeting of the Week.

In many respects the service last night in the Westminster Presbyterian church was the best thus far held. The pastors and local workers feel very much encouraged, and are sure that their hopes and prayers for a revival of religious interests in West Duluth are to be answered. Rev. M. S. Rice preached on the text "Put Ye on the Lord Jesus Christ."

"This," said he, "is another one of Paul's straightforward, personal thrusts, reaching the very heart of the whole matter. There is nothing mysterious here. Religion is not a strange, mysterious thing, but simple, practical living. So many get the idea that religion is a strange, unnatural experience of something. In their business, and on the street, they talk with freedom, and naturalness, but have an unnatural and sanctimonious tone for the things of religion. That is not putting on the Lord Jesus Christ, to put on a sanctimonious tone—not at all. Putting on the Lord Jesus means forgiving your enemies, honesty, purity, sacrifice."

At the close of the sermon, five came forward and knelt at the altar, as an indication of their desire to lead a christian life, and many others indicated by raising their hands, their wish to be remembered in the prayers of christian people. Mrs. J. H. Jern sang two beautiful selections. Tonight, Mr. Rice will speak on the subject "Wasted Goods." The meeting will being at 7:45 sharp.

West Duluth Briefs.

At the West Duluth Commercial club this evening the out-lying territory's demand for water and gas service extensions, will be considered and it is quite likely that a demand will be made for these improvements.

A benefit party for Miss Mathilda Larson will be given this evening at Victor hall at which quite a lengthy program will be given.

H. W. Jackson, of the St. Louis mill, has returned from Montreal where he was visiting relatives.

The funeral of Charles Roos took place this afternoon at 2:30 at the Finnish church, Fifty-fourth avenue west and Ellnor street. Interment was in Oneota cemetery.

WATCH REPAIRING—HURST, 301 CENTRAL avenue.

The M. B. A. dance last evening at Wade's hall was a great success.

The three-act play, "Comrades," which was given in the Great Eastern hall several weeks ago for the benefit of the Irving School Alumni association, will be repeated tonight at proctorknott. It is said that the advance sale is heavy.

A private dance will be given at Wade's hall this evening.

The Ladies' Aid of the Asbury M. E. church will give a chicken pie supper, Saturday evening, Feb. 24, at Gilley's hall, serving from 5 to 8.

RHODES MINING COMPANY

To Sink Shaft on the Brunt Porperty Near Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Rhodes Mining company, the newly organized mining branch of the Cherry Valley Iron company, is clearing land on the Brunt property adjoining the Wacoutah, between Virginia and Mount Iron, preparatory to sinking a shaft thereon. It is expected to begin mining operations this year. A. M. Maitland, general manager for the Rhodes Mining company, was here this week looking after the work.

The Longyear Exploration company is drilling on the land immediately adjoining the Brunt to the east, while the Great Northern has two drills at work on the territory to the north, and it is claimed that a large body of ore is being proved up.

At the Wacoutah the Pitt Iron Mining company is making active preparations to commence stripping operations. A bailer and pumps are now being placed for the purpose of sinking a shaft, which has been started and is now down to a depth of 44 feet. It is proposed to sink to a depth of 200 feet, and this shaft will be used for draining the ore body and for hoisting ore that will be mined by the milling system in future. The stripping and a portion of the mining will be done by steam shovel, and the laying of a spur track to the property will be commenced next week.

The outlook is that the district between Virginia and Mount Iron will be a very busy one the present season.

$1.98 Smyrna Rugs tomorrow at $1.00

"WHERE VALUES REIGN SUPREME."

Stack & Co

21 and 23 West Superior St.

$2.98 Double Faced Smyrna Rug, Extra Heavy $1.75

Informal Opening Offering Saturday

Tomorrow we extend a most cordial invitation to all our patrons and the public in general, to visit us in our new and commodious quarters. A rare list of special bargains in crisp, new Spring Merchandise will greet you at reduced Opening Sale prices.

Opening Sale in Our New Ready-to-Wear Dept.

Handsome, jaunty Pony Coats, in the new grays, with small velvet collars—Opening Sale price $5.95

New Covert Coats—self-trimmed and satin lined—for $4.95

$12.50 handsome new Covert Coats—trimmed in self bands, with satin lining and velvet collar—Special at $9.00

$17.50 new Eton Suits, in the new light grays and handsome English mixed tweeds—Opening Sale price $12.95

New Eton Suits, in new stylish shaded checks—worth $25.00—Opening Sale price $17.50

Petticoat Bargains.

$8.50 Ladies' Silk Petticoats, in solid black and handsome changeable effects. Opening Sale price, while they last $4.95

$5.00 Ladies' Silk Petticoats, in an elegant assortment of colorings, in changeable effects—Sale price $3.98

$1.00 heavy sateen Petticoats—Opening Sale price tomorrow 79c

$1.25 Sateen Petticoats, in a big variety of styles—Opening Sale price, special at 98c

$1.50 Sateen Petticoats—exceptional good values and handsome styles—tomorrow special price $1.19

Specials In Dress Goods.

50c plain and fancy Mohairs just received—Special tomorrow 39c

75c all-wool Taffetas, 44 inches wide, soft and clingy—in all the new popular spring shades—per yard 59c

69c Panama Cloths, 44 inches wide, hard twisted for long service—in black and colors—Special tomorrow 50c

12½c London Voiles, in light weight sheer wash fabrics, all handsome fancy floral designs—sale price 8½c

200 yards—just one case of new Spring Dress Ginghams—the regular 10c quality—Sale price—yard 6½c

Muslin Underwear Specials.

39c handsome lace trimmed Corset Covers—Opening Sale price 25c

50c lace trimmed Corset Covers, only 39c

$1.45 handsome lace trimmed Underskirts—real beauties at this price. Opening Sale price tomorrow $1.12½

$1.98 handsome Embroidery trimmed Underskirts, with extra deep flounce—Opening Sale price tomorrow $1.50

Handsome $1.25 lace trimmed Night Gowns—Special tomorrow 95c

$1.50 Night Gowns, in lace or embroidery trimming—Your choice tomorrow—Opening Sale price $1.19

Opening Bargains in Linens.

400 yards of Conway Mills Crash Towling—worth 8½c yard; Special 6c

30 doz. linen finished Pillow Cases, with 3-inch hem—18c kind for 12½c

75c fringed pure linen Cloths, 36x36—with handsome open-work borders—for 50c

50 doz. German Huck Linen Towels, 18x36, worth 17½c; Special 12½c

100 Crochet Bed Spreads—full size and $1.00 kind—at, only 75c

$2.25 Marseilles Bed Spreads—in very heavy handsome patterns $1.69

72-inch unbleached Table Damask; a regular 59c quality—Special 35c

Underwear and Hosiery.

50c Ladies' Union Suits, in cream or gray—nicely fleeced for spring wear—Special tomorrow 39c

95c Ladies' gauze Wool Vests—just the thing for spring wear—Opening Sale price tomorrow, only 45c

10c Children's Early Spring Hose—lightly fleeced and lisle finish—a bargain—tomorrow at 12½c

25c Ladies' lisle finished, fleeced Hose—Sale price tomorrow 15c

Ladies' Spring Waists.

In this line we are showing very handsome styles for small prices. See the line on sale tomorrow at 50c, it is worth double.

Our $1.00 Waist on special sale tomorrow—is sold elsewhere at $1.50—at... $1.00

At $1.39 tomorrow you can buy a regular $1.95 White Linen Waist, elaborately trimmed and just new from the factory—tomorrow $1.39

45c Corset Girdles—for a flyer tomorrow the price will be 25c

New Valenciennes Laces.

Dainty patterns, in Val. laces tomorrow at—5c and 7c; all 10c and 12½c values.

Embroideries.

Crisp, new and beautiful patterns, at only 10c and 12½c; worth almost double the prices asked.

18-inch Corset Cover Embroidery, the regular 25c quality—Special, at 15c

30c Corset Cover Embroidery, in handsome designs—Special tomorrow....23c and 19c

BLEW CHLOROFORM THROUGH KEYHOLE

Aged Widow Says Her Enemies Are Seeking Her Life.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 23.—Asserting that her enemies have blown chloform into her room through the keyhole in the door and they have made such noises and disturbances that life is almost unbearable, Mrs. Susan Jones of 743 East Main street, has applied to the police.

Mrs. Jones is 80 years old and a widow. She rents three rooms in the rear of the second floor of the house on Main street. Two of the rooms she occupies and the other she rents to Mrs. Malotte. Adjoining Mrs. Jones' apartments are several rooms occupied by Mrs. Patrick Morlarity.

Mrs. Jones asserted that through the keyhole of the door between her apartments and those of Mrs. Morlarity chloroform has been blown and one night after she had retired the odor became so strong that she was obliged to leave her room and go to that of Mrs. Malotte for the remainder of the night. She said her heart was badly affected.

She says this has been done on numerous occasions and that she has put pillows and bed clothing against the door to prevent the fumes from entering her room. She said that when she removed the pillows she found large spots on them, caused by chloroform.

ARE SAVING 100 PER CENT

Cost of Handling Material at the Isthmus Greatly Reduced.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The Isthmian Canal commission has received a report from Chief Engineer John F. Stevens at Panama which shows that the total yardage moved on the Culebra division for the month of January exceeded that moved in December and that the average cost per yard for January was lower. Mr. Stevens' report is as follows:

"The work report for the month of January, 1906, Culebra division, shows a total yardage moved of 120,990, at a cost of 72 cents per cubic yard. Comparing this with the figures for December the latter month shows 70,630 yards moved at a cost of 92 cents.

"The above figures are made in accordance with the monthly reports which have been made since the Isthmian Canal commission took charge of the work; and you will see that as compared with certain months last fall, we have reduced the cost of handling this material over 100 per cent."

MAIL ROBBER RELEASED.

Ellsworth De France Gets Liberty After Serving Twelve Years.

Omaha, Feb. 23.—Ellsworth De France, who robbed a mail carrier in Nebraska twelve years ago and secured only 1 cent, but was given a penitentiary sentence for life, has just been released after serving twelve years of his time. His imprisonment has been in the Sioux Falls penitentiary. The sentence was in accordance with a federal statute.

De France was 18 years of age when he entered prison. President McKinley commuted his sentence to fifteen years and good behavior reduced it three years. De France was without friends and practically was buried until the prison chaplain took up his case.

CHINESE MAKE WAR ON A COLONY OF JEWS.

Shanghai, Feb. 23.—Oliver Baindbridge, who undertook a journey to Keyfengu, China, to visit the Jewish colonies there, has returned. He brought many interesting photographs of temples, palaces, mosques, precious documents and a roll of the law. The Jews received him with much good will and asked him to appeal in their behalf to their co-religionists in Europe to send them financial aid that they might restore their synagogue and revive their once numerous communities.

The traveler suffered, however, from the Chinese Mohammedans. Their hatred of the Jews is so intense that when they thought he was a rabbi they surrounded him and wanted to kill him.

Baindbridge succeeded in convincing them that he is not a Jew. When they found this out, their hostility changed into friendship.

The attachment of the Mohammedans was so great that they even gave the traveler the roll of the law, which they had taken from the Jews.

One of the causes for this hatred is due to the fact that the Mohammedan mosque is built on an old lot occupied at one time by a synagogue, they fear the loss of the lot if the synagogue is built again.

Would Assess Stockholders.

C. E. Adams, receiver for the Calumet Iron Mining company, against which a suit has been started in district court by James H. Shearing, has petitioned the court for an order directing a $1,000 assessment to be collected from the stockholders of he company to pay the claims and the expenses of the receivership. The receiver states that the aggregate of claims against the company, so far as he has discovered after diligent search, is $425.43, and that the only property interest the company had was an option that expired before he could find a purchaser. The sole asset the receiver finds to be the stockholders' liability.

For BEAUTIFUL WALLS buy

ROMAN WALL PAINT

Finest thing for interiors of Homes, Schools, Hospitals, and all Public Buildings. Dries quickly without gloss, giving rich, velvety effect. Can be washed without injury. Greatly superior to all other wall finishes. Durable, Hygienic, Elegant and Inexpensive. Made by

THE CHICAGO WHITE LEAD AND OIL CO.

For Sample Card of 12 beautiful colors and genera information, apply to

THE KELLEY HARDWARE CO.

CARNATIONS 50c PER DOZEN

One thousand at the above price. Also fine lot of fancy Lawson, Patten, Prosperity, etc., at 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 per dozen.

Roses—$1.00 to $4.00 per dozen.
Beauties—$2.00 to $10.00 per dozen.
Spring Flowers—25c to 75c per dozen.
Home-grown Violets—25c per dozen.
Lots of fine Plants—25c, 50c and up to $4.00 each.

Seekins & LeBorious,

109 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.

THE RIGHT KIND OF SCHOOL SHOES

For Boys, Girls and Little Tots; every pair warranted.

PHILLIPS & CO.

218 W. SUPERIOR ST.

Great Clearance Sale Continues to March 5. All Goods at Half Price.

My entire stock of Oriental Rugs, Russian Brass and Japanese Bronzes must be closed out at once, you will never have an opportunity to purchase goods of this class, at such low prices—call and see them.

SPECIAL 50—$30 Rugs $15 | H. ABALAN

Hotel McKay, First Street and Fifth Avenue West. Opposite Postoffice.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

TONY PILL RELEASED

Evidence Not Sufficient to Hold Him on Larceny Charge.

Claims That Bell Voluntarily Returned Him the Earnest Money.

"There were four of you there, two on a side," said County Attorney McClintock this morning, in summing up the case against Tony Pill, the Italian, who was charged with getting $100 from Peter Bell under false pretenses.

The case was one in which Pill was accused of recovering by a trick the sum of $100, paid as earnest money to bind the purchase of Bell's confectionery store.

Tony had paid over five twenty dollar bills to Bell, and stated that he and his brother would pay the balance of $300 the following day, as soon as the papers had been signed.

The next day Tony and his brother, Jim, went to the store, where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bell. What transpired there is difficult to state, but when the interview was over, Tony had the $100 back.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bell claim that Tony offered to give them $100 in gold in place of the paper currency, saying that the gold was inconvenient to carry around, and that when the paper money was handed to him, he put it in his pocket and walked out, telling them that the bargain was off.

Tony and his brother maintain that the Bells agreed voluntarily to give them back the money, as Tony had received word of the illness of his children, who live in Toronto, and had to go back there.

There was a straight conflict of testimony, and it was a case of the word of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bell against the word of Tony and his brother.

Most of the testimony had to be taken through an interpreter, and it was very unsatisfactory in regard to the details.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Judge Windom dismissed the case, stating that in his opinion the evidence did not warrant him binding the prisoner over to the grand jury on a grand larceny charge.

THE TORPEDO BOAT WINSLOW IN TROUBLE.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 23.—A special message over the United States weather bureau's telegraph wires to the commandant of the Norfolk navy yard today said: "The torpedo boat Winslow is broken down southeast of Cape Henry and wants immediate assistance." Rear Admiral Harrington at once dispatched the naval tug Mohawk to the assistance of the Winslow. She should reach the Winslow by 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The Winslow was bound from the New York navy yard to Norfolk. She in all probability became disabled during last night, while making the Virginia capes, and was carried in the tide southeast on Cape Henry, which is considerably out of her course.

J. M. GIDDING & CO. J. M. GIDDING & CO. J. M. GIDDING & CO. J. M. GIDDING & CO. J. M. GIDDING & CO. J. M. GIDDING & CO.

New Spring Things Arriving Quick and Fast

In fact so much so that we are sorely puzzled for room. Consequently we are offering strong inducements to present buyers of new things, to keep stocks moving along, and at the same time keep our sales-force and workrooms busy even in the supposed dull season.

How well we are succeeding can be seen at a glance in our show rooms, where we have turned dull days into busy ones.

Long Mousqutaire Gloves

That's the cry you hear about town.

We're the only people that can say "we have them" in any shade that may be desired—silk or glace kid. The new beautiful shades for evening and street wear—sky, pink, lavender, plum, navy, reseda, pearl, gray, pongee, black and white—16-button length; extra quality at $3.25; 12-button at $2.75.

Just received a large assortment of Chemisettes and chemisettes with half sleeves—in the embroidery and lace effects. Chemisettes—75c to $2.50—and sets, $2.00 to $7.50.

A complete line of Neck Ruchings in white, pink, sky, lavender, tan, black with white dot, white with black dot—25c per yard.

There is much to be gained by getting your Spring needs now.

Stocks are large, and you can get early chance of materials which may become scarce as the season advances. Especially is this true in the various shades of coral, Alice blue, reseda green and other pastel shades.

Tailor-made Suits.

The short, jaunty, tight-fitting and Pony Coats—the extremely short Eton Coat over the Princess bodice skirt—the loosely-pleated Eton elaborately trimmed with Val. and other laces, with high or low bodice belt.

The materials represented: Light-weight Chiffon Broadcloths, white and colored Serges, Mannish Suitings, Chiffon Panamas, Voiles and a great variety of foreign fabrics in the daintiest checks and stripes.

Coats for All Occasions.

Broadcloth Coats, tailored, embroidered or lace-trimmed, in great variety, for evening wear.

Traveling and Steamer Coats in new English mixtures.

Covert Top Coats in new Spring styles.

The New Waists.

Plain and Embroidered Nets.

All-over Embroidered Batistes trimmed with real Cluny and German Val.

Plain Batiste and Persian Lawn Waists, trimmed with real laces and handsome laces and embroidered motifs.

New Rain Coats for Women

First glimpses of these new creations for spring are in. Several styles, one of plain cravenette or a tiny check material—full Empire front and back—$27.50.

Another of heavier rain and storm-proof material, plain front, fancy check, self-lined—and with just a touch of color at the neck and on cuffs—$29.50.

A "London Swagger" style—full tailored and strapped—of fine materials—$22.50.

Also a variety of tight-fitting and semi-fitting effects—trimmed with velvet and braids—advance lines that we bought under regular prices—$25 to $35 value—in all shades—$18.50.

And special new models, tan, olive and oxford—$15 value at $9.50.

Will Continue Tomorrow Final Clean Up of

Tailored Suits, Coats and Skirts

TAILORED SUITS—of Cheviots, Broadcloths and Mixtures, Heretofore from $28.50, to $65.00—Now ..... $8.75 and $14.50

$32.50, $25.00 and $22.50 Traveling Coats of English Tweed $10.00

FINAL CLEAN-UP OF SKIRTS

Materials are Voiles, Panamas, Cheviots, London Twines, Serges and Novelty Materials. Shades are navy and Royal blue, reseda green, grays and other shades.

$10 Skirts, $5 | $16.50 Skirts, $8.25 | $7.50 Skirts, $3.75 | $12.50 Skirts, $6.25.

New Spring Novelties

We are showing the largest display ever produced by any one retailer in the city. The designs include all the most recent, novel and stylish effects produced in Europe. Just now we are showing a very attractive line of combs—all handsome and exclusive designs—

75c to $28.00.

Barrettes to match combs, in all the new colored jewels—from

50c to $12.50.

Brooches—the most winning designs in white brilliants and other stones—ranging in prices from

35c to $22.00.

Stick Pins and Hat Pins—an unlimited variety of pleasing patterns—.

25c to $9.50.

Collarettes—or better known as Dog Collars—are once more in vogue. Elaborately jeweled with amethyst, topaz and many other fancy colored jewels—

$1.00 to $20.00.

Gold Belts for Easter. Girdle effects—$1.50 to $18.00. Also a very handsome line of all the new novelties—

$3.75 to $25.00.

The Style Store. Corner Superior Street J. M. GIDDING & COMPANY The Different Store and First Avenue West.

Saturday's Big Sale On

RUBBER GOODS

KUGLER

YOUR DRUGGIST

108 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.

	Reg. Price	Special Price
2-qt. Fountain Syringes, Rapid Flow	$1.50	98¢
3-qt. Fountain Syringes, Rapid Flow	$1.75	$1.19
2-qt. Fountain Syringes—regular.
2-qt. Fountain Syringes, combination	$1.75	$1.19
3-qt. Fountain Syringes, combination	$2.00	$1.39
2-qt. Hot Water Bag	$1.50	98¢
3-qt. Hot Water Bag	$1.75	$1.19
With any of the above we will give you a red guarantee card good for one year.
Vaginal Spray—forward and backward flow	$2.50	$1.79
Rubber Gloves	85	49¢
Bathing Caps	75	49¢
Stomach Tube	$2.00	$1.39
Flusher	$2.00	$1.39
Soft Catheters	50	22¢
English Catheters	25	15¢

DRUGS, ETC.

$1.00 Headache Tablets	25
$1.00 Comp. Cathartic Tablets	25
$1.00 Siler's Tablets	25
$1.00 Colomel and Soda Tablets	25
$1.00 Birney's Antiseptic Tablets	25
$1.00 Acetainted Comp. Tablets (Same as A. K. Tablets.)	25
1 lb. Old Fashioned Stick Candy	25

Don't you know that we have the best prescription department in the Northwest?

1-3 off on Hurd's Finest Stationery, consisting of Bond, Kid Finish and Royal White.

A brick of our Vanilla Ice Cream makes a dainty dessert for Sunday dinner.

CITY BRIEFS

Smoke none but home made Union Label cigars.

Greysolon Camp, No. 627, R. N. A., will entertain at cards this evening at their hall.

In the appealed case of Felix Sarja against the Great Northern Railway company, the judges in district court, this morning affirmed the order of Judge Windom, of municipal court, in denying the motion of the railway company for judgment, notwithstanding the verdict or for a new trial.

Claiming that his wife deserted him after less than a year of wedded life, John Japson has instituted divorce proceedings against Myrtle Japson, in district court. In his complaint he alleges that he is 21 and his wife 20 years of age, that they were married in Superior, Wis., in November, 1902. The desertion is claimed to have occurred in March, 1903.

Articles of incorporation of ten new mining companies, all controlled by Oliver Mining company interests, were filed with the register of deeds this morning. The companies are named Agawan, Ambridge, Greenville, Lafayette, Mingo, Monessen, Morewood, Munhall, Pencoyd and Somerset. The incorporators of all the companies are William W. Watson, Edward J. Maney and John D. Clark of Duluth. Each is capitalized at $50,000, divided into 500 shares and the time of existence is perpetual.

Friday, March 2, is the date decided upon for holding the smoker at the Commercial club under the auspices of the public affairs committee. All members of the Commercial club are invited to be present. One of the features of the evening will be an address by Prof. Merrill of the Superior state normal school on "The Business Man in Modern Civilization."

Tomorrow is St. Matthias' day, and there will be holy communion at St. Paul's Episcopal church at 10 a. m.

T. J. Griffith has returned from an extended visit to New York and Philadelphia in the interests of Freimuth's rug and drapery departments.

The outing committee of the Y. M. C. A. has arranged a trip to the Superior Shipbuilding company, where several large ships are in the course of construction. The party will leave the Boys' department at 2:15 p. m. tomorrow.

PERSONALS

Miss J. Fairman left over the South Shore today for Detroit, Mich.

D. A. Blakeney, city passenger agent of the Omaha, is in St. Paul today.

Mrs. L. C. Leary of Detroit, Mich., is registered at the Spalding.

Royace A. Hunt of Virginia, is a guest at the St. Louis.

J. Kitz of Hibbing is a guest at the St. Louis.

G. McMaha of Ely is at the St. Louis.

G. E. Harrison of Hibbing is at the Spalding.

J. M. Bush of Nashwauk, Minn., is at the Spalding.

A. M. Chisholm and family will leave soon for a trip of several month to Japan.

CHURCH GETS THE MONEY

Will of James Brennan Upheld by Supreme Court.

St. Paul, Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court today affirmed the findings of the Ramsey county district court in the case of the estate of James Brennan, deceased, Church of St. Vincent et al, respondents, vs. Mary Ann Brennan, appellant. Brennan died leaving an estate valued at over $8,000. He left $500 to Rev. Father Cosgrove for masses, a small sum to his mother, Mary Ann Brennan, and $7,000 to the Church of St. Vincent.

The mother contested the will. The case was bitterly fought through the probate and district courts, where in each instance, the validity of the will was upheld.

COPPER STOCKS CONTINUE WEAK

Market is Still Dull, Listed and Unlisted Shares Being Inactive.

Another weak day for copper stocks. The market opened weak this morning after the Washington's birthday holiday. Cables from London were to the effect that copper opened 1 pound and 12 shillings higher. The price was 7? pounds 10 shillings at the close.

North Butte opened at $85.50 and went as high as $86, with little trading. The closing price was $85.50 bid and $86 asked. Amalgamated opened at $110.62½, dropped to $110.25 and rallied to $110.87½. The closing price was $110.75 bid and $111 asked. United Copper opened at $71.50 bid and $72.50 asked and went to $74.25. The closing price was $73 bid and $73.25 asked. Anaconda went as low as $280.50 and as high as $283.

There was no activity in the Bisbee stocks. Calumet & Arizona closed at $116 bid and $118 asked, Calumet & Pittsburg at $36 bid and $36.50 asked. Denn-Arizona at $27 asked, Junction at $28.25 bid and $29 asked, Lake Superior & Pittsburg at $43.50 asked and Pittsburg & Duluth at $24.25 asked.

Black Mountain sold at $13 and closed at $13 bid and $13.50 asked, Keweenaw sold at $16 and closed at $15 bid and $15.50 asked, Warren at $17.50 asked, Copper Queen of Idaho at $2 asked and Sullivan at $2 asked.

TIMBER TRESPASS SUITS BROUGHT

By the State Against a Minneapolis Firm for $63,481.53.

St. Paul, Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state legal department has prepared papers which have been sent to the county clerks of Hubbard, Becker and Clearwater counties, starting timber trespass suits with claims aggregating $63,481.53 against Benness & Howe, lumber manufacturer of Minneapolis. The petitions will be filed tomorrow. There are three suits in all and they involve fifteen cases of trespass on state timber land in which it is alleged neither a permit nor an authorization from the state timber department ever figured. The state legal department will follow these suits with a number of others involving trespass in the same territory.

Of the amount asked by the state $40,865.34 is for treble damages, while the balance is for the actual value of the timber taken, penalties in the latter case having been outlawed. Some of the timber has been paid for through settlement made in the past, but this fact is ignored.

IS TO MARRY WILHELMINA

Lieut. Scharrer Secures License to Wed Brewer Busch's Daughter.

Los Angeles, Feb. 23.—It developed today that a marriage license was issued yesterday to Lieut. Edward Scharrer and Miss Wilhelmina B. Busch, daughter of Adolphus Busch of St. Louis. The county offices were closed in honor of Washington's birthday, but Lieut. Scharrer looked up Chief Deputy County Clerk G. S. Barson and secured the license. The lieutenant gave his age as 28 and that of Miss Busch as 22. It is not known when the wedding will take place. Mr. Busch and family are now staying at their winter home in Pasadena.

THE DEWEY IS SIGHTED.

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Feb. 23, 1 p. m.—The United States drydock Dewey has just been signalled off this port.

ADJUSTERS HOLD BACK

Insurance Men Want More Than $60,000 for Grain.

Elevator Fire Salvage Sale Has Not Yet Ended.

Still the grain which was saved from the big blaze which destroyed the Peavey elevator Saturday night has not been sold—at least it had not up to the very minute of going to press.

Authentic information as to the real situation was hard to get, inasmuch as the insurance adjusters who are conducting the sale, are maintaining the great secrecy which they have been manifesting since their arrival in the city. They have been as noncommittal as some of those insurance men who figured in the Eastern exposures would like to have been.

According to the grain men and others who are interested in the disposition of the grain it will not be sold at a public sale. The deal will probably be closed in private.

The bids which were offered for the grain at the sale held on the floor of the board of trade yesterday afternoon were not high enough to suit the insurance men, so that it was continued over to this morning, at the Spalding.

The highest bid made yesterday was $55,000, made by the Globe Elevator company, through A. L. Searle. The highest bid made this morning was made by H. N. Griggs, a St. Paul hay, grain and feed man, and his figure was $60,000. This, too, was rejected by the insurance men, who are said to be fostering the fond hope of receiving as much as $100,000 for the salvage.

It is understood that the insurance people will hold out longer to secure that amount or very nearly it, if possible. The fire at the elevator has become so insignificant that men are putting it out with buckets of water and grain men declare that this warm weather will not hurt the stuff at all. Most of it is exposed.

Grain men ducked in and out of the Spalding all day, but none of them declared that the sale had been consummated. The building has been slow and it is doubtful whether the Globe Elevator company, which bid $55,000 at the sale yesterday afternoon, will bid higher than the St. Paul man who is willing to pay $60,000 for the grain.

The adjusters who are enacting the roles of sales managers just now, declined to discuss the impending transaction, saying that it was not customary to do so.

They are now getting private bids and propositions to handle it for the insurance companies.

SATURDAY WILL BE PENSION DAY IN HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Tomorrow was agreed upon as pension day.

The mussel shoals power bill, returned by the president at the request of the house, was taken up on motion of Mr. Richardson (Ala.) for the purpose of amending it to meet the objections as to the location of a dam on the Tennessee river in Alabama.

GOES TO FORT WILLIAM.

George F. Mackenzie Will Take Charge of Bank There.

George F. MacKenzie, paying teller of the American Exchange bank will leave Duluth next Friday for Fort William, Ont., to take charge of the Fort William branch of the Northern Bank of Winnipeg. Mr. MacKenzie is probably one of the best known men in Duluth among business men. He has been in the American Exchange bank for a great many years and in that time has popularized himself with everybody with whom he has come in contact.

He was one of the founders of the Duluth Curling club and is considered one of its leading players. As a curler and Scotsman he is known throughout the Northwest. His departure will be much regretted as Duluthians who know him would wish to keep him here, but they are glad of the opportunity he is getting to improve his business conditions.

FEARS FOR ALEXANDER.

New York, Feb. 23.—Fears over the condition of James W. Alexander, a former president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, were expressed today by the three physicians who have been attending him since an operation performed yesterday. This was the second operation on Mr. Alexander in the last two weeks and was performed for an organic trouble. His physicians today said that he had thus far failed to rally from yesterday's operation, as rapidly as he did from the first one.

OCEAN STEAMSHIP.

New York—Arrived: Cedric, Liverpool.

BUILDING PERMITS.

August Klang, frame building on Tacony street, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-ninth avenues west, to cost	$1,000
M. E. Harrison, addition to building on Central avenue, between Medinah and Albion streets, to cost	300
Alfred Haga, frame building on Fifty-first avenue west between Ramsey and Bristol streets, to cost	1,000

Too Late to Classify

Hair Dressing, Shampooing, Scalp Treatments, Facial Massage, Manicuring and Children's Hair Cutting at Miss Horrigan's

LOST — A NEW SHOE, FEB. 22. Please return to Herald office.

FOR SALE—200 SHARES OF EAGLE Mountain gold stock at $4.50. G 94, Herald.

TO RENT—SUITE OF ROOMS FOR light housekeeping at 129 First avenue west. Inquire 28 West Second street.

FOR SALE—BARGAIN IN OPHIR Tunnel Co. stock. Address P. O. box 227.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Axel O. Hassel and Hulda M. Johnson.

BIRTHS.

LOWE—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Lowe of 2126 West First street, Feb. 15.

ANDERSON—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson of 2816 Helm street, Feb. 16.

TVEDT—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Tvedt of 123 West First street, Feb. 20.

LIGHTBODY—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lightbody of 1932 West Michigan street, Feb. 20.

WALSH—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Walsh of 2817 Helm street, Feb. 20.

LINDGREN—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lindgren of 422 Nineteenth avenue west, Feb. 18.

GUNDERSON—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Hans P. Gunderson of 416 East Seventh street, Feb. 20.

JOHNSON—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson of 711 East Eighth street, Feb. 20.

MUELLER—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mueller of 618 East Eighth street, Feb. 20.

HIRSCHFIELD—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Hirschfield of 308 East Fifth street, Feb. 20.

LEVITT—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. S. Levett of 12 East Fourth street, Feb. 19.

HAMILTON—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. Hamilton of 6311 Redruth street, Feb. 19.

DEATHS.

MARTIN—Alice, the infant doughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin of 3104 West Huron street, died Feb. 21, of pneumonia.

CARD OF THANKS.

WE WISH TO CONVEY OUR HEARTfelt thanks and appreciation to the many kind friends and neighbors for their words of sympathy and assistance; particularly the members of the Women's Relief Corps, the Degree of Honor and the A. O. U. W. for their many kind acts and beautiful floral offerings during my late bereavement.

JOHN M. SCHULER AND FAMILY.

EVERYBODY SATISFIED.
MANY PRAISING HIM.

DR. REA
SPECIALIST.

Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Diseases of Men, Diseases of Women, Chronic Diseases.

Next regular professional visit to Duluth at Spalding Hotel,

Saturday, Feb. 24,

From 9 a. m. until 8 p. m.

One day only—returning every month.

Dr. Rea has no superior in diagnosing and treating diseases and deformities. He will give $50 for any case that he cannot tell the disease and where located in five minutes.

Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, Lung disease, Early Consumption, Bronchitis, Bronchial Catarrh, Constitutional Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Stomach and Bowel Troubles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Kidney, Liver, Bladder, Prostatic and Female diseases, Dizziness, Nervousness, Indigestion, Obesity, Interrupted Nutrition, Slow Growth in Children, and all wasting diseases in adults. Many cases of Deafness, Ringing in the Ears, Loss of Eyesight, Cataract, Cross Eyes, etc., that have been improperly treated or neglected, can be easily restored. Deformities, Club Feet, Curvature of the Spine, Disease of the Brain, Paralysis, Epilepsy, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Swelling of the Limbs, Stricture, Open Sores, Pain in the Bones, Granular Enlargement and all long-standing diseases properly treated. Lost manhood, nervous debility, spermatorrhoea, seminal losses, sexual decay, failing memory, weak eyes, stunted development, lack of energy, impoverished blood, pimples, impediments to marriage; also blood and skin diseases, Syphilis, Eruptions, Hair Falling, Bone Pains, Swellings, Sore Throat, Ulcers, Effects of Mercury, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Weak Back, Burning Urine, passing urine too often, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, receive searching treatment, prompt relief and cure for life.

Cancers, Tumors, Goiter, Fistula, Piles, Varicocele and enlarged glands, with the subcutaneous injection method, absolutely without pain and without the loss of a drop of blood, is one of his own discoveries, and is the most really scientific and certainly sure cure of the twentieth century. No incurable cases taken. Consultation to those interested, $1.00.

DR. REA, Minneapolis.

AERONAUT LOST SUIT.

Must Pay $1,000 to Widow of Man Killed by Gas.

Paris, Feb. 23.—The balloon is now fighting its way for standing before the French courts. Though it appears to have become an established fact as the bicycle or automobile nevertheless the idea is too new and original for the courts to have many precedents providing for aerial navigation as a method of transit.

However, the subject of ancient rights of air, etc., promises to come before the courts of France in hundreds of different ways in the not far distant future. The first balloon case of the kind has just been before the courts for adjustment.

The suit grows out of a balloon accident of last year. An aeronaut named Bacon was passing in his balloon over Paris when he unexpectedly came to within a few feet of the roofs. Finally he knocked down a chimney pot. Thinking him in danger some people promptly seized the dragging guide rope, and in spite of the aeronaut's protest hauled him down into the street. He, therefore, had no choice except to order them to shut their windows while he deflated his gas bag. The gas entered a house through a window carlessly left open and caused an explosion in which a man named Gouzeau was killed. The question at issue was as to whether the aeronaut having been an unwilling sufferer himself was responsible for the situation created. The courts finally decided against the aeronaut and sentenced him to pay damages to the amount of $1,000 to the widow of Gouzeau, the man who was killed.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fullness, belching, gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by all druggists.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

LOW COLONIST ONE-WAY RATES

Feb. 15th to April 7th, inclusive.

$25.00 — Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, Vancouver, Victoria and other North Pacific Coast points.

$22.50—Nelson, B. C., Rossland, B. C., Spokane, Walla-Walla, Wenatchee, Wash., and intermediate points.

$20.00—Helena, Butte, Great Falls, Kalispell and intermediate points.

$18.00—Hinsdale, Mont., and intermediate points.

$34.00—San Francisco, Los Angeles and all main line points in California.

$22.50—Denver, Pueblo, and Salt Lake City.

Round trip homeseekers rates of one fare plus $2.00 to Montana, Idaho, Washington (Wenatchee and east), and Oregon (Biggs and east), Feb. 6 and 20.

Low round-trip homeseekers rates to Southeastern and Southwestern states, Feb. 6 and 20.

City Ticket Office, 432 West Superior Street.

The World of Sports

MATCH NOT COMPLETED

Soft Weather Interferes With Curling Games at St. Paul.

Doubtful If Duluth Club Can Finish Up Trophy Events.

Soft weather played havoc with the ice on the Nushka club curling rink in St. Paul yesterday, and the match between the Duluth and St. Paul curlers could not be completed.

One game between four rinks was played, but the ice became too soft for curling in the afternoon and the contest was not completed.

The aggregate score of the morning games was St. Paul, 43; Duluth, 37.

A. H. Smith was the only Duluth skip to win his game, McLeod, Mackenzie and Ron Smith all losing.

The Duluth curlers were entertained by their hosts at the Minnesota club and returned to Duluth on the afternoon train, reaching here last evening.

A return match will be played in Duluth on March 2 to decide the possession of the trophy, known as the "George MacKenzie cup," which the Nushka club donated for an annual match between the two clubs.

The rinks and the scores at St. Paul yesterday were as follows:

Duluth—		Nushka—
S. H. Jones,		C. Corning,
C. A. Payne,		D. Welch,
J. C. Myron,		A. McGregor,
C. F. MacKenzie,		T. L. Wann,
Skip—6.		Skip—10.
W. Craig,		W. L. Hoatson,
Dr. J. D. Park,		Dr. MacLaren,
H. Hardon,		W. C. Reed,
A. H. Smith,		A. B. Vanbergen,
Skip—15.		Skip—6.
F. H. Seymour,		C. E. Robertson,
Sam Cleveland,		T. Cameron,
J. Catlin,		M. McGregor,
Ron Smith,		W. D. Stewart,
Skip—10.		Skip—12.
J. Upham,		H. Norris,
P. Helmick,		J. B. Emerson,
S. F. Fullerton,		C. Barlow,
R. J. MacLeod,		C. M. Griggs,
Skip—6.		Skip—15.

* * *

The same thaw put a stop to the sport planned by the Duluthh curlers who remained at home. The Duluth club had arranged to meet the Superior curlers in the annual match for the Anderson medal, but there was no ice in condition to play on yesterday afternoon, and the match had to be called off.

* *

It begins to look very doubtful if the different club trophy contests can be finished up this year. The St. Louis, Herald and Manley-McLennan trophies are all to be awarded yet, and in the two latter contests there are a number of games remaining to be played. It would require nearly two weeks of good curling weather to finish up all three trophy contests, and the chances for securing this are none too bright, judging from the line of weather that has been handed out up to the present time. Only two games remain to be played in the St. Louis contest, and The Herald is almost down to the final round, but in the Manley-McLennan event none of the squad winners are known yet.

WEBB'S SIDE WINS.

Gun Club Shooting Match for Supper at the Commercial Club.

At the Highland grounds yesterday afternoon the Central Gun club members chose sides, after the fashion of a spelling match, and shot to see who would pay for a supper to be served at the Commercial club in the evening. The twelve men chosen by Webb defeated Nelson's side by a score of 221 to 192. The match was shot off in squads of five each. Twenty-five birds to a man were shot at. Following are the individual scores:

Webb, captain, 20; Clark, 25; Berry, 22; Abbott, 23; Feetham, 14; Hogan, 13; Adams, 20; Travers, 12; Abell, 14; Alex, 19; Holmberg, 20; Beyer, 19.

Nelson, captain, 23; Story, 24; Lock, 12; Porter, 17; Hoople, 13; Coons, 18; Frerker, 17; McCollam, 14; Olson, 17; Lounsberry, 8; Bradberry, 17; Bloomstrandt, 12.

The feast at the Commercial club in the evening was a very enjoyable affair.

Attell the Winner.

Chelsea, Mass., Feb. 23.—Abe Attell of San Francisco retained his title to the American featherweight championship by defeating Jimmy Walsh of Newton, Mass., before the Lincoln Athletic club last night. Attell was given the decision after fifteen fast rounds.

ESCAPES BEING BURIED ALIVE

Wisconsin Man Comes Out of Trance and Smashes Coffin.

Loyal, Wis., Feb. 23.—James Mulligan, of Ioga, Wis., narrowly escaped being buried alive yesterday. The funeral procession was slowly wending its way to the church when the driver of the hearse heard groans from within, followed by smashing of glass, which plainly indicated that Mulligan had objections to being buried alive. The casket was opened and Mulligan fully restored to consciousness, sat up and began to inquire where he was. He had been in a trance for three days.

FEARFULLY MANGLED.

Joseph Sundy Killed in No. 3 Shaft of the Spruce Mine.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 23.—Joseph Sundy, an Italian, was killed by being caught between the lift and the side of the shaft timbers in No. 3 shaft of the Spruce mine. His body was torn asunder and was fearfully mangled. Sundy leaves a family in Italy.

Sundy and his partner were on the life which carried logs standing on end. The lift had been lowered to the second level, whereas it was intended to unload at the first. Just after leaving the second level some of the timbers slipped and struck Sundy, pushing him over against the shaft timbers.

TOURNEY IS POSTPONED

Heavy Wind at Ishpeming Puts Stop to Ski Jumping.

Duluth Man Makes Second Longest Jump of the Day.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 23.—The fifty mile gale which was blowing over Brasswire hill put a stop to the national ski tournament yesterday afternoon, before half of the program had been run off.

It was impossible for the riders to make anything but the poorest showing, as they were unable to keep their feet in the heavy wind.

Ninety-three runners were entered in the events, and made a brave attempt to take the jump, but in the trial run only six men kept their feet. Ole Hendrickson of Red Wing had the longest jump of the six with 82 feet.

In the first run for prizes, nine stood. Ole Mangseth of Red Wing getting first place with 93 feet. Ole Feiring of Duluth was second with 89 feet; Gust Bye of Duluth, third, with 74½ feet.

Each of the riders entered in the tournament will make two jumps today to decide the winner.

The long distance run was pulled off yesterday, and it was won by Asarla Autio of Ely, a recent arrival in this country from Finland. He covered the six miles in 48 minutes and 47 seconds. Frans Laine of Ishpeming was second, and John Mackey of Ely third.

The wind abated last night, and the tournament will doubtless be completed today without further delay. The crowd is large, and the hill in excellent condition for the jumps. The following is a summary of the best jumps made during yesterday's program: Ole Mangseth, Red Wing, 93 feet; Ole Feirling, Duluth, 89 feet;; Gustav Bye, Duluth, 74½ feet; Elling Dieson, Duluth, 82 feet; Ole Westgaard, Ishpeming, 71 feet; Ole Hendrickson, Red Wing, 82 feet; Thorwold Olson, Stoughton, Wis., 70 feet; Ephraim Olson, Red Wing, 70 feet; John Mangseth, Duluth, 70 feet; Aasman Melgaard, Ashland, 73 feet.

INTERCEPTED LETTER

Said to Have Been Undoing of the Western Miners.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 23.—A story is published here to the effect that a letter written at the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners in Denver, was foundation upon which the detectives worked to secure the evidence which will be used against the prisoners charged with the murder of Former Governor Steunenberg. This letter, it is said, was addressed to a member of the federation in Silver City, Idaho, but he did not call for it and detectives secured the missive. It is supposed that it directed the assassination of Steuenberg and as an encouragement to the act, referred to other crimes which had been committed, the perpetrators of which had escaped punishment. The name of the person to whom the letter was addressed is withheld. Other letters from the Denver office of the federation are said to have been intercepted and it is added that these letters have been used in securing damaging statements from one of the prisoners under arrest.

The prisoners, Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, are confined in separate cells. They are permitted to have books, but no newspapers and are allowed to consult once each day in the presence of officers.

FIRE LOSS AT DAWSON AMOUNTS TO $70,000.

Dawson, Minn., Feb. 23.—The business section of this village was almost completely destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, and the blaze was not subdued until 9 o'clock. The fire started between 1 and 2 o'clock in the general hardware store of the Fedetterdal company, and its origin has not yet been ascertained.

When the conflagration started it was at first thought that it would cause very little trouble, but there was a strong wind blowing, and it was not long before the local firemen saw that they would be unable to stop the course of the flames. About an hour after it was discovered, assistance was asked from the fire companies at Canby and Madison. By 8 o'clock two whole blocks had been entirely wiped out and nothing remained but the smouldering ashes of the town's business section.

The fire loss is estimated at over $70,000. The loss is almost fully covered by insurance.

Constipation and Its Causes.

A Well-Known Remedy.

Constipation is one of man's worst enemies, and half the bodily ills we suffer from are a result thereof. Nature meant that the bowels should be kept free and open—that we should have a free movement at least once a day. Of course, we ourselves are to a large extent responsible for our troubles by failure to observe Nature's laws. Our habits are irregular, we eat improper food with undue haste, and when we find our bowels do not move, have resort to powerful drugs and medicines, which are so drastic in their action that, although they may purge at first, they damage the tender lining of the stomach and bowels so as to leave a worse condition than before. And why take such injurious and expensive drugs when we can obtain from any druggist, much cheaper, a bottle of Nature's own remedy—the famous Mineral Laxative Water—HUNYADI JANOS—bottled at the springs in Hungary; in use nearly half a century. One dose, ½ a tumblerful, drunk on arising in the morning, (slightly warmed for best results) will bring within an hour a refreshing movement—gentle, natural, and thorough—without any griping or purging or other bad effects. A whole bottle costs but a trifle. Keep one always on hand. At all druggists.

BEDE, TOWNE AND LAWSON

The Principal Speakers at Banquet of Peoria Creve Coeur Club.

Owing to Lateness Lawson Refers Auditors to Newspapers.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 23.—After traveling half way across the country to accept an invitation to speak at the Creve Coeur club banquet yesterday as chief speaker of the evening, Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, was overcome by the length of the program ahead of him and surrendered to the lateness of the hour.

He apologized gracefully to an audience which had packed the Collseum mainly to hear him but which showed evidence of needing sleep at midnight and referred them to the newspapers for the messages he had come to deliver.

Eight hundred persons sat down to the tables, while fully fifteen hundred crowded the galleries.

In honor of the day, the speakers' stage was built in imitation of the Washington home at Mount Verdon.

George T. Page, president of the Illinois Bar association, acted as toastmaster. The program was as follows:

"The Railways and the People," A. B. Stickney.

"The Navy of Our Country," Admiral Schley.

"Civilization, Its Cause and Cure," Congressman J. Adam Bede.

"The Enemy and the Enemies the Enemy Has Made," Thomas W. Lawson.

"Washington's United States," Congressman Charles A. Towne.

Mr. Bede kept the audience convulsed with laughter for a full hour, speaking of civilization and the pursuit of happiness. He said millionaires are not happy. He had known several of them in the East who spent as many as ninety days in the "wilds of Dakota" looking for it, and the courts would not let them have it. He struck a serious strain with reference to the railroad rate bill and was vigorously applauded when he asserted that the people need not hope for a perfect law this winter, nor next, nor in the congressional sessions of six winters, but that each successive action of congress will show a step toward perfection.

Mr. Towne said in part:

"I want to refer, in view of certain reports from Washington in the morning papers to the so-called Moody amendment to the railroad rate, and I wish to be deliberate, despite the impromptu nature of my remarks.

"If the president of the United States, after his magnificent fight for rate regulation, is coerced by his party representatives in the senate into an amendment which will throw railroad rates into the courts, in such a way as to leave the rates complained of in force, meanwhile making a party measure out of what has not been so, then the citizens of the United States will accept the issue and put a party in power which will keep its promises."

It was midnight before Mr. Lawson arose to speak, and in view of the lateness of the hour, the speaker announced that he would not deliver his speech, but leave the audience to read it in the newspapers.

Mr. Lawson's speech as prepared was in part as follows:

Chicago voters surprised the world by turning out the organized grafters and political parties, and proclaiming itself for municipal ownership. If it had not been municipal ownership, it would have been something else. Their action meant that they had begun to feel the fetters.

Next came Philadelphia, where the people arose between night and morning and marched the streets, in law-abiding mobs, drove out of their strongholds the most snugly entrenched band of political grafters this country has ever seen—drove them into exile and disgrace.

Soon came an overturn in Florida, notoriously boss-ridden by the Flaglers and Standard Oil clique, when one man, a fearless citizen, Napoleon B. Broward, rose out of the ranks of the people, and, in his begrimed, tugboat overalls, stumped the state and was elected governor for four years.

In New York the fearless Jerome, turned down by each and all the different political parties, was elected with thousands of votes to spare.

In Wisconsin you know what La Follette is doing with the people at his back.

These are but a few instances of how, during the past twenty-one months the people have shown the spirit that is in them. I could go through the country citing other happenings, but to cover my ground I will take up another series of even more dignificant incidents.

In Kansas one Devlin, controlled a string of banks in which the people had deposited their savings. He had been speculating with these funds for the purpose of acquiring a great fortune. One day he stubbed his toe and his banks went down like a row of bricks. The net result was that the people lost millions. If he had been successful he would have made millions for himself by putting the deposits in jeopardy—a perfect example of the "heads I win, tails you lose" game of the "system."

In Milwaukee it was Bigelow, bank president and "system" representative. He used three millions of the people's trust money. His was a grain speculation. If he had not stubbed his toe grain would have advanced in prices and the people's flour would have cost 20 to 30 per cent more, but they would have had their savings and 4 per cent interest thereon, while Bigelow would have made millions over night. But since he stubbed his toe the people lost their savings—another case of "heads I win, tails you lose."

In this wise Mr. Lawson led up to the exposition of his financial views, which are familiar to the reading public.

LOST BOTH FEET.

Robert Murray, Formerly of Tower, is Injured in Arkansas.

Tower, Minn., Feb. 23.—R. G. Murray has received word from the authorities at Texarkana, Ark., that his son Robert has met with a serious accident at that place in which both feet were so badly crushed that their amputation was necessary. According to information received, the young man was attempting to board a moving train when he fell beneath the wheels. Though he is in a critical condition it is hoped he will recover.

WAS ALMOST KILLED.

D. McKinzie, a Hibbing House Mover, Suffers Dislocation of Hip.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—D. McKinzie, a house mover, was painfully injured yesterday while moving a house from the Finn location to another part of town. The house was loaded on a big logging sled, to which seven teams of horses were attached, and when the start was made McKinzie slipped and fell under the forward bob and was rolled along several feet.

It was thought his leg was broken, but the physicians at the Rood hospital could find only a dislocation of the right hip, but it was a bad injury, the thigh being pushed back and down.

The injured man was given chloroform and the dislocation reduced.

BLACKDUCK HAS A BOOM

As a Result of the Extensive Logging Operations There.

Blackduck, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Blackduck is enjoying something of a boom, this winter, as a result of the logging operations that are being carried on near here. The Grand Forks Lumber company has several lumber camps in the vicinity and will get out about 25,000,000 feet this winter. The Thief River Falls company has sub-let large contracts to the Irvine company of Stillwater, which has five camps in operation, and also Bartholomew Bros., who are operating one camp for the Thief River Falls people. The Crookston Lumber company has a number of small camps, and there are a large number of homesteaders and others who are running independent camps, getting out pine, cedar and tamarac. These operations have necessitated the employment of a large number of men, and trade has been very good in Blackduck, as all the companies make their headquarters here and pay off their help in this village.

BANK MERGER

At Cass Lake Said to be Among the Probabilities.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is a well-defined rumor here to the effect that there will shortly be a merger of the two banks that are now doing business here. The banking situation in Cass Lake has, during the past year, been a somewhat strenuous one. About a year ago, the First State band was organized in opposition to the First National bank, which had been doing business here ever since the organization of the town. Shortly afterwards, another bank was organized, known as the Merchants State bank. The latter institution suspended after a few months. Since that time, there has been very active rivalry between the two banks for the business of the town. It is stated that H. E. Reed, now cashier of the First State bank, will remain with the merger institution.

The up-to-date woman avoids caustics, drugs and powders. They are extremely harmful to the skin, while Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes it soft and beautiful. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

ATTACKED BY A ROOSTER.

St. Paul Child is Badly Injured by a Vicious Bird.

St. Paul, Feb. 23.—A vicious rooster attacked John Molanditch, 3 years of age, yesterday afternoon and before he was beaten off by the child's mother, he had seriously injured the child.

The rooster had terrorized and attacked other children in the neighborhood several times during the last week, but no one had ever received any injuries beyond slight scratches.

The child's lower lip was almost torn off and the vicious bird drove one of its spurs into his right cheek, inflicting a serious wound. His hands, neck, shoulders and face were badly scratched and lacerated.

A physician was summoned and after the injuries had been dressed, Patrolman Williams killed the bird.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS CONCLUDE MEETING.

New York, Feb. 23.—The annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' association in this city was brought to a close last night with a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria. Earlier in the day the association had concluded its business sessions with the election of officers. President S. S. Rogers of the Chicago Daily News again heads the list.

Mr. Rogers presided last night at the banquet, which was attended by about 450 guests and members.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL

Grau-Tallant Co

New Coats, Skirts and Suits.

New things constantly arriving in the suit room these days. Mr. Tallant is pushing them up here as fast as he finds the desirable things that are bound to be the proper styles for the coming season. See them tomorrow and appreciate their natty and graceful styles.

THE COVERT COAT will again be the popular garment. They're cut a little shorter, if anything, this season—some of them are tight-fitting, while others have the semi-fitting back—collarless styles and others with the long roll collar as on the men's coats. All chick little styles that cannot fail to win your admiration and with their small prices cannot resist buying them.

THE CIRCULAR SKIRT will be very popular—they lend a most graceful form to the wearer with their tight-fitting effect around the hips and the rippling effect around the bottom. Others in gored and pleated styles—materials used are in Panamas, wool taffeta, batistes, voiles, etc.

THE NEW SUITS—You will be delighted with the new styles—easy graceful lines that are so much more effective than the severe tailored effects. The very short Empire bolero suit is especially pretty—it will answer the purpose on many occasions where you would wear a dressy gown. The new Pony suit is also very attractive as are the new Eton suits, which are to be extensively worn again. See them!

Cream Mohairs

This will be one of the most popular weaves in the white suitings for Spring wear—launders well and keeps its appearance. Tomorrow we offer five pieces of a 36-inch cloth—Bradford weave—with a bright, lustrous finish and firm texture that sells everywhere for 50c a yard—at the very low price of 42½c

Moreen Skirtings

Our 29c bengaline moreen has won many customers for us in our lining department—being 27 inches wide, beautifully finished and a cloth that does not grow rusty or catch dust, it is little wonder that so many appreciate its value. As an extra inducement for you to try it we offer it tomorrow at—a yard 22½c

Exceptional Shoe Values.

These offerings should keep our shoe department on the jump all day Saturday. You will appreciate their splendid value when you see them—it's just another of those opportunities that you have profited by when you call for an advertised item—don't let these pass.

WOMEN'S SLIPPERS—A splendid house shoe with one strap, common sense toe and low heel—lots of comfort in them—an exceptional offering when we mark them, for tomorrow, from $1.25 down to 98c

MISSES' SHOES—Kid and box calf shoes with patent leather or dull tips—lace style only—shoes that are built to stand the hard knocks and wear that the school shoe gets. $1.75 is their real value—tomorrow, a pair... $1.25

MISSES' KID SHOES. Made of fine quality kid stock in lace style—your choice of the patent or dull tips—a dressy little shoe and a girlish style—$1.25 is cheap for them—Tomorrow you are only asked to pay..... 98c

CHILDREN'S SHOES—fine soft kid shoes in sizes from 2 to 5—button or lace—lots of wear in them and just the proper styles and cut to make the toddlers' feet comfortable—Tomorrow our 75c shoe for..... 49c

Hosiery Specials.

LADIES' CASHMERE HOSE—fine quality hose—well shaped and extra good wearing—black only with white feet—all sizes—45c values tomorrow for 35c

LADIES' FLEECED HOSE—a most comfortable and satisfactory wearing stocking—we have the large and medium sizes—Tomorrow the 35c qualities reduced to, a pair..... 29c

CHILDREN'S CASHMERE HOSE—triple knee and double heel and sole—almost wear-proof—most satisfactory kind to buy—the regular 50c qualities tomorrow, a pair..... 39c

CHILDREN'S FLEECED HOSE—good weight and quality for wearing during the next three months—good color of black—sell for 25c a pair regular—Tomorrow, a pair..... 19c

Drug Dept. Specials.

WOOL SOAP—bath size—it's good qualities for bath and laundry purposes are so well known no need to mention them—regular 5c size tomorrow at 3 cakes for... 10c

HOUSEHOLD AMMONIA—an indispensible article in every home—ours is double strong—buy the regular 10c size tomorrow at, a bottle 7c

TOILET PAPER—smooth, fine quality of paper—extra large size roll that always sells for 10c—make a saving tomorrow—4 rolls for 25c

CREAM OF CRUSHED ROSES—a soothing and healing preparation for chapped hands and lips—prepare yourself against the raw winds—50c bottle tomorrow for..... 25c

Remnants at ⅓ to ½ Less.

Dress Goods in weaves of Panamas, serges, granites, worsteds, mohairs, tweeds, flannels, etc., in lengths suited for waists, skirts, suits, girls' dresses and boys' suits. Silks in all the regular weaves, such as taffetas, Chinas, satins, fancies, Louisiennes, etc., that will make pretty waists, trimmings, scarfs and fancy work. All clean, desirable goods—in fact, they are the board ends of the best-selling stuffs we have had. In the east aisle tomorrow you will find them marked at—

One-third to one-half less.

SUFFEL & CO. 131 W. Sup. St.

ELK SKIN SNEAKERS

For Men, Women and Children—something new—the finest thing out for Gymnasium and House-wear—all sizes—at moderate prices.

ASK TO SEE THEM.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Your Shoes

ought to be right in appearance, in comfort and in wear. Millions of dollars have been spent in improved machinery, and the greatest of them all is the Goodyear Welt Machine, which it took years of the world's brainiest inventors to perfect.

The Goodyear Welt is esteemed the highest type of footwear that the world has ever known.

When your shoe man tells you that you are getting a pair of "hand-made" "bench-made" or "hand welted" Shoes and works you for a dollar extra profit than you are buying Goodyear Welts —and you can tell him so.

There are no more hand-sewed Shoes than there are hand-sewed collars or cuffs.

The passing of the old-fashioned shoemaker was hastened by his stubbornness in opposing the inevitable improvements.

The Goodyear machine revolutionized shoemaking quickly, in spite of the shoemaker's appeal to prejudice.

When, a few years ago, the manufacturers of the Goodyear machines consented to lease the machine to one progressive shoemaker in each good-sized city for the use of re-soling Goodyear Welt Shoes, they filled a long-felt want in economy, because the shoes could be made to wear much longer and to retain their appearance—besides reducing the cost of the work.

Harness machines have been tried on this work from time to time, and while they have been able to reduce the cost to a little less than former prices, the work has never been a success from a standpoint of neatness and durability. The only Goodyear machine in Duluth. Yours for efficient work,

10 FIRST AVENUE WEST—Rear of Albenberg's.

STATEMENT OF CHARGES

Chief Black Will Be Examined Under Eight Different Heads.

List of the Accusations Which Are Made Against Him.

Summed up under eight heads, the charges against Chief Black, which will be heard this evening by the board of fire commissioners, are contained in a statement which was submitted to Chief Black and President Theodore Hollister of the board, yesterday afternoon, by Porter J. Neff, who signs himself "attorney for the taxpayers."

The following is a copy of the charges on which Chief Black will be examined tonight:

"That he used his official position and unlimited power over the men to further his own financial ends at their expense.

"That he used his power over the men to force them to do the labor and perform the services of servants, taking them away from their duty to the city.

"That he used his power to purchase supplies and designate the places where the men should buy their clothing to his own gain, and has shown favoritism to the members of his own family.

"That he has been guilty of gross favoritism in the exercise of the unlimited power given him by the board in making promotions.

"That he has been unfair and arbitrary to the men under him.

"That as president of the Firemen's Relief association and having unlimited control over its affairs, he has shown favoritism in paying out the benefits accruing to members.

"That he has been guilty of reckless disregard of the city's interests in buying horses from personal friends, which had been condemned by the city veterinarian.

"That he has boarded free of charge horses owned by friends for a period of several weeks, at the city's expense."

The hearing tonight will be an attempt to give a thorough airing to all charges against the chief, and the board has invited all persons who claim to have any cause of complaint against him in his official capacity, to appear at the meeting and make their statements. Rumors have been frequently heard during the last two or three years and the board is anxious to either have them proven tonight or have them shown up as false and untrue. Any person who has any complaint to make regarding the conduct of the department's affairs, will be given a hearing, and Mr. Neff will be given an opportunity to cross-question the chief on any point contained in the statement of charges given above.

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it.

TREADWELL SHOE CO.

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY:

Men's $4.00 Shoes—Pat. Colt, Box Calf and Vici Kid for Saturday—
$2.98

Men's $3.00 Box Calf Shoes—Hand Welt—Saturday—
$2.48

Men's $5.00 Shoes—Saturday—
$3.75

Boys' Solid Shoes—Saturday—
$1.29

Men's Storm and Low Rubbers—best made—Saturday—
75c

Ladies' Pat. Kid Velour Calf and Vici Kid $4.00 Shoes—Saturday—
$3.25

Ladies' Fine Vici Kid Hand Welt $3.00 Shoes—Saturday—
$2.48

Ladies' Fine $3.50 Calf Boot, Lace, Button and Blucher—Saturday—
$2.48

Misses' Shoes—Dongola Kid—Saturday—
$1.25

Ladies' Storm Rubbers at—
48c and 55c

Misses' Storm Rubbers—
39c

Children's Storm Rubbers—
35c

FOR SATURDAY BARGAINS GO TO
TREADWELL SHOE CO.

CHAIN GANG MUST WORK

Board of Public Works Fixes Regular Hours for Prisoners.

Will be Expected to Labor Just Like Honest Men.

The office hours of the gentlemen who trifle with pick and shovel on the streets of the city while being boarded at the county's expense, are to be lengthened.

Hitherto these gentlemen of leisure have been strolling down from the jail to their work at about the hour when bank presidents open up their mahogany desks. After two or three hours' gentle exercise with the implements of their profession, they have been marched back to the jail, to dally with the roast beef and crack jokes over the walnuts. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon, after the effects of dinner had worn off, they began their afternoon's work, and for two or three hours more they were laboring men. When the banks closed in the afternoon, and before the ordinary clerk was beginning to cast longing eyes on the clock, they would gather up their tools and stroll back to their rooms in the big boarding house on the hill.

All this began to pall on the members of the board of public works. It was not pleasant for the members of the board to begin work two or three hours before the convicts did, and this morning, at the regular meeting of the board, it was decided that the chain gang would in future be actually expected to do some work. They will be placed on an equality with clerks and office men in this respect, and their hours will be from 8 a. m. to about 5 p. m., with an hour and a half for lunch. No more will they be allowed to follow the primrose paths of ease. The stern edict has gone forth that these gentlemen of leisure will really have to work like common laborers. It seems almost inhuman. It will take away all incentive to go to jail, if the prisoners have to be routed out of their warm beds at 7 o'clock and shoulder a pick and shovel like any common workman. What a horrible fate will face the old trusty when he comes up for his regular sentence to a thirty-day holiday on the hill. If the edict is strictly enforced it will depopulate the jail of all the "regulars" and "trusties" in three months. They may even be driven to the necessity of getting a steady job.

"Last spring the chain gang did pretty good work," said David Sang of the board of public works, this morning, "but this fall and winter, they have not done anything. What we want to do is to get some regular system and put them under the street commissioners so we can get some good work out of them, and know what we can count on from them. The gang has been an expense rather than an aid to the city for the last few months, but this spring we want to make them pay for their keep."

INDUSTRIAL INSURANCE

May Be Investigated by the Legislature of New York.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Industrial insurance concerning which the special legislative investigating committee which reported made no recommendation, will be subjected to a special legislative inquiry if a joint resolution introduced in the senate is adopted. Although a section of the insurance report was devoted to companies doing an industrial insurance business, the committee did not see fit to recommend the enactment of any law prohibiting it, stating that the reasons for the insurance as advanced by those engaged in it seemed practical and rather overcame the sentimental objections urged against it. The critics of industrial insurance have alleged that the poor are robbed by exorbitant insurance.

FINAL PROOF REJECTED.

General Land Office Turns Down Homesteader on His Land.

The general land office in Washington has notified the local land office that the final proof on a homestead entry made by Gilbert Johnson has been rejected. The land involved is the south half of the northeast quarter and the east half of the northwest quarter of 25-65-18. Johnson filed on a homestead near Ashland in 1894 but had to relinquish for the reason that it interfered with the Wisconsin Central right of way. He has lived on the land about three years. Last year he filed on the land mentioned first herein and last November made final proof expecting that the time he spent on the Wisconsin land would be credited up in his favor. The general land office refuses to recognize this, however, and has rejected the proof.

The application to file soldiers' additional scrip on the northeast of the northeast and the southwest of the southeast of 14-61-5 by Florence A. Coffin as assignee of Abigail A. Dillon, widow of William A. Dillon, has been rejected by the general land office unless the assignee can show certain matters up to the satisfaction of the officials, who claim there are certain things in connection with the application and affidavits accompanying it, which seem to be shady. The assignee has sixty days to show that matters are all right.

CORRESPONDENT IS MISSING IN MACEDONIA.

Vienna, Feb. 23.—A telegram received here from Sofia, Bulgaria, today, announced that Albert Sonnichsen of Oakland, Cal., a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, had disappeared in Macedonia. He arrived at Vodema, forty miles from Monastir, Feb. 15, disappeared from his hotel Feb. 17, and has not been seen since.

Albert Sonnichsen, author, journalist and traveler, was born in San Francisco in 1878, and is the author of one or two books. He has also contributed to the magazines, and about two years ago went to Macedonia as correspondent for the Evening Post and other papers. His absence does not yet cause the Evening Post any anxiety. The last letter received from him was dated from Sofia, Feb. 6.

THE MAYOR GETS BACK

Returns From a Vacation Trip to Montreal and Quebec.

Has Nothing to Give Out Yet Regarding His Appointments.

Back from the wilds of Quebec, with just a hint of a French accent, and looking as good as new after the troubles of his recent campaign, Mayor Cullum was at his desk in the city hall this morning, trying to catch up with the business of the last ten days.

"Was there any political, municipal or social significance to your visit?" asked the reporter who realized that this was the proper question to ask on such occasions.

The mayor allowed there wasn't. He said he had gone for a vacation and had got it.

"What did you do?" persisted the reporter, "just sit around the hotel and eat fish?"

The mayor then owned up that the Montreal and Quebec city officials had tried to get even for the way they were treated up here last summer, when they stopped in Duluth on a Western junket, and had about succeeded. They met him at the depot and took him in charge, showing him about the city, and initiating him into the manner in which business is done in Canada.

He also confessed to shaking the hand of a real live, flesh and blood nobleman, in the person of Earl Grey, the governor general of Canada. The governor eats and wears clothes just like an ordinary man.

"Have they ever heard of Duluth down there?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, they realize that there is such a city on the map," said his honor.

While in Quebec the mayor attended a session of the legislature or parliament, where they manufacture the laws, and watched a brand, new law come fresh from the machine, ready for use.

"Have you decided anything about appointments yet?" stammered the reporter. Here it was, the first thing —the very thing that had driven his honor out of town for ten days' vacation.

"Going to be any changes?"

"I haven't thought about it yet," answered the mayor. "I don't believe there will be anything startling."

He was deeply immersed in a letter, and the reporter crept out.

Dies in Minneapolis.

Word was received in this city today of the death of Mrs. Emmet Rehbein Barnard of Minneapolis, wife of Joseph L. Barnard. Mrs. Barnard was well known in this city, where she lived for a number of years. She was taken ill last week with appendicitis, and was operated upon a week ago Thursday. Little hope was held for her recovery, and she died at St. Barnabas hospital, in that city, today. Mrs. F. H. Barnard of this city was there. No definite arrangements have yet been made for the funeral, but it will probably take place in this city upon Sunday.

CLAIMS ILLEGAL POSSESSION

Mrs. Maria La Panta Sues Adolph Sjoselius for $2,925.

Maria Louise LaPanta has instituted an action in district court against Adolph and Sarah Sjoselius for damages in the amount of $2,925 because of the alleged unlawful occupation of a strip of land 10 feet by 150 feet claimed by Mrs. LaPanta.

In her complaint Mrs. LaPanta says she became the owner, Feb. 18, 1905, of that part of lot 172, block 65, Duluth proper, Second division, lying ten feet easterly of the east lot line. She alleges that the property was purchased on a warranty deed from James Cash.

It is further alleged that when Cash was in possession of the property about June 1, 1891, he was ousted and ejected from the premises by Adolph and Sarah Sjoselius, who are said to have unlawfully withheld the land from Cash ever since. Mrs. LaPanta alleges that all of the Cash right, title and claims have been assigned to her and she asks general damages of $300 and judgment for $2,625 on account of rental of the premises at $15 per month since June 1, 1891. Jacques & Hudson are attorneys for Mrs. LaPanta.

J. E. DAVIES GOES WEST.

Duluth Attorney Will Make His Home on Farm in Idaho.

John E. Davies, who for the last eighteen years has been a resident of Duluth, will leave the city today for Idaho, where he will make his home in the future.

Mrs. Davies and the family are now in Denver and will join Mr. Davies in the West. Mr. Davies has purchased some valuable tracts of irrigated land in Southern Idaho, and will reside upon them.

While in Duluth he has held several offices of importance, among them being that of assistant city attorney. He was at one time associated with Judge Morris in the practice of law, and he leaves a large number of friends in this city.

THE ORIENTAL TURKISH AND VAPOR BATH PARLORS

Seventh avenue west, opp. the Incline, have the most modern and complete equipment in the Northwest. The up-to-date treatment for rheumatism and kindred diseases. Prices 25c and 50c

Temple Roller Rink.

Children's Matinee Saturday mornings from 10 to 12. Music. ADMISSION, 15c.

WRAPPERS

Take your choice of our $1.50 and $1.75 Women's Wrappers tomorrow only

69c

WHERE YOUR DOLLAR DOES ITS DUTY

THE GOLDEN RULE

17-19 EAST SUPERIOR STREET

MONEY'S WORTH OR MONEY BACK

KIMONOS

And DRESSING SACQUES — All our $1.25 and $1.00 Kimonos and Dressing Sacques tomorrow—

69c

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY!

Wash Goods

Fine Dress Ginghams, in a big assortment of checks, plaids and stripes—the 8c kind, at, yard 6c

PERCALES—36 inches wide, dark grounds—comes in dots, figured and stripes—the regular 12½c quality, at—per yard 10c

BATISTE—A fine sheer quality, in a beautiful range of colorings and designs; the 19c grade, at—yard.. 12½c

ORGANDIES—A fine assortment to select from—the regular 25c kind, at—per yard 19c

INDIA LINON.

12½c India Linon—per yard 9c

Sheeting

36-inch Sheeting (Lockwood)—reguar price 9c—per yard 7c

Sheets and Pillow Cases

81-90 linen finish Sheets—regular 75c—at 55c

Another lot—regular 65c; at 48c

42-36 Pillow Cases—for 10c

Linens

58-inch Table Damask—regular 50c quality—per yard 29c

72-inch pure linen Damask—regularly $1.25—per yard 89c

Toweling

18-inch bleached linen Toweling—15c value—yard.. 10c

5c Crash Toweling, at—per yard 3c

36-inch Huck Towels—regular 15c—tomorrow..... 10c

Outing Flannel

12½c Outing Flannels—only 8c

Comforters

All our $4 and $3.50 Comforters, your choice tomorrow..... $2.39

Corsets

We carry a full line of Corsets—prices up to $2.50.

Extra Special—Long Hip Corsets, with hose supporters 25c

4c Torchon Lace 4c

5,000 yards of Torchon Laces and Insertions—worth up to 10c a yard—at 4c

Women's Suit Sale.

Saturday morning we offer 20 suits of best workmanship, style and fabric—most of them in long coat suits—prices formerly up to $35; now $12.50

A smaller lot of odd Suits—only 10 of them—we will sell, practically giving them away, at... $6.50

Waist Specials.

While they last $2.98 Brilliantine Waists $1.98

$1.75 Sateen Waists—at 98c

Petticoats.

$2.48 Heatherbloom Petticoats $1.39

$3.00 moreen Petticoats $1.98

25c Pictures 25c

We offer an extra fine assortment of Pictures in wide oval frames—an immense variety of subjects to select from—regular 85c values—tomorrow—

25c

THE POLICE COURT GRIST

George Bird Remembers Seeing the Judge on Former Occasion.

Mike McHugh Has Cheap Plan of Finding Night's Lodging.

"Fred Carr, stand up."

Fred looked like an Australian bushranger, and had a black beard that crows could nest in. He stood up and gazed in stolid silence at the blank wall of the municipal court.

"You are charged with vagrancy," said Judge Windom.

A little thing like that didn't worry Fred. His silence was grave-like.

"What do you plead?" asked the judge.

Fred wasn't pleading.

"Can't you hear what I say?" called the judge.

Fred didn't flicker an eyelash.

"We'll set this over until this afternoon," said the court. "He may enter a plea then. Sit down."

Fred sat.

* * *

George H. Bird is a cook, and seems to have survived his own culinary efforts.

"You have been in here before, George," said Judge Windom.

"Yes, you were here then, too, judge."

The judge blushed.

"What did you get then?" he asked.

"Ten days."

"What did the judge get?" asked City Attorney McKeon, but George wouldn't tell.

"What do you do?" asked the court.

"I'm a cook," said the prisoner, "but I have a broken arm and can't work. 'Doc' Graham will tell you that. He's been tending to me."

"Well, you look as if you punish an awful lot of whisky," said the court. "I believe ten days on the hill would do you good. You could get the whisky out of your system, and get medical attention for your arm. I'll send you up for ten days without labor."

"I can't work," said the prisoner.

"Well, you won't have to," said the court; and George muttered his thanks.

* * *

Mike McHugh has such free, off hand ways with him.

Last night Mike wanted a bed, and picked out the branch Bethel as a good place to spend the night. Walking into the building, he selected a room and began to undress. The clerk objected, and Mike consigned the clerk to a warmer place than Duluth ever thought of being, even in February, 1906.

The clerk called an officer. Mike told the officer to keep the clerk company in his new home, and continued to undress. This was more than a member of the finest police force in the world could stand, and something happened. When it was over Mike was in the patrol wagon, and spent the night on the soft side of a plank at headquarters, instead of between the clean sheets at the branch Bethel.

He owned up to being a trespasser this morning, and Judge Windom gave him ten days free lodging, where he won't have to trespass any more.

JACK CHINN

May be Candidate for Congress From Kentucky District.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 23.—It need surprise none if Senator Jack Chinn announces himself for congress from the Eighth district. Col. Chinn is in a receptive mood, and has received a number of letters from Mercer county urging him to get into the scramble. The talk in Senator Chinn's behalf became loud after his speech during the Goebel memorial services in the house. Adjut. Gen. Percy Haly this week gave a little dinner at the Capital hotel, with Col. Chinn as a special guest. It is said that the administration forces will be for him should he decide to get into the race.

Col. Chinn says: "I have authorized no ne to announce me as a candidate for congress at this time. I have been asked by some of my friends to make the race. It depends on conditions whether I get in the race or not. If I get a primary I shall become a candidate."

WIFE RETURNS TO FIRST LOVE

Second Husband, Deserted After Eleven Years, Asks Divorce.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 23.—Robbed of his wife by her first husband, thought to have perished in a mining disaster fourteen years ago, after eleven years of happy married life, during which three children were born to them, T. B. Payne of Hot Springs now asks Chancellor Curl to decide which is the real husband.

"If I am married," says Payne, "I want to know it, and if I am I want a divorce. If I'm not, I want the court to establish the legitimacy of my children."

Fifteen years ago "Dock" Goshen, a miner, and his wife lived happily in Monroe county, Arkansas. One day an accident occurred at the mine and Goshen was taken out with a number of killed and injured and conveyed to a hospital. Later the report came back that he was dead.

The widow moved to Cleveland county and there met Payne. They were married in June, 1891, and lived together until the summer of 1902, when a stranger created consternation in the Payne household by asserting that he was "Dock" Goshen, and was recognized by his astounded wife, whose former love was immediately rekindled and who immediately deserted husband No. 2.

Goshen had recovered from his wound, but had lost his memory when discharged from the hospital. When his senses fully returned twelve years later he took immediate steps to locate his wife, with the above results.

ASK LAW TO CURB DRUMMERS' LOVE

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 23.—Ernest Williams, who has entered suit for $50,000 damages against Capt. George W. Johnson of Brooklyn for the alienation of his wife's affections, is very much in earnest in the belief that there should be a national law governing traveling salesmen.

He is bitter against the tribe and lays all his domestic unhappiness at the door of the commercial travelers. Williams is a clerk in the brokerage office of R. M. Weaver, in this city, at a salary of $125 a month.

"When we were first married this looked like a big sum to both of us," he said. "But after my wife made the acquaintance of Johnston on one of his trips to Pittsburg it became insufficient for our wants. Her tastes became extravagant, and I found it impossible to make my salary go all the way around. Johnston made a big salary, and was also allowed a considerable sum for expenses. He was able to make a showing that I could not.

"I think a national law could be easily enacted which would protect the homes of citizens from traveling men."

OUR LEADERS—

Straight Whiskies—Cedar Brook and Maryland Rye.

Blended Whiskies—Old Cabinet and Live Oak.

COOK'S BUFFET

SPECIAL PRICES FOR SATURDAY EVENING

(From 8 to 9 o'Clock.)

OUR ADS ARE TRUTHFUL.

No. 19 Stanley block planes, knuckle joint, nickel trimmings 85c

Irwin auger bitts in sets $3.25

India oil stones, 6x1⅝x¾ 35c

Machinist 12-inch combination squares, center head $1.10

No. 5 Stanley pattern jack planes $1.35

8-inch wing dividers at 22c

KELLEY HDW. CO.

The meeting of the Greysolon du-Luth chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution of this city which took place yesterday afternoon at the home of the regent, Mrs. George M. Smith was a most delightful affair and was greatly enjoyed by the members and their guests for the day. In one room in Mrs. Smith's home, interesting old things that had been handed down in the families of the members were gathered together and shown and seldom if ever in Duluth has a more interesting collection been shown. All of them carried with them much of personal family interest and aside from this the age and rarity of many of the things make them priceless. Some old revolutionary documents were shown, old silver, one set of salt cellars of old silver were 300 years old. Several sets of old spoons were shown and some old books whose years since their publications number up in the hundreds. An old sugar bowl of genuine pewter was shown and quaint old candlesticks in brass and pewter were especially admired. A masonic apron which had been embroidered in England was shown, which belong to an ancestor of one of the members and a number of those interesting old samplers with their exquisite needlework were shown. Some exquisite tortoise shell combs in quaint design and a large silver comb were also much looked at. A little old lamp was among the most interesting things and some old snuff boxes brought back interestingly that old custom. An informal program was given and Miss Florence Williams sang. A large number of the women of the city who are not members of this chapter enjoyed the hospitality of the daughters at this delightful function.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. C. A. Bronson entertained at a delightful Washington's birthday party yesterday afternoon at her home, 420 Second avenue west. The rooms were decorated in the things that were suggestive of the day and cinch was played at five tables. The favors were won by Mrs. W. F. Murnian and Mrs. Thompson. The guests were:

Meadames—
H. H. Phelps,
J. A. Kirkwood,
S. W. Hanchett,
Thompson,
Bolland,
Riddell,
C. O. Applehagen,
John Richter,
W. F. Murnian.

Misses—
Stonmer,
West,
I. T. Burnside,
W. F. Batley,
Lucius Barnes,
H. D. Ross,
Georgie Hargraves,
Jack Schuler,
Deetz,
Stuart,
Walbanks.
Rockwell.

Hostesses at Cards.

Mrs. J. DeLaMotte and Mrs. A. D. Jacobs were hostesses yesterday at luncheon and cards at the home of Mrs. DeLaMotte in Munger Terrace. The rooms were patriotically decorated in flags and bunting. The place cards were in the shape of small red hatchets The rooms were lighted with candles. The card favors were won by Mrs. Burgduff and Mrs. Thomas Pressnell. The guests were:

Mesdames—
J. M. Ford,
E. J. Maney,
A. Bechtele,
William Burgess,
B. P. Neff,
Connor,
E. B. Fox,
M. Baker,
C. A. Crane,
F. T. Lewis,
V. L. Bean,
T. H. Martin,
T. H. Pressnell,
G. Ebert,
H. L. Dresser,
J. Keyes,
M. W. Turner,
M. M. Thomson,
G. Ricketts,
H. S. Ely,
S. Kline,
I. Coburn,
B. F. Rowe,
R. G. Henderson,
F. J. Griffith,
W. H. Northmore,
C. W. Taylor,
J. P. Warren,
R. W. Johnson,
F. W. Gordon of Superior,
J. W. Kreitter,
P. W. Porter,
H. McCullum,
A. S. Kent,
A. Burgduff,
A. R. Bjorquist,
G. S. Newton of Superior,
H. M. Randall,
E. E. Crane.

Events of Interest.

The Out-of-Door club of the Young Women's Christian association will leave the rooms tomorrow afternoon for a several miles' walk. Full preparation will be made for the muddy roads and the spring-like air enjoyed to the utmost. The gymnasium class which was to have met yesterday afternoon adjourned and the members went for a long walk.

• • •

Mrs. Charles H. Thornton entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on East Third street and the favor was won by Mrs. C. F. Macdonald. Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. C. E. Judd entertained at euchre this afternoon at the former's home.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Richardson who were recently married at Dayton, Ohio, are the guests of Mr. Richardson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson of 505 East Second street.

• • •

The pre-Lenten assembly party will be given this evening at the Spalding. LaBrosse will play as usual and a more than ordinarily delightful function is anticipated.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Paine entertained at bridge last evening in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Knapp.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith will entertain at bridge this evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Holstrom of St. Paul.

WHAT RETAIL MARKETS OFFER.

Artichoke, 25 cents each.
Kohl-rabi, 10 cents a bunch.
Chives, 20 cents a bunch.
Rhubarb, 12½ cents a lb.
Cranberries, 25 cents a quart.
Strawberries.

Kohl-rabi, artichokes and chives are the market changes that will be offered housewives tomorrow. There is not a very widespread demand in Duluth for some of these things. Artichokes are expensive in Duluth and many people manage to pass the season without them. However, for those who are fond of the delicacies of the market, at least one store offers this vegetable for Saturday shopping. Chives with their delicate tinge of onion flavoring—if you can imagine onion at any time being delicate—are also offered. Kohl-rabi, well you might as well own up that you don't know what it is. It is also called turnip cabbage and it can be served raw in place of radishes, cooked and served according to the rules for cooking turnips, served with a cream sauce or is nice for salad.

Cranberries may be secured at 25 cents a quart and the market men are not anticipating any great rush on this part of the market.

The rhubarb is getting especially nice looking and is getting cheaper, which is perhaps the most welcome thing about it, to some few people who think about household allowances in planning meals.

Burn Old Clothing to Get Money for New Gowns

Fire insurance appraisers tell weird tales of schemes to which they say women resort to recover insurance. After deliberately setting fire to old gowns and furniture they want to get rid of, many women attempt to get money for their losses from the companies, the agents say. They also frequently put fictitious values on belongings that have been used for years and cheat the companies by declaring that they were new when burned. They make affidavits of these statements, too, and if there is nothing left of the article to judge by, the money requested is generally paid.

His experience in the curious cases he has appraised leads one of the adjusters of a big fire insurance company to say that women try to cheat on the value of things insured more than men. According to his statement many women have fires in their closets when they get a lot of old fashioned clothes that are no good to them and secure enough money to buy new ones. They invariably claim that these fires are accidental, even if there is proof that they started the flames.

"I have proved beyond a doubt that many women who are insured take their old clothes into the bath room, set fire to them, so that they are scorched and no longer fit to use, and then hang them in their closets and declare that they caught in there," he says.

"One woman who had been in the company two or three years sent in word of a slight fire in a closet, declaring that all her lovely gowns had been burned, so that they were no longer fit to wear. She requested that an adjuster be sent at once, for she needed the money to get new clothes. I went to appraise them and to investigate the cause of the fire. She told me that it was in her closet and had caught from a lighted candle which her maid had used when cleaning the floor beneath the garments. Every dress, coat, etc., in the wardrobe was scorched around the bottom and for five or six inches up into the material, but not a trace of fire was seen on the floor or wood work. I told her this was quite remarkable, as a fire that went the round of the garments as this one had done usually proved big and would surely have blackened the walls and wood work. She swore, however, that the thing happened as she described, and as she had a good character in the community and had been insured for several years, the gowns were settled for to her entire satisfaction. About a year later she had another fire, a similar one, but in another closet of the same building. This time she had managed to char a part of the wood work and blacken the walls in several place. That was well done, and I told her so, but in looking over the garments I recognized some of those she had worked off on us at the last fire, and I fixed it so that she had no money from the company for the second burn out. Later she was asked to withdraw her policy.

"A curious fire, that was almost too bold to be called an incendiary, was months later she burned another hat in sent-mindedness put a $20 hat on a burning gas jet, with the result that it went up in smoke, and burned a handsome pair of new curtains before it could be put out. The money for both was, of course, made good. About six months later she burned another hat in the same way, only this time the curtains did not catch. Again the value of the bonnet was given her, but burning gas jets as hat racks are expensive insurance risks, and so we cut her out.

"A dodge that is often tried on us when there is a fire in which all the clothing is destroyed is the wearing of expensive underclothes, stockings, shoes, and a costly gown, which the loser declares that she had on when her belongings were burned, and that all those lost were like the new ones she has on. If I ask for bills to prove how much they cost, and when they were bought, for the wear on garments naturally makes them less valuable, they all swear that they pay cash for all purchases and have no receipts, or if they had bills they were destroyed in the fire. In such cases I try to find out how they dressed ordinarily from neighbors and friends, and also the cost of such articles as they claimed to have lost, and settle with them. The settlement in such cases rests largely with the individual honesty of the person making the claims.

"There is one peculiarity that is common to almost all women who have their gowns destroyed. They all want the full value of the cost of their wedding garments, whether they were worn ten or fifteen years ago, and insist that they are worth just as much as at the time of the wedding, no matter what the style is, or whether the material is now sold for half the sum they paid.

"Pet birds and cats are another source of annoyance in settling, for though animals and birds are never included in household effects, the mistresses frequently insist that a bird smothered to death was worth more than $5 to her, or her cat was a thoroughbred and could have been sold for more than $15, and she wants the company to make good the loss."

LIMB WASTED WITH ECZEMA

Obliged to Lie With Limbs Higher Than Head — Suffered Untold Agonies and Could Not Walk — Doctor Said It Was the Worst Case he Ever Saw.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I received your letter asking for information about using the Cuticura Remedies. I used them for eczema. The doctor said it was the worst case he ever saw. It was on both limbs, from the knees to the ankles. We tried everything the doctors knew of, but the Cuticura Remedies did the most good. I was obliged to lie with my limbs higher than my head, for the pain was so terrible I could not walk. I suffered untold agonies. One limb wasted away a great deal smaller than the other, there was so much discharge from it. I found the Cuticura Remedies very soothing, and I still keep them in the house. I am very thankful to say that I am cured, and you can publish this statement if you wish. I found the Cuticura Remedies all that you say they are. I hope that you may be spared many years to make the Cuticura Remedies for the benefit of persons suffering from the torture of skin diseases, such as I had. I remain, yours respectfully, Mrs. Golding, Box 8, Ayr, Canada, June 6, 1905."

CURED OF CHAPPED HANDS

"I have used the Cuticura Soap for chapped hands, which I had been troubled with for about three years. I suffered intense pain and itching. I used nearly two cakes of the Cuticura Soap, and my hands were completely cured and have never troubled me since. I also took the Cuticura Resolvent for the blood at the same time. I can recommend the Cuticura Remedies to others suffering the same. Chas. Young, Plattsville, Ontario, Canada, Sept. 29, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humor, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c., Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. "Mailed Free, "How to Cure Itching, Scaly Humors."

Mayonnaise Dressings Make Plain Salads Delicacies

BY EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD.

My Dear Mrs. Telford:

Would you be so kind as to publish a receipe for lobster and chicken salad?

B. K.

As nearly all the rich salads, like lobster and chicken, require a mayonnaise dressing, the first thing is to know how to make that, after which the various combinations are simple and easy attained.

The trick in making mayonnaise quickly and with no chance of failure is to have the best olive oil to start with, fresh eggs that have been chilled in the ice box, then everything else cold—oil, bowl, fork and egg beater.

Take a clean, cold bowl and drop into it the yolks of two eggs. Stir lightly with a silver fork, then add a quarter teaspoonful of salt, the same amount of sugar, a pinch of mustard and a sprinkling of pepper, white, black or the Hungarian paprika, as preferred. Mix well, then begin pouring in the olive oil, little by little, beating all the time. At first the oil must be added very slowly, but as soon as it begins to thicken it may be added in larger quantities—a tablespoonful at a time. After a few moments, exchange wour fork for a Dover egg beater, which does the work more rapidly and thoroughly. In ten minutes you should have a thick, glossy mixture that fills a pint bowl three-quarters full. Now add a tablespoonful of tarragon or cider vinegar, alternating with the rest of the oil until you have used a cupful of the oil. Taste the dressing, and if you like it a little more acid; add another teaspoonful of vinegar. Sometimes, if I wish to increase the amount of mayannaise, I whip the whites of the eggs and stir in at the last. This dressing may be used at once, or covered, set in a cool place and kept for a number of days. It is so quick and easy to make and so convenient to have on hand, that I make enough almost every Saturday to last through the week. If I wish a particularly fine salad for "dress" occasions, I whip a half cupful of cream to a froth and add to the dressing just before sending to the table.

Green Mayonnaise.

If I wish a green mayonnaise, I make my dressing as usual, then chop fine a tablespoonful of parsley. This I rub to paste with the back of a spoon on a soup plate, add three or four drops of alcohol to reduce it to a paste, then stir into the mayonnaise.

Sauce Tartare.

To each gill of the green mayonnaise allow a tablespoonful each chopped pickle, capers and olives, with a grating of onion.

Lobster Salad.

Lobster salad may be made from the fresh lobster or the canned, as preferred. For the former, take one large lobster or two medium ones, boil, and when cold pick into pieces or cut in squares of three-fourths of an inch. Season lightly with salt, pepper and lemon juice, mix with a part of the mayonnaise, arrange on lettuce leaves and cover with the rest of the mayonnaise. Garnish with lettuce and some of the lobster spawn or coral, rubbed through a hair sieve.

Shrimp Salad.

This, too, may be made from the fresh or canned fish. Marinate and season with salt, pepper and lemon juice, mix with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaves. Or make an unsweetened jelly of gelatine and lemon juice, then while still liquid, wet individual moulds and pour a little jelly into the bottom of each. Put in several shrimps, and when the jelly begins to set, pour on more to cover, then put aside in a cold place to harden. When ready to serve, turn out the moulds upon lettuce leaves, cover with mayonnaise, and garnish each with two or three shrimps.

Crab Salad.

Again you have your choice, at this season, of fresh or canned. If fresh, boil a dozen, pick out the meat and season with salt, paprika and lemon juice. Add a half cup mayonnaise, toss lightly and heap into crab shells, well cleaned and lined each with a lettuce leaf. Top each mound of crab with a teaspoonful of mayonnaise, and garnish with triangles of lemon and small olives.

Chicken Salad.

It is better to cook a fowl for salad, the day before it is to be used. Select a plump one, medium size, with white, firm flesh. Put into a kettle of boiling water, to which add a sliced onion, a couple of bay leaves, a stick of celery, or a half teaspoonful of celery seed, and a slice of carrot have been added. Bring quickly to a boil, then push back on the stove, or over the gas simmerer, where the water can be kept just below the hard boiling point, until the chicken is tender, but not stringy. This will make the dark meat almost as light colored as the white. Set the kettle from the fire, and leave the chicken in the broth over night. A short time before serving take the flesh from the bones, rejecting all skin, fat and gristle. Cut in dice shaped pieces and measure.

Take nice white heads of celery that have been cleaned, crisped and freed from string, and cut into the same sized pieces os the chicken, allowing enough to make about two-thirds the quantity of chicken. Toss the chicken and celery together, add enough of the broth in which the chicken was cooked to make rather moist, season with salt, pepper and a little lemon juice, then add enough mayonnaise to cover each piece of celery and chicken. Toss lightly again, arrange on crisp, white lettuce leaves in the salad bowl, or individual salad cases, and garnish with celery tips and olives.

Chicken and Almond Salad.

This is made the same as the chicken salad, adding at the last a half cup of almonds blanched and shredded.

Tomato Jelly Salad.

Turn out one can of tomato into a porcelain kettle, season with a teaspoonful of salt, the same amount of sugar, a good sprinkling of paprika, and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Add a slice of onion, then cook for half an hour. Strain. Have ready one ounce of gelatine, soaked in half a cup of cold water for half an hour. Add to the hot tomato and stir until dissolved. Strain again through the cheese cloth, and pour into small individual forms, or after dinner coffee cups, that have been rinsed out with cold water. Set away in a cold place until firm. When ready to serve, turn each one into a little lettuce nest, cover with mayonnaise. Lay on the side of each individual service plate a couple of cheese straws to go with the salad. It is safer to make this jelly the day before it is to be served.

Stylish Wraps for Spring Traveling

Women's rain coats for the spring season are more practical and dressy this year than ever before. They are more desirable for every day wear, too, because they haven't the appearance of rainy day clothes and are made in such pretty covert, checked novelty goods and a kind of ladies' cloth that they would never be taken for waterproof garments.

They are light in weight and yet warm, and for that reason make nice traveling coats and shed the dust and dirt as readily as they do the rain.

Another reason they will be liked better this coming season and worn more than in previous years, is because of the smart styles in which they are made. From the cut of the sleeves to the finish on the bottom of the coat they are unlike the ordinary wrap for rain, and will readily pass for an afternoon or evening cloak because of the smart fashions in which they are turned out.

Following the Empire style in dress that has been so popular, some of these coats are made on the same lines as the gowns and are decidedly attractive, especially for tall, slender women, because they give the figure a natty appearance that is the desire of every woman on a rainy day. Instead of having a plain belt to fit around the waist in these Empire coats, the yokes end in a row of narrow box pleats that set close to the body or in shirring that is from one to three inches deep.

The same Empire effect is produced in Fig. 2 by two small shoulder capes that are from two to four inches in width. The coat is fitted to the body several inches of shirring or smocking.

Even the sleeves are more like those used in gowns than the kind worn in outside coats for street wear.

They are pretty in any of the style sleeves used now, either those that are full from the shoulder and taper to the wrist, or in the pattern that fits the arm from the wrist to the elbow and is then fulled into a puff that is gathered into the shoulder seam.

These Empire coats have no collar, but are finished with a strap of the material or with a piece of braid to match the cloth. The skirts are put on in small gathers or tiny box pleats and fall gracefully around the body to the feet. If the material used were not sheer and light these styles would be impossible for even slender women, but they are so soft that in these patterns they are stunning.

The Empire style is not the only pattern that will be seen on the streets this spring, for there are the long rain coats that have a tight, or semi-tight, fitting waist trimmed with pleats, big metal buttons, and even lace that are quite as elaborate and have no resemblance to cloaks used for protection against the rain. With a pleated waist the front of the coats from the neck down to the bottom is also pleated, so that it looks like an afternoon gown. The sleeves are trimmed with lace and buttons to match, and the collar is effective in all lace.

For golfing or business woman a simpler coat on the same lines without pleating or lace, but trimmed with buttons and straps, is neat and most appropriate.

THE END

By Grace G. Bostwick.

(Copyright, 1906, by Daily Story-Pub. Co.)

Because he had loved her a long time, he hesitated about telling her. With the direct divination of a woman's intuition, she surmised the truth. She was not a selfish, narrow-minded creature, and though the foreshadowing sorrow hurt her cruelly, yet she desired earnestly to help the man. He had been trailing all about the subject for several moments, waiting the necessary courage. She took the matter in hand quite calmly.

"Why don't you tell me, Day?" she asked quietly. He started and looked at her uncomfortably. She smiled. It was not a happy smile, and the man frowned involuntarily, reaching his hand toward her. He had not yet lost the direct sympathy that had been one of the strongest bonds of their union.

"Is it sure, this time?" her voice was low and even. There was not the slightest suggestion of a scene in the atmosphere. He pulled himself together with a jerk.

"Meg," he said softly, "you're a wonder! How did you know?"

"How should I help knowing?" she asked, "I am not blind."

"But I thought—I have been just the same," he insisted.

"Your heart was not in it, that was all," she replied sadly.

"She is not like you," he said hesitatingly in response to her questions. "She is little and pretty and needs someone to care for her." Margaret started. Had it gone so far already? In her mind's eye she pictured instantly the sort of girl he was trying to describe.

"I was not attracted toward her at all at first," he explained, "but she seemed so helpless and I got in the way of doing little things for her. She has the sweetest smile and she is—O, hang it all, Meg! don't make a fellow tell you such fool things!" he blurted out unensilly.

"You need tell me nothing unless you like, boy." She used the little name unconsciously. "You know you are not bound to me in the slightest way." Across the man's face sprang a look of relief, to give way to one of admiration. "There isn't another woman like you in the world, Meg!" he declared tenderly. "I am not half good enough for you." She smiled at the old reason—the reason that always does duty when a man has tired of a woman and wishes to be gentle about the matter.

"When are you to be married?" He flushed hotly.

"She is very lonely and she is only waiting until I can see my way clear to—"

"Then you were waiting my consent?" Her tone was cold. "By all means, let it be at once. Delay no longer."

He looked at her compassionately. "I knew it was going to be hard on you," he said remorsefully. "I am a brute, Meg. I hated to tell you worse than—"

"You are very considerate," it was not quite a sneer, though he winced at the tone.

"You will be—we must always be the best of friends, Meg," he half questioned. She smiled bitterly. The man was rather dense, as men are apt to be when they have ceased to love a woman, and he failed to note the bitterness.

"Friends? Why, of course; we could not be less, could we?"

"And you will come to see her and visit us and be quite the same" There was a note of anxiety in the man's voice that touched her. He still cared for her in a way,—but such a way. She wanted nothing at all—nothing, unless she could have all. She was that sort.

"I can't promise," she said quietly, "for I am going away. I had meant to tell you before, but I, too, hated to hurt you." The sarcasm was lost on him. He was silent. He knew suddenly that it was the best way—the only way and he knew that it was a decision of the hour.

"We have been such chums—such comrades!" his voice broke a trifle. "It is hard to say good-bye."

"Yes, it is hard," she assented gravely, but without spirit. There was a long pause.

"May I kiss you once more?" he asked haltingly. She looked at him long and searchingly. He had left her but the week before, with kisses of simulated passion on his lips, while the girl—the little, lonely, pretty girl—waited for the genuine ones.

"O, you men, you men!" she exclaimed with sudden passion, as she looked deep into his eyes with bitterness of soul. "You take all we have to give—all—and still—" there was a sob in her throat—"it's a little game to you," her voice was steady once more. "A little game that you play to the end—and the end is whenever the fancy dies—that is all!" He started miserably to explain.

"Never mind," she smiled again wearily, "it's all right, boy!" She tossed back her hair with a tired gesture. He approached nearer and held out his hand. "May I—"he started to ask.

She caught him up with passionate intensity. "No, you may not! Do you think I would have the caresses that belong to another? I am not that sort. You are free to go to her—it is all right! I can say no more. O, go, go, for mercy's sake, go!" She stood, drawn to her full height, superb, queenly in her womanly dignity. He hesitated yet for a moment, looking helplessly into her face that had lived in his consciousness for three short—yes and happy years—then he turned silently and left the room, closing the door behind him.

And because it is the part of woman to renounce nobly what she has loved too well rather than wisely, as the world demands; because it is Nature's decree of punishment for the defiance of standard laws; because it is inevitably the last of joy as far as the woman is concerned, she threw her arms out in a gesture of absolute surrender—of awful despair—and bowed her head upon them in silence, alone with the grim ending of all her hopes.

FALLS THROUGH ICE AND DROWNS

Tragic Death of the Son of a Nicollet Merchant.

St. Peter, Minn., Feb. 23.—In a vain attempt to clamber over an ice reef at Swan lake, Johnny Zins, the 12-year-old son of J. C. Zins, a merchant of Nicollet village, fell through a fissuro in the ice and was drowned.

The unfortunate boy, with a younger brother, had spent several days with an uncle living near the lake, and as they were returning home, a passing farmer invited them to ride with him to Nicollet. The smaller boy accepted, but his brother declined, and continued his walk across the frozen surface of the lake. Not reaching home in the evening, his parents became thoroughly frightened and yesterday morning they gave the alarm. Searching parties were at once organized at Nicollet and a few hours later they succeeded in finding the object of their quest.

Frozen to the ice at the edge of the fissure were the little fellow's mittens, telling pathetically of his desperate fight against death, and their position indicated that he clung to the floe until overcome by the cold and fatigue. When his body was found it lay in a cramped position, evidence of repeated efforts to climb out upon the ice in the struggle which probably continued for hours.

DETECTIVE CHIEF ON TRAIL.

Women Tell Board That Officer Hugged and Kissed Them.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 23.—The trial of Chief of Detectives Eli Hardin before the fire and police commission on the charge of having kissed women who came to see him in his private office on official business, is the sensation of the week in Des Moines. Six women have filed complaint that they were hugged and kissed by the police officer against their will.

Before a crowded courtroom yesterday two women told the commissioners their complaints. "He tickled me under the chin and then held my hands down to my side and kissed me on the mouth," said Mrs. Charles Billings indignantly.

Mrs. Billings was confused and uneasy when she first took the witness stand, but she gritted her teeth and in a few minutes regained her self-control. She told her story quietly, except that she blushed deeply when compelled to admit that she had been fondled and kissed. According to her story, she went to the detective department to intercede for her husband, who had been arrested on a burglary charge. While there she burst into tears and, under pretense of comforting her, she said Chief Hardin became unnecessarily tender and solicitous.

Mrs. Minnie McGill, a brunette with flashing eyes, detailed much the same experience. Mrs. Jessie Fenner testified tthat the officer locked the door and insisted on kissing her.

A man who once had rough, horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by all druggists.

THE EVENING HERALD
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.

Published at Herald Bldg., First St., Op. P. O. Square.
THE HERALD COMPANY.
'Phones: Counting Room, 324; Editorial Rooms, 1126.

TEN CENTS A WEEK.
EVERY EVENING—DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

Single copy, daily	$ .02
One month	.45
Three months (in advance)	1.30
Six months (in advance)	2.60
One year (in advance)	5.00

Entered at Duluth Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

DULUTH WEEKLY HERALD.

Per year	$1.00
Six months	.50
Three months	.25

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH

TO SUBSCRIBERS:

It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both old and new addresses.

INSURANCE RECOMMENDATIONS.

The report of the life insurance investigation committee to the New York legislature, filed yesterday, contains some very important recommendations deduced from the revelations made by the investigation, and designed to eliminate some of the evils that have grown up about the conduct of great life insurance companies.

The report by the committee of the evils it found contains nothing new to the public, which has followed the very full newspaper reports of the hearings. Many of the recommendations made by the committee had already been publicly mentioned, as they touched errors so egregious that the remedy was obvious. Others, however, are new, and all of them are interesting to policyholders in the New York companies.

Legislation safeguarding the rights of policyholders in mutual companies in the election of directors is clearly needed. The "mutuality" of these companies has been very much of a farce in the past, because, while theoretically the policyholders managed the business, in reality they had no more to do with it than outsiders: If some legislation can be adopted that will tend to insure control by the policyholders the conduct of officers elected by them is pretty sure to be much improved.

Legislation authorizing the retiring of stock and making stock companies mutual is suggested, and this will doubtless lead to the mutualization of all the large companies, since policyholders are likely to favor companies in the control of which they have a voice. Strict legislation to prevent carelessness about investments and plundering of insurance company profits through such syndicates as the hearings disclosed is clearly needed. The limitation of new business to $150,000,000 a year is a wholesome suggestion. There is such a thing as making these companies too large.

The committee condemns lobbying, of course, and recommends economical management, but neither of these suggestions will strengthen public opinion on these points, as it is already as strong as it need be.

Besides these principal recommendations, there are a number of suggestions regarding minor details of the insurance business which are more or less important. It is to be hoped that the New York legislature will consider all the committee's suggestions carefully, and put such of them as seem advisable into effect immediately. Incidentally, however, the legislature might poke up the governor about making the state officers whose duty it is to inspect insurance companies and see that they obey the law attend to their work more fully than they have in the past. Innumerable illegalities and atrocities were committed under the very noses of the insurance superintendents and inspectors.

AN IGNOBLE TRANSACTION.

The report that somebody sold an invitation to the White House wedding for $400 has created much comment, naturally, and it is curious that all of it is in the nature of cutting remarks about the person that sold the invitation.

It is true that a person who would do such a thing is contemptible and base, unworthy of the honor of an invitation to a dog-fight. It is also true that the person that would buy an invitation to an affair of that nature, and go in on it, when it was clear enough that if he had been wanted he would have had an invitation of his own, is equally culpable and equally lacking in the instincts of decency.

The two parties to this ignoble transaction, which appears to be pretty well authenticated, are shameful travesties on humanity. On the one hand was a person who was well enough thought of to be honored with an invitation to an event that was necessarily limited in its possibilities of attendance, and who thought little enough of the honor and little enough of his own honor, to sell it. On the other hand was a person not well enough thought of to receive an invitation, but who thought little enough of his own honor and had little enough pride to go when he was not wanted.

It is positively sickening, both sides of the transaction, and if the parties were known public opinion should punish them by making sure neither of them failed to understand what was thought about it.

THE WATCHED LEGISLATURE.

There is evidence of a tendency in many of the states to take railroad matters in hand themselves if the federal government fails to give the relief demanded by the people. Of course such regulation as the states can manage is inadequate, since it is impracticable to procure uniform action by every legislature, but the states tan accomplish something, and if the railroads are successful in fighting off federal action, they will have their hands full in the legislatures of the next few years.

In fact, much more drastic legislation may be looked for from the states than congress would think of adopting. The rate regulation measure, providing as it does for a simple square deal between the shipper and the railroad, is conservative compared to many propositions that will be put forth in the states, and because of this fact, the railroads are making a mistake in fighting action.

Ohio has passed a bill forcing upon the railroads a maximum passenger rate of 2 cents a mile.

The Virginia legislature is doing the same thing.

The plan has been proposed in many other states, and it is sure to come up in Minnesota next winter.

A bill has appeared in the New York legislature making the maximum rate on the more prosperous roads 1½ cents a mile. It is 2 cents a mile now on most of these roads.

These are straws, but they show which way the wind blows. Such plans as these have been proposed in the past in most legislatures, but they never worried the railroads, because their influence with the legislatures, braced up by free passes and other "courtesies," was always strong enough to defeat them. Next time the legislatures meet it is likely to be different. The legislators may be minded to serve the railroads as before, but they will hardly dare do it. The people are awake and watching the actions of their public servants as they never have watched them before. They will pretty nearly have to be good next time, in the state legislatures, if the members do not wish to court political death.

Nothing more significant hashappened than the action of the Pennsylvania legislature, which has always been one of the most stubborn friends of the corporations in the legislative family. The people of Pennsylvania awoke, the Pennsylvania railroad withdrew its passes, and in the special session recently ended the legislature did everything the people wanted, including many measures that would have been laughed at a few years before by 75 per cent of the same legislators who passed them gladly this time.

The people are watching, and when the people watch the public servants aim to please the people.

MISREPRESENTATION.

The Northwestern Agriculturist, in discussing the suit against the Duluth board of trade, says: "The defense of the commission merchants and grain dealers is that it is unsafe to buy grain from farmers because so many farmers are dishonest that much grain is thus foisted onto the innocent dealer that is mortgaged. Hence the dealers want to buy only through their own local elevators."

This is from a farmers' paper, and doubtless the editor feels that since he serves the farmers it is his duty to misrepresent things in a manner that will bolster up what the farmer is likely to think. The farmer is naturally inclined to be suspicious of the commission man, and such a claim as the one quoted above would be calculated to increase his resentment against the city factors in the grain trade.

However, no such claim was ever made by the Duluth board of trade, by its members, or by anybody for them. Farmers are not dishonest as a class, and nobody knows that better than the commission man, who deals with them constantly. They are not in the habit of trying to sell mortgaged grain, a criminal offense which the laws of their state cover no matter where they live. Because somebody, in discussing the controversy, said that there were farmers who did such things, is no reason why a farmers' paper should distort it into a statement, purporting to come from the Duluth board of trade, that "it is unsafe to buy from farmers."

As a matter of fact, commission men do buy from farmers, or they would not do business. Practically every commission man on the Duluth and Minneapolis grain exchanges buys grain from farmers constantly, and hopes to continue doing so. There is no impression, either on the Duluth board of trade or anywhere else, that farmers as a class are dishonest and tricky. They are far from it, as a class, even though there may be individual farmers who have to be watched closely.

The statement that the Duluth board of trade ever made any such assertion as the one attributed to it by the Northwestern Agriculturist is too absurd to receive belief anywhere. To say that farmers as a class are untrustworthy is as sensible as to say, because a butcher somewhere beat his wife, that butchers are cruel to their families. Probably the agricultural paper feels that it is its mission to misrepresent the city man and hold him up to the ridicule of its farmer patrons, but it should try some misrepresentation less patently ridiculous than the one it has attempted.

THE FIELD SURVEY

Twenty-three for the trading stamp scheme.

* * *

Optimism is health, while pessimism is a pathological condition.

* * *

"Vox populi, vox Dei," but the voice of the senate is the voice of Rockefeller.

* * *

The watched pot never boils, but the watched legislature always gets busy.

* * *

The White City project is beginning to achieve coherency, and the committee is getting busy.

* * *

The open winter has been so hard on the coal trust that it probably feels the need of a strike to make a chance to even up.

* * *

A Minneapolis man was shot for refusing to take a drink. If hospitality often took that form it would indeed take courage to say "no."

* * *

One paper, explaining that it is a "new picture," published one of Bridegroom Longworth in a straw hat. That is rushing the season a bit.

* * *

The Hubbard County Enterprise is going after timber thieves, and it has already made a showing that should be of great benefit to the state.

* * *

The Japanese house of peers has voted to continue the war taxes. The cost of war bears most heavily after the glamor of the fray has worn off.

* * *

Men have been judged in the past mostly according to accomplishments, but in the future they will be judged more according to their methods and motives.

* * *

Two downtown buildings, besides the city hall, honored the memory of George Washington by flying flags yesterday. Does his memory need an introduction?

* * *

A Colorado concern is looking for a Lake Superior district mining man to fill an important vacancy. The Lake Superior country has some of the best mining experts in the world.

* * *

They are talking about enacting corrupt practices laws in other states. What is the matter with creating public sentiment enough to make the Minnesota corrupt practices act effective?

* * *

The Anoka Union, which never heard the crack of the party whip without smiling scornfully, says: "Crack the Republican whip and crack it hard." And the Cass Lake Times replies that it won't work this year.

* * *

The Little Falls Transcript wants St. Paul to hurry up and build an auditorium big enough to hold the Republican state convention and the candidates for lieutenant-governor. Duluth already has one enough bigger than that to take in all the candidates for all the offices, and still leave room for the delegates.

HOTEL GOSSIP

"Bookmakers at the races do not always get all the money," said J. D. Stanley of Chicago, at the St. Louis. "If you have been watching the racing news at all this winter you doubtless noticed, along early in January, that S. C. Hildreth, one of the most prominent owners on th American turf, lost $40,000 in a few weeks at bookmaking, and then went out of the game altogether. He was one of the few bookmakers, who have lost, for, comparatively speaking, there are few losers, but when they do go to the bad they go to the bad right.

"Hildreth said he would never get into the game again as a bookie. I don't know whether he has kept his word or not. I am willing to bet, however, that he has not quit the racing game entirely. The chances are that he can be found hanging around the New Orleans track today, putting wagers on the likely-looking horses, for the loss of $40,000 did not break him by any means. His money was mostly lost at New Orleans, and after announcing it as being his intention to quit he made the remark that if he had been in the business in the East he would have come out ahead. He said the Westerners were better at picking out winners than were men in the East. He looked upon them as better judges of horse flesh, and laid his losses to this fact rather than to his own poor judgment.

"The racing reports show that there have been some spectacular contests pulled off at the Louisiana tracks this winter. Occasionally a horse which had great odds placed against him came in ahead, making a lot of money for its owner and the few who were on the inside, and digging a hole in the profits of the bookies. One 100 to 1 shot was winner one day. The veteran race track man seldom takes a shot on one of these horses. Most of his money is placed on an even proposition, or very nearly so. They argue that, in the long run, the betting on odds system will prove a sure loser, although a fellow may strike it right once in a while. It is generally the men and women who are new at the business who take the long shots, and when they win out they think they know the racing game better than the old-stagers, and don't find out their mistake until their winnings and several dollars more have gone back to the bookies. It is an interesting game, if it is expensive."

* * *

"Duluth is not the only place in the Northwest enjoying warm weather," said G. H. Dolan of St. Paul; at the McKay. The Twin Cities are also getting a little of it just now. One hears people here kicking about the mud and water on the streets, but if you want to see real mud, of the deepest and blackest dye, you should be in St. Paul. It lies several inches deep on the streets, and a man without rubbers is a sad-looking sight."

* * *

"I guess there isn't much doubt of there being an early opening of navigation," said R. I. Jones of Cleveland, at the Spalding. "Everything points that way just now. Ice isn't very thick at any point along the lakes, I guess, and it doesn't appear that it will become much thicker before spring, although we may get some severe spells of weather yet. It has been a remarkably mild winter all along the lakes, particularly down around Cleveland and Buffalo.

"Scores of boats loaded with coal are lying at the lower lake ports, awaiting for the first chance to get to the upper lakes. When they do come there will be quite a fleet of them arriving the same day. There will be the usual race, I presume, to see which boat will reach Duluth first.

"The threatened coal strike is bothering the vesselmen some, for, if it comes, they are afraid it will reduce the number of coal cargoes up the lakes. In an ordinary season it takes a good many boats to handle the coal business. This should be a big lake season all around, especially in the movement of ore."

* * *

Local hotel men are interested in the plans being laid for the establishment in Duluth of a "White City," like the one in Chicago. While Duluth will be benefited as a whole by it, they figure that it will be of especial help to them, especially where the range business is concerned, for it will not only draw people here from the ranges and other towns within easy reaching distance of Duluth, but it will be the means of keeping those already here on business in the city for a longer period, thus resulting in more guests at the hotels.

"Places of amusement such as this are generally seen at their best in the evening," said a hotel man in speaking of the matter, "and probably Duluth will be no exception to the rule. The largest crowds will be on hand nights, and the bigger the crowd the more fun a person generally derives, provided it is not too awfully large.

"Duluth has long felt the need of such a place, and I for one am glad to hear that its establishment is as good as guaranteed. The way things have been in the past, there has been nothing to hold outsiders here after they are through with the business they came to attend to, and they generally started for home at the earliest opportunity. But an amusement park, with its many innocent diversions, will prove to be a drawing card that will keep a lot of people here for a longer time than would otherwise be the case, and while they will be getting their money's worth, Duluth as a whole will be receiving benefits. The more attractions we get here the better it will be for the city, and the more will the city be talked about and advertised."

* * *

At the Spalding: M. L. Adler, Malone, N. Y.; M. R. Suratt, Minneapolis; C. G. Muklin, Fargo; J. W. Lerch, Bovey, Minn.; R. L. Huyck, St. Paul; E. A. Phillips, Milwaukee; H. G. Atwood, Minneapolis; A. Roller, Eveleth; E. W. Sanders, Detroit, Mich.; J. Mende, Salt Lake; Mrs. J. D. Young, La Crosse, Wis.; L. Goodman, C. W. Cartwright, J. W. Hobbins, Minneapolis; G. Wallace, Marquette; O. J. Ethier, Hibbing; S. Charlton, Detroit; J. H. Nordby, Two Harbors; Mrs. D. M. Maxcy, Washburn, Wis.

* * *

At the St. Louis: Mr. and Mrs. J. Rusenberg and child, Marcell, Minn.; W. H. Hayden, Columbus, Ohio; W. H. Wright, St. Paul; O. F. McMahon, Knife River; M. J. Towey, Minneapolis; F. M. Markham, Beloit, Wis.; M. A. Torinus, Stillwater; E. O'Neill, Stillwater; H. Homberg, Virginia; D. G. Lawrence, Two Harbors; Maurice G. Adler, Cincinnati; J. M. Siefirn, Perham, Minn.; J. Harper, Hill City; H. Stedman, Berlin, Wis.; J. Jensen, Grand Rapids; O. Fuerst, Milwaukee; B. W. Hicks, Richmond, Wis.; J. F. Rose, Virginia; M. H. Schussler, Floodwood, Minn.; J. K. Barnes, Des Moines, Iowa.

* * *

At the Lenox: C. O. Viker, Minneapolis; P. F. Walsh, St. Paul; T. Schofield, Pittsburg; A. Reid, Virginia; G. W. Foster, Grand Rapids, Mich.; I. C. Johnson, Bovey, Minn.; P. Spindler, Milwaukee; E. E. Culver, Spooner, Wis.; C. C. Jasper, Wyoming; G. P. Masson, Spirit Lake, Ia.; H. Millen, St. Paul; O. A. Graff, Hibbing; T. Powers, Valley City; A. W. Benton, Minneapolis; W. E. Tabbs, River Falls; F. P. Mason, Hiwabik; W. J. Miller, Ashland; G. T. Raper, Two Harbors; F. Valentine, Hurley, Wis.

* * *

At the McKay: A. C. Elliott, Mora, Minn.; H. M. Farnam, Minneapolis; H. A. Graham, Milwaukee; G. H. Simmons, Cleveland; B. D. Brewate, F. A. Mudge, Peru, Ill.; C. H. Ditto, Keithsburg, Ill.; L. C. Nelson, Iron Junction; Mr. and Mrs. R. Keogman, Stillwater; A. N. Hill, St. Paul; G. C. Adams, Menominee; E. Hattuger, Marinette; P. R. St. Clair, St. Paul.

An Oversight.

Philadelphia Ledger: Not a single bottle of hair restorer in all that array of presents!

Strange Bedfellows.

Chicago Chronicle: The strangest conjunction of opposites thus far developed in the United States senate was when, in the same debate and on the same day, Tillman of South Carolina declared that "railway devilment" can not be stopped till we compel some millionaire railway operator to wear criminal stripes in jail, and Lodge of Massachusetts proclaimed that we never should have repealed the provision for punishing railway evasions of rate regulation with imprisonment, since the offenders care nothing for fines which they can make the companies pay. Is this a new case of the lion and the lamb couching together? And if so, which is the lion?

THE WEATHER

And still it kept on getting warmer. Yesterday and this morning were "perfect dreams," as one person whose sex it is easy to guess phrased it. It was mild and entirely springlike, and though clouds appeared at times and threatened rain, none came. It kept on thawing last night just as it did in the daytime. The lowest temperature was 30 degs. in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning, and the warmest was 44 degs. The weather man says it is going to be slightly colder tonight, dropping to about 20 degs., and that snow is possible. Following is the official survey of conditions and the local forecast by W. H. Richardson, local forecaster:

"Barometric disturbances overlie Lake Superior, Oklahoma, Saskatchewan and Oregon, which condition is mainly responsible for the prevailing mild temperature, and it has also caused snow or rain over portions of Lake Superior, the Dakotas, New Mexico and quite generally to the westward of the Rocky mountains. The barometer is rising in the Northwest, however, and is attended by falling temperatures from the Dakotas northward. The barometer is high over North Atlantic and South Pacific districts.

"The easterly drift of these several areas tonight and Saturday will favor partly cloudy and colder weather in this locality, attended possibly by snow flurries, while the lowest temperature may be about 20 degs."

Following were the lowest temperatures recorded by the weather bureau in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning:

Abilene	58	Miles City	26
Atlanta	48	Milwaukee	32
Battleford	2	Minnedosa	4
Bismarck	20	Modena	20
Boston	28	Montgomery	42
Buffalo	30	Moorhead	24
Calgary	16	New Orleans	50
Charleston	44	New York	34
Chicago	44	Norfolk	38
Cincinnati	32	Northfield	10
Davenport	38	North Platte	26
Denver	28	Oklahoma	56
Detroit	32	Omaha	36
Devils Lake	20	Phoenix	42
Dodge City	34	Pierre	26
Duluth	30	Pittsburg	32
El Paso	44	Port Arthur	26
Escanaba	30	Portland	40
Galveston	58	Prince Albert	4
Green Bay	32	Qu'Appelle	18
Havre	28	Rapid City	34
Helena	26	St. Louis	52
Houghton	26	St. Paul	36
Huron	20	San Francisco	48
Jacksonville	46	Santa Fe	26
Kamloops	32	Sault Ste. Marie	28
Kansas City	42	Shreveport	48
Knoxville	34	Spokane	34
La Crosse	36	Swift Current	20
Lander	24	Washington	38
Little Rock	50	Williston	22
Los Angeles	46	Winnemucca	28
Marquette	26	Winnipeg	-2
Medicine Hat	22

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Forecasts until 7 p. m. Saturday: Wisconsin—Increasing cloudiness with possibly rain or snow flurries tonight and Saturday. Slightly colder.

Minnesota and South Dakota—Partly cloudy and slightly colder tonight and Saturday.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and Saturday. Colder tonight.

FLASHES OF FUN.

Philadelphia Press: Her—I guess our dog doesn't like you.

Him—Oh, yes he does.

Her—What makes you think so?

Him—Well, he tasted me last week and he wanted to do it again tonight.

Chicago Tribune: "Isn't it a fact, professor, that the troubles of society are caused by one-half of the world not knowing how the other half lives?"

"My dear sir, the trouble comes from the one-half trying to find out."

Houston Chronicle: "In Russia it is illegal for a person to marry more than five times," said the man who knows things.

"That just shows how unprogressive the Russians are," declared the man from St. Louis.

Philadelphia Ledger: "No," said the woman, contemptuously. "I don't understand her at all."

"You don't?" replied the young man. "I thought you posed as a clairvoyant."

"Well?"

"Well, she's a dream."

Pittsburg Post: "We are poor," sighed the maiden.

"And consequently of no interest whatever to the reporters and photographers," responded the sensible youth as he slipped his manly arm about her fragile form.

Philadelphia Record: Wigg—I know a man who was robbed in broad daylight in London.

Wagg—That was very remarkable.

Wigg—Why, is robbery so scarce there?

Wagg—No, but broad daylight is.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "I see that W. J. Bryan is very indignant because his college accepted tainted money from some generous contributor."

"Wonderful, isn't it?"

"What's wonderful?"

"The thought that a man with a conscience like that can run a weekly newspaper."

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: A girl never gets married unless she gets the chance.

There is an awful lot of trouble in the world that wouldn't be here if we all didn't try to be so smart.

When a girl gets engaged she looks the paper through every morning to see how many men she knows have committed suicide.

When a man breaks his shoestring dressing, it is a sign he going to accuse his wife of having a cook that makes coffee that would disgrace a muddy river.

It makes the children awful tired to think that their mother goes and gets sick abed just when there is a nice, new baby in the house for her to make a fuss over if she was well.

The Message.

Don't you hear the message
The sparrows chirp all day?
"Comin'—comin'—comin'—
Spring ain't far away!
There's something in the sunshine that's hintin' of the May!"

That is just the message
They're telling' right along:
"You'll soon find pleasant places
Where the honeysuckles throng—
A garden, red with roses, and an orchard sweet with song!"

An' we're lovin' of that message,
For we hear the bluebird's call—
The tinkle of a drop o' dew,
As a daisy hears it fall;
An' a daisy in a meadow is a holiday to all!

—FRANK L. STANTON in Atlanta Constitution.

Pease Porridge Hot.

G. S. Pease in Anoka Union: The prodding goes merrily on.

The Dunn music is away off the key and no one can dance after it and keep in step.

The Dunn folks are determined to be factors in the coming campaign. That is plainly to be seen.

If the people are wise they will view with suspicion the senatorial syndicate candidate, whoever he may be.

It has been suggested that another banquet be held in Minneapolis, to promote discord and dissension, and then it might prove to be the most harmonious gathering ever.

Say what you please, there is opposition to Senator Nelson, and it was evident at the harmony banquet at Minneapolis. That same gathering may be the means of compassing his defeat.

A Restorative Cordial.

Thomas Jefferson: I find friendship to be like wine, raw when new, ripened with age, the true old man's milk and restorative cordial.

One Way of Putting It.

New York Press: The house adjourned from Friday to Monday out of respect to the memory of Bachelor Longworth.

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder

Good Health depends upon the food you eat.

Adds to the healthfulness of all risen flour-foods, while it makes the food lighter, sweeter, finer-flavored, more delicious.

Exercise care in purchasing baking powder to see that you get Dr. Price's, which makes the food more wholesome and at the same time more palatable.

NOTE—There are many mixtures, made in imitation of good baking powders, which the prudent will avoid. They may be known by their price, being sold for ten to twenty-five cents a pound, or a cent an ounce. They are made with alum, interfere with the healthfulness of the food.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Taken from the Columns of The Herald of this date in 1886.

The trustees of the Christian church have purchased a property for $800 and will build a church thereon at once.

The two story frame building known as the Manitoba house was damaged by fire yesterday. The business was carried on by Christianson & Ramstadt and the loss is about $600, covered by insurance. The building is owned by Mr. Ware who resides in Maine.

News has reached this city of the marriage of Morris Abeles at New York city last week. The happy couple departed immediately for an extended wedding tour in Europe. Mr. Abeles is of the recently dissolved firm of Freimuth & Abeles of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Abbott will entertain a select party of friends this evening at their residence on Lake avenue.

Nellie, the 2 year old daughter of Commissioner Westaway, slipped on the stairway at her father's house yesterday and was precipitated to the bottom, sustaining a fracture of the collar bone.

Inquiries are numerous at the real estate offices. Many persons of moderate means are intent on buying property for investment. Mr. Higgins of Olean, N. Y., who bought property here lately, said to another capitalist: "I was once offered the block on which the opera house stands for $350 and yet I consider that at present prices real estate is cheaper now than it was then."

Hart O'Brien, a former resident of Duluth, but now on the detective force of Chicago, came in Saturday night and returned to Chicago today.

The meeting of the pioneers brings vividly to mind the changes that have taken place since they came to the Head of the Lakes. When the Fifty-seveners came here there were at Duluth no steamers, no elevators, no stores and no people. Minnesota Point presented a formidable barrier to navigation at this side of the bay and no sawmills disturbed the impressive silence of the woods.

In the absence of an ordinance compelling property owners to clean their sidewalks, Commissioner Westaway is having the slippery places sprinkled with ashes.

Tom King of Minneapolis suggests that if Duluth could get up an ice palace for next summer it would be the best drawing card in the country.

It has been learned that Peter H. Smith, the absconding Tower butcher, was in Charleston, Ill., recently.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

International Falls Border Budget: The complexion of the state political embroglio is assuming such a nature that it may be necessary for Northern Minnesota to launch A. L. Cole into the gubernatorial game. If there is a man in the state that can give the whole state value for confidence reposed it is A. L. Cole, and Northern Minnesota should not be slow about forcing him into the gap when it opens.

Crookston Journal: Count Boni spent $300,000 in French politics. It is almost impossible to divorce the American dollar from politics, no matter what country the game is played in.

Warren Sheaf: Lost, strayed or stolen, a multimillionaire who answers to the name of John Dollars Rockefeller. When last seen he wore a brown wig, a paper vest, grayish pants with black stripes and a black derby hat. Supposed to be a fugitive from justice. Any one knowing his whereabouts should promptly notify Thomas W. Lawson or Miss Ida Tarbell.

Windom Reporter: The Austin Transcript accuses Governor Johnson of having whitewashed a Republican capitol Commission. Wouldn't it, Austin, you? A Democrat covering the defects and defaults of a lot of Republicans. Who supposed Johnson could be so derelict in duty? And then the thought that a Republican needed whitewashing! Why, Belden, are you mad about something?

Rochester Post and Record: New Orleans boasts a female cook with royal blood in her veins. A female cook who does not act as if she had royal blood in her veins is certainly an anomaly.

Preston Times: As we observe some of the robber rates imposed by the express companies we are impelled to the belief that the parcels post is the only relief, even though the department houses become extensive beneficiaries.

Le Sueur News: Rag-time politicians should beware. This is the season when the kind of music they make is not popular.

Anoka Free Press: Politically Hennepin county constitutes itself five-sixths of the state. In the payment of taxes Hennepin carries one-sixth of the burden of the state.

Mora Enterprise: It is said that the late Christian IX of Denmark was father of two queens and three kings—a full hand. Yet he is beaten to a finish in the game of plutocracy by John D. Rockefeller, who isn't jack high when it comes to a question of ancestry.

Austin Transcript: Ohio is to have a law requiring a 2-cent rate for passenger fares on the railroads. If all passes are cut off the roads will make more money at 2 cents a mile than they make now at a higher rate. Minnesota will fall into line just as soon as we get the right kind of legislature elected.

Princeton Union: Frank Eddy's "Heart to Heart Talk" is all right as a talk, but his proposition to have 16,000 Republicans contribute a campaign fund of $70,000 will end in talk. If the state committee had had one-half of that amount a year ago last fall things might have been different.

The Baritone's Destination.

Minneapolis Tribune: Those who think the newspaper is a great soulless corporation without anxiety for anybody's moral welfare may be surprised to find that the following announcement in an Elizabeth, N. J., paper almost caused an eclipse in the New York Sun:

"The men's meeting at the Young Men's Christian association will have two speakers tomorrow afternoon, and the subject will be: 'Hell; Its Certainty, What Sort of a Place It Is, and How to Escape It.' The musical part of the program will be very attractive and will consist of a baritone solo by Walter T. Griffith, who will sing 'Tell Mother I'll Be There.'"

The Sun comments: "We earnestly hope that the information afforded by the first part of the program led the worthy baritone to reconsider."

Lawson Not Consulted.

Washington Post: The report that the copper war has been ended is a mistake. The parties to the peace conference failed to recognize Tom Lawson as one of the signatory powers.

AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM | SATURDAY MATINEE
Tonight, Saturday, Mat. and Night.
Louis James
Tonight, "Richelieu;" Mat., "Ingomar;" Night, "Virginius;" Mat., 25c, $1.00. Night, 25c, $1.50.

Metropolitan
TONIGHT AND TWICE TOMORROW
Reilly & Woods Co.
No advance in prices.
Next week—"Miss New York, Jr."

LYCEUM | SUNDAY NIGHT
Flaaten's Third Regiment Band
Best Concert of the Season.
Be With the Crowds. Admission 25c

Star Lecture Course
MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 26.
Dr. Frank Gunsaulus
Of Chicago. Lecture on
"GLADSTONE"
Admission 50 cents. Tickets at Chamberlain & Taylor's

The BIG DULUTH
WILLIAMSON & MENDENHALL.

ALL FUR LINED AND FUR COATS AT WHOLESALE PRICE

The BIG DULUTH
WILLIAMSON & MENDENHALL.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE!

Any Men's Winter Coat In the House For $15.00
Any Men's Winter Suit In the House For $15.00
Any Youths' Winter Suit In the House $15.00
Any Youths' Winter Overcoat $13.50
Any Boys' Winter Overcoat In the House $9.85
Any Child's Winter Overcoat In the House $6.95

THREE SPECIALS IN MEN'S UNDERWEAR—

First—Dunham Hosiery Co.'s grey and tan ribbed wool garments, all sizes..... $1.39

Second—Yund, Kennedy & Yund's ribbed garments..... 89c

Third—Another lot in grey and peach bloom —all sizes..... 79c

SPRING HATS FOR MEN AND BOYS.

Newest blocks now ready—Stetson, Guyer, Gordon, Blake, Mallory, Pioneer, and W. & M. Specials in Soft or Stiff Hats—

$2, $2.50, $3
$3.50, $4, $5

Spring Underwear — Spring Hosiery — Spring Shirts.
Spring Neckwear—Spring Overcoats—Spring Gravenettes.

HOT CHASE AFTER HENS

Poultry Dealers Are Finding Trouble in Filling Their Orders.

Eggs Are Plentiful—Business Shows Signs of Spring Revival.

Fresh poultry is about as scarce this week as snow balls in Panama, and the hunt for a real, live, fresh, new hen that hasn't spent several months in the chilly climate of a refrigerator is about as fruitless as the chase of the deputy sheriffs after John D.

Any dealer on Michigan street this week can talk you into believing that the cold storage hens are "just as good" and some of them really are, but when a retailer starts off on a still hunt for a "biddie" that has but recently met the fate that sooner or later comes to all honest hens, and is but newly arrived from green fields and pastures new without the intermediary process of a chilly roosting place in the ice box, he goes up against a hard game.

The dealers have been keeping the wires hot to the great hen centers for the last week, but the replies show a monotonous similarity. When a telegram was received from Sioux City, Iowa, where hens are as plentiful as the eastern papers say bears are in Duluth, to the effect that a solitary stray hen was reported on the horizon, but that the rumor had not been confirmed, the dealers gave up in disgust, and turned on the switch light in the ice box.

Any good dealer can furnish you with a list of a dozen reasons for the shortage, including snow storms, blizzards, wrecks, and slow freights, but the real reason is that the American hen is attending strictly to business these days and earning her keep.

* * *

And the manner in which the biddies are attending to business, is shown by the receipts of eggs. The hens threaten to lay not wisely, but too well, and work themselves out of a job by flooding the market. The price is dropping to such a figure that it will soon pay the farmers to turn their eggs factories into "white" and "dark" meat. One year ago fresh eggs were selling for twenty-eight cents a dozen, and today any grocer with ready money or good credit can pick up all the strictly fresh newly candled eggs he wants for sixteen to seventeen cents a dozen, or if he happens to run across a dealer who is long, might even get as low a figure as fifteen cents.

Anybody with ready money looking for cold storage eggs at anything above eleven or twelve cents, would be mobbed.

* * *

Oranges are scarcer this week, and the price is a trifle higher. There have been some heavy rains and frosts in California during the last two weeks, and the crop which was none too heavy in the first place, has been partly depleted. It is estimated that the shipments from California this year will be from 8,000 to 10,000 cars less than last year. The price has ruled low during the fall and winter months, and the present firm market has long been expected.

* * *

The stocks of apples throughout the country are extremely lighter than they have been for years past at this season. The market is such now that dealers having any first class apples in stock can secure almost any price for them that they see fit to ask. The best grades are selling for as high as $6 and $6.50 per barrel, while the cheapest are bringing $5.

* * *

There has been little change during the week in the prices of the different kinds of vegetables. Potatoes are quoted at about the same figure as last week, being a trifle firmer if anything. No advance in the price is looked for at this time, and the old crop is expected to remain at about the same figure until the new crop is on the market.

Some of the other staple vegetables such as bagas, beets and parsnips have advanced in price during the week, but the changes have been few and unimportant.

* * *

The warm weather has brought about a reaction in trade, and business during the week has been quite brisk, showing promise of the spring activity. The outlook is very bright for a good year's trade, and the spring appears to be opening up well. All of the dealers along the street wear a contented expression, and report a good outlook for the coming spring and summer.

It is still a little early for the regular spring rush to begin, however, and until the strawberries and Southern vegetables become plentiful, trade will be quiet with only occasional spells of activity such as the present warm spell has brought about.

If you have lost your boyhood spirits, courage and confidence of youth, we offer you new life, fresh courage and freedom from ill health in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

"ELOPE WITH HIM? NEVER!" SAYS GIRL

Miss Jones' Card Says Recent Incident Was Kidnaping.

Scottsburg, Ind., Feb. 23.—If John Gray, a motorman of Indianapolis, is still expecting to claim pretty Miss Jessie Jones of Underwood, Clarke county, as his bride, a publication which the young woman has had published in a local newspaper seems to doom him to disappointment. Twice, it is said, they were frustrated in attempts to elope.

The girl alleges that the recent attempt which was made to get her to elope with Gray was but a scheme to kidnap her, and affidavits have been sworn against Irving Anderson and Earl Deal of Underwood, whom she alleges tried to induce her to elope with Gray. The charges against the young men are assault and battery, and the cases have been set for trial in March.

Miss Jones' statement is:

"Underwood, Ind., Feb. 6, 1906.

"To the Public:

"I hereby deny the story published to the effect that I was trying to elope with John Gray. It is a mistake. I consider it an insult for any one to call John Gray my lover. I hold myself above John Gray. I understand from the rumors of the people that Gray offered $50 reward if any one would catch me and get me to marry him, but I would die before I would submit to anything of the kind. This is a free country, and I will marry whom I please. The fellow who gets me will not have to get the whole country to compel me to marry him. I quit Gray over a year ago, and he had better always leave me alone, too.

"MISS JESSIE JONES."

GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

Against Harry C. Calvert of Bemidji by Elevator Company.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 23.—Harry C. Calvert of Bemidji was arrested Wednesday charged with grand larceny on five counts, the charge being preferred against him by a representative of the Bemidji Elevator company. It is claimed that Mr. Calvert used money belonging to the company for his private use. He was arraigned in Judge Skinvik's court, pleaded not guilty and his preliminary examination will take place March 5. Mr. Calvert was arrested on a petit larceny charge of a similar nature some time ago, but was acquitted by a jury, and it is possible that he will be able to explain away the charges against him now.

PAY OR BE DISMISSED

Congress Considers Bill to Force Employes to Pay Debts.

Washington the Most Expensive Place in America to Live.

Washington, Feb. 23.—There is a bill before congress which, if it passes, will force federal employes to pay their debts or suffer dismissal. The bill will probably pass. This will let a large number of clerks in the clasified service in Washington out of the departments. A good many of them are so deeply in debt that it will be out of the question for them even to arrive at any kind of a compromise with creditors.

A representative of the Retail Grocers' association of Washington appeared before the house committee having the bill in charge. He testified that there are between 15,000 and 18,000 government clerks in Washington who don't pay their grocers' bills. He specified one case in which three members of a family, mother, son and daughter, are all employed in the classified service in Washington at good salaries, and yet the family owes grocery bills aggregating $250.

The delinquent debtors among the clerks, as their side of the matter, say that it is all but impossible for the average government employe to live in Washington on his salary. They declare that Washington is far and away the most expensive city in the United States in which to live, and that, while the cost of living in Washington has doubled in the last ten or fifteen years, there has been no advance in the salary of the average government clerk.

Credit, moreover, is so easy to obtain by department employes in Washington that they are constantly tempted to overspend. The clerks are besought by every class of tradesmen to buy on credit. A $100 a month clerk who was recently jacked up by his chief for failing to pay some debt fell to computing what became of his salary. Besides paying his regular, ordinary expenses, this man was having a diamond ring for his wife on the installment plan, paying for his household furniture on the same plan, buying a piano on time, buying a typewriter on time and buying a phonograph on time. After the jacking up he had to throw off these burdens and all of the articles that he was buying on the so much per half month basis, except the household furniture, were taken from him.

For many years the creditors of delinquent government clerks in Washington have made it a point to besiege the secretaries of the departments as a last resort. Some of these cabinet men have put pressure on the clerks and forced them to settle or quit the service. But most of them have rigidly declined to allow their departments to be used as collecting agencies. Others have taken a sort of half way ground, listening first to the irate creditor and later to the explanation of the clerk complained of.

A few years ago a young examiner in the patent office got to the end of his debt-making tether here. One day his creditors got together and resolved to move upon the secretary of the interior in a body. They were tailors, haberdashers, florists, livery stable keepers, hatters, shoe dealers, 10 per cent per month sharks, all sorts. They compared figures and found that the patent office examiner owed something more than $6,000.

They marched to the office of the secretary of the interior, a man who was having troubles of his own to live on his salary in Washington, for he was unlike most cabinet men, in that he had no private means.

After the orator of the creditors' deputation had made his little speech, the secretary asked: "How much does this man owe?"

"More thn $6,000," replied the spokesman.

"Whew!" exclaimed the secretary. "That's more trust than I believe I could ever get in Washington." Then, after some reflection. "What do you want me to do with this young man?" inquired the secretary.

"Make him dig up," said the spokesman.

"How can I do that?" asked the secretary.

"Have the disbursing officer take so much off his salary each half month and have the amount distributed among us pro rata," replied the spokesman.

"I have no legal right to do that," said the secretary, but he touched his desk button for a messenger and sent for the young examiner, who promptly made his appearance.

"My young friend," said the secretary, when the examiner appeared, "these are some of your creditors."

"I see that, sir," respectfully replied the examiner. "I couldn't possibly mistake one of them."

"Now," pursued the secretary, who occasionally lapsed into colloquial English, "it seems to have about come to this: You've got to pay, or git. How about you? Which are you going to do?"

"Git," promptly replied the examiner, and forthwith sat down at the secretary's desk and scrawled his resignation.

Instantly there ensued a great clamor among the creditors. They didn't want the young man to "git." As long as he retained his government job they had at least a remote chance of finally getting something on their bills. But off the government payroll and probably out of Washington he was a flown bird.

So this bunch of creditors, who had been, figuratively speaking, howling for the young examiner's heart's blood but a few moments before begged the secretary to retain him in the service.

"How am I going to keep the man if he wants to go?" asked the secretary. "Are you sure you want this resignation to stick?" he inquired of the examiner.

"I'm already off the payroll, sir," replied the employe, determinedly, and with a bow he was out of the room.

He left Washington that same night, with only a few dollars in his pocket. Just two years later, his salary as patent man for a Cleveland manufacturing concern was $15,000 per annum. He returned to Washington in due time, and in person paid up every stiver he owed. But of course, his case was exceptional.

A rather cowed looking and shabby man was hauled before another secretary for his failure to pay a doctor's bill of long standing.

"What's the reason you don't pay this medical man's bill?" demanded the secretary, a rather violent man on occasion. "Is there any good reason? How many besides yourself have you got to support?"

"Eight, sir," replied the man, humbly. "The two oldest, and three sets of twins."

"What?" demanded the secretary, rising from his seat. "How far apart were those sets?"

"About a year and a quarter between each batch, sir," replied the carpeted clerk.

"And did the doctor who sends this collector here officiate on all these interesting occasions?"

"Yes, sir—that's mostly what the bill is for, sir," replied the shabby clerk.

"Get out of here, you!" stormed the secretary, bearing down upon the bill collector. "And you go and tell that infernal doctor man for me that he ought to be blamed proud of having officiated at the making of a record, much less hound the man who shares in the glory. Here! Wait a minute! Dash me. I'll pay the bill myself."

"How much is it?" and the secretary grabbed the bill out of the scared collector's hand and looked it over. Then he dived into his pocket and paid the amount out of hand.

"Now, you go back to your desk, old man," said the secretary to the shabby, cowed looking clerk, "and in the future every time there's a double visitation in your family send the bill to me."

Hereupon the secretary grinned affably. "The job you ought to have, my man," he added, "is superintendent of the census."

One of the secretaries still in office received a bearding by telephone a year or so ago from a young man he had had up for chronic indebtedness.

A lot of complaints having reached the secretary that this young man wasn't paying or trying to pay his bills, he sent for the delinquent.

"I understand that you gamble your money away," said the secretary, who had not long before issued a special order to the effect that gambling among the employes of his department was not going to be tolerated, and intimating that employes who attend the Bennings races, particularly, would be liable to find themselves in considerable disfavor. "What form of gambling do you mostly indulge in?"

"Play a little poker, sir, occasionally," replied the young man.

"Do you bet on horse races?" asked the secretary.

"When I think I know something, replied the young man.

"Um-when you think you know something," repeated the secretary. "And how do you generally come out on these occasions when you think you know something?"

"I generally find that I don't know anything," frankly replied the young man.

"So I should imagine," replied the secretary, and then he lit upon the young man good and hard. He told him that he'd have to begin to pay what he owed the very next pay day, and that if he, the secretary, so much as heard of his visiting the race track again—the Bennings races were in progress at the time—the young man would lose his job the instant the news reached the department.

"And I have a little way or two of ascertaining these things," added the secretary, warningly.

The next pay day was only two days later. On that pay day the young clerk who had got the drubbing from the secretary thought he knew something again. He drew the $50 coming to him for the half month, put in a time slip for the afternoon and hiked out to the Benning race track. He knew that his job was as good as pulled from under him and he resolved to take a big chance with the last money he had on earth. He slapped the $50 on the thing he knew something about, which stood at 50 to 1.

The thing that he thought he knew something about won in a canter. As soon as he had collected his $2,500 winnings the young man went to a telephone booth on the track grounds and called up the secretary of his department. The secretary had his ear to the receiver in due time.

"Is that you, Mr. Secretary?" inquired the young man at the track. "Oh, all right. Glad to know it's you. My name is So-and-So, and you'll probably recall me as the clerk in Such-and-Such a division whom you lambasted a few afternoons ago for not paying a few trifling little debts. Got that? Ye-eh? All right. You remember forbidding me to visit the Bennings race track any more, don't you? Ye-eh. I thought you would. Well, that's where I am now—the Bennings race track. I am out here g-a-m, gam, b-l-i-n-g, bling, gambling on the horses. See? I am out here because I like to gamble on the horse races, and because that's my own infernal business. And I'm ringing you up to tell you that I won't be at my little desk in your department any more. By the way, there's a pretty good, only partly worn office coat of mine hanging over the back of my desk chair that you can have if you want it; and—"

But at this point the secretary put up the receiver.

Do People Shun You

ON ACCOUNT OF FOUL BREATH FROM CATARRH?

THEN READ BELOW.

"My, My! What a Breath! Why Don't You Have Gauss Cure That Catarrh?"

If you continually k'hawk and spit and there is a constant dripping from the nose into the mouth, if you have foul, disgusting breath, you have Catarrh and I can cure it.

All you need to do is simply this: Fill out coupon below.

Don't doubt, don't argue! You have everything to gain, nothing to lose by doing as I tell you. I want no money—just your name and address.

FREE.

This coupon is good for one trial package of Gauss' Combined Catarrh Cure, mailed free in plain package. Simply fill in your name and address on dotted lines below and mail to

C. E. GAUSS, 5583 Main Street, Marshall, Mich.

.....

.....

.....

YEARS' MYSTERY KEY TO WEALTH?

Oklahomans to Investigate Hissing Noises in Gas Search.

Kingfisher, O. T., Feb. 23.—A local company has about completed arrangements to sink a well in search for oil, gas or other mineral wealth beneath the lands near this city. The Free Press reprints an article published in the Kingfisher World about sixteen years ago, which shows that even then there were dreams of underground wealth. The article says:

"There is no denying the fact that strange sounds are heard at night by those living in dugouts, or who have been near open wells when darkness has thrown its sombre pall over the land. The noise is of a hissing nature, as if gas was escaping through crevices in the ground. The other night the attention of a World reporter was called to it, and the hissing sound referred to was plainly heard.

"The supposition is that underneath the city, at a depth of 800 to 1,000 feet, is an immense reservoir filled with natural gas, waiting to be utilized by the enterprising citizens who will expend the time and money required to bore for a gas well of that depth. Each well that has been dug has demonstrated beyond a doubt that there is gas in untold quantities beneath us.

"If there is gas, there is oil, and if there is oil, there is coal. Why not investigate?

"I. H. Descombes, the grocery man, last summer put down a well 50 feet, and not liking the taste of the water, concluded to go deeper, and bored some 50 feet into the ground, and stopped on account of the sulphuric and oily taste of the water. It attracted the attention of several citizens who formerly resided in the oil regions of Pennsylvania, and all were firm in the belief that if the well had been sunk 300 or 1,000 feet, oil or gas in paying quantities would have been found.

"All of us have observed the oily, or what is termed blackish, scum on the surface of the water in Kingfisher Creek. This same scum was observed for years on Grand River in the state of Michigan and passed by unheeded, until there came a man from the oil regions, whose attention was attracted by the peculiar condition of the water. On investigation and following up the river, he discovered a spring near the river bank, not far from the town of Portland. A well was sunk, and at the depth of 600 feet oil was found in abundant and paying quantities. The oil surface indications can be seen any on the water in Kingfisher Creek. Would it not be timely to investigate?

"It has been suggested that the citizens raise the required amount of money to put down an artesian well on the hilltop to a depth of 1,000 or 1,500 feet, and if there is oil or gas beneath us it would be found. If not there, the water in the artesian well would supply the town with water at small cost, compared to the reservoir system of waterworks."

THROUGH THE HEART OF AFRICA

First Link in East and West Railway is Completed.

Cairo, Feb. 23.—And now it is a railroad from East to West through the heart of Africa which has captured the fancy of the various nations interested in African trade and development. With the Cape to Cairo railway from north to south an established fact, and with the opening of the Nile-Red Sea railway, it begins to look as though the things that were regarded as among the impossibilities of yesterday are the actualities of today, and that if history repeats itself the establishment of a trunk line between the Red sea and the Atlantic ocean would be accomplished in the not far distant future. Thus the last great stretch of territory untraversed by steam railways outside of the territories bordering on the polar regions, at least, would be opened to the world's civilization.

Certainly this idea has received quite an impetus by the opening of what might become the first link in the chain—the first division of an East and West African railroad. The idea of a railway from the Red sea to the Nile, however, is no new conception. It floated for a moment through the restless head and the scheming brain of Ismail Pasha. But it will be most generally remembered as an alternative route, discussed but not adopted, for the prosecution of the British campaigns in the Soudan. Its possibilities were thus canvassed about the time of Lord Wolseley's relief expedition, but Lord Wolseley himself chose to adhere to an advance up the Nile. Thus in this one respect at least trade and the railroad followed the flag.

It is of interest to note in this connection that the British have built this railroad, 312 miles in length, in less than sixteen months. Practically every ton of material for the Nile-Red Sea line had to be brought from England or from countries not less distant. The native labor employed was of the rudest description, particularly in the early stages of the work. Suakin was made the basis of operations, and the whole of the sea borne material used in construction passed through that port. Work was to have begun in August, 1904, but owing to the labor difficulties experienced from the Bedouin Arabs at first employed, no real start was made before October, 1904. Counting, therefore, to the date of the inauguration the laying of the railroad has occupied just about sixteen months. Impediments to progress were manifold. In summer the intense heat tried the endurance of the hardiest Englishmen and the other Europeans supervising the native labor. In the autumn and winter seasons torrential rains caused washouts and the wholesale sweeping away of rails and bridges. But with that zeal which has made the building of railroads one of the latter day wonders of the world, no matter what the country, the constructors pushed on, triumphing over every obstacle.

The influence of the new railway on the economic development of the Soudan may be slower than many predict, but it will be none the less certain and beneficient. The railway exists chiefly a channel for the produce of more fertile regions themselves served by a gradually extending system of lines, such as are now being laid from Abu Hamid to the Dongola province; the line to Kassala and from Al Obeid to Al Duyem, on the Nile, which are in contemplation, and which are certain to be built now that the main line is completed. Among the things that are certain to be carried over the main line from the Nile to the sea may be mentioned gum arabic, cotton and cereals for Africa.

The Yellow Fever Germ

Has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs, the most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria poison and constipation. 25c at all drug stores.

SUIT FOR $5,000 DAMAGES

By Bemidji Man for Alienation of His Wife's Affections.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 23.—Joseph Hughes of this city has brought a suit for $5,000 damages against E. L. Naylor for the alienation of the affections of his wife, Jennie Hughes. The papers in the case were served Monday at the home of Mr. Naylor, who is now in the Twin Cities. The case will come up for trial at the spring term of district court.

The soda cracker is an ideal food. Uneeda Biscuit are the ideal soda crackers. Indeed, the soda crackers rightly made in the first place, rightly protected first, last and all the time.

Only

5¢ In a dust tight, moisture proof package.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Get What You Ask For!

THERE Is a Reason—

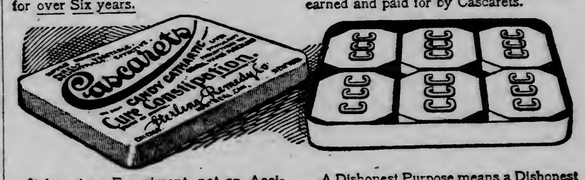

Why the Good People of America buy Cascarets as Fast as the Clock Ticks.

Every second some one, somewhere, Is Buying a little Ten-Cent Box of Cascarets.

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6—60 times to the Minute, 60 Minutes to the Hour, 3600 Boxes an Hour, 36,000 Boxes a Day of Ten Hours, 1,080,000 Boxes a Month, and then some.

Think of it—220,000 People take a Cascaret tablet each day. Millions use Cascarets when necessary.

The Judgment of Millions of Bright Americans is Infallible. They have been Buying and Taking Cascarets at that rate for over Six years.

It is not an Experiment, not an Accident or Incident, but a sound, Honest Business, based on Time-Tried-and-Tested Merit, never found wanting.

There is a Reason.

* * *

Cascarets are the Implacable foe of All Disease Germs; the Incomparable cleanser, purifier and strengthener of the entire Digestive Canal.

They Act like Exercise on the Bowel-Muscles, make them strong and active—able to Help Themselves do their work—keep themselves clean.

Cascarets are the safe-guard of Innocent Childhood against the Dreadful Death-dealing Dangers that threaten the Lives of the Little Ones.

They are Purely Vegetable, absolutely Harmless, always Reliable and Efficient, a true, faithful, loyal servant of Mankind.

Over Five Millions of Dollars have been Spent to make the merits of Cascarets known, and every cent of it would be lost, did not sound merit claim and hold the constant, continued friendship, Patronage and Endorsement of well-pleased people year after year.

* * *

There is also a Reason—

Why there are Parasites who attach themselves to the Healthy Body of Cascaret's success—Imitators, Counterfeiters, Substitutors.

They are Trade Thieves who would rob Cascarets of the "Good Will" of the people, and sneak unearned profits, earned and paid for by Cascarets.

A Dishonest Purpose means a Dishonest Product and a Disregard of the Purchasers' Health or Welfare.

Beware of the Slick Salesman and his ancient "Just as Good" story that common sense refutes.

Cascarets are made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and the famous little Ten Cent "Vest Pocket" box is here shown. They are never sold in bulk.

Every tablet marked "CCC."

Be sure you get the genuine.

* * *

FREE TO OUR FRIENDS!

We want to send to our friends a beautiful French-designed, GOLD-PLATED BONBON BOX, hard-enameled in colors. It is a beauty for the dressing table. Ten cents in stamps is asked as a measure of good faith and to cover cost of Cascarets, with which this dainty trinket is loaded. 726

Send to-day, mentioning this paper. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

OLD PEOPLE CONSTANT SUFFERERS IN WINTER

Most old people are great sufferers in Winter. They are seldom free from pains or ailments of some description, because they are not as able to withstand the severity of the climate, with its damp, changing weather, as are their younger, more vigorous companions. Cold weather starts the old aches and pains; they suffer with chilly sensations, cold extremities, poor appetite and digestion, nervousness, sleeplessness and other afflictions peculiar to old age. With advancing years the strength and vitality of the system begin to decline. The heart action is weak and irregular, the blood becomes thin and sluggish in its circulation, and often some old blood taint that has lain dormant in the system for years begins to manifest itself. A wart or pimple becomes a troublesome sore or ulcer, skin diseases break out, or the slight rheumatic pains felt in younger days now cause sleepless nights and hours of agony. There is no reason why old age should not be healthy and free from disease if the blood is kept pure and the system strong, and this can be done with S. S. S. It is a medicine that is especially adapted to old people, because it is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying, healing and building-up properties, and is very mild and gentle in its action. S. S. S. warms and reinvigorates the sluggish blood so that it moves with more rapidity, and clears it of all impurities and poisons. As this rich, healthy stream circulates through the body every part of the system is built up, the appetite and digestion improve, the heart action increases and the diseases and discomforts of old age pass away. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, and all troubles arising from diseased blood.

S.S.S.
PURELY VEGETABLE.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

DECLINE IN WHEAT

Market Very Weak With Liverpool Lower and Conditions Bearish.

Flax Somewhat Firmer and Foreigners Again Show Interest.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 23.—Wheat was again weak today. Liverpool was off ¾-⅞d and this with favorable conditions in this country for growing wheat led to an easy feeling that induced selling. The cash situation is very weak, wheat now at Buffalo commanding practically no premium over wheat to go down in the spring. Flour milling is very dull. The Paris market closed ¼c to 1½c lower, Berlin ½c lower, Antwerp unchanged to ⅝c higher and Budapest ⅜c higher.

The May option fell ¼c in Duluth, Chicago and New York, ⅛-¼c in Minneapolis, ¼-⅜c in St. Louis, ½c in Winnipeg and was unchanged in Kansas City.

Argentine shipments of wheat this week were 3,584,000 bus, against 3,608,000 bus last week and 3,344,000 bus last year. Shipments of corn were 130,000 bus against 227,000 bus last week and 340,000 bus last year.

Corn was firmer, advancing ¼-⅜c for the May option in Chicago, although Liverpool was ⅜c lower. May oats in Chicago advanced ¼c.

Car receipts at Duluth were 25, against none last year, and at Minneapolis 719, against 347 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 744, against 347 last year. Chicago received 11, against 35 last year. Winnipeg received 62 against 74 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 988,000 bus, last year 484,000 bus. Shipments 212,000 bus, last year 285,000 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 209,000 bus.

Primary receipts of corn were 1,114,000 bus, last year 548,000 bus. Shipments 706,000 bus, last year 515,000 bus. Clearances were 986,000 bus.

Wheat was quiet in the Duluth market today. May wheat opened ¼c lower at 80¾c and dropped to 80⅝c by 9:35. At 9:50, the price had rallied to 80¾-⅞c, falling by 10:00 to 80¾c and advancing at 10:20 to 81c. At 11:40, the price had declined to 80¾c again and advanced by 12:35 to 81¼c. At 12:52, the price had dropped again to 81c. The closing price was 81c, a loss of ¼c from Wednesday. July wheat was inactive and closed at 82¼c, a loss of ⅜c from Wednesday.

Flax was just fairly active. Seed was ⅝c higher in Antwerp. A small amount of flax was worked for export from here. May flax opened ½c lower at $1.15½, advanced to $1.15⅝, fell to $1.14¾, advanced to $1.15⅝, dropped to $1.15 and ranged between that and $1.16 during the rest of the session. The closing price was $1.15⅞, a gain of ¼c over Wednesday. July flax opened ¼c lower at $1.16¾, dropped to $1.16 and rallied to $1.17⅛. The closing price was $1.17¼, a gain of ¼c over Wednesday.

September flax opened unchanged at $1.15½, dropped to $1.15¼ and closed at $1.16, a gain of ½c over Wednesday. The Argentine shipments of flax for the week were 912,000 bus as compared with 920,000 bus for last week and 888,000 bus for last year.

May oats were ⅛c higher, as were oats to arrive and on track. The other coarse grains were unchanged.

Following were the closing prices:

Wheat—To arrive, No. 1 northern, 79⅞c; No. 2 northern, 77¼c. On track—No. 1 northern, 79⅞c; No. 2 northern, 77¼c; May, 81c; July, 82¼c. Flax—To arrive, $1.15⅜; on track, $1.13⅜; May, $1.15⅞; July, $1.17¼; September, $1.16; October, $1.14⅝. Oats—To arrive, 29½c; on track, 29½c; May, 29⅝c. Rye, 60c. Barley, 38½-45c.

Cars inspected—Wheat 25, last year, holiday; oats 6, rye 1, barley 3, flax 25.

Receipts—Wheat, 47,240; oats, 6,047; barley, 12,767; flax, 23,945.

Shipments—Wheat, 1,360; oats, 5,484; barley, 5,854.

Cash Sales Friday.

No. 1 northern wheat, 4 cars $0.79½
No. 1 northern, 2 car 79⅝
No. 1 northern, 5 cars 80
No. 1 northern, 1,500 bus 79¾
No. 2 northern wheat, 2 cars 78
No. 2 northern, 1 car 78½
No. 2 northern, 10 cars 78¾
No. 3 wheat, 2 cars 76⅞
No. 3, 1 car 7
No. 3, 3 cars 77⅝
No. 3, 4 cars 77½
Durum wheat, 1 car No. 1 ..... 72½
Durum, 2 cars No. 2 ..... 69½
Flax, 1 car 1.12½
Flax, 5 cars 1.12⅝
Flax, 1 car 1.12⅝
Flax, 5 cars 1.13
Oats, 2 cars No. 3 white 29
Oats, 1 car No. 2 white 29½
Oats, 10,000 bus No. 3 white 29
Oats, 1 car No. 4 white 28½
Barley, 2 cars 38
Barley, 1 cars 38½
Barley, 3 cars 39
Barley, 1 car 40
Barley, 1 car 41
Rye, 2 cars No. 2 60

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

General Selling by Commission Houses Causes Weakness in Wheat.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—General selling by commission houses caused weakness today in the wheat market here. Continued liberal shipments from Argentina and reports of wet weather in India were chiefly responsible for the selling pressure. Other factors were weak cables and mild weather in the United States. Practically the only support to the market came from shorts. The May option opened ⅛@⅜c to ⅜@⅞c lower at 81⅜c to 82c, sold off to 81½@⅝c and then rallied to 81⅞c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 755 cars against 305 cars last week and 404 cars a year ago.

Late in the day a firm tone developed on covering by shorts. For May the highest point of the day was reached at 82⅝c. The close was quite firm, with May off ¼c, at 82¼@⅜c.

Lower cables and the break in wheat had a depressing effect on the corn market. Demand was light. May opened ⅛@¼c to ⅜@½c lower at 42⅜c to 42½c, and later sold at 42⅝c. Local receipts were 440 cars, with 8 of contract grade.

During the last half of the session the tone of the market became firm along with the upturn in wheat. May advanced to 43@⅜c. The cloe was firm with May up ¼@⅜c, at 43c.

Despite the weakness of other grains, the oats market was steady. The volume of trading was very small. May opened a shade to ⅛c lower at 29⅜c to 29⅜@⅞c, and sold up to 29⅝@30c. Local receipts 178 cars.

Influenced by a 5c advance in the price of live hogs, the provisions market opened firm, but later prices yielded to selling by pitters. Weakness of wheat and corn had a bearish effect. May pork opened unchanged to 2½c up at $15.60 to $15.62½. Lard was a shade to 2½@5c higher at $7.75 to $7.77½. Ribs were unchanged at $8.20.

Close: Wheat—May, 82¼@⅜c; July, 81⅜c. Corn—May, 43c; July, 5⅝@⅜c. Oats—May, 30⅛c; July, 29⅜@½c. Pork—May, $15.62½; July, $15.20. Lard—May, $7.77½@7.80; July, $7.85. Ribs—May, $8.22½; July, $8.25@8.27½. Rye—Cash, 66c; May, 65½c. Flax—Cash Northwestern, $1.13½; Southwestern, $1.08½; May, $1.14½. Timothy—March, $3.40. Clover—Cash, $14.00. Barley—Cash, 37@52c.

Cash—Wheat—No. 2 red, 84@85c; No. 3 red, 80½@81c; No. 2 hard, 80@82½c; No. 3 hard, 77@81c; No. 1 northern, 82@84c; No. 2 northern, 81@83c; No. 3 spring, 78@83c. Corn—No. 2, 38½@3⅞c; No. 3, 37¼@38¼c. Oats—No. 2, 29½@29¾c; No. 3, 29¼@29½c.

American Wheat Markets.

	Duluth.	Minneapolis.	Chicago.	New York.
May—
Open ...	80¾	80½	82-81⅞	87⅜
High ...	81⅛	80⅞	82⅜	88¼
Low ...	80⅝	80¾-⅜	81½-⅝	87⅝
Close ...	81⅛	80¾-⅞A	82-81⅝B	88A
Close 21 ...	81¼	81	82½-⅜	88¼
July—
Open ...	82⅝	82¾	81-80⅞	.....
High ...	.....	82⅝	81½	87½
Low ...	.....	82¼	80⅝	86⅝
Close ...	82¼B	82⅝A	81⅜A	87¼
Close 21 ...	82⅝	82⅝	81⅜-⅝	87¼
St. Louis—			Close 23.	Close 21.
May			80¼	80¾-⅞
July			79	79⅝
Kansas City—
May			75⅜	75⅜
July			73⅜-¾	73¾
Winnipeg—
May			77⅜	77½
July			75⅜	79

Chicago Oats, Corn and Pork.

	Oats. May.	Corn. May.	Pork. May.
Open	29¾B	42½B	$15.62B
High	30-29¾	42¾-⅞	16.02
Low	29⅜	42¼-⅜	15.52
Close	30⅛B	43B	15.62

Duluth Car Inspection.

Wheat, No. 1 hard, 6; No. 1 northern, 10; No. 2 northern, 8; No. 2 durum, 1; total of durum, 1; total of all wheat, 25; last year, holiday.

Flax, No. 1 northwestern, 1; No. 1, 24; total, 25. Oats, 6; rye, 1; barley, 3. Total of all cars, 60. Cars on track today, 113.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, Feb. 23.—Wheat—Spot nominal; futures steady; March, 6s 7¾d; May, 6s 4d; July, 6s 5⅝d. Corn—Spot quiet; American mixed ne w,3s 11d; American mixed old, 4s 7½d; futures steady; March, 3s 11⅛d; May, 4s ⅜d.

New York Grain.

New York, Feb. 23.—Close: Wheat—May, 88c; July, 87¼c; September, 85⅝c. Corn—May, 48¾c; July, 49½c; September, 50½c.

Minneapolis Wheat.

Minneapolis, Feb. 23.—Close: Wheat—May, 80¾@7⅝c; July, 82⅝c; No. 1 hard, 80¾c; No. 1 northern, 80c; No. 2 northern, 78c.

Grain Gossip.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—The sharply lower cables this morning, coming unexpectedly, caused the market to sell off right at the start and the liquidation that followed, too, brought prices to a new low level before pressure ceased. The shorts evidently found the low point an attractive place to cover a portion of their wheat, as the market rallied slowly to the 82c market for May, and moved up quickly ⅜c from that point, with the closing 1¾c up, the high point. Broomhall attributes lower cables to more favorable conditions in India and continued liberal shipments from Argentina. There has been numerous complaints received of crop damage, mostly from Southern Illinois, where it is reported wheat has heaved, leaving root dangerously close to the top, if not exposed altogether. This would prove to be a serious thing if a cold wave should sweep down and it is also dangerous if we are still to go through a period of freezing and thawing weather. The foreward season we have had admits of possibility of crop complaints coming earlier than usual, and, of course, must be considered a market factor. The market today was much like its immediate predecessors. It still shows a disposition to rally sharply from the low point, giving market an improved range with better trading possibilities. While there seems nothing tangible right at the moment on which to base hopes for a bull market, we must not forget that the market has had a good break. On the sharp sudden breaks we feel it advisable to cover at least a portion of short lines.

Corn—As intimated in our letter of this morning this market gives evidence of broadening outh, and gives more promise of a better price range than we have had for some time. It has been popular for quite a while to expose the selling side of corn, resulting naturally in a large scattered short interest, much liquidation having been going on for some time. While we do not look for any great improvement on the bull side right away, we have nevertheless got to the point where prices look attractive, or at least the market has reached what seems like debatable ground. For the time the market looks like a scalping market.

Oats—Sympathized largely with the action of corn, closing ⅛@¼c better. Trade is still dull, but the tone is improved.

Provisions—Pork showed a reactionary tendency and it seems the strength in lard and ribs is largely responsible for the rally that developed later in pork. There was a better demand all through the session for lard, with ribs naturally sympathizing. We feel this market will take care of itself on the declines.

* * *

Edwards, Wood & Co.: Wheat had a weak turn early in both Minneapolis and Chicago. May sold at new low figures. The selling was mostly of wheat bought on Wednesday in anticipation of stronger cables and after this pressure was out of the way buyers took confidence again, turning the market up. At this new level the feeling is running strong that prices are low enough and following a week of heavy liquidation in several stocks created some nervousness, and reactions followed which reached 1 in Colorado Fuel, 1½ in Northern Pacific and 2 points in Great Northern preferred and Smelting preferred. Linseed dropped 1¼, Pressed Steel Car and Chicago Terminal ¼ and the preferred 6½ below Wednesday's final. Subsequently the market rose to a generally higher level than at the start, under the influence of the large buying of Reading and the transcontinental stocks. Reading improved 2¾, Brooklyn Transit 2, Union Pacific 1¾ and St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, Amalgamated Copper, Sugar and Consolidated Gas about a point.

After further advances the demand subsided largely, but without much effect on prices until near noon. Great Northern rose 3½, Northern Pacific 3, Northwestern 1½ and Canadian Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, United States Steel and Virginia-Carolina Chemical 1. American Car preferred lost 1½. Reaction in Reading and Great Northern preferred of 1½ and in Northern Pacific of 1 affected the tone at noon. Bonds were irregular.

The general list was without any appreciable price change between 12 and 1 o'clock. In fact the market was practically stagnant, the slight interest manifested discouraging active professional operations. Colorado Southern first preferred, Pressed Steel Car preferred and North American ran off a point and Lake Erie & Western 2¼.

The progress of the day was marked by further sinding on the prices. Consolidated Gas yielded 3¼ and Lake Erie & Western 3. Wabash gained 1⅛ and Delaware & Hudson 2¼. The pressure against Consolidated Gas —was caused by the fact that the gas commission had fixed upon a rate of 80 cents for gas in the borough of Manhattan.

Business was at a low ebb and the general price movement poorly defined. A further sagging gave place to hardening when Wabash preferred extended its rise to 2⅝. Atchison gained 7⅝ and Southern Pacific a point. Pacific Coast declined 1¾. Consolidated Gas 4⅜. Butterick Publishing 2 and Kansas City Southern preferred and Hide & Leather preferred 1¾. Quite an active demand sprang up in the final dealings and leading stocks rallied to top prices. The amount of the dividend on Union Pacific was fully restored the price. The closing was quiet and firm.

Quotations furnished by Edwards, Wood & Co., Room A, Torrey building:

Stocks—	High	Low	Close
Atchison, com...	91	89⅝	91
Smelter, com...	161½	156⅜	161½
Amn. Woolen...	45½	45¼	45¼
Aml. Copper...	111	110¼	111
B. & O. Ry...	111¼	110⅝	111
B. R. T...	82½	80¾	82½
Can. Pac. R...	171	170¾	171
C. & O...	56⅞	56¼	56⅞
C. F. I...	64½	63	64⅜
C. G. W., com..	21¾	20⅝	20¾
Erie, 1st pfd....	78¾	78	78¾
Erie, com...	43¾	43¼	43¾
Central Leather..	43¼	42⅜	42⅜
L. & N...	147¼	145	147
Mex. Cent....	25	24¾	24¾
Met. Ry....	117¼	116⅜	117
Mo. Pac....	100	99⅜	100
Manhattan...	159	159	159
Norf. & West...	87	86¾	87
N. Y. C....	148¾	147¾	148¾
O. & W....	50⅝	50¼	50⅝
Peoples Gas....	98¼	97⅛	97⅝
Pacific Mail....	45⅝	44½	44⅝
Penn Ry....	139¾	138⅝	139
Rock Island, com....	25¾	25⅜	25⅝
Rock Island, pfd....	65	64½	65
Reading, com...	139¼	137½	139½
R. I. & S., pfd....	105	105	105
R. I. & S., com....	32	31¾	31⅝
Rubber, com...	50⅞	50¼	50⅝
St. Paul....	180	178	179⅝
Sugar...	141¼	140	140¾
So. Railway, com....	38⅛	37¾	38⅛
So. Pacific....	66⅜	66¼	66⅜
T. C. & I....	154½	153	153
Texas Pacific....	34	33¾	34
U. S. Steel, pfd....	107¼	106⅝	107
U. S. Steel, com....	42⅜	41⅝	42¼
Union Pacific, com....	151¾	148¾	150⅞
Wis. Cent., com....	27	27	27
Western Union....	93½	93¼	93¼
Wabash, com...	23¾	22⅞	23½
Wabash, pfd....	48⅛	45⅝	48⅛
Northern Pacific....	223¾	221¼	223
Mo. Pac....	99⅝	98¾	99⅝
Southern Pacific....	73¼	72¾	73¼
Great Northern....	329½	326½	329½
Erie 2nd....	69½	68½	69½
Denver	45	44¼	45

The total sales were 593,700 shares.

Stock Gossip.

Logan & Bryan to Paine, Webber & Co.: The market closed strong and in most cases at about the best prices of the day. The tone early showed some hesitation, but as the session advanced confidence seemed to grow. Wall street is looking for a fairly favorable bank statement tomorrow, and this naturally contributed to the better feeling. The copper metal situation is beginning to show a hardening tendency again, and this was reflected in coppers. This can be truly said of the general market.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul—Barrett & Zimmerman's report: Movement of horse is improving and sales today are ahead of the same corresponding time last week and two weeks ago. This may be attributed to the mild weather of the last few days and the preparation of the farmers in beginning their spring's work. Receipts today were light compared with the past few days. All classes moving at the following values:

Drafters, extra.... ..... $160 to 185
Drafters, choice.... ..... 140 to 160
Drafters, common to good.... 125 to 140
Farm mares, extra.. ..... 135 to 150
Farm mares, choice.... ..... 120 to 135
Farm mares, common to good. 75 to 125
Delivery, choice.. .... 125 to 150
Delivery, common to good.... 75 to 125

Treasury Balances.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $151,215,921; gold, $74,812,699; gold certificates, $47,815,210.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Feb. 23.—The cotton market opened barely steady at an advance of 5 points on February, but generally unchanged to 5 points lower, and notwithstanding the better cables than expected and bullish advices from various spot markets, sold off to a net decline of 8 points during the fiert few minutes, with March touching 10.17, or anew low level for the movement. The decline was due to continued March liquidation, some local bear pressure and stop-loss orders, but the demand was of a very good character at the decline. New Orleans was relatively steady and prices here rallied to a net gain of about 4 points during the middle of the morning, with the market active and firm.

Cotton spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 10.80; middling gulf, 11.05; sales, 105 bales. Futures closed steady; February, 10.31; March, 10.32; April, 10.44; May, 10.55; June, 10.65; July, 10.72; August, 10.64; September, 10.33; October, 10.22; November, 10.25; December, 10.27.

THE COPPER STOCKS.

The following are the closing quotations of copper stocks at Boston today, reported by Paine, Webber & Co., 328 West Superior street:

	Bid.	Asked.
Amalgamated	110¾	111
American Dev. Co.	....	18
Anaconda	283	....
Atlantic	24	24½
Arcadian	4½	....
Adventure	6⅜	7
Allouez	39¾	40
Bingham	43¾	44
Black Mountain	13	13½
Copper Range	80¼	81
Calumet & Hecla	685	700
Calumet & Arizona	116	118
Calumet & Pittsburg	36	36½
Centennial	26½	27
Denn-Arizona	....	27
Daly West	15	16
Franklin	17¾	18
Granby	9½	9⅞
Green Con.	27⅛	....
Isle Royale	23	24
Junction	28¼	29
L. S. & P.	....	43½
Michigan	13½	13⅝
Mayflower	1	1½
Mass	9½	9¾
Mohawk	56½	57
Mercur. Cons.	65c	66c
North Butte	85½	86
Old Dominion	47⅛	47½
Old Colony	1	1½
Osceola	97	100
Phoenix	1⅛	1¼
Parrott	39	39¼
Pittsburg & Duluth	....	24¼
Quincy	93	95
Rhode Island	5¾	6
Santa Fe	2	2¼
Shannon	6¼	6¼
Tecumseh	13⅝	14
Tamarack	107	109
Trinity	16¾	16⅞
United States Mining	57½	61⅞
Utah	64¼	64½
United Copper	73	73¼
Union Land	2½	3½
Victoria	7	7½
Wyandot	1½	1¾
Wolverine	132	133
Winona	6¼	6½
Warren	....	17½
Copper Queen	....	2
Keweenaw	15	15½
Boston Con.	27⅝	28
Nevada Con.	14	14⅝
Utah Con.	....	31
East Butte	8⅛	8¼
Sullivan	....	2

Copper Gossip.

Chicago Record-Herald: Several of the prominent copper mining stocks that are traded in the Boston market were in the unlisted department of the Chicago stock exchange yesterday at the meeting of the governing committee. The copper mining stocks listed were:

Tamarack Mining company, $1,500,000 capital.

United States Mining company, $12,105,000 stock and $595,000 bonds.

Shannon Copper company, $2,989,160 stock and $600,000 bonds.

Atlantic Mining company, $2,500,000 stock.

Allouez Mining company, $2,500,000 stock.

Adventure Consolidated Copper company, $2,500,000.

Bingham Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, $7,600,000 stock and $1,000,000 bonds.

British Columbia Copper company, limiter, $1,701,786 stock.

Centennial Copper company, $2,225,000.

Boston Consolidated Copper & Gold Mining, £500,000 stock.

Massachusetts Consolidated Mining company, $2,500,000.

Isle Royale company, $3,750,000.

Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Copper company, $13,500,000.

Daly-West Mining company, $3,600,000.

Michigan Copper Mining company, $2,500,000.

Mohawk Mining company, $2,500,000.

Nevada Consolidated, $4,887,500.

North Butte, $6,000,000.

Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting, $3,750,000.

Parrott Silver & Copper, $2,298,500.

Winona Copper, $2,500,000.

Osceola Consolidated Mining company, $2,408,750.

Wolverine Copper Mining, $1,500,000.

Utah Consolidated Mining, $1,489,350.

New York Money.

New York, Feb. 23.—Money on call firm, 4@5 per cent; ruling rates, 4½; last loan, 4; closing bid, 3½ offered at 4; time loans firm; 60 and 90 days and 6 months, 5@5¼ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5¼ per cent. Sterling exchange firmer with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86@4.85 for demand and at $4.82@95 for 60 days; posted rates, $4.83½@4.84 and $4.87@½; commercial bills, $4.82¾@⅞. Bar silver, 66½c. Mexican dollars, 51¼c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

Following are the current quotations for goods which change hands in lots on the open market:

BUTTER.

Creamery prints.. .... 28 @ 29
Creamery, in tubs.. .... 27 @ 28
Dairies, fancy .... 20 @ 21
Renovated .... 20 @ 21
Packing stock 14

EGGS.

Fresh.... .. .. 15 @ 16
Storage.... 11

CHEESE.

Full cream twins 14¼
Block and wheel Swiss .... 14½@ 15
Brick cheese, No. 1. 14
Limberger full cream cheese 13
Primost 7

HONEY.

New fancy white comb .... 13½@ 14

MAPLE SUGAR.

Vermont, per lb. 15
Maple syrup, 10-lb. cans 1 35

NUTS.

Filberts, per lb. 13
Soft-shell walnuts, per lb. 16½
Cocoanuts, per doz. 60
Brazils, per lb. 12
Hickory nuts, per bus. 2 00
Pecans, per lb. 13
Almonds 16
Black Walnuts, per bus. .. 1 65
Mixed nuts 12½
Peanuts, roasted, per lb. .. 7½@ 8
Chestnuts, per lb 11

FRUITS.

Apples, Ben Davis, per bbl 6 00
Baldwins.... .... 6 00 @ 6 50
York State Russets 5 00
Tolman Sweets.... .... 6 00 @ 6 50
Colorado Winesaps, per box 2 25
Bananas, per bunch.. .... 2 00 @ 2 50
Cranberries 16 00
Dates, Fard, 12-lb. box 1 10
Dates, sugar walnut, 10-lb. box 1 00
Figs, Smyrna, 12-lb. box .. 1 35
Grape fruit, per case.... 4 25
Malaga grapes, per keg... 7 50
Lemons, Cal., per box.... 3 50 @ 3 75
California Navels.... .... 2 75 @ 3 25
Strawberries, per qt.... 50

VEGETABLES.

Navy beans 2 00
Beets, per cwt. 1 75
Top beets, per doz. 1 00
Cucumbers, hothouse 2 25
Cabbage, per ton 35 00
Cauliflower, per box 4 00
Celery, Milwaukee, per doz 35
Celery, Cal., per doz.... 70
Carrots, per cwt.... .... 1 00
Egg plant, per doz. 1 75
Horseradish, per lb. 12
Lettuce, leaf, per bus.... 1 25
Onions, per cwt. 1 65
Onions, Spanish, per crate 2 00

NOTICE OF CHANGE OF PARTNERSHIP—

Notice is hereby given that Andrew Gowan has withdrawn from the copartnership of Twohy-Kileen company, and that the firm business will be continued by the remaining partners, C. L. Twohy and Thomas Kileen, under the same firm name and that the remaining partners will be responsible for the debts and entitled to all the rights and claims of the copartnership.

Dated, Duluth, Minn., February 21st, 1906.

ANDREW GOWAN,
C. L. TWOHY,
THOMAS KILEEN.

We are headquarters for
Bonanza Circle
AND
North Butte Copper Stocks
PAINE, WEBBER & CO.
BANKERS AND BROKERS.
328 West Superior Street.

EDWARDS - WOOD CO.
(Incorporated)
Dealers in
Stocks, Grain, Provisions
Main Office
Fifth and Robert Sts., ST. PAUL, MINN

J. A. MINNEAR & CO.
Brokers
Copper Stocks
Curbs a Specialty
LAURIUM, MICH.

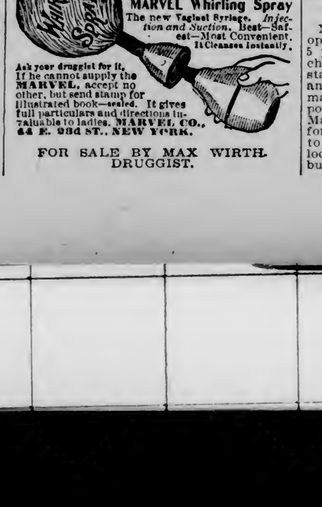

ARE YOU
BUYING MINING STOCKS?
Before doing so, write me. I offer for sale limited blocks of—
Seyler Humphrey.. ....85c
Red Top.... ....$2
Fair Rock Manhattan.... .....1c
Sassy Sal.... ....19c
Bullfrog Extension.. .....27c
And all other desirable mining stocks at prices that will save you money. Address
R. B. HIGBEE,
Broker, Germania Life Bldg., St. Paul, Minn. Established in 1899.

A Shipping Mine!
400 Tons Already Gone To the Smelter—$55.00 a Ton.
Sixteen mining claims—$150,000 expended already in tunneling, trams, buildings and other improvements. This is the record of the H. T. & F. Mining Co. A block of 50,000 shares is now offered to investors at very low rate. Call or write.
The Happy Thought and Fairview Minning Co.
Parlor G, St. Louis Hotel.

SHASTA
MAY BLOSSOM
MAY BLOSSOM COPPER
A California representative of the Shasta Company will be at our office for a few days. He is thoroughly familiar with the proposition and will be pleased to see any parties who wish to make an investment that will bring large returns to the investors.
Mr. Claypool, who recently visited and examined the property, corroborates what is stated by the literature and the representative of the Shasta May Blossom Company. He finds the management of the company competent and conservative. He also will be glad to give the facts to any persons who may wish to embrace the opportunity now offered to purchase the stock of the Shasta May Blossom Company at present price, 15 cents per share. For full information communicate with
H. E. SMITH & CO.
Wm. Kaiser, Mgr.,
Main floor Palladio Bldg. 'Phones; Zenith 696, Duluth 82-L.

Ophir-Buckhorn
Consolidated into
The Buckhorn Ore Co.
One authority writes: "I have been instrumental in getting the warring factions together."
Another authority states: "The Buckhorn Ore Company yesterday filed its Articles of Incorporation."
Again: "The Buckhorn is already a shipping mine, and the Ophir Tunnel Company has good prospects in their own ground."
$30.00 buys one share Junction.
$30.00 buys 100 shares Ophir.
Will Junction advance $1.00 per share as soon as and as often as Ophir advances one cent? Which should you buy? Act wisely and communicate at once with
H. E. SMITH & CO.
Wm. Kaiser, Mgr.,
Main floor Palladio Bldg.,
Phones: Zenith 696, Duluth 82-L.

PILES are serious, cause much pain and discomfort, and sometimes actual disability.
SYMPTOMS: There may be itching and stinging, then again pain, soreness and bleeding. Tumors form, enlarge, protrude, and if neglected, ulcerate, becoming very serious and painful. To cure them quickly and painlessly use
INJECTION MALYDOR.
Instant relief. Cures in several days. At druggists, or sent with Syringe, for $1.00
Malydor Mfg. Co., Lancaster, O., U. S. A.

Every Woman
is interested and should know about the wonderful
MARVEL Whirling Spray
The new Vaginal Syringe. Injection and Suction. Best—Safest—Most Convenient. It Cleanses Instantly.
Ask your druggist for it. If he cannot supply the MARVEL, accept no other, but send stamp for illustrated book—sealed. It gives full particulars and directions invaluable to ladies. MARVEL CO., 44 E. 23d ST., NEW YORK.
FOR SALE BY MAX WIRTH. DRUGGIST.

GIVE US ORDERS TO SELL TO ARRIVE ON BULGES
C. C. WYMAN & CO.
DULUTH. GRAIN COMMISSION. MINNEAPOLIS.

BONANZA CIRCLE STOCKS
Telephones—Duluth, 1408. Zenith, 971. Headquarters 404-405 Palladio Bldg. Duluth, Minnesota.
FRED H. MERRITT
I devote my entire time to buying and selling on commission and guarantee best prices. I confine myself to the most active stocks and make a specialty of large orders.
My personal customers buy on the low and sell on the high. The following prices prevailed Friday, Feb. 23, 1906:

COMPANY.	Open.	High	Low	Close.
North Butte	$85.50	$86.00	$85.00	$86.00 A
Calumet & Arizona	118.00	118.00	116.00	116.00 B
Calumet & Pittsburg	36.50	36.50	36.00	36.00 B
Lake Superior & Pittsburg	43.50	43.50	43.00	43.00 A
Pittsburg & Duluth	23.25	23.25	22.75	23.00 A
Junction	28.50	28.50	28.00	28.00 B
American Development Company	15.00	15.00	13.75	14.00 A
Warren Realty & Development Co.	17.50	17.50	17.00	17.00 B
Denn-Arizona	25.00	25.00	24.50	24.75 A
Black Mountain	12.75	12.75	12.00	12.00 B
Keweenaw Copper Co.	16.00	16.00	15.50	15.50 A
Butte & London Copper Co.	2.50	2.50	2.50	2.50 A
Greene Consolidated	26.50	27.25	26.50	27.25 A

LATEST NEWS:
The opening this morning was firm at Wednesday's close, but within a half hour stocks were freely offered without a corresponding demand. Lake Superior & Pittsburg, Pittsburg & Duluth, American and Denn were plenty with no buying orders. Warren also shows a loss in sympathy with American. I have no news from Bisbee today. Considerable copper front is appearing in the Butte & London shaft. In the conglomerate formation this has no material value, but it is an excellent indication of what may be expected at further depth. The shaft is down nearly 100 feet and all work is progressing nicely. The Calumet & Arizona has declared its regular $2.50 quarterly dividend, which amounts to $500,000. Some of the traders anticipated a $3 dividend and being disappointed somewhat are liquidating their holdings. However, to the investor, the showing made by Calumet & Arizona is entirely satisfactory. Favorable news should be again forthcoming from Bisbee within a day or two. The public does not appreciate the recent developments, nor in all probability will they appreciate further news while in their present mood.

Parsley, per doz.	35	@	75
Parsnips, per cwt.	1 75
Sweet potatoes, per bbl.	4 50
Potatoes, per bus.	60	@	65
Radishes, round, per doz.	75
Spinach, per box	1 00	@	1 25
Florida tomatoes, basket..	90
Rutabagas, per cwt.	1 00
POP CORN.
Choice, per lb.	3½
Rice corn, shelled	6
CIDER.
Clarified, 16-gal. keg	3 50
Orange, cherry or pear	3 50
Black raspberry juice	5 50
MEATS.
Beef	5½@		7½
Mutton	8½@		9½
Lard	.....		8⅝
Pork loins... ..	.....		11½
Veal	.....		9
DRESSED POULTRY.
Springs, per lb.	16
Hens, per lb..	15
Spring ducks	14
Turkeys	20
Geese	13	@	14
HAY.
Timothy, No. 1, per ton	9 00
Timothy, No. 2, per ton	8 50
Upland, per ton	8 00
FEED.
Bran, per ton	17 00
Oats, per. bus.	32
Shorts, per ton	18 00
FISH.
Trout, per lb.	11
Pike, per lb.	10
White, per lb.	10	@	12½
Lake Superior herring	2½
Skinned perch	6
Smelts, No. 1	12
Smelts, No. 2	10
Fresh salmon, per lb.	15
Halibut, per lb.	12½
Oysters, standard, per gal.	1 45
Oysters, select, per gal.	1 85

Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Butter steady; creameries, 17@27½c; dairies, 17@24½c. Eggs steady; at mark, cases included, 11½c. Cheese firm; daisies, 13c, twins, 11¾@12c; Young Americas, 13c.

New York.

New York, Feb. 23.—Butter, firm; unchanged; receipts, 6,736. Cheese, firm; unchanged; receipts, 1,171. Eggs, irregular; receipts, 13,036. State, Pennsylvania and nearby fancy selected white, 20c; do choice 18@19c; do mixed, extra, 16½@17c; Western firsts, 17½c; do seconds, 13½@14c; Southerns, 11½@14½c.

ARKANS

SATURDAY'S MARKET BASKET

OPPEL'S

SATURDAY'S BARGAINS

Large boxes Best Soda Crackers for, per lb.....6½c
Half boxes Best Cookies for, per lb.....8½c
10-lb. lots of Elsie Cheese for, per lb.....15c
Elegant Creamery Butter for, per lb.....25c
Strictly Fresh Eggs for, per dozen.....17c
Three cans Tomato Soup for.....25c
25c cans Sliced Pineapple for.....19c
20c cans Sifted Peas for.....14c
2½ bushel sacks Potatoes, (sack included), for.....$1.68
49-lb. sack high Patent Flour for.....$1.15
50-lb. boxes of best Laundry Starch for.....$1.78
100-LBS. GRANULATED SUGAR FOR.....$4.55
One dozen best 10c Corn for, per dozen.....65c
4 lbs. 4-Crown Raisins for.....25c

OPPOSITE CITY HALL. 117 EAST SUPERIOR STREET

QUALITY IS OUR LEADING FEATURE.

RATHBUN'S

SIMON CLARK, Manager.

New 'Phone 656. 29 E. Superior St. Old 'Phone 1679.

The prolific hen controls the egg market and the consumer is benefited accordingly.

No. 1 Storage Eggs—dozen.....11c
Strictly New Laid Eggs—3 dozen.....50c
Hand Separator Creamery Butter—special snap—per lb.....22c
Order early—it will go like hot cakes.
Swift's Pride Laundry Soap—full size bars—the best laundry soap on the market—10 bars.....25c
Cooking Apples—Spy and Baldwins—all sound—per peck.....40c
Table Apples—something strictly fancy—per peck.....60c
Sweet, Juicy Navel Oranges—the pick of the Orchard—dozen—
20c—25c—35c
FRESH KOSHER SAUSAGES. SOUTHERN VEGETABLES IN ABUNDANCE.
Leaf Lettuce—3 heads.....10c
Fancy Cauliflower—each—15c and.....20c

If you want the best goods for the least money make your purchases at this store.

Fancy Egg Plant—each.....15c
Radishes, Celery, Cucumbers, Spinach, Parsley, Oyster Plant, New Beets.
Country Print Butter—per lb.....22c
Pure Leaf Rendered Lard—per lb.....9c
Small Oranges—3 dozen.....25c
Sweet Sugar Cured Hams—per lb.....12½
Potatoes—Cook white and perfect—bus.....60c
12 lb. Sack Best Graham Flour—sack.....30c
Asparagus Tips—the ideal vegetable—per can.....30c
4 Cans Genuine Sweet Corn.....25c
3 Packets Jellicon—only.....25c
1-lb. can Ritter's Tomato Soup—special snap—per can.....5c
Success Brand, Java and Mocha Coffee excels all others—3-lb. can.....85c

GASSER'S

209-211 West Superior St.

100-lb sack Granulated Sugar.....$4.50
With an additional purchase of $5.00 in groceries.
25-lb sack Granulated Sugar.....$1.25
EGGS—per dozen.....13c

Cero-Fruto Breakfast Foods—3 pkgs.....25c
Norka Breakfast Food—pkg.....8c
Baker's Chocolate—per lb.....30c
Baker's Cocoa—per can.....22c
Japan Tea—per lb.....25c
Coffee—3-lb can M. & J.....85c
Flour—49-lb sack, patent.....$1.15
Pineapples—per can.....15c
Apricots—per can.....15c
Egg Plums—per can.....12c
Green Gages—per can.....12c
Grapes—per can.....12c
Pears—per can.....15c
Peaches, sliced—per can.....15c
Swift's Pride Laundry Soap—10 bars for.....25c
This is the best laundry soap that we know anything about, and at this price we ought to supply every family in Duluth.

MEAT DEPARTMENT.

Choice steer Rib Boiling—per lb.....5c
Choice steer Pot Roast—per lb.....10c and 12½c
Choice steer Round Steak—per lb.....12½c
Choice wether Legs Mutton—per lb.....15c
Choice Pig Pork Loins—per lb.....11c and 12c
Sugar-Cured Hams—per lb.....14c
Sugar-Cured Bacon—per lb.....15c
FRESH KILLED POULTRY.
We shall carry a full line of Fresh and Salt Fish for the Lenten season, which begins next Wednesday.

THE RIGHT PRICE BOYS.

O'Leary & Campbell

15 EAST SUPERIOR ST.

PURE FOOD SALE

Tomorrow we offer not only the best quality goods but quote the lowest prices.

Baldwin Apples, guaranteed all sound—per bbl.....$4.50
Good Cooking Apples, peck..40c
Cooking Eggs, per dozen..12½c
Navel Oranges—per dozen, 15c; per box...$2.50
Grape Fruit—3 for.....25c
Fancy Creamery Butter, per lb 25c
Fancy Dairy Butter, per lb...21c
White Clover Honey, 2 combs 25c
Fresh Pie Plant, 2 lbs.....15c
Rutabagas, per peck.....10c
Potatoes, per bus.....60c
Flour, per sack.....$1.15
Sugar-cured Ham, per lb...12½c
Breakfast Mackerel, each....15c
Norway Mackerel, 4 for.....25c
1-lb tablets Boneless Codfish..10c
Navy Beans, per peck.....50c
Sour Pickles, per gal.....20c
Soap, ten bars.....25c
5-lb cans Baking Powder, each 65c
2 cans good Pears.....25c
2 cans good Peaches.....25c
2 cans good Grapes.....25c
2 cans good Blackberries.....25c
This is a snap. These can goods are worth 25c each.
25c cans sliced Pineapple, each 15c
Maple-flavored Syrup, per gal 60c
Baking Chocolate, per lb....25c
Fancy Persian Dates, 3 lbs...25c

199—Use Our 'Phone—199

PURE MILK IN CLEAN BOTTLES!

You can be sure that your children have pure milk to drink if it comes from Bridgeman & Russell. It is fresh and sweet and rich in butter fat. Further, it is Pasteurized, and no milk can be pure without this process.

No Ordinary Washing

is sufficient—to be absolutely clean, bottles must be sterilized. Ours are—and therefore fit to receive the pure milk that goes into them. Pure milk means health—impure milk sickness. Order today from

The Bridgeman & Russell Co.,

16 West First Street,
13 East Superior Street.
Both 'phones, 352.

THE PURE FOOD STORE

Coffee is a man's drink. As men make history, so they dominate society, carrying with them into the halls of the MOST HIGH that universal and cosmopolitan drink—"Coffee." Literary devotees of the beverage have proved its great aid to the imagination; the pages of history teem with fine figures, of whom it may be said, that coffee was their inspiration and help to action. But you must drink coffee, not drugged peas or some other vile stuff that ruins the human stomach. We sell the best coffee berry grown.

"MacCOMBER'S BEST" has won its way on its own merit, and is used by the best families in the Northwest.

We serve it all day tomorrow free. Call and drink a cup and try it.

G. E. MacCOMBER,

Both 'Phone, 310.
207 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

MORK BROS.,

GROCERIES AND MEATS.

ZENITH PHONE 189. DULUTH PHONE 677-M.
PROMPT DELIVERY. 529-531 WEST FIRST STREET.

SPECIALS IN OUR MEAT MARKET.

Corned Beef.....5c and 8c
Beef Pot Roast.....8c and 10c
Beef Boiling.....5c
Beef Steak, shoulder.....10c
Beef Steak, round.....12½c
Beef Steak, sirloin.....16c
Beef Steak, porterhouse.....18c
Beef Rib Roast.....12½c and 15c
Legs of Mutton.....15c
Mutton Chops.....12½c and 18c
Mutton Stew.....5c
Veal Stew.....8c and 10c
Veal Roast.....12½c and 15c
Hamburger Steak.....10c
Pork Sausage.....10c
Pork Loin (whole).....12c
Pork Roast.....12½c
Sugar-cured Hams (half or whole).....14c
Bacon, piece.....14c
Fresh killed Poultry at right prices.

GROCERIES.

We have the most complete Grocery store in the city, and we handle none but the Best that the market affords. Our prices are always the Lowest, considering the quality of the goods that you get. If you have not traded with us yet, start at once.

GIVE US YOUR TRIAL ORDER. WE AIM TO PLEASE.

BARTHE-MARTIN COMPANY

GROCERIES AT WHOLESALE

DIRECT TO CONSUMER

102-104 W. Michigan St.
DULUTH, MINN.
BOTH TELEPHONES

You are careful as to the source of the ice which is put into your drinking water. But are you sure that the ice which is put into your oysters, en route, is pure? Why not be on the safe side and use the wholesome, appetizing

Sealshipt Oysters

They never come in contact with ice, but are enclosed in a sanitary case of white enamel, which is sealed and surrounded by ice in a

Sealshipt Oyster Carrier.

HENRY FOLZ

114-116 W. Superior St.

SAECIAL BARGAINS TOMORROW

AT THE

MALCOMSON TEA STORE.

The home of choice teas, coffees, spices, baking powder, flavoring extracts, etc.—READ THE LIST:
BEST OLD GOVERNMENT Java and Mocha, at 35c per lb, or 3 pounds for...$1.00
OUR 27c CHALLENGE Java and Mocha at 25c, 4¼ pounds.....$1.00
All our regular 60c Teas, a lb..48c
Our reg. 40c Japan for 35c, 3 lbs $1
Our reg. 40c Ceylon for 35c, 3 lbs $1
Our reg. 25c size bot. of Extracts 18c
Our reg. 10c size bot. of Extracts 8c
8 bars Best Laundry Soap for..25c
4-lb pkg. Washing Powder for..17c
4 lbs. Laundry Starch.....25c
4 lbs. Baking Soda.....25c
4 lbs. Prunes.....25c
3 lbs. Best Seeded Raisins.....25c
We deliver goods everywhere.

G. F. AMBORN

213 West First Street.
Zenith phone 195. Old phone 1098.

"Good Things to Eat."

Roast Spring Turkey

With Oyster Dressing and Chicken Fricassee with Dumplings for tomorrow's dinner. Get the "Vienna" habit.

Specials in Home Baking.

White Layer Cake.....25c
Best Jelly Tarts—per doz.....20c
Home-made Cookies..10c and 15c
Raspberry Short Cake—per cut.....10c

THE VIENNA,

Both 'Phones, 352.
207 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

The Only Real Home Bakery in the City.

We make a specialty of Home-Baked Bread, Pies and Doughnuts.

Try one of our Dinners. They make you think of home.

Our 20c and 25c Dinners include—meat, bread and butter, two vegetables and tea or coffee.

Try our New England boiled dinners, 25c. They are fine. Served Tuesdays and Saturdays.

DON'T FORGET to ask for some home-baked Beans.

A. WILCOX,

15 Second Avenue West.
Both 'phones. Fresh Baking Daily.

LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE
NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT
IN 2-PIE 10c PACKAGES. MERRELL-SOULE CO., SYRACUSE, N.Y.

Ladies!

Why not trade with the most up-to-date Tea Store in the city. Coffee served free Saturday afternoon and evening.

Sundby Tea Co

16 EAST SUPERIOR STREET.

PURE CANDIES

For the best assortment of pure, fresh candies, see the

BON-TON

Bakery and Candy Kitchen

GOODS DELIVERED.
25 West Superior Street.
Zenith Phone 1166.

The Modern Market

Has some special bargains to offer—on this—the last Saturday before Lent. There is nothing better or more appetizing that good beef. We have the best that comes to this market.

No. 1 Pot Roasts, cut from best steer beef, 10c lb

Rib Roasts—extra quality per lb.....15c
Best cut Sirloin Steak—per lb. 15c
Best cut Round Steak—lb. 12½c
Best Rib Boiling—per lb.....5c
HAMS—Something unusually nice—per lb.....14c

During Lent we shall keep our stock of fresh and salt water Fish complete. Remember our Norway Mackerel—they are the best.

COX BROS.

101 East Superior St.

It has stood the test for 30 years.

White Loaf Baking Powder

Highest in quality.
Lowest in price.
ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT.

OSTBY'S GROCERY.

23 East Fourth Street

Some cash prices for Saturday:—
60c Gunpowder Tea (best money can buy) per lb.....30c
English Breakfast Tea—per lb.....20c
Japan Tea—per lb.....25c
Jaxon Soap—10 bars for.....25c
Lenox Soap—10 bars for.....25c
Navy Beans—per quart.....5c
Corn—per dozen cans.....55c
Sour Pickles (one gal. or more)—per gal.....20c
Dairy Butter by the tub from 18c per lb. up.
We get fresh eggs and butter shipped in direct.

AND THERE ARE REASONS WHY WE SOLICIT YOUR TRADE.

We DO NOT sell Bargain Groceries at a low price once a week, and at some other price the rest of the week; but we DO sell Good Groceries, at a reasonable price, all the week.

Our store is filled with high grade Groceries and Canned Goods, Fresh Fruit and Vegetables.

In our Meat Market you can have your choice of juicy, tender Meats, Poultry and Fish.

A Few Prices!

Creamery Butter, in bulk—lb..25c
Creamery Butter, in prints—lb 26c
Eggs—strictly fresh—doz.....18c
Pot Roast—lb....6c, 8c and 10c

IS IT WORTH YOUR WHILE?
Come and see.

O. Jensen,

930-932 East Fourth Street.
Old phone 446-M. New phone 363.

A BANQUET IS PLANNED

Most Important in History of the Garfield Republican Club.

Men of National Importance Will be in Attendance to Speak.

The Garfield Republican club is planning on the largest, most elaborate and most important banquet in its history for March or April. It will virtually be the opening gun of the political campaign in Minnesota. Members of the organization will meet this evening at the Kalamazoo hall to make preliminary arrangements for the big affair, which will probably be held some evening between March 20 and April.

Committees will be appointed tonight to look after different features of arrangement and entertainment, and something definite in regard to the date will be decided upon. This will be the sixth banquet to be held under the auspices of the club. All of them have been important affairs, and especially is this true of two of them, which opened the state campaigns in the years in which they were held. Last year there was little doing in politics, and no banquet was held.

A list of speakers will also be prepared this evening. Men who have attained to national prominence will be invited to be on hand, and it is expected that all the Republican candidates for the leading state offices, from governor down, will be present and deliver addresses. A very strong effort will be made to have Senator Knute Nelson here the night of the banquet, and there is also every reason to believe that Congressman J. Adam Bede, whose time just now is principally occupied with speech making at banquets in different parts of the country, will be in attendance. Other speakers of note will be pressed to attend. It is particularly desired to have Senator Nelson at the spread, and local Republicans are of the opinion that he will consent to come, unless his work at the national capital will absolutely prevent his doing so.

If Senator Nelson and other men high in the political circle of the nation cannot be in attendance, it is planned to have noted governors of states at the banquet, and one or two of these may be included in the list anyway. The affair will probably be held at the Spalding hotel, following out the usual custom.

TWO HEARINGS IN PROGRESS

Municipal Court Judges Hear Evidence in Grand Larceny Cases.

Two grand larceny hearings are in progress in the municipal court this afternoon.

Kassimir Derarders, the Austrian, who was arrested on the charge of stealing $100 from his fellow workman at a lumber camp near Cloquet, was arraigned this morning and asked for a hearing, which was set for this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The other case is the one against James Shetry, the West Superior street saloonkeeper, who is charged with assaulting and robbing Frank Stesni, a Bohemian woodsman, of $30, in the former's place of business at the corner of Seventh avenue west and Superior street.

WILL FLUSH THE PAVEMENT

Street Gang Will Turn Fire Hose on Superior Street.

Superior street is to be flushed this afternoon.

The board of public works decided this morning to put the street gang at work with the big fire hose, cleaning the accumulated dirt from the surface of the street. This will give the sun a chance to get action on the snow beneath the dirt, and with the present warm spell the pavement should be nearly dry within a week.

The men have been at work for the last three or four days cleaning out the gutters, and they are now in shape to carry off the muddy water. The snow is melting very rapidly, and when it has been washed clean by the hose, what is left should go even more quickly.

Basketball Game.

The senior and junior basketball teams of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., which have been practicing for the past six weeks, will pull off their first game Saturday night in the gymnasium. The game has been called for 8 o'clock, and it promises to be a warmly contested one, as both teams are in splendid shape. The following is the line-up:

Seniors.	Position.	Juniors.
White	center	Burris
Forsythe	guard	McGonagle
Prink	guard	Taylor
Borgen	forward	Bradley
Ober	forward	Cole

THE PLATT IS RECEDING.

Fremount, Neb., Feb. 23.—The Platt river, which last night overflowed a large stretch of country on account of the ice gorge, is receding, although a rise in the Loup river may cause a continuance of the danger. Several small bridges have been washed away.

BOBS UP AGAIN.

Joe Sheehy Begins Another Suit Against Assistant City Attorney.

A dispatch from St. Paul today states taht Joseph Sheehy has begun another suit against Thomas A. McKeon, the assistant city attorney, for malicious prosecution.

The former suit against Mr. McKeon was recently dismissed in the district court by Sheehy's attorney, but Sheehy has evidently secured a new attorney and begun a new suit.

Sheehy claims damages to the amount of $9,105 for malicious prosecution.

PITTSBURG REAL ESTATE DEALER IS MURDERED.

Pittsburg, Kan., Feb. 23.—Frank Marsh, a real estate dealer of Pittsburg, was murdered by unknown persons while driving to this city last night in a buggy in company with Tom Valencia, an Italian. Valencia, who is being held for investigation, says they were attacked by several men, unknown to him, who after shooting Marsh, dragged him from the buggy and pounded his head to a pulp. Marsh, who was under sentence in Missouri for forgery, is alleged to have involved several Italian miners in real estate deals.

HART-BURNS FIGHT AT LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles, Feb. 24—The most important battle that has occured since the Britt-Nelson fight last September in Colma, will be pulled off in this city before the Pacific athletic club tonight, when Marvin Hart will meet Tommy Burns. Betting odds were today 2 to 1 on Hart with even money that Burns will stay ten or fifteen rounds.

HARRIS IS BETTER.

Superior Wrestler Will Go On Against Cole at the Metropolitan.

The wrestling match between Gene Cole and Moritz Harris will be held at the Metropolitan Saturday night, after all despite the injuries which Harris received while at work in the Superior shipyards. At first, is was thought that Harris' injuries were so serious that the match would be postponed, but Manager Longstreet of the Metropolitan hurried over to Superior and after a talk with him, the plucky little Superior man, Harris, agreed to go on with Cole, as advertised. The match will be held in connection with the regular performance Saturday evening of the Reilly & Wood company and is for a large purse.

MINNEAPOLIS SUNDAY CLOSING LAW UPHELD.

St. Paul, Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the Minneapolis Sunday closing ordinance.

EIGHT TO FIVE

Was Vote of Senate Committee on the Hepburn Bill.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The resolution for reporting the Hepburn bill was offered by Senator Dolliver, and as adopted, was as follows:

Resolved, that the interstate commerce committee report favorably house bill 12,987, as it passed the house of representatives, it being understood that members of the committee have the right to vote as they choose on amendments, or to offer amendments in the senate for consideration of the bill."

On this motion all votes were recorded, the vote standing 8 to 5, as follows:

Yeas—Cullom, Dolliver, Clapp, Tillman, McLaurin, Carmack, Foster and Newlands.

Nays—Elkins, Aldrich, Kean, Foraker and Crane.

Low Rates to Coast Points.

February 15th to April 7th, Northern Pacific railway will have on sale daily, one way second class rates to all points in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, as follows:

Billings, Mont., and intermediate points.....$15 00
Helena, Butte, Anaconda, Missoula.....20 00
Spokane, Nelson, Rossland, Ellensburg.....22 50
Tacoma, Seattle, Portland, Vancouver, Ashland.....25 00
San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Cal.....34 90

For tickets and sleeping car reservations, call at City Office, 334 Superior street.

QUIT "TRUSTING IN LOCATION," HERALD PUBLICITY WILL SELL GOODS IN A BARN!

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SHOPPING BY TELEPHONE.

	Old Phone.	New Phone.
MEAT MARKETS—
B. J. Toben	22	22
Mork Bros.	677-M	189
LAUNDRIES—
Yale Laundry	479	479
Lutes' Laundry	447	447
DRUGGISTS—
Boyce	163	163
COAL AND FUEL—
Ohio Fuel Co.	76	76
Finch Fuel Co.	1291	1291
Upham Coal Co.	256	483
FLORISTS—
Seekins & Le Borious	1256	1626
BAKERIES—
The Bon Ton		1164
ELECTRIC CONTRACTING—
Mutuul Electric Co.	496	496
RUBBER STAMP WORKS—
Con. Stamp & Print Co.	702-K	755
PLUMBING AND HEATING—
McGurrin Plumbing & Heating Co.	815	983
STOVE REPAIR WORKS—
C. F. Wiggerts & Son	1154-K	554

FOR RENT—FLATS.

FOR RENT — FOUR-ROOM FURnished flat; water and electric light. 3 West Fourth street.

FOUR-ROOM BASEMENT FLAT; REpairs to suit tenant. 220 West Fourth street.

FOR RENT—FIVE-ROOM FLAT, BATH and all conveniences. 115 Seventh avenue west, $22. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT — THREE-ROOM FLAT, water, light and sewer; rent $15 per month. C. H. Graves & Co., first floor, Torrey building.

FOR RENT—STORE BUILDING, FLAT and barn; fine location for saloon; first-class repair. Thomas W. Wahl & Co., 201 Exchange building.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE; ASsessments paid; $2,000. 1123 East Fifth street.

$2000 Will handle a property paying 22 per cent, new building in first-class location, with very good prospects for a rise in value

$5500 For an eight-room brick dwelling on lot 50x140 feet with barn for four horses. House has all modern conveniences, including hot water heat. This is the best bargain offered in the city. Call in and see us about the above.

C. P. CRAIG & CO.,
220 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

ORDER FOR HEARING PROOF OF FOREIGN WILL—
State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.
In Probate Court, Special Term, February 8, 1906.
In the Matter of the Estate of Persis C. Thomas, Deceased:
Whereas, Certain writings purporting to be duly authenticated copies of the Last Will and Testament of Persis C. Thomas, late of Onondaga County, New York, deceased, and the probate thereof in the Surrogate's Court of said Onondaga County, have been delivered to this Court;
And Whereas, Benjamin V. Lewis has filed therewith his petition, representing among other things that said Persis C. Thomas lately died in said County of Onondaga testate, possessed of certain real estate, situated in said County of St. Louis, and that said petitioner is an executor in said will named, and praying that the said instrument may be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary be to himself and John F. Lewis issued thereon;
It Is Ordered, That the proofs of said instrument, and the said petition, be heard before this Court at the Probate Office in said County, on Monday, the 5th day of March, A. D. 1906, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, when all persons interested may appear for or contest the probate of said instrument;
And It Is Further Ordered, That notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth, in said County, and that a copy hereof be served upon the county treasurer of St. Louis County not less than ten days prior to said day of hearing.
Dated at Duluth this 8th day of February, A. D. 1906.
By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.
(Seal. Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)
Attorneys.
Duluth Evening Herald—Feb. 9-16-23.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF St. Louis.—ss.
In Probate Court, Special Term, February 14, 1906.
In the Matter of the Estate of Jacob Paulsen, Deceased:
On receiving and filing the petition of Agnes Schneider of the County of Palo Alto, Iowa, representing among other things, that Jacob Paulsen late of the County of St. Louis in the State of Minnesota, on the 29th day of January, 1906, at the County of Douglas, Wisconsin, died intestate, and being an inhabitant of this County at the time of his death, leaving goods, chattels, and estate within this County, and that the said petitioner is the sister of said deceased, and praying that administration of said estate be to Henry W. Schneider granted;
It Is Ordered, That said petition be heard before said Court on Monday, the 12th day of March, A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock a. m. at the Probate Office, in the Court House in the City of Duluth, in said County.
Ordered Further, That notice hereof be given to the heirs of said deceased and to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth in said County, and that a copy of this order be served upon the County Treasurer of St. Louis County not less than ten days prior to said day of hearing.
Dated at Duluth, Minnesota, this 14th day of February, A. D. 1906.
By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.
(Seal Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)
STEARNS & HUNTER
Attorneys.
Duluth Evening Herald—Feb-16-23-Mar-2—1906.

FOR DRUNKARDS
WHITE DOVE CURE never fails to destroy craving for strong drink, the appetite for which cannot exist after using this remedy. Given in any liquid with or without knowledge of patient; tasteless; $1 at C. F. BOYCE, Druggist, 335 Superior St. Duluth, Minn

Publicity will always help a legitimate business, just as sunshine will make plants grow.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

REAL ESTATE, FIRE INSURANCE AND RENTAL AGENCIES.

Wm. Prindle Co., Lonsdale building.
John A. Stephenson, Wolvin building.
Chas. P. Craig & Co., 220 W. Sup. St.
L. A. Larson & Co., 102 Providence.
'Phones 253.

FOR RENT—ROOMS.

SMALL FURNISHED ROOM FOR rent. 208 West Third street.

FOR RENT — NICELY FURNISHED room. 221 Fifth avenue west.

FOR RENT—FRONT, COZY ROOM. 225 Lake avenue north.

FOR RENT—PLEASANT FURNISHED room, electric light, bath, heat; $6 per month. 466 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT — TWO FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping. 134 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT — LARGE FURNISHED room. Very desirable. Every convenience. Address M 82, Herald.

FOR RENT — FOUR FURNISHED rooms, $16 per month. 8 East Fourth street.

FOR RENT—SUITE STEAM HEATED rooms, furnished. 16 Second avenue west.

FOR RENT — NICELY FURNISHED double room, also single room, in private family. G 72, Herald.

FOR RENT—SIX ROOMS AT 108 EAST Second street.

FOR RENT—TWO FURNISHED ROOMS all conveniences. Call 631 West First street.

FURNISHED ROOM, SUITABLE FOR two young ladies, at 631 West First street.

FOR RENT — MODERN FURNISHED room. 204 East Third street.

FURNISHED ROOM, NO. 2 MASON flats.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM. 528 West Second street.

FOR RENT—HOUSES.

NEW FIVE-ROOM COTTAGE, BATH, toilet, pantry, clothes closets, hardwood floors, gas, electric lights, $18; water free. Inquire Randall, 1717 Piedmont avenue.

FOR RENT—8-ROOM HOUSE, $18 PER month. Call 329 East Sixth street.

FOR RENT — DETACHED HOUSE, eight rooms, furnace heat, bath, gas. Apply on premises, 925 East Second street.

FOR SALE—HOUSE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE, water, bath, electric light. 518 East Sixth street; call 518½ East Sixth street.

FOR RENT—NINE-ROOM HOUSE, HOT water heat; all conveniences. 702 West Second street, $35. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM DWELLing, 102 South Sixteenth avenue east; possession March 1. Telephone 1193-R Rent, $32.50.

FOR RENT — NINE-ROOM HOUSE, Park Terrace, Eighth avenue west and First street; strictly modern; steam heat included. Apply 205 Lyceum building.

HORSES FOR SALE.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION. GREAT horse auction sales every Wednesday. Remember that every horse sold at auction must be just as represented or money cheerfully refunded. From 500 to 1,000 head of horses and mules offered at auction every Wednesday. Private sales daily.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN.

Great Midway Horse Market, St. Paul, Minn.

Take Interurban street cars from either city.

FOR SALE—GOOD HORSE FOR FAMily use, also open runabout, top buggy and cutter. G 64, Herald.

FOR SALE—SHETLAND PONY, CART and harness. $150 for the outfit. C. J. Eller, Proctor.

FOR SALE—GOOD TEAM OF HORSES, weight 1,300, with sleighs and harness, $175. Address M 83, Herald.

RECEIVED — TWO CARLOADS OF logging horses; prices lowest. L. Hammel company.

FOR SALE—YOUNG GREY MARE; 5 years old; weight 1,450; will work single or double; also good delivery horse, weight 1,300. 1219 East Seventh street.

PRIVATE SALES DAILY.
A large assortment to select from, good horses at right prices.
BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN,
Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN
Have the largest assortment of horses in the entire Northwest. Auction every Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Private sales daily. Part time given.

TO EXCHANGE.

TO EXCHANGE—FINE, NEW UPright piano, standard make, for horse and buggy. Merchant tailoring, groceries, meats, plumbing, carpeting, or anything I can use. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

PERSONAL.

SPANISH TAUGHT. 519 EAST FIFTH street.

FOR RENT — FINE PIANO, VERY reasonable terms to right party. 702 West Second street.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HERALD WANTS BRING QUICK RESULTS

Don't Delay— Send your Want Ad in Early for the Saturday Herald—

If pressed for time just go to the phone and tell it to 324—Bell or Zenith.

LOAN OFFICES.

WE LOAN MONEY ON WATCHES, diamonds and all articles of value. Established the longest. The most reliable up-to-date place in the city. All business strictly confidential. Fire and burglar-proof safes. Crescent Brokers, 413½ West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY LOANED ON FURNIture, pianos, cattle, horses, wagons and all kinds of personal property; also to salaried people on their own notes. Easy payments.
WESTERN LOAN COMPANY,
521 Manhattan Building.
New 'phone, 936. Old 'phone, 759-R.

$1 PER WEEK PAYS BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST on a $20 loan. Other amounts in like proportion. ACTUAL REBATE given if paid before due.
DULUTH FINANCE CO.,
301 Palladio Bldg.

MONEY TO LOAN ON WATCHES, diamonds, furs and all goods of value, from $1.00 to $1,000. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street. Look for electric sign. Established 1887.

MONEY TO LOAN ON RIFLES AND shotguns. We keep all guns until next season before they are sold. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN, ANY AMOUNT. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange building.

UNION LOAN CO. makes loans, buys notes and mortgages. 210 Palladio.

MONEY SUPPLIED TO SALARIED people and others upon their own notes, without security, easy payments. Offices in fifty-one cities. Tolmon, 609 Palladio building.

TO LOAN $3,000 ON IMPROVED PROperty. Address M. 72, Herald.

BOARD AND ROOM WANTED.

WANTED — ROOM AND BOARD IN West end in modern house. E 81, Herald.

MORRISON'S TAILORING.

YOU CAN HAVE A GOOD SUBSTANtial, stylish suit made at Morrison's for less than you can get the same quality for anywhere. Come and see. D. M. Morrison, 8 Lake avenue south.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE

Stereopticon and moving picture outfit, complete show outfit for large or small entertainments. Song and lecture sets. A profitable business for party with small capital. Call at 431 West Michigan street.

FOR SALE—CORRECT MAPS OF CUYuna Iron range. Morrison, 416 Torrey building.

PONY SLEIGH—AT A BARGAIN. ADdress M 92, Herald.

FOR SALE—ONE 2½-H. P., ONE 4-H. P., one 12-H. P., one 24-H. P., and one 28-H. P., second-hand marine gasoline engines, with complete equipment; also several stationary engines. Enterprise Machine company, Minneapolis, Minn.

"SHAKESPEARE" STOCK BOUGHT and sold. Morrison, 416 Torrey Bldg.

FOR SALE—I HAVE SEVERAL ORgans for sale that cost from $100 to $200. Must be sold at once. Prices $15 to $60. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

HOUSE FOR SALE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR SALE—GRAND 1,350 FAMILY horse; safe for ladies; 7 years old; 4 minute gait. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—SAFE, SHOWCASES, TAbles and shelving. Lyceum Clothing & Shoe House, 423 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—SECOND-HAND 8¾ BY 10 double cylinder, double drum, Lidgerwood hoisting engine. Clyde Iron works.

FOR SALE—THE CELEBRATED ADAM Schaaf piano, awarded world's fair medal. Established 1873; 10-year guaranteed. Best piano on earth for the money; only at Lundberg's, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE — KITCHEN CABINET, gas range and other household furniture. Address W. R. B., Herald.

FOR SALE—LEASE OF FOURTEEN-room rooming house, and furniture of seven bedrooms; must be cash. Parties leaving city. M 85, Herald.

FOR SALE—1905 DULUTH CITY DIrectory in good condition, bargain. Call at Herald office.

FOR SALE—COOK STOVE IN FINE condition; Jewell make; very cheap; no use for it. 5805 Oneida street. Old 'phone 1075-R.

FOR SALE—A FEW GOOD SECONDhand ranges. City Stove Repair Works. 331 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

FOR SALE—SMALL-SIZE DRESS COAT and vest, in first-class condition; a bargain. Address N. T. C., Herald.

THE GOPHER SHOE REPAIR WORKS does it while you wait.

WATCH REPAIRING.

WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING done promptly and in a thorough manner. J. Gruesen, 129 West Superior St.

COMPOUND and VAPOR BATHS.

WE CURE COLDS, RHEUMATISM, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, gout and all blood poisons, give magnetic compound vapor baths. No. 16 E. Sup. St. Mr. and Mrs. A. Ecker, proprietors.

Watch Repairing and Engraving.

W. S. W. BLAKE, WATCHMAKER, Kugler's drug store, 108 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn. Formerly with F. D. Day & Co.

PATENT ATTORNEYS.

INVENTORS, ATTENTION!—PATENTS in all countries promptly obtained, sold, leased, manufactured; models made; twenty-five years established; unexcelled reputation; inventors' book free. Address Patent Market, St. Paul, Minn.

SATIN TOILET SPECIALTIES.

Be kind to your skin. Use only Satin skin cream and Satin skin powder. 25c.

TENTS AND AWNINGS.

POIRIER & CO., 106 East Superior street.

CLEANING AND REPAIRING.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE; BEST OF workmanship. Suits pressed, 50c; pants, 15c. 118 First avenue west. Old 'phone 1430-L.

PALMIST.

CONSULT GIRARD, MATTERS OF business and domestic affairs. Parlors next to Bijou.

CREMONEA VIOLIN MAKER.

RARE AND OLD VIOLINS REPAIRED; modern violins regraduated so they will improve with age. I develop the fullest tone capacity of every violin submitted. Forty years' experience. Satisfaction guaranteed. P. Lambert, 124 E. 4th St.

UPHOLSTERING.

TELEPHONE YOUR UPHOLSTERING wants to Cameron. He will call at your residence with a complete assortment of coverings and estimate your work. Zenith 'phone 767. Bell, 325-L.

Looking for a Warm and Well Furnished Room? They're surely not ALL occupied! A Herald Want Ad promptly puts you in touch with plenty of desirable "one-room homes."

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—MEN TO LEARN BARBER trade. Now is the time to prepare for the "busy season." Write for "free" ill. catalog. Moler Barber Col., Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED — CANTHOOK MEN, UNloading logs; steady work for good men. Apply at foot of L avenue, Superior, near Murray-McCann mill. Edw. Hines Lumber company.

WANTED—FOR THE UNITED STATES marine corps, unmarried men between the ages of 21 and 35, able-bodied, of good character and temperate habits, citizens of the United States, or who legally declare their intention to become such; must speak, read and write English; marines serve at sea, on men-of-war, in all parts of the world, on land in our island possessions and at navy yards in the United States. Recruits desiring service in the Philippine Islands may be enlisted accordingly. Apply at 5 South Fifth avenue west Duluth.

WANTED—BAR PORTER AT THE Spalding hotel.

$80 A MONTH SALARY AND EXPENses to men with rig to introduce our Guaranteed Poultry and Stock Remedies. Send for contract; we mean business and furnish best reference. G. R. Bigler Co., X 525, Springfield, Ill.

WANTED — MAN HOLDING SECOND engineer's papers; steady job for steady sober man; work easy; good pay. E. W. Dibbell, Supt., Bay View power house.

WANTED—MAN OVER 21 TO TRAVEL for wholesale house; staple line; $15 per week and expenses to start; experience unnecessary; advancement April 1. Address with stamped envelope, F. W. Potts, Sykes block, Minneapolis.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

WANTED — POSITION AS CLERK, have had fifteen years' experience in general store. Can furnish A1 references. G 90, Herald.

EXPERT BOOKKEEPER WILL INstall specially economical system of accounting and do the work evenings or Sunday at low rate. Address M 73, Herald.

WANTED—POSITION AS SALESMAN by young man, well educated, five years' experience in business; speaks Finnish. G 74, Herald.

DR. KASSMIR'S TURKISH BATHS

POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM at our sanitarium. We have every modern facility for curing rheumatism, colds, la grippe. Our terms are from $10 to $15 per week. One week's treatment convinces you that our system is right. Examination and consultation free.
DR. M. Z. KASSMIR,
26 West Superior Street.
Ladies' baths upstairs. Look for the big electric sign.

ACCOUNTANTS.

BOOKS CORRECTLY WRITTEN UP and audited by thoroughly qualified expert accountant. Auditor, Herald.

MILLINERY.

Miss Fitzpatrick, 504 E. 4. Old 'phone.

M. A. COX, 330 EAST FOURTH STREET.

PICTURE FRAMING.

DECKER'S, 16 SECOND AVENUE W.

MUSICAL.

Piano lessons at your home by competent teacher. Latest and best methods. 35c a lesson. Address V 35, Herald.

WANTED—TO BUY.

DELIVERY HORSE, ABOUT 1,100 pounds. 1504 East Superior street.

GOOD, SECOND-HAND SAFE. Address 1423 West Michigan street. Zenith 'phone 1040X.

WANTED TO BUY—RESIDENCE LOT at West end about $400 to $600. Address M 75, Herald.

WANTED TO BUY—A GOOD HORSE about 1,400 to 1,500 weight. Address H. I. S., Herald.

STANDING TIMBER IN MINNESOTA. Address V 9, Herald.

OLD CLOTHES BOUGHT.

G. SHAPIRO, 721 W. SUP. ST., BUYS and sells old clothes. Zenith 1532-X.

BIRTHMARKS REMOVED.

MANICURING, FACE AND SCALP treatments. Miss Kelly, opp. Glass Blk.

STOVE REPAIRS.

DULUTH STOVE REPAIR WORKS, 217 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

STENOGRAPHY.

GRACE BARNET, FIRST NAT. BLDG.

E. MAUNU, 330 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

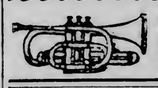

FOR SALE—HOUSES.

NOTICE TO YOU WHO PAY RENT—Call on us, we will show you how to own your own home by paying for it with the money you are paying for rent? Let us show you the homes we have sold on this plan. S. S. Williamson, 615 Torrey building. New, 135. Old, 1351.

UPHOLSTERING and REPAIRING

ED OTT, No. 6 W. First St. Both 'phones.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

MUSIC and musical merchandise of every description. Edison phonographs, band and orchestra instruments, pianos and organs. INGVALD WESTGARD, 7 and 9 First Avenue West.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. HANSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, female complaints, 413 Seventh avenue east. Old 'phone, 1594; Zenith, 1225.

WANTED—TO RENT.

WANTED TO RENT—LARGE UNFURnished room; East end preferred. G 92, Herald.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

DR. BURNETT—Top floor Burrows Bldg.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

FOR SALE—MEAT MARKET WITH good business and good location. Inquire G 33, Herald.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—A COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. Apply Mrs. J. C. Adams, 1528 Ogden avenue, Superior, Wis.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Mrs. H. V. Eva, Hunter's Park.

WANTED — EVERY WOMAN TO TRY Dr. Le Gran's Female Regulator. Guaranteed. Kugler, Your Druggist, 108 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1001 East Second street.

WANTED—NURSE. ADDRESS O. P., Herald.

WANTED—COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. 826 East Second street.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework; family of two. 1203 East Second street.

WANTED — GOOD GIRL FOR GENeral housework. Call 2506 West Third street.

WANTED—A GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Apply 205 East Third street.

GIRL WANTED AT ONCE FOR GENeral housework, at 730 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

WANTED—GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 2703 West First street.

WANTED—GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1708 Jefferson street.

WANTED — FIRST-CLASS RESTAUrant cook and chambermaid at Sixth Avenue West hotel., 529 West Michigan street.

WANTED—SECOND COOK OR KITCHen girl that can do cooking, Joliet hotel, 117 West Superior street.

WANTED—AT ONCE, AN EXPERienced second girl. M 76, Herald.

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK. 2319 East First street.

WANTED—AT ONCE, WOMAN PASTry cook. Boyle's restaurant.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework; no laundry work. Call between 6 and 8 p. m., Mrs. Stephen H. Jones, 1215 East Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1902 East First street.

WANTED — FIRST-CLASS DINING room girls, also girls for general housework and chambermaids. 26 Fourth avenue west. Old, 777-L. New, 175.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1509 Jefferson street.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. 1201 East Third St.

WANTED — A GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 316 Fifth avenue east.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL. APply 2715 West Fourth street.

WANTED—YOUNG GIRL FOR LIGHT housekeeping. 205 West Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 613 East First street.

WANTED—COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework, two in family. Apply No. 1 Adams Flats.

WANTED — AT ONCE, COMPETENT waist and sleeve drapers and waist finishers, also plain sewers. Miss Lambert, 220 West Superior street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

WASHING TO TAKE HOME OR CURtains to do up. 421 East Fourth street.

LADY WANTS POSITION AS HOUSEkeeper; one capable of taking care of furnished rooms. G 63, Herald.

BOARD OFFERED.

LARGE, FRONT ROOM WITH BOARD for two gentlemen in private family. 139 West Third street.

BOARD AND NICELY FURNISHED rooms. 122 East First street.

BOARD AND ROOM, 117 E. THIRD ST.

FOR RENT—STORES.

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM, 121 SECond avenue west. Apply E. R. Jefferson.

DYE WORKS.

DULUTH DYE WORKS, 3 W. SUP. ST., 2023 W. Sup. St. Old, 1341-L; Zenith, 1334.

ZENITH CITY DYE WORKS, LARGEST and most reliable dye works in Duluth. First-class work guaranteed. Work called for and delivered. Both 'phones. 6 East Superior street.

CHEMIST AND ASSAYER.

C. F. JOYCE, 631 MANHATTAN BLDG. Old 'phone 1614.

COD LIVER OIL.

1905 IMPORT COD LIVER OIL. Alfred Swedberg, 2015 West Superior St.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. A. FERGUSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, 617 Fifth avenue east. Also private hospital. Old 'phone 434-L.

CIVIL ENGINEER.

DULUTH ENGINEERING CO.—W. B. Patton, Mgr., 613 Palladio Bldg. Specifications prepared and construction superintended for waterworks, sewers, etc.

FIRE INSURANCE

WRITTEN IN BEST COMPANIES. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange Bldg.

IF YOU WILL BRING

Suit to 10 Fourth avenue west, we press it for 50c; pants, 15c. J. Oreckovsky.

CLOTHES WRINGERS REPAIR'D

RUBBER ROLLS REPLACED, AND extra parts of all makes of wringers; also we sell best high-grade wringers, washing machines, etc. Special agents for American Wringer company. Interstate Mercantile company, No. 231 East Superior street.

MEDICAL.

FOR WOMEN ONLY—DR. RAYMOND'S Pills. Women's Monthly Regulator, has brought happiness to thousands of anxious women; no pain, no danger. We have never known of a single failure. Price $2 by mail. Raymond's Monthly Regulator in liquid, $3. Dr. R. G. Raymond Remedy company, Room 27, 84 Adams street, Chicago, Ill.

CARPET SWEEPERS REPAIRED

CARPET SWEEPERS REPAIRED. Duluth Carpet Sweeper Repair Co., 123 W. 1st st. New 'phone 1578D.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SECRET SOCIETIES.

MASONIC.
PALESTINE LODGE, NO. 79, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings, first and third Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting March 5th, 1906. Work, First degree, Charles A. Bronson, W. M.; H. Nesbitt, secretary.

IONIC LODGE, NO. 186, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings second and fourth Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 26, 1906. Work—Third degree. John Cox, W. M.; H. S. Newell, secretary.

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, NO. 20, R. A. M. Stated convocations second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 28, 1906. Charles A. Payne, H. P.; Alfred Le Richeux, secretary.

DULUTH COMMANDERY, NO. 18, K. T. —Stated conclave, first Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m. Stated conclave 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 6th. General business, election of officers, Masonic Temple. C. W. Wilson, Em. Com.; Alfred LeRicheaux, recorder.

SCOTTISH RITE.
Regular meetings every Thursday evening of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Thursday, Feb. 22, 1906. Work—Eighteenth degree. J. E. Cooley, secretary.

SUCLID LODGE, NO. 198, A. F. & A. M. —Regular meetings first and third Wednesday evenings of each month at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 21. Work —Second degree. W. J. Darby, W. M.; A. Dunleavy, secretary.

K. O. T. M.
DULUTH TENT, NO. 1, MEETS EVERY Wednesday, in K. O. T. M. hall, 224 West First street. Visiting Sir Knights always welcome. J. P. Peterson, commander; Charles J. Hector, finance keeper, 32 West First street. J. B. Gelineau, record keeper, office in hall. For rent of hall apply at record keeper's office. Hours, 10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and Saturday evenings.

MODERN SAMARITANS.
ALPHA COUNCIL, NO. 1, meets at Elks' hall every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 22. Samaritan Degree. T. J. McKeon, S. S.; Lucy Purdy, L. G. S.; Wallace P. Wellbanks, scribe; T. A. Gall, financial scribe.

A. O. U. W.
FIDELITY LODGE, NO. 105, meets at new Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. J. Patshkowski, M. W.; W. W. Fenstermacher, recorder; O. J. Murvold, financier, 217 East Fifth street.

A. O. U. W.
DULUTH LODGE, NO. 10, ects in Odd Fellows' hall every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. William J. Stephens, W. M.; T. J. St. German, 110 First avenue west, financier; H. B. Ivens, recorder. Sick benefit meets at 7:30 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.
NORTH STAR LODGE, K. of P., No. 35, meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Work—3rd rank, Feb. 20, at 118 West Superior street. J. A. Wharton, C. C.; T. L. Foss, K. R. S.

I. O. F.
COURT COMMERCE, NO. 3233, Independent Order of Foresters, meets first and Third Friday evenings at 8 o'clock at Rowley's hall, No. 112 West First street. Next regular meeting March 2, 1906—Initiation. F. A. Tupper, C. R.; W. W. Hoopes, R. S.

FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES.
DULUTH AERIE, NO. 79, MEETS every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Eagle hall, Folz building, 116 West Superior street. J. W. Parker, W. P.; J. W. Schroeder, secretary, 11 First avenue east. Apply to W. E. Brown, 317 West Superior street, for rental of hall.

M. W. A.
IMPERIAL CAMP, NO. 2206, meets at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, second and fourth Tuesdays. Next meeting Feb. 27, smoker. Visiting members always welcome. S. F. Staples, V. C.; N. P. Turnbladh, banker; R. Rankin, clerk, 1322 Jefferson street.

CLAN SRTEWART, NO. 50, O. S. C., meets first and third Wednesdays of each month at 8 p. m. in Folz hall, West Superior street. John G. Ross, chief; Malcolm MacDonald, secretary; John Burnett, financial secretary, 10 Mason flats. Next meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 21.

ROYAL LEAGUE.
ZENITH COUNCIL, NO. 161, Royal league, meets in Elks' hall first and third Monday evenings at 8 o'clock. George L. Hargreaves, archeon; L. P. Milnes, scribe, 1815 East Fifth street.

KNIGHTS OF THE LOYAL GUARD—Suburban division, No. 132, meets first and third Wednesday evenings of each month, Hall A, Kalamazoo block. E. F. Heller, captain general; H. V. Holmes, paymaster, 415 Fifteenth avenue east; Mrs. Mary P. Foster, recorder, 720 Third avenue east.

MODERN MACCABEES—ZENITH CITY Tent, No. 1044, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. Commander, Charles E. Norman; record keeper and finance keeper, A. G. Case, care Union depot, after 1 p. m., residence, 412 West Fourth street.

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF STEAM Engineers—Local union, No. 15, meets first and third Thursday evenings, third floor, Room 2, Axa building. President, John F. Gogins; vice president, O. C. Hanson; financial secretary, E. V. Robinson; recording secretary, I. W. Gilleland; treasurer, C. J. Wendt; conductor, Andrew Wold; guard, William Beatty.

U. O. F.
COURT EASTERN STAR, NO. 86, UNITed Order of Foresters, meets the first and third Tuesday of every month at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street. Visiting brothers and sisters always welcome. Next meeting Feb. 20, social dance. J. B. Gelineau, C. R., 224 Ninth avenue east; Harry Milnes, treasurer. Office at hall.

ARCHITECTS.

FRANK L. YOUNG & CO., 202 Pal. Bldg.

Section 1. Pages 1 to 12.

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

24 Pages

TWENTY-THIRD YEAR. LAST EDITION. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1906. (ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS.) TWO CENTS.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

VANDERBILT IS MOBBED

His Automobile Runs Down a Boy at Pontedera, Italy.

Owner Draws a Gun and is Set Upon by Crowd.

Florence, Feb. 24.—The incident at Pontedera yesterday, which involved the detention there of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and their chauffeur turns out to have been much more serious than at first reported. The dispatches received yesterday evening from Pontedera simply announced that Mr. Vanderbilt was detained there, owing to an automobile accident by which a boy was injured, but not seriously. It now appears that Mr. Vanderbilt and his chauffeur were mobbed, that the former drew a revolver and that both Mr. Vanderbilt and the chauffeur were arested and taken to the police station. Mrs. Vanderbilt was escorted to the best hotel in the place, where, accordinr to the latest advices, she was awaiting developments.

The Vandervilt automobile, it appears, was not going at excessive speed, but when turning a sharp street corner in Pontedera it ran down a child, a boy about 5 years old, and injured him about the head. Though the boy was not seriously hurt his face was covered with blood. The automobile, which was stopped as soon as its occupants noticed that an accident had occurred, was soon surrounded by a crowd of excited people who indignantly and threateningly berated its occupants. In the midst of the excitement the report spread that the child was dead and the townspeople became so enraged that they attacked the chauffeur.

In fact, matters reached a very critical stage and Mr. Vanderbilt, believing that the lives of the party were in danger drew a revolver. Before he could use the weapon, however, several men jumped into the auto, disarmed Mr. Vanderbilt and kicked and cuffed him.

By this time the police had become aware that something unusual was happening, and a party of gendarmes hurried to the scene to protect the automobilists. Owing to the fury of the people the officers took the Vanderbilt party into a neighboring shop for safety. There they were immediately besieged by the crowd, the most violent of the people urging their companions to take summary vengeance on the travelers.

As a coincidence, the shop in which the Vanderbilts were taken was owned by a relative of the injured boy, which did not tend to calm the feelings of the mob.

Eventually an officer of gendarmes with reinforcements arrived on the scene, and after the townspeople had somewhat calmed down, succeeded in rescuing the automobilists, who were taken to the police station, followed by a crowd of shouting people. The leaders protested vigorously against the alleged carelessness of the automobilists, and said that it was time to put a stop to such incidents, involving loss of life, which was constantly increasing in numbers.

Mr. Vanderbilt and the chaeuffeur were detained at police station, under arrest, and Mrs. Vanderbilt, who was shown every attention possible, was escorted to the best hotel in Pontedero.

KOREANS ARE KILLED BY JAPS

Hermit Nation Greatly Oppressed by the Victorious Japanese.

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—Archdeacon W. W. Jefferies, an Episcopalian clergyman, who has just returned from the Orient, says that the Koreans are being greatly oppressed by the victorious Japanese.

"When a Korean objects to a confiscation of his property," the minister says, "he is falsely charged with being a spy and is probably shot or hanged the same day."

The executions in some cases, Dr. Jefferies says, are of a horrible nature, and he has brought with him a number of photographs to prove the truth of his assertions. He says that even women are not immune, and that it is no uncommon sight to see them suspended by the neck on one of the streets of a Korean city. The bodies, he says, are allowed to hang in the streets for days as a warning to the inhabitants.

"The Koreans are reduced to a state of abject slavery and have been robbed of everything they possessed. The Korean emperor lives in terror of the Japanese, and he has frequently called upon our legation guard to watch over him during the night. He charges the Japanese with the murder of his wife, and fears that he will meet the same fate she did."

BOATSWAIN HAS APPENDICITIS.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Capt. Hosley, in command of the vessels which are towing the dry dock Dewey to the Phillippines in reporting the arrival of his squadron at Las Palmas, Canary islands, stated that Boatswain Dowling is ill with appendicitis and will be sent home.

BANKER ACQUITTED.

Des Moines, Feb. 24.—Banker Fred McCutcheon on trial at Ida Grove for receiving deposits after his bank at Holstein, Iowa, was insolvent, was today acquitted of the charge. McCutcheon's brother testified that he received the alleged unlawful deposits instead of the defendant and the latter was cleared on this evidence.

THE KENYON MILITARY ACADEMY AT GAMBIER, O., BURNED TO THE GROUND

Eight Persons Are Seriously Hurt and Three Are Missing.

At Least Three of the Injured Are Expected to Die.

Fire Starts in Early Morning From an Unknown Cause.

Gambier, Ohio, Feb. 24.—The buildings of Kenyon military academy burned at an early hour today, and are a total loss. Three cadets are missing and at least eight are injured, three of whom will probably die.

The names of the missing have not been given out by the academy authorities. The injured are:

Rupert Stearns, Cincinnati, burned about the face, not serious; Hart Shannon, New York, arms and body badly burned, may not recover; Harry Barnes, Cleveland, probably fatally injured; Rennox Baxter, Cleveland, slightly burned; John W. Nicholson, Steubenville, badly burned about the face and head; Homer T. Hurmelcher, Oak Harbor, Ohio, slightly burned; S. R. Salaway, business manager of military academy, badly burned about the face and hands.

Several others were slightly burned in escaping from the buildings.

Barnes was one of the last to leave Delano Hall and jumped from the fourth story window into a blanket.

The blanket gave way and he was precipitated onto the pavement, sustaining injuries to the back. One leg was broken. He will die.

Eighty-five boys were in the dormitory when the fire broke out. An effort was made to effect a military formation, but the younger students forgot their military training and rushed about the burning building in a panic shrieking and crying for help.

The buildings destroyed were Delano Hall, Milner Hall and the annex.

The losses on the buildings and their contents will probably aggregate $50,000. The insurance is slight.

The origin of the fire is unknown. This is the second time the Kenyon academy buildings have been destroyed by fire.

PRESIDENT DE-LIGHTED

Over Favorable Report of Rate Bill by Senate Committee.

Senators Believe Measure Will be Passed Without Trouble.

Washington, Feb. 24.—President Roosevelt is said to be in excellent spirits over the favorable report of the Hepburn railroad rate bill by the senate committee on interstate commerce.

"The president is delighted," is the way Representative Hepburn, the author of the measure, put it. "The president is greatly pleased," said Senator Dolliver, a member of the senate committee, after his conference with President Roosevelt.

Several members of the senate and the house, who are particularly interested in the bill, had talks with the president today. Senators Dolliver and Clapp, of the senate interstate commerce committee, and Speaker Cannon and Representative Hepburn discussed briefly the situation with the president.

"There is no gloom around here," remarked Mr. Dolliver, as he was leaving the executive office. "The president is greatly pleased and offers no criticism at all. Yes, I believe the bill will pass the senate, perhaps without an amendment. It will go through in practically its present shape."

"Is Senator Tillman to have a conference with the president about the bill?"

"I don't know about that," responded Senator Dolliver, "but I do know what the president thinks about Tillman. He told me ten days ago that he regarded Tillman as a game fighter, and an honest man."

Representative Hepburn would not discuss the rate situation, but indicated that the president was gratified that the pending measure should have been reported favorably.

"When an expression was sought from Speaker Cannon, he fenced cleverly. "Like Paul of old," he remarked, "I let these things move me not."

Representative Townsend of Michigan, who has been identified with rate legislation from the inception of the proposition, said, after talking to the president: "The president is happy. I cannot say he is perfectly satisfied, for perhaps he might like to have had some points of the measure in different shape. On the whole, however, he is in fine spirits. In the selection of Senator Tillman, a Democrat, to make the report, it strikes me that some members of the committee, realizing they were defeated, took this means to slap those who were supporting the Hepburn bill. The prospect for the enactment of the measure, I think, is very good."

COAL STRIKE INEVITABLE

Southwestern Operators Meet to Talk the Situation Over.

No Hope of Anything Being Done to Avert Outbreak.

Kansas City, Feb. 24.—The Southwestern Coal Operators association, which comprises the fields of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory, Arkansas and Texas, met here today to hear the report of the scale committee that went to Indianapolis to confer with the United Mine workers and to discuss the situation. Nearly 100 operators were present.

Before going into the conference, W. C. Perry, president of the association, said: "I am satisfied and so are all coal operators, that there will be a strike among the miners. It is inevitable, and this being admitted, the members of our association considered it feasible to get together and talk the situation over. In the event of a strike 26,000 miners will be voluntarily out of employment in Missouri, Kansas, Texas, and the territories. The committee that attended the Indianapolis convention will make a formal report. This, in itself, however, will be but a mere formality, as the members themselves have fully informed themselves on what transpired there at the time."

Judge J. C. Harsney, another member of the scale committee, that went to Indianapolis said he had no hope of anything being done to avert a strike.

HUBBARD COUNTY POLITICS

L. W. Bills Will Seek Republican Nomination for the Legislature.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bit of political gossip is wafted from Park Rapids anent the legislative situation there, and is to the effect that Edward Hinds, of the village of Hubbard, who has been in the legislature for several sessions, will not again be a candidate. The same authority says that L. W. Bills, ex-county attorney of Hubbard county, has been feeling the pulse of the political powers that be down there, with the result that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the legislature. The friends of John O'Neil of Park Rapids are urging that gentleman to become a candidate, but he does not seem inclined to get into the game.

BISHOP CONSECRATED.

Milwaukee, Feb. 24.—The Rev. William Walter Webb, D. D., was today consecrated bishop coadjutor of the Milwaukee Episcopal diocese. The ceremony was very impressive. Bishop Isaac Lea Nicholson acted as consecrator, assisted by the Right Rev. Dr. Grafton, bishop of Fond Du Lac, and Right Rev. Dr. White, bishop of Michigan City. Right Rev. Dr. Anderson of Chicago preached the sermon.

TO MANAGE CAMPAIGN

Is Said to be Ambition of Ex-Congressman Eddy.

Grimshaw Responsible for Nelson Resolution at Harmony Dinner.

St. Paul, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Eddy proposes a unique manner in which to raise a campaign fund. Its uniqueness is due to the fact that this is an off year and that off year campaign funds are rather hard to raise. In brief Mr. Eddy's plan is to raise $70,000 by popular subscriptions. He hopes to secure subscriptions ranging all the way from $5 to $1,000. Several weeks ago Mr. Eddy declared that the next campaign must be waged on sentiment but his recent campaign instructions show that the Republican campaign will have a more substantial element.

Following fast upon Eddy's declaration regarding the next campaign fund comes the rumor that Eddy is out for chairman of the state central committee and that he intends to frame up some kind of an alignment so as to secure that position. Mr. Eddy has the record of being a past master at organization and there are many workers in the state who would like to have him there and dispense the funds.

That the Republicans have set the campaign fund at such a high figure this year is only one of the many things indicative of the fact that they expect a very hard fight to stem the popularity of Governor Johnson which is gaining every day. Upon excellent authority it is known that Johnson

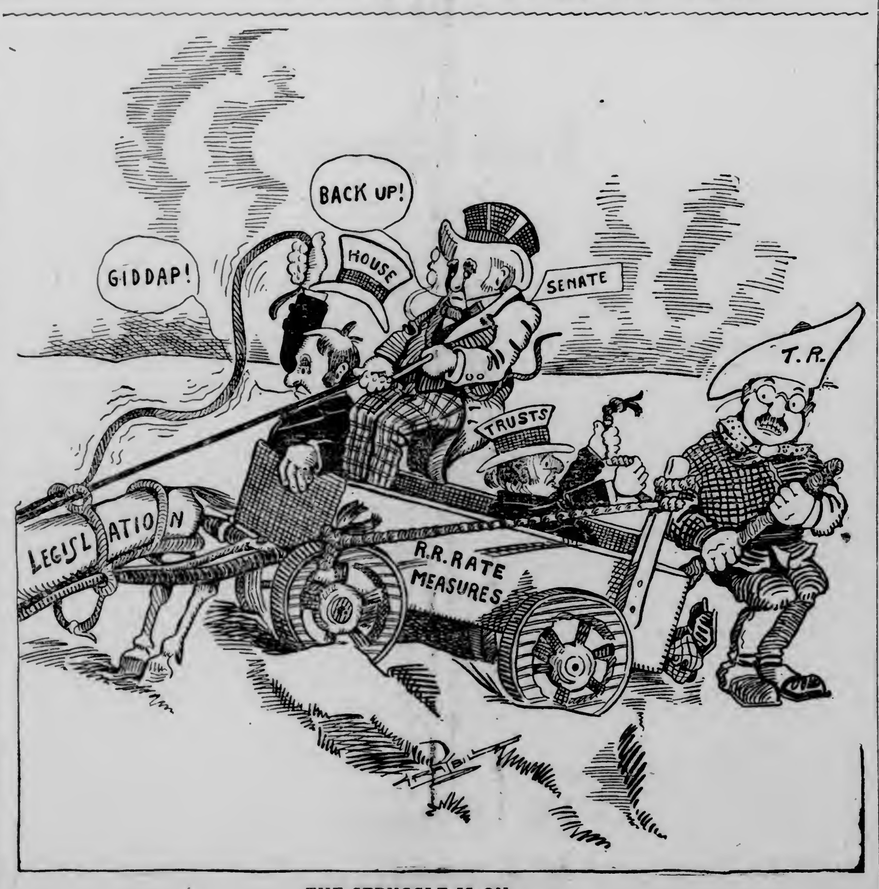

(Continued on page 7, fourth column.)

THOUSANDS MUST MOVE

Railroad Company Notifies 800 Families to Leave Tenements.

New York, Feb. 24.—An extensive eviction of tenants, by which over 4,000 persons must move from their homes within the next few weeks, was ordered yesterday by the real estate department of the Long Island railroad. Two blocks of tenement houses on Thirty-second street west of Eighth avenue, in which more than 800 families live, are to be torn down to make room for the great railway terminal of the Pennsylvania railroad. These tenements have been greatly overcrowded for several months, during which time they have harbored, in addition to the regular tenants, many of those who were evicted from a two block section directly east of and adjoining their present homes.

This section has already been converted into an immense excavation for use of the underground terminal. Despite repeated notices from the railroad companies, the tenants remain, many of them because poverty made it next to impossible for them to move. Of the 4,000 persons affected by yesterday's order, 1,000 must vacate the premises by March 1. These are said to be in arrears for rent. The other 3,000 have been allowed until April 15.

THE STRUGGLE IS ON.

MILWAUKEE STREET CAR IS SMASHED INTO PIECES BY A RAILROAD TRAIN

Eleven Persons Are More or Less Injured in Wreck.

Accident Caused by Smoke and Steam From Blast Furnace.

Gateman Did Not Get Signal to Close Gates in Time.

Milwaukee, Feb. 24.—The passenger train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, due here at 9:30 from Chicago, ran into a South Milwaukee street car at the Kinnickinnic avenue crossing, near the Thomas furnace plant, injuring ten people and completely overturning the car and delaying railroad traffic for over an hour.

The car is badly wrecked, the trucks being ripped out of it, and all the windows smashed, cross bars loosened, and the street covered with splinters and broken glass.

William Rogals, the flagman at the crossing, alleges that the signal to lower the gates was given him too late by the operator at the Becher street crossing on the road, and to the fact that the smoke and steam from the furnace had obscured the train, the accident was due.

Following is the list of injured: John Callihan, conductor in charge of street car; Anton Punj, 347 Virginia street; Carl Ludwig, South Milwaukee; John Hain, St. Francis; H. C. Graham, Northwestern Fuel company; Winifred Fifield, Janesville, visiting in Milwaukee; Martin Wasinski, 577 Third avenue; Jacob Poppit, 936 Holton street; A. Lane, street railway employe; Charles Raif, 581 Grove street; Harry Copper.

Two of the injured were taken to the hospital.

"I had just left the shanty immediately after the bell rang," said Mr. Rogals, "when all of a sudden I saw the engine coming out of the smoke and steam at the south. The street car was also coming from the south. The front end of the car had just gotten onto the track, in response to the signal from the conductor, when the train crashed into it, striking it at the front side. The car was crowded, and I understand that ten people were hurt, one man seriously."

The crossing is one of the most dangerous in the city, and Bay View people have fought for years to have the tracks elevated to prevent accidents.

Engineer Collins of the railroad train said he was running about six miles an hour when the accident occurred. He said he did not think the accident would have happened had it not been for the dense steam and smoke that enveloped the crossing.

NO PLACE TO BURY HOCH

Chicago Cemetery Officials Will Not Receive His Body.

The Undertaker and Clergymen Have Fruitless Quest.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—The body of Johan Hoch lay today in the county morgue at Dunning, while the undertaker, who had agreed to inter the corpse at his own expense, and the two clergymen who were on the scaffold yesterday when Hoch was hanged, vainly tried to find a burial place.

The authorities of Waldheim cemetery refused to allow Hoch to be buried there, as did the officials of Forest Home cemetery and those of St. Luca's cemetery.

Today cemetery after cemetery was asked by telephone to permit the burial of Hoch, but all of them refused, saying that the owners of cemetery lots objected to the interment of murderers. It was not expected that objection would be offered at Waldheim, as in that cemetery Spies, Parsons, Engel and Fischer, the executed anarchists, are buried, but the officers of the Waldheim cemetery were adamant. They declared that the burial of the anarchists had brought such unpleasant notoriety to their cemetery that under no circumstances would they ever allow another murderer to be buried in the place.

After repeated efforts to secure a final resting place for the body of Hoch in one of the city cemeteries, the two clergymen finally despaired, and shortly before noon the body was interred in the potters' field adjoining the county poor farm at Dunning.

MISSING STEAMER LIMPS INTO PORT

The Dora Reaches Port Angelus, Wash., Long Overdue.

Seattle, Feb. 24.—The little Alaskan steamer Dora of the Northwestern Steamship company's line, which has been missing for upwards of fifty-four days and was given up for lost with all on board, limped into Port Angelus, Wash., yesterday, having gone 2,000 miles out of her course, and after one of the most remarkable experiences on record of the Pacific ocean. The Dora was blown out to sea in a fierce gale from the entrance to Cold bay on New Year's eve and had since been buffeted about in mid-ocean by storm with no coal on board. She made port with sail. All on board were well and had plenty to eat.

FRENCH BARON A COUNTERFEITER

Used a Pretty Young Woman to Pass the Queer Coin.

Paris, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Countess de Chicago, a very pretty young woman who, however, never crossed the herring pond, was nabbed by the police sitting on a sofa in which reposed 20,000 counterfeit francs in silver. The arrest was due to her habit of paying all bills with new two franc pieces of the same year. Squeezed by the third degree, the ladyship of the Windy City confessed that she was the agent of Baron de Saint-Jean, a real nobleman, who made the counterfeits. The baron was found in an elegant villa, surrounded by every evidence of wealth. When the police officer attempted to search the house, the baron pushed a button and eight lackeys in knee pants and gold laced coats appeared. "Wallop this plebian good and sound," said the baron, "and then throw him out into the gutter." The policeman whistled and ten gendarmes came to his rescue, whereupon the laceys left their noble master to fight his own battles. The counterfeiting plants was discovered, and the baron acknowledged that he has been making base money for fifteen years.

"The Barons de Saint-Jean received the privilege of coining under Louis XI," he said proudly, "and I am simply doing what I have the legal right to do—coining money. If I did not, I wouldn't have a cent to bless myself with, the first republic having confiscated my family estates. Yes, the nobility of the Countess de Chicago is of my own creation. The Barons of Saint-Jean possessed the privilege of creating nobles, too. I merely created her Mlle. de Chicago; she added the countess. I think I had the right to make her my agent, but since she gave me away, I will have nothing more to do with the goose. You may arrest her—I will not protest."

The heartless police arrested the baron instead and took the countess de Chicago to the house of detention, where she is cajoled and flattered, the lady having turned state's evidence.

TOLSTOI OUT OF HELL.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tolstoi is no longer in hell—the bishop of Kursk ordered the removal of the altar painting in the town of Tsovo, which pictures Tolstoi in a frying pan with dozens of little devils sticking red pitch forks into him.

TRUSTEE IN IGNORANCE

Of Existence of Andrew Hamilton and Other Insurance Leeches.

E. B. Morris Resigns His Trusteeship in the Mutual Life.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—Effingham B. Morris of this city announced today that he had resigned his trusteeship in the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York. Mr. Morris gives as a reason for his resignation the pressure of business. He is the president of the Girard Trust company of this city. Mr. Morris, in explaining his resignation, said:

"I resigned as a trustee of the Mutual Life because it proved to be impracticable for me as a non-resident to keep in touch with the details of the management of a corporation having its offices in New York and whose policy must necessarily be adapted to varying conditions from day to day. I remained in the board after the recent deplorable events only long enough to vote in support of every measure advocated by the Truesdale investigation committee.

"To show how impossible it is for any one living at a distance to know really much about a company as the Mutual until the names were brought out in the investigation, I did not know even of the existence of Mr. Thebaud, Mr. Raymond, Mr. Fields or Mr. Hamilton. Their names were never mentioned at any board meeting, and I never heard of them or their relation to the company.

"It seems foolish for a man to serve on a large board where naturally he can have no voice in the actual management by reason of his absence, and can only hear of decisions of policy after they are made. No such director can be called on to do more than support officers whom he supposes to be honorable men, and who are in charge of the business; he can pass upon such questions only as are brought before the board for action. If the officers abuse this trust and do not bring matters before the board the directors can by no possibility have any knowledge of them. In the case of the Mutual these officers have been dispensed with, and the courts will decide the merits of the matters. It has passed out of control of the trustees, and therefore there was no reason for me to remain longer on the board."

CONDEMNS RATE BILL

President Hadley Says the Hepburn Measure is Impracticable.

Still He Things It Better Than Anything Yet Presented.

Boston, Feb. 24.—The Evening Transcript today publishes an article by President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale university on the present status of the rate regulation contest in Washington. Dr. Hadley argues that the proposition of the Hepburn bill to make the decisions of the interstate commission final in all questions of fact is illogical and impracticable. He says a similar plan, tried in England in the seventies, did not work and was finally repealed. He declares that the common law gives the shipper more protection than statutes, as was shown in the Chesapeake & Ohio coal case, recently decided by the supreme court. Yet, in spite of these considerations, President Hadley expresses the belief that the passage of the Hepburn bill would be better than any compromise thus far suggested.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS

Per Acre Paid for 240 Acres of Land Near Calumet.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—James D. Hague of New York yesterday bought of the Shelden and Douglass estate 240 acres of land in sections 25 and 26 east and south of Calumet, at a price of $500 per acre, half cash and the balance on contract. It is though that E. J. Hurlbut, discoverer of the Calumet & Hecla, now a resident of Rome, is interested, and it is surmised that this tract may contain Hurlbut's "tomahawk" lode. It is said by him to be richer than the Calumet conglomerate.

PRIVY COUNCILLOR

Shot and Killed at Warsaw by an Unknown Man.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Feb. 24.—Privy Councillor Ivanoff, director general of the Vistula railroad, was shot and killed on Bracka street today by an unknown man.

M. Ivanoff was energetic in suppressing the recent railroad strtke and dismissed many employes for participating in it.

GOOD EVENING.

Duluth weather—Cold wave; zero temperature Sunday morning. Snow flurries tonight. Sunday generally fair.

KNOX

REGISTERED U.S. PAT. OFF. MOVEO ET PROFICIO KNOX NEW YORK.

World-Renowned

HATS

WE ALONE SELL THEM IN DULUTH

THE DAYLIGHT STORE.

Oak Hall Clothing Co.

331-333-335 Superior Street, Cor. Fourth Ave. W.

The Northland MFG. CO.

No. Size

Shirts, Overall Pants, Jackets, Etc.
MADE IN DULUTH.
Sold by all the Leading Merchants.

INDOOR BASEBALL!

Lincoln Park Roller Rink—Universal Millers vs. Big Duluth, Tuesday evening, Feb. 27. Game called at 8 p. m. sharp. Roller skating after game. Special car service 7 to 8 and 11 to 12. Third street line. Admission, 25c; including skating, 35c.

German and French Taught

In class or private. Address Prof. Jacob A. Wernli, P. O. Box 156.

CAN'T MISS IT.

Letter Carriers' BALL

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 26, AT ARMORY

Tickets, 50c couple. Street cars to West Duluth at 2:00 a. m.

Music by Paul's Orchestra of ten pieces. Get Souvenir Program at Door.

The Calumet & Arizona Mining Company

Have declared a dividend of Two and Fifty one-hundredths ($2.50) dollars a share, being the tenth quarterly dividend on the outstanding stock of said Company, payable March 20th to stockholders of record at the close of the books March 3rd, 1906. Transfer books will close at 3 o'clock p. m. March 3rd, 1906, and reopen at 10 o'clock a. m. March 20th, 1906.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 21st, 1906.

GORDON R. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

CHARGED WITH MARCUM MURDER.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 24.—The Breathitt county grand jury today returned indictments against Judge James Hargis, Ed Callahan, B. F. French, John Smith and John Abner, charging murder and accessory to the same in the death of James B. Marcum here two years ago. Marcum was killed here in the courthouse door, the result of a feud.

Your Savings Account

Should be in a bank that makes a specialty of such accounts.

This bank above everything else is a savings bank, and absolute safety for savings is the first consideration in its management.

3 PER CENT

Interest paid on savings and time deposits.

DULUTH SAVINGS BANK

NEW LOCATION
220 W. SUPERIOR ST.
OPEN TONIGHT
FROM 6:00 TO 8:00

ATTORNEY NEFF SHOWS CONSIDERABLE ANGER

Abandonment of Black Hearing Was Possible for Few Moments.

More Testimony as to Alleged Irregularities on Part of Chief.

An abrupt termination to the Chief Black investigation was narrowly averted this morning, after a wordy battle between Attorneys Neff and Jenswold and President Hollister of the board.

Mr. Neff had been examining Edward Jackson, former chief of the department, on the quality of some clothing purchased through Chief Black for the department, and Jackson had stated that a pair of trousers he had bought for $7 had split open at the back the first day he wore them.

Commissioner How took the witness in hand at the close of the examination, for some additional information.

"Now, Mr. Jackson," said Mr. How, "you don't look to me like a man who would spend $7 for a pair of trousers which were worthless, and who would lay down on the proposition. How does it come that you didn't make a big row over it and demand your money back?"

"Yes, and get fired?" added Mr. Neff.

"Well now, Mr. Neff, —" began Mr. How.

"Yes, I mean it," said Mr. Neff, excitedly, rising to his feet and shaking his finger at the chief. "That man is crooked. I believe anyone who would make a kick against him would lose his job."

"No such statement as that will be allowed here," said Mr. Hollister. "That is no way to conduct an investigation, and you can't come here and make any such wild statements without some proof."

"That is my honest opinion," said Mr. Neff.

"Well, I don't care if it is," said Mr. Hollister, "you can't use such language here."

"Well, what are you going to do about it?" asked Mr. Neff.

"I'll see that you don't conduct the case against the chief before this board, if you do," retorted Mr. Hollister.

"Well, I'm ready to quit right now if you say the word. I was told that hearsay evidence would be admitted here, and as soon as a piece of hearsay evidence is heard, it is objected to and the objection sustained."

"That is part of the bluff that Mr. Neff —" began Mr. Jenswold, but Mr. Hollister stopped him abruptly. "That will do Mr. Jenswold," he said, "let's get down to business."

* * *

When the commissioners got together this morning shortly before 9 o'clock, Thomas McMeekin was placed upon the stand as the first witness. He testified that he had been reduced from captain to lieutenant by Chief Black, in order to cut down expenses during the hard times, and that the chief had promised him the first opening to be promoted again. He claimed that when that opening came Captain Wilson was appointed to fill the vacancy.

On cross examination, Mr. Jenswold attempted to bring out the fact that McMeekin had been reduced for cause.

"Isn't it true that written charges were filed against you?" asked Mr. Jenswold.

"Yes."

"Were you not, on one occasion, found asleep on two chairs in the hall about 10:30 o'clock in the morning, in direct violation of the rules?"

"Yes, but I wasn't the only one doing it."

"Well, as captain, wasn't it your place to keep discipline?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever report anyone for sleeping while on duty?"

"No, sir."

Herman Wendlandt, the former fireman who brought suit against Chief Black to collect for services rendered in caring for the chief's pony, was the next witness.

Mr. Wendlandt was questioned regarding the election of a trustee of the relief association from his company.

"When Capt. Wilson's term expired, we elected Archie McCallum," he said. "The chief drove up next day and asked us singly why we had voted for McCallum. I said that I had voted for him because I believed in dividing these honors up. Then he said that we would either have to elect Wilson or he would combine the companies and give us no representative at all."

"What did you do?"

"Well, we elected Wilson."

"During the time you were in the department did the chief sell any mining stock?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you buy any?"

"I did."

"What did he say about it?"

"I can't say that he ever asked anyone to buy it, but he said that he had all of his money invested in it, and was going to get his mother to put $4,000 in it."

"Did Mr. Perry, one of the directors tell you how much money the chief had put into it?"

"Yes."

"How much?"

Mr. Jenswold interposed an objection to the evidence of any such heresay evidence, and it was sustained.

"Well were you informed that the chief got 14,000 shares of the stock for nothing?" asked Mr. Neff.

Mr. Jenswold heatedly objected to this means of getting at evidence which had been ruled out.

"I understood that heresay evidence was to be heard here," said Mr. Neff. "We are handicapped by not being able to force anybody to testify."

"Did you ever hear any concersation between Black and Dr. McKay, the city veterinary, about some horses brought over from Superior by Chief Kellogg?" asked Mr. Neff.

"Yes."

"Kellogg is one of the directors of the mining company and a close personal friend of the chief's, is he not?"

"Yes, he is reported as such."

"Where were those horses put?"

"In the hospital under my charge."

"What happened?"

"Dr. McKay came down and looked at them and told the chief that two of them were culls and wouldn't pull a lumber wagon. Only one of the four was recommended by him, and he said that that one was a little light for the department."

"What did the chief say?"

"He said, 'well, Doc, they were bought by a friend of mine and I don't see how we can leave them on his hands.' Dr. McKay said he would not take the responsibility of recommending them."

"They were bought in July, 1905, for $1,050?"

"Yes."

"What happened after that?"

"One of them was always complained of as a poor horse, and the one that was partly condemned only lasted eight months and had to be traded."

"Did anyone else hear this conversation?"

"Yes."

"Tell his name."

"I won't do that. He would be fired if I did."

"We'll take care of that," said Mr. Hollister.

"Go ahead and tell it," said Mr. Neff.

"Well, it was Kenneth McDonald."

Mr. McDonald was summoned by the board as a witness.

Mr. Ne ffthen went into the raffles held by the chief.

"How long ago was the last one?" he asked.

"About three years ago."

"You went into most of the chief's enterprises, din't you?"

"Yes, sir, the mining stock and the raffles."

"There were two other horses brought over by Kellogg and kept for a few days, weren't there?"

"Yes, sir, they were boarded for about sixteen days."

"What did the chief say about them?"

"He said, 'Herman, don't mention those two horses being fed here to anyone. Some of those cranks will get hold of it.'"

Mr. Wendlandt testified that he had been repeatedly sent to the chief's house while he was off duty, to clean out the furnace, carry in wood, clean off the sidewalk, and on one occasion to help clean house.

Mr. Jenswold then took the witness in hand.

"You have no love for Chief Black, have you?" he asked.

"I have nothing against him."

"You started a suit against him, in which the jury found against you?"

"Yes, sir."

"And yet your relations have been friendly?"

"Well, I wouldn't go out of my way to do him a favor, and I wouldn't do anything out of spite against him."

"Mr. Black gave you tips for the work you did?"

"I don't call them tips. I earned all he ever paid me."

"You have got your stock yet?"

"Yes."

"How much?"

"Seven hundred shares."

"What did it cost you?"

"Twenty-five cents a share."

"Could you have sold at a profit?"

"Yes, but Chief Black told me I would be a fool if I let the stock go for any such price as I was offered."

"You think his judgment is infallible, then?"

"No, but he was a director in the company, and I thought he knew the circumstances. But I wouldn't take the money today for the stock that I paid Chief Black for it."

"You don't want to make another break like that," said Mr. Jenswold, "or Mr. Neff will discharge you."

"I just say what I feel in the matter."

"Do you know whether the city was ever paid for the care of those horses?"

"I do not."

"You understood that the horses were there to be tried?"

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Hollister tried to get the witness to state approximately the number of days he had lost from duty while doing private work for the chief, but Mr. Wendlandt said he couldnt even estimate the number.

"Was there ever an alarm while you were working at the chief's house?" asked Mr. Hollister.

"Yes."

"What did you do?"

"I ran down to First street once and caught the salvage wagon from headquarters. On another occasion I missed it and was late at the fire."

Edward Jackson, who was formerly chief of the department, was the next witness. He told about taking charge of the salesman from Chicago and with him inspecting the men's clothing to see who needed new uniforms. He stated that the chief purchased two suits, and that he bought a pair of trousers which split open across the back the first day he wore them, when he stooped over to pick up a copy of The Herald on the steps of his home one evening.

Mr. Neff then went into the helmet question, and Mr. Jackson told how he had purchased a new front for his helmet along with about $30 worth of this kind of material bought through the chief.

"The chief refused to take my $1.50," said Mr. Jackson. "He said that he had got his usual commission, and that his helmet and mine came free."

"What was that?"

"He said 10 per cent."

"Chief Black was appointed chief in your place, and Randall was made assistant chief over you, was he not?" asked Mr. Jenswold.

"Yes, sir."

"Do you mean to insinuate that the chief pocketed that 10 per cent?"

"Well, he said that his and mine came free."

"Wasn't this clothing salesman representing the house that makes the clothes for the Chicago fire department?"

"I don't know anything about that."

"Weren't the prices fair, and a little bit lower than you could get in Duluth?"

"Yes, sir."

"Previous to this move of the chief's there had been a difference in the cloth in the firemen's uniforms, hadn't there?"

"Yes."

"Would you be surprised to learn that the chief had brought his helmet with him when he came to Duluth?"

"Well, I don't know anything about that."

"You are one of these dissatisfied firemen that have started out to reform the department, are you not?"

"I don't think anything about the fire department now unless the subject is brought up."

"Was there anything in the nature of coercion in taking the orders of the firemen?" asked Mr. Hollister.

"No, the chief said to tell the men that we were buying clothes and that they could do so also if they wanted to."

Then followed the little tilt between Mr. Neff and Mr. Hollister given above. Alfred McCallum, secretary of the board, was placed upon the stand to verify a paper which was submitted in evidence, showing the list of chemicals which had been purchased from Abbett's drug store in the last few years.

"Mr. Abbett is the chief's son-in-law, is he not?" asked Mr. Neff.

"Yes, I believe he is."

"There have been no chemicals purchased from any one but Abbett since you came into office?"

"Not that I remember."

"What reasons are there for the chief doing the buying?" asked Mr. Jenswold.

"Somebody has to do it."

The hearing was adjourned at 12 o'clock, and will be resumed this afternoon.

MEETS DEATH IN PECULIAR MANNER

Falls While Drunk and Wedges Head Between Fence Pickets.

Minneapolis, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Rogers, 815 Fourteenth avenue south, was found dead under mysterious and most unusual circumstances early today on Sixteenth avenue south, near Rankin.

The body was discovered by Patrolman Knutson of the South side station. The body rested on the hands and knees, while the neck was wedged between two pickets of a strong fence, as though in a vise.

Knutson was just leaving his beat to report at the station when he saw the body ahead of him.

Thinking it a drunken man, he attempted to awaken him, but found that Rogers was dead.

An investigation proved to the satisfaction of the police that death was due to accident.

Rogers' hat was found on the opposite side of the fence from his body, tending to show that he fell with some force. It was known that Rogers was drinking heavily last night and the police think that he slipped on the ice.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles, and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by all druggists.

OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

Plymouth—Arrived: Philadelphia, from New York.

NO CHANGES NECESSARY

Phil Bevis Finds Y. M. C. A. Building Plans Are All Right.

Returns From Visit to Various Cities in the East.

"I see no reason why Duluth should not have a better Y. M. C. A. building than any other city of its size in the United States, and better than similar structures in many larger cities," said Phil Bevis, secretary of the Duluth Y. M. C. A., on his return today from a trip through the East, where, in company with Architect F. G. German, he inspected fourteen or fifteen association buildings, with a view to getting ideas that would be of benefit in the construction of the proposed building for this city.

"The trip was planned," continued Mr. Bevis, "to satisfy ourselves that we had all the modern ideas, and to allow us an opportunity to make a study of the best buildings of the country.

"We made a particular study of details, such as heating, lighting, swimming facilities, restaurants, gymnasium equipment, etc. In Brooklyn we visited the Yale gymnasium, said to be the largest and best equipped in America. There are four association buildings in Brooklyn. We were especially well pleased with the buildings in Washington and Scranton. These cost about one-third more than will the one in Duluth, but they are no better for the purposes of the community, taking size into consideration, than will be the one in Duluth.

"I find the building movement today is one of the liveliest issues in the whole activity of the association. Building campaigns are being carried on in all parts of the country, and they are meeting with excellent success, the amount subscribed in many cases being more than was asked for. I also found that Duluth is pretty well known because of the highly successful building campaign we carried on here, as well as for what the local association has been able to accomplish outside of building matters. Everywhere I went great interest was shown in our work.

"I met Rev. John Callahan, formerly an evangelist in Duluth. He is now carrying on evangelistic work in the metropolis and is meeting with remarkable success. I believe his mission is destined to become the biggest and most important I have ever known."

NEW COMPANIES INCORPORATED

Two of Much Interest in Copper Circles Are Formed.

The Associated Press today brings the news of two mining incorporations of much interest. From Trenton, N. J., comes this: "A certificate of incorporation was issued by the secretary of state today to the Butte Coalition Mining company, with a capitalization of $15,000,000. The company will engage in the copper mining business."

Albany, N. Y., reports the following: "The Red Metal Mining Company of New York, capital of $11,000,000, was incorporated today. The directors are Thomas F. Cole of Duluth, Minn.; William D. Thornton, Roy S. Alley of Butte, Mont., and Charles D. Frazer and John C. Lahor of New York city."

The Trenton, N. J., incorporation has about the capitalization that reports have put the company at that is to take over the Heinze properties.

CITY BRIEFS

As a result of overdrawing his acount at the bank and neglecting to settle up, Emil Johnson of Eveleth was this morning arraigned on two counts charging him with petty larceny. He pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs in each acse by Judge Windom.

William Minor of the town of St. Louis presented a wolf pelt at the auditor's office this morning and drew the $15 bounty.

Axel Pakkala, against whom a $1,500 verdict was rendered in favor of John Tolonen for injuries received on the head by reason of blows from a billiard cue, has filed notice in district court of an appeal to the state supreme court from the order denying him a new trial. With the notice is filed an appeal bond in the sum of $5,000, with L. S. Loeb and P. R. Vail as sureties.

The children, assisted by some outside talent, under the leadership of Miss McClaren and Miss Richardson, will give an entertainment at the Lake avenue Bethel this evening.

The Bethesda Sunday-school gave the pupils a sleighride to Lester Park last Friday evening and served refreshments in the church upon their return. Both teachers and pupils had a delightful time.

Tomorow afternoon at 4 o'clock, John A. Goodell, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will address the members of the Y. W. C. A. at their club rooms. The girls' double quartet of St. John's Lutheran church will sing two numbers and to close the afternoon tea will be served.

Tuesday afternoon, immediately after Rev. J. C. Faries' Bible class convenes, a reception will be held at the Y. W. C. A. club rooms. The ladies are cordially invited and a very delightful afternoon is planned.

A midwinter cantata will be held at the Pilgrim Congregational church, Sunday evening, to which the public is cordially invited. The chorus of the Altrurian club, assisted by the church choir, will furnish splendid entertainment during the evening. The chorus has been under the direction of Mrs. Emily Ellis Woodward for the past few weeks, so some very good music is expected.

Mrs. George D. Manderville of 1420 East Fourth street, entertained yesterday at a charming luncheon for her guest, Mrs. Bartlett. During the afternoon euchre was played at the twelve tables. The guest prize was given to Mrs Bartlett, the first prize to Mrs. C. E. Spring, and the consolation to Mrs. Babin of Winona.

Special meetings of the Salvation Army will be held tomorrow on account of the arrival of Brigadier and Mrs. Cousins to this city. They will be assisted by Staff Capt. Dale. The commissioning of local officers will be held Sunday evening.

Rev. J. T. Moody will speak at the men's meeting of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon. There will be a trombone solo by Frank Hughes.

James Shetry, the West Superior street saloonkeeper, was bound over to the grand jury at the conclusion of his hearing in the municipal court yesterday afternoon, by Judge Windom.

H. Levine of the Bee Hive department store, left Tuesday for the East to buy his spring stock.

The Modern Samaritans will give a ball at Columbia hall at the West end, Monday evening.

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian church will meet on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. P. Warren of No. 2 Munger Terrace.

Eugene Thrall of Randall and Angus Cameron of Duluth, have been discharged by Judge Morris as bankrupts.

Weak Kidneys

It is of but little use to try to doctor the kidneys themselves. Such treatment is wrong. For the kidneys are not usually to blame for their weaknesses or irregularities. They have no power—no self-control. They are operated and actuated by a tiny shred of a nerve which is largely responsible for their condition. If the Kidney nerve is strong and healthy the kidneys are strong and healthy. If the Kidney nerve goes wrong, you know it by the inevitable result—kidney trouble.

This tender nerve is only one of a great system of nerves. This system controls not only the kidneys, but the heart, and the liver, and the stomach. For simplicity's sake Dr. Shoop has called this great nerve system the "Inside Nerves." They are not the nerves of feeling—not the nerves that enable you to walk, to talk, to act, to think. They are the master nerves, and every vital organ is their slave. The common name for these nerves is the "sympathetic nerves"—because each set is in such close sympathy with the others that weakness anywhere usually results in weakness everywhere.

The one remedy which aids to treat, not the Kidneys themselves, but the nerves which are to blame, is known by physicians and druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative (Tablets or Liquid). This remedy is not a symptom remedy—it is strictly a cause remedy. While it usually brings speedy relief, its effects are also lasting.

If you would like to read an interesting book on Inside nerve disease, write Dr. Shoop. With the book he will also send the "Health Token"—an intended passport to good health. Both the book and the "Health Token" are free.

For the free book and the "Health Token" you must address Dr. Shoop, Box 8760, Racine, Wis. State which book you want.

Book 1 on Dyspepsia.
Book 2 on the Heart.
Book 3 on the Kidneys.
Book 4 for Women.
Book 5 for Men.
Book 6 on Rheumatism.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative Tablets—give full three weeks' treatment. Each form—liquid or tablet—have equal merit. Druggists everywhere.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

PERSONALS

Frank Frezean will leave tomorrow morning for a month's trip through the South and a visit at Tarpon Springs, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Heimbach of 1123 East Second street are expected home the first of next week from an extended trip through Cuba.

John Carter of Minneapolis, traveling representative of the American Biscuit company, is in Duluth. In the future, Mr. Carter will have charge of Duluth and the range territory and will make this city his headquarters. During his residence in Minneapolis, Mr. Carter was prominent in national guard circles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jennison of Minneapolis will arrive this evening from Minneapolis to spend several days here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Goodman. Mr. Jennison is president of the Duluth Universal Milling company.

Rev. H. K. Madsen has gone to Ashland to take part in the dedication of a church there.

Mrs. James Parkhurst left today for the Twin Cities.

Capt. T. H. Pressnell has returned from the meeting of the grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. at St. Paul.

Very Easy Terms — French & Bassett — Very Easy Terms

DULUTH, MINN.

Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.

Complete Housefurnishers and Reliable Piano Dealers.

VICTOR

TALKING MACHINES

Are the great entertainers of the day and give more real pleasure than any other article that can enter the home.

Prices from $15 to $100

We carry a very large stock of both Victor and Edison Machines and Records and cordially invite you to come and hear them at any time.

On March 5 we shall begin the construction of the most convenient and attractive Talking Machine Dept in the West.

Very Easy Terms.

Both Victor and Edison Machines will be sold on very easy monthly or weekly payments of from $1 to $2 a week, or from $3 a month up.

RECORDS REDUCED.

7 and 8-in., 50c ..... to 35c
10-in., $1.00 ..... to 60c
12-in., $1.50 ..... to $1.00

All the latest Records are here. Come and hear them.

ARE YOU GOING TO BUILD?

If so, here is the place where you can get GOOD GOODS for your money and a finer line than we have you can't find in Duluth.

Bring in your specifications and make your selections and we will be glad to quote you our prices.

Don't put a 50c set on a nice Hardwood Door, as you did last time, but get something that is in harmony with the material and finish of your rooms.

DULUTH HARDWARE CO., 113 W. Superior St.

Radames — Fine Orange Male Angora Cat — M. S. R. No. 303

A grand cat. Sire Hamiole dam, Nou, deep copper eyes, solid even color.

OLD PHONE 1539. NEW PHONE 6118.

NORMANNA AND SVEA CONTEST

Societies to Contest in April for Carlton Trophy.

The annual contest of chorus singing between the Normanna and Svea singing societies of Duluth for the Carlson trophy will take place in the near future and arrangements are already being made for the event. The Normanna Singing society is the present holder of the trophy and has won it two years in succession.

The date of the contest this year has not been fully decided upon. It will probably be on April 22 and will be announced later. The uncertainty arises from the fact that it is desired to have United States Senator Knute Nelson here to be the speaker of the evening together with J. B. Cotton of Duluth and it is thought he will be available on the date mentioned.

The Normanna Male chorus has appointed the following committee to look after arrangements for it in the contest: H. B. Knudsen, Andrew Angvik and K. L. Fenney. The committee from the Svea society consists of E. M. Lunander, John Wolleen and Jarvin Lbronereen. Mr. Fenney is chairman of the joint committee and Mr. Lunander is secretary.

The Normanna chorus held a meeting a few night ago and elected the following officers: President, H. B. Knudsen; vice president, Andrew Angvik; secretary, Walter Eng; financial secretary, J. W. Johnson; treasurer, Julius Berger; propertyman, H. Hangan; color bearer, K. L. Fenney; director, J. H. Flaaten.

The February Sale

At French & Bassett's ends Saturday, March 3. 10 to 50 per cent discount.

D. E. H., Feb. 24, 1906.

HATS

With beautiful weather overhead, a great and early demand for new hats has sprung up and we are glad that we received a large part of our 1906 hats early, and are prepared for this unusual spell of Florida climate in Duluth.

We can meet the demand for hats at high and low prices, and for young and old, better than other stores in this neighborhood, first because we carry such extensive stocks as to be able to satisfy all faces and notions, and second because nothing but the best for the price is allowed on our premises.

For those who wish the finest in the land, we have the Knapp-Felt De Luxe $6 hats. We show a $4 hat, which as far as real value is concerned, may be called a five dollar hat minus the extra charge for a maker's name. It is known as the "Columbia Special". Our great $3 hat bears the plain name of which stands for the best wherever it is attached to any article.

COLUMBIA

Take the "Columbia $1 Shirt", and the way those which we placed on sale a few weeks ago are selling shows that the people know a good thing when they see it. The same holds true of our "Columbia $3.50 Shoe", which is gaining a strong foothold among Duluth shoe wearers, and is stepping to the front at a lively gait. This beautiful weather is pretty bad under foot—good shoes will prevent much sickness, but in these days of ever rising leather prices it behooves you to look out, for many makers are taking the difference out of the quality, and you cannot easily tell it at sight. You will be safe in buying Columbia $3.50

SHOES

DEFECTIVE PAGE

GOOD EVENING.

Duluth weather—Cold wave; zero temperature Sunday morning. Snow flurries tonight. Sunday generally fair.

KNOX

REGISTERED — MOVEO ET PROFICIO — KNOX — NEW YORK.

World-Renowned

HATS

WE ALONE SELL THEM IN DULUTH

THE DAYLIGHT STORE.

Oak Hall Clothing Co.

331-333-335 Superior Street, Cor. Fourth Ave. W.

The Northland Mfg. Co.

No. Size

Shirts, Overall Pants, Jackets, Etc.
MADE IN DULUTH.
Sold by all the Leading Merchants.

INDOOR BASEBALL!

Lincoln Park Roller Rink—Universal Millers vs. Big Duluth, Tuesday evening, Feb. 27. Game called at 8 p. m. sharp. Roller skating after game. Special car service 7 to 8 and 11 to 12, Third street line. Admission, 25c; including skating, 35c.

German and French Taught

In class or private. Address Prof. Jacob A. Wernli, P. O. Box 136.

CAN'T MISS IT.

Letter Carriers' BALL

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 26, AT ARMORY

Tickets, 50c couple. Street cars to West Duluth at 2:00 a. m.

Music by Paul's Orchestra of ten pieces.

Get Souvenir Program at Door.

The Calumet & Arizona Mining Company

Have declared a dividend of Two and Fifty one-hundredths ($2.50) dollars a share, being the tenth quarterly dividend on the outstanding stock of said Company, payable March 20th to stockholders of record at the close of the books March 3rd, 1906. Transfer books will close at 3 o'clock p. m. March 3rd, 1906, and reopen at 10 o'clock a. m. March 20th, 1906.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 21st, 1906.
GORDON R. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

CHARGED WITH MARCUM MURDER.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 24.—The Breathitt county grand jury today returned indictments against Judge James Hargis, Ed Callahan, B. F. French, John Smith and John Abner, charging murder and accessory to the same in the death of James B. Marcum here two years ago. Marcum was killed here in the courthouse door, the result of a feud.

Your Savings Account

Should be in a bank that makes a specialty of such accounts.

This bank above everything else is a savings bank, and absolute safety for savings is the first consideration in its management.

3 PER CENT

Interest paid on savings and time deposits.

DULUTH SAVINGS BANK

NEW LOCATION
220 W. SUPERIOR ST.
OPEN TONIGHT
FROM 6:00 TO 8:00

ATTORNEY NEFF SHOWS CONSIDERABLE ANGER

Abandonment of Black Hearing Was Possible for Few Moments.

More Testimony as to Alleged Irregularities on Part of Chief.

An abrupt termination to the Chief Black investigation was narrowly averted this morning, after a wordy battle between Attorneys Neff and Jenswold and President Hollister of the board.

Mr. Neff had been examining Edward Jackson, former chief of the department, on the quality of some clothing purchased through Chief Black for the department, and Jackson had stated that a pair of trousers he had bought for $7 had split open at the back the first day he wore them.

Commissioner How took the witness in hand at the close of the examination, for some additional information.

"Now, Mr. Jackson," said Mr. How, "you don't look to me like a man who would spend $7 for a pair of trousers which were worthless, and who would lay down on the proposition. How does it come that you didn't make a big row over it and demand your money back?"

"Yes, and get fired?" added Mr. Neff.

"Well now, Mr. Neff, —" began Mr. How.

"Yes, I mean it," said Mr. Neff, excitedly, rising to his feet and shaking his finger at the chief. "That man is crooked. I believe anyone who would make a kick against him would lose his job."

"No such statement as that will be allowed here," said Mr. Hollister. "That is no way to conduct an investigation, and you can't come here and make any such wild statements without some proof."

"That is my honest opinion," said Mr. Neff.

"Well, I don't care if it is," said Mr. Hollister, "you can't use such language here."

"Well, what are you going to do about it?" asked Mr. Neff.

"I'll see that you don't conduct the case against the chief before this board, if you do," retorted Mr. Hollister.

"Well, I'm ready to quit right now if you say the word. I was told that hearsay evidence would be admitted here, and as soon as a piece of hearsay evidence is heard, it is objected to and the objection sustained."

"That is part of the bluff that Mr. Neff —" began Mr. Jenswold, but Mr. Hollister stopped him abruptly. "That will do Mr. Jenswold," he said, "let's get down to business."

* * *

When the commissioners got together this morning shortly before 9 o'clock, Thomas McMeekin was placed upon the stand as the first witness. He testified that he had been reduced from captain to lieutenant by Chief Black, in order to cut down expenses during the hard times, and that the chief had promised him the first opening to be promoted again. He claimed that when that opening came Captain Wilson was appointed to fill the vacancy.

On cross examination, Mr. Jenswold attempted to bring out the fact that McMeekin had been reduced for cause.

"Isn't it true that written charges were filed against you?" asked Mr. Jenswold.

"Yes."

"Were you not, on one occasion, found asleep on two chairs in the hall about 10:30 o'clock in the morning, in direct violation of the rules?"

"Yes, but I wasn't the only one doing it."

"Well, as captain, wasn't it your place to keep discipline?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever report anyone for sleeping while on duty?"

"No, sir."

Herman Wendlandt, the former fireman who brought suit against Chief Black to collect for services rendered in caring for the chief's pony, was the next witness.

Mr. Wendlandt was questioned regarding the election of a trustee of the relief association from his company.

"When Capt. Wilson's term expired, we elected Archie McCallum," he said. "The chief drove up next day and asked us singly why we had voted for McCallum. I said that I had voted for him because I believed in dividing these honors up. Then he said that we would either have to elect Wilson or he would combine the companies and give us no representative at all."

"What did you do?"

"Well, we elected Wilson."

"During the time you were in the department did the chief sell any mining stock?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you buy any?"

"I did."

"What did he say about it?"

"I can't say that he ever asked anyone to buy it, but he said that he had all of his money invested in it, and was going to get his mother to put $4,000 in it."

"Did Mr. Perry, one of the directors tell you how much money the chief had put into it?"

"Yes."

"How much?"

Mr. Jenswold interposed an objection to the evidence of any such heresay evidence, and it was sustained.

"Well were you informed that the chief got 14,000 shares of the stock for nothing?" asked Mr. Neff.

Mr. Jenswold heatedly objected to this means of getting at evidence which had been ruled out.

"I understood that heresay evidence was to be heard here," said Mr. Neff. "We are handicapped by not being able to force anybody to testify."

"Did you ever hear any concersation between Black and Dr. McKay, the city veterinary, about some horses brought over from Superior by Chief Kellogg?" asked Mr. Neff.

"Yes."

"Kellogg is one of the directors of the mining company and a close personal friend of the chief's, is he not?"

"Yes, he is reported as such."

"Where were those horses put?"

"In the hospital under my charge."

"What happened?"

"Dr. McKay came down and looked at them and told the chief that two of them were culls and wouldn't pull a lumber wagon. Only one of the four was recommended by him, and he said that that one was a little light for the department."

"What did the chief say?"

"He said, 'well, Doc, they were bought by a friend of mine and I don't see how we can leave them on his hands.' Dr. McKay said he would not take the responsibility of recommending them."

"They were bought in July, 1905, for $1,080?"

"Yes."

"What happened after that?"

"One of them was always complained of as a poor horse, and the one that was partly condemned only lasted eight months and had to be traded."

"Did anyone else hear this conversation?"

"Yes."

"Tell his name."

"I won't do that. He would be fired if I did."

"We'll take care of that," said Mr. Hollister.

"Go ahead and tell it," said Mr. Neff.

"Well, it was Kenneth McDonald."

Mr. McDonald was summoned by the board as a witness.

Mr. Neff then went into the raffles held by the chief.

"How long ago was the last one?" he asked.

"About three years ago."

"You went into most of the chief's enterprises, din't you?"

"Yes, sir, the mining stock and the raffles."

"There were two other horses brought over by Kellogg and kept for a few days, weren't there?"

"Yes, sir, they were boarded for about sixteen days."

"What did the chief say about them?"

"He said, 'Herman, don't mention those two horses being fed here to anyone. Some of those cranks will get hold of it.'"

Mr. Wendlandt testified that he had been repeatedly sent to the chief's house while he was off duty, to clean out the furnace, carry in wood, clean off the sidewalk, and on one occasion to help clean house.

Mr. Jenswold then took the witness in hand.

"You have no love for Chief Black, have you?" he asked.

"I have nothing against him."

"You started a suit against him, in which the jury found against you?"

"Yes, sir."

"And yet your relations have been friendly?"

"Well, I wouldn't go out of my way to do him a favor, and I wouldn't do anything out of spite against him."

"Mr. Black gave you tips for the work you did?"

"I don't call them tips. I earned all he ever paid me."

"You have got your stock yet?"

"Yes."

"How much?"

"Seven hundred shares."

"What did it cost you?"

"Twenty-five cents a share."

"Could you have sold at a profit?"

"Yes, but Chief Black told me I would be a fool if I let the stock go for any such price as I was offered."

"You think his judgment is infallible, then?"

"No, but he was a director in the company, and I thought he knew the circumstances. But I wouldn't take the money today for the stock that I paid Chief Black for it."

"You don't want to make another break like that," said Mr. Jenswold, "or Mr. Neff will discharge you."

"I just say what I feel in the matter."

"Do you know whether the city was ever paid for the care of those horses?"

"I do not."

"You understood that the horses were there to be tried?"

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Hollister tried to get the witness to state approximately the number of days he had lost from duty while doing private work for the chief, but Mr. Wendlandt said he couldnt even estimate the number.

"Was there ever an alarm while you were working at the chief's house?" asked Mr. Hollister.

"Yes."

"What did you do?"

"I ran down to First street once and caught the salvage wagon from headquarters. On another occasion I missed it and was late at the fire."

Edward Jackson, who was formerly chief of the department, was the next witness. He told about taking charge of the salesman from Chicago and with him inspecting the men's clothing to see who needed new uniforms. He stated that the chief purchased two suits, and that he bought a pair of trousers which split open across the back the first day he wore them, when he stooped over to pick up a copy of The Herald on the steps of his home one evening.

Mr. Neff then went into the helmet question, and Mr. Jackson told how he had purchased a new front for his helmet along with about $20 worth of this kind of material bought through the chief.

"The chief refused to take my $1.50," said Mr. Jackson. "He said that he had got his usual commission, and that his helmet and mine came free."

"What was that?"

"He said 10 per cent."

"Chief Black was appointed chief in your place, and Randall was made assistant chief over you, was he not?" asked Mr. Jenswold.

"Yes, sir."

"Do you mean to insinuate that the chief pocketed that 10 per cent?"

"Well, he said that his and mine came free."

"Wasn't this clothing salesman representing the house that makes the clothes for the Chicago fire department?"

"I don't know anything about that."

"Weren't the prices fair, and a little bit lower than you could get in Duluth?"

"Yes, sir."

"Previous to this move of the chief's there had been a difference in the cloth in the firemen's uniforms, hadn't there?"

"Yes."

"Would you be surprised to learn that the chief had brought his helmet with him when he came to Duluth?"

"Well, I don't know anything about that."

"You are one of these dissatisfied firemen that have started out to reform the department, are you not?"

"I don't think anything about the fire department now unless the subject is brought up."

"Was there anything in the nature of coercion in taking the orders of the firemen?" asked Mr. Hollister.

"No, the chief told us to tell the men that we were buying clothes and that they could do so also if they wanted to."

Then followed the little tilt between Mr. Neff and Mr. Hollister given above. Alfred McCallum, secretary of the board, was placed upon the stand to verify a paper which was submitted in evidence, showing the list of chemicals which had been purchased from Abbett's drug store in the last few years.

"Mr. Abbett is the chief's son-in-law, is he not?" asked Mr. Neff.

"Yes, I believe he is."

"There have been no chemicals purchased from any one but Abbett since you came into office?"

"Not that I remember."

"What reasons are there for the chief doing the buying?" asked Mr. Jenswold.

"Somebody has to do it."

The hearing was adjourned at 12 o'clock, and will be resumed this afternoon.

MEETS DEATH IN PECULIAR MANNER

Falls While Drunk and Wedges Head Between Fence Pickets.

Minneapolis, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Rogers, 815 Fourteenth avenue south, was found dead under mysterious and most unusual circumstances early today on Sixteenth avenue south, near Rankin.

The body was discovered by Patrolman Knutson of the South side station. The body rested on the hands and knees, while the neck was wedged between two pickets of a strong fence, as though in a vise.

Knutson was just leaving his beat to report at the station when he saw the body ahead of him.

Thinking it a drunken man, he attempted to awaken him, but found that Rogers was dead.

An investigation proved to the satisfaction of the police that death was due to accident.

Rogers' hat was found on the opposite side of the fence from his body, tending to show that he fell with some force. It was known that Rogers was drinking heavily last night and the police think that he slipped on the ice.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles, and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by all druggists.

OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

Plymouth—Arrived: Philadelphia, from New York.

NO CHANGES NECESSARY

Phil Bevis Finds Y. M. C. A. Building Plans Are All Right.

Returns From Visit to Various Cities in the East.

"I see no reason why Duluth should not have a better Y. M. C. A. building than any other city of its size in the United States, and better than similar structures in many larger cities," said Phil Bevis, secretary of the Duluth Y. M. C. A., on his return today from a trip through the East, where, in company with Architect F. G. German, he inspected fourteen or fifteen association buildings, with a view to getting ideas that would be of benefit in the construction of the proposed building for this city.

"The trip was planned," continued Mr. Bevis, "to satisfy ourselves that we had all the modern ideas, and to allow us an opportunity to make a study of the best buildings of the country.

"We made a particular study of details, such as heating, lighting, swimming facilities, restaurants, gymnasium equipment, etc. In Brooklyn we visited the Yale gymnasium, said to be the largest and best equipped in America. There are four association buildings in Brooklyn. We were especially well pleased with the buildings in Washington and Scranton. These cost about one-third more than will the one in Duluth, but they are no better for the purposes of the community, taking size into consideration, than will be the one in Duluth.

"I find the building movement today is one of the liveliest issues in the whole activity of the association. Building campaigns are being carried on in all parts of the country, and they are meeting with excellent success, the amount subscribed in many cases being more than was asked for. I also found that Duluth is pretty well known because of the highly successful building campaign we carried on here, as well as for what the local association has been able to accomplish outside of building matters. Everywhere I went great interest was shown in our work.

"I met Rev. John Callahan, formerly an evangelist in Duluth. He is now carrying on evangelistic work in the metropolis and is meeting with remarkable success. I believe his mission is destined to become the biggest and most important I have ever known."

NEW COMPANIES INCORPORATED

Two of Much Interest in Copper Circles Are Formed.

The Associated Press today brings the news of two mining incorporations of much interest. From Trenton, N. J., comes this: "A certificate of incorporation was issued by the secretary of state today to the Butte Coalition Mining company, with a capitalization of $15,000,000. The company will engage in the copper mining business."

Albany, N. Y., reports the following: "The Red Metal Mining Company of New York, capital of $11,000,000, was incorporated today. The directors are Thomas F. Cole of Duluth, Minn.; William D. Thornton, Roy S. Alley of Butte, Mont., and Charles D. Frazer and John C. Lahor of New York city.

The Trenton, N. J., incorporation has about the capitalization that reports have put the company at that is to take over the Heinze properties.

CITY BRIEFS

As a result of overdrawing his acount at the bank and neglecting to settle up, Emil Johnson of Eveleth was this morning arraigned on two counts charging him with petty larceny. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs in each acse by Judge Windom.

William Minor of the town of St. Louis presented a wolf pelt at the auditor's office this morning and drew the $15 bounty.

Axel Pakkala, against whom a $1,500 verdict was rendered in favor of John Tolonen for injuries received on the head by reason of blows from a billiard cue, has filed notice in district court of an appeal to the state supreme court from the order denying him a new trial. With the notice is filed an appeal bond in the sum of $5,000, with L. S. Loeb and P. R. Vail as sureties.

The eBthel children, assisted by some outside talent, under the leadership of Miss McClaren and Miss Richardson, will give an entertainment at the Lake avenue Bethel this evening.

The Bethesda Sunday-school gave the pupils a sleighride to Lester Park last Friday evening and served refreshments in the church upon their return. Both teachers and pupils had a delightful time.

Tomorow afternoon at 4 o'clock, John A. Goodell, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will address the members of the Y. W. C. A. at their club rooms. The girls' double quartet of St. John's Lutheran church will sing two numbers and to close the afternoon tea will be served.

Tuesday afternoon, immediately after Rev. J. C. Farles' Bible class convenes, a reception will be held at the Y. W. C. A. club rooms. The ladies are cordially invited and a very delightful afternoon is planned.

A midwinter cantata will be held at the Pilgrim Congregational church, Sunday evening, to which the public is cordially invited. The chorus of the Altrurian club, assisted by the church choir, will furnish splendid entertainment during the evening. The chorus has been under the direction of Mrs. Emily Ellis Woodward for the past few weeks, so some very good music is expected.

Mrs. George D. Manderville of 1420 East Fourth street, entertained yesterday at a charming luncheon for her guest, Mrs. Bartlett. During the afternoon euchre was played at the twelve tables. The guest prize was given to Mrs. Bartlett, the first prize to Mrs. C. E. Spring, and the consolation to Mrs. Babin of Winona.

Special meetings of the Salvation Army will be held tomorrow on account of the arrival of Brigadier and Mrs. Cousins to this city. They will be assisted by Staff Capt. Dale. The commissioning of local officers will be held Sunday evening.

Rev. J. T. Moody will speak at the men's meeting of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon. There will be a trombone solo by Frank Hughes.

James Shetry, the West Superior street saloonkeeper, was bound over to the grand jury at the conclusion of his hearing in the municipal court yesterday afternoon, by Judge Windom.

H. Levine of the Bee Hive department store, left Tuesday for the East to buy his spring stock.

The Modern Samaritans will give a ball at Columbia hall at the West end, Monday evening.

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian church will meet on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. P. Warren of No. 2 Manger Terrace.

Eugene Thrall of Randall and Angus Cameron of Duluth, have been discharged by Judge Morris as bankrupts.

Weak Kidneys

It is of but little use to try to doctor the kidneys themselves. Such treatment is wrong. For the kidneys are not usually to blame for their weaknesses or irregularities. They have no power—no self-control. They are operated and actuated by a tiny shred of a nerve which is largely responsible for their condition. If the Kidney nerve is strong and healthy the kidneys are strong and healthy. If the Kidney nerve goes wrong, you know it by the inevitable result—kidney trouble.

This tender nerve is only one of a great system of nerves. This system controls not only the kidneys, but the heart, and the liver, and the stomach. For simplicity's sake Dr. Shoop has called this great nerve system the "Inside Nerves." They are not the nerves of feeling—not the nerves that enable you to walk, to talk, to act, to think. They are the master nerves, and every vital organ is their slave. The common name for these nerves is the "sympathetic nerves"—because each set is in such close sympathy with the others that weakness anywhere usually results in weakness everywhere.

The one remedy which aids to treat, not the Kidneys themselves, but the nerves which are to blame, is known by physicians and druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative (Tablets or Liquid). This remedy is not a symptom remedy—it is strictly a cause remedy. While it usually brings speedy relief, its effects are also lasting.

If you would like to read an interesting book on inside nerve disease, write Dr. Shoop. With the book he will also send the "Health Token"—an intended passport to good health. Both the book and the "Health Token" are free.

For the free book and the "Health Token" you must address Dr. Shoop, Box 8760, Racine, Wis. State which book you want.

Book 1 on Dyspepsia.
Book 2 on the Heart.
Book 3 on the Kidneys.
Book 4 for Women.
Book 5 for Men.
Book 6 on Rheumatism

Dr. Shoop's Restorative Tablets—give full three weeks' treatment. Each form—liquid or tablet—have equal merit. Druggists everywhere.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

PERSONALS

Frank Frezean will leave tomorrow morning for a month's trip through the South and a visit at Tarpon Springs, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Helmbach of 1123 East Second street are expected home the first of next week from an extended trip through Cuba.

John Carter of Minneapolis, traveling representative of the American Biscuit company, is in Duluth. In the future, Mr. Carter will have charge of Duluth and the range territory and will make this city his headquarters. During his residence in Minneapolis, Mr. Carter was prominent in national guard circles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jennison of Minneapolis will arrive this evening from Minneapolis to spend several days here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Goodman. Mr. Jennison is president of the Duluth Universal Milling company.

Rev. H. K. Madsen has gone to Ashland to take part in the dedication of a church there.

Mrs. James Parkhurst left today for the Twin Cities.

Capt. T. H. Pressnell has returned from the meeting of the grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. at St. Paul.

Very Easy Terms — French & Bassett — DULUTH, MINN. — Very Easy Terms

Corner First Street and Third Avenue West.

Complete Housefurnishers and Reliable Piano Dealers.

VICTOR

TALKING MACHINES

Are the great entertainers of the day and give more real pleasure than any other article that can enter the home.

Prices from $15 to $100

We carry a very large stock of both Victor and Edison Machines and Records and cordially invite you to come and hear them at any time.

On March 5 we shall begin the construction of the most convenient and attractive Talking Machine Dept in the West.

Very Easy Terms.

Both Victor and Edison Machines will be sold on very easy monthly or weekly payments of from $1 to $2 a week, or from $3 a month up.

RECORDS REDUCED.

7 and 8-in., 50c ..... to 35c
10-in., $1.00 ..... to 60c
12-in., $1.50 ..... to $1.00

All the latest Records are here. Come and hear them.

ARE YOU GOING TO BUILD?

If so, here is the place where you can get GOOD GOODS for your money and a finer line than we have you can't find in Duluth.

Bring in your specifications and make your selections and we will be glad to quote you our prices.

Don't put a 50c set on a nice Hardwood Door, as you did last time, but get something that is in harmony with the material and finish of your rooms.

DULUTH HARDWARE CO., 113 W. Superior St.

Radames — Fine Orange Male Angora Cat — M. S. R. No. 303

A grand cat. Sire Hamiole dam, Nou, deep copper eyes, solid even color.

OLD PHONE 1539. NEW PHONE 6118.

NORMANNA AND SVEA CONTEST

Societies to Contest in April for Carlton Trophy.

The annual contest of chorus singing between the Normanna and Svea singing societies of Duluth for the Carlson trophy will take place in the near future and arrangements are already being made for the event. The Normanna Singing society is the present holder of the trophy and has won it two years in succession.

The date of the contest this year has not been fully decided upon. It will probably be on April 22 and will be announced later. The uncertainty arises from the fact that it is desired to have United States Senator Knute Nelson here to be the speaker of the evening together with J. B. Cotton of Duluth and it is thought he will be available on the date mentioned.

The Normanna Male chorus has appointed the following committee to look after arrangements for it in the contest: H. B. Knudsen, Andrew Angvik and K. L. Fenney. The committee from the Svea society consists of E. M. Lunander, John Wolleen and Jarvin Ebronereen. Mr. Fenney is chairman of the joint committee and Mr. Lunander is secretary.

The Normanna chorus held a meeting a few night ago and elected the following officers: President, H. B. Knudsen; vice president, Andrew Angvik; secretary, Walter Eng; financial secretary, J. W. Johnson; treasurer, Jullus Berger; propertyman, H. Hangan; color bearer, K. L. Fenney; director, J. H. Flaaten.

The February Sale

At French & Bassett's ends Saturday, March 3. 10 to 50 per cent discount.

D. E. H., Feb. 24, 1906.

HATS

With beautiful weather overhead, a great and early demand for new hats has sprung up and we are glad that we received a large part of our 1906 hats early, and are prepared for this unusual spell of Florida climate in Duluth.

We can meet the demand for hats at high and low prices, and for young and old, better than other stores in this neighborhood, first because we carry such extensive stocks as to be able to satisfy all faces and notions, and second because nothing but the best for the price is allowed on our premises.

For those who wish the finest in the land, we have the Knapp-Felt De Luxe $6 hats. We show a $4 hat, which as far as real value is concerned, may be called a five dollar hat minus the extra charge for a maker's name. It is known as the "Columbia Special". Our great $3 hat bears the plain name of which stands for the best wherever it is attached to any article.

COLUMBIA

Take the "Columbia $1 Shirt", and the way those which we placed on sale a few weeks ago are selling shows that the people know a good thing when they see it. The same holds true of our "Columbia $3.50 Shoe", which is gaining a strong foothold among Duluth shoe wearers, and is stepping to the front at a lively gait. This beautiful weather is pretty bad under foot—good shoes will prevent much sickness, but in these days of ever rising leather prices it behooves you to look out, for many makers are taking the difference out of the quality, and you cannot easily tell it at sight. You will be safe in buying Columbia $3.50

SHOES

DEFECTIVE PAGE

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

SERVICES FOR SUNDAY IN DULUTH CHURCHES

Midwinter Cantata to be Sung at Pilgrim Congregational Church in the Evening by Choir and Altrurian Chorus.

Rev. J. W. Powell Preaching Series of Sermons on Parables of Jesus.

At Pilgrim Congregational church, Rev. Alexander Milne, the pastor, will preach in the morning on "The Inspiring Leader." In the evening there will be a musical service by the choir and the Altrurian chorus. The music will be as follows:

MORNING.

Prelude—"Communion" .....Batiste
Response—"Peace, Perfect Peace" ... . Caldbeck
Anthem—"The Lord Is My Light'.... ..... Parker
Anthem—"Let Your Light so Shine" ..... Clemens
Solo—"Comfort Ye' .....Handel
Mr. Martin.
Postlude ..... Gounod

EVENING.

Prelude—"Andante" ..... Flagler
Midwinter cantata .....Adam Geibel
Altrurian club, assisted by choir, Emily Ellis Woodward, director.
Postlude .....

The choir consists of Miss Frances Woodbridge, soprano; Miss Dora Swan, alto; J. L. Martin, tenor; H. G. Gearhart, bass; Miss Carlotta L. Simonds, organist.

* * *

At the First Presbyterian church, Rev. T. H. Cleland will preach forenoon and afternoon. The forenoon subject will be "The Name in the Forehead," and the afternoon subject, "Life Found in Jesus Christ." The music will be as follows:

MORNING.

Organ—Grand chorus .....
..... George MacMasters
Anthem—"Cantate Domino" ..Bruckett
Response—"Lord, I Call Upon Thee"
Offertory Solo .....
Mrs. Mark Baldwin.
Postlude marche .....Schumann

EVENING.

Organ—"Andante" ..... Smart
Anthem—"The Day Is Past and Over" ..... Sheldon
Offertory—"Reverie" ....Spohr
Postlude .....Andre

The choir consists of: Soprano, Mrs. Mark Baldwin; tenor, J. C. Myron; alto, Mis Blanche Fleming; organist, Mrs. Margaret McLean.

* * *

At the First Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. M. S. Rice, will preach both morning and evening. At 10:30 a. m. the theme will be "Goodness Laid Up," and at 7:45 p. m., "Christ a Friend," the third sermon in a series on "Christ and Men." The music will be as follows:

MORNING.

Voluntary—"Allegro Assai".....Guilmant
Solo—"The Penetent" .....Van de Water
Offertory—"Opp. 67" ..... Salome
Solo—"Come Unto Him"..... Gounod
Postlude—"Allegro Symphonique"..... ..... Salome

EVENING.

Voluntary—"The Question"..Wostenholme
Solo—"Mercy Seat" ..... Lee
Offertory—"Andante Religioso" ..Faulkes
Solo—"Bow Down Thy Ear"..... Jenks
Postlude—"Fanfare," in F..... Deschayes

The organist is Mrs. Wingate, and the soloist, Mary S. Bradshaw.

* * *

At the Endion Methodist Episcopal church, corner Nineteenth avenue east and First street, the pastor, Rev. John W. Powell, Jr., will preach at 10:30 a. m. on "Life-Giving Lives," and at 7:30 p. m. on "Unto This Last," the second sermon on "The Parables of Jesus." Miss Rogers will sing at the morning service. Sunday school will meet at 12 o'clock, and Epworth league at 6:30 p. m., led by Miss Kruschke.

* * *

At St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. A. W. Ryan, rector, there will be held communion at 8 a. m., Sunday school at 10 a. m. and at 11 a. m., morning prayer, litany and sermon on "A More Excellent Way." At 7:30 p. m. there will be evening prayer and sermon on "Charity Never Faileth."

* * *

At the First Unitarian church, Eighth avenue east and First street, morning service will be held at 11. Rev. Harry White will preach on "Personality: Its Immutability and Its Development."

* * *

At St. John's English Lutheran church, corner Third street and Lake avenue north, Rev. J. L. Murphy, A. M., the pastor, will conduct service at 10:30 a. m., with sermon on the gospel for the day, and at 7:30 p. m. with sermon on "St. Paul's Address on Mar's Hill." The evening service will be began with a half hour's study of the church book.

* * *

At the First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner of Ninth avenue east and First street, regular service will be held at 10:45 a. m., the subject being "Man." Regular Wednesday evening meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

* * *

At Trinity Chapel, Twentieth avenue east and Superior street there will be Holy Communion at 8 a. m. and morning prayer, litany and sermon at 10:30. Rev. Arthur H. Wurtele will preach on "Lenten Thoughts." Text, Matt. XVI 24. "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." Sunday school and Bible class, also a children's missionary address at 12 m. Baptismal service at 5 p. m. Evening service at 7:30. Subject, "Burden-Bearing." On Ash Wednesday there will be services at 11 a. m. when the bishop will preach.

* * *

At the Glen Avon Presbyterian church the pastor, Rev. John Culbert Farles, will preach in the morning on the subject, "That Which Was Lost." The evening subject will be "Paul, the Prisoner." The concluding sketch on the life of the Apostle Paul.

* * *

At the Star of Hope Mission, 622 West Superior street, meetings are held every evening at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow, a meeting will be held from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. At 7:30 p. m. the praying band will meet for a half hour of prayer. From 8 to 8:30 there will be a song and prayer service and from 8:40 to 9 o'clock. H. J. Saltan will speak, followed by a praise service at 9 o'clock. Monday the Epworth league of the Lester Park M. E. church will conduct the service. Rev. Charles Fox Davis, the pastor, will speak.

* * *

At Grace M. E. church, corner Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, Rev. Jos. W. Robinson, the pastor, will conduct services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The pastor will preach at both services. The subject at the morning service will be "The Appeal to Memory," and the evening topic, "The Things of Others." Sunday school will meet at 11:45 a. m. led by R. R. Forward, superintendent, and Epworth league at 6:30 p. m., Thomas Dunn, leader. There will be special music under the direction of Mrs. A. N. Hopkins.

* * *

At the First Swedish Baptist church, Nineteenth avenue west and First street, Rev. Axel Wall of Minneapolis will preach at 11 a. m. and Rev. A. Edstam at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school will meet at 10 a. m. and Young People's society at 5 p. m.

* * *

At the Swedish Bethel church, Ninth avenue east and Third street, Rev. Hjalmar Hendrickson will preach at 10:30 and Rev. Axel Wall at 7:30. Sunday school will meet at noon and Young People's society at 4:30 p. m.

* * *

At the Bethel, Lake avenue, Sunday school will meet at 3 p. m., led by T. S. Thompson, superintendent. In the main auditorium, on the first floor, Y. P. S. C. E. will meet at 6:30 and gospel meeting at 7:45 p. m. In the mission hall, on the ground floor, children's gospel meeting will be held at 7 p. m. and Finnish gospel meeting at 8 p. m., conducted by Rev. Mr. Lindgren. Tuesday evening there will be a Finnish gospel meeting and workers' prayer meeting and Wednesday evening a free supper and gospel meeting at 8 p. m.

* * *

At the Branch Bethel, 508 West Superior street, the Sunday school will meet at 3 p. m., led by L. A. Marvin, superintendent. At the gospel meeting at 8 p. m. Rev. Mr. Lavender will speak. Gospel meetings will be held each evening during the week. The following leaders will conduct services: Monday evening, Swedish Baptist church; Tuesday evening, Pilgrim Congregational church; Friday evening, Westminster Presbyterian church; Saturday evening, praise and testimony meeting.

* * *

The sermon at the Lester Park Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Charles Fox Davis, pastor, will be as follows: Morning, "Man's Ignorance;" evening, "Soul Culture."

* * *

At the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church, corner of Twenty-first avenue West and First street, Rev. P. Jensen will preach at 10:30 a. m. and A. P. Lund at 7:45 p. m. Sunday school will meet at 12 m. and Epworth league at 7 p. m.

* * *

At St. Luke's Episcopal church, Nineteenth avenue west and First street, there will be Sunday school at 10 a. m. and morning service and sermon 11 a. m. The subject of the sermon will be "A Lenten Call." Miss Alice Cooley will sing the offertory solo. Rev. Roderick J. Mooney is rector.

* * *

At the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, Rev. S. F. Sharpless will preach at 10:30 a. m. on "Sin" and at 7:45 p. m. on "How to Walk." Sunday school will meet at 11:45 a. m. and Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p. m. Sunday school will be held at Bethany chapel at 3 p. m.

* * *

At the Park Point mission there will be Sunday school, Bible class and service at 3 p. m., when E. A. Le Quesne will speak.

* * *

At the Central Baptist church, corner Twentieth avenue west and First street, Rev. J. W. Loughridge will preach at 10:30 and 7:30. Sunday school at noon. Young People's meeting at 6:30. Midweek prayer service Thursday evening at 7:45.

* * *

At the English Lutheran Synod church, corner of Twentieth avenue west and Third street, there will be evening services, commencing at 7:45 p. m. Services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. Wulfsberg, Jr. Sunday school meets at 12:15 p. m.

* * *

At the First German M. E. church, corner of Fifth avenue east and Sixth street, there will be service at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school at noon. Epworth league at 7 p. m. Service at 7:30 p. m. There will be revival services each evening during the week at 8 o'clock except Saturday evening. Rev. C. Schoenheider, Jr., is pastor.

* * *

At the Norwegian Trinity Lutheran church, corner of Fourth avenue east and Fifth street, Rev. M. Bjornson, pastor, will conduct services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Sunday school and Bible class will meet at 12 m.

* * *

At St. Stephen's German Evangelical Lutheran church, Raleigh street and Sixty-seventh avenue west, Rev. H. C. Hinz, the pastor, will hold services at 10 a. m., with sermon on the gospel of the day.

* * *

At the First Norwegian Lutheran church, corner of First avenue east and Third street, the pastor, Rev. J. H. Stenberg, will preach in the morning on the theme, "From Blindness to Sight," Luke xviii, 31-34, and in the evening on "The Effect of God's Word in a Heathen City," Jonah iii. An offering will be taken for foreign missions. The Sunday school will meet at 12 m., the Bible lesson being Matt. x.

* * *

At the First Swedish Lutheran church, Second street and Second avenue west, Rev. Carl Solomonson, pastor, will conduct morning service at 10 o'clock, subject, "With Christ on the Way to the Cross." Sunday school, Swedish and English, at 11:30 a. m. Evening service at 7:45, subject, "Lutheran Mission Work in India."

NEW CODE

Will be Ready for Distribution on or Before March 1.

St. Paul, Feb. 24.—The state printing commission that has charge of the printing of the new code, authorized the statement yesterday that it will place in the hands of the supreme court judges, state officers, district court judges and county attorneys on or before March 1, a copy of the new code and within two or three days the county auditors, the clerks of courts and the probate judges will likewise be supplied. This quiets all talk of an extra session which for a time seemed the only solution of a very difficult situation.

MANY DIVORCE CASES FILED

March Term Calendar Will Have Usual List of Actions.

Present indications are that the calendar for the March term of district court will have the usual list of divorce cases for trial. Several such actions have been filed in the past week. Some of the cases set for trial during the January term were continued over. A few more days remain for filing of notes of issue, and it is probable that additional divorce cases will be among those last filed.

In her complaint filed with the clerk of court, yesterday afternoon, Alvina Kinnunen, who seeks a separation from Emil Kinnunen, alleges that felony, cruelty and drunkenness destroyed her dream of happiness after only six months of wedded life. Mrs. Kinnunen says she is 27 and her husband is 28 years of age. They were married at Cloquet, Feb. 16, 1903. Kinnunen is said to have pleaded guilty, Oct. 23, 1903, to an indictment, charging assault in the second degree, and was sent to the state reformatory. Mrs. Kinnunen claims that her husband was paroled last summer, but lacked the force of character to withstand temptation, and was returned to the reformatory because of his actions. John R. Heino is attorney for Mrs. Kinnunen.

Mrs. Jessie Ogden asks a divorce from William Edward Ogden, on the grounds of desertion. According to the complaint they were married at Columbus, Ont., Sept. 24, 1902, and the desertion occurred seven months later. Ogden is 27 and his wife 21 years old. John Jenswold represents Mrs. Ogden.

FLEMMING HAS RECOVERED.

Bena Merchant, Who Suffered by Fire, Will Rebuild Store.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ernest Flemming, the merchant who was severely burned at the time of the fire in his place of business at Bena, has recovered to the extent that he has returned to Bena from the hospital at Grand Rapids, whither he was taken on a special train a few hours after the fire. Flemming's condition at the time of the fire was such that it was feared that he had sustained critical injuries that would incapacitate him from business for several months, but he has recovered rapidly and is now at Bena, looking after his many business interests at that place. He will rebuild the large store building that was totally destroyed, and also erect a new warehouse, much larger than the one which was consumed at the time the store building was burned.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible, are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious, and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by all druggists.

BUTTERMAKERS

Of Minneasota Feel Elated Over Results Achieved at Convention.

St. Paul, Feb. 24.—With the banner for the highest average, the gold and silver medals for the two highest scores, with the presidency of the association, the next convention almost assured for St. Paul, the pure food show secured for St. Paul in April and with the national pure food bill passed in the senate, the Minnesota buttermakers who returned yesterday had reason for feeling happy. State Dairy and Food Commissioner Slater and Milton Trenham, the assistant, returned Friday morning and were in happy spirits over the results.

"We got all we started out to get and almost all there was to get," said Mr. Slater. "So why should we not be happy?

"People are taking a different view of Minnesota's prize winning buttermakers know than they used to. A few years ago they laid it to the climate and the kind of feed we had to give our cows. They don't do that now. They lay it to the enterprise of the people, the buttermakers and the legislature."

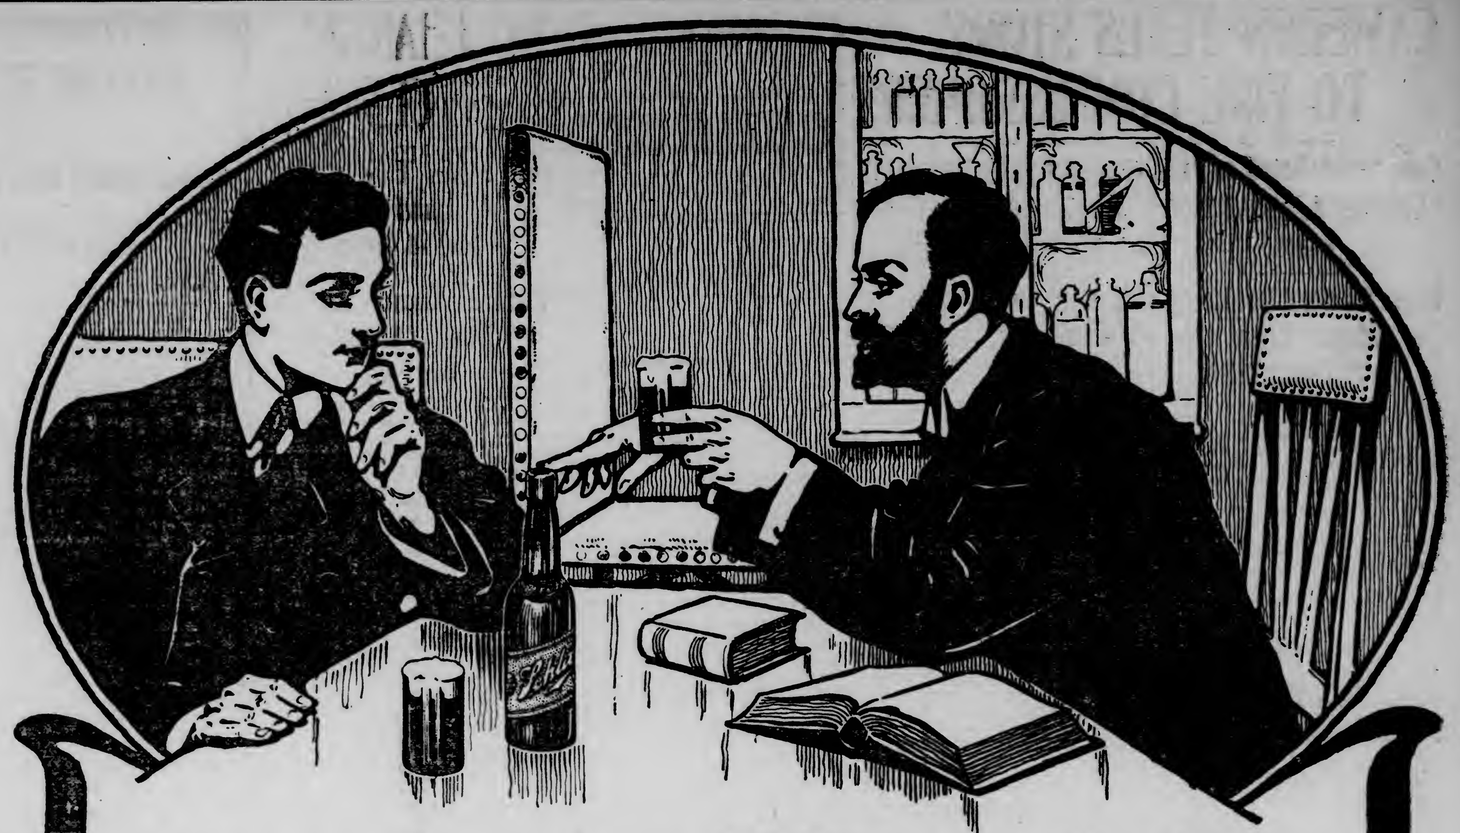

NINTH MEMBER OF FAMILY TO END LIFE.

St. Louis, Feb. 24.—Arnold Vanven, 18 years old, last night shot and killed himself at his home. He was the ninth member of his family to die by suicide, his father, grandmother and six aunts and cousins having killed themselves within the last few years. He was the support of six brothers and sisters, and became discouraged over the struggle to earn a livelihood.

TO CLEAR LAND TITLES.

Washington, Feb. 24.—To clear the titles of land granted to railroads existing only on paper, Representative Lacy (Iowa) has introduced a bill for forfeiture of land grants made by the government to railroads under the right of way act of 1875, where railroads failed to build their proposed lines within five years after location.

London, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Great Britain is getting more disgusted with its yellow ally. Tokio dispatches announce with much pomp that the mikado has been graciously pleased to spend $25,000 for the alleviation of the awful famine devastating the empire—$25,000 for a million of starving people. Some papers assert that Russell Sage might do better.

Your Doctor Will Tell You

That the bilious after-effect, which makes many forego the good of beer, is due to imperfect aging of common beer.

Schlitz beer cannot cause biliousness. It is aged for months before it is marketed.

It is brewed in cleanliness—cooled in filtered air—sterilized to kill every germ. Such care doubles the cost of our brewing, yet Schlitz costs you no more—usually—than common beer.

Ask for the Brewery Bottling.
Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz.
To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded

Schlitz

PHONE ZENITH 358
Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co.,
35 East Railroad Street
DULUTH, - - - MINN.

The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous.

Peculiar to Itself

In combination, proportion and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is therefore Peculiar to Itself in merit, sales and cures.

It is made from the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic ingredients by such original and peculiar methods as to retain the full medicinal value of each and all.

The severest forms of scrofula, salt rheum, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and debility are cured every day by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by druggists everywhere. Buy it today.

SPECIAL. To meet the wishes of those who prefer medicine in tablet form, we are now putting up Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate-coated tablets as well as in the usual liquid form. By reducing Hood's Sarsaparilla to a solid extract, we have retained in the tablets the curative properties of every medicinal ingredient except the alcohol. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. 100 doses one dollar. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Moderate Price

Calumet Baking Powder

$1,000.00 will be given for any substance injurious to health found in Calumet.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

are the best remedy for a deranged stomach. They are a safe and gentle laxative; a reliable cure for obstinate Constipation, Bilious Attacks, Sick Headache and all disorders arising from a weak Digestion, sluggish Liver or clogged Bowels. Beecham's Pills and are a world-famous medicine for the cure of these prevalent complaints. Their cost is a trifle; their use—a duty. For your health's sake, insist on Beecham's Pills. They do more for your body than any other remedy. Known and used by hundreds of thousands all over the globe.

Give Quick Relief

Sold Everywhere in Boxes. 10c and 25c.

CAMERON TELLS STORY TO FIRE COMMISSIONERS

Goes Into Detail in His Charges Against Chief Black.

Horse Dealers' Bookkeeper Alleges Chief Received Commission.

Lack of specific charges and inability to state facts from his own knowledge, aside from hearsay evidence, made several of the charges brought by Dan Cameron against Chief Black seem rather lacking in force last evning at the investigation, when he was cross-examined by John Jenswold, Jr., Black's attorney. On some points Cameron's testimony was clear and unshaken, but the defense has not yet been heard, and it is impossible to judge what there will be to these charges after Chief Black has been given an opportunity to explain his side of the case.

On the charge that the men were compelled to buy their clothing from some particular firm, Cameron, on cross-examination, was compelled to admit that the men decided on the kind of clothing they should wear, and that the contract was then let to some firm. He would not state that they paid too much for their clothing or that the clothing was of poor quality.

In regard to the charge that Captain Wilson had been promoted over the heads of more efficient men, Cameron was unable to state any instance in which Wilson was incompetent, as alleged, and the charge resolved itself into the statement that in Cameron's own opinion there were others more competent than Wilson.

The charges of mismanagement of the relief fund were also rather futile, as Cameron on cross examination testified that the fund was managed by a board of twelve or thirteen trustees, who awarded the benefits.

The investigation was held in Mayor Cullum's office, which was packed by a crowd of interested listeners. At 10:30 o'clock an adjournment was taken until this morning, Cameron and Andrew Johnson, a bookkeeper for Barrett & Zimmerman, being the only witnesses examined.

Cameron was the first witness placed upon the stand, and was examined by Porter J. Neff, his attorney.

He testified that he had entered the department in 1892 and was suspended in November, 1905. He stated that he knew of raffles which had been conducted by the chief among the members of the department. On one occasion a bicycle, which the chief had ridden for a year, was raffled off, tickets being sold at prices ranging from one cent to a dollar. On another occasion a worn coat belonging to the chief, was raffled, according to Cameron's testimony, and Chief Black also sold razors and strops, and mining stock to the men.

Cameron was asked why he objected to the promotion of Captain Charles Wilson, and stated that Wilson was not a "fire fighter" and had not sufficient experience for the work, or the physical fitness.

Attention was then called to the charges regarding the disposition of benefits from the relief fund, and he stated that as far as he knew the chief and Captain Wilson were the only men who had ever drawn their pay and relief funds at the same time.

"I have known firemen to be taken from their posts of duty to go for wood for the chief," said the witness.

"What other instances of this kind do you know?" asked the attorney.

"I have known men to go out in the woods to get evergreens at various times. I have also known five or six men to be sent down to unload a yacht for the chief which had been brought in on a flat car. It was taken to the shop behind No. 3 firehall and the men were working on it there for several weeks."

"Were these men firemen in the employ of the city?"

"Yes."

"How about personal service?"

"During the time I was at No. 3 men were repeatedly sent to the chief's house to clean walks whenever snow fell, regardless of a shortage in the force."

"What vacation are the men entitled to?"

"Seven days a year."

"How about Wilson?"

"Wilson has been going hunting and fishing whenever he wanted to. He would go out with the chief and be gone a week at a time."

"How much time would you say he was gone in any one year?"

"I would say three weeks."

"Was any deduction made from his salary?"

"I have not been able to find any."

"Have you known him to go on one of these trips when the efficiency of the department was impaired by it?"

"On Oct. 24 last he went for a trip when some other men were off, and it left but two men on the chemical instead of four."

At this point Mr. Neff was asked leave to introduce another witness, Andrew Johnson, bookkeeper for Barrett & Zimmerman, as Mr. Johnson could not remain all evening.

Mr. Johnson stated that he had been bookkeeper for Barrett & Zimmerman for a number of years.

He was in their employ when Chief Black purchased a horse for the department in 1901.

"Do you remember shortly after Jan. 1, 1902, the chief calling up Barrett and wanting to sell a horse?"

"Yes."

"Did the chief come over?"

"Yes."

"What happened?"

"The chief came in between 4 and 5 in the afternoon. There was another man named Johnson and John Wall, one of our salesmen, there. Barrett stepped up to me and he said: 'Johnson, give me $30.' I did it and then Mr. Barrett, the chief, Johnson and Wall went into the front office."

At this point Mr. Jenswold objected to the testimony as heresay, but Chief Black told him to allow Johnson to proceed.

"I asked what I would charge the $30 to and Barrett said to commission to Johnson and Black. There was $5 coming to Johnson on another sale, and I charged the other $25 to Chief Black as commission."

"Do the books show that the chief settled for the white pony purchased there?"

"Yes."

"Did he pay for the pony?"

"I don't know. There was $40 charged to the chief for the pony and Zimmerman told me to close the account, as the money had been paid over in St. Paul."

Under cross-examination, Mr. Johnson stated that the sale of the horse was in reality a trade, as the chief traded off and old horse and $175, receiving in return a young horse fit for service.

Mr. Hollister here asked the witness some questions.

"What was the black horse worth at that time?

"I should say about $190."

"What was the old horse worth?"

"We were offered $125 for him about two weeks after, but refused it, and he was later sold at auction for $72.50."

Mr. Jenswold resumed cross-examination of the witness and probed the transaction with Chief Black.

"Did you see the chief handed the $25?" he asked.

"No, but Wall told me it was given to him."

"We tried to get Wall here tonight, but he wouldn't come," said Mr. Neff.

Dan Cameron was then placed upon the stand again and resumed his testimony.

"While a member of the department were you required to buy your clothing at any particular place?"

"Yes, sir. We had to buy the standard blue railroad shirt of Mr. Hill in the West end. Shirts of identically the same kind can be bought at five or six other places in the city."

"How about other clothing?"

"At one time a representative of a Chicago house was brought around by the assistant chief and the men were inspected. Those that needed suits had to buy them."

"Did you need a suit?"

"Yes, I bought one."

"Was it satisfactory?"

"No it wasn't. The cloth wasn't any too good and it tore out."

"Are there tailors in Duluth who make the same suits?"

"Yes."

"How about the price?"

"About the same."

Mr. Jenswold then took the witness in charge.

"How about this raffle. Did the chief ever sell you one of these tickets?"

"No."

"Do you remember the year?"

"It was 1897 or 1898."

"Raffles on bicycles were quite a common thing in Duluth at that time, weren't they?"

"I don't remember."

"How about the coat? Did you buy a ticket for that?"

"Yes."

"Who asked you to?"

"Wilson."

"You say he sold mining stock?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you see any crime in the chief selling mining stock?"

"Well, I don't think it is right for him to sell stock to the men working under him."

"Can you give the names of some of those that bought it?"

Cameron named eight or ten men, and the chief added the names of some others, making fourteen in all.

"Since being suspended you have had a lot of ill-feeling toward the chief?"

"No, sir. I don't know as I have."

"Now, you say that Wilson is a fire fighter. Who is the best judge of that, you or a man who has had three times your experience?"

"Why, I suppose the man with three times the experience."

"What does he lack?"

"Well he is not physically fit. Then he lacks experience, and he was not able to pass the physical examination."

"Then all you have to say is that he was promoted over men who are better fire fighters?"

"Yes."

"In your judgment?"

"Yes."

"What were the circumstances which led up to your suspension?"

"The chief called me into his office, and asked me what I was trying to do. I said I didn't know what he meant, and he asked me if I was working for Dr. Cudding or for the city. Then he said that any man who was going about suffering up discord in the department couldn't work for him.

"He asked me why I had been looking over the bills in the comptroller's office and then comparing prices at Frank Smith's. I had secured copies of the bills and went to see how the prices compared with those paid Abbett. I found that sponges had cost the city $4.25 a pound and that they could be bought elsewhere for $2.75 and $3."

"Can you tell the different qualities of sponges?"

"I could tell by putting them side by side."

"Did you take one of the department sponges around with you?"

"No, sir."

"Where could you buy sponges for $2.75?"

"At Leithhead's."

"A wholesale house?"

"Yes, sir."

"How do you know all the sponges in the department were bought at Abbett's?"

"Well, all the stuff was bought there."

"Did you see it bought?"

"No, sir."

"Did you see the bills?"

"No, sir."

"Now about this relief fund, can you tell us an instance where it was mismanaged?"

"Well, Wilson received pay for the time he was sick."

"Can you fix the time when Wilson was paid both pay and benefits?"

"In June last."

"This fund was managed by trustees?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever vote against a man being granted a benefit?"

"No, sir."

"Then to what do you object?"

"I object to his being kept on the payroll while receiving sick benefits."

"Were you ever taken from your post to work for the chief?"

"Yes. I was sent out ten miles in the woods to cut evergreens once. It was in November, 1898. We went out with a team and were gone from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. We took the evergreens to the chief's residence."

"Give some instances of men working for the chief."

"Well, Herman Wendtlandt was repeatedly called to the house to shovel snow and throw in wood."

"Do you know whether Wendtlandt was paid for that?"

"I don't know."

"Name some more."

"Well, the men have hauled wood for the chief."

"How many times?"

"I don't know. It was the custom—"

"Oh, I don't want the custom. Let's get down to facts."

"Now about this yacht. Do you remember the time it was brought in?"

"Yes. It was a year ago last summer."

Under rigid cross-examination Cameron admitted that the men working on the yacht were in the room about fifty feet away from the fire hall and might catch the apparatus if there was an alarm. He said that otherwise they had nothing to do but sit about the hall, and that they were not losing any time for the work.

"Do you know whether the city has ever been paid for this work they did?"

"No, I do not."

Cameron stated that they were ordered to get their coats at a certain local tailoring establishment.

"Did you have any voice in selecting your clothes?"

"No."

"Can you read your own writing?"

"I suppose so."

"Then read that paper and tell me if you didn't sign it."

The paper was a petition signed by the men, which asked for a certain style of coat, and awarded the contract to the tailor in question. Cameron's name was attached.

"Did you sign that?"

"I don't remember having signed it."

"Isn't it a fact that in your zeal to reform the city, you are being carried beyond the bounds of your recollection?"

"That's eleven years ago," said Cameron.

When questioned about the charges for medical examination for the relief fund, Cameron said they were fixed by the trustees and did not know when they were raised from $1 to $2.

"And you were a trustee and never kicked when they were raised to $2?"

"No."

"As soon as he kicked on anything rotten, he got fired," said Mr. Neff.

Mr. Neff desired the hearing adjourned until next Tuesday, stating that he had to go to St. Paul last night, but Mr. Jenswold objected, claiming that Chief Black had a right to be cleared or convicted without further delay. Mr. Neff then agreed to give up his trip to St. Paul and wired another attorney there to take charge of his case, and the hearing adjourned until this morning.

Swollen face, throbbing nerves, ugly teeth—the result of experimenting. The other fellow stuck to

SOZODONT

3 Forms: Liquid, Powder & Paste

ASK YOUR DENTIST

DUN'S WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Holidays and Erratic Weather Slightly Retards Business.

New York, Feb. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of trade says: Holidays and erratic weather were calculated to interrupt progress in commercial channels, but business has become established on too sound a basis to reflect adverse interests of such a temporary character. Sections that experienced especially high temperature report the early opening of spring lines with most satisfactory results; excessive moisture elsewhere proved beneficial for manufacturing purposes while at other points seasonable merchandise was distributed freely. Jobbers of dry goods, clothing and notions are shipping large quantities of spring goods, accumulations of heavy weight wearing apparel, having no depressing effect on the new season's business. Prices are firmly held as a rule, except in the markets for farm staples, which are still higher than normal, despite a general reaction. Manufacturing plants report new orders that assure activity still farther into the future, and several dividend announcements show gains over recent years, while some New England cotton mills are only deterred from full activity by scarcity of labor.

Railway earnings continue to make splendid comparisons with last year's figures, February thus far recording a gain of 26.7 per cent. Foreign trade returns in January for the whole nation far surpassed the same month in any previous year, and the last week at this port shows a gain of $1,141,018 in exports, but a decrease of $3,877,874 in imports, compared with 1905.

Footwear manufacturers in New England have received a good volume of supplementary spring business, at full quotations, in addition to the usual amount of business already on hand, and the independent position of the producers is shown by the announcement that contracts for fall lines will not be accepted at present prices for delivery later than June. Leather is more irregular, buyers operating less freely, and tanners are required to make concessions. Current hides are of poor quality and in light demand, which makes prices nominally lower, although it is chiefly a matter of seasonable deterioration.

Failures this week were 208 in the United States, as against 252 last year, and 18 in Canada, as compared with 29 a year ago.

COUGHING CAUSED

By Obstructions in the Ear and Ceased When Removed.

Vienna, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. Breitund admonishes parents and others to have their children's ears regularly inspected, and in particular in case of illnesses, the cause of which cannot be readily conceived. The doctor tells of the case of a little girl who suffered from chronic cough. After two beans had been removed from an ear, the cough ceased and the girl was as well as ever. A small glass marble, a particle of wood, bone, etc., were found to be the cause of fits, insensibility of certain parts of the body, etc.

The most informatory case is as follows: A young student was suffering from chronic cough through investigation proved that his breast organs were all in first class condition. Finally an investigation of the ears was resorted to and it was found that one of them was obstructed by a fruit kernel. When the same was removed the coughing ceased and never recurred.

RICHES OF CHURCH IN AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to the Imperial statistical bureau, the fortune of the Catholic church in Austria amount to nearly $125,000,000, while the annual income is more than $11,000,000. The state contributes in salaries to the Catholic church nearly $2,000,000 per annum.

DR. MITCHELL, THE GREATEST MAGNETIC HEALER IN THE WORLD, CAUSES DISEASE TO DISAPPEAR AS IF BY MAGIC

HUNDREDS HAVE BEEN CURED WHO HAD GIVEN UP ALL HOPE OF EVER BEING WELL.

The Doctor Has Patients From All Parts of the Country—They Go Home Cured and Send Their Friends and That Is Why He Is Such a Busy Man.

We have told at times of some of the miraculous cures that Dr. Mitchell has effected—miraculous, that is the word, and the right one. Even with our intimate knowledge of the virtue of his treatment, some of these cures have been so astounding as to cause amazement and wonder. When a person is plucked from the grave and restored to full vigor, and joy of life, there is something so stupendous about the performance that mortals have to wonder. He has so revolutionized the method of healing without the aid of medicine that the medical profession stands aghast at the wonders he has performed. His cures are made so rapid and permanent, as if by magic, and for this reason the press throughout the country have named him the great magnetic healer. Dr. Mitchell admits his influence over disease is puzzling and mysterious. Those thousands of testimonials of confidence only came after he made good and proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that he could do all the papers had said he could. Thousands of Duluthians now testify to his healing powers. No one need believe these reports as they pass from mouth to mouth, but anybody can call at Dr. Mitchell's office, and have them proven.

Mrs. E. Kabel of Brookston, Minn., writes: "I went to Dr. Mitchell completely broken down. The doctors wanted to operate for a tumor of the kidney. Dr. Mitchell's treatment worked wonders for me. The tumor has disappeared, my health is very good, and I recommend Dr. Mitchell's treatment to any one suffering from disease."

Miss Hilda Suden of 2826 Huron street came to Dr. Mitchell last spring with a very bad case of lung trouble and coughed most of the time. She had given up hope and did not expect to get well. Dr. Mitchell's treatment seemed to work like magic. She got well in a short time and is today enjoying the best of health. Anyone doubting this statement can substantiate same at above number.

Mr. Rudolph Anderson of Ashland, Wis., suffered for nearly five years and tried many doctors, and kept failing right along. He came to Dr. Mitchell in a hopeless condition, with heart, stomach and kidney trouble. After taking a course of treatments by Dr. Mitchell he has gained twenty-five pounds in weight and is restored to perfect health. Mr. Anderson, while in Duluth, boarded at No. 9 Thirty-ninth avenue west. This statement can be substantiated there.

Miss Carrie Hadin, 1101 Lincoln avenue, Duluth, has been suffering from rheumatism since she was seven years old and tried many doctors, but received no benefit, but grew worse right along. She got so bad in her hands and feet she could not get around to do anything. Her brother advised her to go to Dr. Mitchell, as he had been cured of some sickness by him. She is now restored to health and recommends Dr. Mitchell's treatment to all sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Olson, 1517½ London road, cured of tumor of womb and general nervousness, was about to have an operation performed.

Joe Conkey, Knife River, Minn., cured of kidney and stomach trouble.

Miss C. Draper of La Crosse, Wis., cured of paralysis on one side. Her health was in desperate condition when she came to Dr. Mitchell.

Mrs. G. W. Thompson, 1010 West Third street, says: "I wish to say that I was cured four years ago of kidney and stomach trouble and nervousness by Dr. Mitchell. My case was pronounced hopeless by many physicians."

Mrs. N. Ecklund of 125 Fifty-seventh avenue west, says: "I went to Dr. Mitchell after I had given up all hope. I was so weak and sick I did not believe I could get help. I recommend his treatment."

Mr. Carl Stackmesser of Tower, Minn., who had rheumatism and paralysis and had not walked for eleven and a half years. Was 82 years old and had given up all hope. Cured by Dr. Mitchell.

Mr. Frank Hill of Cloquet, Minn., cured of a bad case of deafness.

Mrs. Sena Hagen of 2432 West Superior street, says: "My health was in desperate condition when I went to Dr. Mitchell. His treatments worked wonders for me and I know of many others whom he has cured."

Mr. Silas Williams of Mathawa, Minn., cured of lung and heart trouble; had been given up to die in three weeks.

Mrs. E. Huss of 1922 West Michigan street, Duluth, says: "I have taken a barrel of medicine and was just about dead when I went to Dr. Mitchell four years ago. I weighed 120 pounds. I now weigh 180. My trouble was heart trouble and female weakness."

Mrs. E. Loring of 115 Twenty-second avenue west, cured of St. Vitas' dance.

Mr. Martin from the range had a boy 13 years old who was all run down in general health, his eyes being very weak and suffering much from headaches. The boy was cured in six weeks by Dr. Mitchell.

Mrs. M. Lautave of Grand Forks fas cured of female weakness. Had been a great sufferer for years and was about to have an operation performed and did not expect to live through the summer. Was cured by Dr. Mitchell. This statement can be substantiated by calling at 125 North Fifty-ninth avenue west.

Mr. Ed Watkins of Forest City, Minn., who was going blind, cured by Dr. Mitchell after all others had failed.

Mr. S. T. Baker of 405 Fisher avenue, West Superior, Wis., sys: "My wife doctored with fourteen doctors for female weakness. Finally they told her an operation was the only thing that would cure her. Dr. Mitchell cured her in a course of treatments. My daughter was also cured of deafness."

Mr. Ely Lafave of Two Harbors, Minn., cured of stomach trouble and general breakdown of the entire system.

Capt. W. G. Govert of Stillwater, Minn., had his health restored by Dr. Mitchell.

Mrs. J. E. Close of 2824 West Third street, who had doctored for months without getting help, and had tried everything, given up all hope, decided to try Dr. Mitchell's treatment, as a last resort. The treatment worked wonders for her, saved her life and restored her to health, and she gladly recommends this magnetic treatment to all her friends.

Mrs. John Morris of Oacona, S. D., writes: "I believe in your treatment and recommend it to all sufferers."

A lady with a lame and stiff shoulder of fifteen years' standing is cured in three weeks.

A man who was losing his eyesight—everything began to look smoky, and he could not read newspaper print—was restored after a course of treatments.

A lady who had spinal trouble of ten years' standing was cured by Dr. Mitchell.

Mrs. Frederick Hallquist of 2836 Huron street, says: "When I went to Dr. Mitchell I was in a hopeless, helpless condition. I had kidney and heart trouble and my friends all thought I would die; medicine did me no good. When Dr. Mitchell took my case I weighed 212 pounds; I was reduced down to 170 pounds; I am now enjoying good health; while treating at the office I saw many that came as a last resort to Dr. Mitchell and they were all convalescing; several of my friends are treating with him and they are being restored to health; I will be glad to substantiate this statement to anyone."

Mrs. L. W. Abbott of Albion, Mich., writes: "I recommend Dr. Mitchell's treatment. While with him I saw cases of paralysis, blindness, deafness and diseases of all kinds cured by him. You can be sure he will not take your case if he can do nothing for you. I will be glad to answer any inquiries."

Mrs. Edith Gordon of Forman, N. D., cured of kidney and stomach trouble.

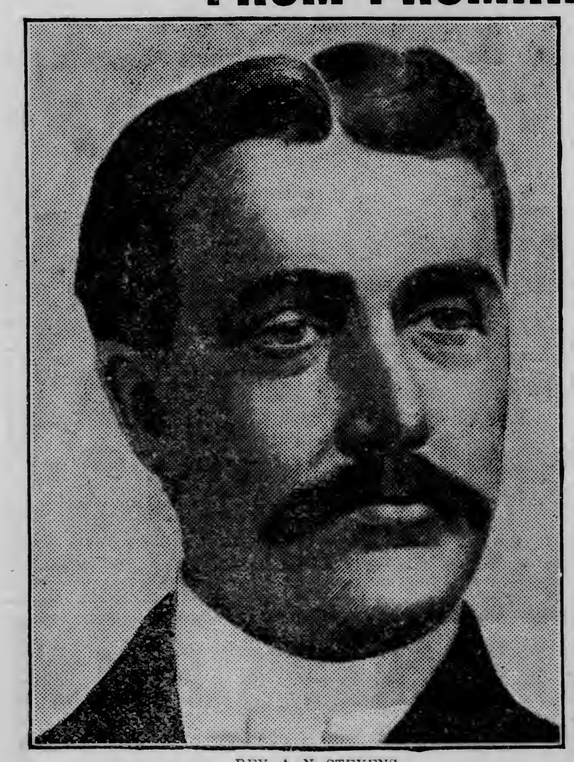

Mr. A. Johnson of Tower, Minn., cured of chronic appendicitis. Was all run down. Gained thirty pounds under Dr. Mitchell's treatment.

Dr. Mitchell has hundreds of letters like the above on file at the office. This treatment is highly recommended by those who give it a trial. Whatever Dr. Mitchell tells you, no matter what, you can fully rely upon.

Consultation and advice free.

Office hours, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. Sunday, 9 to 12. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, 7 to 8:30. Zenith 'phone, 573. Office corner Fourth avenue west and First street.

WORDS OF PRAISE FROM PROMINENT PASTOR

REV. A. N. STEVENS.

Rev. A. N. Stevens, Well-known Minister of the Gospel and Temperance Advocate, Praises the Health-Giving, Strengthening and Life-Prolonging Powers of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Distinguished preacher who suffered from throat and lung troubles, and whose case was almost hopeless, is restored to health by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, after all other remedies had failed.

"It is now something like two years since I was afflicted with severe throat and lung trouble. My doctor did not seem to relieve me, and it looked at one time as if I would not recover. Though I have always been a strict and faithful advocate of temperance and a warm supporter of the Prohibition movement, nevertheless, I learned years ago to know that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey was a marvelous tonic and stimulant, and used only as a medicine. I asked my doctor about it, and he said he was sorry he had not thought of prescribing Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey before. I began to recover with the first bottle, and three bottles cured me. Today I am as well and strong as I was in my boyhood. I am a minister of the gospel, and I want to go on record as stating that there is no better medicine for bronchial or catarrhal affections of the lungs than Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey." A. N. Stevens, Pastor C. M. E. Church, Oakland, Tenn., Aug. 14, '05.

The sincere and convincing tribute of Rev. A. N. Stevens on the value of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in arresting the progress of physical decay and in building up new tissues of the throat and lungs, especially in cases of pneumonia and consumption, is only one of many thousands received daily from thankful men and women who have been brought back to health, strength and happiness by this grand medicine. For more than half a century has been recommended and used by ministers of the gospel and temperance advocates, and prescribed by doctors of every school as an effectual preventive and cure of consumption, bronchitis, hemorrhage and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is used in over two thousand leading hospitals as the most valuable invigorator and tonic stimulant known to medicine. It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic, builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces, it makes digestion perfect and enables you to get from the food you eat the nourishment it contains. Duffy's is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong. It is absolutely free from fusel oil and is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine. This is a guarantee.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

CAUTION. When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Dishonest dealers will try to sell you so-called cheap imitations and substitutes which are positively injurious to the health. Demand Duffy's and be sure you get it. Sold by every reliable druggist and grocer in the country, or direct, $1 00 a bottle. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label and be certain the seal on the cork is unbroken. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

SENIORS SHOW MUCH DRAMATIC ABILITY

Entertainment Draws Large Audience Which Exhibits Much Delight—"The Flying Wedge," a Football Skit, and "The Elopement of Ellen," a Clever Farce, Are Presented—School Notes.

The annual Senior plays, which were given last night at the high school, proved an attraction, from whose audience even Louis James did not seriously detract. The Assembly hall, which seats about 1,200 people, was filled, and it was a case of standing room only for many of the late arrivals. Both of the plays were given, with a precision and confidence which was remarkable, considering the short time which seats about 1,200 people, was and the fact that the class of '06 abounds in histrionic talent was well established.

Madge Millar was decidedly the star of the first of the plays, "The Flying Wedge," and her presentation of Kate Chester was excellent. Elsie Crassweller was a close second, presenting Mary Scribner, a reporter, with an ability that made one wish that she had more to do. Florence Bradley made a very pretty Nellie Suydam, and carried off the part well. The part of Miss Cornelia Suydam was well taken care of by Mabel Culkin, and Edna Ericson, as Mrs. O'Flynn the janitress, was very clever. Frank Crassweiler did well as the football hero, Tom Hurlbut, and he was ably supported by Benjamin Frink in the part of Percy Suydam.

The action of the piece became somewhat vague at places, so that several details of the plot were lost upon the audience, which is the only fault which the most exacting critic could find with "The Flying Wedge."

"The Elopement of Ellen" was a far more elaborate production, and, indeed, was the most pretentious play which high schol seniors have ever staged. Arthur Dunning as the absent-minded and embarrassed clergyman, and Ethel Ericson, as Mrs. Ford, carried off the honors of this part of the program, though Liela Sparks, as the college girl, who asks Mrs. Ford for a position as housemaid, and unexpectedly runs into a crowd of intimate friends, did exceedingly well in a difficult part. Mr. Dunning's part furnished most of the comedy in the piece, and the appreciation of his work by the audience was demonstrated by the enthusiastic applause which greeted him at every appearance on the stage. Ethel Becklinger was a most attractive Dorothy March, and she managed several difficult situations with a skill worthy of longer stage experience. Richard Forde, the devoted young husband, was ably portrayed by Ed Borgen, and Charles McLennan carried off the part of Max Ten Eych with fine ability. Charles McFadden as Robert Shepard, a golf fiend, who though a confirmed bachelor at the beginning of the piece, falls madly in love with June Haverhill, was most convincing.

During the intermissions, Margaret Whipple, Lillie Larson, Frances Toben and Frieda Beier rendered a musical program of much excellence, and Miss Alice Sjosellus, '07, sang.

SENIORS GIVE PROGRAM.

They Make Patriotic Addresses in Honor of Washington's Birthday.

Wednesday morning the first period was omitted and a program in honor of Washington's birthday was given by the senior class.

After the singing of "America" by the choir and school, Howard McAdams delivered an address on Benjamin Franklin, speaking of his scientific work, how little he was appreciated during his life, his work as a journalist and his famous maxims.

Miss Katherine Burris then read a paper on James Russell Lowell and Miss Alice Sjosellus, assisted by the choir, sang, "The American Flag." Miss Hazel Britts spoke on Lincoln's life and character, and Benjamin Frink carried off the honors of the occasion by his oration on "The Life and Death of President McKinley." Mr. Frink was especially fine in pathetic parts and he made the scene at the death of the martyred president very impressive.

The choir sang, "The Sword of Bunker Hill," and Miss Ruth Ringsred concluded the program with a paper on "Washington at Valley Forge."

PUBLIC SPEAKERS MEET.

Preliminary Debate Postponed and Will be Held Next Week.

The Public Speaking club held a meeting Monday at which the first preliminary for the debating team was to have been held, but the representatives of MacFadden's camp, who were to have sustained the negative of the question failed to show up and the preliminary was postponed to next Monday.

The literary part of the program, consisting of a declaration, "The Old Sergeant," by Walter McComber and another on Abraham Lincoln by Richard Johnson, was carried out as planned and both of the speakers did well. Mr. Townsend acted as critic.

At the meeting Monday, Frank Boerner and Albert Bawden will take the affirmative of the question on primary elections and Magnus Fossum and Charles Ecklund will uphold the negative.

High School Notes.

Zenith "copy" is coming in at a very satisfactory rate now and Editor Dunning expects to be able to put out a record-breaking book. Chief Artist Fossum has a fine lot of drawings ready and the artistic success of the book is assured. The Zenith will be sent to press about May first and the last of the copy must be in the hands of the board a month before that time.

• • •

A groan arose Tuesday morning when Prof. Smith announced that beginning next week chapel would be dispensed with two days a week and every one would begin spelling work in the chapel periods.

• • •

The Agassiz club will meet Monday. Miss Fanny Turner will read a paper on "The Production and Preparation of Tea."

• • •

The Philomathian society will hold a meeting next Thursday, as it was postponed this week because of Washington's birthday.

• • •

The thaw of the past few days has made the date of the Freshman-Sophomore hockey game very uncertain. It will probably be held the first Friday evening that the ice is in condition.

NO DIVORCE FOR CATHOLICS

But Celibacy of the Priests May Possibly be Abolished.

Vienna, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.) — Papal Monsignor Joseph Scheicher, doctor of theology, referring to the agitation for divorce among Catholics, said to your correspondent: "It is true that the Roman Catholic church, in olden times, recognized divorce, as the Greek Catholic church does today, namely in the case of adultery, but nevertheless I doubt that the church will ever return to this lenient view of the evil since refusal of divorce is now a dogma.

"On the other hand, celibacy is not a dogma and it is possible that the church may allow priests to marry. I say it is possible, I do not think it probable. On the other hand, it is likely that hereafter the church will allow priests, who resigned their holy office, to enter into the state of matrimony. After the French revolution such permission was granted to a large number of priests who were forced out of office."

MUST BELIEVE IT.

When Well-Known People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Duluth the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

Edw. J. Hoppman, mineralogist, living at 422 First street west, Duluth, Minn., says: "The best proof of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills that I can give is that since using this remedy for a bad attack of kidney trouble, some six years ago, I have not found it necessary to use any medicine at all for my kidneys. At the time when I began using them I suffered from sharp, aching pains in the back and loins. The kidney secretions were disordered, and the trouble told on my general health. Doan's Kidney Pills brought prompt relief and a final cure, and the permanence of the results thoroughly proves that this remedy can be depended upon in such cases."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buaffio, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

CAMERON TELLS STORY TO FIRE COMMISSIONERS

Goes Into Detail in His Charges Against Chief Black.

Horse Dealers' Bookkeeper Alleges Chief Received Commission.

Lack of specific charges and inability to state facts from his own knowledge, aside from hearsay evidence, made several of the charges brought by Dan Cameron against Chief Black seem rather lacking in force last evning at the investigation, when he was cross-examined by John Jenswold, Jr., Black's attorney. On some points Cameron's testimony was clear and unshaken, but the defense has not yet been heard, and it is impossible to judge what there will be to these charges after Chief Black has been given an opportunity to explain his side of the case.

On the charge that the men were compelled to buy their clothing from some particular firm, Cameron, on cross-examination, was compelled to admit that the men decided on the kind of clothing they should wear, and that the contract was then let to some firm. He would not state that they paid too much for their clothing or that the clothing was of poor quality.

In regard to the charge that Captain Wilson had been promoted over the heads of more efficient men, Cameron was unable to state any instance in which Wilson was incompetent, as alleged, and the charge resolved itself into the statement that in Cameron's own opinion there were others more competent than Wilson.

The charges of mismangement of the relief fund were also rather futile, as Cameron on cross examination testified that the fund was managed by a board of twelve or thirteen trustees, who awarded the benefits.

The investigation was held in Mayor Cullum's office, which was packed by a crowd of interested listeners. At 10:30 o'clock an adjournment was taken until this morning, Cameron and Andrew Johnson, a bookkeeper for Barrett & Zimmerman, being the only witnesses examined.

Cameron was the first witness placed upon the stand, and was examined by Porter J. Neff, his attorney.

He testified that he had entered the department in 1902 and was suspended in November, 1905. He stated that he knew of raffles which had been conducted by the chief among the members of the department. On one occasion a bicycle, which the chief had ridden for a year, was raffled off, tickets being sold at prices ranging from one cent to a dollar. On another occasion a worn coat belonging to the chief, was raffled, according to Cameron's testimony, and Chief Black also sold razors and strops, and mining stock to the men.

Cameron was asked why he objected to the promotion of Captain Charles Wilson, and stated that Wilson was not a "fire fighter" and had not sufficient experience for the work, or the physical fitness.

Attention was then called to the charges regarding the disposition of benefits from the relief fund, and he stated that as far as he knew the chief and Captain Wilson were the only men who had over drawn their pay and relief funds at the same time.

"I have known firemen to be taken from their posts of duty to go for wood for the chief," said the witness.

"What other instances of this kind do you know?" asked the attorney.

"I have known men to go out in the woods to get evergreens at various times. I have also known five or six men to be sent down to unload a yacht for the chief which had been brought in on a flat car. It was taken to the shop behind No. 3 firehall and the men were working on it there for several weeks."

"Were these men firemen in the employ of the city?"

"Yes."

"How about personal service?"

"During the time I was at No. 3 men were repeatedly sent to the chief's house to clean walks whenever snow fell, regardless of a shortage in the force."

"What vacation are the men entitled to?"

"Seven days a year."

"How about Wilson?"

"Wilson has been going hunting and fishing whenever he wanted to. He would go out with the chief and be gone a week at a time."

"How much time would you say he was gone in any one year?"

"I would say three weeks."

"Was any deduction made from his salary?"

"I have not been able to find any."

"Have you known him to go on one of these trips when the efficiency of the department was impaired by it?"

"On Oct. 24 last he went for a trip when some other men were off, and it left but two men on the chemical instead of four."

At this point Mr. Neff was asked leave to introduce another witness, Andrew Johnson, bookkeeper for Barrett & Zimmerman, as Mr. Johnson could not remain all evening.

Mr. Johnson stated that he had been bookkeeper for Barrett & Zimmerman for a number of years.

He was in their employ when Chief Black purchased a horse for the department in 1901.

"Do you remember shortly after Jan. 1, 1902, the chief calling up Barrett and wanting to sell a horse?"

"Yes."

"Did the chief come over?"

"Yes."

"What happened?"

"The chief came in between 4 and 5 in the afternoon. There was another man named Johnson and John Wall, one of our salesmen, there. Barrett stepped up to me and he said: 'Johnson, give me $30.' I did it and then Mr. Barrett, the chief, Johnson and Wall went into the front office."

At this point Mr. Jenswold objected to the testimony as heresay, but Chief Black told him to allow Johnson to proceed.

"I asked what I would charge the $30 to and Barrett said to commission to Johnson and Black. There was $5 coming to Johnson on another sale, and I charged the other $25 to Chief Black as commission."

"Do the books show that the chief settled for the white pony purchased there?"

"Yes."

"Did he pay for the pony?"

"I don't know. There was $40 charged to the chief for the pony and Zimmerman told me to close the account, as the money had been paid over in St. Paul."

Under cross-examination, Mr. Johnson stated that the sale of the horse was in reality a trade, as the chief traded off and old horse and $175, receiving in return a young horse fit for service.

Mr. Hollister here asked the witness some questions.

"What was the black horse worth at that time?

"I should say about $190."

"What was the old horse worth?"

"We were offered $125 for him about two weeks after, but refused it, and he was later sold at auction for $72.50."

Mr. Jenswold resumed cross-examination of the witness and probed the transaction with Chief Black.

"Did you see the chief handed the $25?" he asked.

"No, but Wall told me it was given to him."

"We tried to get Wall here tonight, but he wouldn't come," said Mr. Neff.

Dan Cameron was then placed upon the stand again and resumed his testimony.

"While a member of the department were you required to buy your clothing at any particular place?"

"Yes, sir. We had to buy the standard blue railroad shirt of Mr. Hill in the West end. Shirts of identically the same kind can be bought at five or six other places in the city."

"How about other clothing?"

"At one time a representative of a Chicago house was brought around by the assistant chief and the men were inspected. Those that needed suits had to buy them."

"Did you need a suit?"

"Yes, I bought one."

"Was it satisfactory?"

"No it wasn't. The cloth wasn't any too good and it tore out."

"Are there tailors in Duluth who make the same suits?"

"Yes."

"How about the price?"

"About the same."

Mr. Jenswold then took the witness in charge.

"How about this raffle. Did the chief ever sell you one of these tickets?"

"No."

"Do you remember the year?"

"It was 1897 or 1898."

"Raffles on bicycles were quite a common thing in Duluth at that time, weren't they?"

"I don't remember."

"How about the coat? Did you buy a ticket for that?"

"Yes."

"Who asked you to?"

"Wilson."

"You say he sold mining stock?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you see any crime in the chief selling mining stock?"

"Well, I don't think it is right for him to sell stock to the men working under him."

"Can you give the names of some of those that bought it?"

Cameron named eight or ten men, and the chief added the names of some others, making fourteen in all.

"Since being suspended you have had a lot of ill-feeling toward the chief?"

"No, sir, I don't know as I have."

"Now, you say that Wilson is a fire fighter. Who is the best judge of that, you or a man who has had three times your experience?"

"Why, I suppose the man with three times the experience."

"What does he lack?"

"Well he is not physically fit. Then he lacks experience, and he was not able to pass the physical examination."

"Then all you have to say is that he was promoted over men who are better fire fighters?"

"Yes."

"In your judgment?"

"Yes."

"What were the circumstances which led up to your suspension?"

"The chief called me into his office, and asked me what I was trying to do. I said I didn't know what he meant, and he asked me if I was working for Dr. Codding or for the city. Then he said that any man who was going about stirring up discord in the department couldn't work for him.

"He asked me why I had been looking over the bills in the comptroller's office and then comparing prices at Frank Smith's. I had secured copies of the bills and went to see how the prices compared with those paid Abbett. I found that sponges had cost the city $4.25 a pound and that they could be bought elsewhere for $2.75 and $3."

"Can you tell the different qualities of sponges?"

"I could tell by putting them side by side."

"Did you take one of the department sponges around with you?"

"No, sir."

"Where could you buy sponges for $2.75?"

"At Leithhead's."

"A wholesale house?"

"Yes, sir."

"How do you know all the sponges in the department were bought at Abbett's?"

"Well, all the stuff was bought there."

"Did you see it bought?"

"No, sir."

"Did you see the bills?"

"No, sir."

"Now about this relief fund, can you tell us an instance where it was mismanaged?"

"Well, Wilson received pay for the time he was sick."

"Can you fix the time when Wilson was paid both pay and benefits?"

"In June last."

"This fund was managed by trustees?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever vote against a man being granted a benefit?"

"No, sir."

"Then to what do you object?"

"I object to his being kept on the payroll while receiving sick benefits."

"Were you ever taken from your post to work for the chief?"

"Yes. I was sent out ten miles in the woods to cut evergreens once. It was in November, 1898. We went out with a team and were gone from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. We took the evergreens to the chief's residence."

"Give some instances of men working for the chief."

"Well, Herman Wendtlandt was repeatedly called to the house to shovel snow and throw in wood."

"Do you know whether Wendtlandt was paid for that?"

"I don't know."

"Name some more."

"Well, the men have hauled wood for the chief."

"How many times?"

"I don't know. It was the custom—"

"Oh, I don't want the custom. Let's get down to facts."

"Now about this yacht. Do you remember the time it was brought in?"

"Yes. It was a year ago last summer."

Under rigid cross-examination Cameron admitted that the men working on the yacht were in the room about fifty feet away from the fire hall and might catch the apparatus if there was an alarm. He said that otherwise they had nothing to do but sit about the hall, and that they were not losing any time for the work.

"Do you know whether the city has ever been paid for this work they did?"

"No, I do not."

Cameron stated that they were ordered to get their coats at a certain local tailoring establishment.

"Did you have any voice in selecting your clothes?"

"No."

"Can you read your own writing?"

"I suppose so."

"Then read that paper and tell me if you didn't sign it."

The paper was a petition signed by the men, which asked for a certain style of coat, and awarded the contract to the tailor in question. Cameron's name was attached.

"Did you sign that?"

"I don't remember having signed it."

"Isn't it a fact that in your zeal to reform the city, you are being carried beyond the bounds of your recollection?"

"That's eleven years ago," said Cameron.

When questioned about the charges for medical examination for the relief fund, Cameron said they were fixed by the trustees and did not know when they were raised from $1 to $2.

"And you were a trustee and never kicked when they were raised to $2?"

"No."

"As soon as he kicked on anything rotten, he got fired," said Mr. Neff.

Mr. Neff desired the hearing adjourned until next Tuesday, stating that he had to go to St. Paul last night, but Mr. Jenswold objected, claiming that Chief Black had a right to be cleared or convicted without further delay. Mr. Neff then agreed to give up his trip to St. Paul and wired another attorney there to take charge of his case, and the hearing adjourned until this morning.

Swollen face, throbbing nerves, ugly teeth—the result of experimenting. The other fellow stuck to

SOZODONT

3 Forms: Liquid, Powder & Paste

ASK YOUR DENTIST

DUN'S WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Holidays and Erratic Weather Slightly Retards Business.

New York, Feb. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of trade says: Holidays and erratic weather were calculated to interrupt progress in commercial channels, but business has become established on too sound a basis to reflect adverse interests of such a temporary character. Sections that experienced especially high temperature report the early opening of spring lines with most satisfactory results; excessive moisture elsewhere proved beneficial for manufacturing purposes while at other points seasonable merchandise was distributed freely. Jobbers of dry goods, clothing and notions are shipping large quantities of spring goods, accumulations of heavy weight wearing apparel, having no depressing effect on the new season's business. Prices are firmly held as a rule, except in the markets for farm staples, which are still higher than normal, despite a general reaction. Manufacturing plants report new orders that assure activity still farther into the future, and several dividend announcements show gains over recent years, while some New England cotton mills are only deterred from full activity by scarcity of labor.

Railway earnings continue to make splendid comparisons with last year's figures, February thus far recording a gain of 26.7 per cent. Foreign trade returns in January for the whole nation far surpassed the same month in any previous year, and the last week at this port shows a gain of $1,141,018 in exports, but a decrease of $3,877,874 in imports, compared with 1905.

Footwear manufacturers in New England have received a good volume of supplementary spring business, at full quotations, in addition to the usual amount of business already on hand, and the independent position of the producers is shown by the announcement that contracts for fall lines will not be accepted at present prices for delivery later than June. Leather is more irregular, buyers operating less freely, and tanners are required to make concessions. Current hides are of poor quality and in light demand, which makes prices nominally lower, although it is chiefly a matter of seasonable deterioration.

Failures this week were 208 in the United States, as against 252 last year, and 18 in Canada, as compared with 29 a year ago.

COUGHING CAUSED

By Obstructions In the Ear and Ceased When Removed.

Vienna, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. Breitund admonishes parents and others to have their children's ears regularly inspected, and in particular in case of illnesses, the cause of which cannot be readily conceived. The doctor tells of the case of a little girl who suffered from chronic cough. After two beans had been removed from an ear, the cough ceased and the girl was as well as ever. A small glass marble, a particle of wood, bone, etc., were found to be the cause of fits, insensibility of certain parts of the body, etc.

The most informatory case is as follows: A young student was suffering from chronic cough through investigation proved that his breast organs were all in first class condition. Finally an investigation of the ears was resorted to and it was found that one of them was obstructed by a fruit kernel. When the same was removed the coughing ceased and never recurred.

RICHES OF CHURCH IN AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to the Imperial statistical bureau, the fortune of the Catholic church in Austria amount to nearly $125,000,000, while the annual income is more than $11,000,000. The state contributes in salaries to the Catholic church nearly $2,000,000 per annum.

DR. MITCHELL, THE GREATEST MAGNETIC HEALER IN THE WORLD, CAUSES DISEASE TO DISAPPEAR AS IF BY MAGIC

HUNDREDS HAVE BEEN CURED WHO HAD GIVEN UP ALL HOPE OF EVER BEING WELL.

The Doctor Has Patients From All Parts of the Country—They Go Home Cured and Send Their Friends and That Is Why He Is Such a Busy Man.

We have told at times of some of the miraculous cures that Dr. Mitchell has effected—miraculous, that is the word, and the right one. Even with our intimate knowledge of the virtue of his treatment, some of these cures have been so astounding as to cause amazement and wonder. When a person is plucked from the grave and restored to full vigor, and joy of life, there is something so stupendous about the performance that mortals have no wonder. He has so revolutionized the method of healing without the aid of medicine that the medical profession stands aghast at the wonders he has performed. His cures are made so rapid and permanent, as if by magic, and for this reason the press throughout the country have named him the great magnetic healer. Dr. Mitchell admits his influence over disease is puzzling and mysterious. Those thousands of testimonials of confidence only came after he made good and proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that he could do all the papers had said he could. Thousands of Duluthians now testify to his healing powers. No one need believe these reports as they pass from mouth to mouth, but anybody can call at Dr. Mitchell's office, and have them proven.

Mrs. E. Kabel of Brookston, Minn., writes: "I went to Dr. Mitchell completely broken down. The doctors wanted to operate for a tumor of the kidney. Dr. Mitchell's treatment worked wonders for me. The tumor has disappeared, my health is very good, and I recommend Dr. Mitchell's treatment to any one suffering from disease."

Miss Hilda Suden of 2826 Huron street came to Dr. Mitchell last spring with a very bad case of lung trouble and coughed most of the time. She had given up hope and did not expect to get well. Dr. Mitchell's treatment seemed to work like magic. She got well in a short time and is today enjoying the best of health. Anyone doubting this statement can substantiate same at above number.

Mr. Rudolph Anderson of Ashland, Wis., suffered for nearly five years and tried many doctors, and kept failing right along. He came to Dr. Mitchell in a hopeless condition, with heart, stomach and kidney trouble. After taking a course of treatments by Dr. Mitchell he has gained twenty-five pounds in weight and is restored to perfect health. Mr. Anderson, while in Duluth, boarded at No. 9 Thirty-ninth avenue west. This statement can be substantiated there.

Miss Carrie Hadin, 1101 Lincoln avenue, Duluth, has been suffering from rheumatism since she was seven years old and tried many doctors, but received no benefit, but grew worse right along. She got so bad in her hands and feet she could not get around to do anything. Her brother advised her to go to Dr. Mitchell, as he had been cured of some sickness by him. She is now restored to health and recommends Dr. Mitchell's treatment to all sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Olson, 1517½ London road, cured of tumor of womb and general nervousness, was about to have an operation performed.

Joe Conkey, Knife River, Minn., cured of kidney and stomach trouble.

Miss C. Draper of La Crosse, Wis., cured of paralysis on one side. Her health was in desperate condition when she came to Dr. Mitchell.

Mrs. G. W. Thompson, 1010 West Third street, says: "I wish to say that I was cured four years agofkoldyenan&nolill cured four years ago of kidney and stomach trouble and nervousness by Dr. Mitchell. My case was pronounced hopeless by many physicians."

Mrs. N. Ecklund of 125 Fifty-seventh avenue west, says: "I went to Dr. Mitchell after I had given up all hope. I was so weak and sick I did not believe I could get help. I recommend his treatment."

Mr. Carl Stackmesser of Tower, Minn., who had rheumatism and paralysis and had not walked for eleven and a half years. Was 82 years old and had given up all hope. Cured by Dr. Mitchell.

Mr. Frank Hill of Cloquet, Minn., cured of a bad case of deafness.

Mrs. Sena Hagen of 2432 West Superior street, says: "My health was in desperate condition when I went to Dr. Mitchell. His treatments worked wonders for me and I know of many others whom he has cured."

Mr. Silas Williams of Mathawa, Minn., cured of lung and heart trouble; had been given up to die in three weeks.

Mrs. E. Huss of 1922 West Michigan street, Duluth, says: "I have taken a barrel of medicine and was just about dead when I went to Dr. Mitchell four years ago. I weighed 120 pounds. I now weigh 180. My trouble was heart trouble and female weakness."

Mrs. E. Loring of 115 Twenty-second avenue west, cured of St. Vitas' dance.

Mr. Martin from the range had a boy 13 years old who was all run down in general health, his eyes being very weak and suffering much from headaches. The boy was cured in six weeks by Dr. Mitchell.

Mrs. M. Lautave of Grand Forks fas cured of female weakness. Had been a great sufferer for years and was about to have an operation performed and did not expect to live through the summer. Was cured by Dr. Mitchell. This statement can be substantiated by calling at 125 North Fifty-ninth avenue west.

Mr. Ed Watkins of Forest City, Minn., who was going blind, cured by Dr. Mitchell after all others had failed.

Mr. S. T. Baker of 405 Fisher avenue, West Superior, Wis., sys: "My wife doctored with fourteen doctors for female weakness. Finally they told her an operation was the only thing that would cure her. Dr. Mitchell cured her in a course of treatments. My daughter was also cured of deafness."

Mr. Ely Lafave of Two Harbors, Minn., cured of stomach trouble and general breakdown of the entire system.

Capt. W. G. Govert of Stillwater, Minn., had his health restored by Dr. Mitchell.

Mrs. J. E. Close of 2824 West Third street, who had doctored for months without getting help, and had tried everything, given up all hope, decided to try Dr. Mitchell's treatment, as a last resort. The treatment worked wonders for her, saved her life and restored her to health, and she gladly recommends this magnetic treatment to all her friends.

Mrs. John Morris of Oacona, S. D., writes: "I believe in your treatment and recommend it to all sufferers."

A lady with a lame and stiff shoulder of fifteen years' standing is cured in three weeks.

A man who was losing his eyesight—everything began to look smoky, and he could not read newspaper print—was restored after a course of treatments.

A lady who had spinal trouble of ten years' standing was cured by Dr. Mitchell.

Mrs. Frederick Hallquist of 2826 Huron street, says: "When I went to Dr. Mitchell I was in a hopeless, helpless condition. I had kidney and heart trouble and my friends all thought I would die; medicine did me no good. When Dr. Mitchell took my case I weighed 212 pounds; I was reduced down to 170 pounds; I am now enjoying good health; while treating at the office I saw many that came as a last resort to Dr. Mitchell and they were all convalescing; several of my friends are treating with him and they are being restored to health; I will be glad to substantiate this statement to anyone."

Mrs. L. W. Abbott of Albion, Mich., writes: "I recommend Dr. Mitchell's treatment. While with him I saw cases of paralysis, blindness, deafness and diseases of all kinds cured by him. You can be sure he will not take your case if he can do nothing for you. I will be glad to answer any inquiries."

Mrs. Edith Gordon of Forman, N. D., cured of kidney and stomach trouble.

Mr. A. Johnson of Tower, Minn., cured of chronic appendicitis. Was all run down. Gained thirty pounds under Dr. Mitchell's treatment.

Dr. Mitchell has hundreds of letters like the above on file at the office. This treatment is highly recommended by those who give it a trial. Whatever Dr. Mitchell tells you, no matter what, you can fully rely upon.

Consultation and advice free.

Office hours, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. Sunday, 9 to 12. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, 7 to 8:30. Zenith 'phone, 579. Office corner Fourth avenue west and First street.

SENIORS SHOW MUCH DRAMATIC ABILITY

Entertainment Draws Large Audience Which Exhibits Much Delight—"The Flying Wedge," a Football Skit, and "The Elopement of Ellen," a Clever Farce, Are Presented—School Notes.

The annual Senior plays, which were given last night at the high school, proved an attraction, from whose audience even Louis James did not seriously detract. The Assembly hall, which seats about 1,200 people, was filled, and it was a case of standing room only for many of the late arrivals. Both of the plays were given, with a precision and confidence which was remarkable, considering the short time which seats about 1,200 people, was and the fact that the class of '06 abounds in histrionic talent was well established.

Madge Millar was decidedly the star of the first of the plays, "The Flying Wedge," and her presentation of Kate Chester was excellent. Elsie Crassweller was a close second, presenting Mary Scribner, a reporter, with an ability that made one wish that she had more to do. Florence Bradley made a very pretty Nellie Suydam, and carried off the part well. The part of Miss Cornelia Suydam was well taken care of by Mabel Culkin, and Edna Ericson, as Mrs. O'Flynn the janitress, was very clever. Frank Crassweiler did well as the football hero, Tom Hurlbut, and he was ably supported by Benjamin Frink in the part of Percy Suydam.

The action of the piece became somewhat vague at places, so that several details of the plot were lost upon the audience, which is the only fault which the most exacting critic could find with "The Flying Wedge."

"The Elopement of Ellen" was a far more elaborate production, and, indeed, was the most pretentious play which high schol seniors have ever staged. Arthur Dunning as the absent-minded and embarrassed clergyman, and Ethel Ericson, as Mrs. Ford, carried off the honors of this part of the program, though Llela Sparks, as the college girl, who asks Mrs. Ford for a position as housemaid, and unexpectedly runs into a crowd of intimate friends, did exceedingly well in a difficult part. Mr. Dunning's part furnished most of the comedy in the piece, and the appreciation of his work by the audience was demonstrated by the enthusiastic applause which greeted him at every appearance on the stage. Ethel Beckwith linger was a most attractive Dorothy March, and she managed several difficult situations with a skill worthy of longer stage experience. Richard Forde, the devoted young husband, was ably portrayed by Ed Borgen, and Charles McLennan carried off the part of Max Ten Eych with fine ability. Charles McFadden as Robert Shepard, a golf fiend, who though a confirmed bachelor at the beginning of the piece, falls madly in love with June Haverhill, was most convincing.

During the intermissions, Margaret Whipple, Lillie Larson, Frances Toben and Frieda Beier rendered a musical program of much excellence, and Miss Alice Sjosellus, '07, sang.

SENIORS GIVE PROGRAM.

They Make Patriotic Addresses In Honor of Washington's Birthday.

Wednesday morning the first period was omitted and a program in honor of Washington's birthday was given by the senior class.

After the singing of "America" by the choir and school, Howard McAdams delivered an address on Benjamin Franklin, speaking of his scientific work, how little he was appreciated during his life, his work as a journalist and his famous maxims.

Miss Katherine Burris then read a paper on James Russell Lowell and Miss Alice Sjosellus, assisted by the choir, sang, "The American Flag." Miss Hazel Britts spoke on Lincoln's life and character, and Benjamin Frink carried off the honors of the occasion by his oration on "The Life and Death of President McKinley." Mr. Frink was especially fine in pathetic parts and he made the scene at the death of the martyred president very impressive.

The choir sang, "The Sword of Bunker Hill," and Miss Ruth Ringsred concluded the program with a paper on "Washington at Valley Forge."

PUBLIC SPEAKERS MEET.

Preliminary Debate Postponed and Will be Held Next Week.

The Public Speaking club held a meeting Monday at which the first preliminary for the debating team was to have been held, but the representatives of MacFadden's camp, who were to have sustained the negative of the question failed to show up and the preliminary was postponed to next Monday.

The literary part of the program, consisting of a declaration, "The Old Sergeant," by Walter McComber and another on Abraham Lincoln by Richard Johnson, was carried out as planned and both of the speakers did well. Mr. Townsend acted as critic.

At the meeting Monday, Frank Boerner and Albert Bawden will take the affirmative of the question on primary elections and Magnus Fossum and Charles Ecklund will uphold the negative.

High School Notes.

Zenith "copy" is coming in at a very satisfactory rate now and Editor Dunning expects to be able to put out a record-breaking book. Chief Artist Fossum has a fine lot of drawings ready and the artistic success of the book is assured. The Zenith will be sent to press about May first and the last of the copy must be in the hands of the board a month before that time.

* * *

A groan arose Tuesday morning when Prof. Smith announced that beginning next week chapel would be dispensed with two days a week and every one would begin spelling work in the chapel periods.

* * *

The Agassiz club will meet Monday. Miss Fanny Turner will read a paper on "The Production and Preparation of Tea."

* * *

The Philomathian society will hold a meeting next Thursday, as it was postponed this week because of Washington's birthday.

* * *

The thaw of the past few days has made the date of the Freshman-Sophomore hockey game very uncertain. It will probably be held the first Friday evening that the ice is in condition.

NO DIVORCE FOR CATHOLICS

But Celibacy of the Priests May Possibly be Abolished.

Vienna, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.) — Papal Monsignor Joseph Schelcher, doctor of theology, referring to the agiation for divorce among Catholics, said to your correspondent: "It is true that the Roman Catholic church, in olden times, recognized divorce, as the Greek Catholic church does today, namely in the case of adultery, but nevertheless I doubt that the church will ever return to this lenient view of the evil since refusal of divorce is now a dogma.

"On the other hand, celibacy is not a dogma and it is possible that the church may allow priests to marry. I say it is possible, I do not think it probable. On the other hand, it is likely that hereafter the church will allow priests, who resigned their holy office, to enter into the state of matrimony. After the French revolution such permission was granted to a large number of priests who were forced out of office."

MUST BELIEVE IT.

When Well-Known People Tell It So Plainly.

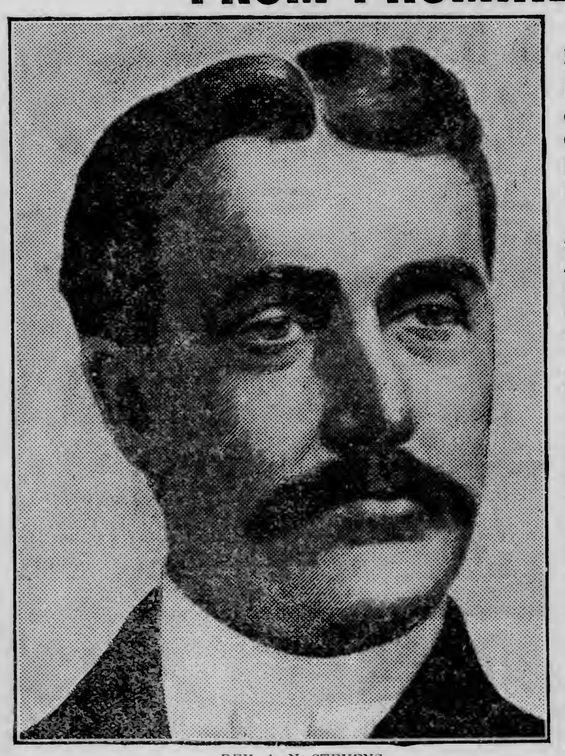

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Duluth the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

Edw. J. Hoppman, mineralogist, living at 422 First street west, Duluth, Minn., says: "The best proof of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills that I can give is that since using this remedy for a bad attack of kidney trouble, some six years ago, I have not found it necessary to use any medicine at all for my kidneys. At the time when I began using them I suffered from sharp, aching pains in the back and loins. The kidney secretions were disordered, and the trouble told on my general health. Doan's Kidney Pills brought prompt relief and a final cure, and the permanence of the results thoroughly proves that this remedy can be depended upon in such cases."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buaffio, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WORDS OF PRAISE FROM PROMINENT PASTOR

REV. A. N. STEVENS.

Rev. A. N. Stevens, Well-known Minister of the Gospel and Temperance Advocate, Praises the Health-Giving, Strengthening and Life-Prolonging Powers of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Distinguished preacher who suffered from throat and lung troubles, and whose case was almost hopeless, is restored to health by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, after all other remedies had failed.

"It is now something like two years since I was afflicted with severe throat and lung trouble. My doctor did not seem to relieve me, and it looked at one time as if I would not recover. Though I have always been a strict and faithful advocate of temperance and a warm supporter of the Prohibition movement, nevertheless, I learned years ago to know that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey was a marvelous tonic and stimulant, and used only as a medicine. I asked my doctor about it, and he said he was sorry he had not thought of prescribing Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey before. I began to recover with the first bottle, and three bottles cured me. Today I am as well and strong as I was in my boyhood. I am a minister of the gospel, and I want to go on record as stating that there is no better medicine for bronchial or catarrhal affections of the lungs than Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey." A. N. Stevens, Pastor C. M. E. Church, Oakland, Tenn., Aug. 14, '05.

The sincere and convincing tribute of Rev. A. N. Stevens on the value of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in arresting the progress of physical decay and in building up new tissues of the throat and lungs, especially in cases of pneumonia and consumption, is only one of many thousands received daily from thankful men and women who have been brought back to health, strength and happiness by this grand medicine. For more than half a century has been recommended and used by ministers of the gospel and temperance advocates, and prescribed by doctors of every school as an effectual preventive and cure of consumption, bronchitis, hemorrhage and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is used in over two thousand leading hospitals as the most valuable invigorator and tonic stimulant known to medicine. It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic, builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces, it makes digestion perfect and enables you to get from the food you eat the nourishment it contains. Duffy's is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. As a strengthener and sustains the system, is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong. It is absolutely free from fusel oil and is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine. This is a guarantee.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

CAUTION. When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Dishonest dealers will try to sell you so-called cheap imitations and substitutes which are positively injurious to the health. Demand Duffy's and be sure you get it. Sold by every reliable druggist and grocer in the country, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label and be certain the seal on the cork is unbroken. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Cluett

COAT SHIRTS

are made of the best white or color-fast fabrics. You can get what you want of your dealer if you insist on it. $1.50 and more. On and off like a coat.

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO.

Largest Makers of Collars and Shirts in the World

DEFECTIVE PAGE

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

Store Closed Monday and Tuesday to Arrange Stock and Get Everything in Readiness for the Big Sale.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 28, 10:30 A. M.
GRAND SALE COMMENCES
OF THE ENTIRE STOCK OF R. R. FORWARD & CO.

NOTHING LIKE IT EVER SEEN IN DULUTH!

We reserve the right to discontinue sale at any time when stock reaches the limit set by purchaser. A business of over $45,000 is for sale—a clean, up-to-date stock, a well advertised and profitable business, and well established in the best City in U. S.—Duluth.

Experienced Hardware Salesmen Wanted--Experienced Furniture Salesmen Wanted--Salesgirls for Basement and Errand Boys Wanted; Bring references.

Get your pocketbooks ready—get your savings handy—our "Quitting Business Sale" will make Northern Minnesota sit up and take notice.

R. R. Forward & Co. HARDWARE AND FURNITURE

Watch 21st Avenue West! That Means Watch Us.

BURLAPS Were never so popular as they are this season in the NEW BROWNS.

H. A. HALL & CO.

Phone 534 119 E. Superior St.

MIMEOGRAPHS

The greatest labor saving device of the age. A complete line can be found at

Exclusive Agents for A. B. Dick & Co. CHAMBERLAIN & TAYLOR CO., 323 West Superior Street

PRINTING To Suit Your Taste. Prompt Execution' Best Work. We Solicit Your Orders'

F. H. LOUNSBERRY & CO.

Successors to Peachey & Lounsberry. Both Phones. Providence Building. Fourth Ave. W. and Superior St.

DR. HOAG.

Dr. Hoag will be in Superior, Wis., at Hotel Superior, Thursday, March 15, 1906; office hours from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.; and in Ashland at the Commercial House, Friday, March 16; office hours from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m., where he can be consulted privately and free of charge.

THE SUCCESSFUL CHICAGO SPECIALIST.

Cures all affections of the Nose, Throat, Lungs, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, together with all Nervous derangements, and this reflex action upon the system; all affections of the Brain and Spinal Cord, Blood Impurities and taints, Skin Diseases, Rectal Diseases, Stubborn, unyielding cases of long-standing, chronic in nature which refuse to yield to all other methods of treatment.

DISEASES OF MEN.

Those secret ailments, peculiar to the sex, including Varicocele, Hydrocele, Nervous Debility, Errors of Youth, and their baneful results, Infectious Diseases and all Blood Taints and Skin Eruptions of every nature he cures in less time than by any other treatment.

CONSULTATION FREE

Address for home treatment, Dr. Chas. A. Hoag, 6362 Minerva Ave., Chicago Ill.

TAKES POISON BY MISTAKE AND DIES.

Wooster, Ohio, Feb. 24.—Dr. Hugh J. Sullivan, coroner of Wayne county, took a fatal dose of poison by mistake early this morning and died a few hours later. Sullivan arose during the night to take some medicine but took hold of the wrong bottle by mistake.

PEAVEY GRAIN STILL UNSOLD

The Insurance Adjusters Have Not Disposed of It Yet.

W. C. Burleigh and other visiting fire insurance adjusters have not yet disposed of the grain which was saved from the ruins of the burned Peavey elevator.

The situation stands just about as it did yesterday afternoon. The insurance men are holding off for more money and are apparently in no hurry to get it.

Authentic information from the inside of the exclusive circle which the adjusters have formed is to the effect that dickering is going on at present between the members of the circle and one or two parties who are willing to pay more than $60,000 for the salvage.

Pursuant to their policy, the adjusters would give out no definite information.

"We are going to save the grain for seed," said Mr. Burleigh, in a jocular fashion, today. "How long will these negotiations be kept up? Indefinitely, I guess. We can stay in town as long as anyone."

NO PHYSICIAN

Provided for Little Girl Who Died of Typhoid Fever.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—At the conclusion today of the coroner's inquiry into the death of Grace Bates, 3 years old, Daniel Bates, the child's father, and Rev. Ambrose Clark, assistant pastor of Faith tabernacle, were committed without bail for trial. The father is charged with criminal negligence and the clergyman is held as an accomplice. The defendants are members of the Church of Christ and both testified that they endeavored to accomplish the recovery of the girl through prayer and that medical attention was not provided for the child, who died of typhoid fever.

A Card.

We, the undersigned do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

S. F. Boyce, Max Wirth,
R. C. Sweeny, William A. Abbett.

LOST EYESIGHT

Restored by Dr. Larson, who will be at Hotel Spalding, Saturday, March 3, and return each month. Glasses properly fitted. The eye relieved from all strain. An eye-strain causes diseased condition of the eye in almost every form. It is very important to attend to this at an early date. Diseased conditions of the eye and defective eye-sight properly diagnosed and glasses ground from the very best material, to fit every complicated defective eyesight. Dr. Larson makes regular visits to Duluth every month. Consult him about your eyes.

RAILROADS

INTEREST IS INCREASING

Large Attendence at Meeting of the Northern Railway Club.

Speed War Between New York Central and Pennsylvania.

And still the wonder grows at the remarkable interest that is taken in the affairs of the Northern Railroad club. Every meeting held so far has been more successful than the one preceding it. The meeting last night was attended by 130 members, and for interest and inthusiasm eclipsed all the previous gatherings. Special trains were run from Two Harbors and Proctor to accommodate men from those places, and a number of members were on hand from the ranges and Superior.

The attendance far exceeded the expectations, in fact. One hundred and twenty chairs had been provided, and more had to be obtained before all the men present could be seated. In point of general interest the paper on "The Importance of Prompt Handling of Shipments by Transportation Companies" was the feature of the evening, as read by C. F. Rowe, traffic manager of the Marshall-Wells Hardware Co. The subject was dealt with in an able manner. W. G. Wallace, superintendent of motive power for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, made the most of the subject allotted him, "Lubrication of Locomotives and Cars."

E. C. Blanchard, superintendent for the Northern Pacific railway, acted as chairman in the absence of W. A. McGonagle, president of the organization. P. H. Stack of St. Paul and F. W. Dyer of Minneapolis, mechanical experts in the employ of the Galena Signal company of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Farmer, with the Westinghouse people, and assistant secretary of the Northwestern Railway club of the Twin Cities, were among the outsiders present who entered into the general discussions of the evening. A fine musical program was rendered in addition to the business of the meeting.

ANOTHER SPEED WAR.

New York Central, Pennsylvania and Monon Roads Engaged in One.

Another speed war between the New York Central lines and the Pennsylvania has begun. Some time has elapsed since these two roads joined issues to see which could reach New York from Chicago in the shortest time, the result being a tie. Now hostilities have been reopened, and a speed war is in progress between Chicago and Cincinnati. A third road, the Monon, has been dragged into this contest.

Until recently these three roads made common time to Cincinnati, the running time being ten and one-half hours. Suddenly, and without the usual notice to the other lines, the Big Four announced a reduction in the time between Chicago and Cincinnati of more than two hours, making the running time eight hours and fifteen minutes. This announcement caused consternation in the offices of the two competing roads and steps were taken at once by the Monon to meet this new time of the Big Four, and the time of a Monon train was made eight hours and fifteen minutes. Then the Pennsylvania came out with a cut of fifteen minutes under this. The mileage of the three roads is nearly equal, ranging from 300 to 308 miles.

Small Wreck at Carlton.

M. B. Nichols, conductor on a Northern Pacific freight train, had a narrow escape the other day while backing his train from the siding at Carlton. The caboose and six cars left the track and turned over on their sides. Mr. Nichols was standing on the platform of the caboose at the time, and escaped being crushed only by a narrow margin. The caboose caught fire and, with its contents, was consumed.

COPPER STOCK MARKET DULL

Majority of Shares Show Fair Activity and Weaker Prices.

The copper stock market was quiet and weak today. United Copper was steadier than the other Montana coppers. It opened at $73.87½, advanced to 74, dropped to $73.87½ and closed at $73.37 bid and $74 asked. North Butte opened at $86.12½ and dropped to $85.75. The closing price was $85.50 bid and $86 asked. Amalgamated opened at $111, went to $111.12½ and dropped to $110.37½ and closed at $110.87½ and $110.37½ and closed at $110.87½ bid and $111 asked. Anaconda opened at $283.25, dropped to $280.50 and advanced to $282.

There was a little activity among the Bisbee stocks. Calumet & Arizona sold at $119 and closed at $117 bid and $119 asked, Calumet & Pittsburg was inactive and closed at $36 asked, Dennn-Arizona at $27 asked, Junction sold at $28.25 and closed at $28.25 asked, Lake Superior & Pittsburg sold at $43 asked and Pittsburg & Duluth closed at $22.75 asked.

Black Mountain sold at $13.25 and closed at $13 bid and $13.50 asked, Keweenaw at $16 asked, Warren at $18 asked, Copper Queen of Idaho at $2 asked and Sullivan at $2 asked.

Dr. Gunsaulus to Lecture.

Monday evening Dr. Frank W. Gunsalus will lecture at the First Methodist church in the Star Lecture course on "Gladstone" and it promises to be one of the most satisfactory of the numbers of this year's course. Dr. Gunsalus is one of Chicago's most active and public spirited men, and has been associated in the work of the Armour Institute for years, being commissioned by the late P. D. Armour with many important projects in connection with its work. He is a fine lecturer and a man of great force and magentism.

DR. FRANK W. GUNSAULUS.

MEMBERS OF SCALE COMMITTEE GO HOME.

New York, Feb. 24.—Twenty-nine members of the scale committee of anthracite miners, who have been here during the drafting of demands for presentation to the operators, will return to their homes at once, according to a decision reached today. Last night the full committee endorsed the demands which had been completed and declared them ready for presentation to the operators.

The committee of seven which drafted these demands will remain here for further negotiations with the operators.

Thousands drink POSTUM and get well from disease caused by ordinary coffee.

"There's a Reason."

NAMES ARE ANNOUNCED

Those Who Will Serve on Garfield Banquet Committees.

Big Feast May be Spread in the Masonic Temple.

T. H. Martin, president of the Garfield Republican club, today announced the names of the men who have been appointed on the committees which will have in charge the arrangemnts for the annual banquet of the organization, to be held betwen March 20 and April 1. They are as follows:

Arrangements—Simon Clark, chairman; J. P. Johnson, L. M. Willcuts, L. D. Campbell and W. C. Weld.

Speakers and musical program—Geo. R. Laybourn, chairman; William E. Culkin, A. P. Cook, J. B. Cotton and T. M. Pugh.

Invitation and tickets—J. B. Sutphin, chairman; F. A. Sills, Thomas Clark, W. S. McCormick, L. A. Barnes, D. E. Stevens, C. F. Wiberg, S. F. Staples, O. Halden, George H. Schulenberg, Thos. Trevillion, John Sundeen, L. S. Meader, and L. H. Whipple.

A committee on reception will be appointed later.

The exact date for holding the banquet will be decided soon by the committee on arrangements. It looks now as though the affair would be on such a big scale that the dining room of the Spalding hotel will be too small to accomodate the guests. In this case an attempt will be made to secure the Masonic Temple for the occasion. It is thought very probable that this will be done.

From 10 to 50 Per Cent

Discount on several fine pianos at French & Bassett's sale which ends March 3. Don't delay if you want one.

TEMPLE ROLLER RINK MASQUERADE

Tuesday Eve., Feb. 27.

Suitable prizes. Maskers to be identified at the door.

Funeral of Mrs. Barnard.

The funeral of Mrs. Joseph L. Barnard, who died at Minneapolis Thursday, will be held at St. Paul's church, tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Dr. A. W. Ryan officiating. The remains came up from Minneapolis by train today, the casket being taken to the home of F. H. Barnard at Forty-third avenue east and London road. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

We Buy Logs

The Red Cliff Lumber Co. will pay the highest cash price for white pine, Norway, spruce and tamarack logs, delivered on railroad. Red Cliff Lumber Co., Duluth, Minn.

CHARGES OF VENALITY

In Connection With Count de Castellane's Election Not Proven.

Paris, Feb. 24.—A jury of honr has rendered a decision in a case involving charges of venality during Count Boni De Castellane's candidacy for election to the chamber of deputies as representative of the Basses Alps. The jury was composed of Deputies Pelletan and Pressen and Senator Girente and the final decision was given by the arbitrator, Deputy Guyot-Desaigne. The decision says that M. Isoard, editor of the Republique Provenciale, was accused of taking certain sums of money not to oppose Count Boni's candidacy. The committee of the prefecture developed certain facts which, if fully proved, would have given apparent reasonableness to the accusations of venality. Prefect Droze formulated charges that M. Isoard refused to print articles hostile to Count Boni, but M. Droze refused to accept the responsibility for charges that money had been used for M. Isoard's support or neutrality. The decision says that the charges first took definite form in letters from Senator Gassier, but the evidence shows that the senator's information was hearsay from witnesses who now deny it or remain mute. Therefore the decision concludes M. Isoard is absolutely vindicated from the accusations of venality and is held blameless for the non-insertion in his paper of articles hostile to Count Boni.

WEALTHY LAWYER GUILTY OF FORGERY.

Mineola, L. I., Feb. 24.—Benjamin E. Valentine, a wealthy Brooklyn lawyer, was today sentenced to an intermediate term of not more than five years and three months in Sing Sing prison for forgery. Valentine had been convicted of forging his wife's name to a deed for property belonging to his mother. Valentine was admitted to bail pending an application for a certificate of reasonable doubt.

For Duluth's Best Dressers.

M. L. Parker, Duluth's fashionable tailor, has just received from London direct, a line of the finest and most exclusive woollens ever shown in Duluth, or for that matter in the Northwest, among them some medium weights, especially desirable for early spring. These goods will appeal particularly to critical dressers, who demand something different from the ordinary. Mr. Parker has just returned from the Merchant Tailors' convention, at Cambridge Springs, Pa., and a trip to New York.

New Automobile Firm.

The Duluth Electrical & Construction company has consolidated with the Duluth Automobile company, with headquarters at 210 West First street. The firm will handle an exceptionally strong line of cars—the White, Buick, Maxwell, Pope, Waverley, Cadillac and Reo, and will make a specialty of garage, charging and repairing.

If You Value Your Health USE "SALADA"

CEYLON AND INDIA NATURAL GREEN TEA

In place of adulterated teas of Japan.

Lead Packets Only. Trial Packet, 10c. At All Grocers.

HIGHEST AWARD ST. LOUIS, 1904.

Trade Supplied by Gowan-Peyton-Twohy Co.

WOMAN FINED FOR ASSAULT

Claimed to Have Struck at Theo Endeward With Knife.

Mrs. L. Asher of West Duluth was arraigned in the municipal court this morning on the charge of assault.

The complaint was sworn out by Theo Endeward, who claimed that he went to Mrs. Asher's house to regain possession of a 14-year-old boy, the son of one of his neighbors, whom he claimed Mrs. Asher had been inducing to stay at her home to run errands and do odd chores.

When he asked for the boy, Mrs. Asher is claimed to have struck at him with a kitchen knife, which she held in her hand. Endeward stepped back and dodged the blow, the knife merely scratching his chin.

Mrs. Asher was arrested by Lieut. Briggs and pleaded guilty to a charge of assault this morning. Judge Windom fined her $10 and costs with the alternative of going to jail for ten days.

C. W. DANIELSON KILLED.

Former Duluthian Victim of Car Bumpers in Superior Shipyard.

C. W. Danielson, aged 53 years, was instantly killed this morning at the barge works in Superior while coupling a dinky engine to a car in the shipyard. His head was caught between the bumpers and Danielson was a corpse in an instant.

Two children survive the dead man and are left orphans, their mother having died some years ago.

Danielson, until about a year ago lived in Duluth and his parents are said to reside here now. Their names or address are not known.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

COLD WAVE COMING.

Zero Weather is Due Here Within a Few Hours.

Tonight or early tomorrow a cold wave will arrive it is announced. The thermometer will get down to zero or a little below when this cold wave strikes but it is not expected that it will last longer than Monday at the most and the weather will quite likely be pleasant again. The cold wave is heading from the direction of Alberta, N. W. T.

DULUTH GIRL TO ACT.

Miss Josephine Ross Will Christen New Steamer Abraham Stearn.

Miss Josephine Ross, daughter of George F. Miller, 318 Tenth avenue east, will christen the new steamer Abraham Stearn at the Superior ship yards next Wednesday.

Miss Ross is very pretty and a popular member of the younger set. She has accepted the invitations of the owners of the new boat, W. A. and H. A. Hawgood of Cleveland to bust the bottle of champagne on the Stearn's bow.

BESSEMER ORE

Scarce and Some Furnaces Must Use Other Grades.

Cleveland, Feb. 24.—The Iron Trade Review says: It has developed during the past week that a number of furnaces which are now running on Bessemer ore have practically exhausted their supply and will be forced to change to other grades of iron until the opening of navigation enables them to secure shipments of Bessemer. At least one Ohio furnace is in this predicament. While the probability of a general coal strike is still discounted, vessels are being generally loaded with coal in order to be prepared,should the first of April arrive without the conclusion of negotiations avoiding difficulty in the coal regions. Practically no ore is being sold at present, and the movement from docks is only moderate. We quote Old Range Bessemer $4.25; Mesaba Bessemer, $4; Old Range Non-Bessemer, $3.70; and Mesaba Non-Bessemer, $3.50.

CZAR EASILY FOOLED.

Blind Confidence He Reposed in Father John of Kronstadt.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—To a diplomat, the czar told recently the following story, showing his blind confidence in that exposed charlatan, "Father John of Kronstadt.'

"Father John," he said, "was walking in Kronstadt, attended by a monk. As they passed a Jew's house, the proprietor, standing at his door, spat out before them, whereupon the monk cried fiercely: 'May the house fall and kill you, dog of a Jew.'

"But Father John," added the czar, "mildly raised his hand and said: 'No, no, I forgive him, and God will forgive him, too. Let the house stand.'

"And the house is still standing," says Nicholas.

"And a fool like that arrogates to himself the right to decide, all by himself, over the weal and woe of several hundred million people, said the diplomat who told the above to your correspondent.

Week-End Excursions---Minneapolis St. Louis Railroad.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad will place in effect until March 31 the following excursion arrangements:

Half rates—After 12 o'clock noon of Saturdays to all points within 150 miles, good for return until Monday morning; minimum rate 75 cents.

Fare and one-third—On sale Fridays to points not less than 75 miles nor more than 150 miles distant, limit the following Monday.

One fare plus $2—To points more than 150 miles away, limit five days.

These rates apply to the cities where theatrical attractions and other amusements are best at this season of the year, and they also apply to all local stations on the line.

For further particulars call on Minneapolis & St. Louis agents.

PUBLICATIONS. PUBLICATIONS.

APPLETON'S BOOKLOVERS MAGAZINE

25c a copy FOR $3.00 a year

MARCH

EVERY NUMBER IS BETTER THAN THE LAST.

WATCHING THE RISE OF ORION
A strong story of the Northwest.
By SIR GILBERT PARKER, M. P.

THE LOOTING OF ALASKA
By REX E. BEACH.
This is the third installment of the exposure of the biggest steal of modern times.

ONE HUNDRED TIMES A BILLIONAIRE
By HAROLD BOLCE
The meaning of America's astounding prosperity.

THE NORTHWESTERN WHEAT TREK
By Hon. J. OBED SMITH, Canadian commissioner of immigration
Why citizens of the United States emigrate to Canada.

IN CURE OF HER SOUL
By FREDERIC JESUP STIMSON
("J. S. of Dale")
An interesting installment of a novel national in scope.

THE NATIONAL THEATRE
By JOHN CORBIN
What its development means in the eyes of our most authoritative critic.

THE TAJ MAHAL
By FREDERIC COURTLAND PENFIELD
The most exquisite building in the world.

J. M. BARRIE: AN APPRECIATION.
By JESSE LYNCH WILLIAMS

A host of other good stories and articles together with illustrations by Edward Penfield, A. B. Wenzell, Herman Rountree, Thomas Fogarty, and Hugh Witter Ditzler.

D. APPLETON & CO., PUBLISHERS, NEW YORK

THE EVENING HERALD
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.

Published at Herald Bldg., First St. Op. P.O. Square.
THE HERALD COMPANY.
Phones: Counting room, 324; Editorial rooms, 1126.

TEN CENTS A WEEK
EVENING HERALD—DELIVERED BY CARRIER

Single copy, daily	$ .02
One month	.45
Three months (in advance)	1.30
Six months (in advance)	2.60
One year (in advance)	5.00

Entered at Duluth Postoffice as Second-class Matter.

DULUTH WEEKLY HERALD.

Per year	$1.00
Six months	.50
Three months	.25

The Largest Circulation in Duluth

TO SUBSCRIBERS:
It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both old and new addresses.

SHOULD BE ADOPTED.

At the last session of the legislature a proposed constitutional amendment was submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the election next November, permitting farmers and gardeners to peddle their products without a license. It is somewhat early to begin an agitation in favor of an amendment that will not be voted upon until November, but this one is particularly important to Duluth, and the people must not be permitted to forget it.

The arguments in favor of it are obvious. Duluth wants the lands round about her settled upon by farmers, gardeners and dairymen. She wants this in order that she may have for her tables cheap vegetables and farm products, as this would lower the cost of living while adding to the wealth of the territory adjacent to the city. If Duluth wants farmers Duluth must give them every encouragement, and patronize them as much as possible.

There should be no restriction upon the sale of his produce by the farmer. He should be permitted to come into Duluth in his wagon and sell his goods as freely as possible. If a license is imposed it hampers his operations, scares him out of trying, or forces him to sell his goods at wholesale to the dealers. Duluth has had no trouble of this nature, but in the Twin Cities farmers and gardeners have been arrested for the heinous offense of peddling vegetables raised in their own nearby gardens.

The proposed amendment is a very proper encouragement to the farmers, and it is particularly valuable in places like Duluth, where the supply of nearby farms and gardens is not yet large enough to meet the demands of the city. If every vegetable eaten in Duluth were raised near Duluth, prices would be cheaper, quality better, and the prosperity of both city and country greater.

The provision is simply this: "Any person may sell or peddle the products of any farm or garden occupied and cultivated by him without obtaining a license therefor." This will admit no peddlers except the ones sought to be benefited, the farmers and gardeners. It will not even admit of milk peddling without a license, since milk is not a product of the land directly. It is necessary to have supervision of dairy products, in order to insure cleanliness and health, hence a dairyman's license is essential. There is no need, however, of requiring a license from a farmer dealing in the product of his own soil, and the amendment should be adopted by the people at the election in November.

MUST BE CAREFUL.

A correspondent of The Herald at Brookston, St. Louis county, pictures the people of that village and the settlers on and near the newly opened Fond du Lac reservation as viewing with alarm the preparations of the lumbermen who are cutting timber on the ceded Indian lands to obey the government requirements about burning the tops and brush cut by them.

The settlers, it appears, are fearful that if great care is not exercised by the lumber companies the fires started in these brush heaps will spread, and burn up the small timber that is left, besides doing other damage to the property of settlers. Their fears are fed by the knowledge that while the loggers are entirely through with the country when their timber cutting is done, the settlers have to remain there, and to suffer any damage that carelessness may breed.

It is to be hoped, of course, that those fears are groundless. The government requires those who are cutting timber on the Indian lands to carefully burn the rubbish left from the logging operations, and this is a wise provision. An attempt has been made in the legislature of Minnesota to pass a law requiring this action on all logging operations in the state, and though it ought to be adopted it never yet has been successful.

However, loggers should remember that even if their interest ends when the last log is cut, there are others to be considered. The settlers are to come next, and much small timber will remain that will be valuable to them, for firewood if for nothing else. All fires set in accordance with the government requirements should be watched carefully, as the loggers will be liable in money damages for all harm that comes through improper management of the brush fires. It seems reasonable to believe that the loggers will exercise this care of their own accord, without suggestions from anybody else. This matter, while doubtless it appears trifling to the lumbermen, may be very serious indeed for the settlers, especially if through careless management of the fires the country roundabout is damaged.

A WOMAN'S WORKDAY.

"A woman's work is never done," somebody said once upon a time, and the phrase has been tossed from tongue to tongue ever since. There is much truth in it, too, as any woman with household cares upon her mind and hands can testify. A conscientious housekeeper, whether she does her work through servants or with her own hands, can always find occupation, from early morn till late at night, and though often men wonder how they manage to put in the time, one day's trial of a woman's household routine will quickly cure them of their wonder.

So it is small wonder that there is talk in woman's realm of a shorter workday for housewives. They might never have thought about it, perhaps, if their husbands had not set the example with their efforts to convince their employers that they can do more work and better in a short day than they can in a long one; and that eight hours' work is more valuable and productive than ten hours' work from the same man.

The natural division of the twenty-four hours of the day into three equal parts—eight hours for refreshment and sleep, eight hours for relaxation and the service of God and humanity, and eight for our usual avocations—commends itself to most thinking people, and if it is wholesome and beneficial for man, certainly it is good for women also. When man's workday is limited to eight hours it surely is unfair to have woman's workday spread out over twelve or fifteen.

However, woman's attempt to secure shorter working hours is handicapped by lack of the organization which has brought about better conditions of men. And it is doubtful, in the case of the women, whether organization can accomplish so much. It may set men to thinking, when women's organizations take the subject up and declare themselves upon it, but strikes, the usual method of enforcing such demands, are a little beyond the reach of the housewives. True, each individual housewife has the right to strike for shorter hours, but bless her, when she thinks of the consternation such an episode would create in her household, when she thinks of her supperless husband, her buttonless children, her unpolished door knobs and other conditions which a strike on her part would bring about, she hasn't the heart to do it, and she doesn't, but slaves away as before.

Very likely some consideration of this subject by the men would produce better things. Possibly they might balk at wiping the dishes and cleaning off the range. Certainly they would rebel at the suggestion of washing the kitchen floor or scrubbing off the porch. But doubtless, too, there are many things about the house that they could do, if they would, and thereby lighten the labors and hearts of their wives.

RATE BILL PROSPECTS.

They are getting along with the rate regulation bill down in Washington very much more smoothly than anybody had expected, and there is no longer reason to doubt that some sort of a bill will be passed at this session.

True, it took the Democratic minority in the senate committee to make a majority for the bill and get it upon the floor, but that was expected. True, the opposition, hoping to thereby engage a little more opposition for it in the senate, contrived it so that this measure, an administration measure backed by the Republican president and passed almost unanimously by the Republican house, shall be handled upon the floor of the senate by a Democrat. This, however, is merely a nasty little slap by the railroad senators at the Republican members of the committee whose votes helped to get the bill reported out, and it will not necessarily make any harder sledding for the measure.

Once before the senate, the bill will have to undergo a rapid-fire bombardment of amendments. Some will be honestly designed to make the measure stronger and better, while others, though fair in seeming, will be cunningly contrived to destroy its effect and make it harmless and satisfactory to the railroads.

The one amendment of great importance, however, will be that introduced by the friends of the railroads, providing for a review by the courts of the rulings of the interstate commerce commission upon rates complained of. If that effort succeeds, no ruling will become effective until the courts give permission. Meantime the unjust rate will have been in effect against the complaining shipper and all other shippers, and the railroads will continue to reap their unjust profits just as long as they are able to prolong the litigation in the courts. And the railroads have shown wonderful ingenuity in delaying the adjudication of suits against them. Many a plaintiff in a suit against a railroad has become wearied to death and abandoned his suit because there seemed to be no end to the delays contrived by the railroad attorneys and consented to by the courts.

If the bill remains as it is, however, when the interstate commerce commission, after a full and fair hearing, declares that a rate is unjustly high and fixes a maximum rate to take its place, the order to this effect will become operative in thirty days, and the complaining shipper and others similarly situated will get the relief they are entitled to immediately.

It is not to be expected that this rate bill will be faultless. It will not be. It is not now. But it will be a start, a long step forward, and its faults can be corrected at subsequent sessions with less difficulty than is attending the passage of the original bill.

A NEW DEAL NEEDED.

Everett Colby, a young man down in New Jersey who has come into unusual prominence of late because he did what every young man ought to do, and what he should have done long before, has been telling young men that they ought to get into politics, and his advice is good. Indeed, The Herald preceded him with it several weeks, having only recently urged young men to get into politics in the right way.

Young Mr. Colby had been taken up by the bosses down in trust-ridden New Jersey, put into the legislature, made speaker, and given positions of trust—where he could be watched and controlled—because he was rich and young and popular. He rather liked it, the glamor of it all and the excitement and the thought that he was a useful cog in a great machine, and he submitted even with enthusiasm to the dictations of men who told him to betray his people to the "interests."

Then one day he woke up. He saw that the great machine of which he was a part was a hideous mechanism that was undermining the republic and grinding tears and blood out of the people. Then the glamor fell off, and he saw things as they were. He quit being a part of the machine, threw himself impulsively against the forces of the "interests," and won—that is he got himself elected, though he has not yet driven the trust dragon out of New Jersey.

Now that he is awake, as many another man has become awake in the past few years, he is telling young men to get into politics. Not into the kind of politics whose object is to pull the wool of partisanship over the eyes of the people that the nimble fingers of high finance may plunder their pockets, but the kind of politics that seeks to arouse the people, to point out to them what they are missing and to help get for them that which belongs to them.

It is good advice, and young Mr. Colby's example is splendid. He knows, now, what has been going on, and he wants the young men of America to get out with him and drive the trust snakes out of the republic, like a lot of political St. Patricks. There is room for them, there is need for them, there is ample work for them. The time has come when voters with such motives as Colby pleads for should drive out of the game those trained under the old system, which was a graft from top to bottom.

The old political machine that had been adjusted to every community had no thought of the good of the people. It attempted to sway the people, and usually did, instead of being an instrument subject to the control of the people. It worked for pelf, not for principle, and if it was not designed purely to get jobs for undeserving loafers it was designed for something worse—to help along the "system," as Lawson called it; to sell out the people whose votes made its existence possible.

A new order in politics, under which the good of the people shall be sought instead of the profit of the few, is needed, and the young men of the country can and should create it.

THOUGHTLESS SERVANTS.

A traveler was telling about the inefficiency of Mexican labor. Alighting at a dining station on a Mexican road, he saw a mechanic who went from car to car along the train, tapping the wheels with a hammer, after the fashion familiar to everybody. To draw him out the traveler asked him why he rapped the wheels.

"Because the master mechanic tells me to," was his astonished reply.

"But what good does it do?" persisted the traveler.

"I don't know," answered the mechanic, dumbly.

"How long have you been working on this job?" asked the traveler.

"Two years," was the reply.

For two years this man, paid to test the wheels for defects or cracks, had been going through the motions without the faintest idea of what it was for. Had the wheels been ready to break before the next station was reached, he wouldn't have known it.

This happened down in Mexico, this story, but it happens every day in this country, too, though perhaps in a different form. There are too many employes who do things on the same principle that the Mexican tapped the wheels—because they were told to do so and are paid for it. They go to work every day, do what they have to, and get away as soon as they can. They never take the trouble to find out what it is all for or what relation to the whole their part of the work bears.

They think they have done their duty when they perform the routine service they have been told to do, yet they are surprised that promotion and salary increases do not come to them. The wonder is that they keep their places at all. Some day somebody is going to come along and find how little mentality they put into their work, and their places are going to be filled by somebody who will think a little, and therefore work in intelligent harmony with the whole.

That Mexican was worse than useless to his employers. He did what he was told to do, but without understanding or desire to understand. He performed the letter of his task, but disregarded its spirit.

There are not many so stupid as he, but there are many who are content to become mere cogs in a machine, thoughtless performers of routine duty whose minds are rusting from disuse, with no hope of promotion or success. The employe that gets ahead is the one that not only does what he is told to do, but who thinks out its relation to the work of others, and who thereby acquires a knowledge of the business he is engaged in that fits him for advancement.

THE FIELD SURVEY

Prosperity: Who makes it? The people. Who gets it? The trusts.

* * *

The approach of spring lessens popular alarms about the coal strike.

* * *

Plans for the new Y. M. C. A. building show that it is going to make a most admirable club for the young men of Duluth.

* * *

The demand for new school buildings on the Mesaba range is a significant indication of its quick growth in population.

* * *

The announcement in The Herald last night from New York that Thomas F. Cole will remain in Duluth is very good news.

* * *

The success of F. Augustus Heinze is strong encouragement for those who wear their names that way, and they needed it.

* * *

Another New York preacher is reported to be breaking down from overwork. It is easy to imagine how a New York preacher who seeks to do his duty might become overworked.

* * *

The Herald's rules prohibit it giving attention to anonymous communications. If "A Reader," who wants to know about periodical subscription laws, will send her name and address, an answer will be cheerfully given.

* * *

The Grand Forks Times reports a party at Mohall, N. D., at which each girl was to select another girl for her best fellow to kiss. The men struck. No wonder. Though it would have been a great chance for the homely girls.

ROYAL Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness, and flavor noticed in the finest cake, short cake, biscuit, rolls, crusts, etc., which expert pastry cooks declare is unobtainable by the use of any other leavening agent.

A pure grape cream of tartar powder. No alum.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

THE WEATHER

Amazing weather this. April seldom produces anything better than February is giving. There was even an April shower night before last for a little while, within the hour before midnight, a very uncommon thing in the winter months of this latitude. It was slightly colder last night than it was the night before, but it was only cool enough to be called chilly, and there was barely frost enough to freeze the pools of water on the sidewalks. The lowest temperature in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning was 25, and the highest was 42.

But now look out for a cold wave, warns the weather man, who says that the temperature will drop to zero or maybe a little lower, and that there may be snow. Following is the official review of conditions and the local forecast by H. W. Richardson, the local forecaster:

"A storm of moderate strength is central over Missouri, attended by rains in the middle Mississippi valley states, and mild temperature in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys. A high pressure area has developed over Saskatchewan and has caused decidedly colder weather in the Northwest, zero temperatures occurring this morning in the Red River valley and Saskatchewan.

"This cold wave will reach Duluth and vicinity tonight. Zero temperature will doubtless be experienced by Sunday morning and will continue throughout Sunday, attended by threatening northerly winds. Snow flurries are expected tonight, while Sunday will be generally fair.

Following were the lowest temperatures recorded by the weather bureau in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning:

Abilene	42	Miles City	26
Atlanta	48	Milwaukee	34
Battleford	2	Minnedosa	-10
Bismarck	12	Modena	20
Boston	28	Montgomery	44
Buffalo	38	Moorhead	14
Calgary	14	New Orleans	60
Charleston	46	New York	34
Chicago	36	Norfolk	34
Cincinnati	38	Northfield	12
Davenport	36	North Platte	26
Denver	24	Oklahoma	34
Detroit	36	Omaha	34
Devils Lake	-2	Phoenix	38
Dodge	32	Pierre	20
Duluth	25	Pittsburg	36
El Paso	34	Port Arthur	16
Escanaba	26	Portland	40
Galveston	60	Prince Albert	-20
Green Bay	30	Qu'Appelle	-12
Havre	18	Rapid City	24
Helena	26	St. Louis	44
Houghton	22	St. Paul	30
Huron	32	San Francisco	50
Jacksonville	48	Santa Fe	22
Kamloops	34	S. Ste. Marie	28
Kansas City	38	Shreveport	50
Knoxville	36	Spokane	32
La Crosse	28	Swift Current	6
Lander	22	Washington	28
Little Rock	50	Williston	4
Los Angeles	46	Winnemucca	30
Marquette	26	Winnipeg	-6
Medicine Hat	12

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Forecasts until 7 p. m. Sunday: Wisconsin—Rain turning to snow and colder tonight; cold wave in north portion; Sunday generally fair and colder.

Minnesota—Threatening and colder tonight, with possibly snow flurries in east portion and cold wave in north portion; Sunday generally fair, with colder in east portion.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and Sunday; colder tonight; warmer Sunday.

South Dakota—Fair tonight and Sunday; colder tonight, with cold wave in northeast portion.

"High Finance Irrigation."

Omaha Bee: George H. Maxwell, head of the so-called International Irrigation league, maintained, operated and subsidized by sundry and various land grant railroads, declares that the pending statehood bill contains the biggest land steal of any measure he ever saw. He refers to the grants made to the new states for educational purposes, public buildings, state reformatories, etc. Possibly the great irrigationist had in his mind's eye some scheme to annex these lands to the railway land grant domain, but inasmuch as the new states are, like all other trans-Missouri states, predestined to be railroad provinces for many years to come, the patron of high finance irrigation need not be seriously alarmed. The stock of the railroads operating in these states will be irrigated in Wall street just the same.

Inconsistent Critics.

Brooklyn Eagle: The impossibility of making others think the same as we do is illustrated by current American criticisms of the Spaniards for liking bull fights. The Spaniards cannot understand why many Americans and Englishmen like prize fights, and why many more of them like football. The attempt to strain one nation through the sensibilities of another can never be checked. It is part of the indestructible desire to mind other people's business, and of that form of egotism which regards the prescription of our taste to others as an exercise of missionary activity.

POINTED PLEASANTRIES.

Philadelphia Ledger: Diamonds had just gone up again. Still the household did not despair.

"Perhaps these barons don't know," he reflected, "that coal is carbon, too."

Chicago Tribune: Arrogant Stranger—Say, boy, is there a decent restaurant in this village?

Native Urchin—Yes'r, an' they're wantin' a waiter, too. You're jist in time fur the job.

Cleveland Leader: Mr. Borem—Could I see Miss Fibbs?

Maid—Faix! That's what she was wonderin' as ye come acrost the street.

Mr. Borem—Ah! then she's in?

Maid—Yes, but she's not at home.

Philadelphia Press: Jack (during their quarrel)—Now let me explain.

May—I want to say something first.

Jack—All right. I'm all ears.

May—I know it. No doubt that's why your parents called you "Jack."

Chicago Tribune: "Been living in the same house twenty-four years, have you."

"Substantially the same. Of course we've had to enlarge the attic two or three times to accommodate the worn out furniture and the old books and magazines, but that's about all the changes we have made."

Philadelphia Press: "When we first got married my wife and I quarreled for a year about whether we should buy an automobile or a horse and buggy."

"How did you settle it?"

"We compromised on a baby carriage."

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: There is hardly ever any use of being good and alive at the same time.

A woman says another is stuck up when she puts two coins in the church collection plate.

No girl yet ever had the courage to go skating in a pair of thick, comfortable stockings.

A man can stand an awful lot of abuse without having his feelings hurt if it is because he is rich.

MERCY OUT OF PLACE.

Outlook: The great criminal is not he who commits a crime of a magnitude which impresses the imagination, but he who turns traitor in the face of general confidence and universal respect, the man who does not break, at the risk of his life, into other people's houses and take their property, but seizes and wastes property put into his hands by men and communities because he is believed to be honorable. The magnitude of an offense is determined not by the daring with which it is committed nor by its rating on the statute books, but by the measure in which it involves violation of trust, betrayal of confidence, use of the honor and authority bestowed by others for selfish or base purposes. The individual soldier who goes over to the enemy is a traitor, but his treason is venial compared with that of an Arnold, loved and trusted by his chief, holding a post of immense importance because of that confidence, looked upon as a leader by reason of a record of heroism. When such a man falls, he falls like Lucifer, and there is no measure to the infamy which blackens his name on the lips of later generations.

It is high time for clean, clear, decisive moral indignation and judgment; for the resolute clear-sightedness which refuses to be confused by the glamor of position, power or respectability, which metes out exact justice with a dispassionate hand and neither bows to the clamor of the hour nor to the appeal of a mercy which would defeat the very ends of compassion. The nation needs moral invigoration, and it will come only when the facts are faced and deeds are described by words which have edge and sting, and men are judged by the measure of the light and faith and confidence against which they have sinned. Out of the shame and depression of recent months one great hope is taking the shape of certainty—there is coming a distinct advance of moral standards, a clear perception of the dullness of moral feeling which has overtaken politics and business, a determination to tear aside the mask of respectability and compel offenders to stand before the community in the light of their misdeeds. Moral corruption has gone far, but not too far for moral recovery. The vast mass of the people in the country have been sane and honorable; but they have grown morally heedless and careless; they have let the standards fall out of hands too much occupied with individual work and gain. It is time to measure moral strength against wealth and luxury, to hold men who are trusted to a more rigid account, and, when they betray their trusts, to tear from them the shreds of respectability with which sentimentalists would conceal the greatness of their offending.

Easy Comes, Easy Goes.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Some of the captains of industry have been investing heavily in "magic boots" with insoles made of white pepper. It would be difficult to catch the common people with fakes like that.

Saturday Night Talk

Society's Debt to the Considerate Man.

We all know him or her for the considerate person is apt to be a woman, I mean the thoughtful, foresighted, large-minded individual who is truly considerate of his fellow-men. If he is a guest at our house he gives due notice of his comings and goings, and is appreciative of even the little that we do for him. If we are stopping at his house he plays the part of host to perfection, anticipating our every want. Generally speaking he is the man or the woman who remembers that the girl in the kitchen who may hail from a region 3,000 miles distant, may be a bit lonely now and then, who passes his newspaper as he leaves the train to the man in the locomotive, who bethinks himself of some kinsman or former schoolmate just now needing a letter warm with the old-time affection, who gives a friendly word to the bootblack as he drops the coin into his hands.

Consideration goes a step farther than kindness. "Is Jenkins a kind man?" "Sure. He never struck his wife or said a harsh word to his children. He has good intentions toward all the human family." But all the same, Jenkins is far from being a considerate man. His kindness is passive, rather than active. A working girl was telling me the other day of her longing for a half holiday weekly, and when I suggested that she ask her employer—a parson, by the way—for it, she replied: "Well, he is real kind, but in a matter like this I should feel ever so much better if he would think of it himself without my going to him."

Here we are at the heart of the secret of considerateness. A man who never stops and thinks will never be a considerate man. If he is on the rush to get a car or meet an appointment, if with elbows out he is constantly battling for the first place he is not likely to take the rights and wishes of others into account. The Scripture says, "Blessed is he that considereth the poor." Do you ever stop to reflect seriously not upon the problem of poverty, but the life of the poor, to take the dimensions of their joy and sorrows, to imagine how you would get along with their meager resources and cheerless surroundings, to put yourself in their place when sickness or accident befall them?

Considerateness is the essence of all successful approach to the great industrial problems of our day. It is not primarily a question of the ten-hour day or the eight-hour day, of the open shop or the closed shop, of limited output or of profit-sharing. Even the considerate man might hesitate to take a definite position on all these questions for all parts of the world. Perhaps he will accomplish more in the long run by maintaining a non-partisan attitude, at the same time leaving no one in doubt that his sympathies are first, last and always with the men who do the hard and dangerous manual work of the world in order that all their fellow-men may have coal to burn and shoes to wear and bread to eat.

True consideration is born out of a deep sense of the spiritual values of human relationships. You are not going to take pains to brighten the lot of a fellow-man unless you see in him something more than so many pounds of flesh and blood. If that is all he is, why put yourself out to increase his sources of pleasure? But if you see on his face the impress of the divine hand that fashioned it and if you feel in your own heart the impulse of a great love—why then you will become a considerate man before you know it.

And how great the reward from cultivating in the garden of our souls this modest little flower, consideration. To all who will nurture it Lowell's words apply:

Blessing she is, God made her so,
And deeds of week-day holiness
Flow from her noiseless as the snow,
Nor hath she ever chanced to know,
That aught were easier than to bless.

THE PARSON.

Where It Goes To.

New York Press: Where does all the money come from that everybody brags he is making and nobody will admit he is losing?

Darling Sue!

Darling Sue grew fat, so fat she
Saw she had a double chin.
Soon became again quite thin.
—Indianapolis Star.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Taken from the Columns of The Herald of this date in 1886.

The Duluth grocers held a meeting last evening and organized an association, with the following officers: President, A. M. Morrison; first vice president, A. J. Miller; second vice president, E. G. Swanstrom; executive committee, Gus Lundberg, Lowry Johnson, N. Youngblood, F. J. Marsh, C. H. Oppel. The office of secretary, which is to be a salaried one, has not yet been filled.

Mrs. Keto Johnson of Rice's Point yesterday afternoon gave an old-fashioned carpet bee. A large and busy party was present.

The real estate market continues to improve. The following transfers have been recorded during the past twenty-four hours:

William W. French to Superior Short Line railway, lots 153 and 155, block 45, Rice's Point, $600.

Otto C. Hartman to Marcus J. Davis, east half of lot 202, block 28, Second division, $575.

O. Park Smith to Adalbert Stackowski, lot 401, block 78, Second division, $600.

Henry A. Kilchil to John Mancheski, lot 8½, East Fourth street, First division, $475.

H. B. Moore to H. H. Bell, lot 115, block 4, Third division, $1,550.

Western Land association to Liddell & Louden, block 76, Third division, $1,500.

Hans P. Johnson to Peter Nelson, undivided half of lot 204, block 28, Second division, $200.

August Lumgren to R. A. Benson, east half of lot 202, block 28, Second division, $400.

Alexander McCrea has assumed charge of the West Superior postoffice.

The proposed bonding of Park Point continues to agitate the village across the canal. The petition calling for an election has been signed by nearly all the freeholders and sent to Recorder Kline, who has ordered an election, to be held on March 6, to determine whether the village shall issue bonds to the amount of $6,500, in aid of the Park Point Railroad, Dock & Elevator company, of which George Stuntz is president. The bonds are to run thirty years, and bear 6 per cent interest, and to be deposited in the Merchants National bank, to be held there until the railroad is completed, when they are to be exchanged for the railroad company's stock, which will also be held on deposit there. The financial condition of the village is sound. No tax was levied for local purposes last year, and this year only $100 will be levied. The village pays for state, county and school taxes about $4,200 a year.

The sale was announced today of Oneota property, amounting to $45,000, to P. H. Kelly of St. Paul. The land consists of 253½ acres, in sections 13 and 6, having considerable water frontage on St. Louis bay. Sixty acres in section 6, belonging to E. H. Hall of Oneota, was sold for $200 per acre. Leonida Merritt recently bought, in section 23, seventeen acres from H. W. Wheeler of Oneota, paying therefor $100 per acre. This is deemed a good purchase.

HOTEL GOSSIP

"This is absolutely and without doubt the greatest year for business I ever saw," said J. E. Adamson of Freeport, Ill., representing a varnish company, at the McKay. "I have sold more stuff this season than ever before in a like period, and a good many traveling men in all lines are saying the same thing about themselves. Taken as a whole the traveling fraternity, drummers, peddlers, or whatever you want to call them, never before had such a good season as they are now enjoying. It seems as if goods of all descriptions are in the most active demand. I have just come down from the range, and while up there I disposed of enough varnish to polish up everything in the county. At that I am coming back this way again in two or three months, and expect to sell a lot more.

"Duluth and the range towns are alive and progressive. While the year is generally a prosperous one through the country, we of course strike a dead town now and then. I have never been able to determine why one town should be perfectly dead when another with no better advantages should be alive and fairly bristing with business, when surrounding conditions are practically the same. I have in mind now some of the towns to the west of here. A couple of them have no more business than a bear in the dead of winter, while the others are as lively as a cat on top of a hot stove. I suppose it is the fault of the business men more than anything else. They all have that set, discouraged look on their faces, and whenever they see a traveling man approach they wave him off in a manner that is truly pathetic.

"But take Fargo, for instance, and you have a good live town. There is business there. The people are wide awake and hustling. They are pretty well off in a worldly way, and have time to devote to pleasure as well as to work. The only trouble with the Fargoites is that they are too fond of display, and some of them live beyond their means to keep up a good showing. All the good theatrical companies stop there on their way to or from the coast, and it is an ordinary occurrance for the seats to stand at the $2 mark, but they are generally full.

"Nineteen harvester companies are represented at Fargo. One nice thing about the place is that there are no saloons to mar the business streets. The thirsty must cross the river into Moorhead, where he can buy almost anytaing in the shape of a drink that his heart desires. It is surprising the amount of money that has been spent on some of the Moorhead saloons. A few of them are veritable palaces, and one can see more cut glass in them than in a big jewelry store."

* * *

"There is no place like the West for good fishing," said C. A. Hammond of Denver, Colo., at the Lenox. "In the mountain lakes and streams are to be found brook trout that are always willing to bite, and having bitten, to put up such a fight that the angler's tackle and ability will be taxed to their utmost before the fish is landed. There are also bass and other good fish to be caught.

"Last year I spent two weeks in the Platte valley and had fine sport. The stream is convenient and accessible. The Colorado & Southern railroad makes even more of a feature of the fishing along its line than does the ordinary railroad, considering it one of the strongest features to attract travel, and, with this thought in mind, has watched the matter of fish preservation with a jealous eye, and carefully fostered the sport.

"Until a few years ago the native brook trout were alone to be found in the waters of the Platte, but since the planting of California rainbow trout and the Eastern brook trout, he has almost entirely disappeared, and it looks now as if he would become altogether unknown there. The rainbow trout grows to a prodigious size, and put up such a game fight that they are always popular with the sportsmen.

"The railroad company each season plants from 350,000 to 500,00 young trout in the Platte. To my mind there is nothing so beneficial to the city man as a few weeks in the mountain air on the banks of some good trout stream. The fishing is good enough to keep up a keen interest in the sport, and is an incentive to keep a man moving, so that he gets enough exercise. The simple food, an abundance of sleep and the active life in the outer air puts him in fine trim."

* * *

At the St. Louis: G. E. Kreatz, Brainerd; J. D. Hibbald, Revelstoke, B. C.; A. H. Anderson, St. Paul; A. L. Graham, St. Paul; J. J. Lake, St. Paul; C. A. Lumer, Minneapolis; M. E. Torinus, Stillwater, Minn.; J. Dwan, Two Harbors; J. A. Healy, Hibbing; G. H. Good, Winton, Minn.; W. W. Potter, Chippewa Falls, Wis.; J. Beck, Two Harbors; F. W. Sargent, Minneapolis; H. G. Stevens, Cloquet, Minn.; J. R. Carter, Crookston; J. Ryan, Negaunee, Mich.; C. E. Pigott, Virginia; T. J. Burke, Solway; F. Carlson, Virginia; M. McGovern, Stillwater; W. R. Smith, Chisholm, Minn.; Frank Ansley, Fred Ansley, Hibbing; C. B. Crahill, Cleveland; R. A. Hunt, Virgina; G. McMaha, Ely, Minn.; J. Kitz, Hibbing.

* * *

At the Lenox: W. Johnston, Racine, Wis.; E. R. McClimans, Johnstown, Pa.; W. A. Dover, H. C. Olson, Two Harbors; Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley, St. Paul; L. H. Bryan, Two Harbors; O. G. Clay, St. Paul; S. W. Gilpin, Virginia; V. L. Harrison, Louisville, Ky.; L. Stube, Two Harbors; M. M. Hanna, Two Harbors; H. R. Wenz, Minneapolis; P. Abbott, Minneapolis; Mrs. C. R. Webster, Miss Maud Webster, Hibbing; F. Donnelly, Waukegan; L. J. May, Toledo; J. M. Martin, Virginia; A. L. Longyear, Bovey, Minn.; F. Longyear, Bovey, Minn.; H. M. Aske, Hibbing; G. Arnold, J. F. Arnold, Fargo.

* * *

At the McKay: W. A. Walker, Chicago; J. E. Cutler, Cincinnati; C. Cotter, J. E. Chandler, Two Harbors; C. J. Nelson, Clear Lake, Wis.; Mrs. K. Carey, Biwabik; Mrs. Annie Flathey, F. Moetts, H. J. Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. E. Young, Mr. and Mrs. W. O'Rourke, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Skinner, W. L. Fowler, A. D. Holliday, Two Harbors; W. C. Church, Des Moines, Iowa; A. E. Clumpner, Kenton, Mich.; G. E. Silloway, Minneapolis; E. E. Dunn, Appleton, Wis.; C. H. Ditto, Keethburg, Ill.; B. F. Fowler, Two Harbors.

* * *

At the Spalding: R. E. Inghall, Lansing, Mich.; W. D. Rea, Minneapolis; W. F. Gay, Pontiac, Ill.; W. F. Calvert, Chicago; P. R. Vons, Bloomsburg, Pa.; W. M. Heyland, Toledo; J. A. Brown, Grand Rapids; F. A. Klass, Hibbing; Ir. Y. E. Thomas, Two Harbors; W. D. Hallut, Quincy, Ill.; J. L. Gerson, Philadelphia; L. A. Sayne, Newark, N. J.; P. R. Stowers, Eau Claire; F. B. Prale, Cloquet; J. I. Minter, Providence, R. I.; J. A. Avery, Aitkin, Minn.; G. H. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Thompson, Hibbing; H. A. Eaton, Scanlon; J. M. Rush, Nashwauk, Minn.; G. E. Harris, Hibbing; V. A. Smith, Indianapolis.

ECHOES OF HARMONY.

Ortonville Herald Star: Upon the surface all is harmony in the Republican ranks at present, though there is reason to believe that Alvah Eastman's advocacy of Jacobson for governor is not wholly in the interest of a united and harmonious party. As the Republican nominee Jacobson would imperil the re-election of Alvah's great and good friend, Governor Johnson, and as governor he would imperil the re-election of Alvah's other great and good friend, Senator Nelson, therefore, Alvah proceeds to kill off Jake by advocating him for governor.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: Let us love one another seems to be the watchword of a great many of the Republican papers of the state just now. The political advisers recommend that the factions of last year forgive and forget, and just then out comes Swan Molander declaring himself a candidate for secretary of state, and all the newspapers in the country are telling of his past affiliations in the inter-party struggle of last year.

Fergus Falls Wheelock's Weekly: They say there was a reunion last week between Joel P. Heatwole and R. C. Dunn. It is violating no confidence to say that there was something loaded in the hip pocket of each reunionist.

Hawley Herald: The Hennepin brand of harmony is new enough to deserve a copyright.

Grand Rapids Independent: From all about the state come reports that men who have held or are holding seats in the legislature are ravenous to succeed Governor Johnson. If they would stick together and vote together next fall they might possibly place some good, honest Republican in the present incumbent's shoes, but if the present tactics are indulged in much longer, Governor Johnson can step on a dead man at every stride until he lands in the gubernatorial chair for a second term.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: It looks very much as though the chairman of the Republican state central committee is taking orders from Richard O'Connor of St. Paul, with the aid and consent of the distinguished gentlemen from Princeton, Northfield and Duluth. Perhaps another time the Republican state central committee will quit boosting for the opposition.

Mankato Free Press: That harmony meeting in Minneapolis was attended by a number of men who carried a sweet smile on their countenance and an ax up their sleeves.

Warren Register: Several of the Collins papers that supported Johnson for governor last year are out with their hatchets again this year. They shout for "harmony," but the only kind of harmony they seem to be willing to stand for is the brand that would put nobody on the state ticket this year who was not a Collins man in 1904. Every time a Dunn man is proposed for a state office they get busy "knocking" him. There is absolutely no use in advocating "a united party" on that basis. All most of us want is a square deal, and that will not be secured by the majority giving the minority the earth. If the state can exist for two years with Johnson as governor, it can probably worry along a couple of years more with him as its chief executive.

Isanti News: Minneapolis Republicans celebrated Lincoln day with a "harmony" meeting. How unfortunate that this day comes but once a year.

Crookston Times: Bob Dunn and the St. Paul Review appear to be absolutely irreconstructible. Alvah Eastman and the Minneapolis Journal are willing—providing they can do the reconstructing.

Crookston Times: The Republicans of Minnesota are trying to spell Harmony with a capital "H" this year. They succeeded admirably with Hell last year.

An Emphatic Answer.

Atchison Globe: They are telling of an Atchison girl who received a proposal of marriage by telegraph. She went to the telegraph office and asked the clerk how many words she could send for a quarter. He said ten, and her answer was: "Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes."

Healthy Food

that tastes good--

Grape-Nuts

Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkg.

Highways and Byways of The Town.

When John A. Denby and his lately acquired wife left Bemidji for Duluth they brought a trunk purchased by the bride before her marriage so that when Mr. Denby presented a check for it at the Union depot baggage room he was surprised to find a trunk of unfamiliar dimensions in place of the well worn one it had been his custom to use when traveling.

"Look here," he said to the angular baggage smasher, when he saw the trunk before him, "I have never seen that little black thing in my life before."

The baggageman looked surprised, even hurt, but he patiently looked at the number of the check again and went over all the trunks, grips and boxes in the room but could not find one that seemed to satisfy the man. Then he again compared the check given him by the bridegroom with that on the little black trunk. He pointed a long finger at it when he said:

"Looke here. This is the right trunk and you don't know what you're talking about. Come over here and look at the checks yourself if you don't believe me. If a mistake has been made, it has not been made in Duluth."

And with that he produced a plug of tobacco of the brunette type and took an enormous chew thereof.

Mr. Denby was not satisfied, however, and suggested that another inspection tour of the baggage room be made. This availed nothing, however, and the matter was just as deep a mystery as ever. The baggagemen plainly showed their disguest and murmured something like "wake up, this is Duluth."

An outsider might have been interested in the affair, it gave promise of being so delightfully mysterious. There is something very mysterious, anyway, about an unopened trunk. But it only annoyed the baggagemen.

Mr. Denby did not look at the matter from a Sherlock Holmes point of view. He was plainly vexed when he left the baggage room and he declared loudly that he would bring the general manager of the road into the baggage room if he could get satisfaction in no other way. Some one suggested to him that he 'bring the old guy down" if he could.

"What's the matter with that guy?" asked a candy butcher who was waiting for his train to go out. "Don't he know his own trunk?"

"Aw, his roof leaks," declared the man who drives the transfer wagon.

"He had better quit drinking them squirrel whisky high balls," said one of the baggage smashers, as he lit his pipe.

Half an hour afterwards, however, Mr. Denby reappeared, looking very sheepish and with his hands full of cigars. These he humbly doled out to the baggagemen and others who happened to be hanging around.

"I forgot all about being married and using my wife's trunk," he said. "You are right about that check."

* * *

Billy Burton had told himself that he would never marry. He made this declaration with emphasis, and did not like it when his friends gave him the merry ha-ha. It annoyed him excessively when they declared that his pessimistic views of matrimony were probably the result of a turn-down at the hands of one of Duluth's fair daughters.

Billy imagined that he was serious when he expressed himself matrimonially, and liked to have it get around that girls bored him to death, and that he did not care a whoop for their society. He had read that the girls simply adored a man with those views of the opposite sex, but, of course, that was not the reason that he held them.

He did not remember just how long he had been an anti-girlist, but it had been some little time. He tried to carry out his theories, too, but he was far too much of a gentleman to be rude to a girl. In fact, he was up on everything contained in those excellent works, "First Lessons in Social Eclat" and "How to Converse With a Lady," by Commissioner Bingham of the New York police department.

Although Billy was not a millionaire, he was known to have a large, healthy bunch of North Butte stock, and a scattering of others, which are considered all right by the fellows who converse in low tones in the brokers' offices. He also had a good job, and was considered quite a prize by some of the best mammas in the East end.

If Billy had gone in for that sort of thing, he could have been a cotillion leader in a month, but he preferred to sit around with two or three cronies, play occasional games of billiards, and even more occasional games of poker, a game at which he usually had miserable luck.

Billy's friends paid a great deal less attention to his boasted disregard for the fair ones than he did, and they looked upon him as an excellent fellow, with as much love for the girls as anyone man in his big heart. They declared his declarations against womenkind an eccentricity, which nearly amounted to a hallucination.

But one day there chanced to call up on the telephone at the office where Billy pretended to work, a woman with the most musical voice he had ever heard. She wanted to talk with Mr. Fisher, who was familiarly known as the "old man" when he was not around. Billy told her in a voice pitched just at the right key, he figured, that Mr. Fisher was not in at present but that she could talk to Mr. Burton as long as she wanted to. But she did not care to talk to Mr. Burton, and she laughed. Billy wondered if she was laughing at him and proposed to ask her but too late, she had rung off. He watched the telephone furtively several minutes, hoping she would call up again and intending to pounce upon the instrument the minute the bell rang.

He startled the office boy nearly out of his wits when the telephone bell finally did ring. And to think that he answered it merely to tell some flogie that he had the wrong number. He waited in vain for the owner of the lovely voice to call again but she did not. It was with difficulty that he resumed his work, which seemed to be a curious waste of time now.

"The message that never came," he told himself in a jocular fashion, to ward off the wory which his sudden interest in the girl-who-wanted-to-talk-to-Mr. Fisher was involving.

Why had she laughed, he wondered, and who under the sun was she? The thought that he knew her did occur to him but he dismissed it straightway. He was sure that he had never met the lady with the voice but he resolved that he was dead willing to any old time. Wasn't it funny that a person so confirmed in his views on the tiresomeness of girls should be all of a flutter just because some homely dame with a good voice called up on the telephone. Just the same, it was a whole lot pleasanter to picture her as young as very pretty.

That night Billy wondered if he really would be bald in another year and observed that perhaps, after all, he ought not to have always been so pronounced in his views on the inanity of talking with women. It always made a fellow appear ridiculous if he did happen to take a tumble and think a whole lot about the greatest girl in all the world bar none.

The girl with the wonderful voice had not slipped his mind altogether when she called up again some few days later. Again she wanted Mr. Fisher and again Mr. Fisher was not in. Would anyone else in the office do? No? Well the idea!

This was most aggravaging and Billy decided that he would ask her point blank, what her name was the next time she called up. But who in the name of all that is wonderful was she? Billy had an idea that his acquaintance in Duluth took in all the young women with the rippling brook voice. It annoyed him excessively that he should have to worry over a matter like this.

He kicked himself for being such a fool as to allow her to ring off twice without having found out her name. This was very coarse work indeed.

I'll find out who she is and become acquainted with her if it takes me all winter," he declared with a determination that sounded all right.

* * *

Two years later we see Billy comfortably installed in a cozy sort of an establishment. He sits before the grate fire and smokes a fine cigar with the air of a man who is at peace with the world. He is the picture of happiness.

The fire throws out a ruddy, cheerful glow the way grate fires always do and a large dog yawns and stretches in front of the brass andirons. A first class fire place scene is never really complete without a large dog lounging at ease on a rug.

You perhaps have guessed the secret of Billy's happiness. But maybe you have not guessed right. The girl with the wonderful voice never happened to call up again; he never found out who she was; never married and happens now to be occupying a suite with his old friend, "Buck" Bacon.

MOTHERS WHO THINK USE ONLY

Cuticura SOAP

For baby's daily bath, because it unites the delicate, medicinal, emollient, sanative, and antiseptic properties of Cuticura, the great Skin Cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients and most refreshing of flower odors. Hence it is not only the most effective Skin Purifying Soap for baby rashes, itchings, and chafings, but it is the purest and sweetest for toilet and bath as well.

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. Mailed Free, "How to Care for Baby's Skin."

TO MANAGE CAMPAIGN

(Continued from page 1.)

was elected against Dunn on not much more than a $10,000 campaign fund, while barrels of money was being spent by the opposition.

* * *

Joel P. Heatwole has four venomous columns on state and national politics in the recent issue of his organ, which literally grill Clapp and Nelson. There is no doubt but that both the senators have been victimized by the over zeal of their friends. Heatwole takes his text this week from that memorable chapter in the Republican annals, known as the Harmony Dinner. Senator Calhoun, in the light of later developments is not to blame for the blunder at the Lincoln dinner, which threw a rather opera bouffe atmospnere over the whole function. It was just a case of "Bill" Grimshaw going off half cocked again. It is the general opinion in local political circles that Grimshaw was responsible for the Nelson resolution. Grimshaw had his pockets full of just such resolutions at the last state convention and those well informed as to the nature of Grimshaw's political tactics in the past, state that the Nelson resolution has all the ear marks of Grimshaw's work.

"Oh, it was just Grimshaw and Rich trying to make good with their senators," was the sucinct manner in which one of the politicians branded the whole affair.

The state politicians do not regard the blunder as one which should be chalked up against the party leaders but should be placed entirely at the door of the federal ring who in attempting to "make good" fell down badly.

* * *

There are many in Minnesota who are attempting to explain why Senator Nelson voted for the ship subsidy bill when all of the other Northwest senators turned it down. The measure is known to be very unpopular in this state as well as throughout the Northwest generally, and leaders of the Republican party in the state cannot explain satisfactory what they regard as a bad move on the part of the senior senator. Senator Clapp could not be induced to favor the measure and joined LaFollette, Spooner and the rest in voting against it, but Nelson held out for it. It is predicted that Senator Nelson will be called upon to explain when he appeals to his constituents next winter for another term. Most of the farmers in the state regard the ship subsidy bill as another name for a direct appropriation to aid one of the largest trusts—The Ship Building Trust—in the world.

* * *

Reports reached St. Paul this week that F. M. Shook of Aitkin, one of Bede's postmasters, is seriously contemplating opposing Adam next fall. He is being urged by several of his friends to make the run and it is understood that he is now considering the matter. The faction which is wrought up over Bede's failure to appoint A. I. Hamilton as receiver of the land office, is said to be behind the movement.

* * *

C. W. Babcock of Kasota, who holds large quarry interests in Blue Earth county, and Carl Taylor, a farmer residing in Aitkin county, have both announced themselves as candidtes for the senate from their respective districts.

* * *

Minnesota's Warwicks—the country editors—have touched elbows and dispersed, but the Republican gubernatorial situation is as much in the air as ever. The editors attempted to winnow the chaff, but with poor success. They confessed that the situation was an anomaly in Minnesota politics and there was some devout prayers offered to hasten on the process of crystallization.

Three candidates were most talked of—Lord, Jacobson and Black. Around this trilogy centered the speculation and each one had some very ardent backers in the assembled country editors. Last, but not least, there was some Eddites, but the names of the three candidates mentioned were most on the lips of the editors.

* * *

It is about time to hang the S. R. O. sign on the secretary of state candidacy wagon. A few more candidates can still be accomodated, but its capacity is fast being exhausted. If the next few months are as fecund as the past ones have been, the wagon will be crowded to the guards. Gus Widell of Mankato has just invaded its precincts. The rumor that he would not make the run has been discredited by that gentleman's announcement to his friends that it is his intention to capture a place on the ticket if possible.

Widell is popular in his district, and it is the general opinion that he will push his rivals hard. Still, there is room for a few more candidates on the wagon, where seats are now held by E. A. Nelson, Hallock; J. J. Lomen, Ada; Julius Schmahl, Redwood Falls; Capt. Osborne, Minneapolis; Swan B. Molander, St. Paul, and James M. Hunter of Faribault.

* * *

Next! Senator L. O. Thorpe of Willmar steps up to join the army of candidates for secretary of state. His announcement, it is understood, has been made in a quiet way, and that within a short time he will become a more active candidate for the office. Senator Thrope is a banker, and before becoming senator served for six years as register of deeds of Kandiyohi county.

* * *

A. B. Cole of Fergus Falls is receiving much favorable mention for lieutenant governor. During the last few days his name has been constantly on the lips of state politicians from all parts of the state. It is the general opinion that his nomination would strengthen the ticket.

* * *

It is now a settled fact that the O'Connor gang will not dictate the next Republican mayoralty candidate. In the past the Democrats have been very successful in nominating a weak ticket for the Republicans when there was little opposition for them to fight on their own ticket at the primaries. The appearance of John Wagener, former sheriff of Ramsey county, as an opponent to R. A. Smith, has started an old feud again, which will give the Democrats plenty to look after without mixing in the Republican fight. Wagener ran against R. A. Smith at the primaries several years ago and was defeated, but he gave the O'Connor ring a very bad scare, and is capable of doing the same again.

* * *

Now commences the scramble for Judge William Lochren's seat on the United States district bench. It is fully expected that Judge Lochren will retire May 20, and some vigorous wire pulling has already commenced. One of those most prominently mentioned as Judge Lochren's successor is Milton D. Purdy, assistant attorney general, who has been so prominently identified in the railway rebate prosecutions. He is a Minnesotan, an alumnus of the University of Minnesota and a great favorite with President Roosevelt. Others mentioned as possibilities are: W. E. Hale of Minneapolis, D. F. Simpson of Minneapolis, Judge H. R. Brill of St. Paul, Justice Edwin A. Jaggard of St. Paul and C. C. Houpt of Fergus Falls, the present United States district attorney for Minnesota.

* * *

Sensatorial talk this week centers around the Renville county upper house contest which it is predicted will be lively. Rieke of Fairfax and J. H. Dale of Renville will face each other; the one for re-election and the other as a candidate for the first time.

* * *

Fears that Chief Justice Start would not seek another term have been quieted by the announcement that the justice has said in private that he would allow his name to be presented to the convention again. It was thought at one time that his ill health would necessitate his retirement from the bench and during Van Sant's last term it was strongly rumored that he contemplated resigning. His health is better now and it is safe to predict that he will preside over the bench another term.

* * *

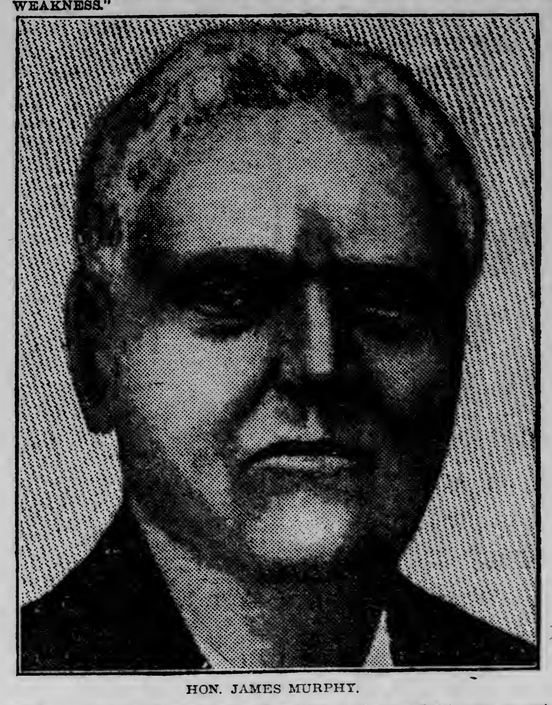

The Hennepin county delegation will undoubtedly be a factor in the next speakership contest. It is well known that Hennepin county wants the speakership and will put its best foot forward to secure it. W. I. Nolan, the humorist and lecturer, has been mentioned as a possible candidate. There are a number of other candidates from Hennepin county who will announce themselves as soon as their campaign for their seats in the house is over.

WEAK BACK? IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS!

Ex-Judge James P. Murphy, 515 South Joliet Street, Joliet, Ill., who suffered intensely for years from kidney disease and pains in side and back, restored to health and cured at 84 by

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

A TRIAL BOTTLE OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY CURE SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE TO EVERY READER OF THE DULUTH HERALD WHO SUFFERS FROM KIDNEY, LIVER, BLADDER OR BLOOD DISEASE, OR WHAT IS COMMONLY KNOWN AMONG WOMEN AS "FEMALE WEAKNESS."

HON. JAMES MURPHY.

This popular and respected jurist, in writing of his remarkable cure, recently said: 'Some years ago I commenced to be troubled with a weak side and back, and I suffered intense misery from kidney disease. I consulted a doctor and was under his care for a long time, but he did me no good. I got a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure, and it worked wonders from the start. I continued to use it, and, although eighty-four years of age, in about two months I was in my normal condition, and for the return of my health I thank the Lord and your great medicine. Whenever I hear of anyone having the same trouble I advise them to take Safe Cure, which I am satisfied will cure them.

"About five years ago I advised a friend, who was very ill and lame from kidney trouble, to take Safe Cure, which he proceeded to do, and in a short time he was cured. He now writes me that he could not get along without it under any circumstances."—JAMES P. MURPHY, 515 South Joliet street, Joliet, Ill., November 9, 1905.

FIND OUT BY THIS TEST: Put some morning urine in a glass or bottle; let it stand for twenty-four hours. If then it is milky or cloudy or contains a reddish, brick-dust sediment, or if particles or germs float about in it, your kidneys are diseased. If, after you have made this test, you have any doubt in your mind as to the development of the disease in your system, send us a sample of your urine, and our doctors will analyze it and send you a report with advice free.

CURES KIDNEY DISEASE.

WARNER'S SAFE PILLS taken with WARNER'S SAFE CURE move the bowels gently and aid a speedy cure. WARNER'S SAFE CURE is now put up in two sizes and is sold by all druggists, or direct, at 50 CENTS AND $1.00 A BOTTLE. Refuse substitutes, containing harmful drugs, which injure the system.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE. To convince every sufferer from disease of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that WARNER'S SAFE CURE will cure them, a trial bottle will be sent ABSOLUTELY FREE, postpaid, to anyone who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in The Duluth Herald. The genuineness of this offer is fully guaranteed. Our doctors will also send medical booklet containing descriptions of symptoms and treatment of each disease, and many convincing testimonials free to everyone.

The Special Value of American Family Soap

Is its freedom from adulteration and free caustic soda and potash. These are extremely destructive to woolens, cottons and linens. To use American Family is the truest economy. Every atom cleanses.

Send for complete list of the many valuable premiums given for American Family Soap Wrappers. Address Premium Dept., 360 No. Water St., Chicago, Ill.

JAMES S. KIRK & COMPANY.

WEAR
The BLAKE HAT

THE BLAKE HAT
HAS NO EQUAL

THE

THE BLAKE HAT
HAS NO EQUAL

BLAKE

THE BLAKE HAT
HAS NO EQUAL

HAT

IF THIS DIE IS IN YOUR HAT, IT'S RIGHT

AT YOUR HATTER'S
SOLD EVERYWHERE

HAS

THE BLAKE HAT
HAS NO EQUAL

NO

THE BLAKE HAT
HAS NO EQUAL

EQUAL

THE BLAKE HAT
HAS NO EQUAL

SHAPES THE LATEST
COLORS THE NEWEST SATISFACTION
GUARANTEED
SPRING STYLES NOW READY

WITH LOVE AND KISSES

John Chesser Produces Loving Letter From Mrs. John Korby.

Thinks It Should Entitle Him to New Trial of Case.

Because of a hole in the coat pocket of John Chesser, through which a letter said to be important as evidence, slipped into the lining and remained undiscovered for some weeks, another interesting chapter is likely to be added to the suit brought by John Korby against John Chesser for the alienation of the affections of Mrs. Olive Korby.

The case was tried at a recent term of district court, Korby being awarded damages in the amount of $1,500. Chesser moved for a new trial on the ground of errors at law, but the petition was denied.

Chesser again moves for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence which he claims he could not produce at the trial, and which is claimed to be material evidence in behalf of his contentions.

Chesser makes affidavit that at the trial he was asked to produce a letter he said Mrs. Korby had written him from Milwaukee, after she left Virginia, where all the parties to the action formerly resided. He claims that he could not find the letter and supposed it was lost, and that it was the intention of the attorneys for Korby to prejudice the jury against him, by creating an impression that he did not dare produce the letter.

Chesser swears that after the trial, about Jan. 23, 1903, he happened by accident to discover the letter in the lining of the coat he had worn while a witness at the trial, the letter having slipped through a hole in his pocket.

Chesser says he wrote a letter to Mrs. Korby demanding that she repay him $50 he loaned her, and that the letter now produced was the answer she sent back to him. He claims that had he been able to have produced it at the trial "it would have shown that Mrs. Korby had willfully testified falsely at the trial and that she was trying to obtain money from affiant, and that instead of affiant trying to alienate her affections, she was trying to alienate affiant's affections from his wife."

Chesser asserts that Mrs. Korby testified she left Virginia on account of his attentions and to protect her reputation. This, he says, was false and untruo and he believes himself to be the victim of a conspiracy between Mr. and Mrs. Korby to obtain money from him through a lawsuit.

Another affidavit, filed by John Martin, attorney of record for Chesser, sets forth the alleged accidental discovery of the letter as new evidence. Judge Martin says that Mrs. Korby well knew, and that Mr. Korby must have known, that she was the sole cause of the attentions of John Chesser and "that in the interest of justice and for the protection of society Korby and his wife should be shown to the court and jury in their true light."

Judge Martin makes affidavit further that he talked with one of the jurors after the trial, who made the remark that had the jury known the contents of the letter they would certainly have returned a verdict for Chesser.

Attached to the affidavits is a copy of the letter Mrs. Korby is alleged to have written Chesser and which, in view of the somewhat warm and effusive epistle that Chesser wrote Mrs. Korby and which was produced at the trial, is of more or less interest to those who know the principals and who have been following the case. The letter follows:

"Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18, 1904.—My dearest and true friend: Arrived here safe and oh I was sick all night and I not able to work but will be alrigh my dear heart and you not here to helpe me, no one to hand me a drink. that is that it would taste as good as if you were here. Now I have not much news as yet but you better send me a check for I will have to pay my board and by the next time I will know more. I intend to stay a month so you just get ready and if I would stay a little longer then it will be some one else at fault, but it will not be long before we dear will be. Now dearest you must write do not wait long and tell me all the news you know, so now I must close with love and kisses from your beloved one.

"P. S. Address me Mrs. Korby 1072 18th st Milwaukee Wis. Next time I will write more for I will know more. My sister has so much to say that is talks all the time so I can't say much, I am not telling anything.

"Good-by dear.

"Happy Dreams of me."

Arguments for a new trial were to have been heard in district court this afternoon, at special term.

Every Article

Of furniture and house furnishings in the French & Bassett's store is reduced from 10 to 50 per cent.

SALE IS BONA FIDE.

R. R. Forward Has Accepted Good Business Proposition.

As has already been announced, R. R. Forward, senior member of the furniture and hardware firm of R. R. Forward & Company of the West end is soon to leave the city. Mr. Forward has secured a sales right which he considers an excellent thing in a business way. He has obtained the exclusive right for the United States to sell the stoves manufactured by the Newark Stove company of Newark, Ohio. He will have a big affair on his hands in this connection and has now organized his company for the purpose of handling the trade. This will be strictly a jobbing house and will have its offices and show rooms in Chicago. The Newark Stove company is controlled by Sears, Roebuck & Company, but the agency will be independent of this concern. The stove company has a patent for manufacturing stoves which, it is claimed, makes the proposition which Mr. Forward has accepted, all the more attractive.

Mr. Forward desired that this statement be made because many have received the impression that the reduction sale was advertised merely as a bait and that R. R. Forward & Company really has no intention of quitting business. The sale will be opened in a few days and the store is now being prepared for it.

TALK ABOUT ROADWAYS

West End Commercial Club Members Think They Are Needed.

Industry on Tap for Location—HepburnBill Endorsed.

The West End Commercial club held its regular semi-monthly session last night at Sloan's hall, and enjoyed a somewhat better attendance than at the last previous meeting. About twice the number of those at the latter were present. Quite a number of public matters were talked over, but the only action taken was the passing of a resolution requesting the Minnesota senators to vote and work for the Hepburn rate bill now before the senate of the United States. This matter came up in the form of a communication from the West Duluth Commercial club, which took similar action a week ago. The West End club consequently passed a resolution endorsing the Hepburn bill and asking Senators Nelson and Clapp to vote for and support it. Copies of the resolution will be sent the two senators and the Duluth Commercial club.

The committee appointed some weeks ago to ask the board of public works to fix up the roadway on West Michigan street so that teaming would be easier over it than it has been, during the time the merchants of the West end are waiting for the paving of West Superior street to be finished, reported. The report was to the effect that the board of public works has estimated the cost of this work and finds that it would amount to $1,473 and the board will consent to put up half of this if the merchants make up the other half. No action was taken on the matter.

Superintendent Blanchard of the Northern Pacific notified the board that the road will not put a new 'phone into the Twentieth avenue west depot as requested by the club for the accommodation of merchants of the West end.

A communication which may turn out to be of considerable importance, was read. It was from Hoskins, Washburn & Co. of Canton, Ohio, manufacturers of 'phone booths, receivers and other telephone equipment. They desire a location for a manufacturing plant and sales' headquarters, and wrote to a member of the club to find out if there is an opening at the West end. The matter was left in the hands of a committee, consisting of C. W. Elston, S. W. Hill and T. W. Walker. This committee will communicate with the company and will endeavor to interest them in this end of the city, setting forth the advantages to be had in the way of power, railroad facilities and the like.

Roads seemed to cut quite an important figure throughout the meeting. The matter of a driveway between the West end and West Duluth was discussed. At present there is no good driveway, and various ways were talked over to establish one. It is likely that this will be discussed at a future meeting. The West Duluth club is also interested in this matter, and united action may be taken as a result.

The matter of roadways in the city leading to roadways into the country was also taken up. Alderman Haven expressed it as his opinion that part of the county's funds should be spent on the roadways within the city limits, as it is as important to farmers that the roadways within the city be good as that those outside be in good shape. Roadways will probably be made a special business at the next meeting.

SUNDAY'S BAND CONCERT

Among Best of Season's Series Given by the Band.

The concert of the Third Regiment band, which will be given tomorrow at 8 o'clock in the Lyceum theater, is expected to be among the very best of the present season's series. The soloist will be Miss Olga Prytz, a 14-year-old miss, who is said to possess a wonderful soprano voice which gives much promise of great things. The program follows:

"Star Spangled Banner" .....
March—"The Band of Honor"..Fremilng
Overture—"Semiramide" .....Rossini
Nocturne from "Midsummer Night's Dream" .....Mendelsohn
Caprice Herolque—"Awakening of the Lion" ..... Di Kontski
Soprano solo—"Parbi Waltz Song"..... .....Pattison
Miss Olga Prytz. /
Waltz de concert—"Die Hydropaten" ..... Gungl
Descriptive fantasia — "Cavalry Charge" ..... Luders
Synopsis—Morning of the battle: Infantry is heard approaching with fifes and drums; cavalry in the distance, coming nearer and nearer, until the charge upon the enemy; cavalry, infantry and artillery in the melee of battle; defeat of the enemy, pursued in the distance by the cavalry.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal eventually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

USE
ELECTRICITY

FOR LIGHT

Safest, most satisfactory. No smoking up of ceilings. No dirty housework entailed, as is the case when other illuminants are used, requiring the cleaning of globes and the filling of oil receptacles. No waiting for light. The illumination is instantaneous. No striking of matches, with resultant danger of fire from flying heads.

FOR POWER

Safest, most satisfactory. Ready for instant use. No expense when the power is not actually in use. Cleaner than any other power. No labor of firing up before, or banking of fires after the day's work. Its economy commends it to general use in the home, in the store or in the factory.

Phone 295 for Particulars

DULUTH GENERAL ELECTRIC CO.

216 WEST SUPERIOR STREET

THE STAGE

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Louis James in "Virginius."
METROPOLITAN—Reilly & Woods Co.

LOUIS JAMES AT LYCEUM.

Eminent Actor in Richelieu Greatly Pleases Duluth Audience.

CAST.

Julie De Mortemar..Miss Aphie James
Marion De Lorme ..... Miss Annie Marie Schaefer
Franco..... Miss Terese Deagle
Chevalier De Mauprat.Norman Hackett
Louis The Thirteenth.Harry C. Barton
De Baradas.....Arthur Young
Joseph..... Charles Stedman
Gaston, Duke of Oleans..... .....William L. Thorne
Sieu De Beringhen..Harry MacFayden
Clermont.....Milton Nobles, Jr.
Huguet.....C. N. Stark
Cardinal Richelieu.....Louis James

Louis James opened a two days' engagement at the Lyceum theater last evening. "Richelieu" was the play. A much larger audience than greeted him could have been accommodated in the empty seats that were plentifully sprinkled over the house. Evidently a good many of Duluth's theater patrons were not very anxious to witness a production of "Richelieu" by the "all American" company. In any event the house was a small one.

Mr. James played the part of Cardinal with his usual force and intensity. He displayed the art of a master actor in the several scenes, and was always compelling and always interesting. The cardinal's troubles because of King Louis were graphically portrayed, and so enthusiastic did the audience become at the close of the fourth act, where the cardinal's wordy encounter with the king occurs in the gardens of Louvre, that Mr. James was called before the curtain several times.

Norman Hackett, always popular in Duluth, was a prime favorite during the evening. His was a strong piece of acting, and he entered into his work with a vigor and enthusiasm that proved very effective. Miss Aphie James made a pretty Julie De Mortemar, and was quite satisfactory in the part. Miss Teresa Deagle appeared as Francois, but it wasn't easy to forget that she was a girl, although her acting pleased the audience greatly.

Harry C. Barton wasn't very convincing as King Louis, and Arthur Young as De Baradas fell a little short of the requirements of the part. Neither was there anything to particularly distinguished in the work of William L. Thorne as Gaston, brother of the king.

This afternoon Mr. James appeared in "Ingomar," and tonight "Virginius" will be the attraction.

GREATEST HOCKEY SEASON

Drawing to a Close and Pennant Race Very Close.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The International Hockey league season is drawing to a close, and it has been the greatest in the history of the game in this country. Certainly no faster teams than those of Pittsburg, the American Soo and Portage Lake have ever been assembled on this side of the international border, and with all the players, men who had won distinction on the ice in Canada, especially selected by the American managers it is believed any one of the sevens is capable of defeating the best the Dominion has to offer this year. This claim will probably be put to the test before the ice disappears, a number of games with strong Eastern Canadian teams now being in prospect.

The pennant race between the Portage Lake and American Soo sevens continues exceedingly close, and while it still looks like a victory for the team representing the city by the locks, the Portage Lake supporters have been encouraged by the outcome of Wednesday night's great match, when the Soos lost to the Lakes by the score of 2 to 7.

GOVERNMENT STOCK REPORT

Number and Average Value of Farm Animals in Minnesota.

According to the February issue of the Crop Reporter, published by the secretary of agriculture, the state of Minnesota had within its borders, January 1, 1906, 723,141 horses of an average price per head of $85.07; 8,405 mules, average price $79.83; 903,796 milch cows, average price $28.30; 1,035,987 other cattle, average price $11.48; 4,253 sheep, average price $3.62; 1,293,932 hogs, average price $7.40.

Compared with the average prices per head of the total stock reported in the states and territories, Minnesota horses are worth about $6 above the average, the milch cows fall about $1 below the general average price; sheep are worth about 10 cents above the general average and hogs are valued a little more than $1 above the general average.

These figures were obtained by the government through the bureau of statistics and represent as nearly as are obtainable, without enumeration, the actual number of farm animals on the farms and ranges. The report states that the figures are the result of careful investigation by correspondents and field agents in every state without exclusive reference to the relation that such figures should bear to those of previous years.

NOTICE OF CHANGE OF PARTNERSHIP—

Notice is hereby given that Andrew Gowan has withdrawn from the copartnership of Twohy-Kileen company, and that the firm business will be continued by the remaining partners, C. L. Twohy and Thomas Kileen, under the same firm name and that the remaining partners will be responsible for the debts and entitled to all the rights and claims of the copartnership.

Dated, Duluth, Minn., February 21st, 1906.

ANDREW GOWAN,
C. L. TWOHY,
THOMAS KILEEN.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
DULUTH, MINN.

Commercial Department.
BUSINESS and PERSONAL CHECKING ACCOUNTS INVITED.
STEEL BOXES TO LET.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

What an artistic effect you can obtain in your store or office by letting us install for you one of our new designs in metal walls and ceilings. Practically indestructible, fire, water and vermin proof, and require no repairs.

Attractive interiors, as you know, draw trade, and why not join the procession of progressive and up-to-date business men and let us figure with you.

Duluth Corrugating and Roofing Company,
Office and factory—126-130 East Michigan St., Duluth.

NOTICE

To Our Patients and Prospective Patients

We have completed the changes in our office suite and will open again Monday morning with the finest dental office in the West. We have enlarged our office and now have all work under our personal care. No assistants. When we opened our office in Duluth a year ago many predicted an early failure. Non-combination prices and good work has caused the people to come to us, until we have the largest practice in the city. Ask our patients everywhere about our work. We have pleased 99 per cent.

BEGINNING MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26, we will again put on our popular special prices till April 1st.

SPECIAL TILL APRIL 1.

Full Set Teeth.....$4.00 to $8.00
English Teeth $10.00
Gold Crowns .....$4.00 to $6.00
Silver Fillings.....75c
Bridge Work..... $4.00 and $5.00
Very Best Guaranteed Material.

LEE & TURLEY

(Over Folz's.) 114-16 WEST SUPERIOR STREET (Open Evenings.)

Be sure you are in the right place.

THE MOVEMENT OF REAL ESTATE IN A CITY Is the best possible evidence of that city's progress. There is more Real Estate changing hands in Duluth now than ever before in its history. Persistent advertising is responsible for this. THE HERALD, by reason of its large and wide-reaching circulation, is accomplishing wonders in making known the splendid opportunities offered to business enterprises in Duluth. AND DULUTH EXPECTS EVERY ONE OF HER CITIZENS TO DO HIS DUTY IN KEEPING DULUTH IN THE POSITION OF THE GREATEST CITY IN THE NORTHWEST.

FIVE ACRE TRACT

Near Country Club.

Fronts on Street Car line, most desirable for a fine residence.

A great bargain for immediate sale. Per Acre $600.00

RICHARDSON, DAY & CO.

$300 handles nice 6-room HOME.

$500 BUYS 6-room house in West End—nice lot for sale—$1.00 per week.

Will build house on lot near Normal School and sell on small cash payments—balance monthly.

$500, $1,000, $1,500, $2,000, $4,000 TO LOAN.

S. S. WILLIAMSON

614 Torrey Bldg. Zenith phone—Office 135; house 937. Duluth, 1351.

We Lend Money!

Lowest rates, easy terms. We make all kinds of building loans, as you need the money. We issue BONDS and write FIRE INSURANCE.

Cooley & Underhill,

208 EXCHANGE BUILDING.

MANLEY-McLENNAN AGENCY

General Insurance and Surety Bonds

YOU WANT THE BEST WE FURNISH IT

TORREY BLDG. 1ST FLOOR

HAVE YOUR

Fire Insurance

WRITTEN BY

Mendenhall & Hoopes

208 First National Bank Building.

4½% Any Amount All Privileges NO DELAY! 5%

MONEY TO LOAN

BY

W. M. PRINDLE & CO.

5½% First Floor, Lonsdale Building. 6%

$7500 will buy almost new modern home in beautiful location. Has 9 rooms, oak floors and finish, laundry, gas, and all the modern accessories. See us about it.

$2700 buys a good home in Lakeside, 8 rooms, water sewer, hot air furnace heat, electric light, full basement, stone foundation, corner lot near car line. This is a snap.

$2650 will buy another home of 8 rooms, all modern improvements except heat, upper corner near car line, fine view.

Houses and lots in all parts of the city. Acre property our specialty.

EATON & WHARTON

Both 'Phones. Lonsdale Building.

$2000 Will handle a property paying 22 per cent, new building in first-class location, with very good prospects for a rise in value

$5500 For an eight-room brick dwelling on lot 50x140 feet with barn for four horses. House has all modern conveniences, including hot water heat. This is the best bargain offered in the city.

Call in and see us about the above.

C. P. CRAIG & CO.,

220 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

$7000 Improved corner (50x140), three houses; excellent investment, netting 10 per cent.

$4500 Two-story dwelling, lot 50x140, East Second street, very central.

$45000 Business block on West Superior street; good investment.

$1400 Corner on East Superior street, 100x140, fine building site.

$400 Lot on East Sixth street.

$1,500 to loan. Money on hand.

A. H. W. ECKSTEIN,

401 Exchange Bldg. Zen. 'phone, 338. Fire Insurance, Real Estate and Loans.

R. B. Knox & Co.

FIRE INSURANCE

ACCIDENT INSURANCE

BURGLAR INSURANCE

Loans, Real Estate, Rentals

Room 1, Exchange Bldg.

We Will Bond You

FIDELITY, COURT AND CONTRACT BONDS

PULFORD, HOW & CO.

309 Exchange Bldg.

LIABILITY, BURGLARY, FIRE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

WeWill Insure You

MR. HOMEMAKER, Duluth, Minn.

Dear Sir:

You can buy a fine, level lot, fifty feet wide, facing a macadamized street, on Grand avenue west, near Thirty-ninth avenue, at your own terms. Gas and water, street car line, and a new sidewalk are some of the improvements. The corner lot next to this one sold for $800 last year. This one goes for..... $625

One corner lot in Bryant addition is left. Water and gas in the street, one block from car line; will sell for $25 cash, balance on monthly payments WITHOUT INTEREST— our price is only $360

Very truly,

BERT N. WHEELER, 408 BURROWS BLOCK.

$1800

For fifty feet on East Second street, excellent location for home or flats. This is a snap; better look it up.

C. H. GRAVES & CO

Real Estate—Loans—Insurance

First Floor, Torrey Bldg.

4½% 5%

Money to Loan

With On or Before Clause.

John A. Stephenson

WOLVIN BUILDING.

EVERYTHING IN

INSURANCE

Fire, Accident, Life — Burglary, Health, Plate Glass

Liability — Contractors, Employers, Elevator, General.

"Strongest Old Line Companies."

Hartman-O'Donnell Agency,

209-210-211 Exchange Bldg.

LOANS

5% and 6%

All Privileges Given.

No Delay.

G. G. DICKERMAN & CO.

NO. 5 ALWORTH BLDG.

REALTY MARKET REALLY ACTIVE UNDERNEATH

Dealers Are Not Disclosing All of the Important Deals Which Are Being Made Now, But They Admit That Conditions Are Very Satisfactory Indeed, Just Now.

Although there is a seeming dearth of sales to report, as inquiry at the real estate offices show, there is every indication that the brokers are doing business right along, but are reluctant to report small sales. If these could be aggregated each week, the market conditions would probably show up much better than a superficial view of the situation gives any idea of.

That the realty movement since the first of the year, particularly since the middle of January, has exceeded the business covering the same period of time in the several years past, is claimed by the real estate agents. In fact, there are still under cover some of the largest and most important local deals yet made this year: transactions that will mean something to this market as soon as they become generally known.

There are sometimes reasons why purchasers of property desire to keep their transactions quiet for a period before they file the deeds and, consequently, people get the idea that there is "nothing doing." At the present time the outlook is the most encouraging that it has been in any February for years past and future developments are looked for that promise even more interest in local property.

• • •

The approach of the spring months has brought an increase in the amount of inquiry for land for agricultural and dairy purposes. Just as soon as the snow is off the ground, there will be several large parties of settlers here to look over the lands in this and adjoining counties with a view of purchasing, if they are satisfied with conditions. The farm land agencies are well pleased over the prospects for settling up some localities that they have been getting ready for the market in the past year or two.

• • •

Architect J. J. Wangenstein has just returned from Bovey, Itasca county, where he was awarded the contract to furnish the plans for a $50,000 brick high school building. The structure is to be modern in every respect and is to be ready for occupancy when the school year opens next fall. Besides the schoolhouse, Mr. Wangenstein is preparing plans for a building at Bovey for the First National Bank of Grand Rapids, Minn., and a brick store and hotel building. He says that Bovey will have a population of 10,000 within a year.

• • •

Architect A. Terryberry has plans out for a three-flat brick building at Nineteenth avenue west and First street for C.Pearson. He reports ground broken this week for the flat building at Fourth street and Fourth avenue west, for J. J. Thatcher. The work is being done by Contractor J. D. Moltor.

• • •

Bids will be taken this coming week on the McKay hotel addition, the Marshall-Wells factory building and the new building at West Duluth for Charles Kort. The plans were prepared by J. J. Wangenstein.

• • •

The contract for the Strand flat building at the corner of Third street and Eighth avenue west, was let this week to E. G. Hamilton. Excavation work was started Thursday. The building will be a handsome one. It was designed by Architect C. E. Nystrom of Bray & Nystrom.

• • •

The fact that the lessees of a fine new store building on West First street have been urging the owners to put on an additional two or three stories is said by the First street property owners to indicate something of the increasing importance of that street as a business thoroughfare. Even now the improvements that are being planned in the way of business blocks on First street are being constructed with foundation sufficient to hold additional stories, should the conditions warrant them in the future.

• • •

The open winter has been a matter of joyful comment on the part of the local contractors and builders. Work has been little hampered by bad weather and the building movement has been pushed forward faster this past winter than ever before.

With scarcely any frost in the ground, in fact none at all below the outer crust of a foot or two feet, excavation work is going on about as rapidly as during the warmer months and in some cases faster, for the reason the contractors do not have to contend with mud.

• • •

The Deetz building at 402 and 403 East Superior street has been sold to A. H. Krieger, who will occupy it very soon with his stock of asbestos goods and roofing. The building occupies a frontage of fifty feet on Superior street and has been occupied for the past two years by Deetz & Company.

• • •

Transfers recorded during the week were as follows:

South Side Realty company to Jacob Toman, lot 23, block 79, Virginia $100

C. H. Leland et ux to William Harrison, w½ lot 240, block 59, Duluth proper, Second division..... 650

William Harrison to Charles Sovysmith, same 1,050

Edwin Dailey to Mulvey & McClure L. & T. Co., se¼ section 34-67-19 1,250

Augusta Belanger et mar to W. H. Ward, south 40 feet of lots 17, 18, 19, and south 80 feet of lot 20, block 71, Virginia 1,150

Peter O'Donnell to Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company, timber on s½ se¼, se¼ sw¼, section 17-56-14... 1,100

Julius Wellberg et ux to Sheldon-Mather Timber company, timber on e½ sw¼, sw¼ sw¼, section 32-55-15..... 475

John J. Maran to W. S. Taylor, timber on sw¼ sw¼, section 6; w½ nw¼, se¼ nw¼, section 7-57-12..... 1,225

S. H. Morse et al to Pickands Iron company, und ½ nw¼ sw¼, section 1-49-15 1

E. P. Towne et al to S. E. Matter, lots 4, 5 and 6, block 15, Second Glen Avon division 1

John Peterson to Great Northern Power Co., part of se¼ se¼, section 16-49-15 1

Boston & Duluth Farm Land company to Abraham Martinlouri, se¼ ne¼, section 21-51-20..... 160

Catherine Mallmann, et mar, to O. D. Kinney, undivided one-tenth of w½ ne¼, section 30, 59-14 22,000

F. L. Buell, et ux, to same, w½ ne¼, section 30, 59-14 8,535

W. J. Wallace, et ux, to Guaranty Farm Land company, n½ sw¼, section 10, 59-19 1

Same to same, s½ ne¼, section 8, 59-19 1

Same to same, lots 5 to 8, e½ se¼, section 25, 64-14 1

Margaret Menzies, et mar, to J. G. Oazewski, lot 16, block 117, Duluth Proper, Third division.. 500

Frank Hicks, et ux, to Annie Kotchevar, timber on ne¼, section 22, 62-12 250

H. H. Person, administrator, to Vermillion Lumber company, timber on nw¼ ne¼, section 9, 62-17 200

J. Q. A. Crosby to same, timber on n½ nw¼, section 8, 60-16 800

John R. Stal to Nels Hendricks, undivided one-half of lot 10, W. P. division 1

Judge District Court to Thomas A. Merritt, lots 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10, East Johnson street, Portland.. Same to J. D. Ludden, lots 4 and 5, block 104, Portland .....

Stephen H. Jones to Great Northern Power Co., part of nw¼ ne¼, section 21-49-15. .....

N. J. Nelson et ux to same; same

Catherin S. McMahon et mar to Rosa J. Herring, part of lot 173, block 100, Duluth Proper, Second division, metes and bounds.

Rebecca Sushansky to William Jusola, lot 5, block 36, Biwabik...

J. H. Upham et ux to John Le Barius, w½ sw¼, sw¼ se¼, section 11-50-14.....

Immigration Land Co., to Anton Newberg, nw¼ sw¼, section 25-57-21.....

W. J. Wallace et ux to Guaranty Farm Land Co., lot 3, se¼ nw¼, section 5-63-17.....

Duluth Home and Garden Co. to Jacob Hedberg, w½ nw¼, ne¼ ne¼, section 34; n½ sw¼, ne¼ ne¼ section 34-51-14.....

C. L. Twohy et ux to Harry Shanedling, lots 15 and 16, block 3, Grant.....

A. F. Elmquist et ux to John Boes, n½ s½ nw¼ nw¼, section 23-51-14.....

Boston & Duluth Farm Land Co. to Amelia Sherwood, nw¼ ne¼, ne¼ nw¼, section 33-51-17.....

Berriah Magoffin to Mary E. Martin, lots 13, 14 and 15, block 17, Proctorknott.....

Virginia Improvement Co. to Martin Eggen, lots 24 and 4½ of lot 25, block 40, Virginia.....

Chisholm Improvement Co. to D. St. Lawrence, lot 1, block 23, Chisholm.....

Nathan Brigham et al to Crown Lumber Co., sw ?ne¼, section 8; sw¼ nw¼ section 7-67-21.....

Susie Packard et mar to Ole Fosmo, lot 19, block 6, Hibbing, Southern addition .....

D. A. Reinhart et al to Betran H. Hayes, ne¼ se¼, section 24-60-21..

J. J. Le Tournea et ux to Henrietta F. Hardy, lots 274 and 275, block 25, Crosley Park addition..

B. H. Hayes et ux to Waters-Clark Lumber company, timber on nw¼ se¼, section 24-60-21...

John Jackman et ux to Skibo Timber company, timber on e½ ne¼ and e½ se¼, section 24-60-12.....

F. B. Poole to R. B. Whiteside, w½ ne¼, section 3-57-18 .....

Boston & Farm Land company to Helmer Berg, w½ nw¼, se¼ nw¼, section 13-52-18 .....

Jefferson County National bank to L. S. & S. E. Ry. Co., und. ½ of lot 384, block 12, Duluth proper, Second division; und ½ metes and bounds .....

William Hendricks et ux to W. D. Washburne, Jr., Farm Lands Co., w½ nw¼, section 14-61-15...

P. W. Guilford to William Hendricks, same .....

Howe Lumber company to Sarah Craswell, lots 7 and 8, block C, Endion, except north 180 feet....

P. McDonnell to Guaranty Farm Land company, n½ sw¼, section 25; e½ se¼, section 26; n½ ne¼, section 35-63-14 .....

James Carmichael et ux to Virginia Lumber company, timber on s½ ne¼, s½ nw¼, section 24-60-20 .....

County auditor to F. B. Poole, w¼ ne¼, section 8-57-18 .....

Sarah Hanford et mar to W. O. Pealer, 1-24 of w½ ne¼, section 30-59-14 .....

W. J. Bates et ux to F. L. Buell, w½ ne¼, section 30-59-14 .....

Bert Fesler et ux to O. D. Kinney, und. ¼ of w½ ne¼, section 30-59-14 .....

John Moon to Swedish-Finnish Temperance association, lot 14, block 1, Eveleth .....

Toledo Investment company to Great Northern Power company, easement in nw¼ ne¼, section 11-49-15 and other lands.....

Harritt E. Thurston to same, easement in und. ⅛ of part of section 2-49-15 .....

Fidelity Trust company et al to Northland Country club, w½ sw¼, section 7-50-13 except 5 acres .....

E. M. Gaylord to R. B. Knox, lots 11 and 12, block 164, Portland; lots 11 and 12, block 164, Ray's annex..

R. C. Hampton et ux to Cloquet Tie & Post company, lots 15 and 16, block 3, Floodwood .....

James Sheridan to S. F. Read, nw¼ nw¼, section 25, and ne¼ ne¼, section 26-53-12 .....

R. B. Knox et ux to Paul Bergson, lots 11 and 12, block 204, Portland, lots 11 and 12, block 164, Ray's Annex .....

Western Land Association to Henry Nolte, lot 13, block 70, Endion.... Same to same, lots 9 to 12, same.. Henry Nolte to E. H. Cole, lots 9 to 13, same .....

A. G. Simonds et al to Sterling Land Co., w¼ se¼, section 9-52-14

M. A. Keeley to Margaret Stiffen, e½ sw¼, w½ se¼, section 18-51-18; ne¼ ne¼, section 24-51-19 .....

Adolf Steffen et ux to M. A. Keeley, e½ sw¼, w½ se¼, section 18-51-18; ne¼ ne¼, section 24-51-19..

Northwestern Improvement Co. to Herman Leisner, nw¼ sw¼, section 11-51-18 .....

Oscar Mitchell et al to O. D. Kinney, undivided 1-32 of w½ ne¼ section 30-59-14 .....

A. D. Davidson et ux to same, same

A. D. McRae et ux to same, same

Charles Espenschied et ux to George Jenkins, lot 12, block 1, Axa division .....

Dixon Land Co. to Great Northern Power Co., part of nw¼ sw¼, section 29-49-15 .....

L. P. Highmark et ux to same, same .....

Harry Edmunds et ux to Ida J. Peachey, part of ne¼ nw¼ ne¼, section 6-50-13 .....

Thomas A. Merritt to Gunda Hanson, southerly 32½ feet of lots 1, 2 and 3, block 104, Portland.....

William H. Patterson et ux to H. I. Gooch, lots 15 and 16, block 71, Endion.....

H. I. Gooch to E. H. Cole, lots 14 to 16, block 71, Endion.....

James P. Rose et al to H. I. Gooch, lots 15 and 16, block 71, Endion.....

W. H. Patterson et al to same, same.....

Glen Jones to Fred Spearman, lots 2 and 1, block 4, Norton's division

W. O. Pealer to O. D. Kinney, undivided 1-12 of w½ ne¼, section 30-59-14.....

Violetta S. Wilson to August Melin, east 25 feet of lots 14, 15 and 16, block 165, West Duluth, Fifth division.....

Ewna B. Johnson to J. C. Mullery, se¼ ne¼, section 27-51-17.....

F. W. Eaton to Morris Thomas, sw¼ ne¼, sw¼ nw¼, n½ se¼, section 14-52-19.....

J. A. Tillman to Sophia Mollinger, lot 7, block 17, Norton's division; lot 7, block 19, Lakeview division

HANDSOME EIGHT-ROOM HOUSE BEING ERECTED BY LAKESIDE LAND COMPANY.

This view shows one of the pretentious homes to be erected in Lakeside this year now under construction on McCulloch street, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth avenues east, for the Lakeside Land company. The building is a frame structure, eight rooms, built according to plans by architects Bray & Nystrom. It will cost about $4,000, when completed.

This residence will be one of five that the Lakeside company is building for customers, and is planned on modern lines throughout. The basement, with a concrete floor, contains the laundry and hot water heating plant. On the first floor is the large living room, dining room and kitchen. The second floor has four bedrooms and a bath room. The finish on both floors is in hardwood. The building is to be ready for occupancy May 1.

MODERN HOTEL AT VIRGINIA

To be Erected by Fitger Brewing Company, Says Rumor.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report is current here that the Fitger Brewing company of Duluth will erect a modern three-story hotel with 75 feet frontage and 125 feet depth on its Chestnut street property that was recently talked of as an opera house site. It is claimed that they have been offered a rental of $575 per month for the building by a responsible hotel man, and that they have practically decided to build the house.

H. F. Smith, owner and landlord of the Fay hotel, has recently received three offers for his property, the first was $40,000, the second $45,000, and the third $50,000, all within a week. If he should accept the latter offer it would net him a profit of something like $10,000, which is an indication of the prosperity that attends the hotel business in Virginia. But he has no desire to sell, being well satisfied with his investments.

Mrs. D. E. Cuppernull departed yesterday for a brief visit with her parents at Mankato.

The Finnish Temperance society will sell the present building owned by them and erect a commodious frame structure, 50 by 80 feet, two stories high, on the site during the present year. The society was organized in the spring of 1893 and now has a membership of over 200 and is in very prosperous condition.

The Epworth League has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, H. L. Watkins; vice presidents, V. E. Wilson, Edna Skogman, N. J. Anderson and Mrs. Sarff; secretary, Gerald Roskilly; assistant secretary, Lambert Gill; treasurer, Albert Roskilly; organist, Mrs. H. A. Logan.

W. H. Forder of Virginia will open a drug store at Mountain Iron on March 1.

The Catholic church society will give an entertainment at the opera house on the evening of St. Patrick's day. Andrew Koch of Duluth will deliver the address, while Mr. Evans of Duluth and local talent will present a program of Irish ballads.

W. T. Biss returned yesterday from a visit at his former home in Rice Lake, Wis.

Dr. J. H. Girvin has been joined by his wife, who arrived recently from Mankato.

Miss Myrtle M. Barton has gone to Seattle to accept a position in the office of a manufacturing concern.

Joseph Karl of this place has purchased the meat market of Joscph Bartol at Chisholm.

William O'Brien and W. H. Cook of Duluth are on a trip of inspection of the line of the proposed extension of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railway.

A number of friends pleasantly surprised Mrs. E. E. Burley Thursday, that being her birthday. They presented her with several beautiful pieces of china.

M. D. Belliveau, formerly in the hotel business here, has opened a cigar factory in rooms over Farnquist's livery.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.—Default having been made in the payment of the sum of Three Hundred Thirty-eight Dollars, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Ole Hansen and Bertina Hansen (who signed her name Bertine Hansen), his wife, mortgagors, to W. D. Van Brunt, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of January, 1891, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of St. Louis, and State of Minnesota, on the 17th day of January, 1891, at 4 o'clock p. m., in Book 53 of Mortgages, on page 26, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, Therefore, Notice is Hereby Given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, viz.:

Lot number One (1), in Block number Ten (10) in Walbank's addition to Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof on file in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis county, Minnesota, said premises being in St. Louis County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County and State on the Twentieth day of March, 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Three Hundred Thirty-eight Dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five Dollars Attorneys' fees, as stipulated in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated February 2, A. D. 1906.

W. D. VAN BRUNT, Mortgagee.

ALFORD & HUNT, Attorneys for Mortgagee, 904 Torrey Bldg., Duluth, Minn.

Duluth Evening Herald—Feb. 3-10-17-24, March 3-10, 1906.

ORDER FOR HEARING PROOF OF FOREIGN WILL.

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

In Probate Court, Special Term, Feb'y 16th, 1906.

In the Mater of the Estate of Olivia Thompson, Deceased:

Whereas, Certain writings purporting to be duly authenticated copies of the Last Will and Testament of Olivia Thompson, late of Richmond, Indiana, deceased, and the probate thereof in Wayne Circuit Court of Wayne County, Indiana, have been delivered to this court;

And Whereas, S. Albert Thompson has filed therewith his petition, representing among other things that said Olivia Thompson lately died in said County of Wayne, Indiana, testate, possessed of certain real estate, situated in said County of St. Louis, Minn., and that said petitioner is a son of said deceased and a devisee under said will and praying that the said instrument may be admitted to probate, and that letters of administration with will annexed be to him issued therein;

It is Ordered, That the proofs of said instrument and the said petition, be heard before this Court at the Probate Office in said County, on Monday, the 12th day of March, A. D. 1906, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, when all persons interested may appear for or contest the probate of said instrument;

And It Is Further Ordered, That notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth, in said County, and that a copy of this order be served upon the County Treasurer of St. Louis County not less than ten days prior to said day of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., this 16th day of February, A. D. 1906.

By the Court, J. B. MIDDLECOFF, Judge of Probate.

(Seal Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.) Duluth Evening Herald, Feb. 17-24-March 3, 1906.

WALES' CHILDREN.

Little Princes and Princesses Take Long Pony Rides.

London, Feb. 23.—Prince Edward, Prince Albert and Princess Mary of Wales are greatly enjoying themselves at Windsor. Daily they take long pony rides in the great park of Windsor, accompanied by a groom. Their favorite canter appears to be down the Long Walk into the great park itself. The boys each wear a tweed suit, cap and gaiters. Prince Edward has grown into a very sturdy boy, and is in most robust health, as is also his brother. As a general thing Princess Mary rides through the park accompanied by the same royal groom, starting at high noon. The little princess, attired in a dark blue riding habit, galloped up the long walk, her golden curls caught by the wind, her red cheeks showing that she is in excellent health—all these things in themselves constitute a very pretty picture.

LITTLE & NOLTE INSURANCE LOANS REAL ESTATE UNDER AM. EX BANK. ESTABLISHED IN 1882

20 Per Cent. NET

We have for sale a building containing two flats of eight rooms each, located within four blocks of Board of Trade, built in 1905, and absolutely up-to-date in all particulars—hot water heat, electric door openers, etc. The price of this elegant property is $10,100, and it can be had on terms which will give the purchaser 20 per cent net on the investment. See us for particulars. (61-14.)

$15,000 TO LOAN.

In amounts of $500 up to $1,500 at 6 per cent.

On or before clause, with privilege of paying $50 or more at any time. Interest stopped on amount paid.

MONEY ON HAND. NO DELAY.

Ten new flats and three new store rooms for rent.

Julius D. Howard & Co

Real Estate—Loans—Fire Insurance.

216 West Superior St.

HOMES!!

SOME NEW OFFERINGS

Five-room cottage, with basement, at West End; hardwood floors in dining room and kitchen; $1000 in good repair (4030) .....

Large lot and nice 7-room house on Oxford street at Hunter's park; furnace; stone foundation; hardwood floors throughout; mantel; gas; electric light; modern plumbing; very desirable $4200

Four-room cottage on East Sixth street, near Ninth avenue; $1200 city water; gas in street.

Two flats of four rooms each on Seventeenth avenue east; city water and toilet in each; gas; good order (4029) $1800

Neat 6-room house on Grand avenue, near Forty-seventh avenue east, city water, sewer, good plumbing, electric light, hardwood floors downstairs; 59-foot lot $2450

One-half story house on Fourth street, near Twenty-third avenue west; five rooms first floor; upstairs not finished; concrete foundation; hardwood floors throughout $1700

Above only samples. Largest list of bargains in the city.

4½ and 5 per cent money to loan—any amount, without delay.

STRYKER, MANLEY & BUCK

W. H. REYNOLDS,

REAL ESTATE,

417 Burrows Building.

$9000 for two seven-room houses, East Superior street; desirable location; 50-foot lot; terms.

$1500 for seven-room house, East Eighth street, near Franklin school; stone foundation, cement floors; very easy terms.

$1400 for seven-room house, Second avenue west and Sixth street; in very good condition.

$1200 for ten-room house, West Duluth; hardwood floors in kitchen; good location.

$2300 Six-room house on First street, near Seventh avenue east; mostly hardwood floors; electric lights and bath.

W. H. REYNOLDS,

REAL ESTATE,

417 Burrows Building.

SPRING OFFERINGS

$1300 Fifth street and Sixth avenue west—6-room house, very cheap. Very anxious to sell.

$1500 Sixth street and Third avenue west—6-room house in good condition.

$2800 Nineteenth avenue east near Jefferson—10-room house, arranged for two families, all conveniences

$2850 Seventh avenue east, near Fourth street—8-room house in good location.

$3150 Jefferson, near Fifteenth avenue east—6-room house, modern and in fine condition.

$3675 Eleventh avenue east, near Third street—8-room house, all conveniences.

$4250 Fifth street, near Fifth avenue east—9-room house. Very good.

$4750 Fifteenth avenue east, near Fourth street—9-room house; all modern conveniences.

Call and look over our large listing.

N. J. UPHAM CO.

400 Burrows Building.

HAS SMALL ADVANCE

Slight Improvement in Wheat Due to Stronger Liverpool Market.

Flax Market Uninteresting and Closes With a Slight Loss.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 24.—An advance of ⅜ to ½d at Liverpool caused a firmer market here during the first few minutes, but selling was quite free and prices failed to hold their gain, and did not show much advance for the day. The strength at Liverpool was due to the smaller estimate for world's shipments for the week, due to the falling off of Australian and Indian shipments. Broomhall makes his estimate for the week 10,400,000 bus. Paris closed unchanged to ¼c lower, and Berlin and Budapest ¼c lower.

The May option was ⅛c higher in Duluth, Minneapolis and Winnipeg, unchanged in Chicago, New York and St. Louis, and a shade higher in Kansas City.

In the report of Duluth stocks of grain to be made Monday, the grain burned in the Peavey elevator fire last Saturday will be eliminated. This will mean a decrease of from 400,000 to 500,000 bus. in the stocks of wheat.

Corn was stronger, the May option in Chicago gaining ¼-⅜c, and Liverpool being up ½d. May oats in Chicago advanced ¼-⅜c.

Car receipts at Duluth were 80 against 26 last year, and at Minneapolis 392 against 370 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 472 against 396 last year. Chicago received 18 against 24 last year. Winnipeg received 67 against 73 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 588,000 bus, last year 590,000 bus. Shipments 271,000 bus, last year 163,000 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 97,000 bus.

Primary receipts of corn were 660,000 bus, last year 644,000 bus. Shipments 634,000 bus, last year 277,000 bus. Clearances of corn were 831,000 bus.

The Duluth wheat market was a very dull affair. The May option opened ⅛c higher at 81¼c, sold at 81¼-⅜c a few moments later, dropped to 80⅞c at 10:30 and then rallied a little, closing ⅛c up at 81⅜c, a gain of ⅛c. The July option gained ¼c, closing at 82½c.

Flax was a little lower, but on the whole pretty steady. There was no news of interest in the market. Foreign markets hold steady. The May option opened ½c lower at $1.15¾, fell to $1.15⅝, rallied to $1.15¾ and closed at $1.15⅝, a loss of ¼c. The July option closed ¼c lower at $1.17 and September ½c lower at $1.15½.

Stocks of flax at Duluth will increase about 20,000 bus, the small amount being due to the elimination from the stocks of the flax lost in the Peavey fire.

May oats advanced ⅛c and oats on track and to arrive ¼c.

Following are the closing prices: Wheat to arrive, No. 1 northern, 80c; No. 2 northern, 78c; on track No. 1 northern, 80c; No. 2 northern, 78c; May, 81⅜c; July, 82¼c. Durum No. 1, 72¼c; No. 2, 69¼c. Flax to arrive, $1.13¾; on track, $1.13¾; May, $1.15⅝; July, $1.17; September, $1.15½; October, $1.14. Oats to arrive, 29⅜c; on track, 29⅜c. May, 29⅜c. Rye, 60c. Barley, 38½-45.

Cars inspected: Wheat, 80; last year, 26; oats, 13; rye, 2; barley, 23; flax, 36; last year, 23.

Receipts: Wheat, 37,630; oats, 23,411; barley, 14,772; flax, 43,612.

Shipments: None.

Cash Sales Saturday.

No. 1 hard wheat, 1 car $0.80½
No. 1 hard, 1 car ..... .80⅝
No. 1 northern wheat, 1 car ..... .80
No. 1 northern, 1 car ..... .80⅛
No. 1 northern, 4,500 bus ..... .80
No. 2 northern wheat, 1 car ..... .78
No. 2 northern, 1 car ..... .78⅞
No. 3 wheat, 3 cars ..... .78
Durum wheat, 2 cars No. 1 ..... .72½
Durum wheat, 1,000 bus No. 1 ..... .72½
Durum wheat, 600 bus No. 2 ..... .69½
Flax, 1 car 1.13
Barley, 1 car ..... .37
Barley, 1 car ..... .38½
Barley, 3 cars ..... .39
Barley, 2 cars ..... .39½
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white ..... .29⅝
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white ..... .29¾
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white ..... .29⅝
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white ..... .29¼
Oats, 1 car No. 3 white ..... .29⅜
Rye, 1,000 bus No. 3 ..... .58

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Bullish Sentiment in Wheat Checked by Advancing Tendency.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Sentiment in the wheat pit today was bullish, but free offerings of the May delivery by commission houses checked the advancing tendency. At the opening, prices showed moderate gains. The May option was up ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c at 82½c to 82⅝c. Later however, most of the advance was lost, the price of May easing off to 82⅜c. Factors that strengthened the market were higher cables, small shipments from Australia and a temporary cessation of exports from India. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 488 cars, against 374 cars last week, and 398 cars a year ago.

The market was quiet during the rest of the day and May eased off to 82@82¼c. The close was steady with May unchanged at 82¼@⅜c.

Wet weather in the Middle West caused fair buying of corn by cash interests and commission houses, and the market was steady. Out of total arrivals today of 479 cars, only one car load was of contract grade. This had considerable influence in strengthening the market. May opened ⅛c to ¼c higher at 43⅜c to 43¼c, and later sold at 43@43¼c.

There was a slight decline in corn toward the middle of the day, May touching 43c, but on a slight reaction the price reached 43⅝c. The close was firm with May up ¼@⅜c at 43¼@⅜c.

Because of fair support by commission houses the oats market was steady. Trading was of small volume. May opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 30½@30¾c to 30¼c, sold to 30⅛c, and then rallied to 30¼c. Local receipts were 179 cars.

A 5c advance in the price of live hogs caused a steady provisions market. Commission houses were the principal buyers. May pork was unchanged at $15.62½. Lard was up a shade at $7.80. Ribs were unchanged at $8.22½.

Closing Wheat—May, 82½@⅝c; July, 81¾@⅞c. Corn—May, 43¼@⅜c; July, 43⅞@44c. Oats—May, 30⅜@½c; July, 29⅜c. Pork—May, $15.42½; July, $15.07½. Lard—May, $7.75; July, $7.77½@7.80. Ribs—May, $8.15; July, $8.17½. Rye—Cash, 65½c; May, 65¼c. Flax—Cash, Northwest, $1.13½; Southwest, $1.08½; May, $1.14½. Timothy—March, $3.25@3.35. Clover—Cash, $14. Barley—Cash, 37@52c. Cash wheat—No. 2 red, 81¼@84½c; No. 3 red, 82½@84c; No. 2 hard, 80@82¼c; No. 3 hard, 77@81c; No. 1 northern, 82@84c; No. 2 northern, 81@83c; No. 3 spring, 78@83c. Corn—No. 2, 39¼@½c; No. 3, 38½@39c. Oats—No. 2, 30c; No. 3, 29½@3¼c.

American Wheat Markets.

	Duluth.	Minneapolis.	Chicago,	New York.
May—
Open	.....81⅛B	81	82¼-⅜
High	.....81¼-⅜	81⅜	82⅝	83¼-⅜
Low	.....80⅞	80⅝	82-¼	82⅞
Close	.....81⅛B	80⅞-81	82¼-⅜B	83A
Close, 23rd.	81	80¾-⅞	82¼-⅜	83
July—
Open	.....82¼B	82⅞-83	81⅝	87¼
High	.....82¼	83	81⅝	87⅜
Low	.....82¼	82½	81¼	87
Close	.....82½B	82¾-⅞A	81½-⅝A	87⅛
Close, 23rd.	82¼	82⅝	81⅜	87⅛

	Close 24th.	Close 23rd.
St. Louis—
May	.....80⅛	80⅛
July	.....79⅛	79
Kansas City—
May	.....75⅝-½	75¾
July	.....73⅞	73¾-¾
Winnipeg—
May	.....77½	77⅜
July	79	78⅝

Chicago Oats, Corn and Pork.

	Oats. May.	Corn. May.	Pork. May.
Open	.....30¼B	43⅜B	$15.62
High	.....30⅝-½	43⅝	15.62
Low	.....30⅛	43⅜	15.40
Close	.....30⅜-½A	43¼-⅜A	15.42

Duluth Car Inspection.

Wheat: No. 1 hard, 4; No. 1 Northern, 18; No. 2 Northern, 21; No. 3 spring, 21; No. 4 spring, 3; rejected, 2; no grade, 2; Western red, 1; No. 1 durum, 2; No. 2 durum, 2; No. 3 durum, 4; total of durum, 8; total of all wheat, 80; last year, 26.

Flax: No. 1 Northwestern, 3; No. 1, 33; total, 36; last year, 23.

Oats, 13; rye, 2; barley, 23.

Total of all cars, 154; cars on track today, 90.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, Feb. 24.—Wheat, spot, nominal; futures quiet; March, 6s 8d; May, 6s 6¼d; July, 6s 4¾d. Corn, spot, quiet; American mixed new, 3s 11d; American mixed old, 4s 7½d; futures quiet; March, 3s 11⅜d; May, 4s 7⅛d.

New York Grain.

New York, Feb. 24.—Close: Wheat—May, 88c; July, 87c; September, 85¾c. Corn—May, 48⅞c; July, 49½c; September, 50¼c.

Minneapolis Wheat.

Minneapolis, Feb. 24.—Close: Wheat—May, 80⅞@81c; July, 82¾@⅞c; No. 1 hard, 80¾c; 1 northern, 79⅝c; 2 northern, 77⅝c.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

Following are the current quotations for goods which change hands in lots on the open market:

BUTTER.
Creamery prints..	28	@ 29
Creamery, in tubs..	27	@ 28
Dairies, fancy	19	@ 20
Renovated	20	@ 21
Packing stock	14
EGGS.
Fresh	15	@ 16
Storage	11
CHEESE.
Full cream twins	14¼
Block and wheel Swiss	14½	@ 15
Brick cheese, No. 1	14
Limberger full cream cheese	13
Primost	7
HONEY.
New fancy white clover	13½	@ 14
MAPLE SUGAR.
Vermont, per lb.	15
Maple syrup, 10-lb. cans	1 35
NUTS.
Filberts, per lb.	13
Soft-shell walnuts, per lb.	16½
Cocoanuts, per doz.	60
Brazils, per lb.	12
Hickory nuts, per bus.	2 00
Pecans, per lb.	13
Almonds	16
Black Walnuts, per bus.	1 65
Mixed nuts	12½
Peanuts, roasted, per lb.	7½	@ 8
Chestnuts, per lb.	11
FRUITS.
Apples, Ben Davis, per bbl	6 00
Baldwins	6 00	@ 6 50
York State Russets	6 00
Tolman Sweets	6 00	@ 6 50
Colorado Winesaps, per box	2 25
Bananas, per bunch	2 00	@ 2 50
Cranberries	16 00
Dates, Fard, 12-lb. box	1 10
Dates, sugar walnut, 10-lb. box	1 00
Figs, Smyrna, 12-lb. box	1 35
Grape fruit, per case	4 25
Malaga grapes, per keg	7 50
Lemons, Cal., per box	3 50	@ 3 75

GIVE US ORDERS TO SELL TO ARRIVE ON BULGES

C. C. WYMAN & CO.

DULUTH. GRAIN COMMISSION. MINNEAPOLIS.

We are headquarters for

Bonanza Circle

AND

North Butte Copper Stocks

PAINE, WEBBER & CO

BANKERS AND BROKERS.

328 West Superior Street.

EDWARDS - WOOD CO.

(Incorporated)

Dealers in

Stocks, Grain, Provisions

Main Office

Fifth and Robert Sts., ST. PAUL, MINN

J. A. MINNEAR & CO.

Brokers

Copper Stocks

Curbs a Specialty

LAURIUM, MICH.

ARE YOU

BUYING MINING STOCKS?

Before doing so, write me. I offer for sale limited blocks of—

Seyler Humphrey..	.35c
Red Top	.$2
Fair Rock Manhattan	.1c
Sassy Sal	.19c
Bullfrog Extension..	.27c

And all other desirable mining stocks at prices that will save you money. Address

R. B. HIGBEE,

Broker, Germania Life Bldg., St. Paul, Minn. Established in 1899.

A Shipping Mine!

400 Tons Already Gone To the Smelter—$55.00 a Ton.

Sixteen mining claims—$150,000 expended already in tunneling, trams, buildings and other improvements. This is the record of the H. T. & F. Mining Co. A block of 50,000 shares is now offered to investors at very low rate. Call or write.

The Happy Thought and Fairview Minning Co.

Parlor G, St. Louis Hotel.

SHASTA

MAY BLOSSOM

A California representative of the Shasta May Blossom Copper Company will be at our office for a few days. He is thoroughly familiar with the proposition and will be pleased to see any parties who wish to make an investment that will bring large returns to the investors.

Mr. Claypool, who recently visited and examined the property, corroborates what is stated by the literature and the representative of the Shasta May Blossom Company. He finds the management of the company competent and conservative. He also will be glad to give the facts to any persons who may wish to embrace the opportunity now offered to purchase the stock of the Shasta May Blossom Company at present price, 15 cents per share. For full information communicate with

H. E. SMITH & CO.

Wm. Kaiser, Mgr.,

Main floor Palladio Bldg. 'Phones; Zenith 696, Duluth 82-L.

Bonanza Circle Coppers

AND OTHER UNLISTED SECURITIES.

Noon Quotations, Feb. 24, 1906.

Coppers.	Bid.	Ask	Miscellaneous.	Ask
N. Butte	86	87	Ala. Cent. pfd	$6.00
C. & A.	117	118	Ariz. & E.	.100
C. & P.	36	37	Black Rock	.15
C. S. & P.	43	44	Comanche	.35
P. & D.	23	24	Ckd. Riv. (100)	.50
Junction	28	29	Ckd. Riv. (1,000)	.30
Man	7	9	Eagle Mt.	4.50
Blk. Mt.	13	15	Little Cranker	.10
Dem.	24	25	Metropolitan	.20
Warren	16	18	Nev. Q. B.	.10
Chir	9	11	Ophir Tunnel	.40
Shattuck	40	46	Shasta	.15

Ophir—harmony, consolidation, richness. Shasta—good, big, low-priced! Get these now.

H. E. SMITH & CO.

WILLIAM KAISER, Manager.

Main Floor, Palladio Building.

Phones—Zenith, 696, Duluth, 83.

California Navels	2 75	@ 3 25
Strawberries, per qt.	50
VEGETABLES.
Navy beans	2 00
Beets, per cwt.	1 75
Top beets, per doz.	1 00
Cucumbers, hothouse	2 25
Cabbage, per ton	35 00
Cauliflower, per box	4 00
Celery, Milwaukee, per doz	35
Celery, Cal., per doz.	70
Carrots, per cwt.	1 00
Egg plant, per doz.	1 75
Horseradish, per lb.	12
Lettuce, leaf, per bus.	1 25
Onions, per cwt.	1 65
Onions, Spanish, per crate	2 00
Parsley, per doz.	35	@ 75
Parsnips, per cwt.	1 75
Sweet potatoes, per bbl.	4 50
Potatoes, per bus.	60	@ 65
Radishes, round, per doz.	75	@ 1 25
Spinach, per box	1 00
Florida tomatoes, basket	90
Rutabagas, per cwt.	1 00
POP CORN.
Choice, per lb.	3½
Rice corn, shelled	6
CIDER.
Clarified, 16-gal. kg.	3 50
Orange, cherry or pear	3 50
Black raspberry juice	5 50
MEATS.
Beef	5½@	7½
Mutton	8½@	9½
Lard	8¾
Pork loins	11½
Veal	9
DRESSED POULTRY.
Springs, per lb.	16
Hens, per lb.	15
Spring ducks	14
Turkeys	20
Geese	13	@ 14
HAY.
Timothy, No. 1, per ton	9 00
Timothy, No. 2, per ton	8 50
Upland, per ton	8 00
FEED.
Bran, per ton	17 00
Oats, per bus.	32
Shorts, per ton	18 00
FISH.
Trout, per lb.	11
Pike, per lb.	10
White, per lb.	10	@ 12½
Lake Superior herring	2½
Skinned perch	6
Smelts, No. 1	12
Smelts, No. 2	10
Fresh salmon, per lb.	15
Halibut, per lb.	12½
Oysters, standard, per gal.	1 45
Oysters, select, per gal.	1 85

Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Butter, high grades firm; others weak; creameries, 17@27½c; dairies, 14@24½c. Eggs, firm at mark; cases included, 12½c. Cheese, firm; daisies, 13c; twins, 11¾@12¾c; Young Americas, 13c.

New York.

New York, Feb. 24.—Butter, steady to firm, unchanged; receipts, 6,708. Cheese, steady, unchanged; receipts, 1,884; weekly exports, 4,323. Eggs, firmer; receipts, 11,927. State, Penna and nearby fancy selected white, 20@21c; do choice, 18@19c; do mixed extra, 16½@17c; Western firsts, 18c; do seconds, 14@14½c; selection, 14@15c.

AMERICANS DETAINED

While Alcalde Had a Nap After the Fire at Panama.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Consul General Shanklin in a report to the state department on a fire which recently destroyed a block of buildings in the city of Panama, after alluding to the fact that American occupants of the Hotel Concordia were detained as witnesses, as they left the burning building in accordance with the local law and were held for some time owing to the fact that the alcalde, the only person who could release them "was officially reported as sleeping after the work at the fire, and could not be disturbed," says:

"The water was in fine condition, and unquestionably saved the city, in fact, the morning of the fire, about 9 o'clock, I met the vice president of the republic, Dr. Pablo Arosemena, who said to me: 'Well, Mr. Consul General, we owe the fact that we have a city today to the American government, for without the water the entire city would have been burned.'"

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

At Close, Being Week and Dull Throughout the Day.

Sharp Break in Consolidated Gas Depressed Other Stocks.

New York, Feb. 24.—The only feature in the opening dealings in the stock market today was an extreme rise of ⅞ on running transactions in Union Pacific. General Electric gained a point. Moderate fractional gains were the rule and the market came almost to a standstill within a few minutes after the opening.

The heaviness of Reading and Consolidated Gas was in contrast with strength in Union Pacific. Outside of the stocks in which the speculation was largest, prices did not fluctuate much, but there was an undercurrent of firmness that encouraged moderate purchases. Some of the more noteworthy gains were Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Wabash preferred, 1½ to 1⅝ and Missouri Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern, Atlantic Coast Line, Sugar, Lead and Distillers' Securities 1 to 1¼. Consolidated Gas declined 1½, Chicago Terminal 1 and the preferred 1¼.

The steady liquidation in Gas on the 80-cent gas requirement caused a sagging tendency in sympathy. The bank statement led to some added depression. There were gains, however, in Colorado Southern and Rock Island preferred of 1, Tennessee Coal 3, and Railway Steel Spring 1½ and Chicago Terminal preferred to 1¾ over yesterday. Gas yielded an extreme 9 points, Metropolitan Street Railway 1⅝ and Reading and Northern Pacific 1. The closing was dull and heavy.

Quotations furnished by Edwards, Wood & Co., Room A, Torrey building:

Stocks—	High	Low	Close
Atchison, pfd.	102⅞	102½	102½
Atchison, com.	90⅜	90½	90⅝
Smelter, com.	162	161	161⅝
Amn. Woolen.	45¼	45¼	45¼
Aml. Copper	111¼	110⅝	110⅝
B. & O. Ry.	111¼	110⅞	110⅞
B. R. T.	83	82	82¼
Can. Pac. Ry.	170¾	170½	170½
C. & O.	56⅞	56⅞	56⅝
C. F. I.	64½	63⅝	63⅝
C. G. W., com.	21	21	21
Erie, com.	43¾	43¼	43⅜
Central Leather	43	42¾	42¾
L. & N.	147½	147¼	147¼
Mex. Cent.	25⅞	24⅝	25⅜
Met. Ry.	116¼	115¼	116
Mo. Pac.	100⅞	100⅛	100⅛
Manhattan	159	159	159
Norf. & West	87½	87	87½
N. Y. C.	148¾	148	148
O. & W.	50⅝	50⅜	50⅝
Peoples Gas	97⅞	96	96½
Pacific Mail	45	44¾	44¾
Penn. Ry.	139	138⅜	138¾
Rock Island, com	25½	25½	25½
Rock Island, pfd.	65½	65	65
Reading, com.	139½	138	138⅝
R. I. & S.; com.	31⅞	31⅞	31⅞
Rubber, com.	50½	50¼	50¼
St. Paul	180¼	179½	179½
Sugar	141¾	141	141¾
Southern Railway, com.	38⅝	38	38
Southern Pacific	66⅛	66	66⅛
T. C. & I.	156	154	156
Texas Pacific	34⅝	34¼	34¼
U. S. Steel, pfd.	107¼	107	107
U. S. Steel, com.	42⅜	41⅞	42⅛
Union Pacific, com.	152½	151⅞	152
Wisconsin Central, com.	26⅜	26⅜	26¾
Western Union	93¼	92¾	93¼
Wabash, com.	24¼	23⅝	23⅞
Wabash, pfd.	49⅝	48¾	49
Northern Pacific	224½	222½	222½
American Locomotive	73¾	73¾	73
Erie, 2nd.	69½	69¼	69¾
Great Northern	329½	328⅞	328⅞
Denver	50½	45	45

The total sales were 286,600 shares.

THE COPPER STOCKS.

The following are the closing quotations of copper stocks at Boston today, reported by Paine, Webber & Co., 328 West Superior street:

	Bid.	Asked.
Amalgamated	110⅞	111
American Dev. Co.		18
Anaconda	282
Atlantic	25¼	25¾
Arcadian		4½
Adventure	6¼	7
Allouez	39¼	40¼
Bingham	43¼	44
Black Mountain	13	13½
Copper Range	80½	81
Calumet & Hecla	685	700
Calumet & Arizona	117	119
Calumet & Pittsburg		36
Centennial	26½	27
Denn-Arizona		27
Daly West	15	16
Franklin	18⅜	18½
Granby	9½	10
Isle Royale	23	24
Junction		28¼
Lake Superior & Pitts.		43
Michigan	13½	13¾
Mayflower		1¼
Mass.	9½	10
Mohawk	57	58
Mercur. Cons.	65c	66c
North Butte	85½	86
Old Dominion	46⅞	46¾
Old Colony	1¼	1⅜
Osceola	98½	99½
Phoenix	1	1¼
Parrott	39¾	40
P. & D.		22¾
Quincy	96	97
Rhode Island	6⅜	6¼
Santa Fe	2	2¼
Shannon	6¼	6½
Tecumseh	13½	14
Trinity	10¾	11
U. S. Mining	57	58
Utah	64	64½
United Copper	73¾	74
Union Land	2½	3
Victoria	7½	7⅝
Wyandot	1¼	1⅜
Wolverine	134	134½
Winona	6½	7
Warren		18
Copper Queen		2
Keweenaw		16
Boston Con.	27¾	28
Nevada Con.	14½	14⅝
East Butte	8⅛	8½
Sullivan		2

Copper Gossip.

Boston to Paine, Webber & Co.: Rumors of finding the Baltic lode in section 16 caused considerable buying of Atlantic today, and the stock sold up quickly to 20¾; realizing started around this price and the close was weak around 25¼. The value of the strike has not yet been determined. Franklin showed a little better buying, closing at 18¾@⅞. The balance of the list was very dull, and a dragging market for the next two weeks is expected.

• • •

Houghton, Mich., to Paine, Webber & Co.: The rumor is persistent that the Baltic ledge has been intercepted at Atlantic section 16. Confirmation is lacking as to probable values.

Treasury Balances.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $149,757,-962; gold, $74,881,179; gold certificates, $46,-607,550.

Bank Statement.

New York, Feb. 24.—The statement of the clearing house banks for the five days this week shows that the banks hold $5,125,725 over the legal reserve requirements. This is a decrease of $664,200 under last week. The statement follows: Loans, $1,049,301,800; decrease, $3,078,800; deposits, $1,042,298,700; decrease, $6,334,400; circulation, $50,778,200; decrease, $189,000; legal tenders, $80,063,200; increase, $624,900; specie, $185,637,200; decrease, $2,872,700; reserve, $265,700,400; decrease, $2,247,800; reserve required, $260,574,675; decrease, $1,685,600; surplus, $5,125,725; decrease, $664,200; ex-United States deposits, $7,250,575; decrease, $656,325.

New York Money.

New York, Feb. 24.—Money on call nominal; no loans. Time loans steady; 60 days, 90 days and 6 months, 5¼ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5½ per cent. Sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86.25@35 for demand and at $4.82.85@95 for 60 days; posted rates $4.83.½@4.84 and $4.87@½; commercial bills $4.82¾@⅞. Bar silver, 60½c; Mexican, 47½c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul.—Barrett & Zimmerman's report: A noted improvement in the movement of horses, but prices are still sluggish, owing to the heavy receipts of the last few days. The demand for horses is now centered to farm horses and general purpose horses, while the demand for all other classes is slow. The following prices mark the closing of today's market:

Drafters, extra	$160@185
Drafters, choice	140@160
Drafters, common to good	125@140
Farm mares, extra	135@150
Farm mares, choice	120@135
Farm mares, common to good	75@120
Delivery, choice	125@150
Delivery, common to good	75@125

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Cattle receipts, 300. Steady; beeves, $3.70@6.25; cows, $1.60@4.65; heifers, $2.50@5; calves, $6@8; good to prime steers, $5.35@6.25; poor to medium, $3.70@5.30; stockers and feeders, $2.75@4.70. Hogs—Receipts, 15,000; market strong to 5c higher; estimated Monday, $48,000; mixed and butchers, $6.10@6.32½; good heavy, $6.25@6.35; rough heavy, $6.10@6.20; light, $6.05@6.27½; pigs, $5.75@6.10; bulk of sales, $6.20@6.30. Sheep receipts, 1,500; strong; sheeep, $3.25@5.75; yearlings, $5.75@6.50; lambs, $5.25@7.10.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Feb. 24.—The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of 2@3 points on old crop months, to an advance of 1 point on October. Trading was comparatively quiet and prices at first sagged off as a result of somewhat disappointing cables and Southern selling. Liverpool and the continent were buying, however, and as soon as the absence of complete March liquidationwas noted the market turned steadier on change with prices during the middle of the morning about one point net higher. The weather map showed considerable rain in the central belt and the week end figures restricted large takings of American cotton.

Cotton futures closed barely steady; closing bid, February, 10.22; March 10.33; April 10.35; May, 10.46; June, 10.56; July, 10.64; August, 10.56; September, 10.32; October, 10.22; November, 10.25; December, 10.26. Spot closed quiet; mid ups 10.80; do gulf, $11.05. Sales, 1,000 bales.

St. Paul Live Stock.

St. Paul, Feb. 24.—Cattle—Receipts 100; quiet and unchanged. Hogs—Receipts 2,400; 5c higher; range, $5.95@6.17½; bulk, $6@6.05. Sheep—Receipts none; steady; $3.75@6; lambs, $4.50@6.50.

NARROWLY ESCAPED.

Delirious Man Nearly Run Over by Train at Bemidji.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A man named Spaulding, who has been confined in the county pest house, suffering with an attack of diphtheria, narrowly escaped being run over and instantly killed by a train yesterday. Spaulding was taken to the pest house, several days ago, and since that time has been partially delirious. Yesterday afternoon he escaped from the house where he was confined and ran down the Red Lake railroad. Reaching the overhead bridge which crosses the Great Northern railway, he descended to the rails of the latter and started down that line toward Bemidji. He got as far as the switch at the "Y" when his foot caught in the frog of the switch and held him captive. The westbound passenger train was coming from Bemidji, at full speed, and it was only by the most desperate efforts of parties who saw Spaulding's plight that his foot was released before the passenger thundered by. Another moment's delay, and Spaulding would have been ground to pieces under the wheels of the passing train.

WALTER W. CARR BROKER,

PRIVATE WIRES.

MANHATTAN BUILDING.

Phones 1805.

Reference—City National Bank.

Unlisted Copper Letter.

Feb. 24, 1906.

C. & A.	116	117½
C. & P.	35¾	36¼
L. S. & P.	42¾	43½
Junction	27¾	28¼
P. & D.	23¾	23½
Black Mountain	12⅝	13½
Keweenaw	15	16
American		14½
Butte & London		2½
Copper Queen (Idaho)	1¾
East Butte	8	8½
Manhattan	6
Shattuck	43
Warren	17	17½
Wolv. & Ariz.	6	6½

The market today at a standstill, with practically no change in prices. Annual statement Bonanza Circle Co. will be given out about March 15th, and it is expected that Calumet & Arizona will show a surplus of $2,500,000 or more.

L. D. HINKLEY. M. J. REGAN.

THE MILWAUKEE and MINERAL POINT MINING EXCHANGE

HINKLEY, REGAN & CO.

357 Broadway, Milwaukee, Wis.

Brokers and DEALERS in Southwestern Wisconsin Lead and ZINC Mines, Shares in Mines and Drilling Propositions.

PATRONAGE OF INVESTORS SOLICITED

DEPOSITARY FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF MILWAUKEE.

DO NOT INVEST IN

MANHATTAN

Until You See My Manhattan

SPECIAL MARKET LETTER

IT IS THE

SAFEST GUIDE FOR INVESTORS

I have a special representative on the ground every minute watching developments, and can tell you in which stocks to invest and which to avoid. Send for it today. It means money to you.

G. S. JOHNSON, Broker,

P. O. Box 566. Goldfield, Nevada.

BONANZA CIRCLE STOCKS

Telephones—Duluth, 1408. Zenith, 971. Headquarters 404-405 Palladio Bldg. Duluth, Minnesota.

FRED H. MERRITT

I devote my entire time to buying and selling on commission and guarantee best prices. I confine myself to the most active stocks and make a specialty of large orders.

My personal customers buy on the low and sell on the high. The following prices prevailed Saturday, Feb 24, 1906:

COMPANY.	Open.	High	Low	Close.
North Butte	$85.50	$86.00	$85.50	$85.50B
Calumet & Arizona	116.00	116.00	116.00	116.00B
Calumet & Pittsburg	36.25	36.25	35.50	35.75A
Lake Superior & Pittsburg	43.00	43.00	42.50	42.75A
Pittsburg & Duluth	23.00	23.00	22.50	22.50A
Junction	28.25	28.25	27.75	27.75A
American Development Company	14.00	14.00	13.50	13.75A
Warren Realty & Development Co.	17.50	17.50	16.75	17.00A
Denn-Arizona	24.50	24.50	23.50	23.75A
Black Mountain	12.50	13.00	12.50	12.75A
Keweenaw Copper Co.	15.50	15.50	15.00	15.00B
Butte & London Copper Co.	2.50	2.50	2.50	2.50A
Greene Consolidated	26.50	27.00	26.50	26.50B

LATEST NEWS:—

Today's market has been very slow with a decided sagging tendency, the indications are that some snaps will be in sight this afternoon. Some of the stocks are certainly on the bargain counter, and the best-posted traders are taking on their favorites when offered at snappy prices. As a rule quiet days are followed by great activity as the buyers become acquainted with the prices and send in their buying orders to take advantage of current conditions. The prices fluctuate sufficiently so that the traders are making good money in this market by selling on the advances and repurchasing on the declines.

JOE GANS SAYS

His Fight With Jimmy Britt in 1904 Was Fixed.

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—Another scandal, and a highly odorous one, has been sprung in connection with the San Francisco pugilistic game. Joe Guns, after a year lagging with Jimmy Britt, is out flat-footed that the announcement that the fight the pair participated in on Oct. 31, was a rank fake.

In an interview Gans touched upon several points that are not mentioned in his signed statement. He said: "Al Hereford told me four days before the fight that it had been arranged for me to win the match on a foul. Hereford said he had agreed for me that I was to let Britt make a good showing so as to improve his reputation as a fighter, and that Britt would undertake to foul me before five rounds were boxed.

"I was very much dissatisfied, and asked Hereford why he had arranged things that way. His reply was, 'Joe, you couldn't get Britt into the ring in any other way.'

The circumstances of the Britt

The Finest Cafes at Head of the Lakes
Are in connection with
The Spalding and Hotel Superior
Special Monthly Rates for the Winter now in effect at both Hotels.
American or European Plans.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY
LOW COLONIST ONE-WAY RATES
Feb. 15th to April 7th, inclusive.
$25.00 — Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, Vancouver, Victoria and other North Pacific Coast points.
$22.50—Nelson, B. C., Rossland, B. C., Spokane, Walla-Walla, Wenatchee, Wash., and intermediate points.
$20.00—Helena, Butte, Great Falls, Kalispell and intermediate points.
$18.00—Hinsdale, Mont., and intermediate points.
$34.90—San Francisco, Los Angeles and all main line points in California.
$22.50—Denver, Pueblo, and Salt Lake City.
Round trip homeseekers rates of one fare plus $2.00 to Montana, Idaho, Washington (Wenatchee and east), and Oregon (Biggs and east), Feb. 6 and 20.
Low round-trip homeseekers rates to Southeastern and Southwestern states, Feb. 6 and 20.
City Ticket Office, 432 West Superior Street.

THE ORIENTAL TURKISH AND VAPOR BATH PARLORS
Seventh avenue west, opp. the Incline, have the most modern and complete equipment in the Northwest. The up-to-date treatment for rheumatism and kindred diseases. Prices 25c and 50c

OUR LEADERS—
Straight Whiskies—Cedar Brook and Maryland Rye.
Blended Whiskies—Old Cabinet and Live Oak.
COOK'S BUFFET

Busy People Need
NEURALINE
They cannot stop work for
Neuralgia, Headaches, La Grippe, or Pains.
When chilliness, sneezing and general aching of the body announce Colds or La Grippe, stop it by taking a few NEURALINE powders according to directions.
Price, 2 Powders 25 cents
Ask your druggist for Neuraline. Manufactured by EUREKA MEDICAL CO., South Bend, Ind.

IT'S NECESSARY
As well as convenient to have one of our cabinets in your office. Brush and comb, soap and clean towels for $1.00 per month.
YALE LAUNDRY CO.,
Towel Supply Dep't.

Examination FREE
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
DR. BEST,
Rooms 1 and 2, 26 W. Superior St.

WHITE OAK Timbers.
WOODRUFF LUMBER CO.

WE TEST EYES
as well as,if not better, than any one else in Duluth. Our prices are lower than the other good specialists.
C. D. TROTT No. 3 West Superior St

Edison the Wizard!
We are headquarters for Edison Phonographs and the famous Gold Moulded records—the No-Scratch kind. Machines sold on the Easy Payment plan.
B. F. HATHAWAY,
200, 201, 202 Alworth Building.
Phones: Office, Zenith, 261; res., Zen. 329-X

LABOR

TALK OVER LONG HOURS

Trades and Labor Assembly Men Decide to Keep Out.

Will Not Attempt to Help Street Car Men Now.

Union meetings:

Monday—Retail Clerks, Labor World hall; Teamsters, Labor World hall; Stone Masons, Axa hall; Tug Firemen and Linemen, Labor World hall.

Tuesday—Carpenters, Rowley hall; Machinists, 221 West Superior street; Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, Labor World hall; Sheet Metal Workers, Labor World hall.

Wednesday—Marine Engineers, Lyceum building; Meat Cutters, Labor World hall; Steamfitters, Labor World hall; Plasters, Kalamazoo hall.

Thursday—Steam Engineers, Lyceum building; Stationary Engineers, Axa hall; Electrical workers, Labor World hall.

Friday—Leather Workers, Labor World hall; Iron Moulders, Sloan's hall; Bricklayers, Axa hall.

Saturday—Bakers and Confectioners, Kalamazoo hall; Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders, Axa hall; Brewery Workers, Kalamazoo hall; L. T. P. A., Labor World hall.

Sunday—Typographical union, Labor World hall; Theatrical Stage Employes, Lyceum theater.

* * *

Efforts to interest the Trades and Labor assembly in a movement to secure shorter hours and even organization for the motormen and conductors employed on the Duluth street cars, were spirited, but short lived, at the session of the assembly last evening.

A motion to have the executive committee of the assembly take an active hand in affairs by working either quietly or openly for the shortening of the street car men's hours and for bringing them into the union, was lost by a large vote.

The sentiment of the assembly seemed to be that the street car men themselves were satisfied and if they wanted to form a union, they would communicate their wishes to some union leader. Until the receipt of some communication, the assembly felt that it should keep its hands out of the affair.

The motion was inaugurated with the report of Henry Deroche of the assembly's council committe. Mr. Deroche recounted the efforts of Alderman Barnes to probe the labor situation, where it concerned the number of days that a man should work, and suggested that the assembly take a decided and obvious stand on the question. Mr. Deroche explained that the street car men were those whose conditions it was proposed to better.

A motion to have the assembly's executive committee act for the body in the matter, was greeted with a storm of disapproval. It was evident that the majority of the members present felt that it was not the place or the time for the assembly to wage a campaign to right the wrongs of the traction company's employes.

It was T. D. Flynn who suggested that an effort be made at once to bring the motormen and conductors into a union, and his attitude had the vigorous support of John McDonald, vice president of the assembly.

Many arguments were presented against the motion. P. J. Freshney declared that the railway men had not shown any desire to join the labor ranks, and further than that, they were not entitled to secure charters, because many of them had been on the wrong side of the fence in the street car troubles of days gone by. Mr. Freshney's arguments seemed to touch a popular chord.

The motion lost all the chances it ever had when James Blackwood spoke. Mr. Blackwood declared that he had a brother-in-law who was in the employ of the street railway company, and, in fact, was one of the old timers with stripes of honor on his sleeve. He informed his brethren that every month the men were given different runs, and the oldest in the service got "their pick" of them. They invariably took the longest, so that they could work the most hours and earn the most money.

"How are you going to organize the men who are dead anxious to work fifteen or sixteen hours a day," asked Mr. Blackwood. And the motion was lost.

John H. Norton delivered an interesting and eloquent address to the assembly. Mr. Norton urged the union men to continue their political committees and take as active a part of politics as was practical, in order that their interests might not suffer. He urged them to keep in close touch with the members of the city council, other city officials and congressmen.

Henry Perreault, formerly president of the assembly but who for the past six months has been in Winnipeg, told of labor conditions there. He said that greatest fight in Canada in the printers' strike was in Winnipeg and that a settlement of the troubles there would mean an end of the struggle in the entire dominion.

Mr. Pereault was given a warm welcome back to the local assembly, of which he was such an active member while here. He will probably remain in the city right along and renew his relations with the assembly, although not as its president.

A telegram will be sent from the assembly to President Roosevelt, protesting against his signing the bill abolishing the eight hour day for alien labor on the Panama canal.

Grandparents Adopt Child.

Unable because of her physical condition to give her little daughter the care she needs, Mrs. Edith Storms has given the child up for adoption by its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Macfarlane. The facts concerning the mother's circumstances were set forth in an affidavit, before Judge Dibell yesterday, and the court made the order for adoption, satisfactory showing being made that the grandparents can and will properly care for the child. Mrs. Storms, who was granted a divorce some time ago, set forth in her affidavit that she is ill and cannot longer give her daughter a good home or the advantages of an education.

A DIFFERENCE IN LUNGS.
In the Edinburgh University three human lungs lie side by side. One is of an Eskimo and is snow white. In life, this would be ruddy with rich blood. Another is that of a coal-miner and is black. The other is of a town dweller and is a dirty slate gray, as are the lungs of most city residents. That's why consumption thrives in cities.
One reason why Scott's Emulsion does so much to keep down consumption is because it helps to keep the lungs clean and supplies them with rich, red blood. It makes the lungs germ-resisting. If the body is run down and health is at a low ebb Scott's Emulsion will build it up quickly and permanently.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street New York.

SELLS ALL ITS NORWAY LUMBER

Virginia Lumber Company Disposes of Big Stock for 1906.

The Virginia Lumber company is reported to have made the sale of 11,000,000 feet of lumber for a total consideration of about $225,000. Of this amount 10,000,000 feet is said to be Norway and the remainder white pine. The lumber is to be shipped to Cleveland the coming spring.

It is understood that the Edward Hines Lumber company of Chicago, which has been so large an operating concern in Northern white pine for several years past, is making preparations to enter into the yellow pine lumber manufacture in the South. The company is said to own 350,000 acres of pine land in Mississippi, fourteen miles from Gulfport, containing about 5,000,000,000 feet of timber. In case logging operations are started a railroad will be constructed from the timber tract to the sawmills at Gulfport.

German and French Taught
in class or private. Address Prof. Jacob A. Werull, P. O. box 156.

IN POLITICS.

Although not all the county officers whose terms expire this year have announced themselves as candidates for re-election, or filed their affidavits for renomination, it is pretty well understood that they will do so before the time of filing, with the one exception of county attorney, Mr. McClintock. The terms of the office of six county officials expire this year.

One has already filed affidavit for renomination, two have admitted their intention of doing so, and two others, while they have not expressed themselves, are understood, through their friends, to be getting ready to line themselves up for renomination.

Only one official, the county attorney, J. M. McClintock, has announced an intention to keep out of the political race this fall. There has been one filing for his office, made by Charles E. Adams, with announcement by another candidate, John H. Norton, that he will also attempt to secure a nomination on the Republican ticket.

* * *

County Auditor Odin Halden has announced his desire for renomination on the Republican ticket to succed himself, and has filed for the office. Thus far no other Republican has been heard of who will run in opposition to Mr. Halden, although several are known who would be candidates if Mr. Halden were out of the race. Whether any Democrat will aspire to the county auditorship, who has the confidence or the hope that he may overcome Mr. Halden's former large majorities, is a question, with the probabilities rather in Mr. Halden's favor.

* * *

M. C. Palmer, who has been register of deeds for the past two terms, says that he will file his nomination papers for the same office on the Republican ticket, when the proper time comes. Mr. Palmer has been an efficient officer, and the business of his office has grown to a large extent during his administration. So far as can be learned Mr. Palmer is due to have strong support from the ranges. His friends from the range say there has been nobody in that part of the county mentioned in opposition, and if there is to be any local opposition it has not yet developed.

* * *

Sheriff William J. Bates says he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed himself. Mr. Bates has served but one term, a fact that is considered by his friends as practically certain to give him another term, as it has been customary to give that official at least two terms. Previous to his nomination and election Mr. Bates was for several years a deputy sheriff, and in the course of his duty he has had the opportunity of getting well acquainted over the county, a thing that has and will stand him in good stead. No definite opposition to Mr. Bates' renomination on the Republican ticket has yet developed itself, although there have been some rumors that John T. Armstead might enter the race again. It has also been rumored that Charles G. Miller, the Democratic candidate for election for sheriff two years ago, is a possible candidate for renomination on the same ticket again this fall.

* * *

County Treasurer W. A. Holgate, who will be a candidate for renomination and re-election this year on the Republican ticket, will also have the advantage of the precedent of giving an officer at least two terms. As far as can be learned at the present stage of the political game he is not likely to have opposition in his own party for renomination and no Democratic candidates have yet been mentioned.

* * *

Probate Judge Middlecoff, who was elected on the Republican ticket two years ago is understood to be nearly ready to file for renomination. It has been rather expected in local circles that some opposition to Judge Middlecoff would have developed by this time, but thus far the field is clear for him. There are said to be some Democratic attorneys in the city who would like the office, but none have so far committed themselves as to warrant any mention of names.

* * *

Clerk of District Court J. P. Johnson can sit back this year and watch the other fellows hustle. He stood for re-election two years ago and his term does not expire until 1908, according to the common interpretation of the state law.

* * *

There will be no election of district judges until 1908, at which time the terms of Judges Cant and Ensign expire. Judge Dibell was re-elected two years ago and his term continues until 1912.

* * *

The friends of Judge T. C. Himebaugh are mentioning him as a probable candidate for the Republican nomination of representative from the Fiftieth district, that now represented by Andrew Miller and Capt. Ray T. Lewis. Judge Himebaugh was formerly municipal judge in the court at West Duluth when that part of the city was a town itself. He is a lawyer of long practice and is said to be well acquainted in the district where he resides. He has resided in this city for the past twenty years.

* * *

Judge Vivian Prince of Eveleth has announced it as being his desire to be a candidate for nomination on the Republican ticket as representative from the Forty-ninth district. P. R. Vail has not yet filed for the nomination of senator from the same district, although it is expected he will do so in due time. At present the senatorial field is occupied by L. A. Barnes of West Duluth, P. E. Dowling of Eveleth and W. C. Brown of Proctor as candidates who have already filed. Nothing particularly new was to be noted in this district the past week.

* * *

F. M. Shook of Aitkin is being talked of as a candidate from the Eighth congressional district to oppose J. Adam Bede as a Republican candidate for congress. The Aitkin Age has the following view of Mr. Bede's relation to Little Tammany:

"The question now is, does Congressman Bede owe Little Tammany anything? If this organization of spoilsmen were good and elected the Republican city ticket, one of their number was to have a land office appointment. This we believe was the deal. The Democratic mayor was elected by 877 majority. Little Tammany didn't seem to be in it—but, of course, they can dictate who will be the next congressman and that may land the appointment. Great is Little Tammany! Great is Jadam! All hail to your united wisdom and power. The 16,000 voters of the country districts rise to salute you."

* * *

Andrew Miller of the Fiftieth district has filed his declaration of intention to seek the Republican nomination for representative. Mr. Miller says that if elected he will support United States Senator Nelson, and vote for his re-election. He further states that he will, in the near future, state his position more fully on all the questions which the people are interested in, so far as politics is concerned.

* * *

Preliminary arrangements for the annual banquet of the Garfield club were made at a meeting held last night in Kalamazoo hall. The Republicans present appeared to be in harmony, and quite enthusiastic over the 1906 campaign. President T. H. Martin presided. It was voted that he could be authorized to appoint a committee on arrangements and a committee to secure a list of speakers for the occasion. These will be appointed within the next few days. The banquet will probably be held at the Spalding hotel, late in March, or possibly early in April, and it is planned to make it the largest and most elaborate of any yet held by the club.

It is too early to announce the speakers, but a strong effort will be made to get Senator Knute Nelson, Congressman J. Adam Bede and other men of national importance. The list of speakers will probably be the most attractive of any yet made out for these annual banquets, which is saying a good deal. It is expected that the candidates for the leading state offices will also be on hand.

Senator Laybourn last night spoke briefly but to the point concerning the action taken by the last legislature in regard to the primary election law, and expressed it as his opinion that the next session would witness the extension of this law so as to include all the elections held in the state, from municipal to the governorship.

Ex-Senator William E. Culkin, who is still being talked of as a possible candidate for congress from the Eighth district, spoke on "Progressive Republicanism." He said that the party had at all times been progressive, not following the theories or accepting the views of mere idealists, but allowing its progress to be regulated and controlled by the sound judgment of its masses, and asserted that all progressive legislation now on the federal statute books is the work of Republican statesmen, acting under the inspiration of the people from whose ranks they come. He said Republicanism was the servant and not the master of the people.

A number of new members were admitted to the ranks of the club last evening. During the past month more than thirty candidates, most of them young men, have been accepted as members.

Free $1.00 Package
Foso Cures Dandruff. Stops Falling Hair. Quickly Restores Gray or Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.
Foso Never Fails to Grow Hair on Bald Heads, Eyebrows or Lashes.

The Above Illustration Plainly Shows What Foso Has Done for Others. It Will Do As Much for You. Try It.
Men whose hair or beards are struggling or all gone, women whose tresses have been thinned by fever or hair falling out, requiring the use of switches; little children, boys and girls, whose hair is coarse and unruly, all find in this great remedy just the relief they want. Foso grows hair on bald heads, thickens eyebrows and lengthens eyelashes, restores gray or faded hair to its natural color, prevents thin hair, stops itching, cures dandruff, scurf of scalp, pimples, and making the hair of any man, woman or child long, heavy, silky and beautifully glossy. Fill out free coupon and mail today.
Free $1.00 Package Coupon
Fill out the blank lines below, cut out the coupon and mail to J. F. Stokes, Mgr., 5294 Foso Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio. Enclose ten cents in stamps or silver as evidence of good faith and to help cover packing, postage, etc., and the $1.00 package will be sent you at once by mail free of charge.
.....
.....
.....
Give full address—write plainly.

IN FOUR DAYS THIS STOCK ADVANCES 25%

E. D. QUIGLEY,
President of the Hoosac Tunnel and Mining Co., Idaho Springs, Colo.
To Whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that I have known Mr. E. D. Quigley for the past eleven or twelve years, and it affords me pleasure to say that he is a thoroughly reliable gentleman in every particular. Mr. Quigley is a mining man of large experience and has been eminently successful in the various enterprises in which he has engaged. He bears an excellent reputation for energy and conservatism, and he carries with him the best wishes of the undersigned for the future.
Very respectfully,
G. E. ARMSTRONG,
Asst. Cashier Capitol National Bank, Denver, Colo.

H. P. DICKINSON,
Mining and Metallurgical Engineer, 355 Dearborn St., Chicago.
"In my judgment the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co. has all the foundations for a permanent and exceedingly profitable business. It thoroughly conservative, and the element of safety for those investing in it is practically absolute.
"You need have no hesitation whatever in advising your friends and others to invest in the stock of the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co.
"H. P. DICKINSON,
"Mining Engineer."

In previous issues of this paper I have been persistent in calling your attention to the advisability of an investment in stock of the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co., of Idaho Springs, Colo.

I have told you all about the great ore bodies owned by this company, and from which mining engineers estimate that exceedingly large profits will accrue to the company.

I have explained the prevailing conditions at Idaho Springs, Colo., the oldest and one of the best mining camps in that State.

I have shown just how and just why the Hoosac Transportation Tunnel will be a big revenue producer, yielding annual profits of more than $1,000,000 from the transportation of the ores from the many active mines which lie along its route.

I have proven that tunneling is not an experiment in Clear Creek County by referring you to similar successful tunnels in that vicinity, which are paying fortunes in dividends.

I have illustrated how the Hoosac Concentrating Mill can earn from $30,000 to $50,000 annually from the reduction of these ores.

I have quoted from eminent authorities who know the conditions in this camp, and who give their unqualified endorsement of this proposition.

I have published references from banks and disinterested individuals of the highest standing, who recommend this company and its enterprise.

I have made a standing offer of one thousand dollars to any one who can prove that the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co. is not all that I claim for it.

In last Saturday's Herald is a full-page advertisement which will give you all the further details that any one can wish to know.

If you failed to read it, or if you have forgotten whot it said, go to the library and look for it in the newspaper files, and read it again—it will pay you to do so.

You have had time to investigate all my statements and to learn for yourself that I am telling you the truth.

I am not selling "Blue Sky" or "Gold Bricks."

I am offering a splendid opportunity for investment in an honorably managed and exceedingly profitable enterprise.

This is not a speculation.

On the contrary, it is one of the cleanest, well founded and legitimate business projects ever placed before the public, and combines all the advantages of three of the greatest dividend paying industries of the world—Mining, Manufacturing and Transportation.

Go to the nearest news stand and get the Feb. 22d issue of Leslie's Weekly, the White House Wedding Number, and read the article, "Tunneling Under Gold-Ribbed Mountains," written by Mr. Henry Sheaf Beardsley, the regular staff correspondent of that paper, who has personally visited the Clear Creek County mines and who tells you the truth about the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co.

The article is a graphic description of that most profitable and fascinating of all money-making industries—Mining as a Business.

What Mr. Beardsley has told you in this week's issue of Leslie's Weekly I have been trying to tell you for weeks past at the expense of valuable newspaper space, and what I said then, I repeat here—Stock of the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co. is a Safe Investment.

Two months ago you could have bought this stock for 35c a share, and in two years I believe it will be selling from $4.00 to $8.00 a share.

You can buy this stock today for 55c a share, or 60c a share on time payments of 10 per cent down and the balance in nine monthly payments of 10 per cent each.

To secure stock at this price you must act today, for the price positively will advance to 70c a share cash and 75c a share on time payments, taking effect next Thursday, midnight, March 1st, 1906.

THIS IS YOUR LAST CHANCE TO BUY AT THIS PRICE.

Why not make this profit yourself? Idle money makes no man rich.

Immediate action is necessary to secure this price. Write today and if you haven't time for a letter to reach me, then telegraph at once.

Absolutely no subscription will be honored which is not received (or else postmarked) on or before Thursday, midnight, so take no chances of failing to get your remittance in on time, but ACT TODAY.

J. A. TOWNSEND,
Capitalist,
Who Personally Investigated and Purchased a Large Block of Stock.
Chicago, Jan. 18, 1906.
Pierce Underwood, Chicago, Financial Agent, Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co.
Dear Sir:—
I am glad to report that I have made a careful and personal investigation of the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co. enterprise of Idaho Springs, Colo., and found it not only all you represented it to be, but much better.
I have sent you my subscription for myself and friends for a large block of this stock, which speaks for itself.
Yours with congratulations,
J. A. TOWNSEND,
Ellsworth Bldg., Chicago.

PIERCE UNDERWOOD,
Specialist in Profitable Investments, 140 Dearborn St., Chicago, Financial Agent of the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co.
I have employed the best experts to investigate the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co. enterprise, and report upon it. I have also personally visited the properties and investigated same, as well as the reputation of the management, and I could not afford to sell you one share of this stock on my endorsement were either the enterprise or the management undeserving of your patronage or your co-operation.
The stock, in my opinion, is cheap at any price less than $2.00 a share, and the enterprise is of sufficient magnitude to have permitted a capitalization of from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. The small capitalization means bigger dividend to the stockholder, and is the best evidence in the world of the decency of the management and the respect it holds for the confidence and financial co-operation of the public.

GRASP YOUR OPPORTUNITY
Fill Out, Cut Out and Mail This Coupon Today to
PIERCE UNDERWOOD,
Specialist in Profitable Investments,
140 DEARBORN ST., CHICAGO.
COUPON. D. H. 24.
....1906.
PIERCE UNDERWOOD, Hartford Bldg., Chicago.
Dear Sir: I hereby subscribe for ..... shares of the capital stock of the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co., Idaho Springs, Colo-rado, and agree to pay ..... per share. (55c per share if your remittance pays your subscription in full, or 60c if you pay on installments of 10 per cent now and 10 per cent per month.)
I enclose herewith my remittance for .....
Please acknowledge receipt. Yours truly,
Name .....
Address .....
.....
NOTE: No subscription for less than ten shares will be accepted. If you have $5.50 or can save $1.00 a month for six months, you can own ten shares in the company. More if you can pay for them. Dont' delay. Subscribe for all you can pay for, either at once or on monthly installments. YOU WON'T REGRET IT.
HOOSAC TUNNEL & MINING CO.
This stock is fully paid and non-assessable.

From January 11, 1906, issue of The Idaho Springs Mining Gazette: Mr. Underwood is the financial agent for the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Company, which speaks well for the company, as Mr. Underwood has for years refused to handle any mining securities without absolute knowledge as to their values.
The fact that the Hoosac Tunnel will now be pushed with great vigor has greatly increased the value of every property through which it will pass, and the way stocks are going up argues well for the future of both the Hoosac Company and properties upon the line of its tunnel.
From January 13, 1906, issue of The Idaho Springs Siftings-News: The tunnel is already equipped with a splendid plant of machinery, including a 100-horse power boiler and a ten-drill Leyner air compressor, and the mouth of the tunnel is located at a most advantageous point, being within a stone's throw of the Colorado & Southern railway and side tracks at the mouth of Trail Creek, where coal and supplies may be delivered at a small cost. This will permit of shipping the lowest grades of ore that can be encountered, and it need never be touched with a shovel, and when broken down in the stopes can be loaded into the tram cars from the chutes, after which it may be dumped directly into the railway cars for shipment to the smelters, or thrown into the crushing machinery of the concentrating mill.
Mining men familiar with the Hoosac unhesitatingly say that it is one of the most attractive mining tunnels in the district, and they predict that it will become an extremely profitable proposition.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

The second year class had charge of the program in chapel this week. Monday, Rev. J. C. Faries of the Glen Avon church, addressed the school. Tuesday, Margaret Craig sang, and Marie Schultz played. Wednesday morning, Friday, Rev. A. H. Wurtele of Trinity Mission, gave an interesting talk on the Magdalene islands.

* * *

School was closed Thursday and a day's vacation was enjoyed.

* * *

Miss Mingins, who has been giving lectures in the city during the past week, on kindergarten work, visited the school Tuesday morning and addressed the pupils at the chorus period. Following the address an informal reception was tendered her by the kindergarten girls.

* * *

The second term of the school year will close next Friday, and the third term will begin Tuesday, March 14. The examinations will probably be held Thursday and Friday of next week. The spring term is the one toward which all the seniors have been looking, for they will begin their teaching in the model school.

* * *

The juniors and seniors had an exciting game of basket ball at Harmony hall, Friday afternoon. There were plenty of rooters for both sides, and great interest was portrayed in the game, because it was the first the juniors and seniors had played together. The senior team—with their best player ill—managed to outplay their opponents and won the game with a score of 12 to 5. Several of the juniors on the team were laid up with sore arms and fingers before the game started, but they played a good game.

The senior team has the following members: Violet Robinson, captain, and forward; Olga Carlson, center; Mina Burbank, forward; Tessie Dolan and Ella Talboys, guards.

The junior team has Ellrose Taylor for a captain and center; guards, Flora Chisholm and Margaret Wolfe; forwards, Margaret Mitchell, Margaret Lutes. The game was umpired and refereed by Fred Ober and Asher Taylor.

The Popular Effervescent Cure for Constipation
TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.
Biliousness, Disordered Stomach
Contains no heart depressing, dangerous drugs.
Promptly effective. No griping or unpleasantness. Of such unusual excellence that it has been sold on merit more than 60 years.
At Druggists, 50c and $1, or by mail from THE TARRANT CO., 44 Hudson Street, N. Y.

Many High Grade Pianos
Are included in French & Bassett's sale. 10 to 50 per cent discount.

Columbus, O.
Use the Erie Railroad Short Line—the popular route—two through trains daily. Apply to E. R. Porch, traveling passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

The Great Discount Sale
At French & Bassett's has created a genuine sensation. 10 to 50 per cent discount.

QUIT "TRUSTING IN LOCATION," HERALD PUBLICITY WILL SELL GOODS IN A BARN!

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SHOPPING BY TELEPHONE.

	Old Phone.	New Phone.
MEAT MARKETS—
B. J. Toben	22	22
Mork Bros.	677-M	189
LAUNDRIES—
Yale Laundry	479	479
Lutes' Laundry	447	447
DRUGGISTS—
Boyce	163	163
COAL AND FUEL—
Ohio Fuel Co.	76	76
Finch Fuel Co.	1291	1291
Upham Coal Co.	256	485
FLORISTS—
Seekins & Le Borious	1356	1626
BAKERIES—
The Bon Ton		1166
ELECTRIC CONTRACTING—
Mutual Electric Co.	496	496
RUBBER STAMP WORKS—
Con. Stamp & Print Co.	702-K	755
PLUMBING AND HEATING—
McGurrin Plumbing & Heating Co.	815	983
STOVE REPAIR WORKS—
C. F. Wiggerts & Son	1154-K	554

FOR RENT—FLATS.

FOR RENT — FOUR-ROOM FURnished flat; water and electric light. 3 West Fourth street.

FOUR-ROOM BASEMENT FLAT; REpairs to suit tenant. 220 West Fourth street.

FOR RENT—FIVE-ROOM FLAT, BATH and all conveniences, 115 Seventh avenue west. $20. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT THREE-ROOM FLAT, water, light and sewer; rent $15 per month. C. H. Graves & Co., first floor, Torrey building.

FOR RENT—STORE BUILDING, FLAT and barn; fine location for saloon; first-class repair. Thomas W. Wahl & Co., 201 Exchange building.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

Six-room house at Hunter's Park, stone foundation, cellar, fruit trees, poultry houses, etc.; a bargain. Must be sold at once. Use of forty acres adjoining, fenced.

Lot 50 by 150, two blocks from Washburn school, Hunter's Park, cheap, at $100.

Ten-acre tracts near Woodland, $25 and $30 per acre.

Farm lands in Douglas and Bayfield counties, Wisconsin, Carlton and St. Louis counties, Minnesota.

N. S. HEARDSLEY,
409 First National Bank Bldg.

MARTIN L. McMINN,

Real Estate, Timber, Farm Lands.

314 Burrows Building.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE; ASsessments paid; $2,000. 1123 East Fifth street.

FOR SALE — TEN-ROOM HOUSE, LOcated at 311 East First street; has nice cemented cellar, water, sewer, toilets, large new barn; call at premises upstairs, or 208 East First street, or correspond with owner, S. Goldish, St. Paul, Minn.

FOR SALE—GOOD SIX-ROOM HOUSE. Inquire F. A. Pettibone, 30 Orange street, Duluth Heights.

MINNEAPOLIS.

SEND US DESCRIPTION OF YOUR Minneapolis real estate. We can sell it for you. Minneapolis Trust company, Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED—TO BUY.

WANTED — SECOND-HAND CHURN drill and full outfit; state condition and price. Address room 6, Dodge block.

DELIVERY HORSE, ABOUT 1,100 pounds. 1504 East Superior street.

GOOD, SECOND-HAND SAFE. Address 1423 West Michigan street. Zenith 'phone 1040X.

WANTED TO BUY—A GOOD HORSE about 1,400 to 1,500 weight. Address H. I. S., Herald.

STANDING TIMBER IN MINNESOTA. Address V 9, Herald.

OLD CLOTHES BOUGHT.

G. SHAPIRO, 721 W. SUP. ST., BUYS and sells old clothes. Zenith 1582-X.

BIRTHMARKS REMOVED.

MANICURING, FACE AND SCALP treatments. Miss Kelly, opp. Glass Blk.

STOVE REPAIRS.

DULUTH STOVE REPAIR WORKS, 217 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

STENOGRAPHY.

GRACE BARNET, FIRST NAT. BLDG.

UPHOLSTERING and REPAIRING

ED OTT, No. 6 W. First St. Both 'phones.

MARINE WHISTLES.

BELLS AND LIGHTS
MADE RIGHT.
PRICES RIGHT.

DULUTH GAS ENGINE WORKS,
Minnesota Point, Duluth.

CLAIRVOYANT.

PROF. LEROY, THE EMINENT CLAIRvoyant and magnetic physician, has reduced his fee for consultation to 50c for a short time only. He gives readings and treatment daily. He gives advice on business, speculation, health, love, courtship, marriage and all affairs of life. Hours, 9 to 9. Parlors, 1209-1211 Tower avenue, Superior, Wis.

FORTUNE TOLD FREE — SEND A 2-cent stamp, name, address, birthdate, and I will tell your fortune free. I tell more than all others and it comes true. Please try me and see. Jose Irving, Dept. 23, Box 98, Hammond, Ind.

WANTED—TO RENT.

FOUR ROOMS UNFURNISHED FOR housekeeping by married couple. Central. Address M 81, Herald.

WANTED TO RENT—LARGE UNFURnished room; East end preferred. G 92, Herald.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

REAL ESTATE, FIRE INSURANCE AND RENTAL AGENCIES.

Wm. Prindle Co., Lonsdale building.
John A. Stephenson, Wolvin building.
Chas. P. Craig & Co., 220 W. Sup. St.
L. A. Larson & Co., 102 Providence.
'Phones 253.

FOR RENT—ROOMS.

SMALL FURNISHED ROOM FOR rent. 208 West Third street.

FOR RENT — NICELY FURNISHED room. 221 Fifth avenue west.

FOR RENT—FRONT, COZY ROOM. 225 Lake avenue north.

FOR RENT—PLEASANT FURNISHED room, electric light, bath, heat; $6 per month. 456 Mesaba avenue.

FOR RENT — TWO FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping. 134 Mesaba avenue.

TO RENT—SUITE OF ROOMS FOR light housekeeping at 120 First avenue west. Inquire 28 West Second street.

FOR RENT — LARGE, PLEASANT, warm room; lake view. Also small inside room. Central, modern conveniences; reasonable to gentlemen. M 68, Herald.

FOR RENT — NICELY FURNISHED double room, also single room, in private family. G 72, Herald.

FOR RENT—LARGE UNFURNISHED room. Very desirable. Every convenience. Address M 82, Herald.

FOR RENT—SIX ROOMS AT 108 EAST Second street.

FOR RENT—TWO FURNISHED ROOMS all conveniences. Call 631 West First street.

FURNISHED ROOM, SUITABLE FOR two young ladies, at 631 West First street.

FOR RENT — MODERN FURNISHED room. 204 East Third street.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM. 528 West Second street.

FOR RENT—HOUSES.

FOR RENT — SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE, fine bath, shades and several pieces of furniture for sale, cheap. 226 East Third street.

NEW FIVE-ROOM COTTAGE, BATH, toilet, pantry, clothes closets, hardwood floors, gas, electric lights, $15; water free. Inquire Randall, 1717 Piedmont avenue.

FOR RENT—6-ROOM HOUSE, $18 PER month. Call 329 East Sixth street.

FOR RENT — DETACHED HOUSE, eight rooms, furnace heat, bath, gas. Apply on premises, 925 East Second street.

FOR RENT—NINE-ROOM HOUSE, HOT water heat; all conveniences. 702 West Second street, $35. N. J. Upham Co., 400 Burrows building.

FOR RENT—SEVEN-ROOM DWELLing, 102 South Sixteenth avenue east; possession March 1. Telephone 1133-R Rent, $32.50.

FOR RENT — NINE-ROOM HOUSE, Park Terrace, Eighth avenue west and First street; strictly modern; steam heat included. Apply 206 Lyceum building.

HORSES FOR SALE.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION.
HORSES AT AUCTION.

HORSES AT AUCTION. GREAT horse auction sales every Wednesday. Remember that every horse sold at auction must be just as represented or money cheerfully refunded. From 500 to 1,000 head of horses and mules offered at auction every Wednesday. Private sales daily.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN.

Great Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul, Minn.

Take Interurban street cars from either city.

FOR SALE—GOOD HORSE FOR FAMily use, also open runabout, top buggy and cutter. G 61, Herald.

FOR SALE—GRAY CHIEF, FULL brother to Black Chief, 2:22¼; will take big horse as part pay. Inquire of Dr. Confer, 330 Fifty-fourth avenue west and Ramsey street, West Duluth.

RECEIVED — TWO CARLOADS OF logging horses; prices lowest. L. Hammel company.

FOR SALE—YOUNG GREY MARE; 5 years old; weight 1,450; will work single or double; also good delivery horse, weight 1,300. 1219 East Seventh street.

PRIVATE SALES DAILY.
A large assortment to select from, good horses at right prices.
BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN,
Midway Horse Market,
St. Paul.

BARRETT & ZIMMERMAN
Have the largest assortment of horses in the entire Northwest. Auction every Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Private sales daily. Part time given.

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST — ON WEST DULUTH STREET car, or at Fifth avenue west and Superior or on Fourth street West car, between 5 and 6 p. m., Feb. 23, 1906, small pocketbook containing two postoffice orders, two rings, one pair ear rings and small change. Finder please return to 228 Second avenue east and receive reward.

LOST ON SUPERIOR STREET SILVER star with letters M. S. S. S. on. Return to Herald office.

LOST—A POCKETBOOK BETWEEN Fourth avenue west and Third avenue west on Superior street. Return to 322 West Second street.

PICTURE FRAMING.

DECKER'S, 16 SECOND AVENUE W.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

LOAN OFFICES.

WE LOAN MONEY ON WATCHES, diamonds and all articles of value. Established the longest. The most reliable up-to-date place in the city. All business strictly confidential. Fire and burglar-proof safes. Crescent Brokers, 413½ West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY LOANED ON FURNIture, pianos, cattle, horses, wagons and all kinds of personal property; also to salaried people on their own notes. Easy payments.
WESTERN LOAN COMPANY,
521 Manhattan Building.
New 'phone, 936. Old 'phone, 759-R.

$1 PER WEEK PAYS BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST on a $20 loan. Other amounts in like proportion. ACTUAL REBATE given if paid before due.

DULUTH FINANCE CO.,
301 Palladio Bldg.

MONEY TO LOAN ON WATCHES, diamonds, furs and all goods of value, from $1.00 to $1,000. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street. Look for electric sign. Established 1887.

MONEY TO LOAN ON RIFLES AND shotguns. We keep all guns until next season before they are sold. Keystone Loan & Mercantile company, 16 West Superior street.

MONEY TO LOAN, ANY AMOUNT. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange building.

UNION LOAN CO. makes loans, buys notes and mortgages. 210 Palladio.

MONEY SUPPLIED TO SALARIED people and others upon their own notes, without security, easy payments. Offices in fifty-one cities. Tolman, 609 Palladio building.

TO LOAN $3,000 ON IMPROVED PROperty. Address M. 72, Herald.

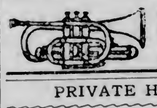

BOARD AND ROOM WANTED.

WANTED — ROOM AND BOARD IN West end in modern house. E 81, Herald.

MORRISON'S TAILORING.

YOU CAN HAVE A GOOD SUBSTANtial, stylish suit made at Morrison's for less than you can get the same quality for anywhere. Come and see D. M. Morrison. 8 Lake avenue south.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

MUSIC and musical merchandise of every description. Edison phonographs, band and orchestra instruments, pianos and organs. INGVALD WESTGAARD, 7 and 9 First Avenue West.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. HANSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, female complaints. 413 Seventh avenue east. Old 'phone, 1594; Zenith, 1235.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

DR. BURNETT—Top floor Burrows Bldg.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

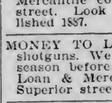

WANTED — HIGH-CLASS BUSINESS man to manage state agency. Salary not exceeding $2,000 and commissions. Investment, $1,000 and upwards required. Only capable business men able to furnish unquestionable references need apply. Address Box 536, Madison, Wis.

CORPORATION CONTROLLING ESTablished business desires services of energetic and responible man to manage branch office. Investment, $1,000 upwards. References regarding ability required. Salary, $200 monthly and commissions. Manager, 18 River St., Chicago.

CASH FOR YOUR REAL ESTATE OR business, no matter where located. If you desire a quick sale, send us description and price. Northwestern Business Agency, 313 X Bank of Commerce building, Minneapolis, Minn.

FOR SALE—MEAT MARKET WITH good business and good location. Inquire G 33, Herald.

PERSONAL.

PURE, SAFE AND SURE!

Dr. Roger's Tansy, Pennyroyal and Cotton Root Pills. A test of forty years in France has proved them to positively cure SUPPRESSION OF THE MENSES. Special Price reduced to $1.00 per box. Mailed in plain wrapper. Imported direct from Paris, France, by W. A. ABBETT, Druggist, Duluth, Minn., 201 West Superior street.

WE DESIRE WIFE FOR HONORABLE business man, age 46, worth $35,000; another, 52, worth $60,000; bachelor, 36, worth $18,000. Home & Comfort, Toledo, Ohio.

PERSONAL — LADIES! DR. STRICTland's Monthly Remedy relieves in five hours; safe and sure; box free. Send stamp for particulars. Crown Chemical company, Box 93, Milwaukee, Wis.

WANTED — THOSE WHO HAVE EYE trouble to call on Dr. Larson at Hotel Spalding, Saturday, March 3rd and 4th. Dr. Larson limits his practice to the diagnosing of defects of the eye and fitting glasses, the latest, most improved methods of the shadow test, and ophthalmoscopic examinations; regular visits to Duluth each month.

MORPHINE, OPIUM, LAUDANUM, COcaine habit mlyself cured; will inform you of harmless permanent home cure. Mary Baldwin, box 1212, Chicago.

SPANISH TAUGHT. 519 EAST FIFTH street.

FOR RENT — FINE PIANO, VERY reasonable terms to right party. 702 West Second street.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE

Stereopticon and moving picture outfit, complete show outfit for large or small entertainments. Song and lecture sets. A profitable business for party with small capital. Call at 431 West Michigan street.

FOR SALE—CORRECT MAPS OF CUYuna iron range. Morrison, 416 Torrey building.

PONY SLEIGH—AT A BARGAIN. ADdress M 92, Herald.

"SHAKESPEARE" STOCK BOUGHT and sold. Morrison, 416 Torrey Bldg.

FOR SALE—I HAVE SEVERAL ORgans for sale that cost from $100 to $200. Must be sold at once. Prices $15 to $60. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

HOUSE FOR SALE. CALL AT 2515 West Second street.

FOR SALE—GRAND 1,350 FAMILY horse; safe for ladies; 7 years old; 4 minute gait. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE—SECOND-HAND 8¾ BY 10 double cylinder, double drum, Ldgerwood hoisting engine. Clyde Iron works.

FOR SALE—200 SHARES OF EAGLE Mountain gold stock at $4.50. G 94, Herald.

FOR SALE — FINE ANGORA CAT, brown tabby, female, 1 year old, cheap, if taken at once. G 97, Herald.

FOR SALE— EIGHT DROP-HEAD Singer machines, $12.50, $17.50; two at $20; two at $22; two at $25. Some all but slightly used, and as good as new. Remember the place—the White Sewing Machine store, 106 West Superior street, opposite 10c Store.

DO YOU WANT AN AUTOMOBILE AT one-third of the original cost? Tell me what you are willing to pay, and I will send you a photograph from my list of slightly used machines. You will be surprised. C. O. Andrews, 324-184 La Salle street, Chicago.

CHICKERING PIANOS.
FISCHER PIANOS.

HOWARD, FARWELL & CO.,
17 West Superior Street.
W. J. Allen, Local Manager.
EXPERT PIANO TUNING.

FOR SALE—FURNITURE OF FOURroom flat; owner leaving city. Flat for rent; central location. B 50, Herald.

FOR SALE—BARGAIN IN OPHIR Tunnel Co. stock. Address P. O. box 227.

FOR SALE—THE CELEBRATED ADAM Schaaf piano, awarded world's fair medal. Established 1873; 10-year guarantee. Best piano on earth for the money; only at Lundberg's, 221 West Superior street.

FOR SALE — KITCHEN CABINET, gas range and other household furniture. Address W. R. B., Herald.

FOR SALE—LEASE OF FOURTEENroom rooming house, and furniture of seven bedrooms; must be cash. Parties leaving city. M 85, Herald.

FOR SALE—1905 DULUTH CITY DIrectory in good condition, bargain. Call at Herald office.

FOR SALE—COOK STOVE IN FINE condition; Jewell make; very cheap; no use for it. 5805 Oneida street. Old 'phone 1075-R.

FOR SALE—A FEW GOOD SECONDhand ranges. City Stove Repair Works, 331 East Superior street. Both 'phones.

FOR SALE—SMALL-SIZE DRESS COAT and vest, in first-class condition; a bargain. Address N. T. C., Herald.

THE GOPHER SHOE REPAIR WORKS does it while you wait.

WATCH REPAIRING.

WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING done promptly and in a thorough manner. J. Gruesen, 129 West Superior St.

COMPOUND and VAPOR BATHS.

WE CURE COLDS, RHEUMATISM, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, gout and all blood poisons, give magnetic compound vapor baths. No. 16 E. Sup. St. Mr. and Mrs. A. Ecker, proprietors.

Watch Repairing and Engraving.

W. S. W. BLAKE, WATCHMAKER, Kugler's drug store, 108 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn. Formerly with F. D. Day & Co.

PATENT ATTORNEYS.

INVENTORS, ATTENTION!—PATENTS in all countries promptly obtained, sold, leased, manufactured; models made; twenty-five years established; unexcelled reputation; inventors' book free. Address Patent Market, St. Paul, Minn.

SATIN TOILET SPECIALTIES.

It's true, common skin becomes satin skin using Satin skin cream and powder.

TENTS AND AWNINGS.

POIRIER & CO., 106 East Superior street.

CLEANING AND REPAIRING.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE; BEST OF workmanship. Suits pressed, 50c; pants, 15c. 118 First avenue west. Old 'phone 1480-L.

PALMIST.

CONSULT GIRARD, MATTERS OF business and domestic affairs. Parlors next to Bijou.

CREMONEA VIOLIN MAKER.

RARE AND OLD VIOLINS REPAIRED; modern violins regraduated so they will improve with age. I develop the fullest tone capacity of every violin submitted. Forty years' experience. Satisfaction guaranteed. P. Lambert, 124 E. 4th St.

UPHOLSTERING.

TELEPHONE YOUR UPHOLSTERING wants to Cameron. He will call at your residence with a complete assortment of coverings and estimate your work. Zenith 'phone 787. Bell, 325-L.

MUSICAL.

Piano lessons at your home by competent teacher. Latest and best methods. 25c a lesson. Address V 35, Herald.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—MEN TO LEARN BARBER trade. Now is the time to prepare for the "busy season." Write for "free" ill. catalog. Moler Barber Col., Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED — CANTHOOK MEN, UNloading logs; steady work for good men. Apply at foot of L avenue, Superior, near Murray-McCann mill. Edw. Hines Lumber company.

WANTED—FOR THE UNITED STATES marine corps, unmarried men between the ages of 21 and 35, able-bodied, of good character and temperate habits, citizens of the United States, or who legally declare their intention to become such; must speak, read and write English; marines serve at sea, on men-of-war, in all parts of the world, on land in our island possessions and at navy yards in the United States. Recruits desiring service in the Philippine Islands may be enlisted accordingly. Apply at 5 South Fifth avenue west Duluth.

$80 A MONTH SALARY AND EXPENses to men with rig to introduce our Guaranteed Poultry and Stock Remedies. Send for contract; we mean business and furnish best reference. G. R. Bigler Co., X 525, Springfield, Ill.

SALESMEN—SIDE LINE. WE WANT only a limited number of men. Sells to dry goods, hardware, furniture and general stores. Liberal commission. Sample is small. Trojan Mfg. Co., Station 2, South Bend, Ind.

WANTED — FOR UNITED STATES army, able-bodied unmarried men, between ages of 21 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write English. For information apply to recruiting officer, Torrey building, Duluth, Minn.

TWO EXPERIENCED DRY GOODS men, white goods and dress goods department, must be able to handle high class trade. Salary $75 and $100. Long & Miller, P. O. 135, Atlanta, Ga.

AN UP-TO-DATE UPHOLSTERY AND carpet salesman to take management of that department, must be good buyer. Salary, $1,800 per year. Address with references. Confidential Mgr., J. X. H. Co., 20 Whitehall street, Atlanta, Ga.

STEADY POSITION YEAR ROUND knitting hosiery for us at your home. $10 a week; machines furnished on easy payments; write for particulars, U. S. Woolen Co., Detroit, Mich.

HONEST YOUNG MAN TO TRAVEL, advertising and collecting. Staple line, $18 weekly and expenses. Kelbro., Manhattan building, Chicago.

THREE BRIGHT, HONEST YOUNG men to prepare for desirable position in government mail service. Begin with $800 salary. Opportunity for promotion. I. S., Herald.

WANTED — YOUNG MAN FOR WALL paper department; prefer one who has had experience. Apply at once. Freimuth's.

WANTED — ENERGETIC, TRUSTworthy man to work in Minnesota, representing large manufacturing company; salary $40 to $80 per month, paid weekly; expenses allowed. Address with stamp, J. H. Moore, Duluth, Minn.

WANTED — SALESMEN OF ABILITY and neat appearance to call on all merchants in their territory; elegant side line convenient to carry; good commissions; prompt remittance. Belmont Mfg. Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

GOOD PAY FOR EARNEST WORKERS everywhere distributing circulars, samples and advertising matter; no canvassing. Co-operative Advertising company, New York.

CAPABLE SALESMAN TO COVER Minnesota with staple line; high commissions with $100 monthly advance. Permanent position to right man. Jess H. Smith Co., Detroit, Mich.

BUSINESS MEN
BUSINESS MEN
BUSINESS MEN

Supplied with competent stenographers and accountants, FREE OF CHARGE.

Apply to
W. C. McCARTER, Business University.

EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY IN MINNEsota for salesman with ability to earn $2,000 and expenses annually selling jewelry assortments direct. Manufacturing Jewelers' Assortment company, Detroit, Mich.

SALESMAN—EXPERIENCED IN ANY line, to sell general stores in Minnesota an unexcelled specialty proposition; commissions and $35 weekly for expenses. The Continental Jewelry company, Cleveland, Ohio.

WANTED — SOLICITOR FOR STOCKS on plan that makes it easy to sell. Address G 96, Herald.

RELIABLE MAN OR WOMAN TO TRAvel, distribute samples, and employ agen' Local managers also. $18 a week and expenses. Ziegler Co., 225 Locust street, Philadelphia.

WANTED EVERYWHERE — HUSTlers to tack signs, distribute circulars, samples, etc.; no canvassing; good pay. Sun Advertising Bureau, Chicago.

WANTED — MAN HOLDING SECOND engineer's papers; steady job for steady sober man; work easy; good pay. E. W. Dibbell, Supt., Bay View power house.

WANTED—MAN OVER 21 TO TRAVEL for wholesale house; staple line; $15 per week and expenses to start; experience unnecessary; advancement. April 1. Address with stamped envelope, F. W. Potts, Sykes block, Minneapolis.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

BOOKKEEPER WITH KNOWLEDGE of stenography wants situation; can operate Underwood typewriter. Address G 96, Herald.

WANTED — POSITION AS CLERK, have had fifteen years' experience in general store. Can furnish A1 references. G 90, Herald.

EXPERT BOOKKEEPER WILL INstall specially economical system of accounting and do the work evenings or Sunday at low rate. Address M 73, Herald.

DR. KASSMIR'S TURKISH BATHS

POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM at our sanitarium. We have every modern facility for curing rheumatism, colds, la grippe. Our terms are from $10 to $15 per week. One week's treatment convinces you that our system is right. Examination and consultation free.
DR. M. Z. KASSMIR,
26 West Superior Street.
Ladies' baths upstairs. Look for the big electric sign.

CLOTHES WRINGERS REPAIR'D

RUBBER ROLLS REPLACED, AND extra parts of all makes of wringers; also we sell best high-grade wringers, washing machines, etc. Special agents for American Wringer company. Interstate Mercantile company, No. 221 East Superior street.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED — EVERY WOMAN TO TRY Dr. Le Gran's Female Regulator. Guaranteed. Kugler, Your Druggist, 108 West Superior street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1001 East Second street.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework; family of two. 1203 East Second street.

WANTED — GOOD GIRL FOR GENeral housework. Call 2806 West Third street.

WANTED—A GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Apply 205 East Third street.

GIRL WANTED AT ONCE FOR GENeral housework, at 730 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL; MUST be good cook; no washing. Apply 1721 East First street.

WANTED — FIRST-CLASS RESTAUrant cook and chambermaid at Sixth Avenue West hotel., 529 West Michigan street.

WANTED—AT ONCE, AN EXPERienced second girl. M 76, Herald.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework; no laundry work. Call between 6 and 8 p. m., Mrs. Stephen H. Jones, 1215 East Second street.

WANTED — GIRL TO DO CHAMBER work. 204 West First street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1902 East First street.

WANTED — COOK AT WEST HOTEL, 1915 West Superior street.

LADIES — TO DO PIECEWORK AT home; we furnish all materials and pay $7 to $12 weekly. Send stamped envelope to Royal company, 34 E. Monroe, Chicago.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 2028 East Second street.

WANTED—CHAMBERMAID AT 239 ST. Croix avenue.

WANTED — FIRST-CLASS DINING room girls, also girls for general housework and chambermaids. 26 Fourth avenue west. Old, 777-L. New, 178.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 1509 Jefferson street.

WANTED — COMPETENT GIRL FOR general housework. 1201 East Third St.

WANTED — A GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 316 Fifth avenue east.

WANTED—YOUNG GIRL FOR LIGHT housekeeping. 206 West Second street.

WANTED — GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 613 East First street.

WANTED — AT ONCE, COMPETENT waist and sleeve drapers and waist finishers, also plain sewers. Miss Lambert, 220 West Superior street.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

FIRST-CLASS DRESSMAKER WANTS sewing by the day. G 62, Herald.

WANTED — WORK BY THE DAY, washing and cleaning. 20½ East Fourth street.

WASHING TO TAKE HOME OR CURtains to do up. 421 East Fourth street.

LADY WANTS POSITION AS HOUSEkeeper; one capable of taking care of furnished rooms. G 63, Herald.

BOARD OFFERED.

LARGE, FRONT ROOM WITH BOARD for two gentlemen in private family. 130 West Third street.

BOARD AND NICELY FURNISHED rooms. 122 East First street.

BOARD AND ROOM, 117 E. THIRD ST.

FOR RENT—STORES.

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM, 121 SECond avenue west. Apply E. R. Jefferson.

DYE WORKS.

DULUTH DYE WORKS, 3 W. SUP. ST., 2023 W. Sup. St. Old, 1341-L; Zenith, 1334.

ZENITH CITY DYE WORKS, LARGEST and most reliable dye works in Duluth. First-class work guaranteed. Work called for and delivered. Both 'phones. 6 East Superior street.

CHEMIST AND ASSAYER.

C. F. JOYCE, 681 MANHATTAN BLDG. Old 'phone 1614.

COD LIVER OIL.

1905 IMPORT COD LIVER OIL. Alfred Swedberg, 2015 West Superior St.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

MRS. A. FERGUSON, GRADUATE MIDwife, 617 Fifth avenue east. Also private hospital. Old 'phone 434-L.

CIVIL ENGINEER.

DULUTH ENGINEERING CO.—W. B. Patton, Mgr., 613 Palladio Bldg. Specifications prepared and construction superintended for waterworks, sewers, etc.

FIRE INSURANCE

WRITTEN IN BEST COMPANIES. Cooley & Underhill, 207 Exchange Bldg.

IF YOU WILL BRING

Suit to 10 Fourth avenue west, we press it for 50c; pants, 15c. J. Oreckovsky.

TO EXCHANGE.

TO EXCHANGE—FINE, NEW UPright piano, standard make, for horse and buggy. Merchant tailoring, groceries, meats, plumbing, carpeting, or anything I can use. Lundberg, 221 West Superior street.

MEDICAL.

FOR WOMEN ONLY—DR. RAYMOND'S Pills. Women's Monthly Regulator, has brought happiness to thousands of anxious women; no pain, no danger. We have never known of a single failure. Price $2 by mail. Raymond's Monthly Regulator in liquid, $3. Dr. R. G. Raymond Remedy company, Room 27, 84 Adams street, Chicago, Ill.

CARPET SWEEPERS REPAIRED

CARPET SWEEPERS REPAIRED. Duluth Carpet Sweeper Repair Co., 123 W. 1st st. New 'phone 1578D.

ACCOUNTANTS.

BOOKS CORRECTLY WRITTEN UP and audited by thoroughly qualified expert accountant. Auditor, Herald.

MILLINERY.

Miss Fitzpatrick, 504 E. 4. Old 'phone.

M. A. COX, 330 EAST FOURTH STREET.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion—No Advertisement for Less Than 15c...

SECRET SOCIETIES.

MASONIC.

PALESTINE LODGE, NO. 79, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings, first and third Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting March 5th, 1906. Work, First degree, Charles A. Bronson, W. M.; H. Nesbitt, secretary.

IONIC LODGE, NO. 186, A. F. & A. M.—Regular meetings second and fourth Monday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 26, 1906. Work—Third degree. John Cox, W. M.; H. S. Newell, secretary.

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, NO. 20, R. A. M. Stated convocations second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 28, 1906. Charles A. Payne, H. P.; Alfred Le Richeux, secretary.

DULUTH COMMANDERY, NO. 18, K. T. —Stated conclave, first Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m. Stated conclave 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 6th. General business, election of officers, Masonic Temple. C. W. Wilson, Em. Com.; Alfred LeRicheaux, recorder.

SCOTTISH RITE.
Regular meetings every Thursday evening of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Thursday, March 1, 1906. Work—Twenty-first degree. J. E. Cooley, secretary.

SUCLID LODGE, NO. 198, A. F. & A. M. —Regular meetings first and third Wednesday evenings of each month at 7:30 o'clock. Next meeting Feb. 21. Work —Second degree. W. J. Darby, W. M.; A. Dunleavy, secretary.

K. O. T. M.

DULUTH TENT, NO. 1, MEETS EVERY Wednesday in K. O. T. M. hall, 224 West First street. Visiting Sir Knights always welcome. J. P. Peterson, commander; Charles J. Hector, finance keeper, 22 West First street. J. B. Gelineau, record keeper, office in hall. For rent of hall apply at record keeper's office. Hours, 10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and Saturday evenings.

MODERN SAMARITANS.

ALPHA COUNCIL, NO. 1, meets at Elks' hall every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Next meeting, Feb. 22. Samaritan Degree. T. J. McKeon, G. S.; Lucy Purdy, L. G. S.; Wallace P. Wellbanks, scribe; T. A. Gall, financial scribe.

A. O. U. W.

FIDELITY LODGE, NO. 105, meets at new Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. J. Patshkowski, M. W.; W. W. Fenstermacher, recorder; O. J. Murvold, financier, 217 East Fifth street.

A. O. U. W.

DULUTH LODGE, NO. 10, ects in Odd Fellows' hall every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. William J. Stephens, W. M.; T. J. St. Germain, 110 First avenue west, financier; H. B. Ivens, recorder. Sick benefit meets at 7:30 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

NORTH STAR LODGE, K. of P., No. 85, meets every Prelenten ball, Tuesday, Feb. 27, at 118 West Superior street. J. A. Wharton, C. C.; T. L. Foss, K. R. S.

I. O. F.

COURT COMMERCE, NO. 3283, Independent Order of Foresters, meets first and Third Friday evenings at 8 o'clock at Rowley's hall, No. 112 West First street. Next regular meeting March 2, 1906—initiation. F. A. Tupper, C. R.; W. W. Hoopes, R. S.

FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES.

DULUTH AERIE, NO. 79, MEETS every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Eagle hall, Folz building, 116 West Superior street. J. W. Parker, W. P.; J. W. Schroeder, secretary, 11 First avenue east. Apply to W. E. Brown, 417 West Superior street, for rental of hall.

M. W. A.

IMPERIAL CAMP, NO. 2206, meets at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street, second and fourth Tuesdays. Next meeting Feb. 27, smoker. Visiting members always welcome. S. F. Staples, V. C.; N. P. Turnbladh, banker; R. Rankin, clerk, 1322 Jefferson street.

CLAN SRTEWART, NO. 50, O. S. C., meets first and third Wednesdays of each month at 8 p. m. in Folz hall, West Superior street. John G. Ross, chief; Malcolm MacDonald, secretary; John Burnett, financial secretary, 10 Mason flats. Next meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 21.

ROYAL LEAGUE.

ZENITH COUNCIL, NO. 161, Royal league, meets in Elks' hall first and third Monday evenings at 8 o'clock. George L. Hargreaves, archeon; L. P. Murray, scribe, 1815 East Fifth street.

KNIGHTS OF THE LOYAL GUARD—Suburban division, No. 132, meets first and third Wednesday evenings of each month, Hall A, Kalamazoo block. E. F. Beller, captain general; H. V. Holmes, paymaster, 415 Fifteenth avenue east; Mrs. Mary P. Foster, recorder, 720 Third avenue east.

MODERN MACCABEES—ZENITH CITY Tent, No. 1044, meets every first and third Thursday of the month at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. Commander, Charles E. Norman; record keeper and finance keeper, A. G. Case, care Union depot, after 1 p. m., residence, 412 West Fourth street.

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF STEAM Engineers—Local union, No. 15, meets first and third Thursday evenings, third floor, Room 2, Axa building. President, John F. Goging; vice president, O. C. Hanson; financial secretary, E. V. Robinson; recording secretary, I. W. Gilleland; treasurer, C. J. Wendt; conductor, Andrew Wold; guard, William Beatty.

U. O. F.

COURT EASTERN STAR, NO. 66, UNITed Order of Foresters, meets the first and third Tuesday of every month at Maccabee hall, 224 West First street. Visiting brothers and sisters always welcome. Next meeting, Feb. 20, social dance. J. B. Gelineau, C. R., 224 Ninth avenue east; Harry Milnes, treasurer. Office at hall.

ARCHITECTS.

FRANK L. YOUNG & CO., 202 Pal. Bldg.

COLORED INK

SECTION 2 Pages 13 to 24

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

24 PAGES

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1906.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

MARQUETTE RANGE

Cleveland-Cliffs' Tunnel at South Jackson Mine Being Fushed---Supt. E. R. Elliott Has Resigned to Go to Cuba.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Good progress is being made on the ditch and tunnel being extended into the hillside at the Cleveland Cliffs company's South Jackson mine, at Negaunee, Marquette range, to reach the ore deposit and afford natural drainage at a point about sixty feet below the surface. Work on the ditch was begun at the close of the shipping season last fall. The canal will be upwards of 800 feet in length, entering the tunnel at a point about two feet below the surface. The tunnel has been bored a distance of about 100 feet, leaving about 500 feet more to be completed. Considerable water has been encountered recently, apparently coming from a nest of springs, and the tunnel is being closely timbered.

E. R. Elliott, superintendent in charge of the work at the Jackson, Maas and Negaunee mines of the Cleveland Cliffs, has resigned his position with the intention of leaving about the 10th of next month to assume the general management of the Cuban mines of the Juragua Iron company, subsidiary to the Bethlehem Steel company of Pennsylvania. The properties are located about fifteen miles form Santiago, and are all within a short distance of each other. They consist of a series of open pits which have been worked for a number of years. No underground operations have been done in any of them. The mines are connected with the port of Santiago by a railroad owned by the mining company, and the bulk of the ore taken out is shipped to the company's steel plants at Philadelphia and Baltimore. Under the supervision of Mr. Elliott, the operations will be conducted upon a much larger scale than heretofore, and the mines will be brought to their full capacity.

Two boilers, an air compressor and other equipment have been removed from the Breitung Hematite to the Mary Charlotte mine, both Negaunee properties owned by the Breitung-Kaufman interests of Marquette, for use in operations now being conducted on a large scale. One boiler will be used as an auxiliary to the present battery in the mine engine house, and the other to furnish power for running the skip in the shaft sunk at about ninety feet. It is 7x18 feet in size, enclosing two skiproads and a ladderway. Two diamond drills are in commission on the tract, one located on ground included in the Mary Charlottee territory and the other to the north of the new shaft on land owned by the Breitung Hematite company.

SCHWAB PLANS MERGER

Of Bullfrog Properties---Montgomery-Shoshone Purchased and Other Mines to be Taken In.

Goldfield, Nev., Feb. 24.—Bullfrog is occupying the center of the stage because of the entry of Charles M. Schwab and his friends into the camp with plans for a merger of leading properties. They have bought the Montgomery-Shoshone, one of the great mines of the camp, for $2,500,000. Bob Montgomery, who staked out the mine about a year ago, disposes of his interest. Malcolm MacDonald, who has been active in the management, retains an eighth interest. The Polaris has also been purchased. These properties, together with the Crystal and the Rand, which the Schwab interests already own, will be merged into a corporation, to be called the Shoshone Consolidated Mines company. Although the market value of the properties is placed at $8,000,000, the capitalization of the new company will be only $2,000,000.

A systematic campaign to open the combined properties will be started as soon as it can be mapped out. It is expected to start large shipments by the time the Las Vegas and Tonopah branch of the Salt Lake route reaches Bullfrog, next June. No definite statement is obtainable as to the price paid for the combined properties, but the figure is said to be in the neighborhood of $5,000,000.

An important strike is reported in a prospect at Silver Glance, near Hannapah, and about eighteen miles from Tonopah. Duncan, Olson and Hedge shipped from an eight-foot ledge seventeen tons of ore, which sampled approximately $3,000 for the lot.

On the 400-foot level of the Ohio-Tonopah has been uncovered ore running approximately $1,000 a ton in a five foot vein.

The Clifford brothers have sold for $250,000 a prospect bearing their name forty miles from Tonopah. D. F. McCarthy and J. F. Cambridge placed the property with Pittsburg men. The Cliffords are typical Western prospectors. They located the sixteen claims only three months ago.

Tonopah-Belmont is declared by one of the directors to have about $300,000 in the treasury. Shipments are heavy, averaging over $200 a ton.

Midway at Tonopah is declared to have $122,000 in the treasury, but shipments are not being crowded, and the grade of ore is holding around $200 a ton.

The Kincaid mill at Goldfield has started operations. This makes seven mills and two samplers in the camp.

The January mine at Goldfield will be closed down for a week or two for the installation of electric machinery.

CRIPPLE CREEK DISTRICT

Tunnel to Cost $800,000 Will be Constructed to Unwater Cripple Creek to 1,100 Feet Depth.

Colorado Springs, Feb. 24.—The funds necessary for the construction of the projected tunnel to unwater Cripple Creek to 1,100 feet deep have been assured, and the Mine Owners' association is drawing up contract and other blanks. The tunnel will cost approximately $800,000. It will be three miles or more long. Besides draining many big shippers to their lowest workings, it will tap important districts at considerable depth and render deep mining possible.

Thomas L. Wood and associates of Denver have bought the Smuggler mine at Balarat. This mine was in bonanza ore years ago when treatment charges were $40 and $50 a ton. Now that the problem of low-grade ores has been settled by cyanide and other processes, the mine will be reopened for a vast reserve of ores that were once discarded.

F. H. Simmonds of Providence, R. I., and associates have bought the Hillhouse mine at Central City. The mine is an old and famous producer.

The Isabella Mines company has purchased the Murphy lease, which was to run nine months yet, and now owns the property complete. The deal also perfects the merger begun a year ago with the Empire State Gold Mining company. All ore extracted from this large estate will be on company account hereafter. Nelson B. Williams of New York, former president of the Isabella company and at the time of the merger in control of the Empire, is a leading factor in the new company. The advance in Isabella stock this week is due to the improved condition of affairs and to the management's proposed active development plan.

The Tecolote Valley Railroad company, W. H. Colborn of Colorado Springs, manager, has contracted for construction material. The road will be narrow-gauge It will extend from Las Vegas to the Tecolote and Mineral Hill minnig district, thence along the Pecos river over the Pecos forest reserve via Pecos and Cowles. From Cowles the line will be extended through the Bocladn and Eucero mining districts to Mora and thence to the Black Lakes and Taos, N. M.

Ore tonnage in Colorado has reached high-water mark. Railroads report an increase of 35 to 45 per cent over two years ago. This increase is due largely to increased number of concentrating plants and enlarged capacity of old mills. At Leadville, Pueblo, Denver and Durango roasters and furnaces are being added to the plants as rapidly as they can be manufactured. The United States Reduction & Refining company will erect a cyanide plant at Colorado City for treating tailings. The capacity will be 800 to 1,000 tons daily capacity. The cost will approximate $200,000.

FIELD FOR EXPLORATION

That is Regarded as Promising is Junction Basin of the Negaunee and Cascade Valleys.

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A promising field, in which it is believed that iron mines will eventually be opened, but which has practically never been explored, is what is known as the Junction basin, so called because the junction of the Negaunee and Cascade valleys, both of which contain a number of important producers. The basin is located in sections 19, 20, 25, 29, 30, 31, 32 and 36. It is about three miles long and three miles wide, and by men who have given the geological conditions a study, is declared to be a sand and water-filled ore trap. From a point in the center of the basin, looking up through the Negaunee valley, one can see the smokestacks of the mines about the city of Negaunee, while looking west, through the Cascade valley, is visible the Moore mine of the Steel corporation, whose mineral-bearing body is probably the largest deposit of lean ore on the Marquette range.

The Junction basin is below and near Goose lake, a reservoir large enough to enrich a tremendous ore deposit. The basin is surrounded by the rocks required to make and hold iron bodies, yet the only exploration work done to date has been the sinking of a few test pits at the edge of the basin, near the line between sections 26 and 27. The basin is entirely a diamond drill proposition, the deposits lying deep, if at all, and it is the opinion of those who have faith in the district that if diamond drill holes were put down in the swamp, within the field, ore of better quality than anything yet discovered on the Cascade range would be tapped. It is interesting to note in this connection that much of the land in and south of the basin has been abandoned. Its owners did not consider it sufficiently valuable to warrant holding it, and some of it is for sale as delinquent tax land. But it would not be surprising to see drill shanties following the course of the Palmer gneiss from the Moore hill, which forms the west rim of the basin, to the Princeton mine of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company.

Some fifteen years ago exploratory operations were conducted by a party of Negunee men who held an option

(Continued on page 17, third column.)

SHATTUCK-ARIZONA SHIPPING ORE

To the Copper Queen Smelter and May Erect Smelter of Its Own—The Calumet & Pittsburg Strike Favorable to Warren and American—Development at the Sullivan.

Bisbee, Ariz., Feb. 24.—Good reports continue to come from the Shattuck-Arizona, which is steadily proving itself to be one of the coming heavy producers of the district. The large new hoist for the Shattuck is on the way from the East, and is expected here before the beginning of the week. Additional contracts for the tramway from the mine to the railroad tracks of the El Paso & Southwestern, a distance of about a quarter of a mile, together with the air compressor, will be closed this month.

On the 700 at the Shattuck, crosscut No. 1 passed through the sulphide body and is now working in oxides. Crosscut No. 2, on the same level, is in a fine body of sulphide this week, assays of which run as high as 25 to 30 per cent. Crosscut No. 3 is in ledge matter and iron, with every indication of an ore body in the next few feet. On the 800 it is the same story. A crosscut was started on this level last week and is now in oxide ore.

Monday, the Shattuck made its first shipment of ore to the Copper Queen smelters. This ore has been piled up on the dump for some time, and comes from the drifts and crosscuts in the prosecution of development work during the past year. The stock pile on the dump is being hauled down to the railroad tracks and sent to the Copper Queen smelter at Douglas, and will be the first returns to go on the credit side of the mine ledger.

Next week work of enlarging the shaft at the Shattuck will commence in earnest. Raises will be started from the 300, 500 and 800 levels preparatory to working the Shattuck on a large scale as soon as the necessary equipment is on the ground and in operation, which should be some time next September or October.

It is not likely that the Shattuck will long be content with shipping its product to the Copper Queen smelters, and the postponement of the annual meeting of the company until April should give opportunity for the perfection of smelter plans and a decision reached regarding its location.

• • •

The Denn shaft has recorded a depth of 935 feet. The water situation remains about the same, with no increase noticeable. The formation has been exceedingly favorable this week, and mineralized ground is confidently expected with the firing of every round of holes. Should water makes its appearance in the shaft in sufficient quantities to interfere with work, the pumps are already on the ground ready to be installed, together with the column pipes, heavy fittings, etc. Four large boilers are on the way.

• • •

The appearance of ore in the crosscut off of the 600 level of the Briggs shaft of the Calumet & Pittsburg, at an approximate depth of 1,000 feet, while not unexpected, was a little sooner than looked for. It was the theory of miners familiar with the district that the Briggs shaft would have to be put down for a distance of 1,200 to 1,300 feet and drifting started from that level, before there would be any signs of ore.

Notwithstanding these thories, since the ore was first encountered, the several shifts have been working in the ore body, and a good sized pile is being accumulated on the dump. It is reported that assays showed in the neighborhood of 12 per cent.

• • •

The getting of ore in the Briggs shaft adds confidence to the entire lower district. Especially does the appearance of ore in the Briggs shaft make Warren and American ground stronger. There is a well founded belief that the old Calumet & Cochise shaft, which was abandoned by the old company for lack of funds, and which has since been acquired by the Warren company, will soon be in commission again. Drill holes at present being put down on American ground is certainly the forerunner of development work on a larger scale in that vicinity.

• • •

That Bisbee is soon to be connected with the lower districts by a street railway line is beyond the speculative era. It is a fact. The builder and owner of this proposed rapid transit line is the Warren Realty & Development company. The right of way has already been arranged for. Although the proposed street railway line is outside of the city limits, it is at the same time, right in the heart of town. The terminal of this kite-shaped interurban street railway has been decided on at a point just opposite the Copper Queen store, and switchbacks, etc., have been surveyed on the site of the old Copper Queen smelter.

• • •

The various Globe properties optioned by Messrs. Hovland and Smith, ostensibly for the Calumet & Arizona, are still in the hands of the original option holders, who hope to dispose of them to the Calumet & Arizona company. No deal has been made, and there is some question as to price. The properties will be of more or less value to the Calumet & Arizona company, providing they have ore, but the latter company objects to paying a large bonus price to Messrs. Hovland and Smith. If the Calumet & Arizone does not take these lands the option holders probably will attempt to float a company for developing them.

• • •

Copper sulphides from the Belen mine, owned in Minneapolis, Minn., are being shipped to the Douglas smelter in small quantities, but improvements are under way at the mine that will result in largely increased shipments soon. This mine is a large vein of chalcopyrite and bornite that seems very rich, and ash developments so far made indicate is reasonably deep and wide. The property is quite new and sixty miles from the nearest railway, which is the Nacosari line.

• • •

At the new Sullivan Development company's mine the shaft is now about ninety feet deep and has cut several stringers of lime and iron, and is expected to cut the vein at about 250 feet. In a few days a station will be cut and a crosscut driven to test the formation at 100 feet depth. There are two old shafts on the property, both of which are in carbonate of lead and silver, of which there are 2,500 tons on the dump running from 40 to 60 per cent lead. This is on the Arizona claim. The El Paso smelter has made offers on this ore, but shipments probably will not be made yet. Two or three crosscuts have been driven in this property, one of which shows some good copper ore, the extent of which has not been determined. A large machinery plant is to be installed at the working shaft.

• • •

Work on the Manhattan, lying between the Chiricahua and Sullivan properties, is progressing favorably, and as the ore in this property is nearer the surface than at the Chiricahua, developments have been more satisfactory. There is little doubt that copper in quantity exists in these mountains, and that some of these new companies will get it out on a scale that will pay well. The annual meeting of the Manhattan company takes place at Houghton, Mich., today.

• • •

At Clifton the new converters of the Shannon smelter are all in place and two of the four are ready for operation, while the others will be pushed to completion. Heretofore the Shannon has been merely a matte smelter, all its conversion having been done by the Arizona Copper company.

• • •

The Arizona Copper company will have a daily capacity for 500 tons of ore in its new concentrator, the machinery for which is now going in. The company is also building large slime storage on the Frisco river, below Morenci, to hold the sands so that the Frisco and Gila valleys may not be covered by them, to the detriment of the ranching interests.

• • •

Black Mountain is about ready to start its stamp mill, and will have the entire 120 stamps running in a few days. The cyanide mill cannot be in shape for some weeks, perhaps not before the first of May, but all tailings will be saved for cyaniding. The company will begin bullion shipments in a short time, and will soon begin the erection of its second 100 stamps. The mine is in shape to provide any reasonable quantity of ore for either 200 or more stamps, and can be developed for a very much larger mine operation with slight cost and in brief time.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

Frazee, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—An important business change was made this week in Frazee, when James Scott retired from the Stelzner Milling company, of which he was a partner and an officer. Mr. and Mrs. Scott owned considerable stock in the company and Mr. Scott took an active part in its management. Owing to expensive farming interests, however, Mr. Scott decided to retire and sold his stock to Mr. Stelzner for a good price.

THE MINNIE HEALEY MINE, ONE OF THE HEINZE INTERESTS ACQUIRED BY THOS. F COLE.

THE BUTTE COMPANIES ARE BUSY

Making Things Hum—Transfer of Heinze Properties Means an Increased Output—New York Capitalists to Develop the Amazon.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 24.—All of the companies operating in Butte are practically making things hum, and promise to continue the good work. The transfer of the United Copper property has not made any difference in the situation so far as output of ore and copper is concerned, but there will be a difference by and by, for all of the legal differences between Heinze and the Amalgamated have been obliterated by the sale. This will give the Amalgamated an opportunity to work many claims that have been closed down on injunction, among them the Michael Devitt, one of the richest copper mines in the district; the Nipper ground, veins in the Pennsylvania which Judge Clancy decreed as belonging to the Johnstown and Rarus, and the Snohomish and Tramway mines, both good producers. By the working of these mines many more men will be employed by the Amalgamated.

• • •

The Butte Copper Exploration company is about ready to begin unwatering the shaft on the Six o'Clock group east of the city, its machinery having been placed in position. When started, the work will be pushed from the word "go," and two weeks, possibly less, will find the shaft without enough water in it to swim a duck.

• • •

The Butte & London Copper is making good headway in sinking its three-compartment shaft. Hoisting machinery is on the ground ready to be put together.

• • •

The Raven Copper company is prosecuting work in its crosscut from the 1,500-foot station of the Buffalo, and expects to cut the veins of the Snoozer within the next twenty-five or thirty days. While this work is in progress the veins on the 1,200 are receiving special attention, drifting and raising in them being pushed.

• • •

Two new mining companies were organized in Butte last week, one the Butte-Montana, with a capitalization of $1,000,000 in shares of $1 each, and the other the Butte & St. Louis company, with a capitalization of $800,000. The Butte-Montana controls the Alex Scott and owns the Little Annie, and has begun work on the former, which is an old claim adjoining the West Colusa. Its officers are Patsy Browne, president; John J. O'Meara, vice president; W. H. Lindsay, secretary; George A. Griggs, treasurer, and William J. Dawson, general manager. New hoisting machinery for the Alex Scott has been bought and will be installed as soon as posible. It will work to a depth of 1,500 feet. The Little Annie will be developed later on. Its shaft is 200 feet deep.

The Butte & St. Louis company controls the Kesler mine, located near the Goldsmith and Alice, northwest of Walkerville. The claim is said to have yielded good ore three years ago. Among those interested in the company are C. D. Jordan, president of the Jordan Cutlery Company of St. Louis; F. H. Ray of Helena, W. I. Higgins of Deer Lodge and S. M. Roberts and F. W. Holmes of Butte.

• • •

Work was commenced Monday morning at the Amazon mine, which was recently bonded by the General Development company of New York for $100,000. J. Park Channing, the well-known expert and a brother of R. H. Channing of Bingham, Utah, mine fame, is in the city in behalf of the General Development company, perfecting arrangements for the commencement of work at the property.

There is a 400-foot shaft on the Amazon property which is partially filled with water. The first thing to be done will be to pump out the water, after which extensive exploration and development work will be started.

The General Development company is backed by a number of prominent New York financiers, headed by Adolph Lewisohn, who is well known in this city, having been connected with a number of mining and other enterprises in Butte.

It is the intention of the new company to develop the Amazon and adjoining claims with a view of making it a producer. The ground has been examined by a number of experts, who reported so favorably that J. Park Channing was sent here to start things moving.

• • •

Reins Copper is still adding depth to its shaft, the bottom having reached the 1,080-foot mark, leaving an additional 120 to be sunk before the crosscut for the vein is begun.

• • •

Pittsburg capitalists intend to open up that section of the Butte district north of the horseshoe bend in the Great Northern railroad, directly north of Meaderville. They and some Butte men have acquired a group of thirteen or fourteen claims there and organized a company with a capitalization of $5,000,000, to accomplish their purpose, sink a deep shaft in search of copper. The surface showing in that section is splendid. A well-known geologist visited the district last week and made an examination of the indications, with the result that he became very favorably impressed with the prevailing conditions. In all probability there will be something doing before long, for it is understood that the company will begin development in the near future.

• • •

The Columbus-Butte company shipped 100 tons of ore last week and has forty or fifty tons in the bin. The company will begin sinking its new shaft on the La Monta claim about the middle of this week and will rush the work from start to finish. New hoisting machinery will be ordered at once. In view of the fact that the work is to be commenced at the bottom of the present workings, the machinery will not be required for a while yet. The company has connected the present workings with those of the Eveline on the east, which insures an avenue of escape for the men below in case of accident and also improves the air in the stopes and levels.

THE MESABA RANGE

Steel Corporation to Undertake Extensive Operations in the Virginia Field---Laying Rails on Missabe's Western Branch.

That it is the intention of the United States Steel Corporation to undertake extensive mining operations in the Virginia field in the near future is apparently borne out by the indications. The company owns or controls twelve proved mines in the district which have lain idle for several years. These include the Oliver, Moose, Lone Jack, Minnewas, Auburn, Ohio, Norman, Rouchleau-Kay and Great Western, to the east and south, and the Sauntry-Alpena property on the north. To the east the Higgins is being steadily wrought. Test-pitting crews have been at work at the various properties for some time past, and recently four diamond drills were installed, at present being in operation on the Norman tract. The quantity of ore contained in each of the properties is practically known, the drill holes now being put down being driven close together so that the exact amount of overburden and the quality and location of the ore can be definitely determined. It has been often stated that when the corporation did start mining work on these Virginia tracts it would strip the surface material from all the properties, making one continuous cut fully two miles in length, and it is the supposition now that this work is to shortly be undertaken.

The actual work of laying the rails on the Steel Corporation's Alborn or Western Mesaba branch of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad is in progress. Steel is going down west of the Bengal station, and west from Alborn. It is twenty-two miles from Bengal to Bovey, the western terminus of the road, and thirty miles from Alborn to Bengal, making the extension fifty-two miles in length. The grading has about been completed and work on the bridges is well along. It is the intention of the company to make of Coleraine, the new townsite adjoining Bovey, a model city. All objectionable features of the usual social system will be eliminated with the purpose of making the new community one of the best resident mining camps in the country. There will be no saloons, it is understood, nor will disreputable places of any nature be permitted to flourish. A public school building costing $50,000 or $60,000 will be erected. Lots, for which many applications have already been made, will be leased instead of sold, and business buildings will all be alike, two stories high and placed ten feet apart to keep down the insurance rates.

The Elba mine of Pickands, Mather & Company will better its output of 1905 somewhat this year. All mining will be from the new shaft, sunk in rock to replace the former opening, which had gone down in ore and was unstable. The company's Corsica property, adjoining the Elba on the east, will be active this season after a two years' idleness. The workings have been freed from water, nothing having been done here since the shipment of a small amount of ore from the stockpile in 1903. The Corsica is a wet mine, and pumping charges are higher than at many properties. Somewhat more ore than shipped last season will be forwarded from Pickands, Mather & Company's Minorca property, in the same town. As at the Elba, a new shaft has been put down in rock.

Shaft sinking will be started at the Meadow property, near Aurora, about the first of the coming month. Boilers and other equipment are now being installed. The property is held under lease by G. A. St. Clair of Duluth, and is estimated to contain about 400,000 tons of non-Bessemer ore. The royalty is 40 cents a ton, and 40,000 tons are to be mined each year at the minimum. The new shaft recently sunk at the Hector is completed, and drifting to the ore body is now in progress. The shaft is down to a depth of eighty feet, and about fifty or sixty feet of drifting will be necessary to tap the ore deposit.

An active part in Mesaba range operations will be taken by the recently organized Rhodes Mining company under the general management of Alexander Maitland, now in charge of the mines of the Republic Iron & Steel company. The company will operate the various properties in which the Cherry Valley Iron company has controlling interests and will forward a considerable tonnage this season. Most of the properties are new and will enter the shipping list this year, among them the Brunt, Croxton, LaRue and Hobart, each of which is said to contain a large tonnage. The headquarters will be at Hibbing.

The Shenango Furnace company's Shenango mine, at Chisholm, is being developed rapidly, and will make a fine producer. It is an underground proposition. There are now five shafts, the last one having recently been sunk to a depth of nearly 200 feet. The property is employing upwards of 200 men, and will take on a considerable number more, as soon as the shipping season opens. The Pearce mine at Chisholm is making a small daily shipment to the blast furnace at West Duluth, and the Leonard mine is shipping to Spring Valley.

Capt. Harry Roberts, who recently secured a lease to a forty of land adjoining the big Mahoning mine on the north, reports that his drills have cut the ore body at two points. One of the holes is down at a point within twenty feet of the edge of the Mahoning's great open cut. The extent of the deposit is not yet known, but the indications favor a big ore body.

All underground work has been suspended the past fortnight at the Steel Corporation's Hull mine, the result of a peculiar accident. A ladder, permitted by a workman to fall, struck and disconnected the steam pipes at the bottom. As a result all pumps were stopped, and the mine was soon flooded

(Continued on page 17, third column.)

MENOMINEE RANGE

Drills at Work Near Iron River, Crystal Falls, Norway and Loretto, and More to be Installed.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Longyear & Hodge, diamond drill contractors, now have nine drills in operation on the Menominee range. Three are located near Iron River, three near Crystal Falls, two at Norway and one near Loretto. The work at the Saginaw mine at Norway and at Loretto is being put down for J. Jones of Iron Mountain, who also is developing the Empire property on the Cascade range. The Hiawatha, Buckeye and Baltic properties are being explored near Iron River, and the Armenian and Mastodon, near Crystal Falls. At least four more drills will be put in on the range by Longyear & Hodge for other companies. One of these will be installed near Crystal Falls, and another near Iron River. In the latter district, Oglebay, Norton & Co., which is conducting considerable exploratory work, has taken an option to a forty-acre tract, near the Dober location, and has started test-pitting. The indications are favorable to the opening of a mine. The Buffalo & Susquehanna company has further enlarged its holdings in the district by taking options on four new tracts. Diamond drill work will be instituted in the spring.

Capt. N. B. Roscorla, who has been in charge of underground work at the Jones & Laughlin company's Hennepin and Snyder properties, Gogebic range, has tendered his resignation, and will shortly depart for Cobalt, the new silver district of Ontario, to become superintendent of the Lake Superior company's properties.

THE BINGHAM COMBINATION

Two Big Properties Being Thoroughly Examined---Nevada Mines Also Likely to be Included.

Salt Lake, Feb. 24.—Corps of mining engineers are leaving Salt Lake every day or two to make thorough examinations of various properties. Interest centers in Bingham, which it is understood will be the keystone of the Utah group in the proposed combination. At present two of the big properties are undergoing a thorough examination. These are the Bingham Consolidated and the Utah Copper.

The former property is being examined by engineers under the direction of Alfred Franks. Mr. Franks has long been F. Augustus Heinze's chief of staff, but the present examination is understood to be not alone in the interest of Heinze, but for the larger combination, which is supposed to include the Amalgamated, Clark and the Guggenheims. The Bingham Consolidated has one strategic advantage. It possesses a tunnel which starts on a flat accessible to the railroad and extends into the heart of the copper sulphide territory of Bingham. Extension of this tunnel would make possible the mining of the leading sulphide mines of Bingham at great depth and with little expense.

Examination of the Utah Copper Company's holdings began under the direction of Walter H. Wyley with eight assistants. Mr. Wyley is one of the Amalgamated company's engineers, but the present investigation is being made for Samuel Newhouse, president and general manager of the Boston Consolidated. Mr. Newhouse refused to go further in the deal for combination until his engineers had made a thorough examination of the Utah to determine if the proposed basis of stock exchange was equitable. The examination will take two or three weeks.

H. C. Catrow, president of the Ohio Copper company, has gone to join Henry Catrow, secretary and treasurer in Chicago and thence to New York in connection with the deal for the Ohio. Negotiations to include the Ohio at Bingham in the general merger have been on for some time.

Across the Nevada line, at Ely, symptoms are appearing to indicate that two of the largest properties in this highly promising camp are headed in the direction of the Guggenheim combination. George Gunn, who has been field expert for the American Smelting and Refining company for several years, resigned last week to assume the general management of the new Cumberland-Ely property. He is succeeded by G. W. Wilson. Although it is declared that Cumberland-Ely is Mr. Gunn's private enterprise, no doubt is expressed that it will eventually be found a member of the Guggenheim family. The property adjoins the Nevada Consolidated. Report has it that this great young property is also headed in the same direction.

Other properties of lesser magnitude are being examined by experts. The United States company appears to be more active in the Tintic mining district in Utah, as it is especially desirous to secure the silicious ores this region produces. The Grand Central mine is reported to be one of the properties it seeks and the Mammoth another.

COLORED INK

SOCIETY

The pre-Lenten Assembly dance was given last evening at the Spalding, and as usual at this time of year the affair was a simple one in the way of decorations and gowns and in the enjoyment of the dancing to beautiful music, the members and their guests derived the enjoyment which must last over until after Lent. The platform was decorated with great blooming azella plants, with ascension lilies at frequent intervals. La Brosse played the usual program of delightful music, and the dancers were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
W. R. Peyton, Page Morris, A. W. Hartman, Jack McLaren, C. F. Macdonald, W. W. Walker, J. A. Stephenson, H. P. Broughton, G. H. Jones, Howard Johnson, Mrs. J. A. Stephenson, H. F. Williamson, Jr., Marvin McLaren, H. J. Kremer, D. H. Day, G. D. Swift, R. A. Swaine, H. H. Peyton, J. T. Hale.

Misses—
Effie Smith, Sherwood, Wylie, Katherine Ensign, Pauline Smith, Irene Whiting, d'Autremont, Lulu Smallwood, Hulst of Milwaukee, Ruth Markell, Waterworth, Busbee, Mary Bartlett, Deer of Superior, Harriet Shannon, Cleland, Mary Paine, Richardson, Frances Woodbridge, Maud White, Rosser, Virginia Morris.

Messrs.—
McBride, Whyte, W. L. McLennan, Suffel, Busbee, Frank Frageau, Ryan, How, Cokefair, Greene, Puck, W. D. Brewer, Walbank, Howard Eaton, Covey, Close, Farmer, Clapp, Gridley, Burg, Grady, Telford, Adams, Hubbell, Cheney, Spencer, Brooks, Andrieson, Glass, Norton.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith entertained at seven tables of bridge last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Holstrom. The favors were won by Mrs. M. J. Mullin and Fred Engels, and the consolation prizes went to Mrs. W. H. Jones and A. M. Marshall.

• • •

Mrs. Clarence Coleman entertained informally at cards Wednesday afternoon at her home in the Belvidere apartments on Fifteenth avenue east.

• • •

Mrs. C. H. Thornton and Mrs. C. E. Judd entertained at cards yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Thornton's home, 1514 East Third street. Six-hand euchre was played at five tables, and the favors were won by Mrs. Fred Reynolds and Mrs. Ward Ames.

• • •

One of the delightful affairs of Washington's birthday was the informal reception held by the members of the Greysolon du Lhut chapter of the Daughters of the American revolution, held at the home of the regent, Mrs. George M. Smith. A large number of interesting old curios and family heirlooms belonging to the members were exhibited, and the collection was large and intensely interesting. Each member entertained as her guest one friend, who was not a member of the chapter.

• • •

Mrs. George S. Richard was hostess at a delightful reception Tuesday afternoon at her home in St. Elmo flats in honor of her sister, Mrs. Harry S. Birch of Minneapolis, who was her guest during the week. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink tulips and palms. Receiving with Mrs. Richards and the guest of honor was her mother, Mrs. Stinchfield. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. H. C. Marshall, Mrs. August Fitger, Mrs. C. J. Lesure, Mrs. W. H. Bliss and Mrs. T. H. Cleland. At the punch bowl, Mrs. Clarence B. Miller presided and was assisted by Miss Barbara Rupley. In the dining room which was most attractive in scarlet tulips, Mrs. W. B. Phelps presided and assisting were Miss Mildred Cleland, Miss Faye Richardson and Miss Marion Sherwood. During the receiving hours from 3 to 6 nearly a hundred guests called.

• • •

Mrs. W. A. McGonagle entertained informally Monday afternoon at her home at Hunter's Park in honor of Mrs. H. S. Birch of Minneapolis who was the guest during the week of her sister, Mrs. George S. Richards of St. Elmo flats, and Miss Yeomans of Fisk university of Nashville who was the guest of Mrs. Francis deGroat of 2105 East First street.

• • •

The Cotillion given by the Cotillion club during the week was one of the most attractive of the week's events in society for the members of the club and the chaperones. The affair was given Wednesday evening at Steinway hall and the spirit of Washington and his time was apparent in the favors and some few of the figures danced. The feminine guests dressed their hair in colonial style with it powdered heavily white and their old time coiffures with the modern gowns were very fetching. Powell Grady led with Miss Katherine Ensign and those present were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
C. E. DeWitt, W. E. Richardson, Herbert Dancer, E. W. Markell, Victor Stearns,

Mesdames—
C. B. Miller, G. G. Hartley, Sterling Smith, John Upham, J. D. Ensign, John Killorin.

Misses—
Ensign, Katherine Ensign, Effie Smith, Mae Wylie, Ruth Markell, Katherine Boyce, Frances Woodbridge, Faye Richardson, Irma Richardson, Marion Sherwood, Maud White, Pauline Smith, Jessie Hartley, Patterson of St. Paul.

Messrs.—
Andrelsen, Grady, Graft, McBride, Nichols, M. F. Jamar, Jr., Eldridge, Clapp, Cose, Greene, Gridley, Charles Brewer, Marshall.

Mrs. C. H. Thornton entertained informally Monday at her home, 1514 East Third street. Bridge was played and the favors was won by Mrs. Sterling Smith. Mrs. Thornton was hostess at bridge again Thursday afternoon and the favor was won by Mrs. C. F. Macdonald.

• • •

Miss Lydia Woodbridge entertained informally last Saturday afternoon at her home on East Third street.

• • •

Mrs. J. H. Dight entertained at bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home, 2109 East Superior street. The game was played at six tables and the favors were won by Mrs. J. H. LaVaque and Mrs. W. H. Smallwood, Mr. and Mrs. Dight will be hosts at bridge again this evening and Mrs. F. Dight has cards out also for next Tuesday afternoon.

• • •

Invitations were received in this city during the week from Mr. and Mrs. Bainbridge H. Evans of St. Paul for the wedding of their niece, Miss Blanche Josephine Lufkin, and Joseph Williams Cook of New York city. The wedding will take place Thursday evening, March 15, at the First Christian church of St. Paul, and will be followed by a reception at Mr. and Mrs. Evans' home, 533 Summit avenue. Mr. Cook is the son of Mrs. F. W. Hargraves of this city, and is well known in Duluth. A number of Duluth people will undoubtedly go down for the wedding.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Han Christensen of 1612 East Third street returned the first of the week from a trip to Chicago and the East.

• • •

Mrs. Fitz-James Hill of 201 South Sixteenth avenue east left Monday for a five months' visit with friends in the West and South.

• • •

Miss Antoinette d'Autremont and Miss Helen Marble left Tuesday evening to attend the ski tournament at Ishpeming and a short visit in that city.

• • •

Mrs. H. S. Birch of Minneapolis, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. George S. Richards of the St. Elmo, left this morning for her home.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Douglas, Jr., are at Coronada Beach.

• • •

Miss Kathleen Watterworth has returned from a several weeks' visit in California.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turle and children of East Superior street, left Wednesday evening for a four-months' visit in England.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. August Fitger returned the first of the week from a visit in the East.

• • •

Mrs. Thomas H. Martin was hostess at a delightful card reception, Tuesday afternoon, at her home, 320 Mesaba avenue. The rooms were prettily decorated in palms and tulips, and five hundred was played at ten tables. The scores were marked in an attractive way, the winners receiving the regulation mark upon their cards, and the losers having attached to their score cards a tiny bell. The hostess was assisted by Miss Alice Martin and Evelyn Cash and Madge Miller. The card favors were won by Mrs. David Hood and Mrs. E. L. Bradley. The invitation list included:

Mesdames—
J. M. Ford, L. R. Robertson, A. D. Jacobs, David Hood, R. S. Edmonds, C. H. Merritt, Ira Coburn, T. M. Pugh, J. M. Oldham, A. Snyder, E. B. Fox, H. H. Hurdon, H. S. Ely, L. D. Burgh, J. L. Mullen, W. H. Hoyt, A. P. Cook, A. B. McKenny, George M. Speer of Grand Rapids. H. N. Randall, J. L. Crawford, James Cash, E. L. Millar, George Martin, J. R. Swanson, Andrew Porter, W. D. Underhill, C. T. Crandall, J. H. Darling, J. C. Perry, A. A. Bechtell, George Ebert, H. S. Sresser, W. A. Kaake, W. R. Hart, E. L. Bradley, Thomas Thompson, H. E. Emerson, T. P. Bradley, Ed Simons of Virginia, H. V. Eva.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Martin were hosts at cards. Five hundred was again played and the prizes were won by Miss Helen Coburn and Mrs. V. L. Bean and the men's prizes went to L. R. Martin and W. S. Taylor. A number of Irish melodies were sung by David Evans and several piano numbers were played by Miss Helen Coburn. The hostess was assisted by Miss Virginia Bean tnd Louise Burthwick. The invited guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
V. L. Bean, L. A. Sukkeforth, Arthur Eddy, J. B. Alverson, L. R. Martin, J. M. Ford, H. H. Hurdon, H. Oldenburg of Carlton, H. G. Lampson, G. E. Vincent, A. W. Holmes, W. R. Bagley, H. W. Richardson, A. D. McIntyre, L. W. Newton, J. W. Kreitter, J. H. McFadzean, V. W. Chapin.

Misses—
Moore, Coburn, Dunning, Alice Martin, Leland, Scott.

Messrs.—
Vince, E. H. Pugh, W. S. Taylor of Appleton, Wis. T. F. Sheridan, Lloyd Martin, J. T. Pugh.

• • •

An enjoyable musicale was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McFadzean of 1019 East Second street, at which the guests were the congregation of St. Luke's church. The numbers were given by C. A. Applehagen, Florence Hyland, Miss Alice Cooley and Miss Adele McClaran. Miss Williams presided at the piano. A short talk on the influence of fine music wes given by Rev. R. J. Mooney, and the affair was a most delightful one.

• • •

Mrs. J. P. Denyes of Lakeside entertained at a Washington party upon Thursday for her little son, Ralph. Games and music, with the singing of the national airs, made the afternoon an enjoyable one for the little folks. Mrs. Denyes was assisted by Mrs. G. A. Busch. The guests were:

Masters—
Mark Crasswoller, Kenneth Rossiter, George Bush, Hensley Scott, Alfred Hedbenged, Ray Beach, Stanley McLean, Thomas Gorton, George Perrett, Dale Fleischman, Gilbert Patterson, Richard Rossiter, son, Victor Porter, James McLean, George Rush.

• • •

Mrs. G. W. Richards entertained at a kitchen shower Tuesday afternoon at her home, 2815 West Second street, in honor of Miss Carrie Bates. The rooms were prettily decorated in white and green, and cards were played and the favors were won by Mrs. P. Bates and Mrs. W. Durkee. The guests were:

Mesdames—
F. M. Bates, E. Scott, C. Jensen, Johnson, W. McKeog, J. M. Knapp, R. Nelson, A. McDonald, W. Durkee, A. Haines, J. Stewart.

Misses—
Carrie Bates, Nellie Nelson, Evado Richards, Ella Wakefield.

• • •

Monday evening Mrs. W. H. Flehr and Mrs. S. D. Flehr entertained delightfully at their home, 531 West Third street. The guests were thirty of the members of the gymnasium class of the Y. M. C. A. The rooms were prettily decorated in blue and yellow and the rooms were lighted with miniature electric lights of many colors. Pink and white carnations and smilax daintily decorated the serving tables. Games and music made the evening a delightful one.

• • •

Mrs. Charles Dann and daughter of 207 South Seventeenth avenue east, returned during the week from a short visit to Minneapolis.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. John Wold left the first of the week for Ishpeming to attend the ski tournament.

• • •

Misses Lillian and Adalia Oppel of 609 East Sixth street have as their guests, Miss Edith Scheppa of Ashland and Miss Maud Kimerer of Pelican Rapids.

• • •

Mrs. W. Franke was pleasantly surprised last Saturday afternoon at her home, 226 East Fifth street. Cards were the amusement of the afternoon and the favors were won by Mrs. G. Krause and Mrs. H. Schumann and the consolation prizes went to Mrs. Appleby and Mrs. A. Schade. The guests were:

Mesdames—
M. Brown, A. Zerby, N. Anderson, E. Oestreich, C. Bartholdi, G. Hubbert, O. Wolford, George Kreager, H. Schumann, F. Schumann, G. Krause, F. Bartholdi, J. Patshkowski, W. Beyer, Appleby, A. Schade.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Kreager celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of their wedding last Sunday afternoon at their home, 927 East Sixth street. Mr. and Mrs. Kreager are well known in the city where they have lived many years and the celebration of this anniversary was enjoyed by the members of their immediate family. Those present were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
A. McCormick, J. C. Kreager, George Kreager, H. Kreager, A. J. Harker, B. Kribsback, Frank Kreager, Mrs. A. Plutniski,

Misses—
Mable Harker, Jane E. Kreager, Florence Kreager. Mr. J. L. Harker,

Masters—
Richard Harker, Charles Kreager, Bertine Plutniski.

A roller skating party was given Monday evening at the Temple rink by a number of young people. Following the hours of skating the guests were entertained at the home of Miss Mayme Welsh of 216 Fifth avenue west. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. V. Lamont and the guests were:

Misses—
Eva Sawyer, Pauline Lilian, Vida Thorpe, Liretta Kelly, Alicia Lamont, Georgiana Messieur, Liretta Edwards, Dulcie Frink, Mabel Kunze, Lillian Peterson, Ida Reilly, Fern Reilly.

Messrs.—
Clinton Thorpe, Mitchell Norski, Fred Owens, Patrick Welsh, Daniel Frink, Lawrence Peffer, Henry Evans, William Blake, Pat Lee, Clifford Gullingsrud, Clarence McClellan, Hugh Wright, George King, Thomas Doyle, Roy Murnlad, Lawrence Carey.

Mrs. John Robinson of Duluth Heights entertained at a delightful children's party Tuesday afternoon in honor of Geneva and Kenneth Knight. In the games of the afternoon the prizes were won by Edna Carro, Sadie Montgomery, Lucy Montgomery and Leona Landault. The guests were:

Misses—
Anna McEwen, Bessie Montgomery, Lucy Montgomery, Violet Robinson, Alice Webb, Mabel Montgomery. Alice Reamer, Cecelia Dolson, Lizzie Hart, Marion Robinson, Celia Pennell, Doris Pennell, Edna Carroll, Leona Landault, Agnes Watts, Ethel Purcell, Maceola Williams, Esther Peterson, Gladys Winckler, Amelia Watts, Gertrude Brooks, Mary Johnston.

Master Ralph Webb.

William Beatty was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening at his home, 128 Seventh avenue west. Games and music made the evening a pleasant one. The guests were:

Misses—
Jennie Garvey, Stella Taylor, Cora Hill, Nellie Winters, Maud Beatty, Laura Beatty, Hattie Wilson, Cora Noll, Bessie Garvey, Della Forten, Catherine Gilles, Grace Wilson, Clara Berkleman, Edna Olson.

Messrs.—
Frank Kohnen, Earl Nichols, Fred Jensen, James Lydon, George Beatty, Floyd Smith, John McIntosh, Duncan Brown, Edward Cobham, Louis Haller, Royal Maxwell, Robert Ferguson, Frank McGinnis.

• • •

Mrs. P. G. Pastoret of Two Harbors was the guest during the week of Mrs. F. H. Wade of West Duluth.

• • •

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Feehely and G. L. Lynch will take place next Monday morning at St. James' Catholic church. The wedding service will be read by the bride's brother, and Mr. Lynch and his bride will go East on a wedding trip.

• • •

Last Saturday evening Clarence Govett was pleasantly surprised at his home at West Duluth. The evening was delightfully spent at cards. Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Silge.

Mesdames—
Govett. W. B. Hartley.

Misses—
Govett, Nellie Paradise, Julia Eden, Myrtle Clark. Butters, Helen Hartley, Florence Clark.

Messrs.—
Curtis Silger. William Little, Bert Onsgaard, John Olin, Clarence Govett, James Maitland, Henry Onsgaard, A. Olin.

• • •

A farewell party was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Cashin of West Duluth in honor of Mrs. J. J. Mis, who left Wednesday to make her home in Denver. Cards were the amusement of the evening, and the favors were won by Mr. Bouchard and Mr. Kelly. The guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
A. Robert Armstrong, Eugene M. Bouchard, Patrick R. Haley, Gustav A. Rakowsky, Mrs. Kelley and Miss Kelley, Mr. George Kelley.

Mrs. Emil Holmes of West Duluth left during the week for Emmetsburg, Iowa, where she will visit for some time.

• • •

Mrs. J. H. Conklin of West Duluth left during the week for a visit with her sister at Minneapolis.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson entertained Sunday afternoon in honor of their little son's birthday, at their home, 1801 West Third street. The guest of honor on the occasion was the great-grandfather of the little boy, Mr. Le Beau, who is 82 years old, and enjoyed heartily the amusements of the afternoon. Those present were:

Misses—
Lillian Peterson, Myrl Smisek, Rena Roy, Clara Anderson, Tillie Wester, Frances Evans, Jeanette Roy, Blanche Ettinger, Marjorie Smisek, Anna Wester, Margaret Evans,

Messrs.—
Harry Anderson, Simon Peterson, Carl Ettinger, Raymond Erickson, Archie Boisjolie, Dennis Anderson, Hedburg Sunquist, Alfred Anderson, Anton Erickson, Carl Sunquist, Albert Boisjolie, Arthur Swanson.

• • •

A delightful surprise party was given the first of the week in honor of Master Sam Abrahamson. A sleighride was enjoyed in the afternoon, and games were the evening's amusements. The guests were:

Misses—
Frances Abramson, Sadie Shore, Esther Shapiro, Eva Kohn, Minnie Light, Stella Wienstein, Sara Light.

Messrs.—
David Light, George Deathridge, Israel Fieldman, Isadore Abramson, George Ross, Harold Light, Sam Abramson, Lawrence Simpson.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Berg of 5 Osborn terrace entertained last Saturday evening in honor of the 12th birthday of their daughter, Frances. The rooms were prettily decorated in carnations, the February birth flower. The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music. The guests were:

Misses—
Jennie Gilmore, Marie Thomas, Nathalie Craig, Gladys Wheelock, Helen Seabrook, Helen Dunlap, Mary Wagner, Delia Purves, Willow Yergan, Ruby Purves, Irene Gratto.

Miss Agnes Philstrom of the West end left Monday for a visit with friends at Port Wing, Wis.

• • •

Mrs. Rudolph Gouth of the West end returned during the week from a six-weeks' visit in Minneapolis.

• • •

Misses Katherine and Mabel Johnson returned the first of the week from a two-weeks' visit in the Twin Cities.

• • •

Mrs. Nellie Yeager and son of West Duluth left Tuesday for a several months' visit in the South.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Nickerson of West Duluth left the first of the week for a short visit at Minneapolis. Mrs. Nickerson will later go to her former home in Southern Wisconsin for a visit.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ensign of West Duluth had as their guest during the week, Andrew Martin of Scanlon.

• • •

Word has been received in this city of the wedding of Miss Hilda Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Howard of 305 East Fifth street, and Ernest James Butchart of this city, which took place Thursday of this week at Ocean Park, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. Butchart will take a Western wedding trip and after March 15, will be at home at the St. Louis hotel in this city.

• • •

The annual banquet of the Young Women's Christian asociation took place Wednesday evening of this week at the association rooms on West Superior street and was a most delightful affair. The rooms were decorated in flags and bunting and the tables presented a most attractive appearance with their gleaming candles and decorations of red. One hundred and fifty guests were entertained. One of the most delightful features of the evening was the toast suggested by Rev. J. C. Farles who presided as toast master during the latter part of the program, to the only flag which is allowed to float above the stars and stripes, the church flag. The evening closed with the guests singing "America." Rev. T. H. Cleland was toast master and Mrs. Linus W. Kline, Watson S. Moore and Charles Alden Smith responded to toasts. The banquet was in charge of a committee consisting of Mrs. C. H. Merritt, Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, Mrs. W. C. Sherwood, Mrs. A. H. Smith, Mrs. Z. D. Scott and Mrs. J. C. Watterworth, and presiding at the tables as hostesses were mesdames A. C. Taylor, Z. D. Scott, Charles Howell, I. S. Moore, H. W. Richardson, J. O. Milne, Brewer Mattocks, C. A. d'Autremont, G. H. Claypool, Oscar Mitchell, W. C. Agnew, J. A. Stevenson, R. S. Manley, W. A. McGongale, Ward Ames, S. E. Matter, H. H. Phelps, Misses Jenny Moody, Olive Horne and Dora Eaton.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Richardson are the guests of Mr. Richardson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson of 515 East Second street.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Paine entertained at bridge Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Knapp.

Mrs. J. DeMotte and Mrs. A. D. Jacobs entertained at luncheon and cards, Washington's birthday, at the home of the former in Munger Terrace. The rooms were decorated in flags and bunting and the score cards represented small hatchets. The favors were won by Mrs. A. Burgduff and Mrs. Thomas Prosnell. The guests were:

Mesdames—
J. M. Ford, E. J. Maney, A. Bechtele, William Burgess, B. P. Neff, Connor, E. B. Fox, M. Baker, C. A. Crane, F. T. Lewis, V. L. Bean, T. H. Martin, T. H. Pressnell, G. Ebert, H. L. Dresser, J. Keyes, M. W. Turner, M. M. Thomson, G. Ricketts, H. S. Ely, S. Kline, I. Coburn, B. F. Rowe, R. G. Henderson, F. J. Griffith, W. H. Northmore, C. W. Taylor, J. P. Warren, R. W. Johnson, F. W. Gordon of Superior, J. W. Kreitter, P. W. Porter, H. McCullum, A. R. Bjorquist, G. S. Newton of Superior, H. M. Randall, E. E. Crane, A. S. Kent, A. Burgduff.

• • •

Mrs. C. A. Bronson entertained Thursday afternoon at a delightful card party at her home, 420 Second avenue west. The rooms were prettily decorated in patriotic emblems and cinch was played at five tables. The favors were won by Mrs. W. F. Murnian and Mrs. Thompson. Those who played were:

Misses—
Autra Wold, Margaret Quigley, Helma Meyer, Beula Ferguson, Edna Anderson, Myrtle Quigley, Inga Hestrom, Edith Hager, Theresa Holmberg Edith Hager, Dorothy Young, Freda Braun, Mildred Olsen, Agnes Herstad, Esther Carlson, Edla Lorix.

Masters—
Erwin Kehtel, Ternow Holmberg, Raymond Anderson, John Meyer, Ernest Olson, Arvid Hage, Rolf Hestrom, Thomas Herstad, Herbert Holmberg, William Anderson Ernest Johnson.

• • •

The members of Company A entertained at their annual ball Tuesday evening at the Armory and the affair was a most delightful one. The hall was decorated brilliantly in many flags and tri-colored bunting and the Third Regiment band played a delightful program of music. A large number of guests enjoyed the function.

• • •

The members of North Star lodge, No. 35, Knights of Pythias will entertain at a pre-lenten ball, Tuesday evening of next week at their Castle Hall, 118 West Superior street. La Brosse will play the program of dancing music.

• • •

The marriage of Miss Annie Mackay of Duluth and Samuel A. McMahan of Helena, Mont., took place Wednesday evening before only immediate friends at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank McCormick, 221 Seventh avenue west. Rev. T. H. Cleland of the First Presbyterian chuch performed the ceremony. Miss Kittie McNamara was bridesmaid and Grantley West was best man.

The affair came as a complete surprise to most of the friends of the young couple. That evening Mr. and Mrs. McMahan left for their future home in Helena, Mont., where Mr. McMahan is employed by the Great Northern road. He formerly lived in Duluth, going West only about two years ago. Mrs. McMahan has been employed in Gray-Tallant's for several years, and is quite well known in Duluth.

• • •

The Honeysuckle club will entertain at a dancing party Tuesday evening of next week at Harmony hall.

• • •

Mrs. Percy S. Anneke of 523 East Second street, entertained on Friday afternoon for Miss Kreiger of Kiel, Wis., who is a guest of Mrs. August Fitger. Cinch was the game played during the afternoon by twenty young ladies. The decorations were entirely Japanese throughout the rooms. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. G. G. Barnum. The first prize was given to Miss Gladys Himbach and the consolation to Miss Frances Woodbridge.

• • •

Mrs. Warren Cundy entertained at a delightful Washington party Thursday afternoon at her home, 2815 West Third street. The decorations, score cards, and costume of the hostess carried out the idea of patriotism. Pedro was the game played. Miss Minnie Gregory was awarded the first prize, and Mrs. Arthur Robbins the consolation. The guests were:

Mesdames—
C. A. Gregory, Frank Cross, Arthur Roberts, Thimas Walker, William Hoffman, Charles Holden.

Misses—
Minnie Gregory, Agnes Johnson, Emma Dahl.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Willard of 1504½ East Third street, gave a fancy dress party on Tuesday evening, the eighteenth birthday of their daughter, Verna. The guests were:

Misses—
Genevieve Wallace, Josephine Bowers, Constance Coran, Sara Hammel, Louise Staples, Bertha Trickey, Millie Dinham, Rachel Hammel, Marjorie Willard, Myrtle Nelson, Erma Gujer,

Messrs.—
Wallace Webster, Herbert Yager, Ely Harris, Wallace Lawrie, Curtis Pillsbury, Albert Porter, Arthur Willard, Harold Campbell, Louis Fisher, Russell Clifford, O. D. Barnhill.

• • •

Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker entertained very informally for a number

Eton Suit of White Serge

PUBLISHED BY PERMISSION OF J. M. GIDDING & CO.

THE FAME OF MME. RUPPERT

HAS NEVER BEEN EQUALLED BY ANY OTHER COMPLEXION SPECIALIST.

MME. A. RUPPERT'S

Face Bleach

Removes Permanently

PIMPLES, BLACK HEADS, FRECKLES, ECZEMA, MOTH PATCHES, SALLOWNESS, and WRINKLES NOT CAUSED BY FACIAL EXPRESSION. : : : :

Does not cover up but removes the blemish.

Face Bleach

BRIGHTENS, CLEARS and BEAUTIFIES the COMPLEXION

It Improves a Good Skin and Works Wonders with a Bad One.

Does not cover up but removes the blemish. ITS MERITS KNOWN THE WORLD OVER. USED and RECOMMENDED BY REFINED PEOPLE EVERYWHERE.

Absolutely Harmless and Always Successful.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTERS, L. W. LETTHEAD DRUG CO.

Always Uniform
Always Reliable
Everywhere Obtainable

BAKER'S CHOCOLATE & COCOA

have stood the tests of time and service for over 125 years

Registered U. S. Pat. Off.

Be sure that you get the genuine with the trade-mark on the package.

Directions for preparing more than one hundred dainty dishes in our Choice Recipe Book, sent free on request.

Walter Baker & Co. Ltd.
Established 1780 Dorchester, Mass.

46 Highest Awards in Europe and America of her friends on Friday afternoon at her home on East Second street.

* * *

Miss Lulu Young was delightfully surprised by a large number of her friends at her home on East Fourth street, Friday evening. The young people were entertained with games and music. Those present were:

Misses—
Myrtle Brown, Winters, Edith Andrews, Eva Lewis, Cora Burg, Clara Beers, Stella Beers, Marie Andrews, Lida Schulte, Mary Loken, Gertrude Mahnkue Hazel Dolcore, Marvel Haugen.

Messrs.—
Benjamin Carmow Herbert Beer, Fred Jensen, John Amundson, Goodrich, Fred Hargast, Chris Bellinger, Walter Manks, Fred Scott, Charles Mackowsky, William Andrews, Lindwall, Charles Deniells.

* * *

A surprise party was given last evening in honor of Miss Elsie Pearson at her home at Forty-second avenue east. A very enjoyable evening was spent by:

Misses—
Jarda Olson, Anna Peterson, Alice Anderson, Jennie Erickson, Hilda Erickson, Hilda Traff, Rita Hunt, Sadie Wilson, Lillian Carlson, Lauretta Rietz.

Messrs.—
Gust Pearson, Gilbert Peterson, John Hoyt, William Anderson, Gilbert Webster, Amos Bjork.

Clubs and Musical

The Seventeenth artist's recital given in this city under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale will be given next Friday evening, March 2, at the Pilgrim Congregational church, by Herbert Witherspoon, basso. The concert will be for the members of the Matinee Musicale only, with the exception of men and out of town guests. Mr. Witherspoon has been meeting with much favor upon his concert tour and of his work W. J. Henderson of the New York Sun says:

"Mr. Witherspoon has a bass voice of lovely quality and of sufficient range. It is well equalized and is under thorough control. The singer delivers it with freedom, without forcing, and with admirable management of the breath. His employment of head tones is masterly and his "mezza voce" singing is highly finished. His full tone is sonorous, warm and penetrating. His enunciation is clear and perfectly intelligible. He can sing throughout his range on all the vowel sounds without modifying any so that they become unrecognizable, and in the consonants he finds no obstacle to the delivery of a beautifully sustained legato.

"In short, this young man comes before the public with a technical equipment which does credit to his masters, but still more to himself; for it could have been acquired only by conscientious work, backed by genuine devotion to the art. It would be pleasing to hear a man sing if he had nothing more than Mr. Witherspoon's voice and technic. But this singer has more. He has exquisite taste, solid understanding, temperament and imagination.

"He knows how to color his voice to meet the sentiment of a poem, and he neither underestimates nor exaggerates that sentiment. He has a good command of styles, and yesterday seemed equally home in many. To his credit let it be recorded that he sang best those songs which most deserved good singing."

The program which will be presented here offers novelty and is a most interesting one, and is as follows:

Aria—"O tu Palermo" ("I Vespri Siciliani") ..... Verdi
II.
a. "Droop Not, Young Lover'....Handel
b. "Gruppe aus den Tartarus"..Schubert
c. "Der Alpenjager" .....Schubert
d. "Helle Yacht" .....Hans Hermann
e. "The Three Comrades" .....Hans Hermann
III.
a. "I Know a Lovely Garden".....d'Hardelot
b. "Forever and a Day" .....Mack
c. "Mother o'Mine" .....Tours
d. "Madrigal" (Chanson Ancienne)..Thome
e. "Si tu le voulais" .....Tosti
f. Chanson (from "La Jolie Fille de Perth") .....Bizet
IV.
a. "Meet Me by Moonlight, Alone"..Old English
b. "Black Sheela of the Silver Eye" ..... Old Irish
c. "Over Here" (Old Irish arranged by Stanford) .....
d. "Jeannie Morrison" .....Old Scotch
e. "Scots wha hae" .....Old Scotch

* * *

The regular meeting of the Matinee Musicale will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Steinway hall. The program has been arranged by Miss Simonds and Miss Hartman and the work of American composers will be presented. It is as follows:

"Under the Pines" (Elfendance)) .... Templeton Strong
Mrs. Stephenson and Mrs. McLean.
"To a Waterlily" ....Edward MacDowell
"In Autumn" ..... Edward MacDowell
"From an Indian Lodge' ..... Edward MacDowell
Miss Elinor Pineo, Mrs. H. H. A. Beach and Shena Van.
"Sleep, Baby, Sleep" .....Gerrit Smith
Emily Ellis Woodward.
Nothurus (Lu Boccaclos Villa) op. 21, No. 2 .....Ethelbert Nevin
Miss Helen Coburn.
"Lu Picardie" .....Arthur Foote
"My Lover Comes on the Ski" (Norwegian Love Song)..Clough-Leighter
Mary Syre Bradshaw.
"Elfendance" .....Edward MacDowell
Miss Elizabeth Morton.
"O, That We Two Were Maying"..... Ethelbert Nevin
"Parting" .....William Neidlinger
Mrs. Woodward, Miss Bradshaw.
Pianoforte Quintette, A minor, op. 84.
Allegro Appaisonato Intermezzo
Allegretto ..... Arthur Foote
Mrs. F. G. Bradbury, piano; Mr. F. G. Bradbury, first violin; Mr. Oliver Colbentson, second violin; Mr. Clarence Evans, viola; Mrs. Marie Geist, third violoncello.

* * *

At the Unity club meeting on Monday evening next, Feb. 26, Dr. Nelson P. Hulst of Milwaukee will deliver an address on "The Metals in Human Progress." The Unity club meetings are held in the First Unitarian church, No. 732 East First street, and are open to the public, without charge. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to anyone who may be interested. It is hoped that the attendance at this, the last meeting of the present course, will be large, as Dr. Hulst's remarks will be most interesting and instructive, the subject being one upon which he is widely recognized as an authority.

* * *

The Morning Shakespeare Class of the Twentieth Century club will meet Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the club room of the library. The class will at this meeting complete the reading of the "Winter's Tale," with Miss Adele McClarun as leader.

* * *

The Forward Guild of the First Presbyterian church will meet next Saturday afternoon with Miss Florence Williams of 214 Twelfth avenue east.

* * *

A meeting of the executive board of the Twentieth Century club will be held at the public library Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

* * *

The meeting of the Outlook club has been postponed to March 9.

* * *

The Lecture Class of the Twentieth Century club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the club room of the library. The first half hour is devoted to current events, and at 3 o'clock the regular program will be studied. Readings will be given from Gogol and Turginieff and the life of Destroyski. Any interested in the program are invited to attend the meeting.

* * *

The Evening Browning class will meet Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the club room of the library. "The Death in the Desert" will be studied.

THE ROLE OF THE BULL DOG

By Charles Sloan Reid.

(Copyright, 1906, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

Miss Catherine Doskey was noted for doing unconventional things. But there were five men at the White Plains hotel who seriously wanted to marry her, though not all of them were seriously in love with her, for two of them were of the insusceptible sort and were thinking only of Miss Doskey's beauty and her financial attractiveness. Three others were in love, enwrapped and entangled beyond the hope of release, and among these was Trent Gilmore.

Trent was just out of college, and, though he had loved Miss Doskey for some time, the last few weeks had added desperately to his burden, for burden it was when Miss Catherine persisted in throwing him somersaults, as it were, every time he became so bold as to attempt to offer himself and all the prospects of his ambition at her feet. It was often amusing to other guests of the hotel to watch the five rubbing their heads against the wall or their chins against the balustrade waiting and watching for the opportunity that came not; for there was never any telling in what quarter to search for Miss Doskey, and there was nothing to do but remain on the alert for a glimpse of her; and even this quite often proved miragic, for she had a way of disappearing after being sighted, and without a moment's notice, to leave some rejected suitor with an elongated jaw in his hand, nursing the seeds of desperation and swearing at himself for being a fool.

Occasionally Miss Doskey came off worsted from some of her little willful escapades, though she usually managed to keep the knowledge of these reverses from coming to the ears of the men at the hotel, and thus maintained for herself the appearance of one whom the fates befriended in her rebellion against the yoke of form.

But one evening Trent saw her stealing away from the hotel with a book in her hand, and he knew she was off for a quiet afternoon in some shady dell of the forest not far away; and he determined to follow her later on in the evening, in order to meet her in the woods on her return and have the matter out, despite the shrewd tact which she usually practiced.

It was near sundown when he set out, and he was almost afraid he had waited too long and that she would meet him before he could get out of sight of the hotel. But in this his fears were unfounded, for, after a walk of twenty minutes, he had passed entirely through the large body of woodland lying north of the hotel and had not yet seen anything of Miss Doskey. And beyond the forest was an old apple orchard whose widespreading trees had a gloomy look in the deepening twilight.

Peering through the orchard as far as he could he thought that something in the distance had the appearance of a house, evidently it was the house belonging to the owner of the orchard. Perhaps the family there had seen something of Miss Doskey. Trent determined to climb over the fence and make his way there as quickly as possible, to make inquiry, for it was now almost dark.

Climbing over the fence he dropped heavily to the ground inside the orchard and started across the lot. But he had not gone a dozen yards before something happened, and it was something entirely unexpected and disagreeable, to say the least of it. A deep, bass growl, coming from an indistinguishable source, suddenly smote the air and sent a chill along Trent Gilmore's spine, which was accompanied by those tremors that only the voice of a bulldog can induce. And that dog might have been behind him, in front, at his right hand or his left, for all he knew—there had been nothing about the sound of the voice to indicate his immediate whereabouts. Nor did Trent tarry in that particular spot to settle the point. The nearest tree with the most accessible branches was the one thought, and this came mechanically with the sound of the growl. A hundred feet away stood a large tree, whose branches shaded half a thousand square feet of soil, and one of the lower limbs could be easily reached.

There was just light enough left to discover this, and Trent made a wild dash for refuge. He caught the limb and dragged his feet clear of the ground just in time to save his ankle from the vicious snap of the beast which had leaped after him through the growing darkness and now loomed up as large as a hippopotamus at the foot of the tree.

And the space between Trent and the bulldog still seemed entirely too small. He reached outward in search of an adjacent limb by which he might steady himself preparatory to climbing higher among the branches, and his hand came down upon a very tiny, warm, pulsating little foot, encased in a dainty oxford tie that was resting against the branch which Gilmore's hand had sought in the darkness. It was a moment of the profoundest astonishment to Trent, and during his period of rigidity, the small foot was slowly and apologetically withdrawn from beneath his hand and now swung clear beneath a lithe form which was seated on still another adjacent limb. But Gilmore's eyes suddenly received a wonderful power of penetration, and he could clearly outline the figure of Miss Doskey though he could not see her face.

"Catherine, I've found you," exclaimed Trent, as soon as he could find his voice.

"In a most ridiculous situation, Trent," her voice trembled, and a little sob put a period to the sentence.

"Well, I don't know about that—it may seem so to those who discover us in the morning."

"Oh, you don't mean that we shall have to stay here all night?"

"I hardly think the sentinel down there will relax his vigilance."

"I was so foolish to climb up here. But it looked so jolly among the branches, and I just felt like climbing—and I never once thought of a dog."

"Well, it's lucky for me, anyhow."

"How?"

"Why, I have you now where there isn't the ghost of a chance for you to run away from me, while I am trying to tell you how much I love you and how your promise to be my wife would mean a whole world of happiness to me."

"Oh, Trent, don't begin that now! I—I want to go back to the hotel."

"Do you, now? Well, I must confess I haven't the nerve to tackle the dog, while you make your escape. I never had much of the martyr about me, you know."

"I don't see why the owner thinks it necessary, anyway, to keep such a monster to guard his apple trees. He must have a very piggish nature."

"No doubt. But it has served me a good turn this time." Trent climbed over and found a more comfortable place quite near to Miss Doskey.

Muffled growls continued to issue from the dog's throat at intervals, and these invariably brought a shudder to both the occupants of the tree. But Trent sat there and talked like a machine. For once, Miss Doskey was outdone and could only sit and listen. But this she soon discovered was not so very unpleasant, for the moon rose and threw its light down through the trees, tracing many weird shadows upon the ground beneath them, and among these were their own shadows which called forth a mixture of weeping and laughter from Catherine that necessitated alternate tones of sympathy and amusement from Gilmore. Once or twice, at Catherine's solicitation, Trent climbed down toward the roots of the tree to ascertain whether the bulldog slept, only to be greeted each time by a bass gutteral of warning. So it had become apparent at last that there was nothing to do but remain where they were until some one came to take away the dog.

Some time during the night Trent got Miss Doskey's hand in his and kept it. Then after awhile the chill of the night atmosphere grew insistent, Catherine shivered and yawned, her head became tired, her eyes heavy, and Gilmore drew her close to him, cloaked her about with his arms, pillowed her head comfortably upon his shoulder—and her deep breathing whispered to him of sweet sleep.

The morning sun climbed from his bed and smiled down upon the two in the tree top, and Catherine's eyes opened wide. For a moment she gazed about her, then she remembered all. At about the same time, the sound of voices came from the forest and Trent gave a whoop to attract the attention of the party.

"Oh, oh, now comes the ordeal," said Catherine.

"But we shall announce our engagement at once, shall we not, sweetest?"

"Are you quite sure you are not now playing the martyr?"

"Not by several bright heavens of happiness, dearest."

It became necessary to slay the dog, before the prisoners could be allowed to descend from the tree. The rescuing party had been out since early in the night searching for Miss Doskey. Among those composing it were four young men who very suddenly thereafter found White Plains hotel a very uninteresting place, and they departed therefrom during the day.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL AT FRAZEE, MINN.

Frazee, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frazee citizens are justly proud of the public school, which ranks high in the state. Two additional rooms had to be built to accommodate the growing attendance, and at present there is an enrollment of 365 pupils. Rudolph Geiser, the superintendent, was reappointed for another year at a recent meeting. The following are the school board: President, F. W. Clayton; clerk, Dr. E. R. Barton; treasurer, G. Baer; directors, J. J. Daly, E. F. Gummer, and Henry Lhur. There are ten teachers, some being university and others normal graduates, as follows: Principal, Rudolph Geiser; principal of high school, Helen Geiser; teachers, Mabel Adams, Mary Frisch, Margaret Graham, Flossie Davis, Eva Hendry, Nona Regan and Jessie Ashley.

A YELLOW LUNCHEON

By Cornelia C. Bedford.

With the advent of the Lenton season many forms of entertainment are dropped for the time being, but quiet meals are always in order and a dainty luncheon for half a dozen friends is sure to be appreciated. As heralding the coming of spring, let the hostess plan a yellow and white meal and she will be sure to score a success. The menu here given can, we feel sure, be attainable in all parts of the country:

Fruit Cocktail.
Fish in Ramekins. Small New Potatoes.
Radishes. Olives. Celery Hearts.
Broiled Chicken.
Asparagus. Fresh Mushrooms on Toast.
Lettuce and Cress Salad.
Cheese Flingers. Pineapple Parfait.
Fancy Cakes. Bon Bons.
Coffee. Apple and Cheese Creole.

As an effective floral decoration, nothing could be more beautiful than yellow tulips, massed in a large bowl in the center and smaller ones at either end of the table. If the hostess possesses any Austrian glassware with its beautiful golden service shining through the cut crystal this is the time to use it. Fill the small dishes with tiny white radishes, olives, yellow and white candies and the crisp celery hearts laid on finely crucked ice. Have at each place a name card and the favor—a tiny box of candy, the top simulating a yellow tulip in paper. Use white or white gilt china, serving the perfait in punch glasses.

Where grape fruit is to be had use it for the cocktail. Select medium-sized fruit with unblemished skins. Scrub lightly and dry then with a sharp knife cut out the upper third of the fruit in two right-angled wedges, leaving between them a strip of skin to act as the handle of a basket. With a small spoon carefully scoop out the pulp and juice, rejecting all membrane and white inner skin. To this add enough powdered sugar to make pleasantly sweet and set aside to chill. Drop the shells in ice water. Just before luncheon dry the shells; add one tablespoonful of sherry or rum for each fruit used and fill the skins about two-thirds. As they go to the table put a spoonful of shaved ice o ntop of each. Orange mixed with apricots may be used instead of grape fruit.

Any white-fleshed fish may be selected for the next course, halibut being preferred, as containing fewest bones, but cod or whitefish are also good. For six persons allow about two pounds. Wash, drain, lay in a saucepan, cover with hot water, add a slice of onion, a small bay leaf, a half teaspoonful of salt, a dozen pepper corns and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and cook very gently until the flesh begins to draw away from the bones. Set aside until cold, then drain and break in flakes with a silver fork. In a saucepan melt together two tablespoonfuls of butter and three of flour, slowly add one cupful and a half of hot milk and stir until smoothly thickened. Season highly with salt and white pepper, add a dash of mild curry powder and two heaping cupfuls of the flaked fish and stand over hot water for fifteen minutes. Three minutes before serving add one teaspoonful of lemon juice and the yolk of a raw egg beaten with one teaspoonful of cream. Fill the hot ramekin cases and over the top of each sprinkle some of the yolk of two hard boiled eggs, rubbing it through a fine sieve. After placing each ramekin on its plate arrange round its base three or four tiny new potatoes—or a dozen potato balls—which have been boiled until barely tender, drained and repeatedly sprinkled with melted butter.

With this course serve dainty crescent-shaped rolls. Scald one pint of milk, dissolve in it one teaspoonful of sugar, two scant tablespoonfuls of butter and a half teaspoonful of salt. When partly cooled add one-half of a yeast cake dissolved in a little warm water and sift in enough water to make a thick batter. Beat hard, cover, stand in a bowl of warm water and keep warm until the batter is very light and spongy. Add more flour to make a soft dough, knead for five minutes and return to the bowl, keeping warm until the dough is very light. Turn half of the dough out on a very slightly floured board and roll out half an inch thick. With one side of a circular cutter cut off crescent-shaped pieces and place an inch or more apart on flat greased pans. Brush each with warm water and when light brush again and then bake in a very hot oven. With the hands roll out the remainder of the dough in a rope an inch thick, cut in three-inch lengths and lay well apart on other pans. Wet the tops with water, then, just before putting in the oven, brush with slightly beaten white of egg. When pale brown brush again with the egg white and return to the oven just long enough to set the glaze. Serve these fingers with the meat course.

The broilers should be of such size that one will serve for two persons, dividing them lengthwise along back and breast. When cleaned, brush inside and out with melted butter, dust lightly with the salt and pepper and broil slowly, turning the flesh side first to the fire. Should they be past the first stage of extreme tenderness, it is wise to first lay them in a baking pan, dot with bits of butter, cover closely and cook in a very hot oven for twenty minutes, then finish the cooking in the broiler. Serve them prettily garnished with sippets of bread sauted golden yellow in butter.

To be perfect both asparagus and mushrooms should be fresh, but this is not always possible and in such case either or both may be canned. For fresh asparagus, cut off an inch of the lower end of each stalk and scrape with a dull knife; tie in small bundles with soft twine and plunge into salted, boiling water. From twenty-five to forty minutes will be required to cook the stalks tender according to their age and freshness. Drain, and arrange on very thin narrow slices of toast dipped for an instant in boiling water and serve either plain or with a drawn butter sauce.

From three-quarters of a pound of fresh mushrooms cut the stalks, trim the lower end of each, peel and cut very fine. Peel the caps, cut them in quarters, rinse quickly in cold water. Place with the cut stalks in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of butter and two of cream, cover and stand over a slow fire. At first the butter will be absorbed, but soon the brown liquid will begin to exude. Gradually add one cupful of thin cream and heat slowly to the boiling point. Slightly thicken by adding a teaspoonful of flour, smoothly blended with milk. Season, adding salt sparingly, as mushrooms require less than most foods. They should be tender after ten minutes' simmering. Take off, turn into a hot dish and garnish with strips of yellow peppers (these come canned in oil) or quarters of hard boiled eggs.

Cheese fingers are needed for the salad course. Mix together one cupful of flour, a pinch of salt, a dash of cayenne and one teaspoonful of baking powder. Rub in one heaping tablespoonful of butter, add a half cupful of grated cheese and mix to a rather stiff dough with ice water. Roll out quite thin, cut in half-inch strips, then in four-inch lengths with a jagging iron and place an inch apart on greased pans. Brush each with milk or egg white, sprinkle with grated cheese, seasoned with cayenne and bake in a moderate oven. Serve either warm or cold.

Make a French dressing for the salad by mixing together one-half of a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of black pepper and four tablespoonfuls of olive oil. Having ready a measured tablespoonful of plain or tarragon vinegar drop it in very slowly, stirring rapidly all the time until the mixture is somewhat thickened and has a grayish tinge. Having the lettuce and cress washed, dried and arranged in the salad bowl, pour the dressing over and mix, turning the leaves over and over until each is well moistened. This is best done at the table at the moment of serving.

For the pineapple take one pint and a half of very thick cream. From a can of preserved pineapple drain off the syrup, add to it just enough lemon juice to faintly flavor; stir sufficient of this into the cream in the salad bowl, pour the cream over and mix, turning the leaves over and over until each is well moistened. This is best done at the table at the moment of serving.

For the pineapple take one pint and a half of very thick cream. From a can of preserved pineapple drain off the syrup, add to it just enough lemon juice to faintly flavor; stir sufficient of this into the cream in the salad bowl, pour the dressing

AUTOMOBILES IN DULUTH INCREASING

Number This Year Double That of Last Season.

Fifty New Machines Likely to be Added to List.

The number of automobiles in Duluth this year will be just double the number of machines in the city last season.

Last year the total number of automobiles owned in the city was about forty-five. Already about thirty new machines have been purchased by Duluth citizens, and about twenty more are expected to send in their orders within the next month, according to the report of a local agent for the machines.

It is expected that before the middle of the summer there will be more than 100 automobiles owned in the city.

It is not more than two or three years ago that there were but three or four machines in the city and almost every boy on the street could spot at sight any one of them and tell the owner of it. But things will be different this year. An automobile will no longer be an object of curiosity, and the list will have grown beyond the ability of any but the experts to keep track of.

The owner of an automobile will no longer be regarded with a mixture of wonderment and awe, but the introduction of the new, inexpensive, runabouts has brought the machines within the reach of the more modest purses, and many an unassuming business man, who has managed to save enough to purchase his house and lay up a little ready money in the bank will be seen whizzing about the streets with his family this season.

With the bull market on copper stocks, the sum of $500, which is now all that is necessary to purchase an automobile, does not seem too far beyond the horizon of even some of the clerks in the city, and several of the young men working on a salary, are figuring on how to spare the amount necessary to own one of the runabouts.

Duluth people canot be said to have any particular favorite among the numerous cars offered by American makers, although up to the present time they have not indulged in any of the speed cars turned out by foreign factories. All the American makes appear to look good to them, and they are buying everything from the $500 runabout to the $2,500 touring car.

Most of the dealers in the city handle all kinds of cars, although some are making a specialty of the low-priced machines, while others are confining their attention to the high priced touring cars, where sales are few, but profitable.

Greater comfort for the passengers is the distinguishing feature of the 1906 models turned out by American manufacturers.

Instead of making the motors, the control and the transmission apparatus the features of their catalogues, they are making a specialty of springs, suspension and the coverings.

The modern touring car is now the chief offering of the dealers, in place of the speed car which was featured by them last season.

Some of the touring cars turned out this season are the most sumptuous affairs. Inside of the weather-tight, leather upholstered passenger compartment is almost every conceivable convenience for the traveler. Window shades which will shut out the sun can be raised by touching a button. Another button turns on a set of incandescent lights, making the machine as bright as any library or drawing room. Other buttons connect with the driver's seat and he can be signalled at any moment. A speaking tube is also convenient for more detailed instructions. Lockers are provided under the great, leather seats.

The spring suspension of the modern cars has apparently reached the acme of perfection. This has largely aided in solving the tire problem, which threatened to be a very perplexing question last season. The improved springs have decreased the strain on the tires, and this, added to the fact that better tires are being manufactured, has done away with much of the trouble from this part of the machine.

The cars this year are more powerful in proportion to their weight than those which were turned out last season. Last year sixteen-horse power was considered sufficient for an ordinary touring car, but this year the cars are capable of developing tyenty-horse power.

Wood is still the favorite material for the body of the car, as it does not show the dents which are to be seen in metallic cars at the end of the first season.

But the luxurious touring cars, with their sumptuous appointments, are not for the average automobile enthusiast. Most of them have to be content with the light runabouts, and these promise to be very common in Duluth this year. The favorite type are those which cost from $500 to $750. They are built with aluminum, or sheet steel bodies, and have from seven to ten-horse power. They are capable of developing a high enough speed to keep the owners in hot water with the law, if they are at all inclined to let the machines out on the streets of the city, and considering the price they are wonderfully well equipped. Ten or twelve such machines have already been sold in Duluth this season, and as many more will probably be disposed of before the summer is over.

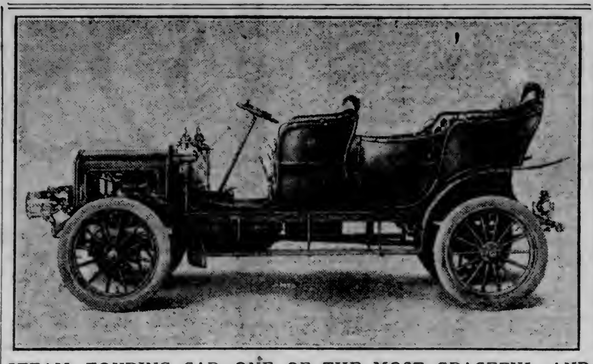

For those who want even cheaper machines, a second hand automobile can be purchased some times for a ridiculously low figure. An automobile shrinks in value wonderfully fast where the owner has plenty of money at his disposal and wants a new machine every year, and occasionally a second hand machine can be bought at a great bargain. These second hand machines are sometimes as reliable and substantial as a new one, and differ very little in style from those of this year.

* * *

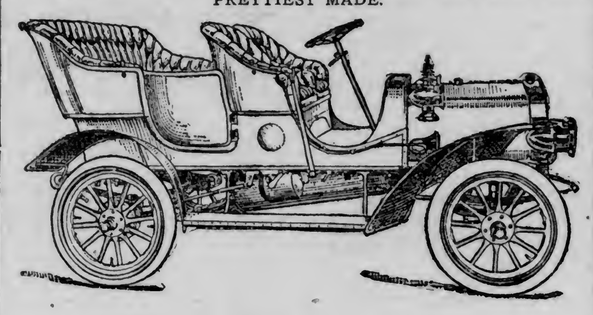

The large increase in the number of automobile owners in the city is bound to add new life to the Duluth Automobile club, and this summer will doubtless see the inauguration of a vigorous campaign for better roads.

The club will also map out runs for the members, and during the season one or two club trips may be taken, with anywhere from 50 to 100 automobiles in line.

One thing which the club will strive to accomplish, together with the Minneapolis and St. Paul clubs, will be the improvement of the road between the Twin Cities and the Head of the Lakes. During the greater part of the distance the road is in good shape, but there are parts of it which are badly in need of repairs. If these sections of the road are fixed up, it will be a simple matter for the owners of automobiles to make the trip to St. Paul and back, and with a fast touring car the run one way should be made in half a day.

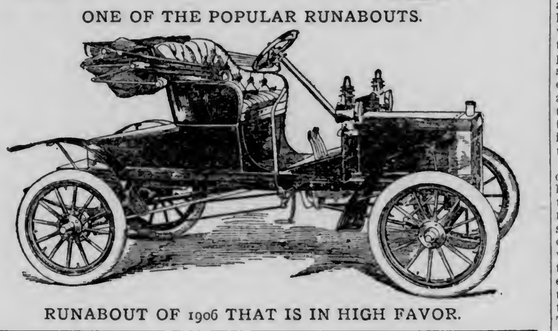

STEAM TOURING CAR, ONE OF THE MOST GRACEFUL AND PRETTIEST MADE.

TOURING CAR OF A POPULAR TYPE.

ONE OF THE POPULAR RUNABOUTS.

RUNABOUT OF 1906 THAT IS IN HIGH FAVOR.

EDUCATION OF THE NEGRO

Miss Frances Yeomans Speaks of Work at Fisk University.

Has Yet to be Introduced to a Southern Woman.

"I have been in the South for twenty-six years working among the negroes, and I have yet to be introduced to a Southern woman," said Miss Frances Yeomans, this week, in speaking of her work at Fisk university at Nashville, Tenn.

This remark was brought out in the course of conversation, and this ostracism, because of her work, is not the part she dwells upon, but she speaks repeatedly of the things the university has accomplished, of what it will accomplish, of the faith she has in the abilities of the negro, and of the good use he is now making of his opportunities. Miss Yeomans was in the city for a few days, and spoke last Sunday evening at the Congregational church in the interests of the university work among the colored people of the South, under the direction of the American Missionary association. During her visit in the city she was the guest of Mrs. Francis DeGroat of 2105 East First street. She left Thursday morning for Minneapolis.

Miss Yeomans has been on the faculty of Fisk university for the past eighteen years, and she is in the North to interest the people in the university. As her department is the student aid, she is working for $50 scholarships and other financial help for the university. Her entrance into the work is very interesting. Her father, who was a Congregational minister, was an active working abolitionist, and after his death, the fact that his life work must be stopped appealed to his daughter, and she has since given her life to the interests of this people.

Miss Yeomans' first field was in Alabama, where she remained eight years, and eighteen years ago she became identified with Fisk university, and has remained there since. She speaks most interestingly of the work.

"Fisk university was literally sung into existence," said Miss Yeomans this week, "for when, in the early struggles of Fisk, it seemed as if the university must give up, a band of colored jubilee singers was organized and drilled, and they sang all over this country and in many European capitals, and raised money for the continuance of the higher education of the negro, as it was carried on at Fisk. One of the ideas that exists in very great measure in the North is, that to do the greatest amount of good for the negro he should have industrial training, and although we recognize the value of the industrial training for a large number of the people, the higher education is also necessary. The negro race must have leaders, and the leaders must come from among their own people. To be a leader the individual must possess a well trained mind, initiative and other qualities which he will get by the university training.

"So long as Fisk can maintain but one school, the higher education will be its object. At present, however, there is a movement on foot to raise money for a department of applied science. In this connection it is interesting to note that although the university has been in the city since 1866 the people of Nashville had never given anything toward its support until recently $2,500 was subscribed for the support of this new department. This comes as a recognition that we are doing a good work and eventually we hope that the Southern people will all come to realize that the work we are aiming to do is the thing that must be done and that is for the good of all the people. That the colored race is a race distinct, everybody agrees. They must have separate schools, seperate churches, and any social mingling is impossible. The educated negro realizes that as well as the white man. When he becomes educated he is ashamed of any white blood that he may possess, the blacker he is the higher he holds his head. And although we feel that he must be treated as a separate and distinct race,we want for him just as good schools, just as good teachers and the help to realize the hopes of his race.

"When one considers the heritage of the negro which is nothing but heathendom, the progress he has made during the years of his opportunity is remarkable. We get the brightest of the young colored people and that our training is thorough and capable is shown by the fact that our graduates can enter Harvard and Yale without examinations."

Miss Yeomans is most interesting in her accounts of the achievements of students. The story of the graduate is invariably one of determined struggle and the standing that many of them attain points conclusively to a brilliant intellect. The three pictures shown are of graduates of the last three or four years from Fisk. Althea Brown is now a missionary in Africa and is doing a splendid work among her own people there. The girl is a graduate of Fisk and followed this with a year's missionary training. She desired to enter the missionary field but had much difficulty in getting a board to send her. At last one of the large Presbyterian churches of Nashville said it would send her if she would join the church. A colored person dare not step inside the churches of the white people of that city. However, the members made arrangements for her to slip in quietly some Thursday evening at prayer meeting and join that church. Although the idea was distasteful to the young colored girl she did it and was sent into the field in Africa. She has made such a wonderful record and her enthusiasm is so great that her Nashville sponsors are delighted.

The young boy pictured is also a graduate of Fisk. He is now entered at the law school at Harvard and is working his way by service in a coffee house. He was one of the most brilliant of his class and his efforts are now being directed toward speedy results from his years of training that he may help his younger brothers and sisters to the education which he feels means so much to him.

The other young girl is teaching at Macon, Georgia, and will undoubtedly later teach in one of the colored high schools.

Miss Yeomans interested many people in the wark in Duluth, and Congregational churches of the city are especially interested in the work as the school is under the direction of the Congregational board. A number of scholarships will doubtless be sent within the next week or two to the university as a result of her visit here.

GRADUATE OF FISK UNIVERSITY, TEACHING IN NEGRO SCHOOL AT MACON, GA.

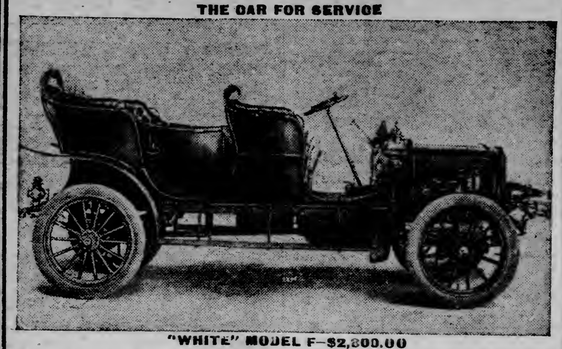

ALTHEA BROWN, Missionary to South Africa.

GRADUATE OF FISK UNIVERSITY NOW WORKING HIS WAY THROUGH HARVARD LAW SCHOOL.

THE INCOMPARABLE WHITE

THE CAR FOR SERVICE

"WHITE" MODEL F—$2,800.00

We are Agents for White, Buick, Maxwell, Pope Waverly, Cadillac and Reo. Garage, Charging, Repairing.

DULUTH AUTOMOBILE CO., Garage and Office: 210 W. First St.

is visiting friends in Calumet for a short time.

Rev. A. Lincoln Shear, formerly pastor of the Calumet Congregational church, is visiting his family here and preached last Sunday at the Calumet Presbyterian church. Mr. Shear is now pastor of the Congregational church at Sidney, N. Y.

The high school class of 1906 has selected and ordered its class pin. The consignment is expected within the next two weeks.

Katherine Sandretto, aged 15 years, died last Saturday afternoon at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Victoria Torreano, of tuberculosis. The deceased was a beautiful young girl, beloved by her many friends. Two uncles, August Torreano of Michigan City and Joseph Torreano of Danville, Ill., came home for the funeral, which was held Tuesday morning from St. Mary's church, with interment in Lake View cemetery.

The directors of the Tamarack Co-operative association have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, James A. Cruse; vice president, Walter Renwick; secretary, James P. Ashton; treasurer, William M. Harris; executive committee, James A. Cruse, James P. Ashton and W. M. Harris.

George Fox has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

W. H. Phillips has returned from Chicago, where he visited his daughter, Mrs. Ennis. Mr. Phillips is foreman for the Calumet and Hecla.

Dan G. Ross left Calumet last Saturday for Isabella, Tenn., with a party of Calumet people, who will take positions with the Tennessee Copper Mining company, near that city.

Mrs. George Rees has gone to California, where she will visit for the remainder of the winter.

B. Barnham of Ashland, Wis., visited Calumet friends last week.

Isador Krolik has returned from a business trip to Chicago, New York and Cleveland.

Eugene Wollstein will leave May 1 for a two months' trip to Europe. He will visit England, Germany and France, and expects to return to Calumet the early part of July.

The funeral of Joseph McCauley was held last Sunday afternoon from the residence on Osceola street, Lauriun. Rev. J. R. Baldwin, pastor of the Laurium Baptist church, officiated.

Julia, the 15-months-old daughter of Dominic Valro of Sixth street, is dead after an illness lasting fifteen days. The funeral was held Sunday from the Italian church on Portland street with interment at Lake View cemetery.

Anton Hoganson was viciously stabbed by Henry Erickson when the former tried to separate Erickson from his wife, while they were engaging in a lively family quarrel. Hoganson was passing the Erickson house when he heard the woman's cries of "murder." He thought it his duty to respond with the result that the furious husband stabbed him. Erickson has been arrested, charged with assault and battery, with the intent to do great bodily harm, less than the crime of murder.

Word was received in Calumet last week by Steven Trathen that his niece, Mrs. John Luxmore had died at Bessemer. Mr. and Mrs. Luxmore were formerly residents of Calumet.

John V. Wilde of Duluth visited in Calumet last week.

An interesting wedding took place in Calumet last Wednesday, Feb. 21, when Capt. J. C. Douglass of the local Salvation Army corps and Lieut. Myrtle Davis were united. It was the first wedding ceremony under the auspices of the Salvation Army in Calumet in many years. Brig. J. W. Cousins of Minneapolis was present to tie the nuptial knot. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the evening, in the presence of a large gathering.

Harry C. Kitchen of Superior, Wis., visited with friends in Calumet last week.

Miss Margaret Thompson of Fargo, N. D., is visiting relatives here for a short time.

John Plautz and Miss Kate Sturtzel were married last week at the bride's home on Seventh street. Rev. Father Klopcic performed the ceremony.

A young daughter has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Champion of Iroquois street.

Felix Orsolan and wife have returned from their wedding trip, which extended South and West.

Wilbur, the 11-year-old son of Capt. Hocking died of scarlet fever.

J. F. Seals of Danville, Ill., has opened an oyster house in Calumet.

Henry Vogler has resigned as chief of the Laurium fire department after serving the company for fifteen years. Gus Preuss, also an old member, succeeds Mr. Vogler.

Ira Curtis, Jr., of Alpena, is visiting here for a short time.

Miss Ruth Stephens gave a linen shower last week in honor of Miss Lulu Vincent, who will be married shortly to Joseph Grierson.

Joseph French was a business visitor in Calumet last week.

Robert Curnow has gone to England to visit friends and relatives for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McFadden of Butte, Mont., are visiting in the city for a short time.

A baby boy has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moon of Hecla street.

W. Knight has gone to Cornwall, England, to visit for several months with friends and relatives.

Harry Rudansky of St. Paul is making a short visit to Calumet.

Gus Bronson of Waupaca, Wis., is in the city for a few days.

Mart Adson, general manager of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, and A. J. Perrin, commercial agent of the same company of Duluth, were in Calumet Wednesday to witness the Portage Lake-American Soo hockey game. Thursday they attended the Ishpeming ski tournament.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

WILL NOT FOOL ENA.

First Learned the Spanish Phrases She Should Not Utter.

London, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A member of the aristocracy who is on intimate terms with the royal family, while talking of Princess Ena's good sense, said: "She is not to be caught like the last foreigner who went to Spain as Queen. Maria Christina hardly knew a word of the Hidalgo language when she married Alfonso's father, and the latter, amused at his wife's piety and puritanical habits, played a rather undignified joke on her.

"Under the guise of teaching her the language of the country, he taught her a lot of indelicate phrases, assuring her that they meant the identical high sounding sentiments, that Spaniards delight in.

"Consequently, at her first meeting with the glances, Maria Christina addressed them as 'sublime cockroaches,' and 'ill-smelling groundings,' and worse. Her mistress of the robe nearly shook her head off to point out to the queen the mistakes she was indulging in, but Maria Christina bravely went on talking the jardon of the gutter without knowing it.

"No one will fool Ena," said the Englishman, "for she learned the words and phrases she ought not to utter first."

CZAR'S COUSIN

Must Pay Life Pension of $600 to Man He Kicked.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald)—The czar ordered Prince Kotchonbey, his cousin by marriage with the Duchess Dorothy, to pay the life pension of $600 per year to Moeller, the Desden hotel porter, as ordered by the Saxony court. If the prince fails to do so, his majesty will cause one of his palaces to be sold and turn the money over to the Dresden court. Kotchonbey kicked the hotel porter into insensibility for furnishing him, among other papers, with a comic weekly making fun of the czar. The porter was injured for life and sued for damages.

Good Blood

Good blood, good health; bad blood, bad health; there you have it. Why not help nature just a little and change the bad to the good? Bad blood to good blood; poor blood to rich blood! Ask your doctor how this applies to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and how it applies to you! Could anything be more fair?

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
Also Manufacturers of

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR—For the hair. AYER'S PILLS—For constipation.
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL—For coughs. AYER'S AGUE CURE—For malaria and ague.

VIRGINIA.

(Continued from page 23.)

place, and he and Mrs. Pigott will go down the first of next week. He will also manage the new meat market to be established by Henry Hughes & Co. here.

Miss Della Parshel of Chicago is now employed as trimmer by Mrs. M. West.

Joseph Deering, D.D.S., of Cloquet, has decided to locate in Virginia. He is well known here.

Manager E. M. Tredway of the Fay opera house has ordered a new drop curtain and stage settings. The interior of the house is being kalsomined and painted. The manager announces that he has booked a number of first-class attractions.

J. D. Gilchrist, formerly superintendent of the Mount Iron mine, now manager of the mining division of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, was in the city this week visiting friends. He says his company is opening up a magnificent iron property in Wyoming.

Capt. Joseph Roskilly and son Gerald have returned from attendance at the ski tournament at Ishpeming.

C. A. Munroe of Two Harbors is looking for an opening to engage in business here.

E. J. O'Rourke and Jacob Stein are in St. Paul on business this week.

George Hastings has gone to Bemidji to look after the business of the Tabor Lumber company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shaver and family attended the ski tournament in Ishpeming.

Mrs. C. G. Mayo and family departed Wednesday for Lakota, N. D., where Mr. Mayo is representing a piano concern.

Chief Engineer Angst of the D. & I. R. was in town Thursday.

Misses Josephine Sterle and Emilie Thompson tendered a social dancing party to a number of their friends at Korby's hall Thursday evening. Willson's orchestra furnished music and a splendid lunch was served.

H. H. Hobbins, representing the Westchester Quire Insurance company, visited with the company's agent, A. E. Bickford, Thursday.

Mrs. F. C. Whiting of Hibbing is visiting in the city.

Mrs. M. A. Hendricks arrived in the city Thursday evening from Chicago, and is a guest at the home of her son, A. E. Bickford. Mrs. Hendricks will spend the summer at her home on Clear lake.

Miss Rute Grey has been engaged as stenographer by City Attorney Shea.

Charles Simpson, engineer on the Rainy Lake road, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

CALUMET

Calumet, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Virginia Pollard of Louisville, Ky., is visiting friends here for a few weeks.

D. B. MacDonald of Virginia is a Calumet visitor.

J. B. Bargh of Duluth is in Calumet on a short business trip.

Capt. Thomas Hoatson has returned from New York and Pittsburg, where he has been on business.

Mrs. James Columbus left Wednesday for Chicago and other points on a two months' visit with friends and relatives.

H. E. Kratz, superintendent of the Calumet public schools, left today for Louisville, Ky., where he will attend the convention of the department of superintendents of the National Educational association, which will be held in that city next week.

Invitations are out for the coming wedding of Miss Florence Hocking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hocking, and Mr. Alfred Mitchell. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Saturday night, March 3.

Charles Jonas was issued a license Thursday to wed Miss Anna B. Laugen.

Lecturer P. Scholler, on behalf of the Hancock council, No. 692, Knights of Columbus, presented Dr. M. A. Thomeiz, past grand knight, with a valuable charm, emblematic of the order. The gathering, which was held at the Red Jacket hall in the opera house, took the form of a banquet and promenade and was attended by a large number of knights and their friends.

Thomas Collins has returned to Calumet from a few weeks' visit to the East, where he attended the meeting of the Keweenaw Copper Mining company.

G. A. Ashton of the St. Paul Dispatch is in Calumet on business.

Albert Daney of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company's office force left Tuesday afternoon for a few weeks' trip to New Mexico and other points through the West.

John Daniell has gone to Missouri, where he will inspect some zinc properties in the Joplin district, in which he is heavily interested.

The schools of Calumet were closed Thursday, the occasion being the anniversary of Washington's birthday.

Jesse Meads of Willow avenue is rapidly recovering from injuries received while playing hockey last week at the Palestra. Mr. eMads was struck on the head and rendered unconscious during the game.

Miss Sophia Gittler, formerly of Calumet, now of Chicago, is visiting friends in the Copper country.

A large delegation from Calumet attended the ski tournament at Ishpeming Thursday. It is said a number of ladies were in the party.

Thomas McGraw and John B. Rudderham have been chosen official umpires f the Copper country baseball league, according to Secretary P. R. Glass. Two other umpires are yet to be chosen.

N. Boneshof of Milwaukee is in Calumet on business and while in the city will be at the Calumet hotel.

Miss Lucy Dimmer was pleasantly surprised by about thirty of her young friends Monday evening. A musical program was given and dainty refreshments served.

A. C. Siboth, superintendent of the Lake Superior & Arizona Mining company's property arrived in Calumet Monday and addressed a mass meeting of the stockholders here during the week.

Stephen and William Paull have returned from Breckenridge, Mo.

The Red Jacket City band gave a skating party Tuesday night at the Palestra. A program of eighteen numbers was played for skating or dancing. A large crowd attended.

C. E. Davis of the Soo is in Calumet on business.

Merton B. Anderson, eldest son of William B. Anderson, vice-president and manager of the Merchants' and Miners' bank, was found dead in the woods near the Hermina mine, Monday. The young man was one of Calumet's promising youths, being 22 years of age and a graduate of the Michigan College of Mines. He went to the Hermina property last week to take the position of consulting engineer and it is feared his extra work at the college caused a temporary derangement. For the family of the deceased, nothing but the profoundest sorrow is expressed. The remains reached Calumet Thursday, the funeral being held Friday, Rev. Harry Appleton officiating. The young man's sudden death is a great mystery to his friends in Calumet, as he was of a bright, jovial disposition and never melancholy. If he took life with his own hand, it was undoubtedly due to overstudy. He graduated from the Michigan College of Mines last Christmas and up to last week had been doing special work at the college.

Miss Bertha Jameson has returned to her home in South Bend, Ind., after visiting with friends and relatives in the Copper country for several weeks.

Miss Helen D. Dymock of Portland street has returned from an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. A. Entenza, in Florida.

A racing carnival was held Monday night at the Palestra ice rink. The ladies' speed skating race was won by Miss Archer, with Miss Renwick second and Miss Williams third. A hockey game was played earlier in the evening between the Palestra Juniors and the Hecla team, which resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 4 to 0.

Dr. C. H. Rodi left Sunday night for Chicago and New Orleans, where he will take in the Mardi Gras. Before returning, he will make a short visit to Cuba.

Angus McLean has gone to the Soo for a few days' visit.

William D. Light of Dunkirk, N. Y., is

THE EXPERIENCES OF A PRESIDING ELDER

Rev. E. C. Clemans Tells of His Trip to Wakemup Bay.

Rev. Dr. E. C. Clemans, presiding elder of the Duluth district, has recently returned from a tour made by canoe and foot through the Indian territory to the Methodist Episcopal mission at Wakemup Bay, northwest of Tower. In describing the trip, Mr. Clemans said:

"On a recent Sunday evening I left Duluth on a freight train for my quarterly visit to the Indian mission work at Wakemup Bay. I had never thoroughly visited the whole mission territory, which extends from Tower to the Vermilion lake, west from the west end of the lake, forty miles to Nett Lake Indian reservation. Living in this long stretch of land are about 300 Indian families belonging to the Chippewa tribe. One missionary has charge and he has great efforts to supply the spiritual needs of the people. At the west end of Vermilion lake we have a church and also several meeting places in this territory.

"Reaching Two Harbors at 1 a. m. I was met by Rev. W. E. J. Gratz, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, who accompanied me on my itineracy. We took an ore train to Tower, arriving at 6 o'clock Monday morning. At 8 o'clock we were taken in a little steamboat and traveled thirty-five miles west on Lake Vermilion, arriving at Wakemup Bay in the afternoon and were met by the Indian pastor and his wife, who are Chippewas and have been in charge of the mission for over two years. There is a little settlement of Indians here and they have a small chapel. We were delightfully entertained in the Indian parsonage, a small log cabin that the missionary, Rev. Antoine Couture, built himself. He cut the timbers on land at the other side of the lake, made a raft and towed the logs to Wakemup Bay, then with the help of Indians, members of our little church, hewed the logs and erected a cabin with one room down stairs and one upstairs, a convenient home for himself and wife. In the evening the services were held in the chapel, the Indians gathering from far and near. Rev. W. E. Gratz preached and his sermon was interpreted by the missionary to the Indians. Then I administered the sacrament of the Lord's supper after which a testimony meeting was held and the Indians declared that they had found the Saviour mighty to save from sin. Then we had an impromptu social. I had brought a suply of candies and cakes which were greatly enjoyed by the Indians. The next morning, Mr. Gratz, the missionary and I, with an Indian guide, Edward Porter, a member of our church, started for a forty mile trip to Nett lake. We had pack sacks on our backs, carrying blankets, changes of underclothing and provisions for the trip. We were dressed for hard usage. Until noon on Tuesday, we tramped up hill and down hill over a very rough road and reached Elbow lake, where dinner was served at the home of an Indian farmer, a Mr. Gheen. After dinner, two birch bark canoes were secured, and in these we journeyed ten miles down the Elbow river to its junction with Pelican river. The guide and myself were in one canoe and Mr. Gratz and the missionary in the other. The day was cold and part of the way the river was frozen, but some Indians coming up the river earlier in the day, had, fortunately for us broken the ice so that we could get through. After an hour, the canoes commenced to leak and, at a favorable landing we disembarked and the guide and missionary proceeded to patch the canoes. The canoes were taken out of the water and turned upside down. The pitch on the seams of the canoes was carefully examined until the leaks were discovered. A little fire was built, and with a burning stick small pieces of pitch were melted and daubed on the cracks in the bottom of the canoe.

"Canoeing for ten miles we came to the junction of the Elbow and Pelican rivers, and into and up the Pelican we paddled for four miles, till we came to Pelican point, on Pelican lake. Here was a little settlement of Indians, with one of whom, Peter Drift, we were acquainted. A year before I baptized him at Wakemup Bay, and his wife, and taken them both into the church there. To their wigwams we went upon landing. It was dark, but the fire was brightly burning on the ground in the wigwam. Uncle Peter and wife were glad to see us, and though the wigwam was nearly filled with guests, there was room for us. In the wigwam we found a son-in-law of Peter, and a grandson, besides a strange Indian, who was being sheltered there that night. Our guide cooked our suppers at the wigwam fire, a meal which was greatly enjoyed after our long ride. We wanted to have a meeting in the wigwam, but there was a feast on among the Indians in the village. Uncle Peter told us there were to be three kinds of meat, venison, duck and fish, and we found that no religious meeting could compete with that feast, so we held the service among ourselves in that wigwam. About 10 o'clock we went to bed, if that is what we would call it. The only bed was the ground, covered with cedar leaves. Mr. Gratz and myself, as did the missionary and guide, went to bed with all our clothes on, and several blankets over us, but the night turned bitterly cold, and all the cold seemed to come down through the roof in the wigwam, through which the smoke of the fire seemed to make its way, that is, part of the smoke; a great part of it seemed to get into our eyes. I always like to have a window open in my bedroom at night for fresh air, and Mr. Gratz suggested, as we went to bed, that I had better open the window, but I was proof against his sarcasm. About midnight he and I woke up nearly frozen. The fire had gone out and the wigwam was bitterly cold. I awoke the guide and asked him to go out and get some wood to start a fire, but he said he was afraid to go, as in the evening he had heard Mrs. Peter scolding Uncle Peter, in Chippewa, because he had been reckless in burning wood to make a big fire when we came. She had a right to scold, as she had to cut the wood across the lake, and then towed it home and cut it for the wigwam fire, and the fire was low that night. I subsided when the guide gave me this information, and realized that even in an Indian wigwam the wife is supreme.

"For an hour longer we froze and then Uncle Peter froze himself; he got up and, while we had retired with our clothes on, he had stripped to his pants and had nothing but an old rabbit skin over him. He went outdoors and came in with an arm full of wood with which he soon had the fire blazing cheerfully. We arose and hugged the fire for the rest of the night. In the morning after breakfast, we took the canoes to cross the Pelican lake, a distance of ten miles.

REV. E. C. CLEMANS.

About noon, we reached an Indian village at the west end of the lake. From this it was only nine miles to the reservation. Our plan was to leave the canoes here, take a portage of four miles and then securing canoes at the end of the portage from some Indians who live there, go down a little stream five miles to Nett lake. But the Indians at the west end of the Pelican lake told us that the cold of the night before had frozen the stream and that it was impossible to canoe and advised us to take the winter road, because of a big swamp we would have to go through, if we took our original route. Acting on their advice, we rode a mile south in the canoes, and leaving them on the shore of the lake till our return, started on the winter road to Nett lake. We had four miles of a good trail, and a little after noon, a halt was made, a fire started, and dinner cooked. We were in a delightful place, surrounded by great pines, and the meal was greatly enjoyed. After a rest, a start was made on the last stage of the journey. The ground became lower and the winter road led down into a swamp, and for four miles we made our way through the ice-cold water of the swamp. The bottom of the road was frozen, so that though wet the walking was not hard. About 3 o'clock Nett lake was seen in the distance, and I thought our journey was over, but I found the guide had a surprise in store for us. He told us that the village was four miles north, and that we would have to walk along the shore of the lake to get to the village which was to be the end of our journey, and that nearly all of this was a muskeag swamp. I urged him to go down to the shore of the lake, which we could see half a mile away, and he said there was no shore, but reeds and rushes, and that in all probability there would be ice, for many feet around the edge of the lake and the only way was to go through the swamp to the village. So into the swamp we went. Our feet would go down into the water and muskeag until some kind of a bottom would stop them, and the effort to draw our feet out and make another step was very peculiar and fatiguing. But on we went; my pack-sack got heavier and heavier, and as Mr. Gratz's was doing the same we persuaded the guide to carry some of our things. It turned colder and began to snow, and we became more and more tired. I could hardly walk any distance without resting and to do that with any comfort I had to climb up a little way on a cedar tree and rest my feet on the branching roots to keep them out of the water. We were three hours going through the swamp; it seemed three days. I wanted to give up and go back, but it would be worse backwards than ahead. At times as I struggled along I thought I was asleep and wanted to wake up and find out that it was really a dream, and then my foot would strike against a root and I would fall flat in the muskeag, realizing emphatically that it was no dream. I was wet to my waist and below my knees I was paralyzed almost with the ice-cold water.

"At last we reached high ground and I was devoutly thankful. We came to an abandoned Indian cabin and while Mr. Gratz and I shivered in darkness, for it was pitch dark now, the missionary and guide circled around the cabin and little clearing to find the trail to the village. Finding it at last, they started and we followed cold, tired and exhausted. After walking about twenty minutes, we came to another swamp and I refused to go into it. I perferred to stay where we were, and on the high ground of the timber, build a fire and camp there than take to the swamp again. While the guide was hesitating, I took out a compass that I carry, lit a match and saw the direction we were going. It was south instead of north. I told the guide so and he retraced his steps to the cabin, we limping slowly behind. Here a search was made for the trail which was found at last. On we started, now hoping to see the village lights, when the trail led into a windfall, and a wind-fall in a pine forest is no joke. This seemed to cap the misery of the day, and I wanted to return. For the first time since conference, I wished Bishop McDowell had not appointed me again to the Duluth district as presiding elder. Mr. Gratz was feeling in no very enviable frame of mind—because I had invited him to take such a journey with me. At last we got through the wind-fall, and for an hour tramped through the darkness, when we saw a light from an Indian cabin shining down the way. We reached it, and while the guide went in to find out if we could stay there, we stayed shivering out in the darkness. In a few moments he came out and said we could come in, and in we went. The cabin was a poor one and not over clean, but with a great fire burning in a big stove and with a warmth and shelter, it seemed a great mansion. We soon changed our wet clothing for the dry that we had brought along, and after a supper prepared by the Indian wife, we went to bed. The bed was a bunk with indifferently clear blankets on and we had seen the Indian women making a pillar for us by filling a little sack with some duck feathers from a barrel. We got all the hospitality they could give. I waked up several times in the night, and as I heard the storm outside, thanked God that we were out of the swamp.

"But the thought that we had to go back through that swamp would intrude itself, and I finally made up my mind that I would not go through it, but go through another swamp, going another way. Another swamp might be worse, but we would have the advantage of not knowing about it beforehand, and my hope to the last was that it might be better. So in the morning, after a breakfast of coffee and wild rice and bread, I suggested to the guide that we get two canoes and two Indians, cross the lake to the place where the winter road came down to the lake, have the Indians in ahead of the canoes break the ice, until we could get to the reeds near the shore, and then wade through the water until we struck the high ground on the road back to Pelican lake. He thought it was feasible, and we accordingly did so. The canoe that I was in led. After paddling three miles the edge of the ice was reached, and with the guide steering and paddling the canoe, the bow was brought up to the edge of the ice, and the Indian in the bow commenced breaking the ice with a long club that he had brought along. We had to break the ice, as it was not strong enough to hold us, and too strong for the frail canoe to crush through. By breaking the ice, a narrow channel was made, and through this the guide steered the canoe. It was a delicate matter, as a heavy wind was blowing, so that it was difficult to keep the canoe from the jagged ice, a sudden crowding of the canoe onto the edge of the ice might break the thin bark, and I wondered how we could ever get out of that lake alive if the boat should fill with water. It took an hour to reach the edge of the rushes. Reaching them we put on our pack sacks, and leaving the Indians with the canoe, started on the home stretch, wading into ice-cold water up to the knee for nearly half a mile, but at last we reached the shore, and rejoiced, swampy though it was, and walking for about four miles, reached the high timber, where the day before we had dinner, and gratefully thankful, another fire was built and another meal partaken of. I might say that we held no meeting in the Indian village at Nett lake, as the Indians were having a great spirit dance. A big dancing floor had been made by strewing an enclosure with cedar branches, and a great time was expected the day we left.

"I found the Indians to be pagans at the village, and facing a winter with only an annuity of $4.85 from the government. I visited the chief, and through the interpreter he poured a tale of wrongs into my ear, and claimed that the government was not keeping promises with them. They claimed that the treaty of 1868 promised them a resident farmer, a carpenter, a blacksmith shop, a school with a teacher, and a mill, but they had none of these things. I also learned that owing to the high water, the rice crop was practically a failure, and the outlook for a hard winter was oppressive.

"After a rest we walked four miles or more to the lake where we took our canoes and recrossed Pelican lake. A heavy wind was on, but fortunately blowing in the direction that we were going. The waves were high, and I do not think a little birch bark canoe the safest possible place in a storm. We reached the western shores of the lake, visited with Peter Drift a little while and called upon the Indian agent, Maj. S. W. Campbell of Wisconsin who was making his annual visit to the reservation, paying the Indians their annuity. I have corresponded a great deal with the major, and have had many kindnesses from him and help in my work among the Indians of which he is agent. And I was glad to meet him, and thank him for what he had done. Again we embarked by canoes and after rowing down the Pelican river to its junction with the Elbow, we stayed over night at a farm house and the next morning went back over our former route up the Elbow to the Indian farmers, then seven miles to the Vermillion lake, then in a steam boat thirty-five mile to Tower, where we were fortunate in getting permission to return to Two Harbors on an ore train, reaching Two Harbors at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, after the hardest week's travelling I have ever done.

"My trip satisfied me that more missionary work must be done among these Indians. The missionary must have regular preaching appointments at Pelican lake and Nett lake, and a little chapel must be built at Nett lake. I found sixty families on or near Nett lake; these families are veritable pagans. They need the gospel of Jesus Christ."

THE MESABA RANGE

(Continued from page 13.)

with ten feet of water, covering all the pumps. There is danger that the water will seep through into the Rusk mine, adjoining.

The Mayas Mining company's property, on the Eastern Mesaba, is now being stripped, and will be opened this season for a production of 100,000 tons or over. The overburden is shallow, and there will be no difficulty in removing even more than is required this year.

FIELD FOR EXPLORATION

(Continued from page 13.)

on a tract comprising parts of Sections 26 and 27, 47-26, on the east side of the Moore hill, at the edge of the Junction basin swamp. A shaft was sunk to a depth of about ninety feet, extending to a point some fifteen or twenty feet below the level of the swamp. The option was about to expire, but the operators had an opportunity to renew it. Ore was struck in the bottom of the shaft. Water began to flow, and it could not be taken out fast enough with the bucket to permit of operations being continued satisfactorily. Negotiations were pending for the purchase of a pump and other equipment when the men disagreed over the division of the interest in the property in case a mine was opened. The machinery belonged to one of the men, who withdrew his outfit, and the deal fell through. Members of the party were satisfied they had struck what would prove a deposit of good ore. After the option expired, however, a renewal could not be secured from the fee owner on satisfactory terms, nor could the syndicate get together again. It is asserted now that if diamond drill holes were put down at the scene of the old exploration the result would not only be satisfactory but would surprise those who have contended that the only ore likely to be found in the district would be of a grade too poor to mine profitably.

In any of the Michigan iron fields it cannot be stated positively that iron does not exist on any given area until after the land has been punched full of diamond drill holes sunk to the underlying country rock, below which sedimentary ore deposits may not reasonably be looked for. Properties that have been explored off and on for years occasionally develop into good mines, under the fortunate touch of some explorer with better ideas or better luck than those who preceded him. Although there is work in that line on either the Marquette or Gogebic ranges to occupy several decades at the present rate of progress, there is a larger field for exploration on the Menominee range than in the other two districts combined. Physically it is the largest of the Michigan ranges, extending east and west from Waucedah to some distance west of Iron river, a distance of about sixty miles. There are more spurs or outlying districts than on the other ranges, and the iron formation is so extensive that many new and large mines are certain to be opened in the future. The deposits of silicious ores are of enormous extent and of common occurrence. They afford a guarantee of active mining operations at a period when the bodies of higher grade ore now being mined are exhausted—for, as Former State Mineral Statistician Russell has declared, the time must come when the 40 per cent ores will be as eagerly sought as 60 per cent ores are now looked for. The range lies in two Michigan counties—Dickinson, on the east, and Iron, on the west—as well as in the northern part of Florence county, Wis.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Deadwood, S. D., Feb. 24.—The ground lying just across the gulch from the famous Homestake extension property has just been bought by a party of New England men and the New England Homestake company has been organized. The property contains about eighty acres. Ample funds are assured for the development work, which will begin soon. Two ledges of ore have already been encountered, and it is believed they will prove to be as valuable and as extensive as the ledge on the Homestake Extension ground. Indeed, it is thought that they are continuations of these same ledges. A meeting of the directors of the Gilt Edge Maid has been held and some important changes decided upon in the future working of the mine. The wet crushing method of cyaniding the ore will be abandoned and the plant will be changed to a dry crushing plant. In addition to this change the company will build three new tanks, each of the same capacity as those used at present, 300 tons. In this way the capacity of the plant will be increased to 4,500 tons a month.

A large amount of ore is already being taken out of the Esmeralda ground and work is going on steadily. In some of the slate that has been taken out the rock is literally sprinkled with free gold. The ore resembles that which was taken out of the famous old Rhoderick Dhu mine. Average of the ore so far mined exceeds $100 a ton. The old Columbus mill is being put in shape for a test run and in ten days it will be in operation. Something like 200 tons of ore are already in the bins. An immense vertical vein has also been encountered below the cement deposit and many people believe it to be an extension of the vein discovered in the Homestake Extension property.

Lead, Feb. 24.—The Eleventh Hour is opening the largest shoot of ore ever encountered there. It is not less than seven feet thick and its extent has not been ascertained. The assays give values from $12 to $29 a ton. The other ore body on the Magnet ground is developing a large quantity of $10 ore. The storage bins are being filled rapidly and everything will be in readiness for the opening of the mill at an early date.

MINING IN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—San Francisco capitalists have bonded for $50,000 six claims at Lide Fus, Inyo county, from Henry Duggles. There are now on the dumps 15,000 tons of rock which will average from $8 to $14 a ton. A new mill is to be erected. The original locator tok out $200,000 by working an old Mexican arastra, the ore going from $40 to $50 a ton.

Amador county has the distinction of having the highest lifting pump in the United States. It has just been installed in the South Eureka mine at the 2,030 foot level and lifts the water from that point up the incline shaft to the surface, which is equal to 1,875 feet vertical lift. The pump throws about 250 gallons a minute or over twenty miner's inches. It took about six months to put in the equipment, and the cost was about $15,000.

The old Johnson gravel mine in Sierra county will be reopened by W. W. Miller, a Berkely mining man. The mine had lain idle for over thirty years until last fall, when Johnson began clearing out the tunnel. The gravel channel is believed to be the same as that of the Nebraska mine, which has proved to be very rich in gold.

Whittier and Stevens, two veteran prospectors, have located 3,000 feet on a new ledge they have discovered near Grass Valley, Nevada county. The quartz in the ledge is freely sprinkled with gold and the sulphurets will average $46 in gold per ton.

On the Mountain Boomer mine in Trinity county a forty inch ledge has been found which runs as high as $100 a ton. The last clean-up, after a sixty days run, netted the company $15,000.

The Humboldt War Eagle claim between Redwood Creek and Trinity river, Humboldt county, has a ledge 200 feet wide and 3,000 feet long. Assays run as high as $1,982 a ton. It runs along the side of a mountain and though much of it is low grade the ore can be worked at small expense.

The Bear Tooth mine in Trinity county is turning out ore that averages $30 a ton. The tunnel is in 300 feet and upraises tap the ore body at a height of fifty feet.

ALASKA MINING

Seattle, Feb. 24.—The friends of Southeastern Alaska who have stood by the camps through good and bad reports for years are at last reaping their reward. The mines are now yielding splendidly, supplying the new smelters with ore. Two smelters are now in operation in Ketchikan district, Prince of Wales Island, and are successfully reducing 400 tons of copper-gold ore a day. One is owned by the Hadley Smelting and Refining company and the other is owned by the Coppermount company. The latter has just been placed in operation, and is handling 200 tons a day. It is said that Ketchikan is one of the richest copper districts on the Pacific coast, and that the reduction plants now operating are but the beginning—that there is room for dozens of such plants, and the mines are there to supply them with an abundance of high-grade copper ore.

The Hollis Bay group of silver-lead mines, composed of the Mountain Top, Shoofly, Stella Nos. 1 and 2, Anderson and King, have recently added a mill site on the bay, and there are other indications of great improvements. On the lower claims a tunnel has been driven three feet wide and assaying $32 a ton in silver and lead. On the higher mountain, at an elevation of 4,500 feet, there is a ledge of this class of ore from 100 to 150 feet wide. From this claim to tidewater on Hollis Bay, is a little over a mile, and the ore can be transported by wagon or tram from the mines to the smelters. Work can be carried on all winter on these mines, and with money for development they can be placed among the leading silver-lead producers of the territory. The property is a short distance from Ketchikan, with which it is connected by steamer.

The first steamers are announced to sail from Seattle for Nome on May 15. They will take passengers and an assorted cargo. The return cargo is anticipated to be sour doughs frosted with gold. From reports now coming, the gold output will surpass anything in the history of Nome camp.

IDAHO MINES

Boise, Feb. 24.—After having been closed down for months, the mill at Delamar, Idaho, is to resume early in the spring. Despite delays due to bad weather, the work of reconstruction is progressing rapidly. Chilean mills are being installed in place of rolls, which did not crush the ore fine enough. A different application of the cyanide process in extracting the gold values will be made.

John Treweek, manager of the Sunnyside mine at Thunder Mountain, writes that developments in that region are favorable to the opening up of big mines soon. At the Sunnyside 90,000 tons of ore which averaged $8 in gold to the ton has been blocked out. It is expected a boom will follow the approach of the Pacific and Idaho Northern.

A wagon road to cost $40,000 is being built along the Boise river from Twin Springs to the Atlantic district. This road will make access to the region much easier. Five mining companies are at present operating there. Large quantities of gold ore, running $8 to $25, are being uncovered. One 80-ten mill has been completed and two of 100 tons capacity each, are being erected.

PHYSICIAN IS A REAL LIVE DUKE

Arkansas' Man Going to Scotland to Claim Old Estate.

Fort Smith, Ark., Feb. 22.—Within a few months Fort Smith is to be the home of a real live duke, for the duke of Baynham of Scotland will then take up his residence here.

The duke to be is Dr. C. W. Baynham of Fort Smith, who will leave in April for Glasgow, where he will receive his title and come into possession of the feudal castle with its large estate, upon the northeast coast of Scotland. The estate is situated between Inverness and Cromarty, on the Irish channel.

The story of the inheritance of this estate by the Fort Smith physician is an interesting one. The estate has been unoccupied and supported by the government for many years. The great-great-grandfathr of Dr. Baynham was the last duke of Baynham. He, with his son and grandson, who was the father of Dr. Baynham, left Scotland in 1801 for America. The old duke died at sea, but the others landed at Old Point Comfort, April 18, 1801.

In 1850 the father of Dr. Baynham, who was then living at Fairplay, Mo., made an attempt to secure the estate and title which rightfully belonged to him by inheritance. He wrote to the Antiquarian Society of Salem, Mass., for the record of his family, and found that it could be traced back to Mary, queen of Scots, but was dumbfounded to find that the record showed that his father and grandfather had been beheaded.

Knowing this part of the record to be false, the elder Baynham secured the affidavits of several who had come over on the same ship with him, showing that the old duke had died at sea, but others of the family landed in this country and were never beheaded. The court of royal judges found the claim was correct and sent the papers back with their approval.

The elder Baynham then prepared to go before the secretary of Scotland to receive his title and property, but died before the date set for his appearance. Two months later his home was destroyed by fire and all the papers and other proofs of kinship were destroyed.

Five years ago Dr. C. W. Baynham took up the matter where it had been left by his father, only to find that the court records of the time the father had sent in his claim had not been properly kept, and he would have to furnish new proof of his rights.

The papers of the elder Baynham being destroyed and all of the men who had come from Scotland with him being dead, this was a difficult task, but with the assistance of a Scotch attorney he was enabled to gather such proof as the judges required, and his case has been favorably acted upon. Only the sanction of the court of royal judges, which meets in April, remains to be secured, and this has been promised.

FANCY WORK AND MUSICAL CLUB

For Servant Girls Owing to Competition at Leavenworth, Kan.

Leavenworth, Kas., Feb. 23.—Competition for servant girls is so keen among the wives of army officers stationed at Fort Leavenworth and the housewives of the city of Leavenworth that all sorts of inducements are being held out by the local women to keep them, the most recent move made by the Leavenworth dames being the organization of a club for the girls who work in kitchens or as housemaids, to teach them such things as embroidery, vocal and instrumental music.

Meetings of the club are held every Thursday in the parlors of the First Congregational church, from 8 to 10 p. m., and there are to be four periods, the first for instruction in vocal and instrumental music and embroidery, the second to be devoted to lessons in the common school branches, the third to discussions of current events and literary work, and the fourth to conversation and parlor games.

The club has been organized by Mrs. C. S. Moses, wife of the physical instructor at the Young Men's Christian association, and several women interested in the welfare of the working girls. They select such girls for membership as they think will take kindly to it, and naturally each member has selected her own hired girl as a member. The women organizers are the instructors.

Servant girls were scarce at Fort Leavenworth until recently, and the highest of wages were paid—so high were these, in fact, that white girls preferred working there, and housewives of the city were forced to work in their own kitchens or these were presided over by negro women.

But recently four troops of negro cavalry were sent to the army post, and negro women who wish to obtain employment near their husbands or sweethearts have usurped the places of the white girls. Yet the latter are scarce in the city, preferring to work in factories, where they can have their evenings off.

The club members say that, by teaching the girls who work for them vocal and instrumental music and embroidery and getting them interested in books, they can induce them to remain at home nights, and that they will be able to convince them that they will be more eagerly sought for by the young men desiring wives.

Publicity will always help a legitimate business, just as sunshine will make plants grow.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

Mother's Friend

Send for free book containing information of priceless value to all expectant mothers.
The Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

MOVING

We are experts in moving pianos and household furniture. Covered vans, if desired.

STORING

Let us store your furniture in our fine new warehouse at 510-512-513 East Superior Street. Special room for pianos. Private rooms if desired.

PACKING

All kinds of goods packed for shipment or otherwise. Packing material for sale. We make arrangement for your shipping without extra cost.

Duluth Van & Storage Co.

Both Phones 492. Office 210 W. Superior St.

"CLEANLINESS IS NAE PRIDE, DIRT'S NAE HONESTY." COMMON SENSE DICTATES THE USE OF SAPOLIO

Where, When and How are three questions agitating the minds of the prospective tourist.

WHERE? Florida, Cuba and the South. Because the beautiful Southland is not so far from home, and the expense is light in comparison with the Far West.

WHEN? Now, for the blizzard of the North is upon you.

HOW? Via the

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

in connection with

Queen & Crescent Route

BECAUSE the "Chicago and Florida Special," leaving Chicago at 1:00 p. m., arriving Jacksonville 8:50 p. m. and St. Augustine 10:00 p. m., and the "Florida Limited," leaving Chicago 9:00 p. m., arriving Jacksonville 8:50 a. m. and St. Augustine 10:00 a. m., will take you in through sleepers, club, dining and observation cars, modern day coaches, etc. Write for Winter Homes booklet and other literature to

J. S. McCULLOUGH,
N. W. P. A., 225 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

W. H. TAYLOE,
General Passenger Agent, Washington, D. C.

G. B. ALLEN,
Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Louis, Mo.

S. H. HARDWICK,
Passenger Traffic Manager, Washington, D. C.

Duluth Medical Co.

125 West Superior St., Duluth, Minn. Over Big Duluth.

Speedily cures all Private, Nervous and Chronic Diseases without Mercury or hindrance to business.

CURES GUARANTEED.

All old lingering cases of Syphilis, Scrofula, Fever Sores, etc., where the Blood is Poisoned, causing Blotches, Pimples, Sore Throat and Mouth, Dry or Discharging Ulcers, Pains in the Head and Bones, also obstinate cases of Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture and all diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder are CURED FOR LIFE.

Young, Middle Aged and Old Men

Who are suffering from the terrible effects of Seminal Weakness and Loss of Manhood as the result of Errors in Youth or other causes, and producing Nervousness, Constipation, Despondency, Wakefulness, Dizziness, Debility, etc., rendering Marriage improper or unhappy, are positively cured. The remedies

Act Quickly and Cure Permanently.

And when directions are compiled with

THEY NEVER FAIL.

Patients are being treated by mail and express everywhere.

Advice free. Cases and correspondence sacredly confidential. Write for questions stating for what complaint. Hours, 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 6, and 7 to 8 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12.

SANTAL CAPSULES MIDY

For Kidney & Bladder troubles. Cures in 48 Hours. URINARY DISCHARGES. Each Capsule bears the name MIDY. Beware of counterfeits

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Square, Phila., Pa.

BIG G CURES in 1 to 5 days. Guaranteed not to stricture. Prevents Contagion. THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO. CINCINNATI, O. U. S. A.

MEN AND WOMEN.

Use Big G for unnatural discharges, inflammations, irritations or ulcerations of mucous membranes. Painless, and not astringent or poisonous. Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles $2.75. Circular sent on request.

Old Remedy. New Form.

NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL.

Tarrant's Extract of Cubebs and Copaiba in

CAPSULES.

The tasteless, quick and thorough cure for gonorrhoea, gleet, whites, etc. Easy to take, convenient to carry. Fifty years successful use. Price $1, at druggists, or by mail from The Tarrant Co., 44 Hudson St., New York

WOMEN FEMALE BEANS great monthly regulator; strongest, best, safest; contain Ergot, Tansy, Pennyroyal; not a single failure; longest, most obstinate cases relieved in a few days; $2.00 at S. F. BOYCE, Druggist, 335 Superior St. Duluth, Minn

It takes a lot of preaching to convert some men to the value of advertising, but they always stay put.

Don't fret—forget. This is easy if your nerves be right.

PALMO TABLETS

soothe the nerves and give you double brain and muscle capacity.

50 cents. Guaranteed. Book free.

For sale by Max Wirth, Druggist.

Photographed from Life.

REVIVO RESTORES VITALITY

Made a Well Man of Me.

THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY

produces the above results in 30 days. It acts powerfully and quickly. Cures when all others fail. Young men will regain their lost manhood, and old men will recover their youthful vigor by using REVIVO. It quickly and surely restores Nervousness, Lost Vitality, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Lost Power, Failing Memory, Wasting Diseases, and all effects of self-abuse or excesses and indiscretion, which unfits one for study, business or marriage. It not only cures by starting at the seat of disease, but is a great nerve tonic and blood builder, bringing back the pink glow to pale cheeks and restoring the fire of youth. It wards off Insanity and Consumption. Insist on having REVIVO, no other. It can be carried in vest pocket. By mail, $1.00 per package, or six for $5.00, with a positive written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Book and advice free. Address ROYAL MEDICINE CO., Marine Building, CHICAGO, ILL.

For sale in Duluth by S. F. Boyce, Max Wirth

THE STAGE

AT THE LYCEUM

"King O'Keefe" Will be Presented by the Duluth Elks on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The enthusiasm of the participants in the rapidly approaching production of "King O'Keefe or "The Isle of Yap," the B. P. O. Elks latest and greatest theatrical efforts, is communicating itself to the members of the lodge and their friends and four big houses are sure to greet the big company of local amateurs on March 1, 2 and 3 at the Lyceum theater. So much has been said and written of the funny situations, catchy music and big specialties, beautiful scenery and costumes, and the participants are so well known that its success is assured. The seat sale opens Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

The cast, specialties and musical numbers are as follows:

THE CAST.

Hyballus Kozuzzi, the chacellor.....
.....Paul Clarkson
Philupus Bazaza, secretary and royal poet.....Don Clark
Kylaka Salittle, the courier.....
.....Howard Sexton
Fredericko, the mysterious stranger.....E. M. Spencer
Queen Lil, of the Isle of Yap.....
.....Charles Dorrance
O'Keefe McNamara, a clever Irish-American.....Joseph McLaughlin
Birdie St. Clair.....Agnes Skelton
Adelaide De Corsey....Margaret Nordal
Violet Du Spray.....Flora McDonald
Sweet Evening Breeze..Hazel Roberts
Gazelle Frangapani.....Clara Collier
Sadie Goldstein.....Petronella Gilman
Tim Murphy, captain of police.....
.....Harry O'Gorman
Officer Levi.....Joseph Schwartz
Lord Picadilly, British minister.....
.....Will Aronson
Ignasiak Witchafsky, Persian minister.....George Skelton
Fong Lu, Chinese minister.....
.....Harry O'Gorman
Pettro Manilla, Italian minister.....
.....John Koneczny
"The Right Little Girl"...Jessie Beatty
Hon. Charles Lillis, an American.....
.....Paul Clarkson
Merry Sunshine.....Mina Clark
Little Bright Eyes..Mrs. Paul Clarkson
Dearie Dimple.....Christine A. Shaw
Golden Tresses.....Nellie Soneson
Colleen Bawn.....Kate Burke
Loving Glances.....Della Kreidler
Pinky White.....Inga Foss
Shy Gazelle.....Margaret Dingwall
Quiet Ways.....Susie Irvine
Sweetie Smile.....Birdie Lawrenz
Dimpled Cheek.....May Meagher
Nellie .....Lillian Morey
Belle .....Mabel Sund
Jessie.....Bessie Collier
Tessie.....Alice Sund
Bessie.....Effie Brotherton
Hattie.....Hattie Plaunt
Mattie.....Edna Jones
Cora.....Agnes Morrisson
Flora.....Hildegrade Wohlin
Clara.....Elsie Flett
What's the Use.....Clifford Allen
I'm Allin.....George Maine
Dowan Out.....E. R. Lade
Given Look .....Oswald Seller
Her Poon.....Olle Dignus
Forgothis Name.....John Tresise
Willie Yap.....W. C. Robinson
Other Island.....D. Cullen
Rowa Boat.....C. L. Britten
Taka Swim.....Charles Cannon
Catcha Fish.....Joseph Miller
Helphim Eatit.....Edward Holland

SPECIALTIES.

"Oh Take Me Back to Gay Paree"...
Mina Clark, Mrs. Paul Clarkson, Christine A. Shaw, Kate Burke, Della Kreidler, Nellie Sorenson.
"O'Keefe's Dancing Soubrettes"...
Clara Collier, Agnes Skelton, Hazle Roberts, Petronella Gilman, Margaret Nordall, Flora McDonald.
"Indian on Broadway"...
Lolita Lamb, Stanley Lamb, Clifford Allen, Don Clarke, Paul Clarkson.
"O'Keefe's Police Brigade"...
Harry O'Gorman, captain; George Maine, W. C. Robinson, D. Cullan, Olle Dignus, Harry Baker, Edward Holland, C. L. Britten, C. R. Lade, Charles Canno, Joseph Schwartz, Joseph Miller, Cliff Allen.
"Take a Car"...
Don Clark as conductor and Paul Clarkson as motorman. Mrs. Paul Clarkson and Effie Brotherton as the matinee girls. Passengers, entire company.
"We Have Dropped in to Complain"...
Will Aronson, Harry O'Gorman, George Skelton, John Koneczny.
"The Rag Bag Man"...
Don Clark and the Misses Clara Collier, Agnes Skelton, Margaret Nordahl, Petronella Gilman, Flora McDonald, Alice Sund, Agnes Morrisson, Mabel Sund, Effie Brotherton, Lillian Morey, Bessie Collier, Edna Jones, Hildegarde Wohlin, Hattie Plaunt, Hazel Roberts, Elsie Flett.
"The Lambs"...
Stanley and Lolita in their original creation, "Won't You Be a Friend of Mine," introducing songs, dances, etc., by kind permission of Mrs. C. G. Lamb.
"We'll Wander In the Bright Moonlight"...
Girls—Birdie Lawrenz, Margaret Dingwall, Inga Foss, Susie Irvine, Christine A. Shaw. Boys—George Maine, Olle Dignus, Joseph McLaughlin, Harry O'Gorman, Will Aronson.
"Candy Girl of Mine"...
John Tresise, Howard Sexton, Don Clark, Cliff Allen, "The Boys With the Conversational Feet."
"Yankee Doodle Girls"...
Introducing Lolita Lamb in an imitation of George Cohan, assisted by the following "Yankee Doodle Girls:" Margaret Nordal, Lillian Morey, Bessie Collier, Effie Brotherton, Flora McDonald, Agnes Morrisson, Agnes Skelton, Alice Sund, Patronella Gilman, Mable Sund, Clara Collier, Edna Jones, Hildegrade Wohlin, Elsie Flett, Hattie Roberts, Hazel Roberts.

MUSICAL NUMBERS.

"Where the Southern Roses Grow"....
The Company.
"Oh, Take Me Back to Gay Paree"....
Lady Sextet.
"The Hunchback's Lament"....
E. M. Spencer.
"The Daisy Queen of Yap"....
Charles Dorrance.
"I'm the Man"....
Joseph McLaughlin.
"Farewell, Beloved Queen"....
Chorus.
"Indians on Broadway"....
Quintet.
"Rollicking Policemen"....
Coppers' Chorus.
"Take a Car"....
Don Clark and Chorus.
"We Have Come to Kick About You" Ministers.
"And the World Goes On"....
"When the Right Little Girl Comes Along"....
Cliff Allen and Jessie Beatty.
"Starlight"....
Ensemble.
"The Rag Bag Man"....
Don Clark.
"A Friend of Mine"....
The Lambs.
"We'll Wander in the Bright Moonlight"....
Double Quintet.
"Candy Girl of Mine"....
Quartet.
"Yankee Doodle Girls"....
Lolita Lamb and Chorus.

TWO GREAT CONDUCTORS.

Elliott Schenck and Chevalier EManuel With Savage Company.

The coming season of English grand opera, to be given by the Henry W. Savage company is now all the talk of uluth. That it will be a most brilliant success is positive, musically because of the high character and socially, because of the splendid manner in which the subscription sale of seats is going.

The company will first appear Friday evening, March 9, singing "Lohengrin," Saturday afternoon "Tannhaeuser" will be sung and Saturday evening "Faust."

Mr. Savage has in his company some of the greatest artists of the time. Among the most noted of his people in this great company are the conducters.

None of the younger American composers is regarded with greater favor by music lovers in this country than Elliott Schenck, the Wagnerian conductor. For the past two years Mr. Schenck has divided honors with the well-known conductor Chevalier N. B. Emanuel, spending his spare time in turning out original compositions that have commanded the attention of musicians not only in this country but in Europe.

Although born in Paris, Mr. Schenck spent his boyhood days in Brooklyn, where his father was rector of St. Ann's Episcopal church. Later he became organist and choirmaster. He studied with Frank Damrosch for several years, and it was under his advice that he decided to go to Germany. He studied for two years at the conservatory of Dresden, under Draescke, and then went to Berlin, where he placed himself under the direction of Urban, Paderewski's instructor. While in Dresden, Mr. Schenck was permitted to conduct his own compositions played by Trenkler's orchestra. Later in Berlin he conducted his "Symphony Poem," after Olive Shreiner's "The Lost Joy," in one of Meyder's regular concerts in the "Concert-Haus."

When Mr. Schenck returned to America he associated himself with Walter Damrosch, whose father, Dr. Leopold Damrosch, gave "The Valkyrie" its first important production in America, at the old Academy in New York. He succeeded Mr. Damrosch as director of the New York Symphony orchestra and as director of the annual music festivals in Albany. During his connection with the Damrosch German Opera company, Mr. Schenck conducted "Lohengrin," "Tannhaeuser" and other operas of the German repertoire. He was especially re-engaged this year by Mr. Savage because of the important first production in England of Wagner's "Valkyrie." This work has been the heaviest grand opera task undertaken by Mr. Savage with the exception of "Parsifal."

Chevalier N. B. Emanuel, the Italian conductor, has been with the Savage organization the past four years. The Chevalier is one of the few real musical geniuses from abroad to make America their adopted home. Before coming to this country he had acquired a repertaire of 140 operas. He has a phenomenal memory and seldom requires a score to conduct from. He is familiar with the entire range of classic opera in seven different languages and has been an invaluable assistant to Manager Savage in translating to English stage a number of celebrated works never before sung in our own tongue. It was under his efficient leadership that Puccini's beautiful "La Bohéme" and dramatic "Tocsa" and Verdi's ambitious "Otheilo" were first given in English by Mr. Savage.

For fifteen years Mr. Emanuel was conductor at the Imperial opera in Odessa and at Moscow. Other long periods were devoted to conducting opera in Milan, Madrid, Lisbon, at The Hague and in Copenhagen. He visited America for the first time four years ago on his way from Brazil, where the Italian Grand Opera company which he was conducting had filled its annual engagement. He was offered the directorship of the Savage English Grand Opera orchestra, and has been with the company ever since. Because of his repertoire, and experience extending over thirty years, Signor Emanuel is rated by musicians as the best equipped conductor that has visited America. He was twice decorated by royalty on the Continent, hence the well-merited title of Chevalier that always precedes the official use of his name.

"DUKE OF DULUTH."

Nat Wills and his extensive company of show beauties, comedians and singing celebrities, will be the attraction at the Lyceum March 8 and 9. For the past two seasons, Nat Wills, as "A Son of Rest," has proved to be the record breaking attraction wherever presented, but in this, his new production, "The Duke of Duluth" he has excelled his best efforts. Possibly, there is not a singing comedian on the stage today who can win an audience as does Mr. Wills in his vocal specialties. Of which he, apparently, or the audience never tire. "The Duke of Duluth" is described as an operatic farce, in two acts, full of action and refreshingly novel. The production is a sumptuous one, and the costuming gorgeous throughout. This is the same great production intact that recently concluded its big run at the Majestic theater, New York.

THE METROPOLITAN

"Miss New York" Will be the Attraction the Coming Week.

"Miss New York, Jr.," is the name of the pretty theatrical miss who will be at the Metropolitan all next week, with a large retinue of dazzling beauties and funny comedians.

This is the lady's first visit to the Head of the Lakes, but she will probably make friends quickly, as she did in St. Paul and Minneapolis. She is well and favorably known in the East, where hosts of friends were loath to see her start for the West.

Miss New York's press agent declares that her salary list is longer and larger than that of any other manager on the Empire circuit, and laughs scornfully when anyone intimates that there is another company on the road which even approaches the one which he represents.

A feature of the entertainment which Miss New York and her gay associates present is a moving picture reproduction of the Fitzsimmons-O'Brien fight at San Francisco. Of course this is accomplished with a machine and not by the young ladies themselves. They have plenty to do, however, as they have many changes of costume.

The burlesques are said to be clever skits, and liberally interspersed with pleasing musical numbers and ensembles. The olio is said to be composed, too, of high class vaudeville acts.

The usual matinees will be given during the engagement of "Miss New York, Jr." Thursday will be ladies' day, and handsome souvenirs will be distributed.

THE NEW BIJOU

High Class Vaudeville by First Class Artists All Next Week.

Vaudeville of excellent quality and in large quantities will be given at the Bijou next week. Many head-liners are booked to make things merry at the popular little theater.

The Manhatten trio will appear in one of its original comedy acts, which is said to be very clever; Evans and Evans, dancing experts, will offer a novelty in the dancing line, and the Buckeye State Quartette comes with a good singing act.

Mr. and Mrs. Morell will offer a black face musical comedy which is said to be very good. Joe Allman, the minstrel man, comes with some new songs and a clever monologue, and Harrie Wilmot, the pleasing baritone, will sing "Take Me to Your Heart Again," illustrated with colored views.

The moving pictures for the week will be the best seen for some time, showing Edson's latest subjects, "The Flat Dwellers" and the roaming comedy film entitled, "Post no Bills."

Matinees will be given daily and the evening performances begin at 8 and 9:30. A special school children's matinee will be given Saturday.

"THE PRINCE OF INDIA"

Great Dramatic Spectacle Constructed From Lew Wallace's Novel---Elaborate Displays of Scenery and Costumes.

The wonderful success of Gen. Lew Wallace's novel, "Ben-Hur," was one of the significant facts of the last decades of the nineteenth century. It appealed to the innate piety of the masses, while its brilliant pictures of Roman and Judean life, contemporary with the Christ, came with most satisfying completeness to a people with whom the moving story of the gospels had been part of their daily lives from the cradle to manhood and womanhood. Naturally, this success brought to the author the determination to go farther afield in the domain of the historical novel.

When President Garfield entered the White House, the selection of Gen. Wallace as United States minister to Turkey was not only a reward for his distinguished services, but also an opportunity of studying the Oriental peoples at first hand and gathering material for another great historical novel. That he improved every moment possible to saturate himself with the story, the life and the very breath of the Orient, was made apparent when the work he had in contemplation was published eight years after his return from Constantinople—"The Prince of India."

The opportunity of the novelist and dramatist of history is found in the great hours in the changing of epochs, when, amid the clash of arms and conflict of ideals, the old gives way to the new. Not always are those who witness, nor even those who take part in these conflicts, aware of their enormous significance. No man in Rome's great world-power, no emperor nor emperor's satrap, could have dreamed that when the humble Nazarene rode into Jerusalem amid a mob of poor Hebrews waving palm branches, that the ax had been laid at the root of of the religion of imperial Rome and through all the wide region from Egypt to Britain and Ireland, the olden gods and beliefs were dying from that day, and that a new conquering creed had been proclaimed amid the cries of "Hosanna," led by a little band of Jewish fishermen.

This spiritual change foreshadowed and foreran a marvel of physical transformation. The empire of the Pagan, Augustus, at Rome, was to become Constantine the Great, in the fourth century after Christ, the capital of the empire then embracing Europe, Western Asia and Northern Africa, was to be moved to a new site upon the Bosphorus to be called Constantinople to the end of time. No wonder that the dawn of Christianity had appealed to the imagination of Gen. Wallace when he wrote "Ben-Hur," and no wonder, then, when he once more cast about for a suitable epoch for his next great novel, he should have looked along the thousand years and over the history of the Byzantine empire at Constantinople and laid his finger on its very last chapter, for there, indeed, was a world-change, to be utilized as the foundation for fiction—the fall of Constantinople.

It is notable that Gen. Wallace, both in "Ben-Hur" and the "Prince of India," should have concerned himself more with the wars of the spirit than with material wars, although the one ultimately involved the other. The rise and growth of the religion of Islam, led by the magnetic personality of Mohammed, prophet, soldier, ruler and writer, was the most striking phenomenon in the religious world following the birth of Christ. Against the Christian doctrine of altruism it set up spiritual and material solidarity for believers. It was born with teeth as well as a persuading tongue. It was at once religion and government. Its devouring became a magnificent patriotism and what it captured by the sword it would convert to Islam to destroy.

In the centuries following the death of the Arab prophet, Islam had swept in succeeding waves of conquest over Asia and Africa. It had planted the kingdom of the Moors in Spain. It held the "Holy places" of the Christians in Palestine. Its Mosque of Omar crowned the rock plateau above Jerusalem where once had stood the temple of Solomon. Against its encroaching power Christian Europe had arisen in alarm, resulting in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries in the Seven Crusades, which ended in complete failure after a sacrifice of 4,000,000 fighting men.

The power of Islam passed to the Turkish tribes, who set their faces resolutely to the West. The sultan of the Ottoman tribes was leader and the conquest of Europe was what Islam promised itself in revenge for the Christian crusades. Piece by piece it had eaten away the outlying provinces and dependencies of the Greek empire until the emperor at Constantinople commanded little more than the great city itself. But still the city that had withstood the siege of a thousand years, looked down unshaken upon the waters of the Golden Horn and the Bosphorus. It was the lion in the conqueror's path. Before he could pass by and on, it must be overcome.

Here, then, was an enormous historic canvas to tempt the art-spirit of the author of "Ben-Hur" to sketch thereon something of his own fancy. On the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus was encamped the Turk in numbers like the sands of the sea. A scant two miles of water lay between the forts of the Turks and the seawalls of Constantinople. It was but the question of naming the hour for the struggle to begin. The Christian empire was predestined to fall. A treaty between the Sultan Amurath and Constantine, the emperor of the Greeks, had kept these conditions in unstable equilibrium for several years. Amurath died and another sultan came into power, Mohammed II., his son, known in history as Mohammed, the Conqueror.

Young, handsome, virile, a poet, a scholar and lover of the beautiful, yet led by his warrior blood to conquest, he could not resist the opportunity to take Constantinople for Islam and stamp the city's armorial sign, a crescent moon, on on his flag, so that forevermore the crescent should be the Moslem sign of domination in its battles with the cross. The students of the stars declared this crowning conquest to be his destiny and he advanced to it with all the daring of his race and care of a professional soldier with limitless force at his command. Against the city he brought a quarter of a million fighting men. Behind the walls stood Constantine with but scant five thousand.

History does not reveal a more noble, devoted monarch than Constantine. His heritage was but a shadow. Knowing the terrible import to European civilization of the fall of Constantinople, he tried in vain to awaken the powers of Europe to their common danger. The split between the Western Christians, who held fealty to the Pope of Rome, and the Greek Christians, who followed the Oriental rite, had largely held aloof the sympathies of Europe from the failing eastern empire. In vain had Constantine urged his bishops, monks and priests to a union with the church of Rome. When he himself joined the Roman cause, the Greek zealots of the city rose in religious revolt, led by the monk Gennadius. It was a time of turmoil and brawls and a fitting hour for young Mohammed to strike. While Constantine was thus isolated by his own zealotry, the European powers were busy with their own troubles, the power of the Papacy being the only thing recalling its former spell upon the thought and action of the world. Never was the stage of history more completely set for a great catastrophe.

Over this giant struggle, so graphically pictured in "The Prince of India," Gen. Wallace cast a mystic glow by troducing the haunting figure of the Wandering Jew, whose legend has been the riddle of the ages since the sacrifice on Calvary. In Gen. Wallace's story, he is evidently the symbol of the universal desire of man for a resting place for the soul in a single and pure belief, and hence a protest against the crimes committed in the course of religious conflict. His handling of the mystic and the human in this strange legendary being is masterly. The Wanderer gives the title to the book, for it is he who appears in these days of impending doom as the marvelously rich and gifted "Prince of India." His influence on the events related in the story is a commanding one.

But the real charm of Gen. Wallace's tale lies in the romantic love of Mohammed and the Princess Irene, which is the very heart of it. Just as the thrilling passion of the lovers of Helen rises clear out of the stately rhythm of the Iliad of Homer, with its tremendous grasp of the conflict of gods and men in the seige of Troy, so out of the thunderous clash of two great civilizations in the seige and fall of Constantinople rises the absorbing story of the love of Prince Mohammed for the beautiful and lofty-minded Princess Irene of the Imperial Greek house of Paleolague.

As the success of the novel "Ben-Hur" led Gen. Wallace to write "The Prince of India," so the success of "Ben-Hur" as a play led Klaw & Erlanger, its producers, to the production of "The Prince of India" as a drama, the premiere of which took place at the Colonial Theater in Chicago, Monday evening, Feb. 5th. To transfer this marvelous war of races, religious and human emotions and the love story of Mohammed and Irene from the volumes of Gen. Wallace's novel to the stage has been the task of Joseph I. C. Clarke, aided by all the resources of unlimited capital and modern stagecraft.

Mr. Clarke arranged the play in a prologue and five acts requiring thirteen great scenes designed by Thomas F. Ryan and Henry Emden of London, painted by Mr. Ryan and Ernest Albert and Richard Marsden of New York. In respect to scenery, costumes, properties and effects, no play presented in this country has equalled "The Prince of India." The range of the drama is well indicated by the scenes and selection of characters to tell the story. The prologue is shown in two tableaux—the rock-tomb of King Hiram of Tyre, and a view of Constantinople from Galata. The first act is presented in three scenes—the house of the Prince of India in Constantinople, the gate of Blacherne on the Golden Horn with a panorama of the Bosphorus to the White Castle during a great storm, and a room in the White Castle. The second and third acts are presented in two scenes—the palace of Therapia on the Bosphorus and the great Hall of Audience in the Imperial Palace at Blacherne. The fourth act shows the tent of Mohammed before Constantinople and the palace of the Princess Irene in the city. The fifth act is staged in four scenes which show the city within the walls, the city without during the assault, night on the broken walls and the church of Sancta Sophia after the capture of Constantinople by Mohammed.

Mr. Clarke selected thirty-six characters from the book to relate the story. There are also introduced in the staging of the piece over 400 persons as Greeks, Turks, Turkish Janissaries singers, dancers and citizens. This is the largest number of people ever utilized in a dramatic production in this country. Other characters beside those already mentioned are Mirza, the Emir, who is afterward known as Count Corti; Phranza, grand chamberlain of the court of Constantinople; Duke Notaras, lord high admiral of the Greeks; Sergius, the Russian monk; Demedes, the leader of the order of Epicurius; Uel, a Hebrew of Constantinople; Lael, his daughter, adopted by the prince of India; and Nilo and Syama, dumb servants of the prince. The role of the "Prince of India" is played by J. E. Dodson, a great character actor, whose impersonation of Simonides in "Ben Hur" in London was compared most favorably with the work of Sir Henry Irving. William Farnum, who made a great bit as "Ben Hur," plays Mohammed. Sarah Truax, a beautiful young actress of remarkable ability, is seen as Princess Irene; Gerald Lawrence, for two years leading man for Sir Henry Irving, is the Mirza, afterward Count Corti, and Julie Herne, daughter of the late James A. Herne, is the Lael. A most careful selection of players was made for all parts. A prominent feature has been made of the incidental and enter'acte music composed by Prof. Horatio Parker of Yale University, the leading authority on ancient Greek and Oriental music in this country.

In the prologue, the Wanderer enters the tomb of Hiram, king of Tyro, and there secures a great treasure of gems and the sword of Solomon, the builder of the Temple in Jerusalem. These he dedicates to the service of the Everlasting God. He is next revealed as "The Prince of India," the scene showing the wonderfrom of Constantinople from Galata, beautiful in the morning light, as he tells the story of Calvary and the curse upon him. He moves to the accomplishment of his work of atonement by bringing all men, Christian, Moslem, Gentile and Jew to one religious brotherhood in God. In this situation he adopts Lael, the daughter of Uel, the Hebrew of Constantinople, as his child and asks of her the pure love of a child for a father. On that love hangs the fate of two great empires fighting to the death.

In the first scene of the first act, the home of the prince of India, Lael, gorgeous in princely finery, relates having seen the beautiful Princess Irene, and the unwelcome attentions of a young noble, Demedes, head of the dissolute sect of Epicurius. The prince is bidden before the emperor, Constantine, but Lael, longing once again to see Princess Irene who will be returning to her palace at Therapia in her galley, begs the prince to take her on the water in his own calque. A change of scene shows the boat landing off Blacherne on the Golden Horn. After a turmoil among the citizens, the Princess Irene, escorted by Constantine, the emperor, and his imperial guard, is seen for the first time. Like the Prince of India with Lael, the princess, attended by the Monk Serglus, enters her galley. The rowers sweep the crafts along, a wonderfully beautiful panoramic effect, showing the receding shores of the Golden Horn. The two boats are shown on the Bosphorus, whose beauties of hill, wood and shore are revealed by the moving panorama. A great storm breaks. The boats, in danger amid the lashing waves, are lost in mist. A change of scene follows, showing the guard room in the White castle, a fortress of the Turks, where the princess and the monk and the prince of India and Lael have sought refuge. Here the princess and Mohammed, who is represented as the governor of the White Castle, meet for the first time.

The second act shows the grounds of the palace of Princess Irene at Therapia. No more beautiful scene than this Greek villa of white marble on the shores of the Bosphorus can be imagined. Here the knowledge of her love for the Turkish chieftain met at the White Castle begins to dawn on her. The Emperor Constantine comes to propose for her hand in marriage and is graciously repulsed. Her second meeting with Mohammed now occurs. He appears in the guise of an Arab story-teller and relates to Constantine, the princess and their trains the legend of the Moslem tree. After the departure of Constantine, he reveals himself and his love to the princess and nails his teukra, or royal graven sign of protection, on her gate. Mohammed barely escapes from the palace grounds with his life, treacherously attacked by Duke Notaras, lord high admiral of the Greeks.

A year elapses between Acts II and III. The third act takes place in the great audience chamber of the Imperial palace of Blacherne in Constantinople. This is a gorgeous scene, representing all the pomp, splendor and etiquette of the court of Byzantine, traditional in sumptuary history, every tittle and detail having been rigidly observed for centuries. Princess Irene is brought to trial before the Holy Council on a charge growing out of the escape of the Infidel, as Mohammed, whose real identity has not been discovered, is called, and refusal to remove his brazen teukra from her gate. Here the Emir, Mirza, now known as Count Corti, sent into Constantinople by Mohammed as a spy, high in the favor of Emperor Constantine and deeply in love with the Princess, appears, his allegiance to his Turkish master shaken and thrown off. Mirza has discovered that he was born a Christian, the child

AMUSEMENTS. AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM TONIGHT: Louis James in 'Virginius'

MARCH 7 AND 8—NAT WILLS IN "DUKE OF DULUTH"

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 1-2-3

"SOMETHING NEW AT LAST."

KING O'KEEFE

—OR—

"THE ISLE OF YAP."

A merry, musical concoction for jaded theater-goers. Under the auspices of the

B.P.O. ELKS

100 of our best local artists in songs, dances and big specialties and THE PEANUT BALLET.

Under the Direction of Tommy Getz.

Popular Prices—25c, 50c and $1.00.

GRAND OPERA SEASON.

Mr. Henry W. Savage announces the most brilliant operatic season in the musical history of Duluth by the ENGLISH GRAND OPERA CO.

More than 150 people, constituting the largest and best English-voiced organization on the stage, in a repertory of the World's Greatest Masterpieces.

THREE PERFORMANCES—MARCH 9 AND 10.

Friday, March 9. Overture at 8. Wagner's LOHENGRIN (Only American Production in English.)

Saturday Mat., March 10. Overture at 2. Wagner's TANNHAEUSER (Only American Production in English.)

Saturday Evening, March 10. Overture at 8:15. Gounod's FAUST

ORCHESTRA OF 50 SYMPHONY MUSICIANS.

Conductors—Mr. N. B. Emanuel, Mr. Elliott Schenck, Mr. Eugene Salvatore.

SCALE OF PRICES.

Boxes	$9.00 and $12.00	Family Circle	$1.50
Parquet (11 rows)	$3.00	Balcony	$1.00
Dress Circle	$3.00	Gallery (unreserved)	.50
Parquet (last five rows)	$2.00	Matinee prices same as night.

REGULAR SALE TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 10 a. m.

NOTE: The subscription season ticket sale is for the purpose of permitting opera patrons to select the same seats for all three performances at once, in advance of the regular sale of seats for individual performances.

Mail orders from Duluth, Superior and all out of town points will be filled in order of receipt.

Please make all remittances payable to C. A. Marshall, Manager Lyceum Theater, Duluth. Orders accompanied by self-addressed and stamped envelope will insure prompt return of seats by next mail as near as possible to location desired.

Subscription orders for season tickets take precedence over orders for individual performances. No reduction in price on season tickets.

No telephone orders taken. Free list suspended.

BIJOU THEATER

HOME OF REFINED VAUDEVILLE for Ladies, Gentlemen and Children.

NEXT WEEK— 10 BIG ATTRACTIONS 10

ALICE ALVA

BUCKEYE STATE QUARTET

EVANS & EVANS

HARRIE WILMOT

MANHATTAN TRIO

Mr. and Mrs. MORELL

ILLUSTRATED SONGS

JOE ALLMON, THE MINSTREL MAN

MOVING PICTURES:

"THE FLAT DWELLERS,"

"POST NO BILLS."

MATINEE DAILY AT 2:45 10c ANY SEAT

Evenings at 8 and 9:30,

Prices 10c, 15c, 20c

FOLLOW THE CROWD; YOU CAN'T MISS IT.

METROPOLITAN

Home of extravaganza, musical farce, burlesque and vaudeville.

SPECIAL TONIGHT:

Wrestling Match

Gene Cole vs. Moritz Harris.

No advance in prices.

All next week with matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday—

"Miss New York, Jr"

The nicest girl in town!

Her company includes

BILLY ALLEN,

The Clever Comedian.

Boston City Quartet, Wiora Trio, the Gagnouxs, Bandy and Wilson, Allen and Bright and Hayward, Farrell and Hayward.

Thursday for Ladies. Afternoon and night. Prices—20c and 30c. Beautiful souvenirs!

The big two-act musical comedy,

"KING OF KOKOMO"

introducing the prettiest chorus on the road.

Matinee prices—20c and 30c.

Night prices—15c, 30c and 50c.

Star Lecture Course

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 26.

Dr. Frank Gunsaulus

Of Chicago. Lecture on

"GLADSTONE"

Admission 50 cents. Tickets at Chamberlain & Taylor's

LYCEUM SUNDAY NIGHT

Flaaten's Third Regiment Band

Best Concert of the Season.

Be With the Crowds. Admission 25c

of a noble Italian family. The Prince of India comes before the emperor and the Holy Council to advocate his universal religion. Here all the Greek protagonists of the drama are gathered to listen to the prince. The abduction of Lael, his adopted daughter, by the epicureans, is made known. The prince appeals to the emperor to recover her. The death of the Sultan Amurath is announced with stunning effect, for it means that young and ambitious Mohammed is come to his father's throne and the empire of the Greeks must fight for its life. To Princess Irene it means the awful fact that her lover is the monarch bent upon her people's destruction. The Prince of India again appeals to Constantine to give him back his child, offering 50,000 soldiers and a hundred of the prince's monster cannon to defend the city. The emperor declares his disbelief when the prince points out the Epicureans as the abductors and refuses to arrest them. The prince declares that Mohammed, whose plans he knows, will attack the city and in wrath, leaves the audience chamber, fires his house and flies to the Turks.

The first scene of the fourth act takes place in the tent of the Sultan Mohammed. The beleaguering of the city is complete. Mohammed's great army of Janissaries, spahis and silidhars, a quarter of a million strong, is before Constantinople. Monster cannon, cast in a single piece, are for the first time used to breach the walls. The sultan has sent a trusted spy for Mirza, but he, rooted in his new allegiance to the Greek emperor and deep in his devoted love for the princess, has cast his fortunes with the Greeks and will not come. Mohammed summons all his chiefs and a brilliant wave of Moslem valor sweeps into the tent demanding to be led to the assault and calling for the Greek men and women as spoils of war.

This proves a hideous moment for Mohammed. The culmination of all his work as a general, brings him face to face with the certain death, or worse, of Princess Irene when the city falls. The tent flaps are thrown back and show the city, white in the faint morning light. The Prince of India announces that the stars have fixed the time of assault as twenty-four hours later, and gives Mohammed the great sword of Solomon as a talisman of good fortune. The sultan now takes his own measures, at any risk to himself, to insure the safety of Irene.

The scene changes to the palace of Irene within the city. An angel of mercy, with the fearlessness of a martyr, she goes about amid death everywhere around. Her palace has become a hospital. Despite the Turks without, the Greek citizens are torn by religious dissensions and trust in Gennadius' promise of a miracle from Heaven to save the city rather than join the ranks of the defenders. She upbraids them and the fanatic Gennadius says he will put her to the test. But a greater test is before her. Count Corti has asked her to fly with him to safety. She has refused with scorn and has returned to her work of mercy. Then enters the form of the spy who has been the means of communication between Mohammed and Corti. It is not Abed Din, the fisherman, however, but the sultan himself, disguised. Then follows the crucial scene of the drama. Since Corti would not come to him, Mohammed has come to Corti to make a covenant for the safety of Irene. Upon this thrilling scene, when the compact of safety for the woman loved by the two men has been made, the princess enters.

Irene recognizes Mohammed. The conflict between love and duty in her breast becomes thrilling in its intensity. Here is the leader of the destroyer of her people in her power but he is the very core of her heart as well. After a moment of fearful, soul-racking struggle, she cannot face the horror of seeing him slain before her eyes by her guards and bids him depart. Mohammed gone, she is plunged in remorse and grasps the banner of the Virgin, tendered her by Gennadius, and starts to walk the city walls amid the cannon-firing, asking the miracle for the Greeks predicted by the monk, yet praying for her death to avenge her treason.

The first scene of the fifth and last act shows the destructive effects of the siege inside the walls behind the historic gate of St. Romaine. It is the break of day and the first movements for the great assault have begun in the vast Moslem camp outside. The doomed emperor, Constantine, encourages the Greeks in their terrible struggle.

He is thanking heaven that Count Corti under his orders, is guarding the Princess Irene, when Corti appears and tells him she is coming to go out on the walls in face of the Turkish arrows and cannon-shot to pray for the miracle promised the populace by Gennadius. Men are falling dead all about them as the princess comes with a crowd of citizens. But death invites, instead of deters her. Corti rushes to the walls to fulfil one portion of his compact with Mohammed. As the procession, singing the Kyrie, passes before the emperor, Corti shoots an arrow, bearing a message to Mohammed warning him of Irene's danger, into the Turkish lines.

The second scene shows the Turkish army drawn up before the walls. Mohammed is reading the message that has come in the head of an arrow from Count Corti. The troops are shouting for the assault, but Mohammed, to their amazement, sounds the retreat and the procession of Irene and her maidens passes along the walls unharmed. But the battle-mad Turks can no longer be restrained. The great cannon breaches the walls, the charge is sounded and the army, rushing madly to the assault, sweeps away every obstacle. Constantine is slain and the Prince of India, standing on the summit of a bastion, is struck by a thunderbolt and falls, while the Turkish hosts, led by the Janissaries, rush on to victory. This battle incident is wonderfully realistic.

The scene changes. It is night. Among the dead by the breach in the wall the body of the Prince of India lies in the moonlight. Distant thunder rolls and the mystic cross is seen floating in the sky. The Prince of India, now the Wanderer rejuvenated, rises slowly from the ground. He hears the dread voice of judgment, "Tarry Thou Till I Come," once again and moaning that hatred has conquered the love that should be his redeeming virtue, passes on to wander for another hundred years.

The last scene of all is laid under the dome of Sancta Sophia, in whose holy miracles the fugitives from the Turks have gathered, still hoping for the miracle promised by the monk. The terms of Corti's compact with Mohammed have imposed a fearful task upon him. Bound as captives, he has brought Irene, and Lael, who has been rescued from the Epicureans by Nilo, and noble maidens, to the great church; for there, complying with his oath, he must surrender the princess to Mohammed when the city falls.

The great doors are at last burst open and the splendid procession of the conqueror enters amid the despairing cries of the Greeks at seeing their most venerated shrine violated and death apparently before their eyes. Mohammed, on his black charger, rides up the nave amid the acclaim of the Moslem hosts, and Irene, crushed and broken in spirit, is brought before him. But it is only to tell her that her devotion has won peace for her people and freedom beneath his rule for a religion. He asks her to share his throne as queen, sultana, and the curtain falls amid the shouts of acclaim as she kneels at his feet in silent consent.

BRILLIANT SECOND ACT SCENE FROM "TANNHAEUSER" IN THE FAMOUS HALL OF SONG, AND SOME OF THE ARTISTS THAT WILL BE HEARD IN DULUTH DURING THE SAVAGE ENGLISH GRAND OPERA SEASON AT THE LYCEUM THEATER SATURDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 10.

NEW YORK THEATERS

Roman Catholicism and Agnosticism Pitted Against Each Other in "The Duel"--- George M. Cohan the Whole Show of "George Washington, Jr."

New York, Feb. 24.—Persons with what they themselves esteem the better minds of America gathered to see the first performance in New York of "The Duel" and applauded immoderately. Persons whose clothes were of better make than their minds joined in to make the occasion noisy. So this drama from Paris started here under favorable conditions. You see, Henri Lavedan had written it for the Comedie Francaise, where Le-Bargy and Mme. Bartet had the roles here given to Otis Skinner and Fay Davis. Doubters, therefore, felt safe to show delight in this profound play, for they were pretty sure they were doing the correct thing in these days when it really is fashionable to think. In a season wherein Bernard Shaw's and James M. Barrie's keen mentalities have cashed up profitably in Broadway theaters, however, one cannot foretell the fate of a work so somberly serious in its excellence as "The Duel."

* * *

Roman Catholicism and agnosticism are in this drama pitted against each other, as personified by two men, and the object which they duel to possess is embodied in a woman. The fight is not an affair of pistols or swords, quickly final, but the three individuals contend in arguments for three eventless acts. An old missionary, who might be accepted as symbolical of Common Sense, is a fourth person concerned, but he has small weight in the proceedings. The case given is that of a wife who loves the great man of science who has temporarily cured her husband of drug and drink habits. But she keeps her passion secret until he reveals himself in a plea to be accepted as her lover. That ends the first act with an apostrophe, not a catastrophe; for she breaks an appointment for a liason and spends the second act with a devout priest, who is the physician's brother. The priest fears during the third act that his interest in the woman is carnal and he banishes himself to a distant leper colony. It becomes known that the husband, relapsed into inebriety, is killed by a fall from a window. The play ends with another apostrophe seeming to mean that in time the widow my marry the medical agnostic. That is the full of the plot that the better minds of America applauded and that even the ordinary run of first-nighters cheered.

* * *

There is no action whatsoever. Not a thought is developed by occurrence. True to the modern French idea of construction, the play is a series of dialogues, each character starting with a minute account of his life from childhood, detailing at every re-entrance the thoughts he has had while absent, and finally mapping out the rest of his earthly existence in a declamation to whoever will listen.

* * *

Beyond a doubt Charles Frohman enjoys doing costly things for the sake of art, even with little or no chance of any money reward. And "The Duel" surely is dramatic art and literature with its expositions of Christian faith and unbelief, its searching analyses of human passion and its uplifting conflict of lofty minds. Mr. Frohman has deemed it worthy of his best attention. He has imported a Comedie Francaise and done his utmost to reproduce the original excellence. Otis Skinner, Fay Davis, Eben Plympton and Guy Standing have the important roles. In scenery the French models have been exactly duplicated, and two of the interiors are marvels of artistic beauty. There is no affectation in thanking Mr. Frohman for "The Duel" as an example of modern drama at the French national theater, nor anything hysterical in the applause of his uncommercial purpose.

* * *

George M. Cohan has made the whole show of "George Washington, Jr.," and he performs most of it, personally and by proxy. For when his assistants are doing things of his devising, the resemblance to him is so marked that the entertainment is Cohanized completely. George is his own original joke, and people who can't laugh when he cracks himself should stay away, for he is a very cruel joke to those who don't see the point. The first audience for his new play seemed to be Cohanian exclusively. I wouldn't have been astonished if the Cohanization had, after making every person on the stage an imitator of Cohan, so affected the people in the auditorium as to send them dancing up the aisles like Cohan at the dispersal, instead of merely singing his new patriotic song to the music with which the orchestra played them out of the theater. "The Grand Old Rag" is a tricky rouser of patriotism made by blending the airs of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," "Yankee Doodle," "Dixey" and "Auld Lang Syne." Veterans of the Civil war are on a visit to Mount Vernon. Their wigs and beards of gray lit them as neatly as their coats of blue, and they march with a swing that looks like a triumph of age over rheumatism. Cohan takes their tattered battle flag, that "dear old rag," drum majors with it as their leader, and makes the audience feel itself included in the old war-time acquaintance which, as the mimic old soldiers declare in a chorus, shall never be forgot. Young Cohan knows his business.

"Please don't take me seriously," he said through his nose, while he ducked and side-stepped in the manner so easily copied by the mimics, after he had brought the act to such an enthusiastic climax. "I don't intend to be much of a comedian or playwright, and if I amuse you it is all I aspire to do."

* * *

That was the shrewd thing to say, for it was a thing which the audience might think for itself. But Cohan must know that he is a genius in his way, else he couldn't make such shows unaided as usually require a collaboration of humorists, rhymesters, musicians and producers. The fact is that Cohan has an ambition to write serious dramas, and that he has cursed it more in "George Washington, Jr.," than in his preceding two plays. By sticking to this work that he does so well, making and marketing his own material, he should become the richest actor-author-manager in the world. But, oh, how he would like to cease dancing. But his public won't let him. He began to dance in vaudeville with papa Jerry, mamma Helen and sister Josephine pretty soon after he could walk, and before he could talk much for stage purposes. My earliest recollection of George is for a three-minute dance of limber contortion with Josephine, followed by way of encore by a one-minute stunt of wild gymnasties.

That specialty has had its place in each of his shows, latterly with Ethel Levy Cohan as his partner, and now we get it again—we are bound to have it—a Cohan farce wouldn't be allowed to do without it; but he hates it and has made up his mind to keep it down to its three minutes by giving no repetitions. On the opening night he and the audience had a disagreement on that subject. The two minutes of dancing with his wife was placed at the end of a ballad, as an encore, and the demand for more brought bows and smiles only. His one minute of frenzied dancing—the one, you know, in which he circles the stage with flying leaps, flings his arms and legs all around him and tries to wig-wag his head off—had been located in the corridor of a ballroom and purported to be a bit of preliminary exercise in two-step waltzing. He and we were equally obdurate. We wanted more. He wouldn't give it. The play went on and so did the applause. Three characters acted their scene, with voices silenced by the hubbub, until at length Cohan won his way.

It was during that hubbub, I guess, that I lost the plot of "George Washington, Jr." Up to that time I had learned that two members of the United States senate were trying to down each other, that the son of one refused to marry a foreign title and chose instead the niece of the other, that there was something doing with a very fateful paper and then the noise of the disagreement with Cohan about an encore drowned a discussion of the momentous document. After that the two old enemies and the two young friends mixed it up in a Washington hotel and at a Connecticut homestead, reconciling me with songs and dances to the loss of the plot, and justifying the play's title through Cohan's re-christening himself as the junior of the Father of His Country through emulative loyalty.

* * *

Some of "Gallops," which introduced the new Garrick Stock company, was acted in front of the footlights. The ticket taker, at the door wore a red hunting coat, white breeches and spurs; so did the ushers, and so with manifest pride did the ice water boys. The orchestra played hunting airs, with tallyho toots and yo-ho exclamations. To complete the inventory of the appropriately unusual doings in the auditorium the author did not go to the stage to respond to a call, but said "thank you" from a box. "Gallops," the comedy, is made by David Gray from his stories of cross-country riding. He still looks young and blonde. Some youngsters are venturesomely impelled to try novelties when they write plays, but it has not been so with Mr. Gray. Here in "Gallops" is the love story of ourselves, of our parents, of our ancestors for many generations. The hero is a little too good and the villain a little too bad to seem real and earnest, and their qualities as written clearly by Mr. Gray are emphasized deeply by Charles Richman, as such a personifier of virtue as I know of, and W. L. Abingdon, a famous English embodier of vice. They come into opposition at a steeplechase, in which Richman rides handicapped by a lack of good reputation, for in a previous contest he has had bones broken by a fail and has been accused of dishonest tactics, while Abingdon has contrived to profit by the mishap and the slander. There is a girl in the issue—a very typical society girl as acted by Grace Filkins. Indeed, the representation of hunt sport as practiced at modish country clubs is as truthfully shown on the stage as it has been in the author's books.

* * *

However, with all the stage shows of horses racing madly on treadmills, to say nothing of the newer motor car realisms, we are hardly satisfied to see a steeplechase through the eyes of pretended spectators, even though they do make a handsome group on top of a coach and describe the running with the exciting vivacity of so many Lady Jay Spankers. It is a good scene of itself, however, a full-size drag nearly filling the stage, the men and women decorating it brightly with their hunt costumes and the hero showing himself on the back of a real horse before and after the race. Anyway, the author couldn't see from his box any more of the running than we did from the parquet chairs.

* * *

More satisfying to those who can't believe anything unless they see it is an incident at the Hunt club's ball. The real set of Long Island steeplechasers are unconventional for a fact, and cut up queer pranks at their dances. In the play Mr. Richman proposes to lead a cotillion in the saddle on the back of his winning horse. To be sure we are not permitted to see it done, but we do hear a tremendous crash of crockery in the diningroom, and then, some drapery being thrown aside, we get a view of the horse and rider in a commotion.

* * *

There is a new actor in town—name, Dallas Welford; home, London, and his face is well worth bringing across the seas. It is pulpy, flaccid and formless in repose, a perfect void, and so it is a surprise to see it take on expressions of uncommon violence. Mr. Welford has been imported with the wholly and exceedingly English company that performs "Mr. Hopkinson." The play by R. C. Carton is a farce, almost a travesty, for it makes unreasonable fun of British aristocratic willingness, when strapped, to marry plebian wealth. I suppose it was written satirically, and I am sure it is libelously exaggerative. Mr. Welford by himself is a short, fat fellow, the veritable Punch cartoon type of a young cockney tradesman, and to look at him is to laugh. He assumes, in the play, to be a sudden heir to a fabulous fortune, and he falls into the plucking hands of a lordling. So here we have what London calls a bounder and what New York calls a grafter—the one desirous of getting into high society with his money and the other desirous of taking him in for his money. A hard-up duchess trains him for society and matches him with her niece.

* * *

There is little in the experiences of Mr. Hopkinson that would make a reader laugh, unless a brighter humorist than R. C. Carton were to narrate them, but with an actor grotesque to the limit of human possibility, a caricature as extreme as ever was pictured, the part becomes a continuous scream. A point of popularity in "Hoppy" is that his possession of millions of guineas doesn't make him careless of shillings; so he goes through the very costly process of wooing, with vain protests, a most unwilling spender; moreover, the betrothed girl, disdains him, and, altogether, his mobile face is kept busily grimacing his emotions.

* * *

James K. Hackett, the producer of the farce here, had to decide whether to substitute for "Hoppy's" cockney slang, as well as for that of the ducal coterie, the misused similarly in our Bowery and Fifth avenue. He chose to leave the text, like the characters and the company, undisturbed as shipped from London. Therefore, we have to learn that "bunkey-doodle" is an equivalent for our "skeedoo," and there are many other enrichments for our vocabularly in Mr. Carton's lines. As "Mr. Hopkinson" makes its appeal irresistibly to our smart society, however, it is likely that the slang of Bow Bells, as well as of Belgravia, will now get into our smart set.

* * *

Critics who condemn things as they are, and commend them as they are not, frequently urge as an argument for stock companies the foreign usage, more especially in Germany, of casting important members for unimportant parts whenever the occasion demands such a course. Amelia Bingham is a favorite London actress, and I am told that she has had many successes there in leading roles. She came along with this Hackett-Curzon company, and is to have a front place in subsequent productions; but in "Mr. Hopkinson" she plays a dressmaker, whom the bounder, in his days of poverty, agreed to marry, and who, now that he throws her over, hires herself to his finances as a maid to serve her on her honeymoon. Although this girl pursues him to a final recapture, she is inconspicuous most of the time. So Miss Hughes, notwithstanding her vogue at home, finds herself utterly unknown to and nearly disregarded by New York audiences, although a guest of some of our first families. I wonder how she likes it.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Clyde Fitch Pronounces Doom of the "Matinee Girl" ---George Ade Having Great Time Abroad--- De Reszke Considering Offer by Hammerstein.

New York, Feb. 24.—Sad news comes from Philadelphia. Clyde Fitch has pronounced the doom of the "Matinee Girl." He declares "It is the old man and old woman who now go to afternoon performances, the 'Matinee Girl' goes at night. The matinee girl may go at night, but any one who will watch Broadway along about 5 in the evening on matinee day will require even more than Mr. Fitch's say so to convince him that she does not also attend the afternoon performances.

* * *

There has been much speculation as to the ownership and management of the new theater which is to be built at the intersection of Broadway, Seventh avenue and Forty-second street. There was an idea at first that this was the French theater project which James Hazen Hyde had in mind before things happened to him. This was due, however, to the announcement that the new building was to be a replica of Madame Rejane's theater in Paris.

* * *

Before his departure for Europe Daniel Frohman said: "I am going principally to see Arthur Pinero's new play, 'His House in Order,' which seems to have made a great success. I shall remain on the other side perhaps three or four weeks and expect to bring back with me a number of valuable contracts." It is hinted on Broadway that Mr. Frohman will, among other things, bring back the American rights to a new modern comedy drama by Brander Mathews and George Arliss.

* * *

I understand that George Ade is having the time of his life in London and Paris. The Americans are not the only ones that are making a fuss over the distinguished playwright and wit. He is being enthusiastically entertained, and made a distinctly favorable impression on the Englishmen and Frenchmen with whom he has come in contact.

* * *

As suggested last week, the Russian revolutionary movement is likely to give us an opportunity to again listen to Jean and Edouard De Reszke. A story is current that Oscar Hammerstein has made an offer to the great Polish singer which he is seriously considering. If it is accepted he will appear in opera next season.

* * *

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, wife of the president, has consented to be one of the patronesse at the performance of Humperdinck's "Haensel and Greiel," at the Metropolitan opera house on Thursday, March 15, for the benefit of the Legal Aid society. Mrs. Roosevelt selected the opera herself, and the Roosevelt family will be well represented at the performance. The president will, if he can so arrange it, come over. Among the other patronesses are Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Goelet, Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, Mrs. Elihu Root, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Baroness Speck von Sternberg, Mrs. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Jacob H. Schiff. A novel feature of the performance will be a souvenir containing, among other things, articles about the society's work by Mark Twain, Andrew Carnegie, Arthur von Briesen, Dr. Lyman Abbot, Prof. Brander Mathews, with illustrations by Harley D. Nichols and Thomas A. Sinclair.

* * *

Friends of E. J. Morgan, the well-known young actor who was recently the star in Hall Caine's ill-fated play, "The Prodigal Son," will be surprised to learn that he has been seriously ill for the past three weeks and has been confined in a private sanitarium near New York City. Mr. Morgan's whereabouts have been kept a secret and only a few of his intimate friends are aware of his true condition or know his whereabouts. It is said that Morgan has broken down temporarily from overwork and that a good long rest has been ordered. His wife, Helen Bertram, is playing in Chicago with "The Gingerbread Man."

* * *

Yvette Guilbert, the famous Parisienne chanteuse, who is to give special song recitals in New York, arrived from Paris last week after an absence of nine years. Mme. Yvette when last here created a furore at Koster & Bial's old Music hall. Now she comes back under Charles Frohman's management for special engagements, which commence at the aristocratic Lyceum in the metropolis. Among the songs that the French artist will give upon these occasions will be a number of old French chansons sung for the delight of Marie Antoinette in the days of her reign at Versailles.

* * *

William Courtleigh, for many seasons identified with the best known of the Frohman companies, has gone into vaudeville. He is playing a sketch by R. C. MacCullough, called "The Third Degree," which has made quite a hit in the East.

* * *

Joseph Arthur, the dramatist, whose "Blue Jeans" and "The Still Alarm" made his name known wherever the American drama is heard, is reported to be critically ill at his apartments in the Hotel Normandie, New York City, with little hope held out for his recovery. Mr. Arthur has been suffering from Bright's disease for the past year, and recently underwent an operation, after which his life was thought to be in the balance. Latest reports are that he is somewhat improved, but it is thought that his chances for recovery are very slight.

* * *

Frederick Thompson, the energetic manager of the Hippodrome, in New York, has just returned from Europe, where he went to secure special features for the big spectacle Thompson and Dundy will put on in the Auditorium in Chicago. Mr. Thompson says that he has also secured a site in London for a reproduction of the New York Hippodrome, and that as soon as it is built the two will be operated in conjunction. Productions which are made for the two houses will alternate between London and New York, with Chicago as a possibility in the way of a further outlet.

* * *

Through the efforts of the Actors' Society of America nearly $1,000 has been raised to be used in assisting the prosecution of George Hasty, a hotel man of Gaffney, S. C., who is soon to be tried for the murder of Abbott Davidson and Milan Bennett, two actors who, while members of the "Nothing But Money" company, were shot by Hasty in his hotel in Gaffney. It is alleged that the murder was unprovoked, and as a precedent the actors throughout the country have taken a hand in raising the fund to assist the prosecution, principally for the effect it will have throughout the country.

* * *

Edna Goodrich, the beautiful brunette who sprang into theatrical prominence as one of the original variety of Florodora sextettes, and during that time married young Stacey of Cincinnati, has just been engaged by N. C. Goodwin to become his leading lady in the play, "The Genius and the Model," which Goodwin expects to put on in London soon. Miss Goodrich created the play in which she starred jointly with Harry Woodruff earlier in the season. Goodwin then made offers for the drama, but was unsuccessful. He has fallen down with "A Gilded Fool" in London, and will try the new piece for the remainder of his London time. London has taken warmly to several American girls lately, and the beautiful Edna Goodrich will likely vie with Pauline Chase, Marion Winchester and May de Sousa for success there.

* * *

Trixie Friganza, who has been resting since her retirement from the Weber company, has signed with Kohl and Castle to play one of the titular three in the new musical piece, "The Three Graces," which is to have a run at the Chicago Opera house.

* * *

Playing the same part 500 times with hardly a break has had no bad effect on David Warfield. He seems in better health than he did when he began his remarkable run in "The Music Master."

Mr. Warfield said recently: "I never play a part mechanically. If I did I could go ahead and act it three or four times a day. I am always interested in the work. When I go on the stage as the Music Master I, in a measure, sink my own identity and become the man I portray. It is not tiresome; it is not wearing. I do not believe an actor was ever made ill or killed because he played one part for a long time. If he died or was prostrated during the run, it was something else that caused it. I am all right, physically and in excellent condition."

Everyone knows that Mr. Warfield takes good care of himself. He is a noted pedestrian and his long walks keep him at the proper key.

* * *

The Shuberts have completed arrangements with E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe in this country and Cyril Maude and Winnifred Emery of London, whereby there will be an exchange of dates between the well-known stars. Maude and Emery occupy the stage of the Shuberts' London theater, the Waldorf, and when they visit this country in the near future the Sothern-Marlowe combination will go abroad to occupy the stage of the Waldorf during their absence.

* * *

The Morning Telegraph, in an editorial on theater nuisances, hits the following one off in a manner that might well be applied to theaters in every section of the country:

"Every one knows why the prig that comes late does so. It is because he has the show girl's desire to be seen. A thousand persons are seated absorbed in what is going on behind the footlights. Suddenly there is a stir in the rear; shoes creak, an offensive smell of perfumery (the late man always is perfumed) fills the air and a man with a smirk walks down the aisle to a seat near the front. Three or four persons arise to let him take his seat, and a dozen have their view of the stage cut off.

"This sort of nuisance should be repressed with a strong hand. The person who comes late ought to be made stand up in the rear and keep quiet until the curtain falls. If this rule is made in theaters it will soon bring persons around on time.

"Another offender is the theater-goer who coughs. Any one afflicted with a cold who coughs persistently in a playhouse should be told to leave. His place is, in bed, not in a public place of entertainment."

* * *

Hope Booth, at one time considered the most popular ingenue on the American stage, has decided to come out of her retirement and will go into vaudeville. Miss Booth has been resting for three years, but has been so taken with her new sketch, "The Only Way," written by Will M. Cressy, that she has ordered a tour booked in the best vaudeville houses.

* * *

Managers Wagenhals and Kemper on Saturday last received a cable from Messrs. Vedrenne and Barker, managers of the Court theater, London, asking permission to extend Annie Russell's engagement there for another five weeks. This they readily agreed to, as they did not wish to be the cause of curtailing the brilliant success she has achieved in Bernard Shaw's play, "Major Barbara." Miss Russell will, therefore, be unable to sail for America until after March 10, on which date she will close her London season. Messrs. Wagenhals and Kemper have accordingly cancelled the time they have held for in this country prior to Boston, in which city she makes her first appearance in her new play on April 9.

* * *

Grace Van Studdiford, who has just closed a successful engagement at the Winter garden, Berlin, closed arrangements by cable yesterday with F. F. Proctor for her appearance in vaudeville, beginning March 5. Miss Van Studdiford's last appearance here was prima donna of "The Red Feather" company.

* * *

Viola Allen, whose secret marriage to Peter Duryea, a wealthy turfman, recently became known, will probably retire from the stage after next season. She recently announced that she would continue to appear in Clyde Fitch's play, "The Toast of the Town," until June, when she will give up modern comedy and return to Shakespeare. It now appears that this will probably be her farewell to the stage. Incidentally Miss Allen will in a few days formally announce her marriage to Mr. Duryea, which has been accepted as a fact since the telltale marriage record was discovered in Kenucky a few weeks ago, but lacked an authoritative confirmation from either party to the match. The marriage was decided upon quite suddenly last summer. Miss Allen and Mr. Duryea had been friends for a long time before they became engaged. He became ill while living alone on the stock farm in which he was interested, and was visited by Miss Allen and her mother. It was then that they decided to be married, and the wedding was quietly celebrated in Lexington. Mr. Duryea's gift to his bride is a country home, just where is not decided, as there are three under consideration.

* * *

John Philip Sousa's new opera, which Klaw and Erlanger are to produce in Philadelphia late in March, will be presented under the title of "King for a Day," instead of "The Free Lance." The cast will include Joseph Cawthorn, Albert Hart, George Tollman, W. H. Mac Donald, Felix Haney, Nella Bergan and Jeanette Lowry.

* * *

Harrison Grey Fiske is preparing for the production of a play by Zola, in which Bertha Kalich will appear at special performances in conjunction with her regular performances of "Monna Vanna." Several members of the company now supporting Mme. Kalich will appear in the Zola play. Jeffreys Lewis and Grayce Scott have been engaged especially.

* * *

William A. Brady will present at the Liberty theater, New York, Monday evening, March 5, Donald McLaren's American play, "The Redskin," trial performances of which were recently very successfully given in Milwaukee. All the characters are Indians of the Ockotchee tribe. The scenes are laid in the region of the Great Lakes and the time of action of the story is 1756. The principal parts will be played by Edwin Arden, Tyrone Power, Katherine Grey, Bijou Fernandez, Robert Peyton Carter, Lionel Adams, Marion Chapman, Margaret Kenmare, Alice Leigh and Laura Lemmers.

* * *

Nixon & Zimmerman have concluded a contract with Henry B. Irving, son of the late Sir Henry Irving, by which he will pass under their management, first appearing under their direction at the Drury Lane theater, London, on Easter Monday, in "The Corsican Brothers." His repertory will also include some of his father's successes, among them "The Lyons Mail," "The Bells," "Becket," "Hamlet" and "King Lear." After the London season Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman will present their new star in the principal cities of Great Britain. His American tour will open in New York in the early autumn. After a New York engagement he will appear in all the leading cities of the United States and Canada.

* * *

Pinero's new play, "His House in Order," is said to be genuinely characteristic of this author, and to be the cleverest work he has done since he wrote "The Gay Lord Quex." The atmosphere of the house of Filmer Jesson is the leading motive in the play. Filmer Jesson has created a rather dreary atmosphere around his wife, Nina, whom he married, as his respectable friends kindly say, in a moment of weakness, since she was only the governess of his child by his sainted former wife. It soon happens that Nina finds out that the dead Mrs. Jesson was not a saint at all. The little boy, Derek Jesson, discovers in a cupboard in his mother's boudoir a compromising little bag, and in that bag Nina finds three of four letters, which show that the saint carried on a surreptitious love affair with one of her husband's friends, and that the little boy is the child, not of Jesson, but of this man. What will Nina do with the weapon thus given her against her enemies? She allows herself to be overruled by Jesson's diplomatic brother. This brother himself shows the letters to Jesson, and Jesson politely intimates to the dead saint's respectable relatives that they need not keep so affectionately near him in the future. This is how Jesson finally sets his house in order.

LOW RATES
VIA
Louisville & Nashville R. R.
TO THE MARDI GRAS
NEW ORLEANS,
MOBILE,
PENSACOLA,

Tickets on sale Feb. 21 to and including trains scheduled to arrive at New Orleans, Mobile or Pensacola before noon Feb. 27, limited to return March 3; by deposit and payment of 50 cents extension of limit can be secured until March 17, 1906. For rates, time tables and beautiful illustrated booklet giving a history of the Mardi Gras, address,

H. C. BAILEY, N. W. P. A.....Chicago
J. E. DAVENPORT, D. P. A—St. Louis
F. D. BUSH, D. P. A.....Cincinnati
J. H. MILLIKEN, D. P. A....Louisville
C. L. STONE, G. P. A....Louisville, Ky.

ORDER TO EXAMINE ACCOUNTS, ETC.—
State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.
In Probate Court, Special Term, Feby, 9th, 1906.
In the Matter of the Estate of Wm. McDonald, Deceased:

On reading and filing the petition of Mary McDonald, Executrix of the estate of Wm. McDonald, deceased, representing, among other things, that she has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining, settling and allowing the final account of her administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It Is Ordered, That said account be examined, and petition heard by this Court, on Monday, the 5th day of March, A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock a. m., at the Probate Office, in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County.

And It Is Further Ordered, That notice thereof be given to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this Order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth, in said County.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., the 9th day of Feby., 1906.

By the Court,
J. B. MIDDLECOFF,
Judge of Probate.
(Seal, Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.)
Duluth Evening Herald—Feb. 10-17-24.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

MAY NOT BE COMPLETED

Warm Weather Has Delayed All Curling Club Trophy Events.

Efforts Being Made to Organize Curlers in Neighboring Towns.

It begins to look doubtful whether or not the members of the Duluth curling club will be able to finish up the various trophy events which are now in progress.

Only three rinks are left in the St. Louis trophy event, the Duncan, Brewer and Macrae rinks, the latter being in the finals. Two games would finish up this event.

The Herald trophy is no farther advanced than last week. In two of the squads the winners have not yet been decided, and when they are known the final round will have to be played off, which will require three games on the part of each of the four rinks.

The progress in the Manley-McLennan event has been slow, and only a few games in each squad have been played. It would take a week or ten days of good curling weather to finish up this event, even if the games were run off promptly.

The Anderson medal contest has not yet been played with the Superior club, and if it is won, the different rinks will have to play off for its possession.

Whether or not any or all of these events are finished up thits year depends entirely upon the weather. If the present thaw lasts for another week or two the club will probably be closed for the season, but if good ice could be secured for three or four evenings The Herald and St. Louis events could be disposed of.

The club has had a very successful season this year, in spite of the fact that the trophy events are not likely to be cleaned up. The bonspiel took a week or ten days out of the season, but it greatly increased the interest in the game in the city, and many new devotees are expected for next year.

Before another winter comes it is hoped that several new curling clubs can be organized in the range towns. The Duluth curlers stand ready to assist such a move by every means in their power, as the organization of these clubs would not only increase the number of rinks entered in the annual bonspiel, but would give the Duluth curlers an opportunity to take short trips for social games, or bring outside curlers here for events of a similar nature. Grand Rapids, Hibbing, Cloquet, Eveleth and Two Harbors could all support a curling club, as Virginia has done, and it is hoped that steps will be taken to organize the curlers in these towns before next season.

SPORTING COMMENT

On the lover of the out-of-doors, these premature, balmy, spring days react something like patent pain killer on a Chippewa brave.

Duluth may be the healthiest city in the world, but it can rear the largest, lustiest and most aggressive microbes of the spring fever of any city in Uncle Sam's domain. When those balmy, little southwest zephyrs begin to float in over the elevators and stir the waters of the lake into blue ripples; when the temptation comes to hock the winter overcoat and shed the heavy underwear; when the kids hunt out a dry spot on the sidewalk and begin their never ending games of marbles; when the old hill begins to show up green behind the city; then's the time that the average Duluth person with red blood in his veins, goes foolish.

Unfortunately this is the between-season period for outdoor sports, and about the only way to work off surplus energy is in an exciting game of pinochle or a session at bridge whist.

A fortune awaits the man who will invent a game that can be played when the fields are sponges of muddy water, and the ice looks like a cross-section of a Dutch cheese.

It's too late for curling and hockey to attract any deep, stirring interest, and it's a little too early for even the most enthusiastic baseball fan to dig up the old gloves and get out on the corner lot.

At some of the colleges they tide over this period with an occasional cross country run, but if two or three young men should get together for a cross country run in Duluth at this season, they would be pinched for having rats in their garrets. About the only thing to do is to sit down and wait for old Sol to get through with his work of preparing baseball parks.

* * *

During the week the Duluth curlers pulled off something in the nature of a water polo game with the St. Paul Nushka club. The St. Paul curlers were a little the better swimmers and won out by a narow margin, but providing the weather man allows a little ice to hang over until March 2 the contest will be finished in Duluth.

However poor ice makers the St. Paul curlers may be, they are said to be the real thing in the line of entertainers, and when the Duluth men reached home they decided there wasn't much to regret in the trip after all. It's more sport being beaten in St. Paul than it is to win in almost any other town.

* * *

After trifling with the affections of the Northern league for a spell, the Duluth ball club has finally turned that organization down, and has cast its fortunes with the Copper country towns. Next year instead of the Farmers from Fargo and the Canucks from the Peg, the fans will see the Copper Diggers from Calumet, the Miners from Iron Mountain, and our old friends, the Swamp Jumpers from the suburb across the bay. Them we have always with us.

The new league looks like a winner. When a club has to pay out 24 cents a mile for every mile of railroad it covers, the owners get to be quite expert on geography. It's poor baseball business to pay out money to railroads, anyway. A better plan is to owe it to them, or else organize a "trolley" league like the new one.

* * *

The poor, misguided gentlemen who have control of the affairs of the National Skiing association, picked out Ashland as the city where the next national ski tournament will be held. Of course Duluth can stand it if they can, and they are more to be pitied than blamed. Nothing but ignorance of the attractions of the Zenith City accounts for the choice, and while Ashland will doubtless entertain the visitors in proper style, it seems a pity that the 8,000 to 10,000 visitors must go there when they might have come to Duluth.

* * *

Between the fifty new automobiles which are ordered for Duluth people this year, and several new motor boats, life at the Head of the Lakes this summer will be one grand, giddy whirl.

Some of the new motor boats are said to be able to attain a speed of from 18 to 20 miles per hour, and it may be the good fortune of the city to see some exciting races on the harbor next summer.

TOMMY BURNS GETS DECISION

Outpointed Marvin Hart in Every Way at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Feb. 24.—By those who took Marvin Hart's claim to the world's championship title seriously, Tommy Burns of Chicago may now be considered the heavyweight champion. Burns decisively outpointed Hart last night at the Pacific Athletic club pavilion and was given the decision at the end of the twentieth round.

From start to finish, with the possible exception of the tenth and twelfth rounds, when Hart had a very small advantage, Burns outfought the bigger man, out generaled him and beat him at every point. At times Burns, although handicapped in weight and height, made Hart look like a novice.

In the opening round Burns was nervous. After this, however, he quickly sized Hart up and began a systematic attack on his face and body with straight lefts. In the third round he started the blood flowing from Hart's nose. In the fifth he caught Hart over the right eye and in the following rounds battered the optic until it was closed. The left eye also was badly marked and Hart's face presented a bloody sight practically throughout the fight.

Hart failed to show championship form of any sort. He could not land on Burns and toward the later part of the fight tried to wear Burns out by using his weight in the clinches.

In the fourteenth Burns appeared to have a chance to knock Hart out. He caught the bigger man a right and left on the jaw that sent him staggering. Seizing his advantage, Burns hammered Hart about the face and head until he forced him to cover up and give ground.

Hart weighed about 195. Burns weight was given as 175. The betting was 2 to 1 on Hart and even money that Hart would win in ten rounds. Attendance 4,000.

ICE TRACK VERY BAD.

Water Covers it and the Contests May Be Postponed.

Unless the ice track at Twenty-first avenue west is in a great deal better condition this afternoon than it has been all this week, there will be no horse races there today.

The ice has been covered with water ever since the thaws began. In the free-for-all class, Captain S. and Beulah Smith will compete for honors and in the limited class, James Glaser's Lochinvar will be pitted against R. P. Dowse's Frederick E. The contests should be fast ones. Tottman's Alice in tentered for the free-for-all class, but if she is not thought to have a tremendous show against the other horses. The contests will be the finals in these classes.

TO PLAY IN THREE-I LEAGUE

Arthur Ludwig, Who Was With Crookston Team Last Year.

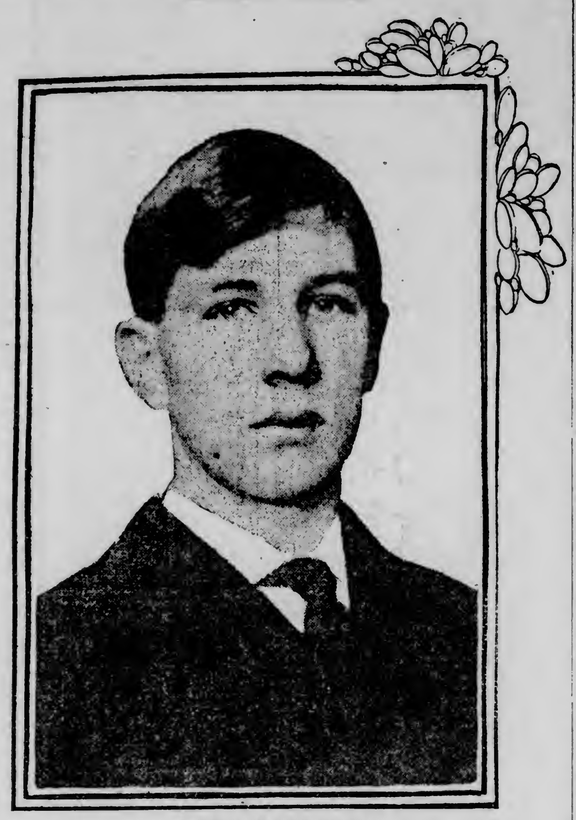

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word has been received from Arthur Ludwig, the ball player who made a good record as right fielder for the Crookston team of the Northern league last year, that he would this season play in the Three-I league, and that he was in good condition and ready to report for practice at any time he was notified. He does not say what team he will be a member of, but it is presumed he will play with Rockford. Whether he was secured a release from the Crookston team, or has been sold by that organization, he does not state. Ludwig lived here for several years, and his parents are now residents of Cass Lake. He is a railroad man, and has, since the close of the Northern league season last fall, been conductor on a train running from Grand Forks to Devils Lake.

YOUNG MAHONEY BESTS "CY" FLYNN.

Milwaukee, Feb. 24.—Young Mahoney of Milwaukee defeated "Cy" Flynn of Buffalo, N. Y., in an eight round bout before the Badger Athletic club last night. Mahoney was the aggressor throughout the bout and scored knockdowns in the third and fifth rounds and had his man nearly out at the going in the seventh round. Flynn was clever with his left and had the advantage in reach, but on the infighting was clearly outpointed by Mahoney.

Steve Kinney of Milwaukee knocked out Young Morrison of Green Bay, in the first round of a six round bout.

MATHEWSON'S BIG BROTHER

HENRY MATHEWSON.

This younger brother of the great Christie Mathewson, champion pitcher of the world, has been signed by the New York club, and will report at Memphis for practice with the Giants on March 1. The lad is only 19 years old, but stands six feet in his stockings, and is a close counterpart of his famous brother at that age. He has had no professional experience with a league club, but has become celebrated for his effective pitching in various independent teams around his home in Factoryville, Pa. His greatest recommendation comes from Matty himself, who is a very conservative fellow, and would not allow the youngster to join the world's champions unless he thought he could make good. He says that "the kid" has everything that he himself had when he started out. If the youngster sticks and fulfills expectations the Giants will be doubly formidable, with "C. Mathewson, p.," on the score card one day and "H. Mathewson, p.," the next.

THE RED WING TEAM WINS AT STOCKTON, CAL.

Stockton, Cal., Feb. 24.—The Red Wing, Minn., basket ball team last night defeated the Stockton Y. M. C. A. team by the score of 20 to 14.

EVERY MAN

His Own Mechanic, the New French Auto Law.

The new rule of the French Automobile club, that in the Grand Prix, to be run on the Sarthe course, each competitor must attend to all repairs himself, is causing no end of a row. The professional chaeuffeur are not particularly worried, but the "gentlemen drivers" do not fancy the rule in the least, and are striving to have it rescinded. It would seem to be a good rule. In a test of this kind the nearer normal conditions are duplicated the better, and it certainly is not true that, under ordinary circumstances, expert auto mechanics can be found at will along country roads.

AN INVASION OF THE EAST.

The Western Horsemen Will Invade Metropolitan Tracks This Season.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 24.—From statements made by horsemen in winter quarters here, it is evident that the East will be invaded by many racing establishments this year, some of who mhave remained West in fact of the turf disturbances between the Western Jockey club and American Turf association forces. Joe Hawkins, who with E. F. Simmons campaigned the Kentuckian, Mark Cheek, and others in the East eight years ago, is one of those who will ship direct from Montgomery park to New York. Hawkins is handling several horses for J. W. Schorr and one or two for other owners. He has decided t oship direct to Aqueduct in the event that the local meeting is postponed into the late spring, and from statements made by other owners it is likely that, no matter what inducements are offered in stakes and purses by the local association, many horsemen will flock toward the East in the event of a late meeting there.

Ed Tierney, property of John Fay, is being trained over the jumps by Hawkins. Henry Watterson, a prominent Tennessee, Kentucky and Latonia Derby candidate, is also receiving his prep from Hawkins. Hyperion II. is also a Derby candidate in which Hawkins' own hopes are centered.

Ordnung, the winner of the Montgomery handicap in 1903, is being galloped. He is now the property of Hawkins, having been presented as a gift from John W. Schorr, whose colors Ordnung carried in the Montgomery of that year, which was noteworthy of the defeat of McChesney. Ordnung has never started since that race, and Hawkins is none too confident of him standing the careful preparation mapped out for him this year. Moharib, winner of the Kansas City Derby in 1904, is in training again after a year's rest. Injunction is also being tried out with gallops, but Hawkins expresses little confidence in any but Moharib standing up under the strain of preliminary work necessary to win races. Moharib is the son of Esher and Reflection, that Schorr refused $20,000 for a week before his breakdown.

The list being handled by Hawkins, including the 2-year-olds just named, are:

Property of J. W. Schorr—
Injunction, ch. h. a., by St. Leonards-Injunction Second.
Moharib, br, h., 5, by Esher-Reflection.
Compromise, br. c., 3, by Charade-Combination.
Property of J. V. Camden, Jr.—
La Pucelle, ch. m., 4, by Esher-Blue Danube.
Property of John Fay—
Ed Tierney, b. c., 5, by Montana-Lee.
Henry Watterson, ch. c., 3, by The Commoner-Pretense.
Property of J. S. Hawkins & Co.—
Saracen, br. c., 3, by Mazagan-The Jewess.
Nuns Veiling, ch. f., 3, by St. Angelo-Nuns Cloth.
Governor Orman, b. c., 3, Gay La-Calamity Jane.
Old Dominick, br. c., 2, by Wagner-Favonica.
Wing Ting, b. f., 2, by —— Van A. Clar.
Pals, b. f., 2, by Mazagan-La Moor.
Unnamed, br. f., 2, by Tithonus-May Wagner.

FRANK GOTCH

Still Has Hope of Becoming Heavyweight Champion Fighter.

Frank Gotch says he has not yet given up the hope of becoming champion heavyweight fighter of the world, nor has he abandoned the idea of hooking up with Tom Jenkins again. In a letter to the sporting editor of the Kansas City Star he has the following to say:

"A year ago I was champion wrestler of the world, having just duplicated my Bellington, Wash., defeat of Jenkins by a second beating in his home town, Cleveland. Right after I appeared in Cleveland Jenkins beat me, because of my illness, in a New York match, and a month or so later they handed me out the brass knuckles in a second defeat. All this enabled Georges Hackenschmidt to duck me, and since then Jenkins has successfully evaded another match with me, although we have been offered larger guarantees in several cities than we got or could ever get in New York. Jenkins has gone into apparent retirement as instructor at West Point, but I'll bet my clothes you will find him out for a match in the spring, with the stipulation that it must be in New York, no matter what other cities may offer.

"In the meantime I have gone along wrestling, and during the last few months have covered thousands of miles of territory and wrestled scores of matches in the United States and Canada, and, as you probably know, have not met a defeat since that affair in New York. There was a time wrestlers thought they had to lose once in a while to stimulate interest. I believe, on the contrary, that the public wants to see and will support the man who is trying to win all the time, and that's the game for me. I am not egotistic enough to think that I shall always escape defeat, but they've got to show me in a match with a fair field and no favor.

"The wrestling situation isn't like that in the boxing division. There appears no one in sight to fight Jeffries, and he may be justified in retiring. Not so with Jenkins. I know at least one man who will bet himself to best Tom (myself), and there may be others.

"Incidentally, speaking of Jeffries, you may be interested to know that I have not yet abandoned my intention of taking up the gloves. I tried what looked to be an easy one, big Boomer Weekes, in Spokane, Wash., last autumn, nearly broke my right arm in the second round, and jabbed out a twelve-round draw with the left. That punch in the second landed full on Weekes' head, split open the glove and my arm dropped useless to my side. It has been gradually working into shape again and is about all right now. The first chance I get against a good heavyweight I am going to take it, and have not despaired of working up into a position where I will have as much right to a try with the Los Angeles bear as any of them."

DULUTH MEN VICTORIOUS

Ole Feiring Takes Second Prize at the National Tournament.

Other Duluth Men Capture Honors at the Ishpeming Meet.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second annual national ski tournament was held at Brasswire hill here today and surpassed any previous similar event ever held in America, despite the fact that no records were broken. The tourney was postponed until yesterday on account of a fifty-mile gale which blew over the hill from the west causing the riders to lose their balance as soon as they left the "bump." The slide was in excellent condition and if it had not been for the wind the records would certainly have been smashed, as yesterday there was a considerable rise in temperature which caused the snow to become slightly sticky.

Everything considered, the work of the skiers, on Washington's birthday, was excellent. The best record of the day was made by Ole Mangseth of Red Wing who jumped 93 feet and stood. A fine performance was an 89-foot jump by Ole Feiring of Duluth. Gustave Bye of Duluth also made a very creditable showing, his jump being 74 feet 6 inches, but unfortunately he fell.

However, when the sport was resumed yesterday it was decided not to count the jumps made the preceding day, as out of about sixty jumpers only eight or nine stood. This was very pleasing to the contestants and the riding began with a standing jump of 76½ feet by Ole Westgaard of Ishpeming.* The jumps then followed in quick succession with very few falls.

The Aurora Ski club of Red Wing made an excellent showing carrying away five of the ten prizes offered. Ole Mangseth of this club secured first prize, his jumps being 88, 92 and 91½ feet, all made standing. Mangseth's work securing for him the first prize of $100 and the Roberts' cup.

The second prize, consisting of $75 in gold was won by Ole Feiring of Duluth whose jumps were 90, 87 and 93 feet all made standing. Feiring displayed excellent form and was loudly cheered every time he rode.

Following is a list of the rest of the prize winners: Carl Eck, Red Wing, third; Ole Westgaard, Ishpeming, fourth; Carl Jacobson, St. Paul, fifth; Ole Hendrickson, Red Wing, sixth; Elling Diesen, Duluth, seventh; Otto Hour, Red Wing, eighth; Ephriam Olson, Red Wing, ninth; and Aasman Melgaard, Ashland, Wis., tenth.

The gold medal for the longest standing jump, offered by President Mather, went to John Mangseth, of Duluth, who made a leap of ninety-four feet.

The Hopkins solid silver cup, costing $125, which was offered for the best jump made by any Ishpeming man, was secured by Ole Westgaard, the winner of last year's tournament, who had a standing leap of eighty-six feet to his credit.

A feature of the day was the jump made by the Helland brothers, of Cameron, Wis., who came down the slide holding hands and continued this position until they turned at the end of the run. They secured the prize offered for this jump as they made a jump of sixty-eight feet, and were very graceful. Several other teams came down the slide holding hands and all made an excellent showing.

Following the jumping on Washington's birthday a banquet was held at Braastad's hall. The attendance was limited to the members of the Ishpeming club, the skiers, delegates attending the convention and a few invited guests. Speeches were given and an enjoyable time was had by all.

In the distance ski contest, on the morning of the 22nd, at Union Park, some excellent work was done. A six mile course was run and it was participated in by nine skiers. Asaria Autio of Ely, Minn., holder of the world's record for thirty kilometers, was the winner. His time was forty-eight minutes.

The following table shows the distances made by the jumpers. Those standing are designated by an asterisk:

	Feb. 22.	Feb. 23. 1st.	Feb. 23. 2nd.	Feb. 23. 3rd.
Marinette, Wis.—
E. Eck	59	50	50	....
Bovey, Minn.—
Julius Kulstad	*70	81	*84	*89½
Olaf Junnum	86	*86	*75	85
Duluth—
John Mangseth	70	83	87	*94
Olaf Larson	79	79	*76	78½
Elling Diesen	*82	*91½	*82	*79
Gust Bye	74½	83½	*74	*91
Ole Ferring	*89	*90	*87	*93
Stoughton, Wis.—
Eiling Landvig	80	79	71	....
Holver Christenson..
Torvald Olso	81	*82½	79	88
Jens Kjile	68	*67½	*66	65½
St. Paul—
T. C. Simmons	59	69½	*66½	72
Carl Jacobson	73	*81	*80	*88½
Ironwood—
Lou Anderson	65½	..	..	..
Carl Johnson	60	85	..	..
John Beerling	75	73	73	74
Erick Nyberg	65	67	82	71
Red Wing, Minn.—
Ole Magnseth	*93	*88	*92	*91½
Ole Hendrickson	70½	*82½	*76	*89
Olaf Benson	66	72	*78	90
Carl Elk	75	*81½	82	*92
Roy Rodgers	61½	*62½	59	56½
Otto Hour	58	*77	*82½	*80½
Ephriam Olson	76½	*76	*78	*76
Erick Iverson	62	*65	66½	*72
Escanaba—
John Young	58	55	55	55
Ashland, Wis—
Christ Wold	69	*75½	*63	76½
Asmund Malgaard	*73	*77	*72	*72
John Nielsen	64	75	74	*68½
Chicago—
Ferje Jensen	82	85	81	....
Ingvar Hendrickson	68½	68	....	....
Adolph Svenson	....	....	....	....
Cameron, Wis.—
Knut Helland	76½	83½	*84	84
Gunnart Helland	74	66	....	....
Isipeming—
Oswald Tellefsen	51½	*55	50	*67
Ole Westgaard	*71	*76½	*84½	*86
George Westman	*62	73	*68½	65½
Conrad Thompson	*58	*60	60½	—
John Farm	60½	68½	56½	57
Christ Peterson	54	69½	63	73
Thomas Lokken	61½	*66	67	74
Alfred Kersen	60½	73	*68	*72½
David Lind	61½	63	*72	85½
Thorlief Holter	—	*66	*70	*70
Floodwood—
C. Christianson	52	—	—	—
Superior, Wis.—
Isaac Larson	66	—	—	—
Chriss Jonnason	64	55½	68½	—

WALKING GAME IS TOO TAME

Passing of the Heel-and-Toe and Six-Day Races.

The day of the pedestrians, the heel-and-toe and the six-day go-as-you-please boys, is a thing of the past. There was a tie when this game was in a flourishing condition—a time when thousands paid to see "footmen" wend their weary way round the circle for hours at a time in quest of records and good American currency. Like the six-day bicycle races now held every year in Madison Square garden, the six-day heel-and-toe and the go-as-you-please matches were all the rage.

Crowds would go to the garden Saturday night when the pedestrians started out on their long journey prepared to stay several days. During these days of exciting sports it is hard to understand how they could sit for hours and watch the weary grind, but it's a fact, and in 1889 the paid admissions to one match for the six days and nights was upwards of $50,000.

Henry O. Messler, one of the old guard of the six-day men, was in Kansas City last week trying to arrange a so-called "grind" for Convention hall, but he received little or no encouragement. "Yes, it's all off with the pedestrian game," said Messler. "There was a time when the sport loving public thought it was more exciting than horse racing, but it's not bloody enough for the patrons of sport today. I have known people to sit for days at a time and watch us stagger around the track, and sometimes they had to be taken out of the building half 'buggy.'

"Nineteen years ago I had engaged in a heel-and-toe race in the old Fountain theater, which used to be at Seventh and Bank streets here, and maybe you think the public didn't turn out to see us skidoo. Among those who were in that grind were Hoagland, Johnny Dobler, George Hoffman, Dan O'Leary, Old Sport Campana, 'Cowboy' Smith and George Smith. Hoagland won the race, Dobler was second and I was third. Hoagland covered 526 miles, which is the present record. The receipts for that match ran up into the thousands, for I got over $1,000 for finishing third.

"One year later I engaged in a heel-and-toe match in the old exposition building which also drew large crowds. But the game didn't last long in the West. I don't know why, as the best men in the business competed, but somehow or another it didn't take after the first show. In the East, however, it was good until about five years ago. I can remember when George Littlewood came from England and cleaned up $20,000 in two matches. They bet some on the walking boys those days.

"The old-timers, however, are now leading peaceful lives. Hoagland is a constable in Auburn, N. Y., and he's doing well, chasing violators of the law instead of dough and records; Dan Herty, formerly a champion, is a plumber in Revere, Mass.; Gus Guerro is a gate tender in the Subway in New York; Jimmy Albert, who held the championship for five years, is in the cattle business in Texas and he's got enough money to keep him for the rest of his life; Frank Hart, the negro champion, is dying of consumption at Colorado Springs. Hart held the Rose belt, the Sir John Astley belt and the Police Gazette belt. Dan O'Leary is traveling through Texas for an Eastern publishing house; Johnny Dobler is dead, and George Palmer is running a restaurant in this city. They all had to quit walking or starve to death."

Messler is with Tom Andrews of Milwaukee and issues a sporting manual yearly. "I guess I've walked over 30,000 miles in matches," said Messler, "and I can still go some. Last winter I was in Denver for Andrews and I was out of funds. I wired Mr. Andrews to send me transportation so I could get to Milwaukee. Andrews wired back for me to walk and try for another record. I guess I could have made it at that if I had tried.

"I have walked in matches for hours at a time in my sleep. I remember once I went thirty-two hours in a race without leaving the track and my trainer told me that the only time I would wake up was when some one would try to pass me. I have watched the crowds asleep for hours at a time and they would only wake up when we got to spurting. But it's all over now. The automobiles are going miles in thirty seconds, the fighters are all on the stage and race horses are selling for fortunes. It's the new games the people want. Walking is even too slow for me."

SAYERS IS DEFEATED.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 24.—Fred Landers, of San Francisco, was given the decision over Maurice Sayers, of Milwaukee, in a twenty round fight before the Hot Springs Athletic club last night. The fight was fast to the end of the twenty rounds, both men showing at all times a willingness to mix things. Landers proved himself the cleverest in the fighting. The fight was for a purse and a side bet of $500.

The up-to-date woman avoids caustics, drugs and powders. They are extremely harmful to the skin, while Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes it soft and beautiful. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

FISTIC DOPE FROM 'FRISCO

There is Lack of Harmony Among Fight Trust Directors.

Coffroth and Willie Britt Opposed to Graney and Levy.

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—The Sun Francisco fight trust is getting down to a working basis gradually. Lack of harmony among the shareholders bars progress and prevents a complete understanding being arrived at in certain matters pertaining to the trust's welfare. It is said there is a tie vote on every question that comes up and it is suggested that the Deadlock Athletic club would be a better name for the organization than the one it was launched under.

Coffroth and Willie Britt always vote the same way, while Graney and Morris Levy invariably vote the other way. For instance, at the last meeting hints were thrown out by Graney that some of his colleagues were inclined to bar Billy Nolan, manager of Battling Nelson, from participating in the pugilistic game in San Francisco. According to report Coffroth up and said that the insinuation was meant for him and to show that he had no desire to bar anyone he proposed as a resolution that the Associate Athletic club begin its career on the basis that there were no back grudges of any kind to settle and that no reputable manager or pugilist be barred or blacklisted. Coffroth and Britt voted for the resolution. Levy and Graney voted against it fearing there was a "joker in it somewhere.

The trust tried to elect a matchmaker and failed. No matter which of the four promoters was named the vote was 2 to 2. It was argued that the club's official matchmaker, if given absolute power, might favor matches that he was interested in personally and it was finally decided to defer the selection until another meeting. The meeting accomplished something, however. It elected officers with the following result: President, E. M. Graney; vice president, Willus F. Britt; secretary, Morris Levy; treasurer, James W. Coffroth.

"Nice thing for me," grumbled Willus Britt later. "Vice president, indeed. Why, I'll never be heard of."

"You can't tell," said Morris Levy, soothingly, "Graney may die."

All this was not made public; it was simply announced after the meeting that Coffroth had determined to forego his trip to England and that for the present the Association Athletic club would be operated on the lines originally mapped out. In other words, that Coffroth, Levy, Graney and Britt will divide the profits equally. Coffroth said that no change wil be made in regard to the February program and that Frankie Neil and Harry Tenny will be the main card.

* * *

At this writing it is hard to say who will be matched for March, although at least two of the magnates think that Jimmie Britt and Eddie Hanlon will come together. Until the trust elects a matchmaker anything that is said in the connection will not be regarded as official. Britt is certainly in great demand. "Kid" Herman wants a go at him and if Hanlon had not been at work in his own interests for a couple of weeks before Herman put in an appearance the Chicagoan would, no doubt have induced Britt to sign. Britt is reported as saying that he will probably meet both Hanlon and Herman before tackling bigger game. From this it can be gauged that he has the utmost confidence in his ability to dispose of them both.

* * *

Joe Gans is back in San Francisco and is literally shouting at Jimmy Britt from the housetops. The Baltimorean says he will never be satisfied until he secures a return match with Britt. In his eagerness to goad Britt to action Gans is throwing off some extremely broad hints in regard to the former fight. It seems to be Britt's policy to ignore Gans and what Gans says entirely, and the conditions are such that a dirty linen wash seems imminent.

* * *

Los Angeles seems to be outstripping San Francisco as a fight center. In any case bouts of ordinary merit, such as the Herrera-"Young Corbett" and Herman-Herrera character, draw much better houses in the Southern town than they would up here. This is accounted for on the hypothesis that the boxing industry has not been done to death in Los Angeles and that the Southland sees glorious possibilities in bouts that would cause a mild ripple of interest in this city. It remains to be seen, of course, whether Los Angeles can cope successfully with San Francisco in handling events of large importance. Britt and Nelson drew $50,000 at Colma and Jeffries and Jim Corbett boxed before a bigger gate than that even in Mechanics' pavilion. Until Los Angeles secures and puts through a match which classes with either of the events named arguments as to which is the greater fight town will be in order.

* * *

From the manner in which the Southern promoters are bidding for everything in sight in the pugilistic line it is very evident that Los Angeles considers itself a worthy rival of San Francisco. It begins to look as though Tommy Ryan and Jack O'Brien will work off their long standing dispute in the orange belt. A bid has also been made for a match between Nelson and Herrera and it is understood that Angelenos have designs on the Britt-Nelson-Gans matches and on a match with Jim Jeffries in it if the "big fellow" can be lured away from ranch life. All things considered, it looks as though the San Francisco promoters will have to be up and doing.

W. W. NAUGHTON.

BLOOD POISON is the worst disease on earth, yet the easiest to cure when you know what to do. Many have pimples, spots on the skin, sores in the mouth, ulcers, falling hair, bone pains, catarrh and don't know it is BLOOD POISON. Send to DR. BROWN 923 Arch St., Philadelphia, Penn., for BROWN'S BLOOD CURE, $2.00 per bottle; lasts one month. Sold in Duluth only by Max Wirth, 13 W. Sup. St.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

MAY NOT BE COMPLETED

Warm Weather Has Delayed All Curling Club Trophy Events.

Efforts Being Made to Organize Curlers in Neighboring Towns.

It begins to look doubtful whether or not the members of the Duluth curling club will be able to finish up the various trophy events which are now in progress.

Only three rinks are left in the St. Louis trophy event, the Duncan, Brewer and Macrae rinks, the latter being in the finals. Two games would finish up this event.

The Herald trophy is no farther advanced than last week. In two of the squads the winners have not yet been decided, and when they are known the final round will have to be played off, which will require three games on the part of each of the four rinks.

The progress in the Manley-McLennan event has been slow, and only a few games in each squad have been played. It would take a week or ten days of good curling weather to finish up this event, even if the games were run off promptly.

The Anderson medal contest has not yet been played with the Superior club, and if it is won, the different rinks will have to play off for its possession.

Whether or not any or all of these events are finished up thits year depends entirely upon the weather. If the present thaw lasts for another week or two the club will probably be closed for the season, but if good ice could be secured for three or four evenings The Herald and St. Louis events could be disposed of.

The club has had a very successful season this year, in spite of the fact that the trophy events are not likely to be cleaned up. The bonspiel took a week or ten days out of the season, but it greatly increased the interest in the game in the city, and many new devotees are expected for next year.

Before another winter comes it is hoped that several new curling clubs can be organized in the range towns. The Duluth curlers stand ready to assist such a move by every means in their power, as the organization of these clubs would not only increase the number of rinks entered in the annual bonspiel, but would give the Duluth curlers an opportunity to take short trips for social games, or bring outside curlers here for events of a similar nature. Grand Rapids, Hibbing, Choquet, Eveleth and Two Harbors could all support a curling club, as Virginia has done, and it is hoped that steps will be taken to organize the curlers in these towns before next season.

SPORTING COMMENT

On the lover of the out-of-doors, these premature, balmy, spring days react something like patent pain killer on a Chippewa brave.

Duluth may be the healthiest city in the world, but it can rear the largest, lustiest and most aggressive microbes of the spring fever of any city in Uncle Sam's domain. When those balmy, little southwest zephyrs begin to float in over the elevators and stir the waters of the lake into blue ripples; when the temptation comes to hock the winter overcoat and shed the heavy underwear; when the kids hunt out a dry spot on the sidewalk and begin their never ending games of marbles; when the old hill begins to show up green behind the city; then's the time that the average Duluth person with red blood in his veins, goes foolish.

Unfortunately this is the between-season period for outdoor sports, and about the only way to work off surplus energy is in an exciting game of pinochle or a session at bridge whist.

A fortune awaits the man who will invent a game that can be played when the fields are sponges of muddy water, and the ice looks like a cross-section of a Dutch cheese.

It's too late for curling and hockey to attract any deep, stirring interest, and it's a little too early for even the most enthusiastic baseball fan to dig up the old gloves and get out on the corner lot.

At some of the colleges they tide over this period with an occasional cross country run, but if two or three young men should get together for a cross country run in Duluth at this season, they would be pinched for having rats in their garrets. About the only thing to do is to sit down and wait for old Sol to get through with his work of preparing baseball parks.

* * *

During the week the Duluth curlers pulled off something in the nature of a water polo game with the St. Paul Nushka club. The St. Paul curlers were a little the better swimmers and won out by a narow margin, but providing the weather man allows a little ice to hang over until March 2 the contest will be finished in Duluth.

However poor ice makers the St. Paul curlers may be, they are said to be the real thing in the line of entertainers, and when the Duluth men reached home they decided there wasn't much to regret in the trip after all. It's more sport being beaten in St. Paul than it is to win in almost any other town.

* * *

After trifling with the affections of the Northern league for a spell, the Duluth ball club has finally turned that organization down, and has cast its fortunes with the Copper country towns. Next year instead of the Farmers from Fargo and the Canucks from the Peg, the fans will see the Copper Diggers from Calumet, the Miners from Iron Mountain, and our old friends, the Swamp Jumpers from the suburb across the bay. Them we have always with us.

The new league looks like a winner. When a club has to pay out 24 cents a mile for every mile of railroad it covers, the owners get to be quite expert on geography. It's poor baseball business to pay out money to railroads, anyway. A better plan is to owe it to them, or else organize a "trolley" league like the new one.

* * *

The poor, misguided gentlemen who have control of the affairs of the National Skiing association, picked out Ashland as the city where the next national ski tournament will be held. Of course Duluth can stand it if they can, and they are more to be pitied than blamed. Nothing but ignorance of the attractions of the Zenith City accounts for the choice, and while Ashland will doubtless entertain the visitors in proper style, it seems a pity that the 8,000 to 10,000 visitors must go there when they might have come to Duluth.

* * *

Between the fifty new automobiles which are ordered for Duluth people this year, and several new motor boats, life at the Head of the Lakes this summer will be one grand, giddy whirl.

Some of the new motor boats are said to be able to attain a speed of from 18 to 20 miles per hour, and it may be the good fortune of the city to see some exciting races on the harbor next summer.

TOMMY BURNS GETS DECISION

Outpointed Marvin Hart in Every Way at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Feb. 24.—By those who took Marvin Hart's claim to the world's championship title seriously, Tommy Burns of Chicago may now be considered the heavyweight champion. Burns decisively outpointed Hart last night at the Pacific Athletic club pavilion and was given the decision at the end of the twentieth round.

From start to finish, with the possible exception of the tenth and twelfth rounds, when Hart had a very small advantage, Burns outfought the bigger man, out generaled him and beat him at every point. At times Burns, although handicapped in weight and height, made Hart look like a novice.

In the opening round Burns was nervous. After this, however, he quickly sized Hart up and began a systematic attack on his face and body with straight lefts. In the third round he started the blood flowing from Hart's nose. In the fifth he caught Hart over the right eye and in the following rounds battered the optic until it was closed. The left eye also was badly marked and Hart's face presented a bloody sight practically throughout the fight.

Hart failed to show championship form of any sort. He could not land on Burns and toward the later part of the fight tried to wear Burns out by using his weight in the clinches.

In the fourteenth Burns appeared to have a chance to knock Hart out. He caught the bigger man a right and left on the jaw that sent him staggering. Seizing his advantage Burns, hammered Hart about the face and head until he forced him to cover up and give ground.

Hart weighed about 195. Burns weight was given as 175. The betting was 2 to 1 on Hart and even money that Hart would win in ten rounds. Attendance 4,000.

ICE TRACK VERY BAD.

Water Covers it and the Contests May Be Postponed.

Unless the ice track at Twenty-first avenue west is in a great deal better condition this afternoon than it has been all this week, there will be no horse races there today.

The ice has been covered with water ever since the thaws began. In the free-for-all class, Captain S. and Beulah Smith will compete for honors and in the limited class, James Glaser's Lochinvar will be pitted against R. P. Dowse's Frederick E. The contests should be fast ones. Tottman's Alice in tentered for the free-for-all class, but if she is not thought to have a tremendous show against the other horses. The contests will be the finals in these classes.

TO PLAY IN THREE-I LEAGUE

Arthur Ludwig, Who Was With Crookston Team Last Year.

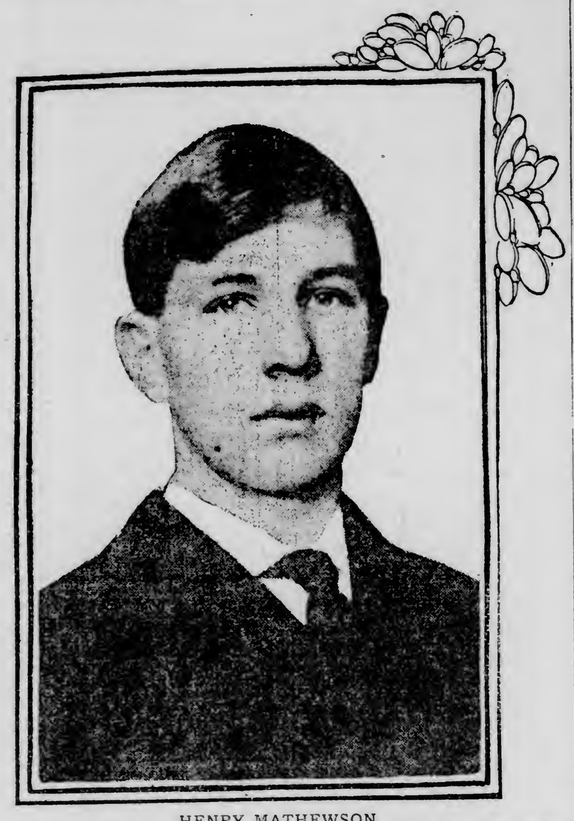

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word has been received from Arthur Ludwig, the ball player who made a good record as right fielder for the Crookston team of the Northern league last year, that he would this season play in the Three-I league, and that he was in good condition and ready to report for practice at any time he was notified. He does not say what team he will be a member of, but it is presumed he will play with Rockford. Whether he was secured a release from the Crookston team, or has been sold by that organization, he does not state. Ludwig lived here for several years, and his parents are now residents of Cass Lake. He is a railroad man, and has, since the close of the Northern league season last fall, been conductor on a train running from Grand Forks to Devils Lake.

YOUNG MAHONEY BESTS "CY" FLYNN.

Milwaukee, Feb. 24.—Young Mahoney of Milwaukee defeated "Cy" Flynn of Buffalo, N. Y., in an eight round bout before the Badger Athletic club last night. Mahoney was the aggressor throughout the bout and scored knockdowns in the third and fifth rounds and had his man nearly out at the going in the seventh round. Flynn was clever with his left and had the advantage in reach, but on the infighting was clearly outpointed by Mahoney.

Steve Kinney of Milwaukee knocked out Young Morrison of Green Bay, in the first round of a six round bout.

MATHEWSON'S BIG BROTHER

HENRY MATHEWSON.

This younger brother of the great Christie Mathewson, champion pitcher of the world, has been signed by the New York club, and will report at Memphis for practice with the Giants on March 1. The lad is only 19 years old, but stands six feet in his stockings, and is a close counterpart of his famous brother at that age. He has had no professional experience with a league club, but has become celebrated for his effective pitching in various independent teams around his home in Factoryville, Pa. His greatest recommendation comes from Matty himself, who is a very conservative fellow, and would not allow the youngster to join the world's champions unless he thought he could make good. He says that "the kid" has everything that he himself had when he started out. If the youngster sticks and fulfills expectations the Giants will be doubly formidable, with "C. Mathewson, p.," on the score card one day and "H. Mathewson, p.," the next.

THE RED WING TEAM WINS AT STOCKTON, CAL.

Stockton, Cal., Feb. 24.—The Red Wing, Minn., basket ball team last night defeated the Stockton Y. M. C. A. team by the score of 20 to 14.

EVERY MAN

His Own Mechanic, the New French Auto Law.

The new rule of the French Automobile club, that in the Grand Prix, to be run on the Sarthe course, each competitor must attend to all repairs himself, is causing no end of a row. The professional chaeuffeur are not particularly worried, but the "gentlemen drivers" do not fancy the rule in the least, and are striving to have it rescinded. It would seem to be a good rule. In a test of this kind the nearer normal conditions are duplicated the better, and it certainly is not true that, under ordinary circumstances, expert auto mechanics can be found at will along country roads.

AN INVASION OF THE EAST.

The Western Horsemen Will Invade Metropolitan Tracks This Season.

¼Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 24.—From statements made by horsemen in winter quarters here, it is evident that the East will be invaded by many racing establishments this year, some of who mhave remained West in fact of the turf disturbances between the Western Jockey club and American Turf association forces. Joe Hawkins, who with E. F. Simmons campaigned the Kentuckian, Mark Cheek, and others in the East eight years ago, is one of those who will ship direct from Montgomery park to New York. Hawkins is handling several horses for J. W. Schorr and one or two for other owners. He has decided t oship direct to Aqueduct in the event that the local meeting is postponed into the late spring, and from statements made by other owners it is likely that, no matter what inducements are offered in stakes and purses by the local association, many horsemen will flock toward the East in the event of a late meeting there.

Ed Tierney, property of John Fay, is being trained over the jumps by Hawkins. Henry Watterson, a prominent Tennessee, Kentucky and Latonia Derby candidate, is also receiving his prep from Hawkins. Hyperion II. is also a Derby candidate in which Hawkins' own hopes are centered.

Ordnung, the winner of the Montgomery handicap in 1903, is being galloped. He is now the property of Hawkins, having been presented as a gift from John W. Schorr, whose colors Ordnung carried in the Montgomery of that year, which was noteworthy of the defeat of McChesney. Ordnung has never started since that race, and Hawkins is none too confident of him, standing the careful preparation mapped out for him this year. Moharib, winner of the Kansas City Derby in 1904, is in training again after a year's rest. Injunction is also being tried out with gallops, but Hawkins expresses little confidence in any but Moharib standing up under the strain of preliminary work necessary to win races. Moharib is the son of Esher and Reflection, that Schorr refused $20,000 for a week before his breakdown.

The list being handled by Hawkins, including the 2-year-olds just named, are:

Property of J. W. Schorr—
Injunction, ch. h. a., by St. Leonards-Injunction Second.
Moharib, br. h., 5, by Esher-Reflection.
Compromise, br. c., 3, by Charade-Combination.
Property of J. V. Camden, Jr.—
La Pucelle, ch. m., 4, by Esher-Blue Danube.
Property of John Fay—
Ed Tierney, b. c., 5, by Montana-Lee.
Henry Watterson, ch. c., 3, by The Comeminer-Pretense.
Property of J. S. Hawkins & Co.—
Saracen, br. c., 3, by Mazagan-The Jewess.
Nuns Veiling, ch. f., 3, by St. Angelo-Nuns Cloth.
Governor Orman, b. c., 3, Gay La-Calamity Jane.
Old Dominick, br. c., 2, by Wagner-Favonica.
Wing Ting, b. f., 2, by —— Van A. Clar.
Pals, b. f., 2, by Mazagan-La Moor.
Unnamed, br. f., 2, by Tithonus-May Wagner.

FRANK GOTCH

Still Has Hope of Becoming Heavyweight Champion Fighter.

Frank Gotch says he has not yet given up the hope of becoming champion heavyweight fighter of the world, nor has he abandoned the idea of hooking up with Tom Jenkins again. In a letter to the sporting editor of the Kansas City Star he has the following to say:

"A year ago I was champion wrestler of the world, having just duplicated my Bellington, Wash., defeat of Jenkins by a second beating in his home town, Cleveland. Right after I appeared in Cleveland Jenkins beat me, because of my illness, in a New York match, and a month or so later they handed me out the brass knuckles in a second defeat. All this enabled Georges Hackenschmidt to duck me, and since then Jenkins has successfully evaded another match with me, although we have been offered larger guarantees in several cities than we got or could ever get in New York. Jenkins has gone into apparent retirement as instructor at West Point, but I'll bet my clothes you will find him out for a match in the spring, with the stipulation that it must be in New York, no matter what other cities may offer.

"In the meantime I have gone along wrestling, and during the last few months have covered thousands of miles of territory and wrestled scores of matches in the United States and Canada, and, as you probably know, have not met a defeat since that affair in New York. There was a time wrestlers thought they had to lose once in a while to stimulate interest. I believe, on the contrary, that the public wants to see and will support the man who is trying to win all the time, and that's the game for me. I am not egotistic enough to think that I shall always escape defeat, but they've got to show me in a match with a fair field and no favor.

"The wrestling situation isn't like that in the boxing division. There appears no one in sight to fight Jeffries, and he may be justified in retiring. Not so with Jenkins. I know at least one man who will let himself to beat Tom (myself), and there may be others.

"Incidentally, speaking of Jeffries, you may be interested to know that I have not yet abandoned my intention of taking up the gloves. I tried what looked to be an easy one, big Boomer Weekes, in Spokane, Wash., last autumn, nearly broke my right arm in the second round, and jabbed out a twelve-round draw with the lefts. That punch in the second landed full on Weekes' head, split open the glove and my arm dropped useless to my side. It has been gradually working into shape again and is about all right now. The first chance I get against a good heavyweight I am going to take it, and have not despaired of working up into a position where I will have as much right to a try with the Los Angeles bear as any of them."

DULUTH MEN VICTORIOUS

Ole Feiring Takes Second Prize at the National Tournament.

Other Duluth Men Capture Honors at the Ishpeming Meet.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second annual national ski tournament was held at Brasswire hill here today and surpassed any previous similar event ever held in America, despite the fact that no records were broken. The tourney was postponed until yesterday on account of a fifty-mile gale which blew over the hill from the west causing the riders to lose their balance as soon as they left the "bump." The slide was in excellent condition and if it had not been for the wind the records would certainly have been smashed, as yesterday there was a considerable rise in temperature which caused the snow to become slightly sticky.

Everything considered, the work of the skiers, on Washington's birthday, was excellent. The best record of the day was made by Ole Mangseth of Red Wing who jumped 93 feet and stood. A fine performance was an 89-foot jump by Ole Feiring of Duluth. Gustave Bye of Duluth also made a very creditable showing, his jump being 74 feet 6 inches, but unfortunately he fell.

However, when the sport was resumed yesterday it was decided not to count the jumps made the preceding day, as out of about sixty jumpers only eight or nine stood. This was very pleasing to the contestants and the riding began with a standing jump of 76½ feet by Ole Westgaard of Ishpeming. The jumps then followed in quick succession with very few falls.

The Aurora Ski club of Red Wing made an excellent showing carrying away five of the ten prizes offered. Ole Mangseth of this club secured first prize, his jumps being 88, 92 and 91½ feet, all made standing, Mangseth's work securing for him the first prize of $100 and the Roberts' cup.

The second prize, consisting of $75 in gold was won by Ole Feiring of Duluth whose jumps were 90, 87 and 93 feet all made standing. Feiring displayed excellent form and was loudly cheered every time he rode.

Following is a list of the rest of the prize winners: Carl Eck, Red Wing, third; Ole Westgaard, Ishpeming, fourth; Carl Jacobson, St. Paul, fifth; Ole Hendrickson, Red Wing, sixth; Elling Diesen, Duluth, seventh; Otto Hour, Red Wing, eighth; Ephriam Olson, Red Wing, ninth; and Aasman Melgaard, Ashland, Wis., tenth.

The gold medal for the longest standing jump, offered by President Mather, went to John Mangseth, of Duluth, who made a leap of ninety-four feet.

The Hopkins solid silver cup, costing $125, which was offered for the best jump made by any Ishpeming man, was secured by Ole Westgaard, the winner of last year's tournament, who had a standing leap of eighty-six feet to his credit.

A feature of the day was the jump made by the Hellandahl brothers, of Cameron, Wis., who came down the slide holding hands and continued this position until they turned at the end of the run. They secured the prize offered for this jump as they made a jump of sixty-eight feet, and were very graceful. Several other teams came down the slide holding hands and all made an excellent showing.

Following the jumping on Washington's birthday a banquet was held at Braastad's hall. The attendance was limited to the members of the Ishpeming club, the skiers, delegates attending the convention and a few invited guests. Speeches were given and an enjoyable time was had by all.

In the distance ski contest, on the morning of the 22nd, at Union Park, some excellent work was done. A six mile course was run and it was participated in by nine skiers. Asaria Autio of Ely, Minn., holder of the world's record for thirty kilometers, was the winner. His time was forty-eight minutes.

The following table shows the distances made by the jumpers. Those standing are designated by an asterisk:

	Feb. 22.	Feb. 23.	Feb. 23.	Feb. 23. 3rd.
Marinette, Wis.—	1st.	1st.	2nd.
E. Eck	59	50	50	....
Bovey, Minn.—
Julius Kulstad	*70	81	*84	*89½
Olaf Junnum	86	*86	*75	85
Duluth—
John Mangseth	70	83	87	*94
Olaf Larson	79	79	*76	78½
Elling Diesen	*82	*80½	*82	*79
Gust Bye	74½	83½	*74	*91
Ole Ferring	*89	*90	*87	*93
Stoughton, Wis.—
Elling Landvig	80	79	71	....
Holver Christenson..
Torvald Olso	81	*82½	79	88
Jens Kjile	68	*67½	*66	65½
St. Paul—
T. C. Simmons	59	69½	*66½	72
Carl Jacobson	73	*81	*80	*88½
Ironwood—
Lou Anderson	63½	..	..	..
Carl Johnson	60	55	73	74
John Beerling	75	73	73	74
Erick Nyberg	65	67	82	71
Red Wing, Minn.—
Ole Magnseth	*93	*88	*92	*91½
Ole Hendrickson	70½	*82½	*76	*88
Olaf Benson	66	72	*78	90
Carl Elk	75	*81½	82	*92
Roy Rodgers	61½	*62½	59	56½
Otto Hour	58	*77	*82½	*80½
Ephriam Olson	76½	*76	*78	*76
Erick Iverson	62	*65	66½	*72
Escanaba—
John Young	58	55	55	55
Ashland, Wis—
Christ Wold	69	*75½	*83	76½
Asmund Malgaard	*73	*77	*72	*72
John Nielsen	64	75	74	*83½
Chicago—
Ferje Jensen	82	85	81	....
Ingvar Hendrickson	68½	68	....	....
Adolph Svenson	....	....	....	....
Cameron, Wis.—
Knut Helland	76½	83½	*84	84
Gunnart Helland	74	66	....	....
Ishpeming—
Oswald Tellefsen	51½	*55	50	*67
Ole Westgaard	*71	*76½	*84½	*86
George Westman	*62	73	*83½	65½
Conrad Thompson	*58	*60	66½	—
John Farm	60½	68½	56½	57
Christ Peterson	64	69½	68	73
Thomas Lokken	61½	*66	67	74
Alfred Kersen	60½	73	*59	*73½
David Lind	61½	63	*73	85½
Thorilef Holter	—	*66	*70	*70
Floodwood—
C. Christianson	52	—	—	—
Superior, Wis.—
Isaac Larson	66	—	—	—
Chriss Jonnason	64	65½	68½	—

WALKING GAME IS TOO TAME

Passing of the Heel-and-Toe and Six-Day Races.

The day of the pedestrians, the heel-and-toe and the six-day go-as-you-please boys, is a thing of the past. There was a tie when this game was in a flourishing condition—a time when thousands paid to see "footmen" wend their weary way round the circle for hours at a time in quest of records and good American currency. Like the six-day bicycle races now held every year in Madison Square garden, the six-day heel-and-toe and the go-as-you-please matches were all the rage.

Crowds would go to the garden Saturday night when the pedestrians started out on their long journey prepared to stay several days. During the days of exciting sports it is hard to understand how they could sit for hours and watch the weary grind, but it's a fact, and in 1889 the paid admissions to one match for the six days and nights was upwards of $50,000.

Henry O. Messler, one of the old guard of the six-day men, was in Kansas City last week trying to arrange a so-called "grind" for Convention hall, but he received little or no encouragement. "Yes, it's all off with the pedestrian game," said Messler. "There was a time when the sport loving public thought it was more exciting than horse racing, but it's not bloody enough for the patrons of sport today. I have known people to sit for days at a time and watch us stagger around the track, and sometimes they had to be taken out of the building half 'buggy.'

"Nineteen years ago I had engaged in a heel-and-toe race in the old Fountain theater, which used to be at Seventh and Bank streets here, and maybe you think the public didn't turn out to see us skidoo. Among those who were in that grind were Hoagland, Johnny Dobler, George Hoffman, Dan O'Leary, Old Sport Campana, 'Cowboy' Smith and George Smith. Hoagland won the race, Dobler was second and I was third. Hoagland covered 526 miles, which is the present record. The receipts for that match ran up into the thousands, for I got over $1,000 for finishing third.

"One year later I engaged in a heel-and-toe match in the old exposition building which also drew large crowds. But the game didn't last long in the West. I don't know why, as the best men in the business competed, but somehow or another it didn't take after the first show. In the East, however, it was good until about five years ago. I can remember when George Littlewood came from England and cleaned up $20,000 in two matches. They bet some on the walking boys those days.

"The old-timers, however, are now leading peaceful lives. Hoagland is a constable in Auburn, N. Y., and he's doing well, chasing violators of the law instead of dough and records; Dan Herty, formerly a champion, is a plumber in Revere, Mass.; Gus Guerro is a gate tender in the Subway in New York; Jimmy Albert, who held the championship for five years, is in the cattle business in Texas and he's got enough money to keep him for the rest of his life; Frank Hart, the negro champion, is dying of consumption at Colorado Springs. Hart held the Rose belt, the Sir John Astley belt and the Police Gazette belt. Dan O'Leary is traveling through Texas for an Eastern publishing house; Johnny Dobler is dead, and George Palmer is running a restaurant in this city. They all had to quit walking or starve to death."

Messler is with Tom Andrews of Milwaukee and issues a sporting manual yearly. "I guess I've walked over 30,000 miles in matches," said Messler, "and I can still go some. Last winter I was in Denver for Andrews and I was out of funds. I wired Mr. Andrews to send me transportation so I could get to Milwaukee. Andrews wired back for me to walk and try for another record. I guess I could have made it at that if I had tried.

"I have walked in matches for hours at a time in my sleep. I remember once I went thirty-two hours in a race without leaving the track and my trainer told me that the only time I would wake up was when some one would try to pass me. I have watched the crowds asleep for hours at a time and they would only wake up when we got to spurting. But it's all over now. The automobiles are going miles in thirty seconds, the fighters are all on the stage and race horses are selling for fortunes. It's the new games the people want. Walking is even too slow for me."

SAYERS IS DEFEATED.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 24.—Fred Landers, of San Francisco, was given the decision over Maurice Sayers, of Milwaukee, in a twenty round fight before the Hot Springs Athletic club last night. The fight was fast to the end of the twenty rounds, both men showing at all times a willingness to mix things. Landers proved himself the cleverest in the fighting. The fight was for a purse and a side bet of $500.

The up-to-date woman avoids caustics, drugs and powders. They are extremely harmful to the skin, while Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes it soft and beautiful. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

BLOOD POISON is the worst disease on earth, yet the easiest to cure when you know what to do. Many have pimples, spots on the skin, sores in the mouth, ulcers, falling hair, bonepains, catarrh and don't know it is BLOOD POISON. Send to DR. BROWN, 935 Arch St., Philadelphia, Penn., for BROWN'S BLOOD CURE, $2.00 per bottle; lasts one month. Sold in Duluth only by Max Wirth, 13 W. Sup. St.

FISTIC DOPE FROM 'FRISCO

There is Lack of Harmony Among Fight Trust Directors.

Coffroth and Willie Britt Opposed to Graney and Levy.

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—The Sun Francisco fight trust is getting down to a working basis gradually. Lack of harmony among the shareholders bars progress and prevents a complete understanding being arrived at in certain matters pertaining to the trust's welfare. It is said there is a tie vote on every question that comes up and it is suggested that the Deadlock Athletic club would be a better name for the organization than the one it was launched under.

Coffroth and Willie Britt always vote the same way, while Graney and Morris Levy invariably vote the other way. For instance, at the last meeting hints were thrown out by Graney that some of his colleagues were inclined to bar Billy Nolan, manager of Battling Nelson, from participating in the pugilistic game in San Francisco. According to report Coffroth up and said that the insinuation was meant for him and to show that he had no desire to bar anyone he proposed as a resolution that the Associate Athletic club begin its career on the basis that there were no back grudges of any kind to settle and that no reputable manager or pugilist be barred or blacklisted. Coffroth and Britt voted for the resolution. Levy and Graney voted against it fearing there was a "joker in it somewhere.

The trust tried to elect a matchmaker and failed. No matter which of the four promoters was named the vote was 2 to 2. It was argued that the club's official matchmaker, if given absolute power, might favor matches that he was interested in personally and it was finally decided to defer the selection until another meeting. The meeting accomplished something, however. It elected officers with the following result: President, E. M. Graney; vice president, Willus F. Britt; secretary, Morris Levy; treasurer, James W. Coffroth.

"Nice thing for me," grumbled Willus Britt later. "Vice president, indeed. Why, I'll never be heard of."

"You can't tell," said Morris Levy, soothingly, "Graney may die."

All this was not made public; it was simply announced after the meeting that Coffroth had determined to forego his trip to England and that for the present the Association Athletic club would be operated on the lines originally mapped out. In other words, that Coffroth, Levy, Graney and Britt will divide the profits equally. Coffroth said that no change wil be made in regard to the February program and that Frankie Neil and Harry Tenny will be the main card.

* * *

At this writing it is hard to say who will be matched for March, although at least two of the magnates think that Jimmie Britt and Eddie Hanlon will come together. Until the trust elects a matchmaker anything that is said in the connection will not be regarded as official. Britt is certainly in great demand. "Kid" Herman wants a go at him and if Hanlon had not been at work in his own interests for a couple of weeks before Herman put in an appearance the Chicagoan would, no doubt have induced Britt to sign. Britt is reported as saying that he will probably meet both Hanlon and Herman before tackling bigger game. From this it can be gauged that he has the utmost confidence in his ability to dispose of them both.

* * *

Joe Gans is back in San Francisco and is literally shouting at Jimmy Britt from the housetops. The Baltimorean says he will never be satisfied until he secures a return match with Britt. In his eagerness to goad Britt to action Gans is throwing off some extremely broad hints in regard to the former fight. It seems to be Britt's policy to ignore Gans and what Gans says entirely, and the conditions are such that a dirty linen wash seems imminent.

* * *

Los Angeles seems to be outstripping San Francisco as a fight center. In any case bouts of ordinary merit, such as the Herrera-"Young Corbett" and Herman-Herrera character, draw much better houses in the Southern town than they would up here. This is accounted for on the hypothesis that the boxing industry has not been done to death in Los Angeles and that the Southland sees glorious possibilities in bouts that would cause a mild ripple of interest in this city. It remains to be seen, of course, whether Los Angeles can cope successfully with San Francisco in handling events of large importance. Britt and Nelson drew $50,000 at Colma and Jeffries and Jim Corbett boxed before a bigger gate than that even in Mechanics' pavilion. Until Los Angeles secures and puts through a match which classes with either of the events named arguments as to which is the greater fight town will be in order.

* * *

From the manner in which the Southern promoters are bidding for everything in sight in the pugilistic line it is very evident that Los Angeles considers itself a worthy rival of San Francisco. It begins to look as though Tommy Ryan and Jack O'Brien will work off their long standing dispute in the orange belt. A bid has also been made for a match between Nelson and Herrera and it is understood that Angelenos have designs on the Britt-Nelson-Gans matches and on a match with Jim Jeffries in it if the "big fellow" can be lured away from ranch life. All things considered, it looks as though the San Francisco promoters will have to be up and doing.

W. W. NAUGHTON.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

BILL BOWDEN ON MATRIMONY BY WALTER HACKETT.

By Walter Hackett.

These are solemn words of warning of Bill Bowden, A.B., to those contemplating a voyage upon the sea of matrimony. All such should give them earnest thought. Upon such subjects Mr. Bowden speaks as one having authority. Those familiar with his autobiography, and anyone who will demonstrate the possession of a hospitable nature by the purchase of liquid refreshment may becaue so, know that he has been married more frequently than any other person in history, with the possible exception of King Solomon.

It will be discouraging, doubtless, to those of a sentimental or romantic nature to discover a decidedly cynical flavor in Mr. Bowden's remarks. They should bear in mind, however, that the words were uttered shortly after his last venture in the matrimonial line, wherein he espoused a lady of Irish extraction, who came down from Fairyland every day to polish the dishes in Billy McCarthy's sailors' boarding house, and which, unfortunately, proved a failure.

It was, indeed, upon Mr. Bowden's first visit to the Bell Buoy saloon after his wedding that this warning was given. He had been absent for a period of at least a fortnight. His absence caused many gloomy rumors to circulate among the marines who foregathered there. Some held that he had been shanghaied, others darkly hinted at assassination; those of a naturally hopeful disposition insinuated a contemplated piracy. All doubts were dispelled, however, by Mr. Bowden suddenly appearing, though he was greeted with no welcoming cheer. All of his features were a brilliant red—naturally only one of them wore that tint—and his labored and audible method of breathing betokened that he was laboring under a great mental strain, and at such times it was always customary, for reasons of personal comfort, to permit him to take the initiative in conversation himself.

Upon this occasion he set full sail for the bar, and then, turning to the awe-struck tars, invited them frequently and vociferously to damn his eyes. So vociferous at length did his invitation become as to awaken the bo'sun of the Mafeus Hyde from a well-earned slumber in his apartment beneath the pool table, who at once responded with so much heartiness and enthusiasm as to shock Mr. Bowden back to his accustomed coherency.

Bill's Story.

Wimmen is the same all round the world an' over an' above, so to speak. They is all pecoolure, some bein' more pecoolure than others an' some not so at all, wich is the most pecoolure thing o' all. I know considerabul regardin' o' 'em, havin' been married quite a good deal for a single man, an' I know, so to speak, wot I are a-sayin'. No man had ought to get married at all, but if he are goin' to do so he ought to think it over c'am an' peaceful fust, an' if he do so he won't get married, no matter wot his intentions was, 'ceptin' he five cents o' wich were in actool money, for it, though it took him a long while to do it, he bein' in constant fear o' seizures, his great-grandfather on his aunt Julia's side havin' been took off that a-way arter losin' thirty cents out o' a hole in the port side o' his pants.

One Real Dollar.

Henery, who was a far seein' man an' a good trader, havin' made a careful study o' his various captings' slop chest accounts, refoosed Bob's offer an' demanded $1, a dollar in actool money bein' paid down. This staggered pore ol' Bob, even though he never did have any idea o' the valoo o' money, besides w'ich he didn't have so much, so he refoosed to pay it very indignant like. Howsumever, he keeps on dickerin' with Henery, not havin' the heart to give up the idea o' ownin' the moosic box. They keeps this up for two or three weeks an' is gettin' to the p'int where each is tellin' how scandalized they is at the way each other's relatives by marriage has acted in the past, an' all looks encouragin' an' hopeful for a beautiful fight, when Molly, w'ich is Henery's wife, up an' dies, bein' contrarywise, like all wimmen, an' dyin' seemin'ly to interfere with her husband's business aaffirs an' a-leavin' him with a six-months-old babby.

Well, when this happened, Bob said private that he didn't have no doubt but wot her death were a judgment on Henery 'cause o' the selfish way he'd a-been a-treatin' him, but public he were the loudest o' mourners, quite outstrippin' Henery, so to speak, w'ich caused considerabul talk. He tuk entire charge o' the funeral, never lettin' the pore, bereaved husband out o' his sight an' constant bewailin' his loneliness, advisin' him to sell out his things by auction an' move away, so's he could forget his troubles.

His advice didn't seem to make no effect on Henery, so, when him an' Bob come back from the berryin' ground, Bob, who were fair tuckered out with four days o' constant mournin', come about an' changed his course, so to speak, an' said that he thought that Henery ought to let him have the moosic box for nothin', considerin' all he'd a-done for him. But Henery couldn't see it that way. He said that no one had ought to mix business an' pleasure, so to speak. He said he knowed Bob had been most kin' an' he stood ready to return him his kindness any time as he could be cheerfully workin' arter the berryin' o' Bob's wife—which didn't mean nothin', Bob not havin' one, but he said, in jestice to his baby, who were now a halfway orphan, so to speak, he couldn't take no less than four dollars, one o' 'em in actool money, no way.

Bob Felt It Much.

Well, Bob were plump discouraged at Henery's ingratitood. He talked like the whole thing had been entertainin' for Bob, while Bob contended that all the pleasure like was on Henery's side. He were so upset by the way that Henery was a-actin' that he lost his head an' offered three dollars an' a half for the moosic box, agreein' to pay it all in two years. This offer were more than Henery, ca'm and cool as he were could stand, an he were just about to accept it (Bob told me that he seen it in his face) when all o' a sudden the baby, wot both men had clean forgot, it havin' been looked arter by the neighborly wimmen durin' the sittin' up with the corpse, berryin' an' other exercises like, sets up a awful yellin'—sounded like a pirate wot were havin' his throat cut, Bob told me.

The yellin' drove the bargain clean out o' Henery's mind. Bob said he cud see it fadin' away.

"Jehosophat!" says Henery, "it's Geranium." W'ich were the baby's name, given to her by her pore ma, who were that fond o' flowers.

"Wot is the matter with her?" says Bob.

"I dunno," says Henery, "less'n she's hungry," he says.

Bob allus were a wily man, an' right there, very quick like, too, he seed his chanst to git the moosic box, but he did not let on to Henery. "Let's feed it," says he. "How?" says Henery, who, bein' a married man, had more information about such details than an old bachelor like Bob. But Bob were not to be beat, nohow. "Well," says he, "I should think a spoon'd be the easiest," says he.

All this time the baby was squalling mightily, making considerabul more noise than eight fog horns, so Henery was morn'n glad to try any method that seemed like it would ease her up, so to speak.

"Aye, aye, sir," he says, "I'll hold her." he says, "while you hist it in," he says. So Bob gets a pan o' milk an' a spoon an' Henery holds Geranium. Now Geranium had ideas of her own about eatin', an' those two men had quite a busy time. Henery were forced to pry the baby's mouth open, but then she wriggles so that Bob had to hit it on the fly, so to speak, an' I reckon he missed four to one he made. Howsomever, arter they had spilled about a pan an' a half on the floor an' some of it into her mouth an' arter considerabul cussin', both bein' mighty good at that, the baby stopped cryin'. It might a been cause she were plum tuckered out or it might a been she warn't hungry no more; she stopped cryin' and Henry put her back into her crib. Then he sits down very discouraged like. Bob sees his opportunity an' starts in.

"It's goin' to be a hard job, Henery," he says, very sympathetic, "a-feedin' her like that," he says, "five or six times a day," he says, "an' two or three times durin' the night," he says.

Henery groan somethin' turribul.

"I wonder," he says, "if some orphan asylum would like to take keer o' her for a bit?" he says.

"How could they," says Bob, "when she ain't a orphan?" he says.

"Some of the neighbors," says Henery, "as ain't blessed with children o' their own might be plum tickled to death to have this little ray o' sunshine in their lives," he says.

"No," says Bob. "No, Henery," he says. "Nowadays people ain't got any hankerin' to look arter their own children, let alone other people's," he says.

"It ain't that I want to part with Geranium," says Henery. "No. far from that," he says, "but it don't seem right to bring the pore little critter up without her havin' some femaic associate," he says.

This is what Bob is awaitin' for. He turns an' pints his finger at Henery very solemn.

"Henery," says he, "I got a idee," says he.

"Wot is it?" says Henery, all worked up an' very hopeful.

"You got to git married agin," says Bob; very serious-like he says it, too.

Henery looks like the guest o' honor at a hanglin'.

"Why," says he, very indignant and breathin' so hard he seemed in danger o' bustin', "how dare you, Bob Barnacle," he says, "suggest such a thing," he says, "with my pore wife just berried?" he says. "Besides," he says, "they ain't er one about there as I knows I'd have," he says.

But Bob didn't mean to lose that moosic box if he could help it, so he says to Henery, very severe like, "Then how are you goin' to get that pore little infant brung up?" he says.

Natcherally this was a poser to Henery. He turned it over in his mind, and while he was a-doin' it the baby tooted a couple of times. That settled it with him.

"Bob," says he, "who would you think would make me a proper wife?" he says When he gave up like that Bob knows he had him en begins a-actin' very coy-like.

"You know I'm your friend, Henery," he says, "but that's a question that I don't know I can take the responsibility o' answerin'," he says. "Marryin' bein' more or less o' a personal matter," he says, "an' my choice might not be the same as yourn," he says.

"But I ain't got no choice," says Henery, very despondent like, "an' bein' hitherto a married man, I ain't been so gay with the gals as you," he says.

Natcherally this tickled Bob. Ain't any man wot ain't tickled when he is given credit for bein' some consequence with wot Bill Stiggins calls the onfair sex. But he kep' his head.

"Do I onderstand, Henery," he says, "that you want me to use my influence to get you a wife?"

The Plot Unfolds.

By this time Henery was all worked up over the idea. Every time he heard a squeak he thought it were the baby signalling it had got it's second wind and were ready to tune up again. Still, bein' a most modest man, he didn't want to appear too anxious, so he says to Bob "that's something like the idea. You see, they is so many designin' women about nowadays an' we men is so easy for 'em," he says, "that you couldn't better'n love 'em," he says, "as everybody knows blind," he says.

"I know just the woman for you," says Bob, most enthusiastic, but then he stops.

"Who is she?" asks Henery very interested. "I can't tell you that," says Bob, "the responsibility bein' too great."

"Bob," says Henery breathless, "I'll make it worth your while," he says.

"I do' know that you could do that," says Bob, very indifferent like, though he was fairly bubbling over with excitement.

"I could give thirty-four cents," says Henery, "in Mexican money."

"I wouldn't do it for less'n moosic box," says Bob.

"I couldn't part with that for no woman livin'," says Henery very decided. "That's far too great a price," he says.

It looked like Bob had failed, but he didn't lose his head. He kep' puffectly cool.

"Then it's all off," he says, "an' you'll hev to look arter the kid yourself, Henery."

With this he picks up his hat an' starts toward the door. But he hadn't reached it when Henery calls him back.

"You ain't agoin' like that, are you, Bob?" he says, pitiful like, in the hope o' workin' on his feelin's some.

"Business is business," says Bob. "You want me to pick out a woman for you to marry, an' you ain't willin' to pay my price. That ends it," he says.

"Do I understand," says Henery, "that you do all the preliminary work for price quoted? Pick out the woman, do the courtin' and so on, an' that all I got to do is marry her?"

"Yes," says Bob, "puffectly correck," he says.

"Then I accept," says Henery, mentionin' the only ol' maid in the vicinity. A woman wot had been sweet on Bob for nigh on thirty years.

"Will she have me?" says Henery, nervous like.

"I'm goin' to ask her to do me a favor," says Zach, "an' she ain't never refused me one yet, I'm goin'," he says, "we'll go an' see her now an' get the whole thing over with," he says.

There was considerable trouble about the start. In the first place Henery didn't want to take the baby, as he said it might interfere some with his courting, but Zach said it had to be done in case Eliza wouldn't have him. They might be able to use it to work on her sympathies. Then Zach wanted the moosic box along, but Henery wouldn't hear of it. He said nobody was expected to pay for a job till it was accomplished successful, and he didn't propose to be the first. Bob had to give in on this point, but he kept on urgin' while they were walkin' 'the whole three miles to where Eliza lived.

Eliza herself opened the door an' invited them into the house. When they got sot down Zach steals in without any waitin.' "Eliza," says he, "Henery an' I has come over to see about you gittin' married," he says.

Eliza Flurried.

Natcherlly this flurried Eliza some, an' natcherally she let on she ware more flurried than she reely were. As I said afore, she'd been waitin' a good many years fer Bob to speak out, an' she didn't mean to let this chanst get by. So she gets ready for to spring. However, all she says is:

"This is so sudden," she says.

"Well, it's got to be sudden or you'll lose all chance," says Bob, tryin' to make everybody feel more sociable. "No," he continues, "are you willin' to be married?" says he.

"Yes," says Eliza, plain puzzled at his way o' proposin', but not meanin' to let him slip through her fingers. So she gives one jump an' catches him with a good, firm hold around the neck. "I'm your'n, Bob," she says, "to have an' to hold," she says.

Well, Bob an' Henery were the two most surprised men as ever was around there. Didn't seem like either o' 'em could answer to their hellum. Henery just gasped and Bob got red in the face and near busted tryin' to think o' somethin' to say and at the same time get out o' Eliza's arms. Natcherlly, Eliza felt him struggle, but she didn't mean to give him up after waitin' so many years for her chanct. So she commences talkin' fast as she kin an' givin' no one a place to break in.

"Gracious, tootsie, we oughtn't to spoon afore company," she says, jest as though Bob were insistin' on the spoonin', while he was the only defendant, so to speak. When she says this Bob tries to speak, but jest chokes up. "It ain't real delikate," she says, 'givin' a meanin' look at Henery, 'fer strangers to intrude on a courtin'," says she.

Henery at this rose very majestic and cleared his throat preparin' to make a speech, but she didn't give him no chanct. "Law me," she says to Bob, "your feet's soppin'. I'll get you a bite o' somethin' an' a cup o' tea," she says.

This brought Bob to wonderful. He allus did like vittels, but the mention o' tea rather hurt his feelings.

"You ain't got any Medford rum, have you, Eliza?" he says in a kind o' choked voice.

"O' course I have," says Eliza, and she bustled out into the kitchen, leavin' the two men alone. Ever since she'd mentioned eatin' an' left him out Henery had been very close to havin' a fit. When she closed the door he pints his finger at Bob an' shakin' with rage, says: "You stole my affianced bride, as was to be," says he.

"She stole me," says Bob.

"An' you're going to let her?" asks Henery.

"Don't look like I could help myself," answered Bob, very sad.

"Then you won't never own that moosic box," says Henery. "I won't even sell her to you."

That was the last straw for Bob. He leans over toward Henery to pacify him. "Keep cool, Henery," he says. "I'll fix it when she comes back," he says. "Depend on me," he says.

"Well, see that you do," says Henery. Jes' as he finishes in comes Eliza with a plate o' ham, some bread an' butter an' a big glass of Medford rum, an' Bob went at 'em like a wolf.

Simply a Shame.

"Eat an' drink all you can, tootsie," says Eliza. "I can't let my Bobbie catch cold." Bob kind o' squirmed at the pet names, but he kep' on eatin'. Meanwhile Henery was doin' all he could to appear dignified, but the sight o' Bob enjoyin' himself kind o' upset him, so he sets up a feeble cough an' said that he was dampish an' he was afreed he might be in danger o' cold.

But it didn't do him no good, for Eliza turns on him an' said it were a shame an' an outrage for a big, hulkin' man like him to kick because his boots were a little damp. It was all right, she said, for a delikate man like her Bobbie—he'd made three o' Henery—to be keerful, but as for him—. Fortoonately at this p'int Bob interrupted her to ask for a second helpin' o' rum, an' she rushes out to get it. Nachully Henery is billin' over. He goes over to Bob an' says, very severe like, too, he says it: "When air you goin' to give me back my wife as is to be?" he says. Bob leans back in his chair an' smacks his lips very comfortable. "Arter all, Henery," says he, "this thing has its moral side," says he.

"Wot do you mean?" says Henery, kind o' set back.

"It don't seem right," says Bob, pickin' his teeth, "to make that pore critter suffer by marryin' you," he says.

"Wot?" says Henery, fair bustin' with rage.

"Wot I meant,' says Bob, nervous like, "wot I meant was that, seein' as how she loves me," he says, "she'd be misserable with any other man," he says. "No offence intended," he says. "Ah," he says, a leanin' back most comfortable like, "how she can cook," he says, "an' the likker is prime," he says.

Well, right there Henery seed that he'd have to be very careful or he'd lose Eliza, an' he couldn't bear to think o' that, with them vittels a-smellin' right underneath his nose. He studied the thing out to himself while Bob leaned restful like in a kind o' a doze. Finally Henery gets a idee an' he turns an' pinches the baby, w'ich wakes up an' starts in a-yelpin' like a hundred-mile gale through riggin's. This disturbs Bob considerabul, but Henery don't pay no attention, only every time it looks like the child's steam are givin' out, pinches it again. Bob stands the noise as long as he can, an' then he says—very severe like, too, he says it:

"Ain't they no way to stop that noise, Henery?" he says.

"None as I knows on," says Henery, very resigned, "none whatever," he says, "as you'll find out," he says, "arter you marries Eliza," he says, "an' has nine or ten o' your own," he says.

"Wot?" says Bob, very much took aback.

"Yes," says Henery, not lookin' at Bob an', seemin'ly payin' no attention to the way w'ich he are growin' pale. "Yes, an' the most pecoolar thing about 'em are," he says, "that they will all yell in the middle o'the night," he says, "an' all together usual," he says.

"Wot makes you say I'll have nine or ten o' 'em?" says Bob, very scared like. "It seems scandalous," he says, and Henery gives Geranium a fresh pinch, which gets her agoin' harder than ever.

"That's wot usually happens to married couples," says Henery, very wise like, "an' it is right an' proper," he says. "It's only when you is not married that it is scandalous," he says.

"Wot am I goin' to do about it, Henery?" says Bob, who is very disturbed, so to speak, an' oncomfortable.

"About wot?" says Henery.

"About pore Eliza an' you," says Bob, "an' that onfortoonit infant," he says. "It wouldn't be right for me to marry her an' leave that bereaved child without a mother," he says.

"But we must think o' Eliza," says Henery, quite ca'm. "We mustn't let her sacrifice herself," he says. "She loves you, Bob," he says, an' then he gives the baby a fresh pinch which makes her bust out wuss than ever. That settled Bob. He dropped all trade talk.

"Henery," says he, "wot'll you risk to take Eliza off'n my hands," says he, "just as she stands," says he; "sound in wind an' limb, I judge," says he, "though in course they ain't no way a-telling positive," says he, "though I don't know as you can do it," says he, "considerin' the way she loves me," says he.

"I can do it," says Henery.

"How?" asks Bob, most eager.

"What'll you pay?" says Henery.

"Don't be hard on me, Henery," says Bob, very pitiful.

"Good arternoon," says Henery, very affible, gettin' up to go.

That fetched Bob.

"I'll give what I offered for the moosic box," he says.

"Let me see," says Henery; "forty-five cents o' that were in cash, I believe."

"I don't have to pay till you do something, do I?" says Bob, awful reluctant.

"My terms is allus in advance," says Henery.

Well, Bob seed he had to give up the money, an' he done so. Then Henery told him his plan.

"When Eliza comes back," he says, "bringin' the rum," he says, "drink it quick," he says, "and then go a-cavortin' round like you was intoxicated," he says. "She won't marry no drunkard," he says.

Well, Bob thought that were a prime scheme, an' as soon as Eliza comes back he grabs the rum, drinks an' goes to waltzin' about the room, makin' faces an' singin' "A Hundred Fathoms Deep," that bein' the only song he knowed. Eliza looked at him for a minute plumb paralyzed. Then she turns to Henery.

"Wotever is the matter with the man?" she says.

"It's his passion for likker," says Henery, most mournful.

"Wot?" says Eliza; "a drunkard are he?" says she; "well, I'll cure him o' that," says she. "He won't never leave my sight ag'in till he's stopped it forever," says she. "If he ever takes another drop I'll wallop him good," says she, an' rushin' over she ketches him by the ear an' throws him into a chair, where he sits paralyzed at the way Henery's plan had worked out. Well, the baby, who had been so scairt like at Bob's singin'—he havin' a voice that marsters used to use for a warnin' in foggy weather in place o' a horn—gets her breath and starts to cry. Eliza listens a minute, an' then she says:—

"I know how to cure Bob," she says, "We'll take that pore, motherless babe o' yourn, Henery," she says, "an' I'll let him nuss it," she says; "you'll let us have it to take care of," she says.

"Yes," says Henery, cryin' considabul, "yes," he says, "though it fair busts my heart to part with it," he says, "but if it'll keep Bob sober I'll do it," he says. "I'd make any sacrifice for Bob," he says, an' hands her the baby, arter w'ich he moves toward the door. "An' now," he says, "I must go along," he says, "it bein' indelikate to intrude on a courtin'," he says.

All this time Bob is a doin' his best to breathe without bustin', though it don't look like he can; but finally he says, in a weak, choked voice, he says:—

"Where are my forty-five cents?" he says.

"Tell Eliza why you give it to me, an' if she says to give it back I will," says Henery.

Well, when he says this Bob tries to speak, but can't, as he chokes all up, so Henery bows most p'lite an' affible an' walks out, leavin' pore, onfortoonit Bob a broken-hearted man.

"NOW GERANIUM HAD IDEAS OF HER OWN ABOUT EATIN'."

"'I'M YOURN BOB,' SHE SAYS. 'IO HAVE AN' TO HOLD,' SHE SAYS

"SO HENERY BOWS MOST P'LITE AN' AFF'BLE AN' WALKS OUT."

gets crazy, wich happens to the best o' us when they is tying in the offing.

Wimmin allus want a man to do wot they don't want him to do, an' if he do do it, often as not they marries him afore he knows wot are a-happening. All o' 'em wants to get married ontil they is, an' then they want to get onmarried wuss than they wanted to become so, so to speak. Any man wot gets tangled up in a courtin' match are a-temptin' Providence very severe like. Of course, if the pore unfortoonit feller are one of the stricken parties, so to speak, the chances are that he carn't help hisself, but when a non-combatant, so to speak, lets hisself get fouled in a love affair, then it's 'to his house trouble,' as the fortoon teller says.

That's wot happened to pore ol' Bob Barnacle. He mixed in a love affair wot did not concern him, an' he got married, an' married permanent, to a woman wot held the most revoltin' idees regardin' wives not workin' and husbands turnin' over their wages to pay bills. It occurred this way: Bob were allus infatoated, so to speak, regardin' moosic—plumb crazy over it. You wouldn't never believe wot he'd do to hear it. Blow me if many a time I ain't seen him take and spend money which a man o' sense would have invested in rum, so to speak, to hear phonygrafts sing songs about gals wot lived in places I never hearn o'.

Well, Bob's friend, Henery Peters, wot was once his shipmate, but had retired an' were a stevedore, believin' he was entitled to a restful life, so to speak, havin' sailed the seas upward o' twenty year, an' havin' a wife an' child in Gloucester wot he liked better than any o' those wot was a-waitin' for him in foreign ports, owned a moosic box. It were a very good moosic box, playin' three toons very good indeed, exceptin' that some o' its parts mus a-missin' an' you had to find out wot the toons was afore you could reckernize 'em, so to speak. Bob were clean crazy to own that there instrument, and saved up for five years to buy it from Henery. He saved up ontil he offered Henery three dollars, sixty-

GEORGIA NEGRESS

Who Nursed Three Generations is Given Remarkable Funeral.

Milledgeville, Ga., Feb. 23.—A funeral procession passed through the main street of Milledgeville that would have attracted attention in any community, but that could only be understood in the South, where the tender memories of days that are past and gone still assert themelves, not only in the acts of former slaves, but alike in acts of former masters.

The procession was headed by Rev. D. W. Brannen, pastor of the Presbyterian church, then the hearse containing all that was mortal of Aunt Mary Marlow, a negro woman, who for nearly ninety years, has been known in this community. The pallbearers walking by the hearse were six young white men, sons of the leading families of this community. In the procession were other white citizens, who were perfectly willing to show the world that here was one who had lived a life worthy of public recognition, and whose hearts had been so touched by the gentle, faithful acts of this "old black mammy" that forty years of ever-changing conditions had not shaken or destroyed the tender memories that bound them to this old woman.

Aunt Mary Marlow said that when she was a girl, about 12 years old, she was on a fence near Richmond, Va., seeing a procession go by in honor of Lafayette, and she was stolen, brought to Georgia by slave traders and became the property of Hon. Francis V. De Launey.

She nursed his children and his children's children, and some of their children, and it was some of these children who bore her to her last resting place.

WIDOW AND GIRL ARE VICTIMIZED

Tennessee County Amazed at After Results of Secret Weddings.

Jackson, Tenn., Feb. 23.—Madison and Gibson county first families are decidedly agitated over two romantic weddings, news of which has just reached the public, and in each of which it seems the bride has been the dupe of a man who had a legal wife living. Rewards of $50 and $25 have been offered for the apprehension of the bridegrooms, Robert Seawright and Will Parrish. The former, if caught, will be prosecuted upon a charge of mock marriage, if proofs of the wedding, now lacking, are not discovered.

Miss Evie May, a well-known young woman of Jackson, daughter of Mrs. William May and of the late Sheriff May, has tearfully told her mother that she and Seawright were secretly married a year ago in January. Evidence has come to the young woman's family that Seawright has a wife in Paris, Tenn. This has caused an investigation locally, and no record of a license can be found, and the magistrate whom Seawright introduced to the young woman has no recollection of any such marriage.

It is now believed that a false certificate was secured and that a confederate of Seawright's performed the mock ceremony.

Fifty dollars is offered for the arrest of Seawright. He is described as clean shaven, 29 years of age, brown eyes, black hair, 5 feet 8½ inches high and weighs about 180 pounds.

Humboldt and vicinity is being much stirred up over a very unusual marriage of Will Parrish, a married man of this place, and Mrs. Stevens, widow of Ira Stevens of Medina, in the north part of the county. The facts are about as follows:

Parrish was married about two years ago to Miss Bertha Reese, daughter of Tom Reese, who lives in East Humboldt, and they lived together about twelve months, after which they were parted for a time. A reconciliation was effected and they again lived together for about six months, but parted again about six months ago, he leaving their two children with his wife. During the time they were parted Parrish worked at the cotton mills here and at the carpenter's trade in Jackson, Medina and other points. It seems a courtship sprang up between him and Mrs. Stevens, to whom Parrish admitted he had been married, but claimed he had a legal divorce.

Mrs. Stevens was formerly a Miss Rust, daughter of George Rust, all as highly respected people as live in the Medina neighborhood. Parrish procured a license in Jackson, where he and Mrs. Stevens were married Jan. 26. They stayed in Jackson three or four days, and left, going toward Memphis.

Mrs. Stevens, up to the time they left, had not suspected that she had married a bigamist, and it is thought she does not yet know it. It is understood that she received several hundred dollars at the death of her husband on a life insurance policy. It is believed, however, she only took $110 with her.

As soon as the news of the marriage reached Humboldt, friends of Mrs. Stevens' family communicated to them the fact that Parrish had never gotten a divorce from his former wife, and they immediately instituted a search for the runaway couple.

J. H. Hamilton, liveryman, of Humboldt, whose nephew was the first husband of Mrs. Stevens, has deposited $25 in the Bank of Humboldt, which he offers as a reward for information leading to the capture of Parrish. Mr. Hamilton says:

"The reward is not for the conviction, but merely for the capture of Parrish. Conviction will surely follow."

LADIES Who Have Used Them Recommend as the BEST DR. KING'S Star Crown Brand PENNYROYAL PILLS.

Immediate relief, no danger, no pain. Used for years by leading specialists. Hundreds of testimonials. A trial will convince you of their intrinsic value in case of suppression.

Forwarded in securely sealed plain package upon receipt of $1.00. King Medicine Co., P. O. Box 737, Duluth, Minn.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

LATEST NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

NEGAUNEE

Negaunee, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Ab Curtis returned Tuesday from Hancock, where she had been visiting her nephew, Trevennan Andrews.

Mrs. H. F. Pearce, who spent the past month visiting her sister, Miss Mabel McGregor, at Jackson, Mich., returned Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Jennie Pearce, who had been visiting her mother and other relatives here since Christmas, returned to Chicago Friday.

George Eddy is here from the Copper country on a visit to relatives.

Miss Susie Woolner left Sunday evening for Chicago, where she will take a course in dermatology.

Rev. Joseph Dittman of Newberry, former assistant pastor of St. Paul's church in this city, was in town Tuesday.

The Misses Elsie Zimmerman and Mae Fourville left Sunday evening for Chicago, where they had positions promised them in a wholesale millinery house.

H. W. Trembath went to Tioga, Alger county, on business connected with the local insurance bureau.

T. C. Yates and son, Charles, returned Monday from a brief visit in Chicago.

Edward Harrington and Joseph F. Winter, employed at diamond drill work at Princeton, spent Sunday here with their families.

Mrs. Mary Maas arrived here Saturday from Detroit on a visit to relatives and friends.

George Sarnsin, postmaster at Princeton, was a business caller here Saturday. He was accompanied by his daughter, Edith.

E. W. Weiss, Munising's cigar manufacturer, was a business caller in town Wednesday.

Charles Muck, Sr., returned Monday morning from a two weeks' visit with his daughters in Green Bay.

Mrs. K. W. D. Little is visiting relatives in Chicago, having left here Thursday. While absent, she will post herself in the latest styles in dressmaking.

Miss Millie Morrissette was a passenger to Sault Ste. Marie Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John Steele of Marquette, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mrs. J. H. Andrus, who was called to Washington, D. C., on account of the death of her father, returned home Saturday morning.

Miss Helen Hansen of Little Lake, was among the out-of-town participants at the party Friday night given by the Ladies' Auxiliary to A. O. H.

R. W. Olson returned Monday morning from a business trip to Chicago.

W. J. Haggerson, justice of the peace of Bessemer, was here Tuesday evening, on his way home from Republic, where he attended the funeral of his nephew, Howard Haggerson.

The following named have been drawn to serve at the next term of circuit court, which convenes in Marquette on the 26th inst: Joseph Matthews, Edward Maloney, Thomas Dyer, Jr., and William H. Northey, all of Negaunee.

Hawley Davidson of Champion, was in town Thursday.

Claude Mitchell, who is employed at diamond drill work at Princeton, spent Sunday in town.

Mrs. C. Anthony and daughter, Mrs. J. H. Hudson, were passengers to Chicago Monday evening.

Arthur Granberg left here Saturday evening for Chicago, he having come up to attend the funeral of his mother, which occurred Tuesday afternoon.

Andre Formiss, chief chemist for the Oliver Mining company, departed Monday night, accompanied by Mrs. Formiss and family, on a visit to relatives in Germany.

Benjamin Neely, Sr., was a passenger to New York city Monday evening.

C. R. Townsend, land agent for the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, left Thursday evening for Albany, N. Y., in response to a telegram received late in afternoon announcing the death of his uncle, Leonard Kip.

William Scanlon, a resident of the city and a member of a family that has made its home at the furnace location for many years, died Tuesday night. Deceased was 33 years of age. The funeral was held Friday morning from St. Paul's Catholic church.

Mrs. Nicholas Kunnas died of consumption at the Queen mine location on Tuesday. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ostrom mourn the death from measles of their 6-year-old daughter, which occurred Sunday.

During the past year—1905—98 baptisms and 15 marriages were solemnized in St. Paul's Catholic church in this city. Thirty-seven deaths were also recorded by the church during the year.

Mrs. E. W. Adams entertained the members of the Five Hundred club Wednesday afternoon.

Samuel Collins, Sr., left Friday on a business trip to the Menominee range. While away he will visit his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Harvey at Crystal Falls.

Michael Scanlon returned Wednesday from a two months' trip to Memphis, Tenn., and left Friday night to resume his railroad work out from Duluth.

Two boilers, the compressor and a lot of timber stored near the engine house have been removed from the Breitung Hematite to the Mary Charlotte mine for use in the operations which are now being conducted on a large scale at that property. The boilers are being set up, and one will be used as an auxiliary to the present battery in the mine engine house, the other being used for furnishing power for running the skips in the shaft sunk on the property within the last two months. This shaft is down about 85 feet and is 7 by 18 feet in size, enclosing two skip roads and a ladderway.

Two diamond drills are also in operation on the property, one located on the ground included in the Mary Charlotte territory and the other to the north of the new shaft on land owned by the Breitung Hematite Mining company.

About three years ago John, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dagenais, had his hip dislocated by having his leg caught in the wheel of a delivery wagon. When picked up he denied that he was hurt, and kept all knowledge of the accident from his parents for several days, until they noticed that he began to limp. When a doctor was called he found the leg dislocated at the hip joint and inflammation developed to a high state, as a consequence of the length of time the injury had been allowed to remain without treatment. Since then the young lad has been walking with the aid of crutches. Quite recently it was discovered that the leg was atrophying and even beginning to show signs of ossification. Thursday the injured boy was taken to a specialist at Milwaukee and some hopes are entertained for his recovering the full use of the leg.

Therlief Holter and Ole Westgaard, who went to Escanaba recently to participate in a ski jumping exhibition, for the purpose of arousing interest there in skiing, failed to make very good jumps. Neither of the men were satisfied with their work, as the best jumps were less than sixty feet. There was only two inches of soft snow at the landing. Westgaard fell on his second jump and was rendered unconscious, remaining in that condition for four hours. His head and shoulder were injured, but he has now nearly recovered.

Judge J. W. Stone arrived home Saturday from Menominee, where he has been for the past two weeks holding circuit court. Judge Stone adjourned court Thursday evening, but remained in Menominee Friday for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late William H. Philips, who died there Tuesday.

Sixteen square timber bents, to be used as a part of the approach to the new South Shore ore dock, are framed and ready to be raised into position, between the concrete abutment on the east side of Front street to the stone wall on Lake street. The height of the first bent is twenty feet, the others ranging higher according to the two per cent grade provided by the engineer's profile. A large number of men are now employed in framing timber for the bents to be used on the east side of the Pickands warehouse, and a still larger force will be engaged when framing is ordered for the main dock structure. There has been little delay experienced from bad weather since building operations began on the dock, the pile driving crews having worked almost without interruption, although during periods of heavy storms on the lake the undertow hindered work to some extent. However, the contractors are satisfied with the amount of work completed to date, and expect to have the dock finished by the opening of navigation, as provided in the contract with the railway company. Shipments of square timber and lumber to be used in the superstructure are arriving almost daily, the upper yards sidetracks being used as storage wards for the timbers until they are used.

The Oliver Iron Mining company will begin shortly the sinking of an 8 by 20 foot three-compartment shaft just north of No. 8 boiler house near Bovey, Western Mesaba. In this shaft it is expected a heavy flow of water will be encountered. The plan is to cut an enormous pump station on the south side of the shaft and install therein condensing crank and fly wheel from the collar of the shaft in a southwesterly direction through a culvert under the D., M. & M. railway, diverting it to the low ground at the northwest. The company expects to encounter much quicksand in the sinking and great skill will be required to preserve the alignment of the shaft in the process of sinking.

Fire was discovered about 3 o'clock Thursday morning in the bakery of Samuel Kokko, Peck street, between Pioneer and Teal Lake avenues. It is supposed that the flames spread from the bage oven and they had quite a start before the discovery was made and an alarm given. The building was completely destroyed, but both the building and stock were partly covered by insurance. An adjoining barn, in which were stabled three horses, caught fire. Two of the horses were removed, but the third, a valuable animal, owned by Sprague & Wentela, was burnt.

Record work is still being done in the shaft being put down on the Rolling mill property. It has now attained a depth of nearly forty feet.

John Hagerty has gone to Helena to take a position as foreman with the Block Lumber company.

Two square pianos, a Steinway and a Chickering, were purchased this week for the Case street school. One has been placed in the kindergarten department and the other in the Eighth grade room.

After an illness of several weeks Mrs. Granberg, wife of Charles Granberg of Pioneer location, died about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She was aged 53 and is survived by her husband and four children. The latter are Mrs. Axel Sundberg of St. Paul; Mrs. Charles Johnson of this city, Oscar of Wells, and Arthur, a student at North Park college, Chicago. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Strandine of the Swedish Mission church.

Orders have been placed for several new automobiles in Negaunee and Ishpeming the coming season. Cashier C. T. Yates has ordered a new automobile of the touring type, which he will use between this city and his camp at Little Lake.

George A. Newett of Ishpeming, has sold his old machine and purchased a new Franklin. While in Chicago recently A. C. Braastad ordered a new touring car, as also did J. S. Wahlman. Will Maas of Negaunee has negotiated for a new touring car, and has sold his single reer machine, and Charles Sporley has also purchased a touring car. A number of others in both cities talk of buying autos.

Republic citizens were recently advised that two corporations have been organized at Fort Wayne, Ind., for the purpose of taking over 400,000 acres of timber and mineral lands in Marquette, Baraga, Iron and Dickinson counties, extending from a point a few miles from Republic to Keweenaw bay. Early last fall a representative of the Fort Wayne men visited Republic and asked the citizens to donate a site for a sawmill. The request was granted and other inducements were offered to establish the headquarters of their proposed mill and railroad at that place. Nothing definite was heard from them until about a week ago, when it was announced that the two companies were organized and that development work would be started in the spring. The corporations will be known as the Michigan Iron, Land & Timber company, and the Northern Peninsula Lumber company. The capitalization of the companies combined is said to be $15,000,000. The proposed new railroad will be about sixty miles in length, and will connect with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and South Shore roads at Republic. It is believed that some iron ore deposits will be discovered on the tract and extensive explorations will be done. There is considerable timber of various qualities, on the tract, and this alone will be worth going after to say nothing of the possibilities of developing paying mines. It is expected that several sawmills, aside from the one the promoters have promised to give Republic, will be erected at points along the railroad route, which will open up a country now entirely unsettled.

The Lake Shore Engine works of Marquette, Monday shipped to Virginia, Minn., a special pattern "Lake Shore hoist," which will be installed at the No. 1 shaft of the Lincoln mine of Jones & Laughlin company on the Mesaba range. The new hoist is a double drum affair, equipped with 250 horse-power engines, and fitted with the latest improvements.

What is perhaps the largest number of saw logs ever assembled in one place in Marquette county is decked in one pile at the plant of the Northern Lumber company at Birch. The pile contains over 6,000,000 feet of soft and hardwoods, consisting of pine, hemlock, ash, elm, maple, spruce and basswood, and is being added to at the rate of 150,000 feet a day by logs hauled from the different camps of the company. Before the company's stock is all in the pile it will contain 12,000,000 feet of merchantable timber.

The Lake Shore Engine works will install a new twenty-ton electric traveling crane in its machine shops, to take the place of the hand-power crane now in use there. The new crane is of similar design to the electric crane used in the foundry, but is of larger size. It is expected that the new crane will be installed during the month of March.

CASS LAKE

Cass Lake, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. T. Bailey, Jr., visited with relatives in Cass Lake last Sunday.

J. T. Gardner returnred the first of the week from a fortnight's visit in the Twin Cities.

M. L. Toole will crect a new business block on the site of the old Johnston & Toole building, on Section 16, which was recently totally destroyed by fire. The foundations for the building are being placed, and when completed Mr. Toole will purchase a stock of hardware and again enter the local business field.

Miss Anna Inwood, principal of the high schools, has again resumed her duties after having been confined to her room for a week with illness.

A. Lessard reports work progressing very satisfactorily on his logging contract on Leech river. He received a carload of horses a few days ago and will push matters vigorously before the soft weather sets in.

Parties from Little Falls will open a dry goods store in the Strawbridge block, which was formerly occupied by the New York store.

Mrs. E. Bodine, a former resident of this place, but who is now living in Minneapolis, came up from the Mill City the first of the week and is the guest for a few days of Miss Crescent Bepolder.

A. W. Layman, special agent of the general land office, and who has charge of this work for the Crookston and Cass Lake United States land offices, was in town this week.

Maj. G. L. Scott, ex-Indian agent at Onigum, is still residing at the agency, and has not yet decided what he will do in the future.

L. W. Bill, ex-county attorney of Hubbard county, was here from his home at Park Rapids, the first of the week.

Miss Marie Walton, stenographer at the United States land office, has gone to Huron, S. D., where she will visit for a fortnight with relatives.

Rev. D. E. Wilson, pastor of the Congregational church, has introduced something of an innovation into the services, which he holds at his church each Suiday evening he proposes to conduct popular people's services, and the general theme to be discussed then will be good citizenship. In furtherance of this idea, several local speakers will be asked to address the congregation along the lines of good municipal government, with the end in view of bringing into closer touch the people who govern the village. Rev. Wilson was, for several years, a commercial traveler, and is well prepared to conduct these services. The first was held a week ago last Sunday, and there is great interest being manifested.

Mrs. Clyde Farris of Fennimore, Wis., is visiting in Cass Lake with her mother, Mrs. Tandy.

The people of Backus (in the southern part of Cass county) are considerably disappointed that land within the township of McKinley, seven miles distant from Backus, has not been offered for sale at the sale which the state will hold at Walker on April 13. There is a quantity of good state land in that township, and the business men's association of Backus called the attention of the state auditor to the fact that none of it was offered for sale in the official advertisement. State Auditor Iverson states, in a letter, that there is a shortage of state lands for appraisal of state lands, and that it was found necessary to omit that in McKinley township.

AITKIN

Aitkin, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Potter arrived home last week, having completed the term of school she has been teaching in Hubbard county.

Albert Vachon was very ill with heart trouble for several days this week.

Mrs. J. W. George entertained at a company of ladies Wednesday afternoon. The prize was won by Mrs. Liscomb.

Charles Taylor of St. Paul is the guest of his father, Carl Taylor of Waldeck.

Mrs. P. A. W. Harper returned Wednesday from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Hartman of Superior.

John B. Green and family have moved into Aitkin from Pine Knot.

J. R. Gerrard files and Cloud Journal-Press was in town Tuesday.

E. E. Hodgdon, whose store was burned at Cutler not long since, will erect a building and put in a store at Wealthwood.

Mrs. D. L. Young and Mrs. E. P. Moore entertained the ladies of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Young on Thursday afternoon.

E. H. Kratzer entertained a stag whist party at his home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. D. McMahon was called to Cedar Lake, Scott county, last week by a telegram announcing the death of her father, Dennis Ryan, which occurred at that place. Mr. Ryan was 78 years old and his death was due to Bright's disease.

Miss Isabella Bell, who last year was a teacher in the Aitkin schools, has been appointed special instructor in drawing in the schools at Ardmore ,Pa.

Attorney J. C. Hession has been elected secretary of the Commercial club.

T. M. Cole, of Duluth, came down last week to visit his father, Capt. Honold, who is dangerously ill.

S. H. Hodgeden is preparing to build six cottages this spring on Mille Lacs lake at Nichols.

The case of Carlton Graves, respondent, vs. Frederick W. Bonness, appellant, which has been in the courts for several months, was decided last Thursday by Judge Jaggard of the state supreme court in favor of Dr. Graves. The amount involved is about $38,000.

The village council has succeeded in disposing of the $34,000 4 per cent bond issue to take up the old $10,000 bonds which matured some months ago and the $24,000 worth of floating indebtedness. The Commercial Investment Company of Duluth will take the bonds at par, the village to allow $1,475 for expenses connected with the transaction.

The iron mining boom still continues around Aitkin. H. B. Blackwood, who has been working on the new range for three years, and F. R. Ross of Detroit, Mich., arrived last week and are securing leases. Several leases south of Cedar lake on section 8 have been secured, also one on the Ringhand place west of the lake. Drills are at work on the Greenhagen farm near the lake, and the work still continues on the Bond farm. The leases given are all nearing Aitkin.

BIWABIK

Biwabik, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. G. Seeley went to Duluth Wednesday evening to look over the house furnishings stock of C. O. Nelson in the West end with a view of purchasing.

Mrs. H. G. Seeley has gone to Hastings, Mich., to visit her mother, and will be absent five or six weeks.

Tillie, 5-year-old daughter of Alfred Lundstrom, died early Wednesday morning after a few hours' illness from pneumonia. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

Joseph Shore is in Duluth on business.

Miss Eva Shore returns to Duluth today, after a visit here with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Kinney recently left Hot Springs, Ark., for a trip through Old Mexico and California. Mrs. Kinney is in the best of health, but Barney is not so well and the physicians at Hot Springs advised him that he ought not to return to the Northern climate as his lungs are affected.

The Ladies' Card club was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. J. S. Lutes.

The forty-third anniversary of the Knights of Pythias was celebrated by the local lodge, Saturday evening last, by a social banquet at Hill's hostelry. The principal speaker of the evening was County Superintendent of Schools S. W. Gilpin of Virginia. There was music by the Biwabik Mandolin and Guitar club, composed of Messrs. Hopkins, F. Seeley and Miss Lowry; selections by a mixed quartet composed of H. H. Salmon, D. J. Eyer, Misses Harrie Salmon and Lowry. Miss Vina O'Hara and Fred Seeley rendered vocal solos. At the banquet F. S. Colvin acted as toastmaster and toasts were responded to by Dr. C. W. Bray, F. B. Myers, J. E. Riley, Archie McDougall, N. B. Shank and A. E. Olson. Between eighty and ninety ladies and gentlemen participated.

John Cox has returned home from Hot Springs, Ark., feeling much improved.

Misses McFarlene, Doane, Lawry and Morisette, and Messrs. Olson, Gleason, Seeley and Gilpatrick drove over to Aurera last evening to attend the dancing party.

Frank Guss has returned home from Chicago, where he has been employed during the winter, inspecting new ore cars for the Duluth & Iron Range.

Mrs. M. Cassidy is expected home today after four weeks' visit with relatives in Ohio.

Malkum Anderson is home after an extended visit in Minneapolis. During his absence he sprained his ankle and broke one of the small bones.

County Commissioner Neil McInnis was here on official business Wednesday.

Mrs. J. H. Silbar and baby daughter returned home yesterday from Chicago. Mr. Silbar met them in Duluth.

John Nisen is home from a visit in Chicago and Ishpeming, Mich.

Miss Slem Smith is visiting her sister, Mrs. Murdock McDonald, in Virginia.

MESABA

Mesaba, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Johnson was in town for a few days this week.

Charles Olson of Aurora drove in town on business Tuesday morning.

Mrs. L. Gagne and Mrs. J. M. Frink went to Virginia to do some shopping Tuesday last.

James Hunter of Hibbing was here last Thursday evening and Friday morning.

M. Gibeau and S. Gagne drove out loads of provisions to the Syndicate for their camp in Section 4, where they are putting in drills there, and also at the old Molman camp.

Mrs. O. Lilldale visited friends and also did some shopping in Virginia this week.

Felix H. Kempanian was in Eveleth for two days this week.

Oscar Olson of McKinley is now here employed at one of the Great Northern Express Co.'s drills.

Mrs. S. Gagne and Mrs. J. M. Frink visited Mrs. Dalby at Allen Junction between trains Tuesday.

Supt. Gilpin visited the school at Allen Junction last Monday.

Miss Lydia Belland, whose home is in Two Harbors, visited friends here Saturday and Sunday and returned to her duties as school teacher at Allen Junction on Monday morning.

Mr. and Brs. S. Gagne chaperoned a party of young people on a sleighride Sunday afternoon. The party consisted of Misses Mabel Lindberg, Lydia Belland and Amelia Gibeau, Messrs. Fablen and Napoleon Gibeau and Polycarpe Gagne.

FRAZEE

Frazee, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)Mrs. H. M. Olson is expected home from Nanaska, Minn., this week, where she has been visiting for some time. She will be accompanied by her brother, who is going West on business.

Mrs. Guy Chilton is expected home from the Northern Pacific hospital at Brainerd, where she has been for several weeks. Mrs. Chilton has greatly improved since the operation and anticipates a full recovery to health.

John Graham, an old and respected pioneer farmer, lies critically ill at the farm residence near Graham lake. It is doubtful if he will recover.

Agent Harper was a visitor to the Brainerd Northern Pacific hospital this week to see his wife, who is considered better, and will soon return home.

Miss Nelson and Miss Watson of Detroit were visitors over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Collins. They returned with two friends on Sunday.

Miss Rose Chilton has been home for a few days with her parents. She is in training for a nurse at the Duluth St. Luke's hospital.

Charles Jones was a visitor in town on business this week from the town of Burlington.

Mrs. Wood is here from Glenwood visiting with her daughter, Mrs. F. W. Clayton.

Miss Adams and Miss Geiser are now boarding with Mrs. J. Kronsenabel.

The piling for the enlargement of the Northern Pacific railway bridge southeast of the town has been shipped to the bridge and work will begin in a few days on the enlargement of the bridge for the double track.

Mrs. Weymouth has been very sick for some time, but is on the way to full recovery.

The W. C. T. U. met at the residence of Mrs. S. S. Jones on Wednesday.

The death of the father of Mrs. L. D. Hendry has removed a well respected pioneer citizen of Perham. The late Joseph McNulty of Perham was for a long time in the employ of the Northern Pacific railway and was highly esteemed by the company.

The members of the Eastern Star surprised Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Durkin on Thursday evening and a social evening was pent in a happy manner.

Prof. and Mrs. Geiser have been giving a series of social evenings to the young and middle-aged people at their residence this last two weeks.

Elder Roberts is better after his severe cold, which kept him in the house for several weeks.

John Graham, Sr., is seriously sick and may not recover. Mr. Graham is an honored pioneer and his sickness is due to old age.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Clayton celebrated their forty-second wedding anniversary on aSturday and they were the recipients of many well wishes from the neighbors and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton are highly respected and honored.

Word from Ontario says that Mrs. Duff, nee Addie Chilton, is recovering after a serious sickness.

Frazee is in line for a big boom this coming spring in railroad matters. It will take a large number of men to enlarge the right of way of the Northern Pacific for the double track east of town and northwest. Work will also be done on the team bridge over the Otter Tail river, near I. G. Collins' farm.

AKELEY

Akeley, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The G. A. R. of the Park Region will hold their annual encampment at Akeley in the latter part of June of this year. Akeley entertained the old soldiers last year, but the weather was very bad, rained every day of the encampment, and rather spoiled the good time that otherwise would have been had, so the veterans decided to give Akeley another chance. All that money and willing effort can do to give the "Boys in Blue" a good time and to make them comfortable will be done. Tents will be pitched in beautiful Lakeside park on the banks of the Eleventh Crow Wing lake. Camp fire meetings will be held and many speakers of note will be present to address the people. The famous "White Company" will be one of the attractions of the encampment, other attractions will be the music, baseball, sports and fireworks. Rates will be secured and it is expected that this will be one of the biggest and best G. A. R. encampments ever held in the northern part of the state.

The county commissioners of Hubbard county have decided to locate the poor farm at Park Rapids, and have purchased a farm there for $5,600. Akeley offered the county eighty acres of land free if the poor farm was located in its vicinity, but this offer was rejected, though Park Rapids made no offer of any kind.

The warm weather of the past week has almost destroyed the sleighing in this part of the country, and will break up the logging if it continues.

The logging operations around Akeley are greater than ever before, and while the soft weather will throw hundreds of men out of work, it will not seriously eqect the lumber mills, as the work is far advanced, some of the camps being almost through with their season's work and logs enough have been secured to keep the big mill running until next winter's cut comes in.

D. Therlault has sold his livery barn and business to John Snyder of Badoura.

The office force of the Red River Lumber company have moved into the large new office building that has just been completed.

A. L. Cole is as energetic in business as in politics. He is adding a meat market complete in every detail to his large general store.

BUHL

Buhl, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Koch arrived in Buhl and will occupy the house formerly occupied by Prof. Lang. Mr. Koch is the new electrician of the Grant mine stripping machinery.

John Hudson went to Ishpeming to visit friends and regain the lost strength which he lost when he had typhoid fever.

Mrs. John Hudson was in Hibbing the fore part of this week visiting friends.

Mrs. Moog and her daughter Ora went to Chisholm Tuesday to visit at the home of Rev. Geer.

Mrs. C. E. Hendricks started for Ishpeming Tuesday to make quite an extended visit with old friends. Mrs. Hendricks used to live there and is well known.

Mr. Holly, who is the new superintendent of the Grant mine, has fitted up the house once occupied by Capt. Roswell and will soon bring his wife to Buhl.

A surprise party was gotten up by Mrs. Lewis and given to Mrs. Will Anderson. Quite a number of friends were present and a good time was the result.

BROOKSTON

Brookston, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting of the Settlers' association last Saturday afternoon it was decided to take some action in the matter of township organization. A petition, to be signed by a majority of the legal voters of sections 31, 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36, township 51, and all of township 50, range 18, was read to the meeting, and everyone in attendance signed it. This petition will be presented to the next meeting of the board of county commissioners, and it is assured that the board will act favorably and attach this territory to Culver township. The secretary was instructed to prepare two road petitions, praying for the extension of the county road from the northern portion of Culver township to the southern part of Township 50. The roads described in the petitions are necessities, and it is hoped to have them laid out and built. The settlers south of town will be in bad shape for roads until the county sees fit to recognize them, for more substantially than it has in the past. It is understood that some of the people residing in the neighborhood of Culver station are rather opposed to having this portion attached to their township, but it is not expected they will present any serious opposition. The association will meet again on Saturday afternoon, March 3.

J. W. Grohman has contracted with A. W. Holmes to load all the ties the latter lands at Flint Pit. Mr. Grohman handles the ties alone and loads between two and thee cars a day.

D. Harder has occupied the house recetly vacated by C. M. Jewels.

Mrs. George Dixon and daughter returned to Virginia Monday, after spending a few days with Mr. Dixon.

J. A. McDevitt was in town this week looking after the interests of the Cloquet Tie & Post company.

Joseph Michaud visited with Brookston friends the first of the week. He is now located at Kelsey, on the D., M. & N. road.

A. W. Holmes was up from Duluth this week looking after his timber interests.

Marvin Nickerson was down from Bengal for a short stay with friends Thursday.

Axel Peterson left for Duluth Monday, to remain until the first of April.

Mrs. Joseph Gfroerer and Mrs. J. E. Slaight spent Wednesday in Duluth.

W. A. Epperson has erected an ice house and is engaged in filling it this week.

Pearl Butts left Thursday for Tenstrike, Minn., for a short visit with relatives.

Mr. Erskine of Cohasset transacted business here this week.

Mrs. W. A. Epperson was a Cloquet visitor last Saturday.

Charles M. Hendrickson was up from Superior Tuesday.

J. F. Ryan transacted business in Cloquet this week.

Lon Slaight was a Duluth visitor Wednesday.

Angus Laehelor was up from Superior Thursday, looking over the local pumping station.

Supt. J. H. Taylor, J. A. Linsay and the Great Northern civil engineer spent Wednesday here. The object of their visit is not known, but it is presumed that additional sidetracks are to be put in and other yard improvements made. The surveyors arrived Friday and are now running lines for this new trackage, and also laying out a site for a round-house. These improvements have been needed for some time, and it now looks as though they were coming.

NEW DULUTH

New Duluth, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ladies of the Maccabees held a taffy pull at the Maccabee hall Thursday night. A very enjoyable time was had and the ladies cleared a nice sum for their terasurry.

Miss Jennie Hicks returned from Dr. Graham's hospital at West Duluth, Thursday, after being absent a week.

The report that Ed. Swenson had sold out his interest in the New Duluth gravel pit to the Great Northern Power Co., was incorrect. Mr. Swenson still has his interest in the gravel pit and is filling orders for his customers the same as usual.

Among thoe who went to Duluth, Saturday, were Mrs. Frank Brand, Mrs. Charles Gustafson, Mrs. Frank Widell, Miss Nancy Widell, L. C. Tower, Miss Winnifred Tower, Miss Doris Tower, Miss Violet Huber.

David McGrath and family of Ashland, moved to New Duluth, Friday, and will occupy a house on Ninety-sixth avenue.

The Willing Workers of the Catholic church, gave a card party at the Maccabee hall, Saturday night. A very enjoyable time was had. Mrs. Jerry Lockhart and Joseph Dardis drew the head prizes and Mrs. Peter Olson and Louis Fisher won the foot prizes.

Miss Allie Onsggard of West Duluth, was the guest of Miss Anna Brand, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mamie Gustafson spent Saturday in Smithville with her cousin, Miss Bernice Johnson.

The Knights of Pythias of Riverside Lodge gave a banquet for its members, Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crosby spent a couple of days this week in Duluth as the guests of friends.

Mrs. P. Knudsen was very pleasantly surprised Friday afternoon by the members of her Sunday school class and the members of Mrs. W. H. Crosby's class in honor of her birthday. A very delicious supper was served by the young people and a most delightful time was had by those present. Mrs. Knudsen was present with a hand painted cake plate. Those present were: Misses Elida Erickson, Mae Thayer, Margaret Smith, Florence Smith, Betsy Duclett, Grace Bartz, Louise Smith, Winnifred Tower, Edith Kruger, Lillian Kruger, Hulda Erickson, Anna Brand, Ethel Brand, Gertie Larson, Florence Wills, Nancy Widdell, Florence Olson, Laura Tower, Doris Power, Alma Christopherson, Violet Huber, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crosby and Manson Crosby.

Mr. and Mrs. Onsgaard and children and Mrs. Frank Brand Sunday.

of West Duluth, were the guest of Mr. Mrs. Leon Sprague gave a coffe party for a few friends Tuesday afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served and a pleasant afternoon was spent. Those present were Mrs. William Crapen, Mrs. George Bushell, Mrs. Goerge Reindl, Mrs. Andrew Olson, Elsie Crager, Margaret Reindl, Clinton Crager and Clarence Bushell.

PARK RAPIDS

Park Rapids, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robert Dunn and .E R. Dampier of Akeley were visitors in Park Rapids Tuesday of this week.

Miss Lina Hall, the compositor of the Akeley Herald, visited friends in town last Friday.

Mr. Norman of Hibbing has accepted a position with S. Shaw & Co. in the jewelry department for the present.

Mrs. Charles Casler of Bemidji, and Miss Lena Lillieboe of Wadena, are guests of their sister, Mrs. Sam I. Myers.

Mrs. T. B. Eckert and daughter, Lula, departed last Friday morning for Creston, Iowa, where they expect to make their home with Mrs. Eckert's mother, who is in very poor health.

S. D. Harlow and G. H. Cram left Monday morning for a trip through the Southwest. They expect to be gone about four weeks and will visit St. Louis, New Orleans, Galveston and Texas and other points.

Ed Lovdahl left Monday morning for a couple of weeks' visit and sightseeing at Baden Baden, Ind.

Miss Mae Telland, who has been absent from home several weeks visiting, returned home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Schaefer of Akeley has been the guest of her friend, Mrs. Chandler of the East side.

Mrs. Emil Stangler and Miss Bertha Andere were over Sunday visitors at Akeley, guests at the home of Nick Kinnon.

Roy Petrie opened to the public the roller skating rink Monday.

Bert Parker of Akeley came down from Akeley Tuesday, and is behind the counter at G. H. Cram's jewelry store during the absence of Mr. Cram.

Miss Nellie McKinley started Monday morning for an extended trip to Portland, Or., Olympia, Wash., and California.

C. B. Russ has been in St. Paul this week, attending a gathering of the A. O. U. W.

Mrs. Benner of Bemidji is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. James Ingalls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Courtney, who have been residents of Park Rapids the past few months, expect to leave for Bemidji the first of March, where they will engage in the hotel business.

T. C. Myers, who has been in the employ of the Red River Lumber company at Akeley during the winter, visited at home Tuesday.

James Campbell, who is in the employ of the Tuller department store of Grand Rapids, is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. D. Campbell, and sister, Mrs. A. W. Page of this place.

Rev. J. W. Conard arrived home Wednesday after an absence of several weeks. His work as a missionary and Sunday school organizer taking him up into the Mesaba range.

J. H. Hauser and family have decided to locate in Canada, and he starts with a carload of goods Saturday.

The Baptist ladies hold their semi-annual silver tea next Thursday afternoon at the parsonage.

W. W. Woolley made a visit to Detroit Tuesday, and will act as installing officer for the Knights of Pythias lodge while there.

Lewis Berg has been fined $10 for failing to comply with the fish commission orders to construct a fishway in his dam on Crow Wing river.

L. J. Lecocq having decided to locate farther west, starts with his family Friday morning for Spokane, Wash.

Mrs. P. B. Smith has been in Minneapolis the past two weeks, visiting friends and studying millinery styles for the season of 1906.

Died—At the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mertis, their 4-year-old son, Friday, Feb. 16, 1906; cause of death, a severe cold and other complications. The funeral was held Sunday and interment made in Straight River cemetery.

Last week the county commissioners held a special meeting to consider the advisability of purchasing and maintaining a county poor farm, and as it seemed favorable to all the committee which had been appointed to look up the matter and report at this meeting, the commissioners accepted the offer made them by O. A. Salmond, and purchased the East Side Dairy farm. Consideration, $5,500. Mr. Salmond will have charge of the farm for the present.

The Euchre club were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Fuller. The gentlemen were in attendance, an unusually good time is reported.

Mesdames Davis and Wright gave a very pretty party last Wednesday evening in honor of St. Valentine, at the home of the latter. The house was appropriately decorated with hearts of various sizes and colors. Choice refreshments were served and everyone present enjoyed a Valentine evening.

Died—Nelson Bement, aged 75 years, at his home at Hubbard, Wednesday, Feb. 14, 1906, with pneumonia. Mr. Bement located on the Shell Prairies more than a quarter of a century ago. He leaves an aged wife and seven children to mourn his loss as well as a host of other friends. Rev. Nicholson preached the funeral sermon and interment was made at Hubbard cemetery, Friday last.

CHISHOLM

Chisholm, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bishop Morrison of the Duluth diocese of the Episcopal church, preached in the M. E church last Sunday afternoon. The service was extraordinary and was enjoyed by quite a few people. Rev. Durant of the Hibbing Episcopal church accompanied the bishop and assisted in the service.

Miss Hazel of Virginia was here Tuesday visiting friends.

Mrs. Moog and her daughter Ora were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. Geer Thursday and Friday. Their home is in Buhl.

The concert, which was given Thursday evening for the benefit of the M. E. church, in Fugere hall, was the most successful entertainment ever given in Chisholm for the benefit of any church. Over 400 tickets were sold and the hall was filled to overflowing. The concert, which was a mixture of solos, choruses, readings, drills, recitations, etc., was well received. During the intermission the young people sold candies and at the close of the program coffee and sandwiches were served. The hall was appropriately decorated for Washington's birthday. Mrs. R. S. O'Neil and Mrs. W. G. Sharpe planned the whole entertainment and sold most of the tickets. Too much credit cannot be given to them. They, in turn, were ably helped by several of the ladies and gentlemen of the town in the concert. Some of the school teachers drilled their children for the concert. The program follows:

Address..... Arthur Hayes.

(a)—"Mr. Frog"..... Peter and Mary Grosso.

(b)—"The Little Kitten"..... Mary Grosso.

(c)—"Tiny Tracks in the Snow"..... Mary Grosso.

Soldier Boys..... Ten Boys.

Duet, "At Full Tilt"..... Mary and Esther Sapero.

"I'd Catch It"..... George Drew.

Song, "Washington"..... Chorus.

"When My Golden Hair Is Turned to Gray"..... Maud Roberts.

"His Pa's Romance"..... James Whitcomb Riley

Mildred Shane.

(a)—"Consider and Hear Me"..... W. Shep-Herbert

(b)—The Hallelujah Song..... Schneker

Double quartet.

Recitation..... Sylvia Herstio.

"The Witches' Flight"..... H. W. Russell

Isadore Behr.

"Dearie"..... Charles Kummer

Miss Zache.

"Funny Ted"..... Sollie Sapero

Mandolin solo, Capricces di Concerto ..... V. Arienzo

E. J. Rupp.

"Sing Me to Sleep"..... Edwin Green

Mrs. Peirce.

Trombone solo, "Marguerite"..... C. A. White

Dr. E. H. Nelson.

Mrs. C. F. Olson is again ill and is under the care of Dr. Schmidt.

The Royal Neighbors held a George Washington dance in Fugere hall Wednesday evening. Quite a pleasant

HERES TO THE HEALTH of Fitger's Beer

Drain your glass to the last drop and you find no dregs.

Fitger's Beer is absolutely pure.

Send a case to your club.

Your name will be on every tongue, so will the Beer.

FITGER BREWING CO. DUL

LATEST NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

time was enjoyed by the Neighbors and their friends.

Matt Roberts is gaining, but is still confined to his bed, where he has been for about four months.

Arnold Karon went to Duluth the fore part of the week on business.

The Chisholm lodge No. 179, K. of P., met Monday evening in Kovach's hall and added one new member to its list. Earnest Drew became a knight.

Thursday evening the Woodmen met in Kvach's hall.

The sister of Dr. N. O. Pierce, who came to visit her brother, is now confined to the house with measles.

Henry Tomfohr, who was in St. Mary's hospital, Duluth, undergoing treatment for typhoid fever, came home too soon and took a relapse, but is now making splendid headway towards recovery.

The new village well is still unfinished, owing to the fact that when they dug to the depth when they expected plenty of water they had to go deeper. This condition leaves the town with a tank full of muddy water, but the people are patient, knowing that this cannot be helped.

GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids, Feb. 24.—The following program was presented by the Sunday-school children of St. Joseph's church in the high school auditorium last evening:

Opening chorus—a. "Old Glory."..... b. "Labor Song." ..
Piano duet—"Two Juveniles" .....
Madge Sennit and Rosemary Logan.
Recitation—"The Lion and the Glove"
Agnes Cassidy.
Action song—"We Are the People"...
Twenty-four small children.
Piano trio—"At the School Festival."
Grace McDonald and Clara Sennett, Florence Craig.
Pantomimic drill—"A Trip to the Netherlands" .....
Boys and Girls.
Piano solo—"Spring Song" .....
Mae Benton.
One act farce—"The Ghost in the Boarding School" .....
Margaret McAlpine, Ruby LaMere, Aara Lothrop, Alta McIntosh, Zita Doran.
Tableau—"Home, Sweet Home" .....
Miss Nell Boer and Mae Benton, accompanists.

Thursday evening the ladies of the United Order of Foresters gave a masquerade ball at the village hall. It was largely attended and was a brilliant success.

Hans Jorgenson and Miss Hattie Alpine were married last week by Rev. Walter at the home of Hovie Jorgenson.

Arthur V. Richardson and Miss Agnes E. Ranger were married on Thursday evening at the Ranger home, east of town.

In the district court this week, James Hogan pleaded guilty to larceny and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary at Stillwater. The case of M. Callahon was discontinued to March 1st. Edna Sharpe pleaded guilty to the lifting of $75 from Frank Cassidy and was sentenced to thirty months at Stillwater.

The third annual ball of the Eagles will take place Monday evening.

Charles W. Scheer, a laborer in the sawmill at Bigfork, was the victim last week of an accident which resulted in his death. He was unfortunately crowded against the saw and his body was so badly mangled that death came almost instantly.

William Carter was brought down from the Owen Skelly camp last week and taken to St. Deidi's hospital. He had the misfortune to lose a hand by a log rolling thereupon.

The Rebekah card party, postponed from last week, will be held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Whipple.

James Steeves and family have removed to Nashwauk, where he has opened up a confectionery.

Attorney A. L. Thwing was summoned to Minneapolis Monday afternoon by the sad news of the death of his grandfather.

Mrs. Theodore Brock and son, Freddie, departed for Seattle, Wash., where they will spend the remainder of the winter, visiting relatives.

Mrs. Mary L. Barton of Duluth, supreme deputy commander for the Maccabees, has been in the village the past few days organizing a new camp at Bovey.

L. J. Traverce, a boatbuilder from the Pacific coast, has been the guest of Neil McLaughlin the past few days.

Supt. A. J. McGuire of the experiment station has been in Chicago this week attending a meeting of the National Dairy association.

McKINLEY

McKinley, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Conductor G. J. Miller has returned from Two Harbors.

The D. & I. R. put a steam shovel in at Summit pit this week and will put on work trains hauling gravel to ballast some of the new track between Summit and Aurora, on which rails will be laid, and the trains run over while the grade on the present track is cut down somewhat.

Frank Klinn transacted business at Biwabik on Monday.

The D. & I. R. fear they will have another sink hole on their recently raised tracks at Mile 71, near Allen Junction, where the track has settled somewhat.

A man whose name could not be ascertained shot himself at the Stephens mine at Colby Saturday afternoon. He was taken to the Eveleth hospital.

If the weather and the ice conditions in the lake are favorable it is likely that within another month or six weeks ore will begin to move again. The earliest shipments heretofore were about March 24.

CLOQUET

Cloquet, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carey and children of Two Harbors spent a few days in Cloquet, the guests of Mr. Carey's sisters, Mesdames Loisel and Delia. They returned home Tuesday.

Peter Moody left Tuesday for a trip to Portland, Or.

Harry Moffat of the Duluth & Northeastern office force, was ill this week.

Roy McMillen, who has been seriously ill for some time past, has recovered and is attending school again.

Mesdames Clare and Gregoir Grinier went to Duluth Monday to visit Mrs. Grinier's daughter, Mrs. William Close of Hibbing, who is at St. Mary's hospital.

Miss Nora Grinier has accepted a position with the Bell Telephone company as night operator at Carlton.

Mrs. Orff and daughter of Stillwater are in the city, the guests of Mrs. Orff's son and Mrs. Dan Cameron.

Mrs. Whitter of Scanlon visited with friends in the city Tuesday.

Miss Nellie McKenna spent Saturday in Duluth.

O. P. Shair left Monday for Everett, Wash., where he expects to make his home.

Franklin Stevens of Duluth spent Sunday with friends in Cloquet.

Miss Ernie Arnell was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends at her home Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening spent.

Guy Cookson spent Wednesday with his mother in this city.

J. A. Freeman left Friday for the Twin Cities.

The Midern Maccabees gave a very pleasant party at the home of Mrs. Schivdaneyar's last Friday afternoon. Prizes were awarded Mrs. James Dwyer, lone hand, and Mrs. Swindale, head prize.

S. Erskine of Cohassett transacted business in Cloquet the first of the week.

Little Percella Bassett entertained a number of her little friends at her home on Twelfth street on Thursday afternoon, the occasion being her seventh birthday. The afternoon was spent in pleasant amusement, after which covers were laid for twenty-five little friends.

Mesdames Hoyt and Colburn entertained at bid euchre Wednesday afternoon. Favors were won by Mesdames Dwyer, Heasley and Long.

The Three Table Euchre club was entertained by Mrs. Galispie at the home of Mrs. James Dwyer. Prizes were won by Mesdames Swindale, Simmons and Clapperton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Eckstrand spent Thursday in Duluth.

Joe Rabideaux left the first of the week for Coner d'Alene, Idaho, where he expects to locate.

Dallas Lodge, A. F. & A. M., celebrated its eighteenth anniversary at the Opera house, Thursday evening, with a musical entertainment and dance.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. A. Fish, as the guests of Mesdames Fish and Canfield.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Taylor have returned from their Western trip.

The card party given in the basement of the Catholic church last Saturday evening was a success socially and financially.

Mrs. Charles Decker entertained a number of friends at euchre Monday evening, in honor of Mrs. A. J. Orff, of Glendon, Minn.

B. J. Summerfield has purchased J. L. Bennett's residence on Chesnut street.

Mrs. W. A. Jolliffe is in St. Paul this week as a representative to the grand lodge of the Degree of Honor, which met there this week.

A reception and dance was given Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rabideaux by a number of their friends, Monday evening at Elm hall.

D. W. McQuisten, night foreman of the switch crew in the Cloquet yards, met a horrible death last Saturday morning about 2 o'clock. His body was severed in two. The accident happened near the Johnson-Wentworth planer. His body was shipped to Nelson, Wis., for interment. He leaves a wife and child at Mandan, N. D.

John Alstad left this week for a trip to the Pacific coast.

The Literary society of the Cloquet high school has been reorganized and their first program will be given next Thursday morning in the high school room.

HIBBING

Hibbing, Feb. 24.—Special to The Herald.)—Fred McFarlane was in from the lumber camp of the Swan River Logging company north of the village Friday. He reports considerable activity in that section in lumbering this winter, but the open swamps have interfered with logging operations, and the output from nearly all camps in this section will be considerably reduced from that of former years.

Editor Hahl of the Finnish paper Velosuu of this place is attending the state convention of the Public Ownership party which is being held in Minneapolis this week.

Mrs. Mercer and children of Superior are visiting the family of Joseph Gardner.

Mrs. F. C. Whiting is visiting friends at Virginia this week.

E. B. Dunning is looking after the interests of the Itasca Mercantile company at Mount Iron this week.

Frank Kauppi of Virginia has been in the village for several days past, in the interest of the Singer Sewing Machine company.

Miss Ida Cutlipp returned to her home at Eveleth Thursday morning after several days' visit with Miss Maud Williams at her home on Third avenue.

Joseph Mantell of Eveleth was in the village several days the past week, looking after some insurance matters.

District Organizer J. A. Jones of the Western Federation of Miners addressed a good-sized audience at an open meeting of the Hibbing union last Sunday. He explained some of the features of the Industrial Workers of the World, with which the Western Federation is affiliated.

Mrs. G. T. Govett of Duluth has been visiting the family of W. G. Williams several days the past week.

Fred Kohrt left Wednesday morning to attend the ski tournament at Ishpeming, Mich.

W. C. Northy has concluded to close out his line of groceries and crockery and return to the mining business, in which he was formerly engaged. He has been in business here the past four years, and has always taken an active interest in the welfare of the village. He will be missed from local business and social circles.

Charles Hooper is attending the ski tournament at Ishpeming, Mich., this week.

Joseph Skerbech has made arrangements for the use of the Power theater for his vaudeville show, and hereafter will hold at the theater with his company, which will be enlarged some and a better entertainment put on.

W. Irwin and family of Eveleth have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ansley for several days past.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gardner entertained about fifty friends at their home on French location Thursday evening. Cards and music were the order of the evening, and the numerous friends left at an early hour of the morning, after having had an enjoyable evening.

Miss Clara Weiss of Eveleth returned to her home in that place Thursday morning after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Casey.

Mrs. Bardessono is preparing to close up her saloon business at an early date, and soon thereafter will open with a stock of confectionery and will put in billiard and pool tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Costello have taken rooms in the Chicago flats.

George Taylor is able to be around again after having been confined to his home with a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

George Cobb has been confined to his home for several days past, being severely ill.

Mrs. Hudson of Buhl was the guest of Miss Maud Williams several days this week.

Mrs. M. Pastoret left Monday for a month's visit with friends in Minneapolis.

Mrs. D. M. Power left Wednesday for Chicago, to be absent about ten days, looking over the markets for new goods for the Bazaar store.

T. P. Wagy of Chisholm was visiting his brother Ralph of this place Sunday.

Editor Tafboys of the Chisholm Herald, was in the village the first of the week while on his way home from Duluth.

Mrs. Russell of the Bazar store returned from Chicago Saturday, where she has been visiting friends the past ten days.

Hon. T. M. Brady and family are moving into their new home on Superior street this week.

Mrs. George Mewhinney is seriously ill at her home at 213 Sellers street.

Mrs. G. H. Thompson has been quite ill for several days past, but at last reports there was considerable improvement in her condition.

Miss Annie Murphy is visiting friends at Deer River this week.

Mrs. J. M. Smart is in St. Paul and Minneapolis this week looking up the latest in the millinery goods for the local trade.

Mrs. Frank Wagman returned Tuesday from a visit with friends at Duluth and Two Harbors.

Henry Breen is taking the hot springs treatment at Hot Springs, Ark. Late reports are that he is improving in health.

The Modern Brotherhood of America held a special meeting at the home of F. A. Moore Friday evening to pass on a large class of candidates who are seeking admission to that order.

F. A. Moore was in Duluth Thursday looking for a boilermaker to make repairs on the boiler in the Mesaba Steam laundry.

The Ladies of the Maccabees will have a dance at Close's hall Feb. 26. Labrosse's orchestra of Duluth will furnish the music for the occasion.

M. Rogalsky has been looking after business in the Twin Cities and other points for several days past.

E. S. Woolfan, clothier, expects to move his stock into the building at the corner of Pine street and Third avenue, now occupied by Dave Burke as a saloon, at an early date.

The employes of the Oliver Mining company will hold a meeting this evening to take steps towards establishing club rooms. This has been much needed for some time, and the action of the office employes is to be commended. An effort will be made to have the company interested in the matter to the extent of financial assistance at least. The establishment of club rooms of the character intended would in a large measure provide a place of entertainment that is now afforded only by the saloons of the village.

The village council met Tuesday evening and appointed A. P. Silliman and S. Lekve as judges of election, with Ralph Wagy as clerk.

Mrs. D. L. Young, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. E. Scott, returned to her home at Aitkin, this state, last Saturday.

Mrs. Long, who has been visiting with Mrs. J. L. Phillips for several months past, left for her home at Ironwood, Mich., Friday of this week.

Village politics are warming up considerable, and the prospective candidates are beginning to appear. There are, as usual, more or less rumors going the rounds as to who are to be the dear people, and at present it is a difficult thing to say who the nominees will be. President McHardy is credited with a desire to serve another term, and it is said that Thomas Healy and Frank Ansley would like a turn at that seat. For council there are few names thus far that have been mentioned, but J. A. Redfern, M. E. Pearce and W. J. Ryder are mentioned. For treasurer H. E. Little and A. Hepola are in the field, both hoping that they will land this juicy plum. Thus far P. M. Bardessono, the present village recorder, has no opposition, and it is likely he will be re-elected, yet it is reported that Miles Gandsey has a wistful eye on this position.

Donald McKenzie and Miss Nettie Shephard were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the bride's residence last Sunday evening, by the Rev. Fisher of Chisholm. The home was beautifully decorated with an artistic display of lilac and chrysanthemums.

TOWER

Tower, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Freda Fromheartz of Ely attended the La Brosse dance here Friday.

Bert Oppel of Duluth spent several days here this week visiting friends.

The local teachers entertained the Soudan teachers at a bowling party Thursday afternoon. Lunch was served and a pleasant afternoon spent.

Alden Tippet of Two Harbors visited young friends here the fore part of the week.

Miss Ida Aubin returned to Duluth Saturday, having spent a few days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Aubin.

M. C. Woodard returned Monday from a short business visit to Duluth.

W. J. Jolley returned Wednesday after a few days business visit in Duluth.

Mrs. Thomas Powell returned Wednesday from Duluth, where she spent the fore part of the week attending to business matters.

Ben Everett returned Wednesday from a short visit in Duluth.

Mrs. Ludenow Thompson left Wednesday for a few days' visit at Eveleth with her daughter, Mrs. J. Sheridan.

Mrs. Albert Kitto and Mrs. J. N. Burgess were Duluth visitors Thursday.

Mrs. Lubenow left Wednesday for a short business visit in Virginia and Eveleth.

R. G. Murray received word a few days ago that his son Robert had been seriously injured at Texarkana, Ark. while attempting to board a moving train he was thrown under it, having both feet so badly crushed as to necessitate amputation.

Miss Mamie Cass left Tuesday for a few days' visit at Eveleth with her sister, Mrs. L. Engel.

Miss Mamie Murphy of Eveleth spent Thursday and yesterday here at the home of her parents.

Miss Minnie Campaigne celebrated her fourteenth birthday Monday evening. The following were present: Misses Alice Murphy, Sadie Napier, Uneta Flint, Lois Miles, Ethel Burgess, Elsie and Amanda Long and Bessie and Edna Shaeffer.

Mrs. J. D. Murphy entertained at cards Wednesday evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Cass, Mr. and Mrs. R. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Lackey and Miss Murphy of Eveleth.

TWO HARBORS

Two Harbors, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—L. Amundson has moved into his residence on Pine street, recently purchased from J. G. Miller, and Mr. Miller has moved into one of the Hickox flats on Poplar street.

The local lodge Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen are making arrangements for their sixteenth annual ball, to be given at Norden hall, Easter Monday, April 16. Duluth music has been secured and the affair promises to be a great success.

Colvin & Robb now have about 900 cords of pulpwood piled up in their yards here and have increased their shipments to eight carloads per day.

Noel Gratton, who was operated upon at the Two Harbors hospital last week, is getting along nicely.

William Trunt, whose home is at St. Michaels, Minn., is reported seriously ill at the Budd hospital.

A pile driver was put to work this week driving piling just west of the present coal dock for the ground extension of that plant. The handling and storage capacity will be greatly increased.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCracken have returned from a few weeks' visit at Omaha, Neb.

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Stark.

Village politics have taken a decided change for the better the past week from the present outlook. There will be a number of tickets in the field, enough opposition to make the coming election the most interesting in years.

L. D. Rose is visiting at the Twin Cities for a few days.

Mrs. J. M. Hickox has gone to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for a few weeks' visit.

A. Hedenberg is shipping some piling here from his landings at Mile 60 for the D. & I. R. coal dock. Much of the piling being used this winter is white pine, the Norway piling being about cleaned out of this section of the country.

Mrs. W. N. Moulton and daughter Helen are visiting with relatives at Owatonna, Minn., for a few days.

B. M. Bergerson transacted business at Duluth on Saturday.

The recent test of the intake pipe at the pumping station showed no evidences of damage by November's storm. The well, however, was found to be in poor condition and has been thoroughly cleaned.

Mrs. M. A. Warner has gone to Chicago to make purchases of spring millinery.

Miss Jessie Fairman, who has been spending the winter at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Patterson, left yesterday for her home at Detroit, Mich., where she is to be married Tuesday, March 27, to William Pethrickson, a prominent young business man of that place. Her many friends here extend their best wishes.

Misses Jones, Gauthier and Betts gave a very pleasant sunbonnet party to a number of friends Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. M. J. Hanna.

Joseph G. Miller has accepted a position with Contractor John Rumquist and is now keeping time and looking after the work on the D. & I. R. grading between Colby and Summit.

The Y. M. C. A. has arranged the following Bible classes for the balance of the winter: Tuesdays, 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Atter, John E. Chandler, leader; Wednesdays at noon hour at machine shop, for shop men, Secretary N. W. Benning, leader; Wednesdays, 7:30 p. m., at the Y. M. C. A., for men only, R. B. Elliott, leader; Thursdays, 4 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Coggswell, J. W. Marquis, leader.

The school board has called a special school meeting to be held at the high school building at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 6, for the purpose of selecting a site for another school building, to be erected soon and to provide for funds for the same.

Superintendent Thomas Owens transacted business at Duluth on Saturday.

The warm weather the early part of this week has caused the snow to melt and settle considerably. The ground is but slightly frozen and under the snow is much water.

The reflection of the big elevator fire at Duluth Saturday evening was plainly visible here.

The local Socialist organization at their meeting Friday evening, Feb. 16, nominated the following village ticket to place in the field the coming election: President, C. G. Rothfus; councilmen, Nels Westlund, Alex Halliday, C. E. Bergren; recorder, C. W. Dawson; treasurer, L. D. Rose; justice of the peace, J. W. Woodcock; constable, W. D. Newell. The party will also have a strong ticket in the field for the county election next fall.

Ike Grange came down from Eveleth the early part of the week and will work here the balance of the winter.

Special religious services will be held at Norwegian Lutheran church Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, commencing at 8 p. m., also at 10 a. m. Tuesday and Wednesday. Rev. S. A. Johnson will be assisted in the work by Rev. Theodore H. Fossum and Rev. T. Bjerke of Duluth and Rev. Marvick of Ashland.

Alderman Alex Halliday is visiting with relatives at Carlton, Minn., for a few days.

D. B. Rollins expects to finish loading logs from his landing at Mile 12 above Drummond today. He will probably move his men elsewhere and work the balance of the season.

P. O. Peterson is laid up at the Budd hospital with a badly fractured leg, the result of a fall on a slippery sidewalk Saturday evening.

B. L. Vinson has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent at Chicago.

Among the new announcements this week for the coming election are August Nelson, for re-election as assessor; H. P. Dodge, justice of the peace, and Sever Gervais for overseer of highways.

H. W. Cable has disposed of his Third avenue residence and property to John Flin of the Commercial hotel.

A short session served to clean up business on hand at Monday evening's council meeting. Permission was granted Miss Kate Spaith to move a small dwelling house from lot 8, block 17, to lot 16, block 18. Upon complaint of Swan Essen that a dog owned by G. Erickson, proprietor of the Northern hotel, had bitten him, the chief of police was instructed to have Erickson dispose of the dog or appear at the next meeting and explain. Requests from E. F. Young, W. A. Johnson and Otto Birkholtz for electric street lights on Ninth and Tenth avenues were laid over until spring on account of the ground being frozen so poles could not be put in at present. Report was received of recent test of intake pipe at pumping station stating that pipe was O. K. The president was authorized to offer $30. Bills amounting to $960.45 were allowed, $554 being for coal during January.

Mrs. M. Grant of Ely expects to open her confectionery store in the Marren & Finn brick block about March 5.

The Alger-Smith company are now shipping about ten carloads per day of ties and pulpwood from off their line at Knife River.

Sambo Spurbeck, formerly of this place, has accepted a position as dispatcher for the D. M. & N. railway at Proctor and commenced work Wednesday.

Prof. Hepburn and a number of others from the Flaaten conservatory at Duluth will give the play, "John, My Boy," at Norden hall Monday evening, and Mrs. G. E. Budd of West Duluth will also give some readings. Dancing will be indulged in after the entertainment.

The D. & I. R. is distributing a large number of ties along their line for renewals during the spring and summer.

Miss Hattie Owens is rapidly recovering from her recent illness and will be able to be moved home in another week.

George McGreevey was called to Missoula, Mont., Sunday, by the serious illness of his brother, Martin, at that place.

Secretary and Mrs. N. W. Benning and son left Thursday for a few weeks' visit at their former home at Logansport, Ind. Assistant Secretary Trautt will have charge of the local work during Mr. Benning's absence.

Mrs. Mary A. Van Auken who has resided with her daughter, Mrs. F. B. Evans here, for the past few years, passed quietly away in her sleep, Wednesday morning. Deceased was 77 years old and had been failing for some time and a touch of pneumonia a short time ago, with her advanced age hastened her end. The remains were taken to Menominee, Mich., on the afternoon train, and were laid to rest there beside her husband.

It is reported that the postoffice will be moved in the near future into the building now occupied by the Two Harbors Iron News, and that plant will be moved into fine quarters in one of the rooms in the new Baldwin block on First avenue, and that Alex Holliday will move his barber shop into the present postoffice building. Other changes in locations are also rumored.

The total shipments of logs through here and from Knife River to Duluth now average from 300 to 325 carloads per day.

William Roleff was up from Duluth Sunday for a visit with his family.

E. J. Steurwald will move his jewelry establishment into the Marren and Finn building in a few days, and the building occupied by him has been rented by Duluth parties, who will start a barber shop therein.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cooke arrived this week from Providence, R. I., and will reside here in the future with their sons, William and Herb Cooke.

Thursday, Washington's birthday passed quietly, and was observed by a general suspension of work at the shops and by the contractors. The stores, however, remained open.

The dance given Thursday evening by the Hockey club was well attended and proved a very successful affair.

Mrs. C. D. Pegelow was a Duluth visitor Thursday.

The local Knights of Pythias lodge will give an entertainment at their hall Monday evening, the 26th.

Rev. Alfred E. Driscoll, A. B., of Macalaster college, will speak at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting tomorrow afternoon.

J. H. Shea has returned from a couple of months' visit with relatives at Eddyville, Iowa.

The Duluth & Iron Range received several carloads of steel rails this week to be used on their double track between Colby and Summit.

The local lodge Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen are making arrangements for their sixteenth annual ball, to be given at Norden hall, Easter Monday, April 16. Duluth music has been secured and the affair promises to be a great success.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Soothe the throat and stop a hacking cough. A safe and simple remedy. Sold only in boxes.

BEMIDJI

Bemidji, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. F. A. Mayo entertained forty ladies at her home on Lake boulevard, Thursday afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated with the national colors and cut flowers. Cinch was played, Mrs. E. H. Smith winning the head prize, a cutglass vase, and Mrs. L. H. Bailey the consolation prize, a silver meat fork. The bond election Tuesday carried by a large majority. The vote being 254 to 43. The election was for the purpose of issuing city bonds for $25,000.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Black of Duluth have taken up their residence in this city and have leased the house of E. McDonald home on Lake boulevard.

A. P. White of Fort Smith, Ark., and formerly cashier of the First National bank of this city, is in Bemidji for a few days on business.

Dr. Shoemaker, president of the St. Cloud normal school, gave a lecture at the courthouse hall Friday evening, under the auspices of the Bemidji public schools.

Mrs. C. W. Warfield entertained the Ladies' Sextet at the home of Mrs. A. A. Warfield Monday afternoon. The following ladies were present: Mesdames S. E. Whitcomb, A. Warfield, Pryor, Misses Bailey, Olson and Haldeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell were given a surprise party at their home on Bemidji avenue by a number of their friends, Friday evening.

The Ladies' Literary club met Monday afternoon with Miss Hattie Allen; Mrs. G. E. Crocker was leader of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Warfield entertained the choir of the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. Following were the guests: Mrs. C. J. Pryor, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lindgrin, Mrs. M. S. Spooner, Mrs. A. Lord, Miss Dollie Bailey, Miss Hoyer, Miss Haldeman, Miss Mable McTaggert, Messrs. Jerrard, DeLong.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harrington, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William McQuaig, have returned to their home at Milora.

N. L. Houghton of this city and Miss Laura White of Minneapolis, were married at the home of the bride, Feb. 14. Mr. and Mrs. Houghton will make Bemidji their home.

Mrs. J. H. Thompson and Mrs. W. E. Hutchinson, who have been the guests of Mrs. Mulligan, Mrs. J. P. Mulligan met her mother, Mrs. Earl Geil entertained a number of ladies Wednesday afternoon at 500.

Miss Mary Bell returned Wednesday from a visit with friends in Fergus Falls.

Miss Haldeman entertained the ladies of the Presbyterian Aid at her home, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. A. E. Underwood left Monday for Spooner, Wis., having been called there by the serious illness of her brother.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Flatley.

A. M. Gueley of Big Fork, was in the city part of the week.

Miss Mamie Villemin left Wednesday for Deer River, where she will visit friends for a few days.

C. J. Bailey returned Tuesday from a business trip to the Twin Cities.

W. R. Baumbach and C. W. Baumbach, president and vice president of the Lumbermen's bank of this city, were in the city part of the week on business.

The Bemidji fire department gave a masked ball on the evening of Feb. 22 for the benefit of the department.

Miss Laura Meyer left Tuesday for a visit with friends in Minneapolis.

Rev. S. A. Blair and Rev. Jamison of Duluth, were in the city Friday.

Mrs. E. R. Miller is quite ill with la grippe.

Miss Alice Mills, who is teaching at Walker, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents in this city.

Charles England is quite seriously ill with lung fever.

Elmer Anderson entertained twenty of his friends Wednesday afternoon. The occasion being in honor of his eleventh birthday.

ELY

Ely, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—George W. Gamble of Duluth has secured an option in section 4-62-13 and will commence exploration work shortly. The land is located near Robinson Lake.

Sidney Stone of Two Harbors is spending the week with friends in this city.

Matt Grym has leased the Lindbeck building and will open up a saloon there.

A large sleigh ride party enjoyed themselves thoroughly Sunday afternoon and evening at Cyrel Fortier's claim, a few miles east of Ely.

Mrs. F. C. Miller and son are visiting relatives in Duluth this week.

Nick Cowling, who has been spending a month's vacation with friends and relatives in this city, returned to Winnipeg Wednesday morning.

Peter Schaeffer returned Tuesday evening from his trip to the Twin Cities, where he has been attending the convention of the Minnesota Editors' association.

The Socialist society of Ely has the foundation laid for their new hall. The building will be 36 by 70 feet.

Frank C. Miller has broken the record for fishing through the ice this winter, bringing in a pickerel that weighed twenty-one pounds, capturing it at Armstrong lake.

Capt. James Bale and Joseph Roy of Duluth are in Ely this week on business.

Capt. Harry Wicks, an old-time resident of Ely, left Wednesday morning for Old Mexico, where he has accepted a position in a copper mine.

Grant McMahon has finished shipping his cedar pole contract this week, sending the last two carloads to points in Iowa.

Miss Nellie LaBeau gave a sleigh ride party Thursday to Winton and return, after which a delicious lunch was partaken of at her home.

Bert St. Vincent has accepted a position with the Newport Mining company of Ironwood, Mich.

T. M. Stuck of North Branch, Minn., who attended the marriage of his brother Saturday evening, returned to his home Wednesday morning.

James Nettle and wife of Soudan are guests of Capt. John Cowling this week.

T. C. Williams and family of Sparta are visiting friends in this city.

The school board held a meeting Wednesday afternoon, after which, in company with George Smith, contractor, and Frank L. Young, architect, they inspected the new school building, which is rapidly nearing completion.

Capt. Charles Trezona was a Duluth visitor this week.

John Kapsch of this city is seriously ill with pneumonia at St. Mary's hospital, in Duluth.

Mrs. J. Phillips is visiting friends in Hibbing this week.

John Trevinon and sister of Soudan are spending a few days with relatives here.

Mark Zoretic and Gilbert Wylie will wrestle for a purse at the opera house Sunday afternoon, best two falls out of three.

Gust Lee of Tower was in Ely on business the first of the week.

Robert Bedford of Winton is giving an invitation ball Saturday evening.

Grant McMahon left for Greenville, Pa., Friday morning in answer to a telegram stating the serious illness of his mother.

Will Griffin of Soudan spent Sunday and Monday with his father at the Exchange hotel.

A baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Carruthers Thursday morning.

The coming election promises to be a warm one, there having already several candidates declared themselves for the mayorship and municipal judge.

Bert Tornius of Winton has been attending to school business matters here for the past few days.

M. E. Stewart of St. Paul made a business trip to this city Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of the Presbyterian church. It was largely attended and a neat sum was realized.

Otto Manneinen is making extensive improvements on the building recently purchased from P. R. Vail, among which is a new plat glass front.

The trappers and hunters are bringing in a large number of wolf hides of late, W. R. McQuade bringing in five this week. Besides getting the bounty from the county, he disposed of the pelts at a good figure here.

Mrs. John Grant of Two Harbors is visiting at Mrs. Bart Coffey's this week.

EVELETH

Eveleth, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robert A. Angst, superintendent of the Pollock-Susquehanna mines at Hibbing and Mountain Iron, called on old friends here last Saturday.

Mrs. George Mulligan returned Saturday evening from Stevens Point, Wis., where she was called by the serious illness of her mother. Mr. Mulligan met her in Duluth and accompanied her home.

William Murray has gone to Minneapolis for treatment and will be absent about ten days.

The Art club met Saturday with Mrs. Roy M. Cornwall. Two interesting papers were read by Mrs. John H. Hearding and by Mrs. Malcolm E. Nichols. Mrs. Frederick Barrett was admitted to membership in the club.

Mrs. Clara Shapiro came up Tuesday from Duluth to attend the Fayal club party.

Mrs. Guy A. Eaton and son William of Duluth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Smith the past week. Mr. Eaton came up Wednesday evening to attend the Fayal party.

R. Cartright of Minneapolis spent a few days here this week renewing old acquaintances.

J. Hugh MacInnis, who went through an operation at the More hospital last week, was able to leave Friday, and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil McInnis, for a few days before resuming his work at the Lincoln mine.

The women of the Afternoon Euchre club entertained the men last Friday evening at Fayal hall, and it proved a delightful affair. There were eight tables of six-hand euchre and the successful winners of the prizes were Mrs. Slater Bargh for the most games, on a cut with Mrs. Josephine Sibbit, and received a beautiful plate. Mrs. Josephine Morsell, for the most declares, received a gold hat pin. The men's head prize, a stein, was taken by Dr. More, and the declare, a smoking set, was taken by Dr. Harwood. Beside these there were present Mrs. Alvin Streeter of Milwaukee, Mrs. Amanda Riddel, Mrs. Caroline Barrett, Mrs. W. E. Harwood, Mrs. C. W. More, Mrs. Samuel Owens, Mrs. J. C. Poole, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Arnold, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Whitman, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Bullen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Cornwall, Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Denton, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Dowling, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hearding, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Greening, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. George McCormack, Mr. and Mrs. Neil McInnis, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Plummer, Miss Fern Marsell, Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Kinnear, Mr. Henry Lindsay, Mr. Dudley Freeman, Mr. Merton Kingston and Mr. Edward Hatch. The meeting of the club was held yesterday with Mrs. W. E. Harwood.

Mrs. Charles Wesley More entertained most delightfully Thursday afternoon at six-handed euchre. The house was attractively decorated with pink and white carnations. Mrs. More was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Alvin Streeter. Mrs. Frank Campbell won the first prize and Mrs. F. W. Bullen the second, on a cut with Mrs. George McCormack. There were also present: Mrs. P. E. Dowling, Mrs. Josephine Sibbit, Mrs. George Whitman, Mrs. J. O. Marsell, Mrs. Neil McInnis, Mrs. Guy A. Eaton of Duluth, Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mrs. George Perham, Mrs. J. C. Poole, Mrs. Edward Skeel, Mrs. N. B. Arnold, Mrs. M. E. Nichols, Mrs. Frederick Barrett, Mrs. Slater Bargh, Mrs. A. Riddel, Mrs. Caroline Barrett, Mrs. F. J. Kinnear, Mrs. W. E. Harwood, Mrs. A. G. Kingston, Mrs. Roy M. Cornwall, Mrs. B. O. Greening, Mrs. Samuel Owens, Mrs. W. H. Plummer, Mrs. J. H. Hearding, Mrs. T. H. Lees, Mrs. O. P. Johnson and Mrs. J. C. Bradford.

George Tvedt of Duluth attended to business matters here this week.

F. A. Wildes, mine inspector for the Hibbing district, visited friends here early in the week. Mr. Wildes has just returned from a trip to California.

George Broseau of Duluth called on old friends here Thursday.

Miss Petrie, of the local schools, spent her holiday Thursday with her sister in Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Arnold drove to Biwabik Sunday with the fine pacing horse Mr. Arnold has recently purchased.

Mrs. Josephine Sibbit and Mrs. P. Ellard Dowling left yesterday noon for Minneapolis to see Bernhardt. They will be absent about a week.

One of the largest and most successful of any party ever given by the Fayal club was the dancing party held at Fayal hall Wednesday evening. Blewett's orchestra of Duluth furnished the music and a delicious supper was served in the club rooms upstairs, at midnight. The hall was most appropriately decorated in flags and bunting, as it was the eve of Washington's birthday. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Eaton of Duluth, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Fay of Virginia, Miss Shapiro of Duluth, Mrs. Caroline Barrett, Mrs. J. O. Marsell, Mrs. A. Riddel, Mrs. J. C. Poole and Mrs. J. J. Trezona; the Misses Haug, Hedston, Rockwell, Eaton, Thompson and Lorenz of Virginia; Messrs. Harold Griggs, A. C. C. Stevens, F. W. Stevens, Stewart Smith and E. L. Swanson of Virginia; Mr. L. B. Weed of Hibbing, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Greening, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cornwall, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Larson, Mr and Mrs. E. J. Millette, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Romer, Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Kinnear, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Whitman, Misses Costin, Cord, Uren, McKe

WEST DULUTH

L. A. BARNES IS HONORED

Made Masonic District Deputy Grand Master of Duluth Territory.

Honor Comes as Complete Surprise---Commercial Club Meeting.

Alderman L. A. Barnes was very much surprised this morning when he opened his mail to find a commission from the grand master of Masons of the state, appointoing him district deputy grand master for the Third district of Minnesota. Mr. Barnes had not received even an inkling of the matter and to thus have the honor thrust upon him is very gratifying to him and to his friends.

The office of district deputy grand master is one of honor and permits the holder thereof to do much for his order and win honors for himself, Masonically speaking. S. L. Frazer of Duluth was district deputy here for years and made the star record of the state, doing so well as to win him an office in the grand lodge of the state and it is believed that further honors are in store for him.

Mr. Barnes is a member of Euclid lodge, No. 198 and has been a member of the grand lodge. He succeeds Lionel Ayers of Duluth in the office of district deputy, Col. Ayers having held it since Mr. Frazer stepped out. This district takes in the following lodges: Palestine, Ionic and Euclid of Duluth, Dallas of Cloquet, Fortitude of Two Harbors, Vermillion of Tower, Eveleth of Eveleth, Mesabe of Hibbing and Virginia of Virginia.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Holds Satisfactory and Important Weekly Meeting Friday Night.

The West Duluth Commercial club held a very satisfactory meeting last evening and among its communications was a letter from United States Senator Knute Nelson in reply to receipt of the club's recent resolution in support of the Hepburn rate bill. Senator Nelson assures the club that he is with the president on this bill and will do all in his power to have it passed. He will present the club's resolution to the senate. An acknowledgment of receipt of a copy of the club's resolution was also received from H. V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, and informing the West Duluth club that the Duluth club has already taken action.

In preparation for the annual banquet, President Clark appointed as a committee to have complete charge of the affair, L. A. Barnes, Alex Hendrickson, Joseph Cochrane, Charles Kauppl and Louis Ramsted.

On the matter of the desire of the western end of West Duluth to secure water and gas main extensions, Alderman-elect J. E. Foubister, Charles Kauppl and L. J. Nordheim were appointed a committee to present the matter to the water board and look after it generally.

L. J. Nordheim, A. Freimuth and Oscar Dufort were received as members of the club.

PLEASANT PARTY.

Young People Dance at Wade's Hall Friday Evening.

A private dancing party was given last evening in Wade's hall by several of the young married women of West Duluth and a more delightful affair has not been given in West Duluth in several years. Flaaten's orchestra played and the program consisted of sixteen dances. A number of up-town people were among the guests. Following were those present:

Messrs. and Mesdames L. A. Barnes, Jack Schuler, S. W. Hanchett, A. Lofgren, Wageman, Drake, Russell Hamilton, G. W. Boutin, Works, Lynch, David Graham, Foster, Carl Bailey, Charles O. Applehagen, Valentine, C. A. Bronson, Prescott and Merritt; Misses Priest, Hines, Nan Darmody, Keller, Bailey, Patterson, Brophy, Phinney, Kern, Ryan, Glover, Allie Glover, Mintle, Hendrickson and Foster; Messrs. McKenzie, Sparling, Wright, M. M. Meldahl, Robert Weddell, F. H. Wade, J. A. Stuart, Henry Gifford, S. J. Nygren, Hawkins, McDonald, Silger, Darmody, Jack Jones, Wells, Tew and Coney.

REVIVALS ARE ON

At Second Norwegian-Danish M. E. Church Next Week.

Revival services are being held at Olson & Kauppi's hall, corner of Grand and Sixty-third avenues west under ausnices of the Second Norwegian-Danish M. E. church. Each evening of next week except Saturday will be devoted to these services. Monday evening a prayer meeting will be held and on each other evening the following will preach:

Tuesday, Rev. H. K. Madsen of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church of Twenty-first avenue west; Wednesday, Rev. K. E. Forsell of the Swedish Mission church; Thursday, Rev. H. K. Madsen.

West Duluth Churches.

All of the English speaking evangelical churches which have been interested in the union revival services during the coming week, beginning tomorrow night. This service will be held at Westminster Presbyterian church as will those during the week. Tomorrow night Rev. Thomas Grice, pastor of Asbury M. E. church will preach at the Presbyterian church. Union meetings of the young people's societies will also be held there. The other church services in West Duluth follow:

• • •

At the Westminster Presbyterian church tomorow morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. W. J. Lowrie will preach on "The Test of the Samaritan Woman."

• • •

At the Baptist church the topic for the morning sermon by the pastor, Rev. Arthur J. Hoag will be "Our One Hope." Sunday school will be held at noon.

• • •

At Asbury M. E. church, Rev. Thomas Grice will speak in the morning at 10:30 on "The Misuse of God's Gift." Sunday school will be held at noon and the Junior Epworth league will meet at 3 in the afternoon under the leadership of Mrs. Grice.

• • •

At the Norwegian Lutheran Synod church, corner of Fifty-seventh avenue west and Gosnold street, morning services tomorrow will begin at 10:30 o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. E. Wulfsberg, Jr., pastor of the church. Sunday school will meet at 9:30 in the morning.

• • •

At Holy Apostles Episcopal church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Elinor street, Sunday school will be held at 9 a. m., and evening prayer and sermon at 7:30 p. m. The subject of the sermon will be "A Question Which Each Individual Must Answer Some Time in Their Lives." Miss Florence Hyland will sing the offertory solo. Rev. Roderick J. Mooney is rector.

• • •

At the Second Norwegian-Danish M. E. church the services of which are held in Olson & Kauppi's hall, corner of Grand and Sixty-third avenues west, Rev. C. O. Christiansen will preach at 10:45 tomorrow morning, and 8 in the evening. Sunday school will be held at 9:45 a. m.

• • •

At the Third Swedish Baptist church, corner Fifty-ninth avenue west and Ramsey street, services will be held at 11 o'clock in the morning and 7:30 o'clock in the evening, at which services Rev. C. A. Alden will speak. Sunday school meets at 9:45 o'clock in the morning and Young People's society meets at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. An excellent musical program will be rendered at the evening service, as follows:

Organ prelude, "Hope" .. ..Batiste
Song, "Be Merciful, Oh Lord".....
.. ..Ridderhof
Choir.
Song, "Bright Star" .. ..Wetterling
Male Quartet.
Offertory, "Adagio Sostenuto"..Kuhlan
Song, "All for Jesus" .. ..Weeden
Choir.
Postlude .. ..
W. A. Anderson, organist and choir master.

West Duluth Briefs.

H. L. McLean of Ashland was in West Duluth yesterday on a business trip.

Henry, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole C. Erickson, of 319 North Sixty-second avenue west, died yesterday of appendicitis. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, from the Norwegian Lutheran Synod church, corner of Fifty-seventh avenue west and Gosnold street, and interment will be in Oneota cemetery.

Jewelry repairing—Hurst, 301 Central.

C. L. Goodell has gone to Taylor's Falls, Minn., on business.

Oliver Olson has gone to Little Falls, Minn., for a few days.

OPPORTUNITY ONCE IN A LIFETIME!

Annual Clean-up of Pianos and Organs from our branches in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Instruments high grade, some shopworn. Products of the world's greatest factories, slightly damaged, not noticeable to any but the expert, sold at prices before unheard of. They must be disposed of at once.

LOT 1

A Steinway (used some)	$375	Regular price	$800
A Conover (used some)	$175	" "	$450
A Fernwood (good as new)	$150	" "	$400
A Kranich & Bach (shopworn)	$290	" "	$450
A Kingsbury (good as new)	$150	" "	$350
A Stone & Co. (used some)	$100	" "	$275
A Baus & Sons (second hand)	$ 75	" "	$275
One Lagonda (new) a snap	$210	" "	$375
One Lagonda (new) a snap	$190	" "	$350
An Estey (second hand)	$165	Walnut case—fine.

Organs $5.00 up. Pianos $10.00 up.

LOT 2

Consisting of the world's most artistic Pianos—KRANICH & BACH, IVERS & POND, LUDWIG, SMITH & BARNES, DYER BROS., RICHMOND, GABLER.

Sold at Great Reductions during this sale.

LOT 3

Consisting of fifteen Pianos of different makes which we will close out, regardless of cost, at

$150 to $190

Bran new Emerson.....$275

LOT 4

PIANO AND AERIOLA DEPT.

Piano, slightly worn....$85
Aeriola, slightly used..$150

Pianola Pianos consisting of Weber, Wheelock, Steck, Stuyvesant, full line on exhibition.

See and hear the great Orchestrelle and Automatic Pipe Organ. At the same time we will give the lowest possible sale price on the great Steinway and Knabe Pianos.

J. T. STEWART, Manager.

Duluth Music Co.

222-224 West First Street, Duluth, Minn.

MR. AND MRS. CHABOT AND DAUGHTER IN THE WILDS OF FLORIDA.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Chabot and their little daughter, until recently of West Duluth, are enjoying summer breezes in Florida. Mr. Chabot evidently wishes to convey the idea that he is not only enjoying balmy breezes, but hair-breadth escapes as well in the sunny South, for he has sent a picture postal to Charles Silger of West Duluth, showing himself about to furnish luncheon for a 'gator, and Mrs. Chabot about to rescue him by shooting the reptile in its most vulnerable spot, the eye. The picture is reproduced herewith. Since Mr. Chabot disposed of his business in West Duluth recently he has been enjoying himself and will go from St. Augustine to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras, and from there will go to San Francisco, where he will engage in business again.

POLICEMEN ARE INVOLVED

In the Berthe Claiche Murder Case in New York.

New York, Feb. 24.—An interesting sidelight on the Berthe Claiche murder case, which may have an important bearing on the trial of the young French woman who is charged with having shot and killed Emil Gerdron, was shown in the course of a hearing before Police Commissioner Bingham today. The Claiche girl admits that she fired the shot which ended Gerdron's life, but pleads justification, claiming that Gerdron had forced her to live a life of shame, from which she could escape only by his death. The hearing before the police commissioner today was an outgrowth of the Claiche case. Patrolman Cody having been charged with making false statements with reference to it. The charges against Cody were preferred at the request of District Attorney Jerome, who had been informed that Cody told two other policemen that "Morton's woman, (Bertie Claiche), is squealing like a pig in the Tombs."

Morton is a patrolman.

Former Assistant District Attorney Osborne, counsel for Cody, declared that in his opinion, his client was the victim of a plot on the part of the district attorney's informers. He then brought out testimony to the effect that Patrolmen Billafer and Martino, who told the story to the district attorney, were close friends of Morton. These witnesses also testified that Morton had been intimate with Berthe Claiche, both before and after his appointment to the police force. Patrolman Billafer, one of Cody's accusers, said in reply to a question by Mr. Osborne that he knew there was a suspicion that the revolver with which Gerdron was killed belonged to a policeman, and that he knew suspicion was directed toward himself, and Patrolmen Martino and Morton.

Ozomulsion

The Cod Liver Oil Emulsion "Par Excellence."

Is your blood thin and poor?

Are your nerves unstrung?

Can you go through the whirl of a strenuous day without feeling a total sense of collapse at the end of the day?

If this is your condition, it is nature's warning.

Your worn out system and poor blood needs a stimulant to assist them.

Everybody should have good, live, vigorous blood.

For the creating of pure, rich blood, a tissue and nerve food, a mental exhilarant, a preventive against the numerous diseases that flesh is heir to, Ozomulsion stands pre-eminent.

Ozomulsion is a combination of three essential points—tonic, food, medicine.

The general properties of Ozomulsion are: Cod Liver Oil—Blood-making, Nourishing, Sustainlng, Tissue-building; Guaiacol—Germ Destroying, Antiseptic; Glycerine — Emulsifying, Promotes Absorption, Soothing and Healing; Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda—Bone-building, Nerve-invigorating, Mental-exhilarant; Ozone—Vitalizing, Cleansing.

There are two sizes—8-oz. and 16-oz. Bottles; the Formula is printed in 7 languages on each.

OZOMULSION LABORATORIES
98 Pine St., New York.

YOUNG SHEPARD MAY SERVE TIME

Paris, Feb. 24.—The ministry of justice has acted adversely on the application of the American authorities for executive clemency in the case of Elliot F. Shepard of New York (grandson of the late W. H. Vanderbilt) who was sentenced October 26 to three months' imprisonment and $120 fine and to pay $4,000 damages to the parents of Madeline Marduel, who was killed by Mr. Shepard's automobile at St. Queen April 24 last. The fine and indemnity were paid but the application sought to waive the imprisonment. Further efforts in this direction will be made but the government's adverse action is considered final.

Elliot F. Shepard, whose residence is in Paris, arrived in New York from France Jan. 8 to visit friends.

HELD FOR MURDER.

New York, Feb. 24.—Josephine Pollari Teranova, a 17 year old Italian matron, who on Thursday night, it is alleged, stabbed Gaetano Riggio, and his wife, with whom she had made her home before her marriage, two months ago, was arrested today. The charge against the young woman is murder, as Riggio died in a hospital today from his wounds. Mrs. Riggio's condition is somewhat improved. Mrs. Terranova told the police that she stabbed both Riggio and his wife. She asserted that she was justified by the treatment which she claimed to have received at Riggio's hands since she was 13 years old. When she told her husband of Riggio's treatment he refused to live with her, the girl said, and for this reason she attacked both her uncle and his wife. She said that she bought a knife for the purpose.

HENDERSON SINKING.

Dubuque, Iowa, Feb. 24.—Dr. Hancock, attending ex-Speaker D. B. Henderson, today said that the latter could not live more than twenty-four hours.

FINANCES POWER PLAN

C. C. Cokefair Will Develop Plant on Mississippi River.

Will Transmit 25,000 Horse Power to City of Minneapolis.

C. O. Cokefair was in Minneapolis this week for several days, in company with a large party of Eastern financiers, and this gave rise to the story that they were working on plans for the transmission of a large amount of electric power from the St. Louis river water power to Minneapolis, for the use of Minneapolis interests.

These statements were incorrect, however. Last evening Mr. Cokefair concluded his negotiations with the Eastern people, and announced the financing of a plan for the building of a dam across the Mississippi river, at Otsego, near Elk River and Monticello, that will develop 25,000-horse power.

Mr. Cokefair secured for the Great Northern Development company, a corporation distinct from the Great Northern Power company of this city, the rights of the Minneapolis Power & Trolley company, some months ago, and a corps of engineers have been working for several months on plans for the development of the power. The direction of the project has been from Duluth, and now the city of Minneapolis will profit by what has been done.

The power will all be transmitted to Minneapolis. Just what use will be made of it there has not been announced. The company has a thirty-year franchise with the city of Minneapolis for the distribution of light, heat and power, in case it elects to operate under the same.

The installation will cost between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

ACTIVE PREPARATIONS TO SEND TROOPS TO CHINA

Manila, Feb. 24.—Active preparations continue here for a possible emergency in China. Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood has postponed his contemplated trip to Mindanao.

A list has been circulated among the packers and teamsters of this city requesting the names of those who are willing to enlist for service in China. The necessary outfits will be issued to them.

North Butte Mining Company. Dividend No. 3.

A quarterly dividend of $500,000, being one dollar and twenty-five cents per share on the outstanding stock of this company, has been declared out of the surplus earnings, payable on March 23rd, 1906, to stockholders of record at the close of business on March 10th, 1906. The transfer books will be closed from March 12th, 1906 to March 23rd, 1906, both inclusive.

Duluth, Minnesota, Feb. 14th, 1906.

CHARLES A. DUNCAN, Treasurer.

CONFESSES TO KILLING WIFE

John Cross Hammond Gives Himself Up to Albany Police.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 24.—John Cross Hammond, whose wife's body was found in a trunk in their home in the south end of this city last November, nearly two weeks after she is supposed to have been murdered, and ten days after he himself had disappeared, walked into police headquarters here today and surrendered himself. He confessed to having killed his wife.

Since his disappearance the authorities have traced him to Canada, thence to Arizona, thence to Montana where all trace of him was lost.

Arthur Strong, Hammond's youthful cousin accompanied him thus far, but deserted him in Montana and returned to his home in Rouss Point.

When Hammond walked into police headquarters today he was accompanied by Strong and his own sister. He had been in Cohoes, eight miles from here since Wednesday night.

Common Colds Are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided, a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a sold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles are agravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug, and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by all druggists.

Why Not

Secure the piano of your choice at from 10 to 50 per cent dicount at French & Bassett's great sale.

DEFEATING THE TURKS.

Island of Perim, Redsea, Feb. 24.—The rebels of Yemen province, Arabia, are gaining successes over the Turks. The latter, after sustaining losses at Samon, retreated to Tais, with the Arabs in pursuit. Fighting is progressing at Tais.

THE HOUSE PASSES MANY PENSION BILLS.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Before proceeding to pension legislation, which was the special order in the house today, several minor bills were passed by unanimous consent.

The house passed 416 pension bills in sixty-four minutes after which adjournment was had at 2:05 o'clock until Monday.

ALEXANDER IMPROVES.

New York, Feb. 24.—The condition of James W. Alexander, former president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, who recently underwent two surgical operations, was improved today, according to a statement given out by his son, H. M. Alexander.

Too Late to Classify

Hair Dressing, Shampooing, Scalp Treatments, Facial Massage, Manicuring and Children's Hair Cutting at Miss Horrigan's

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Samuel Drew Lovering and Hilda Sjadin.
Paul Heideman and Bertha Hays.

BIRTHS.

GRANDMAISON—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Grandmaison of 1520 Minnesota avenue, Feb. 23.

McLELLAN—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William McLellan of 927 Garfield avenue, Feb. 23.

GUSTAFSON—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson of 1811 South street, Feb. 19.

JERONIMOUS—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jeronimous of 229 East Eighth street, Feb. 17.

DEATHS.

OLSON—Swan Olson, aged 25 years, of 1907 West First street, died Feb. 21.

BUILDING PERMITS.

S. A. McElroy, addition to building on Fifteenth avenue west, between Superior and First streets, to cost.....	$500
Thomson & Dunlop, tile floor in building on Superior street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues west, to cost	400
Thomson & Dunlop, tile floor in building on Superior street, between First and Second avenues east, to cost.....	475

Wherever there's Pain
There is a place for an
ALLCOCK'S PLASTER
It Does It's Work While You Do Yours.

OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

CRUISE TO THE TROPICS

The S. S. PRETORIA, 3,300 tons, sails February 17th, 19:6, on a special cruise, calling at Bermuda, San Juan (Porto Rico), St. Croix, St. Kitts, Dominica, Martinique, St. Lucia, Barbadoes, Trinidad, Jamaica, Havana and Nassau; length of cruise 33 days. Others Steamers for West Indies and Bermuda every ten days For illustrated pamphlets giving rates and all information apply to A. E. Outerbridge & Co., Agents Quebec S. S. Co., Ltd., 38 Broadway, N. Y. A. Ahern, Sec'y, Quebec, Canada or Cook & Son, 234 So. Clark St., Chicago, Ill.

EUROPE FIFTY TOURS

Tours de Luxe and Vacation, covering all Europe, Varied routes; choice of steamship lines, including all traveling expenses, $175 to $1185

THOS. COOK & SON,
261 & 1185 Broadway, 640 Madison Ave., New York.
Independent Travel Tickets Everywhere.

THE ALVERADO
Formerly known as Cook's Hotel. Most reasonable rates in the city. Steam heat, baths Best of service. John McLeod, Proprietor and manager. 310-312 West Superior Street.

Hotel Superior,
Superior, Wis.
Largest and finest Hotel of the City. Bus meets all trains.
American Plan, $2.00 and $3.50.
European Plan, $1.00 up.

New Building. New Equipment.
RATES—$2.00 AND $2.50.
HOTEL McKAY
Corner First street and Fifth avenue West, Opp. Postoffice, Duluth.

The Miller
222-224 W. Superior St.
American and European Plan
Fifty Homelike Rooms.
JOHN W. MILLER, Prop.

The Northwest's most successful and reliable
SPECIALIST
IN DISEASES OF MEN.

The Neglect of Private Diseases

A Stitch in Time Saves Nine.

Many men have been made miserable by the unfortunate contracting of some poisonous special disease which, through neglect or improper treatment, has completely undermined and shattered the physical strength and mental faculties. No greater mistake can be made than to consider lightly the first evidence of the introduction of any private disease into your system, or to neglect the first symptoms of Nervous Debility, caused by improper and unnatural habits, excesses, dissipation, etc.

Such indifferences and neglect of the first symptoms are responsible for thousands of human wrecks, failures in life and business. Men! why take such desperate chances? The manifestations of the first symptoms of any disease or weakness should be a warning for you to take prompt steps to safeguard your future life and happiness. You should carefully avoid all uncertain, experimental, dangerous or half-way treatment, for upon the first treatment depends whether you will be promptly restored to health again, with all taint of the poisonous disease removed from your system, or whether your disease will be allowed to become chronic and subject you to future recurrences of the disease, with the various resulting complications, etc.

One consultation with us may change your whole life. Delays are dangerous.

If we could but see and treat all men when the first symptoms show themselves there would soon be little need for specialists in chronic diseases, and there would be few men seeking a rejuvenating of their physical, mental and sexual powers, and there would be none marked with the indelible stamp of constitutional Syphilis; and the sufferers from Prostatitis, Varicocele, Gleet, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, would be reduced to a minimum.

The Progressive Medical Association offers every afflicted man the care and attention of a skilled specialist in men's diseases, and a sure cure. Consultation free and confidential. Office hours 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. If you cannot call write Dept. A.

Progressive Medical Association
No. 1 West Superior Street, Corner of Lake Avenue.